CLASSIFIED INDEX
of
NATIONAL LABOR RELATIONS BOARD DECISIONS and
RELATED COURT DECISIONS

VOLUMES 247 THROUGH 265

JANUARY 1980 THROUGH DECEMBER 1982

For sale by the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office
Washington, D.C. 20402

PREFACE

The Board and court decision classifications and scope notes in this classified index have been prepared by the Board's Legal Research and Policy Planning Branch, Division of Advice, Office of the General Counsel, as a selective index to decisions issued by the Board and to related court decisions. They are in no sense official rulings or pronouncements of the Board, nor are they to be viewed as official interpretations of Board or court decisions.

The classification system used is that established by the Classification Outline for Decisions of the National Labor Relations Board and Related Court Decisions. As the format of this index publication renders it unsuitable for direct access to classification headings, reference should be made to the Classification Outline for the subject matter headings desired for research and for their associated numerical code identification. Instructions for the use of the Outline and this Index are contained in the preface of the Outline.

This publication covers Board decisions issued from January 1, 1980, through December 31, 1982 (part of Volume 247 through Volume 265) and contains court decisions issued during this period. No unreported court decisions are included. The index entries supplement those published in the publication of this same title dated June 1974, December 1976, and December 1979, which are available from the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D.C. 20402. All other publications of the same title should be discarded.

Board decisions are cited by volume and folio number. Court decisions are cited by official reporter citation where available and by other commercial services when not available. JD references refer to Administrative Law Judge's decisions adopted by the Board under section 10(c) of the National Labor Relations Act, as amended, and section 102.48 of the Board's Rules and Regulations. DS references refer to Decisions by Stipulation issued by the Board upon approval of formal settlement agreements in unfair labor practice proceedings.

Copies of Decisions by Stipulation and Administrative Law Judge Decisions are available upon request directed to the Freedom of Information Officer, N.L.R.B., Washington, D.C. 20570, subject to payment of fees in accordance with the Agency fee schedule. Such requests should specify the case, name, the date of issuance and the case number for each document requested. These decisions will also be available for inspection in the public reading room of the National Labor Relations Board, 1717 Pennsylvania Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20570. Copies will be available to any member of the public upon a payment of direct duplication costs.

ABBREVIATIONS

affd	Affirmed
affg	Affirming
ALJ	Administrative Law Judge
ans	Answer
br	Brief
Bd	Board
C	Complaint
c/d	Cease and desist
c/d/b	Cease doing business
CongRec	Congressional Record
ct	Court
distg	Distinguished
D/O	Decision and order
E	Employer
Ee	Employee
enf/rev	Enforcement and review proceedings
Gc	General Counsel
inj	Injunction
LMRA	Labor Management Relations Act, as amended
mtn	Motion
NMB	National Mediation Board
opn	Opinion
P&M	Production and Maintenance
ptn	Petition
qcr	Question concerning representation
R	Representation
RD	Regional Director
R/O	Remedial order
R/R	Rules and Regulations
SCt	Supreme Court
SIC	Standard Industrial Classification
TRO	Temporary restraining order
U	Union
Us	Unions
ULP	Unfair labor practice(s)
w/o	Without
w/i	Within

blank page

TABLE OF CONTENTS

100 NLRA AS AMENDED

111 Constitutionality of NLRA 1
122 Purpose and Policy of NLRA 3
133 Relationship to Other Statutes and Public Policy. 4
144 Construction. 11
155 Amendments of NLRA. 12
166 Separability of Provisions. 13
177 Statutory Definitions 14
188 Authority and Structure of NLRB as Agency 69

200 NLRB JURISDICTION

201 Generally 72
220 Statutory Jurisdiction. 73
240 Discretion in Exercise of Jurisdiction. 76
260 Standards for Assertion of Jurisdiction 93
280 Enterprises Over Which the Board Did or Did Not Assert Jurisdiction 98

300 INVESTIGATION AND CERTIFICATION OF REPRESENTATIVE

301 Generally 107
308 Who May Raise Question of Representation. 108
316 How Question of Representation Is Raised. 109
324 Showing of Interest in Representation 110
332 Disclaimer of Interest in Being Representative. 112
339 Who May Act As Representative 113
347 Bars to Conduct of Election 116
355 Types of Elections. 123
362 Eligibility to Participate in Election. 125
370 Mechanics of Election 133
378 Conduct Interfering With Election Choice. 140
385 Post-Certification and Unit Clarification Issues. 175
393 Procedure in Representation Proceedings 179

400 BARGAINING UNITS

401 Generally 196
420 Factors Relevant to Determination of Scope Or Composition of Unit 200
440 Determination of Scope Unit 206
460 Determination of Composition of Unit. 222
470 Health Care Institution Units 230
460 Postal Service Units. 236

500 UNFAIR LABOR PRACTICES

501 Generally . . . 237
506 Employee Rights . . . 247
512 Employer Interference With Employee Section 7 Rights. . . . 281
518 Employer Domination, Assistance, or Support or Labor Organization. . . . 483
524 Employer Discrimination in Employment . . . 497
530 Employer Obligation to Bargain. . . . 659
536 Union Coercion of Employees (8(b)(1(A)) . . . 801
542 Union Coercion of Employer in Selection of Representatives. . . 840
548 Union Causation of Employer Discrimination. . . . 847
554 Union Obligation to Bargain . . . 865
560 Prohibited Strikes and Boycotts . . . 873
566 Excessive or Discriminatory Membership Fees (Sec. 8(b)(5)). . . 907
572 Payment for Service Not Performed (Sec. 8(b)(6)). . . . 908
578 Picketing for Recognition and Bargaining. . . . 909
584 Agreements to Cease Doing Business. . . . 915
590 Prehire Agreements Section 8(f) . . . 924
593 Picketing and Strikes at Health Care Institutions . . . 926
596 Procedure in ULP Proceedings. . . . 928

600 REMEDIAL ORDER PROVISIONS

601 Generally . . . 993
625 Orders Against Employers. . . . 1005
650 Orders Against Unions . . . 1078
675 Proceedings to Determine Backpay Liability. . . . 1089

700 GENERAL LEGAL PRINCIPLES

712 Agency Principles . . . 1097
725 Contract Law. . . . 1112
737 Evidence. . . . 1117
750 Res Judicata. . . . 1148
762 Laches. . . . 1150
775 Waiver. . . . 1151
787 Estoppel. . . . 1157

800 COURT PROCEEDINGS

817 Proceedings for Enforcement or Review of Board Decisions and Orders. . . . 1159
833 Proceedings on Contempt of Court Judgment . . . 1195
850 Proceedings Ancillary to Board Proceeding . . . 1201
867 Proceedings Collateral to Board Proceeding. . . . 1214
883 Proceedings Under Other Statutes. . . . 1223

100 NLRA, AS AMENDED

111 CONSTITUTIONALITY OF APPLICATION OF NLRA

0100 GENERALLY

St. Elizabeth Community Hospital 259 NLRB No. 156

5000 FIRST AMENDMENT TO CONSTITUTION

N.L.R.B. v. Retail Store Employees, Local 1001 444 US 1011 (U.S. SCt. June 1981)

(inasmuch as secondary picketing spreads labor discord by coercing neutral party to join fray, prohibition on picketing in furtherance of such unlawful objectives does not offend First Amendment and, consequently, as applied to picketing that predictably encourages consumers to boycott a secondary business, 8(b)(4)(ii)(B) imposes no impermissible restrictions on constitutionally protected free speech)

Valley Camp Coal Company 265 NLRB No. 149

(where Bd issued subpoena ad testificandum directing newspaper editor to testify at ULP hearing about article she had written on closing of E's operation, and she was granted TRO from district ct restraining Bd from enforcing subpoena which was later vacated by Ct of Appeals for failure to utilize available administrative remedies, request for special permission to appeal ALJ's order denying mtn to revoke subpoena denied under R/R Sec. 102.31(b) since initial mtn to revoke was not filed w/i 5 days of service; moreover, contention that compliance with subpoena will impinge on Constitution's guarantee of free press under Branzburg rejected)

Lewis University 265 NLRB No. 157

(jurisdiction asserted over university which was initially established as high school through efforts of Catholic laypersons and Archdiocese, and eventually operated as university run by religious teaching order which finally transferred operation over to board of trustees, since university was not church-operated as contemplated by Catholic Bishop, in view of fact that Diocese neither exercised administrative or secular control over university nor owned land or property used by school nor performed services for it; Bd found no significant risk of constitutionally impermissible entanglement between church and state by its assertion of jurisdiction)

Hospital and Service Employees Union, Service Employees International Union, AFL-CIO, Local 399 (Delta Air Lines, Inc.) 263 NLRB No. 153

(in finding that U, having dispute with primary E, unlawfully distributed handbills at secondary E's facilities and unlawfully published them in U newspapapers, Bd did not pass upon whether U's conduct was protected by first amendment to constitution, since Bd, as administrative agency, will presume constitutionality of Act it is charged with administering, absent binding contrary ct decisions; and since U's conduct was not saved by publicity proviso, Bd presumed constitutionality of its finding of violation)

St. Elizabeth Community Hospital 259 NLRB No. 156

(Bd asserted jurisdiction over Catholic Hospital because 1974 Health Care Amendments extended Bd jurisdiction to hospitals and legislative history clearly shows that Congress did not exclude religiously operated hospitals from coverage; moreover, Bd regulation of hospital will not involve it in excessive entanglement in religion for primary purpose of hospital is health care and not sectarian teaching as found in Catholic Bishop of Chicago and right of Ees to be represented by collective-bargaining representative will not interfere with free exercise of religion or tend to establish a religion)

Jacobo Marti & Sons, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 189

(Bd asserted jurisdiction over E which was set up by Association composed of mainly Amish farmers to take raw milk furnished by farmers and process same into milk and cheese which Association sold and paid E percentage of profits; Association not church sanctioned or church operated but merely business corporation; E exclusively controls, disciplines, hires, fires and sets pay of its Ees, majority of whom are not Armish)

Harborcreek School for Boys 249 NLRB No. 177

(jurisdiction asserted over agency engaged in care and rehabilitation of socially and emotionally disturbed boys, which agency was founded, owned and controlled by Catholic Diocese; record showed that none of E's professional and support staff were required to have any particular religious background or that any Ee was directly or indirectly involved in teaching religious philosophy; school's operating income received from various governmental agencies; exercise of jurisdiction not violative of religion clause of first amendment to Constitution)

World Evangelism, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 117

(jurisdiction asserted over nonprofit corporation controlling network of Evangelical ministries and associated fund-raising programs in its operation of complex of hotel, offices and commercial space in view of its substantial commercial activity related to its religious activity only as source of funds and Ees' performance of work necessarily associated with those commercial activities)

RJR Communications, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 124

(order requiring E to resume 6 o'clock newscast does not infringe E's first amendment rights where newscast discriminatorily discontinued and media has no special privileges to invade rights and liberties of others)

Mid American Health Services, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 109

(final determination concerning whether Bd's asserting jurisdiction over nursing home run by Seventh Day Adventists is unconstitutional under the 1st amendment must come from cts)

Catholic Community Services 247 NLRB No. 103

(jurisdiction asserted over nonprofit corporation providing health, social and related services; exercise of jurisdiction not violative of first amendment of Constitution since purpose of E was not promulgation of Roman Catholic faith but providing of social services on nondenominational basis)

N.L.R.B. v. Lay Faculty Association, Local 1261 623 F.2d 818 (C.A. 2, 1980)

(ct rejected Bd's claim to jurisdiction over Catholic high school notwithstanding title and responsibility for operating school visited in lay board, since it is suffusion of religion into curriculum and mandate of faculty to infuse students with religious creed which create conflict with Religion Clauses, not vesting of title, and Bd could not avoid becoming entangle with religious mission of school in setting of mandatory collective bargaining)

Jacobo Marti & Sons, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 676 F.2d 975 (C.A. 3, Apr. 1982)

(Bd properly asserted jurisdiction over E who processes cheese from milk supplied by cooperative controlled by Amish farmers who oppose Us as matter of religious belief where ct held, contrary to E, that E was not exempt on First Amendment grounds since E failed to show that such governmental obligation to be imposed interferes with the Free Exercise rights of the Amish; moreover, Bd decision alternately sustained where E is in fact an independent organization that controls its own Ee relationship)

Jacobo Marti & Sons, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 676 F.2d 975 (C.A. 3, Apr. 1982)

(Bd lacks jurisdiction to pass on constitutional questions but must be especially sensitive when confronted with First Amendment free exercise objections)

Tressler Lutheran Home For Children, t/a Frostburg Village of Allegany County Nursing Home v. N.L.R.B. 677 F.2d 302 (C.A. 3, Apr. 1982)

(although Bd may not rule on constitutional issues in choosing to exercise its jurisdiction over institutions which have religious affiliations, it must be aware that it is treading in areas where sensitivity to impartant values of First Amendment must be rule, not exception. Attitude that may be appropriate when regulating E that is profit making entity in industrial setting is not necessarily permissible when E is church-related institution which is being challenged for its religious practices)

Newspaper Guild, Local 10 v. N.L.R.B. 636 F.2d 550 (C.A.D.C. 1980)

(defense of 1st Amendment rights to allegation that E-newspaper unilaterally imposed Code of Ethics on its Ees, rejected, as newspaper not immune from coverage of N.L.R.A. and Bd ruling did not impinge on E's exclusive control over those aspects of its operation, w/o burden of mandatory bargaining, which are fundamental to the enterprise; i.e., Bd interference with editorial integrity or other aspects lying at heart of its independence)

N.L.R.B. v. St. Louis Christian Home 663 F.2d 60 (C.A. 8, Nov. 1981)

(jurisdiction properly asserted over children home run by Christian Church; First Amendment rights do not attach where Home does not devote itself to propogation of religion, unlike facts in Catholic Bishop of Chicago 440 U.S.

5000—Cont.

501, operates same way as secular child care institution, receives money primarily from government sources, operates on non sectarian basis)

N.L.R.B. v. Associated General Contracters of California, Inc. 633 F.2d 766 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(disclosure of information sought (roster of membership) not violative of trade association's members' First Amendment rights where there was no clear and present danger that U will engage in violent, harassing, or unlawful conduct justifying association's refusal to supply information sought)

St. Elizabeth Community Hospital v. N.L.R.B. 625 F.2d 123 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(First Amendment challenge to Bd's jurisdiction over charitable hospital operated by religious order held timely raised, notwithstanding contention that issue could have been litigated at R proceedings before RD and no new or previously unavailable evidence was offered or special circumstances alleged to require Bd's consideration, since it is sufficient that hospital raised First Amendment issue in R proceedings before Bd and did not defer its challenge to enforcement proceedings; case remanded to Bd for further consideration in light of SCt's opinion in NLRB v. Catholic Bishop, 440 U.S. 490)

Soft Drink Workers Union Local 812, Teamsters v. N.L.R.B. 657 F.2d 1252 (C.A.D.C., Oct. 1980)
(contention by U, engaged in consumer picketing at neutral retail store against sale of nonlocal soft drinks, that Bd's application of 8(b)(4)(B) to find that U's conduct was unlawful so severely restricts U's power to appeal to public that it violates First Amendment, rejected; Bd carefully adhered to narrow construction of Act required by Tree Fruits case, and marshalled evidence demonstrating that picketing herein placed peculiarly severe burden on commerce by imposing on neutral E economic pressure disproportionate to U's legitimate campaign to protect its members' jobs)

Operating Engineers, Local Union No. 132 v. N.L.R.B. No. 79-2355-CH, Oct. 1, 1979, DC S.D. WV (unreported)
(Bd order granting mtn to set aside on-th-record settlement agreements and consolidating settled cases with another pending C case held unlawful, since settlement agreements had been consumated and conditions thereof performed and accomplished; action was abuse of Bd's powers and denial of petitioner's constitutional rights)

5800 FIFTH AMENDMENT TO CONSTITUTION

N.L.R.B. v. Union Nacional De Trabajadores, et al. 611 F.2d 926 (C.A. 2, 1979)
(U president and U that were found in violation of Act and required to publish in newspapers Bd's notice were in civil contempt of Bd's order when U, adjacent to Bd's required notice published side notice published side notice which contained statements destroying substance and purpose of required notice and expressed U's intention to threaten and use violence in future; side notice not protected by first amendment where it did not express U's political opinion but eviscerated Bd's lawful publication requirement)

N.L.R.B. v. Hy-Land Enterprises, Inc., d/b/a Hy-Land Convalescent Hospital Dkt. No. 78-1713 (C.A. 9, March 21, 1979 (unreported))
(failure to hold evidentiary hearing on E's objections to elections did not deny E right to due process of law)

6300 TENTH AMENDMENT TO CONSTITUTION

Florida Board of Business Regulation Department of Business Regulation, etc. v. N.L.R.B. 686 F.2d 1362 (C.A. 11, Sept. 1982)
(Bd's assertion of juridiction over disputes involving jai alai players proper where Bd found that employment characteristics of jai alai players were like those of Ees in casino gambling industry, state regulated industry over which Bd previously had asserted jurisdiction in that Ees constituted stable work force, and that State's regulation would not conflict with Bd's regulation of employment regulationship between players and E; also players had special need for U representation as player contracts were written in English and players were almost all Spanish-speaking)

Florida Board of Business Regulation Department of Business Regulation, etc. v. N.L.R.B. 686 F.2d 1362 (C.A. 11, Sept. 1982)
(contention by State that by its stringent regulation of gambling industry it is tantamount to relationship between state and its Ees, and that holding in National League of Cities v. Usery 426 U.S. 883, that applies to regulation of States as States as distinguished from regulation of private business should be extended to where contested federal measure appears to effect only business regulated by state but which, in reality, is so closely tied to stat that it interferes with state's sovereign functions, rejected)

Florida Board of Business Regulation Department of Business Regulation, etc. v. N.L.R.B. 686 F.2d 1362 (C.A. 11, Sept. 1982)
(tenth amendment does not preclude Bd from asserting jurisdiction over state regulated industry as amendment does not prohibit Congress from displacing State police power laws regulating private industry)

Florida Board of Business Regulation Department of Business Regulation, etc. v. N.L.R.B. 686 F.2d 1362 (C.A. 11, Sept. 1982)
(district ct had jurisdiction over C that challenged Bd's jurisdiction over labor disputes in jai alai industry and asked for declaratory judgment as C alleged Bd abused its discretion under Sec. 14(c)(1) of Act because it directly contravened firm policy Bd had established for identical Ees in horse or dog racing branches of State's gambling industry; furthermore, jurisdiction impinged on State industry in violation of tenth amendment. These claims obviously arise under Constitution or law of U.S.; therefore, ct had jurisdiction under 28 U.S.C. Sec. 1331)

Florida Board of Business Regulation, etc., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 497 F.Supp. 599 (D Ct. FL, 1980)
(Bd's assertion of juriadiction over jai alai industry does not violate Tenth Amendment, as regulation if that industry does not impose a direct obligation upon the state but is indirect interference through Congressional effort to regulate same object)

Florida Board of Business Regulation, etc., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 497 F.Supp. 599 (D Ct. FL, 1980)
(District Ct will assert jurisdiction under Leedom v. Kyne, 358 U.S. 184, where circumstances show that party seeking relief will not otherwise have avenue for review if jurisdiction declined, and here, if E acceded to certification and Bd order so that no ULP proceeding will ensue, State may be precluded from seeking review under Sec. 10 of Act; alternatively, D Ct could assert jurisdiction under Fay v. Douds, 172 F.2d 720 since there is substantial claim by State that action taken by Bd has violated constitutional rights of complaining party; State's 10th Amendment rights)

7500 FOURTEENTH AMENDMENT TO CONSTITUTION

122 PURPOSE AND POLICY OF NLRA

0100 GENERALLY

Barrentine et al. v. Arkansas-Best Freight System, Inc., et al. 450 US 728 (U.S. SCt. Apr. 1981)

(NLRA, as amended, reflect Congress' determination that to improve economic well-being of workers, and thus promote industrial peace, interests of some Ees in bargaining unit may have to be subordinated to collective interests of majority of their co-workers)

Kaiser Steel Corp. v. Mullins et al. 455 U.S. 72 (U.S. SCt. Jan. 1981)

(anyone sued upon a contract may set up as a defense that it is a violation of Act of Congress, and if found to be so, that fact will constitute a good defense to the action—; a defendant proferring defense of illegal contract seeks only to be relieved of an illegal obligation and does not ask any affirmative remedy based on antitrust or labor laws)

3300 LEGISLATIVE HISTORY

Ford Motor Co. v. N.L.R.B. 305 U.S. 364 (S. Ct US, 1979)

(in enacting Sec. 8(d), Congress delegated to Board primary responsibility of marking out scope of statutory language and of statutory duty to bargain; Bd's view that in-plant food prices and services are mandatory subjects of bargaining is entitled to considerable deference and should be enforced)

New York Telephone Co. et al. v. New York State Department of Labor, et al. 440 U.S. 519 (S Ct., 1979)

(NLRA does not preclude state from enacting unemployment compensation law which pays benefits to strikers notwithatanding fact that this law put majority of financial burden on struck E and enabled strikers to extend length of strike; Legislative history of NLRA indicates that Congress recognized potential conflict between state law and Act but did not intend to preempt that exercise of state power)

Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 150

(1947 amendment of Section 10(c) of NLRA does not address in part or dominent motive analysis or allocations of burdens but legislative history of such amendment does; E required to make out what is actually affirmative defense to overcome prima facie case of wrongful motive)

Mid American Health Services, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 109

(legislative history of 1974 health care amendments to Act indicates that Congress intended Act to apply to health care institutions operated by religious institutions thus nursing home run by Seventh Day Adventists comes w/i Bd's jurisdiction)

Tressler Lutheran Home For Children, t/a Frostburg Village of Allegany County Nursing Home v. N.L.R.B. 677 F.2d 302 (C.A. 3, Apr. 1982)

(in amending Act to give Bd jurisdiction over health care facilities, Congress rejected provision which would have exempted religiously owned health care facilities)

N.L.R.B. v. L. B. Priester & Son, Inc. 669 F.2d 355 (C.A. 5, Mar. 1982)

(in case involving alleged untimely withdrawal from multi-E bargaining unit, respect for Bd's expertise is particularly proper because of Congress deliberate inaction with regard to multi-E bargaining as this indicates commitment by Congress of the issues raised to Bd's specialized judgment)

Cincinnati Association For The Blind v. N.L.R.B. 672 F.2d 567 (C.A. 6, Mar. 1982)

(NLRB's legislative history did not show Congress's intent regarding sheltered workshops, and court did not infer intent that Act not conver handcapped workers on basis of other legislation where NLRA statutory language was broad and unequivocal)

N.L.R.B. v. Electrical Workers, Local Union No. 73 621 F.2d 1035 (C.A. 9, June 1980)

(major concern of Congress in enacting 8(b)(1)(B) of NLRA, was to prevent Us from forcing Es into or out of multi-E bargaining units and to guarantee that E's bargaining representative would be completely faithful to E's desires)

Plumbers, Local Unions Nos. 141, 229, 681, and 706 v. N.L.R.B. 675 F.2d 1257 (C.A.D.C., Apr. 1982)

(Section 14(b))

6700 SAVINGS PROVISION

133 RELATIONSHIP TO OTHER STATUTES AND PUBLIC POLICY

0100 GENERALLY

Kaiser Steel Corp. v. Mullins et al. 455 U.S. 72 (U.S. SCt. Jan. 1981)

(rules of estoppel will not be permitted to thwart the purposes of statutes of the U.S. even if petitioner waited over long to assert defense of illegality (waiting to after contract expired))

Kaiser Steel Corp. v. Mullins et al. 455 U.S. 72 (U.S. SCt. Jan. 1981)

(--federal cts may decide labor law questions that emerge as collateral issues in suits brought under independent federal remedies, including the anti-trust laws)

0600 SECTION 301 - SUITS FOR VIOLATION OF CONTRACT

0625 SUITS BY EMPLOYERS

Complete Auto Transit, Inc., et al. v. Reis et al. 451 US 401 (U.S. SCt. May 1981)

(E's ptn for damages from individual U members for breach of no-strike contract by engaging in strike unauthorized nor approved by U, dismissed; Sec. 301(a) does not sanction damage actions against individuals, whether or not U participated in or authorized strike; legislative history shows Congress intended to shield individuals from breach of no-strike clause, even though it might leave E unable to recover his losses; and Sec. 301(b)'s prohibition against money judgment against U from being enforced against individual U members does not suggest that Ees should be liable where U is not liable for strike)

0675 SUITS BY EMPLOYEES

Clayton v. Automobile Workers, et al. 451 US 679 (U.S. SCt. May 1982)

(aggrieved Ee who filed Sec. 301(a) suit against both E and U, seeking reinstatement from E and monetary relief from both E and U, held not required to exhaust internal U appeals procedures prior to bringing suit, since such U procedures cannot reactivate Ee's grievance nor grant him reinstatement; policy of forestalling judicial interference is strictly limited to dispute over U matters such as interpretation and application of U constitution while, here, Ee's allegation of breach of U's duty of fair representation extends to issues in the public domain going beyond internal U interests)

Clayton v. Automobile Workers, et al. 451 US 679 (U.S. SCt. May 1982)

(while national labor policy encourages private rather than judicial resolution of disputes arising over bargaining agreements, and while a requirement that aggrieved Ees exhaust internal U remedies might lead to nonjudicial resolution of some contractual grievances, ct declined to impose a universal exhaustion requirement lest Ees with meritorious Sec. 301 claims be forced to exhaust themselves and their resources by submitting their claims to potentially lenghty internal U procedures that may not be adequate to redress their underlying grievances)

Clayton v. Automobile Workers, et al. 451 US 679 (U.S. SCt. May 1982)

(in exercising discretion to decide whether to require exhaustion of internal U procedures by aggrieved Ee seeking Sec. 301 relief, cts have three relevant factors to consider: (1) whether U officials are so hostile to Ee that he could not hope to obtain a fair hearing on his claim; (2) whether internal U appeals procedures would be inadequate either to reactivate Ee's grievance or to award him the relief he seeks under Sec. 301; and (3) whether exhaustion of internal procedures would unreasonably delay Ee's opportunity to obtain a judicial hearing on merits of his claim)

Clayton v. Automobile Workers, et al. 451 US 679 (U.S. SCt. May 1982)

(restrictions on relief available through internal U appeals procedures held to render those procedures inadequate with respect to Ee seeking reinstatement from E and monetary relief from both E and U in his Sec. 301 suit; although some monetary relief in form of backpay award might be attained through internal U appeals procedure, U could neither reinstate Ee to his job nor reactivate his grievance because time limit for arbitration had expired by time Ee learned of U's decision not to pursue grievance, and U was therefore bound by its earlier decision not to pursue Ee's grievance past third stage of grievance)

Clayton v. Automobile Workers, et al. 451 US 679 (U.S. SCt. May 1982)

(where internal U appeals procedures can result in either complete relief to, or reactivation of grievance of, Ee seeking Sec. 301 relief, exhaustion of U procedures would advance national labor policy of encouraging private resolution of contractual labor disputes; but where Ee cannot obtain such relief, national labor policy would not be served by exhaustion of U remedies, and exhaustion would be useless gesture since it would delay judicial consideration w/o eliminating it, and one federal policy underlying Sec. 301 is relatively rapid disposition of labor disputes, which would be undermined by exhaustion requirement)

Clayton v. Automobile Workers, et al. 451 US 679 (U.S. SCt. May 1982)

(ct rejected ct of appeals' assumption that exhaustion of internal U appeals for purposes of Ee's Sec. 301 suit would focus issues for ultimate judicial determination on basis of U's compiled record that would greatly assist ct in determining U's liability for alleged breach of duty of fair R which would depend on reasons for U's withdrawal of arbitration request: here, record did indicate reasons for withdrawing request, there is no guarantee that exhaustion will result in useful interpretation of U rules, and in many cases, as here, U tribunal is not permitted to consider certain allegations Ee could assert under Sec. 301)

Clayton v. Automobile Workers, et al. 451 US 679 (U.S. SCt. May 1982)

(a trial ct requiring exhaustion of internal U appeals procedures with respect to Ee's Sec. 301 suit against respondent U but not with respect to respondent E would face undesirable alternatives of staying action against E pending resolution of U internal procedures, thereby requiring exhaustion with respect to E, which would violate national labor policy; or of permitting action against E while tolling statute of limitations in suit against U until its internal procedures had been exhausted, thereby finding itself with two separate suits based on same facts and proceeding at different paces in its courtroom)

Clayton v. Automobile Workers, et al. 451 US 679 (U.S. SCt. May 1982)

(in holding that Ee was not required to exhaust internal U appeals procedures before filing Sec. 301 suit against E and U, ct stated that in contrast to contractual grievance and arbitration procedures, which are generally designed to provide exclusive method for resolving disputes under parties' agreement, internal U procedures are designed to settle disputes between Ee and U arising under U's constitution; consequently, policy of encouraging private resolution of grievances arising out of bargaining process is not directly applicable to issue whether to require exhaustion of internal U procedures)

1200 SECTION 302(a) - RESTRICTIONS ON PAYMENTS TO EMPLOYEE REPRESENTATIVES

Turnbull Enterprises, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 122

(E's contention that it was prohibited by Sec. 302(c)(5) from making contributions to U's health and welfare fund on ground it was not party to agreement with U, rejected; Sec. 302(c)(5) is aimed at corruption of collective bargaining through bribery of Ee representatives, and it was not intended to preclude E's payment into fund for benefit of its Ees, even though bargaining agreement had expired)

Amax Coal Company, a Division of Amax, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. (Mine Workers, Local No. 1854) 614 F.2d 872 (C.A. 3) (1980)

(U's insisting to impasse and striking to obtain E's participation in U's Section 302(c)(5) pension and welfare trust funds whose management trustee was not selected by E, violative, since trust fund's management trustees are collective bargaining representatives w/i meaning of Section 8(b)(1)(B); See Associated Contractors, 559 F.2d 222)

1200—Cont.

Central Florida Sheet Metal Contractors Association, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 664 F.2d 489 (C.A. 5, Dec. 1981)

(Bd's interpretation of Sec. 8(d) of NLRA as permitting U to participate in selection of E-appointed trustee did not fail to accommodate Sec. 302 of LMRA since Sec. 8(b)(1)(B) of NLRA does not limit U's freedom to induce E to select a particular trustee because NLRA and LMRA have different purposes and standards to enforce, and to prevent U from striking to obtain E's participation in multi-E trust fund when E objects to trustee selection mechanism would hinder congressional policy favoring multi-E trust funds)

1400 SECTION 302(c) - EXEMPTION FROM APPLICABILITY OF 302(a)

N.L.R.B. v. Amax Coal Co., A Division of Amax, Inc., et al. 101 U.S. 2789 (U.S. SCt, June 1981)

(E-selected trustees of trust fund created under Sec. 302(c)(5) held not Sec. 8(b)(1)(B) E representatives for purposes of bargaining or adjusting grievances, since their duties are not consistent with E-agent's duties but rather are duties of loyalty to trust's beneficiaries under established equity principles and Sec. 302(c)(5) language and legislative history; Congress codified strict fiduciary standards in ERISA with intent to prevent dual loyalty; it passed Sec. 8(b)(1)(B) to prevent Us from pressuring Es about choosing representatives U wanted, not about contributing to multi-E funds as here)

N.L.R.B. v. Driver Salesmen, Warehousemen, Food Handlers, Clerical & Industrial Production Teamsters Union, Local No. 582, a/w Teamsters 670 F.2d 855 (C.A. 9, Mar. 1982)

(ct, in applying the rationale in NLRB v. Amax Coal Co. (S. Ct 1981), held discretionary acts of trustees who are fiduciaries are subject to regulation under Sec. 302 of Taft-Hartley and Sec. 404 of ERISA, neither of which is w/i jurisdiction of Bd)

2500 LABOR MANAGEMENT REPORTING AND DISCLOSURE ACT

Kaiser Steel Corp. v. Mullins et al. 455 U.S. 72 (U.S. SCt. Jan. 1981)

(anyone sued upon a contract may set up as a defense that it is a violation of Act of Congress, and if found to be so, that fact will constitute a good defense to the action—; a defendant proferring defense of illegal contract seeks only to be relieved of an illegal obligation and does not ask any affirmative remedy based on antitrust or labor laws)

Carpenters Local Union No. 35 (Klaus Martin, an Individual) 264 NLRB No. 108

(public policy considerations dictate that Ees be afforded full and unimpeded access to other governmental agencies, and in administering Act Bd must consider full panoply of congressional labor policies, including those embodied in LMRDA, in determining legality of conduct engaged in by a respondent)

J. P. Stevens & Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 623 F.2d 322 (C.A. 4, 1980)

(29 U.S.C. Section 186 was intended to prevent corruption by labor and management, and does not apply to Bd decisions which are enforced through ct order)

Central Florida Sheet Metal Contractors Association, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 664 F.2d 489 (C.A. 5, Dec. 1981)

(Bd's interpretation of Sec. 8(b)(3) of NLRA found reasonable where it found that U did not violate Sec. 8(b)(3) by bargaining to impasse and striking to have included in contract provision for trust fund alleged by E to violate Sec. 302(5) of LMRA where district ct, the body with authority to enforce LMRA, had not found trust fund illegal under LMRA at time of decision, and trust fund document was not illegal on its face)

Charles E. Helton v. N.L.R.B. 656 F.2d 883 (C.A.D.C., Jun 1981)

(U's conduct in removing Ee's materials critical of U from U's bulletin board was not insulated by internal U affairs proviso, since it did not serve legitimate U interest and would have frustrated free speech rights guaranteed by LMRDA)

3000 MARITIME LAWS

Pennux Towing Corporation 258 NLRB No. 113

(where no basis existed for concluding Ee's conduct violated Congressional enactment dealing with mutiny and it did not appear Ee was prosecuted for any criminal offense in that respect, there was no impediment based upon accomodating marine and labor relations legislation to according Ee usual reinstatement and backpay remedy under Act)

3500 EXECUTIVE ORDERS

3600 OCCUPATIONAL SAFETY AND HEALTH ACT

Serendippity-Un-Ltd and Tigerrr, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 190

(rights guaranteed Ees under Act are distinct from and not subordinate to provisions of OSHA)

Plough, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 141

(Bd has not abicated its authority to OSHA to determine E obligations under Sec. 8(a)(5) to bargain in good faith)

Tamara Foods, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 180

(strike protesting unhealthy conditions not rendered unprotected by fact strike was in breach of plant rule and plant had been found not to violate OHSA regulations)

Crown Cork & Seal Company, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 004

(filing and pursuit of OSHA charges were concerted activities)

Newport News Shipbuilding & Dry Dock Company 234 NLRB No. 043

(where discriminatees filed charges with Bd and OSHA alleging violative discharges, Bd not required to defer to OSHA as Ees were engaged in U activity and although some remedies are same, only Bd can issue notice advising Ees of their rights to engage in U activity)

N.L.R.B. v. Tamara Foods, Inc. 692 F.2d 1171 (C.A. 8, Nov. 1982)

(Bd was not required because of existence of OSHA to deny relief to Ees who walked out over unhealthy working conditions, since Ees' rights guaranteed under Act are superior to provisions of OSHA; Ees had twice sought relief from OSHA w/o success and their symptoms from ammonia fumes were objectively proven and their apprehension of injury was reasonable)

3700 URBAN MASS TRANSPORTATION ACT OF 1969

3800 INTERSTATE COMMERCE ACT

3900 IMMIGRATION AND NATURALIZATION ACT

A & B Janitorial Service, Inc. JD-(SF)-169-81

(Bd has authority to order reinstatement of illegal aliens knowingly hired by E. Contention against public policy since US immigration law prohibits individual who does not have green card from engaging in employment and reinstatement would require E to violate state law which prohibits knowingly employing alien not entitled to lawful residence in US if such employment would have adverse effect on lawful resident workers rejected. Illegal alien not exception to employee in Act. Bd has no expertise or authority in immigration, and it has not been determined by state SCt whether state law is enforceable as in conflict with US immigration law.)

N.L.R.B. v. Sure-Tan, Inc., and Surak Leather Co. 672 F.2d 592 (C.A. 7, Feb. 1982)

(award of reinstatement and backpay to illegal aliens who had been constructively discharged by E's notice to INS and permitted by INS to depart voluntarily, as opposed to deportation, held justified as vindication of policy of Act and to deter other Es from similar conduct)

4000 EMPLOYEE RETIREMENT INCOME SECURITY ACT OF 1974

Kaiser Steel Corp. v. Mullins et al. 455 U.S. 72 (U.S. SCt. Jan. 1981)

GAF Corporation 265 NLRB No. 176

(no violation where E refused to submit claim that it changed retirees benefits w/o explanation to grievance procedure of collective bargaining agreement, but rather elected to go under claims procedures provided under separate ERISA Pension Agreement executed by U and E, as latter procedure specifically designed to handle such disputes, required to be utilized by ERISA and E willing to have grievance's merits resolved under its provisions)

Admiral Merchants Motor Freight, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 012

(E's going directly to Ees and coercing agreement to reduce their remuneration w/o notifying U of pending ERISA action requiring E to pay its debts to another U and unilaterally reducing Ees' wages, violative notwithstanding E's contention that inj under ERISA insulated it from Bd finding that Sec. 8(a)(5) and (1) were violated, since inj or any proposed order by Bd would not be in conflict either through asserted clashing of NLRA and ERISA or through principles of comity or judicial administration where inj could not be construed to have been in any way aimed at U represented Ees)

National Union of Hospital and Health Care Employees, Division of RWDSU, AFL-CIO; et al. (Sinai Hospital of Baltimore, Inc.) 248 NLRB No. 086

(ERISA and NLRA permit persons to act as both trustee of fund administering benefit plan and as U official; however when controlling trustee-U official denied E information on trust fund operations which was necessary and relevant to enable E to perform its collective-bargaining functions, official breached his fiduciary duty by acting inimical to interest of beneficiaries in that it undermined good faith bargain on which E contributions providing benefits depend)

4000—Cont.

Dellwood Foods, Inc., f/k/a Deltown Foods, Inc. JD-(SF)-213-81

(ALJ held that ERISA or case law did not divest Bd of its jurisdiction concerning ULPs or its power to remedy such practices in case involving make whole remedy to discriminatees who were found entitled to full past service pension credit for all prior employment including employment prior to acquisition of business)

N.L.R.B. v. Driver Salesmen, Warehousemen, Food Handlers, Clerical & Industrial Production Teamsters Union, Local No. 582, a/w Teamsters 670 F.2d 855 (C.A. 9, Mar. 1982)

(ct, in applying the rationale in NLRB v. Amax Coal Co. (S. Ct 1981), held discretionary acts of trustees who are fiduciaries are subject to regulation under Sec. 302 of Taft-Hartley and Sec. 404 of ERISA, neither of which is w/i jurisdiction of Bd)

5000 FEDERAL SERVICE CONTRACT ACT OF 1965

Teamsters Local 70, a/w Teamsters (United States of America, Department of The Navy) 261 NLRB No. 079

5600 PRIVACY ACT

5800 FEDERAL WIRETAPPING STATUTE

6200 FREEDOM OF INFORMATION ACT (SEE 883-2500)

Ronald Hackenberger d/b/a Ron's Trucking Service v. N.L.R.B. 628 F.2d 966 (C.A. 6, 1980)

(ct held that E failed to establish that Bd had improperly computed back pay of discharged Ee where ct rejected E's contention that E was prevented from showing that Ee failed to act reasonably to mitigate his damages because Bd denied FOIA request for information in its possession relating to interim employment, since counsel for E failed to request continuance or adjournment in order to familiarize himself with this material when information concerning interim employment was provided at or near beginning of supplemental back pay proceeding)

6201 GENERALLY

Madeira Nursing Center, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. (Emil C. Farkas, RD) 615 F.2d 728 (C.A. 6) (1980)

(applicability of FOIA exemptions must be determined in context of specific individual documents and request for any documents indicating Region's final determination of the petitioner's showing of interest or lack thereof is too general)

Louis Alirez v. N.L.R.B. No. 79-Z-1243, Feb. 26, 1980, DC CO (unreported)

(FOIA is to be broadly construed and its basic policy is in favor of disclosure; its exemptions are to be narrowly construed, with all doubts resolved in favor of disclosure; and burden is on administrative agency to prove that documents sought are w/i statutory exemptions from disclosure)

6225 (EXEMPTION 4) TRADE SECRETS

Chrysler Corporation v. Harold Brown, Secretary of Defense, et al. 441 U.S. 281 (S Ct US, 1979)

(FOIA purely disclosure statute and petitioner not afforded private right of action to enjoin agency disclosures of material submitted by petitioner)

American Airlines, Inc. v. National Mediation Board, et al. 598 F.2d 663 (C.A. 2, 1978)

(U authorization cards held exempt from disclosure as commercial information where U supplied information to National Mediation Board in reliance on regulations that it would be kept confidential; information relates to delicate area of labor relations as it deals with U's effort to obtain majority support and certification and disclosure would adversely affect U's competative position with other Us and e itself)

6250 EXEMPTION 5

Federal Open Market Committee of The Federal Reserve System v. Merrill 443 U.S. 340 (June 1979)

(Exemption 5 incorporates qualified privilege for confidential commercial information to the extent that this information is generated by Government itself in process leading up to awarding contract)

Federal Open Market Committee of The Federal Reserve System v. Merrill 443 U.S. 340 (June 1979)

(sensitivity of commercial secrets involved and harm inflicted on Government by premature disclosure are relevant criteria for determining applicability of Exemption 5 privilege; if these criteria are met then slight delay in publication of such information as authorized in 12 CRF Sec. 271.5 is permitted under Exemption 5)

Scott Management Company et al. v. N.L.R.B. 626 F.2d 1327 (C.A. 6, Aug. 1980)

(issue of whether hearing officer's report was exempt from public disclosure remanded to District Ct to be examined in camera to determine if document would not flow freely w/i agency unless protected from public disclosure)

N.L.R.B. v. Martins Ferry Hospital Association No. C-2-78-785 (D Ct. OH, Feb. 5, 1979 (unreported))

(advice memorandum privileged from disclorive under Exemption 5 of FOIA as an intra-agency memorandum setting forth GC's strategy in putative litigation before Bd)

6260 (EXEMPTION 6)

Howard Johnson Company, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 618 F.2d 1 (C.A. 6, 1980)

(district ct reversed and case remanded to Bd with directions to enter summary judgment in favor of Bd position on U authorization cards falling w/i exemption 6 of FOIA)

Madeira Nursing Center, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. (Emil C. Farkas, RD) 615 F.2d 728 (C.A. 6) (1980)

(Exemption 6 of FOIA precludes E from obtaining signed U authorization cards or other Bd documents which reveal voting preferences of individual Ees because such disclosure would be an invasion of personal privacy; ct held authorization cards fell w/i meaning of similar files of exemption refusing to give term narrow and technical meaning)

N.L.R.B. v. Martins Ferry Hospital Association No. C-2-78-785 (D Ct. OH, Feb. 5, 1979 (unreported))

(authorization cards are important to Bd's investigation of ULP and are exempt from disclosure under Exemption 7(A) of FOIA notwithstanding that initially cards were executed and forwarded to Bd for purpose then only, at best, indirectly related to law enforcement; and under Exemption 6 to prevent unwarranted invasion of personal privacy for if Ees knew E would be able to see signed cards they might be reluctant to sign)

6275 EXEMPTION 7

N.L.R.B. v. Craft Metals, Inc. Dkt. Nos. 74-3052 and 74-3101, (C.A. 5, Jan. 5, 1979 (unreported))

(affidavits taken by Bd in its investigation fall w/i FOIA Exemption 7(A) and need not be disclosed prior to hearing even in civil contempt cases as herein; there is no distinction between enforcement proceedings before ALJ and contempt proceedings as both are instituted to enforce compliance with Act, and Bd's prosecutorial function remains the same; risk of intimidation of witnesses because of premature disclosure is no less a risk in contempt cases; and it is irrelevant that there is no reason to suspect that E herein would attempt to coerce a witness)

N.L.R.B. v. Craft Metals, Inc. Dkt. Nos. 74-3052 and 74-3101, (C.A. 5, Jan. 5, 1979 (unreported))

(applying FOIA Exemption 7(A) in contempt proceeding, Special Master required Bd, ten days prior to hearing, to provide E with summary of expected testimony of exempted witnesses w/o disclosing their names, and required Bd, on day any such witness is to testify, to provide E with any affidavit or prior statement of such witness w/i its possession)

Louis Alirez v. N.L.R.B. No. 79-Z-1243, Feb. 26, 1980, DC CO (unreported)

(former Ee's request, following Bd's denial of his appeal from its refusal to file charge against E, for affidavits of witnesses relating to investigation of charges filed by Ee with Bd, granted, since exemption 7(A) is not applicable, and Bd submitted no evidence that release of documents to former Ee would inhibit future investigations at E's plant, or elsewhere)

Louis Alirez v. N.L.R.B. No. 79-Z-1243, Feb. 26, 1980, DC CO (unreported)

(Bd's claim of exemption under 7(C) or 7(D) with regard to release of investigatory file sought by former Ee following Bd's denial of his appeal from its refusal to file charge against E, rejected, where no absolute guaranty of confidentiality was claimed by Bd even though an expressed assurance of confidentiality was granted to one witness: such an assurance should not operate so as to insure total anonymity, and fellow Ees are not to be regarded as confidential sources; SCt's Robbins Tire and Rubber Co. case distinguished)

N.L.R.B. v. Martins Ferry Hospital Association No. C-2-78-785 (D Ct. OH, Feb. 5, 1979 (unreported))

(authorization cards are important to Bd's investigation of ULP and are exempt from disclosure under Exemption 7(A) of FOIA notwithstanding that initially cards were executed and forwarded to Bd for purpose then only, at best, indirectly related to law enforcement; and under Exemption 6 to prevent unwarranted invasion of personal privacy for if Ees knew E would be able to see signed cards they might be reluctant to sign)

6287 APPEALS FROM INITIAL DETERMINATION

6287—Cont.

The Capital Times Company v. N.L.R.B. 483 F.Supp. 247 (D Ct. WD) (1980)
(statutory policy allows agency to determine first the merits of FOiA request)

7000 EQUAL ACCESS TO JUSTICE ACT

Wyandotte Savings Bank 260 NLRB No. 130
(E's request under Equal Access to Justice Act for award of fees incurred by E in ct case in which enforcement of Bd's order was denied, plus legal fees and costs incurred by E before Bd, dismissed, since, pursuant to Sec. 2412(d)(3) of Equal Access to Justice Act, Bd has no jurisdiction because instant matter is pending before ct of appeals; moreover, Bd's D/O was issued prior to date such Act became applicable to administrative adjudications)

Kaiser Foundation Hospitals and Kaiser Foundation Health Plan of Oregon 259 NLRB No. 075
(where U's complaint that E had violated Act by not complying with U's request to discharge Ees who had failed to pay dues pursuant to U security clause was dismissed because Bd found U had failed to furnish Ees with statement of precise amount owed, request of one Ee for attorney's fees and other costs under Equal Access to Justice Act denied, since such Act was not effective until after Bd's decision had issued; moreover Ee was not entitled to award under Bd's R/R Sec. 102.143, where he was not a respondent who prevailed in an adversary proceeding or even a party in the matter)

Kaiser Foundation Hospitals and Kaiser Foundation Health Plan of Oregon 259 NLRB No. 075
(Bd R/R Sec. 102.148(c) provides that filing of motion for reconsideration does not stay time for filing application for award under Equal Access to Justice Act)

Bakery, Workers Union, Local No. 213 (Krispy Kreme Division, Beatrice Foods Co.) JD-467-82
(application for attorney's fees and expenses under EAJA dismissed where, although GC did not prevail, GC's position was reasonable in law and fact; for most part, ALJ's decision in C proceeding turned on credibility resolutions and GC's position was substantially justified)

Power Contractors, Ltd. JD-(SF)-268-82
(GC's mtn to dismiss granted in EAJA case where former counsel for defunct corporation filed application on his own behalf to recover fees and expenses and not on behalf of respondent corporation, or any trustee, conservator, executor, or any other individual or entity authorized to act on behalf of defunct corporation; furthermore, GC found to be substantially justified in issuing complaint and proceeding to trial in underlying case)

Power Contractors, Ltd. JD-(SF)-268-82
(standard imposed by EAJA should not be read as raising presumption that GC's position was not substantially justified simply because GC did not prevail)

Tilton Rack and Basket Corporation JD-(NY)-99-82
(legislative history of EAJA relating to provision for award of fees and expenses to eligible parties, unless government can establish that its position in litigation was substantially justified establishes that standard for government's position is essentially one of reasonableness and not to be equated with a substantial probability of prevailing)

Tilton Rack and Basket Corporation JD-(NY)-99-82
(application of E who prevailed on certain, but not on all issues, for attorney's fees and expenses pursuant to EAJA, dismissed, where, had GC's evidence been credited he might well have prevailed, and it was only after resolution of bona fide credibility issues that E prevailed; it is not GC's function to resolve such issues is absence of a hearing, and in this context, GC's position was not unreasonable and was substantially justified under EAJA requirement for government's establishment of such position so as to preclude award of fees and expenses to E)

Gerson Electric Construction Company JD-209-82
(application for fees and expenses for successful defense of ULP C, untimely where, although material mistakenly sent in place of application was received on Monday after Saturday due date, application itself was not received until Tuesday, 3 days beyond statutory period, and neither statute nor implementing regulations provide for extension of filing date)

7200 ANTITRUST STATUTES

H. A. Artists & Associates, Inc., et al. v. Actors' Equity Assn. et al. 451 US 704 (U.S. SCt. May 1981)
(agents for actors are labor group as their function is representation of U members in sale of their labor; agents are franchised by U and this system is substitute for hiring hall; agents controversy with U over payment of franchise fee is labor dispute w/i meaning of Norris-LaGuardia Act)

Kaiser Steel Corp. v. Mullins et al. 455 U.S. 72 (U.S. SCt. Jan. 1981)
(petitioner's contractual promise to UMW to report and make contributions to specified U health and retirement funds based on specified amount, on each ton of — coal procured for use or sale by petitioner from producers not under contract with UMW was illegal under anti-trust and labor laws and thus valid defense to suit for such contributions by trustees of U funds)

Kaiser Steel Corp. v. Mullins et al. 455 U.S. 72 (U.S. SCt. Jan. 1981)
(–federal cts may decide labor law questions that emerge as collateral issues in suits brought under independent federal remedies, including the anti-trust laws)

7300 FEDERAL MOTOR VEHICLE INFORMATION AND COST SAVINGS ACT

7500 ECONOMIC STABILIZATION ACT OF 1971

7600 DAVIS BACON ACT

Local 701, International Brotherhood of electrical Workers (The University of Chicago d/b/a Argonne National Laboratory) 255 NLRB No. 148
(contention that contract between E and Department of Energy providing for DOE to determine which work is to be covered by Davis-Bacon Act removes Bd from jurisdiction on grounds that DOE and Department of Labor, exempted from Bd's jurisdiction, are necessary parties and that assertion of jurisdiction will deprive Ees of right to receive area standard wages pursuant to that Act, rejected)

Local 701, International Brotherhood of electrical Workers (The University of Chicago d/b/a Argonne National Laboratory) 255 NLRB No. 148
(where contract between E and Department of Energy provided that DOE determine which work was covered by Davis-Bacon Act, DOE's determination that disputed work is uncovered favors award of work to E's Ees rather than to Ees of subcontractor)

Joint Council of Teamsters No. 42; et al. (Associated Independent Owner-Operators, Inc.) 248 NLRB No. 082
(contention that definition of jobsite work in construction industry proviso of 8(e) should be indentical to definition of jobsite work in Davis-Bacon Act, rejected, since that Act broader in coverage as remedial statute than 8(e) proviso)

Joint Council of Teamsters, No. 42 v. N.L.R.B. 671 F.2d 305 (C.A. 9, Dec. 1981)
(neither legislative history of Section 8(e) nor text of Act suggest that Congress intended Section 8(e) to parallel Davis Bacon Act)

7700 FAIR LABOR STANDARDS ACT

Barrentine et al. v. Arkansas-Best Freight System, Inc., et al. 450 US 728 (U.S. SCt. Apr. 1981)
(not all disputes between Ee and his E are suited for binding resolution in accordance with procedures established by collective bargaining; while cts should defer to arbital decision where Ee's claim is based on rights arising out of collective-bargaining agreement, different considerations apply where Ee's claim is based on rights arising out of statute (FLSA) designed to provide minimum substantive guarantees to individual workers)

Barrentine et al. v. Arkansas-Best Freight System, Inc., et al. 450 US 728 (U.S. SCt. Apr. 1981)
(in contrast to NLRA which was designed to minimize industrial strife and to improve working conditions by encouraging Ees to promote their interests collectively, FLSA was designed to give specific minimum protections to individual workers)

Barrentine et al. v. Arkansas-Best Freight System, Inc., et al. 450 US 728 (U.S. SCt. Apr. 1981)
(cts have held that congressionally granted FLSA rights take precedence over conflicting provisions in collective bargained compensation arrangement)

8100 RAILWAY LABOR ACT

International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, et al. v. Foust RD 442 U.S. 42 (S Ct US, 1979)
(punitive damages were not permitted under Railway Labor Act for U's breach of duty of fair representation)

Elliott Flying Service, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 068
(Bd did not assert jurisdiction over E engaged in operation of air charter and taxi service, as well as in selling and servicing of Beechcraft aircraft, training of pilots, providing of pilots for owners of small aircraft, and providing of fueling and emergency aircraft maintenance for an airline, since the National Mediation Board advised Bd that E was subject to provisions of Railway Labor Act)

ARA Environmental Services, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 011
(Bd set aside election where National Mediation Board advised Bd that activities and Ees of E who provided cleaning and security services to airline were subject to Railway Labor Act and thus properly w/i jurisdiction of National Mediation Board in view of nature of activities performed by E and degree of control exercised by airline)

8100—Cont.

Ground Services, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 080
(Bd refused to assert jurisdiction over corporation engaged in business of providing ground or fleet service to air carriers and other enterprises where National Mediation Board advised that corporation and its Ees were subject to the Railway Labor Act in view of nature of activities and control exercised by air carriers)

Air Cleveland, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 059
(ptn of Ees of E engaged in providing certain ground services to air carrier dismissed, since National Mediation Board, by request of Bd, determined that E was w/i scope of Title II of the Railway Labor Act)

Mercury Service, Inc.; Mercury Refueling, Inc.; and Crew Transit 253 NLRB No. 057
(jurisdiction not asserted over E engaged in providing support services for international air carriers where Bd advised by National Medication Board that Es activities and Ees performing activities were subject to Railway Labor Act)

Missouri-Illinois Central Industries Limited 252 NLRB No. 143
(Bd did not assert jurisdiction over E engaged in freight handling services to various common carriers engaged in interstate commerce where National Mediation Board found activities of E and Ees performing such activities were subject to the Railway Labor Act)

Chicago Truck Drivers, Helpers and Warehouse Workers Union (Independent) v. N.L.R.B. No. 78 C 749 (D Ct. Il., Sept. 28, 1978 (unreported))
(Bd correctly refused to order election among E's truckdrivers and deferred to ruling by National Mediation Board that E was carrier under Railway Labor Act and not subject to Bd jurisdiction)

8200 BANKRUPTCY STATUTES

Sealift Maritime, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 154
(contract executed when E had status of debtor-in-possession held bar, as Bankruptcy Reform Act of 1978 grants debtor-in-possession all powers that trustee had under Bankruptcy Act of 1898, and contract will serve as bar to ptn unless and until contract rejected by bankruptcy ct)

Tucson Yellow Cab, Inc., A Debtor in Possession 265 NLRB No. 062
(Bd complied with inj of U.S. Bankruptcy Ct in granting summary judgment only to extent that Bd found E had committed ULPs w/o ordering normal remedies; Bd retained jurisdiction over present case pending outcome of bankruptcy)

I.S.G. Extrusion Toolings, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 037
(Bd is not deprived of its jurisdiction or authority to process ULP complaint to final disposition notwithstanding adjudication of Respondent as bankrupt)

Nelson Electric, Gary C. Nelson, Inc., and Gary C. Nelson Electric 260 NLRB No. 003
(E's filing of petition for bankruptcy not grounds for Bd to stay backpay specification proceedings in ULP case, since bankruptcy proceedings do not deprive Bd of jurisdiction or authority to entertain and process ULP case to its final disposition)

Turnbull Enterprises, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 122
(E's mtn to dismiss C alleging unlawful discontinuance of contributions to U's health and welfare fund because of provisions of Bankruptcy Act, denied, where E purchased facility involved free and clear of all liens and other interests, and trustee in bankruptcy continued to make payments to U's health and welfare fund in accordance with practice established by debtor under contract with U)

Ralph Schaffner, an Individual d/b/a Schaffner Construction Co. 252 NLRB No. 136
(Respondent's contention that ptn for summary judgment in backpay proceeding should be stayed pending discharge of Respondent's ptn from Bankruptcy ct in which Bd and discriminatees are named as creditors, rejected, since adjudication in Bankruptcy does not deprive Bd of jurisdiction or authority to process ULP case to final disposition; since mtn to stay did not specifically deny or respond in any way to allegations of backpay specification, allegations of specification are deemed admitted)

Miami Foundry Corporation 252 NLRB No. 002
(mtn to stay ULP proceedings pending final disposition of ptn for arrangement under Chapter XI of Bankruptcy Act denied where Bd has exclusive jurisdiction to hear and decide ULP cases to final disposition)

International Technical Products Corporation, and its Subsidiary, Rel, Inc.; et al. 249 NLRB No. 103
(bankruptcy ct's order allowing successor E to purchase predecessor's assets free of all liens, claims, and encumbrances cannot affect Bd's order which requires that successor E make predecessor's discriminatees whole for backpay due them since, unlike bankruptcy ct's order which affects only assets of bankrupt, Bd order, which enforces public rather than private right, reaches beyond assets of E and attaches to employing entity itself)

World Services Corporation and/or Peggs Run Coal Company; and World Services Corporation, Debtor in Possession 247 NLRB No. 201
(where Respondent was debtor in possession and refused to file answer to complaint contending that bankruptcy court has exclusive jurisdiction over all controversies affecting debtor, this does not constitute good cause for failure to file mtn and summary judgment granted)

Adams Delivery Service, Inc. JD-(SF)-275-81
(bankrupt E's application for removal of backpay proceeding to bankruptcy court found ineffective due to exemption of Bd proceedings from removal statute as action of governmental unit in exercise of its regulatory powers; in absence of precedents under removal statute, ALJ based his holding on BD and court decisions involving statutory provisions which contained essentially identical language, namely automatic stay provisions of bankruptcy code)

Yellow Cab Company of Philadelphia (Debtor in Possession) JD-247-81
(adjudication in bankruptcy of E in ULP proceeding, including order of District Court staying all judicial and administrative proceedings against E, does not deprive Bd of its jurisdiction or authority to entertain and process ULP case to its final disposition)

Retail Delivery Service, Inc., and Robert A. Baines, Esq. JD-436-80
(as receiver of E under Bankruptcy Act and trustee in bankruptcy, named individual has been successor in law or alter ego of E, and Bd's order of reparation for backpay due Ee is provable against said trustee as debt of bankrupt E owed to Bd as agent for Ee)

N.L.R.B. v. Bildisco and Bildisco, Debtor-In-Possession 682 F.2d 72 (C.A. 3, June 1982)
(in case of first impression involving apparent conflict between NLRA and Bankruptcy Code policies, arising from Bd order requiring debtor-in-possession to honor bargaining agreement by making all delinquent contributions and payments thereunder, and district ct's affirmance of bankruptcy ct's rejection of bargaining agreement, ct held Bankruptcy Code permits rejection of bargaining agreements since it does not indicate that they are unique among executory contracts and are immune from rejection, and it permits inference that Congress did not distinguish bargaining agreements from executory contracts)

N.L.R.B. v. Bildisco and Bildisco, Debtor-In-Possession 682 F.2d 72 (C.A. 3, June 1982)
(while usual test for rejection of executory contracts in bankruptcy situation is business judgment test, i.e., whether rejection would benefit estate, impact of rejection of bargaining agreement on workers' rights, calling for more stringent examination of evidence to justify rejection, requires thorough scrutiny and careful balancing of equities on both sides; such test accommodates NLRA's labor policies but does not erect impossible barriers to rejection of labor contracts in violation of bankruptcy law's policies and plots a middle course requiring sensitive weighing of competing interests)

N.L.R.B. v. Evans Plumbing Company 639 F.2d 291 (C.A. 5, 1981)
(enforcement granted where Bd ordered E who filed voluntary bankruptcy ptn to reinstate with backpay two discriminatorily discharged Ees since, contrary to E's contention, ct held that Bd proceeding falls w/i statutory exemption to automatic stay provision of Bankruptcy Act of 1978)

Shippers Interstate Service, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 618 F.2d 9 (C.A. 7, 1980)
(where company is being reorganized rather than liquidated and assets are not threatened, Bankruptcy Rule 11-44 shall not apply and regulatory proceedings of NLRB are not subject to automatic stay provisions of that rule)

N.L.R.B. v. Trans-Coal Barge Co. and Vincent J. Shannon, Trustee No. 3-78-0199, Dec. 31, 1979, DC N.D. CA (unreported)
(trustee's objection to Bd's claim for backpay against bankrupt, overruled, even though Bd's claim was not timely filed, where due to procedural irregularity on part of bankrupt, ct assumed Bd did not receive notice of bar date for filing claim which arose during bankruptcy proceeding)

N.L.R.B. v. Trans-Coal Barge Co. and Vincent J. Shannon, Trustee No. 3-78-0199, Dec. 31, 1979, DC N.D. CA (unreported)
(even in absence of procedural irregularity resulting in overruling of trustee's objection to Bd's backpay claim against bankrupt, bankruptcy ct would overrule trustee's objection, in view of appeals ct's liberality in amendments rule)

N.L.R.B. v. Trans-Coal Barge Co. and Vincent J. Shannon, Trustee No. 3-78-0199, Dec. 31, 1979, DC N.D. CA (unreported)
(although automatic stay under Bankruptcy Act would appear to apply to Bd's ULP C involving backpay claim against bankrupt, bankruptcy ct held that, in instant liquidating proceeding, it was appropriate for ct to stay its hand and terminate automatic stay since Bd has necessary specialized expertise for litigation of dispute, and there is no apparent reason why such expertise should be bypassed in favor of litigation in bankruptcy ct)

8200—Cont.

N.L.R.B. v. Trans-Coal Barge Co. and Vincent J. Shannon, Trustee No. 3-78-0199, Dec. 31, 1979, DC N.D. CA (unreported)

(in terminating automatic stay under Bankruptcy Act and permitting Bd to proceed with ULP C and determination of backpay against bankrupt, bankruptcy ct, recognizing trustee's dilemma in deciding whether to contest C or not to proceed in the matter, advised delay on part of all parties to await determination of availability of assets and, if contrary to trustee's wishes, matter is pursued, trustee could seek instructions from ct on question of defending against C)

N.L.R.B. v. Trans-Coal Barge Co. and Vincent J. Shannon, Trustee No. 3-78-0199, Dec. 31, 1979, DC N.D. CA (unreported)

(while terminating automatic stay under Bankruptcy Act and permitting Bd to proceed with ULP C involving backpay claim against bankrupt, bankruptcy ct did not terminate automatic stay and reserved jurisdiction over question of priority to be given any backpay claim in connection with ULP and any distributions to be made by trustee on account of such claim)

In The Matter Of: The Connecticut Celery Company No. H-79-146, July 9, 1980, DC CO (unreported)

(Section 313 Bankruptcy Act empowers Bankruptcy Ct to permit rejection of executory labor contracts reasoning by analogy to successor E, debtor-in-possession need not be bound by existing labor contract; however, because of importance of policies behind Labor Act, bankruptcy cts must scrutinize with particular care petitions to reject collective bargaining agreements)

The Seeburg Corporation, et al. v. N.L.R.B. No. 79-B-39597, Nov. 13, 1980, DC N.D. IL (unreported)

(order staying Bd's ULP proceedings vacated and bankruptcy judge ordered to refrain from hearing ULP charges, since proceedings by BD are not automatically stayed by bankruptcy filling; all bankrupt's assets were being sold to single entity with full knowledgeo f ULP charges and possibility of backpay assessment which made transfer of assets a reorganization, and not a liquidation; ULP charges and question of successorship left to Bd's superior expertise)

N.L.R.B. v. Shippers Interstate Service, Inc. No. FB-78-00662, May 16, 1979, DC N.D. IN (unreported)

(Chapter XI automatic stay provision of Bankruptcy Act applies to proceedings before NLRB, and therefore bankruptcy ct was not w/o jurisdiction to restrain Bd from commencing or continuing proceedings against debtor)

8300 FOREIGN SOVEREIGN IMMUNITY ACT OF 1976

8400 FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS ACT

8500 FEDERAL ANTI-INJUNCTION STATUTE

Bill Johnson's Restaurants, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 660 F.2d 1335 (C.A. 9, Nov 1981)

(Federal anti-inj statute 28 U.S.C. Sec. 2283 does not prevent Bd from curbing state-ct action that interferes with Bd's exercise of its own jurisdiction)

8600 FEDERAL TAX CODE

8700 STATE STATUTES

8701 GENERALLY

Serendippity-Un-Ltd and Tigerrr, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 100

(although documents supporting conclusions of State unemployment bureau that Ees quit w/o just cause were received in evidence, such documents not given governing weight in interpreting statutory questions whether Ees quit or whether they left work while engaging in concerted protected activity; in defining quit, purpose and ends of State statute are not necessarily consistent with protections afforded by Act; and interpretation of events under State statute cannot control, much less bind, Bd concerning whether action of Ees amounted to quit under Act)

8775 MUNICIPAL ORDINANCES

Local 777, Democratic Union Organizing Committee v. N.L.R.B. 603 F.2d 862 (C.A.D.C.)

(State ct decisions limited to interpretation of term Es for purposes of workmen's compensation coverage were not dispositive of E-Ee relationship in context of NLRB particularly in light of 1947 amendments to that legislation)

8900 FEDERAL RULES OF CIVIL PROCEDURE

Upjohn Co. et al. v. United States et al. 445 US 925 (U.S. SCt. Jan. 1981)

(ct upheld E's contention that questionaires, memoranda, notes of interviews conducted by its attorneys among Ees protected from disclosure by attorney-client privilege and constitute work product of attorney prepared in anticipation of litigation; further, control group test (officers and agents responsible for directing company's actions in response to legal advice does not apply as attorneys need information from all Ees to enable them to give sound advice; Rule 26(b)(3) of FRCP provides that work product can't be disclosed w/o showing of substantial need and inability to obtain equivalent w/o undue hardship)

East Texas Motor Freight 262 NLRB No. 101

(Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, which are applicable in U.S. District Cts, are not controlling in administrative hearings before Bd; GC and charging party are not preferred litigants before Bd and are under same obligation to produce relevant evidence where appropriate)

9000 TITLE (VII) OF THE CIVIL RIGHTS ACT

Texas Department of Community Affairs v. Burdine 450 U.S. 248 (U.S. SCt., Mar. 1981)

(in Title VII cases after plaintiff proves by a preponderance of the evidence a prima facie case of discrimination, burden shifts to defendant to rebut presumption of discrimination by production of admissable evidence of legitimate nondiscriminatory reason for its employment action sufficient to raise a genuine issue of fact and legally sufficient to justify judgment for defendant; burden of persuasion remains with plaintiff)

Steelworkers v. Weber, et al. 443 U.S. 193 (June 1979)

(Title VII does not prohibit race conscious affirmative action plans; private E and U voluntarily agreed upon affirmative action plan that accorded preference to Black trainees in order to eliminate conspicuous racial imbalance segregated job categories upheld)

Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Company 261 NLRB No. 002

(fact that litigation under Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 is pending does not restrict Us' rights to information concerning alleged discrimination)

Frank Briscoe Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 637 F.2d 946 (C.A. 3, 1981)

(where Bd finds that Ees engaged in protected concerted activity and E's refusal to reinstate is violative, fact that Ees may also have remedy under Title VII does not deprive Bd of jurisdiction)

International Union of Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers, AFL-CIO-CLC v. N.L.R.B. 648 F.2d 18 (C.A.D.C., Nov. 1980)

(Title VII's (anti discrimination) purpose and procedures strongly suggest that individual does not forfeit his private cause of action if he first pursues grievance to final arbitration under nondiscrimination clause of bargaining agreement)

Laurie L. Abraham v. Graphic Arts International Union, AFL-CIO, CLC, et al. 592 F.2d 1189 (D Ct DC, 1980)

(mtn for summary judgment against E dismissed where it was clear from record that no genuine issues as to facts material to resolution of instant action existed; ct not persuaded that plaintiff made prima facie case regarding E's discrimination against her for U activities by firing her and not granting her maternity leave)

9100 SOCIAL SECURITY ACT-MODEL CITIES PROGRAM

New York Telephone Co. et al. v. New York State Department of Labor, et al. 440 U.S. 519 (S Ct., 1979)

(NLRA does not preclude state from enacting unemployment compensation law which pays benefits to strikers notwithstanding fact that this law put majority of financial burden on struck E and enabled strikers to extend length of strike; Legislative history of NLRA indicates that Congress recognized potential conflict between state law and Act but did not intend to preempt that exercise of state power)

9500 MINE SAFETY AND HEALTH ACT

Atlas Minerals, Division of Atlas Corporation 256 NLRB No. 022

(judicial notice taken of agreement between GC and Mine Safety and Health Administration to the effect that, while safety and health activities may be protected solely under Mine Safety Act, many such activities may be protected under both Mine Safety Act and NLRA)

Atlas Minerals, Division of Atlas Corporation 256 NLRB No. 022

(uranium mining company's mtn to dismiss C on ground its allegations were w/i exclusive jurisdiction of Mine Safety and Health Administration and beyone jurisdiction of Bd, denied, since nothing in Mine Safety Act deprives Bd of its general power, set forth in Sec. 10(a) of NLRA, to prevent ULPs affecting commerce, which shall not be affected by any other means of adjustment or prevention that has been established by agreement, law, or otherwise; and ALJ herein is not empowered to determine if C should have issued, but only to determine if its allegations have merit)

9700 ALL WRITS ACT

In Re: Charles K. Sewell 690 F.2d 403 (C.A. 4, Sept. 1982)

(appellate ct is authorized to issue a writ of mandamus pursuant to All Writs Act in aid of its jurisdiction to confine inferior ct to lawful exercise of its prescribed jurisdiction or to compel it to exercise its authority when it is its duty to do so, but only in exceptional circumstance amounting to judicial usurpation of power; moreover petitioner must show that he had no other adequate means to attain the desired relief, a showing of simple error being insufficient)

9700—Cont.

In Re: Charles K. Sewell 690 F.2d 403 (C.A. 4, Sept. 1982)

(where, after E refused to bargain with Bd-certified U to obtain appellate ct review of certification, U sued E's president under state tort law in state ct action, which was removed to federal district ct, appellate ct was empowered to issue pursuant to All Writs Act writ of mandamus petitioned for by E's president, with Bd as intervenor, on grounds of preemption under Garmon doctrine to confine the district ct to its jurisdiction, since, if the preemption claim was valid, the district ct would have infringed on the Bd's primary jurisdiction of labor relations and the appellate ct's jurisdiction to review Bd orders)

In Re: Charles K. Sewell 690 F.2d 403 (C.A. 4, Sept. 1982)

(appellate ct held that U's action in district ct under state tort law against official of E which had refused to bargain must be dismissed, and mandamus that official petitioned for with Bd as intervenor, granted since federal labor law vested exclusive jurisdiction in Bd to adjudicate controversies over refusals to bargain, subject to appellate ct review; federal law preempted state law pertaining to same controversy under Garmon doctrine, and federal district ct could not invoke latter to reexaime official's conduct but had to defer to Bd's exclusive competence to avert danger of state law interfering with national policy)

144 CONSTRUCTION

5000 LEGISLATIVE HISTORY

Longshoremen's Association, and Local 799;
etc.(Allied International, Inc.) 257 NLRB No. 151

(intent of 8(b)(4) is to protect third person who is wholly unconcerned with disagreement)

Bally's Park Place, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 132

(prohibition in Sec. 9(b)(3) against certifying affilated labor organizations to represent guard units)

Teamsters Local Union No. 326 (The Firestone Plastics Company) 253 NLRB No. 074

(statute does not define the term excessive The legislative history of the Act shows that the purpose of Section 8(b)(5) was to prevent the circumvention of Sections 8(a)(3) and 8(b)(2), which interdict closed shops, by the device of requiring new members to pay exhorbitant initiation fees)

Kleinberg, Kaplan, Wolff, Cohen & Burrows, P.C. 253 NLRB No. 054

(Bd held law firm's clerical and support staff not confidential workers under Bell Aerospace and the Taft-Hartley legislative history, adhering to its traditional restrictive definition of confidential workers as individuals acting in confidential capacity to those Ees formulating, determining and effectuating management's labor relations policies for their own E)

Automobile Workers (UAW) and Its Local 1519 v.
N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 580 (C.A. 6, Apr. 1980)

(Bd's determination of work assignment dispute takes precedence over contrary award of arbitrator, regardless of which action was initiated first; both legislative history and case law on such issue support finding that Bd's 10(k) determination takes priority)

N.L.R.B. v. Nevis Industries, Inc., d/b/a Fresno
Townehouse 647 F.2d 905 (C.A. 9, June 1981)

(Wright Line rule found consistent both with legislative history showing intent to require E to reveal that Ee was discharged for cause and with reality of E's having best access to proof of motivation; also it strikes acceptable balance between protecting Ees' rights and preserving E's rights to discharge Ees for valid business reasons)

Beth Israel Hospital and Geriatric Center v.
N.L.R.B. 688 F.2d 697 (C.A. 10, Sept. 1982)

(en banc ct held Bd must determine, when certifying bargaining unit in health care institutions, whether unit is appropriate w/o resorting to presumption that shifts to E burden of showing proffered unit is appropriate, and Bd must state why unit it chooses complies with Congress' admonition; Bd cannot rely on E's failure to show that units are inappropriate; if Bd declines to redetermine whether an appropriate unit was selected, then that issue is not addressed at ULP proceeding, and thus Federal Rule of Evidence 301 would not apply and E could challenge unit selection only through judicial review)

Beth Israel Hospital and Geriatric Center v.
N.L.R.B. 677 F.2d 1343 (C.A. 10, July 1981)

(enforcement denied where Bd erred in applying its prior decisions finding/concluding that unit restricted exclusively to registered nurses is presumptively appropriate and that E must overcome presumption by producing evidence that limited bargaining units are less appropriate than broader bargaining units; continued acceptance and endorsement of Bd's presumptive and evidentiary policies by ct would simply serve to enhance undue proliferation of health care bargaining units, in direct derogation to congressional mandate set forth in House and Senate committee reports)

Presbyterian/St. Luke's Medical Center v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 450 (C.A. 10, July 1981)

(Bd must expressly consider the congressional admonition to prevent proliferation of bargaining units in health care industry in making unit determinations and focus on disparity of interests between Ee groups which would prohibit or inhibit fair representation of Ee interests)

Presbyterian/St. Luke's Medical Center v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 450 (C.A. 10, July 1981)

(requiring health care industry Es to bear burden of producing evidence that limited bargaining units are more inappropriate than broader bargaining units runs contrary to Congress' admonition)

Lone Star Steel Company v. N.L.R.B. 639 F.2d 545 (C.A. 10, 1980)

(ct, considering products and cease doing business clauses as well as legislative history of Section 8(e) of LMRDA of 1959, found no indication that Congress was concerned with agreements by common carriers or Es in other industries relating to sale of their businesses or of assets as was done in instant case)

7500 COURT INTERPRETATION OF STATUTORY PROVISIONS

N.L.R.B. v. Hendricks County Rural Electric
Membership Corp. 454 US 170 (U.S. SCt. Dec. 1981)

(construction of a statute by those charged with its execution should be followed unless there are compelling indications that it is wrong, especially where Congress has refused to alter the administrative construction)

Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 150

(Mt. Healthy, 429 U.S. 274 (1977), procedure accomodates legitimate competing interests inherent in dual motivation cases, while at same time serving to effectuate policies and objectives of Section 8(a)(3) of Act)

Ithaca College v. N.L.R.B. 623 F.2d 224 (C.A. 2, 1980)

(while deference is to be given to agency's intepretation of statute it administers, it is cts that have final responsibility under constitution on matters of statutory interpretation)

Louis V. Baldovin, Jr., RD v. International
Longshoremen's Association, AFL-CIO, et al. 626 F.2d 445 (C.A. 5, 1980)

(inj denied since no basis to believe U's refusal to load grain aboard ships bound for Russia in order to protest Russia's invasion of another country, and avoid enhancing economic status of Russia affected commerce, where only political decision by foreign government could satisfy U's grievance; notwithstanding U's action affected producers and transporters of grain and those who loaded it aboard ships; boycott secondary in that U did not seek to affect labor relations of E's with which it had contract or terms and conditions of employment of their Ees)

155 AMENDMENTS OF NLRA

2000 CONSTITUTIONALITY OF AMENDMENTS

4000 EFFECTIVE DATE OF APPLICATION

Methodist Hospital of Kentucky, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 563 (C.A. 6, 1980)

(ct found that striking Ees were effectively terminated prior to effective date of health care amendments and therefore did not acquire Ee status under Act merely because strike was in progress on effective date)

6000 RETROACTIVE APPLICATION

8000 EFFECT OF AMENDMENTS

Plumbers, Local Unions Nos. 141, 229, 681 and 706 (International Paper Company, Southern Kraft Division) 252 NLRB No. 181

(Section 14(b))

Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 150

(1947 amendment of Section 10(c) of NLRA does not address in part or dominent motive analysis or allocations of burdens but legislative history of such amendment does; E required to make out what is actually affirmative defense to overcome prima facie case of wrongful motive)

Bon Secours Hospital, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 019

(1974 health care amendments show intent of Congress that Ees of religiously operated hospitals, unlike schools, are covered as it specifically refused to exclude such hospitals from coverage under Act; therefore assertion of jurisdiction proper)

N.L.R.B. v. HMO International/California Medical Group Health Plan, Inc. 678 F.2d 806 (C.A. 9, June 1982)

(where Bd failed to give weight to nonproliferation policy of health care amendments and failed to apply court-mandated test based on legislative history of amendments as to whether disparity of interest of Ees in different classifications required a number of units, Bd was to state on remand precisely how it proposed to modify its traditional community of interest standard so as to implement herein the congressional amendment's nonproliferation mandate)

Local 777, Democratic Union Organizing Committee v. N.L.R.B. 603 F.2d 862 (C.A.D.C.)

(State ct decisions limited to interpretation of term Es for purposes of workmen's compensation coverage were not dispositive of E-Ee relationship in context of NLRB particularly in light of 1947 amendments to that legislation)

Plumbers, Local Unions Nos. 141, 229, 681, and 706 v. N.L.R.B. 675 F.2d 1257 (C.A.D.C., Apr. 1982)

(Section 14(b))

1633-5057—Cont.

[illegible] removal service)

Pizza Pizzaz, Inc., d/b/a Jacob Wirth Restaurant [illegible]

[illegible]

Power Service Co., T and T Truck and Trailer [illegible]

166 SEPARABILITY OF PROVISIONS

[illegible]

Electric of New York, Inc., et al. [illegible]

[illegible]

Pinnacle Roofing Co., Inc. [illegible]

[illegible]

177 STATUTORY DEFINITIONS

0800 PERSON

0850 SECTION 2(1) DEFINITION OF 'ANY PERSON'

International Longshoremen's Association, AFL-CIO (Kansas Farm Bureau, et al.) 264 NLRB No. 055
(foreign flagship is person under Act, as 1959 amendments to Sec. 8(b)(4) inserted any person engaged in commerce in place of any E, bringing activities directed against entities which did not fall w/i definition of E w/i secondary boycott provisions)

1600 'EMPLOYER'

Group W Cable, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 021
(Bd held, contrary to E's allegation that it is not E w/i meaning of Act on ground that such allegation was conclusion of law and not statement of fact, E is an E w/i meaning of Act, since E had agreed it was E engaged in commerce w/i meaning of Sec. 2(6) and (7) when it entered into Stipulation for Certification Upon Consent Election and admitted in its Ans that it was corporation which in course of business operation annually purchases and receives goods or services valued in excess of $50,000 directly from suppliers located outside state and annually derives gross revenues in excess of $500,000)

1601 GENERALLY

Radio Free Europe/Radio Liberty, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 063
(jurisdiction asserted over non profit private corporation engaged in production and transmission of radio broadcasts to Eastern Europe that is funded and evaluated by government agency established for that purpose, though Agency exercises no control of corporation's labor relations, since under right to control test E is private corporation and has enough control over labor relations to engage in collective bargaining)

Operating Engineers, Local 926 (George L. Smith, II, Georgia World Congress Center) 254 NLRB No. 116
(even corporation that acted ultra vires when it filed charge)

Taylor Hospital 249 NLRB No. 031
(hospital, rather than vending company responsible for dietary department, found E of dietary Ees at hospital where hospital demonstrated its authority to determine policies, terms and conditions of employment for dietary Ees, and community of interest of dietary Ees with hospital's other Ees had not been diminished by hospital's arrangement with vending company)

United States Steel Corporation 248 NLRB No. 090
(safety and education plan found not an E notwithstanding plan is composed of 79 E-members, including 3 Es who fund and sponsor a school preparing individuals to become licensed officers pursuant to agreement)

R. W. Harmen & Sons, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 664 F.2d 248 (C.A. 10, Nov. 1981)
(in finding that Bd properly asserted jurisdiction over E providing school bus transportation services to school districts, assertedly exempt from Bd jurisdiction under Sec. 2(2), which had authority to reject job applicants and to recommend dismissals, ct stated that cts view absolute power to hire and fire workers as relevant but not essential indication of E-Ee relationship)

1617 AGENT OF EMPLOYER (SEE ALSO GENERAL LEGAL PRINCIPLES 712)

Quality Drywall Company, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 075
(individual held agent of E whether or not he was supervisor, where he conveyed information and distributed work assignments and materials to Ees; he could reasonably have been viewed by Ees as E's representative as he was clothed with implied authority to act for management)

1633 PERSONS FOUND TO BE EMPLOYERS

The German School Society, Washington, D.C., d/b/a The German School of Washington, D.C. 260 NLRB No. 169
(fact that teachers assigned by foreign government to teach at E's private, nonprofit school were admitted to this country under A-2 visas, which E contends are granted only to representatives of foreign government temporarily admitted to perform official duties, held not to establish that E, w/i meaning of Sec. 2(2) of Act, is foreign government, where A-2 visas specifically state that such individuals are admitted in order to perform pedagogical duties for E; and, their immigration status does not alter fact that they, as Ees in this country, are entitled to protection of Act)

1633-5000 Combinations of employers

1633-5017 Independent contractors

Joint Council of Teamsters No. 42; et al. (Associated Independent Owner-Operators, Inc.) 248 NLRB No. 082
(dump truck operators were held independent contractors in prior Bd decisions involving same parties herein or their privies and under principles of res judicata and collateral estoppel parties are foreclosed from litigating status of operators)

Local 777, Democratic Union Organizing Committee v. N.L.R.B. 603 F.2d 862 (C.A.D.C.)
(Bd instructed to apply same general agency principles as would cts in determining whether or not individual (cab driver) is an Ee or an independent contractor)

Local 777, Democratic Union Organizing Committee v. N.L.R.B. 603 F.2d 862 (C.A.D.C.)
(two elements in instant case determinative of leased cab drivers' status as independent contractors and not as Ees were; (1), lack of control by lessor in manner and means in which drivers carry on their business and (2), rent that lessor receives for lease of cab was not related to amount of fares collected by lessee-driver)

1633-5033 Lessors of leased departments

Trans-States Lines, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 116
(trucking company (lessee) and fleet owner (lessor) held joint Es, since lessee was fully involved in (lessor's) employment process and exercised other controls over lessor's Ees)

1633-5041 Owners of rental property

Local 777, Democratic Union Organizing Committee v. N.L.R.B. 603 F.2d 862 (C.A.D.C.)
(ability to establish lease terms unilaterally was not in itself enough to establish existence of E-Ee relationship (between cab owners and cab drivers); critical question was whether terms of lease vest excessive control in lessor (cab owner))

Local 777, Democratic Union Organizing Committee v. N.L.R.B. 603 F.2d 862 (C.A.D.C.)
(control exercised over manner and means of performance is identifying characteristic of E-Ee relationship, not merely economic controls which many corporations exercise over independent contractors)

Local 777, Democratic Union Organizing Committee v. N.L.R.B. 603 F.2d 862 (C.A.D.C.)
(fact that government regulation has made supervision or control by lessor (cab owner) unnecessary was not equivalent of presence of actual supervision or control)

Local 777, Democratic Union Organizing Committee v. N.L.R.B. 603 F.2d 862 (C.A.D.C.)
(length of lease term in no way affects relationship between taxi companies and their drivers while latter are operating leased vehicles)

1633-5050 Parent and subsidiary

S. L. Industries Inc. and Extruded Products, Corp. 252 NLRB No. 151
(parent corporation and its wholly owned subsidiary held single E where they have interlocking officers and directors, and share use of common computer and accountant)

1633-5067 Enterprises under common management

Consolidated Dress Carriers, Inc., et al. 259 NLRB No. 083
(three corporations serving garment industry one of which was engaged in actual physical transportation of goods, one created solely for purpose of supplying equipment and one created for purpose of supplying labor held single E in view of common management, where common supervision over clericals of operations, centralized control of labor relations, and totally integrated operations where interchange of Ees and equipment shared warehouse, office facility and fixtures, trucks, and shared cleaning and rubbish removal service)

1633-5067—Cont.

Pizza Pizzaz, Inc., d/b/a Jacob Wirth Restaurant 248 NLRB No. 037
(full menu restaurant and fast food shop constitute single E which meets Bd's jurisdictional standards where fast food shop was sole stockholder of restaurant; one individual was president of fast food shop and vice-president and treasurer of restaurant as well as general manager of both food operations)

Power Service Co., T and T Truck and Trailer Leasing, Inc., Night Hawk Motor Transportation, Inc., and Vork Motor Transport, Inc. JD-151-82
(three Es engaged in transportation business having common management, supervision, labor relations and other common business functions held single E, since companies were shown to have existed for principal purpose of serving one another)

Ace Electrical Construction Corporation Advance Electric of New York, Inc.; et al. JD-(NY)-79-81
(entities, by whatever name used, operated by one individual held operated as alter egos of other entities operated by that one individual, since they had substantially same ownership, identical management, business purpose, operations, equipment, premises, customers, supervision and labor relations policies)

Clifford Cook, d/b/a Pinnacle Company and Pinnacle Roofing Co., Inc. JD-(SF)-196-79
(alter egos in view of common ownership, management, customers, equipment and common control over labor relations)

Tipton Electric Company and Professional Furniture Company v. N.L.R.B. 621 F.2d 890 (C.A. 8, 1980)
(notwithstanding Es were separate corporations Es were joint Es, since they had some common ownership; one E leased space from the other E; president of one E was director of other; executive vice-president of one E was president and a director of the other E)

N.L.R.B. v. Big Bear Supermarkets #3 and its alter ego Richard Homes 640 F.2d 924 (C.A. 9, Apr 8, 1980)
(where E franchised one of its stores to individual but retained under contract terms a sufficient number of controls over operation of store so that it continued to operate essentially as any other of E's stores, ct held common management criterion favored a finding of single-E status)

1633-5069 Franchisor and franchisee

Wolf Street Supermarkets, Inc. d/b/a Jim's Big M; and Big M Supermarkets, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 150
(mere showing of franchise relationship existing between two companies w/o evidence of inference by franchisor is not enough to supply proof of alter ego, successorship, single E, or joint-E relationship)

1633-5071 Enterprises with common ownership

Consolidated Dress Carriers, Inc., et al. 259 NLRB No. 083
(three corporations serving garment industry one of which was engaged in actual physical transportation of goods, one created solely for purpose of supplying equipment and one created for purpose of supplying labor held single E in view of common management, where common supervision over clericals of operations, centralized control of labor relations, and totally integrated operations where interchange of Ees and equipment shared warehouse, office facility and fixtures, trucks, and shared cleaning and rubbish removal service)

Pizza Pizzaz, Inc., d/b/a Jacob Wirth Restaurant 248 NLRB No. 037
(full menu restaurant and fast food shop constitute single E which meets Bd's jurisdictional standards where fast food shop was sole stockholder of restaurant; one individual was president of fast food shop and vice-president and treasurer of restaurant as well as general manager of both food operations)

Tulsa Yellow Cab Company, Inc. and Peoples Checker Cab Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 092
(Bd lacked jurisdiction over two cab companies owned by members of same family where neither E had gross revenues exceeding $500,000 and Bd found no significant integration of enterprises to constitute both as joint Es)

Royce Lindsay d/b/a Royce Lindsay Plumbing, Heating, and Refrigeration Supply Company, etc. JD-(SF)-3-82
(common ownership of newly-formed companies held indicated by stock breakdown where companies were located in community property state and division of stock of two companies was nearly 50-50 with 51 and 49 percent divided between husband and wife, respectively, who wholly owned companies herein; identical corporate ownership, however, is not sine qua non of alter ego status)

Ace Electrical Construction Corporation Advance Electric of New York, Inc.; et al. JD-(NY)-79-81
(entities, by whatever name used, operated by one individual held operated as alter egos of other entities operated by that one individual, since they had substantially same ownership, identical management, business purpose, operations, equipment, premises, customers, supervision and labor relations policies)

Clifford Cook, d/b/a Pinnacle Company and Pinnacle Roofing Co., Inc. JD-(SF)-196-79
(alter egos in view of common ownership, management, customers, equipment and common control over labor relations)

Tipton Electric Company and Professional Furniture Company v. N.L.R.B. 621 F.2d 890 (C.A. 8, 1980)
(notwithstanding Es were separate corporations Es were joint Es, since they had some common ownership; one E leased space from the other E; president of one E was director of other; executive vice-president of one E was president and a director of the other E)

N.L.R.B. v. Big Bear Supermarkets #3 and its alter ego Richard Homes 640 F.2d 924 (C.A. 9, Apr 8, 1980)
(criterion relating to common management or financial control favored finding of single-E status, where E franchised one of its stores to individual but franchise arrangement was a sham transaction executed for purpose of evading E's bargaining obligations with Us)

1633-5073 Double-breasted operations

Al Bryant, Inc., Harrisburg Drywall and Construction Corporation, and Al Bryant Associates, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 010
(two corporations (one formed after charge was filed) operating non-U in construction industry held single E along with U corporation where latter bore all administrative and clerical expenses, loaned equipment w/o established rental charge, management and Ees were integrated and three had common ownership)

Malcolm Boring Co., Inc. B. C. Malcolm and Bruce C. Malcolm 259 NLRB No. 081
(refusal of construction equipment company to honor construction company's contract with U, not unlawful notwithstanding companies were found double-breasted operation of single E herein, where construction equipment Ees were found to comprise separate unit from construction Ees' unit and not to be covered by latter's contract)

A-1 Fire Protection, Inc., and Corcoran Automatic Sprinklers, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 034
(E's refusal to extend collective-bargaining agreement which describes scope of unit represented by U to Ees in its non-U company not violative as parties voluntarily entered into agreement with full knowledge of double breasted operation of E; therefore use of clear and unmistakable waiver standard is not applicable as parties never intended to include Ees of non-U company in bargaining unit)

1633-5075 Single integrated enterprise

Hillside Bus Corp. 262 NLRB No. 152
(three corporations engaged in transporting students under contract with the Board of Education held single integrated enterprise and jurisdiction asserted in view of interchange of Ees, fact that sole owner and manager of one managed other two corporations, two corporations had no offices, and one corporation paid office and garage rent for all, one corporation hired and fired for all, all checks from Board of Education sent to one corporation)

Consolidated Dress Carriers, Inc., et al. 259 NLRB No. 083
(three corporations serving garment industry one of which was engaged in actual physical transportation of goods, one created solely for purpose of supplying equipment and one created for purpose of supplying labor held single E in view of common management, where common supervision over clericals of operations, centralized control of labor relations, and totally integrated operations where interchange of Ees and equipment shared warehouse, office facility and fixtures, trucks, and shared cleaning and rubbish removal service)

Air-Vac Industries, Inc., Leeward Constructors, Inc., Air-Vac Environmental Limited 259 NLRB No. 051
(single E status for purposes of NLRA depends upon all circumstances of case, and not all the single controlling criteria specified by SCt in Radio and Television Broadcasting Technicians, 380 U.S. 255, 256 (1965), need be present)

Air-Vac Industries, Inc., Leeward Constructors, Inc., Air-Vac Environmental Limited 259 NLRB No. 051
(three business entities held single integrated enterprise where two of them were admittedly single E and all three were; commonly owned, had same sole directors and officers of the corporations, formulating and administering common labor policies, operated out of same facility with same equipment, Ees of all three were supervised by single supervisor and entities utilized single compliment of Ees)

1633-5075—Cont.

Weather Tamer, Inc. and Tuskegee Garment Corporation 253 NLRB No. 036

(four plants held single integrated E in view of common management, ownership, financial control, interchange of machinery and all garments are inspected at one plant)

Miami Foundry Corporation 252 NLRB No. 002

(corporation which had acquired stock of iron foundry and such foundry held single integrated enterprise where foundry continued operations with management, finances, ownership, and labor relations policies resting in hands of new owner)

Angelus Block Co., Inc., Amari, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 127

(notwithstanding that two Es were separate legal entities with separate bank accounts etc., they were held single E where operations of both Es were interrelated; one E was other's sole customer and existed for sole purpose of serving other; both Es had common management, supervision and elements of common ownership)

Petroleum Electronics, Inc. and/or Cook Enterprises, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 042

(2 Es found single integrated enterprise and/or joint E where they have same majority owner, president, dispatcher, and office manager, same business, facilities and Ees, and, most significantly, same person determining labor relations policy)

Land Equipment Inc. 248 NLRB No. 098

(company renting construction equipment with operators to building contractors and company furnishing labor to above company held single E in view of interrelationship of operations, and common ownership, management and control of labor relations policies)

Smyth Manufacturing Company, Inc.; Beacon Industries 247 NLRB No. 164

(U and nonU plants held single or joint E in view of same ownership, managers, engineers, research staff, maintenance staff, office clerical staff, head manager and director of labor policy and interchange of personnel and resources)

Rena Management Inc. JD-(NY)-75-82

(affiliated business with common officers and operators constituted single integrated business enterprise where owners of businesses administered common labor policy)

Power Service Co., T and T Truck and Trailer Leasing, Inc., Night Hawk Motor Transportation, Inc., and York Motor Transport, Inc. JD-161-82

(three Es engaged in transportation business having common management, supervision, labor relations and other common business functions held single E, since companies were shown to have existed for principal purpose of, serving one another)

Hanely Hardwood Lumber Co. JD-285-81

(three corporations engaged in lumber business held single E in view of common ownership, fact same individuals were officers in all corporations, and one individual possessed and exercised authority to control labor relations of all three corporations, companies utilized same attorney and accountant, Ees of all three entities used same health benefit plan; further, three entities were nothing more than divisions of integrated enterprises where one entity formed to handle sales of product of already estabilshed E, and third company formed for purpose of processing lower grade lumber produced by company into saleable product)

Master Products, Inc.; et al. JD-726-80

(leasing company was part of single intergrated enterprise and constituted single integrated E, along with two manufacturing corporations in view of substantial common ownership and financial control over it by same person who exercised control over two manufacturing corporations; operation of the three entities were interrelated and had common control of their labor relations)

Tri-State Warehouse & Distributing, Inc. and Public Warehousing Corp. JD-261-80

N.L.R.B. v. Browning-Ferris Industries of Pennsylvania, Inc. 691 F.2d 1117 (C.A. 3, Oct. 1982)

(single E relationship exists where two nominally separate entities are actually part of single integrated enterprise so that there is a single E and the question is whether such enterprises constitute only one integrated enterprise; in deciding question, Bd considers four factors approved by SCt: 1) functional integration of operations; 2) centralized control of labor relations; 3) common management; and 4) common ownership; single E status ultimately depends on all circumstances of case and is characterized as absence of an arm's length relationship found among unintegrated companies)

N.L.R.B. v. Browning-Ferris Industries of Pennsylvania, Inc. 691 F.2d 1117 (C.A. 3, Oct. 1982)

(joint E relationship does not depend upon existence of single integrated enterprise but assumes that Es are independent legal entities that have merely historically chosen to handle jointly important aspects of their E-Ee relationship; and no finding of arm's length transaction or unity of control of ownership is required as in single E cases; it is rather matter determining which of two, or whether both, Es control, in capacity of E, labor relations of given Ee group, and business entities are in fact separate but share matters governing essential terms and conditions of employment)

Nelson Electric, Gary C. Nelson, Inc. and Gary C. Nelson Electric v. N.L.R.B. 638 F.2d 965 (C.A. 6, Jan. 1981)

(two business enterprises held alter ego of third company and single integrated E with the company where E made all management decisions, supervised all work, and operated out of same office; moreover, cash assets of all three businesses were completely commingled)

1633-5083 Joint ventures

Heck's Properties, Incorporated, Engineering Division and/or Mountaineer Investment Co., Inc. 264 NLRB No. 071

(two corporations held joint Es of ventures and are jointly liable for each others' ULPs, notwithstanding no common ownership where firms performed parallel functions of constructing department stores merely depending upon U or nonunion status of particular job, one corporation lacked independent identity with respect to operations, administration, personnel, capital holdings and management has commonality with each other)

1633-5091 Employer associations

McCormick-Boyett Plumbing Company JD-(ATL)-93-82

(Es held multi-E bargaining entity and single E for purposes of collective bargaining notwithstanding negotiations by informal group w/o specific delegation of authority rather than by formal association, or that Es in group customarily separately signed negotiated agreement, where Es have indicated unequivocal intent to bargain as group rather than as individuals; further, herein there was history of multi-E bargaining and appropriateness of multi-E unit not disputed)

N.L.R.B. v. Associated General Contractors of California, Inc. 633 F.2d 766 (C.A. 9, 1980)

(two or more Es, if they are alter egos, may be treated as single E under the NLRA)

1633-7500 Employer alter ego

Fugazy Continental Corp.; Elite Services, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 165

(in determining whether purchaser is alter ego of seller, Bd considers following factors, no one of which, taken alone, is sine qua non of alter ego status: common management and ownership; common business purpose; nature of operations and supervision; common premises and equipment; common customers, i.e., whether Es constitute the same business in the same market; nature and extent of negotiations and formalities surrounding transaction; and whether purpose behind creation of alleged alter ego was legitimate or had purpose of evading responsibilities under Act)

Fugazy Continental Corp.; Elite Services, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 165

(in finding purchaser of part of E's operations alter ego of E, Bd considered fact that sale, accompanied by highly irregular practices, was not arm's length transaction, where E directed and managed both ends of transaction and continued to retain financial interest in purchaser's operations; until instant proceedings began, all of purchaser's business consisted of work for E, and thereafter purchaser performed work for outsiders on a small scale, thereby indicating that purchaser's business virtually exists at the sufferance of E)

Fugazy Continental Corp.; Elite Services, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 165

(in finding purchaser of part of E's operations alter ego of E, Bd considered fact that sale was not motivated by E's financial losses and would not have taken place but for E's desire to crush Ees' successful organizing efforts; E's animus toward Ees' statutory rights was amply demonstrated herein and was among factors which tipped balance in favor of finding of alter ego; E's contention that sale was long contemplated and motivated by legitimate business considerations was inconsistent with its ferocious anti-U ULPs committed up to and beyond time of alleged sale)

Fugazy Continental Corp.; Elite Services, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 165

(purchaser of part of E's operations held alter ego of E, since sale was not bona fide arm's length transaction but, rather, was hastily and haphazardly arranged maneuver to continue E's operations in disguised form while avoiding its statutory obligations and responsibilities, where E did not intend to sell its operations until and unless it became only remaining means to thwart Ee organization, and following U's election victory, E set up one of its trusted supervisors as surrogate, carrying on same business, in same location, with same supervision for benefit of E itself)

Shellmaker, Inc., and Bayside Dredging Company, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 109

(no alter ego status found between dredging company operating own, larger dredges, and company which operates smaller marina dredge, in view of different customers, i.e., one works for Army Corps of Engineers and others for marinas; they hold themselves out as separate entities with separate books; no common ownership, management, or labor relations; and Ees were separately supervised; fact that one company would not have started business w/o loan from other company held not critical in absence of strings attached to loan)

1633-7500—Cont.

Campbell-Harris Electric, Inc. and Campbell Electric, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 167
(identical corporate ownership is not sine qua non of alter ego status)

Campbell-Harris Electric, Inc. and Campbell Electric, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 167
(sole proprietorship established by former partner of partnership held alter ego of the partnership where there was substantial identity of ownership and management between the two entities)

Pinter Bros., Inc., Retnip Corp., Pin-Bro Leasing, Inc., GLT Transportation Lines, Inc., a/k/a Moon Express Co., INc. 263 NLRB No. 091
(no alter-ego relationship found where: sole owners of new company owned less than 20 percent of old company; new company leased space from old on same basis as other lessees; operation is on much smaller scale; only about 30 percent of customers are same; equipment although same was either purchased or leased in arms-length transaction; moreover although management and labor relations is similar, this is not enough to support alter-ego finding in light of above factors)

American Pacific Concrete Pipe Company, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 139
(alter ego relationship found where one company leased trucks to other company and both companies had substantially identical business purpose, operations, equipment, and customers, and while there was no common ownership, there was common management, supervision and control of labor relations)

Master Food Services, Inc., Noah Robinson, and Al Williams d/b/a A & W Catering Co. 262 NLRB No. 105
(manager and former Ee of college cafeteria held alter ego of company who managed cafeteria and of sole proprietorship who personally controlled that company as purported sole or transfer of operation to manager was sham and hurriedly devised to prevent unionization)

F & F Construction Co., Inc., and Roland L. Barker, d/b/a R. L. Barker Construction Company 262 NLRB No. 98
(in supplemental proceeding, individual d/b/a sole proprietorship held alter ego of respondent company since individual was sole owner and chief operating official of both and as supervisor in company was responsible for most of ULPs committed by company; individual had discontinued operations of company after Bd decision in underlying ULP case and established sole proprietorship to perform same operations)

Chippewa Motor Freight, Inc. and Action Carrier, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 066
(E not found alter-ego where old enterprise closed solely for financial reasons and although new and old enterprise have substantially identical ownership, lower-echalon management and supervision is different, method of business operation, equipment and customers are totally different)

Denzil S. Alkire, a Sole Proprietorship; et al. 259 NLRB No. 174
(where sole proprietorship dissolved company and terminated Ees and then formed new corporate entity, newly-formed company held successor and alter ego of dissolved company, where both entities had substantially identical business purpose, operation, equipment and customers, and predecessor and his family owned and controlled new company)

Denzil S. Alkire, a Sole Proprietorship; et al. 259 NLRB No. 174
(where proprietorship dissolved company and formed new corporate entity, found its alter ego herein, which was subsequently leased by another E, such E held successor and alter ego of proprietorship and the new corporate entity, since there was substantially identical business purpose, operation, equipment, and customers; proprietor continued to play substantial role in actual operation of busienss; and economic realities of lease agreement whereby new E invested no capital and proprietor retained all financial risks and received all profits demonstrated that E was directly or indirectly subject to economic power of proprietor)

Friederich Truck Service, Inc. and FTL, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 053
(no alter ego status found between two transportation companies, notwithstanding both were owned by members of same family, where the companies were maintained as to tally independent corporations with regard to their operations as well as control of labor management)

Custom Manufacturing Company (Successor to Zion Industries, Inc.—Curtain and Drapery Division); etc. 259 NLRB No. 066
(in finding company not alter ego of companies involved in backpay proceeding, ALJ improperly relied on fact that evidence failed to show that company was set up for purpose of evading Act and that there was no transfer of assets; although ALJ acknowledged that such 2 factors were not necessary elements to find alter ego status, ALJ nevertheless weighed them along with other factors in finding company herein not alter ego)

Custom Manufacturing Company (Successor to Zion Industries, Inc.—Curtain and Drapery Division); etc. 259 NLRB No. 066
(in backpay proceeding, drapery company held alter ego of 3 other companies which were successively formed earlier and each followed pattern of discontinuing its drapery business and commending scaled-down operation; changes in companies' operations did not represent abrupt shift but another step in evolution of drapery business from manufacturer to broker and from residential to institutional customers; there was no real hiatus between alter ego and preceding company since it was spinoff of former business and it was not so changed as to put it beyond Bd's backpay order)

Imperial Hospital; Donald W. Henry, Trustee in Bankruptcy 257 NLRB No. 061
(trustee in bankruptcy is alter ego of bankrupt E and successor in law vis-a-vis U)

Whitehall Packing Company, Inc. and W.P.C., Ltd. 257 NLRB No. 043
(new operation of E found alter ego of original plant where: substantially owned and controlled by same individuals who determined labor relations for both companies and companies were functionally integrated)

Hageman Underground Construction; etc. 253 NLRB No. 007
(alter ego found where non-U company performs identical work as company which had U contract, is owned and managed by same persons, has same Ees, location and equipment, and U company went out of business after formation of non-U company and after completing jobs in progress)

S. L. Industries Inc. and Extruded Products, Corp. 252 NLRB No. 151
(one corporation alter ego of other corporation where ownership, control of operating policies and labor relations of both eminated from single source)

Owen Lee Floor Service, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 070
(individual proprietorship held alter ego of corporation and obligated to recognize and bargain where individual, who became sole proprietor, had been chairman of board and with his wife owned all stock of corporation, proprietorship continued in same business at essentially same locations serving same sole customer and using same suppliers)

J. M. Tanaka Construction, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 028
(alter ego found where business continued in same form except for name; same owner-manager, finished 2 projects started by first company, purchased all equipment, rehired all Ees, and although stock held in different proportions, family ownership same)

Farmingdale Iron Works, Inc., and Jerry Cardullo Iron Works, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 003
(new company held alter ego of prior company where prior company owned physical premises which housed new company and its operations; new company organized to perform exactly the same work formerly performed by prior company; work of new company performed by identical Ees and supervision; new company operated with machinery and equipment transfered from prior company)

SFS Painting and Drywall, Inc.; James Seech d/b/a J. Seech Painting and Drywall 249 NLRB No. 009
(sole proprietorship held alter ego of and single E with corporation where sole proprietorship was established by president and sole shareholder of corporation and assumed and continued corporation's operations for benefit of corporation, utilizing substantially same capital and equipment, employing same management and supervisors, and providing same services to substantially same customers as corporation)

Local 1115, Joint Board, Nursing Home & Hospital Employees—Florida Division (B & K Investments, Inc., d/b/a Towne House convalescent Center) 248 NLRB No. 167
(successor E held not alter ego of predecessor where ownerships were not substantially identical, and there was no element of disguised continuation of prior enterprise; moreover, although E never disavowed contracts neither did it expressly assume them)

International Harvester Company and Muller International Trucks, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 140
(international trucking corporation held alter ego of corporation owning its only voting stock, maintaining 3 to 1 majority on its board, and with power to approve all major decisions, including execution of U contract, where both corporations used same facilities, trucks and spare parts, and office and service equipment, had same overall supervision and engaged in same business in same market)

Iowa Parcel Service, Inc. and Iowa Express Distribution, Inc. JD-238-82
(alter ego status as to individual, company he owned, and company started by his former Ees not established in view of different ownership – notwithstanding he made them an interest-free startup loan – and different control of labor relations and operations and size and scope of operations)

1633-7500—Cont.

Royce Lindsay d/b/a Royce Lindsay Plumbing, Heating, and Refrigeration Supply Company, etc. JD-(SF)-3-82

(factors considered by Bd in determining whether separate Es are single employing entity are: interrelation of operations, centralized control of labor relations, common management, and common ownership and control; while no individual factor has been found controlling, emphasis is usually placed on such factors, particularly control of labor relations; and, generally, Bd has found alter ego status where enterprises have substantially identical management, business purpose of operation, equipment, customers, supervision, and ownership)

Royce Lindsay d/b/a Royce Lindsay Plumbing, Heating, and Refrigeration Supply Company, etc. JD-(SF)-3-82

(common ownership of newly-formed companies held indicated by stock breakdown where companies were located in community property state and division of stock of two companies was nearly 50-50 with 51 and 49 percent divided between husband and wife, respectively who wholly owned companies herein; identical corporate ownership, however, is not sine qua non of alter ego status)

Chippewa Motor Freight, Inc. JD-425-81

(where original company closed for economic reasons and new company established for economic reasons alter-ego status not found where although top management and one of prior locations remained the same, lower level management different, only one office left instead of 17, different type of hauling performed and all business dealings between two companies were at fair market prices)

Ace Electrical Construction Corporation Advance Electric of New York, Inc.; et al. JD-(NY)-79-81

(entities, by whatever name used, operated by one individual held operated as alter egos of other entities operated by that one individual, since they had substantially same ownership, identical management, business purpose, operations, equipment, premises, customers, supervision and labor relations policies)

Ace Electrical Construction Corporation Advance Electric of New York, Inc.; et al. JD-(NY)-79-81

(individual who operated his business under variety and succession of corporate names and structures each of which, had been alter egos held individually liable for ULPs he personally committed; circumstances warranted piercing corporate veil where individual threatened to close down and reopen under new name as he had done in past)

Clifford Cook, d/b/a Pinnacle Company and Pinnacle Roofing Co., Inc. JD-(SF)-196-79

(alter egos in view of common ownership, management, customers, equipment and common control over labor relations)

Master Products, Inc.; et al. JD-726-80

Dawson Masonry, Inc. and its alter egos, Shoals Masonry, Inc., and Charles Dawson JD-(STL)-12-80

(corporation which coexisted with and had substantially same ownership, controlling management, supervision and business purpose as respondent corporation held alter ego of respondent)

Dawson Masonry, Inc. and its alter egos, Shoals Masonry, Inc., and Charles Dawson JD-(STL)-12-80

(individual who owned, managed, and supervised two businesses which were alter ego of each other, used checks of one and paid under the name of the other found alter ego of both corporations)

Bailey Glass Company, Inc., and/or Blue Mountain Glass Mfg., Inc., d/b/a Bailey Glass JD-452-80

(new corporation held alter ego of former E where new corporation manufactured same products, at same place, used same factor previously used by former E, and former E still exerted substantial financial control over new corporation and participated significantly, through its president, in formulation of labor policies to be pursued by new corporation)

Tri-State Warehouse & Distributing, Inc. and Public Warehousing Corp. JD-261-80

Atlas Inc. JD-890-79

(E which acquired all physical assets of predecessor, engaged in substantially same business operations as formerly engaged in by predecessor, and employed as manager the predecessor's president and principal stockholder, held successor to and alter ego of predecessor)

N.L.R.B. v. Bildisco and Bildisco, Debtor-In-Possession 682 F.2d 72 (C.A. 3, June 1982)

(debtor-in-possession, who had obtained permission from bankruptcy ct to reject bargaining agreement, held not alter ego of debtor nor party to bargaining agreement; rather, debtor-in-possession is new entity with its own rights and duties subject to bankruptcy ct's supervision and is comparable to trustee and is an officer of the ct; debtor-in-possession is analogous to successor E and may be required to bargain with U, but it is not party to predecessor's bargaining agreement unless it is assumed, and it is able to reject agreement w/o following 8(d) procedures)

N.L.R.B. v. Scott Printing Corporation and J&J House of Composition 612 F.2d 783 (C.A. 3)

(where no real change in operation of composing room after sale to company formed by former Ees, and older company continued to maintain substantial degree of control over business operations finding of alter-ego proper)

N.L.R.B. v. Borg Warner Corporation; et al. 660 F.2d 324 (C.A. 6, Oct. 1981)

(wholly-owned subsidiary of corporation held alter ego to another wholly-owned subsidiary of same corporation where they shared top executive officers, common offices, post office boxes, and lockboxes, and vice president for personnel rendered labor advice for both subsidiaries)

Nelson Electric, Gary C. Nelson, Inc. and Gary C. Nelson Electric v. N.L.R.B. 638 F.2d 965 (C.A. 6, Jan. 1981)

(two business enterprises held alter ego of third company and single integrated E with the company where E made all management decisions, supervised all work, and operated out of same office; moreover, cash assets of all three businesses were completely commingled)

N.L.R.B. v. Michigan Drywall Corporation, M & D Drywall, Inc., and James F. Mullins 616 F.2d 966 (C.A. 6, 1980)

(individual who was chief officer and virtually sole stockholder of two related companies held alter ego of both companies)

N.L.R.B. v. Michigan Drywall Corporation, M & D Drywall, Inc., and James F. Mullins 616 F.2d 966 (C.A. 6, 1980)

(individual who was chief officer and virtually sole stockholder of two related companies held alter ego of both companies)

J. M. Tanaka Construction, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 675 F.2d 1029 (C.A. 9, Apr. 1982)

(non-U construction company held alter ego of state-wide U construction company which closed one month after non-U company was incorporated, in view of centralized control of labor relations, common management, close interrelationship between operations (took over plant, Ees, 2 unfinished projects, had same attorney, common ownership and control) and evidence that non-U company was created for purpose of eliminating high cost of dealing with U)

N.L.R.B. v. Associated General Contractors of California, Inc. 633 F.2d 766 (C.A. 9, 1980)

(two or more Es, if they are alter egos, may be treated as single E under the NLRA)

N.L.R.B. v. Flite Chief, Inc.; et al. 566 F.2d 1182 (C.A. 9, 1979)

(successor E held alter ego of prior E where successor was corporation with single shareholder who in turn was son of husband and wife owning prior E, and successor was created to avoid unionization)

N.L.R.B. v. Tricor Products, Inc., and/or C & J Pattern Co. 636 F.2d 266 (C.A. 10, 1980)

(E held alter ego of, rather than successor to, company it absorbed in view of continuity of ownership, management and Ees, use of same machinery and equipment, and E's fulfillment of absorbed company's pending orders)

Amalgamated Meat Cutters & Butcher Workmen of North America, AFL-CIO, Local 576, et al. v. N.L.R.B. 663 F.2d 223 (C.A.D.C., Dec. 1980)

(alter ego not found where sale was arms length transaction in which owners of majority of predecessor relinquished all interest and only present owner had interest in predecessor, 18 percent, and now he has 30% interest in present store; this does not constitute substantially identical ownership, nor does contingent liability of predecessor owners on lease alter this holding)

1633-8700 Deliverymen and owners, drivers, lessors and lessees of trucks

Joint Council of Teamsters No. 42; et al. (Associated Independent Owner-Operators, Inc.) 248 NLRB No. 082

(dump truck operators were held independent contractors in prior Bd decisions involving same parties herein or their privies and under principles of res judicata and collateral estoppel parties are foreclosed from litigating status of operators)

1642 SINGLE EMPLOYER

Shellmaker, Inc., and Bayside Dredging Company, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 109

Redlands Construction Co., Inc., and Felts Construction Co. 265 NLRB No. 079

(two corporations held single E where they were owned by mother and son, one corporation provided original capitalization and leased space and equipment to other corporation, at dissolution of one corporation all assets and operations were absorbed by other corporation in return for forgiveness of original loan, and both entities had common management and common control of labor relations)

1642—Cont.

Alle Arecibo Corporation and Alle Industries Ltd. 264 NLRB No. 163
(manufacturer and seller/distributor of same products held single E, where both entities were owned and controlled by same individuals, chief executive of both entities handles sales and distribution efforts for manufacturer, manufacturer was only client for seller/distributor and chief executive directed both operations and controlled them entirely)

Cardio Data Systems Corp. 264 NLRB No. 011
(three nominally separate companies engaged in integrated business held single E, where one company owns other 2 companies and provides all their needed personnel, accounting, and other services; officers of 3 companies are husband and wife, each owning substantial stock in owning company; Ees of all 3 companies have profit sharing plan based on owning company's profits and have identical Ee benefits and common Ee handbook; and when election was sought in company involved herein, owning company's posted notice of event made all-encompassing references to companies and their Ees)

Hillside Bus Corp. 262 NLRB No. 152
(three corporations engaged in transporting students under contract with the Board of Education held single integrated enterpirse and jurisdiction asserted in view of interchange of Ees, fact that sole owner and manager of one managed other two corporations, two corporations had no offices, and one corporation paid office and garage rent for all, one corporation hired and fired for all, all checks from Board of Education sent to one corporation)

Consolidated Dress Carriers, Inc., et al. 259 NLRB No. 083
(in determining whether enterprises constitue single E, controlling criteria set out and elaborated in Bd decisions are: interrelation of operations, common management, centralized control of labor relations, and common ownership; single E status for purposes of NLRA depends upon all circumstances of case and not all controlling criteria need be present)

Consolidated Dress Carriers, Inc., et al. 259 NLRB No. 083
(three corporations serving garment industry one of which was engaged in actual physical transportation of goods, one created solely for purpose of supplying equipment and one created for purpose of supplying labor held single E in view of common management, where common supervision over clericals of operations, centralized control of labor relations, and totally integrated operations where interchange of Ees and equipment shared warehouse, office facility and fixtures, trucks, and shared cleaning and rubbish removal service)

Malcolm Boring Co., Inc. B. C. Malcolm and Bruce
C. Malcolm 259 NLRB No. 081
(E engaged in construction work and E who supplied machinery with which construction work was performed found single E in view of common ownership, management, and pool of Ees; high degree of Ee interchange and functional integration of operations; and central control of labor relations)

Better Building Supply Corp., and Evergreen
Roofing, Inc., Its Alter Ego 259 NLRB No. 063
(single E relationship found where one family owned both corporations, managed both, both performed the same type work at same location)

Air-Vac Industries, Inc., Leeward Constructors, Inc.,
Air-Vac Environmental Limited 259 NLRB No. 051
(single E status for purposes of NLRA depends upon all circumstances of case, and not all the single controlling criteria specified by SCt in Radio and Television Broadcasting Technicians, 380 U.S. 255, 256 (1965), need be present)

Air-Vac Industries, Inc., Leeward Constructors, Inc.,
Air-Vac Environmental Limited 259 NLRB No. 051
(three business entities held single integrated enterprise where two of them were admittedly single E and all three were; commonly owned, had same sole directors and officers of the corporations, formulating and administering common labor policies, operated out of same facility with same equipment, Ees of all three were supervised by single supervisor and entities utilized single compliment of Ees)

DMR Corp. and Harrill Electric Contractors, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 139
(single E found where husband and wife own 80% of both companies, financial affairs closely intertwined, identical nature of business, second company inheriting 2 major customers of first company; therefore refusal of second company to recognize and bargain with U first company had collective-bargaining agreement with is violative)

Mastell Trailer Corporation 258 NLRB No. 167
(single-E found where Respondent had either full or substantial ownership in both business, each had offices in same facility and newly formed company paid no rent, Respondent handled clerical needs and pick up and delivery service for both companies; moreover, absence of Respondent from day-to-day operations at newly formed company immaterial)

Lamar Advertising Associates of Dayton d/b/a
Lamar Outdoor Advertising 257 NLRB No. 022
(subsidiary and parent corporation found single E where subsidiary is substantially owned and wholly directed and controlled by parent; they have common management, common officers, general manager of subsidiary is subordinate to officials of parent, personal policies are unified)

Marlene Industries Corporation; et al. 255 NLRB No. 192
(E and its wholly owned subsidiaries held single E where they were affiliated business with common officers, ownership, directors, and operators and were single integrated business enterprise with said directors and operators formulating and administering common labor policy for its Ees)

Hageman Underground Construction; etc. 253 NLRB No. 007
(two companies held single E where business and principle customer are same, one company no longer bids on work, transferred its Ees, and companies have common facility, ownership, management, and share equipment)

S. L. Industries Inc. and Extruded Products, Corp. 252 NLRB No. 131
(parent corporation and its wholly owned subsidiary held single E where they have interlocking officers and directors, and share use of common computer and accountant)

Cannon Air Conditioning and Heating Co., Inc. and Yor-Tex, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 091
(two separate legal entities held single E where they have common owner and management, all of one company's business is derived from arrangement with the other company whereby the former performs work that the latter contracted to do, one individual sets labor relations policy for both companies, and one company uses the other's building and depends upon its clerical help)

The Arundel Corporation 252 NLRB No. 089
(E and its subsidiary resurrected by E for sole purpose of serving as corporate instrumentality through which E could operate quarry held single E in view of various factors such as same individuals at managerial level, E's ownership of equipment used by subsidiary, ultimate control of subsidiary by E's managers, and negotiation of subsidiary's contract with U by E's officials)

Palby Lingerie, Inc. and Argus Lingerie Corp. 252 NLRB No. 032
(four corporations which are completely controlled by one family held single E, where the four corporation's manufacture a product in integrated fashion, whereby three corporations are in effect contractors of the fourth which is the selling arm, and the family controls labor relations of the four companies)

Miami Foundry Corporation 252 NLRB No. 093
(corporation which had acquired stock of iron foundry and such foundry held single integrated enterprise where foundry continued operations with management, finances, ownership, and labor relations policies resting in hands of new owner)

Bacchus Wine Cooperative, Inc., and Bacchus Wine
International 251 NLRB No. 207
(E-member of agricultural cooperative and the cooperative held single E in view of interrelation of operations, common management, centralized control of labor relations, and lack of arms-length relationship, notwithstanding minimal common ownership)

Sumco Manufacturing Co., Inc. Summit Grinding Company 251 NLRB No. 046
(corporation which primarily manufactured scissor jacks and jack stands and corporation which made component parts for jacks for manufacturing corporation, held single E, where between two corporations was common ownership and financial control, integration of operations, centralized control of labor relations, and partial degree of common management)

Angelus Block Co., Inc., Amari, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 127
(notwithstanding that two Es were separate legal entities with separate bank accounts etc., they were held single E where operations of both Es were interrelated; one E was other's sole customer and existed for sole purpose of serving other; both Es had common management, supervision and elements of common ownership)

Yellow Taxi Company of Minneapolis, d/b/a
Suburban Yellow Taxi Company 249 NLRB No. 038
(two taxi companies held single E where one company had no separate corporate indentity but existed solely as operating branch of other, same E officials signed U contract for both, there was common ownership, all of one company's business and personnel policies were established by officials of other company, taxis from each company's garage received orders relayed from same dispatching office, major support and repair services provided at one garage, and paychecks for both companies drawn on one bank account)

SFS Painting and Drywall, Inc.; James Sach d/b/a
J. Sach Painting and Drywall 249 NLRB No. 009
(sole proprietorship held alter ego of and single E with corporation where sole proprietorship was established by president and sole shareholder of corporation and assumed and continued corporation's operations for benefit of corporation, utilizing substantially same capital and equipment, employing same management and supervisors, and providing same services to substantially same customers as corporation)

1642—Cont.

Teamsters, Local Union No. 560 (Curtin Matheson Scientific, Inc.) 248 NLRB No. 156
(in secondary boycott case involving picketing at one of national company's branches in support of primary dispute at another branch, Bd held E and its branches constituted single E, in view of E's policy of cross-shipping whereby other branches perform work of struck branch, and fact that E's control over labor relations, though not on day-to-day basis, gives appearance of single-E by way of tactical advantage in dealing with labor disputes at local level)

Kreten Char-Broil, Inc., d/b/a Coram Pond Diner 248 NLRB No. 152
(two diners held single E where they were owned by same individual who was in charge of their industrial relations, they employed same accountant, interchanged managers and waitresses, and were engaged in same business activity)

Seaport Manor, Inc. and Martin Rosenberg, Baruch Mappa, and Emil Klein, a Partnership, d/b/a Seaport Manor Home For Adults 248 NLRB No. 120
(corporation founded for sole purpose of constructing and owning real property of home for enfeebled and infirm adults found single E with home, in view of common ownership and management and centralized control over labor relations)

Land Equipment Inc. 248 NLRB No. 098
(company renting construction equipment with operators to building contractors and company furnishing labor to above company held single E in view of interrelationship of operations, and common ownership, management and control of labor relations policies)

Hood Industries, Inc., and Its Wholly Owned Subsidiary, B & K Transportation, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 089
(two separately identifiable business entities, held single E, where two individuals owned and operated both entities, closely supervised both operations, and determined their labor policy)

Pizza Pizzaz, Inc., d/b/a Jacob Wirth Restaurant 248 NLRB No. 037
(full menu restaurant and fast food shop constitute single E which meets Bd's jurisdictional standards where fast food shop was sole stockholder of restaurant; one individual was president of fast food shop and vice-president and treasurer of restaurant as well as general manager of both food operations)

Rana Management Inc. JD-(NY)-75-82
(affiliated business with common officers and operators constituted single integrated business enterprise where owners of businesses administered common labor policy)

Power Service Co., T and T Truck and Trailer Leasing, Inc., Night Hawk Motor Transportation, Inc., and York Motor Transport, Inc. JD-161-82
(three Es engaged in transportation business having common management, supervision, labor relations and other common business functions held single E, since companies were shown to have existed for principal purpose of serving one another)

Valley View Hospital JD-(SF)-88-82
(service corporation and 2 hospitals it directed found single E notwithstanding hospitals were separate legal entities with separate bank accounts, lines of credit, payrolls and accounting, where there was common ownership and financial control of all 3, and hospitals were located near each other and had common management, centralized control of labor relations, and integration and interrelation of operations)

Royce Lindsay d/b/a Royce Lindsay Plumbing, Heating, and Refrigeration Supply Company, etc. JD-(SF)-3-82
(factors considered by Bd in determining whether separate Es are single employing entity are: interrelation of operations, centralized control of labor relations, common management, and common ownership and control; while no individual factor has been found controlling, emphasis is usually placed on such factors, particularly control of labor relations; and, generally, Bd has found alter ego status where enterprises have substantially identical management, business purpose of operation, equipment, customers, supervision, and ownership)

Royce Lindsay d/b/a Royce Lindsay Plumbing, Heating, and Refrigeration Supply Company, etc. JD-(SF)-3-82
(new corporate entities formed by owner of individual proprietorship held single E where enterprises had substantially identical management, business purpose had not been altered, there was common ownership, and enterprises were wholly owned by members of same family and by same individuals)

E. A. Fuller Boutique, Inc. d/b/a Boutique Lounge JD-600-81
(two corporations which operated bars and lounges and sole proprietorship which operated restaurant held single E, where one individual was sole owner of majority of stock of two corporations and also sole proprietor of restaurant and individual exercised ultimate control over three entities, personally setting wages for managers, granting stock options, paying vacation benefits, providing automobiles and medical insurance for management clearly controlling labor relations and three entities were held out to public as owned and operated by one corporation)

Chippewa Motor Freight, Inc. JD-425-81
(single-E relationship not found where although 2 companies were owned by same family they were separately operated, engaged in unrelated activities, all records and accounts kept separately and dealt with each other at arm's length)

Hensly Hardwood Lumber Co. JD-285-81
(three corporations engaged in lumber business held single E in view of common ownership, fact same individuals were officers in all corporations, and one individual possessed and exercised authority to control labor relations of all three corporations, companies utilized same attorney and accountant, Ees of all three entities used same health benefit plan; further, three entities were nothing more than divisions of integrated enterprises where one entity formed to handle sales of product of already established E, and third company formed for purpose of processing lower grade lumber produced by company into saleable product)

Domicile Manor, Inc. McCormick Health Centers, Inc. JD-(SF)-52-81
(two corporations held single E where they were affiliated business enterprises with common officers, management and supervision; they formulated and administered common labor policy, shared common personnel and facilities, interchanged personnel, and maintained coordinated purchasing functions)

Master Products, Inc.; et al. JD-726-80
(leasing company was part of single intergrated enterprise and constituted single integrated E, along with two manufacturing corporations in view of substantial common ownership and financial control over it by same person who exercised control over two manufacturing corporations; operation of the three entities were interrelated and had common control of their labor relations)

Marlboro Trucking Co., Inc., C-J Construction Co., Inc., Suburban Yelow Cab, Inc. JD-441-80
(Bd looks to 4 principal factors in determining joint, or single E status: 1) interrelation of operations; 2) common management; 3) centralized control of labor relations, and 4) common ownership or financial control)

Marlboro Trucking Co., Inc., C-J Construction Co., Inc., Suburban Yelow Cab, Inc. JD-441-80
(3 Es held to constitute single and/or joint Es where all 3 Es operate from single facility, single office clerk bills customers and issues pay checks to Ees of 3 Es, 1 individual controls labor matters relating to all 3 Es, there is substantial flexibility in work assignment of Ees among 3 Es, all of which evidence substantial degree of common financial control and intermingling of services and assets)

W S H Construction Company, Inc., J. B. Shannon and James A. Hurd, Equipment Rental Company JD-70-80
(corporation and partnership engaged in coal stripping business and road construction business respectively, held single E where corporation's president and vice president were sole partners in partnership, both companies had common office facilities, wife of corporation's vice president performed office, bookkeeping, and clinical functions for both companies, some of same Ees worked for corporation in winter and for partnership in summer and operations of the two companies were somewhat complimentary)

Soule Glass and Glazing Co., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 652 F.2d 1055 (C.A. 1, May 1981)
(controlling criteria are (1) interrelation of operations (2) common management (3) centralized control of labor relations and (4) common ownership; perhaps most important in Bd's eyes is degree of centralized control over labor relations; it is essentially factual determination and not to be disturbed provided substantial evidence in record supports Bd's findings)

Soule Glass and Glazing Co., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 652 F.2d 1055 (C.A. 1, May 1981)
(three corporations held single E where corporate structure evolved from common ancestor, and in view of interrelation of operations and common flow of management personnel from one corporation to another, common ownership by one family, some interchange of Ees and shared premises, and one person had and exercised power to make major decisions, including labor relations matters)

N.L.R.B. v. Pizza Pizzaz, Inc., d/b/a Jacob Wirth Restaurant 646 F.2d 706 (C.A. 1, Apr 1981)
(ct declined to disturb Bd's finding that two restaurants were single E, notwithstanding that degree to which restaurants' operations fulfill some of C. K. Smith criteria might be debatable, since record provides substantial evidence from which Bd could rationally draw conclusion that they were single E)

1642—Cont.

Mestall Trailer Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 682 F.2d 753 (C.A. 8, July 1982)
(two companies whose owner had sold 25 percent of one company but retained 75 percent of such company held single E, where both companies shared common office space, and same Ees worked for both companies with same compensation, supervision, and conditions of employment)

N.L.R.B. v. Leavitt J. Cofer, Eunice Cofer, and Travelodge International, Inc., a partnership, d/b/a Marysville Travelodge 637 F.2d 1309 (C.A. 9, 1981)
(no abuse of discretion in Bd's finding that motel's local partner and corporate partner were single E for purposes of jurisdiction where there was sufficient justification for such finding, in view of partners' joint venture agreement requiring that corporate partner be consulted prior to any U dealings by local partner, together with numerous other indications of close connection between partners that were spelled out by Bd)

N.L.R.B. v. Associated General Contractors of California, Inc. 633 F.2d 766 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(two or more Es, if they are alter egos, may be treated as single E under the NLRA)

Safety Electric Corporation and San Joaquin Pacific Corporation 620 F.2d 311(T) (C.A. 9, 1980)
(single E found where same individual was functioning as chief executive officer of two corporations)

N.L.R.B. v. Big Bear Supermarkets #3 and its alter ego Richard Homes 640 F.2d 924 (C.A. 9, Apr 8, 1980)
(business purpose, equipment, and customers of chain store remained substantially the same before and after E franchised store to individual, and E performed accounting services for individual, all of which showed sufficient degree of interrelation of operations to favor finding of single-E status)

N.L.R.B. v. Big Bear Supermarkets #3 and its alter ego Richard Homes 640 F.2d 924 (C.A. 9, Apr 8, 1980)
(where E franchised one of its stores to individual but retained under contract terms a sufficient number of controls over operation of store so that it continued to operate essentially as any other of E's stores, ct held common management criterion favored a finding of single-E status)

N.L.R.B. v. Big Bear Supermarkets #3 and its alter ego Richard Homes 640 F.2d 924 (C.A. 9, Apr 8, 1980)
(criterion relating to common management or financial control favored finding of single-E status, where E franchised one of its stores to individual but franchise arrangement was a sham transaction executed for purpose of evading E's bargaining obligations with Us)

N.L.R.B. v. Big Bear Supermarkets #3 and its alter ego Richard Homes 640 F.2d 924 (C.A. 9, Apr 8, 1980)
(although individual to whom E franchised one of its stores exercised full control over labor relations, Bd properly gave little weight to such control in finding that single-E status existed, where franchised agreemnet was not a bona fide, arm's length transaction but a sham arrangement for purpose of evading E's bargaining obligations with Us)

N.L.R.B. v. Big Bear Supermarkets #3 and its alter ego Richard Homes 640 F.2d 924 (C.A. 9, Apr 8, 1980)
(presence of all four criteria of single-E test (interrelation of operations, common management, centralized control of labor relations, and common ownership) is not necessary to finding of single-E status; ultimate question is whether there is an absence of arm's length relationship between business entities in question)

N.L.R.B. v. Circle T Corporation and Meat Men Inc. d/b/a Royal T Meat 614 F.2d 777 (C.A. 9) (1980)
(E who ceased operations at plant for 6 weeks and then resumed operations under different name violated Act by withdrawing recognition from U and repudiating contract since new business was disguised continuance of original and that they both constituted single E and purpose of shutdown and resumption was to evade bargaining obligation)

N.L.R.B. v. Don Burgess Construction Corporation, d/b/a Burgess Construction 596 F.2d 378 (C.A. 9, 1979)
(single-E status depends on all the circumstances of the case and is characterized as absence of arm's length relationship found among unintegrated companies and is based on four criteria: (1) interrelation of operations, (2) common management, (3) centralized control of labor relations, and (4) common ownership; determination of single-E status is sustained if it has warrant in the record and a reasonable basis in law)

N.L.R.B. v. Don Burgess Construction Corporation, d/b/a Burgess Construction 596 F.2d 378 (C.A. 9, 1979)
(two Es held single E in view of interrelation of operations shown by transfer of Ees and tools to one E from other E, common accountant and address, (2) common management in view of control at policy level and same qualifying individual on license for both Es, (3) centralized labor relations where same person who formed nonU crew signed U contract and dealt with U, and (4) common ownership, same person owning 70% of one E, 50% of other)

Local 627, Operating Engineers v. N.L.R.B. 595 F.2d 844 (C.A.D.C., 1979)
(in finding that E's operation of unionized subsidiary and newly acquired non-U subsidiary constituted separate appropriate Ee units, ct rejected U's contention that fact that subsidiaries comprised a single E necessarily established that single unit of Ees of both subsidiaries was appropriate; a single E determination does not necessarily establish that E-wide unit is appropriate)

1642-0100 Generally

Chippewa Motor Freight, Inc. and Action Carrier, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 066
(no single-E finding where notwithstanding same family owned both companies, controlled finances, overall labor relations and performed top management functions, there is insufficient interrelation of operations as business operation is different, operates out of small portion of prior enterprises' facility and low level management is different)

N.L.R.B. v. Browning-Ferris Industries of Pennsylvania, Inc. 691 F.2d 1117 (C.A. 3, Oct. 1982)
(joint E and single E concepts are distinct in that they approach issue of who is the E from two different viewpoints with different standards required for each as enunciated in SCt's Radio Union decision applying single E concept and that set out in SCt's Boire decision applying joint E concept)

N.L.R.B. v. Browning-Ferris Industries of Pennsylvania, Inc. 691 F.2d 1117 (C.A. 3, Oct. 1982)
(single E relationship exists where two nominally separate entities are actually part of single integrated enterprise so that there is a single E and the question is whether such enterprises constitute only one integrated enterprise; in deciding question, Bd considers four factors approved by SCt: 1) functional integration of operations; 2) centralized control of labor relations; 3) common management; and 4) common ownership; single E status ultimately depends on all circumstances of case and is characterized as absence of an arm's length relationship found among unintegrated companies)

1650 JOINT EMPLOYERS

Michigan Eye Bank 265 NLRB No. 179
(state university (exempt entity) with which eye bank contracted for medical and administrative services not joint E with eye bank of eye bank technicians and thus jurisdiction asserted, since university retained no control over wages, hours or other terms and conditions of technicians' employment, notwthstanding most began relationship with eyebank as student assistants at university, where eye bank hired; trained, and set compensation and paid technicians directly from its own accounts rather than indirectly from funds granted by university)

Heck's Properties, Incorporated, Engineering Division and/or Mountaineer Investment Co., Inc. 264 NLRB No. 071
(two corporations held joint Es of ventures and are jointly liable for each others' ULPs, notwithstanding no common ownership where firms performed parallel functions of constructing department stores merely depending upon U or nonunion status of particular job, one corporation lacked independent identity with respect to operations, administration, personnel, capital holdings and management has commonality with each other)

Educational & Recreational Services, Inc. d/b/a Associated Charter Bus Co., Las Virgenes Division 263 NLRB No. 135
(Bd declined jurisdiction over E primarily engaged in supplying school bus transportation and related public services for students of School District, where School District not only had considerable authority over E's operations by virtue of express language of parties' agreement but also exercised extensive control over wages, benefits, hiring, termination, discipline, supervision, and work assignments of E's bus drivers; Bd noted that District had substantial control over E's labor relations of at least substantial segment of unit sought, and was joint E of E's Ees)

Trend Construction Corporation and General Electric Corporation, Individually and as Joint Employers 263 NLRB No. 044
(contractor for furnishing and installing steam turbine and related equipment for power plant, and contractor with which it subcontracted to furnishing necessary labor, including millwrights, held joint Es of Ees in millwrights unit, notwithstanding separate corporations w/o common management or centralized control of labor relations where contractor participated in hiring and firing Ees for subcontractor's work, changing rate of pay, determining number of Ees in unit, and assessing and directing their work)

1650—Cont.

C. R. Adams Trucking, Inc., and Michael Cann 262 NLRB No. 067
(joint E relationship found between corporate E and individual proprietorship who do contract hauling where latter leased truck to former and both shared and co-determined working conditions of Ees who drove lessor's truck)

Educational and Recreational Services, Inc., d/b/a Associated Charter Bus Company, San Bernardino Division 261 NLRB No. 055
(Bd precluded from asserting jurisdiction over E primarily engaged in providing school bus transportation to Unified School District, in view of District's authority over E's operations by virtue of express language in contract between E and District and in (E's) drivers' handbook; established operational practices at E's terminal conclusively demonstrated that District exercised extensive control over wages, benefits, hiring, discipline, supervision and work assignments of E's Ees; District joint E of E's Ees)

Denzil S. Alkire, a Sole Proprietorship; et al. 259 NLRB No. 174
(where sole proprietorship dissolved its company during strike and formed new corporate entity, found its alter ego herein, which was subsequently leased by another E, all three Es held liable for unlawful acts of formed corporate entity and lessee E in requiring striking Ees to file new job applications as condition of employment, since newly-formed corporate entity and lessee E were found joint Es and each was found alter ego of original proprietorship)

Browning-Ferris Industries of Pennsylvania, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 021
(E who operated refuse transfer site and independent trucking brokers held joint Es of drivers employed by brokers where E effectively discharged and rehired drivers, treated drivers as its own Ees by providing them with coveralls bearing E's logo and by providing medical insurance to certain drivers under its own group plan, and establishing set hours of employment as opposed to simply requiring, under contract, 24 hour service from brokers)

American Air Filter Company, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 010
(lessee of unit Ees' services found joint E with lessor of their services in view of lessee's control of daily employment relationship with Ees)

Dining and Kitchen Administration, d/b/a DAKA 257 NLRB No. 046
(International House (IH) operator of IH cafeteria held joint Es as cafeteria was part of integrated enterprise offered to students and IH exercised control over E's labor relations policy, operating budget, and menu)

Moderate Income Management Company, Inc., and Marineview Housing Company No. 1 256 NLRB No. 179
(management company held joint E with owner-operator of housing project in view of fact that while project owner retains active and complete control of Ees' wages, hours and other terms of employment by exercising its right of approval of all labor relations policies prior to implementation by management company, the company has equal, if not greater, impact on terms of Ees' working conditions by its daily management of the properties)

General Electric Corporation, Installation & Service Engineering Division 256 NLRB No. 124
(joint-E relationship found between E who furnished laborers for construction project under contract with other E who furnished their supervisors where supervisor made decision to discharge Ee of former E)

Trans-States Lines, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 116
(trucking company (lessee) and fleet owner (lessor) held joint Es, since lessee was fully involved in (lessor's) employment process and exercised other controls over lessor's Ees)

Teamsters & Auto Truck Drivers, Local No. 85 (William Volker and Company) 253 NLRB No. 089
(no joint E relationship exists where two companies have: separate historical development, no common management, ownership or financial control, or centralized control of labor relations; functional relationship between companies is result of contract between them)

Petroleum Electronics, Inc. and/or Cook Enterprises, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 042
(2 Es found single integrated enterprise and/or joint E where they have same majority owner, president, dispatcher, and office manager, same business, facilities and Ees, and, most significantly, same person determining labor relations policy)

Wayne County Neighborhood Legal Services, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 180
(E operating legal services organization held not joint E with federal agency, where E is contractor who needs no clearance from agency to hire and fire Ees and establish conditions of employment, engages in collective bargaining w/o permission or consultation with agency, has no agency Ees supervising its activities, and agency's monitoring reports and fiscal audits are directed at performance of management, not labor; changes in statute and regulations since Bd last asserted jurisdiction over E did not pertain to labor relations and practices of E)

Kenner Products Division, CPG Products Corporation, and Jeannine Robbins, d/b/a Schnabel's Drivers For Lease 249 NLRB No. 163
(joint-E relationship found where one E leases its drivers to other E; lessor hires, maintains fleet, handles all payroll functions, establishes and maintains written rules; lessee-E dispatches Ees, gives orders as to what runs to take, which trucks to use, proper routes to take, and controls discipline)

Kenner Products Division, CPG Products Corporation, and Jeannine Robbins, d/b/a Schnabel's Drivers For Lease 249 NLRB No. 163
(two businesses not found joint-Es where businesses are separately owned, completely different types of businesses, separate E identification numbers, separate unemployment compensation accounts, separate tax accounts, one business owns trucks and employs drivers to make deliveries and other E leases drivers to truck owning company, notwithstanding close family relationship between owners of companies)

Capriccios Restaurant, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 100
(resolution of any issue which may arise regarding nature of joint E relationship between E and another enterprise and successor E relationship between E and purchaser left to compliance stage)

California Labor Industries, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 087
(limited instances of company's participation in management of E, set against an otherwise complete absence of participation in E's labor relations, is insufficient to establish joint-E relationship)

J. M. Tanaka Construction, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 028
(company which acted as job broker and financier for E not joint E where: no common ownership, n1 authority or day-to-day control over Ees' work, lack of control over labor relations)

Children's Receiving Home of Sacramento 248 NLRB No. 053
(where governmental department made precise recommendations as to number of positions and their accompanying wages and benefits at childrens' home but home was free to deviate from recommendations, governmental department was not joint E with home)

U.S. Pipe & Foundry Company and Winfrey Enterprises, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 012
(manufacturing concern and company supplying it with drivers for its leased equipment held joint Es, notwithstanding absence of common ownership, officers, or financial interest, where manufacturer exercised effective control over drivers' working conditions and co-determined matters governing essential terms and conditions of employment of drivers used in fulfilling contract between the two companies)

Snow's Rent-A-Car JD-(SF)-283-82
(where operator of new taxicab business bought operating permits for his cabs from existing taxicab fleet owner and had latter dispatch his cabs as part of latter's fleet, they were joint Es of new business's drivers since existing fleet owner exercised authority over significant aspects of employment relations of new business's drivers and these drivers operated as integral part of fleet owner's fleet of cabs)

Endell Watts III, an individual, d/b/a Watts Transfer and Delivery Service, and Super-Rite Freightways, Inc. JD-110-82
(2 companies, one U, other nonU, held joint E notwithstanding they each kept separate accounting books charging each other for advances, charges and expenses)

Joseph Charles Tafarella A.K.A. Steve Rossi, and Total Productions Concepts, Inc. JD-(SF)-212-81
(E's which produced and sold musical shows held joint Ees of musicians where both possessed and exercised managerial and supervisory authority notwithstanding entitled to different percentages; and one E acted as payroll agent while one E concerned mainly with only one of shows involved)

American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees Council 79; etc. JD-(ATL)-28-80
(council and local, both labor organizations, held joint Es in view of common management and centralized control of labor relations over council staff assigned to local in person of officer of local who was also council's staff director, with salary in both capacities paid by council)

Marlboro Trucking Co., Inc., C-J Construction Co., Inc., Suburban Yelow Cab, Inc. JD-441-80
(Bd looks to 4 principal factors in determining joint, or single E status: 1) interrelation of operations; 2) common management; 3) centralized control of labor relations, and 4) common ownership or financial control)

Marlboro Trucking Co., Inc., C-J Construction Co., Inc., Suburban Yelow Cab, Inc. JD-441-80
(3 Es held to constitute single and/or joint Es where all 3 Es operate from single facility, single office clerk bills customers and issues pay checks to Ees of 3 Es, 1 individual controls labor matters relating to all 3 Es, there is substantial flexibility in work assignment of Ees among 3 Es, all of which evidence substantial degree of common financial control and intermingling of services and assets)

1650—Cont.

International House v. N.L.R.B. 676 F.2d 906 (C.A. 2, Apr. 1982)

(E who operates cafeteria in International House (IH) held not joint E with IH as latter lacks immediate supervision or control of Ees (limitation on numbers of hours for resident workers was solely to comport with Immigration and Naturalization Law))

International House v. N.L.R.B. 676 F.2d 906 (C.A. 2, Apr. 1982)

(ct rejected Bd's reliance on appearance that IH operated cafeteria and cost-plus accounting method with IH's authority to review costs as there merely insured satisfactory work product w/o unnecessary charges being incurred)

International House v. N.L.R.B. 676 F.2d 906 (C.A. 2, Apr. 1982)

(operator of cafeteria in International House (IH) held independent contractor where contract provides that all hiring and supervision duties, sanitation, dishwashing, Ees' tax and insurance records envisioned of sub-contracting rather than joint E relationship; IH's control over cafeteria's hours, prices, menus, standards of qualify, cleanliness, safety and health, right to approve budget and inspect books was monitoring aimed at satisfactory work product rather than control over day-to-day operation or entitle IH to supervise workers in any manner)

N.L.R.B. v. Browning-Ferris Industries of Pennsylvania, Inc. 691 F.2d 1117 (C.A. 3, Oct. 1982)

(E, who operated refuse transfer site for city, and independent truckers (brokers) who furnished tractors and drivers to haul refuse from transfer station to landfill held joint Es, where E and brokers shared matters governing essential terms and conditions of employment; E established drivers' work hours and provided them with same uniform as own drivers; E and brokers together determined drivers' compensation; E directed drivers at transfer and landfill sites under its own rules; and used its own forms for record keeping)

The North American Soccer League, etc., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 613 F.2d 1379 (C.A. 5) (1980)

(soccer league and its constituent member clubs held joint E where league exercised significant degree of control over essential aspects of the clubs' labor relations and each club granted the league authority over not only its own labor relations but also, on its behalf, authority over labor relations of other member clubs)

Miami Foundry Corporation, Ravenna Industries, Inc., and A.C. Williams Company v. N.L.R.B. 682 F.2d 587 (C.A. 6, July 1982)

(ct affirmed Bd's finding that foundry company and new company which had purchased 59% of foundry's stock, together with new company's wholly-owned subsidiary, were single integrated enterprise constituting joint E, where E never ceased as a business entity, its owner still owned 41% of the stock and under new arrangement and management, it became increasingly active in the enterprise with the other two companies)

L. R. Davis, d/b/a Holiday Inn of Benton v. N.L.R.B. 617 F.2d 1264 (C.A. 7, 1980)

(where husband and wife employed by innkeeper operating motel and restaurant assumed his restaurant lease as partnership, partnership was found not to be joint E with innkeeper since partners made all decisions on labor relations at restaurant, managed it, did not include innkeeper in partnership and had no financial interest in his motel franchise)

N.L.R.B. v. Chicago Youth Centers 616 F.2d 1028 (C.A. 7, 1980)

(public agency has control over funding, job classification and compensation, and other terms and conditions of employment of head start program run by private agency; thus public and private agencies are joint-Es and private agency shares exemption of public agency under Sec. 2(2) of Act from Bd jurisdiction)

Industrial Personnel Corp. v. N.L.R.B. 657 F.2d 226 (C.A. 8, 1981)

(joint-E relationship depends on whether two separate businesses have (1) functional interrelation of operations, (2) centralized control of labor relations, (3) common management, and (4) common ownership or financial control; while none of these factors, viewed separately, is controlling, particular stress has been laid upon first three factors which reveal functional integration with particular reference to whether there is centralized control of labor relations)

Industrial Personnel Corp. v. N.L.R.B. 657 F.2d 226 (C.A. 8, 1981)

(manufacturing company and personnel company providing drivers for manufacturing company's trucking operations held joint Es since there is significant functional interrelation of operations between the two companies, which was the factor relied upon by the Bd; and while personnel company controls direct labor relations, manufacturing company's control of working conditions will inevitably involve it in labor relations; fact that there was no common management, ownership or financial control is not considered crucial to ct's determination; Pulitzer Publishing Co. v. N.L.R.B., 618 F.2d 1275, dissg)

Miscellaneous Drivers and Helpers Union, Local No. 610 v. N.L.R.B. 624 F.2d 831 (C.A. 8, 1980)

(funeral home operator not joint E of funeral vehicle drivers with service company that provided home with funeral vehicle services under either Southland test of one party's control of other party's labor relations -- which was used by Bd -- or Pulitzer test of interrelated functions, centralized control of labor relations and common ownership and management where funeral home was not involved in hiring, disciplining, or discharging of drivers and has never recommended such action be taken by service company and has no financial management interchange with home)

Tipton Electric Company and Professional Furniture Company v. N.L.R.B. 621 F.2d 890 (C.A. 8, 1980)

(notwithstanding Es were separate corporations Es were joint Es, since they had some common ownership; one E leased space from the other E; president of one E was director of other; executive vice-president of one E was president and a director of the other E)

The Pulitzer Publishing Company v. N.L.R.B. 618 F.2d 1275 (C.A. 8, 1980)

(newspaper publisher held not joint E with newspaper delivery company of drivers delivering publisher's newspapers, since they have no common ownership or management, their operations are not substantially interrelated except for delivery company's contractual delivery of publisher's newspapers, and there is neither centralized control of labor relations nor substantial control of labor relations by publisher)

Tanforan Park Food Purveyors Council and the Hapsmith Company v. N.L.R.B 656 F.2d 1358 (C.A. 9, 1981)

(joint E relationship exists when E exercises authority over employment conditions which are w/i area of mandatory bargaining)

Tanforan Park Food Purveyors Council and the Hapsmith Company v. N.L.R.B 656 F.2d 1358 (C.A. 9, 1981)

(corporations held joint Es where one corporation operated common area for tenants of resturants in shopping center, employed unit Ees, paid Ees' compensation, insurance and social security, and paid maintenance expenses and taxes for which it assessed tenants, and another corporation managed entire complex and provided administrative assistance to first corporation but imposed no pricing or other restrictions, and had no authority to hire, fire or otherwise influence terms and conditions of employment)

Zapex Corporation and BDM Services Company v. N.L.R.B. 621 F.2d 328 (C.A. 9, 1980)

(no joint E relationship where E, under terms of cost-plus-fee contract with Army, retained substantial control over such bargaining subjects as hiring, discharging, wages, hours, grievance proceedings, and other terms of employment, and allowed to negotiate collective bargaining agreements, notwithstanding Army wielded some influence over wages, promotions, discharges, set dress code and Ees used army facilities)

Sun-Maid Growers of California v. N.L.R.B. 618 F.2d 56 (C.A. 9, 1980)

(where E transferred 3 of its Ees to another E's payroll but continued to control work schedules, assigned work and decided when additional Ees needed; joint-E relationship exists)

1650-0100 Generally

N.L.R.B. v. Browning-Ferris Industries of Pennsylvania, Inc. 691 F.2d 1117 (C.A. 3, Oct. 1982)

(joint E and single E concepts are distinct in that they approach issue of who is the E from two different viewpoints with different standards required for each as enunciated in SCt's Radio Union decision applying single E concept and that set out in SCt's Boire decision applying joint E concept)

N.L.R.B. v. Browning-Ferris Industries of Pennsylvania, Inc. 691 F.2d 1117 (C.A. 3, Oct. 1982)

(joint E relationship does not depend upon existence of single integrated enterprise but assumes that Es are independent legal entities that have merely historically chosen to handle jointly important aspects of their E-Ee relationship; and no finding of arm's length transaction or unity of control of ownership is required as in single E cases; it is rather matter of determining which of two, or whether both, Es control, in capacity of E, labor relations of given Ee group, and business entities are in fact separate but share matters governing essential terms and conditions of employment)

1667 SUCCESSOR EMPLOYERS

C.J.B. Industries 250 NLRB No. 184

(new owner held successor where he operates business as predecessor did, using same equipment to produce same product, at same location and although he failed to retain former Ees, it was because of their U affiliation)

Capriccios Restaurant, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 100

(resolution of any issue which may arise regarding nature of joint E relationship between E and another enterprise and successor E relationship between E and purchaser left to compliance stage)

Saks & Company d/b/a Saks Fifth Avenue 247 NLRB No. 139

(clothing store held successor to clothing store with which it had previously shared building and to which it had subcontracted alterations, and obligated to bargain, when it moved to separate building, established own alterations department and hired 16 of 18 individuals who had performed its alterations as subcontractor's Ees of other clothing store since no hiatus; notwithstandind contention no successorship since Ees from former unit did not constitute majority of members of appropriate storewide unit at new store, as no presumption storewide unit appropriate and alteration Ees' history of separate bargaining)

1667—Cont.

Patio Lodge, Inc., and Fountain Lodge, Inc. JD-(ATL)-40-82
(lessee operator of nursing homes who leased homes from former operator/owners held successors and obligated to bargain with U who represented Ees of predecessor, where employed full Ee complement of predecessors' Ees, continued operation of nursing homes in same facilities using names similar to predecessors, units continued with same Ees, and no hiatus in operations)

N.L.R.B. v. Winco Petroleum Company and Cooper Oil Company, Inc., Successor Employer 668 F.2d 973 (C.A. 8, Jan. 1982)
(ct held that substantial evidence supported Bd's findings that E who bought company was successor E and obligated to remedy predecessor E's ULPs where (1) successor E acquired company with actual knowledge of pending ULP charges, (2) there was little or no interruption in business operations at company as result of acquisition, (3) successor E continued to operate enterprise w/o substantial change, and (4) a majority of successor E's Ees at acquired enterprise were predecessor E's Ees)

Gardenia Buena Ventura, Inc. d/b/a Alondra Nursing Home and Convalescent Hospital, a corporation v. N.L.R.B. 618 F.2d 115(T) (C.A. 9, 1980)
(E held successor and obligated to recognize and bargain with U where immediately after takeover all Ees in unit were Ees of predecessor E, and notwithstanding flucuation in size of unit during following 77 days, Ees of predecessor constituted majority of unit)

Gardenia Buena Ventura, Inc. d/b/a Alondra Nursing Home and Convalescent Hospital, a corporation v. N.L.R.B. 618 F.2d 115(T) (C.A. 9, 1980)
(Bd certification not necessary to trigger obligation to bargain of successor E)

1667-0100 Generally

Aircraft Magnesium, A Division of Grico Corporation 265 NLRB No. 172
(traditional criteria for test of successorship include whether there has been substantial continuity in following: 1) business operations; 2) plant; 3) work force; 4) jobs and working conditions; 5) supervisors; 6) machinery, equipment, and methods of production; and 7) product, customers or service)

General Processing Corporation 263 NLRB No. 13
(Bd found respondent E was not successor E and did not violate Act by failing to bargain with U, where successorship turned on whether majority of respondent's unit Ees had been unit Ees of previous E, and correct computation reveals that from date of respondent's receipt of U's demand through date of complaint's issuance, there never was a time when majority of respondent's unit Ees were Ees who had worked for the previous E)

Turnbull Enterprises, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 122
(one-week hiatus in production held not to affect E's successorship role inasmuch as it resumed substantially same operations with substantially same work force and supervision)

Marco, Inc. d/b/a Towne Plaza Hotel 258 NLRB No. 016
(purchase of stock in corporate entity which continued to exist after purchase, albeit under different management and w/o any hiatus in operations involves stock transfer rather than successor relationship; where stock transfer occurred during period between expiration of prior collective-bargaining agreement and U's execution of successor agreement with E, E may not decline to recognize and bargain with U in appropriate unit)

Southwestern Broadcasters, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 083
(E who purchased assets of radio station held not successor E and thus not obligated to bargain with Us representing predecessor's Ees where E did not hire nor indicate that it planned to retain Ee complement of predecessor, supervisory hierarchy was replaced, and Us did not represent unit majority subsequent to E's acquisition of station; moreover, GC did not prove that E sought to avoid bargaining obligation by unlawfully refusing to hire sufficient number of predecessor's Ees in order for Us to maintain majority status)

Navajo Freight Lines, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 166
(transaction whereby E assumed control over predecessor's business was not stock transfer but successor relationship, and therefore issue of whether E was aware of predecessor's ULP litigation was not eliminated; issue of E's liability was framed at hearing in terms of whether E was successor with knowledge of predecessor's ULP litigation, and E was not accorded opportunity to litigate stock transfer theory; stock sales agreement was admitted into evidence solely to allow consideration of its indemnification clauses, and stock ownership did not merely pass into new hands but was followed by predecessor's ceasing to exist as entity)

Sylan Pontiac 252 NLRB No. 037
(E who took over automobile dealership, continued operations of selling new and used cars, employed virtually same work force, found successor E and refusal to bargain with collective bargaining representative of predecess E violative)

Westwood Import Company, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 162
(purchaser of business held successor and obligated to bargain with U representing Ees of seller where it engaged in same business at same facility and sold to substantially same customers as seller and employed all of supervisory and nonsupervisory Ees in their same job classifications; further, purchaser may not justify its failure to bargain on basis of or basis of good faith doubt of Us majority where it acquired business with full knowledge of seller's unlawful refusal to bargain)

Local 1115, Joint Board, Nursing Home & Hospital Employees—Florida Division (B & K Investments, Inc., d/b/a Towne House convalescent Center) 248 NLRB No. 167
(E held bound for purposes of determining whether it should arbitrate whether it was bound by any provisions of its predecessor's agreements, where E for purposes of SCt's Wiley decision, under Sec. 301, was successor, since there was a substantial continuity of identity in the business enterprises, and a complete continuity in the identity of the work force across the change in ownership)

Local 1115, Joint Board, Nursing Home & Hospital Employees—Florida Division (B & K Investments, Inc., d/b/a Towne House convalescent Center) 248 NLRB No. 167
(while mere existence of successorship clause cannot bind E to substantive terms or to arbitration absent substantial continuity of identity in business enterprises, successor who refused to assume any obligations under predecessor's agreements was bound to arbitrate since substantial continuity was present; moreover, E never refused to assume any obligations under predecessor's contract)

Hospital San Miguel, Inc. JD-287-80
(where transfer of stock and sale of assets with lease back to E occurried, and hospital's name unchanged, same equipment used, Ees remained same, supervisory staff unchanged, corporate charter unchanged, refusal to bargain with U violative either because Respondent, a corporate entity remained same employing entity, or because E held successor)

Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers International Union, Local 6-578 (D & M Truck Stop, Inc.) JD-207-80
(E who takes over business from another E becomes successor E only where bargaining unit remains unchanged and majority of Ees hired by new E are represented by U seeking recognition)

Saks & Company v. N.L.R.B. 634 F.2d 681 (C.A. 2, 1980)
(transfer of assets is evidence of requisite of continuity of business operations necessary to finding of successor E but it is not necessary condition)

Bellingham Frozen Foods, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 626 F.2d 674 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(E not required to reinstate office clerical Ee who was unlawfully discharged by predecessor E where E did not hire any of predecessor's office clericals and thus E was not successor with regard to predecessor's office clerical worker unit)

1667-5000 Same employing industry

Jeffries Lithograph Company, A Subsidiary of The Ticor Printing Group, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 190
(commercial printer held successor of commercial printer whose assets it purchased where it used same facility, employed same work force and foreman, and made no showing that it changed Ees' duties, served a different class fo customers over different geographic area or so changed managerial and sales operations as to substantially alter the enterprise's identity)

Aircraft Magnesium, A Division of Grico Corporation 265 NLRB No. 172
(E who purchased business from predecessor's creditor shortly after bankruptcy ptn was filed held successor, in view of substantial continuity in employing industry, where parties stipulated that E resumed same work, at same location, with same equipment 4 weeks after successor closed operations, and with same job classifications, at least 1 supervisor, had same supplier and customers and majority of predecessor's Ees were hired)

Aircraft Magnesium, A Division of Grico Corporation 265 NLRB No. 172
(hiatus of 3-4 weeks did not relieve successor E of duty to bargain with U which had contract with bankrupt predecessor, as hiatus is significant in determining successorship status only where other substantial changes in operations have occurred)

1667-5000—Cont.

Aircraft Magnesium, A Division of Grico Corporation 265 NLRB No. 172

(successorship status was not defeated by purchasing business from predecessor's creditor in bankruptcy, and telling Ees at time of hire that it would be non-U but would have option of U representation at later dae)

Wintz Motor Freight, Inc./Wintz Transportation Company/U.S. Trustee William Westphal 265 NLRB No. 121

(purchasing E of company found successor where same business operations were continued w/o hiatus at same location with same supervision, same equipment and same persons controlling labor relations; furthermore, name on company trucks had not changed to name of purchasing E)

New-Stan Dyeing and Finishing Co., Inc. 263 NLRB No. 140

(company which purchased another company's assets, land, buildings, and equipment held successor to the other company where purchaser engaged in same operations and business as other company in same plant and utilized substantially same work force with same jobs and working conditions and used same equipment)

Pinter Bros., Inc., Retnip Corp., Pin-Bro Leasing, Inc., GLT Transportation Lines, Inc., a/k/a Moon Express Co., INc. 263 NLRB No. 091

(existance of successorship depends upon whether former employing enterprise has been substantially continued in existance by new owner and here where majority of Ees at new enterprise had not previously been employed by old and there was no assumption of old enterprise's operation there can be no successorship)

Premium Foods, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 092

(new enterprise formed by old operation's manager upon its closure held successor to former operation where new enterprise used same plant, processing equipment, and job classifications as were used by former E; there was significant carryover of managerial authority, and initial work complement consisted of former E's Ees; and while product lines had been changed and significant changes made in clientele served, such changes were not of such magnitude as to be controlling since new enterprise operated in same industry and employed same classification of Ees in essentially unchanged working conditions)

Magnolia Manor Nursing Home, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 040

(purchaser of nursing home held successor E where, following purchase, location of business and its nature, equipment, number and identity of patients, level of care and funding for them, and lower-ranking supervisors remained the same; there was no hiatus in operation of business; and, with few exceptions, E hired most of seller's Ees)

Denzil S. Alkire, a Sole Proprietorship; et al. 259 NLRB No. 174

(where sole proprietorship dissolved company and terminated Ees and then formed new corporate entity, newly-formed company held successor and alter ego of dissolved company, where both entities had substantially identical business purpose, operation, equipment and customers, and predecessor and his family owned and controlled new company)

Denzil S. Alkire, a Sole Proprietorship; et al. 259 NLRB No. 174

(where proprietorship dissolved company and formed new corporate entity, found its alter ego herein, which was subsequently leased by another E, such E held successor and alter ego of proprietorship and the new corporate entity, since there was substantially identical business purpose, operation, equipment, and customers; proprietor continued to play substantial role in actual operation of business; and economic realities of lease agreement whereby new E invested no capital and propreitor retained all financial risks and received all profits demonstrated that E was directly or indirectly subject to economic power of proprietor)

Contract Carrier, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 043

(lessee of trucks held successor to former lessee and obligated to recognize and bargain with U which represented Ees of former lessee where four out of five Ees in unit had been employed by former lessee and performed same type work as they had for former lessee i.e. loading same product in same trucks used by former lessee and delivering to same type customer, notwithstanding 29% of predecessor's customers not serviced, and fewer truck-drivers employed as such change in scale of operations not considered extreme as to affect successor finding)

Landmark International Trucks, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 170

(successor E found where E operated facility at same location w/o hiatus, was identical type business rendering same service and product, did business with same customers and retained most of Ees of predecessor E)

Petros Coal Corporation and Blue Coal Corporation 257 NLRB No. 016

(E who failed to file answer in backpay proceeding found successor E where he took over operations of company with knowledge of predecessor's unremedied ULPs at same location, provided same services to same customers, had same supervisors and Ees)

Marlene Industries Corporation; et al. 255 NLRB No. 193

(E held successor where there was substantial continuity of identity in work force from previous to succeeding E)

W. Q. T., Inc. 254 NLRB No. 098

(lessor of predecessor's premises and purchaser of its goodwill, inventory, assets, name, etc., but hired none of its Ees held not successor and therefore its refusal to grant seniority for predecessor's striking Ees found not violative)

Kraft Plumbing and Heating, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 126

(corporation formed from stock transfer from sole-owner father to son held successorship where there was substantial continuity of employing industry in that new corporation continued same type of plumbing repair and remodeling work, operated business out of same location, and employed same Ees)

Stroehmann Brothers Company 252 NLRB No. 139

(purchaser of baked goods distributorship held successor E where there was continuity in business operation, continuation of same types of product lines, departmental organization, Ee identity and job functions)

Franklin Fouts, d/b/a B & F Cartage 251 NLRB No. 066

(purchaser of business found successor E where it continued same business in same location under virtually same conditions, using same equipment, and giving same service and with duty to employ same work force)

Cablevision Systems Development Company, A Partnership 252 NLRB NO. 176

(cable TV company held successor E to subcontractor where it terminated subcontracting relationship, bought certain amount of subcontractors' equipment and vehilces, took over subcontractor's functions, and hired Ees of whom vast majority had been employed by subcontractor to do same work that they had done for subcontractor)

Farmingdale Iron Works, Inc., and Jerry Cardullo Iron Works, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 003

World Evangelism, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 117

(network of interdenominational Evangelical Christian ministries found successor E to hostelry from which it purchased hotel-office-building complex as commercial source of revenue)

L.A.X. Medical Clinic, Inc.; et al. 248 NLRB No. 112

(E held successor and obligated to recognize and bargain with U representing Ees of predecessor where after purhase it continued same operation at same location using essentially same equipment and providing same services to substantially same individuals)

Barclay Hospital, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 144

(E held successor in view of continuity of employing industry where E had knowledge that predecessor's Ees had selected U as their representative in Bd election, E purchased assets of predecessor and took over operation w/o any interruption of services, and retained all of predecessor's supervisory personnel as well as its employees; changes eventually implemented by successor did not render operation substantially different from that of predecessor, nor was there any contention that changes rendered certified unit inappropriate)

Evergreen Lumber Company, Inc. JD-(SF)-296-82

(purchaser of business not successor E where, between time prior owner shut down facility and purchaser reopened it for business, there was hiatus of about 14 months and real question existed as to unit Ees' desires with regard to continued representation by U which had represented predecessor's Ees; in addition, when new owner began operating facility, it changed Ees' terms and conditions of employment, changed production techniques, did business with different customers, and employed entirely new supervisory staff)

Transportation Manpower Services of Ohio, Inc. JD-(SF)-192-82

(E held successor where it hired 5 of 10 drivers of predecessor and continued to engage in substantially same business w/o interruptions as predecessor had before it and successor E failed to hire one or more of predecessor drivers for anti-U reasons)

Croley Coal Corporation JD-288-82

(purchaser of mine who acquired all equipment, used it at same site, retained all foremen; and w/i two weeks reached same level of work force as previously existed found successor E)

Power Service Co., T and T Truck and Trailer Leasing, Inc., Night Hawk Motor Transportation, Inc., and York Motor Transport, Inc. JD-161-82

(successor E liable for acts of its predecessor where record supported finding that there was substantial identity of interest among Respondents)

Valley Vista Hospital JD-(SF)-68-82

(single E – consisting of large hospital, small hospital it had purchased, and service corporation which directed them both – found successor E to small hospital where it operated same facility with same equipment and Ees and performed same functions)

Ridgway Trucking Company and Sand & Stone Transport, Inc. JD-22-82

(where ULPs occurred while predecessor was in bankruptcy proceedings and it survived those proceedings, continuing in same operation, with only change in ownership successor E is jointly liable with predecessor for remedying ULPs)

1667-5000—Cont.

Haym Salomon Home For The Aged, et al., d/b/a Lawson Life Extension Organization JD-(NY)-78-81
(de facto receiver whose status as receiver was subsequently approved by ct to take over operations of home for the aged and who later became actual owner of the home held successor to prior owner-operator of home, in view of continuity of patient care and operations, and continuity of work force in toto; case here is stronger for finding successorship than analogy of receivers and trustees in bankruptcy who are in nature of custodians and not considered permanent in their positions)

S & J Lines JD-(SF)-248-81
(E held not to be successor to predecessor E where only 6 of E's 23 Ees were formerly employed by predecessor E)

Marine Machine Works, Inc.; et al. JD-(SF)-227-81
(Respondent which acquired assets of predecessor E, continued its business w/o change or interruption, with same supervisors and Ees, and was aware of ULP charges against E and potential liability at time of sale is successor E and obligated to remedy ULP's of predecessor E)

Cascade Chevrolet Company JD-(SF)-136-81
(company that purchased General Motors franchise of predecessor held successor E and therefore obligated to bargain with U before making unilateral changes, E where location, equipment, etc., was same, it hired 11 out of 15 of predecessors Ees, and opened for business 3 days later under new name)

Atlanta Baking Company, Inc. JD-288-80
(purchaser-lessee of terminated bakery's inventory, plant, equipment and business found successor to seller-lessor in view of continuation of same business operations w/o hiatus, use of same facilities and work force as predecessor with same mode of payment and same customers served in same manner)

Venture Stores, Inc. JD-81-80
(E which built distribution center to service both its previously owned and its newly purchased stores held not successor at distribution center to E from which it purchased stores, since purchaser neither employed majority of seller's Ees there on critical date nor was it perfectly clear that it would do so in future; moreover distribution center did not involve same location, plant, equipment, methods, service or customers as seller's distribution facility and its Ees were not accretion to unit of Ees employed at stores which were purchased)

Atlas Inc. JD-890-79
(E which acquired all physical assets of predecessor, engaged in substantially same business operations as formerly engaged in by predecessor, and employed as manager the predecessor's president and principal stockholder, held successor to and alter ego of predecessor)

N.L.R.B. v. Cablevision Systems Development Company, et al. 671 F.2d 737 (C.A. 2, Mar. 1982)
(cable TV company, which recaptured operation previously performed by independent contractor and carried over bulk of contractor's Ees to perform same work as before, found successor to independent contractor, notwithstanding overall businesses of the two companies were quite different, since the operations affecting U members were the same)

N.L.R.B. v. Hudson River Aggregates, Inc. 639 F.2d 865 (C.A. 2, 1981)
(E which purchased and carried on same business on same premises using same supervisors and equipment and with Ees performing essentially same tasks held successor notwithstanding purchaser planned to expand business since this would not alter nature or structure of enterprise)

Saks & Company v. N.L.R.B. 634 F.2d 681 (C.A. 2, 1980)
(where unit Ees of predecessor E performed alterations only on women's clothing and unit Ees of successor E work on mens, womens, and children's clothing, this minor change not sufficient to prevent finding of successorship as work skills are same)

N.L.R.B. v. Hot Bagels and Donuts of Staten Island, Inc., and Amboy Baking, Inc. 622 F.2d 1113 (C.A. 2, 1980)
(fact that title to equipment is now vested in bank, and that foreclosure sale intervened between predecessor's disappearance and successor's emergence pose no legal bar to Bd's finding of successorship where employing industry test is met)

N.L.R.B. v. Hot Bagels and Donuts of Staten Island, Inc., and Amboy Baking, Inc. 622 F.2d 1113 (C.A. 2, 1980)
(successor relationship established notwithstanding no sale or other legal transaction between the 2 corporations as test is whether employing industry remains essentially same after transfer of ownership and, here, successor sold same line of goods, at same location, with same equipment, with high percentage of predecessor's former Ees and hiatus between predecessor's demise and successor's birth was short)

Westwood Import Co. Inc., and Gamut Designs, Inc., d/b/a Westwood Import Co. v. N.L.R.B. 681 F.2d 664 (C.A. 9, July 1982)
(substantial evidence supported Bd's finding that E was successor to former E where after sale, successor essentially continued predecessor's business operations and employed substantially same work force as predecessor)

N.L.R.B. v. World Evangelism, Inc. 656 F.2d (C.A. 9, 1981)
(nonprofit religious organization held successor to predecessor E where it retained all of bargaining unit Ees, continued to operate predecessor's hotel facilities and its commercial leasing operations, and unit Ees continued to work at same location performing same tasks)

Karl Kallmann, d/b/a Love's Barbeque Restaurant, No. 62 v. N.L.R.B. 640 F.2d 1094 (C.A. 9, 1981)
(new E held successor E where majority of predecessor's Ees would have survived takeover of business but for E's discrimination in not rehiring former Ees because of their U affiliation)

1672 BANKRUPTCY TRUSTEE OR DEBTOR-IN-POSSESSION

Sealift Maritime, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 154
(contract executed when E had status of debtor-in-possession held bar, as Bankruptcy Reform Act of 1978 grants debtor-in-possession all powers that trustee had under Bankruptcy Act of 1898, and contract will serve as bar to ptn unless and until contract rejected by bankruptcy ct)

Nathan Yorke, Trustee in Bankruptcy, Successor in Bankruptcy, or alter ego To The Seeburg Corporation and Seeburg Service Parts Co., a single employer 259 NLRB 105
(trustee in bankruptcy is alter ego of bankrupt E, and, like that E, is under duty to comply with NLRA, including requirement to engage in collective bargaining)

Imperial Hospital; Donald W. Henry, Trustee in Bankruptcy 257 NLRB No. 061
(trustee in bankruptcy is alter ego of bankrupt E and successor in law vis-a-vis U)

World Services Corporation and/or Peggs Run Coal Company; and World Services Corporation, Debtor in Possession 247 NLRB No. 201

Belair Chateau Hospital, Inc., d/b/a University Heights Hospital JD-(SF)-213-80
(trustee in bankruptcy derivatively liable for bankrupt E hospital's unlawful discharges where trustee knew of claims of unlawfully discharged Ees and had ample opportunity to shield itself against continuing accrual of backpay by offering reinstatement to claimants, course it deliberately eschewed)

N.L.R.B. v. Bildisco and Bildisco, Debtor-In-Possession 682 F.2d 72 (C.A. 3, June 1982)
(debtor-in-possession, who had obtained permission from bankruptcy ct to reject bargaining agreement, held not alter ego of debtor nor party to bargaining agreement; rather, debtor-in-possession is new entity with its own rights and duties subject to bankruptcy ct's supervision and is comparable to trustee and is an officer of the ct; debtor-in-possession is analogous to successor E and may be required to bargain with U, but it is not party to predecessor's bargaining agreement unless it is assumed, and it is able to reject agreement w/o following 8(d) procedures)

1673 PURCHASER OF ASSETS OF BANKRUPT

The Seeburg Corporation, et al. v. N.L.R.B. No. 79-B-39597, Nov. 13, 1980, DC N.D. IL (unreported)
(order staying Bd's ULP proceedings vacated and bankruptcy judge ordered to refrain from hearing ULP charges, since proceedings by BD are not automatically stayed by bankruptcy filing; all bankrupt's assets were being sold to single entity with full knowledge of ULP charges and possibility of backpay assessment which made transfer of assets a reorganization, and not a liquidation; ULP charges and question of successorship left to Bd's superior expertise)

1675 FOREIGN CORPORATIONS

State Bank of India 262NLRB No. 143
(jurisdiction asserted over bank since it had no special status as instrumentality of Government of India insofar as American labor laws were concerned and did not come w/i exclusions provided for Sec. 2(2))

1683 STATUTORY EXCLUSIONS FROM EMPLOYER STATUS

Wayne County Neighborhood Legal Services, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 180
(contention that E operating legal services organization is statutorily exempt from Act as joint E with federal agency, rejected, where governing agency by very terms of statute which created it was removed from Sec. 2(2) exemption and, in any event, E is not joint E with agency)

1683—Cont.

1683-2500 Wholly owned government corporations

Radio Free Europe/Radio Liberty, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 063
(jurisdiction asserted over non profit private corporation engaged in production and transmission of radio broadcasts to Eastern Europe that is funded and evaluated by government agency established for that purpose, though Agency exercises no control of corporation's labor relations, since under right to control test E is private corporation and has enough control over labor relations to engage in collective bargaining)

1683-5000 State or political subdivision

Michigan Eye Bank 265 NLRB No. 179
(jurisdiction not asserted over research assistants who worked on eye bank program over which jurisdiction asserted and which contracted with state university for medical and administrative services, since important labor relations matters including wages, hours, and working conditions of research assistants controlled by university to extent that it would be impossible for parties to engage in meaningful bargaining w/o involving university, which is exempt governmental institution)

Michigan Eye Bank 265 NLRB No. 179
(state university (exempt entity) with which eye bank contracted for medical and administrative services not joint E with eye bank of eye bank technicians and thus jurisdiction asserted, since university retained no control over wages, hours or other terms and conditions of technicians' employment, notiwthstanding most began relationship with eyebank as student assistants at university, where eye bank hired; trained, and set compensation and paid technicians directly from its own accounts rather than indicrectly from funds granted by university)

St. Jude Industrial Park Board 265 NLRB No. 087
(jurisdiction asserted over unincorporated entity in business of promoting industrial development for fourth class city (on population basis) where development was both federally and privately funded and which, during 1980, directly purchased goods and supplies exceeding $50,000 from outside state; city had no removal power over members of (industrial) Park Board appointed by private developer; (industrial) Park Board was neither direct creation of state nor was it administered by individuals responsible to public officials or to general electorate, nor did it have any control over budget of Park Board)

Greater Framingham Mental Health Association, d/b/a Youth Guidance Center 263 NLRB No. 146
(E jurisdiction asserted over E which operated mental health clinic under partnership contract with state who loaned some supervisory and managerial personnel to E who were paid wholly by state and received state pay and benefits, and some bybrid Ees paid partly by state and partly by association, and inspected by state; since E had not ceded control to state where E governed by independent board of directors on which no state officials sit, E had control over all hiring, salaries, evaluation and termination of Ees including hybrid Ees, but excluding state Ees, and standards of supervision set by E)

Target, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 101
(jurisdiction declined over nonprofit corporation providing residential mental health care and vacational day care for mentally retarded adults as it shares with State exemption under Sec. 2(2) in view of state's retention of substantial control over Ees' wages, benefits, hiring and working conditions through funding budget reviews, and close monitoring of E's operations; contract in which salaries, client/staff ratio, client selection and treatment, etc., are specified, must conform to court consent decree to which State is bound)

Jervis Public Library Association, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 148
(jurisdiction declined over public library because it is an administrative arm of state in providing educational services to public as evidenced by a city and the State exercising significant control over E's expenditures by reason of required submission of its armed budget to each prior to funding approval with right to modify budget vested in these governmental authorities and E's Ees participate in State retirement system and city's health plan)

Hillside Bus Corp. 262 NLRB No. 152
(jurisdiction asserted over corporations engaged in transporting students under contract with Board of Education since insufficient control by Board of Education to preclude corporations from bargaining effectively about terms and conditions of employment, notwithstanding master seniority list for all drivers, mechanics, dispatchers employed by Board of Education's contractors who furnished 5 vehicles or less, where corporations had only 1 Ee subject to that agreement, and only requirements imposed by Board of Education were to pay minimum wage and make contributions to welfare and pension plans)

Radio Free Europe/Radio Liberty, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 063
(political subdivision exemption applies only to states and not to non profit corporation funded by government agency for purpose of producing and transmitting radio broadcasts to Eastern Europe)

Wordsworth Academy 262 NLRB No. 042
(E operating private school participating in State educational plan for children with learning disabilities held not exempt political subdivision, where, despite close relationship between E and State, E has full authority to conduct its affairs and is not directly responsible to public officials or general electorate; State standards, while clearly having an effect on E and other private schools, are no more than licensing requirements for engaging in business of education and for doing business w/i State under its special education plan)

United Truck and Bus Service Co. 257 NLRB No. 051
(mtn to dismiss R-ptn granted where Bd found that local Union was not labor organization w/i meaning of Act due to requirement, in its constitution that members must be Ees of public Es; therefore, since public Es are not Es as defined in Sec. 2(2) of Act and that Ees of such Es are not Ees as defined in Sec. 2(3) of Act, Local does not exist for purpose of dealing with Es as defined in Act)

K & E Bus Lines, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 137
(Bd asserted jurisdiction over E majority of whose business was performed pursuant to contract with school district since E retained sufficient control over employment conditions to bargain effectively, notwithstanding contract provided that school district determined bus routes and schedules, prescribed rules of conduct for students on buses, reserved right to recommend hiring and dismissal of drivers, and provided contractor will work under direct supervision of school official, inasmuch as contract did not confer on school district right to supervise Ees; nor were regulations in state school bus manual so restrictive as to preclude bargaining)

Madison County Mental Health Center, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 030
(jurisdiction not asserted over county mental health center which operates facilities in county hospital and house owned by private organization, where E was created by county government to fulfill statutory obligation to provide care for mentally retarded and mentally ill persons, funding is 80 percent federal and state, budget is subject to approval and labor relations are generally governed by guidelines adopted by statutory mandated boards composed of members appointed by state agency and county commissioners)

Community Health and Home Care, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 094
(E providing and administering comprehensive public health nursing and homemaker program to 10-town area in State held agency of towns it serves where E's board of directors is accountable to and appointed by public officials in towns served by the agency and therefore it is a political subdivision and exempt from Bd's jurisdiction)

Vantage Petroleum Corp. 247 NLRB No. 202
(jurisdiction asserted over E petroleum company's operation of state parkway gas service stations under contract with the state, since state's actual exercise of control over E's operations is not to such degree as to impair E's control over labor relations so as to render E incompetent to bargain efficaciously with a U, nor does E's performance of services for state constitute performance of services intimately related to traditional state functions warranting nonassertion of jurisdiction)

Crestline Memorial Hospital Association, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 668 F.2d 243 (C.A. 6, Jan. 1982)
(political subdivision exemption limited to entities that are either (1) created by state, so as to constitute departments or administrative arms of government, or (2) administered by individuals who are responsible to public officials or to general electorate)

N.L.R.B. v. St. Louis Comprehensive Neighborhood Health Center, Inc. 633 F.2d 1268 (C.A. 8, 1980)
(Bd exercise of jurisdiction over HEW funded non-profit E which provided health services to county residents, held proper where E was not arm of federal or state government nor did its board members serve at pleasure of public officials or general electorate; board of directors of E had primary responsibility for personnel policies, wages and other conditions of employment; limitations placed on E by HEW served to define economic framework for E and U bargaining)

1683-7500 Persons subject to Railway Labor Act

Elliott Flying Service, Inc. 240 NLRB No. 068
(Bd did not assert jurisdiction over E engaged in operation of air charter and taxi service, as well as in selling and servicing of Beechcraft aircraft, training of pilots, providing of pilots for owners of small aircraft, and providing of fueling and emergency aircraft maintenance for an airline, since the National Mediation Board advised Bd that E was subject to provisions of Railway Labor Act)

DHL Corporation 240 NLRB No. 012
(ptn dismissed and jurisdiction not asserted over corporation engaged in transportation by air of mail and other time-sensitive commodities where Bd was advised by the National Mediation Board that it is of the opinion this corporation is carrier w/i scope of Title II of the Railway Labor Act)

1683-7500—Cont.

Air Cleveland, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 059
(ptn of Ees of E engaged in providing certain ground services to air carrier dismissed, since National Mediation Board, by request of Bd, determined that E was w/i scope of Title II of the Railway Labor Act)

Missouri-Illinois Central Industries, Limited 252 NLRB No. 143
(Bd did not assert jurisdiction over E engaged in freight handling services to various common carriers engaged in interstate commerce where National Mediation Board found activities of E and Ees performing such activities were subject to the Railway Labor Act)

1683-8700 Labor organization or officer thereof

1683-8750 Labor organization acting as employer

Carpenters Local Union No. 35 (Klaus Martin, an Individual) 264 NLRB No. 108
(when U takes on role of E, Act applies to it just as it would to any other E)

2400 EMPLOYEE (SEE 440-1760 AND 460-5000 FOR DEFINITION OF EMPLOYEE TYPES AND CATEGORIES)

Montgomery Ward & Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 668 F.2d 291 (C.A. 7, Dec. 1981)
(a person who has no reasonable expectation of future employment as of date of U recognition demand cannot be considered to be an Ee w/i meaning of Act for purposes of determining majority status; reasonable expectation of employment standard includes two elements that must be satisfied before an Ee's card may be counted: a subjective element - the Ee's intent or expectation - and an objective element - the reasonableness of the expectation)

Montgomery Ward & Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 668 F.2d 291 (C.A. 7, Dec. 1981)
(ct determined that since two Ees never returned to their job after holiday then it could be inferred that they abandoned their job as of day after holiday and thus were not Ees on date of U demand nor should authorization cards signed by them be counted in determining whether U had support of majority of Ees on that date; fact that Ee who has abandoned his job is still carried on E's records is not sufficient to make that person an Ee as matter of law)

2401 GENERALLY

Abbey Medical/Abbey Rents, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 129
(strike replacements are considered Ees, and E's failure to comply with contract to make required fringe benefit payments to contractual trust funds on their behalf is violative)

T.H.E. Co. d/b/a L. D. Brinkman Southeast 261 NLRB No. 025
(threatening Ee with discharge for U activity violative, notwithstanding E's contention that Ee had resigned at time of threat, since Ee would have remained statutory Ee w/i meaning of Sec. 2(3) after alleged resignation)

Musicians Union Local 47, etc. (American Broadcasting Company, etc.) 255 NLRB No. 065
(Ee who performed services for various Es during applicable period held Ee w/i meaning of Act, since Ee definition does not require showing that individual is employed by specific E inasmuch as it includes not only existing Ees of any E but also, in a generic sense, members of the working class)

Henry A. Young, d/b/a Columbia Engineers International 249 NLRB No. 144
(individuals not deprieved of Ee status notwithstanding also employed by U as organizer)

N.L.R.B. v. Union Nacional De Trabajadores, et al. 611 F.2d 926 (C.A. 2, 1979)
(Ees hired by E to pump gas during strike found to be Ees and entitled to protection of Act notwithstanding Ees were Ees of security firm engaged by gas station operator to provide individuals to pump gas and report threats to persons and damage to property)

N.L.R.B. v. Villa Avila, Palm Springs Sun Dial and Tom Sawyer Construction Co. 673 F.2d 281 (C.A. 9, Mar. 1982)
(Section 2(3) of Act states that Ees protected by act shall not be limited to Ees of particular Es. Thus Ees of U subcontractors protected from acts of non-U general contractors in control of job site)

B. W. Herman & Sons, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 664 F.2d 248 (C.A. 10, Nov. 1981)
(in finding that Bd properly asserted jurisdiction over E providing school bus transportation services to school districts, assertedly exempt from BD jurisdiction under Sec. 2(2), which had authority to reject job applicants and to recommend dismissals, ct stated that ct view absolute power to hire and fire workers as relevant but not essential indication of E-Ee relationship)

2401-6700 Entitlement of managerial employees to protection of the Act

N.L.R.B. v. Yeshiva University 440 U.S. 906 (U.S. SCt, Feb 20, 1980)
(managerial Ees are defined as those who formulate and effectuate management policies by expressing and making operative the decisions of their Es; they must exercise discretion w/i or even independently of established E policy and must be aligned with management)

N.L.R.B. v. Yeshiva University 440 U.S. 906 (U.S. SCt, Feb 20, 1980)
(faculty at university exercised managerial authority by virtue of their authority in academic matters being absolute; they decided what courses will be offered, when they will be scheduled, to whom they will be taught to, teaching methods, grading policies, class sizes, and matriculation standards; furthermore, while these decisions required use of independent professional judgment it does not take decision makers out of managerial status)

Bentley Hedges Travel Service, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 184
(discharge of managerial Ee for his part in writing Ees' grievance letter, attendance at U meeting and signing of U authorization card, not unlawful, since managerial Ees are excluded from protection of Act and like supervisors may be disciplined for U or concerted activity)

Florida Memorial College 263 N.L.R.B. 160
(faculty of private, nonprofit educational institution did not exercise managerial authority, notwithstanding E's assertion that administration arrived at its decisions after consultation with faculty members, since mere consultation did not give it effective control in formulating management policies; in contrast to situation in Yeshiva, faculty's authority in strictly academic matters was far from absolute and faculty exercised no substantial control in spheres beyond the strictly academic)

Florida Memorial College 263 N.L.R.B. 160
(academic division chairpersons appointed by college president to oversee certain administrative functions in addition to teaching held not managerial, notwithstanding E's contention that academic council, of which chairpersons were members, addressed number of issues involving academic policy where there was no showing that in doing so, academic council generally made operative decisions; further, chairpersons' occasional recommendations regarding size of salary increase to be granted faculty members were made w/i established limits which were narrowly circumscribed by administration)

Bradford College 261 NLRB No. 081
(division chairs at college held not managerial Ee, and included in faculty unit, notwithstanding chairs had written authority to prepare departmental budgets, evaluate appropriate faculty members, assign students to faculty members for advice purposes, hire faculty and assign courses, where in actual practice academic dean had hired faculty members w/o consultation, overruled recommendations on faculty retentions, fired individuals as division chairs who had been elected division chairs by faculty, made appointment commitments for following academic year to faculty members prior to receiving division chair's evaluation)

Bradford College 261 NLRB No. 081
(B.A. coordinators at college, most of whom also division charis, held not to be supervisors or managerial Ees and included in faculty unit, where each was regarded as faculty and spent insignificant amount of time in collateral functions)

Bradford College 261 NLRB No. 081
(full-time faculty at college held Ees rather than managerial Ees and thus subject to Act where faculty alone had no power to set academic or administrative policies, major changes in curriculum approved by board of trustees, faculty salaries determined by president of college, grades and discipline of students have been reversed by academic dean w/o notice or over objection of faculty member, academic dean and president have ignored recommendations of division chairs as to hiring, evaluations, and other professional decisions)

Ithaca College 261 NLRB No. 083
(full time faculty at college held managerial Ees and ptn dismissed, in view of their extensive authority to formulate and effectuate policies, absolute authority as to curriculum, determines academic policies, faculty hiring, tenure, budgetary matters and facilities planning)

N.L.R.B. v. Yeshiva University 582 F.2d 686 (C.A. 2)
(professional Ees may also be categorized as supervisory and managerial Ees ineligible for inclusion in bargaining unit)

2401-6750 Tests for managerial status

University of San Francisco 265 NLRB No. 155
(part-time faculty members, who write curricula for university's college of professional studies held not managerial, where their only authority was to submit curricula for approval, and even this narrow authority was substantially different from that contemplated by SCt in Yeshiva University where faculty substantially operated school; while curricula writers may teach classes part-time, they do so pursuant to separate contract; and thus, rather than deriving any authority with respect to management of school from their faculty status, curricula writers are hired essentially as consultants to perform a specific task)

2401-6750—Cont.

College of Osteopathic Medicine and Surgery 265 NLRB No. 037
(in holding faculty at college managerial, Bd rejected U's contention that if faculty were unprotected by bargaining agreement, E could unilaterally remove any managerial authority that faculty had achieved through collective bargaining, since Yeshiva decision did not distinguish situations in which managerial authority was gained through collective bargaining from situations in wich such authority was more freely granted; Bd looks to extent of managerial authority held by faculties rather than manner in which authority was obtained)

Seven-Up Bottling of Phoenix, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 085
(merchandise manager found managerial Ee where he had responsibility to schedule his own activities to ensure that E's policies were effectuated, to ensure that other Ees complied with and fulfilled these policies, he was management representative in field and dealt with store managers, had responsibility to provide effective management and enhance E's image and to do this exercised independent judgment; thus he was more aligned with management than rank-and-file Ees)

Bradford College 261 NLRB No. 081
(librarian and assistant librarian at college held not managerial Ees and included in faculty unit where did not spend more than 50% of their time supervising unit Ees, librarian's budget proposals had been reduced by academic dean, locks and keys to library were changed w/o prior consultation with librarian, academic dean and dean of students determined library hours)

Thiel College 261 NLRB No. 084
(unit of full-time faculty at college held managerial Ees and ptn dismissed, since faculty did not have professional interest apart from E and played large role in operating college, where it set requirements for admission and graduation, formulated curriculum and grading system, selected chairmen of departments subject to confirmation of academic dean and vice-president for academic services, was involved in setting course schedules and teaching loads and budgetary matters including faculty salaries and benefits, and effectively participated in faculty hiring, firing, promotion and tenure)

Montefiore Hospital and Medical Center 261 NLRB No. 082
(determination of managerial status of doctors may not be based on decision making which is part of routine discharge of professional duties. Only if activities of professional Ees fall outside scope of duties routinely performed by similarly situated professionals will they be found aligned with management. And in health care context, Bd must evaluate facts of each case to determine whether decisions alleged to be managerial or supervisory are incidental to professional's treatment of patient)

2401-6750-3300 Is aligned with management so as to be in potential conflict with fellow employees

Modern Manufacturing Company, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 078
(individual who was son and nephew of owners of majority of E and son of manager and had special privileges, favorable working conditions and personnel information denied other Ees, found aligned with management and excluded from unit)

Modern Manufacturing Company, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 078
(emancipated and economically independent daughter of officer and co-owner, who performs no managerial functions only duties like those of her fellow Ees found not aligned with management, included in unit)

Sheraton Puerto Rico Corp. d/b/a Puerto Rico Sheraton Hotel 240 NLRB No. 113
(Ee who held title of banquet and sales representative of E hotel but exercised no supervisory authority, held managerial Ee since his duty to monitor performance and seek its correction through supervisory officials placed him in potential conflict with fellow Ees)

United States Steel Corporation, Inland Steel Company, Bethlehem Steel Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 644 F.2d 206 (C.A. 3, Mar 19, 1981)
(Curtis Industries, Division of Curtis Noll Corporation, 218 NLRB 447 (1975) is consistent with, and not departure from, community of interest analyses developed by Bd in long line of cases; ct concurs with fifth circuit's opn that the factors for estcblishing when participation in managerial trainee program will amount to managerial status— derive from a series of cases decided by Bd many years earlier than Curtis Noll; NLRB v. Kent Corp., 564 F.2d 186, 188 (5th Cir. 1977))

2401-6750-6700 Engages in employer's policy making or exercises independent discretion in performance of duties

Lewis University 265 NLRB No. 157
(Bd found faculty members were professional Ees w/i meaning of Sections 2(12) and 2(3) and also found under Yeshiva that faculty members, either as individuals or in their capacity as members of various committees, exercised independent judgment in routine discharge of their professional duties, but did not effectively formulate and effectuate policies of E; therefore, they were not excluded from coverage under Act as managerial Ees)

Lewis University 265 NLRB No. 157
(faculty at university held not managerial Ees in view of fact that they do not exercise absolute or dominant authority in numerous critical areas including academic matters, hiring, tenure, sabbaticals, termination, and promotion; furthermore, although faculty members determined content of, and how to teach, courses, they did not decide grading policies, matriculation standards, academic calendars, or which students would be admitted or graduated; moreover, they did not determine size of student body, tuition to be charged, or location of school; finally, administration decision making authority was unequivocally articulated in management-rights clause)

Florence Volunteer Fire Department, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 134
(full-time paid fire fighters held managerial Ees, notwithstanding U's contention that those on E's executive committee abstained from voting on wage and benefit matters, that E's bylaws could be amended to preclude conflict of interest, and that paid members would not likely exercise effective control over E's policies; Bd found lack of participation by members on executive committee regarding wages and benefits was of little significance, since every paid and unpaid member shared equal voice in management decisions)

College of Osteopathic Medicine and Surgery 265 NLRB No. 037
(faculty at college held managerial Ees where it had almost plenary authority in academic matters and significant input into important non-academic matters, was instrumental not only in day-to-day operation of college but also in its long-range policy planning, and faculty members had influence over colleagues' job security and advancement)

Loretto Heights College 264 NLRB No. 149
(college faculty members not managerial Ees where they organized to promote individual interests divergent from college's interests, their participation in governance was essentially advisory with administration retaining ultimate control, their administrative weight in day-to-day affairs was exceeded by program directors, and the academic dean was the managerial authority in academic matters)

New York Medical College 263 NLRB No. 124
(faculty members, including physicians, Ph. D's, dentists, and registered nurses, who work 8 or more hours per week held not managerial Ees under Yeshiva criteria since governance of college rested with board of trustees, vice president and chief financial officer, president, dean, associate deans, and department chairmen)

Cooperativa De Credito Y Aharro Vegabajena 261 NLRB No. 161
(two of 50 voting delegates in E's assembly of delegates, that rarely participate in affairs of E whose labor relations and day-to-day management are vested in E's board of directors, are not managerial, since assembly of delegates minimally participated in management of E w/o ability to formulate or effectuate management policies by expressing or making operative E's decisions; thus, there was no unprotected purpose in Ees striking in attempt to pursuade E to negotiate with two voting delegates who were members of U negotiating team)

Duquesne University of The Holy Ghost 261 NLRB No. 085
(faculty members at law school held managerial Ees and ptn for unit of those faculty members dismissed where faculty exercised significant control over curriculum and hiring and tenure, established standards for admission, remaining in school and for graduation; faculty committee, against whose recommendation Dean had no authority to act, screened candidates for full-time faculty positions, faculty could veto hiring decision made by Dean, tenured faculty made recommendations regarding granting of tenure, notwithstanding faculty had no authority in terminations)

District #1, Pacific Coast District, Marine Engineers Beneficial Association 259 NLRB No. 109
(Ee on headquarters staff of E, a U, not managerial, notwithstanding she received large salary, had large office and secretary, where she did not promote E policy by taking or recommending discretionary actions that effectively control or implement E policy, nor did her activities -- mainly involved with information gathering -- involve formulation and effectuating E policies)

Drukker Communications, Inc., and Its Wholly Owned Subsidiary The Daily Advance, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 097
(district advisors held not managerial Ees where their duties consisted of recruiting and training school boy and girl carriers, making collections from carriers, handling of customer complaints, and were subject to supervision and guidance by their supervisors)

Lorimar Productions, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 180
(unit production managers at motion picture and TV production facility held managerial Ees where evidence did not establish any significant limitation on normal discretion exercised by UPMs when engaged in contract negotiations and settling grievances)

Pratt Institute 256 NLRB No. 178
(unit of nonacademic administrative Ees at art institute, appropriate contrary to E's contention that Bd lacked authority under SCt's Yeshiva decision to find the unit appropriate, since U in Yeshiva sought a unit of ful-time faculty members who acted in truly collegial capacity to make decisions for the university, whereas unit here is composed of nonfaculty administrative Ees who carry out decisions made by higher authority; Bd does not believe that SCt in its Yeshiva decision intended to exclude from the Act's protection administrative Ees performing their duties in an institute of the type here)

2401-6750-6700—Cont.

Arizona Electric Power Cooperative, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 110
(load dispatchers and their leadman employed by electric power cooperative not supervisors where they did not oversee work performed pursuant to their directions, did not use independent judgment in directing other Ees; any discretion they used in buying and selling power was insufficient to render them managerial Ees)

Alco-Gravure, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 137
(Bd held process control supervisor for E engaged in rotogravure printing of newspaper supplements and advertising materials was not managerial Ee, notwithstanding his duties required use of independent judgment and discretion, where he did not exercise such discretion independent of E's established policies or make any managerial decisions as to levels of manpower required for projects)

Alco-Gravure, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 137
(Bd held control monitors and job operators who perform much the same functions in ensuring quality of publications for E engaged in rotogravure printing of newspaper supplements and advertising materials were not supervisors, where they did not exercise real supervisory authority over Ees and did not possess any of usual indicia of supervisory authority; nor were they managerial Ees as they did not exercise judgment and discretion independent of E's established policies and were not involved in formulation, determination, and effectuation of management policies)

Permanent Label Corporation 248 NLRB No. 021
(Ees who exercise some independent judgment based on their technical expertise held technical Ees not managerial)

The Trustees of Stevens Institute of Technology JD-(NY)-109-82
(regular full-time faculty at non-profit institution of higher learning awarding engineering and scientific degrees found managerial Ees in view of their decisive participation in all but monetary aspects of institution where they formulated curricula and its courses, determined academic structure, and were involved in selecting president, provost, department heads and teachers, awarding promotions and tenure and meeting building needs)

Fremont Auto Center, Inc. d/b/a Fremont Mazda JD-(SF)-13-81
(Ee at auto dealership held managerial, where she was taken off floor to engage in managerial function, the exchange of automobiles between and among dealerships in which capacity she had right to commit E's credit and make sales at price she negotiated; in addition, she was seen as manager by E-president and by workforce generally, and was given access to health plan)

Carlina Knitting Co., Inc., et al. JD-321-80
(although Ee was carried among payroll records of managerial Ees, he was held plant clerical and not managerial Ee, where majority of his time was spent on physical work along with floor boys and any orders he gave them was purely of ministerial nature)

N.L.R.B. v. Yeshiva University 582 F.2d 686 (C.A. 2)
(full time faculty members excluded from unit as supervisory and managerial Ees where they exercised substantial and pervasive authority at particular university by recommending hiring, promotion, salary and tenure of faculty, adopting standards of admission, curruiculum, grading system, and graduation requirements; further, faculty was not acting on own behalf but rather on behalf of university, nor did fact decisions subject to ultimate authority of trustees preclude finding of managerial status where faculty's recommendations were effective)

Stephens Institute, a corporation d/b/a Academy of Art College v. N.L.R.B. 620 F.2d 720 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(instructors herein not managerial w/i meaning of NLRB v. Yeshiva University but simply Ees, where they have no input into policy decisions and do not engage in management level decision making, and E does not resemble nonprofit mature university in that case)

2401-6800 Confidential employee

N.L.R.B. v. Hendricks County Rural Electric Membership Corp. 454 US 170 (U.S. SCt. Dec. 1981)
(ct upheld Bd decision which held that only those confidential Ees with labor nexus are properly excluded from bargaining unit and rejected claim that all Ees with access to confidential information do not fall w/i definition of Ee in Section 2(3) of Act)

Grove Valve and Regulator Company 262 NLRB No. 035
(secretary to industrial relations manager found not confidential Ee where no evidence she was involved with any matters concerning labor relations)

Carolina Telephone and Telegraph Company 258 NLRB No. 189
(secretaries to district managers not confidential Ees even if they acted in confidential capacity to district managers because district managers were not responsible for formulating, determining, and effectuating E's labor relations policies)

Lorimar Productions, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 150
(objections to election on ground that production coordinators at motion picture and TV production facility should be excluded from appropriate unit since PCs were confidential Ees where they assisted and acted in confidential capacity to persons who formulated, determined, and effectuated management policies in field of labor relations)

Maidsville Coal Co., Inc. 257 NLRB No. 148
(weight master in cool mining operation found not to be confidential Ee as business information he possessed was no different than that possessed by shipping and receiving clerks and other production clerks who have not lost their statutory protection)

Greyhound Lines, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 055
(secretary to manager of maintenance and service center held not confidential Ee where manager did not formulate and determine management policies in field of labor relations; and secretary's access to personnel files, her typing of replies to correspondence, including that marked confidential, and her typing and filing of Ee evaluations, letters or notices concerning Ee personnel and disciplinary actions, letters from manager to U, replies to grievances, and manager's recommendations as to E's proposals for collective-bargaining agreements did not render secretary confidential Ee)

Firmat Manufacturing Corp. 255 NLRB No. 153
(sole secretary and bookkeeper of E's owner and president held confidential Ee where she occupied desk in immediate and open proximity to him and could not help but be privy to conversations involving labor and personnel matters)

Milwaukee Children's Hospital Association 255 NLRB No. 130
(Ee health nurse in Ee Relations Dept is not managerial or confidential Ee where her duties include: conducting preemployment physical exams, maintaining confidential Ee health records, handling workmen's compensation claims, preparing accident reports, examining Ees returning to work after an accident; however, she does not exercise discretion in dealing with Ees, and mere access to confidential medical records is insufficient to establish she acts in confidential capacity to her supervisor, vice president of Ee relations)

Clinton Corn Processing Company, A Division of Standard Brands Inc. 253 NLRB No. 084
(individual held not confidential Ee notwithstanding she maintained personnel files, performed payroll functions, which involved confidential personnel information such as wage rates)

Stroock & Stroock & Lavan 253 NLRB No. 052
(those who act in confidential capacity involving their E's labor relations, not those of another E)

Stroock & Stroock & Lavan 253 NLRB No. 052
(executive committee secretaries not confidential Ees where when executive committee does consider labor policies or decisions for firm no clerical Ees are present)

Kleinberg, Kaplan, Wolff, Cohen & Burrows, P.C. 253 NLRB No. 054
(Bd held law firm's clerical and support staff not confidential workers under Bell Aerospace and the Taft-Hartley legislative history, adhering to its traditional restrictive definition of confidential workers as individuals acting in confidential capacity to those Ees formulating, determining and effectuating management's labor relations policies for their own E)

Montgomery Ward & Co., Inc. 253 NLRB No. 023
(office clerical who served as secretary to credit manager held not confidential Ee since routine secretarial assistance to official who formulates and effectuates labor relations policies is not sufficient to warrant exclusion from unit as confidential Ee)

Kaplan, Sicking, Hessen, Sugarman, Rosenthal & Zientz (Office and Professional Employees, Local No. 128) 250 NLRB No. 065
(Ees who primarily do maintenance-type work, including caring for lawn and parking lot, cleaning premises, making deliveries, and filing, held, contrary to E labor law firm's contention, not confidential Ees, since Ees' activities can hardly be considered as assisting and acting in confidential capacity to E in connection with labor relations)

Kaplan, Sicking, Hessen, Sugarman, Rosenthal & Zientz (Office and Professional Employees, Local No. 128) 250 NLRB No. 065
(Ees of labor law firm, not confidential Ees even though they might have access to confidential information relating to labor relations of their E's clients; it is implicit in rationale for finding confidential status that such persons work in confidential capacity with someone who formulates, determines and effectuates labor relations policies for their own E, not some other E)

Pilgrim Life Insurance Company 249 NLRB No. 140
(Ee who rendered general assistance to E's president held not confidential Ee, notwithstanding president was official who formulated and effectuated labor relations policies, since she was excluded form handling any matters related to labor relations policies inasmuch as president was assisted in these matters by another officer)

2401-6800—Cont.

Reymond Baking co. 249 NLRB No. 156

(challenge to ballot of receptionist/typist/floater sustained since such Ee acts in confidential capacity to person involved in formulating, determining and effectuating E's labor relations and is therefore confidential Ee)

Marcus J. Lawrence Memorial Hospital 249 NLRB No. 090

(Ee found not to be confidential Ee and included in unit where she was hired as secretary, did general typing and only small amount of personnel work, including voter eligibility list)

Union College 247 NLRB No. 069

(secretaries to divisional deans held confidential Ees where they have access to grievance files and E's notes relating to grievances and help with work in connection with labor relations functions of divisional deans)

Hendricks County Rural Electric Membership Corporation 247 NLRB No. 068

(on ct remand, Bd found under standard erected by ct that Ee was not confidential Ee where she not only did not work in confidential capacity in respect to labor relations matters, but did not perform confidential duties in connection with nonlabor relations or personnel areas)

Hendricks County Rural Electric Membership Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 627 F.2d 766 (C.A. 7, July 1980)

(confidential Ees are excluded from coverage under Act under broad definition not limited to those having labor nexus)

Hendricks County Rural Electric Membership Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 603 F.2d 25 (C.A. 7, 1979)

(ct remanded to Bd for determination as to whether dischargee was statutory Ee or confidential Ee under Taft-Hartley Act as broadly interpreted in Bell Aerospace rather than whether she acted in confidential capacity regarding labor relations under narrower B.F. Goodrich test)

N.L.R.B. v. Los Angeles New Hospital 640 F.2d 1017 (C.A. 9, Mar 3, 1981)

(individual not confidential Ee where determination based merely on access to confidential information or typing of confidential labor relations memorandum; Bd refrains from broad definition of confidential Ees because most Ees have arguably confidential relationship with management and because expensive application of exclusionary rule would deprive many Ees of right to bargain collectively)

2401-7500 Retirees included as employees

Powman-Lawrence, Inc. d/b/a Belt Supermarket 260 NLRB No. 017

(in absence of strike, retired individual would not be regarded as Ee and would be ineligible to vote)

2401-8700 Foreign nationals or illegal aliens

Dining and Kitchen Administration, d/b/a DAKA 257 NLRB No. 046

(foreign students, residents of International House, who regularly worked in International House's cafeteria found Ees as they had same supervisors and did same work as nonresidents and work was unrelated to studies. Students did not receive actual cash for time worked, but received credits toward their room and meal charges)

Actors' Equity Association 247 NLRB No. 172

(contention that Bd should decline jurisdiction because alleged ULPs affected only a few non-resident aliens, rejected; Bd enforces Act as to all Ees, including aliens, unless regulation of practice involved is properly left to some other sovereign authority)

N.L.R.B. v. Actors' Equity Association 644 F.2d 939 (C.A. 2, Mar 17, 1981)

(alien Ees protected under Act since nothing in terms of construction of NLRA limits meaning of words Ees to American citizens or permanent residents)

2401-9000 Professional union organizers

N.L.R.B. v. Circo Resorts, Inc., d/b/a Circus, Circus 646 F.2d 403 (C.A. 9, May 1981)

(E's contention that discriminatees who had engaged in soliciting U authorization cards were not bona fide Ees of E, rejected, where E supported contention by authority which related to Ees who were actually on payroll of U for organizing purposes, and there was no suggestion that discriminatees were working for anyone other than E at time of discharge)

2401-9900 Other

N.L.R.B. v. Sanford Home For Adults 669 F.2d 35 (C.A. 2, Dec. 1981)

(Bd did not improperly exclude two individuals from unit where one individual completed a tax form and U membership card but did not commence work nor was ever paid; and other individual began his term of employment only four days before and completed it one day after U's recognition demand date with bulk of his working time spent in organizing activities for U; consequently, both individuals did not qualify as Ees in determining whether U had majority support)

2414 INDICIA OF EMPLOYEE STATUS

2414-0100 Generally

Capital Parcel Delivery Company 256 NLRB No. 050

(owner operators found Ees rather than independent contractors under right to control test, where they: perform functions essential to E's business, have permanent working relationship with E, do business pursuant to E's delivery contract, E provides substantial assistance and guidance, follow E's rules and procedural requirements, and trained by E and are not involved in any financial risk; fact that E does not grant vacations or fringe benefits or provide workman's compensation is not controlling)

The Oakland Press Co., a Subsidiary of Capital Cities Communications, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 143

(newspaper carriers found Ees where E has reserved right to control result achieved and also means used in attaining results; factors considered are: substantial control over carriers by district managers, carriers have no proprietary interest, insulated from most economic losses, limited opportunity to significantly increase income)

Mitchell Bros. Truck Lines 249 NLRB No. 051

(owner-drivers of trucks leased to common carrier found Ees, not independent contractors, because of amount of control exercised over drivers; fact that controls imposed by Federal and State regulations immaterial, for controls define carriers employment relationship with its drivers; also carrier assumes money responsibilities for owner which minimize driver's entrepreneurial risks; furthermore, fact little supervision exercised by E not controlling where nature of work requires little supervision, there is no need for actual control)

2414-1100 Continuity and regularity of work

Jurisearch, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 091

(law researcher held Ee rather than independent contractor where he was to work on regular basis so long as his work was satisfactory)

Local 777, Democratic Union Organizing Committee v. N.L.R.B. 603 F.2d 862 (C.A.D.C.)

(length of lease term in no way affects relationship between taxi companies and their drivers while latter are operating leased vehicles)

2414-2200 Control and supervision of methods, terms, and conditions of work

Michigan Eye Bank 265 NLRB No. 179

(eye bank technicians who performed corneal excision for eyebank held Ees rather than independent contractors, notwithstanding under no obligation to be present at certain hours, received flat fee for each case, received no fringe benefits, had no income tax or social security deducted, and fact E exercised no day to day supervision over work, where technicians received all training from E, E supplied technicians with instruments, and technicians provided services exclusively to E; further, work required little supervision after technicians trained, work virtually indistinguishable from work of E and work monitored by required weekly meetings with technicians)

Perrysville Coal Company 264 NLRB No. 046

(truckdrivers held Ees of truck-lessor rather than Ees of independent-contractor truck owners or independent contractors where they owned trucks in view of lessor's contract with U representing them, contractual right to hire and fire and actual firing of drivers, laying off by seniority, disciplining of and imposing guidelines for drivers, making standard payroll deductions and contributions (including U dues and benefits), contract with lessor's stating drivers were considered Ees, and notification of change to independent contractors)

Puerto Rico Hotel Association 259 NLRB No. 088

(in deciding whether individuals are Ees as defined in Act or are excluded therefrom as independent contractors, common law agency test must be applied. Under this test, E-Ee relationship exists where person for whom services are performed reserves right to control not only ends to be achieved but also means to be used to achieve such ends. All of these facts must be analyzed in applying test. It is the right, not the exercise of control, that is important. Test applies to individuals who may be supervisors as well as to those who may be Ees)

Puerto Rico Hotel Association 259 NLRB No. 088

(hotels held E of musicians who play on their premises; musicians held Ees rather than independent contractors and their leaders held supervisors in view of hotel's control over type of music, schedules and leave, fact musicians, issued cards by hotels entitling them to charge food and beverages, to discounts and Ee parking, promulgation of rules regarding restricting gambling and storage of instruments, and attire, notwithstanding musicians did not fill out employment applications filled out by other Ees, do not punch time clock, follow detailed grievance procedure or undergo orientation training)

Franklin Fouts, d/b/a B & F Cartage 251 NLRB No. 068

(Ees who spotted trailor trucks by backing trailor into dock or pulling it away and parking it found not to be independent contractors since there was no exercise of entrepreneurial skills)

2414-2200—Cont.

Jurisearch, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 091
(where E controlled part-time law school graduate's research technique and method of writing of legal memoranda, graduate held Ee rather than independent contractor)

Nevada Resort Association; Summa Corporation, d/b/a Castaways Hotel; et al. 250 NLRB No. 118
(lounge musicians at resort hotels found Ees rather than independent contractors in view of obedience to hotel managers' desires, lack of entrepreneurial risk, manager's control over means and manner of performance, and their leaders' contractual function of carrying out hotel's instructions as to musical selections and manner of performance)

Exhibitors Film Delivery & Service, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 066
(contract delivery drivers for common carrier who drive their own trucks held Ees rather than independent contractors under right of control test where they perform functions of E's business rather than of independent business, have permanent working arrangement with E, do business in E's name and sell E's services, work under contracts promulgated and unilaterally changed by E, account to E for funds, have no properitary interest in E's routes, take no risk but are limited to E's routes and E's prices for their services)

N.L.R.B. v. Maine Caterers, Inc., et al. 654 F.2d 131 (C.A. 1, July 1981)
(driver-salesmen who sold products of industrial caterer held Ees rather than independent contractors where E had right to control not only results sought but also means by which those results are achieved, all routes were property of E, drivers' control of prices was limited, and drivers did not own their trucks but leased them, paying for their gasoline and other maintenance)

N.L.R.B. v. Amber Delivery Service, Inc. 651 F.2d 57 (C.A. 1, June 1981)
(owner-operators of package delivery trucks found Ees not independent contractors where E exercises substantial control over drivers performance of deliveries, starting time strictly controlled, daily work load determined by company dispatcher, drivers prohibited from using vehicle to provide related service elsewhere, E conducts mandatory safety meetings, drivers must wear uniform of E, paint vehicle with company colors, carry liability and cargo insurance for E's protection and subject to termination for poor performance; moreover, E sets customer rates and assignments of drivers effectively controlling Ees' income)

N.L.R.B. v. Fugazy Continental Corporation 603 F.2d 214(T) (C.A. 2, 1979)
(drivers held Ees rather than independent contractors, since, notwithstanding their franchises, they lacked freedom of operation where E set fares and percentage thereof on which their incomes were based, dictated their dress, conduct and types of vehicle, disciplined them for violations, restricted them so that outside business was less profitable, and by its policies rendered their franchises of little continuing value; E was distinguished from driver-formed association which was administrative creature providing facilities and opportunities for a price)

N.L.R.B. v. Tri-State Transport Corporation 649 F.2d 993 (C.A. 4, May 1981)
(In distinguishing Ees from independent contractors, there is no shorthand formula or magic phrase that can be applied to find the answer, but all incidents of the relationship must be assessed and weighed with no one factor being decisive. What is important is that the total factual context is assessed, in light of pertinent common law agency principles. These common law principles may be referred to as right-to-control test)

N.L.R.B. v. Tri-State Transport Corporation 649 F.2d 993 (C.A. 4, May 1981)
(driver of vehicle leased by trucking firm held not to be Ee of firm but rather Ee of, or profit sharer with, owner-lessor of vehicle since most alleged control by firm resulted from its obligation to enforce government regulations and where firm usually paid lessor rather than driver, did not make deduction for driver's tax or social security, and had to get permission from owner to dispatch truck or obtain substitute driver, notwithstanding contention right to control rather than reason for its existence is crucial element and regulations requiring haulers to exercise control over their drivers created statutory Ees)

Newspaper Drivers and Handlers Local Union No. 372, a/w Teamsters v. N.L.R.B. 682 F.2d 116 (C.A. 6, June 1982)
(ct reversed its earlier finding and concluded in light of Bd's more recent decisions that newspaper carriers were Ees w/i meaning of Act and not independent contractors, in view of substantial control by district managers over carriers, absence of proprietary interest on part of carriers, their insulation from most losses, and limited opportunity for significantly increasing their income)

St. Charles Journal, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 679 F.2d 759 (C.A. 8, June 1982)
(determination of whether newspaper carriers are independent contractors or Ees requires examination of degree to which principal has right to control details of agent's performance; all incidents of work relationship must be assessed and weighed including, inter alia, right to hire and discharge persons doing work, method and determination of amount of payment to workmen, whether he stands to make profit on work of those under him, and which party furnishes tools or materials with which work is done)

City Cab Company of Orlando, Inc., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 628 F.2d 261 (C.A.D.C. 1980)
(ct affirmed Bd determination that taxi drivers were Ees under Act and not independent contractors where E effectively retained control over manner in which its drivers perform their duties)

Local 777, Democratic Union Organizing Committee v. N.L.R.B. 603 F.2d 862 (C.A.D.C.)
(ability to establish lease terms unilaterally was not in itself enough to establish existence of E-Ee relationship (between cab owners and cab drivers); critical question was whether terms of lease vest excessive control in lessor (cab owner))

Local 777, Democratic Union Organizing Committee v. N.L.R.B. 603 F.2d 862 (C.A.D.C.)
(control exercised over manner and means of performance is identifying characteristic of E-Ee relationship, not merely economic controls which many corporations exercise over independent contractors)

Local 777, Democratic Union Organizing Committee v. N.L.R.B. 603 F.2d 862 (C.A.D.C.)
(fact that government regulation has made supervision or control by lessor (cab owner) unnecessary was not equivalent of presence of actual supervision or control)

Local 777, Democratic Union Organizing Committee v. N.L.R.B. 603 F.2d 862 (C.A.D.C.)
(lessee-drivers who are practically uncontrolled by cab companies in manner and means that they operate their cabs not considered as Ees w/i scope of NLRA in view of clear intent of Act's legislative history)

Local 777, Democratic Union Organizing Committee v. N.L.R.B. 603 F.2d 862 (C.A.D.C.)
(two elements in instant case determinative of leased cab drivers' status as independent contractors and not as Ees were; (1), lack of control by lessor in manner and means in which drivers carry on their business and (2), rent that lessor receives for lease of cab was not related to amount of fares collected by lessee-driver)

2414-3300 Right of control, not exercise thereof, is determinative

N.L.R.B. v. International Longshoremen's Assn., AFL-CIO, et al. 447 US 490 (U.S. SCt. June 1980)
(lawful work preservation agreement must pass two tests: (1) it must have as objective preservation of work traditionally performed by Ees represented by U; and (2) contracting E must have power to give Ees work in question - the so-called right of control test)

Puerto Rico Hotel Association 259 NLRB No. 058

Mitchell Bros. Truck Lines 249 NLRB No. 051
(owner-drivers of trucks leased to common carrier found Ees, not independent contractors, because of amount of control exercised over drivers; fact that controls imposed by Federal and State regulations immaterial, for controls define carriers employment relationship with its drivers; also carrier assumes money responsibilities for owner which minimize driver's entrepreneurial risks; furthermore, fact little supervision exercised by E not controlling where nature of work requires little supervision, there is no need for actual control)

Air Transit, Inc. (Communication Workers of America, AFL-CIO) 248 NLRB No. 140

2414-4400 Control of earning potential by person ordering or directing work

Jurisearch, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 091
(law researcher held Ee rather than independent contractor where E authorized fixed number of hours per assignment, paid hourly rate and set deadlines so that researcher could not increase his income by entrepreneurship and had no capital investment or risk of loss)

N.L.R.B. v. Amber Delivery Service, Inc. 651 F.2d 57 (C.A. 1, June 1981)

N.L.R.B. v. Fugazy Continental Corporation 603 F.2d 214(T) (C.A. 2, 1979)
(drivers held Ees rather than independent contractors, since, notwithstanding their franchises, they lacked freedom of operation where E set fares and percentage thereof on which their incomes were based, dictated their dress, conduct and types of vehicle, disciplined them for violations, restricted them so that outside business was less profitable, and by its policies rendered their franchises of little continuing value; E was distinguished from driver-formed association which was administrative creature providing facilities and opportunities for a price)

2414-4400—Cont.

St. Charles Journal, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 679 F.2d 759 (C.A. 8, June 1982)

Local 777, Democratic Union Organizing Committee v. N.L.R.B. 603 F.2d 862 (C.A.D.C.)
(two elements in instant case determinative of leased cab drivers' status as independent contractors and not as Ees were; (1), lack of control by lessor in manner and means in which drivers carry on their business and (2), rent that lessor receives for lease of cab was not related to amount of fares collected by lessee-driver)

2414-5500 Control of equipment furnished by employer

Michigan Eye Bank 265 NLRB No. 179

St. Charles Journal, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 679 F.2d 759 (C.A. 8, June 1982)

2414-6600 Compensation

Key Opportunities, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 178
(aides employed by E who operated sheltered workshops for handicapped clients found Ees and not supervisors even if clients they supervised were held herein to be Ees, where authority over clients was too indirect and insubstantial; moreover, aides were paid on an hourly basis, punched a timeclock, and two of the three aides had previously been in sheltered program as clients unlike any one else in management)

Perrysville Coal Company 264 NLRB No. 046

United States Steel Corporation 248 NLRB No. 090
(Ees who attended E-sponsored summer school to prepare for Coast Guard licensing examination held to have remained in bargaining unit of ship's unlicensed personnel while they were attending shcool; Es intended students to remain in unit where guidelines provided that students receive wages and benefits as though on ship, they could return to their unit if they did not pass examination, they were not required to resign from U, and U dues were deducted on their return to unit work)

St. Charles Journal, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 679 F.2d 759 (C.A. 8, June 1982)

2414-7700 Pension and retirement plans

Perrysville Coal Company 264 NLRB No. 046

United States Steel Corporation 248 NLRB No. 090
(Ees who attended E-sponsored summer school to prepare for Coast Guard licensing examination held to have remained in bargaining unit of ship's unlicensed personnel while they were attending shcool; Es intended students to remain in unit where guidelines provided that students receive wages and benefits as though on ship, they could return to their unit if they did not pass examination, they were not required to resign from U, and U dues were deducted on their return to unit work)

2414-8800 Contract determination

Jurisearch, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 091
(law researcher held Ee rather than independent contractor where E set terms and conditions of employment unilaterally and had E-Ee relationship rather than contractual one with worker)

2428 CONTINUATION OR LOSS OF EMPLOYEE STATUS

2428-0100 Generally

Escambia River Electric Cooperative, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 128
(contrary to E's contention, Ee, although recently discharged, was an employee w/i meaning of Act and entitled to its protection)

Methodist Hospital of Kentucky, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 563 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(ct found that striking Ees were effectively terminated prior to effective date of health care amendments and therefore did not acquire Ee status under Act merely because strike was in progress on effective date)

2428-2500 Individuals whose work has ceased as result of labor dispute

Texaco Oil Company 259 NLRB No. 062
(individuals who at onset of strike were sick or disabled and unable to work, not strikers, so long as they continue disabled to perform work duties and have not indicated support for strike)

2428-5000 Individuals whose work has ceased as result of ULP

Dutch Boy, Inc., Glow-Lite Division 262 NLRB No. 001
(discriminatees, who were unlawfully laid off, remain Ees)

2428-7500 Individuals whose work has ceased as result of nondiscriminatory interruption or termination of employment

Bowman-Lawrence, Inc. d/b/a Belt Supermarket 260 NLRB No. 017
(retiree ineligible to vote notwithstanding that he participated in picketing E after he retired, since picketing did not evince intention to return to work after strike was ended; retired Ee, like everyone in public at large was free to support strike)

King Trucking Company 259 NLRB No. 079
(irregular fill-in Ee who would contact E when he wanted work was not discharged but voluntarily discontinued his established employment arrangement since he has not bothered to contact E further)

Schlegel Oklahoma, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 012
(discharged Ee found statutory Ee for purposes of finding threat against him and other Ee unlawful)

Valley Rock Products, Inc. JD-(SF)-288-79
(individual on leave of absence held Ee and ballot ordered counted, since no evidence employment relationship severed by positive action, where when applying for leave of absence and at time leave granted individual stated verbally and in writing he intended to return to work after leave, and in letter granting leave E asked to be advised of approximate return date; moreover, individual was never removed from E's rolls and continued to work for E during leave when E was short-handed)

2456 STRIKERS

2456-0100 Generally

Styrest Nursing Home JD-(ATL)-98-82
(picketing for U or otherwise participating in strike does not render individual striking Ee. Key is whether Ee is withholding services from E in support of labor dispute. Thus Ee who picketed while not cleared by doctor to return to work and Ees who picket during off duty hours are not considered strikers against whom E may act)

Texaco Oil Company 259 NLRB No. 062
(individuals who at onset of strike were sick or disabled and unable to work, not strikers, so long as they continue disabled to perform work duties and have not indicated support for strike)

Bethlehem Steel Corporation 252 NLRB No. 138
(where Ees engaged in unprotected work stoppage in violation of no strike provision of contract, Ee who left work for different reason but later joined strikers in their activity found striker also) >0851217724560100000300800930

Bethlehem Steel Corporation 252 NLRB No. 138
(where Ees engaged in unprotected work stoppage in violation of no strike provision of contract, Ee who left work for different reason but later joined strikers i

John H. Fournelle v. N.L.R.B. 670 F.2d 331 (C.A.D.C., Feb. 1982)
(Ee found striker in violation of no-strike clause, although he left premises to go to dentist rather than to join strike, since, before going to dentist he joined other strikers at U hall and gave TV interview in support of strike in contravention of no-strike clause which precluded encouraging and sanctioning strikes)

2456-1700 Misconduct of strikers

AMPAC, a subsidiary of Kane-Miller Corp. 259 NLRB No. 151
(hitting non-striking Ee outside plant)

AMPAC, a subsidiary of Kane-Miller Corp. 259 NLRB No. 151
(punching passenger in car and trying to pull him out amounts to serious strike misconduct)

AMPAC, a subsidiary of Kane-Miller Corp. 259 NLRB No. 151
(discharge of striker who merely disconnected air hose (which only took few seconds to reconnect)from tractor to trailer on truck entering E's plant held violative, since incident not significant enough to justify discharge)

2456-3300 Effect of no-strike agreement

Stevens Ready-Mix Concrete 263 NLRB No. 178
(challenged ballots of 7 members of Teamsters' U, who failed to return to work after being notified by E they were in violation of bargaining agreement's contractual no-strike clause where they engaged in sympathy strike by refusing to cross picket line established by Operating Engineers' U, opened and counted, since agreement did not waive Ees' right to engage in sympathy strike; no evidence that E took any action to terminate striking Ees since he claimed they quit and sympathy strikers treated as economic strikers for voting eligibility)

Lincoln Technical Institute, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 032
(discharge of strikers not violative where collective bargaining agreement contained no-strike clause and strike was not ULP strike because suspensions strikers were protesting were not ULPs)

Lincoln Technical Institute, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 032
(discharge of Ees who supported non ULP strike in contravention of no-strike clause in collective-bargaining agreement not violative, notwithstanding they did not participate in strike)

2456-5000 ULP strikers

2456-5000—Cont.

Brunswick Hospital Center, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 112

International Business Systems, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 017
(in determining whether strike was ULP or economic strike where 7 out of 12 strikers did not testify as to their motivation for striking, no assumption that witnesses GC did not call would have testified contrary to his position, since GC not obligated to call every witness to event and bringing 4 strikers to stand sufficient to avoid any adverse inference)

International Business Systems, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 017
(burden on E to show that Ees that went out on strike and had not been reinstated struck for economic reasons rather than as result of ULPs, notwithstanding those particular Ees did not testify as to their motivation for striking, where other strikers testified they were motivated by E's ULPs; further, those strikers by going along with ULP strikers had manifested their support and acquired rights of those whom they supported)

Marlene Industries Corporation; et al. 255 NLRB No. 192
(Ees who were separated or terminated prior to onset of strike for reasons not alleged as unlawful held not ULP strikers)

Connecticut Distributors, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 170
(casual Ee who did not report for work during strike and who was not for or against strike, held ULP striker as he was in fact striking whether or not he supported U as he has Sec. 7 right to engage in or refrain from engaging in protected activity)

John Cuneo, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 110
(when Ees strike for recognition which should have been granted at time they went on strike and where E engaged in contemporaneous widespread illegal conduct designed to frustrate statutory scheme, and bargaining in particular, striking Ees are ULP strikers)

N.L.R.B. v. Shaw Industries, Inc., A Division of Crystal Springs Shirt Corp.; etc. 671 F.2d 1377(T) (C.A. 5, Mar. 1982)
(where ULP strike was in progress at one of E's plants, sympathy strike at second plant was ULP strike as timing of beginning and end of their strike coincided with ULP strike at first plant and some picket signs specified strike was in support of ULP strikers)

N.L.R.B. v. Shaw Industries, Inc., A Division of Crystal Springs Shirt Corp.; etc. 671 F.2d 1377(T) (C.A. 5, Mar. 1982)
(if ULP is a contributing cause of strike, then strike is ULP strike. Even if we assume there are dual motives (ULPs and economic reasons) involved in decision to strike, that dual motivation does not deprive Ee of status of ULP striker if E's ULP is a contributing cause)

N.L.R.B. v. James R. McCaffrey and Edward A. Cook, d/b/a ABC Concrete Company 619 F.2d 620 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(where unlawful discharge was cause of Ees' picketing)

Road Sprinkler Fitters Local Union No. 669, etc. v. N.L.R.B. 681 F.2d 11 (C.A.D.C., June 1982)
(Ees who struck E after he refused U's valid demand for recognition converted to ULP strikers where after its refusal to bargain E embarked on unlawful course of conduct designed to destroy U majority; See Drug Package 228 NLRB at 111)

2456-6700 Economic strikers

Brinkerhoff Signal Drilling Co. 264 NLRB No. 049
(where Ees were on inactive status due to E layoffs at time strike began, they must have engaged in overt conduct during strike which would give E reasonable notice of strike support before they need be placed on preferential hiring list)

Brinkerhoff Signal Drilling Co. 264 NLRB No. 049
(Ee who was laid off prior to strike and then broke his arm prior to strike found not to be striker where he was not released as able to work until after strike ended, notwithstanding he performed picket line duty especially where he was not denied accrued disability benefits)

Brinkerhoff Signal Drilling Co. 264 NLRB No. 049
(Ees who were on layoff status at time strike commenced found strikers where E routinely reemployed laid-off Ees, and when after strike began E offered them reemployment which they declined in support of U's strike)

Brinkerhoff Signal Drilling Co. 264 NLRB No. 049
(Ee who was on layoff status at time strike began and never responded to E's offer to return to work during strike and found other equal employment held not to be striking Ee entitled to preferential treatment)

Brinkerhoff Signal Drilling Co. 264 NLRB No. 049
(temporary Ee who was not recalled when layoff ended found not to be Ee of E during strike and thus not striker entitled to preferential reinstatement)

Brinkerhoff Signal Drilling Co. 264 NLRB No. 049
(Ee who was on leave of absence at time strike began found not to be striker)

R. L. White Company, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 069
(Ee who was on sick leave at time strike began and never returned to work found to be striker where she had informed one Ee she intended to honor picket line and participated in picket line activities, notwithstanding she never attempted to inform E that she would not be returning to work because she was honoring picket line)

International Business Systems, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 017
(in determining whether strike was ULP or economic strike where 7 out of 12 strikers did not testify as to their motivation for striking, no assumption that witnesses GC did not call would have testified contrary to his position, since GC not obligated to call every witness to event and bringing 4 strikers to stand sufficient to avoid any adverse inference)

International Business Systems, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 017
(burden on E to show that Ees that went out on strike and had not been reinstated struck for economic reasons rather than as result of ULPs, notwithstanding those particular Ees did not testify as to their motivation for striking, where other strikers testified they were motivated by E's ULPs; further, those strikers by going along with ULP strikers had manifested their support and acquired rights of those whom they supported)

Famous Supply Company, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 091
(Ees engaged in sympathy strike became economic strikers when they began informational picketing for recognition, thus engaging in protected concerted and protected U activities)

Sunnyland Foods, Inc. JD-(ATL)-36-80
(strikers were economic strikers where strike ceased to be ULP strike prior to time of offer to return to work)

2456-7500 Sympathy strikers

Abbey Medical/Abbey Rents, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 129
(clerical Ees who struck in support of economically striking truckdriver Ees are sympathy strikers and possess status of economic strikers)

R. C. Lapeer Builders, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 165
(Ees who refused to cross picket line set up by economic strikers engaged in sympathy strike and protected by Act)

Marlene Industries Corporation; et al. 255 NLRB No. 192
(strike held ULP strike where unlawful discharges were precipitating cause of strike, intertwined with dischargees' mutual grievances regarding conditions of employment; strikes at E's other facilities in sympathy with strike, also ULP strikes)

Shaw Industries, Inc., a Division of Crystal Springs Shirt Corp.; et al. 255 NLRB No. 117
(where basis of strike at plant was sympathy for ULP strikers at E's other plant, strikers also are ULP strikers and entitled to immediate reinstatement upon unconditional offer to return to work)

Levitz Furniture Company of The Eastern Region, Inc. (Local 1361, Retail Clerks and Store Employees) 248 NLRB No. 003
(sympathy strikers are viewed as in same position of economic strikers they support and where election held more than 2 years after strike ended sympathy strikers not eligible to vote notwithstanding they are entitled to reinstatement should replacements leave E)

N.L.R.B. v. Shaw Industries, Inc., A Division of Crystal Springs Shirt Corp.; etc. 671 F.2d 1377(T) (C.A. 5, Mar. 1982)
(where ULP strike was in progress at one of E's plants, sympathy strike at second plant was ULP strike as timing of beginning and end of their strike coincided with ULP strike at first plant and some picket signs specified strike was in support of ULP strikers)

N.L.R.B. v. Southern California Edison Company 646 F.2d 1352 (C.A. 9, Jun 1981)
(when refusal to cross stranger picket line results in only partial work stoppage, E must demonstrate legitimate business reason for replacing Ee)

2456-8300 Replaced economic strikers

John Cuneo, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 110
(upon their unconditional offer to return to work, economic strikers are entitled to immediate reinstatement to their former positions, or, if those positions have been filled by permanent replacements, to full reinstatement upon departure of their replacements, unless E can show legitimate and substantial business reasons for not reinstating the Ees)

Flatiron Paving Company d/b/a Flatiron Materials Company 250 NLRB No. 080
(entitled to reinstatement as positions become available)

2461 Probationary employees

Airco Alloys, a Division of Airco, Inc. 240 NLRB No. 081
(entitled to same protections and rights under Act as other Ees)

Brockway Glass Company, Inc. JD-(SF)-117-81
(discharge of probationary Ee, hired to do carton assembling, assertedly for complaining about this being assigned to janitorial work, for going to the U, and refusing to perform assigned janitorial work, held unlawful, where other unsatisfactory probationary Ees were granted extensions of their probation when their work was unsatisfactory, there was no credible evidence to support finding that Ee refused to do assigned work or was insubordinate, and Ee had statutory right to engage in U activities)

2461—Cont.

2463 TRAINEES

United States Steel Corporation, Inland Steel Company, Bethlehem Steel Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 644 F.2d 286 (C.A. 3, Mar 19, 1981)

(E's Ees who attended special summer school which prepared Ees to take Coast Guard licensing examination which would qualify passing applicants for supervisory positions, held to be supervisory trainees, since students attending school for purpose of becoming licensed officers, that is, non-bargaining unit Ees)

United States Steel Corporation, Inland Steel Company, Bethlehem Steel Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 644 F.2d 286 (C.A. 3, Mar 19, 1981)

(Curtis Industries, Division of Curtis Noll Corporation, 218 NLRB 447 (1975) is consistent with, and not departure from, community of interest analyses developed by Bd in long line of cases; ct concurs with fifth circuit's opn that the factors for establishing when participation in managerial trainee program will amount to managerial status---- derive from a series of cases decided by Bd many years earlier than Curtis Noll; NLRB v. Kent Corp., 564 F.2d 186, 188 (5th Cir. 1977))

2470 PROSPECTIVE EMPLOYEES

2470-8000 Job applicants

Crown Cork & Seal Company, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 004

(failure to consider leading U advocate's wife's application for employment held violative, since inference was reasonable that she was not considered because of E's posture of hostility towards applicant's husband's U and protected concerted activities)

2477 MEDICAL INTERNS, RESIDENTS, OR CLINICAL FELLOWS

Physicians National House Staff Association et al. v. John H. Fanning et al. 642 F.2d 492 (C.A.D.C. Jul 11, 1981)

(ct of appeals affd D. Ct's dismissal for lack of jurisdiction suit seeking declaration that house staffs of non-profit hospitals-- consisting of physicians serving as interns, residents and clinical fellows participating in hospital-based training programs in medical specialties-- were Ees, contrary to Bd determination that they were primarily students)

2484 STATUTORY EXCLUSIONS FROM EMPLOYEE STATUS

2484-0100 Generally

2484-0150 Teachers in church-operated schools

N.L.R.B. v. Lay Faculty Association, Local 1261 623 F.2d 818 (C.A. 2, 1980)

(ct rejected Bd's claim to jurisdiction over Catholic high school notwithstanding title and responsibility for operating school vested in lay board, since it is suffusion of religion into curriculum and mandate of faculty to infuse students with religious creed which create conflict with Religion Clauses, not vesting of title, and Bd could not avoid becoming entangled with religious mission of school in setting of mandatory collective bargaining)

2484-1200 Any individual employed as an 'agricultural laborer'

2484-1201 Generally

2484-1201-2500 FLSA Sec. 3(f) sole criterion for defining 'agricultural laborer'

Drummond Coal Company 249 NLRB No. 139

(under Sec. 3(f) of FLSA that Bd employs in determining whether workers are Ees or agricultural laborers workers engaged in revegetation of mined areas held agricultural laborers notwithstanding products grown on revegetated land is not sold and revegetation mandated by Federal and State statutes, since workers in preparing seedbeds are engaged in cultivation and tillage of soil under Sec. 3(f))

C & D Foods, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 626 F.2d 578 (C.A. 7, 1980)

(Ees who raise ducklings until ready for processing on five grow-out farms which were separate from E's main complex exempt from unit as agricultural Ees as defined by FLSA Sec. 3(f); moreover, Ees on remaining farm who raised ducklings and also performed substantial and regular amount of work on ducks raised by local growers under contract with E not exempt as agricultural Ees, but excluded on basis they did not share sufficient community of interests with unit Ees)

N.L.R.B. v. C & D Foods, Inc. 626 F.2d 578 (C.A. 7, July 1980)

2484-1201-5000 Discretion of Board in considering mixed functions agricultural

C & D Foods, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 626 F.2d 578 (C.A. 7, 1980)

(Ees who raise ducklings until ready for processing on five grow-out farms which were separate from E's main complex exempt from unit as agricultural Ees as defined by FLSA Sec. 3(f); moreover, Ees on remaining farm who raised ducklings and also performed substantial and regular amount of work on ducks raised by local growers under contract with E not exempt as agricultural Ees, but excluded on basis they did not share sufficient community of interests with unit Ees)

N.L.R.B. v. C & D Foods, Inc. 626 F.2d 578 (C.A. 7, July 1980)

(determination of agricultural Ee properly left, in first instance to Bd, whose special duty is to apply this broad statutory language to varying fact patterns; Bd's determination must be accepted by reviewing ct if it has warrant in the record and a reasonable basis in law)

2484-1225 Tests

2484-1225-1200 Totality of situation determines applicability of secondary definition of agriculture

Dairy Fresh Products Co., A Division of Cal-Maine & Foods, Inc., d/b/a Stahmann Egg Farms 251 NLRB No. 163

(farm workers employed in egg processing held exempt as agricultural Ees where their work falls w/i FLSA definition of preparation for market of indicated commodities and meets secondary test for agriculture)

Dairy Fresh Products Co., A Division of Cal-Maine & Foods, Inc., d/b/a Stahmann Egg Farms 251 NLRB No. 163

(farm workers employed in feed mill operation held exempt as agricultural Ees, where their work falls w/i FLSA definition of performance incident to or in conjunction with exempt farming operations to extent feed mill is utilized for E's own farm operations and thus meets secondary test for agriculture; feed provided to State University at cost in conjunction with research project does not convert feed mill operations into nonagricultural commercial endeavor)

2484-1225-7500 Whether activity is carried on as part of agricultural function or is separately organized

Cornell University 254 NLRB No. 027

(meatcutters at E's retail sales meat shop which is separately staffed and administered as a commercial enterprise separate from and independent of E's facility where it raises livestock held not exempt as agricultural Ees)

2484-1225-8700 Poultry raiser's farmer status

Dairy Fresh Products Co., A Division of Cal-Maine & Foods, Inc., d/b/a Stahmann Egg Farms 251 NLRB No. 163

(farm workers employed in poultry raising and egg production operations, exempt as agricultural workers where their work comes w/i FLSA primary definition of agriculture; poultry raising is specifically included in definition, and eggs are farm commodities)

C & D Foods, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 626 F.2d 578 (C.A. 7, 1980)

(Ees who raise ducklings until ready for processing on five grow-out farms which were separate from E's main complex exempt from unit as agricultural Ees as defined by FLSA Sec. 3(f); moreover, Ees on remaining farm who raised ducklings and also performed substantial and regular amount of work on ducks raised by local growers under contract with E not exempt as agricultural Ees, but excluded on basis they did not share sufficient community of interests with unit Ees)

2484-1250 Activities exempt as agricultural

2484-1250-1200 Landscaping and raising trees

Drummond Coal Company 249 NLRB No. 139

(under Sec. 3(f) of FLSA that Bd employs in determining whether workers are Ees or agricultural laborers workers engaged in revegetation of mined areas held agricultural laborers notwithstanding products grown on revegetated land is not sold and revegetation mandated by Federal and State statutes, since workers in preparing seedbeds are engaged in cultivation and tillage of soil under Sec. 3(f))

2484-1250-3300 Egg production and processing

Dairy Fresh Products Co., A Division of Cal-Maine & Foods, Inc., d/b/a Stahmann Egg Farms 251 NLRB No. 163

(farm workers employed in poultry raising and egg production operations, exempt as agricultural workers where their work comes w/i FLSA primary definition of agriculture; poultry raising is specifically included in definition, and eggs are farm commodities)

2484-1250-7800 Transporting produce, etc.

2484-1250-7850 Transportation from fields of independent growers not agricultural work

2484-1250-7550—Cont.

N.L.R.B. v. Hudson Farms, Inc. 681 F.2d 1105 (C.A. 8, July 1982)

(truck drivers and yard workers who transport poultry between independent contract growers and E's processing plant are Ees rather than agricultural laborers)

2484-1275 Activities not exempt as agricultural

2484-1275-3300 Processing poultry independent of farm

N.L.R.B. v. Hudson Farms, Inc. 681 F.2d 1105 (C.A. 8, July 1982)

(truck drivers and yard workers who transport poultry between independent contract growers and E's processing plant are Ees rather than agricultural laborers)

2484-1275-8800 Growing, packing and/or distributing produce or horticultural products

Spirit Mountain Farms, Inc., et al d/b/a Spirit Mountain Farms 259 NLRB No. 140

(E engaged in business of packaging and selling melons produced by other agricultural producers held not w/i statutory exclusion of agricultural E)

2484-3700 'Any individual employed by his parent or spouse'

Campbell-Harris Electric, Inc. and Campbell Electric, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 167

(discharge of U adherent, who is son of shareholders of 30-percent of closely held corporation, not unlawful, notwithstanding reason for discharge was to avoid bargaining obligation, since employed son is excluded under Sec. 2(3) from status of employee as an individual employed by his parent or spouse and therefore not protected by Act)

Campbell-Harris Electric, Inc. and Campbell Electric, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 167

(where son of principal stockholders of former entity had not lost employment as an employee as result of ULP or as result of labor dispute, new E entity, found alter ego, had no obligation to offer Ee reinstatement)

Joseph J. Mattes Co. 258 NLRB No. 161

(son of E's vice president and manager did not share community of interest with other Ees)

Harvey & Madding, Inc., d/b/a Dublin Honda JD-(ATL)-97-81

(challenge to ballot of son of president and part owner of E, sustained where evidence showed that son possessed special status which allied his interest with those of management)

Clifford Cook, d/b/a Pinnacle Company and Pinnacle Roofing Co., Inc. JD-(SF)-196-79

(sons of owner)

N.L.R.B. v. H. M. Patterson & Son, Inc. 636 F.2d 1014 (C.A. 5, 1981)

(sons of E who owned 20% of stock in company at which election held not eligible to vote since they were employed by parents and thus, under Section 2(3) of Act, not Ees of E; or alternatively ineligible under Section 9(b) as closely aligned with management where until recently they had been in college with large part of expenses paid by their father and had lived with their parents and in home owned by father)

N.L.R.B. v. H. M. Patterson & Son, Inc. 636 F.2d 1014 (C.A. 5, 1981)

(E's contention that challenge to ballots of sons of E improperly sustained since sustained on basis of Section 9(b) where U had challenged ballots on basis of Section 2(3), rejected, in view of close relation historically between two sections, and absent abuse of discretion by Bd)

2484-5000 'Independent contractor'

2484-5033 Indicia of status

Kentucky Prince Coal Corporation 253 NLRB No. 070

(coal haulers found independent contractors and excluded from unit where trucks driven by owners and owner's Ees, E pays owner who is responsible for all maintenance, E carries no workmen's compensation, unemployment compensation, pays no social security or withhold taxes on drivers behalf; E provides no benefits, may not substitute drivers between trucks although owners do w/o E's knowledge, and haulers not subject to E's work rules)

Building Material and Dump Truck Drivers, Teamsters Local Union No. 36 (Tova Trucking Company) 249 NLRB No. 088

(owner operators of dump trucks held independent contractors where they were paid by hour, mileage or tonnage rates, responsible for entire cost of their enterprises, select jobs want to work on and may hire drivers or subcontract work)

International House v. N.L.R.B. 676 F.2d 906 (C.A. 2, Apr. 1982)

(operator of cafeteria in International House (IH) held independent contractor where contract provides that all hiring and supervision duties, sanitation, dishwashing, Ees' tax and insurance records envisioned of sub-contracting rather than joint E relationship; IH's control over cafeteria's hours, prices, menus, standards of quality, cleanliness, safety and health, right to approve budget and inspect books was monitoring aimed at satisfactory work product rather than control over day-to-day operation or entitle IH to supervise workers in any manner)

Local 777, Democratic Union Organizing Committee v. N.L.R.B. 603 F.2d 862 (C.A.D.C.)

(Bd's interpretation of issues is entitled to no particular deference where issues involved are purely legal or otherwise outside Bd's particular expertise; Bd's vacillation in regard to question of status of cab leasing-independent contractor-made attitude of judicial deference to its decision especially inappropriate)

2484-5033-0100 Generally

Better Building Supply Corp., and Evergreen Roofing, Inc., Its Alter Ego 259 NLRB No. 063

(roofing subcontractors held Ees of roofing corporation where they: are assigned specific jobs by E, furnished with supplies and equipment, almost never refuse jobs assigned to them, have no opportunity to improve their profit)

Puerto Rico Hotel Association 259 NLRB No. 088

(in deciding whether individuals are Ees as defined in Act or are excluded therefrom as independent contractors. common law agency text must be applied. Under this test, E-Ee relationship exists where person for whom services are performed reserves right to control not only ends to be achieved but also means to be used to achieve such ends. All of these facts must be analyzed in applying test. It is the right, not the exercise of control, that is important. Test applies to individuals who may be supervisors as well as to those who may be Ees)

Franklin Foote, d/b/a B & F Cartage 251 NLRB No. 068

(Ees who spotted trailor trucks by backing trailor into dock or pulling it away and parking it found not to be independent contractors since there was no exercise of entrepreneurial skills)

Air Transit, Inc. (Communication Workers of America, AFL-CIO) 248 NLRB No. 140

(in finding taxicab driver-owners and sublessees Ees rather than independent contractors, Bd held right to unilaterally promulgate and change terms and conditions of employment is itself evidence of right to control manner and means in which services are to be provided as well as absence of arm's-length relationship between two contracting parties)

Air Transit, Inc. (Communication Workers of America, AFL-CIO) 248 NLRB No. 140

(in finding taxicab driver-owners and sublessees Ees rather than independent contractors, Bd held E's exercise of discipline over drivers clearly established E's right to control them)

Air Transit, Inc. (Communication Workers of America, AFL-CIO) 248 NLRB No. 140

(in finding taxicab driver-owners and sublessees Ees rather than independent contractors, Bd held control exercised by E over drivers' entrepreneurial opportunities indicated an E-Ee relationship and not an arm's length relationship between two business entities)

Air Transit, Inc. (Communication Workers of America, AFL-CIO) 248 NLRB No. 140

(in finding taxicab driver-owners and sublessees Ees rather than independent contractors, Bd held control exercised by E over drivers' subleasing and sale of their taxicabs indicated E-Ee relationship)

Air Transit, Inc. (Communication Workers of America, AFL-CIO) 248 NLRB No. 140

(in finding taxicab driver-owners and sublessees at airport Ees rather than independent contractors, Bd held E's contract with FAA evidenced E-Ee relationship where FAA contract explicitly prohibited E from assigning its exclusive right to pick up passengers at airport, number of drivers testified E never told them their relationship was based on franchise or that they were independent contractors, and E required drivers to comply only with portions of contract that it deemed should be enforced)

Robert E. Cashdollar, Sr., d/b/a Nelson Metal Fabricating 247 NLRB No. 099

(Ee who instructs other Ees in welding held regular part-time Ee not independent contractor where he had no authority at all and was paid on hourly basis)

Carpetland U.S.A., Inc. JD-(ATL)-29-80

(although unilateral establishment of prices and temporary nature of relationship between carpet installers and store for which they performed services would normally indicate Ee status, such is not the case here, and installers were found to be independent contractors, since bidding procedures for jobs were not reduced to non-negotiated status, and there was no right to terminate in contract between store and installers whose relationship would continue unless installer failed to meet requirements of carpet installation profession)

Carpetland U.S.A., Inc. JD-(ATL)-29-80

(contention that carpet installers at store were not independent contractors because they were paid for any overtime work they performed evenings or on week ends, rejected, since payment was not for overtime but rather a premium paid to encourage installers to perform work at a particularly designated evening hour or week and time)

2484-5033-0100—Cont.

Carpetland U.S.A., Inc. JD-(ATL)-39-80

(contention that carpet installers at store were not independent contractors because store became involved in hiring process for helpers of installers, rejected; fact that store on occasion referred to installer an application from some individual interested in installing carpet, and that on limited number of occasions, E's management personnel requested installer to hire member of family did not constitute attempt by store to influence hiring process of helpers for installers)

Carpetland U.S.A., Inc. JD-(ATL)-39-80

(contention that carpet installers at store were not independent contractors because they did not advertise their services, rejected, where installers placed business cards in public places, and one installer sponsored bowling team; question is not whether installers used best or most appropriate means to gainfully advertise their business but rather whether they did advertise, which, in fact, they did)

Carpetland U.S.A., Inc. JD-(ATL)-39-80

(factor indicative of carpet installer's independent contractor status was that, in accordance with installation subcontract with store, installer was responsible for any damage to customer's property, and manner in which installer took care of such damage was totally w/i his discretion)

Carpetland U.S.A., Inc. JD-(ATL)-39-80

(factor indicative of carpet installer's independent contractor status was that at various times certain of the installers had had bargaining agreements with Us covering their helpers)

Carpetland U.S.A., Inc. JD-(ATL)-39-80

(contention that fact that carpet installers at store were able to profit from labor of others and thus become entrepreneurs should not be considered indicative of independent contractor status, rejected; whether individual was able to profit as entrepreneur from labor of others is factor toward possible finding of independent contractor status, and it is one more element to be considered in conjunction with all other factors in determining such status)

N.L.R.B. v. Tri-State Transport Corporation 649 F.2d 993 (C.A. 4, May 1981)

(in distinguishing Ees from independent contractors, there is no shorthand formula or magic phrase that can be applied to find the answer, but all incidents of the relationship must be assessed and weighed with no one factor being decisive. What is important is that the total factual context is assessed, in light of pertinent common law agency principles. These common law principles may be referred to as right-to-control test)

Local 777, Democratic Union Organizing Committee v. N.L.R.B. 603 F.2d 862 (C.A.D.C.)

(Bd instructed to apply same general agency principles as would cts in determining whether or not individual (cab driver) is an Ee or an independent contractor)

Local 777, Democratic Union Organizing Committee v. N.L.R.B. 603 F.2d 862 (C.A.D.C.)

(length of lease term in no way affects relationship between taxi companies and their drivers while latter are operating leased vehicles)

Building Material and Dump Truck Drivers, Teamsters Local Union No. 36, etc. v. N.L.R.B. 649 F.2d 759 (C.A.D.C., Feb. 1981)

(Act does not define independent contractor but Congress intended Bd and ct to apply general agency principles in distinguishing between Ees and independent contractors under Act. In applying agency principles Bd and cts look at all aspects of individual's relationship with putative E although no one part of relationship is determinative, degree of supervision over means and manner of performing task assigned is most important in determining whether relationship is that of Ee or independent contractor)

2484-5033-0133 Amount of control reserved by person for whom work is done

The Comedy Store 265 NLRB No. 183

(standup comedians regularly performing at respondent's comedy store found independent contractors, notwithstanding respondent's manager's effectively claimed right of control concerning details of their performance resulting from their need to follow her suggestions in order to get good performance spots at respondent's talent showcase, since they do not receive their livelihood from respondent and do perform concurrently elsewhere, they supply their own routines, costumes and props, publicize their talent, hire managers and agents and treat these costs as business expenses on their tax returns)

Michigan Eye Bank 265 NLRB No. 179

Perryville Coal Company 264 NLRB No. 046

(truckdrivers held Ees of truck-lessor rather than Ees of independent-contractor truck owners or independent contractors where they owned trucks in view of lessor's contract with U representing them, contractual right to hire and fire and actual firing of drivers, laying off by seniority, disciplining of and imposing guidelines for drivers, making standard payroll deductions and contributions (including U dues and benefits), contract with lessor's stating drivers were considered Ees, and notification of change to independent contractors)

Fort Wayne Newspapers, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 112

(distributors who deliver E's newspapers to dealers held independent contractors and not employees since they control manner and means of their performing tasks, where they decide whether to hire helpers and substitutes and set their terms and conditions of employment, distributors submit no financial records to E, they carry liability insurance, are permitted to hold outside jobs, and they alone are responsible for maintaining vehicles used in delivering E's product; the limited control exercised by E is directed solely toward accomplishing the ultimate goal, i.e., delivery of newspapers to dealers and their sale to the general public)

Capital Parcel Delivery Company 256 NLRB No. 050

(owner operators found Ees rather than independent contractors under right to control test, where they: perform functions essential to E's business, have permanent working relationship with E, do business pursuant to E's delivery contract, E provides substantial assistance and guidance, follow E's rules and procedural requirements, and trained by E and are not involved in any financial risk; fact that E does not grant vacations or fringe benefits or provide workman's compensation is not controlling)

Pettibone Corporation 255 NLRB No. 151

(Ee whose working conditions are identical with other admitted Ees but who is permitted to leave early and receives no fringe benefits or standard deduction held Ee as she lacks ear-marks of independent entrepreneur and is employed in this capacity for convenience of E who totally controls Ee's work efforts and compensation)

Tarheel Coals, Inc.; Newcon Coals, Inc.; Sigmond Enterprises, A Partnership; Bass Trucking a/k/a Bass Transit, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 071

(case dismissed where Bd held truck owners were independent contractors since Es retained no control over right to substitute drivers, unilaterally change or impose working conditions, discipline truck owners or drivers, or control performance of drivers or truck owners away from Es' premises)

Liquid Transporters, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 163

(owner-operators and their drivers held Ees of interstate common carrier where E maintained single seniority list for all drivers, all drivers were dispatched by E's dispatcher, all drivers were subject to same discipline for failure to comply with E's dispatch procedures and for violation of government regulations and company rules, single grievance committee was available to all drivers, and E insured equipment to all drivers in conduct of E's business)

Liquid Transporters, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 163

(permanent sleeper teams who lease their equipment to E and operate their trucks on long distance trips for E included in drivers unit where they are qualified to drive for E and operate under authority of E (interstate common carrier); they make out applications and take written or drivers' tests like all other E's drivers and, in same fashion as other drivers for owneroperators who are Ees of E)

Jurisearch, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 091

(where E controlled part-time law school graduate's research technique and method of writing of legal memoranda, graduate held Ee rather than independent contractor)

Jurisearch, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 091

(law researcher held Ee rather than independent contractor where E authorized fixed number of hours per assignment, paid hourly rate and set deadlines so that researcher could not increase his income by entrepreneurship and had no capital investment or risk of loss)

Nevada Resort Association; Summa Corporation, d/b/a Castaways Hotel; et al. 250 NLRB No. 118

(lounge musicians at resort hotels found Ees rather than independent contractors in view of obedience to hotel managers' desires, lack of entrepreneurial risk, manager's control over means and manner of performance, and their leaders' contractual function of carrying out hotel's instructions as to musical selections and manner of performance)

Amber Delivery Service, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 016

Georgia Pacific Corporation 249 NLRB No. 101

(contrary to Georgia Pacific Corp., 225 NLRB 866 (1976), Bd found truckdrivers to be Ees of contract carriers (independent contractors) and not E, since by terms of new agreements between E and contract carriers: (1) carriers and their drivers, rather than E, determined route to use; (2) carriers are no longer required to coordinate their services solely with E's operations; (3) E no longer retained right to subject carriers to all instructions concerning time and manner of performing their services; and (4) E did not have right to reject vehicles or drivers which failed to meet E's safety standards)

2484-5033-0133—Cont.

[illegible] & Sons, Inc. 240 NLRB No. 129

Propane Transport, Inc. and Propane Chemical Leasing Co., Inc. 247 NLRB No. 131
(owner-operators and non-owner drivers of leased trucks held Ees of lessee E and not independent contractors or Ees of independent contractors since E maintained extensive control over owner-operators as was demonstrated by E's exclusive possession, control, and use of said leased trucks, E's unilateral determination of owner-operator compensation, display of E's insignia and ICC certification on trucks, and, among other factors, overall effect of degree of control over equipment and personnel required by State and Federal regulations of motor carriers)

Exhibitors Film Delivery & Service, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 066
(contract delivery drivers for common carrier who drive their own trucks held Ees rather than independent contractors under right of control test where they perform functions of E's business rather than of independent business, have permanent working arrangement with E, do business in E's name and sell E's services, work under contracts promulgated and unilaterally changed by E, account to E for funds, have no properitary interest in E's routes, take no risk but are limited to E's routes and E's prices for their services)

American Federation of Musicians, Local No. 76, AFL-CIO JD-(SF)-297-81
(musician who played regularly at restaurant found Ee and not independent contractor based on restaurant owner's right to control his performance, notwithstanding owner never overtly exercised control over musician)

N.L.R.B. v. Amber Delivery Service, Inc. 651 F.2d 57 (C.A. 1, June 1981)
(in determining independent contractor status Bd looks to: right of control-results sought and means by which results achieved-, risk of loss and opportunity for profit; determination depends on assessment of all factors with no one being decisive)

Hilton International Company d/b/a Caribe Hilton Hotel v. N.L.R.B. 690 F.2d 318 (C.A. 2, Sept. 1982)
(enforcement of order based on finding that band leaders in charge of steady engagement hotel musicians were hotel supervisors and musicians were hotel Ees, denied since band leaders were independent contractors and musicians their Ees, where leaders hired, fired, instructed and disciplined musicians, dealt with hotels through booking agents, bands were not subject to hotel personnel policies and had independent identity; also, musicians are highly skilled members of distinct occupation and usually provide own instruments and sheet music)

N.L.R.B. v. Tri-State Transport Corporation 649 F.2d 993 (C.A. 4, May 1981)
(in distinguishing Ees from independent contractors, there is no shorthand formula or magic phrase that can be applied to find the answer, but all incidents of the relationship must be assessed and weighed with no one factor being decisive. What is important is that the total factual context is assessed, in light of pertinent common law agency principles. These common law principles may be referred to as right-to-control test)

N.L.R.B. v. Tri-State Transport Corporation 649 F.2d 993 (C.A. 4, May 1981)
(in applying right to control test to owner-operator, and non-owner drivers of trucks leased to carriers governed by government regulations, contractor is Ee rather than independent contractor, only if there is layer of carrier regulation put upon contractor beyond what was required by government regulation, impairing contractor's independent)

Newspaper Drivers and Handlers Local Union No. 372, a/w Teamsters v. N.L.R.B. 682 F.2d 116 (C.A. 6, June 1982)
(ct reversed its earlier finding and concluded in light of Bd's more recent decisions that newspaper carriers were Ees w/i meaning of Act and not independent contractors, in view of substantial control by district managers over carriers, absence of proprietary interest on part of carriers, their insulation from most losses, and limited opportunity for significantly increasing their income)

St. Charles Journal, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 679 F.2d 759 (C.A. 8, June 1982)
(determination of whether newspaper carriers are independent contractors or Ees requires examination of degree to which principal has right to control details of agent's performance; all incidents of work relationship must be assessed and weighed including, inter alia, right to hire and discharge persons doing work, method and determination of amount of payment to workmen, whether he stands to make profit on work of those under him, and which party furnishes tools or materials with which work is done)

City Cab Company of Orlando, Inc., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 628 F.2d 261 (C.A.D.C. 1980)
(ct affirmed Bd determination that taxi drivers were Ees under Act and not independent contractors where E effectively retained control over manner in which its drivers perform their duties)

Local 777, Democratic Union Organizing Committee v. N.L.R.B. 603 F.2d 862 (C.A.D.C.)
(ability to establish lease terms unilaterally was not in itself enough to establish existence of E-Ee relationship (between cab owners and cab drivers); critical question was whether terms of lease vest excessive control in lessor (cab owner))

Local 777, Democratic Union Organizing Committee v. N.L.R.B. 603 F.2d 862 (C.A.D.C.)
(control exercised over manner and means of performance is identifying characteristic of E-Ee relationship, not merely economic controls which many corporations exercise over independent contractors)

Local 777, Democratic Union Organizing Committee v. N.L.R.B. 603 F.2d 862 (C.A.D.C.)
(fact that government regulation has made supervision or control by lessor (cab owner) unnecessary was not equivalent of presence of actual supervision or control)

Local 777, Democratic Union Organizing Committee v. N.L.R.B. 603 F.2d 862 (C.A.D.C.)
(lessee-drivers who are practically uncontrolled by cab companies in manner and means that they operate their cabs not considered as Ees w/i scope of NLRA in view of clear intent of Act's legislative history)

Local 777, Democratic Union Organizing Committee v. N.L.R.B. 603 F.2d 862 (C.A.D.C.)
(two elements in instant case determinative of leased cab drivers' status as independent contractors and not as Ees were; (1), lack of control by lessor in manner and means in which drivers carry on their business and (2), rent that lessor receives for lease of cab was not related to amount of fares collected by lessee-driver)

2484-5067 Specific operations

2484-5067-1500 Carpet installers

Carpetland U.S.A., Inc. JD-(ATL)-39-80
(carpet installers performing installation work for store engaged in retail sales of carpeting held independent contractors, rather than Ees, where control reserved by store was only to the result sought, not the manner and means by which result was accomplished; Sears case (176 NLRB 876), determining that installers were independent contractors, is controlling inasmuch as factors considered by Bd were present in instant case as enumerated herein and also specifically commented upon; other cases, in which carpet installers were found to be Ees, held distinguishable)

2484-5067-2000 Contract drivers

Fort Wayne Newspapers, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 112
(distributors who deliver E's newspapers to dealers held independent contractors and not employees since they control manner and means of their performing tasks, where they decide whether to hire helpers and substitutes and set their terms and conditions of employment, distributors submit no financial records to E, they carry liability insurance, are permitted to hold outside jobs, and they alone are responsible for maintaining vehicles used in delivering E's product; the limited control exercised by E is directed solely toward accomplishing the ultimate goal, i.e., delivery of newspapers to dealers and their sale to the general public)

Drukker Communications, Inc., and Its Wholly Owned Subsidiary The Daily Advance, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 097
(delivery contract holders found not independent contractors where E assigns delivery area, sets subscription price of newspapers, and pays them fixed weekly stipend over amount they collect on their own)

Capital Parcel Delivery Company 256 NLRB No. 050
(owner operators found Ees rather than independent contractors under right to control test, where they: perform functions essential to E's business, have permanent working relationship with E, do business pursuant to E's delivery contract, E provides substantial assistance and guidance, follow E's rules and procedural requirements, and trained by E and are not involved in any financial risk; fact that E does not grant vacations or fringe benefits or provide workman's compensation is not controlling)

Reliable Interstate, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 127
(owner-operators and drivers hauling steel for interstate carrier held Ees where E supervises Ees and controls details of work by enforcement of Federal and state regulations and either controls or retains right to control drivers beyond such regulations by requiring report of all accidents, retains right to control trip leasing, E pays part of medical insurance premiums, sets rates unilaterally, Ees drive primarily for E, notwithstanding Ees have limited entrepreneurial risk, may refuse loads, are paid by job, and E has attempted to define drivers as independent contractors by contract)

Liquid Transporters, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 163
(owner-operators and their drivers held Ees of interstate common carrier where E maintained single seniority list for all drivers, all drivers were dispatched by E's dispatcher, all drivers were subject to same discipline for failure to comply with E's dispatch procedures and for violation of government regulations and company rules, single grievance committee was available to all drivers, and E insured equipment to all drivers in conduct of E's business)

2484-5067-2000—Cont.

Liquid Transporters, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 143
(permanent sleeper teams who lease their equipement to E and operate their trucks on long distance trips for E included in drivers unit where they are qualified to drive for E and operate under authority of E (interstate common carrier); they make out applications and take written or drivers' tests like all other E's drivers and, in same fashion as, other drivers for owneroperators who are Ees of E)

Georgia Pacific Corporation 249 NLRB No. 181
(contrary to Georgia Pacific Corp., 225 NLRB 866 (1976), Bd found truck-drivers to be Ees of contract carriers (independent contractors) and not E, since by terms of new agreements between E and contract carriers: (1) carriers and their drivers, rather than E, determined route to use; (2) carriers are no longer required to coordinate their services solely with E's operations; (3) E no longer retained right to subject carriers to all instructions concerning time and manner of performing their services; and (4) E did not have right to reject vehicles or drivers which failed to meet E's safety standards)

Mitchell Bros. Truck Lines 249 NLRB No. 051
(owner-drivers of trucks leased to common carrier found Ees, not independent contractors, because of amount of control exercised over drivers; fact that controls imposed by Federal and State regulations immaterial, for controls define carriers employment relationship with its drivers; also carrier assumes money responsibilities for owner which minimize driver's entrepreneurial risks; furthermore, fact little supervision exercised by E not controlling where nature of work requires little supervision, there is no need for actual control)

Building Material and Dump Truck Drivers, Teamsters Local Union No. 36 (Terra Trucking Company) 249 NLRB No. 038
(owner operators of dump trucks held independent contractors where they were paid by hour, mileage or tonnage rates, responsible for entire cost of their enterprises, select jobs want to work on and may hire drivers or subcontract work)

Propane Transport, Inc. and Propane Chemical Leasing Co., Inc. 247 NLRB No. 131
(owner-operators and non-owner drivers of leased trucks held Ees of lessee E and not independent contractors or Ees of independent contractors since E maintained extensive control over owner-operators as was demonstrated by E's exclusive possession, control, and use of said leased trucks, E's unilateral determination of owner-operator compensation, display of E's insignia and ICC certification on trucks, and, among other factors, overall effect of degree of control over equipment and personnel required by State and Federal regulations of motor carriers)

Exhibitors Film Delivery & Service, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 066
(contract delivery drivers for common carrier who drive their own trucks held Ees rather than independent contractors under right of control test where they perform functions of E's business rather than of independent business, have permanent working arrangement with E, do business in E's name and sell E's services, work under contracts promulgated and unilaterally changed by E, account to E for funds, have no properitary interest in E's routes, take no risk but are limited to E's routes and E's prices for their services)

N.L.R.B. v. Tri-State Transport Corporation 649 F.2d 993 (C.A. 4, May 1981)
(in applying right to control test to owner-operator, and non-owner drivers of trucks leased to carriers governed by government regulations, contractor is Ee rather than independent contractor, only if there is layer of carrier regulation put upon contractor beyond what was required by government regulation, impairing contractor's independent)

N.L.R.B. v. Tri-State Transport Corporation 649 F.2d 993 (C.A. 4, May 1981)
(driver of vehicle leased by trucking firm held not to be Ee of firm but rather Ee of, or profit sharer with, owner-lessor of vehicle since most alleged control by firm resulted from its obligation to enforce government regulations and where firm usually paid lessor rather than driver, did not make deduction for driver's tax or social security, and had to get permission from owner to dispatch truck or obtain substitute driver, notwithstanding contention right to control rather than reason for its existence is crucial element and regulations requiring haulers to exercise control over their drivers created statutory Ees)

Building Material and Dump Truck Drivers, Teamsters Local Union No. 36, etc. v. N.L.R.B. 669 F.2d 759 (C.A.D.C., Feb. 1981)
(dump truck operators obtained by contractors from brokers held independent contractors notwithstanding brokers rent trailers to some operators, insure their rented trailers, makes fuel available for purchase by operators, perform all billing and collection services for operators and pay truck operators monthly whether bills are collected), since no supervision exercised by brokers and contractor personnel only tell operators where to unload; operators own their trucks and responsible for licensing, insurance, repairs, maintenance, operating costs and may subcontract jobs)

2484-5067-3500 Delivery drivers

Austin Tupler Trucking, Inc., and Gold Coast, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 029
(owner-operators who lease their equipment to E held independent contractors because E obtains jobs for them and receives 10 percent commission, E does not supervise work, owner-operators can perform work for anyone, set own hours, have high degree of independence, exercise entrepreneurial judgment regarding mechanical specifications of trucks; thus, controlling both manner and means by which hauls are accomplished)

Amber Delivery Service, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 016
(owner operators held Ees and not independent contractors where E exercised such daily control as: work load, routes taken, drivers having no proprietary interest in routes, and E's warehouse Ees assisting in loading and unloading; moreover, fact that E does not withhold taxes, provide workmen's compensation, drivers receive no paid holidays, pay cost of own repairs and fuel and contract sets forth that drivers are not Ees is not controlling)

Talley's Truck Line JD-(SF)-113-82
(drivers held Ees rather than independent contractors notwithstanding only paid for time worked, where were available to E full time and did not own equipment they drove or used and E patently exercised full and complete control over all phases of work of drivers in regard to when or where they drove, drivers were required to adhere to E's rules, paid wages and benefits set by E)

N.L.R.B. v. Amber Delivery Service, Inc. 651 F.2d 57 (C.A. 1, June 1981)
(owner-operators of package delivery trucks found Ees not independent contractors where E exercises substantial control over drivers performance of deliveries, starting time strictly controlled, daily work load determined by company dispatcher, drivers prohibited from using vehicle to provide related service elsewhere, E conducts mandatory safety meetings, drivers must wear uniform of E, paint vehicle with company colors, carry liability and cargo insurance for E's protection and subject to termination for poor performance; moreover, E sets customer rates and assignments of drivers effectively controlling Ees' income)

2484-5067-4000 Driver salesmen

Charmer Industries, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 031
(salesmen working for wholesalers held statutory Ees and not in business for themselves, where U contract lists number of causes for their discharge, Es assign, supervise, and take away from salesmen accounts they are to service, and also establish quotas against which their performance is evaluated)

Bellacicco & Sons, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 129
(drivers who purchased exclusive right from producer of bread to distribute its product in a certain area and had right to sell route, held independent contractors, where responsible generally for insuring and maintaining trucks, may employ substitute driver w/o company's approval, distribute other products, set prices for cash customers, set own hours, did not attend company meetings or have company manuals issued to them; further there was no withholding of taxes or social security nor unemployment or workman's compensation contributions made on their behalf and company reimbursed by drivers for his share of medical insurance)

N.L.R.B. v. Maine Caterers, Inc., et al. 654 F.2d 131 (C.A. 1, July 1981)
(driver-salesmen who sold products of industrial caterer held Ees rather than independent contractors where E had right to control not only results sought but also means by which those results are achieved, all routes were property of E, drivers' control of prices was limited, and drivers did not own their trucks but leased them, paying for their gasoline and other maintenance)

2484-5067-6000 Taxicab drivers

Yellow Taxi Company of Minneapolis, d/b/a Suburban Yellow Taxi Company 262 NLRB No. 089
(taxi drivers found to be Ees where E requires drivers to maintain trip sheets, mandates extensive system of flat rate fares drivers must charge, controls driver's source of business, significantly regulates hours drivers may work and is recipient of goodwill generated by services drivers provide; thus, E effectively retains control over manner in which it drivers perform their duties)

Yellow Taxi Company of Minneapolis, d/b/a Suburban Yellow Taxi Company 249 NLRB No. 088
(taxicab drivers who leased cabs from E found Ees rather than independent contractors where areas of control over lessee drivers included collection of alleged driver overcharges, use of flat fare rates, requirements that lessees clean their cabs, restrictions on freedom of lessees to refuse to accept assigned runs w/o penalty, restrictions on use of radio, mandates by various laws, enforced by E, violation of which could result in refusal of leases, E's retention of right to end leasing relationship, and E's precluding lessees from allowing others to drive during their lease terms)

2484-5067-6000—Cont.

Air Transit, Inc. (Communication Workers of America, AFL-CIO) 248 NLRB No. 140

(taxicab driver-owners and sublessees at airport held Ees rather than independent contractors, notwithstanding factors indicating independent contractor status, in view of 7 enumerated factors such as E's retention of unilateral control over drivers' revenue by control of fare structure, performance of drivers' services in E's name, E's absolute control over determination of satisfactory performance, and managerial assistance and control at E's taxistand)

Air Transit, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 679 F.2d 1095 (C.A. 4, June 1982)

(taxicab drivers for airport taxicab service (Service) found independent contractors where: drivers', pay Service flat fee for participating; Service does not receive any share or percentage of drivers' earnings; drivers not required to keep trip sheets; drivers control their own work schedules, may work any locations they wish, and drivers own their cabs; moreover, Service provides no vacation time, sick leave, workmen's compensation; does not train drivers or test them; notwithstanding drivers are required to paint cabs in uniform manner, carry more insurance than required by law, and comply with state regulations)

Local 777, Democratic Union Organizing Committee v. N.L.R.B. 603 F.2d 862 (C.A.D.C.)

(ability to establish lease terms unilaterally was not in itself enough to establish existence of E-Ee relationship (between cab owners and cab drivers); critical question was whether terms of lease vest excessive control in lessor (cab owner))

Local 777, Democratic Union Organizing Committee v. N.L.R.B. 603 F.2d 862 (C.A.D.C.)

(fact that government regulation has made supervision or control by lessor (cab owner) unnecessary was not equivalent of presence of actual supervision or control)

Local 777, Democratic Union Organizing Committee v. N.L.R.B. 603 F.2d 862 (C.A.D.C.)

(length of lease term in no way affects relationship between taxi companies and their drivers while latter are operating leased vehicles)

Local 777, Democratic Union Organizing Committee v. N.L.R.B. 603 F.2d 862 (C.A.D.C.)

(lease-drivers who are practically uncontrolled by cab companies in manner and means that they operate their cabs not considered as Ees w/i scope of NLRA in view of clear intent of Act's legislative history)

Local 777, Democratic Union Organizing Committee v. N.L.R.B. 603 F.2d 862 (C.A.D.C.)

(two elements in instant case determinative of leased cab drivers' status as independent contractors and not as Ees were; (1), lack of control by lessor in manner and means in which drivers carry on their business and (2), rent that lessor receives for lease of cab was not related to amount of fares collected by lessee-driver)

2484-5067-7000 Newspaper dealers

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014

(E's contention that circulation managers in its newspaper's circulation department should be excluded because of department's special labor relations history involving inclusion of managers in U contract, at time of their conversion to independent contractor status, only to preserve their pension and welfare funds, rejected, since managers are Ees of company, have been included in unit in past, and are specifically included by reference in Bd-certified unit)

2484-5067-8000 Newspaper carriers

The Oakland Press Co., a Subsidiary of Capital Cities Communications, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 142

(newspaper carriers found Ees where E has reserved right to control result achieved and also means used in attaining results; factors considered are: substantial control over carriers by district managers, carriers have no proprietary interest, insulated from most economic losses, limited opportunity to significantly increase income)

Newspaper Drivers and Handlers Local Union No. 372, a/w Teamsters v. N.L.R.B. 682 F.2d 136 (C.A. 6, June 1982)

(ct reversed its earlier finding and concluded in light of Bd's more recent decisions that newspaper carriers were Ees w/i meaning of Act and not independent contractors, in view of substantial control by district managers over carriers, absence of proprietary interest on part of carriers, their insulation from most losses, and limited opportunity for significantly increasing their income)

St. Charles Journal, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 679 F.2d 759 (C.A. 8, June 1982)

(determination of whether newspaper carriers are independent contractors or Ees requires examination of degree to which principal has right to control details of agent's performance; all incidents of work relationship must be assessed and weighed including, inter alia, right to hire and discharge persons doing work, method and determination of amount of payment to workmen, whether he stands to make profit on work of those under him, and which party furnishes tools or materials with which work is done)

2484-5067-8400 University faculty

Bradford College 261 NLRB No. 061

(faculty teaching one-half time or less (part time) excluded from unit of faculty at college, since classified as independent contractors, generally cannot vote by ballot on major curriculum changes, are paid flat fee twice a semester, are not eligible for e's programs relating to life insurance, social security deductions or retirement)

2484-5067-8800 Day care centers

Rosemount Center 248 NLRB No. 163

(home mothers employed by child day care facility, who provide day care services in their homes, held Ees, rather than independent contractors, in view of E's control over their work conditions and environment)

2484-5067-8700 Theatrical entertainers

The Comedy Store 265 NLRB No. 183

(standup comedians regularly performing at respondent's comedy store found independent contractors, notwithstanding respondent's manager's effectively claimed right of control concerning details of their performance resulting from their need to follow her suggestions in order to get good performance spots at respondent's talent showcase, since they do not receive their livelihood from respondent and do perform concurrently elsewhere, they supply their own routines, costumes and props, publicize their talent, hire managers and agents and treat these costs as business expenses on their tax returns)

2484-5067-9400 Musicians

Puerto Rico Hotel Association 259 NLRB No. 058

(hotels held E of musicians who play on their premises; musicians held Ees rather than independent contractors and their leaders held supervisors in view of hotel's control over type of music, schedules and leave, fact musicians, issued cards by hotels entitling them to charge food and beverages, to discounts and Ee parking, promulgation of rules regarding restricting gambling and storage of instruments, and attire, notwithstanding musicians did not fill out employment applications filled out by other Ees, do not punch time clock, follow detailed grievance procedure or undergo orientation training)

Nevada Resort Association; Summa Corporation, d/b/a Castaways Hotel; et al. 250 NLRB No. 118

(lounge musicians at resort hotels found Ees rather than independent contractors in view of obedience to hotel managers' desires, lack of entrepreneurial risk, manager's control over means and manner of performance, and their leaders' contractual function of carrying out hotel's instructions as to musical selections and manner of performance)

American Federation of Musicians, Local No. 76, AFL-CIO JD-(SF)-297-81

(musician who played regularly at restaurant found Ee and not independent contractor based on restaurant owner's right to control his performance, notwithstanding owner never overtly exercised control over musician)

2484-6200 Supervisor (for definition see 177-8500)

N.L.R.B. v. B & B Theatre Company, Inc. 636 F.2d 149 (C.A. 6, 1980)

(refusal to hire applicant for projectionist-manager position, only position available, because applicant was member of U, not violative, since record indicated position was supervisory, and therefore, not protected under Labor Management Relations Act)

3200 'REPRESENTATIVE'

3900 'LABOR ORGANIZATION'

3901 GENERALLY

H. A. Artists & Associates, Inc., et al. v. Actors' Equity Assn. et al. 451 US 704 (U.S. SCt. May 1981)

(agents for actors are labor group as their function is representation of U members in sale of their labor; agents are franchised by U and this system is substitute for hiring hall; agents controversy with U over payment of franchise fee is labor dispute w/i meaning of Norris-LaGuardia Act)

College of Osteopathic Medicine and Surgery 265 NLRB No. 037

(U held not labor organization w/i meaning of Act where faculty members in unit were managerial Ees, and unit was comprised solely of managerial Ees)

The Exchange Bank 264 NLRB No. 111

(bargaining group formed by Ees held labor organization w/i meaning of Sec. 2(5), notwithstanding E's contention that individual whom E contended to be supervisor, was active in formation of group and that activity fatally tainted status of group as labor organization, where individual was at no relevant time Sec. 2(11) supervisor, assuming that supervisory participation in organization of group would have been fatal)

3901—Cont.

Mac Towing, Inc., et al. 262 NLRB No. 168

(Inland Rivermen's Association of American found labor organization in absence of evidence that Ees do not participate in it and in view of collective-bargaining agreement between it and E)

Magnolia Manor Nursing Home, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 040

(in finding that U was labor organization, ALJ relied on credited testimony of U official regarding U's status as labor organization and also on Certification of Representative, which ALJ admitted over E's objection, since document reflected that U was certified as bargaining representative of unit found appropriate herein)

French Hospital Medical Center 254 NLRB No. 083

(E's contention that petitioner Local U is not labor organization and that International is petitioner since Local is a sham because it depends on International for its financial existence, rejected, while petitioner does not yet represent anyone and consequently receives no dues, it was formed to represent health care professionals with respect to wages, hours and other conditions of employment, has staff and issues newsletter; however, ptn was amended to reflect petitioner's association with International)

3901-7500 Capacity to sue and be sued

Aquaslide 'N' Dive Corporation 263 NLRB No. 059

(E's contention that U was not labor organization that could be certified because it is only a division of International rather than separate organization and that this fact is evidenced by International, rather than division, filing mtn in Federal court to enjoin E in matter concerning unit Ees and thereby International claimed to represent Ees in disregard of Bd certification, rejected because omission of name of certified U in pleadings was either inadvertent or deemed unnecessary)

3925 PREREQUISITES

3925-2000 Employee particpation-organization need not be composed exclusively of employees

Lewis University 268 NLRB No. 157

(Bd held that, contrary to E's contention, Faculty Life Committee of College of Arts and Sciences is labor organization under Sec. 2(3) where Ees participate in it and purpose of organization is to bargain collectively with E)

3925-4000 Purpose of dealing with employers with regard to employee working conditions

Barry S. Solof, M.D., A Professional Corporation, d/b/a The Victoria Medical Group and The West Jefferson Medical Group 264 NLRB No. 019

(Ees of medical clinic who refused to work until management heard their grievances do not constitute labor organization; and thus, were not required to give notice under Sec. 8(g) of Act of intended work stoppage; however, 8(g) of Act does not apply only to work stoppages in support of bargaining demands)

Keyway, A Division of Phase Inc. 263 NLRB No. 172

(group of Ees who shared common, reasonably specific grievance (protesting discharge of past supervisor and criticizing new supervisor) held not to have been labor organization w/i meaning of Act; Ees acted w/o structure or organization and combination of Ees did not exist for purpose of treating with E as to other matters concerning Ees' terms and conditions of employment)

Mac Towing, Inc., et al. 262 NLRB No. 168

(Inland Rivermen's Association of American found labor organization in absence of evidence that Ees do not participate in it and in view of collective-bargaining agreement between it and E)

The German School Society, Washington, D.C., d/b/a The German School of Washington, D.C. 260 NLRB No. 169

(E's contention that neither petitioner nor intervenor, involved in case herein dealing with question of jurisdiction over private, nonprofit school having relationship with foreign government, are labor organizations because some of their members are employed by foreign government or its school system, rejected, since petitioner and intervenor are willing to represent Ees and exist for purpose of dealing with Es concerning wages, hours, and other terms and conditions of employment)

Steiner-Life Textile Products Co. 259 NLRB No. 147

(Ee representatives held labor organization, notwithstanding they did not engage in collective bargaining with E, where they did deal with E concerning grievances, wages, hours of employment, and conditions of work)

Memphis Furniture Manufacturing Co. 259 NLRB No. 061

(Association, held labor organization notwithstanding fact that Association had no history of representing truckdrivers, where established for express purpose of bargaining with E over wages, hours, and conditions of employment)

United Truck and Bus Service Co. 257 NLRB No. 031

(mtn to dismiss R-ptn granted where Bd found that local Union was not labor organization w/i meaning of Act due to requirement, in its constitution that members must be Ees of public Es; therefore, since public Es are not Es as defined in Sec. 2(2) of Act and that Ees of such Es are not Ees as defined in Sec. 2(3) of Act, Local does not exist for purpose of dealing with Es as defined in Act)

Ralph K. Davies Medical Center 256 NLRB No. 153

(Bd rejected E's contention that petitioner was not labor organization because E's former director of nursing, an admitted supervisor at time of employment with E, was involved in petitioner's formation and one of its purposes was promoting her reinstatement as director of nursing with E; petitioner limited its objectives from the start to terms and conditions of employment of its own members; said supervisor was never a member as supervisors were specifically excluded, and there is no evidence that she took part in petitioner's formation)

A & D Davenport Transportation, Inc. and San-Fair Special Service Transportation, A Division of A & D Davenport Transportation, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 079

(E's contention that it was a health care institution and that Ees forfeited protection of Act by engaging in concerted refusal to work w/o giving 10 days notice pursuant to Sec. 8(g) of Act rejected, since strictures of Sec. 8(g) apply only to labor organizations as defined in Sec. 2(5) and here, group (unaffiliated with any existing labor organization) was totally unstructured and was doing nothing more than presenting grievances and thus was not statutorily defined labor organization)

Plumbers, Local 388 (Charles Featherly Construction Co.) 252 NLRB No. 062

(Building and Construction Trades Council held labor organization, notwithstanding Council did not meet statutory requirement that Ees participate in labor organization, did not engage in collective bargaining, nor existed for purpose of dealing with Es concerning grievances labor disputes, wages, hours of conditions of employment; where it had objectives of safeguarding jurisdictional rights of Ees, protecting their wages, hours and working conditions; further, an organization need not engage in collective bargaining to qualify as labor organization)

Edward A. Utlaut Foundation, Inc. d/b/a Edward A. Utlaut Memorial Hospital and Fair Oaks Nursing Home 249 NLRB No. 182

(committee of representatives elected by Ees from three of E's departments to present their grievances to E's representatives held labor organization)

Streamway Division of The Scott & Fetzer Co. 249 NLRB No. 054

(in-plant Ee committee held labor organization, notwithstanding that only one grievance pertaining to vacations was actually adjusted at committee meetings with E, where committee had purpose of dealing with E who had established committee for ostensible purpose of securing adjustments in terms and conditions of employment)

C & W Mining Co., Inc. and/or C. & W Hauling Co., Inc. 248 NLRB No. 039

(FASH Local 100 found to be labor organization where it exists in part to represent Ees with regard to employment conditions, not withstanding it has concurent purpose of attempting to reform Teamsters)

South Nassau Communities Hospital 247 NLRB No. 067

(Nursing Advisory Committee participated in by Ees and which dealt with E concerning Ees' grievances and conditions of employment held to have been labor organization notwithstanding Committee was also concerned with hospital administration and professional matters not related to wages, hours and working conditions)

Clifford Cook, d/b/a Pinnacle Company and Pinnacle Roofing Co., Inc. JD-(SF)-196-79

United Brick and Clay Workers of America Local No. 957, AFL-CIO (Ralco Sewing Industries) JD-280-80

(unaffiliated Ee association consisting of 10-member grievance committee with elected spokesperson but no officers, constitution, by-laws, or membership rolls, which was formed for collective bargaining purposes and has met and bargained with E concerning Ees' working conditions since its formation and which has notified Ees of and held meetings that they attended where minutes were kept, held labor organization)

N.L.R.B. v. Streamway Division of The Scott & Fetzer Company 691 F.2d 288 (C.A. 6, Oct. 1982)

(committee established and structured by E not labor organization since its purpose was not that of dealing with E regarding working conditions but that of allowing Ees to question, complain about or raise matters concerning said conditions; there was no evidence that anyone viewed it as anything other than a communication device)

3925-6000 Formal organization not essential

Keyway, A Division of Phase Inc. 263 NLRB No. 172

(group of Ees who shared common, reasonably specific grievance (protesting discharge of past supervisor and criticizing new supervisor) held not to have been labor organization w/i meaning of Act; Ees acted w/o structure or organization and combination of Ees did not exist for purpose of treating with E as to other matters concerning Ees' terms and conditions of employment)

3925-6000—Cont.

3925-8000 Collective bargaining not essential

Plumbers, Local 388 (Charles Featherly Construction Co.) 252 NLRB No. 062

(Building and Construction Trades Council held labor organization, notwithstanding Council did not meet statutory requirement that Ees participate in labor organization, did not engage in collective bargaining, nor existed for purpose of dealing with Es concerning grievances labor disputes, wages, hours of conditions of employment; where it had objectives of safeguarding jurisdictional rights of Ees, protecting their wages, hours and working conditions; further, an organization need not engage in collective bargaining to qualify as labor organization)

3950 TYPES OF LABOR ORGANIZATIONS

3950-1800 Organizations representing individuals employed by government agencies

National Medical Convalescent of San Diego, d/b/a Ojai Valley Community Hospital 254 NLRB No. 163

(contention that association precluded from representing Ees sought herein since not labor organization where it represents, among others, Ees of public agencies which are not Es under Act nor are their workers Ees under Act, rejected; since association does not limit membership to Ees of government agencies and Ees sought would form separate unit if certified)

3950-2700 Employee committees, medical interns' associations, etc.

Edward A. Utlaut Foundation, Inc. d/b/a Edward A. Utlaut Memorial Hospital and Fair Oaks Nursing Home 249 NLRB No. 162

(committee of representatives elected by Ees from three of E's departments to present their grievances to E's representatives held labor organization)

South Nassau Communities Hospital 247 NLRB No. 067

(Nursing Advisory Committee participated in by Ees and which dealt with E concerning Ees' grievances and conditions of employment held to have been labor organization notwithstanding Committee was also concerned with hospital administration and professional matters not related to wages, hours and working conditions)

Lacks Industries, Inc. JD-346-82

(Ee committee formed for purpose of holding meetings with management to discuss Ee problems held not labor organization, where there was no evidence that committee existed for purpose of dealing with E concerning grievances, wages, and working conditions, and E had established practice of inviting gripes from Ees and perhaps was attempting a more formalized procedure to discuss problems)

United Brick and Clay Workers of America Local No. 957, AFL-CIO (Ralco Sewing Industries) JD-200-80

(unaffiliated Ee association consisting of 10-member grievance committee with elected spokesperson but no officers, constitution, by-laws, or membership rolls, which was formed for collective bargaining purposes and has met and bargained with E concerning Ees' working conditions since its formation and which has notified Ees of and held meetings that they attended where minutes were kept, held labor organization)

3950-4500 Organizing committees, central labor councils, etc.

Berry-Mahurin Construction, Inc. 298 NLRB No. 171

(Local U held labor organization w/i Act notwithstanding fact following merger of several locals into council Local did not negotiate agreements with E, did not deal with Es concerning grievances labor disputes, wages, hours or conditions of employment, inasmuch as these functions were delegated to council, since council and its representatives were acting specifically in furtherance of U's interest they are agents of U which is responsible for their actions)

Plumbers, Local 388 (Charles Featherly Construction Co.) 252 NLRB No. 062

(Building and Construction Trades Council held labor organization, notwithstanding Council did not meet statutory requirement that Ees participate in labor organization, did not engage in collective bargaining, nor existed for purpose of dealing with Es concerning grievances labor disputes, wages, hours of conditions of employment; where it had objectives of safeguarding jurisdictional rights of Ees, protecting their wages, hours and working conditions; further, an organization need not engage in collective bargaining to qualify as labor organization)

Carpenters, Local # 360 v. N.L.R.B. 690 F.2d 661 (C.A. 8, July 1982)

(U's contention that it lost its status as labor organization when it joined other locals to form district council, rejected, since although council assumed responsibility for bargaining on behalf of locals, individual locals continued to represent their members concerning certain benefits; further, council had no Ee members, but consisted of elected members of affiliated locals and inasmuch as council acted in furtherance of locals' interests, its representatives were agents of locals)

3950-7700 Organizations subject to influence, domination or control by supervisors

Sealift Maritime, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 154

(admission of supervisors to membership in organization which Ees may participate and join and which exists for collective bargaining does not alter intervenor's status as labor organization in absence of substantial evidence that there exists clear and present danger of conflicts of interest between U and Ees)

North Shore University Hospital 259 NLRB No. 121

(nurses' association one of whose purposes is to represent nurses in collective bargaining held labor organization, notwithstanding that it admits supervisors to membership, since mere presence of supervisors in labor organization is irrelevant to determining status under Sec. 2(5))

National Medical Convalescent of San Diego, d/b/a Ojai Valley Community Hospital 254 NLRB No. 163

(Association which represented nurses at several hospitals not precluded from representing Ees at hospital herein as no supervisors on Bd of Directors of Association is employed by E; furthermore, no conflict of interest even if there were supervisors of competing hospitals on Bd of Directors since each bargaining unit negotiates independently of Association or of any of its other bargaining units, and additionally, since no supervisors presently on Bd, possibility that in future supervisors may exert some influence against interest of E's Ees is too remote and speculative)

French Hospital Medical Center 254 NLRB No. 083

(E's contention that intervenor nurses association was disqualified from representing its Ees since conflict of interests existed where supervisors at other health care related institutions were on association's board of directors and one of its members was employed as supervisor by E particularly where individuals employed by institutions that were E's competitors in recruiting nurses, rejected, absent evidence supervisors employed by other institutions could influence bargaining relationship between E and intervenor to impermissable degree)

Abington Memorial Hospital 250 NLRB No. 098

(state-wide nurses' association in which Ees participate and which exists, at least in part, for purpose of representing its members in collective bargaining held labor organization, even though supervisors hold leadership positions in organization)

N.T. Enloe Memorial Hospital 250 NLRB No. 078

(in unit of Ees represented by association which admitted supervisors to membership, there is no conflict of interest which would disqualify association as bargaining representative where one unit member is supervisor but is not engaged in collective bargaining)

Lodi Memorial Hospital Association, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 121

(Nurses' Association held labor organization not disqualified to represent E's Ees, even assuming that competitive relationships existed between E and other area hospitals, where there was no showing of conflict of interest between influence w/i Association of supervisor-members employed by competing hospitals and Association's capacity to represent E's Ees; presence alone of third-party supervisors in Association is not sufficient, since Bd will not assume any inherent conflict of interest between supervisors and Ees in bargaining process; see also Oak Park Community Hospital, 249 NLRB No. 120)

Lodi Memorial Hospital Association, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 121

(Nurses' Assoc. held labor organization not disqualified to represent E's Ees, notwithstanding E's contention that specified supervisors, officials of Assoc. and employed by other hospitals, could influence to an impermissible degree bargaining between E and Assoc., since all bargaining responsibilities of Assoc. reside w/i Assoc.'s commission all of whose members are nonsupervisory nurses, bargaining on local level is conducted by elected Ee bargaining committee, and there was no reasonable likelihood that specified supervisors could meaningfully affect bargaining between E and Assoc.)

Lodi Memorial Hospital Association, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 121

(Nurses' Association held labor organization not disqualified to represent E's Ees; Ees' interest in R is not affected adversely by Association's rendering of personal employment-related assistance to one of their supervisor-members inasmuch as members of Accoaition's bargaining commission exercise individual discretion both as to whether to assist supervisor and as to form such assistance should take, and E is able independently to determine whether supervizor so indebted to U should be assigned to bargain on its behalf with such U; see also Oak Park Community Hospital, 249 NLRB No. 120)

Sierra Vista Hospital, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 066

(where Bd had rescinded its denial of E's mtn to revoke certification of nurses association and remanded case to RD to give parties opportunity to fully litigate issue as to whether association was disqualified to represent E's nonsupervisory nurses because of supervisory participation in positions of authority in the association, Bd held E had failed to meet burden of proving clear and present danger of conflicts of interest under Sierra Vista, 241 NLRB

3950-7700—Cont.

No. 107, and denied E's mtn to revoke certification: See also Sierra Vista Hospital, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 067)

Exeter Hospital 248 NLRB No. 056

(nurses association which included supervisors in leadership positions found to be unqualified to represent Ees since there was clear and present danger of conflict of interest which would interfere with collective bargaining process)

Healdsburg General Hospital 247 NLRB No. 030

(nurses association held labor organization and not disqualified from acting as Ee representative on ground association is subject to control of supervisors who are permitted to be members, since (1) there was no evidence E's supervisors belonged to association, and Bd will not resort to speculation about possibility, as claimed by E, that supervisors might join at some future time, and (2) E failed to meet heavy burden of showing direct conflict of interest because of possible relation between E and Es of supervisors participating in bargaining process)

Healdsburg General Hospital 247 NLRB No. 030

(nurses association held labor organization and not disqualified from acting as Ee representative on ground that association is subject to control by supervisors who are permitted to be members; even assuming that association is influenced by supervisors, that association represents all nurses including supervisors, and that such representation is costly and controversial, Bd held E failed to establish that any of these factors create conflict of interest sufficient to prevent association from acting as Ee representative)

Sidney Farber Cancer Institute 247 NLRB No. 001

3950-8100 Supervisors' union not 'labor organization'

Comprehensive Health Planning Council of Southeastern Michigan 256 NLRB No. 183

(petitioner, Council of division managers of nonprofit corporation providing health care planning services, not labor organization w/i meaning of Act, since it was comprised of supervisors and did not represent Ees)

3950-9000 Guards' union

Bally's Park Place, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 132

(local that exists for betterment of wages, hours, and working conditions of security officers and contemplates no other members, has five unpaid officers, constitution, and by-laws held labor organization)

N.L.R.B. v. J. W. Mays, Inc. 675 F.2d 442 (C.A. 2, Feb. 1982)

(U representing guards not disqualified from representing Ee guards where non-guards were not members of U nor did U solicit non-guards for membership; U was not purporting to represent Ee who was officer of U but worked in non-guard position in his non-guard capacity)

3975 SUCCESSOR LABOR ORGANIZATIONS

Robert E. Johnson and Geneva H. Johnson, a Partnership, d/b/a Jolie Belts Company 265 NLRB No. 141

(District Council held successor to U where U's merger into District Council complied with U's constitution and only element missing but mandated by Bd was evidence that all eligible Ees were properly notified and provided opportunity to vote; however, E cannot now attack validity of merger where subsequent to merger, E entered into bargaining relationship with District Council as the continuation of the U)

Yates Industries, Inc., California Division 264 NLRB No. 161

(local U's disaffiliation from U's International and affiliating with another International by vote of membership while agreement in effect designating local U and International, the certified representative, as joint bargaining representatives was untimely attempt to rid themselves of their certified bargaining representative contrary to Bd policy; certification not amended, International U didn't relinquish its status as certified representative; thus, new local U's demand for recognition after disaffiliation, E's conceding to its demand, withdrawing recognition from International and local, unlawful)

Lord Jim's 259 NLRB No. 164

(where ALJ took judicial notice of district ct's finding in related case that 5 Us with which E had agreements were unilaterally ordered to be merged into Bartenders' U by its international president, ALJ found Bartenders' U was not successor to the Us merged into it, since merger procedures failed to meet due process requirements, and there was no evidence that members of other Us than Bartenders' U voted in any election relating to merger)

Warehouse Groceries Management, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 021

(U resulting from merger of U designated on authorization cards with another U held successor to representational rights where merged U has assumed all assets and liabilities, including contract obligations)

Wellman Industries, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 029

(U consisting of two merged labor organizations found successor to one of merged Us as continuation of old U under new name with continuity of representation and no change in operations found successor)

Amoco Production Company v. N.L.R.B. 613 F.2d 107 (C.A. 5, Mar. 1980)

(in making factual determination of whether affiliated U was successor to independent U, ct must consider whether changes have occurred in rights and obligations of U's leadership and membership, and in relationships between putative bargaining agent, its affiliate, and E; however, such factual determination is for Bd to make initially)

3987 EFFECT OF DISAFFILIATION, AFFILIATION, OR MERGER

Robert E. Johnson and Geneva H. Johnson, a Partnership, d/b/a Jolie Belts Company 265 NLRB No. 141

(District Council held successor to U where U's merger into District Council complied with U's constitution and only element missing but mandated by Bd was evidence that all eligible Ees were properly notified and provided opportunity to vote; however, E cannot now attack validity of merger where subsequent to merger, E entered into bargaining relationship with District Council as the continuation of the U)

The Exchange Bank 264 NLRB No. 111

(no affiliation occurred where, when U (Group) failed to obtain recognition from E, Ees who had supported it dissolved Group upon determining that International U could better serve their needs, held meeting during which they passed resolution dissolving Group and Group effectively ceased to exist as labor organization)

Yates Industries, Inc., California Division 264 NLRB No. 161

(where international was certified bargaining representative and local signed bargaining agreement, international never relinquished its status as representative, and both local and international have participated as joint representatives of Ees, both held joint representatives)

Yates Industries, Inc., California Division 264 NLRB No. 161

(local U's disaffiliation from U's International and affiliating with another International by vote of membership while agreement in effect designating local U and International, the certified representative, as joint bargaining representatives was untimely attempt to rid themselves of their certified bargaining representative contrary to Bd policy; certification not amended, International U didn't relinquish its status as certified representative; thus, new local U's demand for recognition after disaffiliation, E's conceding to its demand, withdrawing recognition from International and local, unlawful)

Texas Plastics, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 59

(merger of two international Us to form new international did not affect representation at local level, since nothing but local's designation—i.e., that it was chartered by new international—had changed and no improprieties by local's former international were established; E's contention that change of name on local's charter was improper because its Ees and local's members had not participated in or ratified merger rejected, since constitution of Ees' former international expressly authorized its executive board to merge with other international Us)

Knapp-Sherrill Company 263 NLRB No. 060

(E estopped from challenging procedures employed in merger of two local U's two years after it took place where it satisfied all elements of estoppel—knowledge, intent, mistaken belief and detrimental reliance; had knowledge of U merger, was aware it had right to refuse to recognize it as successor, and after merger E dealt with successor as its Ees' bargaining representative including forwarding dues payments, adjusting grievances, and bargaining over terms of proposed midterm wage reopener, and local relied on E's business as usual approach to its detriment when it took no further action to establish its status as collective-bargaining representative)

Knapp-Sherrill Company 263 NLRB No. 060

(merger of 2 Internationals into UFCW proper where Us held convention attended by both Us to effectuate merger; UFCW's executive board comprised of both International's officers' geographical divisions, districts of Meat Cutters unaltered, committees survived, local Us charter members and not required to merge with other locals, UFCW assumed rights, property, obligations of Internationals; although Local 171 did not send delegates to convention out of choice, its members did not vote on proposed merger; merger did not affect representation at local level, was provided for in Meat Cutters constitution, thus RD's amendment of certification proper)

Lord Jim's 259 NLRB No. 164

(where ALJ took judicial notice of district ct's finding in related case that 5 Us with which E had agreements were unilaterally ordered to be merged into Bartenders' U by its international president, ALJ found Bartenders' U was not successor to the Us merged into it, since merger procedures failed to meet due process requirements, and there was no evidence that members of other Us than Bartenders' U voted in any election relating to merger)

Warehouse Groceries Management, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 021

(if ALJ finds card majority on remand, bargaining order may issue to successor U formed by merger of U designated on authorization cards with another U, since designated U continued to exist as evidenced by successor U's retention of some offices, all property rights and assumption of all assets and liabilities, including contract obligations)

3987—Cont.

United Steelworkers of America, AFL-CIO-CLC (L & S Products, Inc.) 253 NLRB No. 129
(election purporting to affiliate Ee committee and its constituent Ees with international U held ineffective and void where voting violated all principles of fair election inasmuch as there was no voting list or record kept of who received ballots, and who voted, and there was no assurance that ballots represented votes of legitimate voters; and on day following voting, after ballots had been counted, Ee, who was most active in promoting affiliation, handed in two ballots purporting to be vote of other Ees, who apparently voted in favor of affiliation and broke election's tie vote)

United Steelworkers of America, AFL-CIO-CLC (L & S Products, Inc.) 253 NLRB No. 129
(election purporting to affiliate Ee committee with international U held ineffective and void since it was conducted in violation of minimal standards of democratic procedure or due process, where no notice was given Ees, advising them of meeting for conducting vote; no opportunity was allowed for discussion among Ees on merits of affiliation; majority of Ees had been informed that they were not voting on affiliation with international but on whether they wanted to hear about it; and there was lack of safeguards against rigged or otherwise unfair election)

United Steelworkers of America, AFL-CIO-CLC (L & S Products, Inc.) 253 NLRB No. 129
(valid affiliation election held not to create new labor organization nor does it result in dissolution of existing labor organization, and agreement between affiliating U and E remains effective until its stated expiration date; in case of void affiliation election, it is even more obvious that such election and any derivative actions do not dissolve pre-existing labor organization or its contract with E)

Wellman Industries, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 029
(U consisting of two merged labor organizations found successor to one of merged Us as continuation of old U under new name with continuity of representation and no change in operations found successor)

4700 'COMMERCE'

5500 'AFFECTING COMMERCE'

Radio Free Europe/Radio Liberty, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 063
(notwithstanding record did not establish any direct or indirect inflow of goods or services for non profit private corporation, receipt of 90 million dollar in year from U.S. Government demonstrates that E's operations have substantial impact on commerce, and establishes required statutory jurisdiction of this Bd)

Longshoremen's Association, and Local 799; etc.(Allied International, Inc.) 257 NLRB No. 151
(Bd's assertion of jurisdiction compelled if clear language of Act placing foreign commerce w/i Bd's jurisdiction is to have any meaning, Bd is not deprived of jurisdiction where American neutral Ees are directly and adversely affected by purely secondary conduct violative of Section 8(b)(4))

Longshoremen's Association, and Local 799; etc.(Allied International, Inc.) 257 NLRB No. 151
(SCt has never barred or indicated its intention to bar Bd's jurisdiction over activity between exclusively American entities simply because that activity has some relation to foreign maritime operations reading SCt decisions limiting Bd's jurisdiction to situations where disputed conduct involved and inescapably interfered with maritime operations of foreign vessels is unduly expansive)

Longshoremen's Association, and Local 799; etc.(Allied International, Inc.) 257 NLRB No. 151
(absence of primary dispute does not preclude invocation of Section 8(b)(4) protection)

Longshoremen's Association, and Local 799; etc.(Allied International, Inc.) 257 NLRB No. 151
(Bd asserted jurisdiction where U's refusal to handle cargo from USSR to protest its invasion of another country where refusal affected U.S. users of products on ships; Bd is not necessarily deprived of jurisdiction over all secondary conduct engaged in to further primary dispute which itself is beyond Bd's jurisdiction merely because dispute is with foreign entity)

Actors' Equity Association 247 NLRB No. 172
(contention that Bd should decline jurisdiction because alleged ULPs affecting only a few non-resident aliens had no significant effect on commerce, rejected; in exercising its jurisdiction, Bd looks to impact of E's operations on commerce and does not attempt to measure impact of specific ULPs alleged, unless they are de minimis)

E. A. Fuller Bentleys, Inc. d/b/a Bentleys Lounge JD-490-81

Peninsula Association for Retarded Children and Adults JD-(SF)-269-80
(E subject to Bd's jurisdiction notwithstanding its operations are local in character as (1) it is retail store, part of interstate chain of stores and is integral part of chain, and (2) Bd had asserted jurisdiction over respondent in prior case)

Lewis V. Baldovin, Jr., RD v. International Longshoremen's Association, AFL-CIO, et al. 626 F.2d 445 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(inj denied since no basis to believe U's refusal to load grain aboard ships bound for Russia in order to protest Russia's invasion of another country, and avoid enhancing economic status of Russia affected commerce, where only political decision by foreign government could satisfy U's grievance; notwithstanding U's action affected producers and transporters of grain and those who loaded it aboard ships; boycott secondary in that U did not seek to affect labor relations of E's with which it had contract or terms and conditions of employment of their Ees)

N.L.R.B. v. First Termite Control Co., Inc. 646 F.2d 424 (C.A. 9, May 1981)
(enforcement denied where Bd failed to establish statutory jurisdictional requirement of interstate commerce (interstate business more than de minimis by admissable evidence)

N.L.R.B. v. W. Carter Maxwell, dba Pioneer Concrete Co. 637 F.2d 698 (C.A. 9, 1981)
(labor dispute found to affect commerce where E purchased $6,000 worth of goods originating in other states including $1,920 worth of cement from out-of-state suppliers and also by purchasing large ensurance policies written with out-of-state companies through local agents; these purchases more than de minimous and support finding of jurisdiction)

6200 'UNFAIR LABOR PRACTICE'

7000 'LABOR DISPUTE'

7001 GENERALLY

Longshoremen's Association, and Local 799; etc.(Allied International, Inc.) 257 NLRB No. 151
(Bd's assertion of jurisdiction compelled if clear language of Act placing foreign commerce w/i Bd's jurisdiction is to have any meaning, Bd is not deprived of jurisdiction where American neutral Ees are directly and adversely affected by purely secondary conduct violative of Section 8(b)(4))

Longshoremen's Association, and Local 799; etc.(Allied International, Inc.) 257 NLRB No. 151
(absence of primary dispute does not preclude invocation of Section 8(b)(4) protection)

Longshoremen's Association, and Local 799; etc.(Allied International, Inc.) 257 NLRB No. 151
(primary conduct which interferes with foreign maritime operations is not subject to Bd jurisdiction regardless of whether charging party is primary or secondary E)

N.L.R.B. v. Greyhound Lines, Inc. 660 F.2d 354 (C.A. 8, Sep 1981)
(labor dispute is any controversy concerning terms, tenure, or conditions of employment, and can have labor dispute w/o utilizing grievance procedures)

Soft Drink Workers Union Local 812, Teamsters v. N.L.R.B. 657 F.2d 1252 (C.A.D.C., Oct. 1980)
(where U, engaged in consumer picketing at neutral retail store against sale of nonlocal soft drinks, had no conventional labor dispute with store or nonlocal suppliers, ct rejected U's contention that Bd has no authority to resolve controversies that do not contain labor dispute as defined in Sec. 2(9); that section is not a jurisdictional requirement, and is construed as a definitional provision only, designed to ensure uniform meaning to important phrase statute)

Soft Drink Workers Union Local 812, Teamsters v. N.L.R.B. 657 F.2d 1252 (C.A.D.C., Oct. 1980)
(even if Sec. 2(9) were construed as jurisdictional requirement, definition of labor dispute therein might be broad enough to encompass instant controversy involving U engaged in consumer picketing at retail store against sale of nonlocal soft drinks and having no conventional labor dispute with store or nonlocal suppliers; however, where U's goal is economic not political, and especially where U's motive is to obtain more employment for its members, it may well be involved in a labor dispute)

7067 STRIKE

Brown & Root, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 634 F.2d 816 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(cessation of work to avoid unsafe conditions where rain began to blow on electrical equipment with which Ees were working held not strike)

7067-3300 Economic strike

AMPAC, a subsidiary of Kane-Miller Corp. 259 NLRB No. 151
(strike economic rather than ULP strike where evidence made clear that Ees and U decided to strike because of E's bargaining positions and posture which did not constitute bad faith bargaining)

Walker Die Casting, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 034
(strike was not ULP strike at inception as ULP committed day before strike did not contribute to strike and U told Ees that strike would be economic; strike was economic as it was caused by E's failure to agree to contract)

7067-3300—Cont.

W. G. Best Homes Corporation 253 NLRB No. 123

(strike held economic strike where precipitated by inability to reach agreement on economic matters in bargaining agreement and was not converted into ULP strike by E's failure to bargain regarding its decision to subcontract where U never requested bargaining on issue)

Deister Concentrator Company, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 040

(economic strike not converted to ULP strike where E's conduct subsequent to strike had no causal effect on continuation of strike)

Interstate Paper Supply Company, Inc. 251 NLRB NO. 189

(Bd disavowed ALJ's statement that U's objective during strike, as an alternative to obtaining more money, is to put E out of business if he does not yield)

Interstate Paper Supply Company, Inc. 251 NLRB NO. 189

(while agreeing with ALJ that strike was economic at its inception, Bd disavowed his characterization of GC's withdrawal of one 8(a)(5) complaint allegation to the effect that as of date strike started, E unlawfully paid its strike replacements higher wages than it had offered during negotiations as a legal admission that strike was an economic one)

Redlands Christian Migrant Association 250 NLRB No. 027

(strike over alleged unfavorable working conditions)

Excavation-Construction, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 081

(discharge of Ees who participated in 1-day work stoppage in support of U's bargaining position violated Act as this is strike and not intermittent work stoppage which would be unprotected)

Road Sprinkler Fitters Local Union No. 669, etc. v. N.L.R.B. 681 F.2d 11 (C.A.D.C., June 1982)

(lawful strike for U recognition is economic strike unless ULPs committed by E are contributing cause of strike)

7067-3350 Conversion to ULP strike

Sadloff Publications, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 139

(E's statements i.e., informing strikers that it might be possible to work out solution to strikers' complaints if strikers dropped U and came back to work, but that their return to work depended on dropping U, abandoning strike, and withdrawing ULP charges were not of such character as to conclude that strike was converted or prolonged as result of them)

Platte Valley Plumbing and Heating 264 NLRB No. 157

Vulcan-Hart Corporation (St. Louis Division) 262 NLRB No. 017

(economic strike converted to ULP strike when E discharged 19 strikers or approximately one-half of unit)

Cooperativa De Credito Y Ahorro Vegabajena 261 NLRB No. 161

(strike, whether economic or ULP strike at its inception, became ULP strike where record revealed strike was prolonged by unlawful discharge of Ee)

Hayden Electric, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 104

(economic strike converted into ULP strike by reason of E's conduct of unilaterally reducing wages and benefits, dealing directly with Ees, and failing to implement terms and conditions of bargaining agreement)

Gulf Envelope Company 256 NLRB No. 058

(economic strike held converted to ULP strike where E induced abandonment of strike by threats that strikers jobs might be permanently filled and any reinstatement would be w/o seniority, refused to pay accrued vacation benefits to strikers, and illegally discharged Ees, notwithstanding lack of direct evidence of Ees' concern with E's actions since violations of Act which have inherently destructive effect upon Ees' Section 7 rights will affect conversion of economic strike despite failure of Ees to perceive fully unlawfulness of ULPs)

Connecticut Distributors, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 170

(E's refusal to meet and bargain with U converted economic strike into ULP strike)

Walker Die Casting, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 034

(E's withdrawal of last contract proposal converted economic striked to ULP strike)

W. G. Best Homes Corporation 253 NLRB No. 123

(strike held economic strike where precipitated by inability to reach agreement on economic matters in bargaining agreement and was not converted into ULP strike by E's failure to bargain regarding its decision to subcontract where U never requested bargaining on issue)

Associated Grocers 253 NLRB No. 005

(no conversion of economic strike to ULP strike where ULPs committed by E did not prolong strike)

Berger Transfer and Storage, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 002

(after E threatened to discharge economic strikers)

Inta-Roto, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 111

(where E terminated contract in retaliation for strike)

Interstate Paper Supply Company, Inc. 251 NLRB NO. 189

(E's unlawful refusal to bargain with U for 5-month period extended strike thus turning economic strike into ULP strike)

Crestline Memorial Hospital Association, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 028

(economic strike converted to ULP strike when E refused to bargain in good faith by insistence on contract termination date coincidental with certification year)

Raimund Cornum Co., Inc. d/b/a Raycor Co. 249 NLRB No. 078

(although Ees' strike in support of U demand that their lawfully discharged co-Ees be returned to work was economic strike, it was converted to ULP strike by E's unlawful discharge of economic strikers for not abandoning strike)

Harding Glass Industries 248 NLRB No. 091

(unlawful withdrawal of member from E-association during negotiations converted economic strike to ULP strike)

Soule Glass and Glazing Co., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 652 F.2d 1055 (C.A. 1, May 1981)

(strike converts to ULP strike when E commits intervening ULP which is found to have prolonged strike. It must be found not only that E committed ULP after commencement of strike, but that as result, strike was expanded to include protest over that ULP. Objective and subjective factors may be probative of conversion. Applying objective criteria, Bd and reviewing ct may properly consider probable impact of type of ULP on reasonable strikers in relevant context. Applying subjective criteria, Bd and ct may give substantial weight to strikers' characterization of their motive for continuing strike after ULP)

Soule Glass and Glazing Co., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 652 F.2d 1055 (C.A. 1, May 1981)

(economic strike not converted into ULP strike by E's unlawful granting of wage increases, absent substantial evidence violation prolonged strike or was contributing cause of dispute, where U's predominant if not sole concern remained improving wages; nor may evidence of later events contribute retroactively to converting strike at earlier date)

Soule Glass and Glazing Co., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 652 F.2d 1055 (C.A. 1, May 1981)

(economic strike not converted to ULP strike by E's failure to bargain regarding transfer of work absent evidence E's actions in that regard aggravated, changed focus or in any way prolonged strike)

Soule Glass and Glazing Co., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 652 F.2d 1055 (C.A. 1, May 1981)

(economic strike not converted to ULP strike by misconduct of supervisors towards strikers where actions gave strikers encouragement that strike was suceeding since to be converted strike must have been expanded to include protest over ULP which restrianed or coerced Ees in exercise of their Section 7 rights, not conduct which encouraged, strengthened or aided protected conduct)

N.L.R.B. v. Vanguard Oil and Service, Inc., et al. No. 75-4222, Sept. 2, 1980, C.A. 2, (unreported)

(economic strike may be converted into an ULP strike when E engages in violations of Act which prolong or aggravate a work stoppage or when E informs Ees that he has hired others to replace them in their jobs, before E has in fact done so (civil contempt proceeding))

N.L.R.B. v. Proler International Corporation 635 F.2d 351 (C.A. 5, 1981)

(for economic strikes to be converted to ULP strike, E's ULP must be contributing factor in causing or prolonging strike)

N.L.R.B. v. Proler International Corporation 635 F.2d 351 (C.A. 5, 1981)

(economic strike not converted to ULP strike by E's vice-president informing Ees who had walked off job to protest working conditions that Ees would lose their jobs unless they returned to work by certain time, since no discharge absent evidence E or Ees considered Ees discharged, no final check, or termination notices sent, and no indication on picket signs or other means that continuation of strike motivated by threat of discharge which, in and of itself, was violative)

Walker Die Casting, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 682 F.2d 592 (C.A. 6, July 1982)

(economic strike converted to ULP strike where E withdrew recognition w/o good faith doubt that was reasonably grounded and thereby prolonged strike)

Skrl Die Casting, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 681 F.2d 1218 (C.A. 6, June 1981)

(E's unlawful statements and denial of overtime to Ee when considered in context of record as a whole and, since isolated, were not sufficient to support finding E was not bargaining in good faith, and did not convert economic strike to ULP strike)

N.L.R.B. v. Berger Transfer & Storage Co. 678 F.2d 679 (C.A. 7, May 1982)

(recognitional strike converted to ULP strike when E threatened strikers with discharge)

Harding Glass Industries, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 672 F.2d 1330 (C.A. 10, Feb. 1982)

(economic strike held to have become ULP strike when E unlawfully withdrew from multi-E unit at which time E's unlawful refusal to bargain became at least as significant from Ees' viewpoint as the effort to obtain favorable economic terms, and thus Bd could infer refusal to bargain became an operative cause of strike as of the date of E's withdrawal)

7067-3350—Cont.

7067-4700 Unfair labor practice strike

The Exchange Bank 264 NLRB No. 111
(strike held ULP strike where work stoppage and strike were in protected concerted protest of unlawful discharges)

Struthers Wells Corporation 262 NLRB No. 136
(strike held ULP strike where, while E did not engage in bad faith bargaining on all counts as alleged, it did engage in bargaining w/o intent to reach agreement in areas of wages, seniority, jurisdiction-unit, and elimination of job posting and bidding procedures; such bargaining was part of reason Ees struck, and another reason was to protest E's failure to remedy ULPs found against it in prior Bd case)

Convair Corporation 261 NLRB No. 178
(where U representative appeared at E's plant and informed Ees that ULP strike was in progress, it is insignificant that strike started w/o advance notice to Ees)

Lion Uniform, Janesville Apparel Division 259 NLRB No. 142
(although at time of Ees' walkout E had committed ULPs by stricter enforcement of work rules and threats of discharge for striking, strike held not ULP strike, where there was no evidence that prior to strike e was negligent, dilatory or otherwise remiss in its bargaining obligation; U not E was unavailable to meet and negotiate; there was no evidence that Ees were motivated by E's ULPs or that ULPs contributed to initiation or prolongation of strike; and there was no direct evidence of causal connection between ULPs and strike)

Teamsters Local Union No. 574, a/w Teamsters
(Lola Wheeler, an Individual) 259 NLRB No. 037
(strike in protest of ULPs)

Ricks Construction Company, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 043
(strike held ULP strike where instituted to protest E's refusal to bargain with U after certification)

Research Products/Blankenship Company 258 NLRB No. 003
(strike held ULP strike where it was in protest of harassment of Ees and E's continuing refusal to bargain in good faith)

Lincoln Technical Institute, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 032
(discharge of strikers not violative where collective bargaining agreement contained no-strike clause and strike was not ULP strike because suspensions strikers were protesting were not ULPs)

Limestone Apparel Corp. 255 NLRB No. 101
(where Ees went out on strike because they were outraged at firing of two U adherents)

Rockingham Machine-Lunex Company 255 NLRB No. 015
(strike held ULP strike where Ees voted to strike after being informed of what had transpired during negotiations)

Quality Drywall Company, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 078
(strike held ULP strike where it was clearly to protest unlawful discharge)

Warehouse Groceries Management, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 021
(ULP strike found where Ees complained to U leader about harassment, interrogation about card signing, identify of card distributor, and threats of store closure)

Atlas Metal Parts Co., Inc. 252 NLRB No. 029
(strike held ULP strike since caused and prolonged by E's bad faith bargaining where Ees voted to strike after being informed E had been bargaining in bad faith and that U intended to file charges with NLRB, notwithstanding that at time of strike parties were apart only on two issues)

O.K. Machine & Tool Corp. and Gyrotronics, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 030
(strike for recognition of one U as representative of strikers found ULP strike)

Mediterranean Diner, Inc., t/a Bay Diner 250 NLRB No. 029
(picketing which was precipitated by ULPs not ULP strike since Ees did not withhold services)

Excavation-Construction, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 081
(strike caused in part by E's institution of unilateral change in terms of employment)

B. N. Beard Company 248 NLRB No. 016
(strike caused by E's failure to make payments to welfare and pension funds required under contracts with Us held ULP strike; failure to comply with notice and strike deferral provisions of Sec. 8(d) held not to make strike illegal since Sec. 8(d) is not applicable to ULP strike)

Jacques Syl Knitwear, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 191
(ULP strike where caused and prolonged by E's unlawful threats and discharges)

Crosby Coal Corporation JD-295-82
(strike which began immediately after successor E informed predecessor's Ees that they would only be employed if they renounced U is ULP strike)

Sanders Bus Line, Inc. JD-(SF)-120-82
(strike held ULP strike where Ees on strike in effort to persuade E to bargain with U after U had been certified)

Circle X Corporation JD-(SF)-222-80
(strike caused by E's refusal to meet with full U negotiating committee, ULP strike)

Anderson Sand & Gravel Company JD-608-80
(held ULP strike where Ees of 1 U struck to protest hiring of Ees represented by different U who were not subject of contract of first U and E's unilaterally contracting with outside U for work claimed by first U, notwithstanding no-strike clause and U representative attempt to get Ees back to work and statement that walkout violated contract)

Mather Federal Credit Union JD-(SF)-8-80
(fact that Ees who protested E's ULPs also expected to put economic pressure upon E and thereby obtain acceptable contract held not to lessen their rights as ULP strikers)

N.L.R.B. v. Vanguard Oil and Service, Inc., et al. No. 78-4222, Sept. 2, 1980, C.A. 2, (unreported)
(strike held ULP strike in view of E's ULPs committed just four months prior to strike and ending just days before strike began (civil contempt proceeding))

N.L.R.B. v. Vanguard Oil and Service, Inc., et al. No. 75-4222, Sept. 2, 1980, C.A. 2, (unreported)
(in order to be considered an ULP strike, a causal relationship must be shown between work stoppage or prolongation of existing strike and E's violation of Act, and strike must be sole or substantial contributing cause of strikers' action; however, strike may be ULP strike even though it also has economic objectives (civil contempt) proceeding)

N.L.R.B. v. Shaw Industries, Inc., A Division of Crystal Springs Shirt Corp.; etc. 671 F.2d 1377(T) (C.A. 5, Mar. 1982)
(where ULP strike was in progress at one of E's plants, sympathy strike at second plant was ULP strike as timing of beginning and end of their strike coincided with ULP strike at first plant and some picket signs specified strike was in support of ULP strikers)

N.L.R.B. v. Robin American Corporation 654 F.2d 1022 (C.A. 5, 1981)
(refusal to reinstate striking Ees, violative, where strike was found ULP strike in view of fact that Ees struck in protest of unlawful lay-offs and discharges, unlawful closing of department, and unlawful threats and interrogations)

United Services For The Handicapped v. N.L.R.B. 678 F.2d 661 (C.A. 6, May 1982)
(strike held ULP strike where, while strikers obviously had economic demands, such demands cannot be said to have been sole reason for strike, and strikers were complaining at the time about continued harassment by E)

7067-6750 Causal relation of ULP must be shown

Airport Parking Management 264 NLRB No. 002
(strike held ULP strike where one of purposes of strike was to protest unlawful discharge)

Cooperativa De Credito Y Ahorro Vegabajeno 261 NLRB No. 161
(strike, whether economic or ULP strike at its inception, became ULP strike where record revealed strike was prolonged by unlawful discharge of Ee)

White Coffee Corporation 261 NLRB No. 149
(strike held ULP strike where provoked by unlawful discharge)

Heads and Threads Company, a Division of MSL
Industries, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 115
(in protest of unlawful discharges, threats, conditional promises of promotion, changes in working conditions, and denial of recognition of U)

Billion Motors, Inc., d/b/a Billion Oldsmobile-
Toyota 260 NLRB No. 099
(strike was ULP strike from its inception and throughout its duration, where it was motivated by E's unlawful efforts to bargain individually with Ees and its distribes against U; moreover E's unlawful bargaining tactics significantly prolonged strike)

Lion Uniform, Janesville Apparel Division 259 NLRB No. 142

Hudson Chemical Company 258 NLRB No. 009
(failure of E to bargain in good faith by refusing to supply U with information requested during negotiations)

International Business Systems, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 017
(strike held ULP strike since causal connection between strike and E's unlawful issuance of warning letters rather than noting Ee's errors on form which was followed by discharge of Ee who had received 3 letters; contention strikers did not strike over specific behavior found to be unlawful i.e. change in communication method w/i disciplinary system but rather struck on phantom issue of change in disciplinary standards rejected)

Pace Oldsmobile, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 111
(strike motivated by unlawful layoff)

7067-6750—Cont.

Gulf Envelope Company 256 NLRB No. 058
(economic strike held converted to ULP strike where E induced abandonment of strike by threats that strikers jobs might be permanently filled and any reinstatement would be w/o seniority, refused to pay accrued vacation benefits to strikers, and illegally discharged Ees, notwithstanding lack of direct evidence of Ees' concern with E's actions since violations of Act which have inherently destructive effect upon Ees' Section 7 rights will effect conversion of economic strike despite failure of Ees to perceive fully unlawfulness of ULPs)

Marlene Industries Corporation; et al. 255 NLRB No. 192
(strike held ULP strike where unlawful discharges were precipitating cause of strike, intertwined with dischargees' mutual grievances regarding conditions of employment; strikes at E's other facilities in sympathy with strike, also ULP strikes)

Walker Die Casting, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 034
(strike was not ULP strike at inception as ULP committed day before strike did not contribute to strike and U told Ees that strike would be economic; strike was economic as it was caused by E's failure to agree to contract)

John Cuneo, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 110

Climate Control Corporation 251 NLRB No. 102

Caterpillar Tractor Co. (Local 806, Allied Industrial Workers of America, AFL-CIO) 250 NLRB No. 089
(strike in protest of E's unlawful action in unilaterally changing transfer request system affecting voluntary demotion, held ULP strike from its inception)

Burns Motor Freight, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 045
(strike held ULP strike notwithstanding it commenced several months after ULPs, where ULPs were unremedied at time of strike and E's refusal to bargain continued)

Talbert Manufacturing, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 026

Amber Delivery Service, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 016
(strike called over lawful Ee discharges not ULP strike notwithstanding E committed other ULPs at same time as no causal relationship existed between strike and ULPs)

Cable Vision, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 062
(where picket signs used during strike noted there was ULP charge and bargaining in bad faith, E's conduct, found unlawful herein, caused strike and therefore was ULP strike)

ABL General Systems Corp. JD-(NY)-67-82
(strike caused in part by unlawful withdrawal of recognition of U found ULP strike)

Lucy's, Inc. JD-832-79
(strike held ULP strike, notwithstanding presence of economic issues, where Ees were apprised of E's ULP conduct before engaging in strike)

Soule Glass and Glazing Co., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 652 F.2d 1055 (C.A. 1, May 1981)
(it is not simply the case that whenever in course of strike E commits act that is found to constitute ULP, strike is thereby transformed into ULP strike; some showing of prolongation and causation is required to support finding of conversion)

Latrobe Steel Company v. N.L.R.B. 630 F.2d 171 (C.A. 3, 1980)
(mere fact that ULP is committed prior to a strike does not necessarily render that strike ULP strike; there must be evidence of causal connection)

Latrobe Steel Company v. N.L.R.B. 630 F.2d 171 (C.A. 3, 1980)
(where strike not ULP strike, ct will not enforce Bd's order of reinstatement and backpay; record was devoid of evidence that impasse over nonmandatory subject (presence of stenographers at negotiating sessions) contributed to U's decision to strike)

N.L.R.B. v. Shaw Industries, Inc., A Division of Crystal Springs Shirt Corp.; etc. 671 F.2d 1377(T) (C.A. 5, Mar. 1982)
(if ULP is a contributing cause of strike, then strike is ULP strike. Even if we assume there are dual motives (ULPs and economic reasons) involved in decision to strike, that dual motivation does not deprive Es of status of ULP striker if E's ULP is a contributing cause)

N.L.R.B. v. Crystal Springs Shirt corporation, Bernstein and Sons Shirt Corporation 637 F.2d 399 (C.A. 5, 1981)
(ct found that substantial evidence supported Bd finding that E's unilateral changes in piece rates and production quotas were contributing causes to strike, thus making it ULP strike)

N.L.R.B. v. Proler International Corporation 635 F.2d 351 (C.A. 5, 1981)

Walker Die Casting, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 682 F.2d 592 (C.A. 6, July 1982)
(economic strike converted to ULP strike where E withdrew recognition w/o good faith doubt that was reasonably grounded and thereby prolonged strike)

Bellingham Frozen Foods, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 626 F.2d 674 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(strikers entitled to unconditional reinstatement as ULP strikers where E had refused to bargain with U as representative of seasonal as well as nonseasonal workers and as E cannot unilaterally change scope of recognized bargaining unit, its attempt to do so made strike an unfair labor strike)

7067-6775 Conversion to economic strike

Murphy Bonded Warehouse, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 178
(economic strike converted to ULP strike by E's unlawful refusal to sign agreement where all terms agreed upon except return to work of strikers when U accepted E's final proposal and offered return to work of strikers but E falsely claimed to have permanent replacements)

Sunnyland Foods, Inc. JD-(ATL)-36-80
(ULP strike caused by E's unlawful refusal to bargain converted to economic strike after E complied with Bd's bargaining order and strike continued for five months after E began lawful bargaining)

Soule Glass and Glazing Co., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 652 F.2d 1055 (C.A. 1, May 1981)
(it is not simply the case that whenever in course of strike E commits act that is found to constitute ULP, strike is thereby transformed into ULP strike; some showing of prolongation and causation is required to support finding of conversion)

7800 'NATIONAL LABOR RELATIONS BOARD'

8500 'SUPERVISOR'

8501 GENERALLY

Key Opportunities, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 178
(individuals E called supervisors found Ees w/i meaning of Act, notwithstanding they possessed and exercised authority in supervisory capacity, where they supervised clients in sheltered workshop environment who had mental, emotional, social, or physical handicaps and such clients were not Ees for purposes of Act; E's supervisors would be supervisors w/i meaning of Act if clients were Ees)

ITT Lighting Fixtures, Division of ITT Corporation 265 NLRB No. 188
(on ct remand for further findings on supervisory authority of group leaders and whether their pro-U activity could effectively affect Ees' votes, Bd viewed it as law of the case, and as proper statement of law, that group leader is major (as opposed to minor) supervisor, whose pro-U activity could affect Ees' free choice in election, only if group leader possesses authority to hire, fire, promote, or issue written warnings on his own volition, or has authority to recommend such action)

Childers Manufacturing Company, Inc. JD-(SF)-11-82
(statutory definition of supervisor is not to be construed by Bd so broadly that it results in deprivation of statutory rights to individuals who, in reality, are Ees)

Crown Dielectric Industries, Inc. d/b/a Crown Auto Top Manufacturing JD-93-80
(possession of any one of enumerated powers set forth in Sec. 2(11) of Act establishes supervisory status)

N.L.R.B. v. Yeshiva University 582 F.2d 686 (C.A. 2)
(professional Ees may also be categorized as supervisory and managerial Ees ineligible for inclusion in bargaining unit)

Southern Indiana Gas and Electric Co. v. N.L.R.B. 657 F.2d 878 (C.A. 7, Aug 1981)
(ct found inapposite cases cited by Bd in support of its decision that system supervisors at electrical utility were supervisors, finding that Bd's asserted distinctions between cited cases and case herein reflected only semantic differences; Bd decisions, relied upon by Bd, were undermined by denial of enforcement in such cases; in respect to ct decisions concerning supervisory independent discretion, Bd's view was clearly contrary to existing ct law; and Bd relied on case which did not provide sufficient grounds on which ct could base conclusion)

Butler-Johnson Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 608 F.2d 1303 (C.A. 9)
(supervisory functions listed in Section 2(11) read in disjunctive and existence of any one of the functions sufficient to confer supervisory status)

N.L.R.B. v. Dillon Stores, Division of Dillon Companies, Inc. 643 F.2d 687 (C.A. 10, Mar 2, 1981)
(finding of supervisory status not always necessary before imputing individual's actions to E)

8501-2000 Existence of statutory power controlling

Kern Council Services To The Developmentally Disabled, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 108
(challenge to Ee's ballot sustained where Ee was found to be supervisor in light of her authority to grant or deny sick leave and vacation leave, to discipline an Ee, to evaluate her work performance, and to effectively recommend that her salary be increased; Bd held Ee's constant possession of supervisory authority, regardless of frequency of its exercise, is to be distinguished from instances where an individual lacks supervisor status because he possesses supervisory authority sporadically or infrequently)

8501-2000—Cont.

Garnbo Lace Mills, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 093
(if Ee possesses any one of supervisory criteria of Sec. 2(11) of Act he will be found supervisor as balancing test is not used to determine supervisory status)

Mid-City Beverage Dist., Inc. JD-(SF)-253-81
(powers of supervisors enumerated in Section 2(11) are to be read in disjunctive)

N.L.R.B. v. St. Mary's Home, Inc., t/a St. Mary's Infant Home 690 F.2d 1062 (C.A. 4, Sept. 1982)
(statutory definition of supervisor is to be read in disjunctive and that, if Ee has been delegated real authority to exercise any one of the statutory powers requiring use of independent judgment as opposed to being merely routine or clerical, regardless of frequency of exercise of such power, that Ee, whatever his job title, is to be treated as supervisor under the Act)

N.L.R.B. v. Dadco Fashions, Inc. 632 F.2d 493 (C.A. 5, Dec. 1980)
(functions of supervisor listed in statute are disjunctive. Bd need not show that an Ee performed all or several of functions to support finding of supervisory status)

N.L.R.B. v. Berger Transfer & Storage Co. 678 F.2d 679 (C.A. 7, May 1982)
(only one of criteria in Section 2(11) need be present to find supervisory status)

Southern Indiana Gas and Electric Co. v. N.L.R.B. 657 F.2d 878 (C.A. 7, Aug 1981)
(since Sec. 2(11) must be read in the disjunctive, supervisory status is proven if evidence establishes the presence of any one of the criteria listed therein)

Southern Indiana Gas and Electric Co. v. N.L.R.B. 657 F.2d 878 (C.A. 7, Aug 1981)
(existence of supervisory authority, not frequency of its use, determines supervisory authority under Sec. 2(11))

N.L.R.B. v. Dick Seidler Enterprises, dba Joe & Dodie's Tavern 666 F.2d 383 (C.A. 9, Jan. 1982)
(existence of any one of statutory powers, regardless of frequency of exercise is sufficient to confer supervisory status if person uses independent judgment in connection with power)

8501-3000 Stipulation by parties

Rosehill Cemetery Association 262 NLRB No. 164
(oral agreement between E and U to exclude individuals alleged to be supervisors from unit held not binding since Bd will not be bound by any agreement of parties, outside of narrow exception in Banner Bedding, Inc. 214 NLRB 1013, that is not written and signed and which does not expressly provide that issues of eligibility resolved by it shall be final and binding upon parties. Furthermore, Bd will not be bound by any written or oral agreement of parties where statutory issue of inclusion or exclusion of alleged supervisors in unit is raised for Bd resolution)

A & B Cartage, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 003
(Bd not bound by Norris-Thermador list on issues of supervisory status)

8501-4000 Functions, duties, and authority, rather than titles significant

Key Opportunities, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 178
(individuals E called supervisors found Ees w/i meaning of Act, notwithstanding they possessed and exercised authority in supervisory capacity, where they supervised clients in sheltered workshop environment who had mental, emotional, social, or physical handicaps and such clients were not Ees for purposes of Act; E's supervisors would be supervisors w/i meaning of Act if clients were Ees)

Tru-Mar Communications, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 089
(duties Ee held at time of discharge control question of Ee's supervisory status)

RAHCO, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 030

Magnolia Manor Nursing Home, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 040
(rank-and-file Ee cannot be transformed into supervisor merely by investing him or her with a title and theoretical power to perform one or more of enumerated functions)

Hydro Conduit Corporation 254 NLRB No. 068
(production foreman at manufacturer of concrete pipe not supervisor since he lacked authority to effectively recommend changes in Ee's status or make decisions involving exercise of independent judgment but acted only as conduit between Ees and management, notwithstanding empowered to assign work, give verbal reprimands, grant leave requests, assign overtime, handle Ee complaints and grievances, report poor production, and violations of work rules and provide input regarding evaluation of Ees, attended management meetings, and did little actual production work)

B-P Custom Building Products, Inc.; and Thomas R. Peck Mfg. 251 NLRB No. 179
(notwithstanding E referred to Ee as supervisor, Ee found to be an agent of E and not a supervisor,where Ee had none of the authority vested in supervisory personnel and relayed information from management to Ees; he had been placed by management in strategic position where Ees could reasonably believe he spoke on E's behalf)

Henry A. Young, d/b/a Columbia Engineers International 249 NLRB No. 144
(individual held not supervisor absent evidence of supervisory authority, notwithstanding he was referred to as supervisor and on occasion introduced to new Ees as supervisor since supervisory status may not be determined on basis of title alone, but upon application of Section 2(11) standards)

Childers Manufacturing Company, Inc. JD-(SF)-11-82
(in assessing whether supervisory status exists, specific job title is not, of itself, controlling; mere designation of Ee as manager, of itself did not confer supervisory status)

Mid-City Beverage Dist., Inc. JD-(SF)-253-81
(sales supervisor for beer distributor, notwithstanding title, higher pay, and daily evaluation of salesmen since evaluations routine and did not require independent judgment, he could not or make effective recommendations regarding hiring, discharge, discipline or promotion, grant time off, assign Ees or effectively determine length of training; further, supervisor substituted for salesmen on routes, used same sign in sheets and received same vacation as salesmen)

International Union of Elevator Constructors, Local No. 16 (Otis Elevator Company) JD-183-80

N.L.R.B. v. Valentine A. Heid Estate, d/b/a Heid's Lunch Stand 615 F.2d 962 (C.A. 2, 1980)
(individual designated night acting manager at food stand held not supervisor, notwithstanding cousin of owner, where he performed same duties as countermen most of shift, compensation less than that of some individuals in unit, only responsibility associated with title was counting of receipts and locking of doors; further, individual had hired only one person which was reviewed by management, and had no control over wages or scope of work of person hired, nor is his expressing displeasure when co-workers did not perform their share of duties)

N.L.R.B. v. Wilson-Crissman Cadillac, Inc. 659 F.2d 728 (C.A. 6, 1981)
(Bd's finding that Ee not supervisor or managerial supported by substantial evidence; although Ee's title was that of assistant parts manager, job title not controlling; Ee did not hire or fire and gave only routine instructions to Ees in his department and record was devoid of any involvement with E's labor relations by Ee)

Southern Indiana Gas and Electric Co. v. N.L.R.B. 657 F.2d 878 (C.A. 7, Aug 1981)
(in finding system supervisors at electrical utility supervisory, ct considered fact that E's designation of position as supervisory, while not itself determinative, was a significant factor in ascertaining supervisory status; weight should be accorded to job description which specified that major challenge of job was ability to handle effectively necessary spontaneous actions and decisions required in emergencies, and acknowledged that supervisors' impact on purchasing and power control had immeasurable effect; nor was job description mere pretense by not fairly reflecting actual duties of supervisors)

McDonnell Douglas Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 655 F.2d 932 (C.A. 9, 1981)
(to qualify as supervisor, it is only necessary that person supervise statutory Ees directly or indirectly through chain of command)

8501-5000 Determination in another proceeding not conclusive

Crown Cork & Seal Company, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 004
(Ees' supervisory status determined in underlying R case may not be relitigated in C case absent newly discovered evidence, changed circumstances affecting R case findings or other extraordinary circumstances; see Bd's R/R, Section 102.67(f))

N.L.R.B. v. Dillon Stores, Division of Dillon Companies, Inc. 643 F.2d 687 (C.A. 10, Mar 2, 1981)
(ULP proceedings under Sec. 8(a)(1) or (3) are not so related to prior R proceedings that relitigation of common issues is precluded under Section 102.67(f) of Bd's R/R)

N.L.R.B. v. Dillon Stores, Division of Dillon Companies, Inc. 643 F.2d 687 (C.A. 10, Mar 2, 1981)
(different policy considerations underlie determination of supervisor in R and ULP proceedings)

8501-6000 Voting in election not conclusive

King Trucking Company 259 NLRB No. 079
(supervisor's voting in election not indicative of his status)

8501-6000—Cont.

N.L.R.B. v. Concord Furniture Industries, Inc., d/b/a Bradford Furniture Company 675 F.2d 426 (C.A. 1, Mar. 1982)

8520 INDICIA OF SUPERVISORY STATUS

8520-0100 Generally

Key Opportunities, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 178

(aides employed by E who operated sheltered workshops for handicapped clients found Ees and not supervisors even if clients they supervised were held herein to be Ees, where authority over clients was too indirect and insubstantial; moreover, aides were paid on an hourly basis, punched a timeclock, and two of the three aides had previously been in sheltered program as clients unlike any one else in management)

Tru-Mar Communications, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 089

(duties Ee held at time of discharge control question of Ee's supervisory status)

RAHCO, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 030

(burden of proving supervisory status rests on party alleging that such status exists)

8520-0800 Authority to hire, discipline, assign, etc.

Serendippity-Un-Ltd and Tigerrr, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 100

(low-level day supervisor at plant manufacturing truck beds, who has power to direct work in his discretion held supervisory, notwithstanding his lack of power to hire or fire Ees)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014

(while other functions and duties of assistant public relations manager in newspaper's public relations department did not indicate supervisory authority, his exercise of discretion in hiring and selecting tour guides for public relations department warrants finding him supervisory)

Liquid Transporters, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 163

(shift leaders employed in maintenance shop and cleaning rack of interstate common carrier held supervisors where, notwithstanding that they had same benefits as other Ees, they were solely responsible for their respective shifts; in their discretion, they scheduled and assigned work to Ees under them; they had authority to transfer Ees, give Ees time-off and overtime and made effective oral and written recommendations concerning Ees' work performance)

Han-Dee Pak, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 107

(leadmen held supervisors, notwithstanding little opportunity to exercise their authority to hire, fire, or discipline Ees; furthermore, E placed leadmen in strategic position where Ees could reasonably believe that they speak on E's behalf)

ITT Lighting Fixtures, Division of ITT Corporation 249 NLRB No. 061

(sole group leader in department held supervisor where she trains Ees, corrects their work, adjusts Ee grievances, approves overtime, grants time off, reassigns Ees to different work areas and issues oral warnings, notwithstanding she lacks authority to hire, fire, promote or grant wage increases)

Commercial Testing & Engineering Co. (Teamsters, Local Union 175) 248 NLRB No. 096

(notwithstanding much of time spent performing unit work)

Leyendecker Paving, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 010

(although Ee at highway and construction company worked with his hands, supervisory status was found where Ee was paid substantially greater wages than rest of his crew, drove company truck, had power to authorise overtime work, recommended wage increases, assigned or transferred jobs based on his discretion, had authority to discipline and conceded his job was similar to admitted supervisor)

Carpenters, Local Union 1096 (Basic Industries, Inc.) JD-(ATL)-83-82

Childers Manufacturing Company, Inc. JD-(SF)-11-82

(absence of power to hire Ees or to recommend that any Ee be hired or fired does not, of itself, preclude conclusion that Ee had been a statutory supervisor for it is the existence of supervisory power, and not necessarily constant and continuous utilization of it, which determines supervisory status)

Transportation By La Mar, Inc. JD-279-81

(administrative assistant, employed by passenger bus service, who oversees supervisors and has authority to hire and fire held supervisor)

Gladwin Corporation JD-565-80

N.L.R.B. v. Robin American Corporation 654 F.2d 1022 (C.A. 5, 1981)

(Bd correctly found Ees not supervisors where they did not make hiring and firing decisions but merely made casual suggestions and each performed manual routine tasks)

N.L.R.B. v. Dadco Fashions, Inc. 632 F.2d 493 (C.A. 5, Dec. 1980)

N.L.R.B. v. Berger Transfer & Storage Co. 678 F.2d 679 (C.A. 7, May 1982)

Southern Indiana Gas and Electric Co. v. N.L.R.B. 657 F.2d 878 (C.A. 7, Aug 1981)

(in finding system supervisors at electrical utility supervisory, ct considered scope of their authority in emergency situations which, in absence of their chief, required them to design an emergency schedule and to give field Ees step-by-step instructions by radio upon which field Ees were totally dependent; while switching schedules are usually double-checked, it is not done in an emergency unless chief supervisor is present; and fact that emergencies are infrequent does not minimize supervisor's role, since existence of supervisors authority, not frequency of its use, determines supervisory status)

8520-1600 Power 'effectively to recommend'

ITT Lighting Fixtures, Division of ITT Corporation 265 NLRB No. 108

(authority effectively to recommend generally means that recommended action is taken with no independent investigation by supervisors, not simply that recommendation is ultimately followed)

Kern Council Services To The Developmentally Disabled, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 108

(challenge to Ee's ballot sustained where Ee was found to be supervisor in light of her authority to grant or deny sick leave and vacation leave, to discipline an Ee, to evaluate her work performance, and to effectively recommend that her salary be increased; Bd held Ee's constant possession of supervisory authority, regardless of frequency of its exercise, is to be distinguished from instances where an individual lacks supervisor status because he possesses supervisory authority sporadically or infrequently)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014

(while assistant editors who substitute 2 times a week for day sports editor at newspaper were not sought to be excluded from unit, Bd held there was no showing that assistant editors have same daily input that day sports editor, herein found supervisory, possesses regarding effective recommendation of hiring, discharge, and other supervisory indicia)

S. L. Industries Inc. and Extruded Products, Corp. 252 NLRB No. 151

(hourly paid leadlady held supervisor where she effectively recommended retention of probationary Ees, responsibly directed work of Ees in her department and Ees were led to believe that she was in charge of department)

Liquid Transporters, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 163

(shift leaders employed in maintenance shop and cleaning rack of interstate common carrier held supervisors where, notwithstanding that they had same benefits as other Ees, they were solely responsible for their respective shifts; in their discretion, they scheduled and assigned work to Ees under them; they had authority to transfer Ees, give Ees time-off and overtime and made effective oral and written recommendations concerning Ees' work performance)

James F. Stanford, Inc. d/b/a Ace Machine Co. 249 NLRB No. 073

(supervisor, despite E's denial that individual was or is supervisor)

Childers Manufacturing Company, Inc. JD-(SF)-11-82

(absence of power to hire EEs or to recommend that any Ee be hired or fired oes not, of itself, preclude conclusion that Ee had been a statutory scpervisor for it is the existence of supervisory power, and not necessarily constant and continuous utilization of it, which determines supervisory status)

Gladwin Corporation JD-565-80

Cardinal Heating and Cooling, Inc. JD-835-79

(although Ee could not take final action as to hiring, firing, or granting wage increases, Ee was able to effectively recommend such actions, and thus be considered supervisor)

N.L.R.B. v. Clark Manor Nursing Home Corp. 671 F.2d 657 (C.A. 1, Feb. 1982)

(activities director)

N.L.R.B. v. Dadco Fashions, Inc. 632 F.2d 493 (C.A. 5, Dec. 1980)

The Berry Schools v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 966 (C.A. 5, Oct. 1980)

(college department chairman held supervisor where he could effectively recommend firing, retention, and merit increases of other faculty members in his department)

8520-2400 Responsible direction

Clear Lam Packaging, Inc. 268 NLRB No. 96

(individuals held supervisors and challenge to ballots upheld where, notwithstanding their authority to assign Ees limited by oral instructions from superior, frequent rush jobs, breakdown of machine, or lack of material necessitated exercise of discretion in assignments demonstrating independent judgment and responsible direction)

8520-2400—Cont.

Washington Beef Producers, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 155
(Ees found supervisors where they were recognized to be supervisory and held themselves out as such; moreover, they approved time away from work and responded to Ee complaints; finally, Ee ratio to supervisors would be inordinately high if these Ees were not determined to be supervisors)

Serendippity-Un-Ltd and Tigerrr, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 100
(low-level day supervisor at plant manufacturing truck beds, who has power to direct work in his discretion held supervisory, notwithstanding his lack of power to hire or fire Ees)

Teamsters Local Union No. 574, a/w Teamsters (Lois Wheeler, an Individual) 259 NLRB No. 037
(office manager handing out routine typing assignments to other clericals who happen not to be busy, not indicia of supervisory status)

S. L. Industries Inc. and Extruded Products, Corp. 252 NLRB No. 151
(hourly paid leadlady held supervisor where she effectively recommended retention of probationary Ees, responsibly directed work of Ees in her department and Ees were led to believe that she was in charge of department)

Liquid Transporters, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 163
(shift leaders employed in maintenance shop and cleaning rack of interstate common carrier held supervisors where, notwithstanding that they had same benefits as other Ees, they were solely responsible for their respective shifts; in their discretion, they scheduled and assigned work to Ees under them; they had authority to transfer Ees, give Ees time-off and overtime and made effective oral and written recommendations concerning Ees' work performance)

Chair Makers, Inc. JD-(SF)-4-82
(leadperson in sewing department of E's fabric facility held supervisor where person was salaried rather than paid by piece work or hourly wage like production Ees and sewing department had only one supervisor for some 70 Ees; ratio favored finding leadperson was supervisor. Furthermore, individual responsibly directs Ees in sufficient manner to be supervisor, recommends when overtime is needed and selects individuals to do this work)

N.L.R.B. v. St. Mary's Home, Inc., t/a St. Mary's Infant Home 690 F.2d 1062 (C.A. 4, Sept. 1982)
(test of responsible direction does not depend on complexity and difficulty of work... adoption of that test would unrealistically rule out finding of responsible direction in all situations where work involved does not require high degree of skill and technical competence)

Monongahela Power Company v. N.L.R.B. 657 F.2d 608 (C.A. 4, 1981)
(control room foremen (CRF's) found supervisors where they are in charge of control room and thus operation of entire power plant; they coordinate activities of operators and maintenance men during startup and shutdown, act quickly and independently in emergency situations; therefore fact that they do not have authority with regard to hiring, firing, etc. is not controlling as test for supervisory status is disjunctive)

Southern Indiana Gas and Electric Co. v. N.L.R.B. 657 F.2d 878 (C.A. 7, Aug 1981)
(in finding system supervisors at electrical utility supervisory because they responsibly directed other Ees pursuant to their job description which stipulated that they had authority to direct crews to assure safe and adequate power production, ct held fact that system supervisors do not exercise complete authority over Ees does not mean that they do not direct them; nor did cooperative spirit in which work is performed deprive supervisors of supervisory status)

Meredith Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 679 F.2d 1332 (C.A. 10, June 1982)

8520-3300 Training, instruction and inspection functions

ITT Lighting Fixtures, Division of ITT Corporation 249 NLRB No. 061

Carpenters, Local Union 1098 (Basic Industries, Inc.) JD-(ATL)-83-82

8520-3900 Adjustment of grievances

Comprehensive Health Planning Council of Southeastern Michigan 266 NLRB No. 183
(managers of operating divisions of nonprofit corporation providing health care planning service, held supervisors, notwithstanding they spent significant amount of time performing same type of work as professionals where they were paid at higher hourly rate than professionals beneath them in E's hierarchy, assigned, coordinated and reviewed work of their subordinates, prepared annual evaluations which became part of Ee's permanent personnel file, were persons with whom Ees dealt with at first stage of grievance procedure, and E indicated by want ads and job descriptions that these Ees were supervisors)

ITT Lighting Fixtures, Division of ITT Corporation 249 NLRB No. 061

Carpenters, Local Union 1098 (Basic Industries, Inc.) JD-(ATL)-83-82

Gladwin Corporation JD-362-80
(hourly paid crew leader of machinists held supervisor wherein he was sole representative of E in charge of machinists at plant of E; in his own discretion, he assigned and reassigned work, he granted Ees time off, effectively recommended hire of machinists and adjusted grievances at first step of grievance procedure)

8520-4700 'Independent judgment' in exercise of authority

Clear Lam Packaging, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 96
(individuals held supervisors and challenge to ballots upheld where, notwithstanding their authority to assign Ees limited by oral instructions from superior, frequent rush jobs, breakdown of machine, or lack of material necessitated exercise of discretion in assignments demonstrating independent judgment and responsible direction)

Advanced Mining Group, Div. of Republic Corp., Lucerne Facility 260 NLRB No. 073
(Ee designated by E as supervisor not supervisory, since he did not sufficiently possess authority to exercise independent judgment nor was it shown that he responsibly directed other maintenance workers or effectively recommended such action)

Kern Council Services To The Developmentally Disabled, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 108
(challenge to Ee's ballot sustained where Ee was found to be supervisor in light of her authority to grant or deny sick leave and vacation leave, to discipline an Ee, to evaluate her work performance, and to effectively recommend that her salary be increased; Bd held Ee's constant possession of supervisory authority, regardless of frequency of its exercise, is to be distinguished from instances where an individual lacks supervisor status because he possesses supervisory authority sporadically or infrequently)

G. H. Skipper, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 053
(foreman found supervisor and excluded from unit where had broad independent authority to discharge or suspend crew members notwithstanding their day-to-day functions are comparable to crew leaders whom Bd had previously found not to be supervisors)

Hydro Conduit Corporation 251 NLRB No. 048
(production foreman at manufacturer of concrete pipe not supervisor since he lacked authority to effectively recommend changes in Ee's status or make decisions involving exercise of independent judgment but acted only as conduit between Ees and management, notwithstanding empowered to assign work, give verbal reprimands, grant leave requests, assign overtime, handle Ee complaints and grievances, report poor production, and violations of work rules and provide input regarding evaluation of Ees, attended management meetings, and did little actual production work)

ITT Lighting Fixtures, Division of ITT Corporation 249 NLRB No. 061
(group leaders who possessed authority to adjust grievances, issue oral warnings, grant overtime, initial timecards, grant time off, reassign Ees to different work areas, enforce E's rules regarding safety, monitor abuse of coffee breaks and restroom priveleges and required to exercise independent judgment in performance of duties)

Childers Manufacturing Company, Inc. JD-(SF)-11-82
(supervisory status exists only if the power is exercised with independent judgment, and not in a routine or clerical manner)

Misericordia Hospital Medical Center v. N.L.R.B. 623 F.2d 808 (C.A. 2, 1980)

N.L.R.B. v. Porta Systems Corporation 625 F.2d 399 (C.A. 2, 1980)
(finding upheld that leadpersons at electronics manufacturer were supervisors in view of their exercise of independent judgment in their responsible direction of Ees' work, effective recommendation of Ees' wage increases, discipline of Ees, and assignment of work to Ees)

N.L.R.B. v. Porta Systems Corporation 625 F.2d 399 (C.A. 2, 1980)
(use of independent judgment in interest of management as ultimate test)

N.L.R.B. v. St. Mary's Home, Inc., t/a St. Mary's Infant Home 690 F.2d 1062 (C.A. 4, Sept. 1982)
(applicability of independent judgment test in determining nurse's supervisory status depends on whether exercise of judgment by her is merely incident of professional service or is in addition to professional service)

N.L.R.B. v. Dadco Fashions, Inc. 632 F.2d 493 (C.A. 5, Dec. 1980)

Irvin H. Whitehouse & Sons Co. v. N.L.R.B. 659 F.2d 830 (C.A. 7, Sept. 1981)
(office manager of retail and wholesale tire company held supervisor where she made decisions regarding availability and amount of credit to be extended to customers, interviewed applicants for employment, effectively recommended hiring and directed day-to-day activities of Ees)

8520-4700—Cont.

Southern Indiana Gas and Electric Co. v. N.L.R.B. 657 F.2d 878 (C.A. 7, Aug 1981)
(in finding system supervisors at electric utility supervisory, ct found existence of guidelines regarding switching operations insufficient to deprive supervisors of supervisory status; although some routine switching schedules were available, there was no evidence to indicate that they covered every potential contingency or that they were actually used by supervisors; even if it were found that written guidelines covered every eventuality, it does not demonstrate that independent judgment was not exercised)

8520-5000 Different terms and conditions of employment

Tra-Mar Communications, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 089
(fact that supervisor continued to receive weekly salary when transferred to P&M work rather than hourly wage received by P&M Ees not indicative of Ee's supervisory status)

Comprehensive Health Planning Council of Southeastern Michigan 256 NLRB No. 183
(managers of operating divisions of nonprofit corporation providing health care planning service, held supervisors, notwithstanding they spent significant amount of time performing same type of work as professionals where they were paid at higher hourly rate than professionals beneath them in E's hierarchy, assigned, coordinated and reviewed work of their subordinates, prepared annual evaluations which became part of Ee's permanent personnel file, were persons with whom Ees dealt with at first stage of grievance procedure, and E indicated by want ads and job discriptions that these Ees were supervisors)

Childers Manufacturing Company, Inc. JD-(SF)-11-82
(fact that wage rate of Ee had been raised to higher level does not suffice to establish supervisory status)

Southern Indiana Gas and Electric Co. v. N.L.R.B. 657 F.2d 878 (C.A. 7, Aug 1981)
(in finding, contrary to Bd, that system supervisors at electrical utility were supervisory, ct considered Bd's failure to give any weight to fact that supervisors are salaried Ees ineligible for overtime pay; while such factor, standing alone, may not be overly significant, it merits some weight when considered with the rest of the evidence supporting supervisory status)

8520-5800 Different employment functions

Tra-Mar Communications, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 089
(duties Ee held at time of discharge control question of Ee's supervisory status)

8520-6200 Substitution for supervisor

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(finding of supervisory status based in part on fact that deputy metro editor in newspaper's newsroom acts as supervisor 2 days a week during his supervisor's absence and also during his vacation)

McKesson & Robbins Drug Co. JD-(SF)-275-79
(Ee who acted as interim supervisor held supervisor where she observed other Ees, evaluated them, made recommendations concerning discipline and E relied upon her for advice)

N.L.R.B. v. St. Mary's Home, Inc., t/a St. Mary's Infant Home 690 F.2d 1062 (C.A. 4, Sept. 1982)
(finding of supervisor status based in part on fact that LPN performed same functions and exercised same powers on 2 days per week that RN, admitted supervisor, was not present)

N.L.R.B. v. Andrea Associates, a joint venture d/b/ a Pinecrest Hospital 614 F.2d 777(T) (C.A. 9) (1980)
(day shift staff registered nurse reassigned from her night shift supervisor position held not Ee working in appropriate unit w/i voting eligibility period, in view of her nearly one year term as relief night shift supervisor with understanding that she would continue in her supervisory capacity until new person could be found and trained)

8520-7000 Ostensible authority

Washington Beef Producers, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 155
(Ees found supervisors where they were recognized to be supervisory and held themselves out as such; moreover, they approved time away from work and responded to Ee complaints; finally, Ee ratio to supervisors would be inordinantly high if these Ees were not determined to be supervisors)

R. L. White Company, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 069
(Ee who had been supervisor prior to plant reorganization found to retain sufficient indicia of authority for E to be held responsible for anti-U activity)

G.T.A. Enterprises, Inc. d/b/a Restaurant Norhaus 260 NLRB No. 029
(office manager of restaurant found supervisor where even if he didn't have actual authority, E cloaked him with sufficient apparent authority for Ees to regard him as supervisor)

Comprehensive Health Planning Council of Southeastern Michigan 256 NLRB No. 183
(managers of operating divisions of nonprofit corporation providing health care planning service, held supervisors, notwithstanding they spent significant amount of time performing same type of work as professionals where they were paid at higher hourly rate than professionals beneath them in E's hierarchy, assigned, coordinated and reviewed work of their subordinates, prepared annual evaluations which became part of Ee's permanent personnel file, were persons with whom Ees dealt with at first stage of grievance procedure, and E indicated by want ads and job discriptions that these Ees were supervisors)

Burnup & Sims, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 142
(crew foreman of subcontractor engaged in cable splicing work for telephone company held supervisor and whose decision to grant time off to his entire crew E was bound, since foreman was management representative empowered to grant days off as well as directing work of splicing crew; crew could have reasonably believed that foreman was acting for and on behalf of E)

S. L. Industries Inc. and Extruded Products, Corp. 252 NLRB No. 151
(hourly paid leadlady held supervisor where she effectively recommended retention of probationary Ees, responsibly directed work of Ees in her department and Ees were led to believe that she was in charge of department)

467 East Gilbert Street Corporation d/b/a Medical Center Convalescent Hospital 247 NLRB No. 074
(Ee found to be supervisor w/i meaning of Act; and assuming, arguendo, that she was not, she had held herself out to other Ees as agent of E)

N.L.R.B. v. Andrea Associates, a joint venture d/b/ a Pinecrest Hospital 614 F.2d 777(T) (C.A. 9) (1980)
(day shift staff registered nurse reassigned from her night shift supervisor position held not Ee working in appropriate unit w/i voting eligibility period, in view of her nearly one year term as relief night shift supervisor with understanding that she would continue in her supervisory capacity until new person could be found and trained)

8520-7800 Ratio to supervised employees

Washington Beef Producers, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 155
(Ees found supervisors where they were recognized to be supervisory and held themselves out as such; moreover, they approved time away from work and responded to Ee complaints; finally, Ee ratio to supervisors would be inordinantly high if these Ees were not determined to be supervisors)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(E's contention that if row supervisors in phone room of newspaper's classified advertising department are not found supervisory, supervisory/Ee ratio would be too low, rejected, since ratio is not so small as it seems because only 68 of 135 telephone solicitors work full time and only 11 or 12 work at any time on particular row)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(while probative, ratio of supervisors to Ees is not determinative where remainder of salient facts do not otherwise indicate supervisory status; accordingly, fact that administrative assistant to supervisor in newspaper's advertising accounts receivable department was the only purported supervisor in department with ratio being 1:45 is not indicative of supervisory status)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(fact that supervisor/Ee ratio would be 1:99 if deputy metro editor in newspaper's newsroom were not found supervisory noted as basis for finding him to be a supervisor)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(neither executive food editor nor food editor of newspaper's food section held supervisory where supervisor/Ee ratio would be 2 to 1 if both were found to be supervisors)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(photo assignment editor and night picture editor in newspaper's photo and art department, not supervisory, where there would be 4 supervisors to 14 photographers if they were found to be supervisory)

J. J. Newberry Co., A Wholly Owned Subsidiary of McCrory Corporation 249 NLRB No. 126
(clerical found member of unit and eligible to vote where her duties are of routine nature and Ees who work with her require no direction; moreover since only 2 Ees work with her it would result in unrealistic supervisor/Ee ratio)

Chair Makers, Inc. JD-(SF)-4-82
(leadperson in sewing department of E's fabric facility held supervisor where person was salaried rather than paid by piece work or hourly wage like production Ees and sewing department had only one supervisor for some 70 Ees; ratio favored finding leadperson was supervisor. Furthermore, individual responsibly directs Ees in sufficient manner to be supervisor, recommends when overtime is needed and selects individuals to do this work)

8520-8000 Training for supervisory positions

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(assistant purchasing manager in purchasing department of newspaper's administrative services department held not supervisory since, if he were found supervisory, there would be 2 supervisors and only 4 full-time and 1 part-time Ee in purchasing department)

A.S.U., a subsidiary of Intermedco JD-(SF)-161-80
(individual held supervisor and interrogation imputed to E where E had announced individual was soon to be supervisor and she assumed increasingly supervisory functions of interviewing and screening applicants, developing productivity rating system, instructing Ees and setting priorities)

United States Steel Corporation, Inland Steel Company, Bethlehem Steel Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 644 F.2d 206 (C.A. 3, Mar 19, 1981)
(E's Ees who attended special summer school which prepared Ees to take Coast Guard licensing examination which would qualify passing applicants for supervisory positions, held to be supervisory trainees, since students attending school for purpose of becoming licensed officers, that is, nonbargaining unit Ees)

United States Steel Corporation, Inland Steel Company, Bethlehem Steel Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 644 F.2d 206 (C.A. 3, Mar 19, 1981)
(Curtis Industries, Division of Curtis Noll Corporation, 218 NLRB 447 (1975) is consistent with, and not departure from, community of interest analyses developed by Bd in long line of cases; ct concurs with fifth circuit's opn that the factors for establishing when participation in managerial trainee program will amount to managerial status— derive from a series of cases decided by Bd many years earlier than Curtis Noll; NLRB v. Kent Corp., 564 F.2d 186, 188 (5th Cir. 1977))

8520-9200 Unless found supervisor, shop without supervisor

Sumco Manufacturing Co., Inc. Summit Grinding Company 251 NLRB No. 046

Gladwin Corporation JD-565-80
(hourly paid crew leader of machinists held supervisor wherehe was sole representative of E in charge of machinists at plant of E; in his own discretion, he assigned and reassigned work, he granted Ees time off, effectively recommended hire of machinists and adjusted grievances at first step of grievance procedure)

Comfort Health Corporation d/b/a Kendallville Nursing Home JD-329-80
(relief charge aide on shift at nursing home held supervisor where had authority to discipline and if not supervisor home would be w/o supervisor for several hours each day)

International Union of Elevator Constructors, Local No. 16 (Otis Elevator Company) JD-183-80
(construction foreman, also designated mechanic-in-charge, engaged in elevator construction at jobsite)

N.L.R.B. v. Faulkner Hospital 691 F.2d 51 (C.A. 1, Oct. 1982)
(security-guard on hospital night-shift found not supervisory notwithstanding his title was security supervisor where any authority he possessed was of routine nature not requiring independent judgment and he periodically switched shifts with rank-and-file security officers and supervisors resulting in occasions when there was in fact no designated supervisor present on the night shift)

Southern Indiana Gas and Electric Co. v. N.L.R.B. 657 F.2d 878 (C.A. 7, Aug 1981)
(in finding system supervisors at electrical utility supervisory, ct upheld contention that unless supervisors were considered supervisors, E's system would be operated w/o any supervision during certain hours and in emergencies; supervisors were responsible for complete operation of E's system; fact that they may consult with superior in an emergency or may advise superiors of action taken, does not obscure fact that they can virtually do anything to protect system; moreover, switching schedules were rarely reviewed and supervisors' purchase of emergency power had occurred w/o prior approval)

N.L.R.B. v. Dillon Stores, Division of Dillon Companies, Inc. 643 F.2d 687 (C.A. 10, Mar 2, 1981)
(only admitted supervisor visited department 1 hour weekly)

8520-9300 Attendance at supervisors' meetings

Southern Indiana Gas and Electric Co. v. N.L.R.B. 657 F.2d 878 (C.A. 7, Aug 1981)
(in finding, contrary to Bd, that system supervisors at electrical utility were supervisory, ct considered conflicting evidence regarding supervisors' participation in management meetings; while Bd seized upon supervisor's denial that he ever attended management meetings, it gave no weight to E's testimony that supervisors were invited to management meetings, which has been cited by a ct as one factor supporting supervisory status; and Bd oversimplified dispute herein when it credited testimony of the only supervisor who testified and disregarded E's testimony on the subject)

8540 TYPES OF EMPLOYEES FOUND SUPERVISORY (BY SIC)

8540-1200 Bituminous coal and lignite mining

Maidsville Coal Co., Inc. 257 NLRB No. 148
(working foreman, although apparently self-appointed to position, found supervisor where he regularly directed afternoon shift and exercised independent judgement in doing so)

8540-1500 Building construction - general contractors and operative builders

Sterie Sons Construction Co., Inc. 260 NLRB No. 173
(foreman of stonemasons held supervisor where he relayed orders from project superindent to journeyman masons, earned 50 cents more an hour than journeymen, ceased working with his tools, laid out job and if foremen not found supervisor stonemasons would have no supervisor)

8540-1600 Construction other than building construction - general contractors

Leyendecker Paving, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 010
(although Ee at highway and construction company worked with his hands, supervisory status was found where Ee was paid substantially greater wages than rest of his crew, drove company truck, had power to authorize overtime work, recommended wage increases, assigned or transferred jobs based on his discretion, had authority to discipline and conceded his job was similar to admitted supervisor)

G. H. Skipper, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 053
(foreman found supervisor and excluded from unit where had broad independent authority to discharge or suspend crew members notwithstanding their day-to-day functions are comparable to crew leaders whom Bd had previously found not to be supervisors)

8540-1700 Construction - special trade contractors

Don Pizzolato, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 136
(salaried Ee who assigned work to other Ees, supervises their performance, reprimands them, recommends change in employment conditions, hiring, pledges firm's credit, in charge when E absent, has keys to office and no other officers or supervisors exist held supervisor)

Burnup & Sims, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 142
(crew foreman of subcontractor engaged in cable splicing work for telephone company held supervisor and whose decision to grant time off to his entire crew E was bound, since foreman was management representative empowered to grant days off as well as directing work of splicing crew; crew could have reasonably believed that foreman was acting for and on behalf of E)

Victor Electric Company JD-365-82
(journeymen electrician found supervisor where he assigned work, overtime, checked for completeness of work, consulted with company president on layoffs, and was sole job foreman directing 20 electricians)

Local 28, Bricklayers & Allied Craftsmen (AFL-CIO) (Sal Masonry Contractors, Inc.) 265 NLRB No. 108
(masonry contractor's Ee who was member of U held supervisor since he had authority to hire and fire, and authority to resolve Ee grievances on the job)

Local Union No. 46 Metallic Lathers and Reinforcing Iron Workers (Cement League) 259 NLRB No. 010
(foremen found supervisors notwithstanding they were expressly included in unit description where they had authority to assign work, resolve grievances, to hire, layoff and discharge Ees)

Carpenters, Local Union 1098 (Basic Industries, Inc.) JD-(ATL)-83-82
(general foreman employed by general contractor's scaffold division held supervisor where he represented E for purpose of adjusting Ee grievances concerning terms and conditions of employment)

International Union of Elevator Constructors, Local No. 16 (Otis Elevator Company) JD-183-80
(construction foreman, also designated mechanic-in-charge, engaged in elevator construction at jobsite)

8540-2000 Food and kindred products

Premium Foods, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 092
(butcher and gang leader at operation engaged in purveying meat and meat products)

Pacific Coast International Meat Co. 260 NLRB No. 183
(foremen in steakcutting and wrapping subdivision of E engaged in meat processing where they attended production meetings, informed Ees of need for overtime and initialed time cards, were paid at higher rate and received benefits not available to rank and file Ees, interviewed job applicants and made recommendations notwithstanding independently reviewed)

8540-2000—Cont.

Han-Dee Pak, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 107
(leadmen held supervisors, notwithstanding little opportunity to exercise their authority to hire, fire, or discipline Ees; furthermore, E placed leadmen in strategic position where Ees could reasonably believe that they speak on E's behalf)

8540-2200 Textile mill products

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 044
(head packer at yarn producing facility)

Gurabo Lace Mills, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 093
(Ee found supervisor, not leadman, where he was responsible for daily assignment of jobs, assisted Ees with problems, made Ee reassignments, adjusted grievances, interviewed prospective Ees; moreover, fact that he was only Spanish speaking person in authority caused E to rely heavily on his hiring recommendations)

Gurabo Lace Mills, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 044
(supervisor status found where Ee is responsible for daily assignment of jobs, assists Ees when problems arise, makes necessary Ee reassignments, adjust Ee grievances, handles most of daily management of plant, and is intimately involved in hiring status due to fact that he is spanish speaking; plant located in Puerto Rico and general manager does not speak Spanish)

8540-2300 Apparel and other finished products made from fabrics and similar materials

Alle Arecibo Corporation and Alle Industries Ltd. 264 NLRB No. 163
(cutter at womens' lingerie manufacturing plant held supervisor, where she had keys to plant and was in charge of it, continued to function as cutter but assigned work to Ees and reported to E's chief officer hours worked by each Ee)

N.L.R.B. v. Dadco Fashions, Inc. 632 F.2d 493 (C.A. 5, Dec. 1980)
(individual at manufacturer of childrens' clothing held supervisors where they did little production work themselves but instead told other Ees what to do, Ees were told to follow instructions of these individuals and individuals performed additional supervisory duties such as monitoring time cards, singing production sheets, and assigning new work)

8540-2500 Furniture and fixtures

Chair Makers, Inc. JD-(SF)-4-82
(leadperson in sewing department of E's fabric facility held supervisor where person was salaried rather than paid by piece work or hourly wage like production Ees and sewing department had only one supervisor for some 70 Ees; ratio favored finding leadperson was supervisor. Furthermore, individual responsibly directs Ees in sufficient manner to be supervisor, recommends when overtime is needed and selects individuals to do this work)

8540-2600 Paper and allied products

Nice-Pak Products, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 173
(leadperson on day shift found supervisor on other shifts where she assumed supervisory authority in absence of supervisors)

8540-2700 Printing, publishing, and allied industries

Kenosha News Publishing Corporation 264 NLRB No. 050
(sports editor of daily newspaper, found supervisory on basis of his exercise of authority to hire part-time Ees)

Cox Enterprises, Inc., d/b/a Atlanta Newspapers 263 NLRB No. 81
(newspaper publisher's route managers who work in conjunction with distributors and jumpers in distributing morning paper held supervisors, where they effectuate personnel actions with regard to the distributors and jumpers, including hire, discipline, and discharge; and further, such personnel actions are often taken w/o securing E's prior approval)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(zone sales manager and chain and department store manager in newspaper's retail advertising department)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(phone room training manager in newspaper's classified advertising department)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(classified sales manager in newspaper's classified sales department responsible for special promotions and projects as well as outside selling efforts)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(assistant manager in newspaper's advertising services department producing display advertising for general, retail real estate, and classified advertising departments)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(customer relations manager in customer relations department, constituting part of newspaper's advertising department, which handles complaints from customers regarding newspaper advertisements)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(home delivery managers in newspaper's circulation department)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(assistant public relations manager in newspaper's public relations department which handles newspaper's community relations and publicity needs, and to some extent its internal communications)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(chief telephone operator at centrex switchboard section in newspaper's administrative services section)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(supervisor of composing room assistants who perform janitorial work in composing room and are in building services division of newspaper's administrative services department)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(manager of food services in newspaper's administrative services department)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(insurance administrator in newspaper's insurance department, who is responsible for group insurance plans, enrollment, insurance claims, and workmen compensation claims)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(national editor, as well as deputy national editor, at national desk in newspaper's newsroom)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(deputy metro editor at newspaper's metro desk)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(area metro editor on metro desk at newspaper)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(chief copy editor on metro desk at newspaper)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(deputy editors for separate style section of newspaper dealing with entertainment, society, travel, and food)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(managing editor responsible for preperation of newspaper's weekly book review section)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(picture editor in newspaper's photo and art department)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(art director in newspaper's photo and art department)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(foreign editor on newspaper's foreign desk who oversees daily operations of desk)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(day sports editor, as well as night sports editor, on newspaper's sports desk)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(chief copy editor in newspaper's sports department)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(news editor on newspaper's night operations news desk)

Times-Herald, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 066
(sports editor at newspaper held supervisor where he effectively recommended hire of Ee and played role in hiring another Ee)

Times Herald Printing Company 252 NLRB No. 043
(man-in-charge position found supervisory where Ees in those positions; are in charge of press, choose their assistants, substitute for foremen; assign crew members to various work tasks, evaluate trainees, write up Ees for rule infractions, attend management seminars, received priority parking spaces; moreover fact that these Ees did not have authority to hire or discharge is not dispositive)

Teamsters Local 296 (Northwest Publications, Inc.) 250 NLRB No. 126
(working foreman at newsprint warehouse held supervisor where he selected job applicants for hire, unilaterally determined overtime for other Ees; effectively recommended an Ee's transfer and implemented straight time plan for reducing E's payroll expenses)

The Oakland Press Co., a Subsidiary of Capital Cities Communications, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 143
(district managers who have authority to hire, discharge, assign, transfer and responsibly direct newspaper carriers who have been found to be Ees held supervisors)

N.L.R.B. v. Publishers Printing Company, Inc. 625 F.2d 746 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(head of shipping and receiving department at commercial magazine publishing company held supervisory, where he assigned and directed work, and effectively recommended hiring of Ees)

N.L.R.B. v. Publishers Printing Company, Inc. 625 F.2d 746 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(lead man or foreman responsible for stock paper control and delivery for commercial magazine publisher found supervisory in view of his hiring authority and overall responsibility)

8540-2700—Cont.

N.L.R.B. v. Publishers Printing Company, Inc. 623 F.2d 796 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(foreman of pressroom section for commercial magazine publisher held supervisor where he assigned work and checked on its quality and had authority to hire and fire)

8540-2800 Chemicals and allied products

Avon Products, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 141
(representative service department auditor/trainees at cosmetics manufacturer's branch operation found supervisory Ees where they are responsible for training team members and overseeing their work and that of team correspondents to enforce proper procedures and guidelines)

Innovative Chemical Corporation JD-409-81
(foreman for manufacturer, seller, and distributor of automobile care products held supervisor where he had responsibility to observe work of Ees, to assign them to various tasks and to insure that work process continued in accordance with company objectives)

8540-2900 Petroleum refining and related industries

Cato Oil & Grease Company, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 153
(warehouse foreman found supervisor where he supervises work of other Ees in warehouse, relays instructions from management, does all paperwork, has desk of his own, distributes pay checks and signs Ees and his own time sheets, only spends 25 percent of time in actual physical labor, and if he were not supervisor Ees in warehouse would be unsupervised; moreover fact that his salary level is less than that of acknowledged supervisors is not determinative)

8540-3000 Rubber and miscellaneous plastics products

R.C. Plastics, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 161
(foremen at plant producing plastic molding held supervisors where they oversee their shifts, make work assignments and oversee quality of production, seek to meet production requirements, evaluate Ees' work, monitor work of newly-hired Ees, direct Ees' work, allocate production resources, participate in management meetings and receive income three times that of production workers)

S. L. Industries Inc. and Extruded Products, Corp. 252 NLRB No. 151
(hourly paid leadlady held supervisor where she effectively recommended retention of probationary Ees, responsibly directed work of Ees in her department and Ees were led to believe that she was in charge of department)

8540-3200 Stone, clay, glass, and concrete products

Hopcraft Art and Stained Glass Works, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 190
(Ee at stained glass manufacturing plant held supervisor, where she managed office and ran it independently during E's frequent absences, and, inter alia, hired, fired, granted time off, carried keys to premises, reprimanded Ees, made recommendations to E about wage increases for office Ees, and was paid on salary basis)

Fenestral, Inc., A Subsidiary of Yonkers Plate Glass Co. 251 NLRB No. 113
(individual in window fabrication division of manufacturer of windows and glass walls for office and apartment buildings held supervisor and ineligible to vote where he disciplined and corrected work of others, gave permission to leave work early, had overall responsibility for production in division and in view of vast difference in earnings from other individuals; further, if not held supervisor floor would be w/o supervisor)

B-P Custom Building Products, Inc.; and Thomas R. Peck Mfg. 251 NLRB No. 179
(Ee at tile mortar and grout manufacturing plant held supervisor where Ee exercised sufficient independent judgment in matters of work assignments, direction of Ees, and control of their work performance)

8540-3300 Primary metal industries

A & T Manufacturing Company 265 NLRB No. 201
(night shift foreman at E engaged in fabrication of metal for heavy industrial plants where he directed work of Ees and received higher rate of pay than other individuals who were Ees)

The Swingline Company; Spotnails, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 119
(personnel clerk found supervisor where he had authority to hire Ees w/o consulting with management)

The Metalloy Corporation JD-23-81
(foreman at plant producing aluminum castings held supervisor where he was salaried Ee, attended supervisory meetings like other supervisory personnel, had responsibility for looking after various departments and their Ees, and possessed authority to effectively recommend disciplinary action against Ees)

8540-3400 Fabricated metal products, except machinery and transportation equipment

Sumco Manufacturing Co., Inc. Summit Grinding Company 251 NLRB No. 046
(packaging foreman at manufacturer of automobile jacks found supervisor where she was represented to Ees as boss, did written evaluations on Ees, granted Ees time off, had authority to impose minor discipline w/o necessarily having right to discharge or recommend their discharge, and normally determined what person to assign to which job, thus exercising independent judgment based on her knowledge of abilities of persons involved)

Sumco Manufacturing Co., Inc. Summit Grinding Company 251 NLRB No. 046
(second shift foreman at manufacturer of automobile jacks found supervisor where he was only foreman on second shift which had some 12 Ees, and assigned Ees to jobs)

Donnelly Manufacturing Co. Division of Brockhouse Corp. 265 NLRB No. 196
(leadman in welding department of manufacturer of sheet metal where he had authority to issue warnings, instructed Ees in work and oversaw performance of work in manner requiring use of independent expertise, effectively made recommendations regarding selection of Ees to work overtime, discipline and pay raises, and monitored attendance)

Abilene Sheet Metal, Inc. et al. v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 332 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(substantial evidence supported Bd's finding that foreman at sheet metal contractor was supervisor where he made recommendations to owners of E about who they should assign to particular jobs, spent 75% of his time checking on jobs to see how they were progressing, assigned Ees to work, asked Ees to put in overtime and transferred Ees from one job to another on owners' orders)

Robert E. Cashdollar, Sr., d/b/a Nelson Metal Fabricating 247 NLRB No. 099
(Ee at metal fabricating plant who on day shift is rank-and-file Ee held supervisor on night shift because when on night shift he has complete charge of shift in every respect)

8540-3500 Machinery, except electrical

Dixon Industries, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 185
(three leadmen in different departments of manufacturer of lawn moving equipment held supervisors, where one exercised independent judgment in training instruction, inspection, assignments, transfers, and quota fulfillment; another in scheduling work; and all in daily production process)

Jeffrey Manufacturing Division, Dresser Industries, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 007
(Ee who assigned jobs to other Ees, selected Ees to perform jobs, designated particular jobs as rush found supervisor and not eligible to vote in election)

Jeffrey Manufacturing Division, Dresser Industries, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 684 F.2d 944 (C.A. 4, 1981)
(Ee at mining conveyor components factory found supervisory where he assigned work, checked work product, was consulted about work-related problems and time off, and signed procurement slips)

Gladwin Corporation JD-565-80
(hourly paid crew leader of machinists held supervisor wherehe was sole representative of E in charge of machinists at plant of E; in his own discretion, he assigned and reassigned work, he granted Ees time off, effectively recommended hire of machinists and adjusted grievances at first step of grievance procedure)

A.P.F. Electronics, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 068
(shop manager at E engaged in service and repair of calculators held supervisor where on salary which amounted to substantially more than hourly pay of Ees of E, did not punch time clock, hired and suspended Ees, authorized Ees to take time off, adjusted grievances and assigned work)

L. A. Water Treatment, Division of Chromalloy American Corporation 263 NLRB No. 022
(assistant plant superintendent of company engaged in design and fabrication of water treatment equipment held supervisor where he attended supervisor meetings, expedited production and monitored work, received higher wages than unit Ees, issued work orders to leadmen and Ees, performed no unit work himself, had authority to issue disciplinary warnings and grant time off but not to discharge Ees)

Long Manufacturing Company JD-(SF)-290-81
(superintendent's assistant at plant manufacturing commercial ovens, stoves, and grills held supervisor where he shared office space with superintendent, screened applicants for production job, and performed variety of other tasks for superintendent suggestive of supervisory authority, including performing quality control work and rectifying paycheck discrepancies; by virtue of his title, salaried status, and office proximity to superintendent, he was held out to Ees as having managerial status and his statements would necessarily be viewed by Ees as carrying management's imprimatur)

Long Manufacturing Company JD-(SF)-290-81
(individual employed by manufacturer of commercial ovens, stoves, and grills held supervisor where he was classified 2 pay grades higher than other 5 workers in electrical subassembly area where he worked as part of arrangement whereby he assisted department foreman and further arrangement was implemented so he would have authority to discharge Ees)

8540-3500—Cont.

8540-3600 Electrical and electronic machinery, equipment, and supplies

High Energy Corporation 259 NLRB No. 097

(purchasing agent, management trainees, maintenance supervisor, working leadman, and Ee working in clerical capacity in inventory control at plant manufacturing ceramic and oil-filled capacitors for use in transmitters, satellites, and various electronic equipment)

Simpson Electric Company, a Division of American Gage & Machnie Company, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 035

(group leader found supervisor where she assigned work, evaluated employees and effectively recommended actions to be taken on evaluations)

ITT Lighting Fixtures, Division of ITT Corporation 249 NLRB No. 061

(sole group leader in department held supervisor where she trains Ees, corrects their work, adjusts Ee grievances, approves overtime, grants time off, reassigns Ees to different work areas and issues oral warnings, notwithstanding she lacks authority to hire, fire, promote or grant wage increases)

ITT Lighting Fixtures, Division of ITT Corporation 249 NLRB No. 061

(group leaders who possessed authority to adjust grievances, issue oral warnings, grant overtime, initial timecards, grant time off, reassign Ees to different work areas, enforce E's rules regarding safety, monitor abuse of coffee breaks and restroom priveleges and required to exercise independent judgment in performance of duties)

EMR Photoelectric, A Division of Sangamo Weston Inc. 251 NLRB No. 214

(supervisor in quality control at plant manufacturing photoelectric devices held very low-level supervisor)

EMR Photoelectric, A Division of Sangamo Weston Inc. 251 NLRB No. 214

(master mechanic described as maintenance supervisor at plant manufacturing photoelectic devices held, at most, low-level supervisor)

8540-3700 Transportation equipment

Serendippity-Un-Ltd and Tigerrr, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 100

(low-level day supervisor at plant manufacturing truck beds, who has power to direct work in his discretion held supervisory, notwithstanding his lack of power to hire or fire Ees)

Quick Find Co. 259 NLRB No. 144

(Ee who spends most of his day at physical labor in operating punch press found supervisor where he recommended one discharge, trains new Ees and evaluates them for retention, receives higher pay then other Ees and is left in charge when general manager is away)

Fort Wayne Truck Parts & Equipment, Inc. JD-371-82

(line leaders in production department at manufacturer of truck parts and cab assemblies, notwithstanding could not hire or fire Ees, where they assigned work of Ees and performed little actual production work themselves, were held out as supervisors and Ees believed and accepted status as supervisors, did not wear work clothes and occupied offices with acknowledged supervisors)

Fort Wayne Truck Parts & Equipment, Inc. JD-371-82

(warehouse supervisor at manufacturer of truck parts and cab assemblies, notwithstanding hourly paid and punched time clock, where he assigned Ees work, approved requests for time off and assigned overtime work, had office and performed little if any unit work; further, since warehouse separated from rest of plant, if not held supervisor, Ees whould be w/o daily supervision)

Neckover Trailer Manufacturing Company JD-256-80

(assistant personnel manager at livestock trailer manufacturing plant)

Crown Dielectric Industries, Inc. d/b/a Crown Auto Top Manufacturing JD-93-80

(Ee who corrected errors on time cards, granted Ees time off from work found supervisor where, if she were not, E would have only 1 supervisor for 140 Ees in 4-storey plant)

Aeronomic Corporation JD-(Atl)-110-81

(set up man on day shift held supervisor where he was highest paid hourly Ee, assigns work, E told other Ees he was foreman and is frequently sole representative of management on premises)

N.L.R.B. v. Chem Fab Corporation 691 F.2d 1252 (C.A. 8, Nov. 1982)

(ct, in rejecting E's challenges to Bd's attribution of supervisory status to lead leadman at aircraft manufacturing plant held that Bd's findings were supported by evidence in that such individual possessed and exercised authority with respect to job assigaments, transferring Ees from one department to another, directing work, correcting time clock cards, and effectively recommending discharges and wage increases)

Charles Dean d/b/a Hopp Topp Mfg. Co. 250 NLRB No. 154

(leadman employed in fiberglass department of camper tops manufacturer held supervisor where he possessed and exercised authority to hire and fire Ees, responsibly directed work of Ees in his department and granted Ees time off)

8540-3800 Measuring, analyzing, and controlling instruments; photographic, medical and optical goods; watches and clocks

Photo-Sonics, Inc.; et al. 254 NLRB No. 069

(leadperson for manufacturer of photographic equipment held supervisor where she had authority to hire, fire, direct and assign or to effectively recommend such action)

8540-3900 Miscellaneous manufacturing industries

Hedison Manufacturing Company 249 NLRB No. 096

(floorlady at costume jewelry manufacturing plant)

8540-4100 Local and suburban transit and interurban highway passenger transportation

Transportation By La Mar, Inc. JD-279-81

(administrative assistant, employed by passenger bus service, who oversees supervisors and has authority to hire and fire held supervisor)

Hillside Bus Corp. 262 NLRB No. 152

(dispatcher/driver at E engaged in transportation of students under contract with school district where he received higher salary than other drivers, responsibly directed work of other drivers rather than merely relayed instructions, resolved problems with parents and drivers, notwithstanding did not hire or fire)

K & E Bus Lines, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 137

(wife of E's owner who was introduced to Ees as manager or second-in-command and whose authority to terminate Ees was not contested at time of Ees' discharge)

8540-4200 Motor freight transportation and warehousing

Berger Transfer and Storage, Inc. 283 NLRB No. 002

(salesman who used title of Vice President held supervisor where he interviewed prospective salesment and his recommendations against hiring were final decisions, was closely allied with management during strike and his statements were ratified by management)

Thurston Motor Lines 258 NLRB No. 048

(dock foreman for E engaged in interstate transportation of freight by truck held supervisor where he directed Ees in loading of trucks, dispatched trucks, selected Ees for overtime work, initialed timecards of Ees and released Ees to go home upon his determination that work had been done; if he were not supervisor, it would mean that E allowed its terminal to remain open and its Ees to work w/o supervision from time terminal manager left premises until closing)

Connecticut Distributors, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 170

(dispatcher found supervisory Ee where he had authority to hire casual Ees and directed work of unit Ees; overall direction of Ees went beyond mere routine exercise of authority)

Liquid Transporters, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 163

(shift leaders employed in maintenance shop and cleaning rack of interstate common carrier held supervisors where, notwithstanding that they had same benefits as other Ees, they were solely responsible for their respective shifts; in their discretion, they scheduled and assigned work to Ees under them; they had authority to transfer Ees, give Ees time-off and overtime and made effective oral and written recommendations concerning Ees' work performance)

Tennessee Cartage Co., Inc. 280 NLRB No. 018

(dock foreman at E engaged in transporting foods found supervisor where he had authority to hire and fire, did not do physical labor but instructed warehousemen, did paperwork, and handled grievances from Ees)

Mason-Dixon Recycling Corp JD-283-82 (assistant yard foreman at E engaged in collection of newspapers from homes and delivery of collected newspapers to recycling plant)

Commercial Carriers, Inc. JD-136-80

(yard supervisor at E engaged in shipping newly manufactured cars)

Graves Trucking, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 692 F.2d 470 (C.A. 7, Nov. 1982)

(ct held there was adequate support for Bd's finding that Ee of E engaged in transportation of construction material was supervisor where he held himself out as the boss of the job and E also held Ee out to other Ees as the man running the job, although Ee and the other four drivers performed similar driving duties at same rate of pay, Ee clearly had been given additional responsibilities and some degree of authority over other Ees)

8540-4200—Cont.

Justak Brothers and Company, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 644 F.2d 1074 (C.A. 7, Nov. 1981)
(foremen who wore hats distinguishing them from laborers, pay scale twice as high as laborers, assigned work, directed Ees, checked Ees job performance, sent Ees home and transferred Ees between jobs, properly found supervisor)

York Cold Storage 251 NLRB No. 054
(Ee held supervisor and challenge to his ballot sustained, where he was classified as supervisor of warehouse for cold storage firm, before he was hired no one was classified as supervisor for this particular warehouse, other Ees were advised of his supervisory authority and were directed to take orders from him, and although he spent 50% of his time performing unit work, remainder of time was spent overseeing work of two or three Ees at warehouse; he had authority to reprimand Ees, request replacements if he felt Ees were incapable of handling work and could recommend raises)

8540-4400 Water transportation

United States Steel Corporation, Inland Steel Company, Bethlehem Steel Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 644 F.2d 286 (C.A. 3, Mar 19, 1981)
(E's Ees who attended special summer school which prepared Ees to take Coast Guard licensing examination which would qualify passing applicants for supervisory positions, held to be supervisory trainees, since students attending school for purpose of becoming licensed officers, that is, nonbargaining unit Ees)

Pentax Towing Corporation 258 NLRB No. 113
(relief captain for operator of tugboat held supervisor where he was regular captain with captain's authority full-time for substantial periods of time and even in his role as relief captain while captain was on board he possessed authority to discharge)

8540-4700 Transportation services

Air Transit, Inc. (Communication Workers of America, AFL-CIO) 248 NLRB No. 140
(taxicab driver-owners who subleased their vehicles to other drivers and, in subleasing their vehicles, participated in hiring, firing and setting of wages and other terms and conditions of employment)

8540-4900 Electric, gas, and sanitary services

Mark J. Leach d/b/a Mark J. Leach Electrical Contractors 251 NLRB No. 151
(working foremen at electrical contractor held supervisor where, if they were not supervisors, many Ees would be w/o supervision most of the time, they had considerable leeway in assigning men to specific tasks and in transfering Ees from one job to another, they were paid higher wages than other Ees, Ees considered them to be their supervisors, and they were responsible for inspecting work of Ees and ordering such corrections as they deemed necessary)

Illinois Valley Electric Cooperative, Inc. JD-281-81
(line superintendent for provider of electrical power held supervisor where he was instrumental in hiring at least one Ee, possessed authority to discipline Ees by oral and written reprimands, responsibly directed Ees in performance of their duties, independently resolved Ee problems on job and earned substantially more in wages than other Ees)

Maine Yankee Atomic Power Company v. N.L.R.B. 624 F.2d 347 (C.A. 1, 1980)
(shift operating supervisors (SOS) at nuclear power plant found statutory supervisors where they: are in charge of control room, required to be there at all times, give responsible directions requiring use of independent judgment to two lower level classes, salaries 17 percent higher than lower level Ees, attend management meetings; responsibility level high due to complex, criterial character of job requirements; fact that SOS must inform his supervisor if emergency occurs does not strip him of authority to act)

Monongahela Power Company v. N.L.R.B. 657 F.2d 608 (C.A. 4, 1981)
(control room foremen (CRF's) found supervisors where they are in charge of control room and thus operation of entire power plant; they coordinate activities of operators and maintenance men during startup and shutdown, act quickly and independently in emergency situations; therefore fact that they do not have authority with regard to hiring, firing, etc. is not controlling as test for supervisory status is disjunctive)

Southern Indiana Gas and Electric Co. v. N.L.R.B. 657 F.2d 878 (C.A. 7, Aug 1981)
(system supervisors at electrical utility)

8540-5000 Wholesale trade - durable goods

Battery Bill, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 030
(technical advisor at E engaged in wholesale and retail sale of batteries where he effectively participated in employment of Ees)

Battery Bill, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 030
(individual at E engaged in retail and wholesale of batteries where he approved leaves, participated in and made effective recommendations as to raises and hiring)

Brueckner Sand & Gravel, Inc. JD-(SF)-312/81
(batch plant operator at gunnite plant for processor and nonretail distributor of sand and gravel products and ready-mix concrete held supervisor where he was in charge of plant and four to six drivers reported to him; he scheduled their work, and they looked to him for direction and as person authorized to give them time off; he was salaried, third man in command at E's business, and was at times highest official on E's premises)

Butler-Johnson Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 608 F.2d 1303 (C.A. 9)
(ct upheld Bd's determination that individual who was day warehouse foreman at wholesale distributor of building and flooring materials supervisor where individual had exercised independent judgment in performance of his duties at least once, where he reassigned Ees in order to cover for ill Ees; existence of any one of functions listed in Section 2(11) sufficient to confer supervisory status thus Bd's decision had reasonable basis in law, notwithstanding individual had no authority to hire, promote or discharge Ees or even to recommend such actions and had voted in election w/o challenge)

Battery Bill, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 030
(technical advisor at E engaged in wholesale and retail sale of batteries where he effectively participated in employment of Ees)

Battery Bill, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 030
(individual at E engaged in retail and wholesale of batteries where he approved leaves, participated in and made effective recommendations as to raises and hiring)

8540-5100 Wholesale trade - nondurable goods

Vee Cee Provisions, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 125
(packing superintendent at plant of processor and wholesaler of ham products held supervisor where he runs packing line, assigns Ees work, instructs them on their duties, disciplines Ees after discussions with E's vice-president, and makes effective recommendations on disciplinary matters)

Best Distributing Co., Inc. 258 NLRB No. 034
(warehouseman employed by beer distributing company held supervisor, where his directions to Ees concerning work are not subject to prior instruction, and if he were not considered to be supervisor, facility would remain unsupervised approximately one half of time)

Indian Head Lubricants, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 003
(Ee who supervised work of other Ees in warehouse held supervisor where he responsibly directed work of warehousemen, notwithstanding he had no authority to hire or fire)

8540-5300 General merchandise stores

Brooks Brothers, a Division of Garfinckel, Brooks Brothers, Miller & Rhoads 261 NLRB No. 130
(office manager at department store where she interviews and recommends applicants for hire; evaluates Ees; schedules vacations, time off, and lunch hours; assigns work, and recommends raises)

8540-5400 Food stores

Ivex-Ivan and Foodarama, Inc, d/b/a Foodarama 260 NLRB No. 046
(head cashier found supervisor where she: schedules work of other cashiers and bag boys, oversees cashiers, helps interview job applicants, only works as cashier in emergency, has hiring authority and trains all new cashiers)

Giant Food, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 182
(lieutenant in security force found supervisor where he travels from store to store checking on appearance of guards, reports problems to higher management which result in discipline, sometimes administers discipline himself, had direct control over at least one Ee)

Ely's Foods Inc., d/b/a Scotto's I.G.A. 249 NLRB No. 132
(Ee who was in charge of meat department, directed work of 3 Ees, determined conditions of employment, recommended wage increases and issued reprimands for deficient work held supervisor)

Big Star #189 JD-375-82
(Ee who was in charge of supermarket at night and directed night stockers found supervisor where he was salaried and scheduled to receive benefits not available to rank-and-file Ees, did not punch the clock, possessed keys to store, and generally had community of interests more closely aligned with management than with stock crew with whom he worked; moreover, Ee possessed hiring and firing authority, or at least authority to effectively recommend such action)

Tops Industries, d/b/a Tops Market JD-(SF)-53-82
(individual held supervisor since he was found manager of market, rather than clerk there as contended by E, where he had received a raise in pay on being transferred from management of a mini-market to said market and had assumed duties there of former market manager)

Tops Industries, d/b/a Tops Market JD-(SF)-53-82
(individual who was head of meat department of market found supervisor with authority to hire and fire Ees and determine their wage rates)

[illegible] Finer Foods JD-609-81
(deli managers at supermarkets held supervisors)

8540-5400—Cont.

Foodway of Odessa, Inc. JD-(SF)-30-81
(meat market manager at retail grocery held supervisor where he hired and fired Ees, granted Ees time off work, earned higher rate of pay than rank and file meat department Ees, and E considered meat market managers to be supervisors)

N.L.R.B. v. Ely's Foods Inc., d/b/a Scotto's I.G.A. 656 F.2d 290 (C.A. 8, 1981)
(individual in charge of meat department at grocery store held supervisor since he exercised independent judgment with regard to work functions where he set hours, successfully recommended pay raises and reprimands)

United Supermarkets, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 179
(head meat cutters and market manager)

8540-5500 Automotive dealers and gasoline service stations

Jensen's Motorcycle, Inc. d/b/a Honda of San Diego 254 NLRB No. 165
(assistant manager of service department held supervisor where he substituted for manager on regular basis accounting for 25 percent of his working time, while acting as manager had authority to discharge Ees and if not supervisor rest of service department Ees would have regularly been without supervision)

Elizabeth Motors, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 161
(service manager)

Elizabeth Motors, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 161
(parts manager)

8540-5700 Furniture, home furnishings, and equipment stores

Best Products Co., Inc. 259 NLRB No. 016
(manager trainee found supervisor where he worked on different shift than departmental manager and his duties and responsibilities were virtually identical to those of manager)

Wickes Furniture, A Division of The Wickes Corporation 255 NLRB No. 080
(senior warehouseman at furniture store held supervisor where he assigned and directed work of Ees, granted time off, approved job transfers, interviewed job applicants, and unlike other warehousemen had desk in warehouse office and was considered by other warehousemen to be supervisor)

N.L.R.B. v. Concord Furniture Industries, Inc., d/b/a Bradford Furniture Company 675 F.2d 426 (C.A. 1, Mar. 1982)
(warehouse manager at retail furniture chain where he was introduced to Ees as their boss and was told by E's executives that he was to run warehouse, gave Ees permission to leave early and take time off, assigned work, changed delivery routes; further, when individual left, it was necessary for another individual to actively supervise warehouse)

8540-5800 Eating and drinking places

Baja's Place, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 120
(head cook at restaurant who effectively recommended hiring of Ees and on whom E had conferred appearances of managerial authority, as he appeared to be chief conduct of all managerial decisions to kitchen Ees i.e. hiring, promoting, calling in Ees for extra duty, posting schedule, participating in managerial meetings)

Antonopoulos, Incorporated d/b/a Roger's of Santa Clara 261 NLRB No. 060
(head waitress employed by E for 29 years found supervisor where she frequently exercises independent judgment, responsibly directs other waitresses, bus persons and cashiers, and has on numerous occasions hired waitresses)

G.T.A. Enterprises, Inc. d/b/a Restaurant Horikawa 260 NLRB No. 029
(assistant manager held supervisor where he occasionally hired Ees on his own, directed, scheduled, reprimanded and instructed Ees)

G.T.A. Enterprises, Inc. d/b/a Restaurant Horikawa 260 NLRB No. 029
(section heads in restaurant held supervisors where they directed Ees, scheduled them, helped interview applicants, and disciplined Ees in their sections)

Lucky Lion Edgewater, Inc. d/b/a Lucky Lion JD-(SF)-345-80
(bar managers at cocktail lounge held supervisory)

American Diversified Foods, Inc., d/b/a Arby's v. N.L.R.B. 640 F.2d 893 (C.A. 7, 1981)
(shift managers at restaurant held supervisory where they were in charge of restaurant's operation when they served as duty managers during periods in their shifts and as such, exercised independent judgment)

8540-5900 Miscellaneous retail

ABC Liquors, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 174
(director of security for multistore liquor retailer found supervisor where he had interviewed and hired at least one Ee and had directed at least two Ees' investigation of unit Ees' U activities and suspected thefts and was admittedly E's limited agent)

Colorfax Laboratories, Inc. (Retail Store Employees Union Local 400) 248 NLRB No. 068
(store managers of E engaged in providing photographic processing, printing and related services to professional photographers through retail outlets, held supervisory, where each store manager provides Ees under him with all requisite training, directs Ees in their duties, sets Ees' hours of work, and may, w/o prior approval and at his or her discretion, instruct Ees to work overtime)

8540-6300 Insurance

Pilgrim Life Insurance Company 249 NLRB No. 140
(group claims manager at insurance company who was represented by E to Ees as supervisor, authorized to assign work, reviewed and corrected work of Ees, and whose earnings exceeded those of other clericals)

Pilgrim Life Insurance Company 249 NLRB No. 140
(individual in charge of IBM room at insurance company who trained new Ees, participated in hiring interviews, recommended Ees for raises, and was represented to Ees as supervisor)

8540-7000 Hotels, rooming houses, camps, and other lodging places

Puerto Rico Hotel Association 259 NLRB No. 088
(bandleaders at hotel)

Hospitality Motor Inn, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 148
(executive housekeeper and assistant executive housekeeper at motel held supervisors, and alleged threats to them thus not violative, where they recommended hiring, were authorized to suspend Ees, assigned, checked, and evaluated work of Ees)

8540-7200 Personal services

Le Roy Fantasies, Inc., and Hardwicke's Plum, Inc., A Joint Venture, d/b/a Maxwell's Plum 256 NLRB No. 036
(working foreman at laundry facility held supervisor where she approved Ees' hours on timecards, assigned overtime work, granted requests for time off, received calls from Ees reporting their absence, gave permission to use E's telephone, reprimanded Ees for tardiness and excessive talking, independently handled work-related problems and grievances, and instructed Ees as to proper performances of their jobs)

8540-7300 Business services

Justak Brothers and Company, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 146
(leadmen for firm furnishing laborers and vaccum trucks services for oil refineries held supervisors where in exercise of independent judgment, they responsibly directed other Ees)

Justak Brothers and Company, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 146
(leadmen for firm furnishing laborers and vaccum trucks services for oil refineries held nonsupervisory where they served as leadmen for only 1 day)

International Maintenance Systems Group, Inc. JD-(NY)-109-81
(individuals employed by provider of building cleaning, maintenance, and related services held supervisors where they had authority to assign work, were responsible for attendance of Ees under their control, had authority to discipline Ees, could recommend Ees for discharge, interview Ees prior to their group assignments, and attend supervisory meetings)

8540-7500 Automotive repair, services, and garages

Checker Cab Company of Virginia, Inc., d/b/a Avis Rent-A-Car 260 NLRB No. 118
(rental agent at airport counter of car rental company found supervisor where she had been supervisor at counter before her transfer to office work and her replacement was told she would be replacement's supervisor; during office transfer she continued to handle customer complaints, personnel disputes, etc., and continued to have different benefits and to grant time off)

8540-7600 Miscellaneous repair services

Interstate Custom Reupholstery JD-(SF)-239-81
(only bilingual Ee in predominantly Spanish speaking plant found supervisor where he assigned work, managed daily running of shop, had authority to inspect work, repirmand and discipline Ees, interviewed new Ees, although lacked final authority to hire; moreover, he was only salaried Ee, receiving substantially greater pay than any other Ee)

8540-7800 Motion pictures

Dallas Stage Employees, Local Union 127 (Mulberry Square Productions) 247 NLRB NO. 110
(sound mixer on production of film found lacking supervisory authority where he did not possess actual authority to hire, fire, or discipline; recommendation regarding hiring of coworker was subject to independent investigation and final decision by others)

8540-8000 Health services

8540-8050 Nursing and personal care facilities

8540-8050—Cont.

Emery Nursing Home, Inc. d/b/a Emery Convalescent Home 260 NLRB No. 071

(charge nurse at nursing home held supervisory, notwithstanding agreement of E to allow charge nurses to vote in election, where she had authority to evaluate performance of Ees and, were charge nurses not deemed supervisors, E's nursing home would be operating for substantial number of hours per day w/o presence of supervisory authority)

Clark Manor Nursing Home Corp. 254 NLRB No. 054

(activity director at nursing home held supervisor, where she responsibly directed work of Ee and effectively made recommendations to her superior as to hiring and discharging Ees)

Clark Manor Nursing Home Corp. 254 NLRB No. 054

(nurse at nursing home held supervisor where she was only person directing day-to-day activities of people on shift, and made recommendations for discipline, assignments, shifts or swaps of assignments)

Comfort Health Corporation d/b/a Kendallville Nursing Home JD-329-80

(relief charge aide on shift at nursing home held supervisor where had authority to discipline and if not supervisor home would be w/o supervisor for several hours each day)

N.L.R.B. v. Clark Manor Nursing Home Corp. 671 F.2d 657 (C.A. 1, Feb. 1982)

(activities director)

N.L.R.B. v. St. Mary's Home, Inc., t/a St. Mary's Infant Home 690 F.2d 1062 (C.A. 4, Sept. 1982)

(LPN held supervisor where she exercised on reguler basis 2 days per week same function and powers that RN exercised 3 days per week where RN was admitted supervisor, LPN was highest ranking official on duty, was recognized by E and Ees as boss had duties similar to charge nurse, and was only person directing Ees, including recommending discipline, assignment, shifts, or swaps of assignment)

Beverly Enterprises, dba Beverly Manor Convalescent Centers 661 F.2d 1095 (C.A. 6, Oct. 1981)

(on question of supervisory status of LPNs at nursing home, Bd must determine: Do LPN activities respecting patient care involve independent professional judgment? If not LPNs properly included in unit. If yes, and that independent professional judgment exercised primarily in connection with patient care, not in interest of her E, then LPNs should be included; however, if judgment exercised in interest of her E, then supervisor and not included in unit)

8540-8060 Hospitals

Northwoods Manor, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 110

(charge nurses at hospital held supervisors where they had independent authority to discipline Ees and effectively recommend discharge; were charge nurses not supervisors, an unrealistic supervisor-to-Ee ratio would exist at E's facilities and no statutory supervisor at all would be present during at least one hospital work shift)

Wright Memorial Hospital 255 NLRB No. 173

(charge nurses held supervisors, since they have authority to require overtime, release Ees from work, assign work, set work priorities, call in off-duty Ees, resolve complaints, give written Ee evaluations and reprimands, suspend Ees and recommend discipline, including discharge; on 2d and 3d shifts and weekends, they represent and exercise highest authority of E)

National Medical Convalescent of San Diego, d/b/a Ojai Valley Community Hospital 254 NLRB No. 163

(supervisors of obstetric, intensive care/coronary care, operating room, recovery room and emergency room special units of nursing department at hospital held supervisors under Act where they had authority to assign work, transfer Ees in and out of unit, instruct and train Ees, issue written reprimands, and evaluate Ees' work and adjust grievances)

Exeter Hospital 248 NLRB No. 056

(charge nurses held supervisors since they were responsible for preparing work schedules of Ees in their respective units and evaluating Ees for merit pay increases, and had authority to entertain grievances and to discipline Ees)

Lodi Memorial Hospital Association, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 121

(head nurses at acute care nonprofit hospital)

8540-8090 Other

Comprehensive Health Planning Council of Southeastern Michigan 256 NLRB No. 183

(managers of operating divisions of nonprofit corporation providing health care planning service, held supervisors, notwithstanding they spent significant amount of time performing same type of work as professionals where they were paid at higher hourly rate than professionals beneath them in E's hierarchy, assigned, coordinated and reviewed work of their subordinates, prepared annual evaluations which became part of Ee's permanent personnel file, were persons with whom Ees dealt with at first stage of grievance procedure, and E indicated by want ads and job discriptions that these Ees were supervisors)

8540-8200 Educational services

Trustees of Tufts College 251 NLRB No. 100

(accounts payable supervisor excluded from unit where she directs work of 4 Ees, with authority to excuse them from work, verbally discipline them, recommend written warnings, assign work, settle work disputes and grievances, evaluate Ees and also attends supervisors meetings)

N.L.R.B. v. Yeshiva University 582 F.2d 686 (C.A. 2)

(full time faculty members excluded from unit as supervisory and managerial Ees where they exercised substantial and pervasive authority at particular university by recommending hiring, promotion, salary and tenure of faculty, adopting standards of admission, curruiculum, grading system, and graduation requirements; further, faculty was not acting on own behalf but rather on behalf of university, nor did fact decisions subject to ultimate authority of trustees preclude finding of managerial status where faculty's recommendations were effective)

The Berry Schools v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 966 (C.A. 5, Oct. 1980)

(college department chairman held supervisor where he could effectively recommend firing, retention, and merit increases of other faculty members in his department)

8560 INDICIA OF NONSUPERVISORY STATUS

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014

(minimal relationship between assistant insurance manager in newspaper's insurance department and her secretary and clerk held not to indicate supervisory status)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014

(night Ee relations manager, not supervisory, where in adjusting grievances he performs nothing more than functions endemic to Ee relations department and, as such, routinely implements department policy pursuant to E guidelines, and he is not so much an adjuster of grievances, as he is an answerer of questions)

8560-0100 Generally

RAHCO, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 030

(reporting of Ee misconduct is matter of monitoring rather than manifestation of supervisory authority)

Artcraft Displays, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 151

(in finding leadmen in employ of Es engaged in various aspects of convention and trade show business not supervisory, Bd noted that they have historically been covered by bargaining agreements)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014

(subordinate area editor on metro desk at newspaper, not supervisory, notwithstanding E's contention that conflict of interest exists between him and reporters by virtue of the assigning and editing process)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014

(fact that some assistant editors on metro desk at newspaper have interviewed prospective Ees, or have made comments to superior editors regarding quality of reporter's work is insufficient to render their positions supervisory, especially in view of fact that there are two higher levels of supervision)

N.L.R.B. v. Circo Resorts, Inc., d/b/a Circus, Circus 646 F.2d 403 (C.A. 9, May 1981)

(Ee who gives minor orders or directives is not necessarily a supervisor and Ee herein, apart from suggesting possible job candidate, was not engaged in supervisory activities)

8560-1000 Routine direction derived from skill and experience

Clear Lam Packaging, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 96

(individual held not supervisor and challenge to ballot overruled where his direction of other Ees and assignment of work were analogous to those relayed by skilled workers to apprentices and helpers)

Humes Electric, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 159

(foreman employed by electrical contractor in construction industry not supervisor where foreman was none other than conduit who relayed orders to Ees nor did he exercise any significant degree of independent judgment)

Howland Hook Marine Terminal Corporation 263 NLRB No. 040

(tractor foreman of E engaged in performing stevedoring and marine terminal functions held leadman rather than supervisor where his primary duties related to operation of equipment rather than direction or supervision of Ees; Ees' duties were completely routine and required little or no supervision or direction; leadman exercised no independent judgment and his threats to discipline Ees were never carried out)

8560-1000—Cont.

Artcraft Displays, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 151
(leadmen in employ of Es engaged in various aspects of convention and trade show business who, although having authority to direct their crews, do so only in accordance with instructions and floor plans furnished by Es, and are thus engaged in essentially routine direction which does not entail independent judgment)

Cement Masons Union Local No. 526 of The Operative Plasterers' and Cement Masons' International Association, AFL-CIO (P. J. Dick Contracting, Inc.) 261 NLRB No. 159
(Ee hired as journeyman cement finisher by E contractor, who intended to make Ee supervisor when opening occurred held not supervisor, since Ee's duties, immediately after his being hired, including advising cement finishers when their work was completed calling hiring hall when new workers needed, did not rise to level of indicia of supervisory status as set forth in Sec. 2(11) of Act)

Williams Litho Service, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 101
(Ees who assigned work to other Ees not supervisors where such authority flowed from their senior, experienced, craft position and not with managerial power as source; fact that one Ee was given supervisory title does not make him statutory supervisor in absence of demonstrated statutory supervisory power, possession or exercise)

Teamsters Local Union No. 574, a/w Teamsters (Lola Wheeler, an Individual) 259 NLRB No. 037
(deference by other Ees to statements or advice of another Ee because of his expertise, ability, or experience does not amount to evidence of supervisory authority)

Pure-Chem Southern, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 027
(E's memo to Ee which stated that Ee would continue to supervise other Ees and requested all Ees to contact Ee in routine matters did not give him supervisory status where, in light of his experience and familiarity with operations of department, he would naturally be consulted by other Ees on routine matters)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(fact that assistant newstand and street sales managers in newspaper's circulation department hire and control part-timers who work 2 hours a night, 6 nights a week, held not to warrant finding them supervisory, where status of part-timers had not been clarified either in record or in parties' briefs, control and supervision of part-timers was routine and did not require use of independent judgment, and assistant managers did not use discretion or independent judgment in hiring part-timers)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(responsibilities concerning time off and vacations exercised by supervisor of accounting circulation receivables in newspaper's accounting department held nothing more than exercise of routine function which consists of following company policy of permitting an Ee time off on vacation if there are no conflicts with other Ees)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(where newspaper editors assign reporters to events by mutual consent, and editor's primary duty is to check quality of copy and require unsatisfactory copy to be rewritten, editor's authority is routine and not supervisory)

Post Manufacturing Company 251 NLRB No. 153
(troubleshooter who worked on second shift in high pressure die cast aluminum department of injection molding manufacturer not supervisor where, although he was paid more than other production Ees, his benefits, working conditions and pay day were same as other Ees'; he did not attend supervisors' meetings, nor did he exercise independent judgment in assigning Ees to machines or effectively recommend discipline; he gave only routine directions and told Ees that he was not in charge)

Central Freight Lines, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 063
(leadman at freight distribution center not supervisor where his instructions to workers on loading dock were simply routine in nature and evidence was persuasive that Ee lacked any true authority over other personnel)

J. J. Newberry Co., A Wholly Owned Subsidiary of McCrory Corporation 249 NLRB No. 126
(Ee in charge of cash room found not supervisor but lead person where nature of work routine and additional responsibility arose from experience and familiarity with E's operations)

Judd Valve Co., Inc. 248 NLRB No. 018
(leadman not supervisory where, because of his expertise, he was relied on by E to lend technical assistance to fellow Ees)

American Diversified Foods, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 009
(shift managers of fast food restaurant found non supervisory personnel in light of fact that as senior Ees they were familiar with store's operational routine, helped counter Ees work smoothly in cooperative rather than controlling manner, performed same work functions as counter Ees, worked regular shifts. Shift managers were at most lead-men who had no role in formulating or affecting management policy)

Banker's Graphics, Inc. JD-339-82
(Ee found not supervisor where his responsibility was derived from fact that he was most experienced Ee but he did not direct other Ees or exercise independent judgment)

Childers Manufacturing Company, Inc. JD-(SF)-11-82
(supervisory status exists only if the power is exercised with independent judgment, and not in a routine or clerical manner)

Mr. Herbert of California, Inc. JD-(SF)-83-81
(head cutter in cutting room of manufacturer of ladies' coats, held leadman and not supervisor where there was no evidence that his skill and specialized knowledge derived from anything other than his experience in trade; E had always treated him as being part of bargaining unit)

Linn Gear Company JD-(SF)-360-80
(on ct remand, JD held leadman was not supervisor, notwithstanding that he trained inexperienced workers and to some extent directed work of other Ees, where he had no authority to hire, transfer, suspend, lay off, recall, promote, discharge, or to effectively recommend such action)

N.L.R.B. v. J. W. Mays, Inc. 675 F.2d 442 (C.A. 2, Feb. 1982)
(Bd's wide discretion in determining who is supervisor w/i meaning of Act not disturbed where evidence supported Bd's decision that lieutenants (in guard unit) are supervisors but sergeants and corporals are not; sergeants collect information so that others can make decisions, and routinely direct nontitled guards to do jobs others have assigned them)

N.L.R.B. v. Wilson-Crissman Cadillac, Inc. 659 F.2d 728 (C.A. 6, 1981)

8560-1500 Lack of authority to hire, discipline, assign, etc.

RAHCO, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 030
(assistant assembly line supervisor employed by combine modifier of agricultural machinery, held not supervisory where record failed to establish that he had authority to assign, discipline or direct Ees or effectively recommend such action using his independent judgment as contemplated by Act)

American Medical Services, Inc., d/b/a River Hills Nursing Home West 262 NLRB No. 185
(incident occuring under unique and isolated circumstances in which RN spontaneously recommended discharge of Ee for neglecting nursing home patient, subsequently approved by director, held not indicative of RN's supervisory authority)

Artcraft Displays, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 151
(leadmen in employ of Es engaged in various aspects of convention and trade show business whose authority to lay off Ees is mechanical and routine, since layoffs are governed by seniority; and they have no role in instigating or preparing letters to U whereby discharges are effected by notifying U that Ee should no longer be referred to E)

Cement Masons Union Local No. 526 of The Operative Plasterers' and Cement Masons' International Association, AFL-CIO (P. J. Dick Contracting, Inc.) 261 NLRB No. 159
(Ee hired as journeyman cement finisher by E contractor, who intended to make Ee supervisor when opening occurred held not supervisor, since Ee's duties, immediately after his being hired, including advising cement finishers when their work was completed calling hiring hall when new workers needed, did not rise to level of indicia of supervisory status as set forth in Sec. 2(11) of Act)

Advanced Mining Group, Div. of Republic Corp., Lucerne Facility 260 NLRB No. 073
(Ee designated by E as supervisor not supervisory, since he did not sufficiently possess authority to exercise independent judgment nor was it shown that he responsibly directed other maintenance workers or effectively recommended such action)

Institutional Food Services 258 NLRB No. 086
(general warehouseman whose working time was largely spent in loading trucks and distributing job orders to drivers held not supervisor and included in unit of warehousemen and truckdrivers, since record contained no evidence that Ee hired, fired or disciplined any warehouse Ees or that Ee possessed or exercised any supervisory indicia)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(assistant art directors in newspaper's advertising administration department, not supervisory, where, at best, art director relies on technical review by assistant art director and not on his general opinion or appraisal of applicant's work; instead, art director reviews applicant and portfolio in all instances)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(fact that assistant newstand and street sales managers in newspaper's circulation department hire and control part-timers who work 2 hours a night, 6 nights a week, held not to warrant finding them supervisory, where status of part-timers had not been clarified either in record or in parties' briefs, control and supervision of part-timers was routine and did not require use of independent judgment, and assistant managers did not use discretion or independent judgment in hiring part-timers)

8360-1500—Cont.

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014

(participation by swing editor on newspaper's night operations newsdesk in hire of Ee held not to warrant finding him supervisor where he was engaged in consensus decision making more akin to that of skilled craftsmen passing judgment on technical merit of applicant rather than an effective exercise of supervisory authority)

Central Freight Lines, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 063

(leadman at freight distribution center not supervisor where his instructions to workers on loading dock were simply routine in nature and evidence was persuasive that Ee lacked any true authority over other personnel)

Linn Gear Company JD-(SF)-360-80

(on ct remand, JD held leadman was not supervisor, notwithstanding that he trained inexperienced workers and to some extent directed work of other Ees, where he had no authority to hire, transfer, suspend, lay off, recall, promote, discharge, or to effectively recommend such action)

N.L.R.B. v. Valentine A. Heid Estate, d/b/a Heid's Lunch Stand 618 F.2d 962 (C.A. 2, 1980)

N.L.R.B. v. Wilson-Crissman Cadillac, Inc. 659 F.2d 728 (C.A. 6, 1981)

8360-1800 Prospect of being promoted to supervisor

Sylvester's Corp.; d/b/a Gene Sylvester Alarm Co.; et al. 249 NLRB No. 161

(challenge to ballot of former supervisor overruled where Ee, initially returned to do unit work to complete complex installation but since then has performed on other jobs as well though he has not exercised any supervisory authority whatsover, E has not informed Ees of former supervisor's change in status and installation not yet completed)

8360-2500 Performance of duties once performed by supervisor

N.L.R.B. v. Andrea Associates, a joint venture d/b/a Pinecrest Hospital 614 F.2d 777(T) (C.A. 9) (1980)

(temporary supervisor is person who has been temporarily detailed out of Ee unit with virtual certainty of returning to that unit; temporary supervisor analogous to Ee in temporary layoff status at time of election and as such is eligible to vote in election)

8360-4000 Relaying of orders and information; assignment of work

Division of Plessey Materials Corporation, Plessey Micro Science, A Wholly Owned Subsidiary of Plessey Inc. 263 NLRB No. 182

(leadpersons employed by E engaged in chemical milling manufacturing business not supervisors where they exercised no independent judgment concerning personnel matters and had no authority other than to tell people to stay at or return to work in order that work continu in orderly fashion)

Humes Electric, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 159

(foreman employed by electrical contractor in construction industry not supervisor where foreman was none other than conduit who relayed orders to Ees nor did he exercise any significant degree of independent judgment)

Howland Hook Marine Terminal Corporation 263 NLRB No. 040

Medical Investors Association 260 NLRB No. 124

(Ee who acted as conduit for supervisor because he translated instructions from English to Spanish not found supervisor where he possessed no other indications of supervisory status)

Hydro Conduit Corporation 254 NLRB No. 048

(production foreman at manufacturer of concrete pipe not supervisor since he lacked authority to effectively recommend changes in Ee's status or make decisions involving exercise of independent judgment but acted only as conduit between Ees and management, notwithstanding empowered to assign work, give verbal reprimands, grant leave requests, assign overtime, handle Ee complaints and grievances, report poor production, and violations of work rules and provide imput regarding evaluation of Ees, attended management meetings, and did little actual production work)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014

(assistant art directors in newspaper's advertising administration, not supervisory, where their assignment of art work is routine inasmuch as primary factor in determining assignments is work load and, although assistants may make assignments based on artists's skills, such assignment is to be expected when more experienced person decides there is more efficient way for particular process to be completed)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014

(deputy financial editor on newspaper's financial desk, not supervisory, where he spends 80-90 percent of his time writing stories, and time he spends in making assignments is de minimis)

Judd Valve Co., Inc. 248 NLRB No. 018

(leadman at check valve manufacturing plant, who acts as conduit to management, not supervisory)

N.L.R.B. v. J. W. Mays, Inc. 675 F.2d 442 (C.A. 2, Feb. 1982)

(Bd's wide discretion in determining who is supervisor w/i meaning of Act not disturbed where evidence supported Bd's decision that lieutenants (in guard unit) are supervisors but sergeants and corporals are not; sergeants collect information so that others can make decisions, and routinely direct nontitled guards to do jobs others have assigned them)

8360-5000 Limited or sporadic exercise of supervisory power

Vinyl-Fab Industries, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 133

(group leaders employed by swimming pool cover manufacturer not supervisors where they were generally no more than laisons between E and Ees; did not, except in E's absence, exercise independent judgment and only temporarily assumed E's duties in his absence)

RAHCO, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 030

(although assistant assembly line supervisor was not statutory supervisor, E was responsible for his conduct where assistant regularly directed Ees' work pursuant to E's authorization, acted as assembly line supervisor on rare occassions when head supervisor was absent from work, and assistant wore gold hat which was emblem of management; E placed assistant in position whereby Ees would have just cause to believe he was acting for and on behalf of management)

American Medical Services, Inc., d/b/a River Hills Nursing Home West 262 NLRB No. 185

(incident occuring under unique and isolated circumstances in which RN spontaneously recommended discharge of Ee for neglecting nursing home patient, subsequently approved by director, held not indicative of RN's supervisory authority)

Artcraft Displays, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 151

(even if leadmen in employ of Es engaged in various aspects of convention and trade show business possess authority to lay off Ees out of order of seniority, such authority is so restricted and exercised so sporadically that it is not an indicium of supervisory status)

Marion Rohr Corporation 261 NLRB No. 138

(Ee whose substitution for supervisor is sporadic and limited (less than 50% of his time) cannot be deemed statutory supervisor)

Teamsters Local Union No. 574, a/w Teamsters (Lola Wheeler, an Individual) 259 NLRB No. 037

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014

(supervisory authority of newspaper's advertising agency representative as well as that of co-op manager held not established by their shared and limited responsibility over their respective clerical Ees)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014

(sporadic hiring and terminating of temporaries does not convert rank-and-file Ee to statutory supervisor)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014

(sporadic and limited exercise of authority by editor of special subsection for inclusion in separate section of newspaper, who made one recommendation regarding a news aide and that a particular reporter transfer to write column for separate section held not to demonstrate supervisory authority)

Judd Valve Co., Inc. 248 NLRB No. 018

(insufficient to establish leadman as supervisor)

Childers Manufacturing Company, Inc. JD-(SF)-11-82

(isolated, sporadic incident of Ee's giving written warning to an Ee held not, of itself, sufficient to establish that Ee possessed statutory supervisory authority; nor was there any showing that E relied upon Ee's notice so as to affect recipient Ee's job status)

McDonnell Douglas Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 655 F.2d 932 (C.A. 9, 1981)

(transport pilot who ferried E's executives and other persons between E's facilities held Ee and not supervisor; Ee did not exercise authority over non-pilot crew members and only infrequently exercised supervisory authority)

8360-6000 Substitution for supervisor

Vinyl-Fab Industries, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 133

(group leaders employed by swimming pool cover manufacturer not supervisors where they were generally no more than laisons between E and Ees; did not, except in E's absence, exercise independent judgment and only temporarily assumed E's duties in his absence)

RAHCO, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 030

(although assistant assembly line supervisor was not statutory supervisor, E was responsible for his conduct where assistant regularly directed Ees' work pursuant to E's authorization, acted as assembly line supervisor on rare occassions when head supervisor was absent from work, and assistant wore gold hat which was emblem of management; E placed assistant in position whereby Ees would have just cause to believe he was acting for and on behalf of management)

Sharondale Corporation 262 NLRB No. 158

(Electrician at mine who was filling in temporarily as foreman but was not salaried nor received any other emoluments of regular supervisors but did receive shift premiums not received by supervisors; further he received orders from general mine foreman and called general foreman every night for specific instructions regarding assignments of work and carried out specified, predirected duties)

8560-6000—Cont.

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(substitution for supervisor of advertising accounts receivable in newspaper's accounting department by assistant supervisor held not basis for finding latter supervisory, where substitution occurs only during vacations and other short periods of time)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(senior budget analyst in budget section of newspaper's accounting department not supervisory where his substitution for administrative assistant is not frequent, and he exercises no more authority in such role than he does normally while acting as senior analyst in department)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(fact that swing editor in newspaper's newsroom substitutes for supervisor on weekends held not indicative of supervisory status where staff is small and assignments prearranged, and there is little room for independent judgment or discretion)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(swing editor on newspaper's night operations news desk, not supervisory, where his substitution for news editor did not involve him in substantive personnel decisions or require use of independent judgment or discretion in exercise of his duties)

8560-7000 Training, instruction and inspection functions

Para-Chem Southern, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 027
(Ee's receipt of copies of memorandums sent to management and supervisory personnel did not give him supervisory status where he, as senior person in shipping and receiving department, would have to have knowledge of procedures outlined in memos in order for department to function efficiently)

Para-Chem Southern, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 027
(Ee's attendance at management training class did not give him supervisory status where, at time of meeting, he was only Ee in department)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(although production editor on newspaper's night operations news desk may give directions to production people, such direction is not supervisory but informative)

Permanent Label Corporation 248 NLRB No. 021
(Ees who exercise some independent judgment based on their technical expertise held technical Ees not managerial)

Linn Gear Company JD-(SF)-360-80
(on ct remand, JD held leadman was not supervisor, notwithstanding that he trained inexperienced workers and to some extent directed work of other Ees, where he had no authority to hire, transfer, suspend, lay off, recall, promote, discharge, or to effectively recommend such action)

8560-8000 Making of factual reports

RAHCO, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 030
(reporting of Ee misconduct is matter of monitoring rather than manifestation of supervisory authority)

Artcraft Displays, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 151
(leadmen in employ of Es engaged in various aspects of convention and trade show business whose responsibility to review and initial time cards and to prepare other paperwork is merely routine and clerical)

8560-9000 Recommendctions reviewed by supervisors

Knogo Corporation 265 NLRB No. 130
(lead person who reports to management any rule infractions or repeated incidents of poor performance, since any discipline for such conduct is administered only after independent investigation by management; same for recommendations that Ees be transferred from one type of work to another)

Ahrens Aircraft, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 112
(shop supervisors in aircraft manufacturing plant found nonsupervisory where only indication of supervisory authority was in their title; evaluations made by them were reviewed by higher management and often modified)

N.L.R.B. v. Valentine A. Heid Estate, d/b/a Heid's Lunch Stand 615 F.2d 962 (C.A. 2, 1980)

8560-9500 Pay and/or benefit

Para-Chem Southern, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 027
(Ee's being salaried Ee and receiving higher pay than other Ees did not give him supervisory status where he was made salaried Ee because his overtime wages were, in opinion of E, too high and at time he became salaried, his duties did not change)

Para-Chem Southern, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 027
(Ee's coverage under long-term disability insurance did not give him supervisory status where two other Ees were also included on policy)

Para-Chem Southern, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 027
(fact that Ee had his own mailbox and reserved parking space did not give him supervisory status where he received mailbox at time he commenced working in department, at which time he was only Ee in department and he had received parking space only shortly before leaving E, and other nonsupervisory Ees also received reserved parking spaces)

Para-Chem Southern, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 027
(failure to receive annual bonus that went to all supervisors)

8580 TYPES OF EMPLOYEES FOUND NONSUPERVISORY (BY SIC)

8580-1200 Bituminous coal and lignite mining

Sharondale Corporation 262 NLRB No. 159
(Electrician at mine who was filling in temporarily as foreman but was not salaried nor received any other emoluments of regular supervisors but did receive shift premiums not received by supervisors; further he received orders from general mine foreman and called general foreman every night for specific instructions regarding assignments of work and carried out specified, predirected duties)

8580-1600 Construction other than building construction - general contractors

Stafford Construction Co. 250 NLRB No. 128
(grade checker found nonsupervisory where he works as assistant to foreman, does not assign operators to equipment, never had any supervisory authority and unlike foreman is hourly paid)

8580-1700 Construction - special trade contractors

Gary Concrete Products, Inc. JD-(ATL)-65-82
(Ee who was more skilled than others and paid at higher rate found nonsupervisory where his direction of other Ees was of routine nature and he lacked authority required to be considered supervisor)

8580-2000 Food and kindred products

Jacobo Marti & Sons, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 007
(Ee held not supervisor because he exercised virtually no independent judgment; however, Ee held E's agent because while working on night shift Ee's duties were to keep eye on plant and report any and all problems to president)

Holly Hill Fruit Products Co., Inc. 256 NLRB No. 035
(tank farm operators found non-supervisory notwithstanding are in charge on night shift; these Ees who rotate through night shift at 2-week intervals act as leadmen on basis of superior technical competence rather than exercise of managerial function, moreover, where no evidence that these Ees exercise any supervisory authority, mere fact that night shift is thus unsupervised does not support finding of supervisory status)

Ralston Purina Company 260 NLRB No. 053
(lead sanitarian in sanitation department of cereal manufacturer found nonsupervisory where in assigning work and preparing daily work schedule the functioned as conduit for manager of department rather than as a supervisor)

8580-2200 Textile mill products

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 044
(section men at yarn producing facility)

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 044
(utility and air conditioning mechanic at yarn producing facility)

8580-2300 Apparel and other finished products made from fabrics and similar materials

Mr. Herbert of California, Inc. JD-(SF)-83-81
(head cutter in cutting room of manufacturer of ladies' coats, held leadman and not supervisor where there was no evidence that his skill and specialized knowledge derived from anything other than his experience in trade; E had always treated him as being part of bargaining unit)

8580-2400 Lumber and wood products, except furniture

Universal Veneer Mill Corp. 261 NLRB No. 110
(individual at veneer manufacturing plant who was log handler on second shift until he was transferred to third shift and assertedly told to take charge of plant on that shift held not supervisor, where he neither possessed nor exercised any of necessary authority enumerated in Sec. 2(11))

8580-2500 Furniture and fixtures

N.L.R.B. v. Memphis Furniture Manufacturing Company 616 F.2d 964 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(shipping clerk of furniture manufacturing company, held nonsupervisory Ee)

Brodart, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 077
(payroll supervisor for manufacturer of library furniture and wholesale distributor of books, not supervisor where she did not possess authority to use her independent judgment with respect to exercise by her of one or more of indicia of supervisory authority listed in Section 2(11); and there was no kinship to management or empathetic relationship between E and Ee so as to regard Ee as E's supervisor)

8580-2500—Cont.

Brodart, Inc. JD-140-81
(payroll supervisor of E engaged in manufacture of library furniture and wholesale distribution of books held not supervisor since she did not possess authority to use independent judgment with respect to one or more of indicia of supervisory authority listed in Section 2(11); title of payroll supervisor is not, w/o more, determinative of issue; and there is no kinship to Management or empathetic relationship between E and Ee so as to regard her as supervisor)

8580-2700 Printing, publishing, and allied industries

Kenosha News Publishing Corporation 264 NLRB No. 050
(horizons editor of daily newspaper found nonsupervisory where participation in interviewing and hiring of employment applicants did not indicate authority to recommend hiring but rather role of preserving harmonious working relationships)

Kenosha News Publishing Corporation 264 NLRB No. 050
(subeditors of daily newipaper not supervisory where their editing of stories of others in their departments and rewriting of some stories did not constitute responsible directing of other Ees or making of assignments which required exercise of independent judgment)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(phone room row supervisors in newspaper's classified advertising department)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(copy desk supervisor engaged in processing copy from phone room in newspaper's classified advertising department)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(principal clerk in production unit of newspaper's general advertising department which processes national advertising orders)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(advertising agency representative in newspaper's advertising administration who acts as liaison for newspaper with advertising agencies which place ads in newspaper)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(co-op manager in newspaper's advertising administration department who is responsible for locating and bringing to attention of sales persons funds allocated by manufacturer or distributor for advertising cooperatively with local retailers)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(assistant art director in art department w/i newspaper's advertising administration)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(customer relations supervisor in customer relations department, constituting part of newspaper's advertising department, which handles complaints from customers regarding newspaper advertisements)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(assistant newstand and street sales managers in newspaper's circulation department)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(assistant night circulation managers in newspaper's circulation department)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(service desk assistant managers in newspaper's circulation service department which receives telephones calls from customers regarding circulation, including complaints, requests, address changes, and the like)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(art director in newspaper's promotions department operating as in-house ad agency, producing media advertisements, and assisting in advertising and circulation promotions)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(assistant market research manager in newspaper's research department which supplies market research and media information to other departments to assist in selling newspaper as an advertising medium)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(printing services supervisor in printing services section of administrative services department which provides support services for printing, telephone, centrex, building services, mail purchasing, and travel)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(assistant purchasing manager in purchasing department of newspaper's administrative services department)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(assistant manager in newspaper's insurance department)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(night Ee relations manager at newspaper who deals with complaints and other grievance related problems)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(supervisor and assistant supervisor of advertising accounts receivable in newspaper's accounting department)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(supervisor for accounting circulation receivables in newspaper's accounting department)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(credit supervisors of regular accounts and transient accounts in newspaper's advertising account department)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(assistant cashier in accounting department at newspaper)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(accounts payable supervisor in accounting department at newspaper)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(paper marker supervisor in accounting department at newspaper, who keeps track of classified ads)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(senior budget analyst in budget section in accounting department at newspaper)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(payroll supervisor in newspaper's accounting department)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(manager of computer operators in data processing department at newspaper)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(national assistant editor in newspaper's newsroom)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(national assistant editor in newspaper's newsroom, who performs special projects and swing work involving variety of tasks)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(night metro editor on metro desk at newspaper)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(where newspaper editors assign reporters to events by mutual consent, and editor's primary duty is to check quality of copy and require unsatisfactory copy to be rewritten, editor's authority is routine and not supervisory)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(subordinate area editors on metro desk at newspaper)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(fact that some assistant editors on metro desk at newspaper have interviewed prospective Ees, or have made comments to superior editors regarding quality of reporter's work is insufficient to render their positions supervisory, especially in view of fact that there are two higher levels of supervision)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(assistant editor on metro desk at newspaper who is involved in layout, graphics, and production of weekly section)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(assistant editor for separate style section of newspaper dealing with entertainment, society, travel, and food)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(night editor for separate style section of newspaper dealing with entertainment, society, travel, and food who is essentially involved in production work)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(chief copy editor for separate style section of newspaper dealing with entertainment, society, travel, and food)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(editor of special subsection concerned with domestic arts, crafts, architecture and the like for inclusion in separate section of newspaper)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(executive fond editor and food editor for newspaper's food section)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(editor of newspaper's Sunday television suplement)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(editor of newspaper's Sunday section which contains news analysis, in-depth articles, and editorial and op-ed pages)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(photo assignment editor and night picture editor in newspaper's photo and art department)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(assistant art director in newspaper's photo and art department)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(deputy financial editor on newspaper's financial desk)

8580-2700—Cont.

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(assistant financial editor who is chief copy editor on newspaper's financial desk)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(assistant editors in newspapers real estate department)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(while individual was added as assistant editor to newspaper's real estate department to improve its quality and was delegated responsibility for its efficient functioning, such responsibility is part of craft or function of newspaper person; it does not, w/o more, convert rank-and-file Ee into supervisor)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(librarian in reference library in newspaper's research department who performs research and other library work)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(librarian in reference library in newspaper's research department who performs research and other library work, not supervisory, merely because he sometimes schedules work or reminds Ees when they are late)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(night foreign editor on newspaper's foreign desk who is chief copy desk person in department)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(production editor on newspaper's night operations news desk)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(swing editor on newspaper's night operations newsdesk)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(chief make-up editor on newspaper's night operations who is newsdesk and newsroom representative in composing room)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(late night editor on newspaper's night operations newsdesk)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(metro news editor on newspaper's night operations newsdesk)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(editorial department copy chief at newspaper)

Nevada County Publishing Co., d/b/a The Union 251 NLRB No. 143
(assistant foreman at newspaper held not supervisor notwithstanding facts that he sometimes acted as foreman in absence of foreman, including filling in for him at management meetings, occasionally authorized overtime w/o checking with anyone else and took it upon himself to go and secure late copy from reporters, where his activities as supervisor were performed on sporadic basis; he never granted time off, had no authority to either hire or fire or to recommend same, or to rate or evaluate Ees, or to suspend them or even to reprimand and was not regarded by other Ees as boss)

Courier Life Publications, Inc. JD-88-82
(individual at newspaper held not supervisor notwithstanding her sporadic and temporary assumption of supervisory functions in art director's absence and her occasional reviewing of work done by coworkers)

Courier Life Publications, Inc. JD-88-82
(individual at newspaper who worked in layout, pasteup and production held not supervisor, powers exercised by him were those over makeup and format of E's product, not over Ees)

Courier Life Publications, Inc. JD-88-82
(typesetter at newspaper held not supervisor notwithstanding that she may have been of assistance in technicalities of typesetting to other less experienced)

Walla Walla Union-Bulletin, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 631 F 2d 609 (C.A. 9, Oct. 1980)
(photo editor responsible for makup of newspaper's photo work found nonsupervisory where he acts as coordinator for photography vis-a-vis rest of news department, does not attend managerial meetings or supervise or discipline other Ees and was involved in hiring of summer intern only to extent of making a recommendation to the managing editor)

Walla Walla Union-Bulletin, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 631 F.2d 609 (C.A. 9, Oct. 1980)
(sports editor of newspaper who was primarily responsible for content and lay-out of sports page found non-supervisory where he had no supervisory authority to hire, fire, discipline or suspend sports staff Ees, did not handle grievances, and received overtime pay only when authorized by the managing news editor)

Walla Walla Union-Bulletin, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 631 F.2d 609 (C.A. 9, Oct. 1980)
(wire editor of newspaper who evaluated copy coming into the newsroom on wire services, selected important news items and passed them on to the news editor for discussion, and laid out articles and photographs with aid of rotating staff assistant found nonsupervisory since she exercised no statutory supervisory responsibilities)

Alco-Gravure, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 157
(Bd held control monitors and job operators who perform much the same functions in ensuring quality of publications for E engaged in rotogravure printing of newspaper supplements and advertising materials were not supervisors, where they did not exercise real supervisory authority over Ees and did not possess any of usual indicia of supervisory authority; nor were they managerial Ees as they did not exercise judgment and discretion independent of E's established policies and were not involved in formulation, determination, and effectuation of management policies)

Print-O-Stat, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 047
(gang leaders in production departments at printing plant, since performance of their duties did not require exercise of independent judgment, but rather they functioned essentially as senior experienced lead personnel and their direction of other Ees was dictated solely by demands of each production job, notwithstanding they had authority to grant time off, assign Ees to work overtime, and make job assignments)

8580-2800 Chemicals and allied products

Division of Plessey Materials Corporation, Plessey Micro Science, A Wholly Owned Subsidiary of Plessey Inc. 263 NLRB No. 182
(leadpersons employed by E engaged in chemical milling manufacturing business not supervisors where they exercised no independent judgment concerning personnel matters and had no authority other than to tell people to stay at or return to work in order that work continue in orderly fashion)

Pura-Chem Southern, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 027
(shipping department Ee for producer of adhesives and chemicals held not supervisor where any direction or instruction by him was attributable essentially to his familiarity with operation of shipping and receiving department)

8580-3000 Rubber and miscellaneous plastics products

Injected Rubber Products Corp. 258 NLRB No. 092
(leadmen at manufacturer of rubber parts held not supervisors, where they did not hire, transfer, suspend, lay off, recall, promote, discharge, reward, discipline nor effectively recommend such actions, were paid on hourly basis, received overtime pay, had no office, desk or telephone, and spent most of their shift doing manual labor; notwithstanding reviewed and signed timeslips, transmitted verbal warnings to Ees, were paid more per hour than other Ees, and fact management made decisions based on leadmen's information w/o further verification)

Permanent Label Corporation 248 NLRB No. 021
(floor lady position which was purely routine and involved no exercise of discretion not supervisory)

8580-3200 Stone, clay, glass, and concrete products

Hydro Conduit Corporation 254 NLRB No. 048
(production foreman at manufacturer of concrete pipe not supervisor since he lacked authority to effectively recommend changes in Ee's status or make decisions involving exercise of independent judgment but acted only as conduit between Ees and management, notwithstanding empowered to assign work, give verbal reprimands, grant leave requests, assign overtime, handle Ee complaints and grievances, report poor production, and violations of work rules and provide imput regarding evaluation of Ees, attended management meetings, and did little actual production work)

8580-3300 Primary metal industries

Dura-Vent Corporation 257 NLRB No. 083
(working foremen for manufacturer and seller of metal products not supervisory, where they did not have authority to hire, fire or effectively recommend hire and fire of Ees;nor did they grant Ees vacation or sick leave or participate in handling of Ee grievances; fact that working foremen had role in general direction and training of Ees and in maintaining product quality control did not support a finding that working foremen were supervisors w/i meaning of 2(11))

Rich's Precision Foundry, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 001
(individual who was maintenance man and electrician at foundry, notwithstanding gave Ees warnings, since an admitted supervisor initiated or made decisions to reprimand on own investigation, individual attended production meetings where attendance was primarily to obtain work schedules and assigned tasks to apprentices and helpers, as individual exercised no independent judgment in performing this function and assignments and directions were type given by skilled workers to apprentices and helpers)

Post Manufacturing Company 261 NLRB No. 183
(troubleshooter who worked on second shift in high pressure die cast aluminum department of injection molding manufacturer not supervisor where, although he was paid more than other production Ees, his benefits, working conditions and pay day were same as other Ees'; he did not attend supervisors' meetings, nor did he exercise independent judgment in assigning Ees to machines or effectively recommend discipline; he gave only routine directions and told Ees that he was not in charge)

8580-3400 Fabricated metal products, except machinery and transportation equipment

8580-3400—Cont.

Childers Manufacturing Company, Inc. JD-(SF)-11-82
(leadman bearing title of manager in heating production department at plant engaged in manufacturing hot oil heaters, asphalt storage tanks, parts and accessories)

High Performance Tube, Inc. 231 NLRB No. 101
(foreman found leadman not supervisor where lacked authority to hire, recommend personel actions to management and actions such as asking Ee to increase production, recommending improvements in tool room, training new Ees, inspecting product, keeping production records do not elevate status to that of supervisor)

8580-3500 Machinery, except electrical

RAHCO, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 080
(assistant assembly line supervisor employed by combine modifier of agricultural machinery, held not supervisory where record failed to establish that he had authority to assign, discipline or direct Ees or effectively recommend such action using his independent judgment as contemplated by Act)

TRW-United Greenfield Division 260 NLRB No. 013
(dispatchers whose normal work involved routing tools through production process found nonsupervisory notwithstanding they pointed out deficiencies in production line to supervisors as this is incidental to normal nonsupervisory work)

Firmat Manufacturing Corp. 255 NLRB No. 153
(individual employed by manufacturer of precision tools held non-supervisory, notwithstanding he receives much larger rate of pay and considerably larger bonus than other Ees, had received an additional holiday and allegedly had hired on one occasion a new Ee, where he had not hired any other Ee, fired any Ee or effectively recommended such action; nor had he recommended discipline or responsibly directed work of other Ees)

Bodolay Packaging Machinery, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 038
(leadman who had no authority to hire or fire, did not attend supervisors' meetings, grant time off or select Ees for overtime work found non-supervisor where he merely recommended to foremen which Ees should be disciplined and foremen decided what action should be taken if any)

Micro Metl Corporation 267 NLRB No. 066
(leadman for manufacturer, seller, and distributor of air-conditioning components, not supervisor where he had no authority to hire, fire, discipline, promote or suspend Ees and never exercised such authority and he did not direct Ees or exercise supervisory functions in name of management or by utilizing independent judgment)

8580-3600 Electrical and electronic machinery, equipment and supplies

Knogo Corporation 265 NLRB No. 130
(lead person whose duties include checking work of other Ees, monitoring production and performing actual production work, and who voted in Bd election, receives same fringe benefits as other production Ees and punches timeclock)

Swanson-Nunn Electric Company 256 NLRB No. 131
(foreman at electrical contractor found not supervisor where he exercised no supervisory authority or independent judgement and was merely skilled Ee)

Swanson-Nunn Electric Company 256 NLRB No. 131
(shift foreman at electrical contractor not supervisor where his duties were misterial and he had no authority to hire, fire or discipline Ees)

ABL General Systems Corp. JD-(NY)-67-83
(quality control inspector employed by manufacturer of machine and mechanical parts and electronic communications devices, not supervisor where he gave instruction and directions requiring Ees to conform to customer's standards but did not use independent judgment or responsibly direct Ees' work)

EMR Photoelectric, A Division of Sangamo Weston Inc. 251 NLRB No. 214
(Ee who described himself as leadman-supervisor at plant manufacturing photoelectric devices)

8580-3700 Transportation equipment

Fort Wayne Truck Parts & Equipment, Inc. JD-371-82
(leadman in paint shop at manufacturer of truck parts and cab assemblies who was hourly paid and puched time clock, had no authority over Ees, assignment of work by leadman was routine based on work orders given him, he had no office and frequently performed unit work)

Ahrens Aircraft, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 112
(shop supervisors in aircraft manufacturing plant found nonsupervisory where only indication of supervisory authority was in their title; evaluations made by them were reviewed by higher management and often modified)

Mercury Marine Division of Brunswick Corporation 254 NLRB No. 146
(process coordinators who operate electronically programmed die-casting machines at corporation's marine division)

8580-3800 Measuring, analyzing, and controlling instruments; photographic, medical and optical goods; watches and clocks

Gerber Scientific Instrument Company, Inc., A Wholly Owned Subsidiary of Gerber Scientific, Inc. JD-188-82
(leadmen at manufacturer of automated design equipment who was paid hourly wages, punched time clock and received same fringe benefits, notwithstanding that he broke down production schedule in order to assign jobs, was paid higher wages, and received reports from Ees on time expended on each machine)

Brooks Cameras, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 116
(warehouse clerk in charge of receiving at warehouse of retailer of cameras and photographic equipement, not supervisory where he lacked authority to hire, fire, discipline, grant time off or schedule work assignments, exercised independent judgment only once, and, although second most senior of all warehouse Ees, he was paid less than truck drivers)

8580-3900 Miscellaneous manufacturing industries

Vinyl-Fab Industries, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 133
(group leaders employed by swimming pool cover manufacturer not supervisors where they were generally no more than laisons between E and Ees; did not, except in E's absence, exercise independent judgment and only temporarily assumed E's duties in his absence)

Hedison Manufacturing Company 249 NLRB No. 096
(plant nurse at costume jewelry manufacturing plant)

8580-4200 Motor freight transportation and warehousing

Institutional Food Services 258 NLRB No. 086
(general warehouseman whose working time was largely spent in loading trucks and distributing job orders to drivers held not supervisor and included in unit of warehousemen and truckdrivers, since record contained no evidence that Ee hired, fired or disciplined any warehouse Ees or that Ee possessed or exercised any supervisory indicia)

Berger Transfer and Storage, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 002
(warehouse foreman held non supervisor where his job of seeing that trucks were properly loaded and Ees left with trucks to which they were assigned did not involve use of independing judgment)

Tri-State Motor Transit Company 251 NLRB No. 104
(dispatcher at freight transportation company held nonsupervisory where he associated with Ees as fellow Ee, sometimes did rank-and-file yard work, and only assignment of work to Ees was of sporadic and routine nature, in connection with duties as dispatcher; any direct action, so far as Ees were concerned, could be taken only after clearance with terminal manager or company headquarters)

Central Freight Lines, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 063
(leadman at freight distribution center not supervisor where his instructions to workers on loading dock were simply routine in nature and evidence was persuasive that Ee lacked any true authority over other personnel)

Tennessee Cartage Co., Inc. 259 NLRB No. 015
(leadmen at E engaged in transporting foods found not to be supervisors where they had no true discretion, performed physical labor 90 to 100% of time, were expected to move same amount of freight with other Ees, and voted as unit Ees in prior Bd election w/o objection from E)

Gra-Bell Truck Line, Inc. JD-72-82
(office supervisor found not to be supervisor under Act where she exercised basically routine clerical functions, and did not exercise any real authority but merely acted as conduit for directives of management)

Connecticut Distributors, Inc. v. N.L.R.B 681 F.2d 127 (C.A. 2, June 1982)
(dispatcher found nonsupervisor where although he had authority to hire Ees for temporary and casual work, decided which Ees to call for work, changed driver's routes and granted time off his, duties were of routine notice and he lacked power of effective recommendation)

Central Freight Lines, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 1023 (C.A. 5, Aug 1981)
(leadman at freight distribution center not supervisor where his only exercise of judgment was in distributing dockmen among available trailers for loading and like other dock Ees, he spent most of his time engaged in manual labor, and was paid only 5 cents per hour more than others)

Justak Brothers and Company, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 664 F.2d 1074 (C.A. 7, Nov. 1981)
(Ees properly included in bargaining unit where paid less than leadmen, were designated laborers in employment records and did laborers work)

Aero Warehouse, Inc. JD-(NY)-48-81
(dispatcher at E engaged in warehousing and distribution of electronic equipment, held not supervisor, notwithstanding he was salaried and received higher compensation than E's warehousemen, absent evidence truck owner-operators whom he allegedly supervised were Ees w/i Act or that he exercised supervisory authority over warehousemen or other Ees or exercised independent judgment to assign or contract with owner-operators)

8580-4200—Cont.

N.L.R.B. v. Berger Transfer & Storage Co. 678 F.2d 679 (C.A. 7, May 1982)

(warehouse foreman at moving and transfer company whose primary responsibility was to see that trucks were properly loaded and that Ees left with trucks to which assigned and who had no power to hire, fire or discipline)

8580-4400 Water transportation

Pennant Towing Corporation 258 NLRB No. 113

(tugboat pilot held not supervisor, where he had no authority to make command decisions and were he deemed supervisor, ratio of supervisors to crew would be 3 to 3)

Howland Hook Marine Terminal Corporation 263 NLRB No. 040

(tractor foreman of E engaged in performing stevedoring and marine terminal functions held leadman rather than supervisor where his primary duties related to operation of equipment rather than direction or supervision of Ees; Ees' duties were completely routine and required little or no supervision or direction; leadman exercised no independent judgment and his threats to discipline Ees were never carried out)

8580-4500 Transportation by air

McDonnell Douglas Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 655 F.2d 932 (C.A. 9, 1981)

(transport pilot who ferried E's executives and other persons between E's facilities held Ee and not supervisor; Ee did not exercise authority over non-pilot crew members and only infrequently exercised supervisory authority)

8580-4800 Communication

Rock Hill Telephone Company v. N.L.R.B. 605 F.2d 139 (C.A. 4, 1979)

(finding of nonsupervisory status supported by substantial evidence)

Meredith Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 679 F.2d 1332 (C.A. 10, June 1982)

(directors and production assistants of TV commercials at TV stations where, they did not effectively recommend personnel actions, direction given was routine, technical or aesthetically motivated, and programming collaborative effort, nor did directors attend management meetings)

Community Tele-Communications, Inc., d/b/a Helena Cable T.V. 249 NLRB No. 085

(individual who identified herself as office manager at E engaged in installation and servicing of cable television systems since she lacked authority to direct Ees or to effectively recommend hires, nature of work routine and individual's authority at most was that of leadman, some clericals were hired w/o any consultation with individual and consultation in other cases brief and informal)

8580-4900 Electric, gas, and sanitary services

Human Electric, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 159

(foreman employed by electrical contractor in construction industry not supervisor where foreman was none other than conduit who relayed orders to Ees nor did he exercise any significant degree of independent judgment)

Upshur-Rural Electric Cooperative Corporation 254 NLRB No. 057

(construction foremen for E engaged in distribution of electric power held not supervisors, where any authority they have is derived from their job experience, and any direction they give is that given by experienced Ees to those less experienced; moreover, if construction foremen were found supervisors, there would be the unrealistic ratio of 7 supervisors to 13 Ees)

Arizona Electric Power Cooperative, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 110

(load dispatchers and their leadman employed by electric power cooperative not supervisors where they did not oversee work performed pursuant to their directions, did not use independent judgment in directing other Ees; any discretion they used in buying and selling power was insufficient to render them managerial Ees)

Empire Gas, Inc. of Denver 254 NLRB No. 076

(office manager for wholesale and retail seller and distributor of gas held not supervisor where she was engaged in merely routine or clerical exercises which did not require her use of genuinely independent judgment)

8580-5000 Wholesale trade - durable goods

Goldies, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 628 F.2d 706 (C.A. 1, 1980)

(countermen who acted as salesmen of auto parts at supplier of domestic and foreign automobile and truck parts found nonsupervisory where they had power only to spasmodically and infrequently give reprimands and their occasional assignment of partsmen and giving of directions were routine)

Dillon Tile Supply Co., Inc. 257 NLRB No. 157

(warehouse manager for wholesale seller and distributor of ceramic tile held not supervisor where he had title but not authority of manager and had no authority to hire or fire or grant raise or overtime; work assignments he made and other duties he performed were only of routine nature and minor disciplinary action he exercised was hardly sufficient to establish that he had supervisory authority contemplated by Sec. 2(11) of Act)

Dillon Tile Supply Co., Inc. JD-(SF)-128-81

(Ee at warehouse of wholesale tile distributor held nonsupervisory notwithstanding he had title of manager where he did not interview anyone, had no authority to hire or fire or grant raise or overtime, was an hourly Ee and exercised no real independent judgment, and work assignments he made were only of routine nature)

Windsor Industries, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 145

(Ee employed by importer and distributor of electronic products held not supervisor, where her authority to assign work was limited to passing on of instructions to Ees from higher supervisors and she did not advise E as to work performance of any specific Ee; she spent her time working along with and performing work similar to other unit Ees, and she punched time clock as did other unit Ees)

8580-5100 Wholesale trade - nondurable goods

Wisconsin Beef Industries, Inc. 269 NLRB No. 034

(lead person at E engaged in packing and wholesale distribution of meat since she possessed no true supervisory authority notwithstanding suggested names for possible hiring and went over orders to make sure things were cleaned up at end of day and could allow persons to leave during day)

Mid-City Beverage Dist., Inc. JD-(SF)-253-81

(sales supervisor for beer distributor, notwithstanding title, higher pay, and daily evaluation of salesmen since evaluations routine and did not require independent judgment, he could not or make effective recommendations regarding hiring, discharge, discipline or promotion, grant time off, assign Ees or effectively determine length of training; further, supervisor substituted for salesmen on routes, used same sign in sheets and received same vacation as salesmen)

Teamsters Local 115 v. N.L.R.B. (Haddon House Food Products, Inc.) 640 F.2d 392 (C.A.D.C. 1981)

(Ee employed by wholesale food distributor held not supervisor where although he was paid more than some fellow Ees, other rank-and-file Ees earned more than he did, he occasionally communicated orders from management but did not have other supervisory, disciplinary or hiring powers, and he performed manual work side by side with other Ees)

Teamsters Local 115 v. N.L.R.B. (Haddon House Food Products, Inc.) 640 F.2d 392 (C.A.D.C. 1981)

(Ee employed by wholesale food distributor held not supervisor where, although he might have routed some trucks on occasion, he essentially served as truck driver)

8580-5300 General merchandise stores

N.L.R.B. v. J. W. Mays, Inc. 675 F.2d 442 (C.A. 2, Feb. 1982)

(Bd's wide discretion in determining who is supervisor w/i meaning of Act not disturbed where evidence supported Bd's decision that lieutenants (in guard unit) are supervisors but sergeants and corporals are not; sergeants collect information so that others can make decisions, and routinely direct nontitled guards to do jobs others have assigned them)

J. J. Newberry Co., A Wholly Owned Subsidiary of McCrory Corporation 249 NLRB No. 126

(clerical found member of unit and eligible to vote where her duties are of routine nature and Ees who work with her require no direction; moreover since only 2 Ees work with her it would result in unrealistic supervisor/Ee ratio)

J. J. Newberry Co., A Wholly Owned Subsidiary of McCrory Corporation 249 NLRB No. 126

(Ee in charge of cash room found not supervisor but lead person where nature of work routine and additional responsibility arose from experience and familiarity with E's operations)

8580-5400 Food stores

Prior's Pic-Pac Supermarkets, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 123

(grocery store stock clerk acting as leader for new Ees and receiving more pay than other stock clerks but performing same duties, nonsupervisory)

Grocery Carts, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 140

(former manager of one of E's grocery stores rehired as cashier-clerk in second store held not supervisor or agent because she had been relieved of all managerial functions due to unsatisfactory work before she stopped working at first store)

Diaz Enterprises, Inc., d/b/a Valley Mart Supermarkets 264 NLRB No. 026

(produce manager of supermarket held not supervisor where he had only one full and one part time Ee in department, exercised none of indicia of supervisory status, and his responsibilities were limited to types of produce ordered, received and stocked)

G.E.S., Inc., d/b/a Big Star No. 185 258 NLRB No. 040

(produce manager at retail grocery store who punches time clock, is hourly paid, performs simple, routine, manual duties of handling produce, cannot hire, fire, discipline or effectively recommend such action, and exercises no independent judgment)

8580-5400—Cont.

Quik-Pik Food Stores, Inc. 282 NLRB No. 076
(assistant manager at one of E's multiple retail food stores held not supervisor, notwithstanding she was higher rated Ee than cashiers, was paid more, possessed keys to store, was in charge of closing books at end of week, where she had no authority to hire and fire or authority effectively to recommend such action, no authority to issue formal reprimands; she functioned simply as experienced Ee with lead authority)

8580-5500 Automotive dealers and gasoline service stations

Movement Corporation, World Parts Division 261 NLRB No. 110
(personnel office secretary under immediate supervision of personnel manager of E engaged in distribution of automotive parts, not supervisor, notwithstanding her access to confidential information)

8580-5800 Eating and drinking places

Dick Seidler Enterprises, d/b/a Joe & Dodie's Tavern 254 NLRB No. 045
(working lead bartender held not supervisor where he gave instructions on mixing drinks, worked out Ee schedules, and requested cocktail waitresses to work beyond their shifts if business warranted it but was powerless to discipline waitress on his own if she refused and did not responsibly direct work of bar area Ees other than in routine fashion)

B. K. Restaurants Olean, Inc., d/b/a Burger King Restaurant 282 NLRB No. 065
(crew leader at restaurant, not supervisory Ee, where her duty was routine in nature and did not involve exercise of independent judgment)

American Diversified Foods, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 009
(shift managers of fast food restaurant found non supervisory personnel in light of fact that as senior Ees they were familiar with store's operational routine, helped counter Ees work smoothly in cooperative rather than controlling manner, performed same work functions as counter Ees, worked regular shifts. Shift managers were at most lead-men who had no role in formulating or affecting management policy)

Ground Round Restaurant, A Division of Howard Johnson JD-(SF)-191-82
(head cook at restaurant, notwithstanding he was consulted on personnel decisions and instructed new cooks, where ultimate decisions made by management and he exercised no independent judgment and had no real authority over other cooks)

N.L.R.B. v. Valentine A. Heid Estate, d/b/a Heid's Lunch Stand 615 F.2d 962 (C.A. 2, 1980)
(individual designated night acting manager at food stand held not supervisor, notwithstanding cousin of owner, where he performed same duties as countermen most of shift, compensation less than that of some individuals in unit, only responsibility associated with title was counting of receipts and locking of doors; further, individual had hired only one person which was reviewed by management, and had no control over wages or scope of work of person hired, nor is his expressing displeasure when co-workers did not perform their share of duties)

Dick Seidler Enterprises, d/b/a Joe & Dodie's Tavern JD-(SF)-239-80
(working lead bartender at restaurant held nonsupervisory where he did not have authority to hire or fire bar area Ees, nor did he effectively recommend such action except in 3 limited instances and merely exercised some ministerial supervisory functions such as working out Ee work schedules)

8580-6000 Banking

The Exchange Bank 264 NLRB No. 111
(head bookkeeper at bank held not supervisor where she had no authority to hire or fire Ees and work performed in bookkeeping department was routine in nature and each Ee was familiar with routine work performed by her each day)

Fall River Savings Bank v. N.L.R.B. 649 F.2d 50 (C.A. 1, May 1981)
(assistant branch managers of bank found nonsupervisory where although they often assumed command of bank in absence of manager, they had no authority over hiring, firing, promotions and salary increases and responsibilities did not require use of independent judgment)

8580-6300 Insurance

Pilgrim Life Insurance Company 249 NLRB No. 140
(individual in charge of office pays at insurance company who punched time clock, was paid time and half for overtime, and received same benefits as others in department, had never recommended that any Ee be disciplined, fired, or hired, and absent evidence she could effectively recommend such actions or that she directed work of Ees in any way)

8580-6500 Real estate

Elias Mallouk Realty Corp. 265 NLRB No. 186
(superintendents of apartment houses who oversee routine work of handy man and porter and have no power to hire, discipline or fire w/o approval of higher authority)

8580-7000 Hotels, rooming houses, camps, and other lodging places

Howard Johnson Motor Lodge 261 NLRB No. 123
(head of maintenance at motel not supervisor where had no power to hire, fire, transfer suspend, layoff or effectively recommend such action, and contact with most Ees under him was minimal)

Maros, Inc. d/b/a Towne Plaza Hotel 250 NLRB No. 016
(co-assistant housekeepers for operator of hotel and restaurant held not supervisors, notwithstanding they earned 15 cents per hour more than other maids and assigned work when substituting for housekeeping supervisor where any authority they exercised was essentially routine, they could not hire, fire, grant time off, discipline, permit overtime, or effectively recommend such actions, and they spent most of their time working as maids)

Robert King d/b/a Regency At The Rodeway Inn 256 NLRB No. 133
(Ee found non-supervisory where although she handled scheduling assignment of waitresses, instructed waitresses, booked and handled details for banquets, was paid higher wages, she did not have any authority to hire or fire waitresses)

Sheraton Puerto Rico Corp. d/b/a Puerto Rico Sheraton Hotel 248 NLRB No. 113
(food clerk who maintains food and beverage inventories in E hotel's storerooms, held not supervisor or agent w/i meaning of Section 2(11) of Act)

Sheraton Puerto Rico Corp. d/b/a Puerto Rico Sheraton Hotel 248 NLRB No. 113
(electrician who for 10 months prior to his discharge was supervisor in maintenance department of E hotel, held nonsupervisory Ee, where his direction of Ees was of no more than routine nature or required no exercise of independent judgment)

8580-7300 Business services

Lamar Advertising Associates of Dayton d/b/a Lamar Outdoor Advertising 257 NLRB No. 022
(group leader of construction crew not found supervisor where he gave minimal direction to crew which performed unskilled, routine work, was not involved in personnel decisions and did not consider himself part of management)

California Plant Protection, Incorporated, d/b/a C.P.P. Security Services 259 NLRB No. 039
(security officers, employed by E providing protective services for other Es, who are designated sergeants and lieutenants)

8580-7800 Motion pictures

Wehrenberg Theatres, Inc. d/b/a Melba Theatre and Skyvue Drive-In 260 NLRB No. 001
(projectionist held not supervisor where he is on call 24 hours per day and has no actual supervisory responsibilities, although he has some additional duties when he substitutes for his supervisor-father)

8580-7900 Amusement and recreation services, except motion pictures

Magic Mountain Corporation JD-337-80
(ski patrol member at ski resort, held to be not supervisor, where he enjoyed no special privileges as an assistant patrol leader, shared same working conditions with 4 other ski patrol members, had higher pay resulting from his seniority on patrol, never disciplined any Ee, and had no authority to hire, discharge, suspend, promote, grant time off, or to effectively recommend such actions)

8580-8000 Health services

8580-8050 Nursing and personal care facilities

Beverly Enterprises d/b/a Beverly Manor Convalescent Centers 264 NLRB No. 128
(LPN charge nurses found non-supervisory notwithstanding they direct activities of aides and orderlies where such direction primarily fosters patient care and not personnel policies of E; LPN's additional duties of verifying Ee work hours and reviewing timecards are routine and clerical and do not demand exercise of independent judgment)

American Medical Services, Inc., d/b/a River Hills Nursing Home West 262 NLRB No. 185
(registered nurses serving as charge, p.m. or night supervisors at nursing home held not supervisory; Northwoods Manor, in which Bd rejected application of 50-percent rule, is not controlling, even though there are factual circumstances herein similar to those in Northwoods; unlike in that case, there was no evidence here of a substantial supervisory function which represents a principal duty common to the entire group of Ees sought to be represented)

American Medical Services, Inc., d/b/a River Hills Nursing Home West 262 NLRB No. 185
(incident occuring under unique and isolated circumstances in which RN spontaneously recommended discharge of Ee for neglecting nursing home patient, subsequently approved by director, held not indicative of RN's supervisory authority)

8580-8050—Cont.

Magnolia Manor Nursing Home, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 049
(head housekeeper at nursing home)

Beverly Enterprises, dba Beverly Manor Convalescent Centers 661 F.2d 1095 (C.A. 6, Oct. 1981)
(on question of supervisory status of LPNs at nursing home, Bd must determine: Do LPN activities respecting patient care involve independent professional judgment? If not LPNs properly included in unit. If yes, and that independent professional judgment exercised primarily in connection with patient care, not in interest of her E, then LPNs should be included; however, if judgment exercised in interest of her E, then supervisor and not included in unit)

Red Oaks Nursing Home, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 633 F.2d 503 (C.A. 7, 1980)
(Ee of nursing home found lead person or straw boss and not supervisor, notwithstanding her title as assistant food supervisor, where Ee exercised no substantial power in areas where independent judgment was required)

American Medical Services, Inc. d/b/a River Hills Nursing Home West 258 NLRB No. 087
(unit Ees, (registered nurses) found not supervisors where although they represented highest authority present on their shifts they did not mete out discipline or make assignments without consulting their supervisors)

Trinity Lutheran Home For Children, t/a Frostburg Village of Allegany County Nursing Home v. N.L.R.B. 677 F.2d 302 (C.A. 3, Apr. 1982)
(LPNs at nursing home held not supervisors)

8580-8060 Hospitals

Milwaukee Children's Hospital Association 255 NLRB No. 130
(assistant head nurses and charge nurses not supervisors and included in unit of registered nurses where patient care functions are same as those performed by staff registered nurses, notwithstanding their work involves assignment of work to nursing personnel as this is exercise of professional judgment not supervisory authority)

Milwaukee Children's Hospital Association 255 NLRB No. 130
(staff development instructors who direct inservice orientation and education not supervisors where have no authority to hire, transfer, discipline, assign work or extend probationary period of any staff nurse; mere exercise of professional discretion does not establish managerial status)

Milwaukee Children's Hospital Association 255 NLRB No. 130
(Ee health nurse in Ee Relations Dept is not managerial or confidential Ee where her duties include: conducting preemployment physical exams, maintaining confidential Ee health records, handling workmen's compensation claims, preparing accident reports, examining Ees returning to work after an accident; however, she does not exercise discretion in dealing with Ees, and mere access to confidential medical records is insufficient to establish she acts in confidential capacity to her supervisor, vice president of Ee relations)

N.L.R.B. v. Faulkner Hospital 691 F.2d 51 (C.A. 1, Oct. 1982)
(security-guard on hospital night-shift found not supervisory notwithstanding his title was security supervisor where any authority he possessed was of routine nature not requiring independent judgment and he periodically switched shifts with rank-and-file security officers and supervisors resulting in occasions when there was in fact no designated supervisor present on the night shift)

The Board of Trustees of City Hospital, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 097
(hematology section supervisor and assistant chief technician at hospital held nonsupervisory where her job performance was in nature of professional Ee acting as lead person)

Mount Airy Foundation d/b/a Mount Airy Psychiatric Center 253 NLRB No. 120
(charge nurses and charge persons holding master's degrees found nonsupervisory as they give direction to other Ees, perform their tasks in exercise of professional judgment, incidental to their treatment of patients, rather than supervise others as representatives of management, do not hire, fire, or effectively recommend disciplinary action and thus are included in unit of professional Ees)

Misericordia Hospital Medical Center v. N.L.R.B. 623 F.2d 808 (C.A. 2, 1980)
(head nurse hat hospital held not supervisor since her direction of other Ees incidental to primary duty to maintain welfare of patients; further, she lacked authority to effectively recommend promotion or discharge of Ees or to make other independent decisions not involving patient welfare)

8580-8200 Educational services

United Services For The Handicapped v. N.L.R.B. 678 F.2d 661 (C.A. 6, May 1982)
(Ee who worked as dispatcher of drivers for nonprofit public service organization engaged in servicing its own preschool for children with learning disabilities)

Florida Memorial College 263 N.L.R.B. 160
(academic chairpersons at college included in unit of full-time faculty members, professional librarians and professional counselors notwithstanding E's contention that they should be excluded on grounds that they were supervisors; chairpersons exercised certain authority over nonunit Ees which was arguably supervisory in character; although they had role in hiring and retention of both clerical Ees and part-time faculty members, they devoted only small fraction of time to such responsibilities and since neither part-time faculty nor clerical personnel were included in unit, these functions of chairpersons did not preclude their inclusion in unit)

Florida Memorial College 263 N.L.R.B. 160
(professional counselors who serve as dormitory resident managers at college included in unit of full-time faculty members, professional librarians and professional counselors notwithstanding E's contention that they should be excluded on grounds that they were supervisors; whatever supervisory authority might occasionally be exercised by counselors who served as resident managers related solely to dormitory janitors who were not unit Ees)

New York Medical College 263 NLRB No. 124
(physicians at college held not supervisors where they were under direction of and were responsible to acknowledged supervisors, did not possess indicia of supervisory authority with respect to unit Ees, and finding that they were supervisors would result in unusually high proportion of supervisors)

New York Medical College 263 NLRB No. 124
(section chiefs, division chiefs, associate chiefs or associate directors of service, and department vice chairmen held not supervisors where evidence was insufficient to show they possess supervisory authority, and finding that they were supervisors would result in unusually high proportion of supervisors)

Bradford College 261 NLRB No. 081
(B.A. coordinators at college, most of whom also division charis, held not to be supervisors or managerial Ees and included in faculty unit. where each was regarded as faculty and spent insignificant amount of time in collateral functions)

8580-8300 Social services

Catholic Community Services 254 NLRB No. 090
(case manager at E's center providing health, social and related services held nonsupervisory, notwithstanding she enabled case aides to carry out program at hospital and participated in evaluation and interviewing process, where she did not have or exercise requisite authority to make effective recommendations with regard to hiring, firing, granting time off, or other personnel matters)

8580-8600 Membership organizations

Professional Air Traffic Controllers Organization 261 NLRB No. 122
(director of research for labor U held not supervisor where he neither assigned nor reviewed work, lacked authority to hire or fire, and may have once evaluated coworker)

Teamsters Local Union No. 574, a/w Teamsters (Lola Wheeler, an Individual) 259 NLRB No. 037
(office manager of local U)

9300 'PROFESSIONAL EMPLOYEES'

9301 GENERALLY

N.L.R.B. v. Yeshiva University 582 F.2d 686 (C.A. 2)
(professional Ees may also be categorized as supervisory and managerial Ees ineligible for inclusion in bargaining unit)

9350 FOUND PROFESSIONAL

Illinois Valley Community Hospital 261 NLRB No. 155
(medical technologists' performing and evaluating broad spectrum of clinical laboratory tests in many disciplines held predominantly intellectual and sufficiently varied to be professional work, although nonprofessional medical laboratory technicians (MLTs) could perform most of the laboratory tests; medical technicians were more proficient and performed tests not assigned to MLTs, and these differences were attributable to medical technologists' specialized educational background which distinguished them from nonprofessionals)

Utah Power & Light Company 258 NLRB No. 138
(engineers specializing in electrical, civil, mechanical, aeronautical, and nuclear engineering at public utility held professional Ees, since they are engaged in challenging intellectual work which requires advanced knowledge of engineering and consistent use of informed discretion)

9350—Cont.

Marcus J. Lawrence Memorial Hospital 249 NLRB No. 090
(non-degree lab technician found professional Ee and excluded from unit where he has same supervision, performs same functions as degree technicians and is considered responsible technologist by E)

Jacques Syl Knitwear, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 191
(designer at manufacturer and distributor of children's clothing excluded from unit of production and maintenance Ees and ineligible to vote since professional Ee)

9375 FOUND NOT PROFESSIONAL

Beverly Enterprises d/b/a Beverly Manor Convalescent Centers 264 NLRB No. 128
(LPN's not professional Ees but rather technical Ees and exercise judgment based on their technical expertise, but it is appropriate to refer to their exercising independent professional judgment)

Community Health Services, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 048
(challenges to ballots of mental health workers who were included in professional unit employed by community and home care service organization, sustained where, notwithstanding that all but three of them had either bachelor's or master's degree, they were not licensed by the State nor were they registered or certified by any national or state professional organization; they assisted professional staff but did not engage in types of treatment normally performed by professional psychologists or psychiatrists; therefore, held technical Ees)

Samson-AU Industries, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 654 F.2d 932 (C.A. 3, 1981)
(giving usual deference to Bd's expertise, ct concluded that Bd did not err in its ruling that computer programmers are not professional Ees; Bd has generally considered computer programmers to be technical and thus non-professional Ees, and Bd's factual determination herein of their non-professional status was supported by substantial evidence)

9700 HEALTH CARE INSTITUTIONS

9712 HOSPITALS

Montefiore Hospital and Medical Center 261 NLRB No. 082
(staff doctors at medical center held professional Ees as defined in Section 2(12) of Act, and may constitute appropriate bargaining unit separate from other professional Ees even though in health care industry Bd is required to avoid fragmentation of units)

St. Elizabeth Community Hospital 259 NLRB No. 186
(Bd asserted jurisdiction over Catholic Hospital because 1974 Health Care Amendments extended Bd jurisdiction to hospitals and legislative history clearly shows that Congress did not exclude religiously operated hospitals from coverage; moreover, Bd regulation of hospital will not involve it in excessive entanglement in religion for primary purpose of hospital is health care and not sectarian teaching as found in Catholic Bishop of Chicago and right of Ees to be represented by collective-bargaining representative will not interfere with free exercise of religion or tend to establish a religion)

9725 CONVALESCENT HOSPITALS

Beverly Enterprises d/b/a Beverly Manor Convalescent Centers 264 NLRB No. 128
(LPN's not professional Ees but rather technical Ees and exercise judgment based on their technical expertise, but it is appropriate to refer to their exercising independent professional judgment)

9737 HEALTH MAINTENANCE ORGANIZATIONS

Keyway, A Division of Phase Inc. 263 NLRB No. 173

9750 HEALTH CLINICS

Georgetown University Dental Clinic of Georgetown University 263 NLRB No. 077
(E's dental clinic comprising of a training clinic and a private practice facility held health care institution rather than educational institution; while one of purposes of dental clinic is educational in nature, at same time it is engaged in direct day-to-day delivery of dental services, i.e., health care, and in this respect it is more analogous to university hospital where training of medical personnel occurs in context of delivery of health services and less like medical school where predominant purpose is purely educational)

9799 Other

Barclay Hospital, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 144
(medical school at private university held not health care institution where medical school's primary purpose is to educate rather than to provide medical services to community; although medical school's clinical programs involved treatment of patients, such programs were auxiliarly to fulfillment of medical school's primary educational mission)

Trustees of University of Pennsylvania 247 NLRB No. 132
(medical school at private university held not health care institution where medical shcool's primary purpose is to educate rather than to provide medical services to community; although medical school's clinical programs involved treatment of patients, such programs were auxiliary to fulfillment of medical shcool's primary educational mission)

Albert Einstein College of Medicine of Yeshiva University 247 NLRB No. 070
(medical college which provided education and health services held not health care institution under Section 2(14) of Act, since primary purpose was to train physician's and to promote research and not to provide medical services to community, See Albany Medical College, 239 NLRB No. 106)

John V. Lane, P.C. d/b/a American Dental Centers JD-(NY)-110-82
(dental clinic held health care institution where services range from periodic teeth cleanings to complicated operations performed by dentists or oral surgeons, e.g., cancer biopsies, take x-rays and employ local anesthesia)

Ruehle's Paramedic Ambulance, Inc. JD-128-82
(E who provides ambulance service is health care institution w/i Sec. 2(14) because its primary purpose is to provide medical services to the community as an extension of emergency rooms of general hospital)

North Suburban Blood Center v. N.L.R.B. 661 F.2d 632 (C.A. 7, Oct 1981)
(blood bank with separate building found to be health care institution, overruling Bd's determination that it was not where it was formed by 13 hospitals to meet their blood needs, it recruits donors, collects, tests, processes, prepares blood, consults with doctors regarding particular patients, and performs some patient treatment including donors who experienced complications while donating blood; in any further proceedings Bd must follow congressional directive against undue proliferation of bargaining units in health care institutions in determining appropriate unit)

188 AUTHORITY AND STRUCTURE OF NLRB AS AGENCY

0100 GENERALLY

2000 ADMINISTRATIVE PROCEDURE ACT REQUIREMENTS

2075 SEPARATION OF FUNCTIONS; 5 USC SECTION 554

Machinery Movers, Riggers and Machinery Erectors Local 136, Iron Workers (United Exposition Service Co., Inc.) 282 NLRB No. 058

(APA not violated where GC investigates as well as prosecutes case; separability provision requires separation of those functions from decision making function)

2080 Evidentiary standards; 5 U.S.C. Section 556 and 5 U.S.C. 706(2)(e)

Steadman v. Securities and Exchange Commission 446 US 917 (U.S. SCt. Feb. 1981)

(substantial evidence phrase of SEc. 7 of the Administrative Procedure Act which provides that agency must not impose sanctions unless supported by and in accordance with reliable, probative and substantial evidence requires that agency decision be based on quality of evidence rather than setting standard of quality; and in accordance with weight of evidence to justify, if trial were to jury, refusal to direct verdict. Thus, SEC properly used preponderance-of-evidence rather than clear-and-convincing standard of proof in determining whether anti-fraud provision of federal securities law violated)

Steadman v. Securities and Exchange Commission 446 US 917 (U.S. SCt. Feb. 1981)

(Sec. 7(c) of APA which provides that agency may not impose sanctions or issue order unless supported by and in accordance with reliable, probative, and substantial evidence requires agency decision be in accordance with weight of evidence; by contrast Sec. 10(e) does not permit reviewing ct to weigh the evidence, but only determine that there is in record such relevant evidence as a reasonable mind might accept as adequate to support a conclusion; to conclude that phrase substantial evidence in 7(c) defines scope of judicial review would make substantial evidence language of 10(e) redundant)

2080-3000 Legislative history

Steadman v. Securities and Exchange Commission 446 US 917 (U.S. SCt. Feb. 1981)

4000 RELATIONSHIP TO OTHER GOVERNMENTAL AGENCIES

4050 OTHER FACTFINDING AGENCIES

Newport News Shipbuilding & Dry Dock Company 254 NLRB No. 043

(where discriminatees filed charges with Bd and OSHA alleging violative discharges, Bd not required to defer to OSHA as Ees were engaged in U activity and although some remedies are same, only Bd can issue notice advising Ees of their rights to engage in U activity)

4050-3300 Board not bound by findings of state unemployment compensation tribunal

Armored Transport of Nevada, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 209

(unemployment compensation decision showing that Ee was discharged for cause was admitted but would not be controlling)

E. I. Dupont De Nemours 263 NLRB No. 015

(opinion of state unemployment compensation commission not binding on Bd)

Jaybill Steel Products, Inc.; etc. 258 NLRB No. 157

(decision of state unemployment insurance appeal board denying benefits, because charging party lost job through conduct, received into evidence; however, since ALJ drew differnet factual conclusions and ULP not considered by unemployment tribunal, award not given controlling weight)

6000 THE BOARD

6001 GENERALLY

Transportation Enterprises, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 630 F.2d 421 (C.A. 5, 1980)

(Bd and its regional offices are free to reconsider their own decisions in light of changing circumstances and needs, but reversal of previous jurisdictional finding, which was final, must be applied prospectively only)

Soft Drink Workers Union Local 812, Teamsters v. N.L.R.B. 657 F.2d 1252 (C.A.D.C., Oct. 1980)

(where U, engaged in consumer picketing at neutral retail store against sale of nonlocal soft drinks, had no conventional labor dispute with store or nonlocal suppliers, ct rejected U's contention that Bd has no authority to resolve controversies that do not contain labor dispute as defined in Sec. 2(9); that section is not a jurisdictional requirement, and is construed as a definitional provision only, designed to ensure uniform meaning to important phrase statute)

6001-8000 Responsible for development of national policy under NLRA

Presbyterian/St. Luke's Medical Center v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 450 (C.A. 10, July 1981)

(for purposes of affirming no less than reversing its orders, appellate ct cannot intrude upon the domain which Congress has exclusively entrusted to administrative agency)

6033 AUTHORITY UNDER STATUTE

6033-2000 Conduct elections and certify results

Glenn McClendon Trucking Co., Inc. 255 NLRB No. 168

(it is Bd's responsibility, not that of parties, to establish proper procedure for conduct of elections)

N.L.R.B. v. General Motors Corporation 510 F.Supp. 338 (DC S.D. OH, Sept. 1980)

(Bd will conduct R election if: (1) involved E's business affects commerce; (2) qcr exists; (3) group of Ees which U seeks to represent is appropriate unit; and (4) petitioner has made sufficient showing of interest to justify holding election)

6033-4000 Adjudicate ULP allegations

6033-4001 Generally

Kaiser Steel Corp. v. Mullins et al. 455 U.S. 72 (U.S. SCt. Jan. 1981)

(Bd vested with primary jurisdiction to determine what is or is not ULP; federal cts do not have jurisdiction over activity which is arguably subject to Sec. 7 or Sec. 8 of (NLRA) and they must defer to exclusive competence of Bd. However, federal cts have duty to determine whether contract violates federal law before enforcing it)

Kaiser Steel Corp. v. Mullins et al. 455 U.S. 72 (U.S. SCt. Jan. 1981)

(while only Bd may provide affirmative remedies for ULPs, ct may not enforce contract provision which violates 8(e))

N.L.R.B. v. Zeno Table Company, Inc. 610 F.2d 567 (C.A. 9, 1979)

(Bd vested with great discretion in resolution of ULP disputes but may not employ this authority in manner which deprives party of fair and adequate hearing)

6033-4050 Not affected by other means of adjustment or prevention

N.L.R.B. v. Fourco Glass Company, Rolland Division 646 F.2d 983 (C.A. 4, Apr 1981)

(although E violated Act by unilaterally terminating incentive pay program and implementing new wage plan with new hourly rate, Bd order was moot as E and U renegotiated their contract in light of E's economic difficulties)

6033-6000 Prescribe remedies

6033-6001 Generally

Kaiser Steel Corp. v. Mullins et al. 455 U.S. 72 (U.S. SCt. Jan. 1981)

(while only Bd may provide affirmative remedies for ULPs, ct may not enforce contract provision which violates 8(e))

Schnadig Corporation 265 NLRB No. 020

(whether counsel for GC seeks backpay remedy immaterial since Bd has full authority over remedial aspects of decisions)

R. J. E. Leasing Corp. 262 NLRB No. 40A

(matters of remedy (in instant case, Bd ordered E to withdraw wage increases or other benefits established pursuant to invalid contract) are traditionally w/i Bd's province, and may be addressed by Bd sua sponte)

F.M.L. Supply, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 083

(Bd does not refuse to invoke remedies where Respondent's concealment of conduct injures parties entitled to protection of Act; Respondent estopped from denying consciously deceptive conduct (appearing to be party to successive U contracts) over long period of time)

Ace Beverage Co. 250 NLRB No. 066

(Bd found no jurisdictional bar to review of GC's action in compliance stage and to issues raised by mtn for determination of compliance with Bd's order, since Sec. 101.13(b) of Bd's Statements of Procedures provides that, despite compliance, Bd's order is continuing one and that closing of case is conditioned upon continued compliance with order, which is equally true when proposed backpay formula fails to comply with order as it is when respondent has breached compliance provisions)

Garrett Railroad Car & Equipment, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 683 F.2d 731 (C.A. 3, June 1982)

(Bd's changing burden to wrongdoer in Abilities and Goodwill which creates rebuttable presumption in favor of Ee who was discharged unlawfully during ULP strike was w/i Bd's discretion)

United Steelworkers of America v. N.L.R.B. 646 F.2d 616 (C.A.D.C., Feb 1981)

(Bd has broad authority to grant U access to company property as part of remedial order, however, Bd must make clear that such access is necessary to offset adverse effects of unlawful E conduct)

United Steelworkers of America v. N.L.R.B. 646 F.2d 616 (C.A.D.C., Feb 1981)

(imposition of remedies is matter of special administrative competence, subject to very limited judicial review; selection of remedies made by Bd must stand, unless it can be shown that the order is patent attempt to achieve ends other than those which can fairly be said to effectuate the policies of the Act)

United Steelworkers of America v. N.L.R.B. 646 F.2d 616 (C.A.D.C., Feb 1981)

(Bd has power-and indeed obligation-to take into account history of recalcitrance in designing remedial order)

6033-6001-3300 Limitation of Section 8(d)

Clearwater Finishing Company, a Division of United Merchants and Manufacturers, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 670 F.2d 464 (C.A. 4, Feb. 1982)

(ct held that Bd's order that E grant proposed wage increase retroactively was beyond scope of its authority where such term was mandatory subject of bargaining; ct found that rule of H.K. Porter applied equally to orders requiring agreement on subjects of bargaining in cases arising under Sec. 8(a)(1) and 8(a)(5))

East Bay Chevrolet dba Time Chevrolet v. N.L.R.B. 659 F.2d 1006 (C.A. 9, Oct. 1981)

(enforcement denied and case remanded to Bd where R/O improperly prescribed substantive provision for future agreement between E and U; namely, effective date of agreement be made retroactive to effective date of agreement between E and 3 Us representing other units of E, notwithstanding in previous successful negotiations, all 4 Us had conducted joint bargaining with E association of which E had properly withdrawn from)

6033-6001-6700 Authority under Section 10(c)

N.L.R.B. v. Carbonex Coal Company 679 F.2d 200 (C.A. 10, May 1982)

(under section 10(c) of Act, Bd has considerable discretion in fashioning remedy for ULPs)

United Steelworkers of America v. N.L.R.B. 646 F.2d 616 (C.A.D.C., Feb 1981)

(powers of Bd are remedial, not punitive, and Bd may not justify order solely on ground that it will deter future violations of Act)

United Steelworkers of America v. N.L.R.B. 646 F.2d 616 (C.A.D.C., Feb 1981)

(notwithstanding that Bd's affirmative remedies may appear punitive in context of individual case concerning recidivist violators of Act, they are clearly remedial, and are therefore proper, in context of total conduct of recidivist violator)

United Steelworkers of America v. N.L.R.B. 646 F.2d 616 (C.A.D.C., Feb 1981)

(access as remedial measure at unorganized plants (of E) may be predicated on Bd's finding that E's unlawful bargaining strategy at organized plant has chilled Ee rights at (E's) unorganized plants; access is ordered to remedy effects of unlawful behavior and not to punish or deter E)

United Steelworkers of America v. N.L.R.B. 646 F.2d 616 (C.A.D.C., Feb 1981)

(burden lies upon Bd to substantiate its conclusion that access is necessary remedy to offset consequences of unlawful E conduct)

United Steelworkers of America v. N.L.R.B. 646 F.2d 616 (C.A.D.C., Feb 1981)

(Bd was clearly entitled to consider extensive record of past unlawful activity of E in shaping its remedial order in instant case)

6033-8000 Rulemaking authority

6033-8001 Generally

Chrysler Corporation v. Harold Brown, Secretary of Defense, et al. 441 U.S. 281 (S Ct US, 1979)

(substantive agency regulations--those that affect individual rights and obligations--have force and effect of law if grant of authority by Congress contemplates regulations issued, meet any limitations so imposed by Congress, and promulgation of such regulations must conform with any procedural requirements imposed by Congress)

6033-8050 Specific rules (see also subject matter affected by rule)

6033-8050-2119 Rule 102.119

Alumbaugh Coal Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 635 F.2d 1380 (C.A. 8, 1980)

(mtn to dismiss C proceedings because former Bd attorney, employed at Bd's R/O when U filed R ptn, participated in case on U's behalf, denied, where ALJ fairly determined attorney's involvement in case was nonprejudicial to E's rights; moreover, Bd's determination as to effect of technical violation of its rules should not be lightly overturned since procedural fairness to litigant must be balanced against severe impact of dismissal on parties' substantive rights and public's interests under Act, and absent abuse of discretion, such determination is particularly w/i Bd's discretion)

6067 DELEGATION OF AUTHORITY

6067-2000 To Board panel

A.G.S. Graphics, A Division of George Lithograph Co. 265 NLRB No. 129

(policy of Bd for same panel which decides case to pass on request for reconsideration of panel decision and for full Bd to consider such request only if panel refers it to full Bd)

Melrose-Wakefield Hospital Association, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 615 F.2d 563 (C.A. 1) (1980)

(in rejecting contention that Bd's post-election review of campaign objections was arbitrary and capricious, ct found statutorily permissible procedure where Bd delegates any or all of its powers to three member panels of Bd members and Bd has wide discretion in setting standards for conduct of representation election; furthermore, Bd members themselves and not staff assistants made decision whether to review RD's decision concerning election)

6067-6000 To Regional Directors

Colonial Manor 1977, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 151

(Sec. 3(b) of Act authorizes Bd to delegate to its RDs final decision making power in post election proceedings, subject to discretionary review by Bd)

6067-8000 To General Counsel

Ace Beverage Co. 250 NLRB No. 066

(contention that GC's authority and discretion in compliance matters is analogous to that granted him under Sec. 3(d) of Act with respect to issuance of complaints, and that, therefore, his action in compliance matters is also final, rejected, since in compliance matters GC does not act on his own initiative as he does in issuance of complaints but as Bd agent in effectuating remedy ordered)

7500 QUORUM REQUIREMENTS

Photo-Sonics, Inc., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 678 F.2d 121 (C.A. 9, May 1982)

(contention Bd's order not enforceable inasmuch as decision not made by properly constituted three member panel where member of panel resigned effective same day decision issued and allegedly could not have participated, rejected, since two members of panel may constitute quorum and conduct business, thus in view of agreement of all panel members decision valid whether or not resigned member participated)

8000 THE GENERAL COUNSEL

8001 GENERALLY

8001—Cont.

Ace Beverage Co. 250 NLRB No. 066
(contention that GC's authority and discretion in compliance matters is analogous to that granted him under Sec. 3(d) of Act with respect to issuance of complaints, and that, therefore, his action in compliance matters is also final, rejected, since in compliance matters GC does not act on his own initiative as he does in issuance of complaints but as Bd agent in effectuating remedy ordered)

8033 STATUTORY AUTHORITY

Rockford Redi-Mix Co., Inc. v. Glen Zipp, RD 632 F.2d 30 (C.A. 7, 1980)
(contention that GC violated Act when he failed to issue ULP complaint against U that picketed for recognition after date of expedited election under 8(b)(7)(C) during period in which challenges to validity of election were being resolved, rejected; assuming limited review may be available under Freedom v. Kyne, ct held there is no specific and unambiguous provision of Act requiring action in conformity with E's immediate certification theory, and jurisdiction is, accordingly not present to consider GC's failure to treat as valid an election that had not yet been determined to be valid)

8033-3300 Final authority to investigate charges and issue complaints

Signal Transformer Co., Inc. 265 NLRB No. 033
(Charging Party may not pursue contention in attempt to add allegations to complaint, which GC has refused to do)

8033-3375 Dismissal of charge not reviewable by courts

Foley-Wismer & Becker and Shurtleff & Andrews Construction v. N.L.R.B. 695 F.2d 424 (C.A. 9, Dec. 1982)
(E's request for review of GC's dismissal of charge against U, denied, since GC has final authority on whether to issue C on ULP charges, and his decision is not reviewable in any judicial forum)

Pacific Southwest Airlines v. N.L.R.B. 611 F.2d 1309 (C.A. 9, Jan. 1980)
(GC's decision not to issue C is not subject to review by Ct of appeals whether or not GC's decision considered final order or not as Section 3(d) of Act provides that GC has final authority on behalf of Bd in investigation of charges and issuance of C)

Rockford Redi-Mix Co., Inc. v. Glenn Zipp, RD 482 F.Supp. 489 (D Ct. IL)
(GC's refusal to issue complaint based upon alleged ULPs, not violation of a constitutional right, and hence district ct lacked subject matter jurisdiction to review GC's refusal)

8033-6700 Exclusive authority to prosecute complaint

K & E Bus Lines, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 137
(Section 10(b) of Act provides that no complaint should issue based upon ULP occuring more than 6 months prior to filing charge. This section, however, only relates to actual filing of charges and, once charge has been timely filed, control over and disposition of that charge is vested exclusively with GC pursuant to Section 3(d) of Act, who has decision to act on charge as he deems fit)

8033-6733 Controls theory of case

Electrical Workers, Local Union No. 1186 (Pacific Electrical Contractors Association, etc.) 264 NLRB No. 097
(where conduct not alleged in C and Respondent not otherwise put on notice that evidence of this conduct might be basis of finding of independent violation and even after hearing GC did not argue before ALJ that this conduct violated Act, nor did ALJ include it in his statement of case, issues not fully litigated and ALJ's conclusion that this conduct constituted violation improperly intrudes on GC's authority to frame case)

8033-6767 Sole authority to amend complaint

Signal Transformer Co., Inc. 265 NLRB No. 033
(Charging Party may not pursue contention in attempt to add allegations to complaint, which GC has refused to do)

Penntech Papers, Inc.; etc. 263 NLRB No. 033
(ALJ's granting Charging Party's mtn to amend C to allege unlawful failure to bargain regarding decision to close one of its plants in addition to allegation in C of failure to bargain regarding effects of plant closing, improper, where GC had resisted Charging Party's attempt to amend C at hearing and therefore issue not properly before ALJ, notwithstanding contention issue fully litigated at hearing and that GC cannot limit scope of judicial decision and where proof was admitted w/o objection)

200 NLRB JURISDICTION

201 GENERALLY

3300 POLICY OF BOARD

Alstate Coin Machine Co., Inc. JD-(SF)-272-79
(alleged E violation of arbitration agreement not proper subject for Bd determination and complaint dismissed as Bd policy is to let court of competent jurisdiction resolve issue)

Golden Day Schools, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 644 F.2d 834 (C.A. 9, May 8, 1981)
(Bd's determination, that E met $250,000 standard for exercising jurisdiction over day-care center rather than $1,000,000 standard for educational institutions will not be set aside in the absence of extraordinary circumstances, such as unjust discrimination)

6700 EFFECT OF PRIOR DECISIONS

American Totalisator Company, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 148
(where Bd had conducted election in another subsidiary of E which was engaged in construction, assembly, repair and servicing of paramutuel wagering equipment used for off track betting, difference in customers not sufficient basis for refusal to assert jurisdiction over E's Ees performing simular duties involving similar machines used at track, notwithstanding issue in prior decision framed in terms of rescinding or amending Bd's rule which precludes its assertion of jurisdiction over horseracing industry)

Jacobo Marti & Sons, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 007
(ALJ found E subject to jurisdiction of Act based on earlier Bd decision holding that Respondent was E and that it would effectuate purposes of Act to assert jurisdiction over it)

World Evangelism, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 008
(Bd asserted jurisdiction over E where in prior case involving same E it asserted jurisdiction and here failed to comply with subpoena duces tecum for its financial records and introduced no evidence to show its financial situation had changed since prior determination)

Wayne County Neighborhood Legal Services, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 180
(Bd's assertion of jurisdiction in prior R case underlying instant ULP proceeding held res judicata of every contention raised in R case to avoid Bd's jurisdiction as well as any contention that could have been raised)

Tripp Electric, Inc.; Triple B Electric; Robert
Stephen Tripp d/b/a Coordinated Systems;
Ronald J. Tripp d/b/a Integrated Systems JD-(SF)-220-81
(jurisdiction asserted over signatories to multi-E bargaining agreement where notice was taken that jurisdiction had been asserted over same multi-E association in prior Bd case, creating presumption of continuing jurisdiction which was not rebutted by E)

Transportation Enterprises, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 630 F.2d 421 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(Bd and its regional offices may not render jurisdictional decisions, and then overrule them retroactively and thereby transform E's interim behavior, legal when pursued, into illegal ULPs; E's conduct after formal declaration by Bd that he is not covered by Act and before re-examination of that issue, cannot subsequently be branded ULP subjecting E to liability for back-pay)

N.L.R.B. v. Porko's Enterprises, Inc. 661 F.2d 941(T) (C.A. 9, Sep. 1981)
(findings of statutory jurisdiction in prior cases involving same E based on stipulated jurisdictional facts, provide prima facie basis for jurisdiction in subsequent proceeding)

6750 PRIOR DECISIONS NOT CONTROLLING

Transportation Enterprises, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 630 F.2d 421 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(Bd and its regional offices are free to reconsider their own decisions in light of changing circumstances and needs, but reversal of previous jurisdictional finding, which was final, must be applied prospectively only)

Golden Day Schools, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 644 F.2d 834 (C.A. 9, May 8, 1981)
(prior cases to contrary, test for whether proprietary child-care facility is subject to Bd's jurisdiction is whether E has sufficient control over employment conditions of its Ees to enable it to bargain with labor organization which represents them)

8300 TIMELINESS OF RAISING ISSUE

Overhead Door Corporation (Todco Division) 261 NLRB No. 094
(where E had stated at hearing that it had reinstated striker discharged for strike misconduct to minimize backpay liability and would discharge him again after hearing if original discharge were found lawful, and ALJ declared that reinstatement constituted condonation, Bd did not rule on issue of condonation in view of its policy not to prejudge factual or legal issues)

Builders Distributors Sand and Gravel, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 053
(Bd held that question of jurisdiction untimely raised in exceptions to Bd as E admitted jurisdiction earlier and did not contest it at pre-trial or trial stage of hearing)

St. Elizabeth Community Hospital v. N.L.R.B. 625 F.2d 123 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(First Amendment challenge to Bd's jurisdiction over charitable hospital operated by religious order held timely raised, notwithstanding contention that issue could have been litigated at R proceedings before RD and no new or previously unavailable evidence was offered or special circumstances alleged to require Bd's consideration, since it is sufficient that hospital raised First Amendment issue in R proceedings before Bd and did not defer its challenge to enforcement proceedings; case remanded to Bd for further consideration in light of SCt's opinion in NLRB v. Catholic Bishop, 440 U.S. 490)

St. Anthony Hospital Systems v. N.L.R.B. 655 F.2d 1028 (C.A. 10, Aug 1981)
(failure of non-profit hospital, run by religious order, to raise before Bd in R proceeding constitutionality of Bd's assertion of jurisdiction on ground that it is religious organization exempt from governmental regulation under First Amendment, precluded hospital from raising issue before Bd or ct in ULP case. While statutory jurisdiction of Bd may be challenged at any time, facts upon which Bd determines it has jurisdiction may be challenged only upon timely exception, in absence of which Bd's findings are not open to attack in proceeding for enforcement)

St. Anthony Hospital Systems v. N.L.R.B. 655 F.2d 1028 (C.A. 10, Aug 1981)
(failure of non-profit hospital, run by religious order, to raise before Bd in R proceeding constitutionality of Bd's assertion of jurisdiction on ground that it is religious organization exempt from governmental regulation under First Amendment, precluded hospital from raising issue before Bd or ct in ULP case. While statutory jurisdiction of Bd may be challenged at any time, facts upon which Bd determines it has jurisdiction may be challenged only upon timely exception, in absence of which Bd's findings are not open to attack in proceeding for enforcement)

220 STATUTORY JURISDICTION

0100 GENERALLY

N.L.R.B. v. St. Louis Christian Home 663 F.2d 60 (C.A. 8, Nov. 1981)

(Congress intended to grant NLRB, under commerce clause, broadest possible jurisdiction permitted by Constitution)

0150 INCUMBENT ON BOARD TO ESTABLISH LEGAL JURISDICTION AS AUTHORITY TO PROCEED

Margate Bridge Company 247 NLRB No. 205

(when legal jurisdiction has been established and some relevant standard for assertion of jurisdiction has been met, immaterial that jurisdiction might be asserted under one of several different standards)

N.L.R.B. v. First Termite Control Co., Inc. 646 F.2d 424 (C.A. 9, May 1981)

(enforcement denied where Bd failed to establish statutory jurisdictional requirement of interstate commerce (interstate business more than de minimis by admissable evidence)

0175 ABSENCE OF CLEAR EXPRESSION OF CONGRESSIONAL INTENT

N.L.R.B. v. Yeshiva University 440 U.S. 906 (U.S. SCt, Feb 20, 1980)

(absence of explicit congressional direction does not preclude Bd from reaching any particular type of employment)

2500 PREEMPTION OF JURISDICTION OVER SUBJECT MATTER REGULATED BY ACT

2525 BOARD HAS EXCLUSIVE JURISDICTION IN ENFORCING ACT

2525-4000 Not subject to other means of adjustment or prevention established by agreement, laws, or otherwise

N.L.R.B. v. South Central Bell Telephone Company 688 F.2d 345 (C.A. 5, Oct. 1982)

(to permit ratification or incorporation of arbitration decisions also involving ULPs, whether express or implied, into contracts would circumvent express policy of 29 U.S.C. 160 (a) which gives Bd exclusive power to decide ULP questions)

Automobile Workers (UAW) and Its Local 1519 v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 580 (C.A. 6, Apr. 1980)

(Bd has express authority to settle work assignment disputes as stated in Section 10(k) whenever person has engaged in Section 8(b)(4)(D) ULP)

Automobile Workers (UAW) and Its Local 1519 v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 580 (C.A. 6, Apr. 1980)

(Bd's determination of work assignment dispute takes precedence over contrary award of arbitrator, regardless of which action was initiated first; both legislative history and case law on such issue support finding that Bd's 10(k) determination takes priority)

Kaiser Steel Corp. v. Mullins et al. 455 U.S. 72 (U.S. SCt. Jan. 1981)

(Bd vested with primary jurisdiction to determine what is or is not ULP; federal cts do not have jurisdiction over activity which is arguably subject to Sec. 7 or Sec. 8 of (NLRA) and they must defer to exclusive competence of Bd. However, federal cts have duty to determine whether contract violates federal law before enforcing it)

2525-6000 Board jurisdiction not ousted because suit also arises under section 301(a)

Automobile Workers (UAW) and Its Local 1519 v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 580 (C.A. 6, Apr. 1980)

(when E has been acting in accord with ultimate Bd Section 10(k) ruling, E is not liable for damages to disappointed U; even in a LMRA Section 301 suit)

2525-6050 Board may deal with unfair labor practice which also violates contract

Diplomat Envelope Corporation 263 NLRB No. 078

(E's mtn to dismiss C because of prior pending Federal judicial proceedings denied. Though Federal Courts have concurrent jurisdiction to decide matters arising under bargaining agreement, even where conduct arguably protected or prohibited by Act may be involved, Bd is vested with primary jurisdiction to determine what is or is not ULP. Here, ct stayed proceeding pending disposition by Bd of ULP, which is normal procedure, to allow special administrative competence of Bd to take precedence in making determination on the issues)

The Dow Chemical Company 261 NLRB No. 031

(E's contention that Bd lacked jurisdiction in case because no more than question of contract interpretation was involved, rejected since issues were whether E violated Sec. 8(a)(5) and (1), as well as Sec. 8(d) through unilaterally modifying subsisting collective labor agreement and unilaterally changing that agreement during its term)

Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company 253 NLRB No. 096

Amalgamated Clothing and Textile Workers Union, AFL-CIO, CLC v. Standard-Coosa-Thatcher Carpet Yarn Division, Inc. 516 F.Supp. 1078 (D Ct AL, June 1981)

(ct w/o concurrent jurisdiction and must defer to Bd in dispute where U, claiming informal settlement between U and E and subsequently approved by RD, who afterwards set aside settlement in view of E's breach, was binding contract under Sec. 301, since exception to Garmon 359 U.S. 236 (1959), announced in Smith v. Evening News 371 U.S. 195 (1962), relates only to disputes arising under collective bargaining agreements; RD validly set aside contract and since it no longer exist, U cannot claim that it is 3rd party beneficiary)

2525-6075 Board without original jurisdiction to enforce bargaining contract violations not constituting ULP's

Kaiser Steel Corp. v. Mullins et al. 455 U.S. 72 (U.S. SCt. Jan. 1981)

(Bd vested with primary jurisdiction to determine what is or is not ULP; federal cts do not have jurisdiction over activity which is arguably subject to Sec. 7 or Sec. 8 of (NLRA) and they must defer to exclusive competence of Bd. However, federal cts have duty to determine whether contract violates federal law before enforcing it)

Alstate Coin Machine Co., Inc. JD-(SF)-272-79

(alleged E violation of arbitration agreement not proper subject for Bd determination and complaint dismissed as Bd policy is to let court of competent jurisdiction resolve issue)

2525-7000 Board proceedings not stayed pending bankruptcy proceeding involving respondent

Ralph Schaffner, an Individual d/b/a Schaffner Construction Co. 252 NLRB No. 136

(Respondent's contention that ptn for summary judgment in backpay proceeding should be stayed pending discharge of Respondent's ptn from Bankruptcy ct in which Bd and discriminatees are named as creditors, rejected, since adjudication in Bankruptcy does not deprive Bd of jurisdiction or authority to process ULP case to final disposition; since mtn to stay did not specifically deny or respond in any way to allegations of backpay specification, allegations of specification are deemed admitted)

2550 COURTS WITHOUT CONCURRENT JURISDICTION TO REDRESS UNFAIR LABOR PRACTICES

2550—Cont.

Kaiser Steel Corp. v. Mullins et al. 455 U.S. 72 (U.S. SCt. Jan. 1981)
(–federal cts may decide labor law questions that emerge as collateral issues in suits brought under independent federal remedies, including the anti-trust laws)

2550-1800 Doctrine of primary jurisdiction requires judicial abstention

Malone, Commissioner of Labor and Industry For Minnesota v. White Motor Corp. et al. 435 U.S. 497 (SCt, 1978)
(state statute which sought to regulate pension plans which were product of collective bargaining negotiations and are mandatory subject of bargaining under NLRA held constitutional; NLRA did not preempt state statute since Federal Welfare and Pension Disclosure Act of 1958 expressly recognized and preserved state authority to regulate pension plans)

2550-3600 Injunctive powers of courts do not include jurisdiction to determine existence of and redress unfair labor practices

Bill Johnson's Restaurants, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 660 F.2d 1335 (C.A. 9, Nov 1981)
(Federal anti-inj statute 28 U.S.C. Sec. 2283 does not prevent Bd from curbing state-ct action that interferes with Bd's exercise of its own jurisdiction)

2550-4500 Arguable existence of unfair labor practice precludes assumption of jurisdiction by court

Kaiser Steel Corp. v. Mullins et al. 455 U.S. 72 (U.S. SCt. Jan. 1981)
(Bd vested with primary jurisdiction to determine what is or is not ULP; federal cts do not have jurisdiction over activity which is arguably subject to Sec. 7 or Sec. 8 of (NLRA) and they must defer to exclusive competence of Bd. However, federal cts have duty to determine whether contract violates federal law before enforcing it)

Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company 253 NLRB No. 096
(however, concept deemed inapplicable to Section 301 suits, with NLRB and federal cts having concurrent authority with respect to disputes arising under collective bargaining agreement even where conduct arguably protected or prohibited by Act involved)

The United Credit Bureau of America, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 643 F.2d 1017 (C.A. 4, Mar. 1981)
(under Sears, 436 US 180 and Garmon, preemption of state ct is required where E's fraud allegation in state ct is based wholly on Ee's exercise of protected rights of engaging in protected concerted activity and filing ULP charge for unlawful discharge and party who could have presented protection issue has done so)

2550-7200 Damage actions on account of unfair labor practices may be maintained

Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company 253 NLRB No. 096
(however, concept deemed inapplicable to Section 301 suits, with NLRB and federal cts having concurrent authority with respect to disputes arising under collective bargaining agreement even where conduct arguably protected or prohibited by Act involved)

Amalgamated Clothing and Textile Workers Union, AFL-CIO, CLC v. Standard-Coosa-Thatcher Carpet Yarn Division, Inc. 516 F.Supp. 1078 (D Ct AL, June 1981)
(ct w/o concurrent jurisdiction and must defer to Bd in dispute where U, claiming informal settlement between U and E and subsequently approved by RD, who afterwards set aside settlement in view of E's breach, was binding contract under Sec. 301, since exception to Garmon 359 U.S. 236 (1959), announced in Smith v. Evening News 371 U.S. 195 (1962), relates only to disputes arising under collective bargaining agreements; RD validly set aside contract and since it no longer exist, U cannot claim that it is 3rd party beneficiary)

2550-8100 Garmon preemption doctrine applicable

In Re: Charles K. Sewell 690 F.2d 403 (C.A. 4, Sept. 1982)
(where, after E refused to bargain with Bd-certified U to obtain appellate ct review of certification, U sued E's president under state tort law in state ct action, which was removed to federal district ct, appellate ct was empowered to issue pursuant to All Writs Act writ of mandamus petitioned for by E's president, with Bd as intervenor, on grounds of preemption under Garmon doctrine to confine the district ct to its jurisdiction, since, if the preemption claim was valid, the district ct would have infringed on the Bd's primary jurisdiction of labor relations and the appellate ct's jurisdiction to review Bd orders)

In Re: Charles K. Sewell 690 F.2d 403 (C.A. 4, Sept. 1982)
(since invocation of state law to redress conduct prohibited by Sec. 8 of the Act comes w/i Garmon doctrine of preemption, E's violation of Sec. 8 cannot constitute conduct sufficient to invoke state law, because that would undermine the preemption principle)

In Re: Charles K. Sewell 690 F.2d 403 (C.A. 4, Sept. 1982)
(appellate ct held that U's action in district ct under state tort law against official of E which had refused to bargain must be dismissed, and mandamus that official petitioned for with Bd as intervenor, granted since federal labor law vested exclusive jurisdiction in Bd to adjudicate controversies over refusals to bargain, subject to appellate ct review; federal law preempted state law pertaining to same controversy under Garmon doctrine, and federal district ct could not invoke latter to reexamine official's conduct but had to defer to Bd's exclusive competence to avert danger of state law interfering with national policy)

The United Credit Bureau of America, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 643 F.2d 1017 (C.A. 4, Mar. 1981)
(under Sears, 436 US 180 and Garmon, preemption of state ct is required where E's fraud allegation in state ct is based wholly on Ee's exercise of protected rights of engaging in protected concerted activity and filing ULP charge for unlawful discharge and party who could have presented protection issue has done so)

Amalgamated Clothing and Textile Workers Union, AFL-CIO, CLC v. Standard-Coosa-Thatcher Carpet Yarn Division, Inc. 516 F.Supp. 1078 (D Ct AL, June 1981)
(ct w/o concurrent jurisdiction and must defer to Bd in dispute where U, claiming informal settlement between U and E and subsequently approved by RD, who afterwards set aside settlement in view of E's breach, was binding contract under Sec. 301, since exception to Garmon 359 U.S. 236 (1959), announced in Smith v. Evening News 371 U.S. 195 (1962), relates only to disputes arising under collective bargaining agreements; RD validly set aside contract and since it no longer exist, U cannot claim that it is 3rd party beneficiary)

2550-9000 Garmon preemption doctrine not applicable

Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company 253 NLRB No. 096
(preemption not applicable to Section 301 suits with NLRB and federal cts having concurrent authority with respect to disputes arising under collective bargaining agreement even where conduct arguably protected or prohibited by Act)

Amalgamated Clothing and Textile Workers Union, AFL-CIO, CLC v. Standard-Coosa-Thatcher Carpet Yarn Division, Inc. 516 F.Supp. 1078 (D Ct AL, June 1981)
(ct w/o concurrent jurisdiction and must defer to Bd in dispute where U, claiming informal settlement between U and E and subsequently approved by RD, who afterwards set aside settlement in view of E's breach, was binding contract under Sec. 301, since exception to Garmon 359 U.S. 236 (1959), announced in Smith v. Evening News 371 U.S. 195 (1962), relates only to disputes arising under collective bargaining agreements; RD validly set aside contract and since it no longer exist, U cannot claim that it is 3rd party beneficiary)

2562 STATE AGENCY JURISDICTION IN REPRESENTATION MATTERS

Albert Einstein Medical Center 248 NLRB No. 009
(Bd refused to extend comity to certification by state agency of combined unit of RNs and LPNs as this is contrary to Bd policy of placing LPNs in technical unit unless parties have so stipulated, existing separate representation or separate bargaining history; furthermore, absent special circumstances Bd has declined to direct elections in combined units of LPNs and RNs which excluded other technical Ees)

2587 STATE REGULATION OF PREEMPTED SUBJECT MATTER

2587-2500 State statute

New York Telephone Co. et al. v. New York State Department of Labor, et al. 440 U.S. 519 (S Ct., 1979)
(NLRA does not preclude state from enacting unemployment compensation law which pays benefits to strikers notwithstanding fact that this law put majority of financial burden on struck E and enabled strikers to extend length of strike; Legislative history of NLRA indicates that Congress recognized potential conflict between state law and Act but did not intend to preempt that exercise of state power)

Malone, Commissioner of Labor and Industry For Minnesota v. White Motor Corp. et al. 435 U.S. 497 (SCt, 1978)
(state statute which sought to regulate pension plans which were product of collective bargaining negotiations and are mandatory subject of bargaining under NLRA held constitutional; NLRA did not preempt state statute since Federal Welfare and Pension Disclosure Act of 1958 expressly recognized and preserved state authority to regulate pension plans)

5000 STATUTORY CRITERIA OF JURISDICTION

7500 TERRITORIAL JURISDICTION

7567 OTHER

7567-1400 Puerto Rico

Union Independiente De Empleados De Servicios Legales De Puerto Rico (Corporation de Servicios Legales De Puerto Rico, Inc.) 249 NLRB NO. 147

(contention that Bd has no jurisdiction because Constitution of Commonwealth of Puerto Rico and laws enacted thereunder regulate labor relations in Puerto Rico, rejected)

7700 BOYCOTT OF FOREIGN PRODUCTS

International Longshoremen's Association, AFL-CIO (Kansas Farm Bureau, et al.) 264 NLRB No. 088

(Bd asserted jurisdiction over alleged Sec. 8(b)(4) conduct in which U told E that no labor would be supplied to load grain destined for a few days after President ordered grain embargo on exports to USSR. Thus, Federal jurisdiction embodied in N.L.R.A. is supported by national interests affected by U's boycott especially in view of U.S. Government sanction of this shipment)

Longshoremen's Association, Local 1414, AFL-CIO (Occidental Chemical Co.) 261 NLRB No. 001

(Bd asserted jurisdiction over alleged unlawful 8(b)(4) conduct resulting from U's refusal, because of Russia's invasion of Afghanistan, to handle Russian cargoes delivered in foreign flagships to U.S. ports, where U's conduct caused serious injury to neutral parties, who had nothing to do with dispute between U and Russia, by bringing direct economic pressure to bear on such parties resulting in substantial interference with their business and contractual obligations; fact that foreign flagships are neutrals does not mandate different result since they are still persons w/i meaning of 8(b)(4))

Longshoremen's Association, and Local 799; etc.(Allied International, Inc.) 257 NLRB No. 151

(Bd's assertion of jurisdiction compelled if clear language of Act placing foreign commerce w/i Bd's jurisdiction is to have any meaning. Bd is not deprived of jurisdiction where American neutral Ees are directly and adversely affected by purely secondary conduct violative of Section 8(b)(4))

Longshoremen's Association, and Local 799; etc.(Allied International, Inc.) 257 NLRB No. 151

(SCt has never barred or indicated its intention to bar Bd's jurisdiction over activity between exclusively American entities simply because that activity has some relation to foreign maritime operations reading SCt decisions limiting Bd's jurisdiction to situations where disputed conduct involved and inescapably interfered with maritime operations of foreign vessels is unduly expansive)

Longshoremen's Association, and Local 799; etc.(Allied International, Inc.) 257 NLRB No. 151

(primary conduct which interferes with foreign maritime operations is not subject to Bd jurisdiction regardless of whether charging party is primary or secondary E)

240 DISCRETION IN EXERCISE OF JURISDICTION

0100 GENERALLY

Trinity Lutheran Home For Children, t/a Frostburg Village of Allegany County Nursing Home v. N.L.R.B. 677 F.2d 383 (C.A. 3, Apr. 1982)

(although Bd may not rule on constitutional issues in choosing to exercise its jurisdiction over institutions which have religious affiliations, it must be aware that it is treading in areas where sensitivity to important values of First Amendment must be rule, not exception. Attitude that may be appropriate when regulating E that is profit making entity in industrial setting is not necessarily permissible when E is church-related institution which is being challenged for its religious practices)

N.L.R.B. v. Leavitt J. Cafer, Eunice Cafer, and Travelodge International, Inc., a partnership, d/b/a Marysville Travelodge 637 F.2d 1309 (C.A. 9, 1981)

(no abuse of discretion in Bd's finding that motel's local partner and corporate partner were single E for purposes of jurisdiction where there was sufficient justification for such finding, in view of partners' joint venture agreement requiring that corporate partner be consulted prior to any U dealings by local partner, together with numerous other indications of close connection between partners that were spelled out by Bd)

0150 DISCRETION TO DECLINE TO EXERCISE JURISDICTION

United Technologies Corporation 260 NLRB No. 196

(deferral appropriate where all of criteria and standards required for deferral under Spielberg were met)

0150-5000 Instrumentalities of foreign governments

State Bank of India 262NLRB No. 143

(jurisdiction asserted over bank since it had no special status as instrumentality of Government of India insofar as American labor laws were concerned and did not come w/i exclusions provided for Sec. 2(2))

0167 JURISDICTION MAY BE EXERCISED UPON STATUTORY BASIS ONLY

0167-0100 Generally

N.L.R.B. v. St. Mary's Home, Inc., t/a St. Mary's Infant Home 690 F.2d 1062 (C.A. 4, Sept. 1982)

(E's contention that it was outside the bounds of Bd jurisdiction absent showing of massive impact on interstate commerce because it was traditional charitable non-profit, non-commercial institution, rejected)

0167-3300 Absence of direct information

Keyway, A Division of Phase Inc. 263 NLRB No. 172

(jurisdiction asserted over nonprofit E providing service involving prevention and treatment of drug abuse, alchoholism and domestic violence. E's revenues last year were $482,597, of which, $299,322 were derived from Federal sources. This satisfies Bd's discretionary jurisdictional standard of $250,000 in gross revenues for health care institutions and legal jurisdiction need not be established by proof of direct or indirect inflow of goods or services where record establishes that greatest portion of E's revenues derive from Federal sources under nationally administered programs. Transfer of such funds across state lines constitutes commerce)

Radio Free Europe/Radio Liberty, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 063

(notwithstanding record did not establish any direct or indirect inflow of goods or services for non profit private corporation, receipt of 90 million dollar in year from U.S. Government demonstrates that E's operations have substantial impact on commerce, and establishes required statutory jurisdiction of this Bd)

0167-6700 Non-cooperation of employer

George E. Masker, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 016

(where E refused to complete commerce questionaire and to comply with subpoena to furnish records of purchases, but did admit to purchases from sources directly outside state though less than discretionary amount for direct inflow, Bd asserted jurisdiction as admission satisfied legal jurisdiction and under Tropicana 122 NLRB 121, discretionary standard need not be met if Bd satisfied such action will best effectuate policies of Act)

U.S. Bus, Inc. JD-391-82

(where E failed to comply with subpoena requesting jurisdictional information, ALJ conducted hearing and allowed GC to adduce secondary evidence obtained from R-case hearing involving same E and also other reports filed with ICC and Maryland Public Service Commission)

Marlboro Trucking Co., Inc., C-J Construction Co., Inc., Suburban Yelow Cab, Inc. JD-441-80

(statutory jurisdiction asserted over Es, w/o regard to whether Es' operations met Bd's jurisdictional standards because Es failed to respond to numerous subpoenas duces tecum which sought jurisdictional information and evidence elicited at hearing demonstrated that revenues derived from Es' activities affecting interstate commerce were more than de minimis)

0175 JURISDICTION OVER INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZATIONS AND FOREIGN CORPORATIONS

N.L.R.B. v. St. Mary's Home, Inc., t/a St. Mary's Infant Home 690 F.2d 1062 (C.A. 4, Sept. 1982)

(E's contention that it was outside the bounds of Bd jurisdiction absent showing of massive impact on interstate commerce because it was traditional charitable non-profit, non-commercial institution, rejected)

0183 De minimis or isolated violations

Ray-Lec, A Division of Genuine Parts Company 265 NLRB No. 211

E. A. Fuller Bentleys, Inc. d/b/a Bentleys Lounge JD-498-81

(1500 dollars of indirect inflow not de minimus)

1700 BOARD AUTHORITY TO ESTABLISH SCOPE OF DISCRETIONARY JURISDICTION

1701 GENERALLY

N.L.R.B. v. Mars Sales & Equipment Co. 626 F.2d 567 (C.A. 7, 1980)

(Bd did not abuse its discretion by exercising jurisdiction over 2 man unit since Congress vested Bd with jurisdiction to fullest extent constitutionally permissible under commerce clause)

1701-1400 May be established by decision; rule making not mandatory

K & E Bus Lines, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 137

(contention that Bd should alter cts jurisdictional standards only through rule making procedure rather than by administrative adjudication, rejected)

1701-6600 Retroactive application

K & E Bus Lines, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 137

(standard for assertion of jurisdiction applied retroactively since any other policy would benefit party whose actions transgressed provisions of Act at expense of victim of such actions and of public policy)

Transportation Enterprises, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 630 F.2d 421 (C.A. 5, 1980)

(Bd and its regional offices may not render jurisdictional decisions, and then overrule them retroactively and thereby transform E's interim behavior, legal when pursued, into illegal ULPs; E's conduct after formal declaration by Bd that he is not covered by Act and before re-examination of that issue, cannot subsequently be branded ULP subjecting E to liability for back-pay)

1767 LIMITATIONS AS TO ESTABLISHING OR CHANGING STANDARDS (14(c)(1))

1767—Cont.

St. Jude Industrial Park Board 265 NLRB No. 087
(Bd not barred by Section 14(c)(1) of Act from exercising discretionary jurisdiction over fourth class city's (industrial) Park Board, since Park Board's tenants reimburse city for funds spent on developement programs and city does not exercise any appreciable control over Park's supervision, budget, discipline, grievance procedure, seniority hiring, firing or wages of Ees of Park Board notwithstanding Ees receive their paycheck from City payroll and are covered by City's health, welfare and retirement programs since these costs too are reimbursed by tenants)

Florida Board of Business Regulation Department of Business Regulation, etc. v. N.L.R.B. 686 F.2d 1362 (C.A. 11, Sept. 1982)
(district ct had jurisdiction over C that challenged Bd's jurisdiction over labor disputes in jai alai industry and asked for declaratory judgment as C alleged Bd abused its discretion under Sec. 14(c)(1) of Act because it directly contravened firm policy Bd had established for identical Ees in horse or dog racing branches of State's gambling industry; furthermore, jurisdiction impinged on State industry in violation of tenth amendment. These claims obviously arise under Constitution or law of U.S.; therefore, ct had jurisdiction under 28 U.S.C. Sec. 1331)

Florida Board of Business Regulation Department of Business Regulation, etc. v. N.L.R.B. 686 F.2d 1362 (C.A. 11, Sept. 1982)
(where Bd failed to give any justification for its different treatment of 2 branches of State's gambling industry (jai alai and horse or dog racing), identical in all comparable respects, where as to former it asserted jurisdiction, latter it declined to do so, Bd abused its Sec. 14(c)(1) discretion)

2500 ADVISORY OPINIONS AS TO JURISDICTION (FOR JURISDICTIONAL HOLDINGS SEE 280)

Oriental Realty Corp., d/b/a Manhattan Beach Hotel 255 NLRB No. 044
(AO that Bd would assert jurisdiction over hotel owner where it annually derives in excess of $500,000 from its hotel building, and more than $50,000 is involved in interstate commerce in annual purchase of goods and services)

Mosyan Estates, Inc., and Planning Efficiency Management 253 NLRB No. 160
(AO that Bd would assert jurisdiction over owner and managing agent of residential apartment building, notwithstanding owner does not derive $500,000 annual gross revenues from such building, where its managing agent generates in excess of $500,000 annually from this building together with three others it manages, and therefore Bd's monetary standard is met)

North Middledale Corp. 253 NLRB No. 060
(AO that Bd would assert jurisdiction over E engaged in business of managing and also functioning as owner of three apartment complexes w/i the state where it had gross revenues of approximately $790,000 per year and it was assumed that it purchased more than a de minimis amount of goods from outside the state)

Elias Mallouk Realty Corp. 253 NLRB No. 001
(ptn for AO dismissed since record was inadequate to determine whether E met jurisdictional standard where E's denials of commerce allegations of R ptn and pending complaint were at variance with commerce data to which it had stipulated; further, adjudication of jurisdiction issue may be obtained in pending ULP proceeding and should await determination there, absent urgent need for earlier determination)

A. J. Clarke Management Corp. 249 NLRB No. 187
(AO that Bd would assert jurisdiction over E engaged in business of providing management services to residential apartment buildings where total gross annual rental revenues derived from apartments managed by E are in excess of $500,000 standard established by Bd for residential apartments, and out-of-state purchases exceed $50,000)

Mandel Management Corporation (Local 32B–Local 32J, Service Employees) 248 NLRB No. 066
(AO that Bd would assert jurisdiction over E engaged in business of managing residential and commercial properties in large city where E's annual gross rental revenues were in excess of $1 million and, assuming that E's out-of-state purchases are more than de minimis, they satisfied Bd's statutory jurisdiction)

Double A Property Associates, et al. 249 NLRB No. 080
(Bd declined to issue AO requested by E who participated in ULP proceeding before State Bd, but did not raise jurisdiction issue therein, despite its sole and exclusive knowledge of jurisdictional commerce data; E's basic reason for filing instant ptn appears to be its dissatisfaction with State Bd's denial of mtn to reopen hearing and to secure different forum in which to be heard; State Bd's refusal to reopen hearing has nothing to do with issues of jurisdiction and is not relevant to ptn herein)

Wave Hill, Inc. (District Council 37, AFSCME, AFL-CIO) 248 NLRB No. 149
(AO that Bd would not assert jurisdiction over not-for-profit environmental center which operates (1) aboretum and botanical garden, (2) arts and/or cultural center, and (3) environmental science center for conservation, education, and scientific studies, where E's annual gross revenue did not meet Bd's $1 million standard for assertion of jurisdiction over enterprises such as; E in many ways is similar to an art museum, contributes to cultural and educational values of community and thus acts as adjunct to educational system)

Mandel Management Corporation (Local 32B–Local 32J, Service Employees) 248 NLRB No. 066(AO that Bd would assert jurisdiction over E engaged in business of managing residential and commercial properties in large city where E's annual gross rental revenues were in excess of $1 million and, assuming that E's out-of-state purchases are more than de minimis, they satisfied Bd's statutory jurisdiction)

2501 GENERALLY

The Western Pennsylvania School For The Deaf 262 NLRB No. 028
(ptn for Advisory Opinion dismissed as not w/i intent of Bd's Advisory Opinion rules where petitioners desired opinion on whether Bd would or would not assert jurisdiction over non-profit educational institution because of its relationship to state and Advisory Opinion proceedings are designed primarily to determine applicability of Bd's discretionary jurisdictional standards to E's commerce operations)

Tavern Owners, Inc., d/b/a The Lighthouse Restaurant 251 NLRB No. 120
(no evidentiary hearing provided for)

2550 LIMITED TO DETERMINATION OF APPLICABILITY OF DISCRETIONARY STANDARDS

Rebecca Blaylock Nursery School, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 198
(Advisory Opinion ptn dismissed as request for reconsideration of whether Bd's discretionary standard for nonprofit day care centers should be lowered was not w/i intendment of Advisory Opinion rules; R/R 102.98 requires state courts, agencies and parties to state proceedings are only permitted to ptn Bd for Advisory Opinion when there is doubt that Bd would assert jurisdiction)

Snohomish County Headstart/Community Action Council 254 NLRB No. 171
(Bd declined to issue AO requested by E since there is no proceeding involving question of Bd's jurisdiction pending in any agency or state court; furthermore Bd will not issue AO where it is whether or not E shares exemption of its governmental grantors and thereby precludes assertion of jurisdiction over E)

Fundacion Educativa Ana G. Mendez, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 142
(AO ptn dismissed since basic issue presented was whether E's full-time faculty members of college were covered by Act which does not fall w/i intendment of Bd's AO rules which are designed primarily to determine questions of jurisdiction by application of Bd's discretionary standards; furthermore, ptn would be dismissed because there is pending before Bd ULP proceeding which has advanced to formal stage when binding adjudication of jurisdictional issue can be obtained)

Double A Property Associates, et al. 249 NLRB No. 080
(in declining to issue AO requested by E who participated in ULP proceedings before State Bd, Bd did not pass upon propriety of State Bd's rulings adverse to E, since AO is designed primarily for determining whether E's operations meet Bd's discretionary jurisdictional standard)

2900 DECLARATORY JUDGMENTS AS TO JURISDICTION

3300 BOARD DEFERENCE TO OTHER MEANS OF ADJUSTMENT

Barrentine et al. v. Arkansas-Best Freight System, Inc., et al. 450 US 728 (U.S. SCt. Apr. 1981)
(not all disputes between Ee and his E are suited for binding resolution in accordance with procedures established by collective bargaining; while cts should defer to arbital decision where Ee's claim is based on rights arising out of collective-bargaining agreement, different considerations apply where Ee's claim is based on rights arising out of statute (FLSA) designed to provide minimum substantive guarantees to individual workers)

3333 BOARD AUTHORITY UNDER STATUTE

3333-3000 Authority under section 10(a)

Nabisco, Inc. JD-(SF)-34-82

(no deference to arbitrator's award in C case where it was alleged that Ee suffered reprisal for having previously filed charge or gave testimony under Act, since resolution of such allegation must be left to Bd as mandated by Congress; grievant in arbitration sought to confine issues to those arising from collective bargaining agreement)

3333-6700 Discretion to defer

East Texas Motor Freight 262 NLRB No. 101

(where grievance-arbitration hearing is not before independent arbitrator, and grievant, identified dissident, is party to existing ULP litigation against grievant's bargaining representative, Bd's exercise of discretion, not to defer, is appropriate)

Westinghouse Electric Corporation JD-(ATL)-89-81

(no portion of instant proceeding alleging violations of Sections 8(a)(5), (4), (3) and (1) appropriate for deferral; E's alleged refusal to provide information to U (8(a)(5) was intimately connected with 8(a)(3) allegations and as such were inappropriate for deferral; charges of Sec. 8(a)(4) and (3) related to discharge of Ee where Bd no longer defers)

Campbell Industries JD-(SF)-108-81

(deferral principles of neither Spielberg nor Adolph Coors applicable to proceeding initiated by Ee in his individual capacity and not through auspices of collective-bargaining agreement and there was no basis in record for concluding that in pursuing his rights in Federal OSHA matter and in State suit, Ee was designating those tribunals as final arbiters of question of whether E's failure to hire former Ee was discriminatory)

N.L.R.B. v. Local 1034, Teamsters 651 F.2d 136 (C.A. 2, June 1981)

(enforcement granted where Bd's determination of composition of unit was matter which parties' contract's grievance arbitration is designed to resolve and parties have clearly and consistently expressed their willingness to be bound by arbitrator's decision; Bd was construing parties' contract which set up original unit; ct did not reject result (of Bd decision) which would have been same if Bd had deferred to arbitrator's determination)

N.L.R.B. v. The Motor Convoy, Inc. 673 F.2d 734 (C.A. 4, Mar. 1982)

(Bd's refusal to defer to decision of arbitration panel which complied with Spielberg criteria in holding that Ee had been discharged for just cause and not for U activities; improper, since contrary to NLRB's policy to defer to arbitration decisions which meet Spielberg criteria; although NLRB is free to depart from this policy departure may not be sub silento to reach a different unexplained result in a single case. Until NLRB explicitly adopts a different policy through formal rulemaking or adjudication procedures, it must defer to private arbitration which complies with those guidelines in Spielberg)

Roadway Express, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 647 F.2d 415 (C.A. 4, Apr 1981)

(Bd has discretion to defer in favor of voluntary settlement of underlying issue in ULP charge; and when Bd has exercised discretion to establish policy of deferral under clearly articulated criteria whether by formal rule-making or by adjudicative proceedings, it must adhere to that policy as so established in subsequent decisions or explain reasons for its departure)

3333-7000 Discretion to retain jurisdiction during deferral

The Standard Oil Company (Ohio) 264 NLRB NO. 012

3367 CIRCUMSTANCES OF DEFERRAL

3367-0100 Generally

Richel Home Centers, Division of Supermarkets General Corporation 262 NLRB No. 93

(deferral to arbitration award is affirmative defense in which burden of proof is assigned to moving party thus burden is not met and defense not sustained where Respondent has not even offered arbitration award into evidence)

United Parcel Service, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 148

(Bd will not defer to arbitration award unless evidence relevant to ULP case has been presented to arbitrator or panel)

N.L.R.B. v. Designcraft Jewel Industries, Inc. 675 F.2d 493 (C.A. 2, Mar. 1982)

(cts have strongly encouraged settlement of labor disputes by arbitration and have recognized that reaching of such goal is aided by a policy of deferral on part of Bd; while Bd is not obligated by statute to defer to arbitral determination, and while it has broad discretion to determine circumstances under which it will defer, once Bd has enunciated standards of deference it cannot lightly change rules on case by case basis)

N.L.R.B. v. Designcraft Jewel Industries, Inc. 675 F.2d 493 (C.A. 2, Mar. 1982)

(while noting that 3-year delay in bringing to ct issue of whether E was required to produce information requested by U regarding subcontracting of unit work raises serious question as to whether Bd's refusal to defer to arbitrator's award comports with national labor policy favoring arbitration of disputes, ct, nevertheless, was constrained to find that Bd was, for reasons stated herein, w/i its discretion in not deferring to arbitrator's determination regarding the furnishing of U's requested information)

Hammermill Paper Company v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 155 (C.A. 3, 1981)

(Bd defers not because arbitrator could have reached and decided ULP issues in grievance arbitration, but because in very process of deciding contractual issue, arbitrator may necessarily dispose of question of whether Ee's legitimate rights under Section 7 of Act were interfered with impermissibly)

Wheeling-Pittsburgh Steel Corp. v. N.L.R.B. 618 F.2d 1009 (C.A. 3, 1980)

(even when resolution of contract is more central to a case, Bd is not pre-empted by overlapping domain of arbitrator; Bd may choose to defer not only when there is an outstanding arbitral award but also in some circumstances when no award has been issued)

N.L.R.B. v. Haberman Construction Company 641 F.2d 351 (C.A. 5, Apr. 1981)

(E's contention that constructive discharges as result of Ees' resignations due to E's unlawful conduct should not be found unlawful because U contract contained grievance procedure, rejected, since contractual remedy does not deprive Bd of jurisdiction to condemn conduct which constitutes ULP)

Caterpillar Tractor Co. v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 140 (C.A. 7, Sept. 1981)

(Bd did not abuse its discretion by refusing to defer to grievance-arbitration procedure alleged unlawful discontinuance of Ees' right to request transfers involving down-grading, since Bd's determination that determinative issue required interpretation of Act rather mere contract interpretation, not unreasonable)

3367-0115 Purpose of fostering and facilitating existing collective-bargaining relationship

Newspaper Guild, Local 10 v. N.L.R.B. 636 F.2d 550 (C.A.D.C. 1980)

(Bd policy is to defer to arbitration where disputes turn on collective bargaining agreements but not when they rest upon interpretation of Act)

District 1199E, National Union of Hospital and Health Care Employees v. N.L.R.B. 613 F.2d 1102 (C.A.D.C.) (1980)

(submission to grievance and arbitration proceedings of disputes which might involve ULPs would be substantially discouraged if disputants thought Bd would give de novo consideration to issue which arbitrator might resolve)

3367-0125 Good faith disagreement between parties

Herman Brothers, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 121

3367-0150 Spielberg standard of fairness

Thatcher Glass Manufacturing Co., A Division of Dart Industries, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 041

The Liberal Market, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 109

(deferral to arbitral award under Spielberg which found that E had no obligation to bargain about decision to close its warehouse and garage operation and that it had not bargained in bad faith by failing to reveal contemplated closure during negotiations, held appropriate since arbitrator's resolutions were not repugnant to Act, especially in light of First National Maintenance)

Ciba-Geigy Pharmaceuticals Division 264 NLRB No. 134

(criteria set forth for deferral)

The Rasicracion Press, Ltd. 264 NLRB No. 170

(no deferral to decision of six member arbitration panel, three chosen by E and three by U, which included U steward who had refused to accept alleged discriminatee's grievance, and foreman who was found to have violated Act by his conduct, meeting lasted less than hour, no witnesses called, no minutes or record made, and alleged discriminatee not present; since deferral to such informal grievance procedure mechanism inappropriate inasmuch as there is no award to be examined for conformity with Spielberg requirements)

Furr's, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 077

(appropriate where arbitration proceedings fair, regular, parties agreed to be bound (Ees involved in this proceeding are not same as those involved in arbitration proceeding but issue involves same contractual question, interests of Ees adequately represented) result not clearly repugnant to Act. Dispute involved revocation of checkoff authorizations as provided for in contract and was essentially contract interpretation rather than interpretation of Act. Bd has held such issues are capable of resolution through arbitration; arbitrator's determination that contract provision be applied w/o reference to authorization cards is not wrong as matter of law)

Consolidation Coal Company 263 NLRB No. 188

(deferral to arbitrator's award upholding disparate treatment of U officers who were singled out for discipline because they participated in unauthorized work stoppage along with other rank-and-file Ees based on their status as U officers held inappropriate as repugnant to Act; statutory right of Ees to support and assist U by becoming officers cannot be sacrificed to contractual right of Ee to be free from unauthorized work stoppages; moreover, ULP issue herein was neither presented to nor considered by arbitrator)

3367-0150—Cont.

Inland Steel Company 263 NLRB No. 147
(the test of repugnancy under Spielberg is not whether the Bd would have reached the same result as an arbitrator, but whether the arbitrator's award is palpably wrong as a matter of law)

Joyce Brothers Storage and Van Company 263 NLRB No. 078
(deferral inappropriate where there was no basis upon which to determine whether ULP aspect of Ee's grievance played part in joint grievance committee's deliberations)

Rickel Home Centers, Division of Supermarkets General Corporation 262 NLRB No. 93

United Parcel Service 261 NLRB No. 142
(deferral inappropriate where issue of Ee's insistence on what he considered his contractual right to take his twenty minute break on road, although presented to grievance committee, was not even mentioned in committee's decision)

Consolidated Freightways Corporation of Delaware 257 NLRB No. 177
(no deferral to arbitration where panel did not consider question of unlawful motivation of Ee's discharge)

Kahn's and Company, Division of Consolidated Food Co. 253 NLRB No. 004

Hammermill Paper Company 252 NLRB No. 172
(no deferral to arbitrator's award where arbitrator, in dealing with discharge of U steward, found steward's treatment unrelated to U activity; also, under award, U steward would not receive back pay as Bd remedy provides)

Bay Shipbuilding Corporation 251 NLRB No. 114
(mtn for summary judgment granted and C dismissed where Bd deferred to arbitration award finding that E did not violate contract by changing insurance carrier since coverage which could only be changed by mutual consent under contract did not include carrier, and level of benefits remained the same; arbitrator stated he would not decide Sec. 8(a)(5) violation, but made factual findings, in course of resolving contractual issue, which resolved ULP issues)

Amoco Texas Refining Company 251 NLRB No. 202

Botany 500, A Division of Rapid-American Monroewear, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 075
(ALJ rejected GC's contention that arbitration proceeding, denying discharge grievance, was not fair and regular because of Ee's status as U dissident in conflict with U leadership, key witness' lack of credibility in critical area, failure to present surveillance issue, and fact that Ee, in running for U office, challenged U and its relationship with E; in accord with Bd's ruling, such issues, including E's Spielberg defense, were best resolved at hearing wherein they were fully litigated)

Botany 500, A Division of Rapid-American Monroewear, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 075
(doubt regarding fairness of arbitration proceeding because arbitrator was permanent under parties' contract, and assertedly had vested interest in being retained in subsequent contracts by incumbent U officials held not justified; there was no trace of fraud or collusion either alleged or disclosed, and nothing in record to establish that U official involved in proceeding has or had anything to do with designating permanent arbitrator; arbitration proceeding in all other respects was fair and regular and award was not repugnant to Act)

Botany 500, A Division of Rapid-American Monroewear, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 075
(deferral to arbitration award denying discharge grievance, appropriate, where dischargee insisted on having expedited arbitration hearing which she was granted and was duly represented therein by U attorney whom she had requested and who assisted her in securing witnesses and otherwise preparing for arbitration; dischargee was provided full opportunity and litigated not only circumstances of discharge but also matters relative to her protected concerted activity and, in addition, she submitted her own position paper to arbitrator)

American Bakeries Co., Inc. 249 NLRB No. 170
(C dismissed where ALJ failed to defer to arbitrator's pre-discharge award concerning discharge of U stewards for their participation in work stoppage; Spielberg doctrine applicable to instant case and arbitrator's decision was not repugnant to Act notwithstanding stewards singled out for severest punishment, since U stewards had clearly instigated or led unauthorized illegal work stoppage)

Colonial Stores Incorporated 248 NLRB No. 143
(no deferral to arbitration award denying Ee's grievance and finding that Ee was discharged for cause, where cause found by arbitrator was in fact Ee's protected concerted activity of protesting E's admitted failure to implement grievance settlement and U's failure to enforce agreement)

Van Haaren Specialized Carriers, Inc., A Subsidiary of Dobson Heavy Haul, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 17

General Warehouse Corp. 247 NLRB No. 142
(deferral to arbitrator's award regarding discriminatee's discharge assertedly because of his absentee record, not appropriate where, notwithstanding that arbitration hearing was fair and impartial, arbitrator made no finding with regard to evidence concerning discriminatee's protected activity, which evidence was presented at arbitration hearing; deferral to arbitrator's award would not effectuate Bd's protection of (Ee's) Section 7 rights)

Suburban Motor Freight, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 002
(Bd announced that it will no longer honor results of arbitration proceeding under Spielberg unless ULP issue was both presented to and considered by arbitrator, that Bd will give no deference to arbitration award which bears no indication that arbitration ruled on statutory issue of discrimination in determining propriety of E's disciplinary actions, and that party seeking Bd deferral to arbitration award has burden of proving that issue of discrimination was litigated before arbitrator; Electronic Reproduction, 213 NLRB 758, overruled)

American Freight System, Inc. JD-481-81
(Bd will not defer to arbitration under Spielberg unless ULP issue before Bd was presented to and considered by arbitrator and here arbitration committee refused to permit alleged discriminatee to litigate the ULP issue before it; thus deferral inappropriate)

Campbell Industries JD-(SF)-108-81
(deferral principles of neither Spielberg nor Adolph Coors applicable to proceeding initiated by Ee in his individual capacity and not through auspices of collective-bargaining agreement and there was no basis in record for concluding that in pursuing his rights in Federal OSHA matter and in State suit, Ee was designating those tribunals as final arbiters of question of whether E's failure to hire former Ee was discriminatory)

Honeywell, Inc. - Tampa Operations JD-116-81
(no deferral to arbitrator's award where arbitrator refused to determined whether Ees' membership resignations and dues authorization revocations sent to U during hiatus period between contracts effectively cancelled E's authority to deduct U dues from Ees' pay; furthermore, Ees involved in present Bd proceeding were not parties to arbitration proceeding)

Andersen Sand & Gravel Company JD-635-80
(no deferral to decision of arbitration panel where characteristics of forum cannot be determined nor basis for award shown)

Hammermill Paper Company v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 155 (C.A. 3, 1981)
(where disciplined Ee fails to even raise ULP issue in arbitral proceeding, subsequent Bd inquiry into that issue will not be limited by arbitral award favorable to E. But failure to raise statutory issue before arbitrator is not sine qua non for refusal to defer even assuming compliance with three Spielberg criteria)

N.L.R.B. v. The Motor Convoy, Inc. 673 F.2d 734 (C.A. 4, Mar. 1982)
(Bd's refusal to defer to decision of arbitration panel which complied with Spielberg criteria in holding that Ee had been discharged for just cause and not for U activities; improper, since contrary to NLRB's policy to defer to arbitration decisions which meet Spielberg criteria; although NLRB is free to depart from this policy departure may not be sub silento to reach a different unexplained result in a single case. Until NLRB explicitly adopts a different policy through formal rulemaking or adjudication procedures, it must defer to private arbitration which complies with those guidelines in Spielberg)

N.L.R.B. v. South Central Bell Telephone Company 688 F.2d 345 (C.A. 5, Oct. 1982)

N.L.R.B. v. United Parcel Service, Inc. 677 F.2d 421 (C.A. 6, May 1982)
(Bd did not depart from standards of its decision in Spielberg in proceeding to hear Ee's grievance even though it had earlier been subject of arbitration proceedings under existing collective bargaining agreement)

Ad Art, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 645 F.2d 669 (C.A. 9, Dec 9, 1980)
(Bd's refusal under Spielberg standard to defer to arbitrator's decision that discharge of grievant was for cause held not abuse of discretion, since issue of whether discharge was a ULP because it was for a protected activity, i.e., for filing grievances, was not decided where statutory protection under Sec. 7 was not analyzed or even mentioned)

N.L.R.B. v. Max Factor and Company 640 F.2d 197 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(where Bd could reasonably conclude that E violated Act and arbitrator failed to consider ULP aspects of Ees suspension, refusal to defer proper where to do so would produce result repugnant to Act)

N.L.R.B. v. Gould, Inc., Switchgear Division 638 F.2d 159 (C.A. 10, 1980)
(no deferral to arbitration award which clearly ignores long line of precedent by assuming ipso facto that no-strike clause waived Ees' right to engage in sympathy strike)

3367-0150—Cont.

District 1199E, National Union of Hospital and Health Care Employees v. N.L.R.B. 613 F.2d 1102 (C.A.D.C.) (1980)

3367-0175 Adequate representation of Employee rights

3367-0175-6700 Where substantial conflict exists

Servair, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 014
(Bd refused to defer to arbitrator's decision which upheld discharge of Ees for violating no-strike clause as dischargees favored U attempting to oust incumbent U; thus, there existed potential conflict of interest with incumbent U representing Ees it knew were opposed to it; because of this potential conflict, question of whether strike was ULP strike was not placed before arbitrator, nor did arbitrator consider whether seriousness of discriminatory discharge that strikers were protesting would warrant conclusion that strikers were not prohibited from striking, notwithstanding no-strike clause. Therefore, Ees interests were not adequately represented)

Russ Togs, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 099
(no deferral where U shop steward w/o discussing matter with grievants reported to E that grievants were urging other Ees to grieve E's underpayment of contractual wage rate and slow down in protest thereof, and U attorney told grievants that his representation in the arbitration of their grievance was for the U, not for them)

United Parcel Service, Inc. 282 NLRB No. 145
(deferral inappropriate where U failed both to advocate Ee's claim that he was discharged for dissident activities and to present evidence on that claim)

United Parcel Service, Inc. 282 NLRB No. 145
(deferral inappropriate where U failed both to advocate Ee's claim that he was discharged for dissident activities and to present evidence on that claim)

Herman Brothers, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 201 (C.A. 3, 1981)
(E's request for deferral made after close of hearing at time E filed briefs with ALJ but before his decision satisfies notice requirement where arbitration decision was issued after hearing ended and submitting copy of it with brief was timely, thus Bd should have considered whether or not to defer)

3367-0400 Bars to deferral in advance of arbitration

3367-0401 Generally

Mackkin Freight Lines, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 193
(deferral inappropriate in light of uncertainty surrounding which of two bargaining agreements was applicable in situation)

Jack Thompson Oldsmobile, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 014
(no deferral where issue was not raised until after hearing and thus not fully litigated; in addition two members of Bd panel would find deferral inappropriate since complaint alleged 8(a)(3) violation)

Wheeling-Pittsburgh Steel Corp. v. N.L.R.B. 618 F.2d 1009 (C.A. 3, 1980)
(Bd properly refused E's request to defer to ongoing arbitration proceedings since deferral is considered only if raised as an affirmative defense, and E failed to make any explicit request for deferral)

3367-0405 Deferral inappropriate where charge involves individuals rights

Wolff & Munier, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 045
(Bd found it inappropriate to defer to decision disposing of grievances filed over discharges that gave rise to 8(a)(3) and (1) allegations)

John Gear Chevrolet Co., Inc., d/b/a Parkwood Chevrolet 262 NLRB No. 034
(alleged Sec. 8(a)(1) and (3) violations)

Grane Trucking Company 261 NLRB No. 089
(E's Motion to Refer to Arbitration denied, notwithstanding E's contention that its primary defense involved issues arising under collective bargaining agreement between it and U, and that therefore deferral to arbitration proceeding as provided by that contract was appropriate, citing Collyer Insulated Wire, since, in General American Transportation Corporation, Bd expressly held that policy enunciated in Collyer does not apply to cases involving alleged violations of Sec. 8(a)(1) or (3), sections at issue in proceeding)

Jack Thompson Oldsmobile, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 014
(no deferral where issue was not raised until after hearing and thus not fully litigated; in addition two members of Bd panel would find deferral inappropriate since complaint alleged 8(a)(3) violation)

Carpenters and Joiners, Local No. 1914 (W & H Conveyor Systems, Inc.) 250 NLRB No. 182
(Bd declined to dismiss 8(b)(2) and (1)(A) complaint and to defer to grievance arbitration procedured provided by contract, since it is not Bd's policy to defer cases alleging interference with individual Ees' statutory rights)

United States Postal Service JD-(SF)-101-82
(no deferral under Collyer of 8(a)(3) charge filed by individual although resolution of complaint required interpretation of contract language)

ITT McDonnel and Miller, A Unit of Fluid Handling Division of International Telephone and Telegraph Corp. JD-337-82
(alleged unilateral modification of contract by prohibiting posting of grievances on E's bulletin boards, made available to U under contract, deferred, since allegation calls for interpretation of contract inasmuch as posted grievances were removed by E who decided U had no right under contract to post grievances, and such issue is one which may properly be deferred to arbitrator; while Bd has not approved deferral of 8(a)(1) and (a)(3), and 8(b)(1)(A) and 8(b)(2) allegations, it has approved deferral in cases involving 8(a)(5) and 8(b)(3) allegations with some exceptions)

Salem Gravure Division of World Color Press, Inc. JD-152-81

3367-0420 Adequacy of representation of employee rights

3367-0420-6700 Where substantial conflict exists

Pacemaker Yacht Co., A Division of Mission Marine, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 095
(deferral to arbitration award not warranted where interests of U are not in substantial harmony with those of Ee-grievants over operation of U's health and welfare fund)

Electrical Workers Local 401 (Stone and Webster Engineering Corporation) 251 NLRB NO. 039
(deferral to U's grievance procedure inappropriate where interests of Ees are in conflict with that of U)

3367-0430 Inhibition of access to grievance procedure

United States Postal Service 263 NLRB No. 043
(deference not appropriate, since complaint alleged unilateral change of policy regarding grieving Ees' immediate access to U stewards rather than mere temporary modification of such policy, and U's ability to use grievance procedures goes to core of labor-management relations)

3367-0460 Willingness of parties to arbitrate

New York University Medical Center 261 NLRB No. 118
(in finding deferral inappropriate because arbitrator's decision with respect to Ee was repugnant to policies of Act, ALJ held that, in addition, deferral was inappropriate as to other Ees, who participated in protected concerted activity with Ee in question, because they did not agree to be bound by results of arbitration)

General Motors Corporation, Delco Moraine Division 257 NLRB No. 146
(U's right to original timestudy worksheets on which E based its production standards found not appropriate matter for deferral to arbitration, since Bd will not defer U's request for bargaining information to which it is statutorily entitled, and record herein indicates that parties have not chosen to arbitrate present dispute)

3367-0480 Availability of arbitration

3367-0480-2300 Effect of prior arbitration

Arthur N. Stephenson v. N.L.R.B. 614 F.2d 1210 (C.A. 9) (1980)
(contention that Bd erred in concluding that discharge was for cause because decision was contrary to arbitration panel's conclusion, rejected; Bd was not entitled to rely upon finding of panel because it did not decide whether ULP had been committed and only determined that agreement had been breached, and Bd found no ULP had been committed herein; proper means to enforce binding arbitration award is an action in district ct)

3367-0480-5000 Non-arbitrable issue

L.M. Settles Construction Co., Inc. 259 NLRB No. 087
(no deferral of E's refusal to allow complete audit of its financial records, including general ledger, to determine whether it is complying with fringe benefit fund obligations of contract since grievances relating to fringe benefits funds were expressly exempt from application of grievance and arbitration provisions of contract)

Newspaper Guild, Local 10 v. N.L.R.B. 636 F.2d 550 (C.A.D.C. 1980)
(Bd policy is to defer to arbitration where disputes turn on collective bargaining agreements but not when they rest upon interpretation of Act)

3367-0800 Availability of arbitration proceedings

Geary Motor Sales, d/b/a Geary Ford 261 NLRB No. 168
(where contention that case should be deferred to grievance and arbitration procedure was first raised in exceptions, Bd found no basis for determining whether deferral would have been appropriate, since issue of deferral was not fully litigated)

Wayne & Co. Installers JD-(SF)-170-82
(contention that E should have and was required to avail himself of bargaining agreement's arbitration and grievance procedure before he could avail himself of Bd's processes held w/o merit)

3367-0825 Scope of grievance and arbitration contract provisions

3367-0825—Cont.

Barrentine et al. v. Arkansas-Best Freight System, Inc., et al. 450 US 728 (U.S. SCt. Apr. 1981)
(when Ee's claim is based upon breach of collective bargaining agreement, he is bound by terms of that agreement which govers manner in which contractual rights may be enforced. Only if arbitration process has been tainted; e.g., by U's breach of its duty of fair representation, may Ee pursue his grievance in ct)

Roadway Express, Inc. JD-201-80
(deferral to grievance machinery which did not provide for arbitration, unwarranted)

3367-0825-3300 Provisions arguably encompassing dispute

L.M. Sattler Construction Co., Inc. 259 NLRB No. 087
(no deferral of E's refusal to allow complete audit of its financial records, including general ledger, to determine whether it is complying with fringe benefit fund obligations of contract since grievances relating to fringe benefits funds were expressly exempt from application of grievance and arbitration provisions of contract)

3367-0825-6700 Provisions limiting arbitrator's review or remedial powers

Barrentine et al. v. Arkansas-Best Freight System, Inc., et al. 450 US 728 (U.S. SCt. Apr. 1981)
(even though arbitrator competent to apply statutory law, he may not have contractual authority to do so since his power is derived from, and limited by, collective bargaining agreement; accordingly, if arbital decision is based solely upon arbitrator's view of enacted legislation, rather than on interpretation of agreement, arbitrator has exceeded scope of submission and no enforcement)

3367-1200 Willingness of parties to arbitrate

United States Postal Service JD-(SF)-101-82
(deferral under Dubo inappropriate and unwarranted where, although U had filed a grievance, it did not take matter to arbitration, and contractual time period had since expired)

Newspaper Printing Corporation JD-203-80
(no deferral to arbitration where issue is E's insistance on referring grievances to arbitration solely on question of arbitrability since E has evidenced course of conduct designed to rid itself of established bargaining relationship and attendent thereto and grievance involved, which is classic example of whether Ee voluntarily quit or was constructively discharged, is ripe for arbitration)

3367-1700 Nature of proceeding

3367-1712 Proceeding established by contract

3367-1712-5000 Grievance procedure with impartial arbitration

United Parcel Service, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 063
(no deferral to arbitration decision regarding discharge, absent evidence Charging Party's protected activity of filing grievances was fully considered, and where arbitration panel rendered summary decision precluding any review of its consideration of ULP aspect of discharge; further, fact no neutral member on arbitration panel foreclosed grievance from proceeding to final step of procedure)

American Bakeries Co., Inc. 249 NLRB No. 170
(C dismissed where ALJ failed to defer to arbitrator's pre-discharge award concerning discharge of U stewards for their participation in work stoppage; Spielberg doctrine applicable to instant case and arbitrator's decision was not repugnant to Act notwithstanding stewards singled out for severest punishment, since U stewards had clearly instigated or led unauthorized illegal work stoppage)

3367-1712-7500 Grievance procedure with joint-committee

American Freight System, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 018
(Bd refused to defer to grievance arbitration panel's decision, upholding Ee's discharge for refusing to drive truck which Ee reasonably believed to be unsafe, since statutory issue (ULP) was not resolved by arbitrator; contractual standard of justified, considered by arbitrators, may have conflicted with Ees' Section 7 rights and award did not resolve issue; legal standards employed to resolve contractual and statutory issues, even though factually congruous, are not identical)

3367-1731 AFL-CIO internal disputes procedure

Jackson Engineering Co. 265 NLRB No. 175
(deferral to decision of impartial umpire in proceeding under constitution of AFL-CIO, inappropriate; although issue of Ee representation was considered and decided in proceeding, Bd standards, policies, considerations and precedents were not evaluated or considered in either ULP or R case area; and Bd has exclusive jurisdiction to resolve qcr, and it will not defer to private resolutions of such questions in proceedings such as that herein)

3367-1775 Court suit

3367-1775-3300 Under Section 301

Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company 253 NLRB No. 096
(no deferral to decision in Section 301 suit upholding legality of contract provision requiring revocation of dues checkoff authorization only on forms provided by U since decision not res judicata where neither NLRB nor charging parties were parties to suit and Ees from whose pay dues were allegedly unlawfully withheld failed to appear, nor did ct express desire to dispose of ULP issue of whether continued withholding of dues was lawful after Ees had withdrawn checkoff authorizations by letter)

Newspaper Printing Corporation JD-203-80
(refusal to arbitrate not per se violation of Section 8(a)(5); however where refusal to arbitrate, like refusal to comply with any contract provision, evidences intention to violate entire contractual undertaking and is part and parcel of unlawful scheme to repudiate bargaining obligation then refusal to arbitrate unlawful; in such circumstances Bd will order remedy even though U might also have remedy under Section 301 of Act)

Newspaper Printing Corporation JD-203-80
(E's refusal to arbitrate or even submit to third step of grievance procedure involving whether E voluntarily quit or was discharged, unlawful; notwithstanding U might also have Section 301 remedy; nor was deferral to arbitration appropriate)

Automobile Workers (UAW) and Its Local 1519 v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 580 (C.A. 6, Apr. 1980)
(when E has been acting in accord with ultimate Bd Section 10(k) ruling, E is not liable for damages to disappointed U; even in a LMRA Section 301 suit)

3367-1787 Non-Board settlement by parties

United States Steel Corporation 250 NLRB No. 069
(C not dismissed notwithstanding grievance settlement agreement where unclear extent to which settlement agreement dealt with ULP issue and participation of charging party in settlement discussions, charging party never signed agreement nor is he willing to accept its terms since his acceptance conditional and conditions not met)

Alabama By-Products Corporation JD-(ATL)-49-82
(no deferral to non-Bd pre-arbitral settlement of grievance which did not consider 8(a)(3) aspect of case and by which only E agreed to be bound, U never so agreeing and Ee being coerced into agreeing)

Roadway Express, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 647 F.2d 415 (C.A. 4, Apr 1981)
(deferral to voluntary settlement appropriate, since substantial evidence on record did not support Bd finding of nondeferral (in plurality opn) that legality of Ee's discharge was never discussed during settlement negotiations or that Ee never agreed to abandonment of claim for backpay, where propriety of discharge had been discussed between U and E from start of controversy and had been submitted to arbitration panel; and before settlement was agreed to, Ee had been advised orally and in writing that proposed settlement included no-backpay provision, and had for over four months acquiesced in settlement)

N.L.R.B. v. Franklin Art Glass Studios, Inc. 678 F.2d 106 (C.A. 6, Mar. 1982)
(private settlements to which Bd is not party are not binding on Bd)

3367-3300 Authority of tribunal making determination

3367-3320 Binding nature of determination

New York University Medical Center 261 NLRB No. 110
(in finding deferral inappropriate because arbitrator's decision with respect to Ee was repugnant to policies of Act, ALJ held that, in addition, deferral was inappropriate as to other Ees, who participated in protected concerted activity with Ee in question, because they did not agree to be bound by results of arbitration)

United States Postal Service JD-224-81
(pre-arbitration settlements did not warrant deferral where they did not rise to stature of final and binding decisions on merits by impartial tribunal)

Campbell Industries JD-(SF)-108-81

3367-3340 Identity of issues

Hammermill Paper Company v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 155 (C.A. 3, 1981)
(where disciplined Ee fails to even raise ULP issue in arbitral proceeding, subsequent Bd inquiry into that issue will not be limited by arbitral award favorable to E. But failure to raise statutory issue before arbitrator is not sine qua non for refusal to defer even assuming compliance with three Spielberg criteria)

3367-3340-5000 ULP proceedings

American Freight System, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 018
(Bd refused to defer to grievance arbitration panel's decision, upholding Ee's discharge for refusing to drive truck which Ee reasonably believed to be unsafe, since statutory issue (ULP) was not resolved by arbitrator; contractual standard of justified, considered by arbitrators, may have conflicted with

3367-3340-5000—Cont.

Ees' Section 7 rights and award did not resolve issue; legal standards employed to resolve contractual and statutory issues, even though factually congruous, are not identical)

United Parcel Service, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 148
(Bd will not defer to arbitration award unless evidence relevant to ULP case has been presented to arbitrator or panel)

Suburban Motor Freight, Inc. 268 NLRB No. 082
(Bd announced that it will no longer honor results of arbitration proceeding under Spielberg unless ULP issue was both presented to and considered by arbitrator, that Bd will give no deference to arbitration award which bears no indication that arbitration ruled on statutory issue of discrimination in determining propriety of E's disciplinary actions, and that party seeking Bd deferral to arbitration award has burden of proving that issue of discrimination was litigated before arbitrator; Electronic Reproduction, 213 NLRB 758, overruled)

Michigan Gas Utilities Company JD-260-82
(deferral to arbitration decision inappropriate in regard to charge of unlawful discharge since arbitrator did not consider whether E's discharge stemmed from demand for U representation, prior association with U, and use of contractual grievance procedure)

Wright-Bernet, Inc. JD-827-81
(contention that deferral was inappropriate because arbitrator had not considered GC's allegation herein that cause E gave for terminating Ee – his falsifying testimony at arbitration hearing – was pretext to rid E of U officer active in processing grievances rejected for lack of supporting evidence)

Champion International Corporation JD-283-81
(8(a)(3) complaint dismissed where arbitrator had considered and found no credible evidence to support claim of antiU motivation)

N.L.R.B. v. Designcraft Jewel Industries, Inc. 675 F.2d 493 (C.A. 2, Mar. 1982)
(E held required to furnish U E's various business records for determining whether E violated contract's prohibition against subcontracting of unit work when its Ees were laid off; Bd did not abuse its discretion in failing to defer to arbitrator's determination that E was required to furnish specified records, but later denied U's request for additional information, since Bd was not obligated to defer under criterion set forth in its Suburban Motor Freight decision inasmuch as no evidence was presented to or considered by arbitrator regarding ULP charge concerning E's failure to produce records)

Hammermill Paper Company v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 155 (C.A. 3, 1981)
(Bd defers not because arbitrator could have reached and decided ULP issues in grievance arbitration, but because in very process of deciding contractual issue, arbitrator may necessarily dispose of question of whether Ee's legitimate rights under Section 7 of Act were interfered with impermissibly)

Hammermill Paper Company v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 155 (C.A. 3, 1981)
(where ULP charge alleged enhanced discipline because of U stewardship, Bd did not defer to arbitrator's decision which held that though there was no cause for discharge of steward with clean work record for refusing to perform assigned work as other Ees involved with clean workrecord only suspended, nevertheless arbitrator refused to order backpay in addition to reinstatement since resulting suspension w/o pay not inappropriate since no finding of legitimate E motive; further, arbitrator, although presented with evidenceof possible unlawful motive for discipline, specially refused to reach issue of whether motive proscribed)

N.L.R.B. v. The Motor Convoy, Inc. 673 F.2d 734 (C.A. 4, Mar. 1982)
(arbitration met Spielberg criteria, notwithstanding contention arbitration panel did not consider whether E committee ULPs in connection with Ee's discharge but only issue of whether discharged for just cause under bargaining contract, since ULP issue was identical to contractual issue where bargaining agreement provided that Ees could not be discharged for U activities)

St. Luke's Memorial Hospital, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 623 F.2d 1173 (C.A. 7, 1980)
(Bd's decision not to defer issue of Ees' discharge to arbitration award, appropriate, where dubious process of selecting arbitrator had been employed, arbitrator failed to discuss thoroughly issue of whether E had condoned misconduct given as reasons for Ees' discharge, and arbitrator failed to consider issue of Ees' picket line activities, which E expressly included among reasons for discharge and which GC claimed were protected activities)

Ad Art, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 645 F.2d 669 (C.A. 9, Dec 9, 1980)
(Bd's refusal under Spielberg standard to defer to arbitrator's decision that discharge of grievant was for cause held not abuse of discretion, since issue of whether discharge was a ULP because it was for a protected activity, i.e., for filing grievances, was not decided where statutory protection under Sec. 7 was not analyzed or even mentioned)

3367-3360 Adequacy of decision

Thatcher Glass Manufacturing Co., A Division of Dart Industries, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 041
(no deferral to prearbitral agreement where grievances not adjudicated, alleged discriminatees not involved in final settlement, and no award which may be examined for conformity with Spielberg requirements)

The Rosicrucian Press, Ltd. 264 NLRB No. 170
(no deferral to decision of six member arbitration panel, three chosen by E and three by U, which included U steward who had refused to accept alleged discriminatee's grievance, and foreman who was found to have violated Act by his conduct, meeting lasted less than hour, no witnesses called, no minutes or record made, and alleged discriminatee not present; since deferral to such informal grievance procedure mechanism inappropriate inasmuch as there is no award to be examined for conformity with Spielberg requirements)

United Parcel Service, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 063
(no deferral to arbitration decision regarding discharge, absent evidence Charging Party's protected activity of filing grievances was fully considered, and where arbitration panel rendered summary decision precluding any review of its consideration of ULP aspect of discharge; further, fact no neutral member on arbitration panel foreclosed grievance from proceeding to final step of procedure)

Designcraft Jewel Industries, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 094
(as ULP issue of production of information was not and could not be dealt with by arbitrator as separate and distinct grievable dispute, there is no arbitration award to which Bd may defer)

All-Type Welding & Boiler Repair Co., Inc. JD-(NY)-70-82
(no deferral to arbitration award where arbitrator did not explicate facts or reasons for his conclusions, omitted reference to statutory issues, and could not have considered all the evidence on ULP issues because grievant did not have opportunity to present all his evidence; moreover grievant lacked adequate representation)

Anderson Sand & Gravel Company JD-655-80
(no deferral to decision of arbitration panel where characteristics of forum cannot be determined nor basis for award shown)

N.L.R.B. v. Designcraft Jewel Industries, Inc. 675 F.2d 493 (C.A. 2, Mar. 1982)
(E held required to furnish U E's various business records for determining whether E violated contract's prohibition against subcontracting of unit work when its Ees were laid off; Bd did not abuse its discretion in failing to defer to arbitrator's determination that E was required to furnish specified records, but later denied U's request for additional information, since Bd was not obligated to defer under criterion set forth in its Suburban Motor Freight decision inasmuch as no evidence was presented to or considered by arbitrator regarding ULP charge concerning E's failure to produce records)

Hammermill Paper Company v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 155 (C.A. 3, 1981)
(no deferral where arbitrator, although presented with evidence of possible unlawful motive of E for discipline, specifically refused to reach question of whether motive was statutorily proscribed)

3367-5800 Fair and regular nature of proceeding

3367-5801 Generally

Farr's, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 077
(appropriate where arbitration proceedings fair, regular, parties agreed to be bound (Ees involved in this proceeding are not same as those involved in arbitration proceeding but issue involves same contractual question, interests of Ees adequately represented) result not cleraly repugnant to Act. Dispute involved revocation of checkoff authorizations as provided for in contract and was essentially contract interpretation rather than interpretation of Act. Bd has held such issues are capable of resolution through arbitration; arbitrator's determination that contract provision be applied w/o reference to authorization cards is not wrong as matter of law)

Babcock & Wilcox Co. 249 NLRB No. 099
(Bd did not defer to arbitrator's award upholding discharge of U president allegedly for participating in wildcat strike, where award was repugnant to purposes and policies of Act; arbitrator did not explain what actions of president constituted adoption and open support of strike, and upheld discharge on president's failure or inability to stop strike, which was in direct repudiation of Bd principle that U officials may be disciplined on same basis as other Ees, but not for their failure to satisfy affirmative duty to stop strike)

Babcock & Wilcox Co. 249 NLRB No. 099
(Bd did not defer to arbitrator's award upholding discharge of U president allegedly for participating in wildcat strike, where award was repugnant to purposes and policies of Act where, among other things, award failed to meet Bd's standard that findings are consistent with the record evidence; moreover, Bd did not engage in any review of record made before arbitrator, de novo or otherwise, in order to determine that arbitrator's conclusions were not supported by evidentiary facts he found)

3367-5001—Cont.

Hammermill Paper Company v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 155 (C.A. 3, 1981)

(where disciplined Ee fails to even raise ULP issue in arbitral proceeding, subsequent Bd inquiry into that issue will not be limited by arbitral award favorable to E. But failure to raise statutory issue before arbitrator is not sine qua non for refusal to defer even assuming compliance with three Spielberg criteria)

3367-5025 Properly constituted tribunal

The Rosicrucian Press, Ltd. 264 NLRB No. 170

(no deferral to decision of six member arbitration panel, three chosen by E and three by U, which included U steward who had refused to accept alleged discriminatee's grievance, and foreman who was found to have violated Act by his conduct, meeting lasted less than hour, no witnesses called, no minutes or record made, and alleged discriminatee not present; since deferral to such informal grievance procedure mechanism inappropriate inasmuch as there is no award to be examined for conformity with Spielberg requirements)

Herman Brothers, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 121

(Spielberg principles are applicable in cases involving arbitration panels which operate w/o neutral arbitrators)

Herman Brothers, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 201 (C.A. 3, 1981)

(where arbitration panel consisted only of U and management representatives, both of whose interests were aligned against Ee because of his opposition to adopting bargaining agreement, Bd's refusal to defer proper as proceedings were not fair and regular)

3367-5050 Adequate procedures

The Rosicrucian Press, Ltd. 264 NLRB No. 170

(no deferral to decision of six member arbitration panel, three chosen by E and three by U, which included U steward who had refused to accept alleged discriminatee's grievance, and foreman who was found to have violated Act by his conduct, meeting lasted less than hour, no witnesses called, no minutes or record made, and alleged discriminatee not present; since deferral to such informal grievance procedure mechanism inappropriate inasmuch as there is no award to be examined for conformity with Spielberg requirements)

3367-5075 Result not repugnant to Act

Barrentine et al. v. Arkansas-Best Freight System, Inc., et al. 450 US 728 (U.S. SCt. Apr. 1981)

(because arbitrator is required to effectuate intent of parties rather than enforce statute, he may issue ruling inimical to public policies underlying FLSA, thus depriving Ee of protected statutory right)

Servair, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 014

(Bd refused to defer to arbitrator's decision which upheld discharge of Ees for violating no-strike clause as dischargees favored U attempting to oust incumbent U; thus, there existed potential conflict of interest with incumbent U representing Ees it knew were opposed to it; because of this potential conflict, question of whether strike was ULP strike was not placed before arbitrator, nor did arbitrator consider whether seriousness of discriminatory discharge that strikers were protesting would warrant conclusion that strikers were not prohibited from striking, notwithstanding no-strike clause. Therefore, Ees interests were not adequately represented)

Ciba-Geigy Pharmaceuticals Division 264 NLRB No. 134

(deferral inappropriate where arbitrator determined that implementation of new Attendance Control Procedure was not inconsistent with contract terms because definition of such concepts as recurring absences resides with E where contract is silent, as arbitrator did not follow or consider Bd precedent, his reliance on silence ignores requirement of bargaining over contract changes involving mandatory subjects of bargaining, and new system of penalties, including discharge was not in contract and may violate Sec. 8(a)(5))

Pet, Incorporated, Bakery Division 264 NLRB No. 166

(deferral appropriate since arbitrator's findings were consistent with Bd precedent and not repugnant to the Act; arbitrator found that E's new work rules were separate from the contract and did not conflict with it and that, since E had bargained in good faith to impasse, its implementation of work rules did not violate 8(a)(5); strike was therefore not ULP strike, and discharge of strikers for violating no-strike clause, not unlawful)

Dunham-Bush, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 175

(GC's cross mtn for summary judgment granted where E violated Act by unilaterally modifying its collective-bargaining agreement by instituting new rule prohibiting Ees from leaving plant during lunchbreak and discharging 3 Ees for disobeying rule; Bd refused to defer to arbitrators decision upholding E's actions because arbitrator's finding that modification is not violative is repugnant to Act)

Richmond Tank Car Company 264 NLRB No. 028

(arbitrator's decision found repugnant to Act because of determination that E was contractually entitled to discharge U steward either because he led walkout w/o securing prior U approval as required by contract – although arbitrator found walkout protected under Sec. 502– or because he broke plant rule against abusive language, since arbitrator failed to give Sec. 502 statutory protection of walkout precedence over steward's contractual violation and disregarded import of his Sec. 502 finding by failing to evaluate steward's language as part of res gestae of concerted protected walkout)

United States Steel Corporation 264 NLRB No. 010

(Bd will not defer to arbitrators' award which is repugnant to Act, and here where arbitrator upheld suspension of sympathy striker for violating contractual no-strike clause deferral is inappropriate because Bd and cts have held that waiver of right to engage in sympathy strikes will not be inferred from general no strike clause and any waiver must be clear and unmistakable and there is no such evidence of waiver; moreover, under doctrine of coterminous application Bd and cts have refused to find sympathy strike to be encompassed in broad no-strike pledges)

Inland Steel Company 264 NLRB No. 015

(no deferral to arbitrator's decision which held discharge of sympathy striker not violation of contract inasmuch as right to engage in sympathy strike had been waived by prior failure to contend broad no-strike clause did not encompass sympathy strikers. Notwithstanding arbitrator considered discharge possible violation of Act and his mode of analysis of cases not clearly repugnant to Act, evidence of bargaining history relied upon to substantiate waiver was insufficient as matter of law to warrant finding of waiver of statutory right since past failure to assert right does not foreclose assertion forever)

Consolidation Coal Company 263 NLRB No. 188

(deferral to arbitrator's award upholding disparate treatment of U officers who were singled out for discipline because they participated in unauthorized work stoppage along with other rank-and-file Ees based on their status as U officers held inappropriate as repugnant to Act; statutory right of Ees to support and assist U by becoming officers cannot be sacrificed to contractual right of Es to be free from unauthorized work stoppages; moreover, ULP issue herein was neither presented to nor considered by arbitrator)

Inland Steel Company 263 NLRB No. 147

(the test of repugnancy under Spielberg is not whether the Bd would have reached the same result as an arbitrator, but whether the arbitrator's award is palpably wrong as a matter of law)

Transport Service Co. 263 NLRB No. 128

(deferral inappropriate where tribunal failed to consider whether discriminatee was engaged in protected concerted activity when it upheld his discharge and also because decision upholding discharge is repugnant for purposes and policies of Act)

Boise Cascade Corporation, Specialty Paperboard Division 263 NLRB No. 067

(deferral appropriate and result of arbitrator's decision not repugnant to Act as contended where arbitrator considered statutory issue, holding contractual language provided E with unilateral right to abolish jobs)

New York University Medical Center 261 NLRB No. 118

(deferral inappropriate where arbitrator determined that E's issuance of warning letters to Ee, followed by his suspension and discharge, was for just cause because of language contained in leaflets Ee participated in distributing, accusing Ee of engaging in racist tactics; language in question was protected under Act, and arbitrator's decision to the contrary was clearly repugnant to purposes and policies of Act)

G & H Products, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 047

(where shop steward was discharged for unlawful activity of encouraging Ees to engage in insubordination and discharge went to arbitration wherein arbitrator concluded that steward was discharged for insubordination and not for exercising duties as U steward, deferral appropriate as result reached is not palpably wrong as matter of law and test is not whether Bd would have reached same result)

United Technologies Corporation 260 NLRB No. 196

(arbitrator's determination repugnant to Act where it was based on E's statement that distribution of material at certain point interfered with its operations since necessity for prohibiting distribution there was not shown by facts)

Stop and Shop Companies, Inc. Medi Mart Division 259 NLRB No. 124

(deferral to arbitrator's award inappropriate where ULP issue was neither explicitly or implicitly decided; furthermore, deferral not appropriate where award only granted partial backpay with a warning)

American Interstate Freight Lines 258 NLRB No. 131

(no deferral where arbitration panel awarded backpay for only 6 of 47 days Ee entitled to)

Designcraft Jewel Industries, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 094

(no deferral where arbitrator by ignoring issue of relevancy of information sought by U, failed to follow well established Bd and ct precedent in this area)

3367-5075—Cont.

Russ Togs, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 099
(no deferral where arbitration award let discharges stand although protected activity was a cause for the discharges and arbitrator believed it was a cause)

Herman Brothers, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 121
(no deferral to arbitration award regarding discharge alleged unlawful herein since award repugnant to Act where there was misrepresentation to panel that Ee had previously been discharged for same offense)

Ameco Texas Refining Company 251 NLRB No. 202
(deferral to arbitrator's decision that Ee was obligated to obey supervisor's order to step aside for private conversation between themselves w/o U steward even though supervisor did not answer Ee's question of whether conversation would involve discipline since award not repugnant to Act)

General Telephone Company of Michigan 251 NLRB No. 099
(no deferral to arbitrator's award suspending Ee for harrasing other Ees because they had not participated in strike, since arbitrator's decision was repugnant to Act; decision relied on subjective reactions of harassed Ees rather than effect harassment tended to produce)

American Bakeries Co., Inc. 249 NLRB No. 170
(C dismissed where ALJ failed to defer to arbitrator's pre-discharge award concerning discharge of U stewards for their participation in work stoppage; Spielberg doctrine applicable to instant case and arbitrator's decision was not repugnant to Act notwithstanding stewards singled out for severest punishment, since U stewards had clearly instigated or led unauthorized illegal work stoppage)

General Telephone Company of Ohio 248 NLRB No. 010
(arbitrator's theory that E was free to change its general instructions which it had agreed with U to apply to unit herein held repugnant to Act, since application was pursuant to mutual agreement establishing certain working conditions and supplementing contract)

General Warehouse Corp. 247 NLRB No. 142
(deferral to arbitrator's award regarding discriminatee's discharge assertedly because of his absentee record, not appropriate where, notwithstanding that arbitration hearing was fair and impartial, arbitrator made no finding with regard to evidence concerning discriminatee's protected activity, which evidence was presented at arbitration hearing; deferral to arbitrator's award would not effectuate Bd's protection of (Ee's) Section 7 rights)

Butera's Finer Foods JD-599-81
(no deferral to arbitrator's award where his action constituted denial of remedy for unlawful discharge)

Wright-Bernet, Inc. JD-827-81
(contention that arbitral decision–finding that Ee was justifiably terminated for falsifying testimony on behalf of discharged fellow Ees at their arbitration hearing–was result repugnant to Act, rejected where arbitrator considered protected nature of testifying in grievance proceeding, recognized import of prior Bd decisions involving false testimony, and concluded that Ee had testified with intent to deceive)

Hammermill Paper Company v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 155 (C.A. 3, 1981)
(where ULP charge alleged enhanced discipline because of U stewardship, Bd did not defer to arbitrator's decision which held that though there was no cause for discharge of steward with clean work record for refusing to perform assigned work as other Ees involved with clean workrecord only suspended, nevertheless arbitrator refused to order backpay in addition to reinstatement since resulting suspension w/o pay not inappropriate since no finding of legitimate E motive; further, arbitrator, although presented with evidenceof possible unlawful motive for discipline, specially refused to reach issue of whether motive proscribed)

N.L.R.B. v. Pincus Brothers, Inc. - Maxwell 620 F.2d 367 (C.A. 3, 1980)
(enforcement denied where Bd committed error in declining to defer to arbitration award as clearly repugnant to Act where arbitrator had determined that E had discharged Ee for just cause; Ee's conduct arguably unprotected and where arbitration award arguably characterizable as not inconsistent with Bd policy, Bd must defer to arbitrator's decision)

N.L.R.B. v. South Central Bell Telephone Company 688 F.2d 345 (C.A. 5, Oct. 1982)
(no abuse of discretion by Bd where it refused to defer to arbitration decision upholding harsher discipline of U stewards for participation in strike in violation of no strike agreement on basis decision repugnant to Act since its construction and application of statute regarding alleged violation reasonably defensible, had reasonable basis in law nor was there attempt to usurp policy decisions of Congress)

N.L.R.B. v. Max Factor and Company 640 F.2d 197 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(where Bd could reasonably conclude that E violated Act and arbitrator failed to consider ULP aspects of Ees suspension, refusal to defer proper where to do so would produce result repugnant to Act)

Douglas Aircraft Company, a component of McDonnell Douglass Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 609 F.2d 352 (C.A. 9, 1979)
(conditioning award of backpay on withdrawal of ULP charge repugnant to purposes and policies of Act)

Douglas Aircraft Company, a component of McDonnell Douglass Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 609 F.2d 352 (C.A. 9, 1979)
(Bd must defer to arbitrator's award notwithstanding he clarified reasons for award after charge filed with RD and stated 2 independent reasons for denying backpay, one of which repugnant to Act; furthermore if reasoning behind award is susceptible to 2 interpretations, one permissable and one impermissible under Act, permissible one should be accepted in order to give arbitration hospitable acceptance)

3367-5076 Consideration of unfair labor practices

Servair, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 014
(Bd refused to defer to arbitrator's decision which upheld discharge of Ees for violating no-strike clause as dischargees favored U attempting to oust incumbent U; thus, there existed potential conflict of interest with incumbent U representing Ees it knew were opposed to it; because of this potential conflict, question of whether strike was ULP strike was not placed before arbitrator, nor did arbitrator consider whether seriousness of discriminatory discharge that strikers were protesting would warrant conclusion that strikers were not prohibited from striking, notwithstanding no-strike clause. Therefore, Ees interests were not adequately represented)

American Freight System, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 018
(Bd refused to defer to grievance arbitration panel's decision, upholding Ee's discharge for refusing to drive truck which Ee reasonably believed to be unsafe, since statutory issue (ULP) was not resolved by arbitrator; contractual standard of justified, considered by arbitrators, may have conflicted with Ees' Section 7 rights and award did not resolve issue; legal standards employed to resolve contractual and statutory issues, even though factually congruous, are not identical)

Consolidation Coal Company 263 NLRB No. 188
(deferral to arbitrator's award upholding disparate treatment of U officers who were singled out for discipline because they participated in unauthorized work stoppage along with other rank-and-file Ees based on their status as U officers held inappropriate as repugnant to Act; statutory right of Ees to support and assist U by becoming officers cannot be sacrificed to contractual right of Es to be free from unauthorized work stoppages; moreover, ULP issue herein was neither presented to nor considered by arbitrator)

Inland Steel Company 263 NLRB No. 147
(deferral to arbitration award appropriate where arbitrator upheld discharge of U adherent for falsification of employment application in violation of E's long-established rule, notwithstanding fact that discovery of such falsification was result of investigation instigated by E when Ee came to E's attention by engaging in U and other protected activities; arbitrator considered statutory issues of anti-U animus and disparity of treatment in finding discharge warranted)

Transport Service Co. 263 NLRB No. 125
(deferral inappropriate where tribunal failed to consider whether discriminatee was engaged in protected concerted activity when it upheld his discharge and also because decision upholding discharge is repugnant for purposes and policies of Act)

United Parcel Service, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 063
(no deferral to arbitration decision regarding discharge, absent evidence Charging Party's protected activity of filing grievances was fully considered, and where arbitration panel rendered summary decision precluding any review of its consideration of ULP aspect of discharge; further, fact no neutral member on arbitration panel foreclosed grievance from proceeding to final step of procedure)

Joyce Brothers Storage and Van Company 263 NLRB No. 078
(deferral inappropriate where there was no basis upon which to determine whether ULP aspect of Ee's grievance played part in joint grievance committee's deliberations)

Babcock & Wilcox Company d/b/a B & W Construction Company 263 NLRB No. 051
(deferral inappropriate where arbitrator specifically disavowed any intent to resolve ULP issue; arbitrator's subsequent offhand observation that he found no evidence of discharge because of Ee's U activities was insufficient to indicate that arbitrator was resolving ULP issue)

Professional Porter & Window Cleaning Co., Division of Prapoco, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 034
(no deference where arbitrator considered only contractual issue of discharge for cause by Ee's letter, signed by 8 other Ees, to former E criticizing work of subcontractor and present E of Ee as Bd found that question of the nature of the protected concerted activity was not presented to or considered though arbitrator aware that charge filed. Grievant not required to raise any statutory issue and is not deprived of statutorily created forum for adjudication of ULP charges)

United Parcel Service, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 134
(no deferral where concerted activities of charging parties were not brought up at any grievance meetings except for brief mention but no discussion of these issues was held)

3367-5076—Cont.

Phil Smidt & Son, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 090
(deferral to arbitrator's decision concerning discharge of Ee held inappropriate where ULP issue was neither presented to arbitrator nor considered or decided by him)

Al Bryant, Inc., Harrisburg Drywall and Construction Corporation, and Al Bryant Associates, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 010
(deferral inappropriate where arbitrator expressly declined to resolve statutory issue of single E in construction industry but rather looked at contract to determine if coporation was subsidiary to other)

Stop and Shop Companies, Inc. Medi Mart Division 259 NLRB No. 124
(deferral to arbitrator's award inappropriate where ULP issue was neither explicitly or implicitly decided; furthermore, deferral not appropriate where award only granted partial backpay with a warning)

Consolidated Freightways Corporation of Delaware 257 NLRB No. 177
(no deferral to arbitration where panel did not consider question of unlawful motivation of Ee's discharge)

General Motors Corporation, Delco Moraine Division 257 NLRB No. 146
(U's right to original timestudy worksheets on which E based its production standards held not to have been determined by prior arbitration as contended by E, where E presented no evidence that U's statutory right to said documents sought here was presented to or considered by arbitrators, and argument that Bd should defer to arbitrators' decisions found w/o merit)

Ogden & Moffett Company 254 NLRB No. 181
(deferral to arbitration award not appropriate where ULP issue was not placed before and considered by arbitration committee)

Magnetics International, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 062
(deferral to arbitration decision finding that grievant's discharge was for just cause inappropriate, where arbitrator considered only contractual restraints on E and did not decide if E was motivated in whole or in part by grievant's activities protected by Act)

Aeronca, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 026
(Bd did not defer to arbitration award which rejected U grievance concerning Christmas turkey bonus because bonus was not covered, or protected, by contract, since arbitrator had not addressed himself to ULP issue and his award was contrary to ULP decisions under the Act)

B & L Motor Freight, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 014
(deferral inappropriate where arbitration panel did not consider whether Ee discharged for engaging in protected concerted activity)

Kohn's and Company, Division of Consolidated Food Co. 253 NLRB No. 004
(no deferral to arbitrator's award where he did not consider whether discharge was motivated by discrimination for filing too many grievances)

Hammermill Paper Company 252 NLRB No. 172
(no deferral to arbitrator's award where arbitrator, in dealing with discharge of U steward, found steward's treatment unrelated to U activity; also, under award, U steward would not receive back pay as Bd remedy provides)

The Motor Convoy, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 175
(no deferral where arbitration panel did not consider whether Ee was in any way discharged for U or concerted activity)

Herman Brothers, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 121
(no deferral to arbitration award regarding discharge alleged unlawful herein where panel did not consider or rule upon statutory issue of discrimination)

Herman Brothers, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 121
(no deferral to arbitration award which upheld discharge since deferral would be repugnant to policies and purposes of Act where principal reason for discharge was E's irritation over Ee's protected activities)

Albertsons, Inc. 252 NLRB NO. 081
(deferral inappropriate notwithstanding evidence concerning ULP presented to arbitrator where arbitrator did not discuss ULP in his decision)

Chemical Leaman Tank Lines, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 146
(deferral warranted where arbitration award contains complete factual findings on safety issue, and there is the necessary parallelism between contractual and statutory issues; thus panel implicitly decided ULP question)

Keppel, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 096
(deferral inappropriate where arbitrator was presented with evidence of discriminatee's protected activity but made no reference to such evidence or finding concerning activities as related to discharge)

Van Haaren Specialized Carriers, Inc., A Subsidiary of Dobson Heavy Haul, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 171
(no deferral to decision of Joint State Committee regarding alleged unlawful discharge where committee did not hear testimony of supervisor who discharged Ee and decision did not indicate that consideration was given to issue of whether Ee's protected activities were reason for discharge; arbitrator must consider these issues though generally not necessary to pass upon ULP directly)

Roadway Express, Inc. JD-(SF)-250-82
(no deferral of issue concerning discharge of U steward assertedly for insubordination, where joint grievance committee changed discharge to suspension but there was no evidence in the record that committee considered 8(a)(1) and 8(a)(3) allegations in C; assertion that such issues were considered by committee in reaching its decision is mere speculation in absence of evidence of committee's decision)

Michigan Gas Utilities Company JD-260-82
(deferral to arbitration decision of charge that alleged Ee was denied representation at interview with E where arbitrator explicitly considered whether E violated Ee's Weingarten rights but found Ee not entitled to representation, though he requested it, since interview involved only giving instructions and correction of work techniques)

Kasler Corporation, Continental Heller Corp., and Fruin-Colnon Corp., A Joint Venture JD-(SF)-118-82
(no deferral where arbitrator refused to take evidence on whether discharge, assertedly for cause, was motivated by Ee's raising jurisdictional dispute issue to U steward of another trade)

Nabisco, Inc. JD-(SF)-34-82
(no deference to arbitrator's award in C case where it was alleged that Ee suffered reprisal for having previously filed charge or gave testimony under Act, since resolution of such allegation must be left to Bd as mandated by Congress; grievant in arbitration sought to confine issues to those arising from collective bargaining agreement)

American Freight System, Inc. JD-481-81
(Bd will not defer to arbitration under Spielberg unless ULP issue before Bd was presented to and considered by arbitrator and here arbitration committee refused to permit alleged discriminatee to litigate the ULP issue before it; thus deferral inappropriate)

Ohio Ferro - Alloys Corporation JD-246-81
(where U steward discharged for beating up supervisor but U failed to advance any ULP theories in binding arbitration proceeding, Bd did not defer to arbitration ruling)

Pachle Packing Company JD-(NY)-33-80
(deferral appropriate where arbitrator was presented with ULP issue and with substantially all evidence that was presented later at ULP proceeding, and specifically dealt with U's argument of discriminatory motive for suspension and discharge and implicitly rejected it)

Pioneer Finishing Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 667 F.2d 199 (C.A. 1, Nov. 1981)
(where arbitrator's decision clearly indicates that he was solely concerned with whether Ee had violated contract by distributing leaflets, and not statutory issue of whether he was engaged in protected activity, refusal to defer proper)

N.L.R.B. v. The Motor Convoy, Inc. 673 F.2d 734 (C.A. 4, Mar. 1982)
(arbitration met Spielberg criteria, notwithstanding contention arbitration panel did not consider whether E committee ULPs in connection with Ee's discharge but only issue of whether discharged for just cause under bargaining contract, since ULP issue was identical to contrcactual issue where bargaining agreement provided that Ees could not be discharged for U activities)

Albertson's, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 661 F.2d 939(T) (C.A. 9, Sep. 1981)
(Bd erred in refusing to defer to arbitrator's decision that discharge was for cause, since arbitration proceedings were fair and regular, not repugnant to policies of Act, and, although arbitrator did not state, in so many words, that discharge did not violate 8(a)(1), he was presented with statutory issue and adequately considered it as basis for his decision, and not to defer to arbitration herein reduces practice of deferral to only those instances in which Bd is satisfied with arbitration results, which is not deferral but rather de novo review)

N.L.R.B. v. W. Carter Maxwell, dba Pioneer Concrete Co. 637 F.2d 698 (C.A. 9, 1981)
(deferral inappropriate where parties had agreed to arbitration proceeding but did not pursue it to conclusion as Bd may not defer unless arbitral tribunal has clearly decided ULP issue)

N.L.R.B. v. Max Factor and Company 640 F.2d 197 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(where Bd could reasonably conclude that E violated Act and arbitrator failed to consider ULP aspects of Ees suspension, refusal to defer proper where to do so would produce result repugnant to Act)

N.L.R.B. v. Gould, Inc., Switchgear Division 638 F.2d 159 (C.A. 10, 1980)
(no deferral to arbitration award which clearly ignores long line of precedent by assuming ipso facto that no-strike clause waived Ees' right to engage in sympathy strike)

3367-6000 All affected parties taking part in proceeding

3367-5090—Cont.

Thatcher Glass Manufacturing Co., A Division of Dart Industries, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 041

(no deferral to prearbitral agreement where grievances not adjudicated, alleged discriminatees not involved in final settlement, and no award which may be examined for conformity with Spielberg requirements)

The Rosicrucian Press, Ltd. 264 NLRB No. 170

(no deferral to decision of six member arbitration panel, three chosen by E and three by U, which included U steward who had refused to accept alleged discriminatee's grievance, and foreman who was found to have violated Act by his conduct, meeting lasted less than hour, no witnesses called, no minutes or record made, and alleged discriminatee not present; since deferral to such informal grievance procedure mechanism inappropriate inasmuch as there is no award to be examined for conformity with Spielberg requirements)

3367-6700 Stage to which contract enforcement proceeding has progressed

3367-6712 Procedure available under contract, but no recourse

United Parcel Service, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 063

(no deferral to arbitration decision regarding discharge, absent evidence Charging Party's protected activity of filing grievances was fully considered, and where arbitration panel rendered summary decision precluding any review of its consideration of ULP aspect of discharge; further, fact no neutral member on arbitration panel foreclosed grievance from proceeding to final step of procedure)

3367-6787 After in-plant contract procedure, additional step available

Laredo Packing Company 254 NLRB No. 001

(no deferral of grievance regarding reprimand of Ee where although contract provided for grievance procedure cluminating in binding arbitration, parties settled a earlier stage)

3367-6762 Arbitration or joint-committee proceedings

3367-6762-6700 After decision

Anderson Sand & Gravel Company JD-655-80

(no deferral to decision of arbitration panel where characteristics of forum cannot be determined nor basis for award shown)

3367-8300 Issues for which deference is sought

3367-8301 Generally

3367-8301-3300 Issues of contract meaning or application

Asbestos Workers Local Union No. 27, (Master Insulators Association, Inc.) 263 NLRB No. 118

(determination of whether E-association representatives on Joint Apprenticeship Committee (JAC) are Sec. 8(b)(1)(B) collective-bargaining representatives is inappropriate for deferral where contract provides duties of JAC members which is to flesh out bargaining agreement by formulating, adopting and administering apprenticeship program; therefore members necessarily act as bargaining representatives and this determination is one of statutory construction and is determination properly made by Bd)

United Parcel Service 261 NLRB No. 142

(deferral inappropriate where issue of Ee's insistence on what he considered his contractual right to take his twenty minute break on road, although presented to grievance committee, was not even mentioned in committee's decision)

Alameda County Association For The Mentally Retarded, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 086

(deferral of dispute over interpretation of wage provision contained in newly executed contract, inappropriate, where parties' efforts to resolve dispute were not conducted pursuant to contractual grievance-arbitration procedure but were attempt to negotiate amicable settlement w/o resorting to such procedure; in any event, E did not raise deferral to arbitration as affirmative defense to C, nor raise any such contention at hearing; and E has joined charging party and GC in excepting to ALJ's conclusion that salary dispute was suitable for deferral to arbitration)

Consolidation Coal Company 253 NLRB No. 104

(disputes over existence of agreement between parties rather than interpretation of such agreements are not subject to deferral by Bd)

Bay Shipbuilding Corporation 251 NLRB No. 114

(mtn for summary judgment granted and C dismissed where Bd deferred to arbitration award finding that E did not violate contract by changing insurance carrier since coverage which could only be changed by mutual consent under contract did not include carrier, and level of benefits remained the same; arbitrator stated he would not decide Sec. 8(a)(5) violation, but made factual findings, in course of resolving contractual issue, which resolved ULP issues)

ITT McDonnel and Miller, A Unit of Fluid Handling Division of International Telephone and Telegraph Corp. JD-337-82

(alleged unilateral modification of contract by prohibiting posting of grievances on E's bulletin boards, made available to U under contract, deferred, since allegation calls for interpretation of contract inasmuch as posted grievances were removed by E who decided U had no right under contract to post grievances, and such issue is one which may properly be deferred to arbitrator; while Bd has not approved deferral of 8(a)(1) and (a)(3), and 8(b)(1)(A) and 8(b)(2) allegations, it has approved deferral in cases involving 8(a)(5) and 8(b)(3) allegations with some exceptions)

ITT McDonnel and Miller, A Unit of Fluid Handling Division of International Telephone and Telegraph Corp. JD-337-82

(in deferring to arbitration alleged unlawful prohibition against posting of grievances on E's bulletin boards made available to U under contract, ALJ rejected GC's contention that right to post grievances exists under contract's provision for U posting, and that there was no evidence U expressly waived its right to post grievances; use of E's bulletin boards is not a statutory right, and if, as GC alleges, right herein is derived from contract, it is incongruous to place any significance on lack of evidence that one party waived a right whose very existence is at issue)

Laborers' International Union of North America, Local 89, AFL-CIO JD-(SF)-266-80

(deferral appropriate where charge alleged 8(a)(5) unilateral change because E granted Ees additional days off but refused to pay them)

Liquor Salesmen's Union Local 2 of The State of New York, Distillery, Rectifying, Wine & Allied Workers' International Union, AFL-CIO v. N.L.R.B. 664 F.2d 318 (C.A. 2, July 1981)

(ct denied enforcement of Bd's order based on finding that Es violated 8(a)(5), and instead concluded that Bd abused its discretion in declining to defer to arbitrator's award which held that Es did not violate contract with U when they unilaterally instituted new collection procedures for their salesmen since arbitrator found, as matter of contract interpretation and in light of examination of past practice, that Es' institution of new procedures did not impose change in rules)

N.L.R.B. v. Safeway Stores, Inc. 622F.2d 425 (C.A. 9, 1980)

(Bd not required to defer to arbitrator's decision on grievability of Ees' transfers where sole issue presented to Bd was whether E had committed ULP by refusing to produce requested documents to defend its decision to transfer Ees)

N.L.R.B. v. Northeast Oklahoma City Manufacturing Company 631 F.2d 669 (C.A. 10, Sept. 1980)

(Bd properly refused to defer case involving E's allegedly unlawful unilateral delays in paying Ees monthly bonuses over 6 month period, and allegedly unlawful discharge of Ees for walking out in protest over such delays; ct analyzed Act to show why arbitration would not necessarily dispose of 8(a)(3) allegation, and stated that question as to whether 8(a)(5) violation, if found, rises to level of serious ULP requires interpretation of Act, not contract, and such determination is w/i exclusive province of Bd, not an arbitrator)

3367-8301-6700 Issues of contract enforcement

American Freight System, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 018

(Bd refused to defer to grievance arbitration panel's decision, upholding Ee's discharge for refusing to drive truck which Ee reasonably believed to be unsafe, since statutory issue (ULP) was not resolved by arbitrator; contractual standard of justified, considered by arbitrators, may have conflicted with Ees' Section 7 rights and award did not resolve issue; legal standards employed to resolve contractual and statutory issues, even though factually congruous, are not identical)

Pioneer Finishing Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 667 F.2d 199 (C.A. 1, Nov. 1981)

(if consideration of contractual issues will determine statutory issues, Bd may find that arbitrator considered statutory issue through consideration of the contractual issue)

3367-8312 Unit or representative status issues

3367-8312-1400 Representative determination

Cannon Air Conditioning and Heating Co., Inc. and Yor-Tex, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 091

(deferral to arbitration, inappropriate, where issues presented involved questions of accretion, representation, and appropriate unit; such issues are matters for decision by Bd rather than arbitrators)

Angelus Block Co., Inc., Amari, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 127

(qcr, accretion and appropriate unit involve application of statutory policy rather than contract interpretation, hence they are inappropriate issues for deferral to grievance-arbitration procedure)

3367-8312-1400—Cont.

Ortiz Funeral Home Corp. (Local 1034, Teamsters, 250 NLRB No. 100
(no deferral where issue was one of representation and appropriate unit)

3367-8312-4200 Unit determination

Marine Optical, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 198
(Bd will not defer to arbitration issues concerning appropriateness of units for purposes of bargaining)

Cannon Air Conditioning and Heating Co., Inc. and Yor-Tex, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 091
(deferral to arbitration, inappropriate, where issues presented involved questions of accretion, representation, and appropriate unit; such issues are matters for decision by Bd rather than arbitrators)

Angelus Block Co., Inc., Amari, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 127
(qcr, accretion and appropriate unit involve application of statutory policy rather than contract interpretation, hence they are inappropriate issues for deferral to grievance-arbitration procedure)

Ortiz Funeral Home Corp. (Local 1034, Teamsters, 250 NLRB No. 100
(no deferral where issue was one of representation and appropriate unit)

N.L.R.B. v. Local 1034, Teamsters 651 F.2d 136 (C.A. 2, June 1981)
(enforcement granted where Bd's determination of composition of unit was matter which parties' contract's grievance arbitration is designed to resolve and parties have clearly and consistently expressed their willingness to be bound by arbitrator's decision; Bd was construing parties' contract which set up original unit; ct did not reject result (of Bd decision) which would have been same if Bd had deferred to arbitrator's determination)

3367-8312-5600 Unit clarification

Mercury Marine Division of Brunswick Corporation 259 NLRB No. 110
(Bd will not defer to arbitration where issue is appropriateness of bargaining unit)

Boston Cutting Die Company 258 NLRB No. 101
(in UC proceeding, RD properly refused to defer to arbitration decision which found working foreman supervisory, since questions of representation, accretion and appropriate unit involve application of statutory policy rather than contract interpretation, and issue of working foreman's alleged supervisory status clearly falls w/i parameter of nondeferral to arbitration)

Mercury Marine Division of Brunswick Corporation 254 NLRB No. 146
(Bd did not defer to reasoning of arbitrator who had found E had not violated contract by assigning operation of newly installed electronically programmed die-casting machines to personnel outside unit; instead, Bd accreted machine operators to existing unit pursuant to clarification ptn which is appropriate procedure for resolving ambiguities concerning unit placement of individuals who come w/i newly established classification of disputed unit placement; in any event, issues involving appropriateness of unit and criteria are particularly w/i Bd's expertise)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(contention that U C ptn was untimely because district ct had held that agreement between parties was still in effect, rejected, where ct had instead ruled that issue was whether arbitration was mandated pursuant to expired contract; fact that contract terms may continue during negotiations for new contract does not deprive Bd of jurisdiction in dispute herein, and contention that issue might possibly be decided by arbitration cannot be seriously considered because issue of statutory status of Ees involved herein is matter for Bd to determine)

3367-8312-5633 Certified unit

Magna Corporation 261 NLRB No. 009
(Bd did not defer to arbitrator's award in UC proceeding as it is Bd policy not to defer in representation, accretion, and appropriate unit issues since not question of contract interpretation but involves application of statutory policy, standards and criteria)

3367-8312-8400 Accretion

Cannon Air Conditioning and Heating Co., Inc. and Yor-Tex, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 091
(deferral to arbitration, inappropriate, where issues presented involved questions of accretion, representation, and appropriate unit; such issues are matters for decision by Bd rather than arbitrators)

Angelus Block Co., Inc., Amari, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 127
(qcr, accretion and appropriate unit involve application of statutory policy rather than contract interpretation, hence they are inappropriate issues for deferral to grievance-arbitration procedure)

Massachusetts Electric Company (Local Union No. 12007, Steelworkers) 248 NLRB No. 008
(where question was whether newly-acquired plant involving transfer of 121 Ees to merged location was accretion to existing unit covered by bargaining agreement, deferral to pending grievance proceeding involving interests of only 8 Ees held inappropriate, since Bd has consistently declined to leave to arbitrator responsibility for determining whether newly-acquired plant was accretion to unit covered by bargaining agreement, and Ees and issues involved in the grievance proceeding are not coextensive with those involved herein)

3367-8325 Jurisdictional disputes

United Association of Journeymen and Apprentices of The Plumbing and Pipefitting Industry, Local Union NO. 741 (The Ashton Company, Inc.)
(no voluntary method for adjustment of instant jurisdictional dispute, since all parties were not bound to Impartial Jurisdictional Disputes Board procedure)

National Association of Broadcast Employees and Technicians, AFL-CIO, CLC (Metromedia, Inc.) 255 NLRB No. 087
(filing grievance and initiating ct proceedings, assertedly in face of 10(k) determination, to compel E to arbitrate grievance over assignment of disputed work to Ees represented by another U, not unlawful, where 10(k) award was open to reasonable doubt because of its ambiguity and changed circumstances resulting from passage of time; U filed grievances under contract, executed almost 2 years after award, which gave grievances colorable basis and was not attempt to circumvent award; and evidence did not show U refused to comply with award or unlawfully coerced E)

National Association of Broadcast Employees and Technicians, AFL-CIO, CLC (Metromedia, Inc.) 255 NLRB No. 087
(where U allegedly violated 8(b)(4)(ii)(D) because it assertedly failed to abide by 10(k) award by filing grievances and initiating ct proceedings to compel E to arbitrate grievance over assignment of disputed work to Ees represented by another U, Bd dismissed complaint after evaluating evidence in light of Federal labor policy encouraging use of grievance-arbitration procedures, Bd's reluctance to interfere with parties' mechanism for private resolution, and its exercise of authority in manner that does not needlessly restrict party's access to judicial remedies)

National Association of Broadcast Employees and Technicians, AFL-CIO, CLC (Metromedia, Inc.) 255 NLRB No. 087
(in dismissing C alleging U violated 8(b)(4)(ii)(D) because it assertedly failed to abide by 10(k) award by filing grievances and initiating ct proceedings to compel E to arbitrate grievance over assignment of disputed work to Ees represented by another U, Bd held it was not suggesting that filing grievance and ct suit can never constitute ULP; however, U here acted properly as Ee representative in pursuing its legal remedies for arbuably meritorious claim under properly negotiated contract, and there was no evidence of threats, restraint, or coercion of E)

Automobile Workers (UAW) and Its Local 1519 v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 580 (C.A. 6, Apr. 1980)
(Bd's determination of work assignment dispute takes precedence over contrary award of arbitrator, regardless of which action was initiated first; both legislative history and case law on such issue support finding that Bd's 10(k) determination takes priority)

3367-8331 Section 8(a)(4) alleged violations

United States Steel Corporation 264 NLRB No. 010
(Bd will not defer to arbitration involving Ees' access to Bd's processes as protected by Section 8(a)(4))

Art Steel of California, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 140

Interlake, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 076
(Bd has not deferred complaints alleging violations of Section 8(a)(4) of Act to contractual grievance and arbitration procedures)

Nabisco, Inc. JD-(SF)-34-82
(no deference to arbitrator's award in C case where it was alleged that Ee suffered reprisal for having previously filed charge or gave testimony under Act, since resolution of such allegation must be left to Bd as mandated by Congress; grievant in arbitration sought to confine issues to those arising from collective bargaining agreement)

3367-8350 Discharge, layoffs or disciplinary action

Pet, Incorporated, Bakery Division 264 NLRB No. 166
(deferral appropriate since arbitrator's findings were consistent with Bd precedent and not repugnant to the Act; arbitrator found that E's new work rules were separate from the contract and did not conflict with it and that, since E had bargained in good faith to impasse, its implementation of work rules did not violate 8(a)(5); strike was therefore not ULP strike, and discharge of strikers for violating no-strike clause, not unlawful)

Richmond Tank Car Company 264 NLRB No. 025
(arbitrator's decision found repugnant to Act because of determination that E was contractually entitled to discharge U steward either because he led walkout w/o securing prior U approval as required by contract -- although arbitrator found walkout protected under Sec. 502-- or because he broke plant rule against abusive language, since arbitrator failed to give Sec. 502 statutory protection of walkout precedence over steward's contractual violation and disregarded import of his Sec. 502 finding by failing to evaluate steward's language as part of res gestae of concerted protected walkout)

3367-8350—Cont.

American Freight System, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 018
(Bd refused to defer to grievance arbitration panel's decision, upholding Ee's discharge for refusing to drive truck which Ee reasonably believed to be unsafe, since statutory issue (ULP) was not resolved by arbitrator; contractual standard of justified, considered by arbitrators, may have conflicted with Ees' Section 7 rights and award did not resolve issue; legal standards employed to resolve contractual and statutory issues, even though factually congruous, are not identical)

Inland Steel Company 264 NLRB No. 015
(no deferral to arbitrator's decision which held discharge of sympathy striker not violation of contract inasmuch as right to engage in sympathy strike had been waived by prior failure to contend broad no-strike clause did not encompass sympathy strikers. Notwithstanding arbitrator considered discharge possible violation of Act and his mode of analysis of cases not clearly repugnant to Act, evidence of bargaining history relied upon to substantiate waiver was insufficient as matter of law to warrant finding of waiver of statutory right since past failure to assert right does not foreclose assertion forever)

Professional Porter & Window Cleaning Co., Division of Propoco, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 034
(no deference where arbitrator considered only contractual issue of discharge for cause by Ee's letter, signed by 8 other Ees, to former E criticizing work of subcontractor and present E of Ee as Bd found that question of the nature of the protected concerted activity was not presented to or considered though arbitrator aware that charge filed. Grievant not required to raise any statutory issue and is not deprived of statutorily created forum for adjudication of ULP charges)

East Texas Motor Freight 262 NLRB No. 101
(where grievance-arbitration hearing is not before independent arbitrator, and grievant, identified dissident, is party to existing ULP litigation against grievant's bargaining representative, Bd's exercise of discretion, not to defer, is appropriate)

Wolff & Munier, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 046
(Bd found it inappropriate to defer to decision disposing of grievances filed over discharges that gave rise to 8(a)(3) and (1) allegations)

Blue Arrow, Inc., a Subsidiary of Kysor Industrial Corporation 261 NLRB No. 138
(deferral inappropriate where ULP issue here was not considered)

New York University Medical Center 261 NLRB No. 118
(deferral inappropriate where arbitrator determined that E's issuance of warning letters to Ee, followed by his suspension and discharge, was for just cause because of language contained in leaflets Ee participated in distributing, accusing Ee of engaging in racist tactics; language in question was protected under Act, and arbitrator's decision to the contrary was clearly repugnant to purposes and policies of Act)

United Technologies Corporation 260 NLRB No. 196
(deferral appropriate where Ee was found insubordinate and discharged for refusing to terminate pre-grievance discussion even after exhausting additional time given him by E and for throwing suspension notice down on floor and refusing to have it read to him before 2 supervisors w/o shop steward's presence)

Seattle Trucking Corporation 260 NLRB No. 079
(deferral inappropriate, where issue of Ees' discharge, contrary to E's contention that dispute involved terms or meaning of contract, was properly before Bd since alleged reason for discharges was Ees' participation in ULP strike and/or engaging in other concerted activity for their mutual aid or protection)

Laredo Packing Company 254 NLRB No. 001
(no deferral of grievance regarding reprimand of Ee where although contract provided for grievance procedure cluminating in binding arbitration, parties settled a earlier stage)

Pacemaker Yacht Co., A Division of Mission Marine, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 096
(deferral to arbitration award not warranted where interests of U are not in substantial harmony with those of Ee-grievants over operation of U's health and welfare fund)

United Parcel Service, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 145
(Bd will not defer to arbitration award unless evidence relevent to ULP case has been presented to arbitrator or panel)

United Parcel Service, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 145
(deferral inappropriate where U failed both to advocate Ee's claim that he was discharged for dissident activities and to present evidence on that claim)

Herman Brothers, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 121
(no deferral to arbitration award regarding discharge alleged unlawful herein since award repugnant to Act where there was misrepresentation to panel that Ee had previously been discharged for same offense)

Herman Brothers, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 121
(no deferral to arbitration award regarding discharge alleged unlawful herein where panel did not consider or rule upon statutory issue of discrimination)

Herman Brothers, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 121
(no deferral to arbitration award which upheld discharge since deferral would be repugnant to policies and purposes of Act where principal reason for discharge was E's irritation over Ee's protected activities)

Botany 500, A Division of Rapid-American Menswear, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 075
(deferral to arbitration award denying discharge grievance, appropriate, where there was no evidence establishing U's complicity in discharge, no conflict existed between dischargee and U, her protected concerted activity was fully aired at hearing, arbitrator rejected dischargee's assertion that discharge resulted from confrontation with E in connection with her running for U office, and instead found that real reason for discharge was poor workmanship)

Caterpillar Tractor Co. (Local 806, Allied Industrial Workers of America, AFL-CIO) 250 NLRB No. 009
(no deferral where issue were whether E violated its bargaining obligation by unilaterally implementing changes in transfer request system w/o bargaining with U, unlawfully discharged or suspended Ees for engaging in protected strike, and unlawfully terminated two of those Ees because of their official status in U)

American Bakeries Co., Inc. 249 NLRB No. 170
(C dismissed where ALJ failed to defer to arbitrator's pre-discharge award concerning discharge of U stewards for their participation in work stoppage; Spielberg doctrine applicable to instant case and arbitrator's decision was not repugnant to Act notwithstanding stewards singled out for severest punishment, since U stewards had clearly instigated or led unauthorized illegal work stoppage)

Babcock & Wilcox Co. 249 NLRB No. 099
(Bd did not defer to arbitrator's award upholding discharge of U president allegedly for participating in wildcat strike, where award was repugnant to purposes and policies of Act; arbitrator did not explain what actions of president constituted adoption and open support of strike, and upheld discharge on president's failure or inability to stop strike, which was in direct repudiation of Bd principle that U officials may be disciplined on same basis as other Ees, but not for their failure to satisfy affirmative duty to stop strike)

Babcock & Wilcox Co. 249 NLRB No. 099
(Bd did not defer to arbitrator's award upholding discharge of U president allegedly for participating in wildcat strike, where award was repugnant to purposes and policies of Act where, among other things, award failed to meet Bd's standard that findings are consistent with the record evidence; moreover, Bd did not engage in any review of record made before arbitrator; de novo or otherwise, in order to determine that arbitrator's conclusions were not supported by evidentiary facts he found)

Colonial Stores Incorporated 248 NLRB No. 142
(no deferral to arbitration award denying Ee's grievance and finding that Ee was discharged for cause, where cause found by arbitrator was in fact Ee's protected concerted activity of protesting E's admitted failure to implement grievance settlement and U's failure to enforce agreement)

General Warehouse Corp. 247 NLRB No. 142
(deferral to arbitrator's award regarding discriminatee's discharge assertedly because of his absentee record, not appropriate where, notwithstanding that arbitration hearing was fair and impartial, arbitrator made no finding with regard to evidence concerning discriminatee's protected activity, which evidence was presented at arbitration hearing; deferral to arbitrator's award would not effectuate Bd's protection of (Ee's) Section 7 rights)

Suburban Motor Freight, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 002
(Bd announced that it will no longer honor results of arbitration proceeding under Spielberg unless ULP issue was both presented to and considered by arbitrator, that Bd will give no deference to arbitration award which bears no indication that arbitration ruled on statutory issue of discrimination in determining propriety of E's disciplinary actions, and that party seeking Bd deferral to arbitration award has burden of proving that issue of discrimination was litigated before arbitrator; Electronic Reproduction, 213 NLRB 758, overruled)

Suburban Motor Freight, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 002
(upon overruling Electronic Reproduction, 213 NLRB 758, and returning to standard for deferral which existed prior to that decision, Bd held that ALJ properly refused to defer to results of arbitration proceedings wherein ULP issues ofdiscrimination involving reprimands and discharge were not litigated)

Roadway Express, Inc. JD-(SF)-280-83
(no deferral of issue concerning discharge of U steward assertedly for insubordination, where joint grievance committee changed discharge to suspension but there was no evidence in the record that committee considered 8(a)(1) and 8(a)(3) allegations in C; assertion that such issues were considered by committee in reaching its decision is mere speculation in absence of evidence of committee's decision)

3367-8350—Cont.

Michigan Gas Utilities Company JD-260-82
(deferral to arbitration decision of charge that alleged Ee was denied representation at interview with E where arbitrator explicitly considered whether E violated Ee's Weingarten rights but found Ee not entitled to representation, though he requested it, since interview involved only giving instructions and correction of work techniques)

Michigan Gas Utilities Company JD-260-82
(deferral to arbitration decision inappropriate in regard to charge of unlawful discharge since arbitrator did not consider whether E's discharge stemmed from demand for U representation, prior association with U, and use of contractual grievance procedure)

Rainbo Baking Company JD-(SF)-117-82
(no deferral to board of adjustment decision where such board failed to provide backpay remedy for unlawful termination)

Metro-Young Construction Company, A Division of Olson Construction Co., Inc. JD-(SF)-12-82
(filing action in U.S. District Court joining discharged Ee as respondent along with U and seeking order to compel arbitration of Ee's discharge as provided for in collective bargaining agreement, violative, as Ee has Sec. 7 right to seek vindication of his discharge with NLRB; E's lawsuit was coercive under Sec. 8(a)(1) and discriminatory under Sec. 8(a)(4) as Bd does not defer under Collyer charges filed under Sec. 8(a)(1) and (3))

Westinghouse Electric Corporation JD-(ATL)-80-81
(no portion of instant proceeding alleging violations of Sections 8(a)(5), (4), (3) and (1) appropriate for deferral; E's alleged refusal to provide information to U (8(a)(5) was intimately connected with 8(a)(3) allegations and as such were inappropriate for deferral; charges of Sec. 8(a)(4) and (3) related to discharge of Ee where Bd no longer defers)

Peschke Packing Company JD-(NY)-33-80
(deferral appropriate where arbitrator was presented with ULP issue and with substantially all evidence that was presented later at ULP proceeding, and specifically dealt with U's argument of discriminatory motive for suspension and discharge and implicitly rejected it)

Newspaper Printing Corporation JD-283-80
(no deferral to arbitration where issue is E's insistance on referring grievances to arbitration solely on question of arbitrability since E has evidenced course of conduct designed to rid itself of established bargaining relationship and attendant thereto and grievance involved, which is classic example of whether Ee voluntarily quit or was constructively discharged, is ripe for arbitration)

Hammermill Paper Company v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 155 (C.A. 3, 1981)
(where ULP charge alleged enhanced discipline because of U stewardship, Bd did not defer to arbitrator's decision which held that though there was no cause for discharge of steward with clean work record for refusing to perform assigned work as other Ees involved with clean workrecord only suspended, nevertheless arbitrator refused to order backpay in addition to reinstatement since resulting suspension w/o pay not inappropriate since no finding of legitimate E motive; further, arbitrator, although presented with evidenceof possible unlawful motive for discipline, specially refused to reach issue of whether motive proscribed)

N.L.R.B. v. Pincus Brothers, Inc. - Maxwell 620 F.2d 367 (C.A. 3, 1980)
(enforcement denied where Bd committed error in declining to defer to arbitration award as clearly repugnant to Act where arbitrator had determined that E had discharged Ee for just cause; Ee's conduct arguably unprotected and where arbitration award arguably characterizable as not inconsistent with Bd policy, Bd must defer to arbitrator's decision)

N.L.R.B. v. The Motor Convoy, Inc. 673 F.2d 734 (C.A. 4, Mar. 1982)
(Bd's refusal to defer to decision of arbitration panel which complied with Spielberg criteria in holding that Ee had been discharged for just cause and not for U activities; improper, since contrary to NLRB's policy to defer to arbitration decisions which meet Spielberg criteria; although NLRB is free to depart from this policy departure may not be sub silento to reach a different unexplained result in a single case. Until NLRB explicitly adopts a different policy through formal rulemaking or adjudication procedures, it must defer to private arbitration which complies with those guidelines in Spielberg)

N.L.R.B. v. South Central Bell Telephone Company 688 F.2d 345 (C.A. 5, Oct. 1982)
(no abuse of discretion by Bd where it refused to defer to arbitration decision upholding harsher discipline of U stewards for participation in strike in violation of no strike agreement on basis decision repugnant to Act since its construction and application of statute regarding alleged violation reasonably defensible, had reasonable basis in law nor was there attempt to usurp policy decisions of Congress)

Ad Art, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 645 F.2d 669 (C.A. 9, Dec 9, 1980)
(Bd's refusal under Spielberg standard to defer to arbitrator's decision that discharge of grievant was for cause held not abuse of discretion, since issue of whether discharge was a ULP because it was for a protected activity, i.e., for filing grievances, was not decided where statutory protection under Sec. 7 was not analyzed or even mentioned)

Arthur N. Stephenson v. N.L.R.B. 614 F.2d 1210 (C.A. 9) (1980)
(contention that Bd erred in concluding that discharge was for cause because decision was contrary to arbitration panel's conclusion, rejected; Bd was not entitled to rely upon finding of panel because it did not decide whether ULP had been committed and only determined that agreement had been breached, and Bd enforces arbitration award after concluding that ULP had been committed, but Bd found no ULP herein; proper means to enforce binding arbitration award is an action in district ct)

N.L.R.B. v. Northeast Oklahoma City Manufacturing Company 631 F.2d 669 (C.A. 10, Sept. 1980)
(Bd properly refused to defer case involving E's allegedly unlawful unilateral delays in paying Ees monthly bonuses over 6 month period, and allegedly unlawful discharge of Ees for walking out in protest over such delays; ct analyzed Act to show why arbitration would not necessarily dispose of 8(a)(3) allegation, and stated that question as to whether 8(a)(5) violation, if found, rises to level of serious ULP requires interpretation of Act, not contract, and such determination is w/i exclusive province of Bd, not an arbitrator)

3367-8363 Harassing or discriminatory action

Cecil Walker Machinery Co. 257 NLRB No. 081
(Bd rejected E's contentions that ALJ erred in not deferring to arbitrator's award since arbitrator's decision concerned only charging party's 3-day suspension which was not in issue before Bd)

3367-8362 Bargaining obligation

3367-8362-1000 Repudiation of agreement

Ford Brothers, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 011
(no deferral of issues concerning questions of repudiation of contract and repudiation of existing bargaining representative)

3367-8362-2000 Duty to furnish information

L.M. Settles Construction Co., Inc. 259 NLRB No. 087
(no deferral of E's refusal to allow complete audit of its financial records, including general ledger, to determine whether it is complying with fringe benefit fund obligations of contract since grievances relating to fringe benefits funds were expressly exempt from application of grievance and arbitration provisions of contract)

3367-8362-2001 Generally

Loral Electronic Systems, A Division of Loral Corporation 253 NLRB No. 116
(no deferral of E's alleged refusal to furnish information where bargaining agreement did not provide that such information need not be furnished)

Westinghouse Electric Corporation JD-(ATL)-80-81
(no portion of instant proceeding alleging violations of Sections 8(a)(5), (4), (3) and (1) appropriate for deferral; E's alleged refusal to provide information to U (8(a)(5) was intimately connected with 8(a)(3) allegations and as such were inappropriate for deferral; charges of Sec. 8(a)(4) and (3) related to discharge of Ee where Bd no longer defers)

3367-8362-2050 Time study

General Motors Corporation, Delco Moraine Division 257 NLRB No. 146
(U's right to original timestudy worksheets on which E based its production standards found not appropriate matter for deferral to arbitration, since Bd will not defer U's request for bargaining information to which it is statutorily entitled, and record herein indicates that parties have not chosen to arbitrate present dispute)

3367-8362-3000 Power to abolish jobs

Boise Cascade Corporation, Specialty Paperboard Division 263 NLRB No. 067
(deferral appropriate and result of arbitrator's decision not repugnant to Act as contended where arbitrator considered statutory issue; holding contractual language provided E with unilateral right to abolish jobs)

3367-8362-4000 Power to subcontract unit work

N.L.R.B. v. Designcraft Jewel Industries, Inc. 675 F.2d 493 (C.A. 2, Mar. 1982)
(Bd acted w/i its discretion in not deferring to arbitral award regarding E's failure to furnish U with requested information concerning E's subcontracting of unit work; while underlying grievance which U sought to have arbitrated was alleged violation of contract and issue of U's request for E's records was procedural matter, ULP charge herein was that E had violated U's statutory right to examine relevant records and brought instant matter w/i ambit of Bd's Montgomery Ward decision; and there was no showing that violation was considered by arbitrator)

3367-8362-6000 Power to transfer or terminate operations

best copy available

3367-8362-6000—Cont.

The Liberal Market, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 109

(deferral to arbitral award under Spielberg which found that E had no obligation to bargain about decision to close its warehouse and garage operation and that it had not bargained in bad faith by failing to reveal contemplated closure during negotiations, held appropriate since arbitrator's resolutions were not repugnant to Act, especially in light of First National Maintenance)

Bay Shipbuilding Corp. 263 NLRB No. 166

(E's contention issuance of C alleging it unlawfully refused to apply bargaining agreement to Ees transferred to newly established department was contrary to policies of Act since U's rights might have been pursued through other proceedings including unit clarification and/or arbitration, rejected; E, having chosen to resolve matter itself, rather than by filing UC ptn, has violated Act if it took erroneous view as to unit and UC proceeding would not provide remedy for that violation, E has not requested deferral to arbitration, and U is not precluded from exercising its rights under Act by not proceeding to arbitration)

3367-8362-8000 Power to make unilateral changes in terms and conditions of employment

Ciba-Geigy Pharmaceuticals Division 264 NLRB No. 134

(deferral inappropriate where arbitrator determined that implementation of new Attendance Control Procedure was not inconsistent with contract terms because definition of such concepts as recurring absences resides with E where contract is silent, as arbitrator did not follow or consider Bd precedent, his reliance on silence ignores requirement of bargaining over contract changes involving mandatory subjects of bargaining, and new system of penalties, including discharge was not in contract and may violate Sec. 8(a)(5))

Navajo Freight Lines, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 166

(deferral of 8(a)(5) proceedings involving unilateral change in vacation pay to arbitrator's award holding that agreements between E and U were valid, not appropriate, where arbitrator specifically refused to permit U to litigate any ULP issues and stated that award was w/o prejudice to parties proceeding in any other forum to litigate such issues; contention that Bd's Suburban Motor Freight case is limited to arbitrator's awards dealing with discharge and discipline cases, rejected)

3367-8362-8006 Overtime pay

Westinghouse Electric Corporation JD-(ATL)-88-81

(no portion of instant proceeding alleging violations of Sections 8(a)(5), (4), (3) and (1) appropriate for deferral; E's alleged refusal to provide information to U (8(a)(5) was intimately connected with 8(a)(3) allegations and as such were inappropriate for deferral; charges of Sec. 8(a)(4) and (3) related to discharge of Ee where Bd no longer defers)

3367-8362-8012 Benefits

The Standard Oil Company (Ohio) 254 NLRB NO. 012

(dismissal of C recommended where Respondent's mtn to defer was meritorious because contract provided for binding arbitration and whether or not E could provide medical examinations w/o bargaining with U beforehand was matter of contract interpretation)

3367-8362-8021 Rules

Pet, Incorporated, Bakery Division 264 NLRB No. 166

(deferral appropriate since arbitrator's findings were consistent with Bd precedent and not repugnant to the Act; arbitrator found that E's new work rules were separate from the contract and did not conflict with it and that, since E had bargained in good faith to impasse, its implementation of work rules did not violate 8(a)(5); strike was therefore not ULP strike, and discharge of strikers for violating no-strike clause, not unlawful)

3367-8362-8039 Production quota

N.L.R.B. v. Safeway Stores, Inc. 622F.2d 425 (C.A. 9, 1980)

(Bd not required to defer to arbitrator's decision on grievability of Ees' transfers where sole issue presented to Bd was whether E had committed ULP by refusing to produce requested documents to defend its decision to transfer Ees)

3367-8362-8056 Vacation pay

Vesuvius Crucible Company 252 NLRB No. 179

(E's mtn to defer contract interpretation of accrued vacation pay for economic strikers denied as E's denial of pay is interference with basic statutory rights and warrants Bd's determination)

3367-8362-8060 Safety

Irvin H. Whitehouse & Sons Co. v. N.L.R.B. 659 F.2d 830 (C.A. 7, Sept. 1981)

(binding arbitration provision covered disputes over safety where contract contained clause which provides that parties will cooperate in prevention of accidents and in protection and promotion of safety and health of Ees, though this clause, unlike others, did not specify fines or prescribe corrective action for their violations, nor was safety clause explicitly linked to arbitration procedure)

Irvin H. Whitehouse & Sons Co. v. N.L.R.B. 659 F.2d 830 (C.A. 7, Sept. 1981)

(presumption of arbitrability applies to safety disputes in same manner as it does to other areas of potential management-labor dispute)

3367-8362-8075 Change in job classifications

Maine Yankee Atomic Power Company 258 NLRB No. 112

(deferral inappropriate as to issue regarding E's unilateral creation of new position outside unit since E neither substantively nor adjectively raised proper defense for deferral under Collyer, where E at no time requested deferral of basic underlying issue whether disputed position was in or out of unit; and E did not raise issue of arbitration in its pleadings or at hearing but, instead, first raised it in its brief to ALJ; hence, since issue was not litigated at hearing, record evidence before Bd was insufficient for finding that deferral was warranted)

Caterpillar Tractor Co. (Local 806, Allied Industrial Workers of America, AFL-CIO) 250 NLRB No. 089

(no deferral where issue were whether E violated its bargaining obligation by unilaterally implementing changes in transfer request system w/o bargaining with U, unlawfully discharged or suspended Ees for engaging in protected strike, and unlawfully terminated two of those Ees because of their official status in U)

3367-8362-8077 Change in movement of personnel

Caterpillar Tractor Co. v. N.L.R.B. 638 F.2d 140 (C.A. 7, Sept. 1981)

(Bd did not abuse its discretion by refusing to defer to grievance-arbitration procedure alleged unlawful discontinuance of Ees' right to request transfers involving down-grading, since Bd's determination that determinative issue required interpretation of Act rather mere contract interpretation, not unreasonable)

3367-8362-8083 Delays in payment of monthly bonus

N.L.R.B. v. Northeast Oklahoma City Manufacturing Company 631 F.2d 609 (C.A. 10, Sept. 1980)

(Bd properly refused to defer case involving E's allegedly unlawful unilateral delays in paying Ees monthly bonuses over 6 month period, and allegedly unlawful discharge of Ees for walking out in protest over such delays; ct analyzed Act to show why arbitration would not necessarily dispose of 8(a)(3) allegation, and stated that question as to whether 8(a)(5) violation, if found, rises to level of serious ULP requires interpretation of Act, not contract, and such determination is w/i exclusive province of Bd, not an arbitrator)

3367-8362-8085 Discontinuance of holiday bonus

Aeronca, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 026

(Bd did not defer to arbitration award which rejected U grievance concerning Christmas turkey bonus because bonus was not covered, or protected, by contract, since arbitrator had not addressed himself to ULP issue and his award was contrary to ULP decisions under the Act)

3367-8366 Union refusal to bargain

Local 1115, Joint Board, Nursing Home & Hospital Employees—Florida Division (B & K Investments, Inc., d/b/a Towne House convalescent Center) 248 NLRB No. 167

(U's mtn to defer 8(b)(3) C proceeding to arbitration award, denied, where arbitrator dealt solely with issue presented to him by ct's order, and did not consider whether award, and U's demand upon E to comply with award, violated 8(b)(3))

3367-8367 Contractual obligations

3367-8367-0100 Generally

Metro-Young Construction Company, A Division of Olson Construction Co., Inc. JD-(SF)-12-82

(filing action in U.S. District Court joining discharged Ee as respondent along with U and seeking order to compel arbitration of Ee's discharge as provided for in collective bargaining agreement, violative, as Ee has Sec. 7 right to seek vindication of his discharge with NLRB; E's lawsuit was coercive under Sec. 8(a)(1) and discriminatory under Sec. 8(a)(4) as Bd does not defer under Collyer charges filed under Sec. 8(a)(1) and (3))

3367-8367-1000 No-strike clause

United States Steel Corporation 264 NLRB No. 010

(Bd will not defer to arbitrators' award which is repugnant to Act, and here where arbitrator upheld suspension of sympathy striker for violating contractual no-strike clause deferral is inappropriate because Bd and cts have held that waiver of right to engage in sympathy strikes will not be inferred from general no strike clause and any waiver must be clear and unmistakable and there is no such evidence of waiver; moreover, under doctrine of coterminous application Bd and cts have refused to find sympathy strike to be encompassed in broad no-strike pledges)

3367-8367-1000—Cont.

Inland Steel Company 264 NLRB No. 015

(no deferral to arbitrator's decision which held discharge of sympathy striker not violation of contract inasmuch as right to engage in sympathy strike had been waived by prior failure to contend broad no-strike clause did not encompass sympathy strikers. Notwithstanding arbitrator considered discharge possible violation of Act and his mode of analysis of cases not clearly repugnant to Act, evidence of bargaining history relied upon to substantiate waiver was insufficient as matter of law to warrant finding of waiver of statutory right since past failure to assert right does not foreclose assertion forever)

Irvin H. Whitehouse & Sons Co. v. N.L.R.B. 659 F.2d 830 (C.A. 7, Sept. 1981)

(where safety issue is one that must be submitted to binding arbitration, obligation not to strike over matter is considered to be coterminus and any stoppage violates implied no-strike clause unless safety hazzard suddenly arose and presented immediate threat; i.e., Washington Aluminum situation)

Irvin H. Whitehouse & Sons Co. v. N.L.R.B. 659 F.2d 830 (C.A. 7, Sept. 1981)

(2 requisites required for finding no-strike obligation; (1) contract imposes upon both parties duties of submitting to final and binding arbitration; and (2) matter is one which it has been agreed to will be covered by compulsory terminal arbitration)

3367-8367-2000 Discipline under 'just cause' provision

American Freight System, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 018

(Bd refused to defer to grievance arbitration panel's decision, upholding Ee's discharge for refusing to drive truck which Ee reasonably believed to be unsafe, since statutory issue (ULP) was not resolved by arbitrator; contractual standard of justified, considered by arbitrators, may have conflicted with Ees' Section 7 rights and award did not resolve issue; legal standards employed to resolve contractual and statutory issues, even though factually congruous, are not identical)

3367-8367-3000 Discharge grievance under 'discriminatory and arbitrary treatment' provision

Nabisco, Inc. JD-(SF)-34-82

(no deference to arbitrator's award in C case where it was alleged that Ee suffered reprisal for having previously filed charge or gave testimony under Act, since resolution of such allegation must be left to Bd as mandated by Congress; grievant in arbitration sought to confine issues to those arising from collective bargaining agreement)

3367-8367-8500 Referral provision

Sachs Electric Company 248 NLRB No. 092

(in case involving U's discriminatory refusal to acord qualified members of other Us placement on referral list, Bd declined to defer to arbitration award of appeals committee since issue framed by committee was not factually parallel to statutory issue herein)

3367-8367-9900 Other

ITT McDonnel and Miller, A Unit of Fluid Handling Division of International Telephone and Telegraph Corp. JD-337-82

(alleged unilateral modification of contract by prohibiting posting of grievances on E's bulletin boards, made available to U under contract, deferred, since allegation calls for interpretation of contract inasmuch as posted grievances were removed by E who decided U had no right under contract to post grievances, and such issue is one which may properly be deferred to arbitrator; while Bd has not approved deferral of 8(a)(1) and (a)(3), and 8(b)(1)(A) and 8(b)(2) allegations, it has approved deferral in cases involving 8(a)(5) and 8(b)(3) allegations with some exceptions)

3367-8383 Union coercion of employer in selection of representatives

Asbestos Workers Local Union No. 27, (Master Insulators Association, Inc.) 263 NLRB No. 118

(determination of whether E-association representatives on Joint Apprenticeship Committee (JAC) are Sec. 8(b)(1)(B) collective-bargaining representatives is inappropriate for deferral where contract provides duties of JAC members which is to flesh out bargaining agreement by formulating, adopting and administering apprenticeship program; therefore members necessarily act as bargaining representatives and this determination is one of statutory construction and is determination properly made by Bd)

3367-8385 Status as 'employee' or 'supervisor'

Boston Cutting Die Company 258 NLRB No. 101

(in UC proceeding, RD properly refused to defer to arbitration decision which found working foreman supervisory, since questions of representation, accretion and appropriate unit involve application of statutory policy rather than contract interpretation, and issue of working foreman's alleged supervisory status clearly falls w/i parameter of nondeferral to arbitration)

3367-8387 Other interference with Section 7 rights

Caterpillar Tractor Co. (Local 806, Allied Industrial Workers of America, AFL-CIO) 250 NLRB No. [illegible]

(no deferral where issue were whether E violated its bargaining obligation by unilaterally implementing changes in transfer request system w/o bargaining with U, unlawfully discharged or suspended Ees for engaging in protected strike, and unlawfully terminated two of those Ees because of their official status in U)

ITT McDonnel and Miller, A Unit of Fluid Handling Division of International Telephone and Telegraph Corp. JD-337-82

(alleged independent violation of 8(a)(1) by E's prohibition against posting of grievances on E's bulletin boards, made available to U under contract, deferred to arbitration; while under certain circumstances, E commits ULPs if he removes notices from bulletin board where notices meet his rule or standards, here there was no way to measure such standards except by reference to contract; prior nonposting of grievances suggests E's rule did not permit it; there was no evidence of hostility to U or filing of grievances; and deferral will not undermine any statutory interests)

3367-8387-2500 Use of bulletin board

N.L.R.B. v. Container Corporation of America 640 F.2d 1213 (C.A. 6, May 1981)

(deferral inappropriate where issue was not construction of ambiguous contract provision, but was Ees' Sec. 7 right to post, on plant bulletin board, notices related to official U business)

3367-8387-5000 Union discipline of employee member

Musicians Union Local 47, etc. (American Broadcasting Company, etc.) 255 NLRB No. 065

(issue of deferral to arbitration held not presented or applicable where U allegedly unlawfully withheld member's paycheck, transmitted by E through U, for failing to pay dues; Collier doctrine applies to disputes arising under bargaining agreements between Es and Us, and there was no showing that member's dispute with U could have been resolved under agreement; Act provides that Bd's power to prevent ULPs shall not be affected by any other means of adjustment or prevention; and Bd has not adopted policy of deferral for exhaustion of internal disputes resolution procedures between Us and their members)

Hospital and Institutional Workers Union, Local 250, SEIU, AFL-CIO (Associated Hospitals of The East Bay) 254 NLRB No. 103

(deferral to arbitration inappropriate in cases alleging violations of Section 8(b)(1)(A))

5000 CESSION OF JURISDICTION TO STATE OR TERRITORIAL AGENCIES

6700 EFFECT OF OTHER STATUTES

6712 BANKRUPTCY ACT

Adams Delivery Service, Inc. JD-(SF)-275-81

(bankrupt E's application for removal of backpay proceeding to bankruptcy court found ineffective due to exemption of Bd proceedings from removal statute as action of governmental unit in exercise of its regulatory powers; in absence of precedents under removal statute, ALJ based his holding on BD and court decisions involving statutory provisions which contained essentially identical language, namely automatic stay provisions of bankruptcy code)

6737 RAILWAY LABOR ACT

DHL Corporation 260 NLRB No. 012

(ptn dismissed and jurisdiction not asserted over corporation engaged in transportation by air of mail and other time-sensitive commodities where Bd was advised by the National Mediation Board that it is of the opinion that corporation is carrier w/i scope of Title II of the Railway Labor Act)

Local 295, Teamsters (Emery Air Freight Corporation) 258 NLRB No. 135

(U's contention that dispute between 2 Us is so related and controlled by common carrier w/i meaning of RLA that RLA jurisdiction will be asserted, rejected as relationship herein is that of shipper by air pursuant to contract as E does not, though it owns, operate aircraft for forwarding freight, rather it either uses charter airlines or utilizes regularly scheduled commercial airlines to transport freight and employs no pilots)

Emery Air Freight Corporation JD-(NY)-36-81

(U's intention that RLA has jurisdiction rejected, as E is air freight forwarder, did not operate aircraft and separate carrier retains full control over flight operations, loading, unloading, fueling and maintenance; fact that E owns aircraft maintained by another carrier at another airport or that e recently held but never used CAB certificate authorizing it to engage in all air cargo services was of no significance)

6750 FAIR LABOR STANDARDS ACT

6750—Cont.

Barrentine et al. v. Arkansas-Best Freight System, Inc., et al. 450 US 728 (U.S. SCt. Apr. 1981)
(not all disputes between Ee and his E are suited for binding resolution in accordance with procedures established by collective bargaining; while cts should defer to arbital decision where Ee's claim is based on rights arising out of collective-bargaining agreement, different considerations apply where Ee's claim is based on rights arising out of statute (FLSA) designed to provide minimum substantive guarantees to individual workers)

Margate Bridge Company 247 NLRB No. 205
(Bd not bound by Labor's Wage and Hour Division classification of private toll bridge as non-retail establishment because Fair Labor Standards Act concerned with Es engaged in commerce while Bd's jurisdiction extends to Es affecting commerce)

6767 OSHA

Campbell Industries JD-(SF)-106-81
(deferral principles of neither Spielberg nor Adolph Coors applicable to proceeding initiated by Ee in his individual capacity and not through auspices of collective-bargaining agreement and there was no basis in record for concluding that in pursuing his rights in Federal OSHA matter and in State suit, Ee was designating those tribunals as final arbiters of question of whether E's failure to hire former Ee was discriminatory)

6777 TITLE VII OF THE CIVIL RIGHTS ACT

Frank Briscoe Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 637 F.2d 946 (C.A. 3, 1981)
(where Bd finds that Ees engaged in protected concerted activity and E's refusal to reinstate is violative, fact that Ees may also have remedy under Title VII does not deprive Bd of jurisdiction)

6787 FREEDOM OF INFORMATION ACT

Chrysler Corporation v. Harold Brown, Secretary of Defense, et al. 441 U.S. 281 (S Ct US, 1979)
(FOIA purely disclosure statute and petitioner not afforded private right of action to enjoin agency disclosures of material submitted by petitioner)

8300 LIMITATIONS ON DISCRETION IN EXERCISE OF JURISDICTION

8312-3500 Unit status

Dura-Vent Corporation 257 NLRB No. 083
(mtn to defer case to arbitration process contained in contract denied, where issues in case go to scope of E'srecognition of U, statutory rights of Ees involved, and legal rights of E to undertake the actions it did; these matters are w/i special competence of Bd rather than arbitrator)

260 STANDARDS FOR ASSERTION OF JURISDICTION

0100 GENERALLY

The German School Society, Washington, D.C., d/b/a The German School of Washington, D.C. 260 NLRB No. 169

(fact that E, who operates private, nonprofit school, has relationship to foreign government which may place E under handicaps or even substantial hardship in bargaining held no reason for Bd to refuse jurisdiction)

0150 NOT-FOR-PROFIT EMPLOYERS SUBJECT TO STANDARDS ON SAME BASIS AS FOR-PROFIT EMPLOYERS

Institutional Food Services 258 NLRB No. 086

(jurisdiction asserted over nonprofit corporation engaged in business of distribution and preparation of food primarily for cafeterias at secondary schools operated by Roman Catholic Archdiocese and which corporation annually purchases goods valued in excess of $50,000, originating indirectly from outside commonwealth; unlike Catholic Bishop., 440 U.S. 490 (1979) Ees' work was not related to mission of Archdiocese to propogate its religious beliefs)

N.L.R.B. v. Southeast Association For Retarded Citizens, Inc., d/b/a Southeast Work Training Center 666 F.2d 428 (C.A. 9, Jan. 1982)

(ct found no obvious unjust discrimination by Bd in exercising jurisdiction over nonprofit organization engaged in training handicapped people which would constitute sufficiently extraordinary circumstances for ct to intervene)

3300 COMPUTATION OF MONETARY VOLUME OF GOODS AND SERVICES

3320 MEASURE OF COMMERCE

3320-0100 Generally

Radio Free Europe/Radio Liberty, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 063

(notwithstanding record did not establish any direct or indirect inflow of goods or services for non profit private corporation, receipt of 90 million dollar in year from U.S. Government demonstrates that E's operations have substantial impact on commerce, and establishes required statutory jurisdiction of this Bd)

David D. Sutherland d/b/a Musco Auto Painting and Body Work 249 NLRB No. 184

(jurisdiction asserted over E engaged in business of performing body work and painting of automobiles notwithstanding E failed to meet Bd's income requirements for retail enterprises, since non-retail revenue of $51,874 derived from Es who themselves meet Bd's standards for Es affecting commerce; goods valued at $27,856 purchased by E directly from sources located outside E's state and goods valued at $27,710 purchased from suppliers located in E's state who themselves purchased goods directly from outside state, when added together, establish Bd's jurisdiction)

Margate Bridge Company 247 NLRB No. 205

(when legal jurisdiction has been established and some relevant standard for assertion of jurisdiction has been met, immaterial that jurisdiction might be asserted under one of several different standards)

K.T.V.B., Inc. JD-(SF)-53-81

(discretionary gross volume standard for TV station is 100,000 dollars and statutory standard is usually satisfied by showing that broadcaster advertises national brand products or is member of interstate news service, not be interstate purchase of goods)

N.L.R.B. v. First Termite Control Co., Inc. 646 F.2d 424 (C.A. 9, May 1981)

(enforcement denied where Bd failed to establish statutory jurisdictional requirement of interstate commerce (interstate business more than de minimis by admissible evidence)

3320-0137 Total business of employer

W. Q. T., Inc. 284 NLRB No. 098

(jurisdiction not asserted over new E (not successor) where it had sales of $193,000 of which 2200 was direct out-of-state and all purchases made w/i state)

Greenlawn Funeral Home, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 141

(in determining whether funeral home's gross revenues meet Bd's jurisdictional standards for retail enterprises revenues from pre-need sales deducted from its gross revenues since state law requires all pre-need income be held in trust until all contracted for services are provided or customer voids contract and requests refund)

3320-5000 Outflow

3320-5001 Generally

N.L.R.B. v. Southeast Association For Retarded Citizens, Inc., d/b/a Southeast Work Training Center 666 F.2d 428 (C.A. 9, Jan. 1982)

(contention that Bd can only assert statutory jurisdiction when the enterprise directly sells or purchases goods out of state, rejected)

3320-5067 Indirect

Castle Instant Maintenance/Maid, Inc. 286 NLRB No. 029

(jurisdiction asserted over nonretail enterprise providing janitorial maintenance services in excess of $50,000 to U.S. Maring Corps, since E's operations satisfied Bd's indirect outflow standards for nonretail enterprises)

3320-5067-2500 Goods and/or services

Southern Alleghenies Disposal Services, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 135

(jurisdiction asserted over E that entered contract with city to provide city with garbage service, notwithstanding city is exempt from Bd's jurisdiction under Sec. 2(2) of Act where city's operations were of magnitude that Bd would assert jurisdiction if they were nonexempt, and E's sales of services to city are in excess of $50,000, and meet the indirect outflow standard)

3320-7500 Inflow

3320-7501 Generally

N.L.R.B. v. Southeast Association For Retarded Citizens, Inc., d/b/a Southeast Work Training Center 666 F.2d 428 (C.A. 9, Jan. 1982)

(contention that Bd can only assert statutory jurisdiction when the enterprise directly sells or purchases goods out of state, rejected)

3320-7501-4800 Source of inflow

Mayar Marganroth and Jack Ferris, Co-Partners d/b/a The Leland; et al. 249 NLRB No. 159

(supplies and equipment from entity previously found by Bd to be engaged in interstate commerce)

3320-7501-5000 Non-recurring capital expenditures

N.L.R.B. v. East Side Sanitation Service, Inc. 633 F.2d 217(T) (C.A. 6, 1980)

(Bd did not abuse discretion in including non-recurring capital expediture for trucks when it applied non-retail standard of annual direct or indirect inflow or outflow of at least $50,000)

3320-7501-6700 Volume of inflow is immaterial

3320-7501-6750 'De minimis' affords a limiting test

N.L.R.B. v. First Termite Control Co., Inc. 646 F.2d 424 (C.A. 9, May 1981)

(enforcement denied where Bd failed to establish statutory jurisdictional requirement of interstate commerce (interstate business more than de minimis by admissible evidence)

3320-7833 Direct

Clark & Hinojosa, Attorneys at Law, A Professional Corporation 247 NLRB No. 099

(legal statutory jurisdiction asserted over professional corporation providing legal services where firm's direct out-of-state purchases together with its indirect purchases in commerce would reach $7,500. minimally when projected for 12 month period)

3320-7533—Cont.

3320-7567 Indirect

Clark & Hinajosa, Attorneys at Law, A Professional Corporation 247 NLRB No. 089
(legal statutory jurisdiction asserted over professional corporation providing legal services where firm's direct out-of-state purchases together with its indirect purchases in commerce would reach $7,500. minimally when projected for 12 month period)

Local No. 340, Electrical Workers (Warren B. Burgess, d/b/a AJR Electric) JD-(SF)-165-80
(jurisdiction asserted over electrical subcontractor performing services valued in excess of $50,000 during year for general contractor who met Bd's administrative jurisdictional standards on basis of direct inflow, therefore, sub-contractor met Bd's jurisdictional standard on basis of indirect outflow)

Nelson Electric, Gary C. Nelson, Inc. and Gary C. Nelson Electric v. N.L.R.B. 638 F.2d 965 (C.A. 6, Jan. 1981)
(Bd properly asserted jurisdiction over electrical contractor since such E transacted sufficient business affecting commerce because it was member of multi-E association where E signed letter of assent expressly designating multi-E association as collective bargaining representative and did not withdraw according to time requirements specified in agreement; furthermore, E submitted payroll report to association after commencement of new bargaining agreement)

3320-7567-5000 Local purchases of supplies whose original source was outside of state

First Termite Control Co., Inc. 265 NLRB No. 200
(where supplier purchased $1.5 million worth of lumber: 50% from w/i state and 50% outside state, and commingled the lumber, Bd held that E-respondent who purchased $20,000 worth of lumber met jurisdictional standard since reasonable to assume that portion of lumber E purchased that came from outside state was not de minimis. Bd had earlier held that purchases of $1,500 which travelled across state lines to their purchaser was not de minimis)

Institutional Food Services 258 NLRB No. 086
(jurisdiction asserted over nonprofit corporation engaged in business of distribution and preparation of food primarily for cafeterias at secondary schools operated by Roman Catholic Archdiocese and which corporation annually purchases goods valued in excess of $50,000, originating indirectly from outside commonwealth; unlike Catholic Bishop, 440 U.S. 490 (1979) Ees' work was not related to mission of Archdiocese to propogate its religious beliefs)

Welfare, Pension and Vacation Funds, Blasters, Drillrunners and Miners Union Local No. 29, etc. 256 NLRB No. 170
(jurisdiction asserted over U welfare, pension and vacation funds, and its trustees where funds annually received in excess of $50,000 for its services from contractor which purchased goods in excess of $50,000 from out of state suppliers; moreover Bd previously asserted jurisdiction over respondent funds in case which was enforced)

Michael Bohm Jr., d/b/a M & M Bohm and Associates JD-638-81
(jurisdiction asserted over refabrication contractor providing painting, wallpaper, and staining services for apartments, condominiums and townhouses for 2 managing companies where each had gross revenues in excess of 500,000 and one purchased $1,060 and other $5000 worth of goods from outside of state)

E. A. Fuller Bentleys, Inc. d/b/a Bentleys Lounge JD-498-81
(jurisdiction asserted over two corporations and sole proprietorship constituting single E, where considered as single E, minimum gross retail sales volume is met through indirect inflow of natural originating outside of state totaling $4,000, thus providing sufficient nexus with interstate commerce to support jurisdiction over retail sales enterprise since amount involved not di minimus)

N.L.R.B. v. Perko's Enterprises, Inc. 661 F.2d 941(T) (C.A. 9, Sep. 1981)

N.L.R.B. v. W. Carter Maxwell, dba Pioneer Concrete Co. 677 F.2d 699 (C.A. 9, 1981)
(labor dispute found to affect commerce where E purchased $6,000 worth of goods originating in other states including $1,920 worth of cement from out-of-state suppliers and also by purchasing large insurance policies written with out-of-state companies through local agents; these purchases more than de minimous and support finding of jurisdiction)

3320-8700 Non-cooperating employer

World Evangelism, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 088
(Bd asserted jurisdiction over E where in prior case involving same E it asserted jurisdiction and here failed to comply with subpoena duces tecum for its financial records and introduced no evidence to show its financial situation had changed since prior determination)

3340 PERIOD OF COMPUTATION

3340-0100 Generally

Seafarers International Union of North America, Pacific District, AFL-CIO, and Its Affiliates (American Pacific Container Lines, Inc. (AMPAC)) 252 NLRB No. 105
(although charging party was not an E w/i meaning of Act at time of alleged ULPs under Bd's discretionary standards, by date of hearing it received gross revenues, from its interstate operations, in excess of $50,000, and thus it was appropriate for Bd to assert jurisdiction)

Sparkie's Special Delivery & Messenger Service, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 084
(where successor-E allegedly committed ULPs soon after taking over predecessor-E's business, Bd declined jurisdiction over successor-E absent evidence that predecessor-E's business during any 12-month period satisfied an applicable jurisdictional standard, or that successor-E's partial business projected forward satisfied an applicable jurisdictional standard)

Marvin J. Schiff Trust R-501, Marvin J. Schiff, Trustee, d/b/a Nevada Palace Casino & Motor Inn JD-(SF)-277-81
(gross revenue for most recent or calendar year or for 12-month period immediately preceeding hearing rather than revenue for one month, week or day, measured to determine jurisdiction)

David D. Sutherland, d/b/a Maaco Auto Painting and Body Work v. N.L.R.B. 646 F.2d 1373 (C.A. 8, Apr 1981)
(Bd properly asserted jurisdiction over auto painting and body repair shop under non-retail standards where company grossed over $50,000 from non-retail services provided to companys subject to Bd jurisdiction and it purchased over $50,000 worth of goods from points out-of-state; moreover, fact that owner had purchased company and had managed it for less than 1 year immaterial)

3340-5000 Projection from short period

Clark & Hinajosa, Attorneys at Law, A Professional Corporation 247 NLRB No. 089

Sparkie's Special Delivery & Messenger Service, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 084
(where successor-E allegedly committed ULPs soon after taking over predecessor-E's business, Bd declined jurisdiction over successor-E absent evidence that predecessor-E's business during any 12-month period satisfied an applicable jurisdictional standard, or that successor-E's partial business projected forward satisfied an applicable jurisdictional standard)

3360 ENTERPRISE WHOSE GOODS AND SERVICES ARE MEASURED

3340-3300 Integrated enterprise

Tulsa Yellow Cab Company, Inc. and Peoples Checker Cab Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 092
(Bd lacked jurisdiction over two cab companies owned by members of same family where neither E had gross revenues exceeding $500,000 and Bd found no significant integration of enterprises to constitute both as joint Es)

3340-3333 Single employer

C. R. Adams Trucking, Inc., and Michael Cates 262 NLRB No. 067
(jurisdiction asserted over 2 Es found to be joint Es herein though only one E met Bd's standards for assertion of jurisdiction)

Pizza Pizzaz, Inc., d/b/a Jacob Wirth Restaurant 248 NLRB No. 037
(full menu restaurant and fast food shop constitute single E which meets Bd's jurisdictional standards where fast food shop was sole stockholder of restaurant; one individual was president of fast food shop and vice-president and treasurer of restaurant as well as general manager of both food operations)

E. A. Fuller Bentleys, Inc. d/b/a Bentleys Lounge JD-498-81
(jurisdiction asserted over two corporations and sole proprietorship constituting single E, where considered as single E, minimum gross retail sales volume is met through indirect inflow of natural originating outside of state totaling $4,000, thus providing sufficient nexus with interstate commerce to support jurisdiction over retail sales enterprise since amount involved not di minimus)

3340-3367 Particular industry or business

3340-3367-4200 Chain stores

Peninsula Association for Retarded Children and Adults JD-(SF)-249-80
(E subject to Bd's jurisdiction notwithstanding its operations are local in character as (1) it is retail store, part of interstate chain of stores and is integral part of chain, and (2) Bd had asserted jurisdiction over respondent in prior case)

3360-5000 Successor employer

International Technical Products Corporation, and its Subsidiary, Rel, Inc.; et al. 249 NLRB No. 183
(jurisdiction asserted over successor E since it stipulated that earlier predecessor was found to be engaged in commerce w/i meaning of Act in prior Bd decision and that it is successor, having employed same complement of Ees and continued predecessor's operations in same manner and successor E did not contest Bd's jurisdiction over it)

Sparkie's Special Delivery & Messenger Service, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 084
(where successor-E allegedly committed ULPs soon after taking over predecessor-E's business, Bd declined jurisdiction over successor-E absent evidence that predecessor-E's business during any 12-month period satisfied an applicable jurisdictional standard, or that successor-E's partial business projected forward satisfied an applicable jurisdictional standard)

3360-8400 Employer engaged in both exempt and nonexempt enterprises

Harborcreek School for Boys 249 NLRB No. 177
(jurisdiction asserted over agency engaged in care and rehabilitation of socially and emotionally disturbed boys, which agency was founded, owned and controlled by Catholic Diocese; record showed that none of E's professional and support staff were required to have any particular religious background or that any Ee was directly or indirectly involved in teaching religious philosophy; school's operating income received from various governmental agencies; exercise of jurisdiction not violative of religion clause of first amendment to Constitution)

3380 SECONDARY BOYCOTT CASES

Longshoremen's Association, Local 1414, AFL-CIO (Occidental Chemical Co.) 261 NLRB No. 001
(presence of foreign flagships did not invoke limitation of Bd's commerce jurisdiction delineated in SCt decisions which bar Bd from asserting jurisdiction over primary activity directed against foreign flagships and over secondary conduct inextricably intertwined with primary activity; in instant case, conduct was purely secondary since primary dispute was between U's and Russia because of Russia's invasion of Afghanistan, and no primary activity occurred concerning such dispute; instead, Us' action was wholly directed against parties having no involvement in or power to directly affect primary dispute)

Longshoremen's Association, Local 1414, AFL-CIO (Occidental Chemical Co.) 261 NLRB No. 001
(presence of foreign flagships did not invoke limitations on Bd's commerce jurisdiction delineated in SCt decisions in which its major concern was that assertion of jurisdiction would interfere with maritime operations, principles of comity and international trade and relations; here, secondary activity did not affect internal affairs of foreign ships so as to implicate such matters; instead, assertion of jurisdiction protects ships' right to do business free from economic pressure by U engaged in dispute with another nation over latter's foreign policy)

3390 SERVICES INTIMATELY RELATED TO OPERATIONS OF EXEMPT ENTERPRISE

Teledyne Economic Development Co. 265 NLRB No. 153
(jurisdiction asserted over E operating job corps center under contract with Department of Labor, where E recruits and hires staff, develops and maintains personnel management policies, maintains grievance procedure in which E has final decision, and remains responsible for hiring, firing, promotions, transfers, demotions, and other terms and conditions of employment subject only to broad outlines of DOL contract; E has broad discretion and control over day-to-day labor relations policies and practices, and fact that DOL retains final right of approval for bargaining agreement does not excuse E from duty to bargain)

Management and Training Corporation 265 NLRB No. 143
(jurisdiction asserted over corporation operating job corps center under contract with Department of Labor in view of E's control over Ees and their wages, hours, and conditions of employment; E's lack of hiring authority for higher salaried Ees w/o DOL approval was not determinative of its authority to bargain with U nor was the degree of its contact with DOL in operating the center, since the issue was not DOL's means of assuring contract compliance but E's controlling labor relations sufficiently to enable it to bargain)

Florence Volunteer Fire Department, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 134
(Bd asserted jurisdiction over E engaged in providing fire protection services, on contract basis for city, notwithstanding E's contention that it shared city's exemption under Sec. 2(2) of Act on grounds that city created E and that E performed municipal function for city, where E was separate entity from city, exercised almost complete autonomy over matters affecting its Ees' terms of employment and working conditions, and was capable of engaging in meaningful bargaining)

New York Medical College 263 NLRB No. 124
(jurisdiction asserted over medical college, not-for-profit state corporation, as to professionals employed by college at affiliated hospitals where hospitals, through executive directors, who represented city and commissioner designated by county, had limited role with respect to college personnel and college retained sufficient control over terms and conditions of employment of its professionals to be capable of effective bargaining)

Montefiore Hospital and Medical Center 261 NLRB No. 082
(Bd asserted jurisdiction over health service facility which was operated by medical center under contract with city to provide medical services for prison inmates, since not w/i political subdividison exemption of Act, notwithstanding certain limitations imposed by city, since medical center retained sufficient control over terms and conditions of employment at facility to be capable of effective bargaining)

Management Training Corporation (Formerly Thiokol Corporation) 261 NLRB No. 013
(Bd will assert jurisdiction over job corps training centers operated for U.S. Department of Labor. See The Singer Company, 240 NLRB 965)

Faith-Center—WHCT Channel 18 261 NLRB No. 011
(Bd declined jurisdiction over non-profit church TV station where, notwithstanding fact that ten percent of station's programing was secular in nature solely to meet programing diversification requirements of F.C.C., station was operated to promote religious objectives of church and its broadcasting was purely religious activity carried on by religious institution or, at very least, constituted activity ancillary to church's religious objectives)

The Mental Health Association of North Central Massachusetts, Inc. d/b/a Herbert Lipton Community Mental Health Center 258 NLRB No. 005
(mental health association did not share state's exempt political status under Sec. 2(2) of Act where immediate formulation of labor relations policies and procedures for Ees sought was function performed by association, association was exclusively responsible for hiring, firing, and disciplining its Ees, and association could negotiate and enter into agreement with representative of its Ees)

Moderate Income Management Company, Inc., and Marineview Housing Company No. 1 256 NLRB No. 179
(jurisdiction asserted over management company and owner-operator of low to moderate housing project, found herein to be joint Es; contrary to RD, Bd concluded Es do not share State's statutory exemption through NJHFA since Es control their labor relations policies and thus can engage in meaningful bargaining, where they promulgate and implement their labor relations policies w/o agency guidelines or approval, and agency reviews only their budget and mortgage repayment)

Southern Alleghenies Disposal Services, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 135
(jurisdiction asserted over E that entered contract with city to provide city with garbage service, notwithstanding city is exempt from Bd's jurisdiction under Sec. 2(2) of Act where city's operations were of magnitude that Bd would assert jurisdiction if they were nonexempt, and E's sales of services to city are in excess of $50,000, and meet the indirect outflow standard)

Jacobo Marti & Sons, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 189
(Bd asserted jurisdiction over E which was set up by Association composed of mainly Amish farmers to take raw milk furnished by farmers and process same into milk and cheese which Association sold and paid E percentage of profits; Association not church sanctioned or church operated but merely business corporation; E exclusively controls, disciplines, hires, fires and sets pay of its Ees, majority of whom are not Armish)

The Krebs School Foundation, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 187
(jurisdiction asserted over institution providing special education to children with physical or mental disabilities, notwithstanding E's contention that federal district ct decision supported its argument that institution was exempt adjunct of state public school system, since Bd in prior decision had asserted jurisdiction over same institution and jurisdictional standard in district court case — whether defendent acted under color of state law — is based on entirely different considerations than is Bd's jurisdiction standards)

Montgomery County Opportunity Board, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 103
(jurisdiction asserted over nonprofit community action service corporation providing Head Start preschooling, legal and housing services and summer camping under Federal agency since it met commerce standards and had sufficient control of employment conditions to bargain with its Ees' representative, where w/i agency guidelines it hired, discharged, promoted and determined wages and working conditons of its Ees and was not their joint E with Federal agency)

Metro Ambulance Service, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 088
(Bd asserted jurisdiction over corporation providing ambulance services for city, notwithstanding contention that control exercised over corporation's Ees and business affairs by city agency and related entities rendered corporation joint E with city and that corporation should share exemption of political subdivision, since corporation's relationship with city agency and related entities was essentially contractual, and corporation retained virtually full control over wages, hours of employment and working conditions)

3390—Cont.

Jacobo Marti & Sons, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 676 F.2d 975 (C.A. 3, Apr. 1982)

(Bd properly asserted jurisdiction over E who processes cheese from milk supplied by cooperative controlled by Amish farmers who oppose Us as matter of religious belief where ct held, contrary to E, that E was not exempt on First Amendment grounds since E failed to show that such governmental obligation to be imposed interferes with the Free Exercise rights of the Amish; moreover, Bd decision alternately sustained where E is in fact an independent organization that controls its own Ee relationship)

Jacobo Marti & Sons, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 676 F.2d 975 (C.A. 3, Apr. 1982)

(Bd lacks jurisdiction to pass on constitutional questions but must be especially sensitive when confronted with First Amendment free exercise objections)

Crenshaw Memorial Hospital Association, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 668 F.2d 243 (C.A. 6, Jan. 1982)

(Bd properly asserted jurisdiction over private, nonprofit hospital which operates facilities leased from city as municipal general hospital; administrators are not responsible to public officials; moreover fact that all citizens of city as members of corporation and eligible to vote for Board of Directors not determinative where Directors are not responsible by law to citizens since no city or local laws govern formation or operation of hospital but only by corporation's constitution which is subject to change and in addition hospital has full control of labor relations of its Ees)

Museum Associates d/b/a Los Angeles County Museum of Art v. N.L.R.B. 688 F.2d 1278 (C.A. 9, Sept. 1982)

(ct affd Bd order to bargain where ct could not find that Bd had no foundation in evidence for its determination that Art Museum had sufficient control over labor relations to allow for meaningful bargaining to warrant exercising jurisdiction under Act nor could ct say that Bd acted contrary to law; E's contention that it was exempt from Act because it was substantially controlled by county so it could neither bargain meaningfully nor implement effectively contract with U rejected; however, ct noted that if county takes over funding for unit Ees as contended, E would be free to reapply to Bd)

Zapex Corporation and BDM Services Company v. N.L.R.B. 621 F.2d 328 (C.A. 9, 1980)

(jurisdiction asserted where E, under terms of cost-plus-fee contract with Army, retained substantial control over such bargaining subjects as hiring, discharging, wages, hours, grievance proceedings, and other terms of employment, and allowed to negotiate collective bargaining agreements, notwithstanding Army wielded some influence over wages, promotions, discharges, set dress code and Ees used army facilities)

Board of Trustees of The Memorial Hospital of Fremont County Wyoming, A Political Subdivision of The State of Wyoming v. N.L.R.B. 624 F.2d 177 (C.A. 10, 1980)

(where lease agreement between Trustees, who are exempt from Act, and Hospital provided that Hospital could not engage in collective bargaining Bd does not retain jurisdiction over Hospital for government subdivision's control over labor relations leaves Hospital unable to engage in meaningful collective bargaining)

3395 CONTROL OVER LABOR RELATIONS BY EXEMPT ENTERPRISE

Educational & Recreational Services, Inc. d/b/a Associated Charter Bus Co., Las Virgenes Division 263 NLRB No. 135

(Bd declined jurisdiction over E primarily engaged in supplying school bus transportation and related public services for students of School District, where School District not only had considerable authority over E's operations by virtue of express language of parties' agreement but also exercised extensive control over wages, benefits, hiring, termination, discipline, supervision, and work assignments of E's bus drivers; Bd noted that District had substantial control over E's labor relations of at least substantial segment of unit sought, and was joint E of E's Ees)

Fargo, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 101

(jurisdiction declined over nonprofit corporation providing residential mental health care and vocational day care for mentally retarded adults as it shares with State exemption under Sec. 2(2) in view of state's retention of substantial control over Ees' wages, benefits, hiring and working conditions through funding budget reviews, and close monitoring of E's operations; contract in which salaries, client/staff ratio, client selection and treatment, etc., are specified, must conform to court consent decree to which State is bound)

Wordsworth Academy 262 NLRB No. 043

(E operating private school participating in State educational plan for children with learning disabilities held not exempt from Bd's jurisdiction as adjunct to public school system, since no reason exists for applying adjunct test herein and thereby treating schools differently from other Es having close ties with exempt entity; same reasons for Bd's rejection test set forth in National Transportation compel similar result for adjunct test; and, henceforth, Bd shall rely on standard announced in National Transportation to determine whether to assert jurisdiction over Es with close ties to exempt entity)

Educational and Recreational Services, Inc., d/b/a Associated Charter Bus Company, San Bernardino Division 261 NLRB No. 028

(Bd precluded from asserting jurisdiction over E primarily engaged in providing school bus transportation to, Unified School District, in view of District's authority over E's operations by virtue of express language in contract between E and District and in (E's) drivers' handbook; established operational practices at E's terminal conclusively demonstrated that District exercised extensive control over wages, benefits, hiring, discipline, supervision and work assignments of E's Ees; District joint E of E's Ees)

Local 701, International Brotherhood of electrical Workers (The University of Chicago d/b/a Argonne National Laboratory) 255 NLRB No. 148

(jurisdiction asserted over E operating facility funded by Department of Energy where DOE determines which work will be performed by E's Ees and therefore not covered under Davis-Bacon Act and work done by outside contractors which is covered under that Act, as E retains sufficient control over terms and conditions of employment to be capable of collective bargaining)

K.A.L. Leasing, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 145

(jurisdiction asserted over E which contracted with school district to provide transportation for students, notwithstanding contention district exercised degree of control over labor relations policy of E which precluded E from engaging in meaningful bargaining in view of requirement that E obtain approval of district prior to employing or terminating any Ee or changing benefits, and E and district's joint grievance system; where wages and benefits not in contract, approval of hirings and firings essentially automatic and direct supervision by E grievance system designed to deal with complaints against drivers rather than Ee grievances and never utilized)

Community Action Program of Oklahoma City and County, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 016

(Bd asserted jurisdiction over nonprofit social services corporation funded primarily by grants from city, state and Federal agencies where only control Federal agency exercised over labor relations was salary limitations while E had control over disciplinary actions, hiring, firing and setting initial salaries)

R. W. Harmon & Sons, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 025

(jurisdiction asserted over contractor furnishing bus service to school district, notwithstanding contention that E was exempt school district because contractual provisions gave school board right to make changes in routing, request transfer of drivers, require insurance and safety guidelines, and dismiss drivers it felt not qualified to operate bus, where contractor retained control over hiring, discharge, rates of pay, fringe benefits, grievances, assignment of drivers to routes, hours, and contract provided that company was independent contractor; local in character test rejected)

Soy City Bus Services, Division of R. W. Harmon & Sons, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 167

(jurisdiction asserted over E that contracted with school district for bus services; Bd rejected contention that jurisdiction should not be asserted since bus service local-in-character; inasmuch as Bd no longer applies local-in-character test to educational institutions but instead employs degree-of-control test)

Metro Ambulance Service, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 008

(Bd asserted jurisdiction over corporation providing ambulance services for city, notwithstanding contention that control exercised over corporation's Ees and business affairs by city agency and related entities rendered corporation joint E with city and that corporation should share exemption of political subdivision, since corporation's relationship with city agency and related entities was essentially contractual, and corporation retained virtually full control over wages, hours of employment and working conditions)

N.L.R.B. v. Newtown Corporation 671 F.2d 219 (C.A. 6, Feb. 1982)

(Bd properly asserted jurisdiction over E who operates solid waste transfer station pursuant to five-year contract with county government where county has no input regarding wages, holidays or other benefits and E retains sole responsibility for hiring, firing, assigning work and settling grievances—thus retaining sufficient control over its labor relations to engage in meaningful collective bargaining)

N.L.R.B. v. Chicago Youth Centers 616 F.2d 1028 (C.A. 7, 1980)

(public agency has control over funding, job classification and compensation, and other terms and conditions of employment of head start program run by private agency; thus public and private agencies are joint-Es and private agency shares exemption of public agency under Sec. 2(2) of Act from Bd jurisdiction)

6700 STANDARDS APPLICABLE TO SPECIFIC TYPES OF ENTERPRISES

6736 NATIONAL DEFENSE

6736-5000 Substantial impact on national defense

Castle Instant Maintenance/Maid, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 029
(janitorial maintenance services performed for U.S. Marine Corps were sufficient to have substantial impact on national defense w/i meaning of Bd's discretionary guidelines for asserting jurisdiction)

Pentagon Barber Shop, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 165
(jurisdiction not asserted over barbershop in concourse of Pentagon building, since E's operations did not satisfy Bd's retail standard for jurisdiction nor did they exert substantial impact on national defense; shop easily accessible to public and numerous other barbershops available to Pentagon Ees in local vicinity)

6744 NONRETAIL ENTERPRISES

Castle Instant Maintenance/Maid, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 029
(jurisdiction asserted over nonretail enterprise providing janitorial maintenance services in excess of $50,000 to U.S. Maring Corps, since E's operations satisfied Bd's indirect outflow standards for nonretail enterprises)

6750 DAY CARE CENTERS

Rebecca Blaylock Nursery School, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 195
(although ptn for Advisory Opinion was not proper procedure for reconsideration by Bd of its standard for day care centers, Bd determined that it would not reconsider at this time its $250,000 jurisdictional standard)

Aid For The Retarded, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 106
(day care centers standard for assertion of jurisdiction by Bd is gross annual revenue of $250,000)

N.L.R.B. v. St. Louis Christian Home 663 F.2d 60 (C.A. 8, Nov. 1981)
(jurisdictional standard for day care centers is $250,000 in gross annual revenues; thus where home for battered, abused and neglected children gross income exceeded $600,000, Bd properly asserted jurisdiction notwithstanding Home purchased all its supplies from in-state merchants where it also paid $16,000 to companies providing telephone and electrical service who engaged in interstate commerce for as little as $2,000 has been held to be sufficient)

Golden Day Schools, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 644 F.2d 834 (C.A. 9, May 8, 1981)
(prior cases to contrary, test for whether proprietary child-care facility is subject to Bd's jurisdiction is whether E has sufficient control over employment conditions of its Ees to enable it to bargain with labor organization which represents them)

Golden Day Schools, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 644 F.2d 834 (C.A. 9, May 8, 1981)
(Bd's determination, that E met $250,000 standard for exercising jurisdiction over day-care center rather than $1,000,000 standard for educational institutions will not be set aside in the absence of extraordinary circumstances, such as unjust discrimination)

6756 HOSPITALS

Crestline Memorial Hospital Association, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 668 F.2d 243 (C.A. 6, Jan. 1982)
(Bd properly asserted jurisdiction over private, nonprofit hospital which operates facilities leased from city as municipal general hospital; administrators are not responsible to public officials; moreover fact that all citizens of city as members of corporation and eligible to vote for Board of Directors not determinative where Directors are not responsible by law to citizens since no city or local laws govern formation or operation of hospital but only by corporation's constitution which is subject to change and in addition hospital has full control of labor relations of its Ees)

6758 CLINICS AND OTHER HEALTH CARE INSTITUTIONS

Keyway, A Division of Phase Inc. 263 NLRB No. 172
(jurisdiction asserted over nonprofit E providing service involving prevention and treatment of drug abuse, alchoholism and domestic violence. E's revenues last year were $482,597, of which, $299,322 were derived from Federal sources. This satisfies Bd's discretionary jurisdictional standard of $250,000 in gross revenues for health care institutions and legal jurisdiction need not be established by proof of direct or indirect inflow of goods or services where record establishes that greatest portion of E's revenues derive from Federal sources under nationally administered programs. Transfer of succh funds across state lines constitute commerce)

6764 RADIO, TELEVISION, TELEGRAPH, AND TELEPHONE COMPANIES

K.T.V.B., Inc. JD-(SF)-53-81
(discretionary gross volume standard for TV station is 100,000 dollars and statutory standard is usually satisfied by showing that broadcaster advertises national brand products or is member of interstate news service, not be interstate purchase of goods)

6776 RETAIL ENTERPRISES

Nordstrom's Ambulance Service, Inc. and Atlantic Ambulance Service, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 137
(retail standard applicable to E's ambulance service operation, where overwhelming majority of E's gross revenue is derived from services to individual patients rather than institutions to or from which they are being transported, E has no contract with any institution for its services, and fact that payment for services to individuals is by third parties such as insurance companies or state welfare agencies does not transform such activity into nonretail sales; E's revenue which is arguably derived from institutions is de minimis as compared to revenues from individual patients)

280 ENTERPRISES OVER WHICH THE BOARD DID OR DID NOT ASSERT JURISDICTION

0100 AGRICULTURAL PRODUCTION - CROPS

0200 AGRICULTURAL PRODUCTION - LIVESTOCK

0700 AGRICULTURAL SERVICES

0800 FORESTRY

0900 FISHING, HUNTING, AND TRAPPING

1000 METAL MINING

1090 MISCELLANEOUS METAL ORES

Atlas Minerals, Division of Atlas Corporation 256 NLRB No. 022
(uranium mining company's mtn to dismiss C on ground its allegations were w/i exclusive jurisdiction of Mine Safety and Health Administration and beyone jurisdiction of Bd, denied, since nothing in Mine Safety Act deprives Bd of its general power, set forth in Sec. 10(a) of NLRA, to prevent ULPs affecting commerce, which shall not be affected by any other means of adjustment or prevention that has been established by agreement, law, or otherwise; and ALJ herein is not empowered to determine if C should have issued, but only to determine if its allegations have merit)

1100 ANTHRACITE MINING

1200 BITUMINOUS COAL AND LIGNITE MINING

1300 OIL AND GAS EXTRACTION

1400 MINING AND QUARRYING OF NONMETALLIC MINERALS, EXCEPT FUELS

1500 BUILDING CONSTRUCTION - GENERAL CONTRACTORS AND OPERATIVE BUILDERS

1600 CONSTRUCTION OTHER THAN BUILDING CONSTRUCTION - GENERAL CONTRACTORS

1700 CONSTRUCTION - SPECIAL TRADE CONTRACTORS

1720 PAINTING, PAPER HANGING, AND DECORATING

Michael Behm Jr., d/b/a M & M Behm and Associates JD-638-81
(jurisdiction asserted over refabrication contractor providing painting, wallpaper, and staining services for apartments, condominiums and townhouses for 2 managing companies where each had gross revenues in excess of 500,000 and one purchased $1,000 and other $5000 worth of goods from outside of state)

2000 FOOD AND KINDRED PRODUCTS

2100 TOBACCO MANUFACTURES

2200 TEXTILE MILL PRODUCTS

2300 APPAREL AND OTHER FINISHED PRODUCTS MADE FROM FABRICS AND SIMILAR MATERIALS

2400 LUMBER AND WOOD PRODUCTS, EXCEPT FURNITURE

2500 FURNITURE AND FIXTURES

2600 PAPER AND ALLIED PRODUCTS

2700 PRINTING, PUBLISHING, AND ALLIED INDUSTRIES

2800 CHEMICALS AND ALLIED PRODUCTS

2900 PETROLEUM REFINING AND RELATED INDUSTRIES

3000 RUBBER AND MISCELLANEOUS PLASTICS PRODUCTS

3100 LEATHER AND LEATHER PRODUCTS

3200 STONE, CLAY, GLASS, AND CONCRETE PRODUCTS

3300 PRIMARY METAL INDUSTRIES

3400 FABRICATED METAL PRODUCTS, EXCEPT MACHINERY AND TRANSPORTATION EQUIPMENT

3500 MACHINERY, EXCEPT ELECTRICAL

3600 ELECTRICAL AND ELECTRONIC MACHINERY, EQUIPMENT, AND SUPPLIES

3700 TRANSPORTATION EQUIPMENT

3800 MEASURING, ANALYZING, AND CONTROLLING INSTRUMENTS; PHOTOGRAPHIC, MEDICAL, AND OPTICAL GOODS; WATCHES AND CLOCKS

3900 MISCELLANEOUS MANFACTURING INDUSTRIES

4000 RAILROAD TRANSPORTATION

4040 RAILWAY EXPRESS SERVICE

Missouri-Illinois Central Industries, Limited 252 NLRB No. 143
(Bd did not assert jurisdiction over E engaged in freight handling services to various common carriers engaged in interstate commerce where National Mediation Board found activities of E and Ees performing such activities were subject to the Railway Labor Act)

4100 LOCAL AND SURBURBAN TRANSIT AND INTERURBAN HIGHWAY PASSENGER TRANSPORTATION

4110 LOCAL AND SUBURBAN PASSENGER TRANSPORTATION

4110—Cont.

Nordstrom's Ambulance Service, Inc. and Atlantic Ambulance Service, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 137
(having concluded that retail standard applies to E's ambulance service operation, Bd declined jurisdiction over E since its annual gross revenues were well below the $500,000 retail standard)

Metro Ambulance Service, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 008
(Bd asserted jurisdiction over corporation providing ambulance services for city, notwithstanding contention that control exercised over corporation's Ees and business affairs by city agency and related entities rendered corporation joint E with city and that corporation should share exemption of political subdivision, since corporation's relationship with city agency and related entities was essentially contractual, and corporation retained virtually full control over wages, hours of employment and working conditions)

Public Services Planning and Analysis Corporation, d/b/a Airport Connection JD-(SF)-310-79
(jurisdiction asserted over E engaged in transportation of airline passengers between hotels and airport where E derived revenue in excess of $50,000 from its operations and satisfied jurisdictional tests as link in interstate commerce)

4120 TAXICABS

Tulsa Yellow Cab Company, Inc. and Peoples Checker Cab Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 092
(Bd lacked jurisdiction over two cab companies owned by members of same family where neither E had gross revenues exceeding $500,000 and Bd found no significant integration of enterprises to constitute both as joint Es)

4150 SCHOOL BUSSES

Educational & Recreational Services, Inc. d/b/a Associated Charter Bus Co., Las Virgenes Division 263 NLRB No. 135
(Bd declined jurisdiction over E primarily engaged in supplying school bus transportation and related public services for students of School District, where School District not only had considerable authority over E's operations by virtue of express language of parties' agreement but also exercised extensive control over wages, benefits, hiring, termination, discipline, supervision, and work assignments of E's bus drivers; Bd noted that District had substantial control over E's labor relations of at least substantial segment of unit sought, and was joint E of E's Ees)

Educational and Recreational Services, Inc., d/b/a Associated Charter Bus Company, San Bernardino Division 261 NLRB No. 055
(Bd precluded from asserting jurisdiction over E primarily engaged in providing school bus transportation to Unified School District, in view of District's authority over E's operations by virtue of express language in contract between E and District and in (E's) drivers' handbook; established operational practices at E's terminal conclusively demonstrated that District exercised extensive control over wages, benefits, hiring, discipline, supervision and work assignments of E's Ees; District joint E of E's Ees)

K & E Bus Lines, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 137
(Bd will no longer use intimate connection test for ascertaining whether its assertion of jurisdiction over E with association with exempt entity but rather whether E has sufficient control over employment conditions of its Ees to enable it to bargain with U as representative)

K & E Bus Lines, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 137
(Bd asserted jurisdiction over E majority of whose business was performed pursuant to contract with school district since E retained sufficient control over employment conditions to bargain effectively, notwithstanding contract provided that school district determined bus routes and schedules, prescribed rules of conduct for students on buses, reserved right to recommend hiring and dismissal of drivers, and provided contractor will work under direct supervision of school official, inasmuch as contract did not confer on school district right to supervise Ees; nor were regulations in state school bus manual so restrictive as to preclude bargaining)

K.A.L. Leasing, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 145
(jurisdiction asserted over E which contracted with school district to provide transportation for students, notwithstanding contention district exercised degree of control over labor relations policy of E which precluded E from engaging in meaningful bargaining in view of requirement that E obtain approval of district prior to employing or terminating any Ee or changing benefits, and E and district's joint grievance system; where wages and benefits not in contract, approval of hirings and firings essentially automatic and direct supervision by E grievance system designed to deal with complaints against drivers rather than Ee grievances and never utilized)

R. W. Harmon & Sons, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 025
(jurisdiction asserted over contractor furnishing bus service to school district, notwithstanding contention that E was exempt school district because contactual provisions gave school board right to make changes in routing, request transfer of drivers, require insurance and safety guidelines, and dismiss drivers it felt not qualified to operate bus, where contractor retained control over hiring, discharge, rates of pay, fringe benefits, grievances, assignment of drivers to routes, hours, and contract provided that company was independent contractor; local in character test rejected)

Soy City Bus Services, Division of R. W. Harma n & Sons, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 167
(jurisdiction asserted over E that contracted with school district for bus services; Bd rejected contention that jurisdiction should not be asserted since bus service local-in-character; inasmuch as Bd no longer applies local-in-character test to educational institutions but instead employs degree-of-control test)

R. W. Harmon & Sons, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 664 F.2d 248 (C.A. 10, Nov. 1981)
(Bd properly asserted jurisdiction over E providing school bus transportation service to school districts in 2 states, notwithstanding contention that because E's business is essentially local in character its labor activities do not affect interstate commerce; Bd may regulate any business engaged in interstate commerce, or if essentially local in nature, if its activities affect interstate commerce; and E's annual revenues of more than $16,000,000 from 9-state operation and purchases of thousands of dollars of goods for use in its business activities in 2 states herein clearly bring E w/i Bd's statutory jurisdiction)

R. W. Harmon & Sons, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 664 F.2d 248 (C.A. 10, Nov. 1981)
(Bd properly asserted jurisdiction over E providing school transportation to shcool districts, notwithstanding contention that school districts are exempt from Bd's jurisdiction, where E retained substantial control over basic bargaining subjects of wages, seniority, grievance procedures, and retirement plans; even if school districts exercised their authority to reject applicants or recommend dismissals, E still would control and could bargain over most employment conditions; and, while E cannot bargain about certain items, E controls wages and benefits concerning which it can engage in meaningful bargaining)

4200 MOTOR FREIGHT TRANSPORTATION AND WAREHOUSING

Institutional Food Services 258 NLRB No. 066
(jurisdiction asserted over nonprofit corporation engaged in business of distribution and preparation of food primarily for cafeterias at secondary schools operated by Roman Catholic Archdiocese and which corporation annually purchases goods valued in excess of $50,000, originating indirectly from outside commonwealth; unlike Catholic Bishop, 440 U.S. 490 (1979) Ees' work was not related to mission of Archdiocese to propogate its religious beliefs)

4210 TRUCKING, LOCAL AND LONG DISTANCE

Jimmy Kilgore Trucking Company 254 NLRB No. 112
(jurisdiction asserted over trucking company, hauling coal exclusively for mining company, where former annually received in excess of $50,000 for hauling services, of direct and indirect outflow nature, performed for mining company, itself an E meeting Bd's direct inflow standard)

4400 WATER TRANSPORTATION

4500 TRANSPORTATION BY AIR

4510 AIR TRANSPORTATION, CERTIFICATED CARRIERS

DHL Corporation 260 NLRB No. 012
(ptn dismissed and jurisdiction not asserted over corporation engaged in transportation by air of mail and other time-sensitive commodities where Bd was advised by the National Mediation Board that it is of the opinion that corporation is carrier w/i scope of Title II of the Railway Labor Act)

4580 FIXED FACILITIES AND SERVICES RELATED TO AIR TRANSPORTATION

Elliott Flying Service, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 068
(Bd did not assert jurisdiction over E engaged in operation of air charter and taxi service, as well as in selling and servicing of Beechcraft aircraft, training of pilots, providing of pilots for owners of small aircraft, and providing of fueling and emergency aircraft maintenance for an airline, since the National Mediation Board advised Bd that E was subject to provisions of Railway Labor Act)

ARA Environmental Services, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 011
(Bd set aside election where National Mediation Board advised Bd that activities and Ees of E who provided cleaning and security services to airline were subject to Railway Labor Act and thus properly w/i jurisdiction of National Mediation Board in view of nature of activities performed by E and degree of control exercised by airline)

Ground Services, Inc. [illegible] NLRB No. [illegible]
(Bd refused to assert jurisdiction over corporation engaged in business of providing ground or fleet service to air carriers and other enterprises where

4580—Cont.

National Mediation Board advised that corporation and its Ees were subject to the Railway Labor Act in view of nature of activities and control exercised by air carriers)

Air Cleveland, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 059
(ptn of Ees of E engaged in providing certain ground services to air carrier dismissed, since National Mediation Board, by request of Bd, determined that E was w/i scope of Title II of the Railway Labor Act)

Mercury Service, Inc.; Mercury Refueling, Inc.; and Crew Transit 253 NLRB No. 057
(jurisdiction not asserted over E engaged in providing support services for international air carriers where Bd advised by National Medication Board that Es activities and Ees performing activities were subject to Railway Labor Act)

4600 PIPE LINES, EXCEPT NATURAL GAS

4700 TRANSPORTATION SERVICES

4710 FREIGHT FORWARDING

Emery Air Freight Corporation JD-(NY)-36-81
(jurisdiction asserted over E engaged in business of air freight forwarder who charters aircraft for its exclusive use during portion of each day, as E did not itself operate aircraft and separate air carrier retains full control over flight operation, loading, unloading, fueling and maintenance)

Emery Air Freight Corporation JD-(NY)-36-81
(jurisdiction asserted over E engaged in providing baggage and cargo handling services, janitorial services, etc., to airline industry)

4800 COMMUNICATION

4830 RADIO AND TELEVISION BROADCASTING

Musicians Union Local 47, etc. (American Broadcasting Company, etc.) 255 NLRB No. 065
(operations of company engaged in radio and television broadcasting held of sufficient magnitude for assertion of jurisdiction, where during 12-month period before hearing company derived gross revenues in excess of $500,000 and, through its division involved herein, received services valued in excess of $50,000; 12-month period embraced period covering commission of ULP and date on which charge was filed, and there was no assertion that company's operations during other periods differed from those occurring during pre-hearing 12-month period)

4900 ELECTRIC, GAS, AND SANITARY SERVICES

4950 SANITARY SERVICES

Florida Cities Water Company 247 NLRB No. 111
(jurisdiction asserted over investor-owned, for profit, private water and sewer utility company operating pursuant to state franchise notwithstanding it is subject to various regulations by State, where it has sufficient control over Ees' working conditions to enable it to bargain meaningfully with U)

N.L.R.B. v. Newtown Corporation 671 F.2d 219 (C.A. 6, Feb. 1982)
(Bd properly asserted jurisdiction over E who operates solid waste transfer station pursuant to five-year contract with county government where county has no input regarding wages, holidays or other benefits and E retains sole responsibility for hiring, firing, assigning work and settling grievances--thus retaining sufficient control over its labor relations to engage in meaningful collective bargaining)

5000 WHOLESALE TRADE - DURABLE GOODS

5100 WHOLESALE TRADE - NONDURABLE GOODS

5200 BUILDING MATERIALS, HARDWARE, GARDEN SUPPLY, AND MOBILE HOME DEALERS

5300 GENERAL MERCHANDISE STORES

5400 FOOD STORES

5500 AUTOMOTIVE DEALERS AND GASOLINE SERVICE STATIONS

5600 APPAREL AND ACCESSORY STORES

5700 FURNITURE, HOME FURNISHINGS AND EQUIPMENT STORES

5800 EATING AND DRINKING PLACES

5810 EATING AND DRINKING PLACES

Tavern Owners, Inc., d/b/a The Lighthouse Restaurant 251 NLRB No. 130
(Bd did not assert jurisdiction over tavern and restaurant enterprise where annual gross volume of business is less that $200,000 and business is not subject to interstate inflow or outflow standard)

Hotel Employees Union Local 471 (Arasers, Inc.) JD-361-82
(after remand to ALJ for purpose of receiving evidence on jurisdiction and receipt into evidence of affidavit of E's vice-president stating that E provided food services at 78 tracks, stadiums and sports arenas in several states, Bd asserted jurisdiction)

N.L.R.B. v. Pizza Pizzaz, Inc., d/b/a Jacob Wirth Restaurant 646 F.2d 706 (C.A. 1, Apr 1981)
(enforcement granted, notwithstanding contention Bd improperly exercised jurisdiction over two restaurant corporations, since ct upheld Bd's finding they were single E, and although one corporation's annual goss volume of business exceeded only $140,000, combined gross volume of both corporations met Bd's discretionary standard of $500,000 for retail establishments; even if Bd erred in factually finding corporations were single E, ct should not refuse to enforce Bd order for want of jurisdiction since Bd has administrative discretion to disregard its own self-imposed jurisdictional yardstick)

5900 MISCELLANEOUS RETAIL

6000 BANKING

6020 COMMERCIAL AND STOCK SAVINGS BANKS

State Bank of India 262NLRB No. 143
(jurisdiction asserted over bank since it had no special status as instrumentality of Government of India insofar as American labor laws were concerned and did not come w/i exclusions provided for Sec. 2(2))

6100 CREDIT AGENCIES OTHER THAN BANKS

6200 SECURITY AND COMMODITY BROKERS, DEALERS, EXCHANGES, AND SERVICES

6300 INSURANCE

6370 PENSION, HEALTH, AND WELFARE FUNDS

Welfare, Pension and Vacation Funds, Blasters, Drillrunners and Miners Union Local No. 29, etc. 256 NLRB No. 170
(jurisdiction asserted over U welfare, pension and vacation funds, and its trustees where funds annually received in excess of $50,000 for its services from contractor which purchased goods in excess of $50,000 from out of state suppliers; moreover Bd previously asserted jurisdiction over respondent funds in case which was enforced)

6400 INSURANCE AGENTS, BROKERS, AND SERVICE

6500 REAL ESTATE

6510 REAL ESTATE OPERATORS (EXCEPT DEVELOPERS) AND LESSORS

R & C Management Co. and Roth Bros. Partnership Co. 264 NLRB No. 117
(Bd would assert jurisdiction over copartnership engaged in business of owning, operating, and managing several apartment buildings where gross dollar volume of business of all apartment buildings exceeds standard established by Bd, and it purchases goods and services in interstate commerce in excess of $50,000 per annum)

Moderate Income Management Company, Inc., and Marineview Housing Company No. 1 256 NLRB No. 179
(jurisdiction asserted over management company and owner-operator of low to moderate housing project, found herein to be joint Es; contrary to RD, Bd concluded Es do not share State's statutory exemption through NJHFA since Es control their labor relations policies and thus can engage in meaningful bargaining, where they promulgate and implement their labor relations policies w/o agency guidelines or approval, and agency reviews only their budget and mortgage repayment)

Rent Stabilization Association of NYC, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 038
(AO that Bd would assert jurisdiction over not-for-profit real estate industry association which does not operate or manager real estate but which supplies services to public and to association members who own rent stabilized apartment buildings in city where it has 4 million dollars in gross revenue and 200,000 dollars in interstate inflow)

6510—Cont.

Meayan Estates, Inc., and Planning Efficiency Management 253 NLRB No. 160

(AO that Bd would assert jurisdiction over owner and managing agent of residential apartment building, notwithstanding owner does not derive $500,000 annual gross revenues from such building, where its managing agent generates in excess of $500,000 annually from this building together with three others it manages, and therefore Bd's monetary standard is met)

6530 REAL ESTATE AGENTS AND MANAGERS

Moderate Income Management Company, Inc., and Marineview Housing Company No. 1 256 NLRB No. 179

(jurisdiction asserted over management company and owner-operator of low to moderate housing project, found herein to be joint Es; contrary to RD, Bd concluded Es do not share State's statutory exemption through NJHFA since Es control their labor relations policies and thus can engage in meaningful bargaining, where they promulgate and implement their labor relations policies w/o agency guidelines or approval, and agency reviews only their budget and mortgage repayment)

North Middledale Corp. 253 NLRB No. 060

(AO that Bd would assert jurisdiction over E engaged in business of managing and also functioning as owner of three apartment complexes w/i the state where it had gross revenues of approximately $790,000 per year and it was assumed that it purchased more than a de minimis amount of goods from outside the state)

A. J. Clarke Management Corp. 249 NLRB No. 157

(AO that Bd would assert jurisdiction over E engaged in business of providing management services to residential apartment buildings where total gross annual rental revenues derived from apartments managed by E are in excess of $500,000 standard established by Bd for residential apartments, and out-of-state purchases exceed $50,000)

Mandel Management Corporation (Local 32B–Local 32J, Service Employees) 248 NLRB No. 066

(AO that Bd would assert jurisdiction over E engaged in business of managing residential and commercial properties in large city where E's annual gross rental revenues were in excess of $1 million and, assuming that E's out-of-state purchases are more than de minimis, they satisfied Bd's statutory jurisdiction)

Mandel Management Corporation (Local 32B–Local 32J, Service Employees) 248 NLRB No. 066(AO that Bd would assert jurisdiction over E engaged in business of managing residential and commercial properties in large city where E's annual gross rental revenues were in excess of $1 million and, assuming that E's out-of-state purchases are more than de minimis, they satisfied Bd's statutory jurisdiction)

6550 SUBDIVIDERS AND DEVELOPERS

St. Jude Industrial Park Board 265 NLRB No. 087

(jurisdiction asserted over unincorporated entity in business of promoting industrial development for fourth class city (on population basis) where development was both federally and privately funded and which, during 1980, directly purchased goods and supplies exceeding $50,000 from outside state; city had no removal power over members of (industrial) Park Board appointed by private developer; (industrial) Park Board was neither direct creation of state nor was it administered by individuals responsible to public officials or to general electorate, nor did it have any control over budget of Park Board)

St. Jude Industrial Park Board 265 NLRB No. 087

(Bd not barred by Section 14(c)(1) of Act from exercising discretionary jurisdiction over fourth class city's (industrial) Park Board, since Park Board's tenants reimburse city for funds spent on developement programs and city does not exercise any appreciable control over Park's supervision, budget, discipline, grievance procedure, seniority hiring, firing or wages of Ees of Park Board notwithstanding Ees receive their paycheck from City payroll and are covered by City's health, welfare and retirement programs since these costs too are reimbursed by tenants)

6600 COMBINATIONS OF REAL ESTATE, INSURANCE, LOANS, LAW OFFICES

6700 HOLDING AND OTHER INVESTMENT OFFICES

7000 HOTELS, ROOMING HOUSES, CAMPS, AND OTHER LODGING PLACES

World Evangelism, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 117

(jurisdiction asserted over nonprofit corporation controlling network of Evangelical ministries and associated fund-raising programs in its operation of complex of hotel, offices and commercial space in view of its substantial commercial activity related to its religious activity only as source of funds and Ees' performance of work necessarily associated with those commercial activities)

7010 HOTELS, MOTELS, AND TOURIST COURTS

Piedmont Properties, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 87

(Bd advised parties that it would assert jurisdiction over motor hotel, where its gross annual revenues exceed $500,000 and its annual purchases of goods and services involved in interstate commerce are valued in excess of $500,000)

Oriental Realty Corp., d/b/a Manhattan Beach Hotel 255 NLRB No. 044

(AO that Bd would assert jurisdiction over hotel owner where it annually derives in excess of $500,000 from its hotel building, and more than $50,000 is involved in interstate commerce in annual purchase of goods and services)

Waterford Park, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 124

(Bd asserted jurisdiction over motel facility not withstanding it has close financial ties with racetrack; no evidence that labor dispute at motel would disrupt racetrack operations and also no significant state regulation of Ees working at motel)

7200 PERSONAL SERVICES

7240 BARBER SHOPS

Pentagon Barber Shop, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 165

(jurisdiction not asserted over barbershop in concourse of Pentagon building, since E's operations did not satisfy Bd's retail standard for jurisdiction nor did they exert substantial impact on national defense; shop easily accessible to public and numerous other barbershops available to Pentagon Ees in local vicinity)

7300 BUSINESS SERVICES

7340 SERVICES TO DWELLINGS AND OTHER BUILDINGS

Castle Instant Maintenance/Maid, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 029

(jurisdiction asserted over nonretail enterprise providing janitorial maintenance services in excess of $50,000 to U.S. Maring Corps, since E's operations satisfied Bd's indirect outflow standards for nonretail enterprises)

7500 AUTOMOTIVE REPAIR, SERVICES, AND GARAGES

7530 AUTOMOTIVE REPAIR SHOPS

David D. Sutherland, d/b/a Maaco Auto Painting and Body Work v. N.L.R.B. 646 F.2d 1273 (C.A. 8, Apr 1981)

(Bd properly asserted jurisdiction over auto painting and body repair shop under non-retail standards where company grossed over $50,000 from non-retail services provided to companys subject to Bd jurisdiction and it purchased over $50,000 worth of goods from points out-of-state; moreover, fact that owner had purchased company and had managed it for less than 1 year immaterial)

7540 AUTOMOTIVE SERVICES, EXCEPT REPAIR

David D. Sutherland d/b/a Maaco Auto Painting and Body Work 249 NLRB No. 184

(jurisdiction asserted over E engaged in business of performing body work and painting of automobiles notwithstanding E failed to meet Bd's income requirements for retail enterprises, since non-retail revenue of $51,874 derived from Es who themselves meet Bd's standards for Es affecting commerce; goods valued at $27,856 purchased by E directly from sources located outside E's state and goods valued at $27,710 purchased from suppliers located in E's state who themselves purchased goods directly from outside state, when added together, establish Bd's jurisdiction)

7550 GASOLINE SERVICE STATIONS

Vantage Petroleum Corp. 247 NLRB No. 202

(jurisdiction asserted over E petroleum company's operation of state parkway gas service stations under contract with the state, since state's actual exercise of control over E's operations is not to such degree as to impair E's control over labor relations so as to render E incompetent to bargain efficaciously with a U, nor does E's performance of services for state constitute performance of services intimately related to traditional state functions warranting nonassertion of jurisdiction)

7600 MISCELLANEOUS REPAIR SERVICES

7800 MOTION PICTURES

7900 AMUSEMENT AND RECREATION SERVICES, EXCEPT MOTION PICTURES

7940 COMMERCIAL SPORTS

American Totalisator Company, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 148

(Bd not precluded by its R/R Sec. 102.3 which precludes assertion of juridiction over horseracing industry from asserting jurisdiction over Ees of E engaged in construction, assemply, repair and servicing of paramutuel wagering equipment, including small electronic machines used to record and dispense tickets at racetracks and computers which computes odds and payments to bettors on winners, since mere fact paramutuel equipment was designed for use at racetrack does not make E integral part of racing industry and in view of lack of hiring and control of Ees of E by track owners)

American Totalisator Company, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 148

(where Bd had conducted election in another subsidiary of E which was engaged in construction, assembly, repair and servicing of paramutuel wagering equipment used for off track betting, difference in customers not sufficient basis for refusal to assert juridiction over E's Ees performing simular duties involving similar machines used at track, notwithstanding issue in prior decision framed in terms of rescinding or amending Bd's rule which precludes its assertion of juridiction over horseracing industry)

Waterford Park, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 124

(Bd asserted jurisdiction over motel facility not withstanding it has close financial ties with racetrack no evidence that labor dispute at motel would disrupt racetrack operations and also no significant state regulation of Ees working at motel)

Florida Board of Business Regulation Department of Business Regulation, etc. v. N.L.R.B. 606 F.2d 1362 (C.A. 11, Sept. 1982)

(Bd's decision to take juridiction over jai alai Ees and not race track Ees is arbitrary as Bd treated 2 industries, identical in all comparable respects, differently, and gave no reasons for doing so; thus, where Bd asserts right to act arbitrarily in its decision to assert juridiction, this is abuse of discretion)

Florida Board of Business Regulation Department of Business Regulation, etc. v. N.L.R.B. 606 F.2d 1362 (C.A. 11, Sept. 1982)

(Bd's assertion of juridiction over disputes involving jai alai players proper where Bd found that employment characteristics of jai alai players were like those of Ees in casino gambling industry, state regulated industry over which Bd previously had asserted juridiction in that Ees constituted stable work force, and that State's regulation would not conflict with Bd's regulation of employment regulationship between players and E; also players had special need for U representation as player contracts were written in English and players were almost all Spanish-speaking)

7990 MISCELLANEOUS AMUSEMENT AND RECREATION SERVICES

Bally's Park Place, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 107

(neither separate units of hard count and of soft count Ees, nor their combined teams at hotel and gambling casino, held appropriate, where hard and soft count Ees require no specific skill, require no formal training, and their work is clearly routine and repetitive; fact that Ees work on shifts that vary from those of other Ees furnishes no basis for separate representation, nor does fact that they are isolated from most other Ees in their daily counting of coins and currency, with whom they share same Ee benefits, furnish basis for their isolation)

8000 HEALTH SERVICES

8050 NURSING AND PERSONAL CARE FACILITIES

Magnolia Manor Nursing Home, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 040

(juridiction asserted over E operating nursing home where it was stipulated that projected annual gross revenues would be in excess of $100,000 and E has or will purchase goods and materials in excess of $5,000 for representative 2-month period from supplier w/i state who has made purchases and received goods valued in excess of $50,000 per year from outside state)

Tressler Lutheran Home For Children t/a Frostburg Village of Allegany County Nursing Home 254 NLRB No. 015

(juridiction asserted over church-operated nursing home; See, e.g. Mid-American Health Services, Inc., 247 NLRB No. 109 (1980), See also Bon Secours Hospital, Inc., 248 NLRB 115 (1980))

Tressler Lutheran Home For Children, t/a Frostburg Village of Allegany County Nursing Home v. N.L.R.B. 677 F.2d 302 (C.A. 3, Apr. 1982)

(juridiction asserted over nursing home operated by church and not rejected on religious affiliation where directors and administrators did not belong to faith operating home, Ees were not limited to adherents of church which operated facility, and religious atmosphere was secondary to patient care. On balance, infringement on E's operation does not outweigh statutory policy; further, in amending Act to give Bd jurisdiction over health care facilities, Congress rejected provision which would have exempted religiously owned health care facilities)

N.L.R.B. v. St. Mary's Home, Inc., t/a St. Mary's Infant Home 690 F.2d 1062 (C.A. 4, Sept. 1982)

(E's contention that it was outside the bounds of Bd juridiction absent showing of massive impact on interstate commerce because it was traditional charitable non-profit, non-commercial institution, rejected)

8060 HOSPITALS

Saint Marys Hospital 260 NLRB No. 175

(Bd asserted juridiction over non profit religious hospital in keeping with intent of Congress)

St. Elizabeth Community Hospital 259 NLRB No. 156

(Bd asserted juridiction over Catholic Hospital because 1974 Health Care Amendments extended Bd juridiction to hospitals and legislative history clearly shows that Congress did not exclude religiously operated hospitals from coverage; moreover, Bd regulation of hospital will not involve it in excessive entanglement in religion for primary purpose of hospital is health care and not sectarian teaching as found in Catholic Bishop of Chicago and right of Ees to be represented by collective-bargaining representative will not interfere with free exercise of religion or tend to establish a religion)

Bon Secours Hospital, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 019

(1974 health care amendments show intent of Congress that Ees of religiously operated hospitals, unlike schools, are covered as it specifically refused to exclude such hospitals from coverage under Act; therefore assertion of juridiction proper)

Mid American Health Services, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 109

(legislative history of 1974 health care amendments to Act indicates that Congress intended Act to apply to health care institutions operated by religious institutions thus nursing home run by Seventh Day Adventists comes w/i Bd's juridiction)

Crestline Memorial Hospital Association, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 568 F.2d 243 (C.A. 6, Jan. 1982)

(Bd properly asserted juridiction over private, nonprofit hospital which operates facilities leased from city as municipal general hospital; administrators are not responsible to public officials; moreover fact that all citizens of city as members of corporation and eligible to vote for Board of Directors not determinative where Directors are not responsible by law to citizens since no city or local laws govern formation or operation of hospital but only by corporation's constitution which is subject to change and in addition hospital has full control of labor relations of its Ees)

Truman Medical Center, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 641 F.2d 570 (C.A. 8, Feb 11, 1981)

(ct affd Bd's finding that failure of medical center, a not-for-profit corporation, to abide by U-security provision formerly in effect between medical center and U was unlawful, since, contrary to medical center's contention, it was not a political subdivision of State or a joint E with City, County and University, and Bd's assertion of juridiction was proper)

Board of Trustees of The Memorial Hospital of Fremont County Wyoming, A Political Subdivision of The State of Wyoming v. N.L.R.B. 624 F.2d 177 (C.A. 10, 1980)

(where lease agreement between Trustees, who are exempt from Act, and Hospital provided that Hospital could not engage in collective bargaining Bd does not retain juridiction over Hospital for government subdivision's control over labor relations leaves Hospital unable to engage in meaningful collective bargaining)

8090 HEALTH AND ALLIED SERVICES, NOT ELSEWHERE CLASSIFIED

Michigan Eye Bank 265 NLRB No. 179

(juridiction not asserted over research assistants who worked on eye bank program over which juridiction asserted and which contracted with state university for medical and administrative services, since important labor relations matters including wages, hours, and working conditions of research assistants controlled by university to extent that it would be impossible for parties to engage in meaningful bargaining w/o involving university, which is exempt governmental institution)

Michigan Eye Bank 265 NLRB No. 179

(state university (exempt entity) with which eye bank contracted for medical and administrative services not joint E with eye bank of eye bank technicians and thus juridiction asserted, since university retained no control over wages, hours or other terms and conditions of technicians' employment, notwithstanding most began relationship with eyebank as student assistants at university, where eye bank hired, trained, and set compensation and paid technicians directly from its own accounts rather than indicroctly from funds granted by university)

8090—Cont.

Greater Framingham Mental Health Association, d/b/a Youth Guidance Center 263 NLRB No. 146
(E jurisdiction asserted over E which operated mental health clinic under partnership contract with state who loaned some supervisory and managerial personnel to E who were paid wholly by state and received state pay and benefits, and some bybrid Ees paid partly by state and partly by association, and inspected by state; since E had not ceded control to state where E governed by independent board of directors on which no state officials sit, E had control over all hiring, salaries, evaluation and termination of Ees including hybrid Ees, but excluding state Ees, and standards of supervision set by E)

Madison County Mental Health Center, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 030
(jurisdiction not asserted over county mental health center which operates facilities in county hospital and house owned by private organization, where E was created by county government to fulfill statutory obligation to provide care for mentally retarded and mentally ill persons, funding is 80 percent federal and state, budget is subject to approval and labor relations are generally governed by guidelines adopted by statutory mandated boards composed of members appointed by state agency and county commissioners)

N.L.R.B. v. St. Louis Comprehensive Neighborhood Health Center, Inc. 633 F.2d 1268 (C.A. 8, 1980)
(Bd exercise of jurisdiction over HEW funded non-profit E which provided health services to county residents, held proper where E was not arm of federal or state government nor did its board members serve at pleasure of public officials or general electorate; board of directors of E had primary responsibility for personnel policies, wages and other conditions of employment; limitations placed on E by HEW served to define economic framework for E and U bargaining)

8100 LEGAL SERVICES

Kleinberg, Kaplan, Wolff, Cohen & Burrows, P.C. 253 NLRB No. 054
(Bd declined to reconsider, as urged by E, its decision to assert jurisdiction over law firms, enunciated in Foley, Hoag & Eliot, notwithstanding E's contention of impairment of attorney-client privilege; Bd was not persuaded that Ees of law firm differ from other Ees in a way to justify carving out exception to principle that U membership is not compatible with Ees' duty of loyalty to E, including duty of confidentiality)

Kaplan, Sicking, Hessen, Sugarman, Rosenthal & Zientz (Office and Professional Employees, Local No. 128) 250 NLRB No. 065
(jurisdiction asserted over labor law firm where its gross revenue figures come w/i Bd's expressed discretionary jurisdictional standards for law firms, and there was no sufficient policy reason for Bd to treat labor law firms differently than other law firms)

Kaplan, Sicking, Hessen, Sugarman, Rosenthal & Zientz (Office and Professional Employees, Local No. 128) 250 NLRB No. 065
(jurisdiction asserted over labor law firm with respect to allegation that the firm violated 8(a)(2) by recognizing and bargaining with U which it also represented as client)

8110 LEGAL SERVICES

Wayne County Neighborhood Legal Services, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 180
(legal services organization established and funded by Congress and providing legal services to qualified indigent persons held subject to Bd's discretionary standard, where it had gross annual revenues in excess of $2,000,000 and made purchases out of state in excess of $18,000; fact that direct purchases from outside state were less than $50,000 is immaterial)

Montgomery County Opportunity Board, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 103
(jurisdiction asserted over nonprofit community action service corporation providing Head Start preschooling, legal and housing services and summer camping under Federal agency since it met commerce standards and had sufficient control of employment conditions to bargain with its Ees' representative, where w/i agency guidelines it hired, discharged, promoted and determined wages and working conditons of its Ees and was not their joint E with Federal agency)

Clark & Hinojosa, Attorneys at Law, A Professional Corporation 247 NLRB No. 089
(legal statutory jurisdiction asserted over professional corporation providing legal services where firm's direct out-of-state purchases together with its indirect purchases in commerce would reach $7,500. minimally when projected for 12 month period)

8200 EDUCATIONAL SERVICES

8210 ELEMENTARY AND SECONDARY SCHOOLS

Wordsworth Academy 263 NLRB No. 042
(jurisdiction asserted over private school participating in State educational plan for children with learning disabilities, where E was not exempt as political subdivision or adjunct to public school system, and E retained sufficient control over Ees' employment conditions to enable it to bargain with U; minimum State standards affecting E's employment of Ees decisions did not distinguish E from other schools in State; State considerations of teacher qualifications and E's salary expenditures did not require E to take any action; and State played no role in E's firing, discipline, promotions, resolving grievances, or setting day-to-day working conditions)

The German School Society, Washington, D.C., d/b/a The German School of Washington, D.C. 260 NLRB No. 169
(jurisdiction asserted over E operating private, nonprofit school having relationship with foreign government, where schools total gross receipts were in excess of $1 million dollars, and it received gross revenues in excess of $50,000 from outside state; and E is not w/i terms of any exclusions contained in Sec. 2(2) of Act)

The German School Society, Washington, D.C., d/b/a The German School of Washington, D.C. 260 NLRB No. 169
(jurisdiction asserted over E operating private, nonprofit school having relationship with foreign government, where E conceded it can engage in meaningful bargaining w/o restriction by foreign government over wages and conditions of employment of locally hired Ees and teachers; and E is able to bargain about various aspects of employment of teachers, who are civil servants of foreign government assigned by it to teach at school, apart from salary schedules, fringe benefits, and other working conditions set by foreign government)

The German School Society, Washington, D.C., d/b/a The German School of Washington, D.C. 260 NLRB No. 169
(in asserting jurisdiction over E operating private, nonprofit school having relationship with foreign government, Bd rejected E's contention that foreign government and not E is E of assigned teachers at school who are civil servants of foreign government; even apart from various controls exercised over assigned teachers by E, such teachers had obtained leaves of absence from foreign government which cautioned them that they were in employ of E and not foreign government; and such employment relationship was confirmed by documents from foreign government)

The German School Society, Washington, D.C., d/b/a The German School of Washington, D.C. 260 NLRB No. 169
(Bd rejected E's contention that, even assuming Bd has statutory jurisdiction over E operating private, nonprofit school, it should exercise its discretion and not assert jurisdiction because E is substantially controlled by foreign government; E is not an agency or instrumentality of foreign government, but rather is an unincorporated voluntary association; school operates like other nonprofit schools, complies with federal and state laws, and is operated by school society membership and board which hires and fires Ees who are Ees of E and not of foreign government)

The German School Society, Washington, D.C., d/b/a The German School of Washington, D.C. 260 NLRB No. 169
(fact that E, who operates private, nonprofit school, has relationship to foreign government which may place E under handicaps or even substantial hardship in bargaining held no reason for Bd to refuse jurisdiction)

The German School Society, Washington, D.C., d/b/a The German School of Washington, D.C. 260 NLRB No. 169
(fact that teachers assigned by foreign government to teach at E's private, nonprofit school were admitted to this country under A-2 visas, which E contends are granted only to representatives of foreign government temporarily admitted to perform official duties, held not to establish that E, w/i meaning of Sec. 2(2) of Act, is foreign government, where A-2 visas specifically state that such individuals are admitted in order to perform pedagogical duties for E; and, their immigration status does not alter fact that they, as Ees in this country, are entitled to protection of Act)

The German School Society, Washington, D.C., d/b/a The German School of Washington, D.C. 260 NLRB No. 169
(in asserting jurisdiction over E operating private, nonprofit school having relationship with foreign government, Bd gave little weight to E's reliance on its assertion that Bd should not assert jurisdiction because no federal income taxes are paid by teachers assigned by foreign government to teach at E's school; Bd declined to speculate as to reasons why such taxes are not withheld or paid, and Bd was unwilling to ascribe any probative value to evidence on issue absent any official interpretation from IRS)

The New York Institute For The Education of the Blind 284 NLRB No. 085
(jurisdiction declined over educational and residential care facility for blind and blind-multiply handicapped children, since it is agent and administrative arm of state in view of 150 year history of serving state in providing state residents with facility for handicapped, Institute established by State statute, State commissioner of education has full power to appoint students, requires annual budget be submitted and state audit procedures)

8210—Cont.

The Kreis School Foundation, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 187

(jurisdiction asserted over institution providing special education to children with physical or mental disabilities, notwithstanding E's contention that federal district ct decision supported its argument that institution was exempt adjunct of state public school system, since Bd in prior decision had asserted jurisdiction over same institution and jurisdictional standard in district court case — whether defendent acted under color of state law — is based on entirely different considerations than is Bd's jurisdiction standards)

St. Joseph's High School 248 NLRB No. 123

(Bd reversed its assertion of jurisdiction over Catholic School in view of intervening Supreme Ct decision NLRB v. Catholic Bishop of Chicago)

Cardinal Timonthy Manning, Roman Catholic Archbishop of the Archdiocese of Los Angeles, A Corporation Sole; et al. 247 NLRB No. 121

(on remand to reconsider in light of Supreme Ct's decision in NLRB v. Catholic Bishop of Chicago, Bd refused to assert jurisdiction over parochial high schools operated by Catholic Church and dismissed compiaint)

N.L.R.B. v. Lay Faculty Association, Local 1261 623 F.2d 818 (C.A. 2, 1980)

(ct rejected Bd's claim to jurisdiction over Catholic high school notwithstanding title and responsibility for operating school visited in lay board, since it is suffusion of religion into curriculum and mandate of faculty to infuse students with religious creed which create conflict with Religion Clauses, not vesting of title, and Bd could not avoid becoming entangle with religious mission of school in setting of mandatory collective bargaining)

8220 COLLEGES, UNIVERSITIES, PROFESSIONAL SCHOOLS, AND JUNIOR COLLEGES

N.L.R.B. v. Yeshiva University 440 U.S. 906 (U.S. SCt, Feb 20, 1980)

(faculty at university exercised managerial authority by virtue of their authority in academic matters being absolute; they decided what courses will be offered, when they will be scheduled, to whom they will be taught to, teaching methods, grading policies, class sizes, and matriculation standards; furthermore, while these decisions required use of independent professional judgment it does not take decision makers out of managerial status)

N.L.R.B. v. Yeshiva University 440 U.S. 906 (U.S. SCt, Feb 20, 1980)

(faculty at university held to be managerial, not professional, Ees and outside jurisdiction of Bd)

Lewis University 265 NLRB No. 157

(jurisdiction asserted over university which was initially established as high school through efforts of Catholic laypersons and Archdiocese, and eventually operated as university run by religious teaching order which finally transferred operation over to board of trustees, since university was not church-operated as contempiated by Catholic Bishop, in view of fact that Diocese neither exercised administrative or secular control over university nor owned land or property used by school nor performed services for it; Bd found no significant risk of constitutionally impermissible entanglement between church and state by its assertion of jurisdiction)

Michigan Eye Bank 265 NLRB No. 179

(jurisdiction not asserted over research assistants who worked on eye bank program over which jurisdiction asserted and which contracted with state university for medical and administrative services, since important labor relations matters including wages, hours, and working conditions of research assistants controlled by university to extent that it would be impossible for parties to engage in meaningful bargaining w/o involving university, which is exempt governmental institution)

Michigan Eye Bank 265 NLRB No. 179

(state university (exempt entity) with which eye bank contracted for medical and administrative services not joint E with eye bank of eye bank technicians and thus jurisdiction asserted, since university retained no control over wages, hours or other terms and conditions of technicians' employment, notiwthstanding most began relationship with eyebank as student assistants at university, where eye bank hired; trained, and set compensation and paid technicians directly from its own accounts rather then indicrectly from funds granted by university)

Duquesne University of The Holy Ghost 261 NLRB No. 085

(Bd not precluded from asserting jurisdiction under Catholic Bishop of Chicago over law school controlled by Catholic Church since Bd in Barber-Scotia College Inc. held Catholic Bishop precluded assertion of jurisdiction only over church controlled elementary and secondary schools)

Thiel College 261 NLRB No. 084

(jurisdiction asserted over church owned college since under SCt decision in Tilton v. Richardson and Bd's decision Barber-Scotia College, contrary to secondary schools in Catholic Bishop of Chicago, purpose of college is primarily providing secular education rather than religious indocrination. Herein, college's constitution provided that its purpose is to train young people for various vocations and professions; no requirement that students take religious courses or engage in worship; teachers and students need not belong to faith that owns college)

8230 LIBRARIES AND INFORMATION CENTERS

Jervis Public Library Association, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 145

(jurisdiction declined over public library because it is an administrative arm of state in providing educational services to public as evidenced by a city and the State exercising significant control over E's expenditures by reason of required submission of its armed budget to each prior to funding approval with right to modify budget vested in these governmental authorities and E's Ees participate in State retirement system and city's health plan)

8290 SCHOOLS AND EDUCATIONAL SERVICES, NOT ELSEWHERE CLASSIFIED

San Diego County Association For The Retarded 259 NLRB No. 136

(jurisdiction asserted over non-profit E engaged in educating and training mentally retarded children and adults where during past calendar year, E received gross revenues in excess of $250,000 and $5000 in grants from U.S. Department of Labor for its operations as well as purchasing and receiving $5000 in goods and products from outside State)

Montgomery County Opportunity Board, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 103

(jurisdiction asserted over nonprofit community action service corporation providing Head Start preschooling, legal and housing services and summer camping under Federal agency since it met commerce standards and had sufficient control of employment conditions to bargain with its Ees' representative, where w/i agency guidelines it hired, discharged, promoted and determined wages and working conditons of its Ees and was not their joint E with Federal agency)

Golden Day Schools, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 644 F.2d 834 (C.A. 9, May 8, 1981)

(Bd's determination, that E met $250,000 standard for exercising jurisdiction over day-care center rather than $1,000,000 standard for educational institutions will not be set aside in the absence of extraordinary circumstances, such as unjust discrimination)

8300 SOCIAL SERVICES

8330 JOB TRAINING AND VOCATIONAL REHABILITATION SERVICES

Teledyne Economic Development Co. 265 NLRB No. 153

(jurisdiction asserted over E operating job corps center under contract with Department of Labor, where E recruits and hires staff, develops and maintains personnel management policies, maintains grievance procedure in which E has final decision, and remains responsible for hiring, firing, promotions, transfers, demotions, and other terms and conditions of employment subject only to broad outlines of DOL contract; E has broad discretion and control over day-to-day labor relations policies and practices, and fact that DOL retains final right of approval for bargaining agreement does not excuse E from duty to bargain)

Management and Training Corporation 265 NLRB No. 143

(jurisdiction asserted over corporation operating job corps center under contract with Department of Labor in view of E's control over Ees and their wages, hours, and conditions of employment; E's lack of hiring authority for higher salaried Ees w/o DOL approval was not determinative of its authority to bargain with U nor was the degree of its contact with DOL in operating the center, since the issue was not DOL's means of assuring contract compliance but E's controlling labor relations sufficiently to enable it to bargain)

Management Training Corporation (Formerly Thiokol Corporation) 261 NLRB No. 013

(Bd will assert jurisdiction over job corps training centers operated for U.S. Department of Labor. See The Singer Company, 240 NLRB 965)

Montgomery County Opportunity Board, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 103

(jurisdiction asserted over nonprofit community action service corporation providing Head Start preschooling, legal and housing services and summer camping under Federal agency since it met commerce standards and had sufficient control of employment conditions to bargain with its Ees' representative, where w/i agency guidelines it hired, discharged, promoted and determined wages and working conditons of its Ees and was not their joint E with Federal agency)

Cincinnati Association For The Blind v. N.L.R.B. 672 F.2d 567 (C.A. 6, Mar. 1982)

(Bd's assertion of jurisdiction over nonprofit corporation employing visually handicapped, not abuse of discretion in absence of evidence of Congressional intent as to NLRA coverage of sheltered workshops and in view of statute's broad, unequivocal language and Bd's practice of case by case determination; Bd here determined corporation's relationship to workers was more economic than therapeutic in view of long-term employment and acquisition of skills for corporation's production)

8330—Cont.

8350 CHILD DAY CARE SERVICES

Rebecca Blaylock Nursery School, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 195

(although ptn for Advisory Opinion was not proper procedure for reconsideration by Bd of its standard for day care centers, Bd determined that it would not reconsider at this time its $250,000 jurisdictional standard)

Aid For The Retarded, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 106

(Bd asserted jurisdiction over no profit corporation which provided rehabilitation, training, educational services to mentally retarded children and adults where E received revenues totaling more than $250,000, rendered more than $140,000 in services to corporations engaged in interstate commerce and purchased more than $50,000 in supplies directly and indirectly from out-of-state suppliers)

The Krebs School Foundation, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 187

(jurisdiction asserted over institution providing special education to children with physical or mental disabilities, notwithstanding E's contention that federal district ct decision supported its argument that institution was exempt adjunct of state public school system, since Bd in prior decision had asserted jurisdiction over same institution and jurisdictional standard in district court case — whether defendent acted under color of state law — is based on entirely different considerations than is Bd's jurisdiction standards)

The Salvation Army of Massachusetts Dorchester Day Care Center 247 NLRB No. 062

(objection to Bd's assertion of jurisdiction over day care center overruled since principles of Catholic Bishop of Chicago do not preclude assertion of jurisdiction inasmuch as Bd has held that day care centers are primarily concerned with custodial care of children, and only secondarily concerned with education)

Golden Day Schools, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 644 F.2d 834 (C.A. 9, May 8, 1981)

(prior cases to contrary, test for whether proprietary child-care facility is subject to Bd's jurisdiction is whether E has sufficient control over employment conditions of its Ees to enable it to bargain with labor organization which represents them)

Golden Day Schools, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 644 F.2d 834 (C.A. 9, May 8, 1981)

(Bd's determination, that E met $250,000 standard for exercising jurisdiction over day-care center rather than $1,000,000 standard for educational institutions will not be set aside in the absence of extraordinary circumstances, such as unjust discrimination)

8360 RESIDENTIAL CARE

Target, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 101

(jurisdiction declined over nonprofit corporation providing residential mental health care and vacational day care for mentally retarded adults as it shares with State exemption under Sec. 2(2) in view of state's retention of substantial control over Ees' wages, benefits, hiring and working conditions through funding budget reviews, and close monitoring of E's operations; contract in which salaries, client/staff ratio, client selection and treatment, etc., are specified, must conform to court consent decree to which State is bound)

N.L.R.B. v. St. Louis Christian Home 663 F.2d 60 (C.A. 8, Nov. 1981)

(Bd properly asserted jurisdiction over Christian Children's Home operated by Christian Church Disciples of Christ where activities of Home relate only tangentially to religious mission of Christian Church and any inquiry into operation of Home should not intrude on any activity substantially religious in character as Home operates as seculor child care institution, unlike in Cathlic Bishop of Chicago 440 U.S. 501, and voluntarily accepts state regulation and governmental moneys)

8390 SOCIAL SERVICES, NOT ELSEWHERE CLASSIFIED

Keyway, A Division of Phase Inc. 263 NLRB No. 172

(jurisdiction asserted over nonprofit E providing service involving prevention and treatment of drug abuse, alchoholism and domestic violence. E's revenues last year were $482,597, of which, $299,322 were derived from Federal sources. This satisfies Bd's discretionary jurisdictional standard of $250,000 in gross revenues for health care institutions and legal jurisdiction need not be established by proof of direct or indirect inflow of goods or services where record establishes that greatest portion of E's revenues derive from Federal sources under nationally administered programs. Transfer of succh funds across state lines constitute commerce)

Catholic Community Services 254 NLRB No. 090

(jurisdiction asserted over E for same reasons Bd asserted jurisdiction over some E in Catholic Community Services, 247 NLRB NO. 103)

Harborcreek School for Boys 249 NLRB No. 177

(jurisdiction asserted over agency engaged in care and rehabilitation of socially and emotionally disturbed boys, which agency was founded, owned and controlled by Catholic Diocese; record showed that none of E's professional and support staff were required to have any particular religious background or that any Ee was directly or indirectly involved in teaching religious philosophy; school's operating income received from various governmental agencies; exercise of jurisdiction not violative of religion clause of first amendment to Constitution)

Catholic Community Services 247 NLRB No. 103

(jurisdiction asserted over nonprofit corporation providing health, social and related services; exercise of jurisdiction not violative of first amendment of Constitution since purpose of E was not promulgation of Roman Catholic faith but providing of social services on nondenominational basis)

8400 MUSEUMS, ART GALLERIES, BOTANICAL AND ZOOLOGICAL GARDENS

8410 MUSEUMS AND ART GALLERIES

Museum Associates d/b/a Los Angeles County Museum of Art v. N.L.R.B. 688 F.2d 1278 (C.A. 9, Sept. 1982)

(ct affd Bd order to bargain where ct could not find that Bd had no foundation in evidence for its determination that Art Museum had sufficient control over labor relations to allow for meaningful bargaining to warrant exercising jurisdiction under Act nor could ct say that Bd acted contrary to law; E's contention that it was exempt from Act because it was substantially controlled by county so it could neither bargain meaningfully nor implement effectively contract with U rejected; however, ct noted that if county takes over funding for unit Ees as contended, E would be free to reapply to Bd)

8420 ARBORETA, BOTANICAL AND ZOOLOGICAL GARDENS

Wave Hill, Inc. (District Council 37, AFSCME, AFL-CIO) 248 NLRB No. 149

(AO that Bd would not assert jurisdiction over not-for-profit environmental center which operates (1) aboretum and botanical garden, (2) arts and/or cultural center, and (3) environmental science center for conservation, education, and scientific studies, where E's annual gross revenue did not meet Bd's $1 million standard for assertion of jurisdiction over enterprises such as; E in many ways is similar to an art museum, contributes to cultural and educational values of community and thus acts as adjunct to educational system)

8600 MEMBERSHIP ORGANIZATIONS

8630 LABOR UNIONS AND SIMILAR LABOR ORGANIZATIONS

Louisiana Council No. 17, AFSCME, AFL-CIO 250 NLRB No. 072

(contention of U council, acting in role of E, that Bd should decline jurisdiction when Ees are disciplined for allegedly unprotected participation in internal U politics, rejected, where Ees were treated disparately for engaging in protected activity of attending meeting called by their U for purpose of addressing discharge of fellow Ee by U council)

Furriers Joint Council of New York, UFCW International Union, AFL-CIO JD-(NY)-24-82

(jurisdiction asserted over U-E that, during calendar year, collected and received dues and initiation fees in excess of $100,000 and remitted from its New York facility to its Washington, D.C. facility per capita taxes and dues in excess of $25,000; Bd's jurisdictional rules are more flexible regarding assertion of jurisdiction over Us as Es compared to Es engaged in commercial operations)

8660 RELIGIOUS ORGANIZATIONS

Faith-Center—WHCT Channel 18 261 NLRB No. 011

(Bd declined jurisdiction over non-profit church TV station where, notwithstanding fact that ten percent of station's programing was secular in nature solely to meet programing diversification requirements of F.C.C., station was operated to promote religious objectives of church and its broadcasting was purely religious activity carried on by religious institution or, at very least, constituted activity ancillary to church's religious objectives)

Catholic Community Services 254 NLRB No. 090

(jurisdiction asserted over E for same reasons Bd asserted jurisdiction over some E in Catholic Community Services, 247 NLRB NO. 103)

Tressler Lutheran Home For Children t/a Frostburg Village of Allegany County Nursing Home 254 NLRB No. 015

(jurisdiction asserted over church-operated nursing home; See, e.g. Mid-American Health Services, Inc., 247 NLRB No. 109 (1980), See also Bon Secours Hospital, Inc., 248 NLRB 115 (1980))

World Evangelism, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 117

(jurisdiction asserted over nonprofit corporation controlling network of Evangelical ministries and associated fund-raising programs in its operation of complex of hotel, offices and commercial space in view of its substantial commercial activity related to its religious activity only as source of funds and Ees' performance of work necessarily associated with those commercial activities)

8660—Cont.

Cardinal Timothy Manning, Roman Catholic Archbishop of the Archdiocese of Los Angeles, A Corporation Sole; et al. 247 NLRB No. 121
(on remand to reconsider in light of Supreme Ct's decision in NLRB v. Catholic Bishop of Chicago, Bd refused to assert jurisdiction over parochial high schools operated by Catholic Church and dismissed complaint)

Catholic Community Services 247 NLRB No. 103
(jurisdiction asserted over nonprofit corporation providing health, social and related services; exercise of jurisdiction not violative of first amendment of Constitution since purpose of E was not promulgation of Roman Catholic faith but providing of social services on nondenominational basis)

N.L.R.B. v. St. Louis Christian Home 663 F.2d 60 (C.A. 8, Nov. 1981)
(Bd properly asserted jurisdiction over Christian Children's Home operated by Christian Church Disciples of Christ where activities of Home relate only tangentially to religious mission of Christian Church and any inquiry into operation of Home should not intrude on any activity substantially religious in character as Home operates as seculor child care institution, unlike in Cathlic Bishop of Chicago 440 U.S. 501, and voluntarily accepts state regulation and governmental moneys)

N.L.R.B. v. World Evangelism, Inc. 656 F.2d (C.A. 9, 1981)
(Bd properly assumed jurisdiction over non-profit religious organization where organization's operations were commercial, its gross revenue was well w/i Bd's jurisdictional guidelines, and its unit Ees spent substantial portion of time engaged in commercial activities; limited exception to jurisdiction carved out in NLRB v. Catholic Bishop of Chicago, 440 U.S. 490 not applicable)

8800 PRIVATE HOUSEHOLDS

8900 MISCELLANEOUS SERVICES

9100 EXECUTIVE, LEGISLATIVE, AND GENERAL GOVERNMENT, EXCEPT FINANCE

9200 JUSTICE, PUBLIC ORDER, AND SAFETY

9220 PUBLIC ORDER AND SAFETY

Florence Volunteer Fire Department, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 126
(Bd asserted jurisdiction over E engaged in providing fire protection services, on contract basis for city, notwithstanding E's contention that it shared city's exemption under Sec. 2(2) of Act on grounds that city created E and that E performed municipal function for city, where E was separate entity from city, exercised almost complete autonomy over matters affecting its Ees' terms of employment and working conditions, and was capable of engaging in meaningful bargaining)

9300 PUBLIC FINANCE, TAXATION, AND MONETARY POLICY

9400 ADMINISTRATION OF HUMAN RESOURCES PROGRAMS

9430 ADMINISTRATION OF PUBLIC HEALTH PROGRAMS

Madison County Mental Health Center, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 030
(jurisdiction not asserted over county mental health center which operates facilities in county hospital and house owned by private organization, where E was created by county government to fulfill statutory obligation to provide care for mentally retarded and mentally ill persons, funding is 80 percent federal and state, budget is subject to approval and labor relations are generally governed by guidelines adopted by statutory mandated boards composed of members appointed by state agency and county commissioners)

Community Health and Home Care, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 094
(E providing and administering comprehensive public health nursing and homemaker program to 10-town area in State held agency of towns it serves where E's board of directors is accountable to and appointed by public officials in towns served by the agency and therefore it is a political subdivision and exempt from Bd's jurisdiction)

9500 ADMINISTRATION OF ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY AND HOUSING PROGRAMS

9530 ADMINISTRATION OF HOUSING AND URBAN DEVELOPMENT PROGRAMS

St. Jude Industrial Park Board 265 NLRB No. 087
(jurisdiction asserted over unincorporated entity in business of promoting industrial development for fourth class city (on population basis) where development was both federally and privately funded and which, during 1980, directly purchased goods and supplies exceeding $50,000 from outside state; city had no removal power over members of (industrial) Park Board appointed by private developer; (industrial) Park Board was neither direct creation of state nor was it administered by individuals responsible to public officials or to general electorate, nor did it have any control over budget of Park Board)

St. Jude Industrial Park Board 265 NLRB No. 087
(Bd not barred by Section 14(c)(1) of Act from exercising discretionary jurisdiction over fourth class city's (industrial) Park Board, since Park Board's tenants reimburse city for funds spent on developement programs and city does not exercise any appreciable control over Park's supervision, budget, discipline, grievance procedure, seniority hiring, firing or wages of Ees of Park Board notwithstanding Ees receive their paycheck from City payroll and are covered by City's health, welfare and retirement programs since these costs too are reimbursed by tenants)

9600 ADMINISTRATION OF ECONOMIC PROGRAMS

9700 NATIONAL SECURITY AND INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS

9900 NONCLASSIFIABLE ESTABLISHMENTS

300 INVESTIGATION AND CERTIFICATION OF REPRESENTATIVE

301 GENERALLY

5000 EXISTENCE OF QUESTION OF REPRESENTATION

Catholic Community Service 247 NLRB No. 103

(no QCR where unit sought by petitioner was inappropriate; unit included only some Ees in each of E's five divisions but did not include all of E's facilities or all Ees in any one division; neither petitioner nor E had specified alternate unit; unit Ees did not share community of interest; unit petitioned for was arbitiary grouping of Ees)

Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 1079 (C.A. 4, 1980)

(Sec. 9(c)(1) prohibits ct from ordering Bd to conduct hearing in R case since hearing must be provided only after Bd has reasonable cause to believe qcr exists; since Bd met its statutory obligation by conducting investigation, ct cannot interfere with Bd's evaluation of investigation short of Bd's arbitrary action, and Bd's decision herein to dismiss decertification ptn, whether right or wrong, was not arbitrary)

N.L.R.B. v. General Motors Corporation 510 F.Supp. 338 (DC S.D. OH, Sept. 1980)

(Bd will conduct R election if: (1) involved E's business affects commerce; (2) qcr exists; (3) group of Ees which U seeks to represent is appropriate unit; and (4) petitioner has made sufficient showing of interest to justify holding election)

308 WHO MAY RAISE QUESTION OF REPRESENTATION

0100 GENERALLY

2000 EMPLOYEE OR GROUP OF EMPLOYEES

4000 INDIVIDUAL

6000 LABOR ORGANIZATION

8000 EMPLOYER

8050 WHEN CLAIM TO BE RECOGNIZED HAS BEEN PRESENTED

Albuquerque Insulation Contractor, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 015

(construction contractor's 9(c)(1)(B) election ptn, dismissed, since U's request for lawful 8(f) agreement did not raise qcr inasmuch as it did not request recognition of a representative as defined in section 9(a), as provided in 9(c)(1)(B), which requires majority status; and 9(c)(1)(B), therefore, permits elections on E ptn only when E has been presented with claim of majority status which U did not make herein; nor did U's statements and conduct following E's refusal to sign agreement establish that U's request was tantamount to a majority claim)

Albuquerque Insulation Contractor, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 015

(in dismissing contruction contractor's 9(c)(1)(B) election ptn since U's request for lawful 8(f) agreement did not raise qcr because it was not request for recognition as majority representative, Bd relied on plain language of Act and legislative history; on procedures whereby E may seek election, when U is either signatory to 8(f) agreement or seeks 8(f) recognition, to determine Ees' and U's intentions; and on fact that 9(c)(1)(B) requirement that E may secure election only in face of majority claim was placed in Act to prevent E from precipitating a premature election before U has opportunity to organize)

Albuquerque Insulation Contractor, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 015

(in dismissing E's election ptn since U's request for lawful 8(f) agreement did not raise qcr because it was not request for recognition as majority representative, Bd held U's conduct following E's refusal to sign agreement did not establish that U's request was tantamount to majority claim, where U's declared intention to engage in informational picketing merely indicated U intended to engage in protected activity; whether such activity would have established request for recognition as majority representative is pure speculation, especially since U subsequently stated that it was not going to engage in any picekting)

316 HOW QUESTION OF REPRESENTATION IS RAISED

0100 GENERALLY

3300 DEMAND FOR AND REFUSAL OF RECOGNITION

3301 GENERALLY

3301-5000 Demand to represent employees as accretion to existing unit does not raise question of representation

United Hospitals, Incorporated and The Children's Hospital, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 063
(no qcr raised where U sought to accrete unrepresented group of Ees employed in multi-E association, overwhelming majority of whom were excluded from covered unit, as Bd will not, on piecemeal basis, accrete to that unit unrepresented Ees of Es of multi-E association, and U did not seek to represent Ees in separate unit)

3375 IMPLIED DEMAND

Massachusetts Electric Company (Local Union No. 12007, Steelworkers) 248 NLRB No. 008
(Ees transferred from closed facility to, and co-mingled with similarly situated Ees covered by U contracts at, another of E's facilities, held not accretion to that contract, and qcr found since transferred Ees, although performing functions and duties similar to those performed prior to merger, had been represented previously by Us different from those representing Ees at merged location; transferred Ees continued to be subject of competing representational claims and none of Us involved herein represented overwhelming majority of Ees in units found appropriate)

6700 FILING OF PETITION FOR ELECTION

6701 GENERALLY

6701-3300 Filing of petition as demand for recognition

Piggly Wiggly, Tuscaloosa Division Commodores Point Terminal Corporation 258 NLRB No. 142
(U ptn for certification of representative does not constitute demand for recognition)

6717 ADEQUACY OF PETITION

6717-3300 As to description of representative seeking certification

United Truck and Bus Service Co. 257 NLRB No. 051
(District Council filing on behalf of local files as agent of local)

6717-6700 As to description of unit

Community Tele-Communications, Inc., d/b/a Helena Cable T.V. 249 NLRB No. 065
(U's contention that deauthorization ptn should be dismissed since appropriate unit should include both office Ees and installers and technicians rather than only office Ees as pattern of bargaining has been to include separately certified units under one contract rejected, where no intent to merge two units into single unit as evidenced by reference in supplemental agreement to 2 units)

Catholic Community Services 267 NLRB No. 103
(no QCR where unit sought by petitioner was inappropriate; unit included only some Ees in each of E's five divisions but did not include all of E's facilities or all Ees in any one division; neither petitioner nor E had specified alternate unit; unit Ees did not share community of interest; unit petitioned for was arbitiary grouping of Ees)

6725 PETITION BY EMPLOYER

United States Postal Service 256 NLRB No. 095
(RM ptn is appropriate (1) when E is faced with organizational or recognitonal picketing w/o ptn having been filed under 8(b)(7)(c), (2) E is confronted with demand for exclusive recognition or faced with conflicting R demands in unit alleged as appropriate, or (3) E has good-faith doubt as to U's continued majority support w/i unit it already represents)

United States Postal Service 256 NLRB No. 095
(postal services' RM ptn seeking election in single, national unit, dismissed, since there was no reasonable cause to believe that qcr existed, where no claim was made by any U for recognition in such unit; contention that existing units have never been appropriate because they do not constitute traditional crafts, and have become less appropriate because of U raiding, technological changes, and other factors, rejected, since E may not force U to election in larger unit merely because existing unit may be inappropriate)

United States Postal Service 256 NLRB No. 095
(Bd rejected contention that postal service's RM ptn for single, national unit should be entertained because PRA created special labor-management provisions, of which unit determination is one; PRA text itself and legislative history show that bargaining in postal service should be treated like that in case of any other E, except for specifically stated exceptions)

Albuquerque Insulation Contractor, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 015
(construction contractor's 9(c)(1)(B) election ptn, dismissed, since U's request for lawful 8(f) agreement did not raise qcr inasmuch as it did not request recognition of a representative as defined in section 9(a), as provided in 9(c)(1)(B), which requires majority status; and 9(c)(1)(B), therefore, permits elections on E ptn only when E has been presented with claim of majority status which U did not make herein; nor did U's statements and conduct following E's refusal to sign agreement establish that U's request was tantamount to a majority claim)

Albuquerque Insulation Contractor, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 015
(in dismissing contruction contractor's 9(c)(1)(B) election ptn since U's request for lawful 8(f) agreement did not raise qcr because it was not request for recognition as majority representative, Bd relied on plain language of Act and legislative history; on procedures whereby E may seek election, when U is either signatory to 8(f) agreement or seeks 8(f) recognition, to determine Ees' and U's intentions; and on fact that 9(c)(1)(B) requirement that E may secure election only in face of majority claim was placed in Act to prevent E from precipitating a premature election before U has opportunity to organize)

Albuquerque Insulation Contractor, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 015
(in dismissing E's election ptn since U's request for lawful 8(f) agreement did not raise qcr because it was not request for recognition as majority representative, Bd held U's conduct following E's refusal to sign agreement did not establish that U's request was tantamount to majority claim, where U's declared intention to engage in informational picketing merely indicated U intended to engage in protected activity; whether such activity would have established request for recognition as majority representative is pure speculation, especially since U subsequently stated that it was not going to engage in any picekting)

6733 PETITION FOR DECERTIFICATION OF REPRESENTATIVE

Young's Market Company 265 NLRB No. 094
(no qcr raised by decertification ptns which were dismissed as inappropriate because petitioning units were not coextensive with multi-E unit of which they were a part)

324 SHOWING OF INTEREST IN REPRESENTATION

0100 GENERALLY

0150 PURPOSE OF REQUIREMENT TO LIMIT ELECTIONS TO THOSE SITUATIONS WHERE THERE IS ENOUGH INTEREST TO JUSTIFY THEM

N.L.R.B. v. Metro-Truck Body, Inc. 613 F.2d 746 (C.A. 9) (1980)

(Sec. 9(c)(1)(A) substantial interest requirement is not jurisdictional prerequisite to Bd action; rather it is administrative expedient only, adopted to enable Bd to determine for itself whether or not further proceedings and warranted)

N.L.R.B. v. General Motors Corporation 510 F.Supp. 338 (DC S.D. OH, Sept. 1980)

(Bd will conduct R election if: (1) involved E's business affects commerce; (2) qcr exists; (3) group of Ees which U seeks to represent is appropriate unit; and (4) petitioner has made sufficient showing of interest to justify holding election)

0187 SHOWING NOT REQUIRED WHERE EMPLOYEES ARE UNIT ACCRETION

King Radio Corporation 257 NLRB No. 070

(E which granted U recognition, w/o proof of majority status for P&M Ees at one of its plants not covered by previously negotiated contract for its other plant violated Act where plant was not accretion to first bargaining unit; accretion not found for following reasons: (1) plant was in operation prior to time E recognized U at other plant, and (2) unit always excluded from coverage because U did not present proof of card majority)

2000 INTEREST SHOWING AS NONLITIGABLE ADMINISTRATIVE MATTER

2033 WHERE REQUIREMENT IS BOARD POLICY

N.L.R.B. v. Metro-Truck Body, Inc. 613 F.2d 746 (C.A. 9) (1980)

(no need to litigate U support at initial ptn stage)

4000 EXTENT OF INTEREST REQUIRED

4020 BY PETITIONER

4020-1400 Designation by at least 30 percent of employees required for showing of interest (R&R 101.18(a))

N.L.R.B. v. Klinger Electric Corporation, Klinger Electronics Division and Klinger Manufacturing Division 686 F.2d 76 (C.A. 5, 1981)

(objection that leadpersons signed and solicited U authorization cards, thereby tainting showing of interest overruled, even assuming leadpersons were supervisors as alleged, since U's showing of interest was sufficient to warrant processing ptn for election even if all such cards were excluded)

4020-2100 Showing where union merger or affiliation occurred

Monmouth Medical Center 247 NLRB No. 075

(second election ordered; contention of E that after first election held U voted to affiliate with another U, therefore, new showing of interest required, rejected, since no showing of interest required, rejected, since no showing of schism which would lead to confusion among voters as to organization designated to represent them; further Ees have indicated through original showing of interest an underlying intent of desire to have election and election will afford Ees opportunity to also vote on affiliation)

4020-4260 Where Board directed unit different from that sought by petitioner

ECM, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 141

(where unit found appropriate was substantially different from that requested, petitioner accorded period of 10 days to submit requisite showing of interest to support election)

4020-4267 Petitioner's showing must be adequate before election held

The Folger Coffee Company 250 NLRB No. 001

(petitioner accorded 10 days from date of instant Decision on Review in which to submit requisite showing of interest to support election, since voting group found appropriate in instant case was larger than unit requested)

Propane Transport, Inc. and Propane Chemical Leasing Co., Inc. 247 NLRB No. 131

(where record, on review of RD's decision, was unclear as to whether petitioner had made sufficient showing of interest for unit of E's truckdrivers expanded to include owner-operators and non-owner drivers of trucks leased to E, petitioner accorded period of 10 days in which to submit requisite showing interest to support instant election)

4060 DEAUTHORIZATION PETITIONER

4060-2500 Cannot be supervisor

Community Tele-Communications, Inc., d/b/a Helena Cable T.V. 249 NLRB No. 085

(U's contention that individual was supervisor and therefore ineligible to file deauthorization ptn, rejected, since petitioner was held Ee)

4080 RERUN ELECTIONS

4080-3300 New showing not required

Monmouth Medical Center 247 NLRB No. 075

(second election ordered; contention of E that after first election held U voted to affiliate with another U, therefore, new showing of interest required, rejected, since no showing of interest required, rejected, since no showing of schism which would lead to confusion among voters as to organization designated to represent them; further Ees have indicated through original showing of interest an underlying intent of desire to have election and election will afford Ees opportunity to also vote on affiliation)

6000 TIME FOR SUBMISSION OF SHOWING OF INTEREST

6033 BY PETITIONER

6033-3300 Showing need not be submitted with petition

The Folger Coffee Company 250 NLRB No. 001

(petitioner accorded 10 days from date of instant Decision on Review in which to submit requisite showing of interest to support election, since voting group found appropriate in instant case was larger than unit requested)

8000 VALIDITY OF SHOWING

8001 GENERALLY

N.L.R.B. v. Keystone Pretzel Bakery, Inc. 674 F.2d 197 (C.A. 3, Apr. 1982)

(substantial evidence supported ALJ's conclusion that cards were invalid, and Bd's determination to contrary could not stand, where U agent told Ees he solicited that purpose of card was to get federal election into plant for purpose of negotiating contract and Ees were unaware of any differences between what they were told and what was on card)

N.L.R.B. v. Hitchiner Manufacturing Company 634 F.2d 1110 (C.A. 8, 1980)

(validity of signed authorization cards upheld notwithstanding contention Ees advised that cards needed to secure election and, therefore, did not indicate support for U, since card stated that Ee authorizes U to represent him in collective bargaining and so card presumptively counts as indicating support of U absent misrepresentation to signer to disregard language above his signature)

8025 AUTHENTICITY OF AUTHORIZATION

8025-1700 Must be showing of interest in representation, not merely election

Warehouse Groceries Management, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 021

(Ee's card found valid in view of card's unambiguous language in designating U as signer's representative and Ee organizer made no statement that cancelled card's language)

B-P Custom Building Products, Inc.; and Thomas R. Peck Mfg. 251 NLRB No. 179

(U cards counted toward majority determination where Ees filled in, dated, signed and turned over cards to organizers after detailed explanation of meaning of cards was made both in English and Spanish, and after they were afforded opportunity to read cards before signing them)

8025-3300 Solicitation by supervisor

Wehrenberg Theatres, Inc. d/b/a Melba Theatre and Skyvue Drive-In 260 NLRB No. 001

(supervisor's asking Ee to sign U card did not taint cards as supervisor and son also signed cards and Ees had no cause to believe that supervisor would retaliate; therefore Ees were not deprived of their free choice in selecting bargaining representative)

8025-5000 Authorizations to different unions

N.L.R.B. v. Unit Train Coal Sales, Inc. 636 F.2d 1121 (C.A. 6, 1980)

(E's recognition of U not violative since U was validly designated as majority representative of the six unit Ees, of whom five had signed authorization cards for the U, nowithstanding contention that two of such five Ees had signed cards for another U while employed by E's predecessor, where dual card signers implicitly demonstrated repudiation of first cards by individually participating along with other members of unit in negotiating and signing agreement between E and U)

8025-7500 Revoked authorizations

8025-7550 Employer engaged in ULP

Air Products and Chemicals, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 045

(Ee ptn which indicated that Ees withdrew their support from U and withdrew their applications for membership not valid proof that U no longer enjoyed valid support where it was prepared two weeks after U requested recognition and well after E had embarked upon course of serious ULPs)

Warehouse Groceries Management, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 021

(Ee's attempt to revoke authorization card found ineffective since E was already engaged in coercive conduct designed to undermine U support which raises presumption that revocation resulted from E's unlawful conduct)

8050 CURRENCY OF SHOWING

8050-2000 Stale showing

Tipton Electric Company and Professional Furniture Company v. N.L.R.B. 621 F.2d 890 (C.A. 8, 1980)

(authorization cards not stale where elapsed time was about five months from date first card was signed in September, 1976, until ptn that resulted in election; request for recognition was made in November)

8075 DESIGNATION OF REPRESENTATIVE

8075-3300 Designation other than of petitioner

8075-3320 Of parent international

Checker Cab Company of Virginia, Inc., d/b/a Avis Rent-A-Car 260 NLRB No. 119

CAM Industries, Inc. (Millmen-Industrial Carpenters Local 262) 251 NLRB No. 004

(E's refusal to bargain with U after card check established majority status violative notwithstanding authorization cards designated only International, for Bd has long held that such card serves as valid designation of affiliate when there was no confusion as to identity of potential representative in minds of signers)

8075-3380 Of predecessor union

Warehouse Groceries Management, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 021

(if ALJ finds card majority on remand, bargaining order may issue to successor U formed by merger of U designated on authorization cards with another U, since designated U continued to exist as evidenced by successor U's retention of some offices, all property rights and assumption of all assets and liabilities, including contract obligations)

Monmouth Medical Center 247 NLRB No. 075

(second election ordered; contention of E that after first election held U voted to affiliate with another U, therefore, new showing of interest required, rejected, since no showing of interest required, rejected, since no showing of schism which would lead to confusion among voters as to organization designated to represent them; further Ees have indicated through original showing of interest an underlying intent of desire to have election and election will afford Ees opportunity to also vote on affiliation)

332 DISCLAIMER OF INTEREST IN BEING REPRESENTATIVE

0100 GENERALLY

2500 IN PROCEEDINGS INITIATED BY EMPLOYER

2540 RESULT OF EFFECTIVE DISCLAIMER

2540-1700 Dismissal of petition in absence of question of representation

Fenetrol, Inc., A Subsidiary of Yonkers Plate Glass Co. 251 NLRB No. 113

(petitioner's request to withdraw R ptn granted in view of fact neither petitioner nor intervenor currently has interest in representing Ees)

2540-3300 Revocation of certification where union certified

Mount Vernon College 254 NLRB No. 017

(pursuant to E's notification to GC, following ct's enforcement of Bd's bargaining order, that U disclaimed interest, and request that Bd delete name of U from D/O and revoke U's certification, and upon GC's mtn to amend Bd's order accordingly, Bd deleted name of U, requiring instead that E bargain with any duly certified U, and revoked U's certification in view of U's disclaimer of interest)

2540-9000 Removal of contract as bar

N.L.R.B. v. Circle A & W Products Company 647 F.2d 924 (C.A. 9, June 1981)

(ct agreed with position of E, who had refused to bargain following U's disclaimer of representation in unit, with newly elected U on contract bar grounds, claiming that Ees are not free to avoid contract by electing new bargaining representative for any reason; ct recognized inconsistency in Bd's prior cases with later case in which, due to dispute over U security clause, as here, Bd required E to bargain, thereby rejecting E's defense based on contract bar rule w/o explicitly recognizing important policy of protecting E by preserving stability of bargaining agreement)

2540-6700 Disclaimer after decision directing election

Fenetrol, Inc., A Subsidiary of Yonkers Plate Glass Co. 251 NLRB No. 113

(petitioner's request to withdraw R ptn granted in view of fact neither petitioner nor intervenor currently has interest in representing Ees)

5000 WITHDRAWAL BY PETITIONING UNION OR INTERVENOR

5012 DISCLAIMER OF INTEREST BY INCUMBENT UNION

William Moses, Estate of Bella Moses 247 NLRB No. 20

(intervening incumbent U's disclaimer of interest in unit petitioned for by outside U held untimely and ineffective attempt to withdraw from multi-E bargaining unit, where intervenor had been bargaining representative of Ees for many years, it continued to represent them for 3 years after seeking to sever relationship with E, and it participated in recent contract negotiations for 6 months before announcing its disclaimer at time agreement was reached on virtually all issues)

William Moses, Estate of Bella Moses 247 NLRB No. 20

(intervening incumbent U's attempted disclaimer of interest in representing Ees in unit petitioned-for by outside U, disallowed where disruptive of stable multi-E bargaining relationship; Bd's concern for stability in multi-E bargaining relationship not diminished merely because attempted disclaimer would remove intervenor from further bargaining; multi-E association had reason to believe negotiations with intervenor would reach fruition and existing bargaining relationship would endure; and if disclaimer were allowed intervenor would be reshaping composition of unit)

5075 RESULT OF EFFECTIVE WITHDRAWAL OR DISCLAIMER

5075-7500 After election but before certification

The Hartz Mountain Corporation 260 NLRB No. 055

(disclaimer of interest by U receiving majority of votes in contested election found unconditional where U did not contest objections to election filed by other participating U concerning conduct of disclaiming U, disclaiming U was previously found to have been assisted by E, disclaimer extended both to petitions filed and to its intervention in proceeding on petition of other U, and disclaiming U engaged in no actions inconsistent with its disclaimer; accordingly election declared nullity and case remanded to RD for purpose of holding another election so that Ees can vote for or against remaining parties)

7500 DISCLAIMER IN DECERTIFICATION PROCEEDINGS

339 WHO MAY ACT AS REPRESENTATIVE

0100 GENERALLY

2500 LABOR ORGANIZATIONS

2512 LOCAL UNION

United Truck and Bus Service Co. 257 NLRB No. 051

(mtn to dismiss R-ptn granted where Bd found that local Union was not labor organization w/i meaning of Act due to requirement, in its constitution that members must be Ees of public Es; therefore, since public Es are not Es as defined in Sec. 2(2) of Act and that Ees of such Es are not Ees as defined in Sec. 2(3) of Act, Local does not exist for purpose of dealing with Es as defined in Act)

Westinghouse Electric Corporation JD-(ATL)-88-81

(under multi plant contract signed by local)

2525 INTERNATIONAL UNION

French Hospital Medical Center 254 NLRB No. 083

(E's contention that petitioner Local U is not labor organization and that International is petitioner since Local is a sham because it depends on International for its financial existence, rejected, while petitioner does not yet represent anyone and consequently receives no dues, it was formed to represent health care professionals with respect to wages, hours and other conditions of employment, has staff and issues newsletter; however, ptn was amended to reflect petitioner's association with International)

2582 JOINT REPRESENTATIVES

Yates Industries, Inc., California Division 264 NLRB No. 161

(where international was certified bargaining representative and local signed bargaining agreement, international never relinquished its status as representative, and both local and international have participated as joint representatives of Ees, both held joint representatives)

Yates Industries, Inc., California Division 264 NLRB No. 161

(E entering into new agreement with recognition of new local as sole representative during existing terms of contract, violative, where international (the certified representative) and local (U that executed contract) were joint representatives, notwithstanding local disaffiliated itself from international since international never relinquished its status, no amendment made to certification, no schism, old local not defunct; therefore contract act as bar to attempt midterm modification of bargaining representative in contract)

5000 INDIVIDUALS

7500 DISQUALIFICATION AS REPRESENTATIVE

7501 GENERALLY

EMR Photoelectric, A Division of Sangamo Weston Inc. 251 NLRB No. 214

(E's contention that no bargaining order should be issued because of U representative's misconduct during U organizing campaign, rejected, since U is not thereby disqualified from representing E's Ees inasmuch as issue herein is whether E should be ordered to bargain with U, not with U representative who may no longer be associated with U, or may not be U representative for bargaining with E)

7525 CHARACTER OF REPRESENTATIVE

7525-6700 Representative limited by charter or bylaws to membership eligibility or purpose

United Truck and Bus Service Co. 257 NLRB No. 051

(mtn to dismiss R-ptn granted where Bd found that local Union was not labor organization w/i meaning of Act due to requirement, in its constitution that members must be Ees of public Es; therefore, since public Es are not Es as defined in Sec. 2(2) of Act and that Ees of such Es are not Ees as defined in Sec. 2(3) of Act, Local does not exist for purpose of dealing with Es as defined in Act)

7525-8300 Representative practices or bias policy of sex, race, creed or age discrimination

Memphis Furniture Manufacturing Co. 259 NLRB No. 061

(Intervenor's contention that Petitioner, if certified, is unlikely to represent black Ees fairly and equally, w/o merit, since Bd does not consider contention of that sort before certification; if certification is abused by certified representative by failing to represent all unit Ees fairly, Bd will then consider mtn to revoke certification)

Colonial Manor 1977, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 151

(E's allegations that U has engaged in and is engaging in prohibited discrimination on basis of race and sex held inappropriately raised as defense in 8(a)(5) summary judgment proceeding for reasons set forth in Handy Andy and similar cases)

7550 DOMINATION OR ASSISTANCE BY EMPLOYER

7550-5000 Participation of supervisors in union affairs

French Hospital Medical Center 254 NLRB No. 083

(E's contention that intervenor nurses association was disqualified from representing its Ees since conflict of interests existed where supervisors at other health care related institutions were on association's board of directors and one of its members was employed as supervisor by E particularly where individuals employed by institutions that were E's competitors in recruiting nurses, rejected, absent evidence supervisors employed by other institutions could influence bargaining relationship between E and intervenor to impermissable degree)

Rockford Memorial Association d/b/a Rockford Memorial Hospital 247 NLRB No. 051

(contention U disqualified from representing Ees because of presence of supervisors in internal organization of International, rejected, absent evidence E's supervisors or these of third parties directly participated in or influenced U's bargaining process where all bargaining agreements negotiated by local committee composed of only bargaining unit personnel w/o interference, or requirement of approval by International's Bd of Directors)

7562 FRONTING FOR ANOTHER LABOR ORGANIZATION

French Hospital Medical Center 254 NLRB No. 083

(E's contention that petitioner Local U is not labor organization and that International is petitioner since Local is a sham because it depends on International for its financial existence, rejected, while petitioner does not yet represent anyone and consequently receives no dues, it was formed to represent health care professionals with respect to wages, hours and other conditions of employment, has staff and issues newsletter; however, ptn was amended to reflect petitioner's association with International)

Magic Pan, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 627 F.2d 105 (C.A. 7, 1980)

(international U not acting as front for local U of different international U; local was not substitute for international but was international's agent for handling matters concerning election, processes, ULPs, collective bargaining and contract enforcement; E, presented no evidence that international U intended to cede its certification to local or to abandon its bargaining rights)

7575 CONFLICT OF INTERESTS OF REPRESENTATIVE

7575-2500 Arising from relationship to employees

French Hospital Medical Center 254 NLRB No. 083

(E's contention that petitioner should be disqualified from representing E's registered nurses since another Local U of same International represented E's nursing attendants and licensed vocational nurses and under state law registered nurses responsible for insuring that nursing attendants and LVNs perform their duties and thus loyalty of registered nurses would be torn between their professional responsibility and reluctance to counsel member of another local because of U sympathy or fear of retribution, rejected as pure conjecture)

7575-2525 Union which owns or controls business that competes against or does business with employer

7575-2525—Cont.

St. John's Hospital and Health Center 264 NLRB No. 132

(statewide nursing organization (CNA) disqualified from representing Ees at hospital because over its regional subdivisions who operate nurse registry services collecting percentage of earnings from such referrals, as these registries could create conflicts with U's collective bargaining responsibilities in that CNA has financial interest in maintaining and enhancing its customer relationship (hospital is a customer) that conflicts with requirement that collective bargaining agent have single minded purpose of protecting and advancing interests of unit Ees)

Visiting Nurses Association, Inc. Serving Alameda County 254 NLRB No. 005

(petitioner precluded from representing Ees of E because, through operation of nurses' registry by one of its affiliates, it runs a placement service that directly competes with E, since registry is under control and management of affiliate over whom petitioner exercises considerable power through its right to dissolve affiliates and responsibility of affiliates to impliment policies of petitioner)

7575-5000 Arising from relationship to other employers

Abington Memorial Hospital 250 NLRB No. 098

(fact that leadership positions in labor organization representing E's Ees were held by supervisors employed by other Es does not, standing alone, create a conflict of interest disqualifying organization from representing E's Ees; Bd does not assume inherent conflict of interest in bargaining process between supervisors and Ees; rather, conflict of interest may result only when connection is shown between E of Ees who seek to be represented and third party Ees, and E failed to make such showing)

7575-5010 Officials employed by competitors

National Medical Convalescent of San Diego, d/b/a Ojai Valley Community Hospital 254 NLRB No. 163

(Association which represented nurses at several hospitals not precluded from representing Ees at hospital herein as no supervisors on Bd of Directors of Association is employed by E; furthermore, no conflict of interest even if there were supervisors of competing hospitals on Bd of Directors since each bargaining unit negotiates independently of Association or of any of its other bargaining units, and additionally, since no supervisors presently on Bd, possibility that in future supervisors may exert some influence against interest of E's Ees is too remote and speculative)

French Hospital Medical Center 254 NLRB No. 083

(E's contention that intervenor nurses association was disqualified from representing its Ees since conflict of interests existed where supervisors at other health care related institutions were on association's board of directors and one of its members was employed as supervisor by E particularly where individuals employed by institutions that were E's competitors in recruiting nurses, rejected, absent evidence supervisors employed by other institutions could influence bargaining relationship between E and intervenor to impermissible degree)

7575-5050 Financial investment in competitor

N.L.R.B. v. Pinkerton's, Inc. 621 F.2d 1322 (C.A. 6, June 1980)

(no conflict of interest that would relieve E of bargaining obligation where in exchange for not organizing subsidiary of E's competitor for 9 months, competitor's supervisor gave U organizer names of E's Ees and clients, since agreement not to organize Ees of competitor-subsidiary not inconsistent with representing Ees inasmuch as U had no financial stake in continued existence of competitor or E except insofar as continued existence in interest of Ees; in short, if U has nothing to gain by not asserting Ees' best interests, there is no conflict of interest)

7575-7800 Arising from relationship to other employees

Burns Electronic Security Services, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 139

(operator/runners found guards and excluded from unit of all Ees where duties require them to wear uniforms, carry weapons, have police whistle and identification badge; operator/runners respond to alarms at customers premises, investigate scene, cooperate with police, secure premises and restore protective system)

7575-7850 Union representing guards

California Plant Protection, Incorporated, d/b/a C.P.P. Security Services 259 NLRB No. 039

(U seeking to represent security officers at E's branch facility where E supplies security officers to Es w/i state held not disqualified from certification to represent guards' unit because of its affiliation with federation which E asserts is affiliated with two other organizations which admit non-guards to membership, since, as previously found by Bd, only a limited relationship existed between federation and one of the organizations and no present or past affiliation existed between them that would disqualify U, and there was no showing that second organization represented Ees other than guards)

National Medical Convalescent of San Diego, d/b/a Ojai Valley Community Hospital 254 NLRB No. 163

(U which represented public Ees including city policemen not precluded from representing Ees at hospital at which police furnished protection since police are not guards w/i Section 9(b)(3) of Act where not employed by E and only contact with E is through municipal function of rendering assistance when needed)

N.L.R.B. v. J. W. Mays, Inc. 675 F.2d 442 (C.A. 2, Feb. 1982)

(U representing guards not disqualified from representing Ee guards where non-guards were not members of U nor did U solicit non-guards for membership; U was not purporting to represent Ee who was officer of U but worked in non-guard position in his non-guard capacity)

7575-8100 Arising from relationship to other unions

7575-8125 Guard union affiliated with nonguard union

Bally's Park Place, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 132

(guard U is affiliated indirectly with nonguard U where extent and duration of (guard U's) dependence upon (nonguard U), or vice versa, indicates lack of freedom and independence in formulating its own policies and deciding its own course of action. But Bd will permit substantial latitude where guard U is assisted by nonguard U merely during former's formulative stages)

Bally's Park Place, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 132

(reversing Wackenhut Corporation 223 NLRB 83 (1976), Bd returned to its prior practice of permitting nonqualified Us to participate in R elections conducted among guard Ees and of certifying arithmetic election results only when such Us are victorious but not certifying these Us; however, noncertification will not prevent such Us from representing guards should they win such elections)

7575-8150 Parent union controlled, influenced or dominated by supervisors and affiliated unions

National Medical Convalescent of San Diego, d/b/a Ojai Valley Community Hospital 254 NLRB No. 163

(Association which represented nurses at several hospitals not precluded from representing Ees at hospital herein as no supervisors on Bd of Directors of Association is employed by E; furthermore, no conflict of interest even if there were supervisors of competing hospitals on Bd of Directors since each bargaining unit negotiates independently of Association or of any of its other bargaining units, and additionally, since no supervisors presently on Bd, possibility that in future supervisors may exert some influence against interest of E's Ees is too remote and speculative)

French Hospital Medical Center 254 NLRB No. 083

(E's contention that petitioner should be disqualified from representing E's registered nurses since another Local U of same International represented E's nursing attendants and licensed vocational nurses and under state law registered nurses responsible for insuring that nursing attendants and LVNs perform their duties and thus loyalty of registered nurses would be torn between their professional responsibility and reluctance to counsel member of another local because of U sympathy or fear of retribution, rejected as pure conjecture)

Eastern Maine Medical Center 253 NLRB No. 024

(on remand from Bd for further hearing in light of Bd's Sierra Vista Hospital decision issued subsequent to ALJ's original decision, ALJ issued supplemental decision, adopted by Bd, which he based on detailed analysis of structure and internal functioning of nurses association involved herein, and held that association was not disqualified from representing E's Ees, since E failed to show disqualifying conflict of interest, presenting a clear and present danger to Ees or bargaining process, which may result from connection between E and any other E whose supervisors participate in affairs of nurse association)

Eastern Maine Medical Center 253 NLRB No. 024

(on remand from Bd for further hearing in light of Bd's Sierra Vista Hospital decision issued subsequent to ALJ's original decision, ALJ issued supplemental decision finding that nurses association was not disqualified from representing E's Ees since, under Sierra Vista, Bd will not examine internal affairs of labor organization or role third party supervisors play in bargaining process absent demonstrated connection or relation between Ees and Es of supervisors who have positions of authorization in labor organization; here, E failed to show any such connection detrimental to association-represented Ees)

Abington Memorial Hospital 250 NLRB No. 098

(mere assertion that E's supervisors hold leadership positions w/i nurses' labor organization insufficient to demonstrate clear and present danger of conflict of interest interfering with bargaining process; such participation will result in disqualification of labor organization only where activities of supervisors will affect E's interest in loyalty of its supervisors or Ees in representative uncompromised by loyalty to their E; and E failed to adduce evidence that its supervisors' activities w/i organization had any connection with organization's bargaining activities)

Abington Memorial Hospital 250 NLRB No. 098

(fact that leadership positions in labor organization representing E's Ees were held by supervisors employed by other Es does not, standing alone, create a conflict of interest disqualifying organization from representing E's Ees; Bd does not assume inherent conflict of interest in bargaining process between supervisors and Ees; rather, conflict of interest may result only when connection is shown between E of Ees who seek to be represented and third party Ees, and E failed to make such showing)

7575-8150—Cont.

Abington Memorial Hospital 250 NLRB No. 098

(in finding that state-wide labor organization was not disqualified from representing Ees because supervisors held leadership positions in organization, Bd noted that organization had insulated its bargaining activities at local level from supervisory participation or influence, where local units, chartered by organization's commission solely for purpose of bargaining with an E, operated independently of state organization and made all decisions with regard to bargaining; and commission controlled expenditures of its own funds, and was not accountable to state organization for expenditures)

Healdsburg General Hospital 247 NLRB No. 030

(nurses association held labor organization and not disqualified from acting as Ee representative on ground that association is subject to control by supervisors who are permitted to be members; even assuming that association is influenced by supervisors, that association represents all nurses including supervisors, and that such representation is costly and controversial, Bd held E failed to establish that any of these factors create conflict of interest sufficient to prevent association from acting as Ee representative)

Sidney Farber Cancer Institute 247 NLRB No. 001

(professional nurses association not precluded from representing Ees notwithstanding contention disqualified by fact high percentage of state and district officers and directors of association are supervisors, absent evidence of supervisory domination of bargaining activities; since no Ees of E serve as officers or directors and supervisors excluded from membership in local chapters at which level bargaining decisions are made)

7575-9300 Union subject to influence and control by supervisors

Sealift Maritime, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 154

(admission of supervisors to membership in organization which Ees may participate and join and which exists for collective bargaining does not alter intervenor's status as labor organization in absence of substantial evidence that there exists clear and present danger of conflicts of interest between U and Ees)

North Shore University Hospital 259 NLRB No. 121

(nurses' association not disqualified from representing nurses notwithstanding admission of supervisors to membership, in view of nonparticipation of supervisors as officials of association, exclusion of supervisors from bargaining unit councils which control bargaining process, Bd's rejection in prior similar cases of E's contentions regarding conflict of interest issues, and fact that supervisors' participation in association's voting sessions in conventions or by secret ballot concerning association policy and functioning does not present danger of conflict of interest)

North Shore University Hospital 259 NLRB No. 121

(nurses' association not disqualified from representing nurses notwithstanding admission of other Es' supervisors to membership; assertions of disqualifying conflict of interest when third party supervisors were members of nurses' associations' board of directors have been rejected by Bd absent showing of connection between hospital involved and Es of such supervisors; nor was association disqualified because it maintained committee concerned with interests of supervisors, because supervisors may hold positions of authority at some future time, or because association submits names of nominees for appointment to state's board of nursing)

National Medical Convalescent of San Diego, d/b/a Ojai Valley Community Hospital 254 NLRB No. 163

(Association which represented nurses at several hospitals not precluded from representing Ees at hospital herein as no supervisors on Bd of Directors of Association is employed by E; furthermore, no conflict of interest even if there were supervisors of competing hospitals on Bd of Directors since each bargaining unit negotiates independently of Association or of any of its other bargaining units, and additionally, since no supervisors presently on Bd, possibility that in future supervisors may exert some influence against interest of E's Ees is too remote and speculative)

Lodi Memorial Hospital Association, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 121

(Nurses' Association held labor organization not disqualified to represent E's Ees, even assuming that competitive relationships existed between E and other area hospitals, where there was no showing of conflict of interest between influence w/i Association of supervisor-members employed by competing hospitals and Association's capacity to represent E's Ees; presence alone of third-party supervisors in Association is not sufficient, since Bd will not assume any inherent conflict of interest between supervisors and Ees in bargaining process; see also Oak Park Community Hospital, 249 NLRB No. 120)

Lodi Memorial Hospital Association, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 121

(Nurses' Assoc. held labor organization not disqualified to represent E's Ees, notwithstanding E's contention that specified supervisors, officials of Assoc. and employed by other hospitals, could influence to an impermissible degree bargaining between E and Assoc., since all bargaining responsibilities of Assoc. reside w/i Assoc.'s commission all of whose members are nonsupervisory nurses, bargaining on local level is conducted by elected Ee bargaining committee, and there was no reasonable likelihood that specified supervisors could meaningfully affect bargaining between E and Assoc.)

Sierra Vista Hospital, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 066

(where Bd had rescinded its denial of E's mtn to revoke certification of nurses association and remanded case to RD to give parties opportunity to fully litigate issue as to whether association was disqualified to represent E's nonsupervisory nurses because of supervisory participation in positions of authority in the association, Bd held E had failed to meet burden of proving clear and present danger of conflict of interest under Sierra Vista, 241 NLRB No. 107, and denied E's mtn to revoke certification: See also Sierra Vista Hospital, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 067)

Exeter Hospital 248 NLRB No. 056

(nurses association which included supervisors in leadership positions found to be unqualified to represent Ees since there was clear and present danger of conflict of interest which would interfere with collective bargaining process)

Rockford Memorial Association d/b/a Rockford
Memorial Hospital 247 NLRB No. 051

(contention U disqualified from representing Ees because of presence of supervisors in internal organization of International, rejected, absent evidence E's supervisors or these of third parties directly participated in or influenced U's bargaining process where all bargaining agreements negotiated by local committee composed of only bargaining unit personnel w/o interference, or requirement of approval by International's Bd of Directors)

Healdsburg General Hospital 247 NLRB No. 030

(nurses association held labor organization and not disqualified from acting as Ee representative on ground association is subject to control of supervisors who are permitted to be members, since (1) there was no evidence E's supervisors belonged to association, and Bd will not resort to speculation about posibility, as claimed by E, that supervisors might join at some future time, and (2) E failed to meet heavy burden of showing direct conflict of interest because of possible relation between E and Es of supervisors participating in bargaining process)

347 BARS TO CONDUCT OF ELECTION

0100 GENERALLY

2000 PRIOR DETERMINATION OF REPRESENTATIVE

2017 BOARD CERTIFICATION AS REPRESENTATIVE OUTSTANDING

2017-5000 Computation of certification year

2017-5067 From date employer accepts bargaining obligation

Nansemond Convalescent Center, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 089

(in order to place E and U in as nearly same situation as posible which existed during early negotiations it was ordered that upon resumption of bargaining and for 8 months thereafter U be regarded as if initial certification year had not expired)

Chicago Health and Tennis Clubs, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 018

(decertification ptn dismissed as untimely because filed w/i certification year extended pursuant to ct enforced Bd D/O since year did not begin to run at time E made offer to bargain with U which also contained preconditions regarding nonmandatory subject of bargaining which U was free to, and did, reject; therefore, such offer did not rise to good faith bargaining)

2083 ELECTION WITHIN PRECEDING 12 MONTHS

2083-7500 Deauthorization election

2083-7583 Barred when precluded by State statute

Asamera Oil (U.S.) Inc. 251 NLRB No. 085

(ptn dismissed where filed less than year after authorization election held pursuant to state law which provided for state conducted election before authorizing U security provision)

4000 CONTRACT WITH INCUMBENT REPRESENTATIVE

4001 GENERALLY

N.L.R.B. v. Circle A & W Products Company 647 F.2d 924 (C.A. 9, June 1981)

(in implementing contract bar rules, Bd may find it appropriate to infer or presume prohibited purpose to avoid bargaining agreement if U's disclaimer of representation of unit is insignificant, minor, or contrary to policies of Act; however, there will be some circumstances, in addition to schism or U defunctness, in which change in representation is necessary in order to ensure Ees fair, adequate, and effective representation; Bd must exercise its discretion to reach appropriate balance where objectives of contract stability and adequate Ee representation conflict)

4001-2500 Board contract bar rules as discretionary rules

4001-2550 May be applied or waived by Board as facts require

N.L.R.B. v. Circle A & W Products Company 647 F.2d 924 (C.A. 9, June 1981)

(Bd, which formulated contract bar rule in order to preserve stability in bargaining agreements, has principal discretion to waive or apply rule in order to effectuate its policy underpinning; however, Bd discretion must not run counter to other policies of Act, and certain guidelines are required in applying rule)

4001-2575 Factors considered in establishment

4001-2575-5000 Balance between stability of labor relations and employee's freedom of choice

N.L.R.B. v. Bob's Big Boy Family Restaurants, a Division of Marriott Corporation 693 F.2d 904 (C.A. 9, Dec. 1982)

(where objectives of contract stability and adequate Ee representation conflict, Bd must exercise its discretion to reach appropriate balance, but it must give explicit recognition to both sides of balance)

N.L.R.B. v. Circle A & W Products Company 647 F.2d 924 (C.A. 9, June 1981)

(in implementing contract bar rules, Bd may find it appropriate to infer or presume prohibited purpose to avoid bargaining agreement if U's disclaimer of representation of unit is insignificant, minor, or contrary to policies of Act; however, there will be some circumstances, in addition to schism or U defunctness, in which change in representation is necessary in order to ensure Ees fair, adequate, and effective representation; Bd must exercise its discretion to reach appropriate balance where objectives of contract stability and adequate Ee representation conflict)

4001-4300 Must be valid collective bargaining agreement

Radio Free Europe/Radio Liberty, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 063

(contract not bar where it had expired and U's letter accepting offer of salary increase did not constitute contract that would bar petition; contract to serve as bar must contain substantial terms and conditions of employment deemed sufficient to stabilize bargaining relationship; no bar if limited to wages only or to one or several provisions not deemed substantial)

The German School Society, Washington, D.C., d/b/a The German School of Washington, D.C. 260 NLRB No. 169

(E's contention that contract bar exists because of bargaining agreement allegedly in effect between foreign government and foreign labor organizations covering teachers assigned by foreign government to teach at E's school, rejected, since alleged agreement was not fruit of collective bargaining but was rather unilaterally imposed by foreign government and enacted into law; assigned teachers are on leave of absence from their foreign government civil service positions and work for E; and asserted agreement, limited to wages only, is insufficient to constitute bar)

Crompton Company, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 069

(written agreement must be signed by both parties in order to bar election and here where parties had agreed prior to date of election petition but did not sign agreement until 16 days later contract cannot act as bar to election)

Crompton Company, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 069

(extension agreement signed during insulated 60 day period prior to expiration of contract is not premature extension)

4010 PERIOD DURING WHICH CONTRACT WILL BAR PETITION

4010-0100 Generally

N.L.R.B. v. Bob's Big Boy Family Restaurants, a Division of Marriott Corporation 693 F.2d 904 (C.A. 9, Dec. 1982)

(Bd has considerable discretion in formulation and application of contract-bar rule since rule does not find its source in express language of statute nor is it judicially compelled)

4010-2000 Duration of contract

4010-2014 Bar for term of contract not to exceed 3 years

Vanity Fair Mills, Inc., Clarke Mills Division 256 NLRB No. 168

(only contracts of reasonable duration will act as bars to ptns for elections. Bd has held that bargaining agreements of three years duration of less are of reasonable duration. Contracts with fixed terms of more than three years will act as bars to ptns only during first three years, the 60-90 day period for filing of ptns is measured from first anniversary date of start of contract and not from expiration date of contract, and 60 day insulated period is likewise 60 days immediately proceeding third anniversary of contract)

Westwood Import Company, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 162

Westwood Import Co. Inc., and Gamut Designs, Inc., d/b/a Westwood Import Co. v. N.L.R.B. 681 F.2d 664 (C.A. 9, July 1982)

(contract bar rule expresses long-standing policy of Bd not to entertain any challenge to incumbent U's majority status, absent unusual circumstances, during term of collective bargaining agreement, not exceeding three years)

Peoples Gas System, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 625 F.2d 35 (C.A.D.C., 1980)

4010-2030 Contracts for less than 90 days

4010-2030—Cont.

Crompton Company, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 069

(agreement for less than 90 days cannot act as contract bar as they provide either an abbreviated period or no period during which Ees may act to remove bargaining representative; moreover this is true if agreement is extention of existing contract or new contract)

4010-2035 Contracts of unreasonable duration

Shen-Valley Meat Packers, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 144

(in finding amendment to 5-year contract, executed after contract's third year anniversary date, barred ptn filed after execution of amendment, Bd held amendment governed timeliness of ptn, where amendment was for fixed term and effective through remainder of agreement, it expressly reaffirmed agreement as shown by parties' intent which was evidenced by their reference to agreement in amendment and in its title, phrasing of amendment in terms of amendments to agreement, its acknowledgment of agreement's reopening date, and its coverage of significant terms and conditions of employment rather than being limited to wages)

Shen-Valley Meat Packers, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 144

(while mid-term modification will not remove a bar where contract would otherwise be bar, modification mid-term of long-term contract may, if it meets requirements set forth in Southwestern Portland Cement, as here, extend operation of contract as bar beyond third year anniversary date; in determining whether or not mid-term modification reaffirms a long-term contract for bar purposes, scope of modification clause is a relevant consideration)

Shen-Valley Meat Packers, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 144

(Bd held that purpose of 3-year reasonable duration rule is to promote stable bargaining relationships while preserving right of Ees to change their representative which is achieved, first, by fact that open period ensures Ees opportunity to change representative regardless of actions of contracting parties and, second, by fact that Ees have further opportunity to exercise thier choice after 3-year period if parties do not renew their agreement; thus, statutory policy favoring stability is stronger, as compared to Ee free choice, where bargaining relationship is active and agreement reflects contemporaneous conditions)

Vanity Fair Mills, Inc., Clarke Mills Division 256 NLRB No. 168

(only contracts of reasonable duration will act as bars to ptns for elections. Bd has held that bargaining agreements of three years duration of less are of reasonable duration. Contracts with fixed terms of more than three years will act as bars to ptns only during first three years, the 60-90 day period for filing of ptns is measured from first anniversary date of start of contract and not from expiration date of contract, and 60 day insulated period is likewise 60 days immediately preceding third anniversary of contract)

Bob's Big Boy Family Restaurants, a Division of Marriott Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 625 F.2d 850 (C.A. 9, 1980)

(if contract term exceeds three years, (R) ptn will be dismissed if it is outside 60-90 day period preceding contract's third anniversary date, even though it is filed between 60-90 days before contract's actual expiration date)

4010-2042 Contracts of indefinite duration

Crompton Company, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 069

(extension agreement which extended contract term 30 days or until new contract was signed, whichever was sooner, held not to be contract bar as it is of no fixed term and party wishing to file representation petition are not apprised of open period)

4010-4000 Open period for filing during contract

4010-4001 Generally

Abbey Medical/Abbey Rents, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 129

(under contract bar rules, during term of 3-year or less collective-bargaining agreement, election ptn is timely filed only if submitted during 30-day open period running from 90th day to 60th day prior to existing contract's termination date, absent unusual circumstances)

RCA del Caribe, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 116

(Shea Chemical 121 NLRB 1027, which required E to withdraw from bargaining with incumbent U after ptn had been filed by outside U overruled; E neutrality is best preserved by continued bargaining with incumbent, thus E will not violate Sec. 8(a)(2) by postpetition negotiation or execution of contract with incumbent U and will not violate Sec. 8(a)(3) even if it contains U-security clause; however, if contract is executed and incumbent loses election, contract with incumbent will be null and void)

Bob's Big Boy Family Restaurants, a Division of Marriott Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 625 F.2d 850 (C.A. 9, 1980)

(issue of whether current three year contract was bar to election ptn remanded to Bd to explain, why membership as used in contract should be interpreted differently depending on whether word appeared in U security clause or health benefit clause, and whether petitioner, to its detriment, reasonably relied on contract's cover dates in determining when to file election ptn; Bd must follow its own precedent by excluding extrinsic evidence from its consideration or explain why its rules should be disregarded; ct not allowed to substitute different rationale for that provided by Bd)

4010-4033 Petitions may not be filed more than 90 days before expiration date

4010-4033-2500 Dismissed if filed prior thereto

Vanity Fair Mills, Inc., Clarke Mills Division 256 NLRB No. 168

(it is well established as general proposition that existing bargaining agreement acts as bar to election and precludes filing of ptn for election. There are, however, two qualifications to that general proposition. First, there is open period from 60-90 days prior to expiration of existing contract, during which period existence of contract will not act as bar to ptn. However, during final 60 days of agreement-the insulated period-contract again becomes bar to ptns for elections. If new contract is entered into during insulated period, new contract will become bar to ptns.)

Westwood Import Company, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 163

Bob's Big Boy Family Restaurants, a Division of Marriott Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 625 F.2d 850 (C.A. 9, 1980)

(if contract term exceeds three years, (R) ptn will be dismissed if it is outside 60-90 day period preceding contract's third anniversary date, even though it is filed between 60-90 days before contract's actual expiration date)

4010-4067 Petitions may not be filed less than 60 days before expiration date

4010-4067-2500 Dismissed if filed within 60 day insulated period

Vanity Fair Mills, Inc., Clarke Mills Division 256 NLRB No. 168

(it is well established as general proposition that existing bargaining agreement acts as bar to election and precludes filing of ptn for election. There are, however, two qualifications to that general proposition. First, there is open period from 60-90 days prior to expiration of existing contract, during which period existence of contract will not act as bar to ptn. However, during final 60 days of agreement-the insulated period-contract again becomes bar to ptns for elections. If new contract is entered into during insulated period, new contract will become bar to ptns.)

Vanity Fair Mills, Inc., Clarke Mills Division 256 NLRB No. 168

(ptn improperly dismissed, notwithstanding filed w/i insulated period of 60 days prior to third anniversary of contract for more than three years and that prior to filing of ptn in proper form parties had executed new contract, where petitioner acted on advice of Regional Office which was unaware of and did not attempt to find out origination date and duration of contract)

Westwood Import Company, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 163

Bob's Big Boy Family Restaurants, a Division of Marriott Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 625 F.2d 850 (C.A. 9, 1980)

(if contract term exceeds three years, (R) ptn will be dismissed if it is outside 60-90 day period preceding contract's third anniversary date, even though it is filed between 60-90 days before contract's actual expiration date)

4010-4067-5000 Petitions during insulated period alleging ground why contract is not bar

N.L.R.B. v. Bob's Big Boy Family Restaurants, a Division of Marriott Corporation 693 F.2d 904 (C.A. 9, Dec. 1982)

(ct denied enforcement of Bd order requiring E to bargain with U certified by Bd notwithstanding contract-bar rule which Bd found did not preclude election initiated by ptn filed outside window period because of erroneous dates of duration printed on cover of circulated contract, where Bd abused its discretion by presuming w/o foundation that E contributed to the confusion over contract dates since record does not show that E caused in any way or even knew about misprint on cover of booklet reproducing contract)

4010-6000 Insulated period of contract

4010-6033 Petitions may not be filed during 60 day period preceding expiration date

Vanity Fair Mills, Inc., Clarke Mills Division 256 NLRB No. 168

(it is well established as general proposition that existing bargaining agreement acts as bar to election and precludes filing of ptn for election. There are, however, two qualifications to that general proposition. First, there is open period from 60-90 days prior to expiration of existing contract, during which period existence of contract will not act as bar to ptn. However, during final 60 days of agreement-the insulated period-contract again becomes bar to ptns for elections. If new contract is entered into during insulated period, new contract will become bar to ptns.)

Vanity Fair Mills, Inc., Clarke Mills Division 256 NLRB No. 168

(ptn improperly dismissed, notwithstanding filed w/i insulated period of 60 days prior to third anniversary of contract for more than three years and that prior to filing of ptn in proper form parties had executed new contract, where petitioner acted on advice of Regional Office which was unaware of and did not attempt to find out origination date and duration of contract)

4010-6067 Contract executed during insulated period constitutes valid bar thereafter

4010-6067—Cont.

Vanity Fair Mills, Inc., Clarke Mills Division 256 NLRB No. 168

(it is well established as general proposition that existing bargaining agreement acts as bar to election and precludes filing of ptn for election. There are, however, two qualifications to that general proposition. First, there is open period from 60-90 days prior to expiration of existing contract, during which period existence of contract will not act as bar to ptn. However, during final 60 days of agreement-the insulated period-contract again becomes bar to ptns for elections. If new contract is entered into during insulated period, new contract will become bar to ptns.)

4010-8000 Termination of contract prior to expiration

4010-8020 By mutual consent

Arizona Electric Power Cooperative, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 110

(integrity of bargaining unit cannot be unilaterally attacked; once unit is certified, it may be changed only by mutual agreement of parties or by Bd action)

4010-9000 Automatic renewal of contract in absence of notice to terminate

Empire Screen Printing, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 101

(where contract contained automatic renewal clause unless either party gave timely written notice prior to contract's anniversary date of desire to modify or terminate agreement, Bd adhered to its position that parties, by their course of bargaining, did not waive untimeliness of U's notice to modify contract, and did not forestall renewal of contract)

Empire Screen Printing, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 101

(decertification ptn dismissed where existing contract specifically required timely notice of intention to modify or terminate contract in order to forestall renewal, but neither party herein gave such timely notice, and contract by its terms automatically renewed for one year)

4020 CIRCUMSTANCES OF EXECUTION

4020-3300 Validity of contract execution

4020-3350 Satisfaction of requirements of

4020-3350-0800 Majority status

Giordano Construction Co. 256 NLRB No. 010

(U, originally recognized under Section 8(f), can achieve Section 9(a) status by (1) demonstrating that it had achieved majority status among Ees who make up a permanent and stable work force of the E or (2) by demonstrating majority status of Ees employed at particular jobsite)

4020-6700 Pendency of rival claim or petition

4020-6725 Contract executed while rival claim pending does not bar petition on claim

RCA del Caribe, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 116

(Shea Chemical 121 NLRB 1027, which required E to withdraw from bargaining with incumbent U after ptn had been filed by outside U overruled; E neutrality is best preserved by continued bargaining with incumbent, thus E will not violate Sec. 8(a)(2) by postpetition negotiation or execution of contract with incumbent U and will not violate Sec. 8(a)(3) even if it contains U-security clause; however, if contract is executed and incumbent loses election, contract with incumbent will be null and void)

4020-6750 Contract executed while petition is pending

RCA del Caribe, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 116

(Shea Chemical 121 NLRB 1027, which required E to withdraw from bargaining with incumbent U after ptn had been filed by outside U overruled; E neutrality is best preserved by continued bargaining with incumbent, thus E will not violate Sec. 8(a)(2) by postpetition negotiation or execution of contract with incumbent U and will not violate Sec. 8(a)(3) even if it contains U-security clause; however, if contract is executed and incumbent loses election, contract with incumbent will be null and void)

4020-6750-0100 Generally

Crompton Company, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 069

(written agreement must be signed by both parties in order to bar election and here where parties had agreed prior to date of election petition but did not sign agreement until 16 days later contract cannot act as bar to election)

4020-6750-1700 Petition filed during open period not barred

4020-6750-1750 Barred unless employer had knowledge of petition prior to execution

RCA del Caribe, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 116

(Shea Chemical 121 NLRB 1027, which required E to withdraw from bargaining with incumbent U after ptn had been filed by outside U overruled; E neutrality is best preserved by continued bargaining with incumbent, thus E will not violate Sec. 8(a)(2) by postpetition negotiation or execution of contract with incumbent U and will not violate Sec. 8(a)(3) even if it contains U-security clause; however, if contract is executed and incumbent loses election, contract with incumbent will be null and void)

4030 STATUS OF CONTRACTING UNION AS REPRESENTATIVE

4030-3700 Defunct labor organization

4030-3750 Test of defunctness

Yates Industries, Inc., California Division 264 NLRB No. 161

(bargaining representative is considered defunct and its contract is not bar, only if it is unable or unwilling to represent Ees. Mere temporary inability to function does not constitute defunctness; nor is loss of all members in unit equivalent of defunctness if representative otherwise continues in existence and is willing and able to represent Ees)

4030-4300 Foreign labor organizations

The German School Society, Washington, D.C., d/b/a The German School of Washington, D.C. 260 NLRB No. 169

(asserted interest of foreign labor organization, which represents foreign government's civil servants assigned to teach at E's private, nonprofit school, in also representing E's locally hired teachers held no bar, since E conceded that no bargaining agreement covering such Ees yet exists)

4030-5000 Schism or transfer of affiliation

4030-5050 Effect of schism on existing contract

Yates Industries, Inc., California Division 264 NLRB No. 161

(no schism existed where members of local U voted to disaffiliate from International because of personal animosity with president of International and feeling that International failed to properly represent local at that step of grievance procedure which required grievances be handled by International, since no basic intra-U conflict over policy at highest level resulting in such confusion that bargaining relationship stability can only be restored by election, but rather disagreement between E local and International)

4030-6700 Relinquishment or abandonment of jurisdiction

4030-6712 Affirmative disclaimer

Westwood Import Co. Inc., and Gamut Designs, Inc., d/b/a Westwood Import Co. v. N.L.R.B. 681 F.2d 664 (C.A. 9, July 1982)

(unusual circumstances may make application of contract bar rule inappropriate; Bd will not apply rule in cases where U is unwilling or unable to represent Ees at time its status is questioned)

4030-9100 Joint representative

Yates Industries, Inc., California Division 264 NLRB No. 161

(where international was certified bargaining representative and local signed bargaining agreement, international never relinquished its status as representative, and both local and international have participated as joint representatives of Ees, both held joint representatives)

Yates Industries, Inc., California Division 264 NLRB No. 161

(E entering into new agreement with recognition of new local as sole representative during existing terms of contract, violative, where international (the certified representative) and local (U that executed contract) were joint representatives, notwithstanding local disaffiliated itself from international since international never relinquished its status, no amendment made to certification, no schism, old local not defunct; therefore contract act as bar to attempt midterm modification of bargaining representative in contract)

4040 ADEQUACY OF CONTRACT FORM AND SUBSTANCE

4040-0100 Generally

Radio Free Europe/Radio Liberty, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 063

(contract not bar where it had expired and U's letter accepting offer of salary increase did not constitute contract that would bar petition; contract to serve as bar must contain substantial terms and conditions of employment deemed sufficient to stabilize bargaining relationship; no bar if limited to wages only or to one or several provisions not deemed substantial)

4040-1700 Form of contract

4040-1720 Oral contract

4040-1720-5000 Ineffective as bar

Empire Screen Printing, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 101

(oral agreement concerning wage increase held no bar to decertification ptn since it did not satisfy requirements that for agreement to achieve bar quality it must contain substantial terms and conditions of employment, and must be signed by all parties)

4040-1750 Questionable signature, initialed or unsigned document

4040-1750—Cont.

Gaylord Broadcasting Co. d/b/a Television Station WVTV 250 NLRB No. 058
(parties' initials on agreement satisfied Bd's requirements that written agreement be signed by both parties in order to bar election)

4040-1760 Supplementary, amendatory, and subsidiary agreements

4040-1760-5030 * Amendment to contract

Shen-Valley Meat Packers, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 144
(even though ptn, filed after third anniversary date of 5-year contract, would have been timely, amendment to contract, executed prior to filing of ptn, reaffirmed parties' original agreement for remainder of its term, and thereby barred ptn)

Shen-Valley Meat Packers, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 144
(in finding amendment to 5-year contract, executed after contract's third year anniversary date, barred ptn filed after execution of amendment, Bd held amendment governed timeliness of ptn, where amendment was for fixed term and effective through remainder of agreement, it expressly reaffirmed agreement as shown by parties' intent which was evidenced by their reference to agreement in amendment and in its title, phrasing of amendment in terms of amendments to agreement, its acknowledgment of agreement's reopening date, and its coverage of significant terms and conditions of employment rather than being limited to wages)

Shen-Valley Meat Packers, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 144
(Bd held that purpose of 3-year reasonable duration rule is to promote stable bargaining relationships while preserving right of Ees to change their representative which is achieved, first, by fact that open period ensures Ees opportunity to change representative regardless of actions of contracting parties and, second, by fact that Ees have further opportunity to exercise thier choice after 3-year period if parties do not renew their agreement; thus, statutory policy favoring stability is stronger, as compared to Ee free choice, where bargaining relationship is active and agreement reflects contemporaneous conditions)

4040-1780 Informal document

Radio Free Europe/Radio Liberty, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 063
(contract not bar where it had expired and U's letter accepting offer of salary increase did not constitute contract that would bar petition; contract to serve as bar must contain substantial terms and conditions of employment deemed sufficient to stabilize bargaining relationship; no bar if limited to wages only or to one or several provisions not deemed substantial)

4040-1780-5000 May constitute bar

Farrel Rochester Division of USM Corporation 256 NLRB No. 162
(informal document which contains substantial terms and conditions of employment is sufficient as contract-bar if it satisfies other contract-bar requirements, and here where E and U had signed written memorandum of agreement, initialed documents which were incorporated by reference, agreement was sufficient to stabalize bargaining relationship, parties scheduled no further negotiations after signing, Ees ratified agreement which E implemented; clearly it was intended to be final and binding and is bar to decertification ptn notwithstanding afterwards dispute over interpretation of provision arose and parties continued to negotiate)

4040-3300 Unit covered

4040-3333 Employees covered by contract do not constitute appropriate unit

4040-3333-3300 Contract held not bar

Sunray Ltd. 258 NLRB No. 072
(election not barred by previous 8(f) relationships with dual-function Ees where competing Us did not represent majority in unit in that some work of Ees fell w/i juridiction of each U and thus neither U could claim 9(a) relationship; therefore Bd directed election in unit covering all Ees, giving Ees a choice to be represented by one of the two rival Us or no U)

4040-3333-3333 Where employees covered are not accretion but contitute separate appropriate unit

Auto Processing Company and Auto Warehousing Company 258 NLRB No. 115
(where body shop operations with Ees represented by two Us were transferred to body shop operations of another facility with overall unit represented by another U, no accretion found since (1) all body shop Ees may constitute appropriate unit in light of being in separate building and different type of work performed by other Ees; (2) transferred Ees have had long history of separate collective bargaining representation by different Us and under different agreements; and (3) larger number of transferred Ees would have representative changed by smaller number of body shop Ees represented by U for overall unit)

Westwood Import Company, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 163
(where relevant considerations are not free from doubt as to whether or not Ees are accretion to existing unit, Bd and cts are in agreement that best way to resolve close question is through election process because accretion doctrine applied restrictively since it deprives Ees of opportunity to express their desires)

4040-3367 Members only contract

Bob's Big Boy Family Restaurants, A Division of Marriott Corporation 259 NLRB No. 084
(on ct remand Bd held that extrinsic evidence must be excluded in contructing meaning of members only provision of health benefits provision)

4040-3367-3300 Contract not equally applied to union members and nonmember employees no bar

Bob's Big Boy Family Restaurants, a Division of Marriott Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 625 F.2d 850 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(contract which contains provision extending special benefits to U members only, known as members only clause, will not bar election ptn; such contracts do not establish kind of stability that NLRA seeks to protect)

Bob's Big Boy Family Restaurants, a Division of Marriott Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 625 F.2d 850 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(issue of whether current three year contract was bar to election ptn remanded to Bd to explain, why membership as used in contract should be interpreted differently depending on whether word appeared in U security clause or health benefit clause, and whether petitioner, to its detriment, reasonably relied on contract's cover dates in determining when to file election ptn; Bd must follow its own precedent by excluding extrinsic evidence from its consideration or explain why its rules should be disregarded; ct not allowed to substitute different rationale for that provided by Bd)

4040-3367-3350 Although contract on its face covers all employees

Bob's Big Boy Family Restaurants, a Division of Marriott Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 625 F.2d 850 (C.A. 9, 1980)

4040-3367-6700 Contract held bar where ambiguity limiting coverage resolved by parties' intent and practice

Bob's Big Boy Family Restaurants, a Division of Marriott Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 625 F.2d 850 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(Bd will not consider extrinsic evidence to determine if ambiguous contract provisions were intended to have, or in practice had, illegal effects)

4040-5000 Sufficiency of terms

4040-5001 Generally

4040-5001-5000 No bar where terms insufficient to stabilize labor relations

The German School Society, Washington, D.C., d/b/a The German School of Washington, D.C. 260 NLRB No. 169
(in order to constitute a bar, contract must contain substantial terms and conditions of employment deemed sufficient to stabilize bargaining relationship; it will not constitute a bar if it is limited to wages only)

Farrel Rochester Division of USM Corporation 256 NLRB No. 162
(informal document which contains substantial terms and conditions of employment is sufficient as contract-bar if it satisfies other contract-bar requirements, and here where E and U had signed written memorandum of agreement, initialed documents which were incorporated by reference, agreement was sufficient to stabalize bargaining relationship, parties scheduled no further negotiations after signing. Ees ratified agreement which E implemented; clearly it was intended to be final and binding and is bar to decertification ptn notwithstanding afterwards dispute over interpretation of provision arose and parties continued to negotiate)

4040-5040 Terms and conditions of employment

Artcraft Displays, Inc. 242 NLRB No. 151
(tripartite agreement entered into by Es with Sign Painters representing decorators herein sought to be represented, and with Carpenters, held no bar, where decorators' presently expired agreements and not tripartite agreement, governed their bargaining relationship with Es; tripartite agreement set only wages for decorators' work thereunder with decorators' agreements supplying all other employment terms, and contract limited to wages is no bar; and since tripartite and decorators' agreements had different expiration dates with parties enabled to execute contracts indefinitely, ptn would never be barred if tripartite agreement were found a bar)

Gaylord Broadcasting Co. d/b/a Television Station WVTV 250 NLRB No. 058
(signing of informal agreement covering substantial terms and conditions of employment is sufficient for contract bar purposes even though it was contemplated that contract would be formally executed by parties at later date)

Gaylord Broadcasting Co. d/b/a Television Station WVTV 250 NLRB No. 058
(contract that was intended by parties to cover substantial terms and conditions of employment and initialed by parties barred decertification ptn notwithstanding another document prepared for formal execution which included two provisions not in initialed agreement, also amended vacation pay clause, and which contract E refused to sign because decertification ptn had meanwhile been filed)

4040-5000 Contract duration and termination

Shen-Valley Meat Packers, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 144

(any evidence of parties' understanding of contract's expiration date, which contract expressly stated as being otherwise, is irrelevant to determination of contract's duration for contract-bar purposes; and if such evidence were necessary to determine expiration date, contract would be ineffective as a bar)

Bob's Big Boy Family Restaurants, A Division of Marriott Corporation 259 NLRB No. 004

(on ct remand, Bd affirmed that contract was not bar where Ees relied on incorrect date on cover page of contract rather than date at end of contract, as E and U created situation by misleading Ees as to correct date through Association's distribution of document with cover page)

4040-5800 8(f) Contracts

Sunray Ltd. 258 NLRB No. 072

(election not barred by previous 8(f) relationships with dual-function Ees where competing Us did not represent majority in unit in that some work of Ees fell w/i jurisdiction of each U and thus neither U could claim 9(a) relationship; therefore Bd directed election in unit covering all Ees, giving Ees a choice to be represented by one of the two rival Us or no U)

4040-6700 Legality of terms

4040-6701 Generally

4040-6701-5000 Construction of terms

Bob's Big Boy Family Restaurants, a Division of Marriott Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 625 F.2d 850 (C.A. 9, 1980)

4040-8300 Midterm negotiation, modification or notice

4040-8314 Notice to reopen, modify or terminate contract

4040-8314-5000 Notice prior to automatic renewal date forestalls renewal of contract

4040-8314-5033 Despite agreement for continuation of contract during negotiation

Crompton Company, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 069

(extension agreement which extended contract term 30 days or until new contract was signed, whichever was sooner, held not to be contract bar as it is of no fixed term and party wishing to file representation petition are not apprised of open period)

4040-8342 Modification clauses

Shen-Valley Meat Packers, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 144

(while mid-term modification will not remove a bar where contract would otherwise be bar, modification mid-term of long-term contract may, if it meets requirements set forth in Southwestern Portland Cement, as here, extend operation of contract as bar beyond third year anniversary date; in determining whether or not mid-term modification reaffirms a long-term contract for bar purposes, scope of modification clause is a relevant consideration)

4040-8384 Premature extension of contract

Crompton Company, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 069

(extension agreement signed during insulated 60 day period prior to expiration of contract is not premature extension)

4040-8384-3300 Midterm extension of expiration date does not bar petition timely in relation to original date

The Hertz Corporation, Rent-A-Car Division 265 NLRB No. 138

(where parties had modified original contract expiring February, 1981, by extending its expiration date to November, 1981, and in February, 1981, executed new contract to expire in November 1984, new contract was premature extension and did not bar ptn filed w/i 90 to 60 days of expiration date of contract modification expiration date of November, 1981; by executing modification of initial contract, parties gave notice of revised open period dates, and to foreclose open period would result in parties capitalizing on modification on which petitioner relied)

4040-8384-6700 Applicability of premature extension rule

Shen-Valley Meat Packers, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 144

(while Bd has defined premature extension as a new contract or amendment executed during term of existing contract which contains a later terminal date than that of existing contract, it would serve no useful purpose in cases where parties assert as a bar an amendment to their long-term contract, executed during period of reasonable duration, to distinguish between amendments that altered expiration date and those that did not)

Shen-Valley Meat Packers, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 144

(amendment to 5-year contract, executed after contract's third year anniversary date, was, in effect, premature extension and governed timeliness of ptn, but premature extension doctrine did not operate to remove original contract as bar since ptn was not filed in open period relative to third anniversary date of long-term contract)

4050 CHANGED CIRCUMSTANCES WITHIN CONTRACT TERM

4050-1700 New plant or operation

4050-1767 New plant relocation of older plant

N.L.R.B. v. United Optical Workers Union Local 408, Electrical Workers (Marine Optical, Inc.) 671 F.2d 11 (C.A. 1, Feb. 1982)

(E's withdrawal of recognition, refusal to bargain on demand, and unilateral changes after relocating operations violated 8(a)(5) and 8(d); contract's description of unit as consisting of Ees employed at address of E's old facility was not shown to be intended as geographical limitation, as contended, and continuity was sufficient for Bd to apply modified contract-bar doctrine and find contract effective at new facility where there was substantial continuity of operations and in bargaining unit after relocation, and new facility was near old facility and in same state)

Westwood Import Co. Inc., and Gamut Designs, Inc., d/b/a Westwood Import Co. v. N.L.R.B. 681 F.2d 664 (C.A. 9, July 1982)

(ct upheld Bd's application of contract bar rule in circumstances of E's relocation because it found there was continuity of enterprise between old and new plant locations; only question considered by Bd was whether sufficient number of Ees had transferred so as to justify application of contract bar rule, and Bd's decision to count any Ee who had worked in old facility before transfer as member of old bargaining unit represented application of long-standing rule)

Westwood Import Co. Inc., and Gamut Designs, Inc., d/b/a Westwood Import Co. v. N.L.R.B. 681 F.2d 664 (C.A. 9, July 1982)

(E's contention that contract bar rule was incorrectly applied because less than majority of Ees transferred to new facility rejected; ct upheld Bd's and ALJ's finding that six replacement Ees, hired just before move to new location were part of transferring unit)

4050-3300 Merger of operations

4050-3367 Consolidation of separately located operations

Massachusetts Electric Company (Local Union No. 12067, Steelworkers) 248 NLRB No. 098

(Ees transferred from closed facility to, and co-mingled with similarly situated Ees covered by U contracts at, another of E's facilities, held not accretion to that contract, and qcr found since transferred Ees, although performing functions and duties similar to those performed prior to merger, had been represented previously by Us different from those representing Ees at merged location; transferred Ees continued to be subject of competing representational claims and none of Us involved herein represented overwhelming majority of Ees in units found appropriate)

4050-6700 Change in union affiliation

Yates Industries, Inc., California Division 264 NLRB No. 161

(E entering into new agreement with recognition of new local as sole representative during existing terms of contract, violative, where international (the certified representative) and local (U that executed contract) were joint representatives, notwithstanding local disaffiliated itself from international since international never relinquished its status, no amendment made to certification, no schism, old local not defunct; therefore contract act as bar to attempt midterm modification of bargaining representative in contract)

4060 MULTIEMPLOYER CONTRACTS

4060-5000 Timely petition for single-employer unit processed notwithstanding multiemployer contract

Burns International Security Service, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 026

(multi-E association bargaining history not controlling and not bar to processing R-ptns for 2 separate individual units of multi-E unit where many provisions of multi-E collective bargaining agreement are expressly not applicable to Ees in petitioned for units, terms and conditions of employment were individually negotiated and vary substantially from those in contract; Bd will not give deference to such multi-E bargaining history where Ees sought to be represented were not benefited under the terms of the collective bargaining agreement)

4065 MULTIUNION CONTRACTS

4065-6700 Petition for single union unit

Artcraft Displays, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 151

(tripartite agreement entered into by Es with Sign Painters representing decorators herein sought to be represented, and with Carpenters, held no bar, where decorators' presently expired agreements and not tripartite agreement, governed their bargaining relationship with Es; tripartite agreement set only wages for decorators' work thereunder with decorators' agreements supplying all other employment terms, and contract limited to wages is no bar; and since tripartite and decorators' agreements had different expiration dates with parties enabled to execute contracts indefinitely, ptn would never be barred if tripartite agreement were found a bar)

4065-6700—Cont.

4080 PREHIRE CONTRACT PURSUANT TO SECTION 8(f)

4080-3300 Contract no bar in initial bargaining situation with minority union

Sunray Ltd. 258 NLRB No. 072
(election not barred by previous 8(f) relationships with dual-function Ees where competing Us did not represent majority in unit in that some work of Ees fell w/i jurisdiction of each U and thus neither U could claim 9(a) relationship; therefore Bd directed election in unit covering all Ees, giving Ees a choice to be represented by one of the two rival Us or no U)

4080-6700 Ordinary contract-bar rules apply to continued bargaining relationship with majority union

Giordano Construction Co. 256 NLRB No. 010
(U, originally recognized under Section 8(f), can achieve Section 9(a) status by (1) demonstrating that it had achieved majority status among Ees who make up a permanent and stable work force of the E or (2) by demonstrating majority status of Ees employed at particular jobsite)

4080-6725 Union demonstration of majority

Giordano Construction Co. 256 NLRB No. 010
(U, originally recognized under Section 8(f), can achieve Section 9(a) status by (1) demonstrating that it had achieved majority status among Ees who make up a permanent and stable work force of the E or (2) by demonstrating majority status of Ees employed at particular jobsite)

Giordano Construction Co. 256 NLRB No. 010
(existing 8(f) agreement cannot bar election ptn, since U failed to demonstrate that it had achieved representational status under Section 9(a) of the Act; E had no ongoing jobsites and had none since well prior to filing of instant ptn and had no permanent and stable work force; mere fact U might indeed have represented majority of Ees at E's previous job sites is of no consequence inasmuch as U must demonstrate its majority at each new jobsite in order to establish its representational status under 9(a) and convert its contract with E to one that possesses bar qualities)

4080-6750 Contract held no bar

Giordano Construction Co. 256 NLRB No. 010
(existing 8(f) agreement cannot bar election ptn, since U failed to demonstrate that it had achieved representational status under Section 9(a) of the Act; E had no ongoing jobsites and had none since well prior to filing of instant ptn and had no permanent and stable work force; mere fact U might indeed have represented majority of Ees at E's previous job sites is of no consequence inasmuch as U must demonstrate its majority at each new jobsite in order to establish its representational status under 9(a) and convert its contract with E to one that possesses bar qualities)

6000 PENDENCY OF OTHER PROCEEDINGS

6020 BOARD PROCEEDINGS

6020-2500 Other representation proceedings

RCA del Caribe, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 116
(Shea Chemical 121 NLRB 1027, which required E to withdraw from bargaining with incumbent U after ptn had been filed by outside U overruled; E neutrality is best preserved by continued bargaining with incumbent, thus E will not violate Sec. 8(a)(2) by postpetition negotiation or execution of contract with incumbent U and will not violate Sec. 8(a)(3) even if it contains U-security clause; however, if contract is executed and incumbent loses election, contract with incumbent will be null and void)

6020-5000 Unfair labor practice proceedings

6020-5033 Blocking charges

6020-5033-7500 Dismissal of petition

Kennicott Bros. Company 256 NLRB No. 002
(Bd found incorrect RD's opn that it would be inappropriate following withdrawal of ULP charge to reinstate decertification ptn which had previously been dismissed because of the pendency of that charge)

Carol Eaton and 166 Other Warehouse Facility Employees v. N.L.R.B. No. 78-4068 (D Ct. ES, Jan. 5, 1979 (unreported))
(application of blocking charge rule to decertification ptn during pendency of ULP charges filed by U and Cs issued on behalf of Bd concerning charges, held appropriate, since it was reasonable to assume RD, at time of dismissal of ptn, had some idea whether U's charges were substantial and whether representation election could fairly be held)

6020-5075 Resumption of processing of petition when ULP no longer pending

The Hartz Mountain Corporation 260 NLRB No. 055
(disclaimer of interest by U receiving majority of votes in contested election found unconditional where U did not contest objections to election filed by other participating U concerning conduct of disclaiming U, disclaiming U was previously found to have been assisted by E, disclaimer extended both to petitions filed and to its intervention in proceeding on petition of other U, and disclaiming U engaged in no actions inconsistent with its disclaimer; accordingly election declared nullity and case remanded to RD for purpose of holding another election so that Ees can vote for or against remaining parties)

6040 COURT PROCEEDINGS

6040-7500 Bankruptcy

Sealift Maritime, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 154
(contract executed when E had status of debtor-in-possession held bar, as Bankruptcy Reform Act of 1978 grants debtor-in-possession all powers that trustee had under Bankruptcy Act of 1898, and contract will serve as bar to ptn unless and until contract rejected by bankruptcy ct)

8000 UNIT CONSIDERATIONS

8015 INAPPROPRIATE UNIT

Catholic Community Services 247 NLRB No. 103
(no QCR where unit sought by petitioner was inappropriate; unit included only some Ees in each of E's five divisions but did not include all of E's facilities or all Ees in any one division; neither petitioner nor E had specified alternate unit; unit Ees did not share community of interest; unit petitioned for was arbitiary grouping of Ees)

8020 STABILITY OF UNIT

8020-2000 Representative complement

8020-2025 Appropriateness of election

St. John of God Hospital, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 117
(notwithstanding Ee complement at time of hearing was not representative and substantial in professional units, and because election was to be Sonotone election (90 NLRB 1236) whereby professional unit could elect to be separately represented; nevertheless, election ordered where at hearing E presented its hiring plans which indicated that in 4 or 5 months it would have completed its hiring campaign, and by date of Bd decision, 11 months later, E whould be at or near full Ee strength with substantive and representative Ee complement)

8020-2025-6700 Fifty percent of job classifications

Whitteman Steel Mills, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 041
(E found to employ substantial and representative work force where at time of R hearing it employed 54 Ees in 15 job classifications of planned projection of 149 Ees in approximately 36 classifications 4 to 5 months out; furthermore, w/i 30 days of hearing E plans to employ 22 of the additional Ees in 6 additional job classifications; E's plans to expand to 250 in 2 years too indefinite to use to measure substantiality of work force as equipment must be ordered and construction has not started)

California Labor Industries, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 087
(contract bar to ptn for election where requirement that at least 50 percent of job classifications to be filled at time contract was executed had been satisfied; when contract was executed probationary Ees were performing work which was the equivalent of existence of classifications for General Extrusion 121 NLRB 1165, 1167 (1958) purposes, notwithstanding E classified all Ees on payroll as general laborers)

8020-4000 Expanding unit

8020-4025 Appropriateness of election

St. John of God Hospital, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 117
(notwithstanding Ee complement at time of hearing was not representative and substantial in professional units, and because election was to be Sonotone election (90 NLRB 1236) whereby professional unit could elect to be separately represented; nevertheless, election ordered where at hearing E presented its hiring plans which indicated that in 4 or 5 months it would have completed its hiring campaign, and by date of Bd decision, 11 months later, E whould be at or near full Ee strength with substantive and representative Ee complement)

Whitteman Steel Mills, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 041
(E found to employ substantial and representative work force where at time of R hearing it employed 54 Ees in 15 job classifications of planned projection of 149 Ees in approximately 36 classifications 4 to 5 months out; furthermore, w/i 30 days of hearing E plans to employ 22 of the additional Ees in 6 additional job classifications; E's plans to expand to 250 in 2 years too indefinite to use to measure substantiality of work force as equipment must be ordered and construction has not started)

8020-6000 Change in operations affecting unit

8020-6050 Cessation of employer's operations

8020-8050—Cont.

Giordano Construction Co. 256 NLRB No. 010

(existing 8(f) agreement cannot bar election ptn, since U failed to demonstrate that it had achieved representational status under Section 9(a) of the Act; E had no ongoing jobsites and had none since well prior to filing of instant ptn and had no permanent and stable work force; mere fact U might indeed have represented majority of Ees at E's previous job sites is of no consequence inasmuch as U must demonstrate its majority at each new jobsite in order to establish its representational status under 9(a) and convert its contract with E to one that possesses bar qualities)

8040 ONE-MAN UNIT

Sunray Ltd. 258 NLRB No. 072

(contract covering single Ee not bar to election where Bd will not enforce contract covering single person unit nor certify such as appropriate unit)

8040-5000 Certification precluded by statute

United Truck and Bus Service Co. 257 NLRB No. 051

(mtn to dismiss R-ptn granted where Bd found that local Union was not labor organization w/i meaning of Act due to requirement, in its constitution that members must be Ees of public Es; therefore, since public Es are not Es as defined in Sec. 2(2) of Act and that Ees of such Es are not Ees as defined in Sec. 2(3) of Act, Local does not exist for purpose of dealing with Es as defined in Act)

8500 JURISDICTIONAL DISPUTES

9000 NO RAID PACTS

355 TYPES OF ELECTIONS

1100 REPRESENTATION

1101 GENERALLY

N.L.R.B. v. General Motors Corporation 510 F.Supp. 338 (DC S.D. OH, Sept. 1980)

(Bd will conduct R election if: (1) involved E's business affects commerce; (2) qcr exists; (3) group of Ees which U seeks to represent is appropriate unit; and (4) petitioner has made sufficient showing of interest to justify holding election)

1133 REPEAT

Pine Valley Meats, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 061

(new election appropriate where E's ULPs such as discharge of U adherents and promising and granting benefits interfered with first election)

B. E. & K., Inc. 252 NLRB No. 036

(in event U does not win election because of E's unlawful preelection conduct and interference, election ordered to be set aside and case to be remanded to RD to conduct second election)

1133-5000 Validity of prior election

Mark Lines, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 191

(new election appropriate in view of E's ULPs such as coercive interrogations, threats of loss of priveleges and benefits, creating impression of surveillance, and informing Ees that designation of U would be futile)

1167 RUNOFF

1167-0100 Generally

Sohio Petroleum Co., a division of Sohio Natural Resources Co. v. N.L.R.B. 625 F.2d 223 (C.A. 9, June 1980)

(where first election was only was only referendum on whether Ees desired separate representation for unit and second election was held to determine which U would be Ees' bargaining representative, second election was not a runoff, and Bd properly permitted more than two choices on ballot)

1167-8700 R & R paragraph 102.70

Sohio Petroleum Co., a division of Sohio Natural Resources Co. v. N.L.R.B. 625 F.2d 223 (C.A. 9, June 1980)

2200 SELF-DETERMINATION ELECTION

Pacific Northwest Bell Telephone Company 253 NLRB No. 108

(self-determination election as to which one of two labor organizations Ees wanted, appropriate, where Ees in newly formed homogeneous group, although equally drawing from membership of the two labor organizations, constituted separate and distinct unit from their previous represented units; Ees were under separate supervision, performed identical duties, and interchanged with one another w/i group, and strong potential for conflicts w/i group existed if Ees remained in former bargaining units)

2201 GENERALLY

Sohio Petroleum Co., a division of Sohio Natural Resources Co. v. N.L.R.B. 625 F.2d 223 (C.A. 9, June 1980)

(where first election was only was only referendum on whether Ees desired separate representation for unit and second election was held to determine which U would be Ees' bargaining representative, second election was not a runoff, and Bd properly permitted more than two choices on ballot)

2201-9000 Globe doctrine

Massachusetts Electric Company (Local Union No. 12007, Steelworkers) 248 NLRB No. 008

(where it appeared that meter readers for electric company had sufficient community of interest to be included with either transmission and distribution and stores department unit or customer service department unit found appropriate herein, meter readers were permitted to vote Globe-type ballot to express their desire for inclusion in either of the two units and to decide what representation they would select in that unit)

2220 ADDITIONS TO EXISTING UNIT

2220-9000 Voting groups

The Folger Coffee Company 250 NLRB No. 001

(separate unit of laboratory technicians not appropriate where they are not technical Ees since they possess no special training and tests performed can be learned through short period of on-job training; furthermore, pay, benefits, work, working conditions and supervision same as for P&M Ees and plant clericals; appropriate voting group is one composed of laboratory technicians and unrepresented plant clericals)

Massachusetts Electric Company (Local Union No. 12007, Steelworkers) 248 NLRB No. 008

(where it appeared that meter readers for electric company had sufficient community of interest to be included with either transmission and distribution and stores department unit or customer service department unit found appropriate herein, meter readers were permitted to vote Globe-type ballot to express their desire for inclusion in either of the two units and to decide what representation they would select in that unit)

2240 SEVERANCE FROM EXISTING UNIT

Memphis Furniture Manufacturing Co. 259 NLRB No. 061

(unit of over-the-road truckdrivers who delivered furniture manufactured by E may, if they so desire, constitute separate appropriate unit for purposes of collective bargaining apart from historic P&M unit in which they were included where they did no plant work, did not load their trucks, had no contact with P&M Ees, spent 95% of worktime away from plant, had different hours, mode of pay, supervision from P&M Ees and, unlike local drivers, were subject to regulations of Department of Transportation)

2260 PROFESSIONAL EMPLOYEES IN UNIT WITH NONPROFESSIONAL EMPLOYEES

The German School Society, Washington, D.C., d/b/a The German School of Washington, D.C. 260 NLRB No. 160

(all teachers, librarian, and counselors at private, nonprofit school held professionals entitled to vote in self-determination election; accordingly elections directed in unit of bus drivers, and in unit consisting of separate voting groups of professional and nonprofessional Ees)

St. John of God Hospital, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 117

(notwithstanding Ee complement at time of hearing was not representative and substantial in professional units, and because election was to be Sonotone election (90 NLRB 1236) whereby professional unit could elect to be separately represented; nevertheless, election ordered where at hearing E presented its hiring plans which indicated that in 4 or 5 months it would have completed its hiring campaign, and by date of Bd decision, 11 months later, E whould be at or near full Ee strength with substantive and representative Ee complement)

Utah Power & Light Company 258 NLRB No. 138

(while reaffirming its policy requiring that unit for decertification be coextensive with existing unit, Bd made exception to such policy in unique situation herein, in which ptn sought decertification of professional engineers who were part of larger mixed unit, because engineers were never afforded opportunity to vote in self-determination election as required by 9(b)(1) on whether they were to be included in existing unit; accordingly, Bd found requested unit not inappropriate and directed election among engineers)

Utah Power & Light Company 258 NLRB No. 138

(in directing a decertification election among professional engineers who were part of larger mixed unit, Bd noted that decertification proceeding was initiated at an appropriate time under 9(b)(1) provision intended for their protection, not by an E who seized upon issue as asserted basis for withholding recognition in midst of strike by its Ees)

Montgomery County Opportunity Board, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 100

(professional Ees given opportunity to vote whether to be included in E-wide unit of community action agency Ees or to be represented separately

2260—Cont.

Rosemount Center 248 NLRB No. 163
(separate elections directed in voting groups of nonprofessional and professional Ees at E's child day care facility)

3300 DECERTIFICATION

Young's Market Company 263 NLRB No. 094
(decertification ptns dismissed as inappropriate where petitioning unit was not coextensive with multi-E unit of which they were a part)

American Recreation Centers, Inc., d/b/a Mel's Bowl (Hotel & Restaurant Employees, Local 28, AFL-CIO) 250 NLRB No. 142
(Bd directed decertification election in unit of bartenders at restaurant, where operator leased restaurant part of operation to lessee; even though lessee signed same restaurant association agreement to which lessor was signatory and which included bar and restaurant Ees in same unit, bar and restaurant were operated as independent businesses, and unit was severed when lessor leased restaurant to lessee who independently contracted for restaurant Ees, and U acquiesced in de facto separation of bar and restaurnat Ees)

3301 GENERALLY

Utah Power & Light Company 258 NLRB No. 138
(while reaffirming its policy requiring that unit for decertification be coextensive with existing unit, Bd made exception to such policy in unique situation herein, in which ptn sought decertification of professional engineers who were part of larger mixed unit, because engineers were never afforded opportunity to vote in self-determination election as required by 9(b)(1) on whether they were to be included in existing unit; accordingly, Bd found requested unit not inappropriate and directed election among engineers)

Utah Power & Light Company 258 NLRB No. 138
(in directing a decertification election among professional engineers who were part of larger mixed unit, Bd noted that decertification proceeding was initiated at an appropriate time under 9(b)(1) provision intended for their protection, not by an E who seized upon issue as asserted basis for withholding recognition in midst of strike by its Ees)

3350 IN CERTIFIED OR RECOGNIZED UNIT ONLY

Tom Kelly Ford, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 143
(Bd directed RD to open and count impounded ballots cast in decertification election in appropriate unit of service department mechanics at auto dealer's facility, excluding body shop, parts department, and used-car reconditioning Ees, where most recent recognition clause did not require E to bargain over excluded Ees' terms and conditions of employment but rather required E to do so for only specifically covered Ees; parties did not negotiate over excluded Ees' employment conditions since execution of most recent contract; and, significantly, E thought it unnecessary to discuss with U change in body shop's incentive plan)

Houston Distributing Company, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 020
(U's objection to election that Ees who were in stipulated unit for election but not in bargaining unit voted, overruled since their votes were not determinative of election)

Kardon Chevrolet, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 086
(in decertification proceeding, part-time salesmen excluded from unit of full-time salesmen at auto agency, since parties mutually agreed to modify certified unit to exclude them where, upon original certification, executed contract eliminated any specific reference to part-time Ees; contract specifically prohibited hiring of part-time salesmen and created special status for current part-time salesmen which would not have been necessary if part-time salesmen were included in unit; and E has not hired any part-time salesmen since execution of contract)

4400 DEAUTHORIZATION

5500 EXPEDITED

5567 HEARING ON PETITION NOT REQUIRED

United States Postal Service 256 NLRB No. 095
(postal service's contention that RD's dismissal of its RM ptn for single, national unit was arbitrary and capricious and that it was entitled to hearing and benefit of record, rejected, where ptn failed to comply with statutory requirements of PRA and NLRA, and with implementing regulations; and ptn was defective in that it merely sought to have Bd determine appropriate unit w/o regard to admitted lack of any U claim for U representation)

United States Postal Service 256 NLRB No. 095
(Bd dismissed postal service's RM ptn for single, national unit, and denied hearing on RD's dismissal of ptn, since granting of E's request would require hearing that would consume much time when current bargaining agreement was about to expire; conduct of election would be task of mammoth proportions which Bd would undertake in appropriate circumstances which are not present herein; and E did not demonstrate that it truly questioned representative status of various Us in long-established units)

6600 REMEDIAL

6601 GENERALLY

N.L.R.B. v. Maywood Plant of Grede Plastics 628 F.2d 1 (C.A.D.C.)

7700 UNIT CLARIFICATION

8800 AMENDMENT OF CERTIFICATION ELECTION

362 ELIGIBILITY TO PARTICIPATE IN ELECTION

3300 DETERMINATIVE PAYROLL PERIOD

3312 ELIGIBILITY ESTABLISHED BY EMPLOYMENT DURING PAYROLL PERIOD IMMEDIATELY PRECEDING DIRECTION OF ELECTION AND ON DATE OF ELECTION

Harvey & Madding, Inc., d/b/a Dublin Honda JD-(ATL)-97-81

N.L.R.B. v. Dobbs House, Inc. 613 F.2d 1254 (C.A. 5) (1980)

3312-0100 Generally

Gator Products, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 046
(Ee working at any time during the payroll period satisfies the employment during payroll period aspect of the eligibility test, even if Ee is no longer employed on the last day of the payroll period)

3312-5000 Temporary interruption of work

Gator Products, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 046
(Ee who worked during payroll period but was not employed on last day of period and who was subsequently reemployed before election date and was on payroll on election date held eligible to vote)

6700 EMPLOYEE TENURE AND STATUS

6701 GENERALLY

B-P Custom Building Products, Inc.; and Thomas R. Peck Mfg. 251 NLRB No. 179
(Bd overruled challenged ballot where Ee, notwithstanding Ee's enhanced responsibilities, was found an agent of E and not a supervisor)

B-P Custom Building Products, Inc.; and Thomas R. Peck Mfg. 251 NLRB No. 179
(challenge to Ees' ballots rejected where Ees were found working lead persons and not, as contended, supervisors)

B-P Custom Building Products, Inc.; and Thomas R. Peck Mfg. 251 NLRB No. 179
(challenge to Ee's ballot rejected where during period substantially preceding election Ee was not functioning as supervisor w/i meaning of Act)

6703 ELIGIBILITY DETERMINED BY AGREEMENT OF PARTIES

Clear Lam Packaging, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 96
(Norris Thermador list not dispositive of challenged voters' eligibility to vote where challenged on grounds of statutory supervisory status as this is exception to rule)

Rosehill Cemetery Association 262 NLRB No. 164
(oral agreement between E and U to exclude individuals alleged to be supervisors from unit held not binding since Bd will not be bound by any agreement of parties, outside of narrow exception in Banner Bedding, Inc. 214 NLRB 1013, that is not written and signed and which does not expressly provide that issues of eligibility resolved by it shall be final and binding upon parties. Furthermore, Bd will not be bound by any written or oral agreement of parties where statutory issue of inclusion or exclusion of alleged supervisors in unit is raised for Bd resolution)

St. Peters Manor, Inc. d/b/a St. Peters Manor Care Center 261 NLRB No. 171
(in stipulation for cert. election, parties stipulated to unit which excluded business office clericals; thereafter, at preelection conference parties orally agreed to include these clericals. Bd upheld challenge to their ballots as outside stipulated unit since stipulation clear and unequivocal and no evidence parties did not intend to exclude business office clericals)

Consolidated Print Works, Inc., and Auto Screen Print Corp. 260 NLRB No. 129
(setting aside election not warranted, where, though stipulation for consent election contained an eligibility date, Bd agent had informed parties that this date was conditioned on date Rd approved stipulation and, though U protested orally in interim period about any change in eligibility date, it took no further actions that were available to it to protest change in eligibility date set forth in approved stipulation; thus U effectively acquiesced in changed date)

Drukker Communications, Inc., and Its Wholly Owned Subsidiary The Daily Advance, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 097
(written agreement resolving issues of eligibility is final determination of eligibility issue and oral modification will not be honored absent narrow exceptions)

Drukker Communications, Inc., and Its Wholly Owned Subsidiary The Daily Advance, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 097
(where parties entered into preelection stipulation agreeing upon status of individual as Ee, Respondent may not raise contention that Ee is managerial Ee and improperly included in unit)

A & B Cartage, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 003
(Bd not bound by Norris-Thermador list on issues of supervisory status)

G. H. Skipper, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 053
(where U and E agreed that Ees from satalite operation which was to be closed down and Ees shifted to main location were to be included in unit at main location, unit proper and all Ees allowed to vote; RD's exclusion of satalite unit consistent with finding that Ees from that unit included in main unit as parties stipulated)

Net Television, Inc., a Wholly Owned Subsidiary of Educational Broadcasting Corporation 252 NLRB No. 088
(summary judgment denied where RD erroneously refused E's request to withdraw stipulation prior to representation election that Ee was supervisor which E entered into with belief that two other Ees who occupied analogous positions were also supervisors but were determined afterwards not to be supervisors by RD; stipulation did not factually address Ee's actual job duties and authority nor was Ee's status litigated in that regard)

Illinois Valley Community Hospital 249 NLRB No. 058
(RD properly determined eligibility of individual Ees in question, regardless of parties' agreement, since it is contrary to Act and established Bd policy to agree that a group of Ees, as a class, will not be able to vote when some of those Ees are prima facie members of bargaining unit)

Judd Valve Co., Inc. 248 NLRB No. 018
(issue of eligibility, relating to challenges of voters as supervisors, is to be decided upon facts surrounding such voters' status, rather than upon finality of Norris Thermador agreement)

Judd Valve Co., Inc. 248 NLRB No. 018
(leadman, whose eligibility was challenged on basis of his supervisory status and even though his name was included in Norris Thermador list, held eligible to vote since he did not possess supervisory authority)

N.L.R.B. v. Boston Beef Co., Inc. 682 F.2d 223 (C.A. 1, July 1981)
(Bd may not rely upon community of interest test to subvert clear intent of parties (in stipulated election) but, where intent is unclear or stipulation ambiguous, Bd may properly rely on community of interest principles to help resolve ambiguity of whether Ee eligible to vote)

6706 ELIGIBILITY DETERMINED BY TENURE AND STATUS AS EMPLOYEE DURING DETERMINATIVE PAYROLL PERIOD AND ON DATE OF ELECTION

West Virginia Newspaper Publishing Company 268 NLRB No. 060
(challenges to votes of on call Ees sustained where Ees, although included in existing bargaining unit by practice and by coverage and application of contract, were held not eligible to vote in decertification election because they did not regularly average 4 hours of work per week in quarter preceding election)

6706—Cont.

Radio Free Europe/Radio Liberty, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 063
(assertion that 7 Ees who would soon be returning were ineligible to vote, rejected)

Genley Industries, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 189
(challenge to ballots of Ees who simply exercised lead authority rather than supervisory authority under act, overruled)

Consolidated Print Works, Inc., and Auto Screen Print Corp. 260 NLRB No. 129
(setting aside election not warranted, where, though stipulation for consent election contained an eligibility date, Bd agent had informed parties that this date was conditioned on date Rd approved stipulation and, though U protested orally in interim period about any change in eligibility date, it took no further actions that were available to it to protest change in eligibility date set forth in approved stipulation; thus U effectively acquiesced in changed date)

Town Concrete Pipe of Washington, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 137
(ballots of Ees who refused reinstatement after strike counted where no evidence these Ees had abandoned employment on date of election)

Town Concrete Pipe of Washington, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 137
(Ee who quit 9 days before election for medical reasons but was rehired 2 days later but did not return to work prior to election was eligible to vote in election where E's past practice was to try to retain valuable Ees and work with them concerning their probelms; no evidence that E was trying to pack unit notwithstanding Ee was anti-U)

Lake Development Management Co. 259 NLRB No. 069
(Bd sustained challenge to ballot where by and before election, Ee had abandoned any interest in employment by E)

Sylvester's Corp.; d/b/a Gene Sylvester Alarm Co.; et al. 249 NLRB No. 161
(challenge to ballot of former supervisor overruled where Ee, initially returned to do unit work to complete complex installation but since then has performed on other jobs as well though he has not exercised any supervisory authority whatsover, E has not informed Ees of former supervisor's change in status and installation not yet completed)

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 044
(Ees who did not work on date U demanded recognition because they had been informed of their termination on that day or beforehand not included in unit)

Skyline Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 613 F.2d 1328 (C.A. 5) (1980)
(E's contention that there was mutual mistake of fact as to ending date of payroll period and date inserted in Stipulation for Certification upon Consent Election not grounds for relief because mistake by one party to agreement, where not induced by other falls on party making mistake)

N.L.R.B. v. Andrea Associates, a joint venture d/b/a Pinecrest Hospital 614 F.2d 777(T) (C.A. 9) (1980)
(day shift staff registered nurse reassigned from her night shift supervisor position held not Ee working in appropriate unit w/i voting eligibility period, in view of her nearly one year term as relief night shift supervisor with understanding that she would continue in her supervisory capacity until new person could be found and trained)

Universal Paper Goods Company v. N.L.R.B. 638 F.2d 1159 (C.A. 9, Aug 8, 1981)
(Ee who had announced her retirement, been given retirement check, ceased work and had her retirement announced in company bulletin applied for Social Security benefits found to be retired and not eligible to vote notwithstanding E placed her on 2-month leave of absence with instructions that she could come back to work if she wanted to, continued her health insurance, and Ee did return to work w/i 2 month period, because Ee had intent to retire, and expressed no interest in returning to work until after election held)

6709 VOTING SUBJECT TO CHALLENGE

University of San Francisco 265 NLRB No. 155
(part-time librarian at university and director of university's radio station)

New York Medical College 263 NLRB No. 124
(principal investigators at college who were not acknowledged supervisors, permitted to vote subject to challenge, notwithstanding fact that they decided which professionals were to be on research staff, since it was not clear whether this function was more than sporadic and minimal in terms of their nonsupervisory teaching and clinical work)

Liquid Transporters, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 163
(laid-off drivers permitted to vote subject to challenge where record was inadequate to determine whether such Ees had reasonable expectancy of recall in immediate future)

6712 PART-TIME EMPLOYEES

6712-2800 Regular part-time

Artcraft Displays, Inc.; et al. 263 NLRB No. 117
(upon mtns for clarification stating that there were several interpretations of prior Bd decision regarding which part-time Ees were eligible to vote, Bd deleted language in unit descriptions defining part-time Ees as those with over 1,000 hours seniority since it had appeared in unit descriptions inadvertently; 1,000 hour seniority requirement should be included as alternative eligibility formula, since no party objected to such requirement at hearing, or subsequently)

Artcraft Displays, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 151
(promulgation of eligibility formula for part-time Ees depends on careful balancing of factors of length, regularity, and currency of employment giving due regard for industry involved; in cases involving year-round operations with fluctuating need for extra Ees, Bd has found it equitable to include in unit, on basis of available employment records, all extra Ees who had worked minimum of 15 days in quarter preceding eligibility date, reasoning that devoting that much time to unit work evidenced a substantial and continuing interest in unit)

Artcraft Displays, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 151
(in seasonal convention and trade show business in which peak occurs in second calendar quarter, Bd applied Mamcraft formula, modified so that it applies to second calendar quarter and which will include only part-time Ees with enough seniority so that they have reasonable expectation of employment and share community of interest with full-time unit Ees; accordingly, Bd held part-time Ees eligible to vote are those who have worked for minimum of 15 days during second calendar quarter)

Rich's Precision Foundry, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 081
(full time college student who was brother of E's manager and worked part-time at foundry as maintenance helper and electrician during school year, and full time during summer, and who had been laid off and then recalled on election day, included in unit and eligible to vote, since regularly employed during relevant period, and absent evidence ineligible for recall or had no reasonable expectation of recall)

Lifemark Hospitals of Texas, Inc. d/b/a Mid-Jefferson County Hospital 259 NLRB No. 103
(where stipulation include in unit regularly scheduled part-time Ees, Ees included where they regularly receive schedule for same hours notwithstanding they may refuse these hours or may be called in to work on days not scheduled as part of hours were worked according to schedule and therefore, they do not qualify as casual Ees)

Tiffin Enterprise, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 012
(challenges to ballots of temporary part-time Ees sustained where parties intended to exclude temporary part-time Ees from stipulated unit and even assuming arguendo that employment history of disputed Ees brings them w/i Bd's definition of regular part-time Ees, parties' agreement to exclude such Ees would not contravene Bd policy)

Gordonsville, Industries, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 054
(expert mechanic, veteran Ee, who maintained continuing and on-going relationship with bargaining unit by working 10 hours monthly except for Summer when he worked full time)

Trustees of Tufts College 251 NLRB No. 108
(to be eligible to vote regular part-time Ee must work at least 21 hours per week and be covered by E's regular benefit program)

Charles Deen d/b/a Hopp Topp Mfg. Co. 250 NLRB No. 154
(eligible)

Han-Dee Pak, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 107
(despite Ee's additional maintenance work performed at homes of E's officers and ALJ determination that Ee was domestic, Bd found Ee's ballot valid where Ee performed unit work on regular part-time basis for protracted period of 3 years preceding election and shared community of interest with other unit Ees)

Banker's Graphics, Inc. JD-339-82
(regular parttime Ee who was employed during eligibility period and on election day eligible to vote)

Tops Industries, d/b/a Tops Market JD-(SF)-53-82
(2 part-time Ees, 1 of them a high school student, who each worked 1-day per week for 8 hours as regular Ees, eligible)

N.L.R.B. v. Boston Beef Co., Inc. 652 F.2d 223 (C.A. 1, July 1981)
(test for community of interest standard for allegedly regular part-time Ee includes consideration of whether Ee: (1) worked at regularly assigned hours during substantial number of hours per week; (2) performed duties similar to those of unit Ees; and (3) shared same supervision, working conditions, wages, and fringe benefits as did unit Ees)

6712-2850 Eligible irrespective of number of hours worked

Bradford College 261 NLRB No. 081
(faculty teaching one-half time or less (part time) excluded from unit of faculty at college, since classified as independent contractors, generally cannot vote by ballot on major curriculum changes, are paid flat fee twice a semester, are not eligible for e's programs relating to life insurance, social security deductions or retirement)

6712-2550—Cont.

6712-5000 Irregular or infrequent part-time

6712-5050 Ineligible as lacking sufficient interest

N.L.R.B. v. Wehrenberg Theatres, Inc., d/b/a Melba Theatre and Skyvue Drive-In 690 F.2d 159 (C.A. 8, Oct. 1982)

(Bd properly excluded part-time Ee and summer Ee from bargaining unit where they were not employed on regular basis when U sought recognition and bargaining)

6712-7300 Part-time with regular job elsewhere

Montefiore Hospital and Medical Center 261 NLRB No. 082

(unit apart from medical center's other facilities composed of full-time and part-time physicians at its health care facility which it operates under contract with city to provide medical services for prison inmates, notwithstanding part-time physicians hourly paid, receive no fringe benefits, and hold other full-time jobs, in view of legislative concern regarding proliferation of units at health care facilities)

Dooley Equipment Corporation 252 NLRB No. 020

(where Ee worked regularly throughout year before election and received substantial earnings up to election, he was found regular part-time Ee and eligible to vote)

Keeshin Charter Service, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 117

(part time Ee who also was employed part time in home of E's president eligible, notwithstanding contention she was hired after ptn filed in expectation she would be anti-U; contention that she did not share sufficient community of interests with other Ees because of her association with owner's family as worker in household, rejected)

6718 TEMPORARY EMPLOYEES

University of San Francisco 265 NLRB No. 155

(part-time faculty members (lecturers) at university held not temporary Ees, since hiring of Ees on basis of their special expertise is not indicative of temporary status; there was no evidence to support finding that substantial number of part-time lecturers were hired in emergency situations created by illnesses or unexpected leaves of absence; they are not restricted from applying for reappointment and, when hired, are not told that position being filled is temporary; and disclaimer of tenure in contract did not, w/o more, demonstrate temporary status)

Weyerhaeuser Company 264 NLRB No. 124

(challenge to ballot of Ee who had been hired for limited period of time to perform certain work of limited duration, sustained, since she was temporary Ee hired for specific project and, as such, lacked sufficient community of interest with unit Ees to be included in unit)

Comet Corporation 261 NLRB No. 188

(college student hired temporarily for summer excluded from unit of production and maintenance workers at manufacturer and distributor of semi trailers and van bodies, notwithstanding he inquired about permanent employment when unable to return to college)

Pen Mar Packaging Corporation 261 NLRB No. 127

(challenge to Ee's ballot on grounds that he was uneligible voter sustained, since he was hired as temporary Ee inasmuch as he was informed he was being hired only for summer with no expectancy of permanent employment, and there was no evidence to indicate that his employment status changed between time he was hired and the eligibility date)

Town Concrete Pipe of Washington, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 137

(Ee who was hired prior to election regular not temporary Ee and thus eligible to vote in election where although he was on layoff status from another job he had no reasonable expectation of being recalled to that position)

Pandick Press Midwest, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 059

(Ee who worked regular schedule and performed regular duties but did not share in fringe benefits and whose paycheck originated at local office rather than main office of E found not to be temporary Ee as there was no other difference between her terms and conditions of employment and those of other Ees)

6721 TEMPORARY PART-TIME EMPLOYEES

Tiffin Enterprise, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 012

(challenges to ballots of temporary part-time Ees sustained where parties intended to exclude temporary part-time Ees from stipulated unit and even assuming arguendo that employment history of disputed Ees brings them w/i Bd's definition of regular part-time Ees, parties' agreement to exclude such Ees would not contravene Bd policy)

6724 SEASONAL EMPLOYEES

Blayer Industries, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 038

(refusal of some Ees on E's season recall list to return to work does not constitute newly discovered evidence relevant to preelection determination of voting eligibility of those Ees)

6724-5000 Seasonal nature of work immaterial

Maine Apple Growers, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 060

(challenges to votes of laid off seasonal apple packers not sustained where Ees had reasonable expectation of future employment; E permitted former Ees to reapply for work and in some cases acted (favorably) on their applications)

6730 CASUAL, EXTRA, OR INTERMITTENT EMPLOYEES

Gauley Industries, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 189

(challenge sustained where voter was retired Ee, worked for E, after retirement on on-call basis and at time of election, was vice-president of E and who signed corporate resolutions)

N.L.R.B. v. Boston Beef Co., Inc. 652 F.2d 223 (C.A. 1, July 1981)

(ct reluctant to substitute its judgment on issue of whether Ee was casual rather than regular part-time Ee, where Bd possessed significant expertise and minor factual differences are so important, so long as substantial evidence supported Bd's conclusion)

6730-5000 Ineligible

Quick-Lahmann Express, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 021

(individual listed as extra roster driver at E engaged in forwarding freight by truck held casual Ee and excluded from unit of all full time and regular part-time driver salesmen and dispatchers and excluding casual drivers pursuant to stipulation, in view of difference in wages and benefits, and fact he worked irregularly during relevant period with no expectation of transfer to regular roster or continued employment on extra roster)

Dennis G. Maietta and Frank M. Maietta t/a Maietta Contracting 251 NLRB No. 027

(casual Ee who did not work regularly, either full or part-time, and who was employed only when E needed him held not eligible to vote in election)

Jacques Syl Knitwear, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 191

(college student who was employed for two months during summer and then returned to college not eligible to vote since temporary and casual Ee particularly absent evidence he would continue employment with E)

Ace Electrical Construction Corporation Advance Electric of New York, Inc.; et al. JD-(NY)-79-81

(part-time Ee working on sporadic basis)

Clifford Cook, d/b/a Pinnacle Company and Pinnacle Roofing Co., Inc. JD-(SF)-196-79

(various friends of sons of owner who were employed from time to time by E not included in unit of all Ees of E who work w/i job classifications covered by contract between E and Us, since they were casual Ees)

N.L.R.B. v. Boston Beef Co., Inc. 652 F.2d 223 (C.A. 1, July 1981)

(student Ee hired for display work not reguarded as regular part-time Ee where: his display work was performed at remote location under supervision of non-unit Ee; he was paid flat weekly salary rather than hourly wage for display work; Ee had no contract with unit Ees while doing display work; and additional loading work done by Ee for E not done on regular basis)

6734 ON-CALL EMPLOYEES

West Virginia Newspaper Publishing Company 265 NLRB No. 060

(challenges to votes of on call Ees sustained where Ees, although included in existing bargaining unit by practice and by coverage and application of contract, were held not eligible to vote in decertification election because they did not regularly average 4 hours of work per week in quarter preceding election)

6736 STUDENT EMPLOYEES

6736-3300 Summer employees considered temporary

Rich's Precision Foundry, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 081

(full time college student who was brother of E's manager and worked part-time at foundry as maintenance helper and electrician during school year, and full time during summer, and who had been laid off and then recalled on election day, included in unit and eligible to vote, since regularly employed during relevant period, and absent evidence ineligible for recall or had no reasonable expectation of recall)

Comet Corporation 261 NLRB No. 188

(college student hired temporarily for summer excluded from unit of production and maintenance workers at manufacturer and distributor of semi trailers and van bodies, notwithstanding he inquired about permanent employment when unable to return to college)

6736-3300—Cont.

Jacques Syl Knitwear, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 191
(college student who was employed for two months during summer and then returned to college not eligible to vote since temporary and casual Ee particularly absent evidence he would continue employment with E)

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 044
(college student who was hired as temporary Ee, worked only a short period of time, had irregular work hours, and left to return to school, excluded from unit as temporary Ee who, on date of U recognition demand, did not share a community of interest with other Ees)

6736-5000 Interns

Sharondale Corporation 262 NLRB No. 158
(full time students who worked on internship basis earning college credit while they worked, and who were not given all privileges and benefits accorded full-time Ees, lacked sufficient community of interest to be included in unit since employment incidental to education)

6736-6700 Part-time employees

Rich's Precision Foundry, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 061
(full time college student who was brother of E's manager and worked part-time at foundry as maintenance helper and electrician during school year, and full time during summer, and who had been laid off and then recalled on election day, included in unit and eligible to vote, since regularly employed during relevant period, and absent evidence ineligible for recall or had no reasonable expectation of recall)

Connecticut Foundry Company 247 NLRB No. 145
(high school student who was daughter of boss and hired when strike commenced and continued employment over summer excluded from voter eligibility where she intended to and did attend college in fall and also in light of fact that she held special status at plant due to family relationship)

Tops Industries, d/b/a Tops Market JD-(SF)-53-82
(2 part-time Ees, 1 of them a high school student, who each worked 1-day per week for 8 hours as regular Ees, eligible)

Firmat Manufacturing Corp. 255 NLRB No. 153
(challenge to ballot of discriminatorily discharged student apprentice sustained, notwithstanding he was entitled to reinstatement, where relationship between student and E was more as an educational rather than as an employment relationship)

Firmat Manufacturing Corp. 255 NLRB No. 153
(challenge to ballot of discriminatorily discharged student apprentice overruled where he had every expectancy of continued employment as fulltime Ee which he would have attained upon graduation, but for unlawful discrimination and prior to election)

6742 PROVISIONAL EMPLOYEES

6742-8000 Pensioners

Gawley Industries, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 189
(challenge sustained where voter was retired Ee, worked for E, after retirement on on-call basis and at time of election, was vice-president of E and who signed corporate resolutions)

6766 EMPLOYEES NOT WORKING ON ELIGIBILITY DATES

Weyerhaeuser Company 264 NLRB No. 124
(challenge to ballot of Ee who had been hired prior to payroll eligibility date, but did not actually begin working until 2 days after eligibility date, sustained; although Ee received 2 hours' pay on date of hire, she did not meet Bd's employed and working on eligibility date requirement, since she was not performing unit work at that time but was undergoing interviews and work orientation instructions)

High Energy Corporation 259 NLRB No. 097
(entitlement of laid-off Ees to vote in election depends upon whether such Ees have reasonable expectancy of recall in near future; determination of such expectancy depends on objective factors, including past experience of E, its future plans, and what Ees were told as to likelihood of recall; and appropriate time frame when determining expectancy of recall is situation as it existed at time of election rather than subsequent developments)

6766-1000 Laid off

High Energy Corporation 259 NLRB No. 097
(Ee unlawfully laid off entitled to reinstatement and eligible to vote)

6766-1080 Eligible if reasonable expectancy of reemployment

High Energy Corporation 259 NLRB No. 097
(laid off Ee held not eligible to vote where she did not have expectancy of returning to work; E's earlier expressed intent to recall Ee, w/o more, is not dispositive of her actual expectancy of recall months later when election was held, and as election approached she was told that recall situation was gloomier than ever due to poor sales; after initial layoff period, laid off Ee was given no encouragement as to recall and her job benefits had been cancelled throughout period of layoff; and other laid off Ees continued to be in lay off status)

American Display Manufacturing Co., Inc. 259 NLRB No. 006
(challenges to ballots of Ees whose layoffs were not discriminatorily motivated and were permanent, sustained)

Maine Apple Growers, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 060
(challenges to votes of laid off seasonal apple packers not sustained where Ees had reasonable expectation of future employment; E permitted former Ees to reapply for work and in some cases acted (favorably) on their applications)

B. E. & K., Inc. 252 NLRB No. 036
(laid off Ees eligible to vote where construction project involved and Es' plans envisioned need for hiring of additional Ees in time period subsequent to layoff, reason given for layoff was necessary delay for certain type of work, and at time of layoff E made it clear to Ees that there would be a need for rehiring and that they would be the first to be hired or rehired)

Liquid Transporters, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 163
(laid-off drivers permitted to vote subject to challenge where record was inadequate to determine whether such Ees had reasonable expectancy of recall in immediate future)

Keeshin Charter Service, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 117
(individual who had been on medical leave and was told there were no openings when he informed E he was able to return to work and had reasonable expectation of reemployment was eligible to vote where E had expressed to individual hope that he would soon return to work and indicated on application form for public aid that firm would rehire him; replacement and termination did not disqualify individual where notification was day after election)

Heatcraft, Division of Lennox Industries, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 021
(ineligible in instant case where E told Ees layoff was indefinite and that they should accept other employment if offered)

Birmingham Ornamental Iron Company v. N.L.R.B. 615 F.2d 661 (C.A. 5) (1980)
(fact that laid off Ees had been referred to as terminated in different Bd proceeding immaterial where E had history of recalling former Ees; moreover, fact that these Ees were employed by another E at time of election irrelevant where there was reasonable likelihood of their reemployment)

Windsor Woodworking, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 647 F.2d 859 (C.A. 8, May 1981)
(challenged ballots of 7 Ees, who had been let go by E at start of E's slow season and before new plant was in full production, opened and counted, since Ees had reasonable expectation of returning to work; failure of E to state to the 7 Ees that they were terminated rather than laid off (was) some indication that E, at very least, wanted to retain its options)

Windsor Woodworking, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 647 F.2d 859 (C.A. 8, May 1981)
(although evidence of recall of Ees who were let go previously was not conclusive, it certainly permitted inference that Ees had reasonable expectation of returning to work)

N.L.R.B. v. Andrea Associates, a joint venture d/b/a Pinecrest Hospital 614 F.2d 777(T) (C.A. 9) (1980)
(temporary supervisor is person who has been temporarily detailed out of Ee unit with virtual certainty of returning to that unit; temporary supervisor analogous to Ee in temporary layoff status at time of election and as such is eligible to vote in election)

6766-2000 Ill

Logan Coca Cola Bottling Company 250 NLRB No. 164
(Ee not working due to back injury and receiving workmen's compensation held eligible to vote)

Keeshin Charter Service, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 117
(individual who had been on medical leave and was told there were no openings when he informed E he was able to return to work and had reasonable expectation of reemployment was eligible to vote where E had expressed to individual hope that he would soon return to work and indicated on application form for public aid that firm would rehire him; replacement and termination did not disqualify individual where notification was day after election)

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 044
(Ee who was on personal sick leave of absence included in unit where, as of U's recognition demand date, Ee had only been absent 15 weeks, which was not of sufficient duration to make her expectation of reemployment unreasonable; fact that Ee decided not to return to work when her leave of absence terminated is not determinative since E's expectation that Ee would return to work was evidenced by fact that during Ee's leave of absence E carried her on its active payroll and paid her for holidays and vacations)

6766-2000—Cont.

N.L.R.B. v. Connecticut Foundry Company 683 F.2d 871 (C.A. 2, July 1982)

(hearing not warranted on eligibility of Ee where E gave only hearsay evidence that Ee had indicated on disability application that he could not work for 12 months as Ee gave sworn statement that he would return to job if U won or if strike ended; E's burden was to present some tangible evidence of his medical disability)

6766-3000 On leave of absence

Sid Eland, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 005

(Ee who was on extended leave of absence to take care of out-of-state family business not eligible to vote in election when in 2 month period prior to election he had worked only 3 days at which time he requested another leave of absence and only showed up for work on day of election, and did not speak to E about possibility of returning to work; thus no reasonable expectation that he would return to work for E)

Town Concrete Pipe of Washington, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 137

(Ee who quit 9 days before election for medical reasons but was rehired 2 days later but did not return to work prior to election was eligible to vote in election where E's past practice was to try to retain valuable Ees and work with them concerning their probelms; no evidence that E was trying to pack unit notwithstanding Ee was anti-U)

Capriccios Restaurant, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 100

(challenge to ballot of Ee overruled where Ee was not laid off or terminated by E but was on leave whose duration and its extension were not specified by E)

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 044

(Ees who were on leaves of absence for work-related injuries and whose leaves were not of indefinite duration included in unit since they had reasonable expectation of returning to work; Ees' absences of 5, 6, and 10 months held not of such length as to establish that they had no expectation of returning to work, particularly since Ees were collecting workmen's compensation for on-the-job injuries)

Banker's Graphics, Inc. JD-339-82

(Ee on leave of absence not eligible to vote where there was no terminal date and thus no reasonable expectation of reemployment)

Valley Rock Products, Inc. JD-(SF)-285-79

(individual on leave of absence held Ee and ballot ordered counted, since no evidence employment relationship severed by positive action, where when applying for leave of absence and at time leave granted individual stated verbally and in writing he intended to return to work after leave, and in letter granting leave E asked to be advised of approximate return date; moreover, individual was never removed from E's rolls and continued to work for E during leave when E was short-handed)

Universal Paper Goods Company v. N.L.R.B. 638 F.2d 1159 (C.A. 9, Aug 8, 1981)

(Ee who had announced her retirement, been given retirement check, ceased work and had her retirement announced in company bulletin applied for Social Security benefits found to be retired and not eligible to vote notwithstanding E placed her on 2-month leave of absence with instructions that she could come back to work if she wanted to, continued her health insurance, and Ee did return to work w/i 2 month period, because Ee had intent to retire, and expressed no interest in returning to work until after election held)

6766-5000 On vacation

Capriccios Restaurant, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 100

(challenge to ballot on ground Ee was not employed on eligibility date, overruled, where Ee was on vacation during period encompassing eligibility date, and Ee continued to work for some time after election)

6766-6000 Hired but not yet working

Harvey & Madding, Inc., d/b/a Dublin Honda JD-(ATL)-97-81

N.L.R.B. v. Magnesium Casting Company, Inc. 668 F.2d 13 (C.A. 1, Dec. 1981)

(ct held that Bd exclusion from majority status count of Ees who were hired before eligibility date but who did not start work until after eligibility date, appropriate)

6766-6500 On preferential hiring list

Levitz Furniture Company of The Eastern Region, Inc. (Local 1361, Retail Clerks and Store Employees) 248 NLRB No. 003

(sympathy strikers are viewed as in same position of economic strikers they support and where election held more than 2 years after strike ended sympathy strikers not eligible to vote notwithstanding they are entitled to reinstatement should replacements leave E)

6766-7000 Dischargees

Rosauer's Super Markets, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 111

(challenge to ballot of Ee who was unlawfully discharged for U activities overruled and ballot counted)

Jaybil Steel Products, Inc.; etc. 258 NLRB No. 157

(challenges to ballots of unlawfully discharged Ees overruled and ballots ordered counted)

Gomen Company, a Division of the United States Gypsum Company 254 NLRB No. 041

(challenge to ballot of Ee who had been lawfully discharged prior to election for possession of alcoholic beverages on E's premises upheld)

Fenetrol, Inc., A Subsidiary of Yonkers Plate Glass Co. 251 NLRB No. 113

(challenge upheld to ballots of Ees whose discharges prior to election held not unlawful)

Han-Dee Pak, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 107

(challenge sustained where Ee was not employed by E on date of election and was not determined to be unlawfully discharged)

Capriccios Restaurant, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 100

(challenge to ballots of Ees, overruled, where they had been unlawfully terminated and were challenged on sole ground that their names were not on eligibility list)

Connecticut Foundry Company 247 NLRB No. 145

(Ee considered by E to be dischargee for picket line misconduct found not to be dischargee and eligible to vote where E never gave Ee any notice that he had been discharged and Ee never took any action to indicate he abandoned his employment)

Jacques Syl Knitwear, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 191

(Ees held to be unlawfully discharged, eligible, and challenges to ballots overruled)

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 044

(Ees who did not work on date U demanded recognition because they had been informed of their termination on that day or beforehand not included in unit)

6766-8000 Discriminatees

Hillside Avenue Pharmacy, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 205

(determinative of election result ballot of Ee who was discriminatorily discharged and was ordered made whole but was not ordered reinstated because of his misconduct, not counted, since he was not employed on date of election as unit Ee)

Corn Brothers, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 041

Dutch Boy, Inc., Glow-Lite Division 262 NLRB No. 001

(discriminatees, who were unlawfully laid off, remain Ees)

Gauley Industries, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 189

Mitchell's Disposal Service, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 019

(Ee eligible to vote in election in light of his unlawful discharge prior to election)

Dimensions In Metal, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 078

Rosauer's Super Markets, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 111

(challenge to ballot of Ee who was unlawfully discharged for U activities overruled and ballot counted)

Glengarry Contracting Industries, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 156

(entitled to have ballots counted)

Jaybil Steel Products, Inc.; etc. 258 NLRB No. 157

(challenges to ballots of unlawfully discharged Ees overruled and ballots ordered counted)

Firmat Manufacturing Corp. 255 NLRB No. 153

(challenge to ballots overruled where Ees were discriminatorily discharged prior to election)

Gordonsville, Industries, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 054

Dooley Equipment Corporation 252 NLRB No. 020

(discriminatorily discharged Ee held eligible to vote)

Charles Deen d/b/a Hopp Topp Mfg. Co. 250 NLRB No. 154

(eligible)

Han-Dee Pak, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 107

(despite absence of Ees' names on eligibility list, challenges overruled where Ees were unlawfully discharged and therefore entitled to reinstatement at time of election)

Alumbaugh Coal Corporation 247 NLRB No. 112

(discriminatorily terminated Ee, eligible)

Sea-Alaska Products, Inc. JD-(SF)-120-82

(challenges to unlawfully laid-off and discharged Ees overruled and their ballots ordered counted)

6766-8000—Cont.

Ace Electrical Construction Corporation Advance Electric of New York, Inc.; et al. JD-(NY)-79-81

R.E. Peterson Products, Inc., and Will Products, Inc. JD-285-80
(challenge to ballot of unlawfully discharged Ee overruled and ballot opened and counted)

Garden State Motors Co. JD-160-80
(challenged overruled)

Jeffrey Manufacturing Division, Dresser Industries, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 654 F.2d 944 (C.A. 4, 1981)
(unlawfully discharged Ee, eligible)

6766-9000 Alleged discriminatees

Gowan Company, a Division of the United States Gypsum Company 254 NLRB No. 041
(challenge to Ee's ballots overruled since held discriminatees in ULP case with which R case consolidated)

Fenestrol, Inc., A Subsidiary of Yonkers Plate Glass Co. 251 NLRB No. 113
(challenge upheld to ballots of Ees whose discharges prior to election held not unlawful)

Charles Dean d/b/a Hopp Topp Mfg. Co. 250 NLRB No. 154
(Ee not discriminatorilly discharged prior to election not eligible to vote; challenge to his ballot sustained and ballot not counted)

Keeshin Charter Service, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 117
(Ees unlawfully discharged, eligible)

6772 EMPLOYEES SEPARATED FROM JOBS

United Supermarkets, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 179
(Ees who signed U cards but did not work during or after date of determinative payroll period included in unit absent evidence that they had been separated from unit prior to such date)

United Supermarkets, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 179
(Ee whose name appeared on determinative payroll period and on following payroll period lists, but who worked no hours during those periods or thereafter, excluded from unit, where there was no explanation why his name continued to appear on lists when E's records showed he had been previously terminated, and E's records were considered the more reliable indicia of when his employment ceased)

Tops Industries, d/b/a Tops Market JD-(SF)-53-82
(Ee discharged previous year for stealing, not eligible since he had no reasonable expectation of employment)

Tops Industries, d/b/a Tops Market JD-(SF)-53-82
(Ee transferred permanently from market and w/o expectation of return, rather than transferred temporarily during pre-election period as claimed by E, not eligible)

Birmingham Ornamental Iron Company v. N.L.R.B. 615 F.2d 661 (C.A. 5) (1980)
(fact that laid off Ees had been referred to as terminated in different Bd proceeding immaterial where E had history of recalling former Ees; moreover, fact that these Ees were employed by another E at time of election irrelevant where there was reasonable likelihood of their reemployment)

6772-6700 Who have or intend to quit

Radio Free Europe/Radio Liberty, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 063
(assertion that 2 Ees who would soon be returning were ineligible to vote, rejected)

Powman-Lawrence, Inc. d/b/a Belt Supermarket 260 NLRB No. 017
(challenge to ballot of economic striker sustained where she left her employment with E approximately two months before election to move with her family 50 miles from E's facility and applied for position with another E; evidence sufficed to warrant finding that Ee abandoned job with first E and move was intended to be permanent)

Town Concrete Pipe of Washington, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 137
(ballots of Ees who refused reinstatement after strike counted where no evidence these Ees had abandoned employment on date of election)

Keeshin Charter Service, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 117
(individual who had voluntarily quit to avoid loss of social security benefits not eligible)

Connecticut Foundry Company 247 NLRB No. 145
(Ee who quit his job prior to joining strike and prior to eligibility date not entitled to vote notwithstanding he picketed up until date of election)

Universal Paper Goods Company v. N.L.R.B. 638 F.2d 1159 (C.A. 9, Aug 8, 1981)
(Ee who had announced her retirement, been given retirement check, ceased work and had her retirement announced in company bulletin applied for Social Security benefits found to be retired and not eligible to vote notwithstanding E placed her on 2-month leave of absence with instructions that she could come back to work if she wanted to, continued her health insurance, and Ee did return to work w/i 2 month period, because Ee had intent to retire, and expressed no interest in returning to work until after election held)

6775 EMPLOYEES ON ASSIGNMENT TO NONUNIT JOBS

Tops Industries, d/b/a Tops Market JD-(SF)-53-82
(Ee transferred permanently from market and w/o expectation of return, rather than transferred temporarily during pre-election period as claimed by E, not eligible)

N.L.R.B. v. Andrea Associates, a joint venture d/b/ a Pinecrest Hospital 614 F.2d 777(T) (C.A. 9) (1980)
(temporary supervisor is person who has been temporarily detailed out of Ee unit with virtual certainty of returning to that unit; temporary supervisor analogous to Ee in temporary layoff status at time of election and as such is eligible to vote in election)

N.L.R.B. v. Andrea Associates, a joint venture d/b/ a Pinecrest Hospital 614 F.2d 777(T) (C.A. 9) (1980)
(day shift staff registered nurse reassigned from her night shift supervisor position held not Ee working in appropriate unit w/i voting eligibility period, in view of her nearly one year term as relief night shift supervisor with understanding that she would continue in her supervisory capacity until new person could be found and trained)

EMPLOYEES HAVING JOB-RELATED CHARACTERISTICS DISTINCT FROM UNIT EMPLOYEES

B. E. & K., Inc. 252 NLRB No. 036
(expediter at construction project, classified as journeyman millwright, held eligible to vote in millwright unit election in view of community of interest with unit Ees' despite wearing of distinctive headgear and his travels over many areas of project unlike millwrights who are located in one work section at a time, and his work was closely related to and integrated with millwrights' work)

Rodger & Geiger Supply Co., Inc. JD-6-81
(Ee whose job – only one of its kind in plant – was to maintain systematic display of literature and brochures constantly coming from manufacturers and to give or show catalogues to customers when regular countermen sent customers to him held plant clerical and eligible to vote, notwithstanding his individual interest in employment conditions varied from those of other categories in unit)

6778 STRIKERS

6778-2500 Sympathy strikers

Stevens Ready-Mix Concrete 263 NLRB No. 175
(challenged ballots of 7 members of Teamsters' U, who failed to return to work after being notified by E they were in violation of bargaining agreement's contractual no-strike clause where they engaged in sympathy strike by refusing to cross picket line established by Operating Engineers' U, opened and counted, since agreement did not waive Ees' right to engage in sympathy strike; no evidence that E took any action to terminate striking Ees since he claimed they quit and sympathy strikers treated as economic strikers for voting eligibility)

6778-3300 ULP strikers

Pace Motor Lines, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 189
(E's challenges to ballots of ULP strikers rejected where, contrary to E's contention that these Ees had accepted permanent employment elsewhere and thereby had abandoned their interest in former jobs, ULP strikers were unlawfully denied reinstatement prior to election and did not reject valid, good-faith offers of reinstatement)

6778-6700 Economic strikers

6778-6733 Replaced economic strikers eligible in election within 12 months after commencement of strike

Levitz Furniture Company of The Eastern Region, Inc. (Local 1361, Retail Clerks and Store Employees) 248 NLRB No. 003
(sympathy strikers are viewed as in same position of economic strikers they support and where election held more than 2 years after strike ended sympathy strikers not eligible to vote notwithstanding they are entitled to reinstatement should replacements leave E)

Prairie Glove Division, Advance Glove Company JD-164-80
(where representation questions arose from E's unilateral withdrawal of recognition from incumbent U, Ees still on economic strike when recognition was withdrawn held part of the bargaining unit for purposes of selecting representation more than 12 months after commencement of strike, absent evidence indicating that the striking Ees had ever been permanently replaced)

6778-6733—Cont.

6778-6767 Acceptance of new employment

N.L.R.B. v. Connecticut Foundry Company 688 F.2d 871 (C.A. 2, July 1982)

(hearing was warranted on E's challenge to voter who had been employed by another company for 2 months before election notwithstanding Ee's sworn statement that he would return to work if conditions improve and strike ends where E showed that Ee had not picketed and told E that he was happy at his new job and wouldn't be interested in returning to work created factual issue of whether he had abandoned job)

6778-6767-5000 Eligible unless old job abandoned

Foote and Davies, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 029

(striker held eligible to vote since, contrary to contention, his statement that he knew he could never return to E did not on its face manifest clear intention to quit; secondly, Ee demonstrated continuing interest in his job by visiting picket line on regular basis from time he began working for another company until election date; and, finally, he made significantly more money with E herein which militates against finding he abandoned interest in returning to his job)

Lake Development Management Co. 259 NLRB No. 069

(challenges of ballots of economic strikers because they were employed elsewhere overruled since there is presumption of continued eligibility for economic strikers, which is not rebutted by mere fact that one takes job elsewhere; here there was no evidence that these Ees abandoned their employment)

Connecticut Foundry Company 247 NLRB No. 145

(Ee who found another job because he refused to cross picket line, held job over 1 year and made no attempt to regain old job after picket line was removed found to have abandoned first job and ineligible to vote)

6778-6798 Abandonment of interest in job

Pace Motor Lines, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 189

(E's challenges to ballots of ULP strikers sustained where Ees voluntarily resigned before election)

Powman-Lawrence, Inc. d/b/a Belt Supermarket 260 NLRB No. 017

(challenge to ballot of economic striker sustained where she left her employment with E approximately two months before election to move with her family 50 miles from E's facility and applied for position with another E; evidence sufficed to warrant finding that Ee abandoned job with first E and move was intended to be permanent)

Powman-Lawrence, Inc. d/b/a Belt Supermarket 260 NLRB No. 017

(in absence of strike, retired individual would not be regarded as Ee and would be ineligible to vote)

Powman-Lawrence, Inc. d/b/a Belt Supermarket 260 NLRB No. 017

(retiree ineligible to vote notwithstanding that he participated in picketing E after he retired, since picketing did not evince intention to return to work after strike was ended; retired Ee, like everyone in public at large was free to support strike)

Connecticut Foundry Company 247 NLRB No. 145

(Ee considered by E to be dischargee for picket line misconduct found not to be dischargee and eligible to vote where E never gave Ee any notice that he had been discharged and Ee never took any action to indicate he abandoned his employment)

N.L.R.B. v. Connecticut Foundry Company 688 F.2d 871 (C.A. 2, July 1982)

(hearing was warranted on E's challenge to voter who had been employed by another company for 2 months before election notwithstanding Ee's sworn statement that he would return to work if conditions improve and strike ends where E showed that Ee had not picketed and told E that he was happy at his new job and wouldn't be interested in returning to work created factual issue of whether he had abandoned job)

6780 REPLACEMENTS FOR DISCRIMINATEES

Ace Electrical Construction Corporation Advance Electric of New York, Inc.; et al. JD-(NY)-79-81

(ineligible to vote)

6784 REPLACEMENTS FOR STRIKERS

6784-3300 For ULP strikers

6784-3350 Not eligible

Jacques Syl Knitwear, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 191

6784-6700 For economic strikers

6784-6701 Generally

Lake Development Management Co. 259 NLRB No. 069

(economic strikers could be permanently replaced and those replacements were eligible to vote, absent showing by U that they were hired on temporary basis)

6790 DUAL FUNCTION EMPLOYEES

Drukker Communications, Inc., and Its Wholly Owned Subsidiary The Daily Advance, Inc. 238 NLRB No. 097

(mailroom Ee who formerly spend 100 percent of time in mail room but later changed to 50% of time in mailroom and 50% doing clerical work still included in unit of mailroom Ees as she has substantial interest in working conditions in unit)

6796 PART-TIME OR TEMPORARY SUPERVISORS

Rich's Precision Foundry, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 081

(full time college student who was brother of E's manager and worked part-time at foundry as maintenance helper and electrician during school year, and full time during summer, and who had been laid off and then recalled on election day, included in unit and eligible to vote, since regularly employed during relevant period, and absent evidence ineligible for recall or had no reasonable expectation of recall)

6796-5000 Eligible regardless of employee status at time of election

N.L.R.B. v. Andrea Associates, a joint venture d/b/ a Pinecrest Hospital 614 F.2d 777(T) (C.A. 9) (1980)

(temporary supervisor is person who has been temporarily detailed out of Ee unit with virtual certainty of returning to that unit; temporary supervisor analogous to Ee in temporary layoff status at time of election and as such is eligible to vote in election)

N.L.R.B. v. Andrea Associates, a joint venture d/b/ a Pinecrest Hospital 614 F.2d 777(T) (C.A. 9) (19

(day shift staff registered nurse reassigned from her night shift supervisor position held not Ee working in appropriate unit w/i voting eligibility period, in view of her nearly one year term as relief night shift supervisor with understanding that she would continue in her supervisory capacity until new person could be found and trained)

6798 RELATIVES OF MANAGEMENT

Connecticut Foundry Company 247 NLRB No. 145

(high school student who was daughter of boss and hired when strike commenced and continued employment over summer excluded from voter eligibility where she intended to and did attend college in fall and also in light of fact that she held special status at plant due to family relationship)

6798-2500 Relationship to management

Ellis Funeral Homes, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 119

(challenge to ballot of clerical whose interests were more closely allied with those of management than those of fellow Ees sustained, where Ee's mother was officer and member of board of directors and second largest shareholder of corporation engaged in retail sale of funeral services; furthermore, mother was direct supervisor to all clerical Ees making it virtual certainty that daughter would get more attentive ear than other clerical Ees)

Pandick Press Midwest, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 088

(daughter of plant manager who also has title of president not eligible to vote in election and excluded from unit where she lives at home with her father, has more flexible shift schedule than other Ees and her easy access to management gives her status and area of interest distinct from other Ees)

Dennis G. Maietta and Frank M. Maietta t/a Maietta Contracting 251 NLRB No. 027

(contention that sons, herein excluded from unit, were not employed by their father but by partnership entity owned by father and partner, and that prior Bd decision required GC to prove sons' special status for their exclusion, rejected; cited decisions do not relate to issue herein but primarily to Ees of corporations, Congress has definitively excluded child of owner from status of Ee, and father herein, sole operator of partnership because of partner's illness, was directly responsible for day-to-day operation of partnership's business)

Han-Dee Pak, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 107

(challenge to ballot sustained where Ee was son of VP and 50 percent stockholder of E and, thus, deemed employed by his parent and excluded from Ee unit because of relationship to substantial owner)

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. [illegible]

(son of plant manager, who was college student hired as temporary Ee, excluded from unit where he enjoyed special status in employment relationship in view of higher pay, irregular work hours, and ease with which he was rehired; and it was most likely that he was not financially independent from his father whose influence would tend to predispose son to follow management views and ally him with management)

6798-2500—Cont.

Tops Industries, d/b/a Tops Market JD-(SF)-53-82
(part-time Ee excluded from unit on basis of (a) family relationship where he was son of E's manager and half owner, lived at home with and was supported by his father and (b) special status on job where he was salaried, took time off at height of season, and was privy to personnel information unlike most Ees)

Tops Industries, d/b/a Tops Market JD-(SF)-53-82
(Ee excluded from unit on basis of (a) family relationship where he was son of E's manager and half owner, derived his income from his employment with E, and lived in home purchased with loan from father and (b) special status on job where he was salaried, and received incentive pay and large open-ended loan from E unlike other Ees)

Tops Industries, d/b/a Tops Market JD-(SF)-53-82
(Ee excluded from unit on basis of (a) family relationship as son of E's manager and half owner and (b) special status on job where he was salaried, had keys to all areas of E, and had authority to sign checks, prepare work schedules, and take charge of produce company)

Harvey & Madding, Inc., d/b/a Dublin Honda JD-(ATL)-97-81
(challenge to ballot of son of president and part owner of E sustained where evidence showed that son possessed special status which allied his interest with those of management)

Linn Gear Company JD-(SF)-360-80
(on ct remand, JD held that Ee, despite his family's substantial ownership interest and his father's role in management of company, shared common interest with other Ees in voting unit and therefore challenge to Ee's ballot overruled; Ee shared similarity in wages, hours, supervision and working conditions with other voting Ees, had no contact with father on job, was fanancially independent although living at parents' house where he paid room and board, had continuous contacts with fellow Ees many of whom were his social friends as opposed to de minimus contact with father, and regularly discussed working conditions with other voting unit Ees)

6798-5000 Identification of interests with management

Linn Gear Company JD-(SF)-360-80
(on ct remand, JD held that Ee, despite his family's substantial ownership interest and his father's role in management of company, shared common interest with other Ees in voting unit and therefore challenge to Ee's ballot overruled; Ee shared similarity in wages, hours, supervision and working conditions with other voting Ees, had no contact with father on job, was fanancially independent although living at parents' house where he paid room and board, had continuous contacts with fellow Ees many of whom were his social friends as opposed to de minimus contact with father, and regularly discussed working conditions with other voting unit Ees)

6798-7500 Circumstances of employment

B-P Custom Building Products, Inc.; and Thomas R. Peck Mfg. 251 NLRB No. 179
(challenge to ballot of Ee who was relative of official rejected, where no evidence was adduced that such relationship caused any special treatment of Ee or that Ee functioned other than as rank-and-file Ee in job w/i voting unit)

Linn Gear Company JD-(SF)-360-80
(on ct remand, JD held that Ee, despite his family's substantial ownership interest and his father's role in management of company, shared common interest with other Ees in voting unit and therefore challenge to Ee's ballot overruled; Ee shared similarity in wages, hours, supervision and working conditions with other voting Ees, had no contact with father on job, was fanancially independent although living at parents' house where he paid room and board, had continuous contacts with fellow Ees many of whom were his social friends as opposed to de minimus contact with father, and regularly discussed working conditions with other voting unit Ees)

N.L.R.B. v. Connecticut Foundry Company 688 F.2d 871 (C.A. 2, July 1982)
(children of company officials held ineligible to vote where they enjoyed considerable flexibility in scheduling work hours around school and vacations and they intended to attend college shortly after election)

370 MECHANICS OF ELECTION

0100 GENERALLY

Glenn McClendon Trucking Co., Inc. 255 NLRB No. 168
(it is Bd's responsibility, not that of parties, to establish proper procedure for conduct of elections)

0700 DATE OF ELECTION

0717 AUTHORITY AND RESPONSIBILITY FOR SETTING DATE

Consolidated Print Works, Inc., and Auto Screen Print Corp. 260 NLRB No. 129
(setting aside election not warranted, where, though stipulation for consent election contained an eligibility date, Bd agent had informed parties that this date was conditioned on date Rd approved stipulation and, though U protested orally in interim period about any change in eligibility date, it took no further actions that were available to it to protest change in eligibility date set forth in approved stipulation; thus U effectively acquiesced in changed date)

0733 FACTORS CONSIDERED IN DETERMINING DATE OF ELECTION

0733-1700 Opportunity to vote

Daylight Grocery Company, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 678 F.2d 905 (C.A. 11, June 1982)
(E's procedural objection that Bd's giving inadequate notice (13 days) of election date and failing to reschedule election violated E's statutory and due process interests held w/o merit, since Bd's scheduling may be reversed only on showing abuse of discretion which denies an Ee the opportunity to vote, and E failed to show prejudice where it had adequate time to campaign and consider the issues)

0733-1750 Work schedule

0733-1750-2500 Employees away on business

Glenn McClendon Trucking Co., Inc. 255 NLRB No. 168
(election set aside and second election directed where three eligible voters whose votes could have affected outcome of election were unable to participate in election because E had dispatched them to places distant from polling place)

0733-3300 Opportunity to campaign

Daylight Grocery Company, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 678 F.2d 905 (C.A. 11, June 1982)
(E's procedural objection that Bd's giving inadequate notice (13 days) of election date and failing to reschedule election violated E's statutory and due process interests held w/o merit, since Bd's scheduling may be reversed only on showing abuse of discretion which denies an Ee the opportunity to vote, and E failed to show prejudice where it had adequate time to campaign and consider the issues)

0750 FACTORS CONSIDERED IN DETERMINING WHETHER OR NOT TO POSTPONE ELECTION

0750-7000 Effect of employer's actions

0750-7067 Not postponed

Glenn McClendon Trucking Co., Inc. 255 NLRB No. 168
(election set aside and second election directed where three eligible voters whose votes could have affected outcome of election were unable to participate in election because E had dispatched them to places distant from polling place)

0750-8400 Unfair labor practice charges pending

0750-8467 Not postponed

0750-8467-3300 Waiver of right to object

Connecticut Foundry Company 247 NLRB No. 145
(E who signed agreement in which U agreed that We will not restrain or coerce Ees of E in the exercise of rights guaranteed in Section 7 of Act (not conventional request to proceed) waived its rights to have election set aside due to ULP's which were part or could have been part of settlement agreement it entered into with U, thereby enabling election to take place before end of posting period, effectively waived its right to protest U's ULP's committed prior to execution of agreement)

0750-9100 Other Factors

0750-9167 Not postponed

Daylight Grocery Company, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 678 F.2d 905 (C.A. 11, June 1982)
(E's procedural objection that Bd's giving inadequate notice (13 days) of election date and failing to reschedule election violated E's statutory and due process interests held w/o merit, since Bd's scheduling may be reversed only on showing abuse of discretion which denies an Ee the opportunity to vote, and E failed to show prejudice where it had adequate time to campaign and consider the issues)

1400 PLACE OF ELECTION

1425 AUTHORITY AND RESPONSIBILITY TO DETERMINE LOCATION

1425-3300 Regional Director

Halliburton Services (Coffeyville, Kansas), A Division of Halliburton Company 265 NLRB No. 144
(although Bd has broad remedial power under Sec. 10(c) to designate election site, neither record nor briefs disclosed any reason for deviating from practice of leaving decision to discretion of RD)

1475 CHANGE FROM PREDETERMINED LOCATION (See also 370-2867)

N.L.R.B. v. Granite State Minerals, Inc. 674 F.2d 101 (C.A. 1, Mar. 1982)
(E's objections to election upheld and E not obligated to bargain where, unilaterally departing from time and place set in stipulated election agreement, Bd allowed U to drive Ee who would be away at time of election to Bd's regional office to cast vote w/o U observers; conduct objectionable whether or not actual prejudice to E, absent exploration by Bd of alternatives to insure Ee's right to vote w/o breaching material terms of election agreement, and particularly where Ee had not heard E's case, nor seen election notices)

2100 TIME OF ELECTION

2150 FACTORS CONSIDERED IN SETTING TIME

2150-5000 Opportunity to vote

Glenn McClendon Trucking Co., Inc. 255 NLRB No. 168
(election set aside and second election directed where three eligible voters whose votes could have affected outcome of election were unable to participate in election because E had dispatched them to places distant from polling place)

2800 NOTICE OF ELECTION

2817 SUFFICIENCY OF NOTICE

2817-3300 Content

2817-3311 Date, time, and/or place

Bokum Resources Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 655 F.2d 1021 (C.A. 10, 1981)
(election notice which did not contain polling times, place and Us involved not defective enough to frustrate election especially where 12 hours prior to election notice containing correct information was posted; moreover, no evidence that faulty notice was posted by U and Bd has held that conduct not attributable to opposing party cannot be basis for setting aside election)

2817-3544 Employee rights clause

2817-3544-3300 Inclusion of

Rattan Art Gallery, Ltd. 260 NLRB No. 018
(laboratory conditions of election were destroyed with regard to needs of Filipino-speaking Ees who could not read or speak English, where standard statement of Ee rights was omitted in bilingual election notice, and translation of rest of notice into second language was confusing)

2817-6700 Use of foreign language notices

Rattan Art Gallery, Ltd. 260 NLRB No. 018
(laboratory conditions of election were destroyed with regard to needs of Filipino-speaking Ees who could not read or speak English, where standard statement of Ee rights was omitted in bilingual election notice, and translation of rest of notice into second language was confusing)

Pine Valley Meats, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 061
(appropriate that notice of election be posted in both English and Polish)

Tanforan Park Food Purveyors Council and the Hagenish Company v. N.L.R.B 656 F.2d 1358 (C.A. 9, 1981)
(ct remanded to Bd for hearing on whether retranslation of notice of election in Samoan into English by Samoan unit Ee suggested that Samoan version of notice was so garbled and confusing that Bd did not meet duty to present election notices to Ees in languages they understand)

2833 RECEIPT OF NOTICE

2833-5000 Timely receipt

2833-5050 Length of time posted

Contractors Redi-Mix, Inc. 230 NLRB No. 022
(certification of election results rather than rerunning election, held warranted notwithstanding E's objection that election notice was not posted until the day before election; E contributed to the delay by failing to post the notice until 3 days after receiving it; Ees had opportunities prior to election to read the notice; parties independently apprised Ees of details of election arrangements; and all active Ees voted)

Associated Air Freight, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 158
(where E delayed posting of notices until day after receipt thereof, even assuming arguendo that posting took place in morning rather than later in day, such late posting, only 2 days before election, failed to give Ees sufficient advance notice of election in view of their various different work schedules, and constituted substantial disregard of posting instructions; Printhouse case not controlling)

2850 DEFACED NOTICE

2850-6700 Marked sample ballot

2850-6733 For nonunion choice

Armstrong Cork Company 150 NLRB No. 147
(altered sample ballot distributed by E to Ees on day and evening before election, held objectionable, since E's use of altered Bd ballot created impression that Bd had allied itself with E's (anti-U) campaign)

2867 FAILURE TO CONDUCT ELECTION IN ACCORDANCE WITH NOTICE

2867-2800 Change of time

National Medical Hospital of Compton, d/b/a Dominguez Valley Hospital 251 NLRB No. 119
(notwithstanding that during day of election when periodic announcements of election were made over E's public address systems and operator made one erroneous announcement that polls would close at 4:30 p.m. rather than scheduled 4 p.m. closing, election was not set aside, since it was unreasonable to find that inadvertent and minimal deviation of one incorrect announcement weighed against numerous correct announcements and posted notices would so confuse or mislead significant number of eligible Ees who did not cast ballots)

2867-5000 Change of place

N.L.R.B. v. Granite State Minerals, Inc. 674 F.2d 101 (C.A. 1, Mar. 1982)
(E's objections to election upheld and E not obligated to bargain where, unilaterally departing from time and place set in stipulated election agreement, Bd allowed U to drive Es who would be away at time of election to Bd's regional office to cast vote w/o U observers; conduct objectionable whether or not actual prejudice to E, absent exploration by Bd of alternatives to insure Ee's right to vote w/o breaching material terms of election agreement, and particularly where Ee had not heard E's case, nor seen election notices)

3500 VOTING PROCEDURE AND ELECTION FACILITIES

3533 VOTING PROCEDURE

3533-4000 Identification of voters (includes use of eligibility list)

3533-4050 Use of eligibility list

Illinois Valley Community Hospital 249 NLRB No. 058
(RD properly determined eligibility of individual Ees in question, regardless of parties' agreement, since it is contrary to Act and established Bd policy to agree that a group of Ees, as a class, will not be able to vote when some of those Ees are prima facie members of bargaining unit)

3533-4050-2800 Maintenance of list of who did or did not vote

N.L.R.B. v. Belcor, Inc. d/b/a San Jose Care & Guidance Center 652 F.2d 856 (C.A. 9, Aug 1981)
(hearing not warranted on issue where affiant stated that observers had a list in front of them but failed to suggest anyone else had a list; Bd prohibits keeping of any list of persons who have voted aside from the official eligibility list)

3533-4075 Failure to be included on eligibility list (effect on opportunity to vote)

N.L.R.B. v. Triangle Express, Inc. 683 F.2d 337 (C.A. 10, July 1982)
(Bd did not abuse its discretion in not setting aside election, notwithstanding that names of four eligible voters were omitted from Excelsior list and the four Ees did not vote since, contrary to contention, such Ees were not disenfranchised because of the list's inaccuracy; an eligible Ee whose name is not on list may nevertheless vote and the ballot is set aside as a challenged ballot for later resolution, but under no circumstances is an Ee prohibited from voting because his or her name is not on the list)

3533-6000 Casting ballot

3533-6060 Ability to cast knowledgeable vote

3533-6060-7500 Sufficiency of time

Kerrville Bus Co., Inc. 257 NLRB No. 004
(whether or not late ballot may be cast is a matter left to reasonable discretion of Bd and its agent conducting election. In each case Bd has traditionally considered following factors: (1) reason Ee was late; (2) how late Ee was; (3) how long voting period was; and (4) whether ballot box was opened or tally commenced at arrival of Ee. As a matter of fundamental statutory policy, it behooves Bd to afford Ees broadest possible participation in Bd elections as long as election procedures are not unduly interfered with or hampered)

3533-6080 Incorrectly marked ballot

The Wackenhut Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 666 F.2d 464 (C.A. 11, Jan. 1982)
(Bd will count irregularly marked ballots whenever intent of voter is clearly apparent)

3533-7000 Failure to vote

Whatcom Security Agency, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 127
(election set aside where doors to polling place were inadvertently locked for substantial period of time thereby preventing all eligible voters from voting; RD's investigation and conclusion that election result was not thereby affected, was not proper method for determining voting intentions of voters and was not consistent with Bd precedent; irregularity in essential election conditions, which calls into question determinative number of ballots affecting outcome, requires setting aside election; large number of Ees involved could have affected election results; deviation from normal election procedures creates uncertainty as to election results)

3533-7001 Generally

Berryfast, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 094
(in cases dealing with disenfranchisement of Ees, Bd's primary concern is with such disenfranchisement and not with any separate E claim of reliance upon orderly Bd proceedings; although a party is generally estopped from profiting from its own misconduct, Bd has in the past overlooked this principle in circumstances where Ees have been disenfranchised, through no fault of their own; thus, election was set aside based on E's objections where Ees were unable to vote because they were away from polling place in normal course of their duties for E)

Berryfast, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 094
(where party to an election, through its own action, negligence, or good-faith mistake has prevented eligible Ee from voting, only the other, nonacting party has any foundation for an objection based on a breakdown in Bd's processes; to hold otherwise would invite abuse of both Bd's election procedures and postelection objection process)

Berryfast, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 094
(where Ee failed to vote because E mistakenly told her she was ineligible, and E objected to election based on its own conduct in regard to Ee, Bd held that, since E was attempting to rely on its own actions, and its conduct had not prejudiced other party to election, proper focus of case was disenfranchisement of eligible voter)

3533-7001—Cont.

National Medical Hospital of Compton, d/b/a Dominguez Valley Hospital 231 NLRB No. 119

(notwithstanding that during day of election when periodic announcements of election were made over E's public address systems and operator made one erroneous announcement that polls would close at 4:30 p.m. rather than scheduled 4 p.m. closing, election was not set aside, since it was unreasonable to find that inadvertent and minimal deviation of one incorrect announcement weighed against numerous correct announcements and posted notices would so confuse or mislead significant number of eligible Ees who did not cast ballots)

3533-7017 Reasonable attempt by employee to vote

Berryfast, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 004

(election not set aside based on eligible voter's failure to cast her ballot since she did not take sufficient reasonable steps to vote, and her own conduct was instrumental in her not voting where, instead of showing up at plant to vote, she sent her husband to determine her eligibility; and, instead of following instructions in Bd's Notice of Elections to communicate concerning eligibility rules to RD, husband relied on mistaken statement by E's representative that she was ineligible, and then failed to pursue matter any further)

3533-7033 Illness

Central Distributors, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 161

(if job related and vote could be determinative of election election may be rerun)

3533-7050 Away on Employer's business

Glenn McClendon Trucking Co., Inc. 255 NLRB No. 168

(election set aside and second election directed where three eligible voters whose votes could have affected outcome of election were unable to participate in election because E had dispatched them to places distant from polling place)

4200 BALLOT

4201 GENERALLY

The German School Society, Washington, D.C., d/b/a The German School of Washington, D.C. 260 NLRB No. 169

(where it appeared that intervenor, who was represented in common by petitioner's counsel, waived all rights to examine and cross-examine witnesses, had nearly identical officials as petitioner, and appeared herein only when issue arose as to whether it was dominated by E, Bd did not place intervenor on ballot since record did not clearly reflect that intervenor wished to do so; however, in event intervenor determines that it wishes to appear on ballot, Bd authorized RD, upon appropriate mtn and in his discretion, to amend direction of election accordingly)

4270 USE OF FOREIGN LANGUAGE BALLOT

Flo-Tronic Metal Mfg., Inc. 231 NLRB No. 208

(failure to include in election notice full statement of rights of Ees in both English and Spanish as agreed to by parties, held interference notwithstanding that information with respect to date, time and place of polling, eligibility requirements, and type of ballot to be used was posted both in English and in Spanish)

N.L.R.B. v. Belcor, Inc. d/b/a San Jose Care & Guidance Center 652 F.2d 856 (C.A. 9, Aug 1981)

(E's objection to failure to provide ballots in Spanish properly overruled where no pre-election suggestion was made that they should be supplied, and there was no evidence that any Spanish speaking Ee was actually confused about the voting procedure)

N.L.R.B. v. Metro-Truck Body, Inc. 613 F.2d 746 (C.A. 9) (1980)

(support of U was clearly manifested in instant case where challenged ballots of two of E's 15 Spanish speaking Ees were marked si in YES-SI box rather than in NO-NO box; Bd properly counted those challenged ballots as votes in favor of U)

4900 OBSERVERS

4925 APPROPRIATENESS OF INDIVIDUAL AS OBSERVER

4925-0100 Generally

N.L.R.B. v. U. S. Cablevision Corp. 614 F.2d 341 (C.A. 2) (1980)

(where U designated as official observer w/o his consent Ee who was considered to be anti-U, and U won election by 1 vote, ct denied Bd hearing on E's objections to elections and enforced Bd order as this is not type of practice which impairs validity of election and Ee made effort to counteract inference that his designation demonstrated support for U)

4925-2000 Individuals closely associated with management

4925-2017 Supervisor

Photo-Sonics, Inc.; et al. 234 NLRB No. 069

(designation of supervisor as observer at polls by E was basis for recommending setting aside of election; it is established Bd policy that supervisors may not act as observers for E)

4925-8000 Individuals closely associated with union

4925-8020 Union official

New England Lumber Division of Diamond International Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 646 F.2d 1 (C.A. 1, Apr 1981)

(designation of U official as observer at election does not warrant overturning election absent evidence official engaged in improper conduct while acting in that capacity)

New England Lumber Division of Diamond International Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 646 F.2d 1 (C.A. 1, Apr 1981)

(Bd has broad discretion to interpret ambiguities in Stipulation for Certification Upon Consent Election and here stipulation provided that observers must be nonsupervisory Ees of E (division of large company) and U's use of Ee, U president employed at another division of company, as observer found consistent with terms of stipulation)

4937 AUTHORITY TO DESIGNATE OBSERVER

Summa Corporation d/b/a Frontier Hotel v. N.L.R.B. 625 F.2d 293 (C.A. 9, Aug. 1980)

(where parties had stipulated prior to election that each would be allowed 2 observers, and U, with Bd agent's permission, had 3rd observer present, election set aside as E entitled to insist that Bd and U diligently adhere to provisions of stipulation designed to insure fair election; moreover, no showing of actual prejudice necessary)

4962 FUNCTIONS AND RESPONSIBILITIES OF OBSERVERS

4962-0100 Generally

N.L.R.B. v. Masonic Homes of California, Inc. 624 F.2d 88 (C.A. 9, July 1980)

(Bd properly rejected E's contention that Bd agent improperly permitted U observer to leave balloting room and enter hall through which voters passed where there was no evidence of contact or conversation between voters and U observer)

4962-2000 Challenge voters

Monterey Carmel Convalescent, Inc., d/b/a Carmel Convalescent Hospital 252 NLRB No. 041

(objection that Bd agent failed to adequately instruct U's observer at voting session on proper challenge procedures which thereby caused observer to believe failure or refusal to initial voter's name on eligibility list constituted challenge of that voter overruled; it is well settled that an observer should indicate clearly intent to challenge, and that in absence of such clarity, particularly when question is specifically asked by Bd agent, as here, and there is no affirmative response, Bd agent cannot reasonably be expected to interpret observer's conduct as conveying intent to challenge)

4962-8000 Certificatin of conduct of election

Keystone Metal Moulding Company 249 NLRB No. 075

(failure of Bd agent to have observers sign certification of conduct form until after second voting session not sufficient departure from normal procedure to raise reasonable doubt as to fairness and validity of election)

4975 CONDUCT OF OBSERVER

4975-2500 Maintaining voter list

N.L.R.B. v. South Mississippi Electric Power Association 616 F.2d 837 (C.A. 5, 1980)

(setting aside of election not warranted where U observer had Ee voting list and may have briefly compared his list to official list of those who had voted since he could have recorded only small number of those who voted and this occured during period of time when no eligible voters in voting area; thus coercive atmosphere not created)

N.L.R.B. v. Masonic Homes of California, Inc. 624 F.2d 88 (C.A. 9, July 1980)

(ct remanded to Bd question of whether maintenance by U observers of prohibited list of voters in voting area while balloting was taking place had more tha de minimis effect)

4975-5000 Electioneering

The Nestle Company 248 NLRB No. 106

(U observer talking to several Ees in polling room not objectionable when alleged objectionable conduct occurred 10 minutes prior to opening of polls and any other talking by observer was not sustained conversations with prospective voters waiting to vote

4975-5000—Cont.

South Pacific Furniture, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 627 NLRB No. 173 (C.A. 9, 1980)

(U observer's statement come on and vote, exercise your power said to Ees in room adjacent to balloting area, not objectionable and not electioneering since statement was not one that can be said to have inhibited Ees' free choice in selecting their representative)

5600 CHALLENGE OF VOTER

6300 MAIL BALLOTING

6375 PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTION BY MAIL

6375-3700 Mailing ballot to voter

N.L.R.B. v. Pinkerton's, Inc. 621 F.2d 1322 (C.A. 6, June 1980)

(remand for evidentiary hearing on whether ballots were in fact sent to Ees who did not receive them, particularly in view of fact no proof of mailing had been presented)

6375-7500 Timeliness of receipt of cast ballots

6375-7550 Late receipt

Kerrville Bus Co., Inc. 257 NLRB No. 034

(challenge to mail ballots received in regional office after return receipt date overruled since mailed at time when they could reasonably be anticipated to be received by deadline i.e. 3 days where w/i same city or w/i 100 miles of regional office)

Kerrville Bus Co., Inc. 257 NLRB No. 034

(challenge to mail ballots cast in combination mail and manual election overruled notwithstanding ballots received in regional office after return receipt date and were mailed after time when they could reasonably be anticipated to be received by deadline, since whether late ballots may be cast w/i discretion of Bd or agent conducting election, ballots challenged were received prior to counting of mail ballots and manual portion of election did not occur until 2 days after ballots mailed)

6375-8100 Lost ballots

N.L.R.B. v. Pinkerton's, Inc. 621 F.2d 1322 (C.A. 6, June 1980)

(remand for evidentiary hearing on whether ballots were in fact sent to Ees who did not receive them, particularly in view of fact no proof of mailing had been presented)

7000 SECRECY OF BALLOT

7001 GENERALLY

Magic Pan, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 627 F.2d 105 (C.A. 7, 1980)

(if Ee would have helped non-English speaking Ee to vote it would be clearly inappropriate because Bd's requirement of complete secrecy of ballot (in elections) cannot be waived)

7033 NATURE OF VOTING CONDITIONS RAISING QUESTION OF OPPORTUNITY TO CAST SECRET BALLOT

Crown Cork & Seal Company, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 659 F.2d 127 (C.A. 10, Sept. 1981)

(E's allegation that ballots were not secret because even after they were folded mark was visible, dismissed, where no evidence that Ees knew their votes were not secret)

7033-3300 Location of voting area

7033-3333 Automobile

Fotomat Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 634 F.2d 320 (C.A. 6, 1980)

(balloting on hood of Bd agent's car with 3-sided box to shield ballot held not prejudicial)

7033-6700 Voting facilities in voting area

7033-6733 Polling booth

7033-6733-3300 Employees occupying booth at same time

Magic Pan, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 627 F.2d 105 (C.A. 7, 1980)

(if Ee would have helped non-English speaking Ee to vote it would be clearly inappropriate because Bd's requirement of complete secrecy of ballot (in elections) cannot be waived)

7067 IDENTITY OF VOTER

7067-9000 Waiver

Magic Pan, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 627 F.2d 105 (C.A. 7, 1980)

(if Ee would have helped non-English speaking Ee to vote it would be clearly inappropriate because Bd's requirement of complete secrecy of ballot (in elections) cannot be waived)

7700 COUNT

7701 GENERALLY

Ace Electrical Construction Corporation Advance Electric of New York, Inc.; et al. JD-(NY)-79-81

(ballot cast by person using name of person never employed by E at any time left unopened and uncounted)

7725 VALIDITY OF BALLOT

7725-0100 Generally

San Joaquin Compress & Warehouse Company 251 NLRB No. 007

(in invalidating ballot where intent of voter was unclear because of irregular markings on ballot, Bd stated that it did not intend to make presumption that intent is unclear whenever irregularity in marking occurs; rather, its holding was that markings herein made it impossible to conclude what voter meant where markings were in one box and were thoroughly confusing)

7725-0150-5033 Unambiguous - valid

The Wackenhut Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 666 F.2d 464 (C.A. 11, Jan. 1982)

(ballot printed in Spanish and cast by Spanish speaking Ee with word NO written in both SI and NO boxes held valid, since intent of voter was free from doubt)

7725-1700 Properly or improperly marked ballots

Hydro Conduit Corporation 260 NLRB No. 178

(ballot which was left blank on front side but had word si on back held vote for U as voter's intent was clearly manifested; Bd reversed Columbus Nursing Home, Inc., 188 NLRB 825 in light of refusal of several courts of appeals to accept Board's policy and refusal of Supreme Court to grant certiorari on this issue)

N.L.R.B. v. Manhattan Corporation, Manhattan Guest House, Inc. 620 F.2d 53 (C.A. 5, Jun 1980)

(ballot with No written on back not voided but counted as vote against representation)

N.L.R.B. v. Beverly Manor Convalescent Hospital 659 F.2d 1069(T) (C.A. 9, July 1981)

(ct approved Bd's policy of counting each ballot that clearly manifests voter's intent even if ballot is improperly marked, provided mode of designation does not reveal voter's identity)

7725-3300 Properly or improperly marked ballot

7725-3333 Intent of voter

Kaufman's Bakery, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 033

(Bd overruled challenges to ballots which were marked with an X and additional marks w/i Yes box where Bd viewed mark in only one box, despite some irregularity, as presumptively a clear indication of intent of voter; San Joaquin overruled)

7725-3333-2500 Erasures on ballot

Daylight Grocery Company, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 678 F.2d 905 (C.A. 11, June 1982)

(ballot with clear check in Yes box and partial line in No box, which was obvious result of attempt at erasure, properly included in tally, since intent of voter was clear)

7725-3333-3300 Both boxes marked

Harry Lunstead Designs, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 110

(by marking no in both boxes, voter indicated desire to vote against U and was simply emphasizing strength of his conviction)

7725-3333-7500 Wording, lettering or other markings on front or back of ballot

Mallin Bros. Co. 261 NLRB No. 145

(ballot blank on its face but containing word No written on its back held not void, since voter manifested his intent, albeit irregularly expressed, on back of ballot)

Missoula Textile Services 261 NLRB No. 116

(Bd held ballot which was blank on its face, but contained word No written on its back was properly counted as vote against U in accord with Bd's new position on such ballots as enunciated in Hydro-Conduit, 260 NLRB No. 178; Bd will henceforth, consistent with its policy of considering voter intent expressed irregularly on front of ballot, also give effect to intent of voter if such intent is manifested on back of ballot)

N.L.R.B. v. Connecticut Foundry Company 688 F.2d 871 (C.A. 2, July 1982)

(ballots left blank on faces but marked NO and no on reverse sides held votes against U rather than void)

7725-3333-7500—Cont.

N.L.R.B. v. Connecticut Foundry Company 688 F.2d 871 (C.A. 2, July 1982)

(ballot in which no was written in both yes and no boxes held vote against U rather than void)

N.L.R.B. v. Consolidated Liberty, Inc., d/b/c Hy-Land Convalescent Hospital 672 F.2d 788 (C.A. 9, Mar. 1982)

(2 ballots which were not marked on front but had written on back no and no U should be counted unless investigation reveals identity of voters)

7725-5000 Intent of voter

Hydro Conduit Corporation 260 NLRB No. 178

(ballot which was left blank on front side but had word si on back held vote for U as voter's intent was clearly manifested; Bd reversed Columbus Nursing Home, Inc., 188 NLRB 825 in light of refusal of several courts of appeals to accept Board's policy and refusal of Supreme Court to grant certiorari on this issue)

N.L.R.B. v. Beverly Manor Convalescent Hospital 659 F.2d 1089(T) (C.A. 9, July 1981)

(ct approved Bd's policy of counting each ballot that clearly manifests voter's intent even if ballot is improperly marked, provided mode of designation does not reveal voter's identity)

The Wackenhut Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 666 F.2d 464 (C.A. 11, Jan. 1982)

(Bd will count irregularly marked ballots whenever intent of voter is clearly apparent)

7725-5033 Mark other than x used to designate choice

A. G. Parrott Company 255 NLRB No. 037

(Bd properly counted ballot as yes vote where voter put C in yes box)

N.L.R.B. v. A. G. Parrott Company 630 F.2d 212 (C.A. 4, 1980)

(Yes ballot marked with a C held to have been properly counted in favor of U since marking did not in any way reveal identity of Ee who cast ballot, and voting preference was clear)

7725-5050 Wording or lettering on ballot

San Joaquin Compress & Warehouse Company 251 NLRB No. 007

(ballot marked in pencil with X or checkmark and additional random markings in No box, with no markings in Yes box, invalid, since ballot does not disclose intent of voter with required degree of certainty; deciding whether voter had decided to make no-choice by obliterating mark in No box or merely intended emphasis by darkening whatever mark had been made originally in No box would have been mere speculation)

N.L.R.B. v. Metro-Truck Body, Inc. 613 F.2d 746 (C.A. 9) (1980)

(support of U was clearly manifested in instant case where challenged ballots of two of E's 15 Spanish speaking Ees were marked si in YES-SI box rather than in NO-NO box; Bd properly counted those challenged ballots as votes in favor of U)

7725-5050-3300 Unambiguous - valid

N.L.R.B. v. Manhattan Corporation, Manhattan Guest House, Inc. 620 F.2d 53 (C.A. 5, Jan 1980)

(ballot with No written on back not voided but counted as vote against representation)

The Wackenhut Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 666 F.2d 464 (C.A. 11, Jan. 1982)

(ballot printed in Spanish and cast by Spanish speaking Ee with word NO written in both SI and NO boxes held valid, since intent of voter was free from doubt)

7725-5083 Miscellaneous markings on ballots other than lettering

7725-5083-3300 Unambiguous - valid

N.L.R.B. v. Leonard Creations of California, Inc. 638 F.2d 111 (C.A. 9, 1981)

(voter intended to register No vote where contested ballot exhibited full X in box indicating vote against U representation and slash in the box in favor of it; ct found little support for Bd's conclusion that voter's intent was unclear)

7725-5083-6700 Ambiguous - void

San Joaquin Compress & Warehouse Co. (Local 78, Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union) 250 NLRB No. 007

(challenge to ballot marked in pencil with what appeared to be an X or checkmark and random additional markings in No box and no markings in yes box, overruled and ballot declared void as it does not disclose intent of voter with required degree of certainty)

7725-6700 Ballot cast for choice not listed

A. G. Parrott Company 255 NLRB No. 037

(ballot which reveals identity of voter is void)

A. G. Parrott Company 255 NLRB No. 037

(where Bd agent inadvertently disclosed signed no ballot to E's representative, and then refused to let him inspect ballot for himself, election set aside and second election ordered since, if ballot is merely declared void in this instance, it would give majority to U, and if counted, would deprive U of majority)

N.L.R.B. v. A. G. Parrott Company 630 F.2d 212 (C.A. 4, 1980)

(signed ballot, decisive of outcome of election which, through Bd agent's inadvertent error, revealed voter's No choice required setting aside of election and direction of new election, where Bd denied E right, generally granted, to see signature thereby requiring E to accept, in blind faith, Bd's conclusion that ballot bore an invalidating signature and to abandon protection of inspection otherwise routinely available; E should not bear unfavorable consequences where Bd agent was at fault, and Bd's injustice to E would be equally unjust to U if No ballot were counted)

7750 BALLOTS OF CHALLENGED VOTERS

7750-0100 Generally

Ace Electrical Construction Corporation Advance Electric of New York, Inc.; et al. JD-(NY)-79-81

(ballot cast by person using name of person never employed by E at any time left unopened and uncounted)

Skyline Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 613 F.2d 1328 (C.A. 5) (1980)

(setting aside election not warranted notwithstanding provisions of N.L.R.B. Casehandling Manual were not precisely followed where Bd agent did not seal envelopes containing challenged ballots with tape, there was no label with name of person who sealed envelope, and no memo placed in file stating where challenged ballots were stored, since Bd secured and safeguarded ballots)

7750-1000 When determinative of result

Gauley Industries, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 189

(Bd declined to adopt recommendation of ALJ that challenge to ballot of Ee be sustained where record was insufficient to permit determination of Ee's eligibility (to vote); only in event that Ee's ballot remained determinative after revised tally, should further hearing on Ee's eligibility be held)

7750-3000 Destruction of

N.L.R.B. v. Loewy Drug Company, Inc. 595 F.2d 1217(T) (C.A. 4, 1979)

(where challenged ballot which had been ordered counted was destroyed election set aside and new election ordered in which current Ees shall determine whether they wish to be represented by U, provided U makes new showing of interest w/i 60 days)

7750-4000 Ballots commingled with nonchallenged ballots

Dutch Boy, Inc., Glow-Lite Division 263 NLRB No. 001

7750-6000 Opening and counting of certain challenged ballots prior to resolution of challenge

Premium Fine Coal, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 060

(opening of 2 determinative challenged ballots cast by individuals who were alleged discriminatees in pending ULP proceeding, appropriate in seeking to resolve qcr expeditiously, where theirs were the only challenged ballots, and they clearly and voluntarily waived their right to secrecy of their ballots and requested that their ballots be opened by voluntarily submitting signed affidavits)

8400 MAJORITY CONCEPT UTILIZED BY BOARD

8467 MAJORITY CONSISTS OF MORE THAN HALF WHO CAST VALID BALLOTS

8467-0100 Generally

The Nyack Hospital 248 NLRB No. 043

(where there are three choices on ballot and none receives majority, election is inconclusive)

9100 ROLE OF BOARD AGENT

9133 PERSONAL CONDUCT

9133-3300 Bias

N.L.R.B. v. Forest City Enterprises, Inc. 663 F.2d 34 (C.A. 6, Nov. 1981)

(E's charge that laboratory conditions required for conduct of election were destroyed by what E claimed was Bd agent's pro-U bias, rejected where not enough Ees to change outcome of election were affected, and irregularities were not so extreme as to destroy confidence in Bd's election process)

9133-3350 Fraternization with party to election

9133-3350—Cont.

Magic Pan, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 627 F.2d 105 (C.A. 7, 1980)
(Bd agent's casual conversation with U observer at election not objectionable where no voter was present during conversation, all observers had already voted and remarks could not have affected outcome of election)

9133-3347 Statements

Sonoma Vineyards, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 085
(E's cross-mtn for withdrawal of order transferring proceeding to Bd and Notice to Show Cause denied since Bd rejected alleged newly discovered evidence showing bias on part of Bd agent who conducted election where agent's comments at polls regarding U's ability to overcome challenges to ballots were not, if stated, overheard by voters as to have impact on election, and furthermore, agent's subsequent employment with U 3 years after election is not evidence of bias nor contravenes R/R 102.119 inasmuch as there is no evidence that former agent is representing U in any capacity before Bd in this proceeding; accordingly Bd granted mtn for summary judgment)

N.L.R.B. v. Allen's I.G.A. Foodliner 633 F.2d 217(T) (C.A. 6, 1980)
(Bd agent's comment to E observer that if Ees had been treated right she would not be there holding election was improper but not prejudicial where no voters were present in polling place at time remark was made, most voters had cast their ballots, and there was no evidence in the record that agent's remark was relayed to any voter who had not yet cast his/her ballot)

9133-3383 Selection of observer

Sonoma Corporation d/b/a Frontier Hotel v. N.L.R.B. 625 F.2d 298 (C.A. 9, Aug. 1980)
(where parties had stipulated prior to election that each would be allowed 2 observers, and U, with Bd agent's permission, had 3rd observer present, election set aside as E entitled to insist that Bd and U diligently adhere to provisions of stipulation designed to insure fair election; moreover, no showing of actual prejudice necessary)

9167 FUNCTIONS AND RESPONSIBILITIES

9167-4000 Opening of polls

9167-4050 Late

Jobbers Meat Packing Co. Inc. 252 NLRB No. 068
(notwithstanding that one eligible voter was disenfranchised as result of Bd agent's unavoidably opening polls two hours later than scheduled, U was certified and election results not set aside after tally of ballots showed 11 for and seven against U with one challenged ballot, since votes of challenged ballot and excluded voter would not have been determinative of election even if both had voted against U)

N.L.R.B. v. Klinger Electric Corporation, Klinger Electronics Division and Klinger Manufacturing Division 656 F.2d 76 (C.A. 5, 1981)
(E's objection that Bd agent opened election 17 minutes late overruled, where E did not offer slightest indication how this minor departure from election schedule could have influenced election)

9167-5400 Maintain free opportunity to vote

9167-5450 Police electioneering

N.L.R.B. v. Klinger Electric Corporation, Klinger Electronics Division and Klinger Manufacturing Division 656 F.2d 76 (C.A. 5, 1981)
(Bd agent's allowing bitter but brief confrontation between pro-U Ee and E's observor -- assuming Bd agent precipitated confrontation -- not sufficient to invalidate election where remarks had no substantial connection to election issue and were not shown to have effect on election; moreover there was no evidence that pro-U person was acting as U's agent or representative, and comments were not prolonged or even a conversation, so that there was no violation of the Milchem rule, as E alleged)

9167-6100 Granting of voting privilege

9167-6150 Denial of right to vote

9167-6150-6700 After close of polls

Kerrville Bus Co., Inc. 257 NLRB No. 034
(whether or not late ballot may be cast is a matter left to reasonable discretion of Bd and its agent conducting election. In each case Bd has traditionally considered following factors: (1) reason Ee was late; (2) how late Ee was; (3) how long voting period was; and (4) whether ballot box was opened or tally commenced at arrival of Ee. As a matter of fundamental statutory policy, it behooves Bd to afford Ees broadest possible participation in Bd elections as long as election procedures are not unduly interfered with or hampered)

9167-6160 Challenge procedure

9167-6161 Generally

Monterey Carmel Convalescent, Inc., d/b/a Carmel Convalescent Hospital 252 NLRB No. 041
(objection that Bd agent failed to adequately instruct U's observer at voting session on proper challenge procedures which thereby caused observer to believe failure or refusal to initial voter's name on eligibility list constituted challenge of that voter overruled; it is well settled that an observer should indicate clearly intent to challenge, and that in absence of such clarity, particularly when question is specifically asked by Bd agent, as here, and there is no affirmative response, Bd agent cannot reasonably be expected to interpret observer's conduct as conveying intent to challenge)

9167-6200 Handling challenged ballots

Skyline Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 613 F.2d 1328 (C.A. 5) (1980)
(setting aside election not warranted notwithstanding provisions of N.L.R.B. Casehandling Manual were not precisely followed where Bd agent did not seal envelopes containing challenged ballots with tape, there was no label with name of person who sealed envelope, and no memo placed in file stating where challenged ballots were stored, since Bd secured and safeguarded ballots)

9167-9000 Closing of polls

National Medical Hospital of Compton, d/b/a Dominguez Valley Hospital 251 NLRB No. 119
(notwithstanding that during day of election when periodic announcements of election were made over E's public address systems and operator made one erroneous announcement that polls would close at 4:30 p.m. rather than scheduled 4 p.m. closing, election was not set aside, since it was unreasonable to find that inadvertant and minimal deviation of one incorrect announcement weighed against numerous correct announcements and posted notices would so confuse or mislead significant number of eligible Ees who did not cast ballots)

9500 UNION AFFILIATION AND DISAFFILIATION ELECTIONS

Amoco Production Company 262 NLRB No. 160
(members only affiliation vote held invalid since it violates due process standards; to consider affiliation vote as internal U matter in which Bd will not intrude is inconsistent with Bd's obligation to assure that affiliation election satisfies due process; it is also inconsistent to permit all unit Ees to vote in R but not in affiliation election which affects interest of all Ees; and affiliation vote, directly impacting on statutory matters, results in undermining Bd's own election and certification procedures)

Amoco Production Company 262 NLRB No. 160
(in finding members only affiliation election vote not an internal U matter and invalid since it violates due process standards, Bd held question of affiliation is distinguishable from situations involving strike votes, contract ratification, etc., since only affiliation vote directly impacts upon matters w/in breadth of Act and results in undermining Bd's own election and certification procedures)

Amoco Production Company 262 NLRB No. 160
(in holding members only affiliation election invalid, Bd declined to accept concept of due process as including requirement that nonmembers be permitted to join U prior to any affiliation vote and thus permitted to participate in such vote; Bd was unwilling to adhere to such concept since it would continue the course of conduct in past cases, based on rationales and standards of varying Bd majorities, in which the only consistency was the ultimate result of upholding members only affiliation elections)

Amoco Production Company 262 NLRB No. 160
(in holding members only affiliation election invalid, Bd rejected view, which would uphold validity of such election based on fact that, even if disenfranchised Ees were permitted to vote, they could not have affected outcome; rather, decision herein is to assure adequate due process in all affiliation votes, since effects of exclusion cannot be measured by numerical tally)

Amoco Production Company 262 NLRB No. 160
(in holding members only affiliation election invalid, Bd held such holding does not deprive Ees of freely choosing their representative and denying them fruits of collective bargaining, since exclusion of nonmembers from affiliation election would ignore wishes of all Ees and permit only U members to impose their wishes on all Ees, even when only minority of Ee complement consists of U members)

United Steelworkers of America, AFL-CIO-CLC (L & S Products, Inc.) 253 NLRB No. 129
(election purporting to affiliate Ee committee and its constituent Ees with international U held ineffective and void where voting violated all principles of fair election inasmuch as there was no voting list or record kept of who received ballots, and who voted, and there was no assurance that ballots represented votes of legitimate voters; and on day following voting, after ballots had been counted, Ee, who was most active in promoting affiliation, handed in two ballots purporting to be vote of other Ees, who apparently voted in favor of affiliation and broke election's tie vote)

9500—Cont.

United Steelworkers of America, AFL-CIO-CLC (L & S Products, Inc.) 253 NLRB No. 129
(election purporting to affiliate Ee committee with international U held ineffective and void since it was conducted in violation of minimal standards of democratic procedure or due process, where no notice was given Ees, advising them of meeting for conducting vote; no opportunity was allowed for discussion among Ees on merits of affiliation; majority of Ees had been informed that they were not voting on affiliation with international but on whether they wanted to hear about it; and there was lack of safeguards against rigged or otherwise unfair election)

United Steelworkers of America, AFL-CIO-CLC (L & S Products, Inc.) 253 NLRB No. 129
(valid affiliation election held not to create new labor organization nor does it result in dissolution of existing labor organization, and agreement between affiliating U and E remains effective until its stated expiration date; in case of void affiliation election, it is even more obvious that such election and any derivative actions do not dissolve pre-existing labor organization or its contract with E)

Aurelia Osborn Fox Memorial Hospital 247 NLRB No. 43
(in vote to affiliate with International fact that vote was not secret or that votes not held in individual bargaining units does not negate validity of affiliation election)

378 CONDUCT INTERFERING WITH ELECTION CHOICE

0100 GENERALLY

0120 BOARD RESPONSIBLE FOR FAIR ELECTION

Midland National Life Insurance Company 263 NLRB No. 024

(Bd rule governing R proceeding need not be absolute guarantee that election will, w/o exception, reflect choice of majority of voting Ees; rather, rule simply must be consistent with and constitute justifiable and reasonable adjustment of democratic process)

Glenn McClendon Trucking Co., Inc. 258 NLRB No. 168

(it is Bd's responsibility, not that of parties, to establish proper procedure for conduct of elections)

Hall-Brooke Hospital, a division of Hall-Brooke Foundation, Inc. 645 F.2d 158 (C.A. 2, Mar 31, 1981)

(in reviewing Bd's action in not setting aside election to which objections were raised allegedly because of improper use of campaign material, ct noted that Bd is entrusted with broad discretion in creating and enforcing standards to ensure fair election)

Wells Fargo Guard Services, A Division of Baker Protective Services, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 659 F.2d 363 (C.A. 3, Sep. 1981)

(enforcement denied and case remanded to Bd for evidentiary hearing where issue, of whether allegedly unfit leader remained in control of U, had significant impact on election won by U; strictness of Bd action in setting aside first election because of E's distributing altered facsimile ballot prior to election when contrasted with its flexibility in certifying U after second election supplies additional reason for remand)

The Wackenhut Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 666 F.2d 464 (C.A. 11, Jan. 1982)

0160 ISOLATED CONDUCT

United Broadcasting Company of New York, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 065

(U's threats to blacklist Ee if he failed to support U warranted setting aside of election, notwithstanding contention no effect on election where Ee threatened failed to vote, and as to other Ees aware of threat, one was ineligible and other cast undeterminative challenged ballot; since whether conduct warrants setting aside of election does not turn on election results, but rather on its likelihood to coerce prospective voters to cast their votes in particular manner, nor were threats unobjectionable because directed at one individual since could reasonably be expected to be repeated)

Lacks Industries, Inc. JD-346-82

(election not set aside on basis of dissemination by Ee to other Ees of conversation he had with supervisor when latter had allegedly unlawfully interrogated Ee where, because of size of unit of 126-130 Ees, misconduct had limited impact on unit Ees)

Pascack Valley Hospital Association JD-(NY)-85-81

(no interference, where E threatened Ee with loss of future raises because of his U activities; threat, occurring more than month prior to election, was isolated occurrence, not part of coordinated or concerted effort to deprive Ees of free choice in election)

0160-5000 Impact where election lost by close margin

N.L.R.B. v. ARA Services, Inc. 678 F.2d 438 (C.A. 3, Apr. 1982)

(where objections involve extremely close election, even minor misconduct cannot be summarily excused on ground that it could not have influenced election)

0170 CONDUCT MUST AFFECT EMPLOYEES IN UNIT VOTING

Petroleum Electronics, Inc. and/or Cook Enterprises, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 042

(contention that unlawful wage increase granted to Ees of E constituting single integrated enterprise with another E cannot serve as basis for setting aside election among latter E's Ees, rejected, since wage increase was likely to have impacted on second E's Ees where there was substantial Ee interchange between relatively small groups of Es' Ees, and second E's drivers made deliveries for, and were paid by, both Es)

0180 TIMING OF CONDUCT

N.L.R.B. v. Dobbs House, Inc. 613 F.2d 1254 (C.A. 5) (1980)

(evidence of misconduct occurring before filing of representation ptn will not be considered by Bd)

0180-1700 Remote in time

Authur Briggs, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 038

(for purposes of evaluating objections only, conduct occurring between filing of ptn and election may be considered as basis for setting aside election, although pre-petition conduct may be considered insofar as it lends meaning and dimension to post-petition conduct or assists in its evaluation)

Air Products and Chemicals, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 045

(violative interogation of Ee which occurred prior to filing of representation ptn cannot be considered as basis for objections to election)

Oklahoma City Collection District of Browning-Ferris, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 012

(violative interrogation of Ee may not serve as basis for setting aside election where it predated opening of critical periods)

Reliable Ambulance Service, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 174

(E's proposal of profit sharing program during critical period before 1st election objectionable conduct and election set aside and E's announcement and implementation of same profit sharing program while objections to 1st election pending before Bd was objectionable conduct causing 2nd election to be set aside notwithstanding original proposal outside critical period of 2nd election)

Maywood, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 129

(while agreeing with ALJ's finding that under Dressler Industries, Inc., 231 NLKB 591, E's prepetition ULPs may be considered insofar as they lend meaning and dimension to related post-petition conduct, Bd declined to adopt her further finding that under Dressler Industries E's unlawful prepetition conduct may be considered as valid grounds for setting aside election as there are no circumstances here to warrant departure from rule of The Ideal Electric and Manufacturing Company, 134 NLRB 1275)

Safeway Stores, Inc. JD-(SF)-61-81

(new Ee's training instructor's response to Ee that store was goint to open non-union, not objectionable, where evidence did not sustain U's contention that it was E's absolute intent to operate non-U and remark was made prior to time U filed its ptn for certification)

Datagraphix, Inc. JD-(SF)-344-80

(unlawful conduct did not warrant setting aside election where 6 months elapsed between occurrence of such conduct and balloting in election, and evidence did not disclose that in this period of time E was engaged in vigorous and impermissible anti-U campaign)

0180-3300 Critical period

Authur Briggs, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 038

(for purposes of evaluating objections only, conduct occurring between filing of ptn and election may be considered as basis for setting aside election, although pre-petition conduct may be considered insofar as it lends meaning and dimension to post-petition conduct or assists in its evaluation)

Danzansky-Goldberg Memorial Chapels, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 112

(election set aside and new election ordered where supervisor asked Ee when she was applicant and new Ee how she felt about Us, informed her E's owner was anti-U, advised her to refrain from joining U, asked her to let management know if pro-U Ees were harassing her, and linked possibility of E paying for Ee's schooling to Ee's anti-U position, notwithstanding violations involved only one Ee and were relatively modest in coerciveness, since occurred during critical pre-election period and it was not virtually imposible to conclude they could have affected results of election, particularly in view of small size of unit)

0180-3300—Cont.

Rosewood Mfg. Co., Inc. 263 NLRB No. 055
(E's distributing letters and leaflets, and delivering speech to Ees during critical period before election with emphasis on linking selection of U with unprofitability, low productivity, subsequent plant closure and loss of jobs held coercive, since such emphasis destroyed laboratory conditions and prevented Ees from expressing free choice in election)

Scott Glass Products, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 129
(contention that evidence of conduct pre-dating U's filing of ptn for election was improperly admitted at trial and could not serve as basis for overturning election rejected; although substantial raise was announced before critical period, it became effective and was first paid in critical period and was clearly related to violation w/i critical period, namely new rule to not talk about wage increase)

Carson International, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 146
(where U withdrew first ptn filed 43 days before filing second ptn, hiatus of 31 days occurred between withdrawal of first ptn and filing of second ptn, and there was no C case consolidated with R case in which ULPs were found, Bd applied Ideal Electric rule (134 NLRB 1275) and dated critical pre-election period from date of filing of second ptn; Bd declined to make an exception to Ideal Electric rule on basis of Monroe Tube (220 NLRB 302) wherein second ptn came immediately on heels of first ptn, whereas here there was significant period during which Bd processes were not involved)

Walter Carpet Mills, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 096
(critical period has been held to include day on which ptn was filed rather than running from that date)

Micro Metl Corporation 257 NLRB No. 005
(only objectionable conduct which occurs after election ptn is filed may be considered in determining whether election should be set aside)

Levi Strauss & Co., Inc. 256 NLRB No. 182
(prohibiting Ee conversations during 24 hours before election, interference, whether prohibitions resulted from supervisors misinterpreting management's instructions or E intentionally attempting to monopolize the final hours of the election campaign, since there was no legitimate business justification involving concern about production on election day where Ees were released from work after conclusion of the election and talking ban was not in effect after election)

Reliable Ambulance Service, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 174
(E's proposal of profit sharing program during critical period before 1st election objectionable conduct and election set aside and E's announcement and implementation of same profit sharing program while objections to 1st election pending before Bd was objectionable conduct causing 2nd election to be set aside notwithstanding original proposal outside critical period of 2nd election)

Evans Brothers Barber & Beauty Salons, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 023
(election set aside and new election ordered where during critical period, E unlawfully threatened more onerous working conditions, unlawfully questioned Ees about U meeting, and unlawfully questioned Ee about her attendance at U meeting; furthermore, related pre-ptn conduct also considered as indicative that post-ptn ULPs were not isolated incidents)

Lippincott Industries, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 034
(election ordered set aside where E's ULPs w/i critical period involved interrogation of Ee and unlawful discharge of U adherent 3 hours before election in which U lost by one vote)

Moody Nursing Home, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 022
(truthfull written propoganda concerning U dues distributed along with paychecks on election day not violative as only content of material is relevant to effect on election, not timing)

Ashcraft's Market, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 025
(E's announcement of dental plan during critical pre-election period did not warrant setting election aside, since decision regarding plan was made outside critical period and E followed usual custom of announcing benefit changes at Christmas party and putting change into effect on or about January 1)

Marconi, Inc., d/b/a El Caballo 251 NLRB No. 009
(pre-election threat made by pro-U supervisor, objectionable, where supervisor still occupied his supervisory position and at time of election was in position to thrust his pro-U sympathies onto Ees and to implement his threat)

Armstrong Cork Company 250 NLRB No. 147
(E's letter to Ees prior to election stating that you will decide whether you want to give up your rights— concerning direct dealing with plant manager or supervisor, held objectionalbe, since letter conveyed unmistakable message that existing right or benefit will be revoked if Ees vote for U)

Coronet Instructional Media, A Division of Esquire, Inc. (Warehouse, Mail Order, Office Technical and Professional Employees Union, Local 743, Teamsters) 230 NLRB No. 133
(discharge violative of 8(a)(3) held not objectionable conduct where it occurred prior to filing of representation ptn)

Coronet Instructional Media, A Division of Esquire, Inc. (Warehouse, Mail Order, Office Technical and Professional Employees Union, Local 743, Teamsters) 230 NLRB No. 133
(ten-percent wage increase, which was not provided for and not outgrowth of wage survey initiated before U activities began but was granted after U activities began and one week before election, violative and objectionable conduct)

The Nestle Company 248 NLRB No. 106
(while E's conduct before and after initial and runoff elections was called into question by ULP charges, it is only conduct occurring between the two elections which may properly be considered in regard to objections to runoff election)

F.W.I.L. Lundy Bros. Restaurant, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 087
(bus service provided by E to its Ees week before election and continued only until after election found objectionable, since conduct provided preelection benefit and limited ability of U to communicate with Ees)

N.L.R.B. v. St. Mary's Home, Inc., t/a St. Mary's Infant Home 690 F.2d 1062 (C.A. 4, Sept. 1982)
(where alleged coercive conduct by Ee, herein found supervisor, occurred 2 months before election as this extended time period between alleged coercive conduct and election itself is such that any assumption that such conduct prejudiced fairness of election was too tenuous to require hearing)

0180-6700 Cut-off date

Conair Corporation 261 NLRB No. 178
(contention by E, citing Sec. 10(b) 6-months statute of limitations applicable to complaints, that conduct upon which objections to election are based must have occurred w/i 6 months of date of objections, rejected, and ULPs which occurred between date of filing of R-ptn and date of election considered in determining whether election should be set aside)

Blue Bird Body Company 251 NLRB No. 196
(prepetition conduct may be considered in determining whether party has engaged in objectionable conduct where such prepetition conduct lends meaning and dimension to post-election conduct)

Mastercraft Leather Manufacturing Company, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 068
(E's statement to Ee, threatening to close shop if U came in, excluded from consideration as objectionable conduct since it occurred before filing of ptn)

1400 STANDARD FOR ELECTION CONDUCT

1401 GENERALLY

Blue Cross of Kansas City, Inc. and Blue Shield of Kansas City, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 070
(speech may constitute objectionable conduct in R proceeding yet will not be violative as ULP because protected under 8(c), as standard for speech in R election is more restrictive)

Melrose-Wakefield Hospital Association, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 615 F.2d 563 (C.A. 1) (1980)
(Bd has wide discretion in setting standards for conduct of representation elections and its rulings on effect of particular campaign practices will be set aside only if they are in an abuse of discretion)

ITT Lighting Fixtures, Division of ITT Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 934 (C.A. 2, Sept. 1981)
(Bd views its elections as affording Ees opportunity to cast their ballots for or against U in atmosphere conducive to informed exercise of franchise, free not only from unlawful interference, restraint or coercion, but also from other elements which prevent or impede a reasoned choice)

Baird-Poulan Division, Emerson Electric Company v. N.L.R.B. 649 F.2d 589 (C.A. 8, May 1981)
(for review of Bd's decision regarding objections to election, standard is whether Bd acted w/i wide degree of discretion vested in it by Congress regarding R matters)

Baird-Poulan Division, Emerson Electric Company v. N.L.R.B. 649 F.2d 589 (C.A. 8, May 1981)
(R elections are not to be set aside lightly)

1401-2000 ULP conduct a fortiori interference with election

Avecor, Inc., subsidiary of U.S. Industries, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 010
(petitioner's mtn to consolidate and/or for reconsideration as result of Bd finding of 8(a)(1) violations on basis of conduct which was subject of previously overruled objection to election in instant decertification proceeding, denied; Bd rejected contention that, since (8a)(1) conduct a fortiori interferes with election, such finding invalidates retroactively Bd's conclusion herein that E's conduct did not warrant setting election aside; a fortiori principle was attempt by Bd to avoid mechanical approach and Bd looks to economic realities of E-Ee relationship in determining whether to set aside election)

1401-2500—Cont.

Local 300, Cosmetic and Novelties Workers' Union, Affiliated With International Production Service and Sales Employees Union 257 NLRB No. 174
(threat to Ees, some of whom were illegal aliens, by U agent, interpreter, that Ees would be deported if they did not vote for U held violative and warranted setting aside election)

Custom Trim Products 255 NLRB No. 096
(new election directed, where E's ULPs such as sending letter to all Ees stating futility of selecting U and posting unlawful no-distribution rule during critical period was, a fortiori, conduct which interfered with exercise of Ees' free choice and sufficient to set aside first election)

Dunmore Heating Corporation 254 NLRB No. 030
(conduct which does not interfere with conduct of election a fortiori, would not constitute violation of Sec. 8(a)(1))

S. L. Industries Inc. and Extruded Products, Corp. 252 NLRB No. 151
(discriminatory layoff)

Han-Dee Pak, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 107

Mastercraft Leather Manufacturing Company, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 065

Lyman Steel Company 249 NLRB No. 040
(ULPs during critical period between date of first election and date of rerun election)

Cardinal Heating and Cooling, Inc. JD-835-79
(election set aside due to conduct constituting ULPs during pendency of representation ptn)

1401-5000 'Laboratory conditions' standard

Arolam, Inc., subsidiary of U.S. Industries, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 010
(petitioner's mtn to consolidate and/or for reconsideration as result of Bd finding of 8(a)(1) violation on basis of conduct which was subject of previously overruled objection to election in instant decertification proceeding, denied; effect of narrow ruling herein was that, if U has won election despite E's campaign against it, election results stand as against mechanical insistence on laboratory conditions; and fact that E's conduct was later found violative does not cast issue into any light significantly different from that in which Bd first examined it)

Douglas Parking Company 262 NLRB No. 024
(door prizes given by E to Ees at appreciation dinner on evening before election destroyed laboratory conditions necessary for free and fair election where they were of sufficient number and value that it is likely that the receiving Ees felt obligation to favor E)

Weyerhaeuser Company 247 NLRB No. 147
(proper standard in cases involving objections to conduct affecting results of election is whether the conduct reasonably tends to interfere with Ee's freedom of choice in election)

Aero Warehouse, Inc. JD-(NY)-48-81
(objections to election overruled where objectionable conduct was not attributable or imputed to U; objectinable conduct did not meet standards articulated by Bd in Hollywood Ceramics Company, Inc. 140 NLRB 221 (1962); as E had sufficient time to reply)

N.L.R.B. v. Hudson River Aggregates, Inc. 639 F.2d 865 (C.A. 2, 1981)
(although laboratory conditions test may not always be satisfied Bd must insure that coercive atmosphere, regardless if atmosphere caused by unit members and not E or U, did not exist during election such as would prevent fair and free election from taking place)

Season-All Industries, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 654 F.2d 932 (C.A. 3, 1981)
(while agreeing with proposition that in establishing and maintaining laboratory conditions condiucive to an election, no conduct disruptive or destructive of voter's free choice can be tolerated regardless of whether actions are those of U agent or mere Ee, ct was precluded, because of RD's failure to afford hearing, from setting aside election on basis of E's objection that rank-and-file Ee improperly electioneered at polling place as U agent; ct did no more than adhere to Bd's own policies which require an evidentiary hearing when objections raise substantial and material issues of fact)

1401-6700 Conduct objectionable which may reasonably be expected to have significant impact on election

Rosewood Mfg. Co., Inc. 263 NLRB No. 088
(E's distributing letters and leaflets, and delivering speech to Ees during critical period before election with emphasis on linking selection of U with unprofitability, low productivity, subsequent plant closure and loss of jobs held coercive, since such emphasis destroyed laboratory conditions and prevented Ees from expressing free choice in election)

Salem No. 1, Inc. d/b/a The Seville 262 NLRB No. 157
(asserted misconduct of U, prior to election, which allegedly included slashing tire on supervisor's car, heavy evidence of threats to slash tire and threatening phone calls to one Ee not so aggravated as to render free election impossible, since there was no evidence that U agents who involved in alleged misconduct nor did acts involve widespread threats or acts of violence)

Blue Cross of Kansas City, Inc. and Blue Shield of Kansas City, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 070
(statements individually unobjectionable are not made objectionable by virtue of their repetition)

Liquid Transporters, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 052
(Bd set aside election and directed new election where Bd sustained U's objection in regard to E's letter to Ees with repeated references associating U with strikes, loss of jobs, and loss of business which Bd held had coercive impact on Ees by tending to create impression that such adverse consequences would be direct result of unionization)

The Swingline Company; Spotnails, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 119
(where E engaged in misconduct which affected both competing Us, absent conduct which supported winning U, Bd will not order second election, especially in light of fact that winning U won by wide majority and single interrogation, threat and statements of U support came from low level supervisor)

Evans Brothers Barber & Beauty Salons, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 023
(election set aside and new election ordered where during critical period, E unlawfully threatened more onerous working conditions, unlawfully questioned Ees about U meeting, and unlawfully questioned Ee about her attendance at U meeting; furthermore, related pre-ptn conduct also considered as indicative that post-ptn ULPs were not isolated incidents)

Central Solano County Hospital Foundation, Inc., d/b/a Intercommunity Hospital 255 NLRB No. 045
(solicitation for benefit of hospital or for charity is recognized and permissable exemption from valid no-solicitation rule and does not constitute disparate application of rule barring outside solicitation and distribution by non-Ee organizers; such solicitation and distribution no ground for setting aside elections in units of hospital Ees)

Jobbers Meat Packing Co. Inc. 252 NLRB No. 008
(notwithstanding that one eligible voter was disenfranchised as result of Bd agent's unavoidably opening polls two hours later than scheduled, U was certified and election results not set aside after tally of ballots showed 11 for and seven against U with one challenged ballot, since votes of challenged ballot and excluded voter would not have been determinative of election even if both had voted against U)

National Medical Hospital of Compton, d/b/a Domiquez Valley Hospital 251 NLRB No. 119
(where U distributed pamphlets to E's Ees comparing their wage rates with those of Ees in county (public) hospitals and in private hospitals and misrepresented to Ees that U had negotiated both public and private hospitals' contracts, when in fact, had negotiated only private hospitals' contracts, Bd dismissed objection as private hospital pay rates were substantially higher than pay rates cited at public hospitals and, therefore, Ees would not have been induced to vote for U because of lower rates at public hospital)

Mastercraft Leather Manufacturing Company, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 065
(discouraging Ee from voting warranted sustaining U's objection and directing second election)

United Broadcasting Company of New York, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 065
(U's threats to blacklist Ee if he failed to support U warranted setting aside of election, notwithstanding contention no effect on election where Ee threatened failed to vote, and as to other Ees aware of threat, one was ineligible and other cast undeterminative challenged ballot; since whether conduct warrants setting aside of election does not turn on election results, but rather on its likelihood to coerce prospective voters to cast their votes in particular manner, nor were threats unobjectionable because directed at one individual since could reasonably be expected to be repeated)

Aero Warehouse, Inc. JD-(NY)-48-81
(objections to election overruled where objectionable conduct was not attributable or imputed to U; objectinable conduct did not meet standards articulated by Bd in Hollywood Ceramics Company, Inc. 140 NLRB 221 (1962); as E had sufficient time to reply)

Melrose-Wakefield Hospital Association, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 615 F.2d 563 (C.A. 1) (1980)
(in refusing to remand case so RD could conduct new investigation under stricter Hollywood Ceramics standards, ct noted that RD found relevant objections had no merit even under Hollywood Ceramics (in footnote) and Bd ruled on E's appeal applying explicitly Hollywood Ceramics and General Knit, assuring itself that RD had considered stricter standard with full vigor)

N.L.R.B. v. Hudson River Aggregates, Inc. 639 F.2d 865 (C.A. 2, 1981)
(factors Bd must consider in determining whether fair and free choice by Ees was impossible are: number of threats; severity of threats; whether those threatened were put in fear; number of workers threatened; timing; whether they remained in Ees' minds, whether threats were widely circulated; whether effect of pro-U threats were cancelled by promanagement threats; closeness of vote; whether threats attributable to U or management)

1401-6700—Cont.

Wells Fargo Guard Services, A Division of Baker Protective Services, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 659 F.2d 363 (C.A. 3, Sep. 1981)

(determination of truth of party's allegation in objecting to conduct of election requires evidentiary hearing, since allegation that past president did not remove himself from operation of U, if true, would lead to setting election aside)

Vitek Electronics, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 785 (C.A. 3, June 1981)

(in assessing campaign rhetoric, Bd tolerates a degree of hyperfole; intemperance and inaccuracy, and an election will only be set aside when there has been a substantial departure from truth that may reasonably be expected to have s significant impact on the election)

Vicksburg Hospital, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 1070 (C.A. 5, Aug 1981)

(in order to gain right to new election, E has entire burden of 1) offering specific evidence of specific events from or about specific people, and 2) showing that these objectionable activities, when considered as a whole, either tended to or did influence outcome of election)

N.L.R.B. v. Carroll Contracting and Ready-Mix, Inc. 636 F.2d 111 (C.A. 5, 1981)

(election set aside where two former Ees with vote Teamsters on their hats, before polls opened, positioned themselves in parking lot where line of waiting voters formed and repeatedly and continuously, throughout polling period, urged waiting voters to vote for U by gesturing to YES box on ballot pinned to their shirts; once polls had opened, Ees waiting outside in line to vote became part of polling place, and were entitled to safeguards against interference espoused by Milchem, Inc. 170 NLRB 362 (1968); actions of rank and file of its supporters do not need to be attributed to U)

N.L.R.B. v. Carroll Contracting and Ready-Mix, Inc. 636 F.2d 111 (C.A. 5, 1981)

(acts not attributable to U warrant setting aside election if acts disrupted voting procedure or destroyed atmosphere necessary to (Ees') exercise of free choice in R election)

N.L.R.B. v. Gulf States Canners, Inc. 634 F.2d 215 (C.A. 5, 1981)

(Bd did not abuse discretion in determining that U's offer to purchase gasoline for Ees who transported other workers to U meetings and/or campaigned on behalf of U at their fellow Ees' homes did not have such tendency to influence election that new election would be required)

N.L.R.B. v. Gulf States Canners, Inc. 634 F.2d 215 (C.A. 5, 1981)

(simple misconduct alone is not sufficient to set aside election; E must also show that acts interfered with Ees' exercise of free choice to such extent that they materially affected results of election)

N.L.R.B. v. Claxton Manufacturing Company, Inc. 613 F.2d 1364 (C.A. 5) (1980)

(representation election may be set aside only if objectionable activities, when considered as whole, either tended to or did influence outcome of election)

N.L.R.B. v. Gulf States Canners, Inc. 598 F.2d 896 (C.A. 5)

(in determining whether election should be invalidated focus should be on effects of particular act on electorate rather than on actor's intent; test objective rather subjective, and determination should be based on all relevant facts)

The Standard Register Company v. N.L.R.B. 649 F.2d 412 (C.A. 6, May 1981)

(Bd did not abuse its discretion when it determined that misrepresentation concerning wage differentials at E's plants was not material under Hollywood Ceramics test and did not affect election result)

N.L.R.B. v. Sara Knoca, a sole proprietor d/b/a Clio Convalescent Center 633 F.2d 217(T) (C.A. 6, 1980)

(ct held omission in campaign letter respecting dietary aides and cooks could not have had effect of misleading those Ees as to their rights to participate in election, particularly in view of other notices which were plainly posted throughout facility and in view of absence of any evidence that such Ees were, in fact, misled)

Beaird-Poulan Division, Emerson Electric Company v. N.L.R.B. 649 F.2d 589 (C.A. 8, May 1981)

(election will be overturned only if coercive actions have created an atmosphere of fear and reprisal such as to render free expression of choice impossible where threats or violence are not attributable to U or E because neither Us nor Es can prevent misdeeds by persons over whom they have no control)

Beaird-Poulan Division, Emerson Electric Company v. N.L.R.B. 649 F.2d 589 (C.A. 8, May 1981)

(burden is on objecting party to prove prejudice to fairness of election)

N.L.R.B. v. Advanced Systems, Inc. 681 F.2d 918 (C.A. 9, Apr. 1982)

(party seeking to overturn election because of coercive conduct carries heavy burden. Question is whether coercive conduct so influenced potential voters that free choice was impossible. In assessing effect of conduct on election less weight is accorded to conduct not attributable to U or E. Test for setting aside election because of third party conduct is whether conduct was so aggravated that it made free choice impossible)

Spring City Knitting Company v. N.L.R.B. 647 F.2d 1011 (C.A. 9, June 1981)

(objecting party who claims that campaign tactics in election were so coercive as to require overturning election faces heavy burden; question is whether coercive conduct so influenced potential voters that free choice by Ees was impossible)

Worley Mills, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 685 F.2d 362 (C.A. 10, July 1982)

(Bd has broad discretion in supervising elections and will not be overturned unless record shows interference was present to extent that inference can be drawn that conduct materially affected election)

1401-6750 De minimis impact of conduct

Douglas Parking Company 262 NLRB No. 024

(supervisor's conduct held interference where he created impression of surveillance in his pre-election conversation with Ee and impliedly threatened his discharge; although made to single Ee, remarks were found to be subject of repetition and discussion among voters and, therefore, impact of remarks was widespread and not de minimus, in view of presumption of repetition regarding statements made during election campaign, and E's failure to meet burden of showing that dissemination had not occurred)

Medical Center of Beaver County, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 096

(one voter, in voting unit of approximately 315 Ees saw list of voters, which was maintained by petitioner during election, though not openly; action was de minimis and not grounds for setting aside election)

Masonic Homes of California, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 006

(directed where several Ees saw U observer keep list of hash marks and voters' names continuously through morning voting session and part of afternoon session; such conduct is not de minimis)

Micro Metl Corporation 257 NLRB No. 005

(unlawful threat of plant closing and surveillance did nt constitute basis for setting election aside, notwithstanding U lost election by close margin, where E's misconduct was not disseminated and had limited impact and therefore no inference that election outcome was influenced by E's misconduct could be made)

Central Solano County Hospital Foundation, Inc., d/b/a Intercommunity Hospital 255 NLRB No. 045

(banning solicitation in Ee breakroom held objectionable conduct, since breakroom was area in which solicitation must be permitted by E and not de minimus conduct; conduct warranted setting aside election)

Mastercraft Leather Manufacturing Company, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 068

(sole ULP established w/i post-ptn period not de minimis since pre-ptn misconduct of twice threatening Ee with plant closure and same Ee victim of post-ptn ULPs added meaning and dimension to related post-ptn conduct)

Flagler Memorial Park 247 NLRB No. 204

(U's furnishing E fragmentary copy of U's constitution, even if it constituted substantial misrepresentation, not basis for setting aside election, where there was no showing that alleged misrepresentation was material to issue of whether Ees wanted U as their bargaining representative, and E was aware of the misrepresentation almost a month before the election)

N.L.R.B. v. Production Plated Plastics, Inc. 663 F.2d 709 (C.A. 6, Nov. 1981)

(whether or not Ees acting as agent of U while making threats to fellow Ees during U campaign, laboratory conditions for election not destroyed in view of limited nature of their condict, subsequent apologies by Ees, absence of violence in campaign and sizable U majority)

1401-7100 Subjective understanding of remarks not competent evidence

Jacksonville Warehouse Company 264 NLRB No. 084

(Bd will no longer probe into truth or falsity of parties' campaign statements and elections will no longer be set aside on basis of misleading campaign statements)

Beaird-Poulan Division, Emerson Electric Company 247 NLRB No. 180

(rumor that U adherent brandished a gun at anti-U Ees after receiving an anti-union handbill held false rumor of threat of violence, and even if Ees believed U adherent was pointing gun at them their subjective reactions were irrelevant to question of objectionable conduct)

1401-7800 Atmosphere of fear and violence

1401-7500—Cont.

North Electric Company, Plant No. 10, Gray, Tennessee 263 NLRB No. 174
(pursuant to ct remand requiring Bd to determine whether E's objections to election, when viewed with documentary evidence in record, require a hearing, Bd held alleged objectionable conduct, consisting of pre-election threats of property damage or destruction made telephonically by various callers to Ees who had worn Vote No buttons, was not attributable to U nor of such character as to result in atmosphere of fear and coercion and did not reveal evidence of substantial and material factual issues which would require a hearing)

Beaird-Poulan Division, Emerson Electric Company v. N.L.R.B. 649 F.2d 589 (C.A. 8, May 1981)
(election will be overturned only if coercive actions have created an atmosphere of fear and reprisal such as to render free expression of choice impossible where threats or violence are not attributable to U or E because neither Us nor Es can prevent misdeeds by persons over whom they have no control)

N.L.R.B. v. Belcor, Inc. d/b/a San Jose Care & Guidance Center 652 F.2d 856 (C.A. 9, Aug 1981)
(pre-election fire and burglary, not interference where E offered no evidence linking incident to U or election or showing coercion or intimidation of any Ee)

1401-8700 Conduct must be attributable to party unless so disruptive as to preclude free expression of choice

Aero Warehouse, Inc. JD-(NY)-46-81
(objections to election overruled where objectionable conduct was not attributable or imputed to U; objectinable conduct did not meet standards articulated by Bd in Hollywood Ceramics Company, Inc. 140 NLRB 221 (1962); as E had sufficient time to reply)

N.L.R.B. v. ARA Services, Inc. 678 F.2d 435 (C.A. 3, Apr. 1982)
(even assuming arguendo that RD was correct in finding that individuals were not U agents, their conduct in threatening and intimidating Ee and possibly other Ees, could not be tolerated, particularly in situation where only one vote could change outcome of election)

N.L.R.B. v. Carroll Contracting and Ready-Mix, Inc. 636 F.2d 111 (C.A. 5, 1981)
(acts not attributable to U warrant setting aside election if acts disrupted voting procedure or destroyed atmosphere necessary to (Ees') exercise of free choice in R election)

Beaird-Poulan Division, Emerson Electric Company v. N.L.R.B. 649 F.2d 589 (C.A. 8, May 1981)
(election will be overturned only if coercive actions have created an atmosphere of fear and reprisal such as to render free expression of choice impossible where threats or violence are not attributable to U or E because neither Us nor Es can prevent misdeeds by persons over whom they have no control)

N.L.R.B. v. Belcor, Inc. d/b/a San Jose Care & Guidance Center 652 F.2d 856 (C.A. 9, Aug 1981)
(alleged general disorder and raucousness in area immediately outside polling area, not interference, since E made no effort to attribute said conduct to U, conversations between U representatives and Ees which are only innocuous neutral statements do not constitute interference, and E's showing that such conduct made affiant Ee uneasy did not demonstrative Ee's inability to exercise free choice at the polls)

1700 ABUSE OF BOARD PROCESSES

Rolligon Corporation 234 NLRB No. 004
(use by any party of mass subpenas as device merely to generate Ee enthusiasm or interest, or to cause mass Ee attendance at Bd proceeding, condemned by Bd, since it clearly has potential to disrupt E's production schedule and is not purpose for which Bd subpenas were intended; subpenas are, on their face, issued to require attendance of potential witnesses, and if use of subpenas confused Ees or created appearance of Bd partisanship or ohterwise impacted upon exercise of free choice by Ees, election would be set aside)

Rolligon Corporation 234 NLRB No. 004
(unlike cases involving altered documents or misstatements of law, Bd subpena does not involve misrepresentation of Bd actions; Bd issues subpenas in representation matters for all parties, at their request, and it is not apparent how their issuance could imply that Bd favored one party or the other)

Rolligon Corporation 234 NLRB No. 004
(RD's issuance of subpenas upon proper application is ministerial act which is largely automatic, but if there is abuse of Bd process, aggrieved party may bring matter to RD's attention and move to quash; moreover, should Bd discover widespread abuse of tis process, it will consider sua sponte revisions of its R/R to meet such problem)

2100 SPEECHES TO MASSED EMPLOYEES WITHIN 24 HOURS OF ELECTION (PEERLESS PLYWOOD RULE)

Belcor, Inc. d/b/a San Jose Care and Guidance Center 263 NLRB No. 152
(on ct remand ALJ found no captive audience speech w/i 24 hours preceding election by U in violation of Peerless Plywood rule, as alleged, since U adherents' party/meeting was held on private rather than company premises and after hours rather than on company time, U officials were present only to answer questions rather than make speeches, and attendance was not mandatory notwithstanding mandatory attendance printed at bottom of notice of party/meeting as inside joke)

Land O'Frost of Arkansas, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 001
(where supervisors on day of election visited half of eligible Ees at their work stations, urged them to vote and said that if they were undecided a no vote would be appreciated, did not violate Act as this conduct did not amount to speech to massed Ees within 24 hours of election)

Moody Nursing Home, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 022
(does not prohibit right of any party to circulate campaign literature, on or off premises during critical 24-hour period prior to election)

N.L.R.B. v. Belcor, Inc. d/b/a San Jose Care & Guidance Center 652 F.2d 856 (C.A. 9, Aug 1981)
(where E had submitted with its objections to election an index card concerning U meeting on which Mandatory Attendance was written and contended that U meeting held w/i 24 hours before election was not voluntary and not exempt form Peerless Plywood rule ct could not affirm RD's finding to contrary on basis of record w/o supporting documentation therefor and remanded case for hearing to resolve substantial and material issues raised by index card)

2800 CONDUCT OF EMPLOYER

2801 GENERALLY

Axelson, Inc., subsidiary of U.S. Industries, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 010
(petitioner's mtn to consolidate and/or for reconsideration as result of Bd finding of 8(a)(1) violation on basis of conduct which was subject of previously overruled objection to election in instant decertification proceeding, denied; effect of narrow ruling herein was that, if U has won election despite E's campaign against it, election results stand as against mechanical insistence on laboratory conditions; and fact that E's conduct was later found violative does not cast issue into any light significantly different from that in which Bd first examined it)

Spring City Knitting Company v. N.L.R.B. 647 F.2d 1011 (C.A. 9, June 1981)
(objecting party who claims that campaign tactics in election were so coercive as to require overturning election faces heavy burden; question is whether coercive conduct so influenced potential voters that free choice by Ees was impossible)

2801-3300 Protections of Section 8(c) of Act

Blue Cross of Kansas City, Inc. and Blue Shield of Kansas City, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 070
(speech may constitute objectionable conduct in R proceeding yet will not be violative as ULP because protected under 8(c), as standard for speech in R election is more restrictive)

The Dow Chemical Company, Texas Division 250 NLRB No. 103
(E holding meeting prior to decertification election at which slides were shown contrasting benefits currently received by unrepresented Ees of E, and which Ees would receive should U lose election, with benefits received by Ees represented by U, not unlawful, since not promise of benefits, where E merely furnished details inasmuch as its practices known; further, U was stressing protections it offered and Section 9(c) permits E to clearly portray its practices with regard to unrepresented Ees)

The Dow Chemical Company, Texas Division 250 NLRB No. 103
(E's distribution of letters to Ees prior to decertification election in which it urged Ees to consider what would be best for them and their families, stated election would be carefully conducted by Bd, sought to assure Ees regarding job security, not violative, since contained neither promises of benefits nor threats of reprisals and did not warrant setting election aside)

Dow Chemical Company, Texas Division v. N.L.R.B. 660 F.2d 637 (C.A. 5, Nov 1981)
ct held pre-election statements and questions of E to U members were protected speech under the Act where statements prior to decertification election were not promises but truthful or accurate observation of fact w/i bounds of legitimate electioneering or expressions of opinion by supervisors)

2801-3333 Has no application to R cases

2801-3333—Cont.

Rosewood Mfg. Co., Inc. 263 NLRB No. 055
(Section 8(c) of Act was intended by Congress to apply only to ULP cases and not R proceedings)

2801-4700 Neutralizing coercive effect

Whiting Manufacturing Company, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 058
(E's president at meeting on day before election stating that U shop would run him out of business warranted setting aside of election, since coercive effect not neutralized by explanation of E's labor relations advisor at same meeting that what E's president meant to say was that E was in competition with non-U states of south and was already paying Ees all it could and remain competitive; this actually reinforced E's statement that U victory would make E noncompetitive)

2804 EMPLOYER OBLIGATION TO NEGOTIATE WITH INCUMBENT UNION DURING CAMPAIGN

Richmond Waterfront Terminals, Inc. and Terminal Stevedores, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 152
(no interference with election where E executed contract with incumbent-intervenor U after petitioner-U served on parties copies of its request for review of dismissal of ptn to Bd as E and U under obligation to bargain and reach agreement. (RCA Del Caribe 262 NLRB No. 116) However, after ptn reinstated by Bd, E interfered with election when it rescinded contract w/i 10 days prior to election because E under obligation to honor such contract until incumbent is no longer bargaining representative; therefore, election set aside and 2nd election directed)

2806 EMPLOYER OBLIGATION TO SIGN OR HONOR CONTRACT WITH INCUMBENT UNION DURING CAMPAIGN

Richmond Waterfront Terminals, Inc. and Terminal Stevedores, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 152
(no interference with election where E executed contract with incumbent-intervenor U after petitioner-U served on parties copies of its request for review of dismissal of ptn to Bd as E and U under obligation to bargain and reach agreement. (RCA Del Caribe 262 NLRB No. 116) However, after ptn reinstated by Bd, E interfered with election when it rescinded contract w/i 10 days prior to election because E under obligation to honor such contract until incumbent is no longer bargaining representative; therefore, election set aside and 2nd election directed)

2816 ADDRESSING OR INTERVIEWING EMPLOYEES

2816-3300 Statements to employees individually or in groups

Mechanical Seal Division, Borg-Warner Corporation 254 NLRB No. 071
(where E incorrectly informed Ee she was not eligible to vote because she was probationary Ee and later informed her she was eligible, such possible disenfranchisement where unintentional and vote not determinative is not conduct warranting setting aside election)

Land O'Frost of Arkansas, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 001
(where supervisors on day of election visited half of eligible Ees at their work stations, urged them to vote and said that if they were undecided a no vote would be appreciated, did not violate Act as this conduct did not amount to speech to massed Ees within 24 hours of election)

2824 INTERROGATION

Halliburton Services (Coffeyville, Kansas), A Division of Halliburton Company 265 NLRB No. 144
(supervisor's asking Ee as to how the girls are going to vote, held interference)

Danzansky-Goldberg Memorial Chapels, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 112
(election set aside and new election ordered where supervisor asked Ee when she was applicant and new Ee how she felt about Us, informed her E's owner was anti-U, advised her to refrain from joining U, asked her to let management know if pro-U Ees were harassing her, and linked possibility of E paying for Ee's schooling to Ee's anti-U position, notwithstanding violations involved only one Ee and were relatively modest in coerciveness, since occured during critical pre-election period and it was not virtually impossible to conclude they could have affected results of election, particularly in view of small size of unit)

Air Products and Chemicals, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 045
(violative interogation of Ee which occurred prior to filing of representation ptn cannot be considered as basis for objections to election)

Oklahoma City Collection District of Browning-Ferris, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 012
(violative interrogation of Ee may not serve as basis for setting aside election where it predated opening of critical periods)

Brooks Brothers, a Division of Garfinckel, Brooks Brothers, Miller & Rhoads 261 NLRB No. 130
(asking Ee whether he has read company campaign literature and insisting that he read it, violative and objectionable conduct)

Brooks Brothers, a Division of Garfinckel, Brooks Brothers, Miller & Rhoads 261 NLRB No. 130
(where Ee worked strictly on commission, new store managers statement to Ee that he fired one guy to keep 10 people happy, asking her whether she was happy and calling her one of U's biggest supporters held unlawful announcement of grant of benefit, coercive interrogation, Ee surveillance, and constitutes objectionable conduct)

Graham Architectural Products Corporation 259 NLRB No. 153
(former supervisor asking U supporter what she thought U could get for her held violative notwithstanding question came up in personal conversation about Ee's baby and general discussion about U benefits and wages around country as such friendly interrogation is unlawful and Ee's former supervisor was still E's agent)

Graham Architectural Products Corporation 259 NLRB No. 153
(although supervisor assured Ee that nothing would happen to Ee if she answered questioned about how she felt about U, inquiry into Ee's views toward U held violative even in context of assurances against reprisals)

Graham Architectural Products Corporation 259 NLRB No. 153
(asking Ee whether she was for the U violative notwithstanding Ee replied she did not need to tell him but then answered, since here, supervisor, though conceding Ee did not need to answer did not withdraw the question and so silence could be construed as support for U)

Brookwood Furniture, Division of U.S. Industries 258 NLRB No. 028
(interrogation about U activities generally found interference, and interrogation specifically as to why Ee attended U meeting, whether Ees had any questions about E's anti-U speeches, and whether one Ee could change the mind of his wife who was on the in-plant organizing committee, unlawful and interference)

Standard-Coosa-Thatcher, Carpet Yarn Division, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 045

Borun Brothers, Inc., A Wholly Owned Subsidiary of Thrifty Corporation 257 NLRB No. 003
(unlawful interrogation and/or polling of Ees)

B. E. & K., Inc. 252 NLRB No. 036
(E's preelection conduct in asking Ees how they were going to vote and why they felt they needed U, unlawful and interference, where there was no evidence that there existed, or that Ees were advised of, a legitimate need or purpose for such interrogation, or that Ees were given assurances of nonreprisals concerning such interrogation)

Maremont Corporation, World Parts Division 251 NLRB No. 110
(supervisor's distributing pro-company hats with vote no buttons on them to Ees shortly before election, held an unlawful interrogation of Ees concerning their U membership, activities, and desires, and also an interference with election)

Maywood, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 139

Industry Products Company 251 NLRB No. 183

Edgar L. Landen t/a Speed Mail Service 251 NLRB No. 064
(violation and interference by interrogation of Ee about her signing U card by nonsupervisory Ee whom Ees could reasonably believe to be speaking for management)

Forrest-Lannom Associates, Inc. (Carpenters Union No. 978) 248 NLRB No. 067
(objection to single interrogation of Ee overruled where he was found to be nonunit Ee and interrogation thus not to have impacted on free choice of unit members)

Paceco, A Division of Fruehauf Corporation 247 NLRB No. 166
(on remand Bd adhered to finding of unlawful interrogations during critical period based on timing of interrogations and lack of evidence of valid purpose for questioning Ees on U sentiments)

Tape Industries, d/b/a Tape Market JD-(SF)-52-83
(interrogating Ee as to whether her son, another Ee, had been attending U meetings, unlawful and objectionable)

2827 SOLICITATION OF GRIEVANCES

Schnadig Corporation 265 NLRB No. 020
(election set aside where E's chairman of the board, following speech in which he made coercive threat to close plant, asked Ee at her work station if there was anything he could do for her, and when Ee informed him that rubber matting would make standing more comfortable, chairman said he would see what he could do)

Moody Nursing Home, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 022

Ellis Hospital JD-164-83
(E did not engage in unlawful conduct nor interfere with election by allegedly soliciting grievances and promising to redress them, where E told Ees of its economic problems and urged Ees to vote against U but did not ask Ees to tell him of their problems)

2827—Cont.

Ellis Hospital JD-164-82

(alleged solicitation of grievance from Ee by supervisor and implied promise to redress it, not unlawful nor interference with election, where supervisor had stated to Ee that his door was open to Ee anytime Ee wanted to talk to him, supervisor credibly testified that such was always the case, and even Ee's testimony did not make out a case of solicitation of grievances and promise to redress them)

Liberty Vinyl Corporation JD-(SF)-268-80

(soliciting grievances at meetings during U campaign with labor relations consultant and interpretor not violative, where consultant gave general disclaimer that he had no power to correct grievances but would pass them to management and E, who had held previous meetings where Ees were invited to discuss problems and make recommendations, did not deviate from past practices)

2829 SOLICITATION OF OPPOSITION TO UNION

Maywood, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 139

(telling newly-hired Ee that Ees in her department were not for U and did not sign authorization cards, interference)

2832 DISCRIMINATORY TREATMENT OR THREAT THEREOF

Mead Nursing Home, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 135

(E stating that if U calls strike, Ees may no longer have jobs after strike, and under law E does not need to rehire Ees, implicitly threatened to sever employment relationship permanently. E implied that it was w/i its sole discretion to terminate the employment relationship, thereby terminating all rights to reinstatement. Not only is implication contrary to law, but it is impermissible threat to Ees that if they strike they would lose their jobs)

Hahn Property Management Corporation 263 NLRB No. 080

(E's general manager's telling Ees that if U won election communication would then be Ee to U to management and Ees could no longer talk to him directly about wages, problems, complaints, held interference)

Brooks Brothers, a Division of Garfinckel, Brooks Brothers, Miller & Rhoads 261 NLRB No. 130

(discharging experienced clothing salesman who signed U card, discussed U with other Ees and had been steward at prior E violative where several shortcomings alleged at hearing were not stated at exist interview)

R. G. Barry Corporation 260 NLRB No. 023

(E's conduct in issuing written warnings of suspension or termination to Ees for engaging in U solicitation during working time held unlawful and interference with election, where E's conduct was directed at 4 U activists who constituted 40 percent of U's Ee organizing committees, anti-U Ees engaged in similar conduct were not subjected to threat of suspension or discharge; and awareness of treatment of U activists at whom E had previously directed display of U animus can reasonably be expected to have been disseminated to other Ees)

La Mousse, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 007

(E's pre-election constructive discharge of illegal alien Ees who supported U by calling immigration service to investigate undocumented alien Ees and thus bringing about their deportation held interference with election)

American Geri-Care, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 147

(election set aside where E made unlawful promise of benefits, and unlawfully harassed and discharged U adherent)

Piggly Wiggly, Tuscaloosa Division Commodores Point Terminal Corporation 258 NLRB No. 142

(Bd, contrary to ALJ, refused to assume from U's failure to list dischargee among other alleged discriminatory discharges in its election objections or in original charge that this Ee's discharge did not play role in undermining or dissipation of U's majority status and it subsequent loss of election; E did not meet its burden to show that Ee's termination one day after intensively surveilled U meeting which Ee attended was not widely known fact of significance to unit Ees)

Kawasaki Motors Corporation, U.S.A. 257 NLRB No. 069

(discriminatory discharge held interference)

Standard-Coosa-Thatcher, Carpet Yarn Division, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 045

(discharge of and/or refusal to re-employ Ees for engaging in U activity, interference)

Baron Brothers, Inc., A Wholly Owned Subsidiary of Thrifty Corporation 257 NLRB No. 083

(discriminatory issuance of warning and discharge, interference)

Propellex Corporation, a Subsidiary of Essex Cryogenics Industries, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 037

(election set aside and second election ordered, where prior to first election, E threatened Ees with loss of wages and overtime compensation, with loss of insurance, seniority, and vacation benefits, and with imposition of more onerous working conditions in event that Ees selected U as their bargaining agent)

Gossen Company, a Division of the United States Gypsum Company 254 NLRB No. 041

(election set aside in view of E's unlawful suspension of merit wages increases during election campaign and discriminatory discharges and warnings)

B. E. & K., Inc. 252 NLRB No. 036

(E's preelection response to Ees complaints about wages that they did not have to stay, that it could be a lot worse because they could be getting nothing, and that if they did not like state's low pay scales they could get out of state held unlawful implied threat of loss of jobs and interference with election)

B. E. & K., Inc. 252 NLRB No. 036

(objection that E threatened apprentices with nonprogression if U won election, overruled, where E's statements compared its ratio of apprentices to journeymen to ratio in U's contracts with other Es, and such statements were not to be construed as expected acts of reprisal but rather as what Ees could expect if U secured contract with E)

Maywood, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 139

(stripping Ee of his leadperson duties in retaliation against him for his U sympathies and activities held interference)

Maywood, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 139

(E's assigning more onerous work to Ees in retaliation for their U activities held interference)

Maywood, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 139

(threatening to find excuse to discharge Ee because of his U activities held interference)

Maywood, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 139

(statement that if Ees got U in all benefits including profit sharing and incentive would be dropped and Ees would be dropped back to the minimum wage, held interference)

Maywood, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 139

(discharge of Ees because of their U activities and sympathies, interference)

Maywood, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 139

(transfer of U leader to less desirable job assertedly in interest of increasing production, interference, where her pre-transfer job was reassigned to less-experienced person, E was hostile to U adherents, and transfer came about next working day after she testified for U under subpoena at hearing in RC-case)

Industry Products Company 251 NLRB No. 183

(unlawful discharge)

McLane/Western, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 185

(violation and interference where E was discharged, allegedly for breach of no-stealing rule by eating one cracker from damaged, unsalvageable carton, since E applied the rule in retaliation for Ee's suspected U support and as warning to other Ees)

Edgar L. Landen t/a Speed Mail Service 251 NLRB No. 064

(violation and interference by threat by nonsupervisory Ee whom Ees could reasonably believe to be speaking for E that Ees would lose their jobs or that E would close down company if U won election)

Armstrong Cork Company 150 NLRB No. 147

(E's letter to Ees prior to election stating that you will decide whether you want to give up your rights— concerning direct dealing with plant manager or supervisor, held objectionalbe, since letter conveyed unmistakable message that existing right or benefit will be revoked if Ees vote for U)

Patsy Bee, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 125

(election set aside where E's ULPs interfered with holding of free and fair election)

Pascack Valley Hospital Association JD-(NY)-85-81

(no interference, where E threatened Ee with loss of future raises because of his U activities; threat, occurring more than month prior to election, was isolated occurrence, not part of coordinated or concerted effort to deprive Ees of free choice in election)

Scoggin, Inc. JD-433-81

(E's reduction in work week of two U adherents who had testified at Bd hearing and thus causing one of the adherents to leave E's employ, not unlawful and did not warrant setting election aside, since reason for reduction in hours was financial situation of E rather than U activity)

Safeway Stores, Inc. JD-(SF)-61-81

(layoff in event majority of Ees voted for U)

Safeway Stores, Inc. JD-(SF)-61-81

(manager's threat to Ee's husband that he would discharge Ee because of her suspected U activity held violative and objectionable)

2832—Cont.

Krafcor Corporation JD-259-80
(preelection speech threatening Ees with more severe discipline if they selected U as their representative, including examples referring to Ees in context of incidents for which they would be discharged, held unlawful and election set aside)

The Fort Miller Company, Inc. (Local 294, Teamsters) JD-141-80
(supervisor's stating on election day that after today probably everybody will be standing in the unemployment line, or that after today probably none of us will be working here any more, held not threat of plant closure because of Ee U activity; at most, the statement constituted prediction or warning of unemployment w/o regard to outcome of election)

The Fort Miller Company, Inc. (Local 294, Teamsters) JD-141-80
(supervisor's stating, in answer to Ee's question as to what would happen if U won election, that whatever way it goes, we'll all be out of work, that they would both be out of a job, that it would all be over with, or that whatever way it goes it will all be over with, held not threat of discharge or plant closure if U won election; at most the statement indicated either that there would be more loss of jobs regardless to outcome of election, or that campaign would be over once election took place)

Beaird-Poulan Division, Emerson Electric Company v. N.L.R.B. 649 F.2d 589 (C.A. 8, May 1981)
(arguably coercive threats over 10 week campaign involving 800 voters did not warrant setting aside election)

2835 PREDICTION OF DETRIMENTAL RESULTS OF UNIONIZATION

Donnelly Manufacturing Co. Division of Brockhouse Corp. 265 NLRB No. 196
(election set aside where E unlawfully threatened to close plant)

A. J. Schmidt Co., William A. Schmidt and Sons, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 208
(E may predict to Ees effects it believes unionization would have so long as prediction is carefully phrased on basis of objective facts to convey E's belief as to demonstrate probable consequences beyond its control)

Schnadig Corporation 265 NLRB No. 020
(election set aside where E's chairman of board informed Ees he had purchased plant as non-U and expected it to stay that way, that he was in business to stay, hopefully at present site but if not there somewhere else, and needed Ees help to make plant profitable, that Ees were entitled to do as they saw fit but he did not believe U was good for future and being intelligent people Ees should not believe U's snow job, since reference to plant closing not based on objective facts supporting probable consequences beyond E's control, and supervisors had previously threatened plant closure)

Rosewood Mfg. Co., Inc. 263 NLRB No. 055
(E's distributing letters and leaflets, and delivering speech to Ees during critical period before election with emphasis on linking selection of U with unprofitability, low productivity, subsequent plant closure and loss of jobs held coercive, since such emphasis destroyed laboratory conditions and prevented Ees from expressing free choice in election)

United Supermarkets, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 179
(leaflets which were either posted in E's stores or mailed to Ees dealing exclusively with other Es' store closings, loss of Ees' jobs, and violence resulting from Ees' selection of U held interference, notwithstanding that accuracy of such events was not contested, in view of context of E's unlawful anti-U campaign)

Cafe Tartuffo, Inc. d/b/a Fiorella 261 NLRB No. 033
(statements in letter to Ees before election that U had negotiated contract at another of E's facilities which in my opinion gave Ees no more than they would have gotten w/o U, and probably less and we can negotiate agreement with U that does not cost any more in wages and benefits than w/o U, not objectionable, since legitimate campaign propaganda inasmuch as did not state or imply that E acting independently would grant same wages and benefits granted at unionized facility, nor indicate policy to treat represented and unrepresented Ees alike, or that Ees were receiving all they could expect U to obtain)

Blue Cross of Kansas City, Inc. and Blue Shield of Kansas City, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 070
(E's remarks in speeches and handouts regarding bargaining from scratch and starting negotiations with two blank pieces of paper held not violative where E stated that he was obligated to bargain in good faith, all benefits were not guaranteed but would be negotiated, and no intent was expressed to unilaterally remove Ee benefits)

Whiting Manufacturing Company, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 068
(E's president at meeting on day before election stating that U shop would run him out of business warranted setting aside of election, since coercive effect not neutralized by explanation of E's labor relations advisor at same meeting that what E's president meant to say was that E was in competition with non-U states of south and was already paying Ees all it could and remain competitive; this actually reinforced E's statement that U victory would make E noncompetitive)

International Harvester Company 258 NLRB No. 155
(E's statement to Ees that they would lose their Savings and Investment Program SIP if they chose U violative as loss of SIP was not demonstrably probable consequence beyond control of E; moreover E's later statement that SIP would be subject to negotiations did not cure earlier statement where it was combined with reminder that no other U-organized clerical unit in its other locations had been able to negotiate retention of SIP)

International Harvester Company 258 NLRB No. 155
(E's statement to clerical Ee that they could no longer bid into nonunit technical jobs if they chose to be represented by U violative as there is nothing in U's national contract which would prohibit Ees from continuing to apply their office clerical seniority in attempting to transfer into unorganized technical vacancies)

Standard-Coosa-Thatcher, Carpet Yarn Division, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 045

Levi Strauss & Co., Inc. 256 NLRB No. 182
(assuming that supervisor had made statement to Ee, as asserted, that if U came in warning system would be eliminated and she could be fired right there, such statement held insufficient to overturn election: (1) remark was made by low-level supervisor on day of election leaving little time for it to circulate; and (2) supervisor also told Ee that nothing would change except that Ees would have to pay dues thus leaving, at best, Ee with ambiguous impression concerning what would happen if U won)

Educational and Recreational Services, Inc., a Wholly-Owned Subsidiary of ARA Services, Inc., etc. 253 NLRB No. 140
(leaflet, inserted by E in Ees' paycheck envelope immediately prior to election, stating that U dues have not been deducted—different—if U wins—VOTE NO—, held not objectionable, since document does not indicate that dues would automatically be withdrawn from paychecks w/o Ee consent; inserted leaflet was campaign propaganda and did not interfere with Ees' freedom of choice which would warrant setting aside election)

North American Car Corporation 253 NLRB No. 128
(informing Ees two days before election that their benefits exceeded those of U Ees and that they were receiving special treatment but if they voted for U you'll simply be considered another U shop, that everything was subject to renegotiation, and that in case of strike they could be permanently replaced warranted setting election aside; notwithstanding E subsequently explained that wages and benefits would be determined by bargaining, since statements viewed as total course of conduct emphasized E's control over Ees' economic status and futility and hazards of selecting U)

Armstrong Cork Company 250 NLRB No. 147
(E's letter to Ees prior to election stating that you will decide whether you want to give up your rights— concerning direct dealing with plant manager or supervisor, held objectionalbe, since letter conveyed unmistakable message that existing right or benefit will be revoked if Ees vote for U)

General Dynamics Corporation 250 NLRB No. 096
(violation where E's total campaign propoganda including posters, handbills, and captive audience speeches gave impression of futility of bargaining, and likelihood of strikes, violence, plant closings and job loss)

Turner Shoe Company, Inc. and Carmen Athletic Industries, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 020
(E's leaflet in form of obituary dealing with closing of nearby plant and E's preelection speeches held interference, where evidence did not support E's message that unionization caused closure of other area plants or that unionization would lead to strikes, plant closure, job loss, and other unidentified disasters, and E thereby failed to convey permissible noncoercive prediction that unionization might lead to economic dispute that could result in loss of jobs; Ees take hints of plant closing as coercive threats rather than honest forecasts)

Ellis Hospital JD-164-82
(doctors' letter to hospital Ees giving their negative opinion of U, thereby implying that selection of U would lead to closure of hospital, not unlawful nor interference with election, where letter presented doctors' general opposition to Us in health care institutions and to U herein in particular, and concluded that U would be of no help in solving hospital's financial problems; unlawful statements by other management member did not vitiate otherwise permissible communication herein, and letter amounted neither to substantial misrepresentation nor threat of closure)

Ellis Hospital JD-164-82
(E did not interfere with election nor unlawfully threaten Ees with closure of its facility in order to influence Ees to vote against U, where statement regarding posibility of closure if certain Ees struck related to different group of Ees than those involved in organizational campaign, and due to E's adverse financial situation at the time, such statement was not an unreasonable prediction)

2835—Cont.

Scoggin, Inc. JD-433-81
(E's president statement that selecting U would be futile because he would not bargain with intent to reach agreement, or enter into agreement, unlawful and warranted setting aside election)

CRC Pipeline Equipment, a Division of Crutcher Resources Corporation JD-(SF)-160-80
(E's statements to effect that bargaining was two way street and benefits could be decreased, remain same, or be increased, did not warrant setting aside election, since was explanation of how contract arrived at and legitimate message that Ees might wind up with less benefits after unionization, rather than threat of economic reprisal that Ees would automatically lose benefits by voting for U)

Hedstrom Co., a subsidiary of Brown Group, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 629 F.2d 305 (C.A. 3, 1980)
(editorial printed in local newspaper on day of election which predicted plant would close if U won election found to reinforce E's prior threats of plant closings and warrants issuance of bargaining order)

The Wackenhut Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 666 F.2d 464 (C.A. 11, Jan. 1982)
(Ee's statement to Ees, prior to election, that similar E was no longer in business because it was unionized held violative and election set aside, since statement implied similar E out of business in retaliation for Ees voting for U and that instant E would do same thing)

2837 SHOWING MOTION PICTURE MOVIES, SLIDE PRESENTATIONS, ETC.

Sab Harmon Industries, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 132
(showing of anti-U film The Springfield Gun did not warrant setting aside election, absent evidence of U animus or ULPs on part of E)

2839 WAGE INCREASES AND OTHER BENEFITS, OR PROMISES THEREOF

Tio Pepe, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 170
(on remand Bd set aside election and held E not obligated to bargain where captains in its restaurant promised waiters and bus boys that, if U won election, captains, who had sole authority over tip division, would change division of tips to increase shares of waiters and busboys, since offer would have impaired election whether or not captains supervisors)

Brooks Brothers, a Division of Garfinckel, Brooks Brothers, Miller & Rhoads 261 NLRB No. 130
(granting Ees dental plan 16 days before election, violative where motivation was to head of U drive at store involved in instant case and at another chain in area that was part of same holding company)

Standard-Coosa-Thatcher, Carpet Yarn Division, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 045
(promise of benefits to discourage U activity, interference)

Coronet Instructional Media, A Division of Esquire, Inc. (Warehouse, Mail Order, Office Technical and Professional Employees Union, Local 743, Teamsters) 250 NLRB No. 133
(implementation and announcement of improved retirement plan held not unlawful or objectionable conduct where plan was developed and adopted prior to beginning of U activities with timing of its announcement determined by economic, not U-related matters)

F.W.I.L. Lundy Bros. Restaurant, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 057
(bus service provided by E to its Ees week before election and continued only until after election found objectionable, since conduct provided preelection benefit and limited ability of U to communicate with Ees)

N.L.R.B. v. Tio Pepe, Inc. 629 F.2d 964 (C.A. 4, 1980)
(ct denied enforcement of bargaining order and remanded case to Bd for evidentiary hearing on two issues advanced in E's mtn to reopen record since E made sufficient prima facie factual showing of after-discovered evidence that captains had promised other dining room Ees that, if U won, captain's distribution of pooled tips would be adjusted in their favor, which, if sustained later at full hearing, would undermine Bd's reasons for its denial of supervisory status for captains in unit of dining room Ees and further significantly affect election by way of monetary inducement for U support)

2839-1700 Statements concerning benefits

Duszansky-Goldberg Memorial Chapels, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 111
(election set aside and new election ordered where supervisor asked Ee when she was applicant and new Ee how she felt about Us, informed her E's owner was anti-U, advised her to refrain from joining U, asked her to let management know if pro-U Ees were harassing her, and linked possibility of E paying for Ee's schooling to Ee's anti-U position, notwithstanding violations involved only one Ee and were relatively modest in coerciveness, since occured during critical pre-election period and it was not virtually impossible to conclude they could have affected results of election, particularly in view of small size of unit)

Blue Cross of Kansas City, Inc. and Blue Shield of Kansas City, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 070
(E's remarks in speeches and handouts regarding bargaining from scratch and starting negotiations with two blank pieces of paper held not violative where E stated that he was obligated to bargain in good faith, all benefits were not guaranteed but would be negotiated, and no intent was expressed to unilaterally remove Ee benefits)

Aunt Millie's Sauces, Inc. and Aunt Millie's Sauces Division of Specialty Brands, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 040
(no interference where 2 weeks before election E announced to Ees of company it planned to purchase its wage and benefits package as the terms under which E sought their application for employment, and 2 days before election E commenced operations with new—and generally better-wages and benefits in effect; E's purpose was to bring new Ees into line with E's facilities everywhere else which was consistent with normal business practices)

Ashcraft's Market, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 035
(E's announcement of dental plan during critical pre-election period did not warrant setting election aside, since decision regarding plan was made outside critical period and E followed usual custom of announcing benefit changes at Christmas party and putting change into effect on or about January 1)

2839-3300 To unit employees

Pacific Telephone Company 256 NLRB No. 070
(second election ordered in view of E's statements to Ees that they would receive all benefits of U contract w/o U, that U representation for Ees would be futility and that in no event would U representation result in improvements of working conditions for Ees)

2839-3333 Preceding election

Schnadig Corporation 265 NLRB No. 020
(election set aside where principal U organizor promised promotion if he would take off U hat and help defeat U)

General Merchandise Distributors, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 126
(construction of baseball field and installation of picnic tables one week prior to election is conduct attempting to influence election absent proof that E had already promised such benefits to Ees prior to U campaign)

Scott Glass Products, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 129
(substantial across-the-board wage increase which was effective, and first paid w/i critical period and the subject of new rule instituted in critical period, held interference)

Brooks Brothers, a Division of Garfinckel, Brooks Brothers, Miller & Rhoads 261 NLRB No. 130
(where Ees are paid on commission basis, telling Ees before election that it had solved overstaffing problem by firing Ee, violation as it was grant of benefit by enlarged commission earning opportunities)

Cafe Tartuffo, Inc. d/b/a Fiorella 261 NLRB No. 033
(E's statements in letter to Ees before election that after becoming bargaining representative at another of E's facilities U negotiated contract which in my opinion gave Ees no more than they would have gotten had there been no U and probably less and we can negotiate agreement with U that does not cost any more in wages and benefits than w/o U and may even cost less held not promise of benefit warranting setting aside election, but rather E's opinion based on outcome of negotiations at other facility that U would be willing to negotiate contract which would not result in significant increases)

Blue Cross of Kansas City, Inc. and Blue Shield of Kansas City, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 070
(E's remarks in speeches and handouts regarding bargaining from scratch and starting negotiations with two blank pieces of paper held not violative where E stated that he was obligated to bargain in good faith, all benefits were not guaranteed but would be negotiated, and no intent was expressed to unilaterally remove Ee benefits)

American Geri-Care, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 147
(election set aside where E made unlawful promise of benefits, and unlawfully harassed and discharged U adherent)

Brockwood Furniture, Division of U.S. Industries 259 NLRB No. 028
(offer of money and promotions to Ees if they would work against U, interference)

Kawasaki Motors Corporation, U.S.A. 257 NLRB No. [illegible]

Allegheny Warehouse Company, Inc., and Star Warehouse Corporation 256 NLRB No. [illegible]
(statements in effect offering Ees choice between immediate wage increase if they voted against U in decertification election or possibility of lengthy bargaining and seemingly small gains in wages should U be recertified held interference since statements contained implied promise of wage increase and threats of denial thereof; E's contention that statements were not objectionable because they were accurate statement of facts and law and because there was no threat Ees would be denied wage increase if they failed to decertify U nor any threat to negotiate in bad faith if U won, rejected)

2839-3333—Cont.

Crown Chevrolet Co. 255 NLRB No. 108

(objection to decertification election sustained where E's lawyers informed Ees at meeting held 28 hours before election that even if U were decertified contractual rates would still be in effect under state law and if U decertified E intended to implement its latest bargaining proposals relating to hours, night openings and holidays, since statement constituted promise of increased benefits if Ees voted against U inasmuch as implication was that E had made concessions in bargaining sessions for new contract which usually coincide with decertification proceedings)

Educational and Recreational Services, Inc., a Wholly-Owned Subsidiary of ARA Services, Inc., etc. 253 NLRB No. 140

(E's delay in giving its Ees wage increase during critical period between filing of pn and conduct of election, not objectionable, since petitioner did not allege conduct was objectionable and 4 days before election, petitioner assured E that it had no objection to implementation of increase; Ees were made aware of increase by letter and bulletin-board 2 weeks prior to election and Ees' receipt of wage increase was not unexpected)

North American Car Corporation 253 NLRB No. 120

(informing Ees two days before election that their benefits exceeded those of U Ees and that they were receiving special treatment but if they voted for U you'll simply be considered another U shop, that everything was subject to renegotiation, and that in case of strike they could be permanently replaced warranted setting election aside; notwithstanding E subsequently explained that wages and benefits would be determined by bargaining, since statements viewed as total course of conduct emphasized E's control over Ees' economic status and futility and hazards of selecting U)

Maywood, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 139

(grant of wage increases prior to election, not interference where changes in wages and benefits conformed with past practice and were motivated by business considerations and not designed to defeat U in Bd election)

The Dow Chemical Company, Texas Division 250 NLRB No. 103

(E holding meeting prior to decertification election at which slides were shown contrasting benefits currently received by unrepresented Ees of E, and which Ees would receive should U lose election, with benefits received by Ees represented by U, not unlawful, since not promise of benefits, where E merely furnished details inasmuch as its practices known; further, U was stressing protections it offered and Section 9(c) permits E to clearly portray its practices with regard to unrepresented Ees)

The Dow Chemical Company, Texas Division 250 NLRB No. 103

(E's distribution of letters to Ees prior to decertification election in which it urged Ees to consider what would be best for them and their families, stated election would be carefully conducted by Bd, sought to assure Ees regarding job security, not violative, since contained neither promises of benefits nor threats of reprisals and did not warrant setting election aside)

Petroleum Electronics, Inc. and/or Cook Enterprises, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 042

Edward A. Utlaut Foundation, Inc. d/b/a EdwardA. Utlaut Memorial Hospital and Fair Oaks Nursing Home 249 NLRB No. 162

(reinstatement of more favorable sick leave policy to induce Ees to withdraw support from U constituted interference and violation)

Edward A. Utlaut Foundation, Inc. d/b/a Edward A. Utlaut Memorial Hospital and Fair Oaks Nursing Home 249 NLRB No. 162

(reinstatement of more favorable sick leave policy to induce Ees to withdraw support from U constituted interference and violation)

Edward A. Utlaut Foundation, Inc. d/b/a EdwardA. Utlaut Memorial Hospital and Fair Oaks Nursing Home 249 NLRB No. 162

(violation and interference where after U campaign began and right before election E introduced beneficial uniform purchase plan suggested by Ees year before)

Edward A. Utlaut Foundation, Inc. d/b/a Edward A. Utlaut Memorial Hospital and Fair Oaks Nursing Home 249 NLRB No. 162

(violation and interference where after U campaign began and right before election E introduced beneficial uniform purchase plan suggested by Ees year before)

Simpson Electric Company, a Division of American Gauge and Machine Company 249 NLRB No. 024

(unlike past practice of leaving house organ at different places around plant, issue before election which contained announcement of wage and benefit increases were handed out to individual Ees)

John V. Lane, P.C. d/b/a American Dental Centers JD-(NY)-119-82

(announcing preexisting benefits to its Ees during U campaign not violative even if Ees not aware of these benefits as to prevent this would deprive E of legitimate campaign strategy. However, E must be legally committed to these benefits and not be able to discontinue them. Furthermore, E can not husband benefits until right before election and spring them on Ees in manner calculated to influence their choice)

Ellis Hospital JD-164-82

(E's statement in pre-election letter to Ees that U's organizational campaign was caused in part at least by certain problems which E sought to resolve hopefully w/o having to bargain with U, unlawful and interference with election, since E thereby clearly promised to improve terms and conditions of employment)

The Wackenhut Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 666 F.2d 464 (C.A. 11, Jan. 1982)

(letter and leaflets distributed by E to its Ees, two weeks before election, announcing a better medical plan for Ees at increased cost to be absorbed by E, held violative and election set aside, since E may not grant new benefits on change existing conditions of employment during election campaign for purpose of influencing Ees' choice in election)

2839-3367 After election while objections pending

Reliable Ambulance Service, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 174

(E's proposal of profit sharing program during critical period before 1st election objectionable conduct and election set aside and E's announcement and implementation of same profit sharing program while objections to 1st election pending before Bd was objectionable conduct causing 2nd election to be set aside notwithstanding original proposal outside critical period of 2nd election)

2843 DENIAL OR WITHHOLDING OF WAGE INCREASE OR OTHER BENEFITS, OR THREATS THEREOF

Alpha Cellulose Corporation 265 NLRB No. 010

(E's letter to Ees declaring that wages and benefits would be frozen during contract negotiations held unlawful and interference with election, since E thereby misinformed Ees by stating that negotiations prevented wage increases and implied that rejection of U would free E to grant raises and other benefits, thereby leading Ees to conclude that penalty was attached to exercise of their rights in choosing U; E has general duty to proceed as it would have in absence of U and, even during negotiations, E may lawfully implement benefits which have become conditions of employment by virtue of prior commitment or practice)

General Merchandise Distributors, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 126

(announcement to Ees 1 week prior to election that pay raise due to take effect shortly after election was being postponed and also that another group of Ees who had chosen U representation had now gone full year with no raise and were still waiting for contract to be negotiated is threat to Ees of loss of benefits if they choose U)

Cargill Incorporated d/b/a Dent's Poultry 260 NLRB No. 167

(objection in regard to E's conduct of threatening to withdraw unilaterally existing benefits sustained, notwithstanding fact that it occurred at beginning of U campaign, since E never retracted such statements during course of campaign or in any way led Ees to believe that E would not carry out its threats in event of U victory)

Lifemark Hospitals of Texas, Inc. d/b/a Mid-Jefferson County Hospital 259 NLRB No. 103

(telling Es that if U won election, Ees would have to punch timeclock and take breaks at specified times held interference)

Blue Cross of Kansas City, Inc. and Blue Shield of Kansas City, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 070

(E's remarks in speeches and handouts regarding bargaining from scratch and starting negotiations with two blank pieces of paper held not violative where E stated that he was obligated to bargain in good faith, all benefits were not guaranteed but would be negotiated, and no intent was expressed to unilaterally remove Ee benefits)

International Harvester Company 258 NLRB No. 155

(E's statement to Ees that they would lose their Savings and Investment Program SIP if they chose U violative as loss of SIP was not demonstrably probable consequence beyond control of E; moreover E's later statement that SIP would be subject to negotiations did not cure earlier statement where it was combined with reminder that no other U-organized clerical unit in its other locations had been able to negotiate retention of SIP)

Brookwood Furniture, Division of U.S. Industries 258 NLRB No. 038

(threats of loss of benefits, interference)

Kawasaki Motors Corporation, U.S.A. 257 NLRB No. 069

(threats to withhold benefits such as labor grades or job reviews or other unspecified benefits held interference)

Standard-Coosa-Thatcher, Carpet Yarn Division, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 045

(unlawful threats of discharge held interference)

2843—Cont.

Allegheny Warehouse Company, Inc., and Star Warehouse Corporation 286 NLRB No. 089
(statements in effect offering Ees choice between immediate wage increase if they voted against U in decertification election or possibility of lengthy bargaining and seemingly small gains in wages should U be recertified held interference since statements contained implied promise of wage increase and threats of denial thereof; E's contention that statements were not objectionalbe because they were accurate statement of facts and law and because there was no threat Ees would be denied wage increase if they failed to decertify U nor any threat to negotiate in bad faith if U won, rejected)

Associated Roofing & Sheet Metal Co., Inc. 285 NLRB No. 178
(where E had practice of discussing Ees' grievances with them, letter prior to election which stated that individual Ees would no longer be able to settle matters personally was improper threat to unilaterally terminate existing beneficial situation)

Propellex Corporation, a Subsidiary of Essex Cryogenics Industries, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 037
(election set aside and second election ordered, where prior to first election, E threatened Ees with loss of wages and overtime compensation, with loss of insurance, seniority, and vacation benefits, and with imposition of more onerous working conditions in event that Ees selected U as their bargaining agent)

Educational and Recreational Services, Inc., a Wholly-Owned Subsidiary of ARA Services, Inc., etc. 253 NLRB No. 140
(E's delay in giving its Ees wage increase during critical period between filing of ptn and conduct of election, not objectionable, since petitioner did not allege conduct was objectionable and 4 days before election, petitioner assured E that it had no objection to implementation of increase; Ees were made aware of increase by letter and bulletin-board 2 weeks prior to election and Ees' receipt of wage increase was not unexpected)

North American Car Corporation 253 NLRB No. 128
(informing Ees two days before election that their benefits exceeded those of U Ees and that they were receiving special treatment but if they voted for U you'll simply be considered another U shop, that everything was subject to renegotiation, and that in case of strike they could be permanently replaced warranted setting election aside; notwithstanding E subsequently explained that wages and benefits would be determined by bargaining, since statements viewed as total course of conduct emphasized E's control over Ees' economic status and futility and hazards of selecting U)

Edward A. Utlaut Foundation, Inc. d/b/a Edward A. Utlaut Memorial Hospital and Fair Oaks Nursing Home 249 NLRB No. 162
(statement implying that Ees would lose insurance coverage paid for by E if U were certified, unlawful and interference)

BRK Electronics (Electrical Workers, Local Union No. 461) 248 NLRB No. 169
(E president's failure to explain, in direct response to Ee questions, that election of U would not automatically result in loss or suspension of regularly scheduled vacation benefits warranted setting aside election, since president's failure would tend to create in minds of Ees doubt and uncertainty where none need have existed)

Ellis Hospital JD-164-82
(letter informing Ees that in event they selected U they would not receive regularly scheduled wage increase held unlawful threat and interference with election where annual wage increase was established working condition, notwithstanding that precise amount for the year had not yet been set)

Ellis Hospital JD-164-82
(informing Ees that in event they selected U they would be unable to meet directly with management to talk about grievances and other matters, unlawful and interference with election; while E may explain that U will be participant in E-Ee relations generally, E cannot threaten to cut off unilaterally permissible direct dealing with Ees for selecting U)

The Marley Heat Transfer Company JD-(SF)-263-80
(no violation where E who recently purchased plant promised that new wages and benefits package would take effect on certain date but before election told Ees that if U won, E would negotiate with U concerning wages and benefits, where E's package was discretionary and amount had not been determined before advent of U or election)

2843-5000 Placing onus for withholding on union

Gossen Company, a Division of the United States Gypsum Company 234 NLRB No. 041
(election set aside in view of E's unlawful suspension of merit wages increases during election campaign and discriminatory discharges and warnings)

Armstrong Cork Company 180 NLRB No. 147
(E's letter to Ees prior to election stating that you will decide whether you want to give up your rights— concerning direct dealing with plant manager or supervisor, held objectionalbe, since letter conveyed unmistakable message that existing right or benefit will be revoked if Ees vote for U)

2847 RULES RESTRICTING UNION ACTIVITY

(See also 512-5012)

Levi Strauss & Co., Inc. 286 NLRB No. 182
(prohibiting Ee conversations during 24 hours before election, interference, whether prohibitions resulted from supervisors misinterpreting management's instructions or E intentionally attempting to monopolize the final hours of the election campaign, since there was no legitimate business justification involving concern about production on election day where Ees were released from work after conclusion of the election and talking ban was not in effect after election)

2847-3300 No distribution, no solicitation

Schnadig Corporation 265 NLRB No. 020

St. Joseph's Hospital and Medical Center 262 NLRB No. 176
(election set aside on basis of E's maintenance of overly broad no-distribution/no-solicitation rule during critical period; rule, as set out in Ee handbook and in E's policy manual, required management authorization for any activity on E premises)

Borun Brothers, Inc., A Wholly Owned Subsidiary of Thrifty Corporation 257 NLRB No. 003
(maintenance of invalid no-solicitation no-distribution rule during pre-election period, interference)

Central Solano County Hospital Foundation, Inc., d/b/a Intercommunity Hospital 255 NLRB No. 045
(solicitation for benefit of hospital or for charity is recognized and permissible exemption from valid no-solicitation rule and does not constitute disparate application of rule barring outside solicitation and distribution by non-Ee organizers; such solicitation and distribution no ground for setting aside elections in units of hospital Ees)

Central Solano County Hospital Foundation, Inc., d/b/a Intercommunity Hospital 255 NLRB No. 045
(E hospital's no-solicitation rule, prohibiting solicitation in immediate patient care areas, which was made clear to be in halls and corridors, lobby and waiting room, and nurses stations of small one-story facility, held to be reasonably specific and not ambiguous)

Central Solano County Hospital Foundation, Inc., d/b/a Intercommunity Hospital 255 NLRB No. 045
(only areas in which Ee solicitation must be permitted, at instant hospital which has no large area for Ees, are relatively small (Ee) breakrooms, since they do present viable, albeit limited, channel of communication by Ees for organizational purposes)

Central Solano County Hospital Foundation, Inc., d/b/a Intercommunity Hospital 255 NLRB No. 045
(banning solicitation in Ee breakroom held objectionable conduct, since breakroom was area in which solicitation must be permitted by E and not de minimus conduct; conduct warranted setting aside election)

Industry Products Company 251 NLRB No. 183

Styrest Nursing Home JD-(ATL)-95-82
(election set aside and new election ordered in view of E's unlawful no solicitation rule and request that Ees report to E any harassment resulting from U solicitation at their home)

Vanity Fair Mills, Inc. JD-(ATL)-35-82
(setting aside of election and ordering of new election warranted in view of E's promulgation of unlawful no-solicitation/no-distribution rules; disparate enforcement of these rules, and unlawful reprimand)

American Safety Equipment Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 643 F.2d 693 (C.A. 10, Mar. 1981)
(Bd decision setting aside election set aside where basis for decision was two rules in Ee handbook prohibiting solicitation and distribution during working hours; E rebutted presumed interference with Ee rights as it produced evidence showing: 1) Ees were told lunch time and break time were their own; 2) Ees were aware rules only applied to working time; 3) Ees openly engaged in U activity during non working time and were not disciplined and 4) rules consistently properly applied by E)

2847-5000 Restriction on use of bulletin board

Axelson, Inc., Subsidiary of U. S. Industries, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 044
(decertification election not set aside notwithstanding Ees' claim that campaign conditions were unfairly tilted in U's favor where E's restriction on Ees' right to post literature in certain nonworking areas was impliedly directed to U, U made no attempt to post or distribute literature on company property. Ees took full advantage of distributing literature in non-restricted areas as well as inadvertant distribution in restricted areas, and E conducted its own campaign in support of Ees' position)

2847-6700 Restriction of employees' meetings or movements within plant

2847-6700—Cont.

Halliburton Services (Coffeyville, Kansas), A Division of Halliburton Company 265 NLRB No. 144
(allowing antiU Ees to move about plant and talk to Ees during work hours while denying same privilege to proU Ees, held interference)

Standard-Coosa-Thatcher, Carpet Yarn Division, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 045
(institution and enforcement of stricter rules against leaving work area or plant during U campaign held interference)

Central Solano County Hospital Foundation, Inc., d/b/a Intercommunity Hospital 255 NLRB No. 045
(E hospital justified in banning solicitation in halls and corridors, lobbies, waiting rooms, and nurses stations, since prohibitions were presumptively valid in small facility which, from its inception, has been too small to accommodate all its medical needs and solicitation may be legimately prohibited in other areas if justified by hospital as necessary)

Sherwood-Trimble Medical Building 247 NLRB No. 160
(requiring U adherent to take breaks at specified times and restricting U adherent to her desk and restricting others as well to disguise restriction of U adherent)

2847-6800 Restriction of employee's access to plant

Panavision, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 165
(election set aside and new election ordered where E ordered laid off Ees with reasonable expectation of recall, and thus eligible to vote in election, who were distributing U literature in its driveway and parking lot prior to election, off its premises and threatened laid off Ees with arrest for trespass in presence of other Ees thereby preventing Ees from discussing U and preventing Ees from soliciting support)

Maywood, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 139
(barring off-duty Ees from plant premises, held interference, where off-duty Ees were seeking access to cafeteria, a non-working area, for purpose of soliciting for U, and had no intention of wandering about the plant, as E contended, and there was no rule limiting access to plant or rule which met standards defined in Tri-County Medical Center, Inc., 222 NLRB 1089)

2847-8400 Requiring removal of union insignia

Halliburton Services (Coffeyville, Kansas), A Division of Halliburton Company 265 NLRB No. 144
(restricting display of U insignia in work areas violative, where E permitted other nonwork related materials to be publicly posted, e.g., calendars and pin-ups, violative)

CRC Pipeline Equipment, a Division of Crutcher Resources Corporation JD-(SF)-140-80
(supervisor threatening Ees with discharge if they continued to wear U buttons did not warrant setting aside of election, where E had no proclivity towards ULPs, E promptly informed supervisors that Ees were free to wear U buttons, specifically advised Ees threatened that threats were not position of E, and that they were free to wear buttons, and posted notice to that effect on bulletin board)

2847-9200 Requiring wearing of antiunion insignia

The Nestle Company 248 NLRB No. 106
(invalid enforcement of rule prohibiting wearing of jewelry and nonuniform clothing with U insignia in E's production areas not objectionable where invalid enforcement equally affected both Us in initial and runoff elections)

2851 DENIAL OF ACCESS TO EMPLOYER'S PREMISES BY NONEMPLOYEE ORGANIZERS

Great Western Coca-Cola Bottling Company, d/b/a Houston Coca-Cola Bottling Company 265 NLRB No. 106
(decertification election set aside where, severe restriction of access by non-Ee U representatives to fulfill U's statutory obligation to represent Ees, which continued notwithstanding filing of decertification ptn, made U appear weak and ineffectual; arrest of U officials for asserting such right immediately following distribution of E's letter, questioning U's effectiveness and announcing that bargaining and wages would be suspended for duration of election period, diminished Ees' perception of value of U and seriously interfered with Ees' right to deal through their chosen representative)

Central Solano County Hospital Foundation, Inc., d/b/a Intercommunity Hospital 255 NLRB No. 045
(solicitation for benefit of hospital or for charity is recognized and permissable exemption from valid no-solicitation rule and does not constitute disparate application of rule barring outside solicitation and distribution by non-Ee organizers; such solicitation and distribution no ground for setting aside elections in units of hospital Ees)

2855 SURVEILLANCE OR IMPRESSION THEREOF

Halliburton Services (Coffeyville, Kansas), A Division of Halliburton Company 265 NLRB No. 144
(shop foreman's standing in guard office watching Ees passing out U literature, held interference)

Borun Brothers, Inc., A Wholly Owned Subsidiary of Thrifty Corporation 257 NLRB No. 003
(surveillance and/or creation of impression of surveillance, interference)

Maywood, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 139
(supervisor's saying to in-plant committee member, I hear you have been making house calls, held interference, where supervisor testified that he had heard someone say the committee member was making house calls, and he wanted to know why; he knew committee member was active in U and he had idea that that was what house calls were about, but he couldn't prove it)

Woodland Molded Plastics Corp. 250 NLRB No. 020
(setting aside of election warranted where E's treasurer observed for 10-15 minutes activities between U organizers and Ees taking place on public property; notwithstanding his initial presence was for lawful purpose of keeping U organizers off E's property in response to reports U organizers on company property)

Edward A. Utlaut Foundation, Inc. d/b/a Edward A. Utlaut Memorial Hospital and Fair Oaks Nursing Home 249 NLRB No. 162
(violation and interference where E responded to inquiry about how E knew what was said at U meeting that E had people there who gave E information, thus giving impression of surveillance)

Alumbaugh Coal Corporation 247 NLRB No. 112
(E's statement that he had a list of yes votes and no votes created impression of surveillance and interfered with election)

Vanity Fair Mills, Inc. JD-(ATL)-38-82
(E's observation of U handbilling not interferance with election where E's assertion it observed handbilling because of concern with traffic situation; further U and E were already parties to bargaining agreement and this was no initial U campaign, and identity of U supporters known)

2855-3300 Recruiting employees for surveillance

Maywood, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 139
(E's soliciting Ee to observe and report to supervision U activities of other Ees held interference)

2855-6700 Informing employees of surveillance

Oklahoma City Collection District of Browning-Ferris, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 012
(remark by E there goes that U man which created impression of surveillance to Ee and which occurred during critical preelection period not found to be ground for setting aside election where Ee was terminated prior to election and that remark was not of serious enough nature to create presumption of dissemination to other Ees)

Brooks Brothers, a Division of Garfinckel, Brooks Brothers, Miller & Rhoads 261 NLRB No. 130
(where Ee worked strictly on commission, new store managers statement to Ee that he fired one guy to keep 10 people happy, asking her whether she was happy and calling her one of U's biggest supporters held unlawful announcement of grant of benefit, coercive interrogation, Ee surveillance, and constitutes objectionable conduct)

Safeway Stores, Inc. JD-(SF)-61-81
(manager's remark that he already knew how many Ees attended U meeting on previous day, held violative and objectionable)

2858 DIRECTING EMPLOYEES TO REPORT U HARASSMENT OR COERCION

A. J. Schmidt Co., William A. Schmidt and Sons, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 200
(E held to have engaged in preelection objectionable conduct by requesting its Ees to report harassment by U organizers)

Clifton Plastics, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 168
(E's requesting Ees to report subjectively offensive conduct held interference since such requests clearly were sufficiently broad to encompass lawful conduct of Ees engaged in protected activities; moreover, E's requests went beyond confines of workplace and extended into homes of its Ees where E had no legitimate interests)

Bil-Mar Foods of Ohio, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 160
(E's statement asking Ees to report to him or their supervisors any harassment, coercion, pressure or threats by U agents held interference, since statement, in effect, directed Ees to inform on their coworkers who might have been soliciting support for U, and thereby created a chilling effect on Ees' U activity; Dillman Foods, Inc., 253 NLRB No. 114, distinguished; H.R. Huntting Co. (unreported), relied on by E, held overruled sub silentio by long line of published cases supporting conclusion herein)

2858—Cont.

Syrent Nursing Home JD-(ATL)-95-82
(election set aside and new election ordered in view of E's unlawful no solicitation rule and request that Ees report to E any harassment resulting from U solicitation at their home)

Ellis Hospital JD-164-82
(E's letter directing its Ees to report their contacts with U during its organizational campaign, unlawful and interference with election, where E's claim that soliciting Ees to report any invasion of their privacy was lawful was too broad and could reasonably cover mere attempts by pro-U Ees to contact other Ees at their homes, which is contemplated by requiring E to furnish names and addresses of Ees eligible to vote under Excelsior rule)

2862 VARIOUS ULP's DURING CRITICAL PERIOD

Hillside Avenue Pharmacy, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 205
(where E engaged in unlawful acts consisting of interrogation, threats, harassment of Ees, creation of impression of surveillance, and of informing Ees that dues would be deducted from their pay if U won, election set aside, since such unlawful acts fell w/i scope of objections to election herein)

Great Western Coca-Cola Bottling Company, d/b/a Houston Coca-Cola Bottling Company 265 NLRB No. 106
(decertification election set aside where, severe restriction of access by non-Ee U representatives to fulfill U's statutory obligation to represent Ees, which continued notwithstanding filing of decertification ptn, made U appear weak and ineffectual; arrest of U officials for asserting such right immediately following distribution of E's letter, questioning U's effectiveness and announcing that bargaining and wages would be suspended for duration of election period, diminished Ees' perception of value of U and seriously interfered with Ees' right to deal through their chosen representative)

Schnadig Corporation 265 NLRB No. 020
(election set aside and bargaining order issued in view of E's unlawful threats to close plant, maintenance of overly broad no solicitation and no distribution rule, and promise of promotion to U adherent in return for opposition to U)

Arthur Briggs, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 038
(election set aside and bargaining order issued in view of E's unlawful refusal to reinstate strikers, threats of plant closure, and surveillance which dissipated U majority)

De Queen General Hospital 264 NLRB No. 069

Larid Printing, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 040
(election set aside and bargaining order warranted where U had authorization card majority, in view of E's numerous violations in effort to defeat U including interrogations, threats, requiring immediate repayment of loans, discharges, and prohibition against talking about U on E's premises, particularly since Ee complement was small, many violations committed by high level officials and E's unlawful conduct continued after election)

General Electric Company 264 NLRB No. 126
(election set aside where E threatened Ees with loss of direct communication with management, there were several instances of interrogation by supervisors, supervisors prohibited distribution of U literature on parking lot; all w/i crucial preelection period)

United Supermarkets, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 179
(finding that E's extensive and serious ULPs did not require nonmajority bargaining order because totality of E's conduct did not completely foreclose possibility of holding fair election, Bd directed second election, but ordered extraordinary access and notice remedies)

Conair Corporation 261 NLRB No. 178
(ULPs committed during critical preelection period held objectionable conduct sufficient to warrant setting aside election where conduct consisted of numerous instances of threats of plant closure, discharge, and loss of benefits; promises of increased or new benefits; coercive interrogation; acts of soliciting grievance with promises to remedy same, and grant of benefits; also, E failed to give timely reinstatement to certain ULP strikers, discharged and refused to reinstate others, and effected mass discharge of strikers)

Conair Corporation 261 NLRB No. 178
(objections to election sustained and election set aside where objections to E conduct interfering with election were coextensive with ULPs set forth in complaint, and subject of objections were substantiated as 8(a)(1) and 8(a)(3) violations)

Scott Glass Products, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 129
(new rule to stop talking about wage increase, interference)

Revider Farms, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 113
(unlawful discharge)

Nanticoke Homes, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 107
(unlawful threats and interrogation)

Jo-Wan Sportswear, Ltd. and Iris Sportswear, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 172
(unlawfully threatening to close plant, interrogating Ees, and promising them benefits in order to discourage support for U held interference)

R. G. Barry Corporation 260 NLRB No. 023
(E's conduct in issuing written warnings of suspension or termination to Ees for engaging in U solicitation during working time held unlawful and interference with election, where E's conduct was directed at 4 U activists who constituted 40 percent of U's Ee organizing committees, anti-U Ees engaged in similar conduct were not subjected to threat of suspension or discharge; and awareness of treatment of U activists at whom E had previously directed display of U animus can reasonably be expected to have been disseminated to other Ees)

Graham Architectural Products Corporation 259 NLRB No. 153
(another election directed where E's ULP's were not isolated as ALJ found 3 instances of interrogation and Bd found additional ULPs directly involving at least 6 Ees and word of ULPs was disseminated to additional Ees)

High Energy Corporation 259 NLRB No. 097
(objections to election closely paralleling certain ULP allegations set forth in complaint, including discharge of principal U activist, and several threats, through various supervisors, to close plant if Ees selected U as their bargaining representative, sustained)

Walter Carpet Mills, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 096
(election set aside and new election ordered in view of unlawful threats, promises of benefits, enlisting aid of Ee in preventing other Ees from signing U authorization cards, interrogations, and creating impression of surveillance)

American Display Manufacturing Co., Inc. 259 NLRB No. 006
(election set aside and bargaining order to be issued, if after counting of ballots U did not win election, in view of fact U had authorization cards from 33 out of 47 unit Ees, and in view of E's ULPs including suggesting formation of Ee committee to bargain with U and threatening plant closure)

Glengarry Contracting Industries, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 156

Jaybil Steel Products, Inc.; etc. 258 NLRB No. 157
(election ordered set aside and bargaining order to be issued, if as consequence of revised tally after counting of challenged ballots, U loses election, in view of E's numerous ULPs including threats of discharges and plant removal, promises of benefits, changes in method of compensation, discharges and offers of reemployment conditioned on U rejection)

Brookwood Furniture, Division of U.S. Industries 258 NLRB No. 028
(statements to Ees that they would get in trouble by supporting U and by being on U organizing committee, that leadman could not afford to vote for U, and that Ee seeking higher wages for another Ee should change his negative attitude held interference and violative of 8(a)(1))

Brookwood Furniture, Division of U.S. Industries 258 NLRB No. 028
(oral announcement and warning regarding overly broad no-solicitation policy, interference)

Presbyterian/St. Luke's Medical Center 258 NLRB No. 021
(election set aside where E deliberately blocked out Ees' names except first initial and last name on Excelsior list, unlawfully interrogated Ees on their U activities, and unlawfully reprimanded and discharged U adherents)

Kawasaki Motors Corporation, U.S.A. 257 NLRB No. 069
(threatening plant closure, more onerous or arduous work duties, futility of selecting U, and plant relocation, and advising Ees that U was responsible for making bomb threats at plant held interference)

Anja Engineering Corporation 256 NLRB No. 161
(unlawful dismissal of extremely ill U activist during election process on election day and widely broadcast among Ees, interference)

Mark I Tune-Up Centers, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 138
(election set aside and second election directed, where E engaged in ULPs by interrogating Ees concerning U activities; threatening Ees with closure of facility, more onerous working conditions, and loss of benefits; and providing unscheduled bonus; conduct violative of 8(a)(1) is, a fortiori, conduct which interferes with election, and the only exception to such rule, involving violations that could not possibly affect election results, is not applicable herein)

Metropolitan Life Insurance Company 256 NLRB No. 100
(election set aside and new election ordered in light of ULPs such as unlawful interrogations, surveillance, threats of discharge, and promises of benefits if Ees voted against U)

Precision Graphics, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 057
(threat of plant closure constituting 8(a)(1) violation a fortiori interference with election)

Evans Brothers Barber & Beauty Salons, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 023
(election set aside and new election ordered where during critical period, E unlawfully threatened more onerous working conditions, unlawfully questioned Ees about U meeting, and unlawfully questioned Ee about her attendance at U meeting; furthermore, related pre-ptn conduct also considered as indicative that post-ptn ULPs were not isolated incidents)

2862—Cont.

Richland Co. & Assoc., Division of McDonald Construction, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 026

(threat to close business and of loss of benefits, promise of benefits, statement that Ees would not have to pay insurance premiums if U lost election, and delay of promised wage increase until after election, unlawful and interference)

Sunline Care, Inc. d/b/a Parkview Acres Convalescent Center 255 NLRB No. 149

(setting aside election warranted in view of unlawful interrogations, threats of discharge and actual discharges, solicitation of grievances, and requiring U adherent to work under less desirable conditions)

Custom Trim Products 255 NLRB No. 096

(new election directed, where E's ULPs such as sending letter to all Ees stating futility of selecting U and posting unlawful no-distribution rule during critical period was, a fortiori, conduct which interfered with exercise of Ees' free choice and sufficient to set aside first election)

Associated Milk Producers, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 104

(election set aside and new election ordered where E's ULPs such as unlawful discharge, interrogation, solicitation of grievances, and withholding wage increase interfered with Ees free choice)

General Electric Company 255 NLRB No. 092

(setting aside of election warranted in view of E's threats, interrogation, creation of impression of sruveillance and withdrawal of benefits)

Gesko & Meyer, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 095

(election set aside, in view of unlawful interrogation, threat of lay off, promise of benefit, solicitation of Ee to deal directly with E rather than U, statement to Ee that he was receiving pay raise in order to dissuade him from supporting U and unlawful discharge of Ee)

Pine Valley Meats, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 061

(new election appropriate where E's ULPs such as discharge of U adherents and promising and granting benefits interfered with first election)

Ed Chandler Ford, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 082

Overnite Transportation Company 254 NLRB No. 011

(new election appropriate where first election set aside because unlawful discharges and other ULPs interfered with Ees' free and uncoerced choice)

Photo-Sonics, Inc.; et al. 254 NLRB No. 069

(substantial violations of 8(a)(1) which occurred during relevant period between filing of ptn and holding of election, held interference)

Gessin Company, a Division of the United States Gypsum Company 254 NLRB No. 041

(election set aside in view of E's unlawful suspension of merit wages increases during election campaign and discriminatory discharges and warnings)

Eastern Maine Medical Center 253 NLRB No. 024

(E's conduct held interference with decertification election where existence of unlawful broad no-solicitation rule at time of election and failure to bargain in good faith after filing of decertification ptn provide sufficient grounds for setting election aside; although withheld wage increase was found unlawful herein it did not constitute interference with election inasmuch as it was announced well before date decertification ptn was filed)

B. E. & K., Inc. 252 NLRB No. 036

(supervisor's preelection statement to Ees that wearing of U stickers revealed belligerency, unlawful and interference, where supervisor had previously threatened Ees with discharge for distributing stickers)

McLane/Western, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 185

(threats of plant closure and having to bargain from scratch and threat to punch Ee in nose for initiating U campaign)

Chester Valley, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 190

(post-ptn conduct which constitutes ULPs is also conduct which invalidates subsequent election at least where change of 3 or 4 votes, as herein, would change election result and at least some of such conduct was known practically to all Ees; accordingly, ALJ did not consider which ULPs were fairly encompassed w/i objections)

Chester Valley, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 190

(election set aside on basis of promises of benefits, various threats, offer of increased payments into Ee's profit-sharing plan, solicitation of grievances with implied promise to remedy them, and granting of wage increases)

Edward A. Utlaut Foundation, Inc. d/b/a Edward A. Utlaut Memorial Hospital and Fair Oaks Nursing Home 249 NLRB No. 162

(violation and interference where E misstated law on strikers' rights by declaring that it had no duty to rehire Ees who were replaced during strike and thus threatened Ees with future permanent loss of employment if they engaged in economic strike)

Simpson Electric Company, a Division of American Gauge and Machine Company 249 NLRB No. 024

(election set aside and third election directed, where E made unlawful wage and benefit increases in order to undermine U's organizational campaign during critical period)

Conagra, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 085

(election set aside in view of E's unlawful interrogation, threats, statements regarding futility of choosing U and that E would bargain from stratch and informing Ees that denial of wage increase was due to U campaign)

Jacques Syl Knitwear, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 191

(setting aside of election warranted in view of unlawful discharges, refusal to pay strikers for accrued vacation, threats of reprisal and permanent replacement of ULP strikers)

Fluid Packaging Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 196

Tartan Marine Company 247 NLRB No. 073

(setting aside of election warranted and bargaining order issued in view of E's unlawful interrogation, threats, solicitation of Ees to withdraw U cards, encouraging Ees not to honor Bd subpoena, denial of wage increase and refusal to rehire U adherent)

Thermo King Corporation 247 NLRB No. 040

(single violation resulting from threat of economic or other reprisals for voting for U held not to warrant inference that it affected election results, since it was too isolated in reference to total circumstances and to number of Ees involved and to vote count in election)

J. H. Block & Co., Inc. 247 NLRB No. 041

(election set aside)

J. J. Cassone Bakery, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 032

(E's truthful representation to Ee prior to election that E had acquired some machinery from defunct operations which had failed because of economic hardships that had befallen such enterprises due to excessive U bargaining demands held not unlawful threat to close plant and not interference)

J. J. Cassone Bakery, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 032

(E's alleged statement to Ee prior to election that E would decline to enter into contract with U held not unlawful and not interference, where E had stated that, if U won, E would bargain with it because he was not opposed to unionization of plant, but he cautioned that he could not afford U's economic demands which would affect his corporate solvency)

J. J. Cassone Bakery, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 032

(E's preelection change in Ees' life insurance coverage held not unlawful and not interference, since E was not statutorily obligated to stay or abandon implementation of new beneficial insurance program based on sound business considerations simply because election had been scheduled to take place some 6 months in the future, and implementation of plan was not achieved until shortly before election because of administrative bungling)

J. J. Cassone Bakery, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 032

(increase in excess of amounts required by newly announced federal minimum wage rate, not unlawful and not interference with election, where in accordance with E's prior bookkeeping procedures E essayed to pay wage increase in increments of 25 cents in order to simplify its payroll calculations, increases were not announced or paid prior to election, and there was otherwise no evidence that E had object of influencing Ees in their choice of representative)

Durango Boot, a Division of U.S. Industries, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 046

(preelection promises to Ees of new pension plan and of possible pay raises effective after election, and extensive coercive interrogation of Ees concerning U activities)

Chef's Pantry, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 018

(interference where E solicited grievances at periodic meetings with Ees; unilaterally instituted new educational benefits program; discriminatorily denied such benefits to leader of organizing campaign; revised long-standing policy prohibiting beards, and shortly before election permitted Ees to grow beards; and during week preceding election asked Ees if they had any complaints which E could remedy)

United Maintenance Company, Inc. JD-(SF)-169-82

Wilson Trucking, Inc. JD-119-82

Tops Industries, d/b/a Tops Market JD-(SF)-83-82

(ordering U activist to knock off all activities of stirring people up, and conditioning his continued employment on his doing so, unlawful and objectionable)

Tops Industries, d/b/a Tops Market JD-(SF)-83-82

(impliedly threatening reprisals by requesting Ee to tell her son, also an Ee, what could happen because of his attending U meetings, unlawful and objectionable)

Tops Industries, d/b/a Tops Market JD-(SF)-83-82

(threat that sale of plant would terminate further possibility of unionization of E's Ees, unlawful and objectionable)

2862—Cont.

Tilden Rack and Basket Corporation JD-(NY)-2-82
(election set aside and new election found appropriate in view of ULPs such as unlawful interrogations, unlawfully creating impression of surveillance, unlawful statements equating U activity with disloyalty, and unlawful threat of plant closure)

Union Carbide Corporation JD-(SF)-13-80
(solicitation of grievances, asking Ees to speak to coworkers negatively about U and threatening messed up benefits and insurance constituted interference)

N.L.R.B. v. Permanent Label Corporation 657 F.2d 512 (C.A. 3, 1981)
(election set aside and bargaining order issued in view of E's numerous ULPs which included unlawful discharges, suspensions, interrogations, granting of benefits and threats)

2870 TOTALITY OF PRE-ELECTION CONDUCT

B. E. & K., Inc. 252 NLRB No. 036
(objection to election averring that By these and other acts E interfered with Ees' statutory rights, sustained and election set aside, in view of E's acts of interrogation and threats, and discriminatory layoffs)

Hedstrom Co., a subsidiary of Brown Group, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 629 F.2d 305 (C.A. 3, 1980)
(where implied threats of plant closure communicated to significant number of Ees by senior company officials, psychological impact on all Ees is unlikely to dissipate and factors undermining first election would be present at future election; therefore bargaining order proper remedy)

2874 INTERFERENCE WITH ORDERLY ELECTION PROCESSES

Glenn McClendon Trucking Co., Inc. 255 NLRB No. 168
(election set aside and second election directed where three eligible voters whose votes could have affected outcome of election were unable to participate in election because E had dispatched them to places distant from polling place)

Mechanical Seal Division, Borg-Warner Corporation 254 NLRB No. 071
(where E incorrectly informed Ee she was not eligible to vote because she was probationary Ee and later informed her she was eligible, such possible disenfranchisement where unintentional and vote not determinative is not conduct warranting setting aside election)

Moody Nursing Home, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 022
(E who conditioned Ee's right to vote upon first picking up paycheck committed objectionable conduct as this indicates to Ees that their franchise depends upon sufferance of E rather than it being an absolute Sec. 7 right)

Contractors Redi-Mix, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 022
(certification of election results rather than rerunning election, held warranted notwithstanding E's objection that election notice was not posted until the day before election; E contributed to the delay by failing to post the notice until 3 days after receiving it; Ees had opportunities prior to election to read the notice; parties independently apprised Ees of details of election arrangements; and all active Ees voted)

2878 FURNISHING OF LISTS OF EMPLOYEES NAMES AND ADDRESSES (EXCELSIOR LIST)

2878-1400 Adequacy of list furnished

2878-1460 Substantial compliance

Chance Collar Company, Division of W. R. Grace & Company 265 NLRB No. 151
(where Excelsior list was received in Regional Office one day late and w/o zip codes of Ees, Bd found substantial compliance with Excelsior requirements, and setting aside election was not warranted in view of fact that list was received in Regional Office at 7:57 a.m. the day after it was due, it had been mailed 4 days prior to filing date, E immediately supplied zip codes upon being informed of their omission, and U had complete list for 18 days before election in which time it utilized list for at least 4 mailings)

Houston Distributing Company, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 020
(U's objection to adequacy of Excelsior list that failed to include names and addresses of unit Ees who were engaged in economic strike against E, overruled, since no egregious avoidance of obligation where E had furnished names, addresses, and telephone numbers of strikers in earlier list and in ample time for election)

St. Francis Hospital 249 NLRB No. 017
(where excelsior list provided by E contained some incorrect and misleading information; such as, surnames and first and middle initials and E failed to inform R/O of corrected addresses, no violation as no evidence that E intended to willfully frustrate Bd processes; however, if facts revealed such willfulness violation could be found)

2878-1470 Adequacy of requirement not satisfied

Avon Products, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 005
(election set aside since U suffered prejudice in its election campaign where it received Excelsior list which Bd rendered deficient by broadening scope of unit upon review of RD's unit determination, and substantial number of Ees who had voted in election were omitted from list; Bd should have stayed election)

Dutch Boy, Inc., Glow-Lite Division 262 NLRB No. 001
(where E supplied names of 104 of approximately 156 eligible voters notwithstanding failure was in effort to maintain its position that certain laid off Ees were not eligible to vote)

Centre Engineering, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 028
(list of Ees which was alphabetized by just names of Ees, w/i each letter of alphabet, and addresses did not include zip codes or departmental breakdown not adequate and warrants setting aside election)

N.L.R.B. v. All-Weather Architectural Aluminum, Inc. 692 F.2d 76 (C.A. 9, Nov. 1982)
(where E only supplied partial list until a few days before election and then complied and U received complete list on day before election, U was precluded from using list in any effective manner and Bd did not abuse discretion in overturning election)

2878-4200 Late submission of list

Chance Collar Company, Division of W. R. Grace & Company 265 NLRB No. 151
(where Excelsior list was received in Regional Office one day late and w/o zip codes of Ees, Bd found substantial compliance with Excelsior requirements, and setting aside election was not warranted in view of fact that list was received in Regional Office at 7:57 a.m. the day after it was due, it had been mailed 4 days prior to filing date, E immediately supplied zip codes upon being informed of their omission, and U had complete list for 18 days before election in which time it utilized list for at least 4 mailings)

Red Carpet Building Maintenance Corp. 263 NLRB No. 176
(election not set aside since U failed to establish that it was materially prejudiced by 1-day delay in its receipt of *Excelsior*list, where at time U agreed to date for election, it knew that Ees living in remote areas were difficult to contact, and it therefore assumed consequences of its agreement; U took no affirmative action to obtain list until 7 days before election nor requested that election be postponed because of late receipt; and U obtained list 6 days before election in relatively small unit and had sufficient time to notify Ees of U meetings)

Red Carpet Building Maintenance Corp. 263 NLRB No. 176
(in finding setting aside of election not warranted because of 1-day delay in U's receipt of Excelsior list, Bd held delay in instant case was insignificant compared to delay in McGraw Edison case under circumstances therein, and in Coca-Cola case there was a much more substantial delay than that present herein; moreover, unlike in McGraw case, U herein had not shown that its election campaign in smaller unit than in that case was affected materially by its late receipt of list, and also U herein never sought to postpone election)

N.L.R.B. v. All-Weather Architectural Aluminum, Inc. 692 F.2d 76 (C.A. 9, Nov. 1982)
(where E only supplied partial list until a few days before election and then complied and U received complete list on day before election, U was precluded from using list in any effective manner and Bd did not abuse discretion in overturning election)

2878-5600 Failure to furnish list

N.L.R.B. v. Thom Brown Shoes, Inc. No. 79-C-3173, Feb. 20, 1980, DC E.D. NY (unreported)
(E's failure to furnish Excelsior list constitutes grounds for setting aside election when timely objections filed by U)

2885 PRE-ELECTION PROPAGANDA

2885-0100 Generally

Van Dorn Plastic Machinery Co., Division of Van Dorn Company 253 NLRB No. 029
(case remanded to ALJ for purpose of conducting further hearing on issue of E's objection to election under General Knit of California, Inc., 239 NLRB 619, where ALJ relied solely on formal papers submitted in R proceeding in analyzing E's objection and resolved the case entirely on application of standard set out in Shopping Kart Food Market, Inc., and, on last day of hearing in the R proceeding, w/o knowledge of parties to the R proceeding, Bd, in General Knit of California, Inc., overruled Shopping Kart Food Market, Inc.)

Robbins and Myers, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 643 F.2d 455(T) (C.A. 6, Dec 11, 1980)
(Bd did not depart from requirements of controlling law in determining to set aside election which was won by E where pre-election speech by E's plant manager contained substantial misrepresentations reasonably expected to have significant impact on election)

2885-0140 Economic dependency of employees to be considered

Baird-Poulan Division, Emerson Electric Company v. N.L.R.B. 649 F.2d 589 (C.A. 8, May 1981)
(wages)

2885-0160 Statements must be phrased on basis of objective facts

A. J. Schmidt Co., William A. Schmidt and Sons, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 208
(E may predict to Ees effects it believes unionization would have so long as prediction is carefully phrased on basis of objective facts to convey E's belief as to demonstrate probable consequences beyond its control)

Associated Roofing & Sheet Metal Co., Inc. 255 NLRB No. 178
(E's statement at meeting of Ees on day before election that if U came in it would not be able to get business interfered with election choice where it was not supported by objective facts)

2885-0180 Reasonable predictions of consequences

Cafe Tartuffo, Inc. d/b/a Fiorella 261 NLRB No. 033
(E's statements in letter to Ees before election that after becoming bargaining representative at another of E's facilities U negotiated contract which in my opinion gave Ees no more than they would have gotten had there been no U and probably less and we can negotiate agreement with U that does not cost any more in wages and benefits than w/o U and may even cost less held not promise of benefit warranting setting aside election, but rather E's opinion based on outcome of negotiations at other facility that U would be willing to negotiate contract which would not result in significent increases)

Cafe Tartuffo, Inc. d/b/a Fiorella 261 NLRB No. 033
(E's statements in letter to Ees before election that based on experience with U at another of its facilities we can negotiate agreement with U that does not cost us anymore in wages and benefits and may cost even less not objectionable threat of loss of wages or benefits or jobs but merely permissible prediction of consequences of unionization and did not correlate unionization with loss of job security)

2885-0180-5000 Employer's obligation to produce objective evidence that consequences predicted were beyond his control

A. J. Schmidt Co., William A. Schmidt and Sons, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 208
(E may predict to Ees effects it believes unionization would have so long as prediction is carefully phrased on basis of objective facts to convey E's belief as to demonstrate probable consequences beyond its control)

Associated Roofing & Sheet Metal Co., Inc. 255 NLRB No. 178
(E's statement at meeting of Ees on day before election that if U came in it would not be able to get business interfered with election choice where it was not supported by objective facts)

2885-1000 Opportunity for other party to respond

Robert E. Johnson and Geneva H. Johnson, a Partnership, d/b/a Jolie Bois Company 265 NLRB No. 141
(Bd held that E's misleading campaign statements 2 days prior to election regarding E's alleged economic right to invoke joint negotiations with another E in area, and if U struck one E, the other E would lock out its Ees, did not warrant setting aside election under Midland National Life Insurance Company)

N.L.R.B. v. Leslie Metal Arts Company, Inc. 673 F.2d 168 (C.A. 6, Mar. 1982)
(Bd did not abuse its discretion in overruling E's objections to election on ground that U misrepresented percentage of Ees required to indicate interest in U before there could be election since statements referred to were made so far in advance of election that E had ample opportunity to respond if in fact there was misrepresentation)

Spring City Knitting Company v. N.L.R.B. 647 F.2d 1011 (C.A. 9, June 1981)
(in order for election to be set aside due to misrepresentations, one party must have misrepresented material facts, the other party had no opportunity to reply, and resulting distorted presentations significantly impaired election process)

2885-2000 Employer statements

2885-2033 Kinds of statements

2885-2033-1700 Maintenance of existing level of benefits

Associated Roofing & Sheet Metal Co., Inc. 255 NLRB No. 178
(where E had practice of discussing Ees' grievances with them, letter prior to election which stated that individual Ees would no longer be able to settle matters personally was improper threat to unilaterally terminate existing beneficial situation)

Liberty Vinyl Corporation JD-(SF)-268-80
(pamphlet stating that present salaries, benefits and working conditions are up for grabs and subject to negotiations held not violative where labor relations consultant who distributed them made spoken remarks which dissipated misapprehension about status of existing benefits and wages if U got in)

CRC Pipeline Equipment, a Division of Crutcher Resources Corporation JD-(SF)-140-80
(E's statements to effect that bargaining was two way street and benefits could be decreased, remain same, or be increased, did not warrant setting aside election, since was explanation of how contract arrived at and legitimate message that Ees might wind up with less benefits after unionization, rather than threat of economic reprisal that Ees would automatically lose benefits by voting for U)

2885-2033-3300 Declaration of union preference

N.L.R.B. v. San Antonio Portland Cement Company 611 F.2d 1148 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(not just any advocacy of U by supervisor rises to level of supervisory pressure or coercion; mere statement of personal preference by supervisor is not coercive; no supervisory taint so long as nothing in words, deeds, or atmosphere of supervisor's request for authorization cards contain seeds of potential reprisal, punishment, or intimidation)

2885-2033-4100 Inevitability of loss or delay of pay raise

General Merchandise Distributors, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 126
(announcement to Ees 1 week prior to election that pay raise due to take effect shortly after election was being postponed and also that another group of Ees who had chosen U representation had now gone full year with no raise and were still waiting for contract to be negotiated is threat to Ees of loss of benefits if they choose U)

BRK Electronics (Electrical Workers, Local Union No. 461) 248 NLRB No. 169
(E president's telling Ees, in response to Ee's question, that whether or not Ees received their pay raises prior to vacation would depend on outcome of upcoming election held interference, since comment carried message that pay raises would be affected by results of the upcoming election)

2885-2033-5000 Declaration of opposition to union

Safeway Stores, Inc. JD-(SF)-41-81
(new Ee's training instructor's response to Ee that store was goint to open non-union, not objectionable, where evidence did not sustain U's contention that it was E's absolute intent to operate non-U and remark was made prior to time U filed its ptn for certification)

2885-2033-5800 Disparagement of union officials

Wells Fargo Guard Services, A Division of Baker Protective Services, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 659 F.2d 363 (C.A. 3, Sep. 1981)
(enforcement denied and case remanded to Bd for evidentiary hearing where issue, of whether allegedly unfit leader remained in control of U, had significant impact on election won by U; strictness of Bd action in setting aside first election because of E's distributing altered facsimile ballot prior to election when contrasted with its flexibility in certifying U after second election supplies additional reason for remand)

2885-2033-6700 Inevitability of loss of jobs

A. J. Schmidt Co., William A. Schmidt and Sons, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 208
(U's objection that E unlawfully threatened plant closure and job losses as direct result of unionization, sustained, where E's preelection literature did not contain any demonstrable evidence to support its message that unionization caused other plants to either close or lay off large number of Ees and that unionization of E could lead to same result; although E did not explicitly threaten job losses if U won election, its repeated emphasis on job security, along with constant references to companies that suffered economic hardship, raised implication that job losses were virtually certain if U won)

Maud Nursing Home, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 133
(E stating that if U calls strike, Ees may no longer have jobs after strike, and under law E does not need to rehire Ees, implicitly threatened to sever employment relationship permanently. E implied that it was w/i its sole discretion to terminate the employment relationship, thereby terminating all rights to reinstatement. Not only is implication contrary to law, but it is impermissible threat to Ees that if they strike they would lose their jobs)

Alpha Cellulose Corporation 265 NLRB No. 010
(E's letter indicating to Ees not only that, if they struck, they could be permanently replaced, as is permitted, but that they could lose their jobs as result of striking held unlawful and interference with election, since such clear threats to sever employment relationships in event Ees engage in economic strike amount to unlawful threats of job loss)

Alpha Cellulose Corporation 265 NLRB No. 010
(E's letter to Ees held unlawful and basis for valid objection to election, where letter, when read in light of E's prior letter to Ees found unlawful herein because it stated that Ees could lose their jobs as result of engaging in economic strike, confirmed to Ees that an exercise of their right to strike would, as a matter of course, lead to permanent loss of their jobs and accompanying benefits)

2885-2033-6700—Cont.

Schnadig Corporation 265 NLRB No. 020

(election set aside where E's chairman of board informed Ees he had purchased plant as non-U and expected it to stay that way, that he was in business to stay, hopefully at present site but if not there somewhere else, and needed Ees help to make plant profitable, that Ees were entitled to do as they saw fit but he did not believe U was good for future and being intelligent people Ees should not believe U's snow job, since reference to plant closing not based on objective facts supporting probable consequences beyond E's control, and supervisors had previously threatened plant closure)

Cafe Tartuffo, Inc. d/b/a Florelle 261 NLRB No. 033

(E's statements in letter to Ees before election that based on experience with U at another of its facilities we can negotiate agreement with U that does not cost us anymore in wages and benefits and may cost even less not objectionable threat of loss of wages or benefits or jobs but merely permissible prediction of consequences of unionization and did not correlate unionization with loss of job security)

Whiting Manufacturing Company, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 058

(E's president at meeting on day before election stating that U shop would run him out of business warranted setting aside of election, since coercive effect not neutralized by explanation of E's labor relations advisor at same meeting that what E's president meant to say was that E was in competition with non-U states of south and was already paying Ees all it could and remain competitive; this actually reinforced E's statement that U victory would make E noncompetitive)

Turner Shoe Company, Inc. and Carmen Athletic Industries, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 020

(E's speech, 2 days before election, telling Ees that if they were not careful, disaster could hit and everything could be lost held interference, since reference shortly before election conveyed not too subtle message that vote for U would lead to strikes or plant closing and resulting loss of jobs; E thereby sought to take advantage of Ee concerns about job security and informed Ees that only way to protect their jobs was to vote against U)

Turner Shoe Company, Inc. and Carmen Athletic Industries, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 020

(claim that E did not threaten Ees with job loss because it did not directly or explicitly attribute strikes, plant closing, or job loss to unionization, rejected; communications hovering on edge of permissible and impermissible are objectionable since person should be held accountable for use of double intendres at level of his audience rather than of sophisticated tribunals, Scholars, etc.; E's use of leaflet in form of obituary dealing with closing of nearby plant and reference to impending disasters are examples of brinkmanship which overstepped and tumbled over brink)

Turner Shoe Company, Inc. and Carmen Athletic Industries, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 020

(Bd held that, in context of E's specific threats of plant closure, E's repeated statements in its speeches and campaign material constantly referring to U as being strike happy and associating U with strikes, plant closure, and loss of jobs constituted additional objectionable conduct which interfered with election)

Turner Shoe Company, Inc. and Carmen Athletic Industries, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 020

(even if E did not engage in specific threats of plant closure, overall impact of E's campaign created coercive atmosphere sufficient to set aside election, where E constantly emphasized themes such as likelihood that strikes, plant closure, and loss of jobs would be direct result of unionization)

Louis Gallet, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 013

(setting aside of election warranted where E in letters to Ees prior to election implied threats of plant closure and expressed belief strikes would be inevitable if U voted in)

2885-2033-7000 Bargain from scratch

General Merchandise Distributors, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 126

(division manager's statement made during Ee meeting that if U won election, bargaining would start from scratch, objectionable)

Blue Cross of Kansas City, Inc. and Blue Shield of Kansas City, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 070

(E's remarks in speeches and handouts regarding bargaining from scratch and starting negotiations with two blank pieces of paper held not violative where E stated that he was obligated to bargain in good faith, all benefits were not guaranteed but would be negotiated, and no intent was expressed to unilaterally remove Ee benefits)

Brookwood Furniture, Division of U.S. Industries 258 NLRB No. 028

(E's anti-U speeches telling Ees that negotiations would start from blank, that they might end up with less, more, or the same benefits, held interference where made against background of E's ULPs)

BRK Electronics (Electrical Workers, Local Union No. 461) 248 NLRB No. 169

(E president's declaring to Ees that when U got in benefits contained in Ee manual would become null and void and that bargaining over those benefits would start from scratch warranted setting aside election, notwithstanding president's subsequent qualifying comments that everything would be negotiable; president's qualification of his null and void comment was insufficient to overcome the clear message that if Ees elected U, they would lose their existing benefits)

Liberty Vinyl Corporation JD-(SF)-268-80

(pamphlet distributed by labor consultant during U campaign stating that negotiations start from scratch held not violative, as it is truthful and unobjectionable for E to point out that contract negotiations involve tradeoffs and no benefits are exempt from bargaining process that E must engage in good faith)

CRC Pipeline Equipment, a Division of Crutcher Resources Corporation JD-(SF)-140-80

(E's statements to effect that bargaining was two way street and benefits could be decreased, remain same, or be increased, did not warrant setting aside election, since was explanation of how contract arrived at and legitimate message that Ees might wind up with less benefits after unionization, rather than threat of economic reprisal that Ees would automatically lose benefits by voting for U)

2885-2033-8300 Inevitability of strikes and shutdown

Dutch Boy, Inc., Glow-Lite Division 262 NLRB No. 001

(E's campaign message informing Ees that strikes weren't always successful not violative; message found to be permissable free speech)

Turner Shoe Company, Inc. and Carmen Athletic Industries, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 020

(although E's pamphlet did not directly attribute closing of nearby plant to unionization, distribution of pamphlet held interference, where it made graphic presentation of such plant closing in form of obituary notice which was clear attempt to communicate by form if not words clear message to Ees–unionization caused nearby plant to close and unionization would likewise cause E to close its plant)

Turner Shoe Company, Inc. and Carmen Athletic Industries, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 020

(E's speech, 2 days before election, telling Ees that if they were not careful, disaster could hit and everything could be lost held interference, since reference shortly before election conveyed not too subtle message that vote for U would lead to strikes or plant closing and resulting loss of jobs; E thereby sought to take advantage of Ee concerns about job security and informed Ees that only way to protect their jobs was to vote against U)

Turner Shoe Company, Inc. and Carmen Athletic Industries, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 020

(E's leaflet in form of obituary dealing with closing of nearby plant and E's preelection speeches held interference, where evidence did not support E's message that unionization caused closure of other area plants or that unionization would lead to strikes, plant closure, job loss, and other unidentified disasters, and E thereby failed to convey permissible noncoercive prediction that unionization might lead to economic dispute that could result in loss of jobs; Ees take hints of plant closing as coercive threats rather than honest forecasts)

Turner Shoe Company, Inc. and Carmen Athletic Industries, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 020

(claim that E did not threaten Ees with job loss because it did not directly or explicitly attribute strikes, plant closing, or job loss to unionization, rejected; communications hovering on edge of permissible and impermissible are objectionable since person should be held accountable for use of double intendres at level of his audience rather than of sophisticated tribunals, Scholars, etc.; E's use of leaflet in form of obituary dealing with closing of nearby plant and reference to impending disasters are examples of brinkmanship which overstepped and tumbled over brink)

Turner Shoe Company, Inc. and Carmen Athletic Industries, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 020

(Bd held that, in context of E's specific threats of plant closure, E's repeated statements in its speeches and campaign material constantly referring to U as being strike happy and associating U with strikes, plant closure, and loss of jobs constituted additional objectionable conduct which interfered with election)

Turner Shoe Company, Inc. and Carmen Athletic Industries, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 020

(even if E did not engage in specific threats of plant closure, overall impact of E's campaign created coercive atmosphere sufficient to set aside election, where E constantly emphasized themes such as likelihood that strikes, plant closure, and loss of jobs would be direct result of unionization)

PPG Industries, Inc. Shelby Plant, Fiber Glass Division 247 NLRB NO. 114

(speech permissible campaign propoganda, where E's remarks about strikes were in direct response to U's campaign position that E would not take a strike shutting down operations, and there was nothing in speech that would suggest that Ees would have to strike to secure gains, that strike was inevitable, that E rejected principles of collective bargaining, or that plant would be closed or jobs lost simply because U won election)

2885-2033-8300—Cont.

Louis Gallet, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 015
(setting aside of election warranted where E in letters to Ees prior to election implied threats of plant closure and expressed belief strikes would be inevitable if U voted in)

Jet Industries JD-(SF)-25-82
(leaflet captioned Truth About Strikes which told about hardships on Ee's during strikes, what might happen to Ees and that Us cause strikes need additional text)

2885-2033-8700 Promise to correct grievances

Ellis Hospital JD-164-82
(alleged solicitation of grievance from Ee by supervisor and implied promise to redress it, not unlawful nor interference with election, where supervisor had stated to Ee that his door was open to Ee anytime Ee wanted to talk to him, supervisor credibly testified that such was always the case, and even Ee's testimony did not make out a case of solicitation of grievances and promise to redress them)

Ellis Hospital JD-164-82
(election set aside and second election directed where objections to election were generally coextensive with ULPs found herein which were sufficient to affect election results and problems Ees had or thought they had were gravamen of organizational campaign, or at least was so perceived by E and, therefore, promise to rectify those problems and asking Ees to vote against U so that E could do so w/o having to bargain with U must necessarily have had effect on election)

2885-2033-9000 Concerning organizational activities

Bryce Corporation 261 NLRB No. 169
(case remanded for purpose of hearing to determine merits of E's contention that notice posted for 2 days, 5 weeks before election, urging Ees to report any pressure to join U which E would stop immediately, was not objectionable conduct having coercive effect on election)

2885-2033-9100 Futility of unionization

Cafe Tartuffo, Inc. d/b/a Fiorella 261 NLRB No. 033
(statements in letter to Ees before election that U had negotiated contract at another of E's facilities which in my opinion gave Ees no more than they would have gotten w/o U, and probably less and we can negotiate agreement with U that does not cost any more in wages and benefits than w/o U, not objectionable, since legitimate campaign propaganda inasmuch as did not state or imply that E acting independently would grant same wages and benefits granted at unionized facility, nor indicate policy to treat represented and unrepresented Ees alike, or that Ees were receiving all they could expect U to obtain)

Cafe Tartuffo, Inc. d/b/a Fiorella 261 NLRB No. 033
(E's statements in letter to Ees before election that from experience at its other facility U would negotiate contract which produces nothing more than you would expect to receive if w/o U, for that you are afforded privilege of paying dues, not objectionable, since merely stated E's view of contract U had negotiated at another of E's facilities and of what U would seek in negotiations, nor did E indicate what its position would be if U won election; statement in regard to dues permissible campaign propaganda since not coupled with further objectionable statements)

2885-2033-9150 Employer will not bargain

Tops Industries, d/b/a Tops Market JD-(SF)-53-82
(threat to refuse to negotiate or sign a contract with any U selected by Ees, unlawful and objectionable)

Scoggin, Inc. JD-433-81
(E's president statement that selecting U would be futile because he would not bargain with intent to reach agreement, or enter into agreement, unlawful and warranted setting aside election)

2885-2033-9200 Employer will not deal directly with employees

Mead Nursing Home, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 135
(letter to Ees 3 days before election which outlined for Ees what they could lose if U won, including right to speak and think for yourself because you will have deal through U representatives, was retaliatory threat to terminate unilaterally existing benefit of Ees to deal directly with E if U won election)

Ellis Hospital JD-164-82
(informing Ees that in event they selected U they would be unable to meet directly with management to talk about grievances and other matters, unlawful and interference with election; while E may explain that U will be participant in E-Ee relations generally, E cannot threaten to cut off unilaterally permissible direct dealing with Ees for selecting U)

2885-4000 Misrepresentation concerning material issue

Ellis Hospital JD-164-82
(E telling Ees that if U shop were negotiated everyone would be required to join U held not interference with election, notwithstanding that E did not precisely spell out proviso to Sec. 8(a)(3), since statement was not so misleading as to be objectionable, there was no indication that U membership would be predicate for obtaining a job, and failing to spell out possibility of Ees paying service fee was too subtle to be objectionable)

2885-4001 Generally

Resorts International, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 142
(as objection alleges misrepresentation but with no allegation that documents in question were forgeries which rendered voters unable to recognize propaganda for what it is, objection is overruled. See Midland National Life Insurance Company 263 NLRB No. 24 (1982))

Midland National Life Insurance Company 263 NLRB No. 024
(Bd will no longer probe into truth or falsity of parties' campaign statements, and will not set elections aside on basis of misleading campaign statements; Bd will, however, intervene in cases where party has used forged documents which render voters unable to recognize propaganda for what it is; thus, Bd will set election aside not because of substance of representation, but because of deceptive manner in which it was made (overruling General Knit and Hollywood Ceramics and returning to rule in Shopping Kart))

N.L.R.B. v. Nixon Gear, Inc. 649 F.2d 906 (C.A. 2, May 1981)
(while not every misrepresentation in course of election campaign requires setting aside of election since a certain degree of inaccuracy and ambiguity is recognized as indigenous to campaign propoganda which may be left to common sense appraisal of voters, ct does not hesitate to set aside election where misrepresentation arises under circumstances which effectively precludes voter from ascertaining its falsity)

Vitek Electronics, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 785 (C.A. 3, June 1981)
(in assessing campaign rhetoric, Bd tolerates a degree of hyperfole; intemperance and inaccuracy, and an election will only be set aside when there has been a substantial departure from truth that may reasonably be expected to have a significant impact on the election)

L. M. Berry and Company v. N.L.R.B. 668 F.2d 247 (C.A. 6, Jan. 1982)
(election set aside for campaign misrepresentations only where statements 1) substantially misrepresent material fact; 2) are timed so that other party is prevented from making effective reply; 3) are made by party who has special knowledge of true facts; and 4) concern matters outside independent knowledge of Ees so that they are unable to effectively evaluate statements)

J.F. Hink & Son v. N.L.R.B. 684 F.2d 729(T) (C.A. 9, July 1981)
(Bd conducted election will be overturned because of misrepresentation only if (1) misrepresentation is material and comes from one who appears to have special knowledge of matter (2) opposing party has not had opportunity to reply and (3) resulting distorted presentation significantly imparied election. Burden of proof is on party making allegation)

2885-4014 Timing, opportunity to rebut

Associated Milk Producers, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 104
(E's letter not objectionable even if it contained misrepresentations where U replied by letter and addressed disputed paragraphs in U meeting)

Ellis Hospital JD-164-82
(supervisor's comments during organizational campaign that in event Ees sought to decertify U it would be almost impossible to do so and U could fine them for such attempt held not interference with election, in view of U's constitution to that effect, and fact that statement about impossibility of decertifying U, while perhaps stretching matters a bit, was not such a material misrepresentation as to affect election, particularly where statement was made by one supervisor to one Ee of about 1100 Ees a week before election in time for U to rebut statement)

Vitek Electronics, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 785 (C.A. 3, June 1981)
(RD improperly overruled E's objections to election based on U's alleged misrepresentation of wage rates at other Es' unionized plants, where RD held that U's misrepresentation of wage rates was pardonable because it was prompted by E's study of area wage rates which dispelled any genuine factual issue concerning E's ability to respond to U's misrepresentation in one available day before election; U's misrepresentation referred to past wage rates, while E's study concerned current rates, and RD relied on sheer supposition in assuming that prior to election E possessed sufficient data to rebut U's wage claims)

Beaird-Poulan Division, Emerson Electric Company v. N.L.R.B. 649 F.2d 589 (C.A. 8, May 1981)
(adequate time to reply (to misrepresentation) must mean adequate time to make an effective reply—(A) last minute bare denial cannot be effective reply)

2885-4042 Employees capable of evaluation

Resorts International, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 142
(as objection alleges misrepresentation but with no allegation that documents in question were forgeries which rendered voters unable to recognize propaganda for what it is, objection is overruled. See Midland National Life Insurance Company 263 NLRB No. 24 (1982))

2885-4042—Cont.

N.L.R.B. v. Sara Kness, a sole proprietor d/b/a Clio Convalescent Center 633 F.2d 217(T) (C.A. 6, 1980)

(ct held claimed misrepresentation concerning arbitration provisions of pre-existing agreement would not have affected result of election, especially in view of Ees' own knowledge of and experience with that agreement)

Baird-Poulan Division, Emerson Electric Company v. N.L.R.B. 649 F.2d 589 (C.A. 8, May 1981)

(in assessing preelection campaign statements, concerning other plants in instant case, for both Es and Us, Bd does not ordinarily police or censor propoganda used in elections it conducts, but rather leaves to the good sense of voters the appraisal of such matters, and to opposing parties task of correcting inaccuracies and unlawful statements and only if there has been material misrepresentation which involves substantial departure from truth at time other party cannot reply and has real impact on election will it be set aside)

2885-4062 Union fines

Ellis Hospital JD-164-82

(E's distribution of literature indicating to Ees that it would be virtually impossible to decertify U and that fine could be imposed for attempting to do so, not unlawful and not interference with election, where E correctly paraphrased U's constitution)

Ellis Hospital JD-164-82

(supervisor's comments during organizational campaign that in event Ees sought to decertify U it would be almost impossible to do so and U could fine them for such attempt held not interference with election, in view of U's constitution to that effect, and fact that statement about impossibility of decertifying U, while perhaps stretching matters a bit, was not such a material misrepresentation as to affect election, particularly where statement was made by one supervisor to one Ee of about 1100 Ees a week before election in time for U to rebut statement)

2885-4066 Misleading representation of the law

Robert E. Johnson and Geneva H. Johnson, a Partnership, d/b/a Jolie Belts Company 265 NLRB No. 141

(Bd held that E's misleading campaign statements 2 days prior to election regarding E's alleged economic right to invoke joint negotiations with another E in area, and if U struck one E, the other E would lock out its Ees, did not warrant setting aside election under Midland National Life Insurance Company)

Mead Nursing Home, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 135

(E stating that if U calls strike, Ees may no longer have jobs after strike, and under law E does not need to rehire Ees, implicitly threatened to sever employment relationship permanently. E implied that it was w/i its sole discretion to terminate the employment relationship, thereby terminating all rights to reinstatement. Not only is implication contrary to law, but it is impermissable threat to Ees that if they strike they would lose their jobs)

Jensen Sound Laboratories 258 NLRB No.

(statement to Ees that any attempts to decertify U would result in U imposing heavy fines on its members violative as being contrary to Bd law)

Borun Brothers, Inc., A Wholly Owned Subsidiary of Thrifty Corporation 257 NLRB No. 003

(objection that E misrepresented that under U constitution a member's property could be confiscated for nonpayment of dues, overruled, where U constitution referred to dues as legal obligations . . . enforceable in a court of law, and there was no showing by the U that such enforcement could not be reduced to judgment and subject debtor's property to levy and attachment)

Edward A. Utlaut Foundation, Inc. d/b/a Edward A. Utlaut Memorial Hospital and Fair Oaks Nursing Home 249 NLRB No. 162

(E's misstatement that Ees would be required to join U and pay dues if U won election held interference but not 8(a)(1) violation absent threat to Ee rights)

Edward A. Utlaut Foundation, Inc. d/b/a Edward A. Utlaut Memorial Hospital and Fair Oaks Nursing Home 249 NLRB No. 162

(violation and interference where E misstated law on strikers' rights by declaring that it had no duty to rehire Ees who were replaced during strike and thus threatened Ees with future permanent loss of employment if they engaged in economic strike)

LOF Glass, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 087

(E's statement on two occasions shortly before election that individual right of Ees to handle grievances personally would be gone once U was voted in warranted setting aside election, since misrepresentation occurred when U did not have opportunity to make effective response and was serious enough to interfere with Ees' free choice; furthermore, Ees frequent use of E's open door policy made its repeated loss significant reason to reject U)

LOF Glass, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 087

(E's statement intending to inform Ees that E's open door policy could no longer exist once U was voted in was serious misrepresentation of Ees' right under Sec. 9(a) to present their own grievances and have them adjusted w/o reference to any contractual procedures as long as substance of adjustment was not inconsistent with contract)

2885-4070 Union dues and fees

Educational and Recreational Services, Inc., a Wholly-Owned Subsidiary of ARA Services, Inc., etc. 253 NLRB No. 140

(leaflet, inserted by E in Ees' paycheck envelope immediately prior to election, stating that U dues have not been deducted—different—if U wins—VOTE NO—, held not objectionable, since document does not indicate that dues would automatically be withdrawn from paychecks w/o Ee consent; inserted leaflet was campaign propaganda and did not interfere with Ees' freedom of choice which would warrant setting aside election)

Moody Nursing Home, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 022

(truthfull written propoganda concerning U dues distributed along with paychecks on election day not violative as only content of material is relevant to effect on election, not timing)

2885-4078 Salaries and benefits of union representatives

Midland National Life Insurance Company 263 NLRB No. 024

(in announcing that Bd will no longer probe into truth or falsity of parties' campaign statements, and will not set elections aside on basis of misleading campaign statements, Bd held E's distributing document on afternoon of election containing numerous misrepresentations of fact designed to portray U as organization staffed by highly paid officials and Ees who were ineffectual as bargaining representatives did not constitute basis for setting election aside)

2885-4079 Effectiveness of Union representative

Midland National Life Insurance Company 263 NLRB No. 024

(in announcing that Bd will no longer probe into truth or falsity of parties' campaign statements, and will not set elections aside on basis of misleading campaign statements, Bd held E's distributing document on afternoon of election containing numerous misrepresentations of fact designed to portray U as organization staffed by highly paid officials and Ees who were ineffectual as bargaining representatives did not constitute basis for setting election aside)

2885-4084 Union responsible for reduction of jobs and eventual closure of another plant

The Wackenhut Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 666 F.2d 464 (C.A. 11, Jan. 1982)

(Ee's statement to Ees, prior to election, that similar E was no longer in business because it was unionized held violative and election set aside, since statement implied similar E out of business in retaliation for Ees voting for U and that instant E would do same thing)

2885-4093 Board position, processes or document

A. J. Schmidt Co., William A. Schmidt and Sons, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 208

(in sustaining part of other objectionable conduct regarding alleged misrepresentation of Bd's processes, RD correctly applied law in effect at time of his decision; but since then Bd has found misrepresentation of Bd has found misrepresentation of Bd's processes not to be objectionable; accordingly, Bd overruled portion of other objectionable conduct concerning such misrepresentations)

Midland National Life Insurance Company 263 NLRB No. 024

(Bd will set elections aside when official Bd document has been altered in such way as to indicate endorsement by Bd of party to election)

Jensen Sound Laboratories 258 NLRB No. 181

(attaching copy of Bd publication to anti-U memo distributed by E not violative as it was clearly attached to E's memo and also clearly identified as being prepared in the General Counsel's Office of the Board and no inordinate reference to attachment was contained in body of memo)

Lockwood, Kessler & Bartlett, Inc. A Subsidiary of Viatech, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 084

(campaign leaflets reproducing fact portions of Bd decisions involving U in order to show conduct U had engaged in, not interference, where E did not state or imply that such practices were supported by Bd or mischaracterize Bd law or principles, E's comments regarding case facts were accurate, and other statements merely advised Ees that voting against U would prevent their being involved in similar situations; whether Bd found described conduct violative or not violative is immaterial to question of whether conduct occurred or whether Ees could avoid being subjected to it)

Lockwood, Kessler & Bartlett, Inc. A Subsidiary of Viatech, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 084

(in case involving distribution of campaign leaflets containing fact portions of Bd decisions involving U, Bd held it is neither necessary nor appropriate to find that reproduction of incomplete Bd decisions obfuscates legal principles; to make such ruling would fashion a per se rule that any Bd document which is reproduced in part, for whatever reason and even if only reproduced portion is relevant, misuses Bd processes)

28854093—Cont.

Pacific Motel Corp. d/b/a Best Western Motel (Hotel & Restaurant Employees, Local 162) 248 NLRB No. 179
(E's distribution to Ees at meeting of sample ballot with writing Vote No on it and in large type statement Your X in this square of the official ballot will mean that you do not want the union, with an arrow pointing to the No Box of the ballot constituted interference)

2885-6000 Comments and instructions concerning election

Dutch Boy, Inc., Glow-Lite Division 262 NLRB No. 001
(E's campaign message concerning mechanics of voting in Bd election, not violative; permissable free speech)

2885-6023 Making available antiunion T-shirts

R. L. White Company, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 069
(distributing T-shirts in each department in sufficient members so that each Ee could get one and encouraging Ees to wear pro E T-shirts violative)

The Tappan Company 254 NLRB No. 080
(supervisor's making available to Ees anti-U T-shirts when he walked around with them on his arm while inspecting Ees' work held interference; neither supervisor's duty to inspect Ees' work nor his silent display of the shirts alleviated pressure place on Ees to disclose their preference)

2885-6025 Urging 'no' vote letters

Community Hospital, Inc. of East St. Louis 251 NLRB No. 149
(E's letter on day of election urging No vote and stating failure to vote was automatic yes vote did not warrant setting aside election, notwithstanding elections determined by majority of Ees actually voting, since merely exhortation to vote absent evidence Ees refrained from voting as result of statement)

2885-6050 Posting or distribution of ballot marked 'no'

Pacific Motel Corp. d/b/a Best Western Motel (Hotel & Restaurant Employees, Local 162) 248 NLRB No. 179
(E's distribution to Ees at meeting of sample ballot with writing Vote No on it and in large type statement Your X in this square of the official ballot will mean that you do not want the union, with an arrow pointing to the No Box of the ballot constituted interference)

2885-6062 Failure to post or delay in posting election notices

Earle Industries, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 011
(E's failure to post election notice until 2 days prior to election found not violative where notice was posted beside time-clock which all Ees were required to use and 97 percent of Ees voted in election)

2885-7000 Defacing of election notice

National King Coal, Inc. JD-(SF)-24-81
(E who allowed official NLRB notice in which X had been placed in no-box to remain on bulletin board did not violate Act where E's agents did not cause X to be placed on sample and no evidence that it interfered restrained or coerced Ees)

2889 PROUNION CONDUCT OF SUPERVISORS

ITT Lighting Fixtures, Division of ITT Corporation 265 NLRB No. 188
(election is not per se invalid merely because there was some pro-U activity on part of supervisor; instead, there must be a showing that supervisor's conduct reasonably tends to have such a coercive effect on Ees that it was likely to impair their freedom of choice in election; and pro-U supervisory conduct may reasonably tend to coerce Ees even where supervisors have made no threats of retaliation)

ITT Lighting Fixtures, Division of ITT Corporation 265 NLRB No. 188
(Bd observed that ct's remand opn herein pointed out that, in absence of threats, determining whether pro-U supervisory conduct was coercive requires examination of (1) degree of supervisory authority, and (2) nature and openness of pro-U activity; as to (1), Bd read ct's opn as approving Bd's distinction between major and minor supervisory authority in assessing coercive effect of supervisors' U activities; such distinction is based on recognition that only major supervisors who can take or effectively recommend adverse action possess retaliatory potential sufficient to coerce Ees in U campaign)

ITT Lighting Fixtures, Division of ITT Corporation 265 NLRB No. 188
(on ct remand for further findings on supervisory authority of group leaders and whether their pro-U activity could effectively affect Ees' votes, Bd viewed it as law of the case, and as proper statement of law, that group leader is major (as opposed to minor) supervisor, whose pro-U activity could affect Ees' free choice in election, only if group leader possesses authority to hire, fire, promote, or issue written warnings on his own volition, or has authority to recommend such action)

ITT Lighting Fixtures, Division of ITT Corporation 265 NLRB No. 188
(pro-U activities of group leaders did not reasonably tend to coerce Ees and impair their freedom of choice so as to justify setting election aside, where there was no danger leaders could retaliate if so inclined, since no hiring, firing, promotions, or written reprimands were effected w/o independent investigation by foremen or personnel office; leaders' issuance of unrecorded oral warnings did not warrant finding that they had sufficient retaliatory potential to coerce Ees; and there was no evidence of any action taken to make any Ee fear possible retribution by leader for not supporting U)

ITT Lighting Fixtures, Division of ITT Corporation 265 NLRB No. 188
(pro-U group leader's remarks at U meeting that those who do not vote for U should not complain to her about their problems afterwards because she did not want to hear them held not to indicate that leader could retaliate by refusing to resolve Ees' grievances if they voted against U; rather, statement simply expressed leader's position that she would have no sympathy for Ees who complained to her in future about being mistreated by E, but were unwilling to unionize; in any event, E failed to show that leader had any grievance adjustment authority)

Bally's Park Place, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 098
(objection that supervisors coerced Ees under their supervision to vote for U properly rejected where, Bd found (1) alleged objectionable activity was limited to oral remarks made to or in presence of Ees; (2) remarks were not patently coercive, nor implied retaliation for voting against U, but appeared to express speakers' personal views about unionization; (3) supervisors who made remarks were low in supervisory hierarchy; (4) several statements were made in presence of other supervisors; and (5) one supervisor's remarks supportive of unionization were uttered in response of contrary remarks by another supervisor during discussion with Ees)

Quick Find Co. 259 NLRB No. 144
(supervisor's participation held not interference where he applied no pressure on Ees to sign cards, he and Ees were discharged before election and such termination made clear that E did not favor U)

Marconi, Inc., d/b/a El Caballo 251 NLRB No. 069
(pre-election threat made by pro-U supervisor, objectionable, where supervisor still occupied his supervisory position and at time of election was in position to thrust his pro-U sympathies onto Ees and to implement his threat)

ITT Lighting Fixtures, Division of ITT Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 934 (C.A. 2, Sept. 1981)
(participation of supervisor in U election may in some circumstances so undermine Ees' freedom of choice as to warrant setting election aside; where supervisors actively encourage Ees to vote for U and E takes no known stance to the contrary, Ees might be led to believe that E favors U, and another effect of such conduct is possibility that it could coerce Ee into supporting U out of fear of future retaliation by U-oriented supervisor)

ITT Lighting Fixtures, Division of ITT Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 934 (C.A. 2, Sept. 1981)
(election is not per se invalid merely because there was some pro-U activity on part of a supervisor; rather, there must be a showing that supervisor's conduct reasonably tended to have such a coercive effect on Ees that it was likely to impair their freedom of choice in election)

ITT Lighting Fixtures, Division of ITT Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 934 (C.A. 2, Sept. 1981)
(in absence of threat by supervisor to use his supervisory powers in retaliation against Ee who disfavors U promoted by supervisor, Bd looks to two factors in determining whether pro-U supervisory conduct coerced Ees: (1) degree of supervisory authority, and (2) extent, nature, and openness of pro-U activity)

ITT Lighting Fixtures, Division of ITT Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 934 (C.A. 2, Sept. 1981)
(determination of whether election was tainted by coercive effect of pro-U supervisory conduct is essentially a matter of drawing inferences, and agency's conclusions based upon such inferences should not be set aside by reviewing ct unless they transgress bounds of reason)

N.L.R.B. v. St. Mary's Home, Inc., t/a St. Mary's Infant Home 690 F.2d 1062 (C.A. 4, Sept. 1982)
(where alleged coercive conduct by Ee, herein found supervisor, occurred 2 months before election as this extended time period between alleged coercive conduct and election itself is such that any assumption that such conduct prejudiced fairness of election was too tenuous to require hearing)

N.L.R.B. v. Welfed Catfish, Inc. 674 F.2d 1076 (C.A. 5, May 1982)
(E is estopped from challenging election on ground that pro-U conduct of one of its supervisors influenced outcome of election where conduct occurred one month prior to election and E made no effort to communicate to Ees that it disavowed supervisor's conduct, though E did tell supervisor to stop such conduct and he complied and notwithstanding U knew about pro-U conduct and did nothing)

2889—Cont.

N.L.R.B. v. San Antonio Portland Cement Company 611 F.2d 1148 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(not just any advocacy of U by supervisor rises to level of supervisory pressure or coercion; mere statement of personal preference by supervisor is not coercive; no supervisory taint so long as nothing in words, deeds, or atmosphere of supervisor's request for authorization cards contain seeds of potential reprisal, punishment, or intimidation)

N.L.R.B. v. San Antonio Portland Cement Company 611 F.2d 1148 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(no supervisory coercion where one supervisor wore U button at U meeting on eve of election)

N.L.R.B. v. Biomedical Resources Corporation of Northern California 624 F.2d 192(T) (C.A. 9, 1980)
(where 2 supervisors signed U authorization cards and voted, subject to challenge, in election, this is not sufficient misconduct to warrant setting aside election; their activity was minor and they did not threaten or coerce other Ees to vote for U)

2891 COUNTERACTING UNION'S CAMPAIGN

Bryor Corporation 261 NLRB No. 169
(case remanded for purpose of hearing to determine merits of E's contention that notice posted for 2 days, 5 weeks before election, urging Ees to report any pressure to join U which E would stop immediately, was not objectionable conduct having coercive effect on election)

2893 ASSISTANCE, SUPPORT OR DOMINATION OF LABOR ORGANIZATION

Halo Lighting Division of McGraw Edison Company 259 NLRB No. 086
(objections to election on ground that E utilized plant bulletin boards to display incumbent U's literature, met individually and collectively with U's representatives and with captive groups of Ees during working hours, and distributed letters and pamphlets threatening loss of jobs and benefits if Ees were no longer represented by incumbent U, overruled, since favoritism to incumbent U was not established; E did not engage in objectionable conduct by meeting with Ees for campaign purposes on working time, and accuracy of facts and figures published in E's letters and pamphlets was not refuted)

Yolox Mold & Die Co., Inc. 256 NLRB No. 006
(hiring Ees who were for incumbent U to assist incumbent and defeat petitioner in Bd election violated Act and interfered with election)

2897 GIFTS AND OTHER INDUCEMENTS OF VALUE

Don Pizzolato, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 136
(E who purchased lunch for Ee prior to election violated Act where meals not ordinarily provided and no compelling need to provide meal existed)

2897-2500 Cocktail parties, dinners, etc.

N.L.R.B. v. Dolchamps, Inc. 653 F.2d 225 (C.A. 5, Aug 1981)
(while E may exclude U supporters from meetings during working hours at which E expressed its opposition to U, and E's conduct in providing free meals to Ees during nonworking hours at campaign meetings does not per se constitute interference with election, combination of those 2 tactics, to which is added payment of wages to some, but not all, of its Ees for attendance at meetings during their scheduled off-hours constitutes violation of Act)

2897-7500 Contests

Stride Rite Corporation 264 NLRB No. 029
(pre-election contest in which Ees answered questions based on E's campaign literature about election issues with 2 prizes having combined value of less than $450 held not interference where prizes were not so great as to divert attention of Ees away from election and its purpose; nor were prizes so substantial as to inherently induce eligible voters to support E's position)

2897-9900 Other

R. L. White Company, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 069
(although manner of E's distribution of pro-E T-shirts was violative, T-shirts themselves are not unlawful grant of benefit but merely distribution of inexpensive pieces of campaign propaganda)

B. E. & K., Inc. 252 NLRB No. 006
(E's conduct in having Ees meet at polling area on plant premises, and assertedly making them wait before allowing them to vote, not interference, where E had Ees meet before polls opened)

Maywood, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 139
(supervisor's telling Ee that she might be relieved of onerous assignment imposed on her if she revoked her signature on U authorization card and ceased associating with U advocates, held interference)

4200 CONDUCT OF LABOR ORGANIZATION

4201 GENERALLY

Connecticut Foundry Company 247 NLRB No. 145
(fact that Ee serves as U observer at election or is prominent in organizing campaign does not make him U official and Bd is reluctant to set aside election due to conduct of such Ee)

Aero Warehouse, Inc. JD-(NY)-48-81
(objections to election overruled where objectionable conduct was not attributable or imputed to U; objectinable conduct did not meet standards articulated by Bd in Hollywood Ceramics Company, Inc. 140 NLRB 221 (1962); as E had sufficient time to reply)

Spring City Knitting Company v. N.L.R.B. 647 F.2d 1011 (C.A. 9, June 1981)
(objecting party who claims that campaign tactics in election were so coercive as to require overturning election faces heavy burden; question is whether coercive conduct so influenced potential voters that free choice by Ees was impossible)

4214 VERBAL PROMISES

National Duct Corporation 265 NLRB No. 050
(U promising Ees journeymen work permits if Ees supported U in election did not warrant setting aside election, since permits part of system which would only operate if U became bargaining representative and thus not objectionable conduct to inform Ees that such a system would be instituted if they supported U)

National Duct Corporation 265 NLRB No. 050
(U informing Ee he would have to go to school before receiving journeyman work permit, under U's system to be instituted if U won election where as another Ee was promised permit w/o having to go to school, did not warrant setting aside election, absent evidence Ee who was informed he would be required to attend school was opposed to U)

Revco D.S., Inc. and/or White Cross Stores, Inc., No. 14 v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 264 (C.A. 6, July 1981)
(U agents' statement that U could obtain agreement by certain date not interference, since statements did not promise tangible benefits, or misrepresent existing material facts and E was not precluded from making effective reply)

N.L.R.B. v. Allen's I.G.A. Foodliner 633 F.2d 217(T) (C.A. 6, 1980)
(U's promise to Ees of benefits they would receive if elected, not unlawful)

4228 VERBAL THREATS

National Duct Corporation 265 NLRB No. 050
(U representative informing Ee If you don't play game my way, you don't play at all and Go ahead and vote no because we don't need you did not warrant setting election aside since no threat of bodily harm or of affect on Ee's working conditions)

National Duct Corporation 265 NLRB No. 050
(U promising Ees journeymen work permits if Ees supported U in election did not warrant setting aside election, since permits part of system which would only operate if U became bargaining representative and thus not objectionable conduct to inform Ees that such a system would be instituted if they supported U)

National Duct Corporation 265 NLRB No. 050
(U informing Ee he would have to go to school before receiving journeyman work permit, under U's system to be instituted if U won election where as another Ee was promised permit w/o having to go to school, did not warrant setting aside election, absent evidence Ee who was informed he would be required to attend school was opposed to U)

North Electric Company, Plant No. 16, Gray, Tennessee 263 NLRB No. 174
(pursuant to ct remand requiring Bd to determine whether E's objections to election, when viewed with documentary evidence in record, require a hearing, Bd held alleged objectionable conduct, consisting of pre-election threats of property damage or destruction made telephonically by various callers to Ees who had worn Vote No buttons, was not attributable to U nor of such character as to result in atmosphere of fear and coercion and did not reveal evidence of substantial and material factual issues which would require a hearing)

Gensley Industries, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 189
(objection that U representative told Ee that he had heard that Ee would be fired if she did not vote in election, overruled, as statement purported to convey rumor as to matter not w/i control of U, and whose coercive reach related to participation in election, rather than manner in which Ee voted)

4228—Cont.

Local 300, Cosmetic and Novelties Workers' Union, Affiliated With International Production Service and Sales Employees Union 257 NLRB No. 174
(threat to Ees, some of whom were illegal aliens, by U agent, interpreter, that Ees would be deported if they did not vote for U held violative and warranted setting aside election)

Interstate Cigar Co., Inc. and L. S. Amster Co., Inc. 256 NLRB No. 082
(conduct of non-Ee pickets, after ptn filed, of photographing Ees and vehicles entering and leaving E's plant, of recofding license numbers of those vehicles, not violative nor objectionable, since actions were isolated and carried out by persons unknown; in instant case there was lack of credible evidence that Ees were threatened nor did U elicit strike by E's Ees but set up picket line for organizational purposes)

United Broadcasting Company of New York, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 068
(U's threats to blacklist Ee if he failed to support U warranted setting aside of election, notwithstanding contention no effect on election where Ee threatened failed to vote, and as to other Ees aware of threat, one was ineligible and other cast undeterminative challenged ballot; since whether conduct warrants setting aside of election does not turn on election results, but rather on its likelihood to coerce prospective voters to cast their votes in particular manner, nor were threats unobjectionable because directed at one individual since could reasonably be expected to be repeated)

Valley Rock Products, Inc. JD-(SF)-285-79
(U representative's unprovoked threats and assaults on E's president and vice-president in bar only six days before election warranted setting aside election where witnessed by some Ees and became widely known to other Ees thus creating climate of tension and coercion)

N.L.R.B. v. Granite State Minerals, Inc. 674 F.2d 101 (C.A. 1, Mar. 1982)
(Bd's investigation inadequate where Ee alleged threats by U which were corroborated but when asked for further details indicated he had smartened up and would say no more, Bd merely asked Ee if he had been threatened and U if it had threatened Ee; RD's conclusion based on ground that no evidence U had made threat improper, since where coercion threatening freedom of election is at issue, it does not matter whether coercive acts are shown to be attributable to U itself)

N.L.R.B. v. Columbus Hi, Inc., d/b/a Columbus Hilton Inn 652 F.2d 614 (C.A. 6, Feb 1981)
(no merit in E's contention that alleged threat to educable mentally retarded Ee should be subject to stricter scrutiny than other preelection conduct)

Episcopal Homes Foundation dba Los Gatos Meadows, a California non-profit corporation v. N.L.R.B. 644 F.2d 888(T) (C.A. 9, Mar 5, 1981)
(no hearing required of E's objections where E failed to make prima facie showing of U involvement in alleged threats or vandalism or that conduct actually affected any votes)

N.L.R.B. v. Masonic Homes of California, Inc. 624 F.2d 88 (C.A. 9, July 1980)
(questions of harassment of Ee when soliciting her vote and expression of fear of reprisals from U remanded to Bd to determine whether such coercive conduct made impossible free expression of choice)

4235 VIOLENCE

Sub-Zero Freezer Company, Inc. 268 NLRB No. 194
(damage to 4 autos in E's parking lot during U campaign not conduct interfereing with Ees' election choice, since damage was similar in nature and extent to vandalism which occurred in E's parking lot prior to advent of U campaign)

Valley Rock Products, Inc. JD-(SF)-285-79
(U representative's unprovoked threats and assaults on E's president and vice-president in bar only six days before election warranted setting aside election where witnessed by some Ees and became widely known to other Ees thus creating climate of tension and coercion)

Episcopal Homes Foundation dba Los Gatos Meadows, a California non-profit corporation v. N.L.R.B. 644 F.2d 888(T) (C.A. 9, Mar 5, 1981)
(no hearing required of E's objections where E failed to make prima facie showing of U involvement in alleged threats or vandalism or that conduct actually affected any votes)

4242 ADDRESSING OR INTERVIEWING EMPLOYEES

Rolligon Corporation 254 NLRB No. 004
(Bd held there was insufficent evidence to support E's objection to election on ground that U agent's statments in presence of Ees left impression that he was acting as Bd agent in distributing Bd subpenas to Ees, since ALJ made no credibility rulings regarding agent's and E's testimony, and objecting party has burden of establishing objectionable conduct)

Rolligon Corporation 254 NLRB No. 004
(U agent's meeting with Ees at Bd's offices after close of R hearing, assertedly conveying impression that Bd favored U held not interference, where agent requested Ees, who had witenessed alleged assault on him, to meet with him to discuss the incident)

4242-2000 Conversing with employees in immediate vicinity of polling area

The Nestle Company 248 NLRB No. 106
(U observer talking to several Ees in polling room not objectionable when alleged objectionable conduct occurred 10 minutes prior to opening of polls and any other talking by observer was not sustained conversations with prospective voters waiting to vote

N.L.R.B. v. Silverman's Men's Wear, Inc. 656 F.2d 53 (C.A. 3, 1981)
(campaigning among Ees in Ee cafeteria just prior to election which was to be held in recreation room is not conduct which would interfere with election choice)

N.L.R.B. v. Silverman's Men's Wear, Inc. 656 F.2d 53 (C.A. 3, 1981)
(U adherent who stood near line of voters staring at them and telling them when it was their turn to vote did not interfere with election choice)

Midwest Stock Exchange, Inc.; et al. v. N.L.R.B. 620 F.2d 629 (C.A. 7, 1980)
(Bd finding of no interference in U observer's conversation with voters at polling place during election misapplied Bd's Milchem decision, since 5-minute converation herein was considered by Bd sufficient under Milchem to void election, regardless of conversation's substance and effect; Bd predicated its decision upon context of observer's conversation and ignored last minute distraction of voters as well as appearance of electioneering that might result from prolonged converation, and fact that, as in Milchem, conversation was not one-to-one)

South Pacific Furniture, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 627 NLRB No. 173 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(U observer's statement come on and vote, exercise your power said to Ees in room adjacent to balloting area, not objectionable and not electioneering, since statement was not one that can be said to have inhibited Ees' free choice in selecting their representative)

N.L.R.B. v. Single Manufacturing Company 686 F.2d 788 (C.A. 1, 1981)
(ct held that substantial evidence on record supported Bd finding that Ee who was recently discharged and subject of ULP charge did not interfere with free choice of Ees in representation election where Ee did not represent U when he engaged in conversations with voters waiting to cast ballots nor was his presence at polls coercive, disruptive, or so aggravated that free expression of choice was impossible since as Ee he had right to be present and to vote in election)

4263 PHOTOGRAPHING

Interstate Cigar Co., Inc. and L. S. Amster Co., Inc. 256 NLRB No. 082
(conduct of non-Ee pickets, after ptn filed, of photographing Ees and vehicles entering and leaving E's plant, of recording license numbers of those vehicles, not violative nor objectionable, since actions were isolated and carried out by persons unknown; in instant case there was lack of credible evidence that Ees were threatened nor did U elicit strike by E's Ees but set up picket line for organizational purposes)

4270 PRE-ELECTION PROPAGANDA

Rolligon Corporation 254 NLRB No. 004
(U's ill-considered decision to subpena one-half of unit Ees held not interference, since it did not reasonably create impression that Bd favored U or was in league with it, where U distributed subpoenas w/o making any statements or engaging in any other conduct that might have misled Ees; E had sufficient time to set record straight and correct any misunderstanding, and if it believed en masse subpenaing was merely device to harass it, it could have brought matter to RD's attention for appropriate relief; Earringhouse Imports, 227 NLRB 1107, dist'g'd)

4270-0100 Generally

Sub-Zero Freezer Company, Inc. 268 NLRB No. 194
(Bd will no longer probe into truthfulness or falsity of campaign statements or set elections aside on basis of alleged misleading campaign statements; See Marine Midland Life Insurance Company, 263 NLRB No. 24 (1982))

Jacksonville Warehouse Company 264 NLRB No. 084
(Bd will no longer probe into truth or falsity of parties' campaign statements and elections will no longer be set aside on basis of misleading campaign statements)

Midland National Life Insurance Company 263 NLRB No. 024
(Bd will no longer probe into truth or falsity of parties' campaign statements, and will not set elections aside on basis of misleading campaign statements; Bd will, however, intervene in cases where party has used forged documents which render voters unable to recognize propaganda for what it is; thus, Bd will set election aside not because of substance of representation, but because of deceptive manner in which it was made (overruling General Knit and Hollywood Ceramics and returning to rule in Shopping Kart))

4270-0100—Cont.

N.L.R.B. v. Allis-Chalmers Corporation 642 F.2d 766 (C.A. 5, Apr. 1981)
(E not required to comply with collective bargaining terms of Bd's Supplemental Order in view of fact that U's material misstatement concerning Bd's adjudicatory process, prior to election in instant case, nullified the certification by election because E/U statements vitiated election by not clearing up impression left by U's material misrepresentation (claim that E found guilty of ULPs when in fact only hearing before ALJ was scheduled))

N.L.R.B. v. Calco-Imports-Exports, Inc. d/b/a Calco-Hawaiian Mfg. 621 F.2d 1029 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(where U mailed Ees letter containing misstatements 8 days prior to election and clarified its misstatements in second letter Bd's finding of no violation upheld where E made no effort to clarify mistake supplied no evidence to show any Ee vote was affected and made no effort to ask for evidentiary hearing)

Bokum Resources Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 655 F.2d 1021 (C.A. 10, 1981)
(no affirmative duty to disclose all facts in campaign propoganda)

4270-3300 Marked ballots and election notices

Gleason Plant Security, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 125
(U's reproduction and distribution to Ees of Bd's sample ballot and voting instructions with addition of words Vote Yes Federation and arrow pointing to yes box which had in it warranted setting aside election, since ballot was exact reproduction of Bd's sample ballot and gave no indication that U was responsible for alterations)

Armstrong Cork Company 150 NLRB No. 147
(altered sample ballot distributed by E to Ees on day and evening before election, held objectionable, since E's use of altered Bd ballot created impression that Bd had allied itself with E's (anti-U) campaign)

Hall-Brooke Hospital, a division of Hall-Brooke Foundation, Inc. 645 F.2d 158 (C.A. 2, Mar 31, 1981)
(U's preelection mailing of leaflets containing reproduction of Bd's official election notice entitled Rights of Employees and also questions and answers favorable to U was properly held not interference, where Bd relied on fact that document merely set out Bd's legal duties and certain ULPs; it was unaltered, contained no U propoganda, and stated that Bd endorsed neither party; U material was clearly identifiable as U's campaign material; and preelection posting of complete Bd notice let Ees know it was part of overall government document and not endorsement of either party)

Hall-Brooke Hospital, a division of Hall-Brooke Foundation, Inc. 645 F.2d 158 (C.A. 2, Mar 31, 1981)
(in agreeing with Bd's decision that U's preelection mailing of leaflets containing reproduction of portion of Bd's election notice was not interference, ct held Bd precedent did not significantly broaden restrictions against use of Bd documents in campaign materials or indicate Bd departure from determining in each case whether use of Bd documents would reasonably suggest Bd's enforcement of particular party, and ambiguity created by use of Bd materials does not require setting election aside where comments added to Bd documents are clearly separated and attributable to one party)

N.L.R.B. v. Foxigee Company, Inc. 574 F.2d 529 (C.A. 6, Mar. 1982)
(E not entitled to evidentiary hearing on election objections where, assuming U's observer did deface posted sample ballot, as contended, by marking yes column, it is not clear that E would have grounds for relief absent evidence that U authorized or condoned misconduct, and no evidence was furnished that defacement affected fairness of election)

N.L.R.B. v. Masonic Homes of California, Inc. 624 F.2d 98 (C.A. 9, July 1980)
(Bd was w/i its discretion in rejecting E's contention that sample ballots on company wall which were marked with vote for U, gave impression that Bd favored it)

4270-4000 Change in working conditions

Gourley Industries, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 189
(objection that U representative told Ee that he had heard that Ee would be fired if she did not vote in election, overruled, as statement purported to convey rumor as to matter not w/i control of U, and whose coercive reach related to participation in election, rather than manner in which Ee voted)

Vitek Electronics, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 785 (C.A. 3, June 1981)
(U's preelection handbill asserting that before it arrived on scene at E's plant few safety precautions were taken to protect Ees from carbon monoxide fumes as result of which Ees got sick and lost pay held to have had significant impact in U campaign, since handbill conveyed impression that E's plant was generally unsafe and Ees had choice between ruining their health or earning their pay, and that U's appearance created present, more healthful climate at E's plant, which well may have amounted to significant distortion of truth)

N.L.R.B. v. Allen's I.G.A. Foodliner 620 F.2d 217(1) (C.A. 6, 1980)
(U's promises to Ees of benefits they would receive if elected, not unlawful)

Crown Cork & Seal Company, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 659 F.2d 127 (C.A. 10, Sept. 1981)
(U's truthful campaign promise that it would enforce contract provision that would be applicable to them through master contract E had with U at its other plants, not conduct interfering with election choice as it is not analogus to E's promise of benefits showing its power but rather culmination of prior bargaining with E)

4270-5000 Appeals to racial, sexual or religious prejudice

N.L.R.B. v. Silverman's Men's Wear, Inc. 656 F.2d 53 (C.A. 3, 1981)
(effective appeal to religious prejudice prima facie warrants setting election aside, and here where U officer allegedly made speech containing such slur prior to election, hearing warranted to determine whether remark was made and to what extent it affected election)

N.L.R.B. v. Metro-Truck Body, Inc. 613 F.2d 746 (C.A. 9) (1980)
(contention by E, in objecting to election, that U had created racially inflamatory atmosphere precluding fair election, rejected, where E failed to supply prima facie evidence presenting substantial and material factual issues which would warrant setting aside election)

4270-6700 Misrepresentation concerning material issues

Wells Fargo Guard Services, A Division of Baker Protective Services, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 659 F.2d 363 (C.A. 3, Sep. 1981)
(determination of truth of party's allegation in objecting to conduct of election requires evidentiary hearing, since allegation that past president did not remove himself from operation of U, if true, would lead to setting election aside)

Vitek Electronics, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 785,(C.A. 3, June 1981)
(RD improperly overruled E's objection to election based on U handbill's alleged misrepresentation regarding cost of living adjustment U negotiated at Es' other unionized plants; RD could not properly determine on basis of his investigation that Ees would adopt interpretation other than that of E; and because of significance of alleged discrepancy between truth and falsity of U's misrepresentation, and ct's skepticism that item would be interpreted as other than a misrepresentation, RD should have afforded E a hearing in which to challenge RD's assumption that handbill would be interpreted by Ees consistently with truth)

Advertisers Manufacturing Company v. N.L.R.B. 677 F.2d 544 (C.A. 7, Apr. 1982)
(U's statements to Ees that U could be voted out just as easily as it was voted in did not amount to misrepresentation; fact that U did not say when a decertification election could be conducted did not convert true statement into a misrepresentation)

4270-6701 Generally

Sub-Zero Freezer Company, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 194
(Bd will no longer probe into truthfulness or falsity of campaign statements or set elections aside on basis of alleged misleading campaign statements; See Marine Midland Life Insurance Company, 263 NLRB No. 24 (1982))

Van Dorn Plastic Machinery Co., Division of Van Dorn Company 265 NLRB No. 036
(where Bd issued General Knit decision while this case was pending before ALJ, ALJ based his decisions on General Knit standard for misrepresentation; Bd, however, returned to Shopping Kart standard after ALJ's decisions had issued, and since Bd would no longer analyze truth of campaign statement and set aside elections on basis of misleading statements, it found U's campaign material not objectionable)

Harry Lunstead Designs, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 110
(in Midland, 263 NLRB No. 24, Bd returned to Shopping Kart, 228 NLRB 1311, principles and will no longer probe into truth or falsity of parties' campaign statements but under Midland Bd will continue to intervene in cases where party has used forged documents which render voters unable to recognize propaganda for what it is or alterations of Bd document which indicate Bd endorsement of U or E)

Radisson Muehlebach Hotel 265 NLRB No. 091
(allegation alleging nothing more than misrepresentations of fact were overruled as Bd will no longer probe into truth or falsity of parties' campaign statements which do not involve use of documents which render voters unable to recognize propaganda or altered Bd document indicating Bd endorsement of party)

Midland National Life Insurance Company 263 NLRB No. 024
(Bd will no longer probe into truth or falsity of parties' campaign statements, and will not set elections aside on basis of misleading campaign statements; Bd will, however, intervene in cases where party has used forged documents which render voters unable to recognize propaganda for what it is; thus, Bd will set election aside not because of substance of representation, but because of deceptive manner in which it was made (overruling General Knit and Hollywood Ceramics and returning to rule in Shopping Kart))

4270-6701—Cont.

PPG Industries, Inc., Lexington Plant, Fiber Glass Division 258 NLRB No. 107
(alleged preelection misrepresentations by U held not sufficient to warrant setting aside election whether considered either under Shopping Kart standard pertaining to statements recognizable as propaganda, prevailing at time of Bd's overruling of objections herein but subsequently overruled, or under more stringent and presently applicable standard of Hollywood Ceramics pertaining to substantial and material misrepresentation of fact)

N.L.R.B. v. Nixon Gear, Inc. 649 F.2d 906 (C.A. 2, May 1981)
(while not every misrepresentation in course of election campaign requires setting aside of election since a certain degree of inaccuracy and ambiguity is recognized as indigenous to campaign propoganda which may be left to common sense appraisal of voters, Bd does not hesitate to set aside election where misrepresentation arises under circumstances which effectively precludes voter from ascertaining its falsity)

Vitek Electronics, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 785 (C.A. 3, June 1981)
(In assessing campaign rhetoric, Bd tolerates a degree of hyperfole; intemperance and inaccuracy, and an election will only be set aside when there has been a substantial departure from truth that may reasonably be expected to have a significant impact on the election)

Vitek Electronics, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 785 (C.A. 3, June 1981)
(inaccuracy alone in U's preelection statements does not raise substantial and material factual issues entitling E to hearing, since there are situations that render misrepresentation immaterial, such as, where Ees possess special independent knowledge or sophistication which enables them to evaluate statements critically; where Ees have no reason to believe that author of statements has any special knowledge on which they can rely; where E had adequate opportunity to set record straight; or where inaccuracy is too minor or insignificant to affect voters' choice)

N.L.R.B. v. Pinkerton's, Inc. 621 F.2d 1322 (C.A. 6, June 1980)
(U not required to give more information which would make statements unmistakably clear where statements literally true but may have been taken out of context)

J.F. Hink & Son v. N.L.R.B. 654 F.2d 729(T) (C.A. 9, July 1981)
(Bd conducted election will be overturned because of misrepresentation only if (1) misrepresentation is material and comes from one who appears to have special knowledge of matter (2) opposing party has not had opportunity to reply and (3) resulting distorted presentation significantly imperiled election. Burden of proof is on party making allegation)

N.L.R.B. v. Biomedical Resources Corporation of Northern California 624 F.2d 192(T) (C.A. 9, 1980)
(election will be invalidated only if material fact has been misrepresented, opponent has no opportunity to reply and election process is impaired)

4270-6705 Union dues and initiation fees

Sherry Loveland Designs, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 110
(objection that U's statements that its only sources of financial support were dues, initiation fees, and voluntary offerings and that constitution and bylaws do not provide for fines or assessments was overruled under Midland 263 NLRB No. 24, as Bd will no longer probe into truth or falsity of campaign statements)

Sherry Loveland Designs, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 110
(objection that U made material misrepresentation of fact by stating, No dues are paid to U during unemployment or time off due to illness or injury was overruled, under Midland, as Bd will no longer probe into truth or falsity of campaign statements)

Bolner, Inc. d/b/a San Jose Care and Guidance Center 263 NLRB No. 183
(on ct remand ALJ found that Ee organizer for U had not, as alleged, made statement that initiation fees of Ees who signed U authorization cards would be waived, where one Ee who had made the allegation admitted that she knew that Ee organizer was not agent for U and that U official had told her that the alleged statement was not true, and the other Ee who had made the allegation was not credible witness)

United Sanitation Services, Division of Sanitas Service Corp. 262 NLRB No. 173
(E's contention in objection to election that U made material misrepresentations by telling Ees that dues could be as little as Ees wanted them to be when, in fact, U's constitution required that they be minimum of $11 per month, rejected since evidence concerning what representations were made to Ees by U was extremely vague; furthermore, E did not substantiate its claim that U's constitution required that dues be minimum of $11 per month; in any event, E addressed this issue when it deducted $10 from Ees' paychecks in order to demonstrate to them effect of U dues on amount of check)

Masonic Homes of California, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 006
(U's letter to Ees which sets forth lawful fee waiver policy and distributed four months after alleged unlawful promise to waive fees clarified U's waiver policy)

N.L.R.B. v. Whitney Museum of American Art 636 F.2d 19 (C.A. 2, 1980)
(U's offers of waiver of initiation fees and organizing charges and of allegedly lower-than-usual dues structure, not such material misrepresentation of its constitituion and bylaws as to require new election; and, moreover, even if they constituted misrepresentations, E had opportunity to respond, and did in fact respond)

N.L.R.B. v. Polyflex M Company 622 F.2d 128 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(case remanded to Bd for evidentiary hearing where Ee affidavit raised substantial and material issue that would warrant setting aside election by presenting prima facie case that U representatives made statements which were subject to reasonable interpretation by Ees that they could avoid initiation fees by joining U prior to election)

N.L.R.B. v. Claxton Manufacturing Company, Inc. 613 F.2d 1364 (C.A. 5) (1980)
(it is permissible for U to waive initiation fees for or to confer any other benefit upon those who join before representation election only if it does same for those who join after election)

Tanforan Park Food Purveyors Council and the Hapsmith Company v. N.L.R.B 656 F.2d 1358 (C.A. 9, 1981)
(U's statement that contract must be ratified by members before it is adopted and that dues would be delayed until 31 days after members approved contract, did not warrant setting aside election, since statements referred to U members' ability to ratify contract and defer fees for a month, privileges and benefits not conditioned on joining U prior to election nor were same rights denied to other Ees)

4270-6706 Employees capable of evaluation

Aventura Country Club d/b/a Turnberry Isle Country Club 263 NLRB No. 051
(U's campaign literature which contained information about benefits which would be extended to Ees' families in future did not warrant setting aside election where this statement amounted to no more than typical campaign promise, amenable to Ee evaluation and E response)

Melrose-Wakefield Hospital Association, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 615 F.2d 563 (C.A. 1) (1980)
(Monmouth Medical Center distinguished in that U's impairment of Bd's neutrality was more substantial and pervasive than that caused by U leaflet in instant case where leaflet did not claim E had been judged of any violation, and overstatements amounted only to layman's rendition which was unlikely to substantially mislead voters as to status of Bd's action)

Beaird-Poulan Division, Emerson Electric Company v. N.L.R.B. 649 F.2d 589 (C.A. 8, May 1981)
(In assessing preelection campaign statements, concerning other plants in instant case, for both Es and Us, Bd does not ordinarily police or censor propoganda used in elections it conducts, but rather leaves to the good sense of voters the appraisal of such matters, and to opposing parties task of correcting inaccuracies and unlawful statements and only if there has been material misrepresentation which involves substantial departure from truth at time other party cannot reply and has real impact on election will it be set aside)

El Monte Tool and Die Casting, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 633 F.2d 160 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(statements concerning company's health plan and wage practices contained in pamphlets distributed 1 and 2 days prior to election which Ee affidavits stated were incorrect held typical campaign propaganda not materially affecting outcome of election; moreover, such topics are w/i Ee knowledge and capable of their independent evaluation)

4270-6715 De minimis effect; no real impact on election

Revco D.S., Inc. and/or White Cross Stores, Inc., No. 14 v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 264 (C.A. 6, July 1981)
(allegation that U promised $50 per week in strike benefits should strike occur found unsupported by evidence, but assuming allegation was true, statement did not constitute interference as it did not affect how Ees voted, and E was not precluded from making effective reply)

N.L.R.B. v. Biomedical Resources Corporation of Northern California 624 F.2d 192(T) (C.A. 9, 1980)

4270-6720 False wage data - employer's plant

4270-6720—Cont.

Purnell's Pride, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 146
(U misrepresenting E's method of wage increases and decreases, did not warrant setting aside election)

Advertisers Manufacturing Company v. N.L.R.B. 677 F.2d 544 (C.A. 7, Apr. 1982)
(U letters containing alleged misrepresentations about wage increases sent to E three weeks before election cannot be basis for overturning election where period of three weeks afforded E adequate time for rebuttal)

El Monte Tool and Die Casting, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 633 F.2d 160 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(statements concerning company's health plan and wage practices contained in pamphlets distributed 1 and 2 days prior to election which Ee affidavits stated were incorrect held typical campaign propaganda not materially affecting outcome of election; moreover, such topics are w/i Ee knowledge and capable of their independent evaluation)

Crown Cork & Seal Company, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 659 F.2d 127 (C.A. 10, Sept. 1981)
(campaign poster posted by U which set forth higher wages Ees could expect to earn if U were chosen did not materially misrepresent facts where it was true statement of effect of cost of living wages which would be applicable to them under master contract if they chose U; furthermore, E only presented unsupported statements to back up its objection)

4270-6725 Administration and operation of union

Harry Lunstead Designs, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 110
(objection that portion's of U's leaflet distorted realities of U affairs and neglected to inform Ees about dissolution, expulsion, or administrationship powers of U, was overruled under Midland, 263 NLRB No. 24, as Bd will no longer probe into truth or falsity of campaign statements)

4270-6730 Hospitalization or other insurance benefits

United Sanitation Services, Division of Sanitas Service Corp. 262 NLRB No. 173
(E's contention in objection to election that U made material misrepresentationby telling Ees that they would have option of requiring E to pay entire amount for insurance coverage, rejected since statement did not exceed bounds of privileged campaign propaganda)

El Monte Tool and Die Casting, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 633 F.2d 160 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(statements concerning company's health plan and wage practices contained in pamphlets distributed 1 and 2 days prior to election which Ee affidavits stated were incorrect held typical campaign propaganda not materially affecting outcome of election; moreover, such topics are w/i Ee knowledge and capable of their independent evaluation)

4270-6740 False wage data - employer's other plants

Purnell's Pride, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 146
(U misrepresenting E's method of wage increases and decreases, did not warrant setting aside election)

The Standard Register Company v. N.L.R.B. 649 F.2d 412 (C.A. 6, May 1981)
(Bd did not abuse its discretion when it determined that misrepresentation concerning wage differentials at E's plants was not material under Hollywood Ceramics test and did not affect election result)

N.L.R.B. v. Van Gorp Corporation 615 F.2d 759 (C.A. 8) (1980)
(U official's informing unit Ees on night before election that U's contract with E's owner at another plant allowed twelve cents per quarter for cost of living adjustment (COLA) warranted setting aside election, since in fact the contract provided only twelve cents per year and COLA was important issue in the campaign, and U's last minute misrepresentation was accompanied by U supporters' threatening three Ees opposed to U and assaulting a fourth)

4270-6780 Timing, opportunity to rebut

Mosey Manufacturing Company, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 077

Aventura Country Club d/b/a Turnberry Isle Country Club 253 NLRB No. 051
(U's campaign literature which contained information about benefits which would be extended to Ees' families in future did not warrant setting aside election where this statement amounted to no more than typical campaign promise, amenable to Ee evaluation and E response)

N.L.R.B. v. Nixon Gear, Inc. 649 F.2d 906 (C.A. 2, May 1981)
(Bd improperly refused to order hearing on E's objection to election on ground it did not have reasonable opportunity to reply to U's misrepresentation that E had bribed pro-U Ee to campaign against U, where it was unlikely that E, who first learned of misrepresentation on day before election, could have adequately replied and contacted all voters; Ees could reasonably have expected U's charge was directly based on testimony of bribed Ee but could not independently investigate charge's truthfulness since Ee was not identified; and false charge might well have influenced Ees and, thus, election)

Jamesway Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 676 F.2d 63 (C.A. 3, Mar. 1982)
(ct set aside election where U's handbill circulated on eve and same morning of election, although truthful on its face, misrepresented the effect on recently hired Ees of voting down U since handbill was offered w/o time for rebuttal by E and the demonstrated impact on so close an election; moreover, E could not lawfully promise job security in writing on eve of election as requested by U in handbill)

Vicksburg Hospital, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 1070 (C.A. 5, Aug 1981)
(U's misrepresentation of nature of ULP and economic strikes did not warrant setting aside election where E had ample opportunity to, and did on several occasions, reply to U's misrepresentations)

Revco D.S., Inc. and/or White Cross Stores, Inc., No. 14 v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 264 (C.A. 6, July 1981)
(U agents' statement that U could obtain agreement by certain date not interference, since statements did not promise tangible benefits, or misrepresent existing material facts and E was not precluded from making effective reply)

Revco D.S., Inc. and/or White Cross Stores, Inc., No. 14 v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 264 (C.A. 6, July 1981)
(allegation that U promised $50 per week in strike benefits should strike occur found unsupported by evidence, but assuming allegation was true, statement did not constitute interference as it did not affect how Ees voted, and E was not precluded from making effective reply)

Revco D.S., Inc. and/or White Cross Stores, Inc., No. 14 v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 264 (C.A. 6, July 1981)
(one Ee's statement to another Ee that if it wasn't for the U campaign, she would not have a job, not interference since it was not attributable to U, where speaker was not U officer or agent, and E was not precluded from making effective reply)

Howard Plating Industries, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 635 F.2d 532 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(enforcement denied and election set aside where U's distribution, day before R election, grossly distorted profit sharing plan then in effect; misrepresentation in leaflet was substantial departure from truth and made at time when E was prevented from making effective reply)

N.L.R.B. v. Trans Continental Airlines, Inc. 614 F.2d 1116 (C.A. 6) (1980)
(objection on grounds of alleged misrepresentation overruled where E held scheduled meeting with his Ees but failed to rebut U statements)

Advertisers Manufacturing Company v. N.L.R.B. 677 F.2d 544 (C.A. 7, Apr. 1982)
(U letters containing alleged misrepresentations about wage increases sent to E three weeks before election cannot be basis for overturning election where period of three weeks afforded E adequate time for rebuttal)

Advertisers Manufacturing Company v. N.L.R.B. 677 F.2d 544 (C.A. 7, Apr. 1982)
(U Secretary-Treasurer's characterization of E's president as a liar is insufficient to set aside election where such conduct is commonplace name-calling in hotly contested campaign and president had opportunity to respond and did so two days before election)

N.L.R.B. v. Van Gorp Corporation 615 F.2d 759 (C.A. 8) (1980)
(U official's informing unit Ees on night before election that U's contract with E's owner at another plant allowed twelve cents per quarter for cost of living adjustment (COLA) warranted setting aside election, since in fact the contract provided only twelve cents per year and COLA was important issue in the campaign, and U's last minute misrepresentation was accompanied by U supporters' threatening three Ees opposed to U and assaulting a fourth)

N.L.R.B. v. Belcor, Inc. d/b/a San Jose Care & Guidance Center 652 F.2d 856 (C.A. 9, Aug 1981)
(U letter blaming nursing home industry for preventing passage of a bill allegedly allowing hospital Ees a wage increase, not misrepresentation constituting interference, since letter was addressed to all U members rather than voters only, related general political issues rather than specific factual statements, was mailed sixteen days in advance allowing E ample time to reply, and was not shown to deceive Ees so as to affect election process)

Spring City Knitting Company v. N.L.R.B. 647 F.2d 1011 (C.A. 9, June 1981)
(In order for election to be set aside due to misrepresentations, one party must have misrepresented material facts, the other party had no opportunity to reply, and resulting distorted presentations significantly impaired election process)

4270-6785 Strikers and strike benefits

4270-6755—Cont.

Harry Lunstead Designs, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 130
(objection that U made misrepresentations that all strikers receive benefits, contrary to its By-laws that require picket registration and service, was overruled under Midland, as Bd will no longer probe into truth or falsity of campaign statements)

Harry Lunstead Designs, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 110
(objection that E told Ees that only ULP strike could be called, was overruled under Midland, as Bd will no longer probe into truth or falsity of campaign statements)

4270-6760 False wage data - rival or other employers or other industries

Purnell's Pride, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 146
(U misrepresenting wages, hours, and working conditions in effect at another E's plant located in same city as E's plant, did not warrant setting election aside)

National Medical Hospital of Compton, d/b/a Dominguez Valley Hospital 251 NLRB No. 119
(where U distributed pamphlets to E's Ees comparing their wage rates with those of Ees in county (public) hospitals and in private hospitals and misrepresented to Ees that U had negotiated both public and private hospitals' contracts, when in fact, had negotiated only private hospitals' contracts, Bd dismissed objection as private hospital pay rates were substantially higher than pay rates cited at public hospitals and, therefore, Ees would not have been induced to vote for U because of lower rates at public hospital)

Baird-Poulan Division, Emerson Electric Company 247 NLRB No. 180
(where E raised issue of conditions at another plant to counter U's arguments as to unionization benefits and stated that the other plant did not have contract with this U, this U's handbill stating that other plant and its U had agreed on contract providing for $9,000 insurance policy held not interference-since statement of future contract provisions did not constitute misrepresentation; nor was statement of wages of assembler there interference notwithstanding incomparability of his required skills with those of assemblers at E's herein, since E did not use available information to counter U's agreement)

N.L.R.B. v. Silverman's Men's Wear, Inc. 656 F.2d 53 (C.A. 3, 1981)
(no ground for setting election aside where U made no substantial departure from truth about wage rates it negotiated at neighborhood plant and there was ample time for E to make response; Hollywood Ceramics test not satisfied)

Vitek Electronics, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 785 (C.A. 3, June 1981)
(U's preelection handbills asserting that E's wages were the lowest in the area and that U had negotiated cost of living protection at other Es' unionized plants could not be dismissed as mere prattle or puffery since wages are breath and stuff of life for Us and members; U's claim that it was decribing its own contracts with nearby Es lent its misrepresentations air of authenticity that likely carried significant weight in Ees' minds, and U's apparent expertise was not countered by independent knowledge that previously non-U Ees were likely to possess)

Vitek Electronics, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 785 (C.A. 3, June 1981)
(U's preelection handbills misrepresenting that it had negotiated cost of living protection at other Es' unionized plants in area held not insubstantial departure from truth, where U's contract wages at other Es' plants lost an average of 61 cents per hours to inflation, thus failing by such amount to keep pace with inflation, contrary to representation in handbill; and such misrepresentation of wages is distortion of sufficient magnitude to exert an impermissible influence on election results)

Vitek Electronics, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 785 (C.A. 3, June 1981)
(RD improperly concluded that U's preelection handbill, stating that wages at other Es' unionized plants were increased regularly to keep pace with cost of living increase, was not a simple lie but rather a statement subject to varying interpretations; his subtle distinction would not be appreciated by Ees in heat of election campaign; and even Bd's reputed expertise in labor matters cannot prompt ct to accept RD's conclusory determination that Ees would be likely to interpret phrase to keep pace with in such a way as to render handbill congruent with truth)

Vitek Electronics, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 785 (C.A. 3, June 1981)
(E's objections to election and supporting material established prima facie case for setting aside election because of U's preelection handbills misrepresenting that E's wages were lowest in area and that U had negotiated cost of living protection for Ees at other Es' unionized plants; this, together with apparent last-minute nature of U handbills, entitled E to hearing on its objections; here, RD improperly resolved factual issues bearing on materiality of U's misrepresentations through an administrative investigation which is no substitute for a hearing)

Vitek Electronics, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 785 (C.A. 3, June 1981)
(RD improperly overruled E's objections to election based on U's alleged misrepresentation of wage rates at other Es' unionized plants, where RD held that U's misrepresentation of wage rates was pardonable because it was prompted by E's study of area wage rates which dispelled any genuine factual issue concerning E's ability to respond to U's misrepresentation in one available day before election; U's misrepresentation referred to past wage rates, while E's study concerned current rates, and RD relied on sheer supposition in assuming that prior to election E possessed sufficient data to rebut U's wage claims)

Vitek Electronics, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 785 (C.A. 3, June 1981)
(RD improperly overruled E's objection to election based on U handbill's alleged misrepresentation regarding cost of living adjustment U negotiated at Es' other unionized plants; RD could not properly determine on basis of his investigation that Ees would adopt interpretation other than that of E; and because of significance of alleged discrepancy between truth and falsity of U's misrepresentation, and ct's skepticism that item would be interpreted as other than a misrepresentation, RD should have afforded E a hearing in which to challenge RD's assumption that handbill would be interpreted by Ees consistently with truth)

Colfor, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 678 F.2d 657 (C.A. 6, May 1982)
(statements about layoffs and comparative wages at nearby unionized E, not sufficiently misrepresentative to warrant overturning election where made in heat of election, and were rather vague and subject to several interpretations, only some of which might be construed as misrepresentations)

Baird-Poulan Division, Emerson Electric Company v. N.L.R.B. 649 F.2d 589 (C.A. 8, May 1981)
(misrepresentations about wages go to what is perhaps most crucial issue of any organization effort)

4270-6765 Employer's profits

Gauley Industries, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 139
(objection that U misrepresented profit picture of E overruled where statement made w/o reference to confirmatory facts which would lend credence to claimed profitability of E. Element of special knowledge of subject matter lacking and statement subject to evaluation by Ees)

Colfor, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 678 F.2d 657 (C.A. 6, May 1982)
(U did not misrepresent E's profit as 20% on basis of its financial report when profit, as opposed to return on equity (which was 20%), was only 2.5% where U read E's financial report to Ees verbatim and had no obligation to prevent Ees from misinterpreting the data)

N.L.R.B. v. Pinkerton's, Inc. 621 F.2d 1322 (C.A. 6, June 1980)
(where objections had been filed on basis of U's letter alleging average contribution of Ees based only on subtraction of salaries from income and E had answered in letter which set forth other items which must be deducted from income to determine profitability but not amounts, bargaining order based on certification must be denied, since RD did not rule on whether profitability was important issue and did not hold hearing to determine whether figures misleading, E's version must be accepted; however, since remand for hearing on other grounds, remand also for hearing on what knowledge Ees had with respect to profits of E)

J.F. Hink & Son v. N.L.R.B. 656 F.2d 729(T) (C.A. 9, July 1981)
(U's alleged circulation of rumor that E's owner had purchased $300,000 computer and thus leading Ees to believe that E had more assets than it claimed and unjustifiably cancelled its prior pension plan, did not warrant setting aside election, since Ees attributed computer purchase to E's owner rather than to E)

4270-6767 Employer profit-sharing plan

Howard Plating Industries, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 626 F.2d 832 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(enforcement denied and election set aside where U's distribution, day before R election, grossly distorted profit sharing plan then in effect; misrepresentation in leaflet was substantial departure from terth and made at time when E was prevented from making effective reply)

4270-6770 Statements concerning employer conduct

Harry Lunstead Designs, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 110
(objection that U leaflet states that E promulgated lies and half-truths designed to divert Ees from real issues, overruled under Midland, as Bd will no longer probe into truth or falsity of campaign statements)

North Electric Company, Plant No. 10, Gree. Tennessee 262 NLRB No. 174
(U's election eve letter to Ees assertedly materially misrepresenting that large number of named Ees listed in letter were laid off because of their lack of U representation held not interference, where letter was distributed to refute E's contrary comments in accompanying newspaper article and offered for Ees' consideration in evaluating plausibility of E's layoff/recall statement in article; in this context, E's accounting for status of 367 of 1080 names on list as having quit or terminated their employment for similar reasons fails to establish that U's list substantially departed from the truth)

4270-6770—Cont.

Masonic Homes of California, Inc. 286 NLRB No. 086

(false statements that E lined up Ees and said they looked like U supporters and spread rummors about strikes and Ees being replaced by nurses aides held not objectionable as they do not involve Bd or its processes, was limited to some departments and did not impugn E's integrity, therefore did not impact on election)

N.L.R.B. v. Nixon Gear, Inc. 649 F.2d 906 (C.A. 2, May 1981)

(Bd improperly refused to order hearing on E's objection to election on ground it did not have reasonable opportunity to reply to U's misrepresentation that E had bribed pro-U Ee to campaign against U, where it was unlikely that E, who first learned of misrepresentation on day before election, could have adequately replied and contacted all voters; Ees could reasonably have expected U's charge was directly based on testimony of bribed Ee but could not independently investigate charge's truthfulness since Ee was not identified; and false charge might well have influenced Ees and, thus, election)

Hanes Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 677 F.2d 1008 (C.A. 4, May 1982)

(U's misrepresentations in attacking E and its attorneys held interference where misrepresentations were material to election, U was in position to have knowledge as to true facts pertaining to E's attorneys involved in case, and nature of charges made it impossible for E to fully refute the material; U's attacks on attorneys and thus on E's management were sort of inflammatory statements which create conditions which make impossible sober, informed exercise of franchise...)

Advertisers Manufacturing Company v. N.L.R.B. 677 F.2d 544 (C.A. 7, Apr. 1982)

(U Secretary-Treasurer's characterization of E's president as a liar is insufficient to set aside election where such conduct is commonplace name-calling in hotly contested campaign and president had opportunity to respond and did so two days before election)

N.L.R.B. v. Belcor, Inc. d/b/a San Jose Care & Guidance Center 652 F.2d 856 (C.A. 9, Aug 1981)

(U letter blaming nursing home industry for preventing passage of a bill allegedly allowing hospital Ees a wage increase, not misrepresentation constituting interference, since letter was addressed to all U members rather than voters only, related general political issues rather than specific factual statements, was mailed sixteen days in advance allowing E ample time to reply, and was not shown to deceive Ees so as to affect election process)

Spring City Knitting Company v. N.L.R.B. 647 F.2d 1011 (C.A. 9, June 1981)

(ct held that RD did not err in overruling w/o hearing E's objection to election that eight days prior to election U distributed handbill allegedly charging that earlier announcement by E that it would close another plant had been made for sole purpose of intimidating Ees into voting against U representation)

N.L.R.B. v. Masonic Homes of California, Inc. 624 F.2d 88 (C.A. 9, July 1980)

(ct remanded to Bd to determine whether coercive conduct by U 2 days prior to election of stating falsely that it was impossible for health care Ees to have legal strike and falsely accusing E of committing ULP by questioning Ees about their U sympathies so influenced potential voters that free choice by Ees was impossible)

N.L.R.B. v. Alson Mfg. Aerospace Division of Alson Industries, Inc. 599 F.2d 1087 (C.A. 9, 1979)

(following ct remand to Bd for full evidentiary hearing on E's objections to election and after careful analysis of evidence produced at evidentiary hearing, ct enforced Bd's order upholding certification of U, notwithstanding ct would have preferred second election, in view of U's calling E's document circulated to Ees prior to election all lies when it was merely campaign propaganda and in view of U representatives' presence at polling area on election day)

4270-6775 Distribution of Board documents

Crown Cork & Seal Company, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 659 F.2d 127 (C.A. 10, Sept. 1981)

(campaign brochure distributed by U which contained reprint portion of Bd publication did not give appearance of U having Bd support where U was clearly identified as author of entire handbill and thus Ees would not be misled)

4270-6780 Benefits gained by union

Aventura Country Club d/b/a Turnberry Isle Country Club 253 NLRB No. 081

(U's campaign literature which contained information about benefits which would be extended to Ees' families in future did not warrant setting aside election where this statement amounted to no more than typical campaign promise, amenable to Ee evaluation and E response)

4270-6780-3300 At employer's plant

Radisson Muehlebach Hotel 265 NLRB No. 091

(on day before election U posted false handbill stating that U had negotiated wage increase for nontipped Ees and negotiations were halted with filing of decertification pet, Bd applied Midland, 263 NLRB No. 24 standard and overruled objection, finding that it alleged nothing more than misstatement of fact and Bd will not probe into truth or falsity of campaign statements)

Radisson Muehlebach Hotel 265 NLRB No. 091

(allegation that cards distributed to Ees on election day which stated that Ees could lose negotiated wage increases by voting against U was nothing more than misrepresentation of fact and objection was overruled because Bd will no longer probe into truth or falsity of parties' campaign statements)

4270-6780-6700 At other plants

Purnell's Pride, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 146

(U guaranteeing that Ees would select bargaining committee which would make same demands as those made in other plants where it represented Ees, did not warrant setting aside election)

Purnell's Pride, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 146

(U guaranteeing its members can buy a lot more groceries with their paycheck than E's Ees able to purchase with their paychecks, did not warrant setting aside election)

Purnell's Pride, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 146

(U claiming credit for wages, hours, and working conditions at another E's plant located in same city as E's plant, did not warrant setting aside election)

Mosey Manufacturing Company, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 077

(U's representation to Ees, made before election, that Ees in another U plant, through U's efforts, had received 10 percent pay increase, although pay increase was 5 percent, not substantive departure from truth where statement was reasonably interpreted as referring to both base pay and cost-of-living increases; representation was not departure from truth warranting setting aside election; see Hollywood Ceramics Company 140 NLRB 221 (1962))

N.L.R.B. v. Leslie Metal Arts Company, Inc. 673 F.2d 168 (C.A. 6, Mar. 1982)

(Bd did not abuse its discretion in overruling E's objections to election on ground that U seriously misrepresented wages being paid by competitor whose Ees were represented by U since E failed to establish wages actually being paid by competitor and any misstatement of those wages was not serious)

Baird-Poulan Division, Emerson Electric Company v. N.L.R.B. 649 F.2d 589 (C.A. 8, May 1981)

(in assessing preelection campaign statements, concerning other plants in instant case, for both Es and Us, Bd does not ordinarily police or censor propoganda used in elections it conducts, but rather leaves to the good sense of voters the appraisal of such matters, and to opposing parties task of correcting inaccuracies and unlawful statements and only if there has been material misrepresentation which involves substantial departure from truth at time other party cannot reply and has real impact on election will it be set aside)

Tanforan Park Food Purveyors Council and the Hagsmith Company v. N.L.R.B 656 F.2d 1358 (C.A. 9, 1981)

(U's description of benefits members received at nearby market to potential members sought at resturants, did not warrant setting aside election, since E in its objections did not allege information false and material but merely that part-time Ees might have been confused about their rights)

4270-6785 NLRB rulings and decisions

Affiliated Midwest Hospital Incorporated, d/b/a Riveredge Hospital 264 NLRB No. 146

(U leaflet issued 1 month prior to election which implied that Bd had issued C against E, when actually charge was settled by non admissions clause, not conduct sufficient to interfere with election choice. Bd overruled Formco, Inc. 233 NLRB 61 by holding that mischaracterizations of Bd actions are to be treated in same manner as other misrepresentations, and not as if a physical alteration of Bd document took place; thus, Bd's neutrality is not impunged)

Allis-Chalmers Corporation 262 NLRB No. 112

(on ct remand, U's distribution of leaflet prior to election stating that Bd had recommended that Ee be put back to work with full back pay but that E is still fighting for their right to fire anyone whenever they want to, held not interference by U as E had sufficient time to make effective reply)

4270-6785—Cont.

Kinney Shoe Corporation 251 NLRB No. 078
(mischaracterization of Bd settlement agreement is serious misrepresentation which warrants setting aside election because Bd is unable to intervene during election campaign if its documents or processes have been misrepresented)

Melrose-Wakefield Hospital Association, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 615 F.2d 563 (C.A. 1) (1980)
(Monmouth Medical Center distinguished in that U's impairment of Bd's neutrality was more substantial and pervasive than that caused by U leaflet in instant case where leaflet did not claim E had been judged of any violation, and overstatements amounted only to layman's rendition which was unlikely to substantially mislead voters as to status of Bd's action)

N.L.R.B. v. Allis-Chalmers Corporation 642 F.2d 766 (C.A. 5, Apr. 1981)
(E not required to comply with collective bargaining terms of Bd's Supplemental Order in view of fact that U's material misstatement concerning Bd's adjudicatory process, prior to election in instant case, nullified the certification by election because E/U statements vitiated election by not clearing up impression left by U's material misrepresentation (claim that E found guilty of ULPs when in fact only hearing before ALJ was scheduled))

4270-6787 Misstatement of law

County Line Cheese Company, A Division of Beatrice Foods Co. 265 NLRB No. 193
(statement that if U wins it is virtually impossible to ever get U out not objectionable conduct warranting setting aside election since setting aside election not warranted by misrepresentation of Bd processes; thus issue need not be set for hearing)

Connecticut Foundry Company 247 NLRB No. 145
(newspaper article based on interview with U representative stating that Bd had dismissed all charges filed against U when in actuality parties had entered into settlement agreement was not sufficient misrepresentation to interfere with election, moreover E had 3 weeks in which it could have corrected impression given by article and it did nothing)

Vicksburg Hospital, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 1070 (C.A. 5, Aug 1981)
(U's misrepresentation of nature of ULP and economic strikes did not warrant setting aside election where E had ample opportunity to, and did on several occasions, reply to U's misrepresentations)

N.L.R.B. v. Holland American Wafer Company 683 F.2d 135 (C.A. 6, July 1982)
(U's pre-election statements to Ees that it had right to ask E's customers to discontinue doing business with E unless E agreed to their contract demands and that this pressure would make strike unnecessary held not substantial misrepresentation, notwithstanding E's claim that U had misrepresented its ability under S.Ct's opn in Servette to engage in illegal secondary boycott against E's customers, where U carefully described activities it intended to encompass w/i term pressure and there was no indication of intent to induce work stoppages)

N.L.R.B. v. Leslie Metal Arts Company, Inc. 673 F.2d 168 (C.A. 6, Mar. 1982)
(Bd did not abuse its discretion in overruling E's objections to election on ground that U misrepresented percentage of Ees required to indicate interest in U before there could be election since statements referred to were made so far in advance of election that E had ample opportunity to respond if in fact there was misrepresentation)

N.L.R.B. v. Masonic Homes of California, Inc. 624 F.2d 88 (C.A. 9, July 1980)
(ct remanded to Bd to determine whether coercive conduct by U 2 days prior to election of stating falsely that it was impossible for health care Ees to have legal strike and falsely accusing E of committing ULP by questioning Ees about their U sympathies so influenced potential voters that free choice by Ees was impossible)

4270-6790 Circumstances of conduct or effect of election

Parnell's Pride, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 146
(U guaranteeing that Ees would select bargaining committee which would make same demands as those made in other plants where it represented Ees, did not warrant setting aside election)

N.L.R.B. v. Calco-Imports-Exports, Inc. d/b/a Calco-Hawaiian Mfg. 621 F.2d 1029 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(where U mailed Ees letter containing misstatements 8 days prior to election and clarified its misstatements in second letter Bd's finding of no violation upheld where E made no effort to clarify mistake supplied no evidence to show any Ee vote was affected and made no effort to ask for evidentiary hearing)

4270-6791 Majority of employees had signed union authorization cards

Parnell's Pride, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 146
(U claiming majority of Ees had signed authorization cards asking to be represented by U, did not warrant setting aside election)

4270-6795 Endorsement of union by Board or U.S. Government

Parnell's Pride, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 146
(U distributing literature that created impression that U.S. government was supporting U and desired that Ees also support U and misrepresented Ees Section 7 rights by guaranteeing E would not be able to take away benefits during bargaining process not misrepresentation that would warrant setting aside election either under standard in Formco Inc. or Riveredge Hospital; misrepresentations of Bd actions, as opposed to alteration of Bd documents, treated as any other misrepresentations and evaluated under standards of Midland National Life)

R. L. White Company, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 049
(supervisor who showed Ees copy of Bd sample ballot on day before election, held it so his thumb covered yes box and told them E wanted them to vote no did not violate Act as nothing supervisor said could have mislead Ees into thinking there was only 1 choice on ballot or that Bd had endorsed E and statement was not coupled with any forms of coercion)

Hall-Brooke Hospital, a division of Hall-Brooke Foundation, Inc. 645 F.2d 158 (C.A. 2, Mar 31, 1981)
(U's preelection mailing of leaflets containing reproduction of Bd 's official election notice entitled Rights of Employees and also questions and answers favorable to U was properly held not interference, where Bd relied on fact that document merely set out Bd's legal duties and certain ULPs; it was unaltered, contained no U propoganda, and stated that Bd endorsed neither party; U material was clearly identifiable as U's campaign material; and preelection posting of complete Bd notice let Ees know it was part of overall government document and not endorsement of either party)

Hall-Brooke Hospital, a division of Hall-Brooke Foundation, Inc. 645 F.2d 158 (C.A. 2, Mar 31, 1981)
(in agreeing with Bd's decision that U's preelection mailing of leaflets containing reproduction of portion of Bd's election notice was not interference, ct held Bd precedent did not significantly broaden restrictions against use of Bd documents in campaign materials or indicate Bd departure from determining in each case whether use of Bd documents would reasonably suggest Bd's endorsement of particular party, and ambiguity created by use of Bd materials does not require setting election aside where comments added to Bd documents are clearly seperated and attributable to one party)

N.L.R.B. v. ARA Services, Inc. 678 F.2d 426 (C.A. 3, Apr. 1982)
(RD and Bd did not err in overruling, w/o benefit of evidentiary hearing, E's objection that conduct of Bd agent and U observer during election gave impression that election was U controlled where statement by E observer referred to no specific misconduct by either Bd agent or U observer)

Vicksburg Hospital, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 1070 (C.A. 5, Aug 1981)
(circulating leaflet with language encouraging Ees to stand up for their right to have U, reminding Ees that their right to join U is protected by U.S. Government, and depicting figure of Uncle Sam did not warrant setting aside election where thrust of leaflet was to explain Ees' rights under NLRA)

Vicksburg Hospital, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 1070 (C.A. 5, Aug 1981)
(no possible impression of Bd sponsorship for U created by letter sent by U to E, complaining about Ee who made anti-U remarks in emergency room and about E's failure to enforce no-solicitation rule and asserting that your refusal to treat all Ees fairly and equally in administration of hospital rules and policies has resulted in violation of National Labor Relations Act, where E neither alleged nor showed that U made Ees aware of letter)

N.L.R.B. v. Leslie Metal Arts Company, Inc. 673 F.2d 168 (C.A. 6, Mar. 1982)
(Bd did not abuse its discretion in overruling E's objections to election on ground that U improperly traded upon prestige of Bd by circulating writing in which Bd agent was quoted since U had not sought to give impression that Bd favored U, but had merely quoted Bd agent in responding to misrepresentation by E)

Crown Cork & Seal Company, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 659 F.2d 127 (C.A. 10, Sept. 1981)
(campaign brochure distributed by U which contained reprint portion of Bd publication did not give appearance of U having Bd support where U was clearly identified as author of entire handbill and thus Ees would not be misled)

4270-6799 Other union benefits

4270-6799 Other benefits

4270-6799—Cont.

Alyeska Pipeline Service Company 261 NLRB No. 010
(U's statements to Ees prior to election that if they were U members they would receive priority treatment in operation of referral hall violative because they unlawfully promise to represent U members differently than nonmembers are especially coercive in this situation since U controls all access to construction jobs in Alaska)

4277 PAYMENT TO VOTERS ACTING AS ELECTION OBSERVERS

Emco Tools, Inc. (United Steelworkers of America, AFL–CIO–CLC) 248 NLRB No. 108
(where U paid two Ees more than their regular pay for 8-hour workday for serving as election observers for U, regardless of whether they returned to work or took off from work after election, and Ees spent less than a total of two hours each in connection with their assignment as observers, Bd set aside the election since integrity of Bd election is better served by directing new election in the circumstances)

4284 GIFTS AND OTHER INDUCEMENTS OF VALUE

N.L.R.B. v. Gulf States Canners, Inc. 634 F.2d 215 (C.A. 5, 1981)
(Bd did not abuse discretion in determining that U's offer to purchase gasoline for Ees who transported other workers to U meetings and/or campaigned on behalf of U at their fellow Ees' homes did not have such tendency to influence election that new election would be required)

4284-3000 Free food or drinks

Labor Services, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 127
(petitioning U's business manager's buying drinks for E's Ees both immediately before and during time polls were open and saying to Ees don't forget how to vote held not to have been objectionable conduct absent evidence of advance inducement of Ees to come to bar or to vote for U in order to get free drinks; incident occurred outside polling area and value of drinks not sufficient to interfere with Ees' free choice at election)

4284-3700 Reimbursing employees for attending hearing

N.L.R.B. v. Klinger Electric Corporation, Klinger Electronics Division and Klinger Manufacturing Division 656 F.2d 76 (C.A. 5, 1981)
(E's objection to U's presenting Ees with checks at meeting for attending representation hearing with no proof of objectionable effect except proof of incident itself, not proof of incident egregious enough to influence outcome of election decided by large margin; objection thus properly overruled)

4284-5000 Initiation fees

A.G.S. Graphics, A Division of George Lithographic Co. 262 NLRB No. 137
(U's impermissibly ambiguous offer to waive initiation fees during organization drive held cured by U's subsequent clarification in pre-election letters to Ees stating that There are no fees and nothing to pay until we have a contract after the election is won)

Polyflex M Company 260 NLRB No. 150
(in denying mtn for reconsideration, Bd held any arguably ambiguous Savair statements made at Ee meetings were sufficiently clarified, where U's clearly permissible initiation fee policy was adequately explained to unit Ees by leaflet that U mailed to Ees shortly before election; that leaflet stated, There will not be any intiation (sic) fee or any other fee to join the union.)

Claxton Manufacturing Co., Inc. 258 NLRB No. 056
(election set aside and new election directed where U stated to Ees during election campaign that Ees who signed U cards before election would not be subject to initiation fees but that the Ees could determine whether to impose initiation fees on those Ees who signed U cards after election since suggestion that initiation fees might be imposed after election linked such waiver of fees to support of U before election)

Polyflex M Company 258 NLRB No. 108
(no interference that would warrant setting aside election where testimony that U representative had stated once newly organized and chartered, local U could set initiation fee, and other testimony that U representative had in fact said that any straglers that came in later on to obtain benefits after contract signed would have to pay initiation fees, since neither statement violation of Savair rule which was concerned with intentional and deliberate waiver or reduction of initiation fees conditioned upon outcome of impending election based on objective interpretation by Ees of message actually communicated to them by U)

Gulf Coast Automotive Warehouse Company, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 058
(ALJ upon remand from Bd and ct found E failed to show that U engaged in pre-election misconduct involving Savair rule which would warrant setting aside results of election)

N.L.R.B. v. Whitney Museum of American Art 636 F.2d 19 (C.A. 2, 1980)
(U's unconditional waiver of organizing charges and of initiation fees for all unit Ees, not unlawful, since U merely lowered self-imposed barriers to membership; and whether dues scale U offered was lower than usual scale need not be determined)

Vicksburg Hospital, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 1070 (C.A. 5, Aug 1981)
(E not entitled to post-election hearing on waiver of initiation fees issue where it failed to present prima facie proof of facts sufficient to invalidate election under Savair)

Hickory Springs Manufacturing Company v. N.L.R.B. 645 F.2d 506 (C.A. 5, May 21, 1981)
(U which asked Ees who signed U authorization cards to pay one month's dues and initiation fee at that time (prior to election) did not violate Act; this is opposite of vote buying in Savair, no duress was involved and choice to put money up was free one)

N.L.R.B. v. Claxton Manufacturing Company, Inc. 613 F.2d 1364 (C.A. 5) (1980)
(it is permissible for U to waive initiation fees for or to confer any other benefit upon those who join before representation election only if it does same for those who join after election)

N.L.R.B. v. Belcor, Inc. d/b/a San Jose Care & Guidance Center 652 F.2d 856 (C.A. 9, Aug 1981)
(ct remanded case to Bd for hearing, since affidavits submitted by E with its exceptions to RD's rulings on objection to election alleging Savair violation raised such substantial and material factual issues that Bd should have ordered hearing; affidavits stated that Ees had signed recognition slips to avoid paying dues after U activist promised affiants fee waivers for signing recognition slips before election, and evidence adduced at hearing might support a finding that U either authorized or condoned activist's conduct so as to give him agency status)

N.L.R.B. v. Mike Yurosek & Sons, Inc. 597 F.2d 661 (C.A. 9, 1979)
(statement that any reduction in initiation fees would be available to all those signing authorization cards prior to execution of contract, lawful)

4284-6300 Raffles

Ducane Heating Corporation 254 NLRB No. 080
(raffle tied to voting in election did not interfere with election as no evidence that E conditioned raffle on outcome of election)

4284-7000 Assistance to strikers

N.L.R.B. v. Connecticut Foundry Company 688 F.2d 871 (C.A. 2, July 1982)
(hearing was warranted on E's objection to U's cash payments to strikers prior to election where E presented affidavits of possible improprieties in U's payments to satisfy its burden of establishing prima facie case. Bd must take into account E's access to information and evidence in absence of discovery. Also close vote increased need for hearing)

4284-8000 Waiver or reduction of union dues

King Wholesale, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 118
(U's statement to Ees that initiation fee is automatically waived for 60 days found to constitute impermissible inducement to Ees and is objectional conduct warranting setting aside election where 60 days expired prior to election date and thus limits waiver to period ending before election; U's additional statement that local U could possibly get extension of that period suggest that wavier of fees might be linked to U support before election)

Polyflex M Company 258 NLRB No. 108
(no interference that would warrant setting aside election where testimony that U representative had stated once newly organized and chartered, local U could set initiation fee, and other testimony that U representative had in fact said that any straglers that came in later on to obtain benefits after contract signed would have to pay initiation fees, since neither statement violation of Savair rule which was concerned with intentional and deliberate waiver or reduction of initiation fees conditioned upon outcome of impending election based on objective interpretation by Ees of message actually communicated to them by U)

Weyerhaeuser Company 247 NLRB No. 147
(Savair Manufacturing Co. 414 U.S. 270 standard of conduct applies to pre and post petition conduct)

Bokum Resources Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 655 F.2d 1021 (C.A. 10, 1981)
(U which offered Ees reduction in fees did not engage in conduct warranting setting aside election where reduction was available to Ees whether they indicated support for or sought to join U before or after election)

4284-9900 Other

National Duct Corporation 265 NLRB No. 080
(U informing Ee he would have to go to school before receiving journeyman work permit, under U's system to be instituted if U won election whereas another Ee was promised permit w/o having to go to school, did not warrant setting aside election, absent evidence Ee who was informed he would be required to attend school was opposed to U)

4284-9900—Cont.

Aventura Country Club d/b/a Turnberry Isle Country Club 283 NLRB No. 061
(U's continuation of insurance coverage for U members, responsibility for which E had relinquished prior to election, not interference since recipients of insurance coverage were not receiving something new from U, but rather were being permitted to retain status quo; unlike cash gift or bribe, continuance of insurance coverage through U's payment of premiums had legitimate relationship to suitability of U – from Ees' point of view – as bargaining representative)

Aventura Country Club d/b/a Turnberry Isle Country Club 283 NLRB No. 061
(statements made by U business agent that U would try to secure backpay for Ees did not justify setting aside election where this was kind of statement that party in representation election would make to voters to demonstrate potential support they could expect through its representation; it did not promise reward or condition a benefit on their vote, but simply set forth one area in which U would assist Ees)

Bristol Spring Manufacturing Company 267 NLRB No. 034
(payments to Ees for 1 to 3 hours spent after normal working day giving statements in aid of an investigation of ULP charges held not interference with election in view of purpose of payments, recipients' understanding thereof, and timing, some 4 weeks before election)

N.L.R.B. v. Nixon Gear, Inc. 649 F.2d 906 (C.A. 2, May 1981)
(Bd improperly refused to order hearing on E's objection to election on ground U promised to obtain improved employment for Ee at unionized plant if he supported U and U won election, since E was entitled to hearing if it demonstrated, by prima facie evidence, existence of substantial and material factual issues supporting its allegation, and despite E's strong evidence indicating U offered improper inducement to Ees, Bd insisted upon stronger showing of improper U conduct, which was wholly unreasonable and abuse of its discretion which was exacerbated by extremely close, one-vote election result)

N.L.R.B. v. Gulf States Canners, Inc. 598 F.2d 896 (C.A. 5)
(effect of U's gifts of gasoline to Ees on electorate, rather than intent of U, should be criteria in determining whether election should be set aside; all relevant facts should be considered including whether size of benefit conferred bore proper relationship to U's stated purpose in conferring it, number of Ees receiving benefit, views of Ees concerning purpose of gifts, and timing of gifts)

5600 EMPLOYEE CONDUCT

5625 RANK-AND-FILE UNIT EMPLOYEES

5625-0100 Generally

Devlan Engineering, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 104
(solicitation of authorization cards by Ees, standing alone, does not make those Ees agents of U)

Six Flags Over Mid-America, Inc. 283 NLRB No. 012
(less weight to be accorded to conduct of rank-and-file Ees than that of parties to election in considering election objections)

Six Flags Over Mid-America, Inc. 283 NLRB No. 013
(Ees' discussion with other Ees of unaltered RD report and recommendations overruling some of U's objections and referring rest to hearing did not rise to level of objectionable conduct warranting setting aside of election; nothing was said or done that would arguably impair or call into question Bd's neutrality or constitute objectionable pre-election conduct)

Season-All Industries, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 654 F.2d 932 (C.A. 3, 1981)
(while agreeing with proposition that in establishing and maintaining laboratory conditions conducive to an election, no conduct disruptive or destructive of voter's free choice can be tolerated regardless of whether actions are those of U agent or mere Ee, ct was precluded, because of RD's failure to afford hearing, from setting aside election on basis of E's objection that rank-and-file Ee improperly electioneered at polling place as U agent; ct did no more than adhere to Bd's own policies which require an evidentiary hearing when objections raise substantial and material issues of fact)

EDS-IDAB, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 666 F.2d 971 (C.A. 5, Feb. 1982)
(where alleged improper conduct is not that of agents of one of parties then such conduct will warrant setting aside election if acts disrupt voting procedure or destroy atmosphere necessary to exercise of free choice in election; however, if representative of any party engages in prolonged conversation with voters waiting to cast their ballots, regardless of content of such conversations, election will be set aside)

EDS-IDAB, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 666 F.2d 971 (C.A. 5, Feb. 1982)
(remanded for determination of whether Ee's alleged violative conduct while electioneering and other evidence that linked this Ee to threats of U retaliation and to violence can be found to have been condoned by U, for if Ee held to be agent of U then standard used to determine if his conduct interfered with election is stricter than if he is considered mere Ee)

Beaird-Poulan Division, Emerson Electric Company v. N.L.R.B. 649 F.2d 589 (C.A. 8, May 1981)
(election will be overturned only if coercive actions have created an atmosphere of fear and reprisal such as to render free expression of choice impossible where threats or violence are not attributable to U or E because neither Us nor Es can prevent misdeeds by persons over whom they have no control)

N.L.R.B. v. Advanced Systems, Inc. 681 F.2d 570 (C.A. 9, Apr. 1982)
(party seeking to overturn election because of coercive conduct carries heavy burden. Question is whether coercive conduct so influenced potential voters that free choice was impossible. In assessing effect of conduct on election less weight is accorded to conduct not attributable to U or E. Test for setting aside election because of third party conduct is whether conduct was so aggravated that it made free choice impossible)

5625-3300 Predictions and threats of physical violence

Sub-Zero Freezer Company, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 194
(threats made by Ee who joked around with threatened Ees and by Ee whose threat was met with laughter did not create atmosphere of fear reprisal and were not intimidating so as to interfere with Ees' choice in election)

Salem No. 1, Inc. d/b/a The Seville 262 NLRB No. 197
(asserted misconduct of U, prior to election, which allegedly included slashing tire on supervisor's car, heavy evidence of threats to slash tire and threatening phone calls to one Ee not so aggravated as to render free election impossible, since there was no evidence that U agents who involved in alleged misconduct nor did acts involve widespread threats or acts of violence)

Anchor Inns, Inc. d/b/a Anchor Inn Hotel of St. Croix 262 NLRB No. 148
(on remand, election set aside because it was conducted in atmosphere of fear and refusal where Ee who held himself out as U agent, but not found herein U agent, threatened one E with loss of job and 2 Ees with physical violence if they didn't vote for U which they felt he was capable of carrying out)

Beaird-Poulan Division, Emerson Electric Company 247 NLRB No. 180
(rumor that U adherent brandished a gun at anti-U Ees after receiving an anti-union handbill held false rumor of threat of violence, and even if Ees believed U adherent was pointing gun at them their subjective reactions were irrelevant to question of objectionable conduct)

Beaird-Poulan Division, Emerson Electric Company 247 NLRB No. 180
(rank-and-file Ee's statement that female Ee had better go home and watch her kids held voicing of annoyance over female Ee's ceaseless palaver rather than threat of retaliatory action)

N.L.R.B. v. Eskimo Radiator Mfg. Co. 688 F.2d 1315 (C.A. 9, Oct. 1982)
(threats of physical harm attributable to Ees who are not agents of U are entitled to less weight in determining whether free election was possible)

N.L.R.B. v. Masonic Homes of California, Inc. 624 F.2d 88 (C.A. 9, July 1980)
(questions of harassment of Ee when soliciting her vote and expression of fear of reprisals from U remanded to Bd to determine whether such coercive conduct made impossible free expression of choice)

5625-6700 Statements not attributable to the parties

Six Flags Over Mid-America, Inc. 283 NLRB No. 013
(conduct of rank-and-file unit Ees not objectionable pre-election conduct where not attributable to a party)

N.L.R.B. v. Morgan Health Care Center, Inc. 618 F.2d 127 (C.A. 1, 1980)
(misrepresentations not attributable to either party require setting aside of election only when they create such an atmosphere of fear and violence that free and fair elections have been rendered impossible)

N.L.R.B. v. St. Mary's Home, Inc., t/a St. Mary's Infant Home 690 F.2d 1062 (C.A. 4, Sept. 1982)
(hearing not required on threatening anonymous phone calls to off-duty Ees in absence of evidence connecting these calls to U representative)

EDS-IDAB, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 666 F.2d 971 (C.A. 5, Feb. 1982)
(where alleged improper conduct is not that of agents of one of parties then such conduct will warrant setting aside election if acts disrupt voting procedure or destroy atmosphere necessary to exercise of free choice in election; however, if representative of any party engages in prolonged conversation with voters waiting to cast their ballots, regardless of content of such conversations, election will be set aside)

N.L.R.B. v. Claxton Manufacturing Company, Inc. 613 F.2d 1364 (C.A. 5) (1980)
(Ee actions and statements that are not attributable to U are generally entitled to less weight and cannot by themselves be used to set aside representation election)

5625-6700—Cont.

Revco D.S., Inc. and/or White Cross Stores, Inc., No. 14 v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 264 (C.A. 6, July 1981)

(one Ee's statement to another Ee that if it wasn't for the U campaign, she would not have a job, not interference since it was not attributable to U, where speaker was not U officer or agent, and E was not precluded from making effective reply)

Revco D.S., Inc. and/or White Cross Stores, Inc., No. 14 v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 264 (C.A. 6, July 1981)

(remarks of Ees who supported U campaign about cut in working hours, percent of profits going to payroll, and wages E could afford, not interference, since remarks were mere speculation and it was not shown that U was aware of or had ratified Ees' conduct)

N.L.R.B. v. Belcor, Inc. d/b/a San Jose Care & Guidance Center 652 F.2d 856 (C.A. 9, Aug 1981)

(ct remanded case to Bd for hearing, since affidavits submitted by E with its exceptions to RD's rulings on objection to election alleging Savair violation raised such substantial and material factual issues that Bd should have ordered hearing; affidavits stated that Ees had signed recognition slips to avoid paying dues after U activist promised affiants fee waivers for signing recognition slips before election, and evidence adduced at hearing might support a finding that U either authorized or condoned activist's conduct so as to give him agency status)

N.L.R.B. v. Mike Yurosek & Sons, Inc. 597 F.2d 661 (C.A. 9, 1979)

(rumor of illegal aliens being reported to immigration authorities if U lost held not attributable to U and not interference with election as matter of law)

N.L.R.B. v. Single Manufacturing Company 656 F.2d 785 (C.A. 1, 1981)

(ct held that substantial evidence on record supported Bd finding that Ee who was recently discharged and subject of ULP charge did not interfere with free choice of Ees in representation election where Ee did not represent U when he engaged in conversations with voters waiting to cast ballots nor was his presence at polls coercive, disruptive, or so aggravated that free expression of choice was impossible since as Ee he had right to be present and to vote in election)

5625-6733 Having substantial impact

The Pope, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 170

(on remand Bd set aside election and held E not obligated to bargain where captains in its restaurant promised waiters and bus boys that, if U won election, captains, who had sole authority over tip division, would change division of tips to increase shares of waiters and busboys, since offer would have impaired election whether or not captains supervisors)

N.L.R.B. v. Hudson River Aggregates, Inc. 639 F.2d 865 (C.A. 2, 1981)

(election set aside where Ees threatened fellow Ees with physical harm if U did not win election; moreover, it is immaterial that Ees were not agents of U)

5625-6767 Having insubstantial impact

Maremont Corporation, World Parts Division 251 NLRB No. 110

(statement by personnel office secretary that E would close or relocate plant if U won election, not interprence, where personnel secretary was nonunit Ee and her statement was not attributable to E nor was it of so serious nature that it could only have resulted in confusion and fear of reprisal which would have rendered impossible rational and uncoerced rational and uncoerced choice by Ees)

N.L.R.B. v. Morgan Health Care Center, Inc. 618 F.2d 127 (C.A. 1, 1980)

(Ee's statement that E intended to rehire unpopular supervisor after election did not warrant setting aside election where Ee did not claim outcome of election would influence E's decision on rehiring and absent evidence statement influenced Ees' votes)

N.L.R.B. v. Morgan Health Care Center, Inc. 618 F.2d 127 (C.A. 1, 1980)

(Ee's statement that E intended to rehire unpopular supervisor after election did not warrant setting aside election where Ee did not claim outcome of election would influence E's decision on rehiring and absent evidence statement influenced Ees' votes)

N.L.R.B. v. Production Plated Plastics, Inc. 663 F.2d 709 (C.A. 6, Nov. 1981)

(whether or not Ees acting as agent of U while making threats to fellow Ees during U campaign, laboratory conditions for election not destroyed in view of limited nature of their condict, subsequent apologies by Ees, absence of violence in campaign and sizable U majority)

N.L.R.B. v. Eskimo Radiator Mfg. Co. 688 F.2d 1315 (C.A. 9, Oct. 1982)

(deportation rumors which are not attributable to U do not automatically result in overturning election; evidence that Ee was deterred from voting his or her personal choice is necessary)

5625-7000 List keeping

Masonic Homes of California, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 086

(directed where several Ees saw U observer keep list of hash marks and voters' names continuously through morning voting session and part of afternoon session; such conduct is not de minimis)

N.L.R.B. v. Masonic Homes of California, Inc. 624 F.2d 88 (C.A. 9, July 1980)

(ct remanded to Bd question of whether maintenance by U observers of prohibited list of voters in voting area while balloting was taking place had more tha de minimis effect)

5625-8300 Threats to other employees

Anchor Inns, Inc. d/b/a Anchor Inn Hotel of St. Croix 262 NLRB No. 148

(on remand, election set aside because it was conducted in atmosphere of fear and refusal where Ee who held himself out as U agent, but not found herein U agent, threatened one E with loss of job and 2 Ees with physical violence if they didn't vote for U which they felt he was capable of carrying out)

Anchor Inns, Inc. d/b/a Anchor Inn Hotel of St. Croix 262 NLRB No. 148

(telling Ee who opposed U campaign that if U won and Ee did not join w/i 30 days he would lose job not violative as reference was to possible U security contract)

Baird-Poulan Division, Emerson Electric Company 247 NLRB No. 180

(threat of one member of in-plant organizing committee to take another member to ct because he quit going to U meetings, not unlawful, since threat was of peaceful action from U, not individual)

N.L.R.B. v. Hudson River Aggregates, Inc. 639 F.2d 865 (C.A. 2, 1981)

(election set aside where Ees threatened fellow Ees with physical harm if U did not win election; moreover, it is immaterial that Ees were not agents of U)

N.L.R.B. v. ARA Services, Inc. 678 F.2d 435 (C.A. 3, Apr. 1982)

(ct rejected Bd's argument that since statement submitted by, E from Ee described isolated incidents involving vague threatening statements by mere Ees it was not sufficient to establish prima facie case for overturning election; Bd's argument ignored its own prior decisions which set aside elections on basis of threats made by pro-U Ees; in addition, evidence of a few threats of reprisal directed against one Ee may be sufficient to create general atmosphere of fear and coercion that warrants setting aside election decided by one vote)

EDS-IDAB, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 666 F.2d 971 (C.A. 5, Feb. 1982)

(Ee who had allegedly threatened other Ees with violence and allegedly struck another Ee because they were not pro-U and then sat near the U's observation table for 15 minutes during election may have engaged in conduct sufficient to destroy atmosphere necessary for free choice in election and case remanded for hearing)

N.L.R.B. v. Production Plated Plastics, Inc. 663 F.2d 709 (C.A. 6, Nov. 1981)

(whether or not Ees acting as agent of U while making threats to fellow Ees during U campaign, laboratory conditions for election not destroyed in view of limited nature of their condict, subsequent apologies by Ees, absence of violence in campaign and sizable U majority)

5625-8800 Property damage

Salem No. 1, Inc. d/b/a The Seville 262 NLRB No. 157

(asserted misconduct of U, prior to election, which allegedly included slashing tire on supervisor's car, heavy evidence of threats to slash tire and threatening phone calls to one Ee not so aggravated as to render free election impossible, since there was no evidence that U agents who involved in alleged misconduct nor did acts involve widespread threats or acts of violence)

5625-9000 Acceptance of state unemployment insurance

N.L.R.B. v. Connecticut Foundry Company 688 F.2d 871 (C.A. 2, July 1982)

(hearing was warranted on E's challenge to ballots of voters who had received unemployment compensation benefits during strike as it placed at issue their interest in their jobs as state law allows unemployment benefits to persons unemployed as result of labor dispute only upon showing he is not participating in or financing or directly interested in labor dispute which caused the unemployment; furthermore, Ees may have made false statements in their applications for benefits)

5650 EMPLOYEES OUTSIDE BARGAINING UNIT

5650-2000 Supervisors

United Supermarkets, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 179

(presence of pro-U supervisor and of other supervisors at U meetings held not interference where, other than pro-U supervisor, no other supervisors actively participated in urging Ees to support U; E's opposition to U showed Ees that any pro-U sentiment expressed by supervisor did not represent management's view; supervisors' presence at U meetings did not affect Ees' freedom of choice at time of election by fear of retaliation by U-oriented supervisors; and E's discharge of pro-U supervisor for threatening non-U Ees assured Ees that he would have no opportunity for retaliation)

5650-2500—Cont.

United Supermarkets, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 179
(threats made to Ees by pro-U supervisor held not interference, where E immediately made known to Ees its unalterable opposition to U; supervisor was discharged some 6 weeks before election for threatening anti-U ees and, although charges were filed that his discharge was unlawful, at time of election no complaint had issued seeking his reinstatement or rehire)

J. C. Penney Company, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 132
(supervisor who had discussions with Ees prior to election in which he indicated he felt Ees needed U and then later indicated Ees might not need U did not engage in conduct which would coerce Ees into voting for U out of fear of retaliation; moreover, where E posted letters assuring Ees they would not be subject to reprisals no matter how they voted, they were free to complain about any unfair treatment and to file charges with Bd, this further removed any coercive effect supervisor's mild and inconsistent support of U might have had)

Fall River Savings Bank v. N.L.R.B. 649 F.2d 80 (C.A. 1, May 1981)
(supervisors who made known to Ees their support for U did not interfere with election choice where they never told any Ee how to vote or threatened any form of retaliation against Ees who failed to support U; moreover, E vigorously expressed its opposition to U so that activities of supervisors did not mislead Ees as to E's position)

N.L.R.B. v. Manufacturer's Packaging Co., Inc. 645 F.2d 223 (C.A. 4, Apr 1, 1981)
(E cannot defend its refusal to bargain on grounds that election was tainted by sub-supervisors where their activities were minimal, occurred prior to their exclusion from unit, were made principally in response to Ee inquiry and E knew of activity prior to and subsequent to date they were designated supervisors, yet E did not disavow conduct)

N.L.R.B. v. Klinger Electric Corporation, Klinger Electronics Division and Klinger Manufacturing Division 656 F.2d 76 (C.A. 5, 1981)
(objections to isolated and relatively mild threats by alleged supervisors – assuming leadpersons were supervisors – against nonU supporters and anti-U Ees properly overruled, particularly where U won election by wide margin)

N.L.R.B. v. Dobbs Houses, Inc. 613 F.2d 1254 (C.A. 5) (1980)
(if E knows that its supervisory personnel are advocating U and takes no action to dissipate effect, such advocacy cannot be used as basis for setting aside election)

Worley Mills, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 685 F.2d 362 (C.A. 10, July 1982)
(supervisory involvement in elections on side of U was not per se reason to invalidate election, and election is tainted only by express or implied threats that result in fear of retaliation and create environment of tension)

5662 EX-EMPLOYEES

N.L.R.B. v. Carroll Contracting and Ready-Mix, Inc. 636 F.2d 111 (C.A. 5, 1981)
(election set aside where two former Ees with vote Teamsters on their hats, before polls opened, positioned themselves in parking lot where line of waiting voters formed and repeatedly and continuously, throughout polling period, urged waiting voters to vote for U by gesturing to YES box on ballot pinned to their shirts; once polls had opened, Ees waiting outside in line to vote became part of polling place, and were entitled to safeguards against interference espoused by Milchem, Inc. 170 NLRB 362 (1968); actions of rank and file of its supporters do not need to be attributed to U)

N.L.R.B. v. Sagle Manufacturing Company 658 F.2d 785 (C.A. 1, 1981)
(ct held that substantial evidence on record supported Bd finding that Ee who was recently discharged and subject of ULP charge did not interfere with free choice of Ees in representation election where Ee did not represent U when he engaged in conversations with voters waiting to cast ballots nor was his presence at polls coercive, disruptive, or so aggravated that free expression of choice was impossible since as Ee he had right to be present and to vote in election)

7000 CONDUCT OF NON-PARTICIPANTS IN ELECTION

7075 LOCAL NEWSPAPER, RADIO OR TV STATION

U. S. Electrical Motors, A Division of Emerson Electric Co. 261 NLRB No. 184
(newspaper article and editorial discussing E's economic problem and U organizing campaign at its plant with potential strike violence and plant closing found not to create general atmosphere of fear and coercion rendering conduct of free election impossible, in view of newspaper's front-page publication of U's rebuttal next day (which was day before election) and record as a whole)

Hedstrom Co., a subsidiary of Brown Group, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 629 F.2d 305 (C.A. 3, 1980)
(editorial printed in local newspaper on day of election which predicted plant would close if U won election found to reinforce E's prior threats of plant closings and warrants issuance of bargaining order)

7099 OTHERS

Daylight Grocery Company, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 678 F.2d 905 (C.A. 11, June 1982)
(Bd did not err in finding that customer's telling several store Ees they had better vote for U, in absence of specific threat, did not create coercive atmosphere prejudicing electoral process)

8400 ELECTIONEERING AT OR NEAR POLLS WHILE OPEN

8401 GENERALLY

Bally's Park Place, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 098
(establishment of area in which electioneering is not permitted must in first instance be left to informed judgment of RD and agents conducting election)

Northern Telecom, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 085
(Ee electioneering using paraphernalia previously supplied by E did not interfere with voter's free choice where E had no part in their conduct, and it took place outside of polling area)

Cumberland Nursing & Convalescent Center (Retail Store Employees Union, Local 692) 248 NLRB No. 063
(objection by E to consent election, overruled and did not warrant hearing where E failed to present prima facie case in support of his objections which alleged, inter alia, objectionable electioneering; proffered evidence failed to disclose unequivocally that polls were in part open at time electioneering took place; it was not certain where Ees were at time alleged prohibited conduct was supposed to have occurred)

Season-All Industries, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 654 F.2d 932 (C.A. 3, 1981)
(since voters, in the last few moments before voting, must be free from interference as possible, Ees waiting outside in line to vote are part of polling place and are entitled to safeguards against interference which is not to be reserved only for those Ees who have gained access to actual polling place)

N.L.R.B. v. Vista Hill Foundation d/b/a Vista Hill 639 F.2d 479 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(ct affd Bd finding that U observor's conversations with voters consisting of social pleasantries were not objectionable and its finding that his comments were innocuous where he answered inquiry as to whether he would be U representative if U won by stating that he would be if Ees wanted him and said that if U won he would not be in so much trouble with the E)

Worley Mills, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 685 F.2d 362 (C.A. 10, July 1982)
(under Bd's lesser standard for third party electioneering, such conduct must warrant inference that free choice has been stultified)

8410 AGENCY RELATIONSHIP IN COMMISSION OF ELECTIONEERING

Season-All Industries, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 654 F.2d 932 (C.A. 3, 1981)
(while agreeing with proposition that in establishing and maintaining laboratory conditions conducive to an election, no conduct disruptive or destructive of voter's free choice can be tolerated regardless of whether actions are those of U agent or mere Ee, ct was precluded, because of RD's failure to afford hearing, from setting aside election on basis of E's objection that rank-and-file Ee improperly electioneered at polling place as U agent; ct did no more than adhere to Bd's own policies which require an evidentiary hearing when objections raise substantial and material issues of fact)

EDS-IDAB, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 666 F.2d 971 (C.A. 5, Feb. 1982)
(remanded for determination of whether Ee's alleged violative conduct while electioneering and other evidence that linked this Ee to threats of U retaliation and to violence can be found to have been condoned by U, for if Ee held to be agent of U than standard used to determine if his conduct interfered with election is stricter than if he is considered mere Ee)

N.L.R.B. v. Carroll Contracting and Ready-Mix, Inc. 636 F.2d 111 (C.A. 5, 1981)
(election set aside where two former Ees with vote Teamsters on their hats, before polls opened, positioned themselves in parking lot where line of waiting voters formed and repeatedly and continuously, throughout polling period, urged waiting voters to vote for U by gesturing to YES box on ballot pinned to their shirts; once polls had opened, Ees waiting outside in line to vote became part of polling place, and were entitled to safeguards against interference espoused by Milchem, Inc. 170 NLRB 362 (1968); actions of rank and file of its supporters do not need to be attributed to U)

8410—Cont.

Worley Mills, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 685 F.2d 362 (C.A. 10, July 1982)
(no agency established where leading U adherent who had sat with U representatives at meetings and served as translator and electioneering engaged in by Ee involving line but outside immediate voting area not attributed to U as U did not ask him to electioneer, was not aware of this activity and Ee did not hold himself out as U agent)

8420 ORAL COMMUNICATION TO VOTERS

N.L.R.B. v. Vista Hill Foundation d/b/a Vista Hill 639 F.2d 479 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(ct affd Bd finding that U observor's conversations with voters consisting of social pleasantries were not objectionable and its finding that his comments were innocuous where he answered inquiry as to whether he would be U representative if U won by stating that he would be if Ees wanted him and said that if U won he would not be in so much trouble with the E)

8420-3300 Location of communication

8420-3325 Conversation within voting area

EDS-IDAB, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 666 F.2d 971 (C.A. 8, Feb. 1982)
(where alleged improper conduct is not that of agents of one of parties then such conduct will warrant setting aside election if acts disrupt voting procedure or destroy atmosphere necessary to exercise of free choice in election; however, if representative of any party engages in prolonged conversation with voters waiting to cast their ballots, regardless of content of such conversations, election will be set aside)

8420-3325-5000 By union (representative, observer, or agent)

The Nestle Company 248 NLRB No. 106
(U observer talking to several Ees in polling room not objectionable when alleged objectionable conduct occurred 10 minutes prior to opening of polls and any other talking by observer was not sustained conversations with prospective voters waiting to vote

8420-3325-7500 Others

Parnell's Pride, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 146
(two rank and file Ees engaging in conversation in voting area with Ees waiting to vote did not warrant setting election aside, absent evidence of content of conversations or that Ees were agents of U; mere conversations between voters who are not representatives of any party do not per se warrant setting election aside)

8420-3350 Conversation just outside voting area or within designated 'no electioneering' area

8420-3350-5000 By union (representative or agent)

Midwest Stock Exchange, Inc.; et al. v. N.L.R.B. 620 F.2d 629 (C.A. 7, 1980)
(Bd finding of no interference in U observer's conversation with voters at polling place during election misapplied Bd's Milchem decision, since 5-minute conversation herein was considered by Bd sufficient under Milchem to void election, regardless of conversation's substance and effect; Bd predicated its decision upon context of observer's conversation and ignored last minute distraction of voters as well as appearance of electioneering that might result from prolonged conversation, and fact that, as in Milchem, conversation was not one-to-one)

South Pacific Furniture, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 627 NLRB No. 173 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(U observers's statement come on and vote, exercise your powers said to Ees in room adjacent to balloting area, not objectionable and not electioneering, since statement was not one that can be said to have inhibited Ees' free choice in selecting their representative)

8420-3350-7500 Others

N.L.R.B. v. Campbell Products Department, Harry T. Campbell Sons Company, Division of Flintkote Company 623 F.2d 876 (C.A. 3, 1980)
(where rank-and-file Ee, active U adherent, engaged other Ees in conversation in vicinity of polling place while on their way to vote, this electioneering not considered conduct which would interfere with election choice although, if agent or representative of party to election had engaged in such conduct, Bd would have been justified in taking stricter view)

EDS-IDAB, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 666 F.2d 971 (C.A. 8, Feb. 1982)
(Ee who had allegedly threatened other Ees with violence and allegedly struck another Ee because they were not pro-U and then sat near the U's observation table for 15 minutes during election may have engaged in conduct sufficient to destroy atmosphere necessary for free choice in election and case remanded for hearing)

8420-3375 Conversation away from immediate vicinity or outside designated 'no electioneering' area

8420-3375-5000 By union (representative or agent)

Bally's Park Place, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 096
(objection that no specific no-electioneering area was clearly designated by Bd agent properly overruled where alleged conduct did not violate Milchem rule because U statements were not made to voters in polling place or while waiting in line to vote nor was conduct otherwise of a nature to warrant an inference that it interfered with exercise of Ee free choice)

Revco D.S., Inc. and/or White Cross Stores, Inc., No. 14 v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 264 (C.A. 6, July 1981)
(U representatives' pointing at and speaking to Ees away from polling area about three hours before election starting time not interference, where there was no evidence of improper remarks)

8420-3375-7500 Others

N.L.R.B. v. Carroll Contracting and Ready-Mix, Inc. 636 F.2d 111 (C.A. 5, 1981)
(election set aside where two former Ees with vote Teamsters on their hats, before polls opened, positioned themselves in parking lot where line of waiting voters formed and repeatedly and continuously, throughout polling period, urged waiting voters to vote for U by gesturing to YES box on ballot pinned to their shirts; once polls had opened, Ees waiting outside in line to vote became part of polling place, and were entitled to safeguards against interference espoused by Milchem, Inc. 170 NLRB 362 (1968); actions of rank and file of its supporters do not need to be attributed to U)

Worley Mills, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 685 F.2d 362 (C.A. 10, July 1982)
(no agency established where leading U adherent who had sat with U representatives at meetings and served as translator and electioneering engaged in by Ee involving line but outside immediate voting area not attributed to U as U did not ask him to electioneer, was not aware of this activity and Ee did not hold himself out as U agent)

8430 MERE PHYSICAL PRESENCE

8430-2500 Within voting area

8430-2525 By employer or employer representative

American Display Manufacturing Co., Inc. 259 NLRB No. 086
(supervisor's appearance at voting line during election, not unlawful, where at most supervisor walked past voting area, and where Ee made statement to effect he did not want to vote, called Ee upstairs, and tole Ee that he should vote because your vote will help us)

8430-2550 By union official or representative

New England Lumber Division of Diamond International Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 646 F.2d 1 (C.A. 1, Apr 1981)
(designation of U official as observer at election does not warrant overturning election absent evidence official engaged in improper conduct while acting in that capacity)

8430-2575 Others

Baird-Poulan Division, Emerson Electric Company 247 NLRB No. 180
(objection that U supporters were permitted to stay in polling area after casting their ballots, overruled; at most some Ees waiting in line said vote yes and others vote no, which did not constitute coercive and disruptive conduct)

N.L.R.B. v. Single Manufacturing Company 658 F.2d 785 (C.A. 1, 1981)
(ct held that substantial evidence on record supported Bd finding that Ee who was recently discharged and subject of ULP charge did not interfere with free choice of Ees in representation election where Ee did not represent U when he engaged in conversations with voters waiting to cast ballots nor was his presence at polls coercive, disruptive, or so aggravated that free expression of choice was impossible since as Ee he had right to be present and to vote in election)

8430-5000 Just outside voting area or within designated 'no electioneering' area

B. E. & K., Inc. 252 NLRB No. 036
(observed presence of E agents in hallway outside conference room in which voting was taking place, held not interference, since U's understanding that hallway constituted immediate area of voting was its interpretation of what constituted such area, but facts of case did not support such interpretation)

8430-5025 By employer or employer representative

Electric Hose and Rubber Company 262 NLRB No. 014
(stationing of supervisor just outside voting area objectionable notwithstanding that area was w/i his area of responsibility)

Electric Hose and Rubber Company 262 NLRB No. 014
(supervisor who walked past voting polls w/o stopping but did glance in did not engage in surveillance which would interfere with election choice)

8430-5050 By union official or representative

8430-5050—Cont.

N.L.R.B. v. Connecticut Foundry Company 688 F.2d 871 (C.A. 2, July 1982)

(no hearing required on E's objection that U agents entered w/i 150 feet of polling area 3 times notwithstanding agreement that they would not enter polling area where period was brief and they made no Ee contacts)

N.L.R.B. v. Alson Mfg. Aerospace Division of Alson Industries, Inc. 599 F.2d [illegible]87 (C.A. 9, 1979)

(following ct remand to Bd for full evidentiary hearing on E's objections to election and after careful analysis of evidence produced at evidentiary hearing, ct enforced Bd's order upholding certification of U, notwithstanding ct would have preferred second election, in view of U's calling E's document circulated to Ees prior to election all lies when it was merely campaign propaganda and in view of U representatives' presence at polling area on election day)

8430-7900 Away from immediate vicinity or outside designated 'no electioneering' area

Boston Insulated Wire & Cable Co. 259 NLRB No. 149

(electioneering held not interference where it was conducted away from polling place, there was absence of designated no electioneering area, electioneering was not directed at Ees waiting in line to vote, and did not violate any instructions by Bd agent; voters standing in line to vote were separated from electioneering by set of doors, which remained closed during balloting)

Northern Telecom, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 085

(Ee electioneering using paraphernalia previously supplied by E did not interfere with voter's free choice where E had no part in their conduct, and it took place outside of polling area)

Beaird-Poulan Division, Emerson Electric Company 247 NLRB No. 180

(objection that U supporters were permitted to stay in polling area after casting their ballots, overruled; at most some Ees waiting in line said vote yes and others vote no, which did not constitute coercive and disruptive conduct)

N.L.R.B. v. Carroll Contracting and Ready-Mix, Inc. 636 F.2d 111 (C.A. 5, 1981)

(election set aside where two former Ees with vote Teamsters on their hats, before polls opened, positioned themselves in parking lot where line of waiting voters formed and repeatedly and continuously, throughout polling period, urged waiting voters to vote for U by gesturing to YES box on ballot pinned to their shirts; once polls had opened, Ees waiting outside in line to vote became part of polling place, and were entitled to safeguards against interference espoused by Milchem, Inc. 170 NLRB 362 (1968); actions of rank and file of its supporters do not need to be attributed to U)

8440 WEARING OF INSIGNIAS

8440-3300 Within voting area

8440-3350 By observer

The Nestle Company 248 NLRB No. 106

(objection overruled where observer for 1 U wore bumper sticker of his U on his shirt and observer for other U wore smaller U button on his shirt)

N.L.R.B. v. Connecticut Foundry Company 688 F.2d 871 (C.A. 2, July 1982)

(U observer's display of skull and crossbones to voters waiting in line held not trivial and minor misconduct cannot be summarily excused on ground that it could not have inferenced election; Bd erred in not giving appropriate weight to this evidence)

EDS-IDAB, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 666 F.2d 971 (C.A. 5, Feb. 1982)

(U observer's conduct of wearing U badge bearing words VOTE YES—FOR IAM will not ordinarily by itself be sufficient to invalidate election)

N.L.R.B. v. Belcor, Inc. d/b/a San Jose Care & Guidance Center 652 F.2d 856 (C.A. 9, Aug 1981)

(objection to display of ... union insignia by the Board where customary U logo was imprinted on identification badges worn by election observers found frivolous)

8440-3375 By other persons

EDS-IDAB, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 666 F.2d 971 (C.A. 5, Feb. 1982)

(Ee who had allegedly threatened other Ees with violence and allegedly struck another Ee because they were not pro-U and then sat near the U's observation table for 15 minutes during election may have engaged in conduct sufficient to destroy atmosphere necessary for free choice in election and case remanded for hearing)

8440-6700 Outside voting area

N.L.R.B. v. Carroll Contracting and Ready-Mix, Inc. 636 F.2d 111 (C.A. 5, 1981)

(election set aside where two former Ees with vote Teamsters on their hats, before polls opened, positioned themselves in parking lot where line of waiting voters formed and repeatedly and continuously, throughout polling period, urged waiting voters to vote for U by gesturing to YES box on ballot pinned to their shirts; once polls had opened, Ees waiting outside in line to vote became part of polling place, and were entitled to safeguards against interference espoused by Milchem, Inc. 170 NLRB 362 (1968); actions of rank and file of its supporters do not need to be attributed to U)

8450 USE OF PLACARDS

8450-3300 Within voting area

N.L.R.B. v. Connecticut Foundry Company 688 F.2d 871 (C.A. 2, July 1982)

(U observer's display of skull and crossbones to voters waiting in line held not trivial and minor misconduct cannot be summarily excused on ground that it could not have inferenced election; Bd erred in not giving appropriate weight to this evidence)

8450-6700 Outside voting area

Northern Telecom, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 085

(Ee electioneering using paraphernalia previously supplied by E did not interfere with voter's free choice where E had no part in their conduct, and it took place outside of polling area)

8460 DISTRIBUTION OF CAMPAIGN LITERATURE

8460-2500 Time of distribution

Moody Nursing Home, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 022

(E who conditioned Ee's right to vote upon first picking up paycheck committed objectionable conduct as this indicates to Ees that their franchise depends upon sufferance of E rather than it being an absolute Sec. 7 right)

8470 PHYSICAL COERCION OR THREATS THEREOF AND OTHER TYPES OF RESTRAINT

B. E. & K., Inc. 252 NLRB No. 036

(E's attorney who told laid off Ees, who appeared at polling place on E's premises for purpose of voting in election, that they were trespassing on private property and were liable to arrest held interference, since attorney's conduct was tantamount to assertion of control of election by party and interfered with Ees' right to vote by injecting possibility of arrest for exercising such protected right)

EDS-IDAB, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 666 F.2d 971 (C.A. 5, Feb. 1982)

(remanded for determination of whether Ee's alleged violative conduct while electioneering and other evidence that linked this Ee to threats of U retaliation and to violence can be found to have been condoned by U, for if Ee held to be agent of U than standard used to determine if his conduct interfered with election is stricter than if he is considered mere Ee)

Revco D.S., Inc. and/or White Cross Stores, Inc., No. 14 v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 264 (C.A. 6, July 1981)

(U representative's giving Ees a look on election day when they expressed uncertainty as to whether they would vote when E and U notified them polls were open did not warrant evidentiary hearing or setting aside of election)

N.L.R.B. v. Masonic Homes of California, Inc. 624 F.2d 88 (C.A. 9, July 1980)

(questions of harassment of Ee when soliciting her vote and expression of fear of reprisals from U remanded to Bd to determine whether such coercive conduct made impossible free expression of choice)

9000 ACTIONS OF BOARD OR BOARD AGENT

9033 ACTION OF BOARD

N.L.R.B. v. Granite State Minerals, Inc. 674 F.2d 101 (C.A. 1, Mar. 1982)

(E's objections to election upheld and E not obligated to bargain where, unilaterally departing from time and place set in stipulated election agreement, Bd allowed U to drive Ee who would be away at time of election to Bd's regional office to cast vote w/o U observers; conduct objectionable whether or not actual prejudice to E, absent exploration by Bd of alternatives to insure Ee's right to vote w/o breaching material terms of election agreement, and particularly where Ee had not heard E's case, nor seen election notices)

9033—Cont.

N.L.R.B. v. Granite State Minerals, Inc. 674 F.2d 181 (C.A. 1, Mar. 1982)

(Bd's investigation inadequate where Ee alleged threats by U which were corroborated but when asked for further details indicated he had smartened up and would say no more, Bd merely asked Ee if he had been threatened and U if it had threatened Ee; RD's conclusion based on ground that no evidence U had made threat improper, since where coercion threatening freedom of election is at issue, it does not matter whether coercive acts are shown to be attributable to U itself)

N.L.R.B. v. Lowry Drug Company, Inc. 598 F.2d 1217(T) (C.A. 4, 1979)

(where challenged ballot which had been ordered counted was destroyed election set aside and new election ordered in which current Ees shall determine whether they wish to be represented by U, provided U makes new showing of interest w/i 60 days)

9067 ACTION OF BD AGENT

Jobbers Meat Packing Co. Inc. 262 NLRB No. 098

(notwithstanding that one eligible voter was disenfranchised as result of Bd agent's unavoidably opening polls two hours later than scheduled, U was certified and election results not set aside after tally of ballots showed 11 for and seven against U with one challenged ballot, since votes of challenged ballot and excluded voter would not have been determinative of election even if both had voted against U)

N.L.R.B. v. ARA Services, Inc. 678 F.2d 436 (C.A. 3, Apr. 1982)

(RD and Bd did not err in overruling, w/o benefit of evidentiary hearing, E's objection that conduct of Bd agent and U observer during election gave impression that election was U controlled where statement by E observer referred to no specific misconduct by either Bd agent or U observer)

Fotomat Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 634 F.2d 320 (C.A. 6, 1980)

(Bd agent's removal of literature from E's bulletin boards during election and not reposting it during non-election period did not affect election)

N.L.R.B. v. Allen's I.G.A. Foodliner 630 F.2d 217(T) (C.A. 6, 1980)

(Bd agent's comment to E observer that if Ees had been treated right she would not be there holding election was improper but not prejudicial where no voters were present in polling place at time remark was made, most voters had cast their ballots, and there was no evidence in the record that agent's remark was relayed to any voter who had not yet cast his/her ballot)

N.L.R.B. v. Eskimo Radiator Mfg. Co. 688 F.2d 1315 (C.A. 9, Oct. 1982)

(Bd agent explained ballot to Spanish speaking Ee who misunderstood directions and believed Bd agent was telling him to vote for U found not to have engaged in any misconduct interfering with election choice, especially where no other Ee's heard Bd agent)

Summa Corporation d/b/a Frontier Hotel v. N.L.R.B. 625 F.2d 293 (C.A. 9, Aug. 1980)

(where parties had stipulated prior to election that each would be allowed 2 observers, and U, with Bd agent's permission, had 3rd observer present, election set aside as E entitled to insist that Bd and U diligently adhere to provisions of stipulation designed to insure fair election; moreover, no showing of actual prejudice necessary)

N.L.R.B. v. Masonic Homes of California, Inc. 624 F.2d 88 (C.A. 9, July 1980)

(Bd properly rejected E's contention that Bd agent improperly permitted U observer to leave balloting room and enter hall through which voters passed where there was no evidence of contact or conversation between voters and U observer)

385 POST-CERTIFICATION AND UNIT CLARIFICATION ISSUES

0100 GENERALLY

1200 VALIDITY OF CERTIFICATION

2500 AMENDMENT OF CERTIFICATION

2501 GENERALLY

Texas Plastics, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 89

(merger of two international Us to form new international did not affect representation at local level, since nothing but local's designation—i.e., that it was chartered by new international—had changed and no improprieties by local's former international were established; E's contention that change of name on local's charter was improper because its Ees and local's members had not participated in or ratified merger rejected, since constitution of Ees' former international expressly authorized its executive board to merge with other international Us)

2525 CHANGE IN REPRESENTATIVE

2525-0800 Affiliation of union with international

Seattle-First National Bank 265 NLRB No. 088

(after withdrawing record on review before appellate ct, Bd reconsidered, sua sponte, its decision in the case and held that affiliation of certified independent U with international U did not meet minimal due-process standards and was improper where nonU members of unit were not permitted to vote; accordingly, decision and amended certification vacated)

Palo Alto Medical Clinic JD-(SF)-282-80

(affiliation of local independent U (Council) with an AFL-CIO chartered U (AFT) did not result in new bargaining entity where no changes made in Council's 1) bargaining committee; 2) administrative structure; 3) authority over its bargaining, content of and administration of agreement; 4) name; 5) bylaws; and 6) authority to levy dues notwithstanding Council agreed to subject itselfto AFT's a) constitution and bylaws; b) dues requirements; and c) strike fund and attendent regulations)

J.F. Hink & Son v. N.L.R.B. 684 F.2d 729(T) (C.A. 9, July 1981)

(post-election objections based on U's (or international's) merger or change of affiliation with another U is not automatically entitled to hearing addressing is of continuity of representation i.e., whether successor U is contínciation of elected U, or substantially different organization but objection must be supported by substantial and material evidence standard applicable to any post-election objection)

2525-1700 Substitution of local for certified international

Duquesne Light Company and Its Wholly Owned Subsidiary, Allegheny County Steam Heating Company (System Council U-10, Electrical Workers) 248 NLRB No. 168

(ptn to amend certification to substitute local Us for international U as certified bargaining representative granted, since amendment's effect would be no more than recognizing local Us de facto status as exclusive bargaining representative and unit Ees had also sanctioned status of local Us as their bargaining representative not only by acquiescing in local Us' principal role in negotiations and administration of agreements, but also by ratifying contracts recognizing local Us as their bargaining representative)

2525-3400 Substitution of union with which certified representative has affiliated

Garlock Equipment Company 263 NLRB No. 96

(Bd reaffirmed RD's finding that affiliation vote was valid where vote was open to all Ees in bargaining unit and due-process requirements were satisfied)

2525-5000 Substitution of union with which certified representative has merged

St. Mary's Home, Inc. t/a St. Mary's Infant Home 255 NLRB No. 147

(E's assertion that U was not same labor organization that petitioned for certification, rejected as E did not mention alleged change in U's identity in its Request for Review; moreover, Bd had already held in earlier case that new international U was continuation of and successor to representational rights of Retail Clerks International Association and Amalgamated Meat Cutters which 2 Us had merged)

2525-8400 Employee approval of substitution of representative

2525-8450 Approval by vote on issue

2525-8450-4000 Eligibility to vote

The House of The Good Samaritan and The Samaritan-Keep Nursing Home, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 048

(selection of delegates to state annual convention from volunteers by division president at meeting where membership had opportunity to appear and express their desires not violative of by-laws or denial of due process)

2525-8450-4033 Unit members

Aurelia Osborn Fox Memorial Hospital 247 NLRB No. 48

2525-8450-4067 Union members

Seattle-First National Bank 265 NLRB No. 088

(after withdrawing record on review before appellate ct, Bd reconsidered, sua sponte, its decision in the case and held that affiliation of certified independent U with international U did not meet minimal due-process standards and was improper where nonU members of unit were not permitted to vote; accordingly, decision and amended certification vacated)

Palo Alto Medical Clinic JD-(SF)-282-80

Palo Alto Medical Clinic JD-(SF)-282-80

(contention that vote by Council (independent U) members on affiliation with AFL-CIO chartered U was improper because vote was restricted to Council members only, rejected, as there was opportunity for nonmembers to become members and affiliation vote procedures are internal U matters)

2525-8450-6000 Regularity of voting procedures

Duquesne Light Company and Its Wholly Owned Subsidiary, Allegheny County Steam Heating Company (System Council U-10, Electrical Workers) 248 NLRB No. 168

(Bd more lenient towards voting procedures used by locals to obtain unit Ees' approval for AC where vote is on substitution of locals for International with which they are affiliated, rather than merger or affiliation)

The House of The Good Samaritan and The Samaritan-Keep Nursing Home, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 048

(absence of secret ballot on affiliation not violation of by-laws or denial of due process where membership w/o opposition instructed delegate to vote for permanent affiliation, and no one requested or moved for secret ballot; as to absence of quorum, division had modified (de facto) the quorum provision to comport with average attendance)

Aurelia Osborn Fox Memorial Hospital 247 NLRB No. 48

(when collective bargaining representative affiliated with International U and E refused to bargain with U after this point, E violated Act where successor U is same bargaining entity as predecessor U, and since it had right to make its own policy determinations, negotiate contracts, call strikes, and retained right to establish and keep its own dues, local U is autonomous from International; vote in favor of affiliation was unanimous, conformed to U constitution; moreover, fact that vote was not secret or separate vote by unit Ees not held does not negate validity as Us are not held to Bd's own election standards)

2525-8450-8000 Approval by majority of those voting

The House of The Good Samaritan and The Samaritan-Keep Nursing Home, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 048

2537 CHANGE IN NAME ONLY

Colonial Manor 1977, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 151

(E's contention that two merged Us cannot assume certification issued to one of them prior to merger, w/o affording E opportunity to litigate whether alleged merger created a labor organization with which E is obligated to bargain, rejected, since Bd had previously found that merged U merely represented change of name from that of originally certified U; and E's refusal to bargain did not arise out of any concern with respect to merger in view of fact that it did not answer originally certified U's demands for bargaining for which it gave no explanation)

2537—Cont.

5000 SUSPENSION OR REVOCATION OF CERTIFICATION

5050 GROUNDS FOR SUSPENSION OR REVOCATION

5050-7800 Failure to represent employees

5050-7833 Conflict of interest

North Shore University Hospital 259 NLRB No. 121

(E's mtn to revoke certification of nurses' association on ground it is not a labor organization and is disqualified from acting as bargaining representative because it is influenced, dominated and controlled by supervisory/managerial members, denied)

Sierra Vista Hospital, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 066

(where Bd had rescinded its denial of E's mtn to revoke certification of nurses association and remanded case to RD to give parties opportunity to fully litigate issue as to whether association was disqualified to represent E's nonsupervisory nurses because of supervisory participation in positions of authority in the association, Bd held E had failed to meet burden of proving clear and present danger of conflict of interest under Sierra Vista, 241 NLRB No. 107, and denied E's mtn to revoke certification: See also Sierra Vista Hospital, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 067)

7500 UNIT CLARIFICATION

7501 GENERALLY

Consolidated Papers, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 670 F.2d 754 (C.A. 7, Feb. 1982)

(ct denied enforcement ofBd order predicated upon unit clarification proceeding and Bd's finding that salaried Ees who were transferred to facility in question from another location were accretion to existing unit at the facility, since Bd should have dismissed ptn as untimely under Wallace-Murray rule, where ptn was filed during mid-term of existing bargaining contract, and contract's description of unit as hourly paid Ees clearly defined unit to exclude salaried Ees)

7501-2500 Board authority

7501-2501 Generally

Magna Corporation 261 NLRB No. 069

(where disputed job did not exist - at least in present form - at time of certification and U has consistently endeavored to establish its placement in unit, clarification question is presented)

United States Postal Service 256 NLRB No. 095

(Bd refused postal service's request, should Bd find no qcr, to treat its RM ptn for overall national unit as one seeking unit clarification since, as recognized by E if it is correct in its argument that national unit is appropriate, an election would be necessary to determine majority bargaining representative, and UC ptn is never appropriate to determine qcr and therefore could not achieve unit sought by E)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014

(while certain positions sought to be excluded by UC ptn may have long been included under previous contracts, and job duties of such positions have remained unchanged, Bd is compelled, under Act's specific exclusion of supervisors and well settled rule excluding managerial and confidential Ees, to exclude such Ee categories if it can be shown that persons in such positions meet the test for establishing supervisory, managerial, or confidential status)

Shop Rite Foods, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 143

(UC ptn filed 101 days prior to expiration of then-current 3-year contract, timely filed, since Bd has processed UC ptn filed 90 days prior to expiration of agreement in Beth Israel Medical Center, 231 NLRB 295 (1977); ptn in instant case was only slightly earlier filed; Bd does not lack authority to clarify unit established by agreement of parties)

7501-2511 No clarification where question of representation exists

Boston Cutting Die Company 258 NLRB No. 101

The Washington Post Company 256 NLRB No. 190

(UC ptn to accrete confidential secretaries to unit dismissed for failure to show compelling reason for altering unit placement of Ees historically excluded from unit where their positions were not significantly changed as alleged; ptn raised qcr which may not be resolved in UC ptn, and, although closure of R hearing w/o fully litigating unit placement issues was erroneous, it did not prejudice U or warrant casting aside UC criteria or Ees' rights to vote in representation election; dismissal was w/o prejudice to filing R ptn)

Missouri Pacific Employees' Hospital Association and St. Louis-Little Rock Hospitals, Inc. d/b/a Compton Hill Medical Center 251 NLRB No. 206

(determination of whether position of secretary to administrator of nursing service, which predated current collective-bargaining agreement, should be included in unit raises qcr and is not considered in unit clarification proceeding)

James A. McBrady, Inc. and Maine Erection, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 017

(Bd refused to clarify unit when job classification was in existence at time previous collective bargaining agreement entered into and this agreement makes no specific reference to job classification; further, Ees in this job classification perform function separate and apart from other Ees; thus, ptn raises QCR which precludes Bd from changing previously established bargaining unit w/o first holding election)

7501-2537 Clarification of uncertified unit permitted under section 9(b)

Stafford-Lowdon Company, An American-Standard Company 253 NLRB No. 031

(where E informed U during negotiations that it had filed U C ptn but would sign new contract subject to outcome of proceeding and U agreed, subsequent execution of 1-year collective bargaining agreement does not render U C ptn moot or unnecessary)

7501-2862 Board may clarify unit on own motion

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014

(Bd can decide placement of disputed Ees through clarification process even though unit has not been certified, E does not question representative status of U, and no other U seeks to represent them)

7501-2887 Clarification not available to resolve jurisdictional dispute

United Food Commercial Workers International Union, Local No. 1222, AFL-CIO, CLC(Fedmart Stores, Inc.) 262 NLRB No. 88

(where dispute is not over assignment of work to one group of Ees rather than another within meaning of Sec. 8(b)(4)(D) but rather revolves around question of which U shall represent Ees whom E has chosen or will choose in future to operate SCORE marking system, matter is not dispute within meaning of Sec. 10(k) and notice of hearing quashed. However, determination was made in UC hearing)

7501-2890 Availability of clarification for modification of unit description

Mercury Marine Division of Brunswick Corporation 254 NLRB No. 146

(Bd did not defer to reasoning of arbitrator who had found E had not violated contract by assigning operation of newly installed electronically programmed die-casting machines to personnel outside unit; instead, Bd accreted machine operators to existing unit pursuant to clarification ptn which is appropriate procedure for resolving ambiguities concerning unit placement of individuals who come w/i newly established classification of disputed unit placement; in any event, issues involving appropriateness of unit and criteria are particularly w/i Bd's expertise)

Arizona Electric Power Cooperative, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 110

(during mid-term contract negotiations Bd would refuse to entertain mid-term U C ptn to exclude alleged supervisors where parties were aware of unit placement problems when contract executed; to do so would be disruptive of established bargaining relationships)

7501-5000 No showing of interest required

Consolidated Papers, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 670 F.2d 754 (C.A. 7, Feb. 1982)

(ct denied enforcement ofBd order predicated upon unit clarification proceeding and Bd's finding that salaried Ees who were transferred to facility in question from another location were accretion to existing unit at the facility, since Bd should have dismissed ptn as untimely under Wallace-Murray rule, where ptn was filed during mid-term of existing bargaining contract, and contract's description of unit as hourly paid Ees clearly defined unit to exclude salaried Ees)

7533 ISSUES RESOLVABLE BY CLARIFICATION PROCEEDING

7533-2000 Job classification coverage

7533-2001 Generally

Boston Cutting Die Company 258 NLRB No. 101

(UC ptn seeking to include working foremen at plant manufacturing cutting dies, dismissed as untimely, where such classification has been historically excluded, and ptn was filed in contract's midterm; although UC ptns filed midterm for unit classifications contractually or historically established are considered by Bd where classification has undergone recent substantial changes or clarification is necessary to avoid violation of Act or Bd policy, neither exception applies to foreman who performed same duties as preceding foreman, and petitioner presented no evidence that exclusion of his classification will violate Act or Bd policy)

7533-2001—Cont.

Boston Cutting Die Company 258 NLRB No. 101
(Bd disagreed with RD's finding that because working foreman, sought to be included in unit pursuant to UC ptn, performed essentially same work for almost 3 years before he was promoted to working foreman in same department, it would not be disruptive of parties' bargaining relationship to entertain UC ptn; instead, Bd found that because foreman's promotion was in conformity with E's established practice of promotion after substantial period of departmental experience, it was a bona fide promotion, and consequently, foreman was currently bona fide member of working foreman classification)

7533-2001-0000 Intention of parties to include or exclude classification

Shop Rite Foods, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 143

7533-2020 Classifications existing at time of certification or recognotion

7533-2020-3300 Employees sought excluded from prior representation

The Washington Post Company 256 NLRB No. 190
(UC ptn to accrete confidential secretaries to unit dismissed for failure to show compelling reason for altering unit placement of Ees historically excluded from unit where their positions were not significantly changed as alleged; ptn raised qcr which may not be resolved in UC ptn, and, although closure of R hearing w/o fully litigating unit placement issues was erroneous, it did not prejudice U or warrant casting aside UC criteria or Ees' rights to vote in representation election; dismissal was w/o prejudice to filing R ptn)

James A. McBrady, Inc. and Maine Erection, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 017
(Bd refused to clarify unit when job classification was in existence at time previous collective bargaining agreement entered into and this agreement makes no specific reference to job classification; further, Ees in this job classification perform function separate and apart from other Ees; thus, ptn raises QCR which precludes Bd from changing previously established bargaining unit w/o first holding election)

7533-2020-6700 Petitioner never represented employees sought

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company 254 NLRB No. 052
(engineering clerks not represented by any other labor organization accreted into company-wide unit of clerical Ees where after E reorganized company engineering department ceased to exist; engineering clerks are only unrepresented Ees in segment and have substantial community of interest with clerical Ees already in bargaining unit; accretion proper notwithstanding engineering clerks' job titles and duties had not changed in 20 years and, therefore, Bd does not usually allow classifications of Ees who have been historically excluded from unit to be accreted into unit)

7533-2040 Classification functionally related

Missouri Pacific Employees' Hospital Association
and St. Louis-Little Rock Hospitals, Inc. d/b/a
Compton Hill Medical Center 251 NLRB No. 206
(secretary to president of E who is not involved with formulation of labor relations policies included in unit where her duties are similar to those performed by represented clerks and record not clear that position existed prior to bargaining agreement)

Missouri Pacific Employees' Hospital Association
and St. Louis-Little Rock Hospitals, Inc. d/b/a
Compton Hill Medical Center 251 NLRB No. 206
(financial administrator of E included in unit where newly created position and she performs duties not unlike those clerks already represented by U)

7533-2060 Classification established subsequent to certification or recognition

Holly Hill Fruit Products Co., Inc. 256 NLRB No. 035
(position of tank farm operators in newly established operation included in unit where 2 out of 3 were transferees from other positions with E, pay and benefits remained same, skills were similar to those utilized in prior positions; moreover fact that they receive higher pay and have different break schedules from other production Ees is insufficient to require exclusion from unit)

Missouri Pacific Employees' Hospital Association
and St. Louis-Little Rock Hospitals, Inc. d/b/a
Compton Hill Medical Center 251 NLRB No. 206
(position of medical laboratory technologist falls w/i definition of professional Ee as they have completed college degree program and are registered with professional association and use independent judgment and discretion in performance of their duties when analyzing and interpreting medical tests and, therefore, are excluded from technical unit w/o separate election)

Missouri Pacific Employees' Hospital Association
and St. Louis-Little Rock Hospitals, Inc. d/b/a
Compton Hill Medical Center 251 NLRB No. 206
(position of ward manager included in unit because of Ee's contact with other Ees represented by U, creation of position post-dated bargaining agreement, and there is no other unit in which Ee could be included)

Missouri Pacific Employees' Hospital Association
and St. Louis-Little Rock Hospitals, Inc. d/b/a
Compton Hill Medical Center 251 NLRB No. 206
(secretary to president of E who is not involved with formulation of labor relations policies included in unit where her duties are similar to those performed by represented clerks and record not clear that position existed prior to bargaining agreement)

Missouri Pacific Employees' Hospital Association
and St. Louis-Little Rock Hospitals, Inc. d/b/a
Compton Hill Medical Center 251 NLRB No. 206
(financial administrator of E included in unit where newly created position and she performs duties not unlike those clerks already represented by U)

Metromedia, Inc.—KMBC-TV 247 NLRB No. 087
(Bd clarified certified unit of cameramen to also include cameramen using newly introduced minicams where supervision same for minicam cameramen as for film cameramen, operation of both types of cameras and mechanical skills involved are same, and most important, job functions - video gathering of news - are essentially identical)

7533-2080 Classification changed subsequent to certification or recognition

Magnus Corporation 261 NLRB No. 069
(position of full-time plant storeroom specialist which encompasses all duties of old part-time receiver/stocker (not included in unit) and much more, properly included in unit which includes plant clerical Ees and shipping clerks though he does not share community of interest with other unit Ees; duties performed are essentially plant clerical; therefore, fact that position is salaried rather than hourly paid as other unit Ees is insufficient to preclude inclusion in unit)

The Washington Post Company 256 NLRB No. 190
(UC ptn to accrete confidential secretaries to unit dismissed for failure to show compelling reason for altering unit placement of Ees historically excluded from unit where their positions were not significantly changed as alleged; ptn raised qcr which may not be resolved in UC ptn, and, although closure of R hearing w/o fully litigating unit placement issues was erroneous, it did not prejudice U or warrant casting aside UC criteria or Ees' rights to vote in representation election; dismissal was w/o prejudice to filing R ptn)

7533-4000 Expanded or changed operations following certification or voluntary recognition

7533-4020 Subsequently acquired operations

Mac Towing, Inc., et al. 262 NLRB No. 168
(where E acquired another company, Ees in newly acquired unit found not to be accretion to existing bargaining unit where there has been no interchange of vessels or Ees w/other affiliated companies and Bd will not compel group of Ees who may constitute separate appropriate unit to be included in overall unit without allowing Ees to express their preference)

7533-4040 New locations

Westwood Import Company, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 162
(an accretion is by definition merely an addition of new Ees plus an already group of Ees so added to existing bargaining unit are regarded as part of that unit; in deciding whether new group of Ees is accretion to existing unit, Bd not only considers such factors as functional integration level of management control, similarity of working conditions, organizing history of Ee interchange, job skills, and physical separateness, but also gives special consideration to interests of unrepresented Ee in exercising their own right to self organization)

7533-4060 New operations

United Food Commercial Workers International Union, Local No. 1222, AFL-CIO,
CLC(Fedmart Stores, Inc.) 262 NLRB No. 88
(where dispute is not over assignment of work to one group of Ees rather than another within meaning of Sec. 8(b)(4)(D) but rather revolves around question of which U shall represent Ees whom E has chosen or will choose in future to operate SCORE marking system, matter is not dispute within meaning of Sec. 10(k) and notice of hearing quashed. However, determination was made in UC hearing)

Holly Hill Fruit Products Co., Inc. 256 NLRB No. 035
(position of tank farm operators in newly established operation included in unit where 2 out of 3 were transferees from other positions with E, pay and benefits remained same, skills were similar to those utilized in prior positions; moreover fact that they receive higher pay and have different break schedules from other production Ees is insufficient to require exclusion from unit)

7533-4060—Cont.

Westwood Import Company, Inc. 291 NLRB No. 162
(an accretion is by definition merely an addition of new Ees plus an already group of Ees so added to existing bargaining unit are regarded as part of that unit; in deciding whether new group of Ees is accretion to existing unit, Bd not only considers such factors as functional integration level of management control, similarity of working conditions, organizing history of Ee interchange, job skills, and physical separateness, but also gives special consideration to interests of unrepresented Ee in exercising their own right to self organization)

Local 282, Teamsters (Mid-County Transit Mix, Inc.) 290 NLRB No. 076
(when 2 affiliated companies merged into 3rd company (successor) and remaining Ee of one affiliated company transferred to unit of successor, Bd held Ee accretion to successor's bargaining unit notwithstanding member of different U)

7533-4080 Reorganization of operations

United Hospitals, Incorporated and The Children's Hospital, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 063
(where 3 E members of 21 E multi-E association planned merger and admitting clerks of 2 of these 3 E's were unrepresented by U, U's request that unrepresented Ees be treated as accretion to unit denied because out of 21 Ee groups only 2 were represented by U and Bd will not add unrepresented Ees to multi-E unit on a piece meal basis, notwithstanding all admitting clerks would be on 1 payroll, work in single admitting department, perform similar job functions under common supervision)

7533-4080-7500 Merged employees unrepresented

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company 284 NLRB No. 082
(engineering clerks not represented by any other labor organization accreted into company-wide unit of clerical Ees where after E reorganized company engineering department ceased to exist; engineering clerks are only unrepresented Ees in segment and have substantial community of interest with clerical Ees already in bargaining unit; accretion proper notwithstanding engineering clerks' job titles and duties had not changed in 20 years and, therefore, Bd does not usually allow classifications of Ees who have been historically excluded from unit to be accreted into unit)

7533-8000 Consolidation of existing units represented by same petitioner

7533-8004 Employerwide unit presumptively appropriate

7533-8004-5000 Existing units related by bargaining history

Stafford-Lowdon Company, An American-Standard Company 283 NLRB No. 031
(two-plant bargaining unit found appropriate and U C ptn dismissed where although differces in Ee skills, terms and conditions of employment, operations in two plants exist, these differences prevailed for past 21 years and only new difference since new ownership in last year is assignment of separate manager for both; this change not substantial enough to negate long bargaining history)

7533-8080 Rejection of clarification would leave parties no early course of relief

Shop Rite Foods, Inc. 267 NLRB No. 143
(UC ptn filed 101 days prior to expiration of then-current 3-year contract, timely filed, since Bd has processed UC ptn filed 90 days prior to expiration of agreement in Beth Israel Medical Center, 231 NLRB 295 (1977); ptn in instant case was only slightly earlier filed; Bd does not lack authority to clarify unit established by agreement of parties)

7533-9000 Division of single unit into multi units

Stafford-Lowdon Company, An American-Standard Company 283 NLRB No. 031
(two-plant bargaining unit found appropriate and U C ptn dismissed where although differces in Ee skills, terms and conditions of employment, operations in two plants exist, these differences prevailed for past 21 years and only new difference since new ownership in last year is assignment of separate manager for both; this change not substantial enough to negate long bargaining history)

393 PROCEDURE IN REPRESENTATION PROCEEDINGS

0100 GENERALLY

Methodist Hospital of Kentucky, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 563 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(ct found that striking Ees were effectively terminated prior to effective date of health care amendments and therefore did not acquire Ee status under Act merely because strike was in progress on effective date)

0133 EXEMPT FROM APA ADJUDICATION REQUIREMENTS

N.L.R.B. v. Eskimo Radiator Mfg. Co. 688 F.2d 1315 (C.A. 9, Oct. 1982)

1000 PARTIES

1001 GENERALLY

Axelson, Inc., subsidiary of U.S. Industries, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 010
(U which was vitally interested party in instant decertification proceeding but was not party and did not have opportunity to participate in related ULP case held not bound by record made in latter case)

2000 INTERVENTION

2033 INTERVENTION TO EXTENT INTEREST MAY APPEAR

Bally's Park Place, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 132
(reversing Wackenhut Corporation 223 NLRB 83 (1976), Bd returned to its prior practice of permitting nonqualified Us to participate in R elections conducted among guard Ees and of certifying arithmetic election results only when such Us are victorious but not certifying these Us; however, noncertification will not prevent such Us from representing guards should they win such elections)

2050 INTERVENTION BEFORE HEARING

Union College 247 NLRB No. 069
(motion by Ees' Association to intervene in instant case denied and cross ptn by Ees' association for election in another case dismissed, since association had not submitted timely showing of interest that predated election hearing)

3000 SERVICE OF DOCUMENTS

4000 SUBPOENAS

4001 GENERALLY

4001-5000 Nature and scope

Lodi Memorial Hospital Association, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 121
(E's subpena for production from Nurses' Association, on statewide or regional basis, of documents concerning its employment-related assistance to supervisors who are members of Association held not improperly limited by RD in its geographical scope to Es w/i county; in view of Bd's finding that E's conflict-of-interest theory concerning Association's assistance to supervisors was w/o merit, additional evidence obtained under subpena would not be relevant)

Lodi Memorial Hospital Association, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 121
(RD's denial of E's interim appeals from rulings of hearing officer sustained, where E's subpena sought complete minutes of Nurses' Association's board of directors and those of its region, hearing officer ruled that he would conduct in camera inspection of portions of minutes not voluntarily produced by Association, and further granted Association's mtn to quash E's subpena for minutes of Association's administration commission; evidence sought is not relevant in view of Bd's ruling that E's conflict-of-interest theory concerning whether Association is qualified to represent Ees was w/o merit)

4001-5033 Attendance and testimony of witnesses

Rolligon Corporation 254 NLRB No. 004
(Bd did not accept ALJ's recommendation that Bd should administratively require U, which distributed Bd subpenas to attend Bd R hearing, to pay subpenaed Ees witness and mileage fees; although statements signed by Ees did not constitute explicit waiver of their right to such fees, issue of money owed for fees is matter between U and subpenaed Ees that has not been raised by either party and is not before Bd; moreover, there is no administrative process whereby Bd could compel such payment)

Rolligon Corporation 254 NLRB No. 004
(use by any party of mass subpenas as device merely to generate Ee enthusiasm or interest, or to cause mass Ee attendance at Bd proceeding, condemned by Bd, since it clearly has potential to disrupt E's production schedule and is not purpose for which Bd subpenas were intended; subpenas are, on their face, issued to require attendance of potential witnesses, and if use of subpenas confused Ees or created appearance of Bd partisanship or otherwise impacted upon exercise of free choice by Ees, election would be set aside)

Rolligon Corporation 254 NLRB No. 004
(unlike cases involving altered documents or misstatements of law, Bd subpena does not involve misrepresentation of Bd actions; Bd issues subpenas in representation matters for all parties, at their request, and it is not apparent how their issuance could imply that Bd favored one party or the other)

Rolligon Corporation 254 NLRB No. 004
(RD's issuance of subpenas upon proper application is ministerial act which is largely automatic, but if there is abuse of Bd process, aggrieved party may bring matter to RD's attention and move to quash; moreover, should Bd discover widespread abuse of its process, it will consider sua sponte revisions of its R/R to meet such problem)

4001-5067 Production of any evidence

N.L.R.B. v. Thom Brown Shoes, Inc. No. 79-C-3173, Feb. 28, 1980, DC E.D. NY (unreported)
(names and addresses of Ees eligible to vote in R proceeding were proper subject of Bd subpoena duces tecum)

4060 REVOCATION

4060-0100 Generally

N.L.R.B. v. Pinkerton's, Inc. 621 F.2d 1322 (C.A. 6, June 1980)
(Bd or hearing officer has power to revoke subpoena)

4060-4700 Grounds for revocation

N.L.R.B. v. Pinkerton's, Inc. 621 F.2d 1322 (C.A. 6, June 1980)
(subpoena of materials for purpose of establishing possible proprietary interest of U in competitor of E properly quashed since not relevant, absent evidence for believing relationship existed or that there was potential conflict of interests that would preclude U from representing Ees of E)

5000 EXPEDITED ELECTION PROCEDURE

Rockford Redi-Mix Co., Inc. v. Glen Zipp, RD 632 F.2d 30 (C.A. 7, 1980)
(district ct had no jurisdiction to review Bd decision denying certification to expedited election conducted pursuant to 8(b)(7)(C) during period in which challenges to validity of election were being resolved; ct rejected contention that Bd's rule that election becomes valid under 8(b)(7)(B) when all challenges and objections to it have been resolved is contrary to Act when applied to expedited election conducted under 8(b)(7)(C))

Rockford Redi-Mix Co., Inc. v. Glen Zipp, RD 632 F.2d 30 (C.A. 7, 1980)
(contention that GC violated Act when he failed to issue ULP complaint against U that picketed for recognition after date of expedited election under 8(b)(7)(C) during period in which challenges to validity of election were being resolved, rejected; assuming limited review may be available under Freedom v. Kyne, ct held there is no specific and unambiguous provision of Act requiring action in conformity with E's immediate certification theory, and jurisdiction is, accordingly not present to consider GC's failure to treat as valid an election that had not yet been determined to be valid)

Rockford Redi-Mix Co., Inc. v. Glen Zipp, RD 632 F.2d 30 (C.A. 7, 1980)
(ct declined to rule on issue as to validity of Bd's R/R and procedures set forth in GC's case handling manual which provide for holding hearings prior to conducting expedited elections in certain extraordinary cases, and which E claimed were in conflict with clear command of 8(b)(7)(C); controversy as to Bd and GC is hypothetical, abstract, and not ripe for review, and E lacks standing to contest their validity)

5000—Cont.

6000 PRE-ELECTION PROCEDURE

6007 FILING OF PETITION

6007-1700 Timeliness

Vanity Fair Mills, Inc., Clarks Mills Division 256 NLRB No. 148

(ptn improperly dismissed, notwithstanding filed w/i insulated period of 60 days prior to third anniversary of contract for more than three years and that prior to filing of ptn in proper form parties had executed new contract, where petitioner acted on advice of Regional Office which was unaware of and did not attempt to find out origination date and duration of contract)

Chicago Health and Tennis Clubs, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 018

(decertification ptn dismissed as untimely because filed w/i certification year extended pursuant to ct enforced Bd D/O since year did not begin to run at time E made offer to bargain with U which also contained preconditions regarding nonmandatory subject of bargaining which U was free to, and did, reject; therefore, such offer did not rise to good faith bargaining)

6007-3300 Adequacy

Community Tele-Communications, Inc., d/b/a Helena Cable T.V. 249 NLRB No. 088

(U's contention that deauthorization ptn should be dismissed since appropriate unit should include both office Ees and installers and technicians rather than only office Ees as pattern of bargaining has been to include separately certified units under one contract rejected, where no intent to merge two units into single unit as evidenced by reference in supplemental agreement to 2 units)

6014 PRELIMINARY INVESTIGATION

Chester Valley, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 190

(election can be set aside on basis of conduct discovered during investigation even though particular conduct was not object of specific objection)

Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company v. N.L.R.B. 633 F.2d 1079 (C.A. 4, 1980)

(Sec. 9(c)(1) prohibits ct from ordering Bd to conduct hearing in R case since hearing must be provided only after Bd has reasonable cause to believe qcr exists; since Bd met its statutory obligation by conducting investigation, ct cannot interfere with Bd's evaluation of investigation short of Bd's arbitrary action, and Bd's decision herein to dismiss decertification ptn, whether right or wrong, was not arbitrary)

6027 WITHDRAWAL OF PETITION

6027-2000 Basis of withdrawal

ECM, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 141

(where petitioner at hearing expressed willingness to proceed to election in broader unit, if found appropriate, but was not asked and did not indicate whether it wished to proceed in smaller unit found appropriate herein, Bd held that, in event petitioner does not wish to proceed with election as directed, it may withdraw its ptn w/o prejudice by notice to RD w/i 7 days from date of instant decision)

Fenestral, Inc., A Subsidiary of Yonkers Plate Glass Co. 251 NLRB No. 113

(petitioner's request to withdraw R ptn granted in view of fact neither petitioner nor intervenor currently has interest in representing Ees)

6034 DISMISSAL OF PETITION

The Washington Post Company 256 NLRB No. 014

(dismissal of U C ptn denied where, apart from its timeliness, its processing is now proper, in view of peculiar genesis of case arising from fact that, but for RD's proposals, properly acquiesced in by E at time of hearing, and subsequent election, earlier R hearing would have continued and E would have been permitted to present its case on unit placement issues and, consequently, instant U C ptn is offshoot of earlier hearing)

6034-1400 Authority of Regional Director

Transportation Enterprises, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 630 F.2d 421 (C.A. 5, 1980)

(decisions of RD, if not set aside by Bd,are entitled to same weight as determinations by Bd; RD's opinion final determination binding parties where party with prerogative to appeal to Bd did not do so)

6034-2000 Basis for dismissal

Alma Plastics Company 249 NLRB No. 068

(ptn for P&M unit limited to one of two plants located in city dismissed, where citywide P&M complement is approximately 10 times larger than petitioned-for unit, and petitioner has not indicated a desire to proceed to election in broader unit)

Jones Collings, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 053

(mtn to dismiss ptn based on assertion that only one person was left in unit denied, where GC and charging party opposed on ground that mtn deprived them of opportunity to cross-examine witnesses and examine in formal proceeding E's assertions as to unit size; E not prejudiced as to filing mtn to revoke certification if U certified)

Ithaca College 261 NLRB No. 083

(full time faculty at college held managerial Ees and ptn dismissed, in view of their extensive authority to formulate and effectuate policies, absolute authority as to curriculum, determines academic policies, faculty hiring, tenure, budgetary matters and facilities planning)

Thiel College 261 NLRB No. 084

(unit of full-time faculty at college held managerial Ees and ptn dismissed, since faculty did not have professional interest apart from E and played large role in operating college, where it set requirements for admission and graduation, formulated curriculum and grading system, selected chairmen of departments subject to confirmation of academic dean and vice-president for academic services, was involved in setting course schedules and teaching loads and budgetary matters including faculty salaries and benefits, and effectively participated in faculty hiring, firing, promotion and tenure)

Vanity Fair Mills, Inc., Clarks Mills Division 256 NLRB No. 148

(ptn improperly dismissed, notwithstanding filed w/i insulated period of 60 days prior to third anniversary of contract for more than three years and that prior to filing of ptn in proper form parties had executed new contract, where petitioner acted on advice of Regional Office which was unaware of and did not attempt to find out origination date and duration of contract)

United States Postal Service 256 NLRB No. 095

(Bd dismissed postal service's RM ptn for single, national unit, and denied hearing on RD's dismissal of ptn, since granting of E's request would require hearing that would consume much time when current bargaining agreement was about to expire; conduct of election would be task of mammoth proportions which Bd would undertake in appropriate circumstances which are not present herein; and E did not demonstrate that it truly questioned representative status of various Us in long-established units)

Albuquerque Insulation Contractor, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 015

(construction contractor's 9(c)(1)(B) election ptn, dismissed, since U's request for lawful 8(f) agreement did not raise qcr inasmuch as it did not request recognition of a representative as defined in section 9(a), as provided in 9(c)(1)(B), which requires majority status; and 9(c)(1)(B), therefore, permits elections on E ptn only when E has been presented with claim of majority status which U did not make herein; nor did U's statements and conduct following E's refusal to sign agreement establish that U's request was tantamount to a majority claim)

Gaithersburg-Washington Grove Fire Dept., Inc. 255 NLRB No. 128

(ptn dismissed w/o prejudice to its being refiled at a later date since issues raised by it were not ripe for adjudication where county laws under which E, providing fire fighting and rescue squad services for county, must operate were in such a state of evolution that Bd was unable to determine whether E met employer definition of Sec. 2(2), or whether E had sufficient control over employment conditions of its Ees to enable it to bargain with U as their representative)

Catholic Community Services 254 NLRB No. 090

(E's mtn to dismiss ptn on grounds that ptn was filed w/i 6 months of dismissal of ptn in prior case and that showing of interest was tainted by participation of supervisors in petitioner's organizational campaign denied where (1) ptn in prior case was dismissed because unit petitioned for was not appropriate and accordingly there was no 6-month period of prejudice and no bar to filing of ptn, and (2) there was no evidence that supervisors participated in solicitation of showing of interest)

Chicago Health and Tennis Clubs, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 018

(decertification ptn dismissed as untimely because filed w/i certification year extended pursuant to ct enforced Bd D/O since year did not begin to run at time E made offer to bargain with U which also contained preconditions regarding nonmandatory subject of bargaining which U was free to, and did, reject; therefore, such offer did not rise to good faith bargaining)

Union College 247 NLRB No. 069

(motion by Ees' Association to intervene in instant case denied and cross ptn by Ees' association for election in another case dismissed, since association had not submitted timely showing of interest that predated election hearing)

William Mann, Estate of Belle Mann 247 NLRB No. 20

(ptn dismissed since no qcr existed where intervening incumbent U's disclaimer of interest in representing petitioned-for unit of Ees was untimely and ineffective attempt to withdraw from multi-E bargaining)

6034-4200 Effect of

Transportation Enterprises, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 630 F.2d 421 (C.A. 5, 1980)

(decisions of RD, if not set aside by Bd,are entitled to same weight as determinations by Bd; RD's opinion final determination binding parties where party with prerogative to appeal to Bd did not do so)

6034-5000 Adequacy of statement of reasons

United States Postal Service 256 NLRB No. 095

(postal service's contention that RD's dismissal of its RM ptn for single, national unit was arbitrary and capricious and that it was entitled to hearing and benefit of record, rejected, where ptn failed to comply with statutory requirements of PRA and NLRA, and with implementing regulations; and ptn was defective in that it merely sought to have Bd determine appropriate unit w/o regard to admitted lack of any U claim for U representation)

6034-5600—Cont.

6034-7000 Appeal to Board

Transportation Enterprises, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 630 F.2d 421 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(decisions of RD, if not set aside by Bd,are entitled to same weight as determinations by Bd; RD's opinion final determination binding parties where party with prerogative to appeal to Bd did not do so)

6034-7033 Timeliness

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(U C ptn filed immediately following election held timely despite U's assertion that unit found appropriate by RD was identical to contractually recognized unit, since certified unit excluded supervisors, managers, and confidential Ees, which are Ee categories in dispute herein; E never indicated intention to abandon its unit composition contentions introduced at R hearing; and dismissal of ptn is not warranted because of statutory issues involved)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(contention that U C ptn was untimely because district ct had held that agreement between parties was still in effect, rejected, where ct had instead ruled that issue was whether arbitration was mandated pursuant to expired contract; fact that contract terms may continue during negotiations for new contract does not deprive Bd of jurisdiction in dispute herein, and contention that issue might possibly be decided by arbitration cannot be seriously considered because issue of statutory status of Ees involved herein is matter for Bd to determine)

6038 REINSTATEMENT OF PETITION

College of Osteopathic Medicine and Surgery 265 NLRB No. 037
(Bd's determination that college faculty members were managerial Ees not qualified for protection of Act was dependent on particular facts of current situation; if college later removed sufficient authority from its faculty members so that they reverted to status of nonmanagerial Ees, Bd would process proffered R ptn at that time)

6041 CONSOLIDATION OF PROCEEDINGS

6041-3300 R case with C case

6041-3367 Inappropriate

Axelson, Inc., subsidiary of U.S. Industries, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 010
(petitioner's mtn to consolidate and/or for reconsideration on ground Bd decision in instant decertification proceeding overruling objection to election should be considered together with subsequent Bd decision finding violation by E on basis of conduct which was subject of objection, denied, where E did not seek to have ULP case consolidated or considered with instant proceeding until after ULP decision issued; contentions that consideration will facilitate final, just resolution of issues and relief to be accorded, and that relief granted for E's violation is wholly inadequate, rejected)

Axelson, Inc., subsidiary of U.S. Industries, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 010
(petitioner's mtn to consolidate and/or for reconsideration based on allegedly inconsistent decisions as result of Bd decision finding violation on basis of conduct which was subject of previously overruled objection to election in instant decertification proceeding denied as untimely; findings of fact are based on respective records in each case, and record herein shows insufficient evidence to warrant setting aside election; to extent petitioner argues Bd's findings herein are erroneous on record then before it, regardless of record in ULP case, petitioner's second mtn for reconsideration is a year late)

Axelson, Inc., subsidiary of U.S. Industries, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 010
(petitioner's mtn to consolidate and/or for reconsideration as result of Bd finding of 8(a)(1) violation on basis of conduct which was subject of previously overruled objection to election in instant decertification proceeding, denied; Bd rejected contention that, since (8a)(1) conduct a fortiori interferes with election, such finding invalidates retroactively Bd's conclusion herein that E's conduct did not warrant setting election aside; a fortiori principle was attempt by Bd to avoid mechanical approach and Bd looks to economic realities of E-Ee relationship in determining whether to set aside election)

Axelson, Inc., subsidiary of U.S. Industries, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 010
(petitioner's mtn to consolidate and/or for reconsideration as result of Bd finding of 8(a)(1) violation on basis of conduct which was subject of previously overruled objection to election in instant decertification proceeding, denied; effect of narrow ruling herein was that, if U has won election despite E's campaign against it, election results stand as against mechanical insistence on laboratory conditions; and fact that E's conduct was later found violative does not cast issue into any light significantly different from that in which Bd first examined it)

6054 CONSENT ELECTION AGREEMENTS

6054-0100 Generally

Affiliated Midwest Hospital Inc., d/b/a Riveredge Hospital 251 NLRB No. 029
(where consent election agreements have been approved and elections held, Bd will look to circumstances to ascertain parties' intent or agreement and then if issue is still in doubt declare the agreement defective and the election a nullity)

New England Lumber Division of Diamond International Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 646 F.2d 1 (C.A. 1, Apr 1981)
(Bd has broad discretion to interpret ambiguities in Stipulation for Certification Upon Consent Election and here stipulation provided that observers must be nonsupervisory Ees of E (division of large company) and U's use of Ee, U president employed at another division of company, as observer found consistent with terms of stipulation)

Summa Corporation d/b/a Frontier Hotel v. N.L.R.B. 625 F.2d 293 (C.A. 9, Aug. 1980)
(where parties had stipulated prior to election that each would be allowed 2 observers, and U, with Bd agent's permission, had 3rd observer present, election set aside as E entitled to insist that Bd and U diligently adhere to provisions of stipulation designed to insure fair election; moreover, no showing of actual prejudice necessary)

Summa Corporation d/b/a Frontier Hotel v. N.L.R.B. 625 F.2d 293 (C.A. 9, Aug. 1980)
(where breach of election agreement occurs, results of election should be overturned only if breach is material or prejudicial)

6054-6700 Agreements for determination of post election issues by Board

6054-6750 Stipulation of unit

St. Peters Manor, Inc. d/b/a St. Peters Manor Care Center 261 NLRB No. 171
(in stipulation for cert. election, parties stipulated to unit which excluded business office clericals; thereafter, at preelection conference parties orally agreed to include these clericals. Bd upheld challenge to their ballots as outside stipulated unit since stipulation clear and unequivocal and no evidence parties did not intend to exclude business office clericals)

Affiliated Midwest Hospital Inc., d/b/a Riveredge Hospital 251 NLRB No. 029
(where parties incorporated Norris-Thermador lists by reference into consent election agreements rather than describing the units, Bd found that they had consented to requirement that decertification elections be held in previously recognized units, and that units described in the ptns conformed to existing contractual units with minor variences)

6054-8200 Circumstances warranting withdrawal from agreement

Consolidated Print Works, Inc., and Auto Screen Print Corp. 260 NLRB No. 129
(setting aside election not warranted, where, though stipulation for consent election contained an eligibility date, Bd agent had informed parties that this date was conditioned on date Rd approved stipulation and, though U protested orally in interim period about any change in eligibility date, it took no further actions that were available to it to protest change in eligibility date set forth in approved stipulation; thus U effectively acquiesced in changed date)

6061 BLOCKING CHARGE POLICY

6061-3300 Pending charge of ULP affecting unit employees

Gould, Inc. v. Robert S. Fuchs, et al. 486 F.Supp. 164 (D Ct, CT, 1980)
(Bd's mtn to dismiss for lack of jurisdiction E's mtn for preliminary inj or writ of mandamus to set aside Bd's postponement of election under its blocking charge policy, granted for case not w/i Leedom v. Kyne exception to Sec. 10 limitation on appellate cts' jurisdiction to review Bd's nonfinal orders; postponement was pursuant to exercise of Bd's discretion in formulating blocking charge policy and not in excess of delegated powers for failure to analyze whether to postpone or conduct election, or in contravention of specific prohibition of Act for failure to conduct election)

6061-3309 Deferral of decertification proceeding required in face of refusal to bargain charge

W & W Steel Company v. N.L.R.B. 599 F.2d 934 (C.A. 10, 1979)
(decertification ptn wrongfully dismissed where ptn for election covering single plant purchased by new E and existing certification covered E-wide unit was filed one week prior to E receiving notice that ULP charges had been filed against it, although U had filed charges five days earlier)

6061-3362 Dismissal of petition

6061-3362—Cont.

Kennicott Bros. Company 256 NLRB No. 082
(Bd found incorrect RD's opn that it would be inappropriate following withdrawal of ULP charge to reinstate decertification ptn which had previously been dismissed because of the pendency of that charge)

Carol Estes and 166 Other Warehouse Facility Employees v. N.L.R.B. No. 78-4068 (D Ct. KS, Jan. 5, 1979 (unreported))
(application of blocking charge rule to decertification ptn during pendency of ULP charges filed by U and Cs issued on behalf of Bd concerning charges, held appropriate, since it was reasonable to assume RD, at time of dismissal of ptn, had some idea whether U's charges were substantial and whether representation election could fairly be held)

6061-6700 Request to proceed

6061-6750 Constitutes waiver of election objections based upon charge

Graham Architectural Products Corporation 259 NLRB No. 153
(not in all cases)

6068 HEARING

6068-0100 Generally

Semco Printing Center, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 073
(in summary judgment proceeding, Bd rejected E's contention that it is entitled to hearing on specified objections to election, where Bd, prior to adopting findings and recommendations of RD's report with respect to objections, considered report, exceptions thereto, and entire record and, by its adoption of portion of report recommending that objections herein be overruled, necessarily found that such objections raised no material issue warranting a hearing)

Semco Printing Center, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 073
(parties do not have right to hearing on objections to election; it is only when moving party presents prima facie showing of substantial and material issues which would warrant setting aside election that it is entitled to evidentiary hearing; absent arbitrary action, this qualified right to hearing satisfies due process requirements)

The Altoona Hospital 253 NLRB No. 107
(parties do not have absolute right to hearing on objections to election; it is only when moving party presents prima facie showing of substantial and material issues which would warrant setting aside election that it is entitled to evidentiary hearing)

The North American Soccer League, etc., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 613 F.2d 1379 (C.A. 5) (1980)
(soccer league not denied due process by Bd's refusal to conduct representation hearing in any city other than a named city, where there was presence of league offices and records in the named city and there was testimony at hearings by representatives of some of the clubs)

6068-4000 Continuation or postponement of

Radio Free Europe/Radio Liberty, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 063
(E's request that hearing on decertification ptn be postponed because its counsel was out of country was erroneously denied)

6068-6000 Hearing Officer

6068-6003 Qualification

N.L.R.B. v. Elixir Industries 682 F.2d 867 (C.A. 9, July 1982)
(E's contention certification improper where student legal assistant used as hearing officer in representation hearing, rejected; notwithstanding this function not included in job description)

6068-6067 Authority of

6068-6067-5000 Examination of witnesses

Mid-Con Cables, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 120
(case remanded for hearing for limited purpose of permitting E to cross-examine petitioner's witness where, after witness had testified on direct examination, HO denied E's request for cross-examination of such witness)

6068-6067-6700 Obligation to develop complete record

Crown Coach Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 626 F.2d 865(T) (C.A. 9, 1980)
(enforcement denied and case remanded for further hearing where ct found prejudicial error in denial of E during hearing on objections to election to question Es witness on issue of U agency in regard to Es misconduct)

6068-8000 Procedural due process at hearing

Radio Free Europe/Radio Liberty, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 063
(E's request that hearing on decertification ptn be postponed because its counsel was out of country was erroneously denied)

Daylight Grocery Company, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 678 F.2d 905 (C.A. 11, June 1982)
(E's procedural objection that hearing officer's failure to consider E's request for 14-day extension of briefing date after hearing on unit question violated Bd's procedure and E's statutory and due process interests held w/o merit, where RD granted 3-day extension and E made no showing of prejudice)

6068-8500 Bias and prejudice

French Hospital Medical Center 254 NLRB No. 083
(contention by E that it was denied due process since RD's adverse rulings and denial of E's request for continuance were motivated by bonus under Senior Executive Service wage system amount of which would be based partly on speed with which ptns are processed; rejected, inasmuch as processing time is only one element in determining amount of bonus, all RD's rulings are subject to Bd review with quality of decisions and percentage of reversals by Bd also considered as factors)

6081 DECISION ON PETITION

6081-2000 Decision by Regional Director

French Hospital Medical Center 254 NLRB No. 083
(contention by E that it was denied due process since RD's adverse rulings and denial of E's request for continuance were motivated by bonus under Senior Executive Service wage system amount of which would be based partly on speed with which ptns are processed; rejected, inasmuch as processing time is only one element in determining amount of bonus, all RD's rulings are subject to Bd review with quality of decisions and percentage of reversals by Bd also considered as factors)

6081-2001 Generally

Transportation Enterprises, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 630 F.2d 421 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(Bd and its regional offices are free to reconsider their own decisions in light of changing circumstances and needs, but reversal of previous jurisdictional finding, which was final, must be applied prospectively only)

6081-4000 Review of Regional Director's decision

6081-4033 Grounds for request to Board

6081-4033-2000 Substantial question of law or policy

6081-4033-2033 Absence of officially reported Board precedent

Educational and Recreational Services, Inc., d/b/a Associated Charter Bus Company, San Bernardino Division 261 NLRB No. 055
(unpublished Bd decisions affirming regional determinations have no binding precedential value)

6081-4080 Review limited to record

National Duct Corporation 265 NLRB No. 050
(statements of witnesses are expressly excluded from record as defined in Bd's R/R Section 102.69(g)(1)(ii); however when appended to objections they become part of record and are considered by BD)

Summa Corporation d/b/a Frontier Hotel 265 NLRB No. 046
(record in objections cases where no hearing is held consists of objections which were filed, RD's report or decision, all documentary evidence, except statements of witnesses, relied on by RD in his report or decision, any briefs or other legal memorandum submitted by parties, and any other motions, rulings or order of RD. Moreover, party may append to its exception or opposition any affidavit or other documentary evidence which it has timely submitted to RD, and these documents will become part of record and fully considered by Bd)

Summa Corporation d/b/a Frontier Hotel 265 NLRB No. 046
(to obtain de novo review of entire investigatory file, objecting party must demonstrate that substantial or material factual issues exist)

Wickes Furniture, A Division of The Wickes Corporation 261 NLRB No. 151
(Sec. 102.67(f) of Bd's R/R, concerning request for review applies with equal force to proposition that Respondent is precluded from relitigating issues which were or could have been litigated in prior R proceeding, whether R proceeding involves decision made in first instance by Bd, RD's decision which Bd has declined to review, RD's report which Bd has adopted, or hearing officer's report which Bd has adopted)

Bon Secours Hospital, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 019
(where E's brief to Bd contains factual statements not in record of hearing Bd will accept brief but will not rely on facts not established in record)

6081-4067 Effect of denial of request

6081-4067-3300 Affirmance of Regional Director's action

6081-4067-3300—Cont.

Educational and Recreational Services, Inc., d/b/a Associated Charter Bus Company, San Bernardino Division — 261 NLRB No. 055

(unpublished Bd decisions affirming regional determinations have no binding precedential value)

6081-6000 Decision by Board

6081-6050 Dismissal of petition

Young's Market Company — 265 NLRB No. 094

(Bd found decertification ptns raised no qcr and dismissed them as inappropriate because petitioning units were not coextensive with multi-E unit of which they were a part; contention that petitioning Ees' E's withdrawal was effective because U was fragmented, rejected, since even if original multi-E unit were fragmented, E still functioned as part of smaller multi-E unit of withdrawing Es)

6081-6075 Direction of election

6081-6075-5000 Requirement of furnishing of lists of employees (Excelsior)

United Food and Commercial Workers, Local 400, a/w United Food and Commercial Workers, AFL-CIO v. N.L.R.B. — 694 F.2d 276 (C.A.D.C., Nov. 1982)

(Bd's Excelsior requirement does not specifically appear in NLRA and cannot reasonably be viewed as statutory mandate violation under Leedom v. Kyne exception where Bd failed to send U complete list of Ees eligible to vote prior to R election. Therefore, district ct lacked jurisdiction to order Bd to order another election as Bd decision in this election case is not final agency action that is subject to judicial review)

N.L.R.B. v. Thom Brown Shoes, Inc. — No. 79-C-3173, Feb. 20, 1980, DC E.D. NY (unreported)

(names and addresses of Ees eligible to vote in R proceeding were proper subject of Bd subpoena duces tecum)

6081-8000 Reconsideration of decision

Transportation Enterprises, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. — 630 F.2d 421 (C.A. 5, 1980)

(Bd and its regional offices are free to reconsider their own decisions in light of changing circumstances and needs, but reversal of previous jurisdictional finding, which was final, must be applied prospectively only)

6081-8025 Articulation of rationale

Carter-Glogau Laboratories, Inc. — 265 NLRB No. 017

(E's contention that it was denied due process by Bd's failure to explicate its reason for denying E's request for review in underlying representation proceeding held w/o merit, since in denying request for review, Bd adopted as its own rationale set forth by RD in his Supplemental Decision and Order, and Bd has held that no greater articulation of its rationale is required of it)

6088 RECORD

6088-3300 R&R 102.68

Odom Sausage Co., Inc. of Arkansas — 256 NLRB No. 045

(Bd maintains that under Sec. 102.68 of R/R, affidavits submitted in support of objections to election are not part of record)

N.L.R.B. v. The Cambridge Wire Cloth Company, Inc. — 622 F.2d 1195 (C.A. 4, 1980)

(where RD determines that objections to election do not require hearing, RD, and not objecting party, is responsible for transmitting whole record (all evidence considered in reaching decision) to Bd for its review on appeal, notwithstanding R/R 102.69(g) places responsibility for submission of documents on objecting party)

6088-6700 Does not include investigatory files

National Duct Corporation — 265 NLRB No. 080

(statements of witnesses are expressly excluded from record as defined in Bd's R/R Section 102.69(g)(1)(ii); however when appended to objections they become part of record and are considered by BD)

Summa Corporation d/b/a Frontier Hotel — 265 NLRB No. 046

(record in objections cases where no hearing is held consists of objections which were filed, RD's report or decision, all documentary evidence, except statements of witnesses, relied on by RD in his report or decision, any briefs or other legal memorandum submitted by parties, and any other motions, rulings or order of RD. Moreover, party may append to its exception or opposition any affidavit or other documentary evidence which it has timely submitted to RD, and these documents will become part of record and fully considered by Bd)

North Electric Company, Plant No. 10, Gray, Tennessee — 262 NLRB No. 174

(Bd accepted as law of the case ct's remand instruction to review Ee's affidavit obtained by RD during investigation of objections, but noted that it continues to be Bd policy that affidavits independently acquired by RD during investigation of objections are confidential and not part of record)

Odom Sausage Co., Inc. of Arkansas — 256 NLRB No. 045

(under Section 102.68 of R/R affidavits independently acquired during investigation of election objections are confidential and are not part of record in representation or subsequent ULP proceeding)

N.L.R.B. v. Eskimo Radiator Mfg. Co. — 688 F.2d 1315 (C.A. 9, Oct. 1982)

(even if RD failed to include E's affidavits in record when he transferred case to Bd, this is harmless error where E filed its own affidavits with Bd)

6096 REOPENING RECORD AND REMAND

N.L.R.B. v. Tio Pepe, Inc. — 629 F.2d 964 (C.A. 4, 1980)

(ct denied enforcement of bargaining order and remanded case to Bd for evidentiary hearing on two issues advanced in E's mtn to reopen record since E made sufficient prima facie factual showing of after-discovered evidence that captains had promised other dining room Ees that, if U won, captain's distribution of pooled tips would be adjusted in their favor, which, if sustained later at full hearing, would undermine Bd's reasons for its denial of supervisory status for captains in unit of dining room Ees and further significantly affect election by way of monetary inducement for U support)

7000 POST-ELECTION PROCEDURE

7011 FILING OF CHALLENGES AND OBJECTIONS TO ELECTION

7011-2000 Time for filing

Cardio Data Systems Corp. — 264 NLRB No. 011

(Bd disavowed ALJ's remark in his ULP decision that U was no longer able to file timely objections in concurrent R proceeding where election had occurred over a year prior to issuance of ALJ's decision, where in R proceeding ballots had been impounded and there had not yet been tally of ballots; in such circumstances, time for filing of objections had not yet begun to run; see R/R Sec. 102.69)

Monier Roof Tiles — 249 NLRB No. 092

(Acting Regional Director's recommendation, that E's objections to election be overruled for lack of evidence, adopted by Bd where E by rejecting proposed settlement, accepted submission of its objections to the Regional Director but failed to do so; Region did not abuse its discretion, since E presented no evidence in support of objections by mandated deadline)

7011-2001 Generally

Browning-Ferris Industries, Chemical Services, Inc. — 259 NLRB No. 009

(mtn to include amended allegations to objections to election after Bd had ruled on objections denied as untimely request to file objections)

Burns International Security Services, Inc. — 256 NLRB No. 168

(Bd did not intend in American Safety Equipment, 234 NLRB 501, that failure to file objections w/i time provided by Bd's R/R can no longer serve as basis for refusing to consider them)

7011-2050 Within 5 days of furnishing of tally of ballots

Fay's Drug Company, Inc. — 256 NLRB No. 042

(objections to election not timely filed where objections not received in Regional Office until day after deadline, notwithstanding filed by telegram in afternoon of due date where petitioner advanced no valid or compelling reason for its lateness in filing and sending telegram 1-1/2 hours before Regional Office which is not substantial compliance)

N.L.R.B. v. Campbell Products Department, Harry T. Campbell Sons Company, Division of Flintkote Company — 623 F.2d 876 (C.A. 3, 1980)

(where E filed timely objection and subsequently filed another objection after 5 day period, Bd erred in not considering merits of latter objection holding it was untimely filed, since established Bd policy is that once timely objection filed RDs are required to consider all evidence of improper conduct brought to their attention or that they discover themselves during their investigation)

7011-2075 Within 3 days of furnishing revised tally of ballots

Stanco, Inc. — 240 NLRB No. 171

(where E was not present at opening of certain E's ballot, Bd rejected E's contentions that it was denied due process and that Ee's ballot should be declared void, notwithstanding E's assertion that its counsel did not receive RD's letter advising parties of date and time when Ee's ballot would be opened until 3 days after date scheduled for opening, one day after E had been furnished revised tally; E failed to either file objection to revised tally, or request for extention of time in which to do so)

7011-4000 Statement of reasons for objections

N.L.R.B. v. Advanced Systems, Inc. — 681 F.2d 918 (C.A. 9, Apr. 1982)

(where RD failed to submit full record to Bd, Bd's contention that it was entitled to rely on RD's report w/o resort to full administrative record in view of lack of specificity of E's exceptions to report, rejected, since difficulty in determining whether exceptions materially dispute RD's findings stems not from E's lack of specificity but from RD's failure to disclose evidentiary basis for his conclusion)

7011-4000—Cont.

The Fort Miller Company Inc. v. Thomas W. Seeler, RD (78-CV-482 Dec. 11, 1978, D Ct. NY) (unreported)

(ct had no jurisdiction to enjoin Bd from conducting any further investigation of objections to election on basis that objections did not comply with Bd's R/R which require short statement of reasons for objections since plaintiff's only recourse for review was under sections 10(e) and (f) of Act where Bd did not act in excess of its powers or contrary to Act; herein, procedure followed by RD was practical and fundamentally fair and evidence furnished by U satisfied provisions of Bd's R/R)

7011-5000 Obligation to furnish evidence in support of objections

7011-5000 Obligation to furnish evidence in support of objections

European Parts Exchange, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 032

(where E failed to supply Bd with specific evidence tantamount to offer of proof which prima facie would warrant setting election aside, Bd did not remand for investigation of objections but certified Representative)

St. Peters Manor, Inc. d/b/a St. Peters Manor Care Center 261 NLRB No. 171

(affidavit, submitted directly to Bd in support of exception to RD's decision that challenge to ballot be sustained, not considered by Bd since not timely submitted where dated 8 days after issuance of RD's report submitted directly to Bd, furthermore, not contended evidence in affidavit was newly discovered or previously unattainable)

Monier Roof Tiles 249 NLRB No. 092

(Acting Regional Director's recommendation, that E's objections to election be overruled for lack of evidence, adopted by Bd where E by rejecting proposed settlement, accepted submission of its objections to the Regional Director but failed to do so; Region did not abuse its discretion, since E presented no evidence in support of objections by mandated deadline)

Beaird-Poulan Division, Emerson Electric Company v. N.L.R.B. 649 F.2d 589 (C.A. 8, May 1981)

(burden is on objecting party to prove prejudice to fairness of election)

N.L.R.B. v. Advanced Systems, Inc. 681 F.2d 918 (C.A. 9, Apr. 1982)

(party seeking to overturn election because of coercive conduct carries heavy burden. Question is whether coercive conduct so influenced potential voters that free choice was impossible. In assessing effect of conduct on election less weight is accorded to conduct not attributable to U or E. Test for setting aside election because of third party conduct is whether conduct was so aggravated that it made free choice impossible)

7011-9000 Affidavits containing hearsay may be submitted

EDS-IDAB, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 666 F.2d 971 (C.A. 5, Feb. 1982)

(Ee affidavits submitted by E to support his objections to election improperly excluded from consideration by RD because they contained hearsay statements, for at this stage of proceeding all witnesses are voluntary, and reluctent witnesses, who were quoted in affidavits, can be subpoened to testify at hearing)

7011-6000 Service on other parties

Theta Cable of California 261 NLRB No. 175

(Bd considered E's objections despite fact that E served objections to wrong party, where error was due to clerical inadvertence rather than disregard for Bd's rules, and E supported its deviation from clear requirements of R/R Sec. 102.69 by showing an honest attempt to substantially comply with rules on service of objections in that E timely served regional office, and E, once notified that attempted service had been unsuccessful, took immediate steps to effectuate proper service on petitioner)

Empire Moving & Storage, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 183

(objections not dismissed notwithstanding U served E with copies of objections 3 calendar days and 1 working day after time stipulated in Bd's R/R Section 102.69(a) for service on other parties to election, in view of fact only 1 business day late, failure to serve E was not deliberate and U served E immediately upon being informed by Region of its oversight in matter)

Glenby Wholesale, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 088

(objections remanded to RD for consideration on merits, notwithstanding lack of proof of immediate service as required by Bd's R/R 102.69 since failure to attach proof of service was clerical inadvertance and there was honest attempt to substantially comply with requirement where proof of service form was attached to objections when objections prepared, there was good faith belief it remained attached when filed with Region, and transmittal letter stated that copy of objections had been served "ERR16"as is more fully set forth in attached proof of service)

Allegheny Warehouse Company, Inc., and Star Warehouse Corporation 256 NLRB No. 009

(Bd denied E's mtn to dismiss U's objections on ground U failed to make timely service on parties when it timely served RD by express mail but simultaneously mailed copies to parties by regular mail, which were untimely received by E; although technically not in compliance because different methods were used in serving RD and parties, U made an honest attempt to substantially comply since it made actual service on E and provided contemparaneous evidence of such service; to rule otherwise would require slavish adherence to form rather than substance)

St. Johns Smithtown Episcopal Hospital 259 NLRB No. 077

(petitioner's mtn to dismiss intervenor's objections to election, granted, where intervenor did not comply with Bd's R/R Sec. 102.69(a) by serving its objections on petitioner 2 months after election, and illness of intervenor's counsel at time objections were filed was not valid and compelling reason why compliance is not possible; nor was there an honest attempt to substantially comply with Bd's R/R on service of objections in intervenor's belated service on petitioner after being informed that it had failed to conform to R/R)

Platt Brothers 250 NLRB No. 049

(E's mtn to dismiss petitioner's objections for lack of timely service of copy of objections on opposing party granted where E did not receive copy until 2 weeks after filing date; absence or prejudice to party by lack of timely service irrelevant; also fact that Bd agent read objections verbatim to E 4 days after objections filed or petitioner forwarding objections to E immediately upon being served with E's mtn to reject objections constitutes compliance with Sec. 102.69(a))

Auto Chevrolet, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 070

(E's mtn to dismiss objections, granted, where U established neither an honest attempt to substantially comply with service requirement under Bd's R/R Sec. 102.69(a) nor a valid and compelling reason why compliance was not possible, since U did not justify its failure to comply by claiming that Regional Office advised E via telegram that U was filing objections and, thus, E could have called U if it had not received copy, and by claiming that U representative made personal service of copy to E's secretary)

Auto Chevrolet, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 070

(in finding U failed to show honest attempt to substantially comply with service of objections on E under Bd's R/R Sec. 102.69(a), Bd noted that it was not signalling return to inflexible definition of immediately and it was not suggesting that, in all circumstances,, it would consider a few days' delay as barring objecting party from establishing substantial compliance; however, U's service on E 7 working days (11 calendar days) late, in conjunction with U's misreading of R/R, did not constitute substantial compliance)

Auto Chevrolet, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 070

(U's misreading of Bd's R/R Sec. 102.69(a) as allowing 5-day period for service of objections on E upon filing of timely objections did not justify its failure to immediately make such service as required by R/R)

Auto Chevrolet, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 070

(contention that Bd's R/R should be changed so as to provide that RDs will serve copies of objections to election on opposing party in procedure similar to RD's service of ULP charges on charged party, rejected, since such service is a courtesy only and RDs do not have responsibility for serving other parties' documents in any Bd proceeding, nor is there any compelling reason to make exception to Bd's general practice by imposing on RDs obligation to serve copies of objections)

Auto Chevrolet, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 070

(in order to maintain orderly processing of R cases, there must be adherence to Bd's R/R, and time requirements in R/R will not be ignored on singular ground that party has not produced any evidence that it was prejudiced by another party's failure to comply with service requirements)

Union Carbide Corporation JD-(SF)-13-80

(belated receipt of objections by E held not to nullify them where U made honest attempt to comply with rules and no prejudice due to delayed receipt was shown)

7016 OBJECTIONS TO CERTIFICATION BECAUSE OF INVIDIOUS DISCRIMINATION BY REPRESENTATIVE

7016-2000 To be filed within time for filing objections

Kessler Institute For Rehabilitation v. N.L.R.B. 669 F.2d 138 (C.A. 3, Jan. 1982)

(Bd Rule, Sec. 102.114, provides, inter alia, maximum time period for Bd to receive documents with additional 3 day period allowed if Bd uses mail to serve notice of right to file documents, and further, if time period ends on Sunday or holiday (Saturday considered holiday), these days are not counted in response period and 3 day mailing period is tacked on beginning on 2nd day following such Sunday or holiday)

7016-8000 Issues which can be raised

7016-5033 Discrimination in admission to membership

Memphis Furniture Manufacturing Co. 259 NLRB No. 061

(Intervenor's contention that Petitioner, if certified, is unlikely to represent black Ees fairly and equally, w/o merit, since Bd does not consider contention of that sort before certification; if certification is abused by certified representative by failing to represent all unit Ees fairly, Bd will then consider mtn to revoke certification)

7022 INVESTIGATION OF CHALLENGES AND OBJECTIONS

7022-0100 Generally

North Electric Company, Plant No. 10, Gray, Tennessee 262 NLRB No. 174

(Bd accepted as law of the case ct's remand instruction to review Ee's affidavit obtained by RD during investigation of objections, but noted that it continues to be Bd policy that affidavits independently acquired by RD during investigation of objections are confidential and not part of record)

Burns International Security Services, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 165

(Bd did not intend in American Safety Equipment, 234 NLRB 501, that failure to file objections w/i time provided by Bd's R/R can no longer serve as basis for refusing to consider them)

Colonial Manor 1977, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 151

(Ee affidavits independently acquired by RD during investigation of objections are confidential and should not be part of the record, before Bd in R proceeding or in related ULP proceeding)

N.L.R.B. v. Granite State Minerals, Inc. 674 F.2d 101 (C.A. 1, Mar. 1982)

(E's objections to election upheld and E not obligated to bargain where, unilaterally departing from time and place set in stipulated election agreement, Bd allowed U to drive Ee who would be away at time of election to Bd's regional office to cast vote w/o U observers; conduct objectionable whether or not actual prejudice to E, absent exploration by Bd of alternatives to insure Ee's right to vote w/o breaching material terms of election agreement, and particularly where Ee had not heard E's case, nor seen election notices)

N.L.R.B. v. Granite State Minerals, Inc. 674 F.2d 101 (C.A. 1, Mar. 1982)

(Bd's investigation inadequate where Ee alleged threats by U which were corroborated but when asked for further details indicated he had smartened up and would say no more, Bd merely asked Ee if he had been threatened and U if it had threatened Ee; RD's conclusion based on ground that no evidence U had made threat improper, since where coercion threatening freedom of election is at issue, it does not matter whether coercive acts are shown to be attributable to U itself)

N.L.R.B. v. Dobbs House, Inc. 613 F.2d 1254 (C.A. 5) (1980)

(objecting party must present specific evidence to RD in order for him to determine if investigation is required)

7022-1700 Regional Director's authority to resolve issues on basis of investigation

Burns International Security Services, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 165

(Bd made clear in American Safety Equipment corporation, 234 NLRB 501, that scope of investigation is w/i informed discretion of RD; period during which investigation proceeds was never intended to provide more time for objecting party to extend its own investigation in hope of finding basis for objection that lies beyond matters covered in RD's investigation)

N.L.R.B. v. Howard Johnson Company d/b/a Howard Johnson Distribution Center 680 F.2d 741 (C.A. 8, July 1981)

(no abuse of RD's discretion requiring remand by Bd for further investigation where he failed to interview two of E's witnesses since objections simply stated two management officials would give testimony relating to alleged misrepresentation w/o naming them and Region did interview other witnesses actually named. Party seeking to have Bd overrule RD's recommendation required under Bd policy to supply Bd with specific evidence tantamont to offer of proof, which would warrant setting aside election before Bd will direct hearing or require RD to pursue investigation further)

N.L.R.B. v. Dobbs House, Inc. 613 F.2d 1254 (C.A. 5) (1980)

(RD not required to interview Ees named in C where objecting party failed to allege any specific events concerning specific people with respect to alleged U threats)

7022-3300 Obligation of protesting party to furnish supporting evidence

Parnell's Pride, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 146

(absent specificallegations of objectionable conduct, RD not required to seek out evidence, including viewing documents to determine whether any were forgeries, which would warrant setting aside election)

Parnell's Pride, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 146

(RD did not err when he failed to take affidavits or receive and investigate certain documents offered in support of objections, where it was not alleged that these documents contained any objectionable material not otherwise referred to or submitted subsequent to RD's decision; absent allegation of misconduct, RD not obligated to engage in fishing expedition, taking affidavits and examining documents for purpose of uncovering objectionable conduct)

European Parts Exchange, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 092

(where E failed to supply Bd with specific evidence tantamount to offer of proof which prima facie would warrant setting election aside, Bd did not remand for investigation of objections but certified Representative)

Campbell Products Department, Harry T. Campbell Sons Company, Division of Flintkote Company 260 NLRB No. 161

(the burden of proving its objections to elections is on party making objections and Bd staff has no duty to seek out evidence which would warrant setting aside election)

Cumberland Nursing & Convalescent Center (Retail Store Employees Union, Local 692) 248 NLRB No. 063

(objection by E to consent election, overruled and did not warrant hearing where E failed to present prima facie case in support of his objections which alleged, inter alia, objectionable electioneering; proffered evidence failed to disclose unequivocally that polls were in part open at time electioneering took place; it was not certain where Ees were at time alleged prohibited conduct was supposed to have occurred)

Judd Valve Co., Inc. 248 NLRB No. 018

(in R case involving challenged ballot, Bd did not consider statement by U in its exceptions to RD's failure to contact Ee who was willing to give a sworn affidavit where U attached to its exceptions a signed statement prepared by Ee but failed to state when Ee's name was given to RD, and why signed statement was not submitted to RD; see R/R Sec. 102.69(g))

N.L.R.B. v. Howard Johnson Company d/b/a Howard Johnson Distribution Center 690 F.2d 741 (C.A. 8, July 1981)

(Bd's refusal to remand E's objections for further investigation where Bd agent failed to interview two of E's witnesses who would have supported E's position in no way precluded E from demonstrating that their testimony would have supported objections)

N.L.R.B. v. Howard Johnson Company d/b/a Howard Johnson Distribution Center 680 F.2d 741 (C.A. 8, July 1981)

(Bd did not abuse its discretion in refusing to remand E's objections in underlying R proceeding to RD for further investigation where Bd agent had failed to interview two of E's witnesses who would have supported E's position, since E's objections simply stated two management officials would give testimony relating to alleged misrepresentation w/o naming them, Region did interview witnesses actually named, and E's exceptions to Bd's decision failed to specify disagreement with RD's findings, or indicate what witnesses might testify to)

N.L.R.B. v. Howard Johnson Company d/b/a Howard Johnson Distrubution Center 680 F.2d 741 (C.A. 8, July 1981)

(no abuse of RD's discretion requiring remand by Bd for further investigation where he failed to interview two of E's witnesses since objections simply stated two management officials would give testimony relating to alleged misrepresentation w/o naming them and Region did interview other witnesses actually named. Party seeking to have Bd overrule RD's recommendation required under Bd policy to supply Bd with specific evidence tantamont to offer of proof, which would warrant setting aside election before Bd will direct hearing or require RD to pursue investigation further)

N.L.R.B. v. Claxton Manufacturing Company, Inc. 613 F.2d 1364 (C.A. 5) (1980)

(conclusory allegations are not sufficient to obtain hearing in representation case; losing party bears heavy burden)

N.L.R.B. v. Dobbs House, Inc. 613 F.2d 1254 (C.A. 5) (1980)

(burden is on objecting party to present specific evidence to warrant setting aside election, not Bd staff)

N.L.R.B. v. Dobbs House, Inc. 613 F.2d 1254 (C.A. 5) (1980)

(RD not required to interview Ees named in C where objecting party failed to allege any specific events concerning specific people with respect to alleged U threats)

N.L.R.B. v. Belcor, Inc. d/b/a San Jose Care & Guidance Center 682 F.2d 886 (C.A. 9, Aug 1981)

(objections must be specific and suppurted by offers of proof)

N.L.R.B. v. Biomedical Resources Corporation of Northern California 624 F.2d 192(T) (C.A. 9, 1980)

(party challenging election has heavy burden to show coercion took place and is not entitled to evidentiary hearing unless it supplies prima facie evidence presenting substantial and material factual issues which would warrant setting aside election)

7022-5000 Consideration of conduct not included in objections by parties

7022-5000—Cont.

Purnell's Pride, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 146
(absent specificallegations of objectionable conduct, RD not required to seek out evidence, including viewing documents to determine whether any were forgeries, which would warrant setting aside election)

Purnell's Pride, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 146
(RD did not err when he failed to take affidavits or receive and investigate certain documents offered in support of objections, where it was not alleged that these documents contained any objectionable material not otherwise referred to or submitted subsequent to RD's decision; absent allegation of misconduct, RD not obligated to engage in fishing expedition, taking affidavits and examining documents for purpose of uncovering objectionable conduct)

Red Carpet Building Maintenance Corp. 263 NLRB No. 176
(Bd directed hearing be held on other investigatory disclosures RD obtained during investigation of objections, pertaining to certain alleged E conduct that, although not specifically urged by U as objectionable, may have interfered with election; Bd's established policy permits RD to set aside election based on conduct which he has discovered during his investigation, even though that conduct had not been subject of a specific objection)

Burns International Security Services, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 165
(newly discovered evidence that bears directly on timely objections should normally be considered only upon presentation of clear and convincing proof that it is not only newly discovered but also, previously unavailable since consideration of newly discovered evidence might enlarge scope and delay conclusion of investigation)

Stride Rite Corporation 254 NLRB No. 039
(RD properly recommended that evidence received in his investigation not specifically alleged in timely filed written objection be resolved in hearing)

Clark Manor Nursing Home Corp. 254 NLRB No. 064
(where respondent commits ULP during critical period before election, that misconduct is to be considered as basis for overturning election even if not alleged in written objections to election filed in R case)

Moody Nursing Home, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 022
(RD may set aside election based on conduct discovered during investigation, notwithstanding that conduct was not subject of specific objection)

Airlines Parking, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 081

Chef's Pantry, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 018
(although RD, in setting objection to election for hearing, did not specifically mention incident giving rise to E's objection to receipt of evidence relating thereto, RD's order directing hearing did not purport to forbid hearing of any evidence fairly encompassed by objection in question)

N.L.R.B. v. Campbell Products Department, Harry T. Campbell Sons Company, Division of Flintkote Company 623 F.2d 876 (C.A. 3, 1980)
(where E filed timely objection and subsequently filed another objection after 5 day period, Bd erred in not considering merits of latter objection holding it was untimely filed, since established Bd policy is that once timely objection filed RDs are required to consider all evidence of improper conduct brought to their attention or that they discover themselves during their investigation)

7022-8000 Waiver of challenges or objections

Connecticut Foundry Company 247 NLRB No. 148
(E who signed agreement in which U agreed that We will not restrain or coerce Ees of E in the exercise of rights guaranteed in Section 7 of Act (not conventional request to proceed) waived its rights to have election set aside due to ULP's which were part or could have been part of settlement agreement it entered into with U, thereby enabling election to take place before end of posting period, effectively waived its right to protest U's ULP's committed prior to execution of agreement)

7033 HEARING ON CHALLENGES AND OBJECTIONS

7033-0100 Generally

Stoneham Laundry, Inc., Brooks, Inc. d/b/a Rutters Linen Service 256 NLRB No. 176
(parties do not have absolute right to hearing on objections to election; it is only when moving party presents prima facie showing of substantial and material issues which would warrant setting aside election that, absent arbitrary action, this qualified right to hearing satisfies constitutional requirements of due process)

Chef's Pantry, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 018
withdrawal of objection to election did not preclude consideration of refusal to bargain allegation, or any conduct alleged in remaining objections which relates to it; pleadings fully apprised E of matters to be litigated and GC opened no new areas at hearing which were not covered by amended consolidated complaint, extant charges upon which it was based, and objections to be heard)

N.L.R.B. v. Nixon Gear, Inc. 640 F.2d 906 (C.A. 2, May 1981)
(Bd improperly refused to order hearing on E's objection to election on ground it did not have reasonable opportunity to reply to U's misrepresentation that E had bribed pro-U Ee to campaign against U, where it was unlikely that E, who first learned of misrepresentation on day before election, could have adequately replied and contacted all voters; Ees could reasonably have expected U's charge was directly based on testimony of bribed Ee but could not independently investigate charge's truthfulness since Ee was not identified; and false charge might well have influenced Ees and, thus, election)

N.L.R.B. v. Nixon Gear, Inc. 640 F.2d 906 (C.A. 2, May 1981)
(Bd improperly refused to order hearing on E's objection to election on ground U promised to obtain improved employment for Ee at unionized plant if he supported U and U won election, since E was entitled to hearing if it demonstrated, by prima facie evidence, existence of substantial and material factual issues supporting its allegation, and despite E's strong evidence indicating U offered improper inducement to Ees, Bd insisted upon stronger showing of improper U conduct, which was wholly unreasonable and abuse of its discretion which was exacerbated by extremely close, one-vote election result)

N.L.R.B. v. Nixon Gear, Inc. 640 F.2d 906 (C.A. 2, May 1981)
(need for hearing on objections to election is particularly acute when an election is close, for in such a situation, even minor misconduct cannot be summarily excused on ground it could not have influenced election)

N.L.R.B. v. U. S. Cablevision Corp. 614 F.2d 341 (C.A. 2) (1980)
(whether hearing on objections required or not, ct stated conduct of representation elections is the very architype of a purely administrative function with no quasi about it, concerning which cts should not interfere save for the most glaring discrimination or abuse however, if party demonstrates by prima facie evidence existence of substantial and material factual issues which if resolved in its favor, would require setting aside election hearing is required),

N.L.R.B. v. ARA Services, Inc. 678 F.2d 435 (C.A. 3, Apr. 1982)
(findings made by RD having been predicated upon testimony which had never been tested by cross-examination and which had been formulated w/o giving E opportunity to adduce other evidence, cannot be accorded weight of findings made after evidentiary hearing in which both parties have participated)

Vitek Electronics, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 785 (C.A. 3, June 1981)
(in remanding for hearing on objections, ct rejected BD's contention that RD is entitled to ignore issues of fact raised by affidavits not setting forth such facts as would be admissible in evidence (Fed. R. Civ. P. 56(e)), where RD did not draw any distinction between hearsay and nonhearsay evidence and ct could not assume that this was sole or dispositive basis for decision not to hold hearing; Rule 56(e) does not apply, and even if it did and evidence relating to objections was solely hearsay, it might still be admissible; and narrations of affidavits were not hearsay for all purposes)

N.L.R.B. v. Fuelgas Company, Inc. 674 F.2d 529 (C.A. 6, Mar. 1982)
(E not entitled to evidentiary hearing on election objections where, assuming U's observor did deface posted sample ballot, as contended, by marking yes column, it is not clear that E would have grounds for relief absent evidence that U authorized or condoned misconduct, and no evidence was furnished that defacement affected fairness of election)

N.L.R.B. v. Advanced Systems, Inc. 681 F.2d 918 (C.A. 9, Apr. 1982)
(Bd's denial of evidentiary hearing on election objections may be disturbed only for abuse of discretion. To obtain a hearing a party must make a prima facie showing of substantial and material issues that would if true, warrant setting aside election)

Spring City Knitting Company v. N.L.R.B. 647 F.2d 1011 (C.A. 9, June 1981)
(ct held that it was not abuse of discretion for RD to overrule w/o evidentiary hearing E's objections based on alleged U coercion absent showing in affidavits that any Ee felt so coerced by U's activities prior to election that Ee was unable to exercise free choice at polls)

Crown Cork & Seal Company, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 659 F.2d 127, (C.A. 10, Sept. 1981)
(hearing required on objections only if request shows by prima facie evidence existence of substantial and material factual dispute which, if resolved in its favor, would require setting aside election. No hearing required where Bd assumes truth of party's contentions, and then rules as matter of law that, assuming facts alleged, conduct does not warrant setting aside election)

7033-1100 Required where substantial and material issues of fact

7033-1100—Cont.

County Line Cheese Company, A Division of Beatrice Foods Co. 263 NLRB No. 193
(objections which raised issues of fact and/or credibility)

North Electric Company, Plant No. 10, Gray, Tennessee 262 NLRB No. 174
(pursuant to ct remand requiring Bd to determine whether E's objections to election, when viewed with documentary evidence in record, require a hearing, Bd held alleged objectionable conduct, consisting of pre-election threats of property damage or destruction made telephonically by various callers to Ees who had worn Vote No buttons, was not attributable to U nor of such character as to result in atmosphere of fear and coercion and did not reveal evidence of substantial and material factual issues which would require a hearing)

Erie Coke & Chemical Company 261 NLRB No. 088
(Bd remanded proceeding to RD for hearing on election objection where E had supplied affidavits to RD showing Ee was victim of threat on his life from someone purporting to be U representative after Ee had expressed support for E to his fellow Ees; although only made to single Ee, serious threat would affect other Ees in selection of U as it would be inevitably discussed by them)

F. W. Woolworth Co. 258 NLRB No. 176
(mtn for summary judgment on refusal to bargain complaint denied and E entitled to hearing on underlying objections to election since E raised litigable material issues of fact where certified representative had merged with another U and while intended merger was raised in objections to election, there was no consideration in R case of actual merger and issue of U's successorship)

Burns International Security Services, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 165
(E did not raise any issues requiring hearing, since everything essential to Bd's review of question of whether E had made prima facie case for setting aside election was before Bd and E, in excepting to RD's finding, did not show what evidence will be presented to support contrary finding)

Colfor, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 100
(no denial of due process and further hearing on objections not warranted since all objections duly considered where objections had been investigated by RD, some objections were subject of hearing and recommendations of hearing officer in which, contrary to contention of E, credibility resolutions were made, and findings and recommendations of Hearing Officer affirmed by Bd on appeal)

Evans Rotork, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 073
(only required where moving party presents prima facie showing of issues which would warrant setting aside election)

Cumberland Nursing & Convalescent Center (Retail Store Employees Union, Local 692) 248 NLRB No. 063
(objection by E to consent election, overruled and did not warrant hearing where E failed to present prima facie case in support of his objections which alleged, inter alia, objectionable electioneering; proffered evidence failed to disclose unequivocally that polls were in part open at time electioneering took place; it was not certain where Ees were at time alleged prohibited conduct was supposed to have occurred)

Fall River Savings Bank v. N.L.R.B. 649 F.2d 50 (C.A. 1, May 1981)
(hearing on objection based on alleged threat to Ee not necessary where even if incident occurred it did not represent coercion by supervisor and was not basis for setting aside election)

N.L.R.B. v. Morgan Health Care Center, Inc. 618 F.2d 127 (C.A. 1, 1980)
(hearing was not required on whether alleged misrepresentation had impact on election and whether attributable to U since no material issues of fact existed where E failed to come forward with specific evidence to refute RD's finding that statement did not affect Ees' votes)

N.L.R.B. v. Nixon Gear, Inc. 649 F.2d 906 (C.A. 2, May 1981)
(while E seeking a hearing on its objections to election bears a heavy burden inasmuch as conduct of election is purely an administrative function which cts should not interfere with save for most glaring discrimination or abuse, E is entitled to hearing if by prima facie evidence it demonstrates existence of substantial and material factual issues which, if resolved in its favor, would require setting aside of election)

N.L.R.B. v. Whitney Museum of American Art 636 F.2d 19 (C.A. 2, 1980)
(no hearing required where objecting party offered no evidence of factual disputes, and those disputes alleged were not material, since new election would not be called for even if they were resolved in favor of objecting party)

The Cyril and Julia C. Johnson Memorial Hospital v. N.L.R.B. 598 F.2d 1288
(no hearing required where conclusionary allegations were insufficient to present substantial and factual issues, no issue of credibility involved and decision turned on inferences to be drawn from undisputed facts)

N.L.R.B. v. ARA Services, Inc. 678 F.2d 426 (C.A. 3, Apr. 1982)
(whether party has established prima facie case triggering requirement of hearing is question of law and ultimately question for courts)

N.L.R.B. v. ARA Services, Inc. 678 F.2d 426 (C.A. 3, Apr. 1982)
(where objections to election raise substantial and material factual issues which go to fairness of election, RD cannot resolve disputed facts w/o holding evidentiary hearing in which parties may participate, examine witnesses, and produce evidence; however, if RD, having assumed truth of all evidence proffered by objecting party, then finds no basis for setting election aside, no evidentiary hearing is required)

N.L.R.B. v. ARA Services, Inc. 678 F.2d 426 (C.A. 3, Apr. 1982)
(RD, by failing to assume truth of E's allegations, which presented substantial factual issues, erred in resolving issues raised by E, where he did so, based solely on his ex parte investigation, instead of through evidentiary hearing)

N.L.R.B. v. ARA Services, Inc. 678 F.2d 426 (C.A. 3, Apr. 1982)
(upon concluding that E was improperly denied evidentiary hearing with respect to its objection which asserted that threats and coercion tainted representation election, enforcement of Bd's order denied and case remanded for evidentiary hearing as to that issue)

Wells Fargo Guard Services, A Division of Baker Protective Services, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 659 F.2d 363 (C.A. 3, Sep. 1981)
(determination of truth of party's allegation in objecting to conduct of election requires evidentiary hearing, since allegation that past president did not remove himself from operation of U, if true, would lead to setting election aside)

Wells Fargo Guard Services, A Division of Baker Protective Services, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 659 F.2d 363 (C.A. 3, Sep. 1981)
(enforcement denied and case remanded to Bd for evidentiary hearing where issue, of whether allegedly unfit leader remained in control of U, had significant impact on election won by U; strictness of Bd action in setting aside first election because of E's distributing altered facsimile ballot prior to election when contrasted with its flexibility in certifying U after second election supplies additional reason for remand)

Vitek Electronics, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 785 (C.A. 3, June 1981)
(inaccuracy alone in U's preelection statements does not raise substantial and material factual issues entitling E to hearing, since there are situations that render misrepresentation immaterial, such as, where Ees possess special independent knowledge or sophistication which enables them to evaluate statements critically; where Ees have no reason to believe that author of statements has any special knowledge on which they can rely; where E had adequate opportunity to set record straight; or where inaccuracy is too minor or insignificant to affect voters' choice)

Vitek Electronics, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 785 (C.A. 3, June 1981)
(although ct's inquiry necessarily touched upon areas committed in some degree to Bd's discretion, ct held E's objections to election based on U's misrepresentations were entitled to hearing since question whether E raised substantial and material factual is a question of law and ultimately a question for the cts)

Vitek Electronics, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 785 (C.A. 3, June 1981)
(E's contention that it was entitled to hearing on question of whether U engaged in preelection intimidation, rejected; in view of RD's lack of explanation in disposing of E's affidavits, there was no adequate record from which to tell whether RD correctly determined that no hearing was necessary; and, consequently, ct could not tell whether affidavits did, or did not, in RD's view, set forth substantial and material issues of fact)

Anchor Inns, Inc., d/b/a Anchor Inn Hotel of St. Croix v. N.L.R.B. 644 F.2d 292 (C.A. 3, Mar 20, 1981)
(in order to obtain evidentiary hearing objector's proffer of evidence must prima facie warrant setting aside election, the proffer may not be conclusory or vague; it must point to specific events and specific people, on the other hand, an evidentiary hearing is not required when, if all evidence proffered by objecting party is accepted as true, no ground for produced which would warrant setting aside election)

Anchor Inns, Inc., d/b/a Anchor Inn Hotel of St. Croix v. N.L.R.B. 644 F.2d 292 (C.A. 3, Mar 20, 1981)
(when material factual issues are raised in affidavit alleging specific instances of unlawful conduct by party to election, allegations giving rise to these issues may not be disregarded simply because of hearsay nature, in favor of evidence gathered during exparte administrative investigation. Once right to hearing is established, investigation is not a substitute for hearing)

best copy available

7033-1100—Cont.

Anchor Inns, Inc., d/b/a Anchor Inn Hotel of St. Croix v. N.L.R.B. 644 F.2d 292 (C.A. 3, Mar 20, 1981)

(ct remanded for previously denied hearing on E's objections to election and held Bd had erred in denying mtn for reconsideration after certification, not withstanding contentions that individual who made allegedly objectionable remarks not agent of U, and that proferred evidence had been available prior to certification, where affidavits reasonably supported claim of U agency and admitted withholding evidence from Bd agent due to threats which supported allegation of objectionable conduct)

N.L.R.B. v. St. Mary's Home, Inc., t/a St. Mary's Infant Home 690 F.2d 1062 (C.A. 4, Sept. 1982)

(where alleged coercive conduct by Ee, herein found supervisor, occurred 2 months before election as this extended time period between alleged coercive conduct and election itself is such that any assumption that such conduct prejudiced fairness of election was too tenuous to require hearing)

N.L.R.B. v. St. Mary's Home, Inc., t/a St. Mary's Infant Home 690 F.2d 1062 (C.A. 4, Sept. 1982)

(hearing not required on threatening anonymous phone calls to off-duty Ees in absence of evidence connecting these calls to U representative)

EDS-IDAB, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 666 F.2d 971 (C.A. 5, Feb. 1982)

(hearing required where company's prima facie evidence supporting objections to conduct of election related to specific events and people and raised substantial and material issues of fact as to whether the threats and violence were sufficient to destroy atmosphere necessary to exercise of free choice in election)

N.L.R.B. v. Klinger Electric Corporation, Klinger Electronics Division and Klinger Manufacturing Division 656 F.2d 76 (C.A. 5, 1981)

(allegation that Bd should have stayed election pending resolution of issue as to whether leadpersons were supervisors with implication that if they were labeled supervisors they might have campaigned for E found insufficiently specific to require a hearing where E stated no specific support in facts and identified no specific leadperson)

Hickory Springs Manufacturing Company v. N.L.R.B. 645 F.2d 506 (C.A. 5, May 21, 1981)

(record established that E entitled to hearing before Bd on questions of whether alleged preelection threats as to what would happen to Ees who crossed picket line and drove E's trucks, and picket line violence were made or adopted by U and if such conduct interfered in representation election since threats were conditioned on U winning election and strike ensued)

N.L.R.B. v. South Mississippi Electric Power Association 616 F.2d 837 (C.A. 5, 1980)

(neither constitution nor Congress grant a right to a full evidentiary hearing in U election challenges; where factual issues unresolved not substantial or material, hearing not required)

Birmingham Ornamental Iron Company v. N.L.R.B. 615 F.2d 661 (C.A. 5) (1980)

(Bd acted w/i discretion when it refused to hold hearing where facts presented by objecting party, even if credited, would not warrant setting election aside)

Skyline Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 613 F.2d 1328 (C.A. 5) (1980)

(no statutory requirement for post-election evidentiary hearing on objections and unless there are substantial and materials issues of fact; Bd's own investigation is sufficient; and here E's contention that Bd agents failed to follow case handling manual concerning handling of challenged ballots in minor respects does not warrant setting aside election)

Elliason Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 688 F.2d 22 (C.A. 6, Sept. 1982)

(remand for hearing on E's objections to election that Ee who was U supporter had intimidated other Ees in voting in underlying R case, where Bd had adopted RD's report on objections overruling objections and recommending U be certified and granted mtn for summary judgment in ULP proceeding alleging refusal to bargain, w/o benefit of underlying evidence on which RD based recommendation)

Kusan Manufacturing Company, a Division of Kusan, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 673 F.2d 150 (C.A. 6, Mar. 1982)

(hearing required where allegations established factual questions attacking basic fairness of election and Ee affidavits detail specific threats against Ees who failed to announce public support for U)

ATR Wire and Cable Company v. N.L.R.B. 671 F.2d 188 (C.A. 6, Feb. 1982)

(E entitled to hearing on exceptions to election since E demonstrated existence of factual issues concerning fairness of election where affidavits were facially sufficient to establish prima facie case that laboratory conditions were destroyed)

N.L.R.B. v. Forest City Enterprises, Inc. 663 F.2d 34 (C.A. 6, Nov. 1981)

(no hearing required in absence of substantial and material issues of fact)

Mid America Media, Inc., WTRX-AM v. N.L.R.B. 663 F.2d 17 (C.A. 6, Oct 1981)

(no hearing required, since objections to R election did not raise substantial and material factual issues)

Reichart Furniture Company v. N.L.R.B. 649 F.2d 397 (C.A. 6, May 1981)

(hearing was not required on E's election objections as E failed to present factual issues and offers of proof thereon which demand Bd hearing)

Randall, Burkart/Randall Division of Textron, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 638 F.2d 951 (C.A. 6, 1981)

(Bd did not abuse its discretion by refusing to grant evidentary hearing on objection concerning pre-election misconduct since E failed to raise substantial and material factual issues and evidence received for another objection concerning misconduct was coextensive with this objection giving E overlapping opportunities to supply evidence)

N.L.R.B. v. Master Slack and/or Master Trousers Corp., et al. 618 F.2d 6 (C.A. 6, 1980)

Pinetree Transportation Company v. N.L.R.B. 686 F.2d 740 (C.A. 9, Aug. 1982)

(evidentiary hearing must be held when party's objections to election raise substantial material issues of fact relating to validity of election)

N.L.R.B. v. Advanced Systems, Inc. 681 F.2d 918 (C.A. 9, Apr. 1982)

(Bd is entitled to rely on RD's report on objections to election in absence of specific exceptions supported by offers at proof of facts contrary to RD's findings. If, however, there are substantial disputes between report and exceptions hearing is required)

N.L.R.B. v. Belcor, Inc. d/b/a San Jose Care & Guidance Center 652 F.2d 856 (C.A. 9, Aug 1981)

(disputes between facts as presented in RD's report and facts as presented in the exceptions must be resolved through a hearing, not on the basis of the RD's ex parte investigation)

J.F. Hink & Son v. N.L.R.B. 654 F.2d 729(T) (C.A. 9, July 1981)

(mtn for reconsideration after election held must be supported by prima facie evidence that presents substantial and material issues which warrant setting aside election since once completed, Bd-conducted election is presumed legitimate and standard for reversal of BD's denial of hearing on post election objection is abuse of discretion)

J.F. Hink & Son v. N.L.R.B. 654 F.2d 729(T) (C.A. 9, July 1981)

(post-election objections based on U's (or international's) merger or change of affiliation with another U is not automatically entitled to hearing addressing is of continuity of representation i.e., whether successor U is contínciation of elected U, or substantially different organization but objection must be supported by substantial and material evidence standard applicable to any post-election objection)

Spring City Knitting Company v. N.L.R.B. 647 F.2d 1011 (C.A. 9, June 1981)

(in order to obtain hearing on post election objections, party must make prima facie showing of facts that present substantial and material factual issues which, if true, would constitute grounds for Bd to set aside election)

El Monte Tool and Die Casting, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 633 F.2d 160 (C.A. 9, 1980)

(refusal to grant evidentiary hearing not in error where E failed to present prima facie evidence of substantial and material effect of erroneous statements on election process but instead showed misrepresentations made)

South Pacific Furniture, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 627 NLRB No. 173 (C.A. 9, 1980)

(hearing on objections to election not required where E, seeking to void Bd conducted election, did not supply prima facie evidence presenting substantial and material factual issues which would warrant setting election aside; E cannot demand evidentiary hearing simply to inquire further into unspecified possible election improprieties)

N.L.R.B. v. Biomedical Resources Corporation of Northern California 624 F.2d 192(T) (C.A. 9, 1980)

(party challenging election has heavy burden to show coercion took place and is not entitled to evidentiary hearing unless it supplies prima facie evidence presenting substantial and material factual issues which would warrant setting aside election)

7033-1100—Cont.

N.L.R.B. v. Metro-Truck Body, Inc. 612 F.2d 746 (C.A. 9) (1980)
(hearing not required in every case to determine validity of objections to Bd-conducted election)

Daylight Grocery Company, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 678 F.2d 905 (C.A. 11, June 1982)
(Bd's denial of hearing on E's post election objections and ruling on basis of record which did not contain full record relied upon by RD-- namely 3 affidavits of whose contents E was aware notwithstanding their confidentiality-- if error, was harmless, since affidavits before RD but not before Bd showed that affidavits did not set out prima facie case that election had been improperly influenced so as to require a hearing)

Computer Sciences Corporation, as successor to Federal Electric Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 677 F.2d 804 (C.A. 11, June 1982)
(ptn by Bd for adjudication that alleged successor E was in civil contempt of prior judgment which granted enforcement of bargaining order issued against E's competitor, which E had underbid for government contract, dismissed on grounds that highly factual issue of whether bargaining unit remains appropriate existed and this requires more complete development of factual record by Bd and falls w/i its statutory authority to make unit determinations)

7033-1500 Request for hearing

Pinetree Transportation Company v. N.L.R.B. 686 F.2d 740 (C.A. 9, Aug. 1982)
(filing of papers establishing substantial material factual issues effects a demand for hearing and waiver cannot be inferred from mere failure to make formal request)

7033-6600 Role of counsel for Regional Office

Salem Village I, Inc., Salem Village II, Inc., and Salem Village III, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 111
(contention that E would be prejudiced by holding hearing on election objections in ULP proceeding rejected as GC takes nonadversarial role at this type of hearing as would be the case if proceedings had not proceeded beyond representation stage)

7033-7700 Production of statement of witnesses

7033-7701 Generally

Fotomat Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 634 F.2d 320 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(refusal of Hearing Officer to require GC to furnish E with Ee affidavits after GC used them to impeach E's witnesses held harmless error as record indicates no prejudicial effect upon fairness of election; Bd admitted its error and limited testimony of such witnesses)

7033-7733 Producible only after witness has testified

Tuf-Flex Glass, A Part Of Libby-Owens-Ford Company 262 NLRB No. 053
(Hearing Officer did not commit error by denying mtn to have subpena duces tecum revoked where E required to produce affidavits taken from Ees by its counsel as E only required to produce them after Ees had testified at hearing, use restricted to impeaching witnesses and did not cover matters w/i scope of their corporate duties which could bind E but covered statements made by nonsupervisory Ees about upcoming election)

Fotomat Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 634 F.2d 320 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(no violation of due process by denying E access to reports of Bd agents concerning conduct of election where request was made before agents testified and was not renewed after they testified)

7033-7750 Statements in possession of any agent of Board

Fotomat Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 634 F.2d 320 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(no violation of due process by denying E access to reports of Bd agents concerning conduct of election where request was made before agents testified and was not renewed after they testified)

7033-7767 Usable only for purposes of cross- examination

Tuf-Flex Glass, A Part Of Libby-Owens-Ford Company 262 NLRB No. 053
(Hearing Officer did not commit error by denying mtn to have subpena duces tecum revoked where E required to produce affidavits taken from Ees by its counsel as E only required to produce them after Ees had testified at hearing, use restricted to impeaching witnesses and did not cover matters w/i scope of their corporate duties which could bind E but covered statements made by nonsupervisory Ees about upcoming election)

7033-8800 Procedural due process at hearing

Polyflex M Company 258 NLRB No. 108
(E's contention due process denied where upon ct's denial of enforcement and remand to Bd of alleged Section 8(a)(5) violation its objections to election were considered in ULP proceeding rather than in R hearing, rejected, since hearing granted E satisfied requirement of due process; further, E has not alleged any specific prejudice resulting from consideration of its objections in ULP hearing)

Fotomat Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 634 F.2d 320 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(scope of hearing was not improperly limited in light of objections filed)

Beaird-Poulan Division, Emerson Electric Company v. N.L.R.B. 649 F.2d 589 (C.A. 8, May 1981)
(E had full and fair hearing where, it was ably represented by consel, had opportunity to produce evidence and cross examine adverse witnesses, and demonstrated no prejudice as result of GC's dual role at hearing)

7055 HEARING OFFICER'S REPORT

7055-3300 Contents

7055-3325 Resolutions of credibility

Murphy Brothers, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 062
(in finding that undetermined challenges were no longer sufficient to affect results of election resulting in U victory, Bd overruled E's exceptions to hearing officer's credibility resolutions, since it is established Bd policy not to overrule such resolutions unless clear preponderance of all relevant evidence convinces Bd that resolutions are incorrect; Coca-Cola Bottling Co., 132 NLRB 481, and Stretch-Tex Co., 118 NLRB 1359, cited)

Colfor, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 100
(no denial of due process and further hearing on objections not warranted since all objections duly considered where objections had been investigated by RD, some objections were subject of hearing and recommendations of hearing officer in which, contrary to contention of E, credibility resolutions were made, and findings and recommendations of Hearing Officer affirmed by Bd on appeal)

7066 EXCEPTIONS TO REPORT AND BRIEFS

7066-2000 Filing

Kessler Institute For Rehabilitation v. N.L.R.B. 669 F.2d 138 (C.A. 3, Jan. 1982)
(Bd Rule, Sec. 102.114, provides, inter alia, maximum time period for Bd to receive documents with additional 3 day period allowed if Bd uses mail to serve notice of right to file documents, and further, if time period ends on Sunday or holiday (Saturday considered holiday), these days are not counted in response period and 3 day mailing period is tacked on beginning on 2nd day following such Sunday or holiday)

7066-4000 Service

Auto Chevrolet, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 070
(in order to maintain orderly processing of R cases, there must be adherence to Bd's R/R, and time requirements in R/R will not be ignored on singular ground that party has not produced any evidence that it was prejudiced by another party's failure to comply with service requirements)

7066-6000 Adequacy

Seth Thomas Division, General Time Corporation 262 NLRB No. 099
(affidavits properly not accepted by Bd's Executive Secretary as part of record under Bd's R/R Sec. 102.69(g) notwithstanding that under Bd's R/R Sec. 102.69(g)(3) party may submit affidavits not included in brief by appending them to record, since here party objecting to election refused to serve affidavits on all parties pursuant to Bd R/R Sec. 102.69(c))

The Nyack Hospital 248 NLRB No. 043
(hearing officer's recommendation to sustain objection adopted pro forma where objection was only to recommendation that election be set aside and new election ordered rather than to resolution of objection on merits)

7066-8000 Effect of failure to file

Prestolite Wire Division, Eltra Corporation 251 NLRB No. 132
(absence of exceptions to RD's ruling that objections be overruled removes those objections from further consideration)

7077 DECISION ON OBJECTIONS OR CHALLENGES

7077-2000 Decision by Regional Director

Burns International Security Services, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 166
(Bd found RD properly considered on merits E's timely objections, but dismissed supplementary and second supplementary objections as untimely, contrary to RD who had misinterpreted Bd's application of American Safety Equipment Corporation, 234 NLRB 501, as establishing that failure to file these objections w/i time provided by Bd's R/R can no longer serve as basis for refusing to consider them)

7077-2000—Cont.

Spring City Knitting Company v. N.L.R.B. 647 F.2d 1011 (C.A. 9, June 1981)

(ct held that it was not abuse of discretion for RD to overrule w/o evidentiary hearing E's objections based on alleged U coercion absent showing in affidavits that any Ee felt so coerced by U's activities prior to election that Ee was unable to exercise free choice at polls)

7077-2020 Transfer to Board

Burns International Security Services, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 165

(Bd declined to rule on E's mtn for transmittal of RD's investigative file where evidence needed to resolve merits of timely objections, necessity of hearing, and challenges to U's qualification was before Bd because E had submitted it with its exceptions)

7077-4000 Review of Regional Director's decision

Colonial Manor 1977, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 151

(RD's failure to foweard to Bd affidavits obtained during investigation of objections held not to make Bd's review of R proceeding improper; RD's decision was final decision on the record, Bd's R/R require request for review to be self-contained document enabling Bd to rule on basis of its contents w/o recourse to record, it was no abuse of Bd's discretion to deny request solely on basis of RD's decision and E's request for review which presented no substantial and material issue of fact; and action herein accords with Bd's policy of expeditiously resolving qcr)

Colonial Manor 1977, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 151

(E's reliance on Prestolite Wire decision held misplaced with respect to its argument about Bd's review obligations in R proceeding wherein RD makes a final decision on record pursuant to Bd's R/R, since Prestolite Wire dealt with type of R proceeding wherein Bd itself makes find decision on the record)

N.L.R.B. v. Advanced Systems, Inc. 681 F.2d 918 (C.A. 9, Apr. 1982)

(Bd is entitled to rely on RD's report on objections to election in absence of specific exceptions supported by offers at proof of facts contrary to RD's findings. If, however, there are substantial disputes between report and exceptions hearing is required)

7077-4025 Effect of consent election agreement

Houston Distributing Company, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 020

(U's objection to election that Ees who were in stipulated unit for election but not in bargaining unit voted, overruled since their votes were not determinative of election)

Affiliated Midwest Hospital Inc., d/b/a Riveredge Hospital 251 NLRB No. 029

(where parties incorporated Norris-Thermador lists by reference into consent election agreements rather than describing the units, Bd found that they had consented to requirement that decertification elections be held in previously recognized units, and that units described in the ptns conformed to existing contractual units with minor variances)

Summa Corporation d/b/a Frontier Hotel v. N.L.R.B. 625 F.2d 293 (C.A. 9, Aug. 1980)

(where parties had stipulated prior to election that each would be allowed 2 observers, and U, with Bd agent's permission, had 3rd observer present, election set aside as E entitled to insist that Bd and U diligently adhere to provisions of stipulation designed to insure fair election; moreover, no showing of actual prejudice necessary)

Summa Corporation d/b/a Frontier Hotel v. N.L.R.B. 625 F.2d 293 (C.A. 9, Aug. 1980)

(where breach of election agreement occurs, results of election should be overturned only if breach is material or prejudicial)

7077-4033 Grounds for request to Board

N.L.R.B. v. Belcor, Inc. d/b/a San Jose Care & Guidance Center 652 F.2d 856 (C.A. 9, Aug 1981)

(the Board is entitled to rely on the report of the Regional Director in the absence of specific assertions of error.)

7077-4033-3000 Change in Board policy or law

Gaithersburg-Washington Grove Fire Dept., Inc. 251 NLRB No. 045

(remand to RD for hearing to determine if E now has sufficient control over employment relations to enable it to bargain where new county regulations are radically different from those under which original decision rendered)

Skyline Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 613 F.2d 1328 (C.A. 5) (1980)

(where RD made decision on objections to elections using Hollywood Ceramics standard and Bd later adopted less stringent Shopping Kart standard before returning to former standard and Bd's adoption of RD's decision occurred under latter standard, Shopping Kart; no denial of due process where Bd merely adopted report as written as it is not assumed that Bd considered objection under standard other than that used by RD)

7077-4033-4000 Clear and prejudicial error on factual issue

Sav-On Drugs, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 189

(Bd acted w/i its authority in granting Petitioner's request for review of RD's decision in underlying R case where RD's basis for dismissing ptn, i.e., U was not labor organization, was incorrect as matter of law; further, Bd's conclusion that head pharmacists or pharmacy managers at Respondents' drug stores were not supervisors as a class, finding based on full record and premised on factors not alluded to in RD's decision, cannot be said to have denied Respondent due process, since Respondent afforded and availed itself of opportunity to raise and litigate issues)

7077-4033-6000 Prejudicial procedural error

Glenby Wholesale, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 008

(objections remanded to RD for consideration on merits, notwithstanding lack of proof of immediate service as required by Bd's R/R 102.69 since failure to attach proof of service was clerical inadvertance and there was honest attempt to substantially comply with requirement where proof of service form was attached to objections when objections prepared, there was good faith belief it remained attached when filed with Region, and transmittal letter stated that copy of objections had been served *ERR16*as is more fully set forth in attached proof of service)

Daylight Grocery Company, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 112

(RD did not abuse his discretion in refusing to grant 24-day extension of time for filing briefs rather than 3-day extension; notwithstanding rapidity with which cases are processed is one of factors considered in determining salary increases under the Senior Executive Service compensation plan)

Monier Roof Tiles 249 NLRB No. 092

(Acting Regional Director's recommendation, that E's objections to election be overruled for lack of evidence, adopted by Bd where E by rejecting proposed settlement, accepted submission of its objections to the Regional Director but failed to do so; Region did not abuse its discretion, since E presented no evidence in support of objections by mandated deadline)

7077-4067 Effect of denial of request

7077-4067-3300 Affirmance of Regional Director's action

Fremont Manufacturing Division, The Oil Gear Company, Inc. 255NLRB No. 113

(E's exception to hearing officer's refusal to allow E to present evidence concerning supervisory status of certain Ees, overruled, where E was attempting to relitigate issue which Bd had previously and conclusively decided when it denied E's request for review of RD's unit determination finding Ees properly included in unit, and E did not contend in its objections that Ees' status had since changed or that determination of their status was based on an inadequate record)

Fremont Manufacturing Division, The Oil Gear Company, Inc. 255NLRB No. 113

(E's exception to hearing officer's recommendation to overrule E's objection to refusal of Bd agent conducting election to honor E's challenge to ballot of alleged supervisory Ee and to hearing officer's finding that Ee's conduct did not interfere with election, overruled, where Bd had previously decided issue of Ee's supervisory status in its denial of E's request for review of RD's unit determination finding Ee properly included in unit)

7077-4067-6700 Precludes relitigation in subsequent ULP proceeding

Semco Printing Center, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 073

(in summary judgment proceeding, Bd rejected E's contention that it is entitled to hearing on specified objections to election, where Bd, prior to adopting findings and recommendations of RD's report with respect to objections, considered report, exceptions thereto, and entire record and, by its adoption of portion of report recommending that objections herein be overruled, necessarily found that such objections raised no material issue warranting a hearing)

Wickes Furniture, A Division of The Wickes Corporation 261 NLRB No. 151

(Sec. 102.67(f) of Bd's R/R, concerning request for review applies with equal force to proposition that Respondent is precluded from relitigating issues which were or could have been litigated in prior R proceeding, whether R proceeding involves decision made in first instance by Bd, RD's decision which Bd has declined to review, RD's report which Bd has adopted, or hearing officer's report which Bd has adopted)

ITT Lighting Fixtures, Division of ITT Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 934 (C.A. 2, Sept. 1981)

(where Bd limited its review to issue of proper status to be awarded challenged ballots and thereby affirmed RD's decision that, even assuming all groupleaders were supervisors, they had not engaged in objectionable preelection conduct, ct found that result ensuing from application of Bd's R/R that affirmance of RD's action precludes relitigating any issue in related ULP proceeding, was untenable in view of scant treatment given by RD to groupleaders' conduct in his findings)

7077-6000 Decision by Board

7077-6001 Generally

Beaird-Poulan Division, Emerson Electric Company v. N.L.R.B. 649 F.2d 589 (C.A. 8, May 1981)
(arguably coercive threats over 10 week campaign involving 800 voters did not warrant setting aside election)

7077-6017 Remand for hearing

Bryce Corporation 261 NLRB No. 169
(case remanded for purpose of hearing to determine merits of E's contention that notice posted for 2 days, 5 weeks before election, urging Ees to report any pressure to join U which E would stop immediately, was not objectionable conduct having coercive effect on election)

Gauley Industries, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 189
(Bd declined to adopt recommendation of ALJ that challenge to ballot of Ee be sustained where record was insufficient to permit determination of Ee's eligibility (to vote); only in event that Ee's ballot remained determinative after revised tally, should further hearng on Ee's eligibility be held)

Carson International, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 146
(where Bd ruled that, because of significant period encompassing U's withdrawal of first ptn and filing of second ptn, date of critical pre-election period commenced from date of filing of second ptn, Bd denied E's request that case on objections to election be remanded to RD, not for purposes of conducting hearing on objections, but rather to determine whether improper conduct occurred during such critical period)

Educational and Recreational Services, Inc., a Wholly-Owned Subsidiary of ARA Services, Inc., etc. 253 NLRB No. 140
(to resolve material issues of fact with respect to objections)

Van Dorn Plastic Machinery Co., Division of Van Dorn Company 253 NLRB No. 029
(case remanded to ALJ for purpose of conducting further hearing on issue of E's objection to election under General Knit of California, Inc., 239 NLRB 619, where ALJ relied solely on formal papers submitted in R proceeding in analyzing E's objection and resolved the case entirely on application of standard set out in Shopping Kart Food Market, Inc., and, on last day of hearing in the R proceeding, w/o knowledge of parties to the R proceeding, Bd, in General Knit of California, Inc., overruled Shopping Kart Food Market, Inc.)

N.L.R.B. v. Howard Johnson Company d/b/a Howard Johnson Distribution Center 650 F.2d 741 (C.A. 5, July 1981)
(Bd's refusal to remand E's objections for further investigation where Bd agent failed to interview two of E's witnesses who would have supported E's position in no way precluded E from demonstrating that their testimony would have supported objections)

N.L.R.B. v. Howard Johnson Company d/b/a Howard Johnson Distribution Center 650 F.2d 741 (C.A. 5, July 1981)
(Bd did not abuse its discretion in refusing to remand E's objections in underlying R proceeding to RD for further investigation where Bd agent had failed to interview two of E's witnesses who would have supported E's position, since E's objections simply stated two management officials would give testimony relating to alleged misrepresentation w/o naming them, Region did interview witnesses actually named, and E's exceptions to Bd's decision failed to specify disagreement with RD's findings, or indicate what witnesses might testify to)

N.L.R.B. v. Belcor, Inc. d/b/a San Jose Care & Guidance Center 652 F.2d 856 (C.A. 9, Aug 1981)
(where Bd finds a factual dispute, case must be remanded to region for a hearing)

7077-6033 Remand for revised tally or for counting impounded ballots

Tom Kelly Ford, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 143
(where Bd found that unit encompassing only service department mechanics at auto dealer's facility was appropriate, rather than broader unit in which RD had directed election, Bd remanded case to RD for purpose of opening and counting ballots, impounded pending outcome of instant proceedings, cast by Ees in unit found appropriate herein, and to issue appropriate certification)

Brooks Brothers, a Division of Garfinckel, Brooks Brothers, Miller & Rhoads 261 NLRB No. 130
(remand to open and count ballot cast by Ee, herein found unlawfully discharged, and issue certification if U received majority; otherwise set election aside and conduct new election)

Gauley Industries, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 189
(Bd declined to adopt recommendation of ALJ that challenge to ballot of Ee be sustained where record was insufficient to permit determination of Ee's eligibility (to vote); only in event that Ee's ballot remained determinative after revised tally, should further hearng on Ee's eligibility be held)

Swanson-Nunn Electric Company 256 NLRB No. 131
(challenged ballots are to be opened and if revised tally shows U won then U will be certified; if U loses election then second election to be held)

Kenshin Charter Service, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 117
(where R case consolidated with C cases for limited purpose of taking evidence on challenged ballots, RD ordered to open ballots of Ees held eligible and issue certification if U received majority, where U never filed objections to election, notwithstanding E held to have committed ULPs)

7077-6050 Direction of another election

Mead Nursing Home, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 135
(another election directed where E misstated Sec. 7 rights to engage in protected concerted activity by saying that if U calls strike, Ees may no longer have job at nursing home when strike is over because under law E does not need to rehire you an impermissible threat, and letter to Ees that they could lose right to think and speak for yourself if U wins, but must go through U representatives which was retaliatory threat to terminate unilaterally existing benefit)

Halliburton Services (Coffeyville, Kansas), A Division of Halliburton Company 265 NLRB No. 144
(new election ordered where E, during critical period, created impression of surveillance of protected concerted activities, threatened Ees with less favorable layoff or transfer policies if U won, interrogated Ee regarding U sentiments of fellow Ees, removed and destroyed U insignias displayed on Ee's tool box, while allowing antiU and nonwork related materials such as pin-ups and calendars to remain posted but not U materials)

Arrow Molded Plastics, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 174

Rexall Corporation 265 NLRB No. 015

Avon Products, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 005
(election set aside since U suffered prejudice in its election campaign where it received Excelsior list which Bd rendered deficient by broadening scope of unit upon review of RD's unit determination, and substantial number of Ees who had voted in election were omitted from list; Bd should have stayed election)

Indian Head Lubricants, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 063
(where evidence of fraud during election discovered at ULP hearing which was not available at time RD certified results of election, Bd exercised its discretion to reopen R case to consider evidence and having done so set aside election and ordered second election)

G.T.A. Enterprises, Inc. d/b/a Restaurant Horikawa 260 NLRB No. 029
(new election to be held at time RD deems circumstances permit free choice of bargaining representative)

Graham Architectural Products Corporation 259 NLRB No. 153
(another election directed where E's ULP's were not isolated as ALJ found 3 instances of interrogation and Bd found additional ULPs directly involving at least 6 Ees and word of ULPs was disseminated to additional Ees)

Fieldcrest Mills, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 098
(where interrogations, threats of plant closure and to fire person behind U and unlawful discharge of Ee found)

Lifemark Hospitals of Texas, Inc. d/b/a Mid-Jefferson County Hospital 259 NLRB No. 103
(if U fails to receive majority of valid ballots cast in election, E's threats of loss of privileges and changes in working conditions together with coercive interrogation warrants setting aside election and directing second election)

Walter Carpet Mills, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 096
(election set aside and new election ordered in view of unlawful threats, promises of benefits, enlisting aid of Ee in preventing other Ees from signing U authorization cards, interrogations, and creating impression of surveillance)

Masonic Homes of California, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 006
(directed where several Ees saw U observer keep list of hash marks and voters' names continuously through morning voting session and part of afternoon session; such conduct is not de minimis)

Raley's, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 155
(new election ordered where E unlawfully favored one of two competing U's)

Harrison Steel Castings Company 262 NLRB No. 059
(rerun election ordered where threats of layoff, job loss, denial of overtime, interference with Ees' rights to distribute U literature and unlawful discharge found violative)

The Swingline Company; Spotnails, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 119
(where E engaged in misconduct which affected both competing Us, absent conduct which supported winning U, Bd will not order second election, especially in light of fact that winning U won by wide majority and single interrogation, threat and statements of U support came from low level supervisor)

7077-6050—Cont.

General Electric Company 255 NLRB No. 09[illegible]

Petroleum Electronics, Inc. and/or Cook Enterprises, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 042
(where challenged ballots were determinative in election, objections to which were found meritorious, RD directed to open and count challenged ballots and to issue certification of representative if revised tally shows U majority; in event tally shows no majority, RD directed to set aside election and direct second election)

MGM Grand-Reno, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 183
(at such time as RD deems appropriate)

Custom Coating & Laminating Corporation 249 NLRB No. 117
(directed where E violated Sec. 8(a)(1) by engaging in surveillance, creating impression of surveillance, threatening plant closure and discharge together with promises of improved working conditions)

Simpson Electric Company, a Division of American Gauge and Machine Company 249 NLRB No. 024
(election set aside and third election directed, where E made unlawful wage and benefit increases in order to undermine U's organizational campaign during critical period)

The Nyack Hospital 248 NLRB No. 043
(where there are three choices on ballot and none receives majority, election is inconclusive)

Louis Gallet, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 013
(setting aside of election warranted where E in letters to Ees prior to election implied threats of plant closure and expressed belief strikes would be inevitable if U voted in)

Gary Concrete Products, Inc. JD-(ATL)-65-82

M & G Fleet Service, Inc. JD-(ATL)-60-82
(another election directed where during critical period E threatened discharge, plant closure and that he would not bargain if U won)

N.L.R.B. v. Connecticut Foundry Company 688 F.2d 871 (C.A. 2, July 1982)
(no remand for hearing on challenges to voters and election objections where 4 years have passed since election because company's burden would be too difficult, U election victory was very narrow, workforce at E has probably changed and so no way of knowing that U enjoys majority support; therefore new election ordered)

Beaird-Poulan Division, Emerson Electric Company v. N.L.R.B. 649 F.2d 589 (C.A. 8, May 1981)
(in assessing preelection campaign statements, concerning other plants in instant case, for both Es and Us, Bd does not ordinarily police or censor propoganda used in elections it conducts, but rather leaves to the good sense of voters the appraisal of such matters, and to opposing parties task of correcting inaccuracies and unlawful statements and only if there has been material misrepresentation which involves substantial departure from truth at time other party cannot reply and has real impact on election will it be set aside)

7077-6050-5000 To be held within 30 days

ECM, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 141
(where unit found appropriate was smaller than unit in which election was conducted, Bd vacated election and directed election in smaller unit)

7077-6067 Certification of results

Bally's Park Place, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 132
(reversing Wackenhut Corporation 223 NLRB 83 (1976), Bd returned to its prior practice of permitting nonqualified Us to participate in R elections conducted among guard Ees and of certifying arithmetic election results only when such Us are victorious but not certifying these Us; however, noncertification will not prevent such Us from representing guards should they win such elections)

7077-6083 Certification of representative

Bally's Park Place, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 132
(reversing Wackenhut Corporation 223 NLRB 83 (1976), Bd returned to its prior practice of permitting nonqualified Us to participate in R elections conducted among guard Ees and of certifying arithmetic election results only when such Us are victorious but not certifying these Us; however, noncertification will not prevent such Us from representing guards should they win such elections)

Burns International Security Services, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 165
(U certified where E's contention that RD's investigation was inadequate was rejected because E failed to make out prima facie showing in connection with any of its timely objections, or demonstrate that material factual issues existed as to correctness of RD's findings)

Petroleum Electronics, Inc. and/or Cook Enterprises, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 042
(where challenged ballots were determinative in election, objections to which were found meritorious, RD directed to open and count challenged ballots and to issue certification of representative if revised tally shows U majority; in event tally shows no majority, RD directed to set aside election and direct second election)

7077-6091 Consideration of conduct not included in objections

Tuf-Flex Glass, A Part Of Libby-Owens-Ford Company 262 NLRB No. 053
(Bd will not consider conduct which was neither alleged in timely filed objection nor discovered by RD in course of his investingation of such objection absent clear and convincing proof that evidence is newly discovered or previously unavailable)

Halo Lighting Division of McGraw Edison Company 259 NLRB No. 086
(U's objections held broad enough to encompass conduct found violative of 8(a)(1), where U filed objections for reason that E unduly influenced and coerced Ees in exercise of their statutory rights, and E was on notice at trial that U rested its case on GC's evidence regarding E's alleged ULPs; mere fact that ULPs were not specifically alleged in U's objections is insufficient to disregard serious objectionable conduct w/i critical preelection period)

North American Car Corporation 253 NLRB No. 128
(contention conduct objectionable not considered on merits where raised for first time in exceptions)

Hedstrom Co., a subsidiary of Brown Group, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 629 F.2d 305 (C.A. 3, 1980)
(Bd may consider ULPs committed subsequent to election in determining whether to issue bargaining order as they demonstrate E's continued opposition to unionization)

N.L.R.B. v. Eskimo Radiator Mfg. Co. 688 F.2d 1315 (C.A. 9, Oct. 1982)
(closeness of vote is only one factor Bd and cts consider in scrutinizing preelection conduct)

7077-6095 Disposition of objections to election

Affiliated Midwest Hospital Inc., d/b/a Riveredge Hospital 251 NLRB No. 029
(where it determined consent election agreement was not inadequate, Bd remanded case to RD for disposition of objections to election including allegation that discrepancy between units in notices of election and Norris-Thermador lists in consent election agreement confused Ees and for investigation and determination as to effect of omission of classifications in technical unit composition in Norris-Thermador lists)

7077-6098 Based on grounds other than those raised at election

Salem Village I, Inc., Salem Village II, Inc., and Salem Village III, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 111
(on ct remand, hearing on objections was limited only to those issues raised before Bd in E's original objections, as ct opn does not say that it intended to ignore 10(e) limitation and refers only to objections that were discussed)

N.L.R.B. v. H. M. Patterson & Son, Inc. 636 F.2d 1014 (C.A. 5, 1981)
(E's contention that challenge to ballots of sons of E improperly sustained since sustained on basis of Section 9(b) where U had challenged ballots on basis of Section 2(3), rejected, in view of close relation historically between two sections, and absent abuse of discretion by Bd)

7077-8000 Reconsideration of decision

Benchmark Industries, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 031
(Respondent's mere assertion in its opposition to mtn for summary judgment that it has unspecified information to submit concerning appropriateness of unit does not suffice as offer of newly discovered or previously unavailable evidence that would require Bd to reexamine decision made in underlying R proceeding)

Memphis Furniture Manufacturing Co. 259 NLRB No. 061
(Intervenor's contention that Petitioner, if certified, is unlikely to represent black Ees fairly and equally, w/o merit, since Bd does not consider contention of that sort before certification; if certification is abused by certified representative by failing to represent all unit Ees fairly, Bd will then consider mtn to revoke certification)

J.F. Hink & Son v. N.L.R.B. 654 F.2d 729(T) (C.A. 9, July 1981)
(mtn for reconsideration after election held must be supported by prima facie evidence that presents substantial and material issues which warrant setting aside election since once completed, Bd-conducted election is presumed legitimate and standard for reversal of BD's denial of hearing on post election objection is abuse of discretion)

7077-8025 Reconsideration by Board in subsequent ULP proceeding

Salem Village I, Inc., Salem Village II, Inc., and Salem Village III, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 111
(on ct remand to hold hearing on objections to election before ALJ, Bd treated as mtn for reconsideration of Board's Order Remanding Proceeding to RD for Hearing, E's letter contending that ULP hearing on objections was illegal and in contempt of ct; mtn was denied since longstanding Bd policy provides for such hearing and avoids delay that would result from reinstatement of representation ptn)

7077-8025—Cont.

Axelson, Inc., subsidiary of U.S. Industries, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 010
(petitioner's mtn to consolidate and/or for reconsideration on ground Bd decision in instant decertification proceeding overruling objection to election should be considered together with subsequent Bd decision finding violation by E on basis of conduct which was subject of objection, denied, where E did not seek to have ULP case consolidated or considered with instant proceeding until after ULP decision issued; contentions that consideration will facilitate final, just resolution of issues and relief to be accorded, and that relief granted for E's violation is wholly inadequate, rejected)

Axelson, Inc., subsidiary of U.S. Industries, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 010
(petitioner's mtn to consolidate and/or for reconsideration based on allegedly inconsistent decisions as result of Bd decision finding violation on basis of conduct which was subject of previously overruled objection to election in instant decertification proceeding denied as untimely; findings of fact are based on respective records in each case, and record herein shows insufficient evidence to warrant setting aside election; to extent petitioner argues Bd's findings herein are erroneous on record then before it, regardless of record in ULP case, petitioner's second mtn for reconsideration is a year late)

Axelson, Inc., subsidiary of U.S. Industries, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 010
(petitioner's mtn to consolidate and/or for reconsideration as result of Bd finding of 8(a)(1) violation on basis of conduct which was subject of previously overruled objection to election in instant decertification proceeding, denied; Bd rejected contention that, since (8a)(1) conduct a fortiori interferes with election, such finding invalidates retroactively Bd's conclusion herein that E's conduct did not warrant setting election aside; a fortiori principle was attempt by Bd to avoid mechanical approach and Bd looks to economic realities of E-Ee relationship in determining whether to set aside election)

Axelson, Inc., subsidiary of U.S. Industries, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 010
(petitioner's mtn to consolidate and/or for reconsideration as result of Bd finding of 8(a)(1) violation on basis of conduct which was subject of previously overruled objection to election in instant decertification proceeding, denied; effect of narrow ruling herein was that, if U has won election despite E's campaign against it, election results stand as against mechanical insistence on laboratory conditions; and fact that E's conduct was later found violative does not cast issue into any light significantly different from that in which Bd first examined it)

The Westin Hotel 261 NLRB No. 141
(intervenor's mtn for reconsideration (in underlying RC case) contending that unit was inappropriate and evidence of area practice should be taken on remand, denied as lacking in merit because Intervenor did not allege any newly discovered or previously unavailable evidence or special circumstances which would warrant grant of request and intervenor had opportunity to present such evidence at hearing)

Indian Head Lubricants, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 003
(where evidence of fraud during election discovered at ULP hearing which was not available at time RD certified results of election, Bd exercised its discretion to reopen R case to consider evidence and having done so set aside election and ordered second election)

Hyatt Regency New Orleans 260 NLRB No. 066
(Respondent's request that full Bd reconsider denial of Respondent's request for review of RD's Supplemental Decision and Certification of Representative denied as it is policy of Bd for same panel which decided case to pass upon reconsideration and full Bd only considers such mtn if panel refers it to full Bd)

7088 RECORD

Prairie Tank Southern, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 117
(E's failure to previously argue that RD improperly failed to transmit complete record in underlying R case to Bd not justified by Region's refusal in instant case to enter into stipulation to effect that affidavits taken during Region's investigation of R case not forwarded to Bd. E may not now raise this as defense to failure to bargain, since no requirement that RDs enter into such stipulations, and E was familiar with requirements for filing exceptions to elections and what constitutes record thereunder; further, E had notice through RD's report as to what would constitute record)

Odom Sausage Co., Inc. of Arkansas 256 NLRB No. 048
(Bd maintains that under Sec. 102.68 of R/R, affidavits submitted in support of objections to election are not part of record)

N.L.R.B. v. Curtis Noll Corporation, Curtis Industries Division 634 F.2d 1027 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(enforcement denied and E's objections to consent election remanded to Bd for further consideration where evidence relied upon by RD concerning determination of E's objections was not transmitted to Bd, hence was not transmitted to ct; ct held that Bd had abused its discretion by adopting report of RD when RD failed to transmit to BD evidence relied upon by RD)

N.L.R.B. v. Advanced Systems, Inc. 681 F.2d 918 (C.A. 9, Apr. 1982)
(cts which have considered Bd's Rule 102.69(g) have concluded that rule is too ambiguous to put party on notice that complete record will not be forwarded to Bd)

N.L.R.B. v. Advanced Systems, Inc. 681 F.2d 918 (C.A. 9, Apr. 1982)
(where RD failed to submit full record to Bd, Bd's contention that it was entitled to rely on RD's report w/o resort to full administrative record in view of lack of specificity of E's exceptions to report, rejected, since difficulty in determining whether exceptions materially dispute RD's findings stems not from E's lack of specificity but from RD's failure to disclose evidentiary basis for his conclusion)

N.L.R.B. v. Advanced Systems, Inc. 681 F.2d 918 (C.A. 9, Apr. 1982)
(remanded for evidentiary hearing Bd refused to hold w/o reviewing documentary evidence underlying RD's report on objections and w/o making such evidence part of record for judicial review. RD did not send any documentation relied on in report and only documentary evidence before Bd was affidavit attached to exceptions. RD's failure to transmit documents not harmless since not submitted by objecting E either)

7088-0100 Generally

N.L.R.B. v. Klinger Electric Corporation, Klinger Electronics Division and Klinger Manufacturing Division 656 F.2d 76 (C.A. 5, 1981)
(ct found that RD could reach a decision on objections to election w/o endangering confidentiality of affidavits gathered during his own investigation by not including them in the record, because they are not essential for decision; objecting party bears burden of adducing prima facie proof of facts sufficient to invalidate election, and RD could reach a decision based only on evidence offered by objecting party)

7088-3300 Where administrative investigation made

Seth Thomas Division, General Time Corporation 262 NLRB No. 099
(affidavits properly not accepted by Bd's Executive Secretary as part of record under Bd's R/R Sec. 102.69(g) notwithstanding that under Bd's R/R Sec. 102.69(g)(3) party may submit affidavits not included in brief by appending them to record, since here party objecting to election refused to serve affidavits on all parties pursuant to Bd R/R Sec. 102.69(c))

Knickerbocker Foods, Inc., A Division of Knickerbocker Meats, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 121
(statements of witnesses which were before RD in his disposition of election objections and challenged ballots are expressly excluded from definition of documentary evidence in Sec. 102.69(g)(1)(ii) of R/R, and this accords with Bd policy of protecting investigatory affidavits from disclosure when witnesses have not testified at hearing, thus E was not denied due process and party which wants Bd to consider statements of witnesses must append them to its submission to Bd)

Harvard Folding Box Co., Inc. 259 NLRB No. 102
(affidavits not part of record under R/R 102.69(g) and are expressly excluded from definition of documentary evidence by 1981 amendment R/R 102.69(g)(1)(ii))

Keystone Metal Moulding Company 249 NLRB No. 078
(affidavits of E taken by RD during investigation of objections to election considered by Bd upon remand after finding by ct; Bd must make decision based on complete record)

N.L.R.B. v. The Cambridge Wire Cloth Company, Inc. 622 F.2d 1195 (C.A. 4, 1980)
(where RD determines that objections to election do not require hearing, RD, and not objecting party, is responsible for transmitting whole record (all evidence considered in reaching decision) to Bd for its review on appeal, notwithstanding R/R 102.69(g) places responsibility for submission of documents on objecting party)

N.L.R.B. v. Klinger Electric Corporation, Klinger Electronics Division and Klinger Manufacturing Division 656 F.2d 76 (C.A. 5, 1981)
(contrary to Bd, ct interpreted contents of record to be filed in the ct of appeals in a review or enforcement case as set forth in the first sentence of Sec. 102.69(g) as applying to all such proceedings, whether or not a hearing had been required; it also held that any reasonable interpretation of documentary evidence included all portions of affidavits or other documents relevant to the evidentiary basis of the RD's decision and recommendation)

Birmingham Ornamental Iron Company v. N.L.R.B. 615 F.2d 661 (C.A. 5) (1980)
(failure of RD to include affidavits obtained during investigation of objections to election in file as part of record on review is not per se basis for setting aside report)

7088-3300—Cont.

N.L.R.B. v. Dobbs House, Inc. 613 F.2d 1254 (C.A. 5) (1980)
(failure to include affidavits in record is harmless error where E included contents of affidavits in his exceptions to RD's report and documents were adequately summarized in E's Request for Review)

Eliason Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 688 F.2d 22 (C.A. 6, Sept. 1982)
(remand for hearing on E's objections to election that Ee who was U supporter had intimidated other Ees in voting in underlying R case, where Bd had adopted RD's report on objections overruling objections and recommending U be certified and granted mtn for summary judgment in ULP proceeding alleging refusal to bargain, w/o benefit of underlying evidence on which RD based recommendation)

ATR Wire and Cable Company v. N.L.R.B. 671 F.2d 188 (C.A. 6, Feb. 1982)
(ct held that Bd abused its discretion by adopting RD's report on objections to election since RD failed to transmit U affidavits obtained in camera to Bd upon which RD relied)

N.L.R.B. v. North Electric Company, Plant No. 10 644 F.2d 580 (C.A. 6, Mar 26, 1981)
(in absence of hearing, regulation requires RD to transmit record to Bd so that all evidence relied on by RD in recommending that E's objections be overruled and U certified can be reviewed by Bd)

N.L.R.B. v. Allis-Chalmers Corporation 680 F.2d 1166 (C.A. 7, June 1982)
(enforcement of bargaining order denied, certification set aside, and case remanded to Bd for appropriate action where Bd had adopted RD's decision overruling objections to election w/o seeing evidence in RD's investigatory file relied on by RD)

N.L.R.B. v. Eskimo Radiator Mfg. Co. 688 F.2d 1315 (C.A. 9, Oct. 1982)
(even if RD failed to include E's affidavits in record when he transferred case to Bd, this is harmless error where E filed its own affidavits with Bd)

N.L.R.B. v. Advanced Systems, Inc. 681 F.2d 918 (C.A. 9, Apr. 1982)
(Bd abused discretion when: 1) adopted RD's report w/o reviewing underlying documents because E failed to append to its exceptions documents given by it to RD; and 2) failed to include this documentation in record to ct. No waives by E for failure to raise issue of complete record during Bd proceeding as E didn't discover fact until Bd filed its certificate of record. Bd Rule 102.69(g) to ambiguous to put E on notice complete record not sent to Bd, nor did RD's report give notice documents secured by RD himself would be excluded from record or clearly indicate that E's documents would be excluded unless appended to exceptions)

N.L.R.B. v. Advanced Systems, Inc. 681 F.2d 918 (C.A. 9, Apr. 1982)
(Bd's interpretation that Rule 102.69(g) required less extensive record to be transferred to Bd in R cases where no hearing was held than in cases where hearing was held, held error by ct.)

N.L.R.B. v. Consolidated Liberty, Inc., d/b/a Hy-Land Convalescent Hospital 672 F.2d 788 (C.A. 9, Mar. 1982)
(case remanded to Bd so that RD can supply Bd with contested ballots because w/o ballots Bd cannot consider all relevant evidence which was before RD, where as here E supplied all other relevant evidence to Bd to support its objections)

N.L.R.B. v. Belcor, Inc. d/b/a San Jose Care & Guidance Center 652 F.2d 856 (C.A. 9, Aug 1981)
(any error in RD's failure to send to Bd, in transmitting election report, underlying documentation gathered during region's ex parte investigation and to submit E's affidavits and other documentation held harmless, where E filed all documents it had given RD when it filed its exceptions with Bd)

7088-6700 Inclusion of affidavits

National Duct Corporation 265 NLRB No. 050
(mtn of E who had filed objections to compel RC to transmit to Bd entire file including affidavits and investigatory notes, denied, where statements of witnesses submitted to RD by E which constituted all of E's evidence in support of objections, were appended to objections and thus became part of record under Bd's R/R Section 102.69(g) and were considered by Bd)

Summa Corporation d/b/a Frontier Hotel 265 NLRB No. 046
(record in objections cases where no hearing is held consists of objections which were filed, RD's report or decision, all documentary evidence, except statements of witnesses, relied on by RD in his report or decision, any briefs or other legal memorandum submitted by parties, and any other motions, rulings or order of RD. Moreover, party may append to its exception or opposition any affidavit or other documentary evidence which it has timely submitted to RD, and these documents will become part of record and fully considered by Bd)

Benchmark Industries, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 031
(E's contention RD erred when he failed to send Bd copies of all affidavits and other data accumulated during investigation of E's objections to election for its consideration with E's request for review, rejected, since no material or substantial issues of fact existed, and in accordance with Section 102.67(d) of Bd's R/R which provides that, any request for review be self contained document enabling Bd to rule on basis of its contents w/o necessity of recourse to record, E attached to its request for review documentary evidence relied upon by RD and Bd did consider this evidence)

The Bakery, Incorporated 259 NLRB No. 099
(in no hearing cases witnesses' statements excluded from record)

Burns International Security Services, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 165
(Bd declined to rule on E's mtn for transmittal of RD's investigative file where evidence needed to resolve merits of timely objections, necessity of hearing, and challenges to U's qualification was before Bd because E had submitted it with its exceptions)

Odom Sausage Co., Inc. of Arkansas 256 NLRB No. 045
(under Section 102.68 of R/R affidavits independently acquired during investigation of election objections are confidential and are not part of record in representation or subsequent ULP proceeding)

N.L.R.B. v. Decibel Products, Inc. 657 F.2d 727 (C.A. 5, 1981)
(enforcement of bargaining order denied and case remanded for consideration on basis of entire record; it was error for Bd to consider nothing but RD's report in determining whether E committed ULP)

N.L.R.B. v. North Electric Company, Plant No. 10 644 F.2d 580 (C.A. 6, Mar 26, 1981)
(in absence of hearing, regulation requires RD to transmit record to Bd so that all evidence relied on by RD in recommending that E's objections be overruled and U certified can be reviewed by Bd)

El Monte Tool and Die Casting, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 633 F.2d 160 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(where official record compiled by Bd did not include in its table of contents Ee affidavits, not conclusive that Bd did not consider affidavits where NLRB attorney prepared them and information contained in Bd's D/O appeared in affidavits)

7088-8300 Supplementing record

Harry Lunstead Designs, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 110
(under Sec. 102.69(g)(1)(ii) and (2) of R/R, record was complete after RD amended report to include record of proceeding, and E submitted to Bd documentary evidence not included in that report but previously submitted to RD during investigation)

7096 REOPENING RECORD AND REMAND

Weyerhaeuser Company 264 NLRB No. 124
(E's mtn to reopen record, requesting Bd to consider issues raised by ALJ's alternative rationales for sustaining challenges to Ees' ballots, denied, where Bd relied on ALJ's primary findings concerning Ees' status in sustaining challenges, and E's request to consider ALJ's alternative rationales is no longer a viable mtn)

Arden Electric, et al. 263 NLRB No. 037
(Bd remanded case to RD for taking of evidence on sole issue of continuing existence or validity of multi-E unit that RD had administratively found to constitute bar to ptns, particularly as to multi-E association's authority to bargain with Us other than IBEW local for electrical construction work, degree to which specific named E-members attempted to withdraw from association, and manner in which they sought to or did withdraw)

8000 UNIT CLARIFICATION PROCEDURE

Mac Towing, Inc., et al. 262 NLRB No. 168
(UC ptn dismissed where Petitioner's request for merger of engineering units and deck Ees units, and a further merger of separate E units into one fleetwide unit involves issues which fall outside proper scope of UC proceeding; parties have previously agreed to bargain within framework of separate bargaining units and Bd without showing of changed circumstances will not interfere with bargaining relationship)

Holly Hill Fruit Products Co., Inc. 256 NLRB No. 035
(ptn filed in middle of contract term, held timely, since here unit clarification procedure invoked to determine unit placement of Ees performing new operation)

Mercury Marine Division of Brunswick Corporation 254 NLRB No. 146
(Bd did not defer to reasoning of arbitrator who had found E had not violated contract by assigning operation of newly installed electronically programmed die-casting machines to personnel outside unit; instead, Bd accreted machine operators to existing unit pursuant to clarification ptn which is appropriate procedure for resolving ambiguities concerning unit placement of individuals who come w/i newly established classification of disputed unit placement; in any event, issues involving appropriateness of unit and criteria are particularly w/i Bd's expertise)

8000—Cont.

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(in determining supervisory, managerial or confidential status of Ees involved in instant U C proceeding, Bd held important consideration is active facts relating to job performance and not titles or job description; while wage data may be somewhat probative of status, it is not conclusive or determinative; moreover, U was permitted to examine witnesses on their wages and E's wage structure, and E relied little, if any, on disparity in wages)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(in U C proceeding, Bd found it unnecessary to make credibility resolutions, since it ordinarily does not do so in determining unit issues)

Arizona Electric Power Cooperative, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 110
(during mid-term contract negotiations Bd would refuse to entertain mid-term U C ptn to exclude alleged supervisors where parties were aware of unit placement problems when contract executed; to do so would be disruptive of established bargaining relationships)

Shop Rite Foods, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 143
(UC ptn filed 101 days prior to expiration of then-current 3-year contract, timely filed, since Bd has processed UC ptn filed 90 days prior to expiration of agreement in Beth Israel Medical Center, 231 NLRB 295 (1977); ptn in instant case was only slightly earlier filed; Bd does not lack authority to clarity unit established by agreement of parties)

Consolidated Papers, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 670 F.2d 754 (C.A. 7, Feb. 1982)
(ct denied enforcement ofBd order predicated upon unit clarification proceeding and Bd's finding that salaried Ees who were transferred to facility in question from another location were accretion to existing unit at the facility, since Bd should have dismissed ptn as untimely under Wallace-Murray rule, where ptn was filed during mid-term of existing bargaining contract, and contract's description of unit as hourly paid Ees clearly defined unit to exclude salaried Ees)

9000 AMENDMENT OF CERTIFICATION PROCEDURE

Knapp-Sherrill Company 263 NLRB No. 060
(E estopped from challenging procedures employed in merger of two local U's two years after it took place where it satisfied all elements of estoppel–knowledge, intent, mistaken belief and detrimental reliance; had knowledge of U merger, was aware it had right to refuse to recognize it as successor, and after merger E dealt with successor as its Ees' bargaining representative including forwarding dues payments, adjusting grievances, and bargaining over terms of proposed midterm wage reopener, and local relied on E's business as usual approach to its detriment when it took no further action to establish its status as collective-bargaining representative)

Knapp-Sherrill Company 263 NLRB No. 060
(merger of 2 Internationals into UFCW proper where Us held convention attended by both Us to effectuate merger; UFCW's executive board comprised of both International's officers' geographical divisions, districts of Meat Cutters unaltered, committees survived, local Us charter members and not required to merge with other locals, UFCW assumed rights, property, obligations of Internationals; although Local 171 did not send delegates to convention out of choice, its members did not vote on proposed merger; merger did not affect representation at local level, was provided for in Meat Cutters constitution, thus RD's amendment of certification proper)

400 BARGAINING UNITS

401 GENERALLY

1200 STATUTORY OBJECTIVES IN DEFINING BARGAINING UNITS

Alaska Statebank v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 1285 (C.A. 9, Aug 1981)

(Act itself provides little guidance to Bd in determining what appropriate bargaining unit shall be. When the Act does give instruction it does so in relation to rights of Ees. Assuring Ees of free exercise of their rights is paramount criterion in determining what will be bargaining unit)

2500 POWER AND DISCRETION OF BOARD

Big Y Foods, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 651 F.2d 40 (C.A. 1, June 1981)

(The issue as to what unit is appropriate for bargaining is one for which no absolute rule of law is laid down by statute, and none should be by decision. It involves of necessity a large measure of informed discretion, and the decision of the Board, if not final, is rarely to be disturbed... Packard Motor Car Co. v. N.L.R.B., 330 U.S. 485, 491-492 (1947))

N.L.R.B. v. Purnell's Pride, Inc. 609 F.2d 1153 (C.A. 5, Jan. 1980)

(Bd has broad discretion in making unit determination; it must select an appropriate unit, not the most appropriate unit)

2501 GENERALLY

Magic Pan, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 627 F.2d 105 (C.A. 7, 1980)

(issue as to what unit is appropriate for bargaining involves, of necessity, large measure of informed discretion; no absolute rule of law is laid down by statute, and none should be by decision)

Magic Pan, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 627 F.2d 105 (C.A. 7, 1980)

(Bd's decision on appropriateness of single restaurant of nation-wide chain being appropriate unit, not arbitrary or capricious where Bd's findings and conclusions were supported by substantial evidence and in accordance with law)

Spring City Knitting Company v. N.L.R.B. 647 F.2d 1011 (C.A. 9, June 1981)

(Bd is not required to select most appropriate bargaining unit so long as unit chosen is w/i range of units appropriate under circumstances)

Sohio Petroleum Co., a division of Sohio Natural Resources Co. v. N.L.R.B. 625 F.2d 223 (C.A. 9, June 1980)

(ct will not disturb Bd's (unit) determination unless there has been abuse of discretion and bargaining unit is clearly inappropriate; issue of bargaining unit determination is w/i particular expertise of Bd)

Presbyterian/St. Luke's Medical Center v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 450 (C.A. 10, July 1981)

(Bd has rebuttably presumed single facility units appropriate where there is no bargaining history in more comprehensive unit and-degree of functional integration with other facilities is insufficient to negate-separate identity of-facility in which a U seeks representative status)

Presbyterian/St. Luke's Medical Center v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 450 (C.A. 10, July 1981)

(ct must insure that Bd's exercise of discretion, as to what unit is appropriate for bargaining, is not unreasonable, arbitrary, unsupported by evidence, or in conflict with congressional intent)

2525 BOARD AUTHORITY UNDER STATUTE

Big Y Foods, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 123

(E's contention that Bd had not fulfilled its statutory duty to make unit determination in its Decision and Direction of Elections and summary judgment fails because of new issue that could not have been previously raised held w/o merit; Bd had found that either Unit A or Unit B was appropriate, and therefore affirmative duty placed on Bd by Sec. 9(b) was not violated by allowing Ees to express their desires in elections)

La Crosse Printing Company, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 027

(in ruling on challenges in cases involving stipulated units, Bd will rely on scope of stipulation itself unless it is contrary to Act or established Bd policy)

Magic Pan, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 627 F.2d 105 (C.A. 7, 1980)

(issue as to what unit is appropriate for bargaining involves, of necessity, large measure of informed discretion; no absolute rule of law is laid down by statute, and none should be by decision)

N.L.R.B. v. C & D Foods, Inc. 626 F.2d 578 (C.A. 7, July 1980)

(Bd not required to choose most appropriate unit but only to choose appropriate unit w/i range of several units in given factual situation; ct has recognized that Bd has vast discretion in deciding appropriate unit)

Alaska Statebank v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 1285 (C.A. 9, Aug 1981)

(appropriate bargaining unit selected by Bd need only be appropriate one, it need not be the only appropriate one or even optimal unit)

Alaska Statebank v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 1285 (C.A. 9, Aug 1981)

(Act itself provides little guidance to Bd in determining what appropriate bargaining unit shall be. When the Act does give instruction it does so in relation to rights of Ees. Assuring Ees of free exercise of their rights is paramount criterion in determining what will be bargaining unit)

Beth Israel Hospital and Geriatric Center v. N.L.R.B. 688 F.2d 697 (C.A. 10, Sept. 1982)

(en banc ct held Bd must determine, when certifying bargaining unit in health care institutions, whether unit is appropriate w/o resorting to presumption that shifts to E burden of showing proffered unit is appropriate, and Bd must state why unit it chooses complies with Congress' admonition; Bd cannot rely on E's failure to show that units are inappropriate; if Bd declines to redetermine whether an appropriate unit was selected, then that issue is not addressed at ULP proceeding, and thus Federal Rule of Evidence 301 would not apply and E could challenge unit selection only through judicial review)

Beth Israel Hospital and Geriatric Center v. N.L.R.B. 677 F.2d 1343 (C.A. 10, July 1981)

(enforcement denied where Bd erred in applying its prior decisions finding/concluding that unit restricted exclusively to registered nurses is presumptively appropriate and that E must overcome presumption by producing evidence that limited bargaining units are less appropriate than broader bargaining units; continued acceptance and endorsement of Bd's presumptive and evidentiary policies by ct would simply serve to enhance undue proliferation of health care bargaining units, in direct derogation to congressional mandate set forth in House and Senate committee reports)

Presbyterian/St. Luke's Medical Center v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 450 (C.A. 10, July 1981)

(Bd must expressly consider the congressional admonition to prevent proliferation of bargaining units in health care industry in making unit determinations and focus on disparity of interests between Ee groups which would prohibit or inhibit fair representation of Ee interests)

Presbyterian/St. Luke's Medical Center v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 450 (C.A. 10, July 1981)

(requiring health care industry Es to bear burden of producing evidence that limited bargaining units are more inappropriate than broader bargaining units runs contrary to Congress' admonition)

2550 ARBITRARY OR ARTIFICIAL GROUPINGS

Trustees of University of Pennsylvania 247 NLRB No. 132

(E's voluntary recognition of arbitrary grouping of Ees held insufficient justification for excluding similarly classified Ees, thereby splintering Ees who have common community of interest evidenced by centralized hiring procedures, personnel policies, benefits, and labor relations, and by performance of similar duties)

2550—Cont.

Catholic Community Services 247 NLRB No. 103
(no QCR where unit sought by petitioner was inappropriate; unit included only some Ees in each of E's five divisions but did not include all of E's facilities or all Ees in any one division; neither petitioner nor E had specified alternate unit; unit Ees did not share community of interest; unit petitioned for was arbitiary grouping of Ees)

Presbyterian/St. Luke's Medical Center v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 450 (C.A. 10, July 1981)
(dissimilarity of interests relevant to collective bargaining process determines which Ees are not to be included in proposed unit, not similarity of Ees' training, hours, conditions and activities which determine appropriateness of unit)

2562 EXTENT OF EMPLOYEE ORGANIZATION MAY NOT CONTROL UNIT DETERMINATION

Marriott In-Flite Services, A Division of Marriott Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 652 F.2d 202 (C.A. 1, June 1981)
(separate unit of handlers, helpers, coordinators and auto mechanics in E's transportation department rather than plant-wide unit appropriate where Bd's evaluation of considerations tending to show presence or absence of community of interest among Ees involved a large measure of informed discretion and was supported by substantial evidence; extent of U organization of Ees not controlling; Bd entitled to give greater weight to Ees' (desires) than Bd's view of boundries of unit; Bd's unit determinations for other of E's facilities not controlling)

2575 LIMITATIONS UPON AUTHORITY IMPOSED BY NLRA

2575-1400 Professional employees

Montefiore Hospital and Medical Center 261 NLRB No. 082
(staff doctors at medical center held professional Ees as defined in Section 2(12) of Act, and may constitute appropriate bargaining unit separate from other professional Ees even though in health care industry Bd is required to avoid fragmentation of units)

2575-1450 May not be included in unit with nonprofessionals without selfdetermination election (See also 177-2484-9300)

Utah Power & Light Company 258 NLRB No. 138
(while reaffirming its policy requiring that unit for decertification be coextensive with existing unit, Bd made exception to such policy in unique situation herein, in which ptn sought decertification of professional engineers who were part of larger mixed unit, because engineers were never afforded opportunity to vote in self-determination election as required by 9(b)(1) on whether they were to be included in existing unit; accordingly, Bd found requested unit not inappropriate and directed election among engineers)

Utah Power & Light Company 258 NLRB No. 138
(in directing a decertification election among professional engineers who were part of larger mixed unit, Bd noted that decertification proceeding was initiated at an appropriate time under 9(b)(1) provision intended for their protection, not by an E who seized upon issue as asserted basis for withholding recognition in midst of strike by its Ees)

Harborcreek School for Boys 249 NLRB No. 177

Jacques Syl Knitwear, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 191
(designer at manufacturer and distributor of children's clothing excluded from unit of production and maintenance Ees and ineligible to vote since professional Ee)

2575-2800 Guards

2575-2825 May not be included in unit with other employees

Supreme Sugar Company, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 039
(E's refusal to adhere to terms of collective-bargaining agreement regarding pay and benefits of watchman (found to be guard) not violative, notwithstanding E voluntarily agreed to include watchmen in unit, in view of express prohibition of Sec. 9(b)(3) that Bd shall not decide that any unit is appropriate for (purposes of collective bargaining) if it includes, together with other Ees, any individual employed as guard)

Burns Electronic Security Services, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 139
(operator/runners found guards and excluded from unit of all Ees where duties require them to wear uniforms, carry weapons, have police whistle and identification badge; operator/runners respond to alarms at customers premises, investigate scene, cooperate with police, secure premises and restore protective system)

Wright Memorial Hospital 256 NLRB No. 173
(ambulance department Ees on 2d and 3d shifts held guards and excluded from unit of all ambulance department Ees where, in addition to their ambulance duties, they make security rounds of hospital and so are employed to enforce, against Ees and others, rules to protect E's property and safety of persons on premises, and notwithstanding they wear no guard uniforms or do not themselves enforce rules but notify department heads of infractions)

National Medical Convalescent of San Diego, d/b/a Ojai Valley Community Hospital 254 NLRB No. 163
(U which represented public Ees including city policemen not precluded from representing Ees at hospital at which police furnished protection since police are not guards w/i Section 9(b)(3) of Act where not employed by E and only contact with E is through municipal function of rendering assistance when needed)

Jacques Syl Knitwear, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 191
(individual ineligible to vote since held guard and excluded from unit where he opens up plant before work and closes at end of day, watches Ees while in plant, punches and signs time cards where corrections necessary, inspects handbags of Ees leaving plant, and requests unauthorized persons to leave plant)

Burns Electronic Security Services, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 624 F.2d 403 (C.A. 2, 1980)
(remanded for reconsideration of question of whether Ees known as Operator/Runners were guards w/i meaning of Sec. 9(b)(3) where Bd had determined Ees were not guards on basis of R hearing only, did not consider relevant information introduced at ULP hearing on related charge and avoided addressing inconsistency between classification of Ees in present case and Ees with same title in three Bd decisions involving same E, notwithstanding Bd's argument that R/R Sec. 102.67(f) required party to produce all available evidence at R hearing rather than attempt to relitigate unit issue at ULP hearing)

2575-2850 Union admitting employees other than guards to membership may not represent guards

Purolator Courier Corp. 265 NLRB No. 086
(ptn by U to represent courier guards dismissed because U admits to membership Ees other than guards in violation of Sec. 9(b)(3) of Act)

Purolator Courier Corp. 254 NLRB No. 072
(U which admits other than guards to membership may not be certified as representative of courier/guards of E who is engaged in business of safeguarding and transporting commodities throughout the United States, since courier/guards are guards w/i meaning of Sec. 9(b)(3) of Act, inasmuch as they are employed to protect valuable property of E's customers; Brinks, Inc., 226 NLRB 1182 and MDS Courier Services, Inc., 248 NLRB 1320, cited)

MDS Courier Service, Inc. (Teamsters Local No. 150) 248 NLRB No. 181
(U which represented non-guards may not represent drivers who transported packages typically containing documents mortgage papers, engineering specifications and sealed pouches which might contain bank deposits, bearer bonds and jewelry since Ees held guards where employed to protect valuable property of E's customers; notwithstanding not armed, not required to wear uniforms, and deliveries made in privately owned vehicles)

N.L.R.B. v. J. W. Mays, Inc. 675 F.2d 442 (C.A. 2, Feb. 1982)
(U representing guards not disqualified from representing Ee guards where non-guards were not members of U nor did U solicit non-guards for membership; U was not purporting to represent Ee who was officer of U but worked in non-guard position in his non-guard capacity)

2575-4200 Supervisors

2575-4250 Statutory exclusion from employee status (See also 177-2484-6200 and 177-8500)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(pursuant to Act's specific exclusion of supervisors from unit and well settled rule excluding managerial and confidential Ees, Bd is required, when presented with an appropriate ptn or claim, to exclude positions from unit where inclusion of those positions would violate Act)

Clifford Cook, d/b/a Pinnacle Company and Pinnacle Roofing Co., Inc. JD-(SF)-196-79

3700 EFFECT OF ACTION BY OTHER AUTHORITIES

3725 ARBITRATION AWARDS

N.L.R.B. v. Local 1034, Teamsters 651 F.2d 136 (C.A. 2, June 1981)
(enforcement granted where Bd's determination of composition of unit was matter which parties' contract's grievance arbitration is designed to resolve and parties have clearly and consistently expressed their willingness to be bound by arbitrator's decision; Bd was construing parties' contract which set up original unit; ct did not reject result (of Bd decision) which would have been same if Bd had deferred to arbitrator's determination)

3750 STATE AGENCY ACTION

3750—Cont.

Wordsworth Academy 262 NLRB No. 042

(Bd policy is to accord comity to elections and certifications of responsible State agencies, provided that State proceedings reflect true desires of affected Ees, election irregularities are not involved, and there has been no substantial deviation from due process; moreover, while State agency's unit determination need not conform to Bd precedent, unit must not be repugnant to Act)

Wordsworth Academy 262 NLRB No. 042

(Bd declined to grant comity to State board's certification of unit similar to one sought herein, where State board's certified unit differed from unit sought by parties herein since State certified unit included all professional Ees and did not expressly exclude certain Ee categories, whereas stipulated unit herein expressly excluded such Ees; moreover, parties stipulated to exclude certain named Ees who may or may not be covered by State board's certification)

3775 FEDERAL AGENCY ACTION

Yellow Taxi Company of Minneapolis, d/b/a Suburban Yellow Taxi Company 249 NLRB No. 035

(deferral to rulings by IRS and EEOC that lessee taxicab drivers were independent contractors, unwarranted since Bd's determination was based on record developed after hearing in which parties participated, presented evidence and cross-examined witnesses)

5000 EFFECT OF STIPULATIONS BY PARTIES TO BOARD PROCEEDINGS

Greyhound Food Management, Inc. d/b/a Burger King 258 NLRB No. 178

(where E stipulated to appropricateness of unit in underlying R proceeding but in its ans to 8(a)(5) C herein denied such allegation, E held bound by earlier agreement, since E took no position at hearing or on brief that facts underlying stipulation had changed and, consequently, offered no evidence to show that stipulation did not continue to be valid, nor did E expressly withdraw from stipulation; moreover, R-case decision showed that unit was presumptively appropriate and record herein further disclosed that unit, in consonance with parties' agreement, was appropriate)

5050 STIPULATIONS BY PARTIES NOT INCLUDING RD

5050-0100 Generally

Valley View Hospital 252 NLRB No. 160

(it is settled Bd policy to accept stipulations from parties as to composition of unit, unless such stipulations are contrary either to statutory provisions of Act, or established Bd policy)

5050-6700 Stipulations as to composition

A & B Cartage, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 003

(Bd not bound by Norris-Thermador list on issues of supervisory status)

Valley View Hospital 252 NLRB No. 160

(GC's mtn for summary judgment denied where RD had found unit including RNs appropriate in view of stipulation of parties; however, there was no testimony at R hearing which would indicate RNs were technical Ees, or performed duties different from those implied in their job classification, and stipulation alone cannot override mandate of 9(b) requiring professional Ees to vote on inclusion in unit with non-professional Ees)

N.L.R.B. v. Boston Beef Co., Inc. 652 F.2d 223 (C.A. 1, July 1981)

(Bd may not rely upon community of interest test to subvert clear intent of parties (in stipulated election) but, where intent is unclear or stipulation ambiguous, Bd may properly rely on community of interest principles to help resolve ambiguity of whether Ee eligible to vote)

N.L.R.B. v. Midvalley Steel Fabricators, Inc. 621 F.2d 49 (C.A. 2, 1980)

(ct concluded Bd erred in its determination that drivers should be included in unit since parties had agreed to drivers exclusion and at oral argument Bd agreed drivers should be excluded)

5075 STIPULATIONS IN CONSENT AGREEMENT APPROVED BY RD

5075-3300 Stipulations as to scope

Penetone Corporation 260 NLRB No. 188

(E, in C case, cannot challenge appropriateness of unit, since E had stipulated to unit's appropriateness in R proceeding and U was certified as bargaining representation for E's Ees in unit)

G. H. Skipper, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 053

(where U and E agreed that Ees from satellite operation which was to be closed down and Ees shifted to main location were to be included in unit at main location, unit proper and all Ees allowed to vote; RD's exclusion of satellite unit consistent with finding that Ees from that unit included in main unit as parties stipulated)

La Crosse Printing Company, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 027

(in ruling on challenges in cases involving stipulated units, Bd will rely on scope of stipulation itself unless it is contrary to Act or established Bd policy)

Tipton Electric Company and Professional Furniture Company v. N.L.R.B. 621 F.2d 890 (C.A. 8, 1980)

(Bd may give same effect to stipulation in R case that Es were joint Es as it gives to litigated determination)

5075-6700 Stipulations as to composition

Penetone Corporation 260 NLRB No. 188

(E, in C case, cannot challenge appropriateness of unit, since E had stipulated to unit's appropriateness in R proceeding and U was certified as bargaining representation for E's Ees in unit)

Lifemark Hospitals of Texas, Inc. d/b/a Mid-Jefferson County Hospital 259 NLRB No. 103

(where stipulation include in unit regularly scheduled part-time Ees, Ees included where they regularly receive schedule for same hours notwithstanding they may refuse these hours or may be called in to work on days not scheduled as part of hours were worked according to schedule and therefore, they do not qualify as casual Ees)

7500 CRITERIA FOR DETERMINATION OF UNIT SCOPE AND COMPOSITION

Air-Vac Industries, Inc., Leeward Constructors, Inc., Air-Vac Environmental Limited 259 NLRB No. 051

(determination that two affiliated firms constitute single E does not necessarily establish that an E-wide unit is appropriate, as the factors which are relevant in identifying brea(d)th of an E's operation are not conclusively determinative of the scope of an appropriate unit)

La Crosse Printing Company, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 027

(challenges to ballots of composing room Ees sustained and those Ees excluded from stipulated unit of all P&M Ees of printing and lithographic presses and associated devices employed in (E's) pressroom in view of their separate representation by Intervenor for over 25 years; Petitioner was attempting to replace U which had represented traditionally appropriate unit)

Presbyterian/St. Luke's Medical Center v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 450 (C.A. 10, July 1981)

(traditional factors used in scope determinations must be put in balance against - public interest in preventing fragmentation in - health care field; Bd must specify manner in which its unit determination(s) implement or reflect that admonition)

7550 EMPLOYEE COMMUNITY OF INTEREST CONTROLLING

Allied Gear and Machine Company, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 097

(separate unit limited to Ees of E's pattern and plate department held inappropriate where all production Ees, including pattern and plate Ees, were hourly paid, received same benefits, were subject to same work rules, payroll classifications and performance reviews and used common plant facilities; skills of Ees sought were not complex and neither previous experience nor formal training were conditions for their employment; Ees' operations were closely integrated with other departments)

Catholic Community Services 247 NLRB No. 103

(no QCR where unit sought by petitioner was inappropriate; unit included only some Ees in each of E's five divisions but did not include all of E's facilities or all Ees in any one division; neither petitioner nor E had specified alternate unit; unit Ees did not share community of interest; unit petitioned for was arbitiary grouping of Ees)

N.L.R.B. v. Boston Beef Co., Inc. 652 F.2d 223 (C.A. 1, July 1981)

(test for community of interest standard for allegedly regular part-time Ee includes consideration of whether Ee: (1) worked at regularly assigned hours during substantial number of hours per week; (2) performed duties similar to those of unit Ees; and (3) shared same supervision, working conditions, wages, and fringe benefits as did unit Ees)

N.L.R.B. v. Purnell's Pride, Inc. 609 F.2d 1153 (C.A. 5, Jan. 1980)

(in determining community of interest Bd considers factors such as bargaining history, operational integration, geographic proximity, common supervision, similarity in job function, and degree of Ee interchange)

N.L.R.B. v. Purnell's Pride, Inc. 609 F.2d 1153 (C.A. 5, Jan. 1980)

(finding of community of interest such that proposed unit is appropriate is equivalent to finding that aggregate of evidence under all relevant factors preponderates in favor of proponent; crucial consideration is weight or significance, not number of factors related to particular case)

7550—Cont.

Seligman and Associates, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 639 F.2d 307 (C.A. 6, 1981)
(notwithstanding RD decision in representation case was still pending before Bd. Bd's findings in ULP case of E-Ee relationship and appropriate unit was proper since issue was relevant to Bd's request for bargaining order and fully litigated below; Bd's findings supported by substantial evidence where it showed E's full and centralized control over Ees and Ees had common interest necessary to comprise appropriate unit)

Tomy Corporation, A Wholly Owned Subsidiary of Tomy Kogyo, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 667 F.2d 1032 (C.A. 9, Dec. 1981)
(critical determinant in defining bargaining units is whether Ees share substantial community of interests sufficient to justify their mutual inclusion in single bargaining unit)

Sohio Petroleum Co., a division of Sohio Natural Resources Co. v. N.L.R.B. 625 F.2d 223 (C.A. 9, June 1980)
(critical consideration)

8700 EFFECT UPON DETERMINATION OF IMMINENT CHANGE IN EMPLOYER'S OPERATION

G. H. Skipper, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 053
(where U and E agreed that Ees from satalite operation which was to be closed down and Ees shifted to main location were to be included in unit at main location, unit proper and all Ees allowed to vote; RD's exclusion of satalite unit consistent with finding that Ees from that unit included in main unit as parties stipulated)

420 FACTORS RELEVANT TO DETERMINATION OF SCOPE OR COMPOSITION OF UNIT

0100 GENERALLY

Alaska Statebank v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 1285 (C.A. 9, Aug 1981)

(Act itself provides little guidance to Bd in determining what appropriate bargaining unit shall be. When the Act does give instruction it does so in relation to rights of Ees. Assuring Ees of free exercise of their rights is paramount criterion in determining what will be bargaining unit)

0150 PRESUMPTION OF APPROPRIATENESS OF 9(b) UNITS

Big Y Foods, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 651 F.2d 40 (C.A. 1, June 1981)

(after considering relevant factors, NLRB's application of presumption under which it found that a meat department exists in multi-department retail food store and justifies determination that meat department is appropriate unit unless opponent proves that in particular circumstances it is not appropriate unit; presumption is substantive, not procedural, presumption and is rebuttable, not conclusive; it does no more than shift burden of proof)

Big Y Foods, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 651 F.2d 40 (C.A. 1, June 1981)

(only pertinent limitation on Bd's unit determinations is Sec. 9(b) statutory direction to NLRB to make decision in each case. This statutory direction invalidates conclusive presumption but does not invalidate rebuttable presumption)

Big Y Foods, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 651 F.2d 40 (C.A. 1, June 1981)

(Court may set aside NLRB Sec. 9(b) determination only if Bd has not disclosed basis of its determination, or determination is not supported by substantial evidence, or determination is in violation of Act, or some other statute, or Constitution, or is arbitrary or unreasonable)

Presbyterian/St. Luke's Medical Center v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 450 (C.A. 10, July 1981)

(Bd has rebuttably presumed single facility units appropriate where there is no bargaining history in more comprehensive unit and-degree of functional integration with other facilities is insufficient to negate-separate identity of-facility in which a U seeks representative status)

0600 PRIOR UNIT DETERMINATION

1200 BARGAINING HISTORY AND PRACTICE

1201 GENERALLY

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014

(bargaining history of long-standing inclusion of Ees in unit is not determinative of disputed Ee categories whose exclusion may be required because of statute or policy reasons; however, history of inclusion of Ees for many years and absence of changed circumstances in terms of job duties may constitute evidence on status of individuals sought to be excluded)

1209 BARGAINING HISTORY IN APPROPRIATE UNIT

Marco, Inc. d/b/a Towne Plaza Hotel 258 NLRB No. 016

(unit encompassing hotel's housekeepers and maintenance Ees constituted appropriate unit where such unit had been recognized unit in successive collective-bargaining agreements and during previous negotiations)

1218 ABSENCE OF BARGAINING HISTORY

United Parcel Service, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 030

(upon review Bd found that 10 operating centers comprising Metro Division unit servicing one metropolitan area of nation-wide delivery service, rather than systemwide unit servicing 2 states including metropolitan area, supra, appropriate where: (1) Ees had common divisional supervision; (2) centers were geographically and administratively separate from all other of Ee's district centers; and (3) both interchange and bargaining history were absent among operating center clerks)

Hegins Corporation 255 NLRB No. 160

Presbyterian/St. Luke's Medical Center v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 450 (C.A. 10, July 1981)

(Bd has rebuttably presumed single facility units appropriate where there is no bargaining history in more comprehensive unit and-degree of functional integration with other facilities is insufficient to negate-separate identity of-facility in which a U seeks representative status)

1227 EMPLOYEES COVERED BY EXISTING CONTRACT

West Virginia Newspaper Publishing Company 265 NLRB No. 060

(scope of appropriate unit in decertification election is coextensive with existing recognized or certified unit)

Puerto Rico Hotel Association 259 NLRB No. 058

(contention of hotel E Association that unit of all Ee musicians of hotels, excluding bandleaders, not appropriate, because some hotels had attempted to withdraw from multi-E bargaining and bandleaders had historically been included in unit, rejected, since E hotels signatories to mutual aid and protection pact and participated in negotiating through E association; attempted withdrawal from multi-E bargaining was untimely, where after U had presented demands, and placement of leaders in unit never issue in negotiations and inclusion of supervisors in unit does not render it inappropriate)

1236 EMPLOYEES EXCLUDED FROM CONTRACT COVERAGE

Malcolm Boring Co., Inc. B. C. Malcolm and Bruce C. Malcolm 259 NLRB No. 081

(Ees engaged in construction work and Ees engaged in maintenance, repair and fabrication of construction equipment found members of separate bargaining units employed by single E in light of evidence of intent of E and U where language of relevant contract was ambiguous and for prior three years they had applied contract to only one group of Ees)

Classic Truck Rental Corp. 251 NLRB No. 056

(agreement held not to cover drivers' helpers, even though helpers were mentioned in preamble of drivers' contract, where preamble was purely boiler-plate language; only drivers' wages were specified in body of agreement and no mention was made of other Ee classifications described in preamble; and, pursuant to U's general practice in agreements with other Es, Ee classifications mentioned in preamble but not assigned wage scale in contract are not included in unit)

1245 BARGAINING HISTORY OF EMPLOYER'S PREDECESSOR

Stroehmann Brothers Company 252 NLRB No. 139

(shipping Ees in company that distributed bake goods held appropriate unit, contrary to E's contention that these Ees should be included in established unit of route salesman, over-the-road drivers, and mechanics of competing U, where shipping Ees historically were in separate unit of another U and sale of business to new E would not alter this since shipping Ees were homogeneous group with separate supervisors employed different skills, had no apparent on-the-job contract with Ees of established unit, and never performed work of Ees in other unit)

Saks & Company d/b/a Saks Fifth Avenue 247 NLRB No. 128

(presumption of continuing majority notwithstanding predecessor E's recognition of U was forty years ago and there has been no subsequent election or certification)

1263 BARGAINING HISTORY AT EMPLOYER'S OTHER PLANTS

Big Y Foods, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 651 F.2d 40 (C.A. 1, June 1981)

(presumption that separate meat department unit appropriate in multi-department retail food store was not rebutted by 10-year bargaining history between E and U with respect to 5 stores not involved herein as this fact is not part of bargaining history of Ees in petitioned-for unit of meat department Ees in 11 other stores of E)

1263—Cont.

1281 BARGAINING PRACTICE IN INDUSTRY

Weatherite Company, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 095

(proposition that finding accretion to unit in construction industry is proper on ground that it is unwise to further fractionalize units in industry because it has been historically plagued with jurisdictional disputes and restrictive work rules is erroneous; rather, a fundamental consideration in determining accretion issue is to assure Ees fullest freedom in exercise of their Sec. 9(b) rights; moreover, Bd has intentionally treated industry differently because collective bargaining for Ee groups identified by function and by craft skills has proven successful and has become established accomodation to needs of industry and Ees)

1295 VOLUNTARY RECOGNITION

Trustees of University of Pennsylvania 247 NLRB No. 132

(E's voluntary recognition of arbitrary grouping of Ees held insufficient justification for exluding similarly classified Ees, thereby splintering Ees who have common community of interest evidenced by centralized hiring procedures, personnel policies, benefits, and labor relations, and by performance of similar duties)

1700 REASONS FOR DISREGARD OF BARGAINING HISTORY

1787 BARGAINING HISTORY CONTRARY TO BOARD POLICY

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014

(bargaining history of long-standing inclusion of Ees in unit is not determinative of disputed Ee categories whose exclusion may be required because of statute or policy reasons; however, history of inclusion of Ees for many years and absence of changed circumstances in terms of job duties may constitute evidence on status of individuals sought to be excluded)

2300 CHANGED CIRCUMSTANCES SINCE PRIOR DETERMINATION OR HISTORY

2310 IN OWNERSHIP

Stroehmann Brothers Company 252 NLRB No. 139

(shipping Ees in company that distributed bake goods held appropriate unit, contrary to E's contention that these Ees should be included in established unit of route saleman, over-the-road drivers, and mechanics of competing U, where shipping Ees historically were in separate unit of another U and sale of business to new E would not alter this since shipping Ees were homogeneous group with separate supervisors employed different skills, had no apparent on-the-job contract with Ees of established unit, and never performed work of Ees in other unit)

2320 IN PLANT LOCATION

Drukker Communications, Inc., and Its Wholly Owned Subsidiary The Daily Advance, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 097

(relocation of mailroom from one location to another does not affect bargaining unit of mailroom Ees)

2360 MERGER OF FORMER UNITS

Sears, Roebuck and Co. 253 NLRB No. 025

(one store, rather than 2-store unit, appropriate, notwithstanding claim that units had been merged by parties' conduct, where there was no evidence that parties had mutually agreed to extinguish separateness of units, in view of contract provisions covering both stores leading to inference that, despite negotiation of single contract, parties did not contemplate creating single unit; moreover, each store operated as self-contained unit with no operational interchange between them and, in absence of specific language to the contrary, inference cannot be drawn that parties agreed to extinguish separate units)

2370 NEW PLANT OR LOCATION

Marine Optical, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 158

(unit at relocated operations, rather than unit limited to old operations, appropriate, where during phasing out of old operations, E continued as integrated operation and Ees continued to constitute single unit performing same work, under essentially same supervision, on same machinery, producing same products for same customers)

Monongahela Valley Hospital, Inc. 240 NLRB No. 013

(where E built new facility 3 miles away and transferred all patients, equipment, and Ees from old facility except 4 boiler firemen who remained behind at old structure which enjoyed limited use in support of new facility; these 4 boiler firemen remained in unit at new facility because of common supervision and community of interest; U did not waive any rights to their representation by waiting 3 months after move before filing charges)

N.L.R.B. v. United Optical Workers Union Local 408, Electrical Workers (Marine Optical, Inc.) 671 F.2d 11 (C.A. 1, Feb. 1982)

(contractual unit included Ees at new location after E transferred operations where there was substantial continuity of operations and employment)

2900 SIMILARITY OF TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF EMPLOYMENT

Rosemount Center 248 NLRB No. 163

(E's contention that CETA Ees have working conditions different from those of other Ees on ground annotations in Ee handbook reflected both special requirements of CETA and recognition by E of different status of CETA Ees, rejected, where few changes were made in handbook, and those made were minor; no changes were made in key areas of conditions of employment; and extra grievance procedure provided for CETA Ees was never utilized by any CETA Ee)

2901 GENERALLY

Presbyterian/St. Luke's Medical Center v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 450 (C.A. 10, July 1981)

(dissimilarity of interests relevant to collective bargaining process determines which Ees are not to be included in proposed unit, not similarity of Ees' training, hours, conditions and activities which determine appropriateness of unit)

2903 SIMILAR WAGE RATES

The Folger Coffee Company 250 NLRB No. 001

Rosemount Center 248 NLRB No. 163

(E's contention that CETA Ees do not have community of interest with E's other Ees because it does not have same control over hiring of CETA Ees' and because CETA grant finances Ee wage and benefit package, rejected; although prime sponsor determines eligibility for CETA employment, E decides which eligible applicant to hire, E's salary schedule for different CETA positions, submitted as part of its contract proposal, was not changed by CETA officials, and E and petitioner stipulated that benefits are equal for similar lenghts of service for regular and CETA Ees)

2906 DIFFERENT WAGE RATES

Institutional Food Services 258 NLRB No. 086

Century Moving & Storage, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 083

2912 DIFFERENT MODE OF PAYMENT

Century Moving & Storage, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 083

Liquid Transporters, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 163

(mechanics and their helpers, checkout lane Ees, and cleaning rack Ees constitute separate unit and are not included in unit of drivers of interstate common carrier where their regular work contacts with drivers was negligible; they were paid at diffurent time and on different basis than were drivers; they had seniority list, Ee committee and grievance procedure separate from E's drivers)

2915 SIMILAR HOURS OF WORK

Keeshin Charter Service, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 117

(individual who cleaned offices and buses for E who chartered buses included in unit and eligible to vote notwithstanding contention lacked community of interest where at time of election she had not been assigned bus cleaning for several months since under same supervision as bus cleaners and worked similar irregular hours; further, individual would be unrepresented if not included in unit since had nothing in common with office clericals and no other labor organization sought to represent office cleaners)

2918 DIFFERENT HOURS OF WORK

Institutional Food Services 258 NLRB No. 086

2921 SIMILAR FRINGE BENEFITS

The Folger Coffee Company 250 NLRB No. 001

Rosemount Center 248 NLRB No. 163

(E's contention that CETA Ees do not have community of interest with E's other Ees because it does not have same control over hiring of CETA Ees' and because CETA grant finances Ee wage and benefit package, rejected; although prime sponsor determines eligibility for CETA employment, E decides which eligible applicant to hire, E's salary schedule for different CETA positions, submitted as part of its contract proposal, was not changed by CETA officials, and E and petitioner stipulated that benefits are equal for similar lenghts of service for regular and CETA Ees)

2927 UNIFORM WORKING CONDITIONS

Allied Gear and Machine Company, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 097

(separate unit limited to Ees of E's pattern and plate department held inappropriate where all production Ees, including pattern and plate Ees, were hourly paid, received same benefits, were subject to same work rules, payroll classifications and performance reviews and used common plant facilities; skills of Ees sought were not complex and neither previous experience nor formal training were conditions for their employment; Ees' operations were closely integrated with other departments)

2927—Cont.

The Folger Coffee Company 250 NLRB No. 001

2930 DIFFERENT WORKING CONDITIONS

Hamilton Test Systems New York, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 085

Continental Web Press, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 170

(unit of all pressroom Ees in E's pressroom department held appropriate rather than combined unit of pressmen and preparatory department Ees in E's lithographic production process, since pressroom Ees shared distinct community of interest; their duties related solely to high level skills in operating press equipment; pressroom Ees had minimal contact and no interchange w/preparatory department Ees; pressroom Ees were separately supervised and trained w/their own line of progression w/varied working conditions from preparatory Ees)

Institutional Food Services 258 NLRB No. 086

2933 COMMON SUPERVISION

The Folger Coffee Company 250 NLRB No. 001

2936 SEPARATE SUPERVISION

Hamilton Test Systems New York, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 085

Continental Web Press, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 170

(unit of all pressroom Ees in E's pressroom department held appropriate rather than combined unit of pressmen and preparatory department Ees in E's lithographic production process, since pressroom Ees shared distinct community of interest; their duties related solely to high level skills in operating press equipment; pressroom Ees had minimal contact and no interchange w/preparatory department Ees; pressroom Ees were separately supervised and trained w/their own line of progression w/varied working conditions from preparatory Ees)

United Parcel Service, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 030

(upon review Bd found that 10 operating centers comprising Metro Division unit servicing one metropolitan area of nation-wide delivery service, rather than systemwide unit servicing 2 states including metropolitan area, supra, appropriate where: (1) Ees had common divisional supervision; (2) centers were geographically and administratively separate from all other of Ee's district centers; and (3) both interchange and bargaining history were absent among operating center clerks)

Associated Milk Producers, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 186

(two-location unit rather than three-location unit of milk marketer held appropriate where two of E's facilities located in one city were only three miles apart while E's third, a leased facility, was in another city 32 miles away; Ees of two-location facilities had frequent contact and shared immediate supervision while Ees at third facility had, little frequent contact with other two facility Ees, separate immediate supervision, and separate seniority based upon prior employment with lessor)

2948 SEPARATE SENIORITY LISTS

Century Moving & Storage, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 063

Associated Milk Producers, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 186

(two-location unit rather than three-location unit of milk marketer held appropriate where two of E's facilities located in one city were only three miles apart while E's third, a leased facility, was in another city 32 miles away; Ees of two-location facilities had frequent contact and shared immediate supervision while Ees at third facility had, little frequent contact with other two facility Ees, separate immediate supervision, and separate seniority based upon prior employment with lessor)

Liquid Transporters, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 163

(mechanics and their helpers, checkout lane Ees, and cleaning rack Ees constitute separate unit and are not included in unit of drivers of interstate common carrier where their regular work contacts with drivers was negligible; they were paid at different time and on different basis than were drivers; they had seniority list, Ee committee and grievance procedure separate from E's drivers)

2966 NATURE OF WORK DIFFERENT

Institutional Food Services 258 NLRB No. 086

Great Scot of Florida, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 126

(Bd upheld RD's finding that meat department Ees in E's retail store had separate community of interest from other grocery Ees despite limited interchange among clerks and were therefore excluded from appropriate unit where Bd had previously denied E's request for review which under R/R Sec. 102.67(f) precludes relitigation of representation issue in related subsequent ULP proceeding; Bd noted that E's reliance on Ashcraft's Market, Inc. 346 NLRB No. 68, was unfounded where factors evidencing separate community of interest from other store Ees in instant case were missing in Ashcraft)

2993 SIMILAR RELATIONSHIP WITH EMPLOYER

Keeshin Charter Service, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 117

(individual who cleaned offices and buses for E who chartered buses included in unit and eligible to vote notwithstanding contention lacked community of interest where at time of election she had not been assigned bus cleaning for several months since under same supervision as bus cleaners and worked similar irregular hours; further, individual would be unrepresented if not included in unit since had nothing in common with office clericals and no other labor organization sought to represent office cleaners)

2996 DIFFERENT RELATIONSHIP WITH EMPLOYER

Keeshin Charter Service, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 117

(part time Ee who also was employed part time in home of E's president eligible, notwithstanding contention she was hired after ptn filed in expectation she would be anti-U; contention that she did not share sufficient community of interests with other Ees because of her association with owner's family as worker in household, rejected)

3400 CHARACTERISTICS OF EMPLOYEES

4000 EMPLOYER'S ADMINISTRATIVE STRUCTURE

4008 CENTRAL CONTROL OF MANAGEMENT FUNCTIONS

Air-Vac Industries, Inc., Leeward Constructors, Inc., Air-Vac Environmental Limited 259 NLRB No. 051

(single unit of Ees commonly employed by three entities, comprising single integrated enterprise, held appropriate for bargaining purposes because of their common ownership, officers, directors, supervision, common facility, single compliment of Ees, similar nature of work and utilization of same equipment)

Hegins Corporation 255 NLRB No. 160

(single location unit of P&M Ees appropriate where department supervisors retain substantial autonomy to direct and discipline Ees and, after consultation with president, to discharge them; this factor was more significant then central record keeping or functional integration)

4016 LOCAL CONTROL OF MANAGEMENT FUNCTIONS

United Parcel Service, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 030

(upon review Bd found that 10 operating centers comprising Metro Division unit servicing one metropolitan area of nation-wide delivery service, rather than systemwide unit servicing 2 states including metropolitan area, supra, appropriate where: (1) Ees had common divisional supervision; (2) centers were geographically and administratively separate from all other of Ee's district centers; and (3) both interchange and bargaining history were absent among operating center clerks)

4025 CENTRAL CONTROL OF LABOR RELATIONS

Air-Vac Industries, Inc., Leeward Constructors, Inc., Air-Vac Environmental Limited 259 NLRB No. 051

(single unit of Ees commonly employed by three entities, comprising single integrated enterprise, held appropriate for bargaining purposes because of their common ownership, officers, directors, supervision, common facility, single compliment of Ees, similar nature of work and utilization of same equipment)

4041 CENTRAL CONTROL OF HIRING AND DISCHARGE

Air-Vac Industries, Inc., Leeward Constructors, Inc., Air-Vac Environmental Limited 259 NLRB No. 051

(single unit of Ees commonly employed by three entities, comprising single integrated enterprise, held appropriate for bargaining purposes because of their common ownership, officers, directors, supervision, common facility, single compliment of Ees, similar nature of work and utilization of same equipment)

4050 LOCAL AUTONOMY IN HIRING AND DISCHARGE

Hegins Corporation 255 NLRB No. 160

(single location unit of P&M Ees appropriate where department supervisors retain substantial autonomy to direct and discipline Ees and, after consultation with president, to discharge them; this factor was more significant then central record keeping or functional integration)

4600 EXTENT OF INTEGRATION OF OPERATION

4601 GENERALLY

Gustave Fisher, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 130

(manner in which E has organized his plant and utilizes particular skills of his labor force (how Ees interact so as to carry out E's business purposes) has direct bearing on community of interest among various groups of Ees in plant and is thus important consideration in any unit determination)

4617 HIGHLY INTEGRATED OPERATIONS

Hegins Corporation 255 NLRB No. 160

(single location unit of P&M Ees appropriate where department supervisors retain substantial autonomy to direct and discipline Ees and, after consultation with president, to discharge them; this factor was more significant then central record keeping or functional integration)

4633 LITTLE OR NO INTEGRATION OF OPERATION

Presbyterian/St. Luke's Medical Center v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 450 (C.A. 10, July 1981)

(Bd has rebuttably presumed single facility units appropriate where there is no bargaining history in more comprehensive unit and-degree of functional integration with other facilities is insufficient to negate-separate identity of-facility in which a U seeks representative status)

5000 EXTENT OF CONTACT BETWEEN EMPLOYEES

5027 FREQUENT INTERCHANGE OR TRANSFER OF THE EMPLOYEES

Air-Vac Industries, Inc., Leeward Constructors, Inc., Air-Vac Environmental Limited 259 NLRB No. 051

(single unit of Ees commonly employed by three entities, comprising single integrated enterprise, held appropriate for bargaining purposes because of their common ownership, officers, directors, supervision, common facility, single compliment of Ees, similar nature of work and utilization of same equipment)

Big Y Foods, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 651 F.2d 40 (C.A. 1, June 1981)

(Bd properly viewed two-way interchange between meat clerks and Ees in other departments from Ee's view rather than from E's view especially in light of no one asking for unit of meat clerks and majority of Ees in meat department were meat cutters who never transferred)

5034 LITTLE OR NO INTERCHANGE OR TRANSFER OF EMPLOYEES

Hamilton Test Systems New York, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 085

Continental Web Press, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 170

(unit of all pressroom Ees in E's pressroom department held appropriate rather than combined unit of pressmen and preparatory department Ees in E's lithographic production process, since pressroom Ees shared distinct community of interest; their duties related solely to high level skills in operating press equipment; pressroom Ees had minimal contact and no interchange w/preparatory department Ees; pressroom Ees were separately supervised and trained w/their own line of progression w/varied working conditions from preparatory Ees)

Institutional Food Services 258 NLRB No. 086

United Parcel Service, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 030

(upon review Bd found that 10 operating centers comprising Metro Division unit servicing one metropolitan area of nation-wide delivery service, rather than systemwide unit servicing 2 states including metropolitan area, supra, appropriate where: (1) Ees had common divisional supervision; (2) centers were geographically and administratively separate from all other of Ee's district centers; and (3) both interchange and bargaining history were absent among operating center clerks)

Hegins Corporation 255 NLRB No. 160

(presumptive appropriateness of single-location unit not overcome by some Ee interchange in which few Ees were sent to second facility to do shipping and packing, although not w/i six months prior to hearing, and occasionally Ees in second facility were sent to other facility to unload and do maintenance work for both locations)

Century Moving & Storage, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 083

Associated Milk Producers, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 186

(two-location unit rather than three-location unit of milk marketer held appropriate where two of E's facilities located in one city were only three miles apart while E's third, a leased facility, was in another city 32 miles away; Ees of two-location facilities had frequent contact and shared immediate supervision while Ees at third facility had, little frequent contact with other two facility Ees, separate immediate supervision, and separate seniority based upon prior employment with lessor)

Liquid Transporters, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 163

(mechanics and their helpers, checkout lane Ees, and cleaning rack Ees constitute separate unit and are not included in unit of drivers of interstate common carrier where their regular work contacts with drivers was negligible; they were paid at different time and on different basis than were drivers; they had seniority list, Ee committee and grievance procedure separate from E's drivers)

5075 EMPLOYEES WORK IN SEPARATE PARTS OF PLANT OR LOCATION

Hamilton Test Systems New York, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 085

5600 FREQUENCY OR REGULARITY OF WORK

6200 DIFFERENCE IN EMPLOYER OR IN LOCATION OF WORK

6260 EMPLOYEES WORK AT DIFFERENT PLANTS OR LOCATIONS

Pickering & Company (Local 810, Teamsters) 248 NLRB No. 099

(unit of all production maintenance and warehouse Ees at two facilities of E which manufactures audio equipment rather than production maintenance and warehouse Ees at one facility since presumption of appropriateness of single plant unit rebutted where geographical separation minimized by frequent E furnished transportation and in view of high degree of production integration and common management of administrative and production matters common benefits and seniority, notwithstanding lack of day-to-day interchange of Ees)

Commercial Testing & Engineering Co. (Teamsters, Local Union 175) 248 NLRB No. 096

(2 Ees performing same work as other unit Ees though at facility 20 miles away and receiving same benefits and wages and having same supervision included in unit)

6280 GEOGRAPHICAL LOCATION OF PLANTS

Checker Cab Company of Virginia, Inc., d/b/a Avis Rent-A-Car 260 NLRB No. 118

(multi location unit of rental and service agents at E's airport car rental facility and office Ees at nearby office held appropriate, but Ees of facility in another state 85 miles away not included in unit in view of dissimilar working conditions and lack of community of interest)

Associated Milk Producers, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 186

(two-location unit rather than three-location unit of milk marketer held appropriate where two of E's facilities located in one city were only three miles apart while E's third, a leased facility, was in another city 32 miles away; Ees of two-location facilities had frequent contact and shared immediate supervision while Ees at third facility had, little frequent contact with other two facility Ees, separate immediate supervision, and separate seniority based upon prior employment with lessor)

6290 GEOGRAPHIC CLUSTER

Associated Milk Producers, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 186

(two-location unit rather than three-location unit of milk marketer held appropriate where two of E's facilities located in one city were only three miles apart while E's third, a leased facility, was in another city 32 miles away; Ees of two-location facilities had frequent contact and shared immediate supervision while Ees at third facility had, little frequent contact with other two facility Ees, separate immediate supervision, and separate seniority based upon prior employment with lessor)

Wyandotte Savings Bank v. N.L.R.B. 669 F.2d 386 (C.A. 6, Jan. 1982)

(Bd holding that bargaining unit appropriate reversed and enforcement of Bd order denied in case involving branch banks where banks are in close geographical proximity and minimal authority vested in branch managers; See Wayne-Oakland Banks v. N.L.R.B. 462 F.2d 666 (6th Cir. 1972))

6700 LEGAL REQUIREMENTS OF OTHER AUTHORITIES

7300 DESIRE OF PARTIES OR OF EMPLOYEES

7303 UNIT SOUGHT BY PETITION

La Crosse Printing Company, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 027

(challenges to ballots of composing room Ees sustained and those Ees excluded from stipulated unit of all P&M Ees of printing and lithographic presses and associated devices employed in (E's) pressroom in view of their separate representation by Intervenor for over 25 years; Petitioner was attempting to replace U which had represented traditionally appropriate unit)

7306 DESIRE OF EMPLOYEES

7306—Cont.

Marriott In-Flite Services, A Division of Marriott Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 652 F.2d 202 (C.A. 1, June 1981)
(separate unit of handlers, helpers, coordinators and auto mechanics in E's transportation department rather than plant-wide unit appropriate where Bd's evaluation of considerations tending to show presence or absence of community of interest among Ees involved a large measure of informed discretion and was supported by substantial evidence; extent of U organization of Ees not controlling; Bd entitled to give greater weight to Ees' (desires) than Bd's view of boundries of unit; Bd's unit determinations for other of E's facilities not controlling)

7312 STIPULATION BY PARTIES

Tiffin Enterprise, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 012
(challenges to ballots of temporary part-time Ees sustained where parties intended to exclude temporary part-time Ees from stipulated unit and even assuming arguendo that employment history of disputed Ees brings them w/i Bd's definition of regular part-time Ees, parties' agreement to exclude such Ees would not contravene Bd policy)

La Crosse Printing Company, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 027
(in ruling on challenges in cases involving stipulated units, Bd will rely on scope of stipulation itself unless it is contrary to Act or established Bd policy)

La Crosse Printing Company, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 027
(challenges to ballots of composing room Ees sustained and those Ees excluded from stipulated unit of all P&M Ees of printing and lithographic presses and associated devices employed in (E's) pressroom in view of their separate representation by Intervenor for over 25 years; Petitioner was attempting to replace U which had represented traditionally appropriate unit)

7384 NO UNION SEEKS SEPARATE UNIT

Keeshin Charter Service, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 117
(individual who cleaned offices and buses for E who chartered buses included in unit and eligible to vote notwithstanding contention lacked community of interest where at time of election she had not been assigned bus cleaning for several months since under same supervision as bus cleaners and worked similar irregular hours; further, individual would be unrepresented if not included in unit since had nothing in common with office clericals and no other labor organization sought to represent office cleaners)

7390 NO UNION SEEKS BROADER UNIT

Hegins Corporation 255 NLRB No. 160

7900 ANTICIPATED CHANGES IN WORK CIRCUMSTANCES

7950 SUBSTANTIAL INCREASE IN SIZE OF UNIT PLANNED

Whiteman Steel Mills, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 041
(E found to employ substantial and representative work force where at time of R hearing it employed 54 Ees in 15 job classifications of planned projection of 149 Ees in approximately 36 classifications 4 to 5 months out; furthermore, w/i 30 days of hearing E plans to employ 22 of the additional Ees in 6 additional job classifications; E's plans to expand to 250 in 2 years too indefinite to use to measure substantiality of work force as equipment must be ordered and construction has not started)

8400 AVOIDANCE OF INCONGRUOUS RESULTS

8412 SEGMENT OF APPROPRIATE UNIT

American Broadcasting Companies, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 160
(4 petitioned-for small groups of Ees found not to constitute appropriate bargaining units where they share strong community of interest, based on common job functions, working conditions, wage structure and fringe benefits with hundreds of others of E's Ees, and do not possess any skills or training which would set them apart)

8417 EXCLUSION OF EMPLOYEES WITH SKILLS OR INTERESTS SIMILAR TO THOSE OF EMPLOYEES INCLUDED

Keeshin Charter Service, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 117
(individual who cleaned offices and buses for E who chartered buses included in unit and eligible to vote notwithstanding contention lacked community of interest where at time of election she had not been assigned bus cleaning for several months since under same supervision as bus cleaners and worked similar irregular hours; further, individual would be unrepresented if not included in unit since had nothing in common with office clericals and no other labor organization sought to represent office cleaners)

8423 UNIT DOES NOT INCLUDE ALL UNREPRESENTED EMPLOYEES

United Parcel Service, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 030
(unrepresented clerks working in feeder and package areas at administrative headquarters of E's Metro Division included in unit which included operating center clerks of Metro Division since unrepresented clerks performed duties identical to operating center clerks)

American Broadcasting Companies, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 160
(4 petitioned-for small groups of Ees found not to constitute appropriate bargaining units where they share strong community of interest, based on common job functions, working conditions, wage structure and fringe benefits with hundreds of others of E's Ees, and do not possess any skills or training which would set them apart)

8429 AVOIDING LEAVING EMPLOYEES WITHOUT REPRESENTATION

Keeshin Charter Service, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 117
(individual who cleaned offices and buses for E who chartered buses included in unit and eligible to vote notwithstanding contention lacked community of interest where at time of election she had not been assigned bus cleaning for several months since under same supervision as bus cleaners and worked similar irregular hours; further, individual would be unrepresented if not included in unit since had nothing in common with office clericals and no other labor organization sought to represent office cleaners)

8446 AVOIDING FRAGMENTATION OF INDIVIDUAL EMPLOYEE'S FUNCTIONS

Sunray Ltd. 258 NLRB No. 072
(election not barred by previous 8(f) relationships with dual-function Ees where competing Us did not represent majority in unit in that some work of Ees fell w/i jurisdiction of each U and thus neither U could claim 9(a) relationship; therefore Bd directed election in unit covering all Ees, giving Ees a choice to be represented by one of the two rival Us or no U)

American Broadcasting Companies, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 160
(4 petitioned-for small groups of Ees found not to constitute appropriate bargaining units where they share strong community of interest, based on common job functions, working conditions, wage structure and fringe benefits with hundreds of others of E's Ees, and do not possess any skills or training which would set them apart)

9000 MULTIEMPLOYER UNIT DETERMINATION FACTORS

9064 IDENTITY OF OWNERSHIP OR MANAGEMENT

Air-Vac Industries, Inc., Leeward Constructors, Inc., Air-Vac Environmental Limited 259 NLRB No. 051
(single unit of Ees commonly employed by three entities, comprising single integrated enterprise, held appropriate for bargaining purposes because of their common ownership, officers, directors, supervision, common facility, single compliment of Ees, similar nature of work and utilization of same equipment)

9600 MISCELLANEOUS OTHER FACTORS

9615 EXTENT OF ORGANIZATION OF EMPLOYEES

Marriott In-Flite Services, A Division of Marriott Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 652 F.2d 202 (C.A. 1, June 1981)
(separate unit of handlers, helpers, coordinators and auto mechanics in E's transportation department rather than plant-wide unit appropriate where Bd's evaluation of considerations tending to show presence or absence of community of interest among Ees involved a large measure of informed discretion and was supported by substantial evidence; extent of U organization of Ees not controlling; Bd entitled to give greater weight to Ees' (desires) than Bd's view of boundries of unit; Bd's unit determinations for other of E's facilities not controlling)

9620 DECERTIFICATION PETITION

American Recreation Centers, Inc., d/b/a Mel's Bowl (Hotel & Restaurant Employees, Local 28, AFL-CIO) 250 NLRB No. 142
(Bd directed decertification election in unit of bartenders at restaurant, where operator leased restaurant part of operation to lessee; even though lessee signed same restaurant association agreement to which lessor was signatory and which included bar and restaurant Ees in same unit, bar and restaurant were operated as independent businesses, and unit was severed when lessor leased restaurant to lessee who independently contracted for restaurant Ees, and U acquiesced in de facto separation of bar and restaurant Ees)

9625 JOB TITLES AND WAGE STRUCTURE

9625—Cont.

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014

(in determining supervisory, managerial or confidential status of Ees involved in instant U C proceeding, Bd held important consideration is active facts relating to job performance and not titles or job description; while wage data may be somewhat probative of status, it is not conclusive or determinative; moreover, U was permitted to examine witnesses on their wages and E's wage structure, and E relied little, if any, on disparity in wages)

9698 CONTROL OVER HIRING

Rosemount Center 248 NLRB No. 163

(E's contention that CETA Ees do not have community of interest with E's other Ees because it does not have same control over hiring of CETA Ees' and because CETA grant finances Ee wage and benefit package, rejected; although prime sponsor determines eligibility for CETA employment, E decides which eligible applicant to hire, E's salary schedule for different CETA positions, submitted as part of its contract proposal, was not changed by CETA officials, and E and petitioner stipulated that benefits are equal for similar lenghts of service for regular and CETA Ees)

440 DETERMINATIONS OF SCOPE OF UNIT

1700 SINGLE LOCATION UNITS

1720 PLANTWIDE UNITS

1720-0100 Generally

1720-0133 Presumptive appropriateness

Montefiore Hospital and Medical Center 261 NLRB No. 082

Orkin Exterminating Company, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 102
(unit of technicians at single location branch office of E providing pest control services, inappropriate, notwithstanding geographic distances between branch offices in district and presumptive appropriateness of single-facility unit, in view of broad authority of district manager over daily operations and labor relations of all branch offices w/i district, uniform working conditions and Ee skills, and substantial Ee interchange)

Penn Color, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 151
(presumption favoring single-plant unit not rebutted and request for such unit granted, in view of sufficiently autonomous supervision at each of E's two plants, lack of significant Ee interchange, absence of any bargaining history among unit Ees, and fact that no labor organization seeks to represent Ees on broader basis)

N.L.R.B. v. Living and Learning Centers, Inc. 652 F.2d 209 (C.A. 1, June 1981)
(unit of E's Ees at single day care center rather than at all E's locations in state or at all of its locations in four states, appropriate; E did not show unit was clearly not appropriate and did not rebut presumption that single facility unit in chain of units is appropriate notwithstanding centralized administration of labor relations, since there is ct precedent that local manager need not have authority finally to decide collective bargaining issues for local branch unit to be appropriate, and director here had authority to resolve some of them such as discharge, disputes, hiring and working hours)

N.L.R.B. v. Forest City Enterprises, Inc. 663 F.2d 34 (C.A. 6, Nov. 1981)
(single store bargaining unit of multi-state retail store chain rather than two-store citywide unit appropriate in view of store manager's control of daily operations, lack of Ee interchange between stores and fact organization of Ees was attempted at only one store)

Alaska Statebank v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 1285 (C.A. 9, Aug 1981)
(Bd has adopted in retail sales, industrial, insurance and banking industries, presumption that single store plant, office or branch is appropriate unit rather than E wide)

Spring City Knitting Company v. N.L.R.B. 647 F.2d 1011 (C.A. 9, June 1981)
(there is presumption that single plant is appropriate bargaining unit)

Beth Israel Hospital and Geriatric Center v. N.L.R.B. 688 F.2d 697 (C.A. 10, Sept. 1982)
(en banc ct held Bd must determine, when certifying bargaining unit in health care institutions, whether unit is appropriate w/o resorting to presumption that shifts to E burden of showing proffered unit is appropriate, and Bd must state why unit it chooses complies with Congress' admonition; Bd cannot rely on E's failure to show that units are inappropriate; if Bd declines to redetermine whether an appropriate unit was selected, then that issue is not addressed at ULP proceeding, and thus Federal Rule of Evidence 301 would not apply and E could challenge unit selection only through judicial review)

Beth Israel Hospital and Geriatric Center v. N.L.R.B. 677 F.2d 1343 (C.A. 10, July 1981)
(enforcement denied where Bd erred in applying its prior decisions finding/concluding that unit restricted exclusively to registered nurses is presumptively appropriate and that E must overcome presumption by producing evidence that limited bargaining units are less appropriate than broader bargaining units; continued acceptance and endorsement of Bd's presumptive and evidentiary policies by ct would simply serve to enhance undue proliferation of health care bargaining units, in direct derogation to congressional mandate set forth in House and Senate committee reports)

Presbyterian/St. Luke's Medical Center v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 450 (C.A. 10, July 1981)
(Bd has rebuttably presumed single facility units appropriate where there is no bargaining history in more comprehensive unit and-degree of functional integration with other facilities is insufficient to negate-separate identity of-facility in which a U seeks representative status)

Presbyterian/St. Luke's Medical Center v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 450 (C.A. 10, July 1981)
(enforcement denied where Bd erred in accepting presumptively appropriate unit restricted to registered nurses at single facility of E's 3 hospitals in single city, since there was sufficient evidence adduced to sustain appropriateness of all professional unit excluding physicians; evidence was sufficient to sustain finding of inappropriateness of proposed unit had it been accepted)

Presbyterian/St. Luke's Medical Center v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 450 (C.A. 10, July 1981)
(requiring health care industry Es to bear burden of producing evidence that limited bargaining units are more inappropriate than broader bargaining units runs contrary to Congress' admonition)

1720-3300 Specific unit determinations (by SIC category)

Clinton Corn Processing Company, A Division of Standard Brands, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 133
(overall unit rather than petitioned-for unit limited to utility Ees at corn milling operation appropriate where corn milling operation was highly integrated production process in which there existed substantial functional and operational integration among Ees who shared communities of interest of such magnitude as to preclude placing utility Ees in separate unit)

Spring City Knitting Company v. N.L.R.B. 647 F.2d 1011 (C.A. 9, June 1981)
(Bd's designation that each of two plants of E who manufactures men's and boy's underwear as separate bargaining unit held proper in view of absence of Ee interchange between plants, local power to hire and fire, geographical distance of plants which were 140 miles apart, and lack of collective bargaining history)

Print-O-Stat, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 047
(unit of all Ees including Ees in purchasing, estimating, repair, and customer service departments, outside salesmen, inventory control clerk, at main plant of E engaged in printing and retail distribution of architectual engineering supplies and office furniture, appropriate, rather than unit limited to production Ees, notwithstanding contention insufficient community of interest, in view of overall common supervision and frequent contacts among departments and job interchangeability)

Gustave Fisher, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 130
(overall unit of Ees of E engaged in retail sale and service of office furniture and office supplies appropriate, rather than unit of warehouse Ees in view of high degree of integration of operation with high degree of Ee interaction among various classifications of Ees where emphasis appears to be placed on completion of tasks, flexibility of Ees' work, common fringe benefits, notwithstanding blurring of supervisory distinctions)

Yaohan of California, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 050
(unit of all Ees at retail grocery store including meat department Ees held appropriate since meat department Ees did not perform skilled tasks of meatcutting traditionally performed by butchers and meatcutters which is indicative of separate community of interest but instead worked with boxed meats)

B. Siegel Company v. N.L.R.B. 670 F.2d 64 (C.A. 6, Jan. 1982)
(certification of separate bargaining units for each of 3 stores out of E's 7 retail women's apparel shops in city rather than of one unit of all 7 stores, not abuse of discretion – notwithstanding 7 stores' geographic proximity and centralized organization and labor relations – in view of individual stores' autonomy, store managers' involvement with Ees' daily work and discretion in areas important to them, and lack of bargaining history or any U seeking broader unit)

1720-3300—Cont.

Alaska Statebank v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 1285 (C.A. 9, Aug 1981)

(unit of Ees at single branch of bank rather than unit of Ees at all branches and headquarters of bank, appropriate, where branch was geographically isolated, local managers retained control over day to day Ee relations, and there was no significant amount of Ee interchange among branches; ct applied single-location unit presumption which it had approved for retail sales and held presumption had not been overcome by single facility's lack of meaningful identity)

N.L.R.B. v. H. M. Patterson & Son, Inc. 636 F.2d 1014 (C.A. 5, 1981)

(unit limited to all full time and regular part-time funeral directors, assistant funeral directors, embablers, apprentices and attendant receptionists at funeral home, rather than all Ee unit, appropriate; since share community of interest in view of fact all are involved with working with body of deceased)

Oklahoma Blood Institute, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 195

(multilocation unit of Ees at three of the five facilities of E engaged in collecting, processing and distributing blood and blood products, rather than requested single facility unit, appropriate in view of integration of the three facilities; factors of common supervision and total functional dependency of small satellite location of one facility on the other facilities precluded finding that requested unit could constitute appropriate separate unit)

1720-6700 Placement of employees in plantwide unit (by SIC category)

Gordon L. Rayner and Frank H. Clark, d/b/a Bay Area Sealers 251 NLRB No. 017

(Ee who during crucial period of contract signing spent 70% of his time in production tasks for E engaged in asphalt road-sealing work included in unit, notwithstanding he was salaried, was present at contract talks (although he did not participate), and later concentrated on sales and estimates rather than production)

Print-O-Stat, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 047

(unit of all Ees including Ees in purchasing, estimating, repair, and customer service departments, outside salesmen, inventory control clerk, at main plant of E engaged in printing and retail distribution of architectual engineering supplies and office furniture, appropriate, rather than unit limited to production Ees, notwithstanding contention insufficient community of interest, in view of overall common supervision and frequent contacts among departments and job interchangeability)

Yaohan of California, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 050

(unit of all Ees at retail grocery store including meat department Ees held appropriate since meat department Ees did not perform skilled tasks of meatcutting traditionally performed by butchers and meatcutters which is indicative of separate community of interest but instead worked with boxed meats)

Great Day, Inc. (Retail Store Employees Union, Local No. 20) 248 NLRB No. 079

(inclusion of full-time meat department Ees in storewide unit of retail grocery store Ees, rather than separate unit of such Ees, appropriate, where they substantially interchange with other Ees, lack traditional meatcutting skills, are supervised by E's president and store manager as are other Ees, and have same uniform job and wage classifications, benefits and working conditions as other ees)

1740 Plant subdivision units

1740-5000 Departmental units (See 440-1760, for departmental units defined by employee types or category)

1740-5025 Specific determinations (by SIC category)

The Concord Telephone Company 248 NLRB No. 044

(separate unit of full-time and regular part-time Ees of telephone company's plant department, rather than systemwide unit combining plant department with E's traffic and commercial departments, appropriate, in view of plant department's distinct functional integration and fact that Ee complement of plant department is not so small as to warrant finding only system wide unit appropriate)

Sears, Roebuck and Co. 261 NLRB No. 035

(unit of Ees in E's automotive department found appropriate rather than storewide unit where auto center Ees have limited contact with other Ees, constitute functionally integrated group working in recognized product line under separate supervision with community of interest sufficiently different from other Ees i.e. hours, vacation schedule)

Anaheim Operating, Inc., d/b/a Sheraton-Anaheim Hotel 252 NLRB No. 134

(unit limited to operating engineers, maintenance Ees and their helpers, and painters employed exclusively in hotel's engineering department, rather than hotelwide unit, held appropriate where Ees in engineering department shared community of interests separate from that of E's other Ees and there was absence of bargaining history on broader unit basis)

Bally's Park Place, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 006

(petitoned for unit of Ees in slot machine department of gambling casino, including slot attendants and slot machine mechanics, appropriate, although casino wide unit may also be appropriate, slot machine department unit appropriate in view of separate immediate supervision, distinctive duties and skills, absence of temporary interchange with any other casino Ees and no other U seeks to represent all casino Ees)

1760 EMPLOYEE TYPE OR CATEGORY UNITS

1760-0500 Production employees unit

1760-0560 Placement of production employees in other unit (by SIC category)

Stanley M. Feil, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 065

(separate unit of warehouse Ees, at manufacturer of garments appropriate rather than unit of warehouse and factory Ees in view of difference in skills, working conditions and wages of Ees)

1760-0580 Placement of other employee in production unit (by SIC category)

International Business Systems, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 102

(stockboy who performed duties unrelated to lithographic process on regular basis, included in lithographic unit at E engaged in manufacture of business forms, since he actually functioned as pressroom helper)

G. F. Business Equipment, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 123

(purchasing clerk excluded from unit of production Ees where she is salaried, does not punch time clock, free to determine own break time, works in main office typing purchase orders for Ees who are not in unit; also contacts with unit Ees minimal)

G. F. Business Equipment, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 123

(production control clerk excluded from production Ees unit where: training was with non-unit Ees, salaried, no scheduled breaks, responsible for departmental records, works in main office; moreover, despite fact that her clerical function are related to production her community of interest is with office clerical Ees)

Allied Gear and Machine Company, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 097

(separate unit limited to Ees of E's pattern and plate department held inappropriate where all production Ees, including pattern and plate Ees, were hourly paid, received same benefits, were subject to same work rules, payroll classifications and performance reviews and used common plant facilities; skills of Ees sought were not complex and neither previous experience nor formal training were conditions for their employment; Ees' operations were closely integrated with other departments)

Linn Gear Company JD-(SF)-360-80

(on ct remand, JD held that Ee who was in charge of inventory control, Ee who prepared work orders, and Ee who was production scheduler for manufacturer of gears and sprockets were members of voting unit and therefore challenges to their ballots overruled; Ees worked in production office adjacent to plant's warehouse, were supervised by production manager, received hourly wages and overtime pay, received same fringe benefits as unit Ees, had regular contact with unit Ees, and their work was functionally integrated with work of voting unit Ees)

1760-1000 Maintenance employees unit

1760-1040 Specific determination (by SIC category)

Franklin Mint Corporation 254 NLRB No. 084

(E-wide unit of maintenance Ees at E's three facilities w/i seven mile radius held appropriate where maintenance department has own administrative offices, work areas and supervisory hierarchy, and absence of interchange with production Ees)

1760-1060 Placement of maintenance employees in other unit (by SIC category)

Purnell's Pride, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 018

(maintenance Ees included in unit of production Ees in light of regular contact of both groups, transfers between departments, other interchange and also maintenance department is located at processing facility)

1760-1080 Placement of other employees in maintenance unit (by SIC category)

Franklin Mint Corporation 254 NLRB No. 084

(toolmakers and toolroom machinists included in maintenance unit in E-wide unit where supervised by maintenance department supervisors, function principally to provide support service for production process and do not engage in repetitive production operations)

1760-1500 Production & maintenance unit employees unit

1760-1501 Generally

1760-1501—Cont.

Cincinnati Association For The Blind v. N.L.R.B. 672 F.2d 567 (C.A. 6, Mar. 1982)
(Bd's certification of P&M unit including both sighted and visually handicapped Ees, not abuse of discretion where Bd found differences between them as to discipline and wage structure insufficient to affect unit's appropriateness)

1760-1540 Specific determination (by SIC category)

Home Insulation Service, A Division of Sunstate Wholesalers 258 NLRB No. 050
(unit of production and maintenance Ees at all branches of E which installed building insulation, appropriate, rather than at one branch, absent separate community of interests, in view of same pay and benefits, interchange and transfer of Ees among branches)

Funky, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 042
(unit of all production and maintenance employees including cutters, spreaders helpers, pickers, packers, billers and truckdriver's employed in manufacturing garments held appropriate)

Texprint, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 138
(single unit of P&M Ees of corporation engaged in printing patterns on fabric rather than combined unit with P&M Ees of another corporation engaged in screen production necessary for printing fabric appropriate where Bd held, even though both operations were in same building, that each corporation was separate legal entity in view of degree of autonomy in each operation, absence of common controlling ownership in both firms, lack of substantial interchange of Ees between corporations, and distinctive character of work performed by each corporation)

1760-1580 Placement of other employees in P&M unit (by SIC category)

Sharondale Corporation 262 NLRB No. 158
(mine warehouseman included in unit of all underground and above ground production and maintenance Ees at mine, but excluding office clericals, since held not to be office clerical and to have sufficient community of interest with other surface Ees included in unit inasmuch as was hourly paid, received same fringe benefits, and has same supervision as other surface Ees)

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 044
(office porter at yarn producing facility held office clerical and excluded from unit of P & M Ees where porter spends less than an hour a day in plant, his contact with unit Ees is minimal, his primary duties are performed either in front office or away from plant, and his schedule is different from that of unit Ees)

Gordonsville Industries, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 054
(testers performing simple, easily-learned manual quality control work included in P&M unit)

Funky, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 042
(pattern makers and sample makers properly excluded from P&M unit where excluded Ees physically separated from other Ees, E's operations organized along preproduction and production processes with pattern maker and sample makers in former catagory, pattern makers highest paid hourly Ees, sample makers supervisor has no authority over unit Ees, and sample makers only sewing machine operators)

Avon Products, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 141
(all representative service department Ees except department secretary and secretarial, office supply and cash sale clerks included in P&M unit at cosmetic manufacturer's branch operation in view of involvement in single highly integrated order-flow process and facility-wide terms and conditions of employment)

Avon Products, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 141
(secretarial clerk in representative service department, department manager's secretary and administrative clerks in packaging department, and all department secretaries in all departments excluded from P&M unit at cosmetics manufacturers' branch operation as office clericals)

Avon Products, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 141
(office supply and cash sales clerks in representative service department excluded from P&M unit at cosmetics manufacturer's branch operation where they play no role in order flow process and are physically separated from unit Ees)

Avon Products, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 141
(data processing department Ees and transportation department dispatcher, expediting clerk typist, transportation coordinator and correspondent, and order-service, lost-order, cost-and-tonnage, and transportation clerks included in P&M unit at cosmetics manufacturer's branch operation as plant clericals in view of involvement in order flow process, contacts and interchange with unit Ees and facility-wide terms and conditions of employment)

Avon Products, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 141
(visual order entry (VOE) operators in data processing department and (VOE) terminal operators in merchandise control and material handling departments included in P&M unit of cosmetics manufacturer's branch operation in view of interchange and work-related contact with unit Ees and central role in order flow process)

Avon Products, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 141
(line balance clerk, mechanical assembly operator, and merchandise assembly clerk in shipping department included in P&M unit of cosmetics manufacturer's branch operation in view of repeated daily contact with unit Ees, and facility-wide terms and conditions of employment)

Avon Products, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 141
(dock loader, stacker/strapper and sealer/labeler in transportation department included in P&M unit at cosmetics manufacturer's branch operation as production Ees)

Avon Products, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 141
(cost accounting, planning, accounts payable, and perpetual inventory clerks in inventory, cost and planning department included in P&M unit at cosmetics manufacturer's branch operation as plant clericals in view of jobs related to order flow process and contact with unit Ees)

Avon Products, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 141
(management shipment coordinator and merchandise expediter in merchandise control department included in P&M unit at cosmetics manufacturer's branch operation as plant clericals in view of job function and role in order flow process; all other merchandise department Ees included as production, maintenance or plant clerical Ees)

Avon Products, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 141
(terminal operators, clerk manifest, and warehouse control and receiving control clerks and inventory control analyst in material handling department included in P&M unit at cosmetics manufacturer's branch operation in view of daily contact with unit Ees and facility-wide terms and conditions of employment)

Avon Products, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 141
(all processing department Ees, all packaging department Ees except secretaries and administrative clerks, all quality assurance department Ees except secretaries and chemists, and all engineering department Ees except secretary included in P&M unit of cosmetics manufacturer's branch operation as determined by RD)

Avon Products, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 141
(expediters, master record, container records, and manifest clerks in production control department included in P&M unit at costmetics manufacturer's branch operation where they share facility-wide terms and conditions of employment)

Avon Products, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 141
(all industrial engineering and purchasing department Ees excluded from P&M unit at cosmetics manufacturer's branch operation for lack of community interest as found by RD)

Avon Products, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 141
(tour hostesses employed only as tour hostesses excluded from P&M unit at costmetics manufacturer's branch operation; however, tour hostesses holding regular full-time positions in addition to their tour hostess duties should have their status in unit determined by whether or not their full-time position has been included in unit found appropriate herein)

Penn Color, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 151
(quality control and research and development technicians at plant engaged in production of color concentrates excluded from P&M unit, where supervision of P&M Ees is totally different from that of technicians; there is no interchange between P&M Ees and technicians; while technicians have option of being paid on salary basis, P&M Ees are compensated on hourly rate; basis for and frequency of promotions are different; and there are different requirements regarding education background and on-the-job training)

Marion Rohr Corporation 261 NLRB No. 139
(cutters and spreaders included with packers and bundlers in cutting room in overall P&M unit of plant since many of their duties are same as other cutting room Ees who are included in unit and all of whom are under same supervisor, and no other U seeks to represent cutters and spreaders)

Whitteman Steel Mills, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 041
(laboratory technicians not included in unit of P&M Ees where lacked sufficient community of interest and will perform some duties as laboratory technicians excluded from P&M unit previously represented by another U)

Magna Corporation 261 NLRB No. 009
(Bd clarified unit by including position of plant storeroom specialist in P&M unit as duties performed were essentially plant clerical in nature which are included in unit notwithstanding lack of community of interest and salaried rather than hourly paid)

Comet Corporation 261 NLRB No. 188
(truck drivers excluded from P&M unit at manufacturer and distributor of semi-trailers and van bodies since they essentially functioned as distinct group possessing different skills and qualifications with little or no transfers between production workers and drivers, and in view of different hours, conditions, and pay)

1760-1900 Office clerical employees unit

1760-1920 Identifying characteristics

1760-1920-6000 Line of supervision and administration

United Parcel Service, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 030
(clerical Ees who work in E's district department offices at one of E's 10 Metro division offices found to be office clericals and were excluded from unit including operating clerical Ees where they performed dissimilar functions in separate work areas under different supervision from operating clericals)

1760-1920-8000 Working conditions different from those of production employees

United Parcel Service, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 030
(clerical Ees who work in E's district department offices at one of E's 10 Metro division offices found to be office clericals and were excluded from unit including operating clerical Ees where they performed dissimilar functions in separate work areas under different supervision from operating clericals)

1760-1940 Specific determination (by SIC category)

Nevada Club, Inc., d/b/a Fitzgerald's Hotel/Casino 255 NLRB No. 084
(separate unit of hotel clericals as requested by petitioner rather than overall hotel unit held appropriate consistent with Bd's policy of granting such separate unit upon request supported by adequate showing of distinct community of interest)

Stroock & Stroock & Lavan 253 NLRB No. 052
(stipulated unit of clerical and support staff of 2 law firms that merged and combined these staffs at one location, appropriate)

1760-1960 Placement of office clerical employees in other unit (by SIC category) (See also 440-1760-2400)

Jacques Syl Knitwear, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 191
(billing clerk and individual who filed and operated office equipment at manufacturer and distributor of children's clothing held to be ineligible to vote since w/i office-clerical exclusion from warehouse unit notwithstanding they performed some of their duties in warehouse building)

Montgomery Ward & Co., Inc. 259 NLRB No. 041
(office and warehouse clericals included in residual group of unrepresented warehouse Ees at nation-wide distribution center of general merchanidse)

1760-1980 Placement of other employees in office clerical unit (by SIC Category) (See also 440-1760-2800)

ITT Grinnell 253 NLRB No. 077
(accounts receivable collection coordinator not included in office clerical Ees unit notwithstanding he can make only recommendations with regard to customer's credit level, where 60% of his time spent resolving payment disputes and this involves customer contact and independent judgment)

ITT Grinnell 253 NLRB No. 077
(credit escalation analyst excluded from unit of office clerical Ees and found technical Ee where she is responsible for functions requiring specialized training and independent judgment; moreover she is salaried, has 2-year degree in accounting and no interchange with other unit Ees)

ITT Grinnell 253 NLRB No. 077
(secretary to assistant plant manager found confidential Ee and excluded from office clerical unit; manager has significant responsibility for formulation and effectuation of labor relations policy and she has sole responsibility for his filing and typing)

ITT Grinnell 253 NLRB No. 077
(secretary to engineering supervisor whose job description contains no duties concerning personnel matters or formulation of labor relations policy and possibility of such duties only speculative found not confidential secretary and included in unit)

ITT Grinnell 253 NLRB No. 077
(property accountant, aid to confidential secretary found not to be confidential secretary and included in unit of office clerical Ees where none of her work involved labor relations and future possibilities only speculative)

Pilgrim Life Insurance Company 249 NLRB No. 140
(bookkeeper at insurance company excluded from unit since he lacked community of interest with other clericals in view of disparity between his salary and prevailing wage in clerical unit, his flexible working time, and lack of managerial supervision over his daily routines)

Stroock & Stroock & Lavan 253 NLRB No. 052
(paralegals excluded from unit of office clericals notwithstanding they share common working hours and fringe benefits where their duties require analytic skills, supervisory structure is different, no daily interchange, clients are billed for paralegals time, and position treated as preparation for law school)

Stroock & Stroock & Lavan 253 NLRB No. 052
(law office librarians included in unit of office clericals where share working hours, same benefits and perform similar clerical functions)

1760-2400 Plant clerical employees unit

1760-2460 Placement of plant clericals in other unit (by SIC category) (See also 440-1760-2900)

ITT Lighting Fixtures, Division of ITT Corporation 249 NLRB No. 061
(Ee found plant clerical not office clerical and included in bargaining unit where her duties are integral part of warehouse operation; 75% of her time spent on record keeping for warehouse Ees, office adjoins warehouse and is separate from office clericals, she goes onto warehouse floor to perform part of her duties, and shares same intermediate supervision, works same hours as warehouse Ees)

Montgomery Ward & Co., Inc. 259 NLRB No. 041
(office and warehouse clericals included in residual group of unrepresented warehouse Ees at nation-wide distribution center of general merchanidse)

1760-2480 Placement of other employees in plant clerical unit (by SIC category) (See also 440-1760-2900)

Texprint, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 138
(inclusion of process control clerks of corporation engaged in printing patterns in unit of plant clericals appropriate where their duties are essentially those of plant clericals, they are hourly paid, receive same benefits, have same supervisor and work in enclosed area on production floor with virtually no contact with office clericals)

1760-2900 Office and plant clericals combined unit

1760-2960 Placement of office/plant clericals in other unit (by SIC category)

Montgomery Ward & Co., Inc. 259 NLRB No. 041
(office and warehouse clericals included in residual group of unrepresented warehouse Ees at nation-wide distribution center of general merchanidse)

1760-3400 Technical employees unit

1760-3401 Generally

Beverly Enterprises d/b/a Beverly Manor Convalescent Centers 264 NLRB No. 128
(technical Ees are those who do not meet strict requirements of term professional Ee as defined in Act but whose work is of technical nature involving use of independent judgment and requiring exercise of specialized training usually acquired in colleges or technical schools or through special courses)

1760-3420 Identifying characteristics

1760-3420-0100 Generally

The Folger Coffee Company 250 NLRB No. 001

1760-3600 Grocery employees unit

1760-3680 Placement of other employees in grocery unit

Great Scot of Florida, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 126
(Bd upheld RD's finding that meat department Ees in E's retail store had separate community of interest from other grocery Ees despite limited interchange among clerks and were therefore excluded from appropriate unit where Bd had previously denied E's request for review which under R/R Sec. 102.67(f) precludes relitigation of representation issue in related subsequent ULP proceeding; Bd noted that E's reliance on Ashcraft's Market, Inc. 246 NLRB No. 68, was unfounded where factors evidencing separate community of interest from other store Ees in instant case were missing in Ashcraft)

N.L.R.B. v. Steven Davis and Michael Provenzano, d/b/a Carlton's Market 642 F.2d 350 (C.A. 9, Apr 20, 1981)
(meat Ee properly excluded from unit containing grocery Ees at market in line with current industry practice separating meat and grocery Ees)

1760-4000 Office, clerical, and technical employees combined unit

1760-4040 Specific unit determination (by SIC category)

Trustees of Tufts College 251 NLRB No. 108
(unit of clerical and technical Ees at undergraduate and law campus excluding such Ees at graduate campus appropriate where undergraduate campus is 6 miles from graduate, employment practices and conditions of employment differ, day-to-day management of labor relations is separate, hiring is separate and also hospitalization coverage differs, almost no Ee interchange and no temporary Ee interchange)

1760-4080 Placement of other employees in office/clerical/technical unit (by SIC category)

Trustees of Tufts College 251 NLRB No. 108
(nurses aide at campus infirmary included in unit where work situs, hours of work and on-the-job contacts with infirmary technicians and clericals provides sufficient community of interest)

1760-4080—Cont.

Trustees of Tufts College 251 NLRB No. 108
(former police officer employed as police clerk included in unit where his duties are basically clerical and he does not engage in police work)

Trustees of Tufts College 251 NLRB No. 108
(vehicle taggers who issue parking tickets but do not perform police duties included in unit especially where excluded from voting with police unit)

1760-4300 Professional employees unit

1760-4340 Specific determination (by SIC category)

Duquesne University of The Holy Ghost 261 NLRB No. 085
(faculty members at law school held managerial Ees and ptn for unit of those faculty members dismissed where faculty exercised significant control over curriculum and hiring and tenure, established standards for admission, remaining in school and for graduation; faculty committee, against whose recommendation Dean had no authority to act, screened candidates for full-time faculty positions, faculty could veto hiring decision made by Dean, tenured faculty made recommendations regarding granting of tenure, notwithstanding faculty had no authority in terminations)

Wordsworth Academy 262 NLRB No. 042
(teachers, psychologists, and therapists unit at private school participating in State educational plan for children with learning disabilities held appropriate, where they are Ees rather than managerial Ees since, unlike Yeshiva University, teachers are professional Ees whose decision making is limited to routine discharge of professional duties in assigned projects; and no basis exists for finding psychologists and therapists managerial, since they do not act beyond scope of their professional duties, and only treat students and advise teachers regarding convenient times to schedule classes so that they can arrange their appointments with students)

University of San Francisco 265 NLRB No. 155
(unit of part-time faculty members (lecturers) at university, appropriate, where they have in common method by which they are hired and compensated, including standard university memorandum of employment which sets forth terms and conditions of their employment, as well as freedom to design own curriculum and teaching methods w/i parameters of course description; great majority of them work in close proximity at university's main campus and thus have opportunity for contact with other unit members; and they work similar hours and are subject to same administrative structure)

University of San Francisco 265 NLRB No. 155
(election directed in separate unit of adjunct faculty members at university's college of professional studies (CPS) providing continuing education for working adults, where factors distinguishing them from university's part-time lecturers established that they have clear community of interest among themselves, and petitioning U indicated at hearing its willingness to represent CPS faculty in separate unit)

Bradford College 261 NLRB No. 081
(unit at college of full and three fourth time faculty, division chairs, B.A. coordinators, librarian and assistant librarian, but excluding director and generic specialist of College Learning Program, director and faculty of program which teaches English as a second language, half and one-fourth time faculty, held appropriate and election ordered since petitioned for individuals held Ees rather than managerial Ees)

Bradford College 261 NLRB No. 081
(director and instructors at English Language Institute, which teaches English as a second language at college, excluded from faculty unit since lack community of interest, notwithstanding they have faculty status where they vote only on certain issues at faculty meetings, teach different hours from regular faculty, are not subject to faculty manual, have no advising responsibility, and do not share same employment benefits)

Bradford College 261 NLRB No. 081
(director and generic specialist in College Learning Program which assisted bright students from high schools in accomodating their learning disabilities and in developing skills, excluded from unit of faculty members at college at which program located since they lacked community of interest where hours and range of salaries were different from full-time faculty members)

1760-4380 Placement of other employees in professional employee unit (by SIC category)

Utah Power & Light Company 258 NLRB No. 138
(although decertification ptn requested unit consisting of graduate professional engineers, Bd included in unit non-degree-holding engineer, and any others hired in future, who have same job responsibilities as degree-holding engineers and are therefore found to be professional Ees)

Community Health Services, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 045
(challenges to ballots of mental health workers who were included in professional unit employed by community and home care service organization, sustained where, notwithstanding that all but three of them had either bachelor's or master's degree, they were not licensed by the State nor were they registered or certified by any national or state professional organization; they assisted professional staff but did not engage in types of treatment normally performed by professional psychologists or psychiatrists; therefore, held technical Ees)

Wordsworth Academy 263 NLRB No. 042
(physical education faculty members at private school participating in State educational plan for children with learning disabilities included in professional faculty unit where, although physical department selects Ees to act as coaches and officials at games, such action is closer to making teaching assignments than it is to hiring, as contended by E; moreover, physical education faculty's recommendation of wage scale is not enough by itself to warrant excluding them as managerial Ees from faculty unit)

University of San Francisco 265 NLRB No. 155
(adjunct faculty members at university's college of professional studies (CPS), providing continuing education for working adults, excluded from unit of university's part-time lecturers, where CPS faculty are interviewed, hired, evaluated, and compensated by methods unlike those pertaining to part-time lecturers, they sign different form of contract and have unique responsibility to follow prescirbed curriculum, have faculty meetings which are exclusively their own, and do not attend non-CPS faculty meetings; there is no interchange between CPS faculty and those of other schools and colleges; and they report to separate administrative hierarchy)

University of San Francisco 265 NLRB No. 155
(clinical teaching assistants (CTAs) at university's school of nursing included in unit of university's part-time lecturers, where it was clear from facts presented by E and from reading of job description for CTAs that E has no policy of refusing to reappoint CTAs so as to limit systematically their employment to single year, and fact that they may choose to seek other employment following year with E, rather then seek reappointment, does not render them temporary Ees, or destroy their community of interest with other part-time Ees)

Florida Memorial College 263 N.L.R.B. 160
(academic chairpersons at college included in unit of full-time faculty members, professional librarians and professional counselors notwithstanding E's contention that they should be excluded on grounds that they were supervisors; chairpersons exercised certain authority over nonunit Ees which was arguably supervisory in character; although they had role in hiring and retention of both clerical Ees and part-time faculty members, they devoted only small fraction of time to such responsibilities and since neither part-time faculty nor clerical personnel were included in unit, these functions of chairpersons did not preclude their inclusion in unit)

Florida Memorial College 263 N.L.R.B. 160
(professional counselors who serve as dormitory resident managers at college included in unit of full-time faculty members, professional librarians and professional counselors notwithstanding E's contention that they should be excluded on grounds that they were supervisors; whatever supervisory authority might occasionally be exercised by counselors who served as resident managers related solely to dormitory janitors who were not unit Ees)

Bradford College 261 NLRB No. 081
(division chairs at college held not managerial Ee, and included in faculty unit, notwithstanding chairs had written authority to prepare departmental budgets, evaluate appropriate faculty members, assign students to faculty members for advice purposes, hire faculty and assign courses, where in actual practice academic dean had hired faculty members w/o consultation, overruled recommendations on faculty retentions, fired individuals as division chairs who had been elected division chairs by faculty, made appointment commitments for following academic year to faculty members prior to receiving division chair's evaluation)

Bradford College 261 NLRB No. 081
(B.A. coordinators at college, most of whom also division charis, held not to be supervisors or managerial Ees and included in faculty unit, where each was regarded as faculty and spent insignificant amount of time in collateral functions)

Bradford College 261 NLRB No. 081
(librarian and assistant librarian at college held not managerial Ees and included in faculty unit where did not spend more than 50% of their time supervising unit Ees, librarian's budget proposals had been reduced by academic dean, locks and keys to library were changed w/o prior consultation with librarian, academic dean and dean of students determined library hours)

1760-5300 Plant Protection and Protective Services Employees Unit

1760-5320 Identifying characteristics

1760-5320-0100 Generally

Wright Memorial Hospital 258 NLRB No. 173
(ambulance department Ees on 2d and 3d shifts held guards and excluded from unit of all ambulance department Ees where, in addition to their ambulance duties, they make security rounds of hospital and so are employed to enforce, against Ees and others, rules to protect E's property and safety of persons on premises, and notwithstanding they wear no guard uniforms or do not themselves enforce rules but notify department heads of infractions)

1760-5320-0100—Cont.

Jacques Syl Knitwear, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 191
(individual ineligible to vote since held guard and excluded from unit where he opens up plant before work and closes at end of day, watches Ees while in plant, punches and signs time cards where corrections necessary, inspects handbags of Ees leaving plant, and requests unauthorized persons to leave plant)

1760-5320-2500 Responsibility for protection of customer property

Purolator Courier Corp. 265 NLRB No. 086
(courier guards for nationwide delivery service held statutory guards where they were employed to pick up commodities from customers usually from locked vaults with keys supplied by management and deliver them through an interconnecting system to their destinations)

MDS Courier Service, Inc. (Teamsters Local No. 150) 248 NLRB No. 181
(individuals held guards since they were employed to protect property of E's customers where as couriers they transported important papers, negotiable instruments and other valuables; notwithstanding, they were not armed, not required to wear uniforms and made deliveries in privately owned vehicles)

1760-5320-2800 Responsibility for protection of plant property

Supreme Sugar Company, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 039
(watchmen held guards under Sec. 9(b)(3) where they were sole guardians against loss or damage to property during times they work)

Electro-Protective Corporation of Georgia 251 NLRB No. 154
(service Ees, employed by E which manufacture's, sells, installs and monitors burglar and fire alarm systems and provides its customers with other protective services, held guards and excluded from E's P&M unit, since they played significant protective role in services offered to E's customers; in carrying out their duties, they faced possibility of personal confrontation with intruders; cf. Wells Fargo Alarm Services, 218 NLRB 68 (1975), enfd. 553 F.2d 121 (1976) where element of potential personal confrontation was not present)

1760-5320-4200 Armed, deputized, or uniformed

Burns Electronic Security Services, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 139
(operator/runners found guards and excluded from unit of all Ees where duties require them to wear uniforms, carry weapons, have police whistle and identification badge; operator/runners respond to alarms at customers premises, investigate scene, cooperate with police, secure premises and restore protective system)

Electro-Protective Corporation of Georgia 251 NLRB No. 154
(Ees who wore uniforms and were dispatched to customers premises after alarm set off and required to patrol premises preventing unauthorized entry or egress of property until police and/or customer showed up, held guards because of risk of personal confrontation)

1760-5320-5600 Control of access to, or movement about employer's property

Electro-Protective Corporation of Georgia 251 NLRB No. 154
(Ees who wore uniforms and were dispatched to customers premises after alarm set off and required to patrol premises preventing unauthorized entry or egress of property until police and/or customer showed up, held guards because of risk of personal confrontation)

1760-5340 Specific determination (by SIC category)

1760-5340-6700 Found inappropriate

1760-5340-6737 Bank Couriers

Purolator Courier Corp. 265 NLRB No. 086
(unit of courier-guards limited to single terminal w/i E's south-central administrative region, held inappropriate in view of integration of operations and time-sensitive and secure delivery, overlapping supervision, frequent contact among all guards in region, uniformity of working conditions and broad authority of regional office over operations and labor relations)

1760-5360 Placement of plant protection employees in other unit (by SIC category)

Supreme Sugar Company, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 039
(E's refusal to adhere to terms of collective-bargaining agreement regarding pay and benefits of watchman (found to be guard) not violative, notwithstanding E voluntarily agreed to include watchmen in unit, in view of express prohibition of Sec. 9(b)(3) that Bd shall not decide that any unit is appropriate for (purposes of collective bargaining) if it includes, together with other Ees, any individual employed as guard)

Kentucky Prince Coal Corporation 253 NLRB No. 070
(watchmen excluded from unit of production Ees notwithstanding they perform some nonguard functions where majority of time spent guarding E's equipment, have keys which other Ees do not have access to, carry C-B radios and permitted to carry handguns)

Electro-Protective Corporation of Georgia 251 NLRB No. 154
(service Ees, employed by E which manufacture's, sells, installs and monitors burglar and fire alarm systems and provides its customers with other protective services, held guards and excluded from E's P&M unit, since they played significant protective role in services offered to E's customers; in carrying out their duties, they faced possibility of personal confrontation with intruders; cf. Wells Fargo Alarm Services, 218 NLRB 68 (1975), enfd. 553 F.2d 121 (1976) where element of potential personal confrontation was not present)

1760-6200 Drivers (including driver-salesmen) unit

1760-6240 Specific determination (by SIC category)

C & W Mining Co., Inc. and/or C. & W Hauling Co., Inc. 248 NLRB No. 039
(drivers unit excluding miners and mechanics found appropriate where completely different nature of their duties and skills and only minimal amount of interchange between groups of Ees)

S & J Lines JD-(SF)-248-81
(unit restricted to in-town bus drivers found inappropriate since in-town and out-of-town drivers share community of interest in view of same supervision, wages and benefits, and working conditions)

Liquid Transporters, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 163
(permanent sleeper teams who lease their equipment to E and operate their trucks on long distance trips for E included in drivers unit where they are qualified to drive for E and operate under authority of E (interstate common carrier); they make out applications and take written or drivers' tests like all other E's drivers and, in same fashion as, other drivers for owneroperators who are Ees of E)

Marlboro Trucking Co., Inc., C-J Construction Co., Inc., Suburban Yelow Cab, Inc. JD-441-80
(truck drivers of single E constituted clearly identifiable and functionally distinct group who hauled to customers in construction sites and were thus distinguishable from Es' other Ees; no other Ees undertook hauling assignments for Es, and truck drivers, unlike Es' taxi drivers, were paid on hourly basis)

The German School Society, Washington, D.C., d/b/a The German School of Washington, D.C. 260 NLRB No. 169
(bus drivers at private, nonprofit school who work different hours from other Ees, are paid on weekly basis rather than monthly basis of other Ees, are separately supervised, are rarely in contact with other Ees, have separate lunch, assembly, and bathroom facilities, and perform their duties under different working conditions included in separate unit from unit comprised of separate voting groups of nonprofessional and professional Ees consisting of teachers, counselors, and librarian)

1760-6260 Placement of drivers in other unit (by SIC category)

Mitchell Bros. Truck Lines 249 NLRB No. 051
(overall unit of owner-operators and non-owner operators of equipment leased by owners to E found appropriate)

1760-6280 Placement of other employees in drivers unit (by SIC category)

Cal-Maine Farms, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 133
(shipping and receiving Ee not included in unit of truckdrivers at E engaged in production, processing, and distribution of shell eggs in view of lack of community of interests where separate supervision, infrequent contact, minimal job interchange, and different wage scales)

C & W Mining Co., Inc. and/or C. & W Hauling Co., Inc. 248 NLRB No. 039
(drivers unit excluding miners and mechanics found appropriate where completely different nature of their duties and skills and only minimal amount of interchange between groups of Ees)

Wilson Engraving Company, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 048
(inclusion of dual-function Ees in unit of city-drivers employed by manufacturer of photographic plates and color separations, appropriate where they performed similar delivery and pickups as included drivers during substantial portions of their working time; furthermore, these Ees shared community of interest in unit's wages, hours, and working conditions)

Wilson Engraving Company, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 048
(dual-function Ees excluded from unit of city-drivers employed by manufacturer of photographic plates and color separations, where driving duties occupy less than twenty-five percent of their working time, thus lacking sufficient community of interest to warrant inclusion)

Liquid Transporters, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 163
(mechanics and their helpers, checkout lane Ees, and cleaning rack Ees constitute separate unit and are not included in unit of drivers of interstate common carrier where their regular work contacts with drivers was negligible; they were paid at different time and on different basis than were drivers; they had seniority list, Ee committee and grievance procedure separate from E's drivers)

1760-6280—Cont.

Marathon Service Sales, Inc., Fleet Service, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 054
(Bd clarified unit by excluding garage Ees from current bargaining unit of its drivers, since parties did not intend to create single bargaining unit consisting of drivers and garage Ees when they executed supplemental agreement incorporating garage Ees into contract which covered single unit of drivers only, where only a few months after signing of supplemental agreement, parties executed current contract covering single unit of drivers, which does not contain a mechanic's classification nor does it contain reference to the supplemental agreement)

1760-6700 Warehouse Employees Unit

1760-6740 Specific determination (by SIC category)

Stanley M. Feil, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 065
(separate unit of warehouse Ees, at manufacturer of garments appropriate rather than unit of warehouse and factory Ees in view of difference in skills, working conditions and wages of Ees)

Sears, Roebuck and Co. 250 NLRB No. 074
(unit limited to parts department Ees rather than overall unit including repair department Ees of E engaged in receipt, warehousing, distribution, and repair of merchandise, held appropriate, where parts department Ees possess separate and distinct community of interest from Ees in repair department)

Gustave Fisher, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 130
(overall unit of Ees of E engaged in retail sale and service of office furniture and office supplies appropriate, rather than unit of warehouse Ees in view of high degree of integration of operation with high degree of Ee interaction among various classifications of Ees where emphasis appears to be placed on completion of tasks, flexibility of Ees' work, common fringe benefits, notwithstanding blurring of supervisory distinctions)

Wickes Furniture, A Division of The Wickes Corporation 255 NLRB No. 080
(separate unit of warehouse and refinishing Ees at furniture store, appropriate, notwithstanding all Ees ate in same lunch room, worked same length shift and had same fringe benefits in view of separate work location, and minimal interchange with other Ees, and fact refinishing Ees worked preponderately in shop and warehouse areas and have substantial daily work contact with warehouse Ees)

Montgomery Ward & Co., Inc. 259 NLRB No. 041
(if they so decide in self-determination election, residual group of unrepresented office and warehouse clericals, inside sales Ees, and maintenance Ees may be included in traditional warehouse unit at nation-wide distribution center of general merchandise, in view of common supervision and benefits, sales Ees were physically located in warehouse and maintenance Ees work in warehouse; petitioner represents existing unit of traditional warehouse Ees and no other labor organization seeks to separately represent various clerical, sales and maintenance Ees here involved who essentially constitute remaining unrepresented warehouse Ees)

1760-6760 Placement of warehouse employees in other unit (by SIC category)

Cal-Maine Farms, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 133
(shipping and receiving Ee not included in unit of truckdrivers at E engaged in production, processing, and distribution of shell eggs in view of lack of community of interests where separate supervision, infrequent contact, minimal job interchange, and different wage scales)

Gustave Fisher, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 130
(overall unit of Ees of E engaged in retail sale and service of office furniture and office supplies appropriate, rather than unit of warehouse Ees in view of high degree of integration of operation with high degree of Ee interaction among various classifications of Ees where emphasis appears to be placed on completion of tasks, flexibility of Ees' work, common fringe benefits, notwithstanding blurring of supervisory distinctions)

1760-6780 Placement of other employees in warehouse employees unit (by SIC category)

Montgomery Ward & Co., Inc. 259 NLRB No. 041
(if they so decide in self-determination election, residual group of unrepresented office and warehouse clericals, inside sales Ees, and maintenance Ees may be included in traditional warehouse unit at nation-wide distribution center of general merchandise, in view of common supervision and benefits, sales Ees were physically located in warehouse and maintenance Ees work in warehouse; petitioner represents existing unit of traditional warehouse Ees and no other labor organization seeks to separately represent various clerical, sales and maintenance Ees here involved who essentially constitute remaining unrepresented warehouse Ees)

Jacques Syl Knitwear, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 191
(billing clerk and individual who filed and operated office equipment at manufacturer and distributor of children's clothing held to be ineligible to vote since w/i office-clerical exclusion from warehouse unit notwithstanding they performed some of their duties in warehouse building)

Stanley M. Feil, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 065
(separate unit of warehouse Ees, at manufacturer of garments appropriate rather than unit of warehouse and factory Ees in view of difference in skills, working conditions and wages of Ees)

Stanley M. Feil, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 065
(warehouse driver not included in warehouse unit since he does not share community of interests where salaried, does not punch time clock, received different medical benefits, and in warehouse for only five hours a week)

Stanley M. Feil, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 065
(Ees who on occasion performed warehouse work not included in warehouse unit where basically Ees are office clericals)

American Parts System, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 106
(operations center Ees at E engaged in storage and wholesale distribution of automobile parts and accessories included in warehouse unit where operations center Ees and warehouse Ees handle same form essential to their respective job functions, i.e. picking ticket; are in constant contact regarding processing of orders and during breaks, share common wages scale and benefits)

Windsor Industries, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 145
(unit limited to warehouse Ees rather than unit also including technicians at plant of E engaged in importation and distribution of electronic products, held appropriate in view of technicians' spending all of their time in physically separate room, performing distinctly different job functions, limited contact between technicians and warehouse Ees, absence of transfers between technicians and warehouse Ees, and fact that warehouse Ees were hourly paid and punched time clock whereas technicians did not punch clock, and were paid daily salary at higher scale)

Wickes Furniture, A Division of The Wickes Corporation 255 NLRB No. 080
(will call clericals at furniture store excluded from unit of warehouse and refinishing Ees since their interests were more closely allied with non-unit sales, office clerical, and data processing Ees, in view of more frequent contact with these Ees)

Montgomery Ward & Co., Inc. 259 NLRB No. 041
(inside salespersons who sell at warehouse included in warehouse unit as part of residual group of unrepresented Ees at nation-wide distribution center of general merchandise)

Montgomery Ward & Co., Inc. 259 NLRB No. 041
(maintenance Ees included in warehouse unit as part of residual group of unrepresented warehouse Ees at nation-wide distribution center of general merchandise)

1760-7200 Sales personnel (including driver- salesmen when grouped with sales personnel) unit

1760-7260 Placement of sales personnel in other unit (by SIC category)

Montgomery Ward & Co., Inc. 259 NLRB No. 041
(inside salespersons who sell at warehouse included in warehouse unit as part of residual group of unrepresented Ees at nation-wide distribution center of general merchandise)

1760-7280 Placement of other employees in sales personnel unit (by SIC category)

Larry Faul Oldsmobile Co., Inc.; Union Leasing Co., Inc. 262 NLRB No. 048
(finance and insurance salespersons employed by auto dealer included in unit with automobile salespersons because finance and insurance salespersons are involved in every purchase or lease of automobile and engage in some direct sales and leasing; additionally, they receive weekly salaries, commission, monthly and annual bonuses, health and welfare insurance, same vacation, holiday and profit sharing benefits, work similar hours, have use of demonstrator automobile; moreover, they attend all sales meetings, compete in sales contest, comply with dress code, are supervised by same individuals as automobile salespersons)

Larry Faul Oldsmobile Co., Inc.; Union Leasing Co., Inc. 262 NLRB No. 048
(fleet sales administrator/part-time salesperson included in unit of automobile salespersons, notwithstanding they perform both clerical and selling or leasing functions because they work alongside salespersons, are in constant contact with them, are supervised by same individual and receive same benefits thus sharing sufficient community of interest to be included in same unit)

Ed Chandler Ford, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 082
(Ee at automobile dealership who regularly worked substantial number of hours for E as part-time salesperson included in unit of full-time salespersons, where they share same supervision and method of compensation)

Ed Chandler Ford, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 082
(finance managers at automobile dealership not included in unit of salespersons, in view of different method of compensation, different working conditions, skills and qualifications, different job functions and different basis for judging work performance)

1760-7280—Cont.

Kardon Chevrolet, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 086
(in decertification proceeding, part-time salesmen excluded from unit of full-time salesmen at auto agency, since parties mutually agreed to modify certified unit to exclude them where, upon original certification, executed contract eliminated any specific reference to part-time Ees; contract specifically prohibited hiring of part-time salesmen and created special status for current part-time salesman, which would not have been necessary if part-time salesmen were included in unit; and E has not hired any part-time salesmen since execution of contract)

1760-7300 Nonselling personnel

1760-7360 Placement of nonselling personnel in other unit (by SIC category)

Larry Faul Oldsmobile Co., Inc.; Union Leasing Co., Inc. 262 NLRB No. 048
(inventory control clerk and receptionist who serves as secretary to management officials, maintains inventory records used by salespersons and is in constant contact with salespersons, has same supervision and benefits, has sufficient community of interest to be included in unit of automobile salespersons)

1760-7380 Placement of other employees in nonselling unit (by SIC category)

Bradford College 261 NLRB No. 081
(faculty teaching one-half time or less (part time) excluded from unit of faculty at college, since classified as independent contractors, generally cannot vote by ballot on major curriculum changes, are paid flat fee twice a semester, are not eligible for e's programs relating to life insurance, social security deductions or retirement)

1760-7600 Service employees unit

1760-7640 Specific determination (by SIC category)

Massachusetts Electric Company (Local Union No. 12007, Steelworkers) 248 NLRB No. 008
(separate units of electric company's transmission and distribution stores department Ees and customer service department Ees, appropriate)

1760-7660 Placement of service employees in other unit (by SIC category)

Massachusetts Electric Company (Local Union No. 12007, Steelworkers) 248 NLRB No. 008
(where it appeared that meter readers for electric company had sufficient community of interest to be included with either transmission and distribution and stores department unit or customer service department unit found appropriate herein, meter readers were permitted to vote Globe-type ballot to express their desire for inclusion in either of the two units and to decide what representation they would select in that unit)

1760-7680 Placement of other employees in service employees unit (by SIC category)

Gentile Pontiac 260 NLRB No. 056
(parts manager in auto dealer's service department excluded from unit of service department Ees where, unlike latter Ees, manager received salary plus commission, drove a company car, wore different uniform, identifying him as manager, came into daily contact with public; and, although he had no Ees under his supervision, he was not himself subject to direct supervision and worked independently)

1760-7800 Service and maintenance employees unit

1760-7840 Specific determination (by SIC category)

Liquid Transporters, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 163
(mechanics and their helpers, checkout lane Ees, and cleaning rack Ees constitute separate unit and are not included in unit of drivers of interstate common carrier where their regular work contacts with drivers was negligible; they were paid at different time and on different basis than were drivers; they had seniority list, Ee committee and grievance procedure separate from E's drivers)

Morco, Inc. d/b/a Towne Plaza Hotel 258 NLRB No. 016
(unit encompassing hotel's housekeepers and maintenance Ees constituted appropriate unit where such unit had been recognized unit in successive collective-bargaining agreements and during previous negotiations)

N.L.R.B. v. Continental Corporation of Michigan, Inc. d/b/a Holiday Inn West 612 F.2d 257 (C.A. 6)
(although ct disagreed with wisdom of Bd's approval of small bargaining unit of hotel Ees, ct decided Bd could reasonably have found in its discretion that housekeeping, laundry and maintenance Ees made up proper unit, excluding Ees with different functions and different supervision; ct felt perhaps it would have been better to have single unit of all Ees, but that it was not ct's role to substitute its judgment for that of Bd)

Trustees of University of Pennsylvania 247 NLRB No. 132
(unit of medical utility men and animal laboratory technicians at medical school of private university held inappropriate since unit is arbitrary grouping of nonprofessional Ees, and unit is inappropriate under Bd precedent concerning bargaining units at colleges and universities; E's voluntary recognition of such arbitrary grouping of Ees held insufficient justification for splintering Ees who have common community of interests)

1760-7860 Placement of service and maintenance employees in other unit (by SIC category)

Montgomery Ward & Co., Inc. 259 NLRB No. 041
(maintenance Ees included in warehouse unit as part of residual group of unrepresented warehouse Ees at nation-wide distribution center of general merchandise)

1760-7900 Service and warehouse employees unit

1760-7980 Placement of other employees in service and warehouse unit (by SIC category)

Angelus Block Co., Inc., Amari, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 127
(truckdrivers of various types and styles of trucks used by two Es comprising single E included in single appropriate unit despite their lack of interchange; lack of interchange was no different than lack of interchange of job functions between Ees in any two job classifications)

Hamilton Test Systems New York, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 085
(field service representatives and nonsupervisory customer service supervisors (dispatchers) excluded from unit of crib attendants, technicians and truck drivers employed by E engaged in supplying and servicing computerized automobile emission test machines for service stations; customer service supervisors and field service representatives supervised by different supervisor, have no interchange with other Ees, have separate promotional ladder, dispatchers receive higher wages and field service representatives only have company car and receive separate training from technicians after initial training session)

1760-8600 Seamen's unit

1760-8640 Specific determination (by SIC category)

Pantex Towing Corporation 258 NLRB No. 113
(requested unit limited to E's tugboat held appropriate in view of boat's autonomous operation, separate location, separate supervision of Ees, absence of any demonstrated interchange with any other of E's boats, absence of any collective-bargaining history, and fact that no broader unit was either sought or asserted to be appropriate)

1760-9100 Craft unit

1760-9133 Identifying characteristics

1760-9133-3400 Degree of skill possessed

Continental Web Press, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 170
(unit of all pressroom Ees in E's pressroom department held appropriate rather than combined unit of pressmen and preparatory department Ees in E's lithographic production process, since pressroom Ees shared distinct community of interest; their duties related solely to high level skills in operating press equipment; pressroom Ees had minimal contact and no interchange w/preparatory department Ees; pressroom Ees were separately supervised and trained w/their own line of progression w/varied working conditions from preparatory Ees)

Allied Gear and Machine Company, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 097

1760-9133-4800 No need for special training or skill

Allied Gear and Machine Company, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 097

1760-9167 Specific determination (by specific craft)

1760-9167-0200 Automobile mechanics

1760-9167-0233 Found appropriate

Tom Kelly Ford, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 143
(unit of service mechanics at auto dealer's facility, excluding body shop, parts department, and used-car reconditioning Ees, appropriate where none of latter three Ee classifications were ever included in recognition clauses of any past or present contracts; E did not speak with U about extending existing agreement to newly opened body shop with new Ees who, unlike covered Ees, have flexible work hours and breaktimes, different wage scale, and method of scheduling vacations, and have never filed grievances or were U stewards)

1760-9167-1800 Carpenters

1760-9167-1833 Found appropriate

ECM, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 141
(unit limited to journeymen carpenters, rather than requested larger, mixed unit of carpenters and laborers comprising crews at construction project, appropriate, where journeymen carpenters are separately supervised, physically separated from crew carpenters by reason of their work which requires them to have, when hired, prior carpentry experience; on the other hand, crew carpenters are not skilled craftsmen, do not perform traditional carpentry work, and have interests and working conditions more closely aligned with laborers than with journeymen carpenters who admittedly constitute separate craft unit)

1760-9167-1833—Cont.

1760-9167-2400 Electricians

1760-9167-2433 Found appropriate

N.L.R.B. v. Metal Container Corporation 660 F.2d 1309 (C.A. 8, Oct 1981)

(separate unit of maintenance electricians rather than wall-to-wall P&M unit at plant manufacturing beer cans appropriate, notwithstanding highly integrated nature of plant's operation, where electricians are highly skilled, highly paid workers who exercise independent judgment and are supervised from w/i their own craft; moreover they voted to be represented separately rather than included in P&M unit)

1760-9167-2467 Found inappropriate

Proctor and Gamble Paper Products Company 251 NLRB No. 077

(separate unit of electrical support technicians at plant manufacturing sanitary paper products, inappropriate, since not craft unit, even though they are most highly skilled electricians at plant, perform electrical work 100 percent of time, and have separate supervision, work area, and promotion criteria, where substantial amount of electrical work is also performed by more than 200 other technicians, one-half of support technicians work is done in production areas where they function as a team with production technicians, they are not licensed nor journeymen electricians, and do not undergo formal apprenticeship)

Proctor and Gamble Paper Products Company 251 NLRB No. 077

(separate unit of all electrical maintenance technicians at plant manufacturing sanitary paper products, inappropriate, where they primarily perform typical production, warehouse, or maintenance functions; have only limited electrical skills; spend only small part of time performing electrical work; and, hence, do not constitute or function as true craft electricians; moreover, not only do they cut across departmental lines, production and warehouse electricians normally work alongside technicians who have no electrical expertise whatever; and electrical work which they routinely perform is highly integrated with E's production process)

1760-9167-7400 Powerhouse employees

1760-9167-7433 Found appropriate

Sohio Petroleum Co., a division of Sohio Natural Resources Co. v. N.L.R.B. 625 F.2d 223 (C.A. 9, June 1980)

(unit of power station Ees only who produced electricity for oil production complex in Alaska, appropriate, since they share community of interest, have their own separate work station, supervision, and no interchange with other Ees; Bd only required to pick appropriate unit not most appropriate unit)

1760-9167-7600 Pressmen

1760-9167-7633 Found appropriate

Continental Web Press, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 170

(unit of all pressroom Ees in E's pressroom department held appropriate rather than combined unit of pressmen and preparatory department Ees in E's lithographic production process, since pressroom Ees shared distinct community of interest; their duties related solely to high level skills in operating press equipment; pressroom Ees had minimal contact and no interchange w/preparatory department Ees; pressroom Ees were separately supervised and trained w/their own line of progression w/varied working conditions from preparatory Ees)

1760-9167-9200 Truckdrivers

1760-9167-9233 Found appropriarte

Memphis Furniture Manufacturing Co. 259 NLRB No. 061

(unit of over-the-road truckdrivers who delivered furniture manufactured by E may, if they so desire, constitute separate appropriate unit for purposes of collective bargaining apart from historic P&M unit in which they were included where they did no plant work, did not load their trucks, had no contact with P&M Ees, spent 95% of worktime away from plant, had different hours, mode of pay, supervision from P&M Ees and, unlike local drivers, were subject to regulations of Department of Transporiation)

1760-9400 Multicraft unit

1760-9467 Specific determination

1760-9467-6700 Found inappropriate

Brown & Root, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 130

(requested unit of pipefitters, pipewelders, boilermakers, boilerwelders, pipefitters' helpers and boilermakers' helpers involved in constructing boiler at power plant inappropriate, where unit does not satisfy requirements of either a craft unit or a functionally distinct group with common interests separate from E's other skilled workers at the job site)

1760-9900 Other units defined by employee type or category, or combinations of such

1760-9901 Generally

Sunray Ltd. 258 NLRB No. 072

(election not barred by previous 8(f) relationships with dual-function Ees where competing Us did not represent majority in unit in that some work of Ees fell w/i jurisdiction of each U and thus neither U could claim 9(a) relationship; therefore Bd directed election in unit covering all Ees, giving Ees a choice to be represented by one of the two rival Us or no U)

1760-9940 Specific determination (by SIC category)

Bally's Park Place, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 006

(petitoned for unit of Ees in slot machine department of gambling casino, including slot attendants and slot machine mechanics, appropriate, although casino wide unit may also be appropriate, slot machine department unit appropriate in view of separate immediate supervision, distinctive duties and skills, absence of temporary interchange with any other casino Ees and no other U seeks to represent all casino Ees)

Stroehmann Brothers Company 252 NLRB No. 139

(shipping Ees in company that distributed bake goods held appropriate unit, contrary to E's contention that these Ees should be included in established unit of route salesman, over-the-road drivers, and mechanics of competing U, where shipping Ees historically were in separate unit of another U and sale of business to new E would not alter this since shipping Ees were homogeneous group with separate supervisors, employed different skills, had no apparent on-the-job contact with Ees of established unit, and never performed work of Ees in other unit)

Stanley M. Feil, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 065

(separate unit of warehouse Ees, at manufacturer of garments appropriate rather than unit of warehouse and factory Ees in view of difference in skills, working conditions and wages of Ees)

Calpine Containers, A California Corporation 251 NLRB No. 199

(unit of all regular part-time and full-time P&M Ees and truckdrivers and forklift operators, excluding office clericals, at E's facility for warehousing and assembling agricultural-product packing boxes, appropriate, rather than unit of truckdrivers and forklift operators outside production area separate from P&M unit, where all Ees punch time clock, receive hourly pay, have same supervision, seniority list, break and lunch periods, and technological changes have resulted in highly integrated operation with frequent interchange of unskilled jobs so that bargaining history of separate units has little weight)

Ives Business Forms, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 36

(unit of warehouse Ees, truck drivers and warehouse clericals held appropriate where warehouse Ees and drivers engage almost exclusively in traditional warehouse and delivery functions)

Todd Pacific Shipyards Corporation (Driver Sales and Warehousemen, Teamsters Local 117, Affiliated With International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Warehousement and Helpers of America, Independent) 250 NLRB No. 138

(unit of administrative Ees in purchasing and material control departments at shipyard, inappropriate where administrative Ees in all E's departments, rather than just those in purchasing and material control departments, are in constant contact and frequently transferred between departments, receive comparable wages and benefits for similar jobs, and are subject to common facility-wide personnel policy)

Institutional Food Services 258 NLRB No. 086

(unit of all regular full-time warehouse Ees and truckdrivers, appropriate, rather than unit of all nonsupervisory Ees at warehouse and cafeterias where record demonstrates that warehousemen and truckdrivers were geographically separated from other Ees performed dissimilar job functions, had different rates of pay, hours, working conditions from other Ees and no interchange with other Ees)

WTEV--TV, Inc., d/b/a WLNE--TV 259 NLRB No. 158

(requested unit of news cameramen at television station held inappropriate since they did not share community of interest separate and apart from other Ees involved in and contributing to production and presentation of news programs in view of their regular contact on assignment with other Ees, similarity of benefits, common supervision w/i news department, and some integration of job functions)

Massachusetts Electric Company (Local Union No. 12007, Steelworkers) 248 NLRB No. 008

(separate units of electric company's transmission and distribution stores department Ees and customer service department Ees, appropriate)

Broadway Catering Corp. d/b/a Studio 54 250 NLRB No. 166

(separate unit of stagehands at public dance hall, inappropriate, where they are not required to possess unique skills or experience in order to perform their jobs and are subject to common supervision; operations are functionally integrated and some job functions are interchanged; during renovations all

1760-9940—Cont.

Ees work together with minimal differentiation based on job classifications; and unique nature of E's business involving a production combining music, lights, props, and interaction among all Ees and Ees and patrons sets it apart from cases involving traditional stage shows in which Bd has found stagehand unit appropriate)

Howard Johnson Company 250 NLRB No. 161
(E's contention that unit of motel housekeeping Ees was inappropriate because it excluded, among others, front desk clerks, rejected, where case relied on by E is hereby overruled in view of later decisions cited by RD in his D/O directing election which fully supported his determination; Howard Johnson Co., 201 NLRB 376, overruled)

N.L.R.B. v. Holly's, Inc., d/b/a Holiday Inn South 644 F.2d 895(T) (C.A. 6, Jan 5, 1981)
(exclusion of front desk porters and yardmen from unit of housekeeping Ees at motel w/i discretion of Bd since facts similar to other cases where unit composed of only housekeeping Ees held appropriate)

Le Roy Fantasies, Inc., and Hardwicke's Plum, Inc., A Joint Venture, d/b/a Maxwell's Plum 256 NLRB No. 036
(separate unit of laundry Ees at restaurant, rather than all Ees at restaurant, appropriate where laundry is physically separate and managerially autonomous entity, there is only sporadic Ee interchange and laundry operations are functionally separate from both kitchen and dining room operations)

N.L.R.B. v. H. M. Patterson & Son, Inc. 636 F.2d 1014 (C.A. 5, 1981)
(unit limited to all full time and regular part-time funeral directors, assistant funeral directors, embalmers, apprentices and attendant receptionists at funeral home, rather than all Ee unit, appropriate; since share community of interest in view of fact all are involved with working with body of deceased)

Commercial Testing & Engineering Co. (Teamsters, Local Union 175) 248 NLRB No. 096
(combined unit of preparation Ees and laboratory Ees in coal testing laboratory appropriate where tests performed on coal samples by each group, while different are functionally indistinct from each other, neither group required to have special skills; though tests performed in separate buildings and Ees use separate timeclocks, buildings are only 45 yards apart, contract between groups occur several times daily and wages and benefits approximately same)

Inverrary Country Club, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 155
(separate unit of food and beverage department Ees, rather than unit also including several categories of manual operating Ees, at private membership club providing recreational facilities, appropriate in view of their separate and independent function, separate supervision, lack of interchange with operating Ees and fact that operating Ee's performance of food-service type functions was not regular or substantial)

N.L.R.B. v. Circo Resorts, Inc., d/b/a Circus, Circus 646 F.2d 403 (C.A. 9, May 1981)
(although unit of stagehands at hotel and casino complex was small, Bd was not required to include all manual Ees in same unit, and its choice of unit of stagehands was not arbitrary or capricious, where they performed identical duties, all had training or experience in that area, their work was confined to particular part of hotel, and they did not work with other maintenance Ees)

The German School Society, Washington, D.C., d/b/a The German School of Washington, D.C. 260 NLRB No. 169
(teachers assigned by foreign government to teach at E's private, nonprofit school, who are paid salaries and other compensation as mandated by applicable laws of foreign government included in unit with E's locally hired teachers and other Ees, since in almost every relevant consideration, other than compensation, assigned teachers share community of interest with E's locally hired Ees)

Pratt Institute 256 NLRB No. 175
(unit of nonacademic administrative Ees at art institute, appropriate contrary to E's contention that Bd lacked authority under SCt's Yeshiva decision to find the unit appropriate, since U in Yeshiva sought a unit of ful-time faculty members who acted in truly collegial capacity to make decisions for the university, whereas unit here is composed of nonfaculty administrative Ees who carry out decisions made by higher authority; Bd does not believe that SCt in its Yeshiva decision intended to exclude from the Act's protection administrative Ees performing their duties in an institute of the type here)

Century Moving & Storage, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 083
(unit of warehousemen, local drivers and helpers excluding long haul drivers held appropriate where long haul drivers had little contact with local drivers, different compensation and mode of compensation from local drivers, as well as different seniority roster from local drivers)

1760-9960 Placement of (subject) employees in (other) unit (by SIC category)

Massachusetts Electric Company (Local Union No. 12007, Steelworkers) 248 NLRB No. 008
(where it appeared that meter readers for electric company had sufficient community of interest to be included with either transmission and distribution and stores department unit or customer service department unit found appropriate herein, meter readers were permitted to vote Globe-type ballot to express their desire for inclusion in either of the two units and to decide what representation they would select in that unit)

1760-9980 Placement of (other) employees in (subject) unit (by SIC category)

Century Moving & Storage, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 083
(unit of warehousemen, local drivers and helpers excluding long haul drivers held appropriate where long haul drivers had little contact with local drivers, different compensation and mode of compensation from local drivers, as well as different seniority roster from local drivers)

Alumbaugh Coal Corporation 247 NLRB No. 112
(welder with separate contract terminable at E's will included in unit of P&M Ees and truckdrivers at coal mine where unit Ees were also terminable at will, like welder took E's vehicles home, and had similar pay, hours and benefits)

Alumbaugh Coal Corporation 247 NLRB No. 112
(Ee performing work both as mechanic and laborer at filling station and mine of coal miner included in unit of P&M Ees and truckdrivers at coal mine in view of same hours, supervisors, holidays and benefits, and notwithstanding his lease of apartment over E's office where two other Ees also occupied company-owned apartments)

ECM, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 141
(unit limited to journeymen carpenters, rather than requested larger, mixed unit of carpenters and laborers comprising crews at construction project, appropriate, where journeymen carpenters are separately supervised, physically separated from crew carpenters by reason of their work which requires them to have, when hired, prior carpentry experience; on the other hand, crew carpenters are not skilled craftsmen, do not perform traditional carpentry work, and have interests and working conditions more closely aligned with laborers than with journeymen carpenters who admittedly constitute separate craft unit)

Ives Business Forms, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 36
(warehouse clericals included in unit of warehouse Ees and truckdrivers as they spend considerable amount of time in warehouse performing typical warehouse functions such as counting merchandise and preparing specialty merchandise for packaging. Even at thier desks they are processing orders and tracing merchandise)

Dooley Equipment Corporation JD-215-80
(skilled part-time welder included in unit of mechanics and parts Ees notwithstanding has full-time employment elsewhere which he come to work when requested, used E's shop and equipment and occasionally worked with E's mechanics under same supervision)

Daylight Grocery Company, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 678 F.2d 905 (C.A. 11, June 1982)
(including baggers in unit of clerks and cashiers at grocery store was not abuse of discretion, since baggers' work was performed at checkout counter like cashiers' work and was closely integrated with cashiers' work; further, they shared same direct supervision, and other such units in area included baggers)

N.L.R.B. v. Holly's, Inc., d/b/a Holiday Inn South 644 F.2d 895(T) (C.A. 6, Jan 5, 1981)
(exclusion of front desk porters and yardmen from unit of housekeeping Ees at motel w/i discretion of Bd since facts similar to other cases where unit composed of only housekeeping Ees held appropriate)

Bel-Air Bowl, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 093
(babysitters and janitors excluded from unit of mechanics, pin chasers, and desk clerks at bowling alley and restaurant, in view of dissimilarity of job skills and functions and lack of contact and exchange of tasks with unit Ees)

Legal Action of Wisconsin, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 157
(three attorneys involved with E's statewide programs providing legal services included in single-location unit consisting of staff attorneys, paraprofessionals, and office clerical Ees in view of their frequent substantial contact with unit Ees, their subjection to same terms and conditions of employment as other office attorneys, and their receiving some direction from office managing attorney and little, if any, direct supervision from individual at headquarters who was purportedly their supervisor)

Rosemount Center 248 NLRB No. 163
(CETA Ees at E's child day care facility included in unit of E's regular Ees where substantial similarities in wages, fringe benefits, and working conditions of E's non-CETA and CETA Ees, and Ees' integrated positions in E's staff weigh heavily in affording CETA Ees representation in same unit as E's regular Ees; neither indefinite length of employment of, nor additional benefits available to, CETA Ees preclude finding that they share sufficient community of interest with E's regular Ees)

Rosemount Center 248 NLRB No. 163
(home mothers employed by child day care facility, who provide day care services in their homes, held to have sufficient community of interest with E's regular Ees to be included in unit since they are integral part of E's operation, perform same infant care work as performed at E's facility, are trained along with other infant care Ees, and are similarly supervised)

1760-9980—Cont.

Catholic Community Services 254 NLRB No. 090
(members of religious orders at E's center providing health, social and related services included in unit of professional and nonprofessional Ees, where they are subject to same terms and conditions of employment as other Ees, receiving same rates of pay, performing same job functions and being subject to same personnel policies)

Catholic Community Services 254 NLRB No. 090
(CETA Ees at E's center providing health, social and related services included in unit of professional and non-professional Ees where they are employed in same classifications as other Ees, are interviewed for employment in same manner as unit Ees, and are subject to same terms and conditions of employment w/o interference or control from CETA)

Montgomery County Opportunity Board, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 103
(Head Start program teachers and parent coordinators included in community action agency's E-wide unit absent evidence that they are supervisory or managerial, i.e., that they are on parent advisory council or that council controls program's personnel policies)

Montgomery County Opportunity Board, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 103
(project directors of Youth Community Conservation and Improvements Project held nonmanagerial and included in community action agency E-wide unit where their duties are specifically defined with little flexibility, they do not attend management meetings and are not involved in formulation of goals and policies)

Montgomery County Opportunity Board, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 103
(CETA Ees employed by nonprofit community action agency included in E-wide unit, notwithstanding limited durationof their jobs, in view of their community of interest with other unit Ees and E's attempts to place them elsewhere after their CETA jobs have run out)

1780 OTHER EMPLOYEE GROUPINGS

1780-4000 Fringe groups

1780-4050 Appropriateness of separate unit of fringe employees

1780-4050-3300 Previously unrepresented employees

United Parcel Service, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 030
(unrepresented clerks working in feeder and package areas at administrative headquarters of E's Metro Division included in unit which included operating center clerks of Metro Division since unrepresented clerks performed duties identical to operating center clerks)

1780-6000 Residual employee units

1780-6025 Identifying characteristics

Montgomery Ward & Co., Inc. 259 NLRB No. 041
(if they so decide in self-determination election, residual group of unrepresented office and warehouse clericals, inside sales Ees, and maintenance Ees may be included in traditional warehouse unit at nation-wide distribution center of general merchandiser, in view of common supervision and benefits, sales Ees were physically located in warehouse and maintenance Ees work in warehouse; petitioner represents existing unit of traditional warehouse Ees and no other labor organization seeks to separately represent various clerical, sales and maintenance Ees here involved who essentially constitute remaining unrepresented warehouse Ees)

1780-6050 Appropriateness of residual employees

1780-6050-0100 Generally

Bel-Air Bowl, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 003
(unit of mechanics, pin chasers and desk clerks excluding janitors and baby sitters at bowling alley and restaurant, appropriate rather than residual unit of all above Ees, in view of lack of sufficient community of interest of babysitters and janitors with mechanic, pin chasers, and desk clerks)

1780-6050-3300 Previously unrepresented employees

Montgomery Ward & Co., Inc. 259 NLRB No. 041
(if they so decide in self-determination election, residual group of unrepresented office and warehouse clericals, inside sales Ees, and maintenance Ees may be included in traditional warehouse unit at nation-wide distribution center of general merchandiser, in view of common supervision and benefits, sales Ees were physically located in warehouse and maintenance Ees work in warehouse; petitioner represents existing unit of traditional warehouse Ees and no other labor organization seeks to separately represent various clerical, sales and maintenance Ees here involved who essentially constitute remaining unrepresented warehouse Ees)

1780-8000 Voting groups

1780-8033 Identifying characteristics

The Folger Coffee Company 250 NLRB No. 001
(separate unit of laboratory technicians not appropriate where they are not technical Ees since they possess no special training and tests performed can be learned through short period of on-job training; furthermore, pay, benefits, work, working conditions and supervision same as for P&M Ees and plant clericals; appropriate voting group is one composed of laboratory technicians and unrepresented plant clericals)

1780-8067 Specific determination (by SIC category)

The Folger Coffee Company 250 NLRB No. 001
(separate unit of laboratory technicians not appropriate where they are not technical Ees since they possess no special training and tests performed can be learned through short period of on-job training; furthermore, pay, benefits, work, working conditions and supervision same as for P&M Ees and plant clericals; appropriate voting group is one composed of laboratory technicians and unrepresented plant clericals)

3300 MULTIPLE-LOCATION UNITS OF SINGLE EMPLOYER

3301 GENERALLY

*New England Telephone and Telegraph Company*8249 NLRB No. 165
(Bd found instant case distinguishable from cases cited by E in support of contention that RD's decision that less than systemwide unit wasappropriate was contrary to other recent Bd precedent involving E herein)

Magic Pan, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 627 F.2d 105 (C.A. 7, 1980)
(Bd's decision on appropriateness of single restaurant of nation-wide chain being appropriate unit, not arbitrary or capricious where Bd's findings and conclusions were supported by substantial evidence and in accordance with law)

Alaska Statebank v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 1285 (C.A. 9, Aug 1981)
(Bd has adopted in retail sales, industrial, insurance and banking industries, presumption that single store plant, office or branch is appropriate unit rather than E wide)

3325 CRITERIA OF APPROPRIATENESS

United Parcel Service, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 030
(upon review Bd found that 10 operating centers comprising Metro Division unit servicing one metropolitan area of nation-wide delivery service, rather than systemwide unit servicing 2 states including metropolitan area, supra, appropriate where: (1) Ees had common divisional supervision; (2) centers were geographically and administratively separate from all other of Ee's district centers; and (3) both interchange and bargaining history were absent among operating center clerks)

Hegins Corporation 255 NLRB No. 160
(single location unit of P&M Ees appropriate where department supervisors retain substantial autonomy to direct and discipline Ees and, after consultation with president, to discharge them; this factor was more significant then central record keeping or functional integration)

Tennessee Gas Pipeline, A Division of Tenneco, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 129
(unit limited to a district of gas transmission company held inappropriate, since individual districts (of which there are 37) are not major administrative subdivisions in view of high degree of control exercised by headquarters over daily operation of entire system, frequent transfer of Ees between districts and divisions, uniformity of wages, benefits, personnel policies applied to all Ees, and lack of substantial autonomy on part of district superintendents with respect to day-to-day personnel matters)

Beckett Aviation Corporation–Cleveland 254 NLRB No. 013
(unit of pilots at single E location rather than E wide unit of pilots encompassing all widely dispersed E locations, appropriate, where each location separately supervised by chief who is personally involved with daily matters that make up their grievances, no forms of communication exist among pilots at different locations, absence of any bargaining negotiations among Ees and no U seeks to represent Ees on broader bases and notwithstanding centralized personnel policies and highly intergrated operations)

Sears, Roebuck and Co. 253 NLRB No. 025
(one store, rather than 2-store unit, appropriate, notwithstanding claim that units had been merged by parties' conduct, where there was no evidence that parties had mutually agreed to extinguish separateness of units, in view of contract provisions covering both stores leading to inference that, despite negotiation of single contract, parties did not contemplate creating single unit; moreover, each store operated as self-contained unit with no operational interchange between them and, in absence of specific language to the contrary, inference cannot be drawn that parties agreed to extinguish separate units)

Purnell's Pride, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 018
(single plant unit rather than E-wide unit found appropriate where there exists: separate supervision, different job functions, lack of transfers and Ee contact and interchange, geographic separation of processing facility, distinct, and separate community of interest; other factors considered were lack of bargaining history and no other labor organization sought to represent E's Ees in broader unit)

3325—Cont.

N.L.R.B. v. J. W. Mays, Inc. 675 F.2d 442 (C.A. 2, Feb. 1982)

(Bd's choice of single-store unit not arbitrary despite centrality of E's management and labor relations in view of geographic factor (Manhattan and Woodmere, Long Island), lack of E-wide unionization and lack of contact between Ees at different stores)

N.L.R.B. v. Purnell's Pride, Inc. 609 F.2d 1153 (C.A. 5, Jan. 1980)

(where Bd determined that several locations of E's processing facility comprised separate bargaining units, ct remanded for further articulation of rationale as Bd failed to explore possibility that proposed unit fell w/i exception that single plant unit presumptively appropriate that exists when there is functional integration with operations of other facilities to obliterate separate plant identity)

3350 EMPLOYERWIDE UNITS

3350-2500 Separate firms as single employer

Angelus Block Co., Inc., Amari, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 127

(truckdrivers of various types and styles of trucks used by two Es comprising single E included in single appropriate unit despite their lack of interchange; lack of interchange was no different than lack of interchange of job functions between Ees in any two job classifications)

N.L.R.B. v. Don Burgess Construction Corporation, d/b/a Burgess Construction 596 F.2d 378 (C.A. 9, 1979)

(Ees of E's two companies constituted single appropriate unit, in view of same skills, functions, working conditions and work situs; contention that Bd determination was erroneous as matter of law because Bd failed to consider whether new company's crew was accretion to existing crew, rejected, since issue was appropriateness of unit rather than accretion; contention that Bd must determine whether combined unit was only appropriate unit and, if not, any finding of accretion would be erroneous also rejected)

Road Sprinkler Fitters Local Union No. 669, Plumbers v. N.L.R.B. 676 F.2d 826

(fact that two companies constitute single employer does not in itself define them as single bargaining unit)

3350-7500 Specific unit determination (by SIC category)

Montgomery County Opportunity Board, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 103

(E-wide unit of community action agency's Ees appropriate where E has centralized control over determination of terms and conditions of employment of all its Ees)

Wyandotte Savings Bank v. N.L.R.B. 669 F.2d 386 (C.A. 6, Jan. 1982)

(Bd holding that bargaining unit appropriate reversed and enforcement of Bd order denied in case involving branch banks where banks are in close geographical proximity and minimal authority vested in branch managers; See Wayne-Oakland Banks v. N.L.R.B. 462 F.2d 666 (6th Cir. 1972))

Home Insulation Service, A Division of Sunstate Wholesalers 255 NLRB No. 050

(unit of production and maintenance Ees at all branches of E which installed building insulation, appropriate, rather than at one branch, absent separate community of interests, in view of same pay and benefits, interchange and transfer of Ees among branches)

Hegins Corporation 255 NLRB No. 160

(unit of Ees at one location eleven miles from other location of E engaged in manufacture of ladies clothing appropriate, in view of autonomous supervision in each plant, lack of significant Ee interchange, absence of bargaining history, and no labor organization seeks representation on broader basis)

Palby Lingerie, Inc. and Argus Lingerie Corp. 252 NLRB No. 032

(single overall unit of two plants rather than two separate units of individual plants held appropriate, where both plants are owned and operated by signle integrated E, both manufacture women garments, share common supervision and common control of labor relations policy)

Pickering & Company (Local 810, Teamsters) 248 NLRB No. 099

(unit of all production maintenance and warehouse Ees at two facilities of E which manufactures audio equipment rather than production maintenance and warehouse Ees at one facility since presumption of appropriateness of single plant unit rebutted where geographical separation minimized by frequent E furnished transportation and in view of high degree of production integration and common management of administrative and production matters common benefits and seniority, notwithstanding lack of day-to-day interchange of Ees)

Tennessee Gas Pipeline, A Division of Tenneco, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 129

(unit limited to a district of gas transmission company held inappropriate, since individual districts (of which there are 37) are not major administrative subdivisions in view of high degree of control exercised by headquarters over daily operation of entire system, frequent transfer of Ees between districts and divisions, uniformity of wages, benefits, personnel policies applied to all Ees, and lack of substantial autonomy on part of district superintendents with respect to day-to-day personnel matters)

Big Y Foods, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 651 F.2d 40 (C.A. 1, June 1981)

(after considering relevant factors, NLRB's application of presumption under which it found that a meat department exists in multi-department retail food store and justifies determination that meat department is appropriate unit unless opponent proves that in particular circumstances it is not appropriate unit; presumption is substantive, not procedural, presumption and is rebuttable, not conclusive; it does no more than shift burden of proof)

Land Equipment Inc. 248 NLRB No. 098

(E-wide unit of all E's Ees except office clericals of company renting construction equipment with operators to building contractors and company providing operators, which were found single E herein, appropriate where both companies use same pool of Ees regardless of which is nominal E on two-week job assignments)

3375 LESS THAN EMPLOYERWIDE UNITS

3375-0100 Generally

Greyhound Food Management, Inc. d/b/a Burger King 258 NLRB No. 178

(all general utility Ees at chain's single fast food operation, encompassing Ees engaged in food preparation and serving, cashiering, and cleaning up, rather than multi-facility unit, held appropriate, where Ees work under daily supervision of manager having total responsibility for operation of restaurant, assistant manager, and night shift manager, assigned solely to operation herein; no labor organization seeks to represent Ees in broader unit; and unit is consonant with parties' stipulation)

3375-1200 Less than citywide

N.L.R.B. v. Forest City Enterprises, Inc. 663 F.2d 34 (C.A. 6, Nov. 1981)

(single store bargaining unit of multi-state retail store chain rather than two-store citywide unit appropriate in view of store manager's control of daily operations, lack of Ee interchange between stores and fact organization of Ees was attempted at only one store)

3375-1250 Specific determination (by SIC category)

Alaska Statebank v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 1285 (C.A. 9, Aug 1981)

(unit of Ees at single branch of bank rather than unit of Ees at all branches and headquarters of bank, appropriate, where branch was geographically isolated, local managers retained control over day to day Ee relations, and there was no significant amount of Ee interchange among branches; ct applied single-location unit presumption which it had approved for retail sales and held presumption had not been overcome by single facility's lack of meaningful identity)

3375-2500 City-wide

Associated Milk Producers, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 186

(two-location unit rather than three-location unit of milk marketer held appropriate where two of E's facilities located in one city were only three miles apart while E's third, a leased facility, was in another city 32 miles away; Ees of two-location facilities had frequent contact and shared immediate supervision while Ees at third facility had, little frequent contact with other two facility Ees, separate immediate supervision, and separate seniority based upon prior employment withlessor)

3375-2580 Specific determination (by SIC category)

Alma Plastics Company 265 NLRB No. 065

(P&M unit limited to one of two plastic products manufacturing plants located in city, inappropriate, even though plant utilizes production process distinct from second plant, since presumption of appropriateness of single-plant unit was rebutted by fact that plants are but 800 feet apart, both are engagaged in plastic compounds processing, and utilize Ees having similar skills; there is centralized administration for both plants; repair, maintenance and other services are supplied by requested plant unit Ees to other plant; and there is citywide seniority in layoffs; thus, plant involved constituted specialized production department of second plant)

Alma Plastics Company 265 NLRB No. 065

(in finding presumption that single-plant P&M unit in one of two plants of plastic products manugacturer in city was appropriate to have been rebutted, Bd held facts of case herein showed more than just centralized administration, since personnel policy was formulated by triumvirate of plant and personnel managers which is exclusively responsible for hiring Ees at both plants, seniority for purposes of layoff and recall are E-wide, and Ees laid off from one plant may be recalled to other plant)

Beckett Aviation Corporation–Cleveland 254 NLRB No. 013

(unit of pilots at single E location rather than E wide unit of pilots encompassing all widely dispersed E locations, appropriate, where each location separately supervised by chief who is personally involved with daily matters that make up their grievances, no forms of communication exist among pilots at different locations, absence of any bargaining negotiations among Ees and no U seeks to represent Ees on broader bases and notwithstanding centralized personnel policies and highly intergrated operations)

3375-2550—Cont.

3375-3700 Metropolitan area (including multistate metropolitan areas)

3375-3750 Specific determination (by SIC category)

United Parcel Service, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 030

(upon review Bd found that 10 operating centers comprising Metro Division unit servicing one metropolitan area of nation-wide delivery service, rather than systemwide unit servicing 2 states including metropolitan area, supra, appropriate where: (1) Ees had common divisional supervision; (2) centers were geographically and administratively separate from all other of Ee's district centers; and (3) both interchange and bargaining history were absent among operating center clerks)

Texas Electric Service Co. 261 NLRB No. 190

(unit of all hourly paid Ees assigned to transmission and distribution departments in one of state public electric utility's six geographic divisions rather than systemwide unit appropriate, in view of autonomy in applying centralized personnel policy and conducting labor relations, few transfers or interchanges with other divisions, functionally integrated task of unit Ees, geographical discreetness, and separate community of interest)

White Castle System, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 043

(single-store units found inappropriate where: commonality of job skills, terms, conditions of employment, significant amount of Ee interchange, centralized, uniform operating and personnel procedures, lack of autonomy over day-to-day labor relations at individual restaurants as shown by fact that district supervisors regularly visit stores to see if E's policies are being carried out, take corrective actions; close supervision of individual store's supervisor's disciplinary and other actions which are reversed regularly, foregoing combined with bargaining history in area-wide unit rebut presumption that single store unit appropriate)

Automobile Club of Michigan, Detroit Autobile Inter-Insurance Exchange; etc. v. N.L.R.B. 631 F.2d 82 (C.A. 6, 1980)

(unit of salaried and commissioned sales and service representatives in all E's branch offices in Detroit Metropolitan Area found appropriate rather than all such Ees w/i State where such differences in pay scales, concentration of work force, interchangeability of Ees w/i Ees out of metropolitan area justify separateness of units; moreover certification will be upheld so long as unit is not inappropriate)

3375-5000 Less than statewide other than metropolitan area

New England Telephone and Telegraph Company 247 NLRB No. 161

(where segment of E's statewide operation constitutes geographically cohesive unit w/i major administrative division of E's total operation, and manager of devision has authority to discharge Ees, unit sought by U appropriate for bargaining from standpoint of geography and administrative control)

3375-5050 Specific determination (by SIC category)

New England Telephone and Telegraph Company 258 NLRB NO. 175

(requested unit of telephone company's district Ees, inappropriate, since unit is too narrow in scope, where district was one of two districts in company's dividison, hiring was centralized at single employment office for both districts, district managers have no authority to hire, terminate, or transfer Ees, requisitions for new Ees require approval of division manager, ees are not solely responsible for operations in entire State or division, there was significant Ee interchange with other districts, and district managers did not have sufficient control over requested Ees to find unit appropriate)

Big Y Foods, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 651 F.2d 40 (C.A. 1, June 1981)

(unit of Ees in most departments of E's 11 unrepresented retail stores held appropriate)

N.L.R.B. v. Fuelgas Company, Inc. 574 F.2d 529 (C.A. 6, Mar. 1982)

(two particular offices together out of propane gas distributor's 16 offices in state held appropriate single plant unit inasmuch as they are only 14 miles apart and are under control of single branch manager whose policies apply equally at both locations)

Burns International Security Service, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 026

(single-location units of guards found appropriate notwithstanding E has established centralized hiring and offsite training procedures, where individual site commanders exercise immediate direct supervision of day-to-day operations, have responsibility for personnel matters once applicant hired, guards at each location receive specialized training particular to site where they are employed and there is little Ee interchange)

Oklahoma Blood Institute, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 195

(unit encompassing all five of E's facilities of E engaged in collecting, processing and distributing blood and blood products found inappropriate, notwithstanding Ees at all facilities shared common working conditions and product integration, where factors of permanent interchange, autonomous local supervision, and geographic separation weighed heavily against finding that Ees of two facilities must be included in unit with Ees at other locations)

Oklahoma Blood Institute, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 198

(multilocation unit of Ees at three of the five facilities of E engaged in collecting, processing and distributing blood and blood products, rather than requested single facility unit, appropriate in view of integration of the three facilities; factors of common supervision and total functional dependency of small satellite location of one facility on the other facilities precluded finding that requested unit could constitute appropriate separate unit)

Legal Action of Wisconsin, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 157

(single-location unit of attorneys, paraprofessionals, and office clerical Ees rather than E-wide unit found appropriate, in view of little direct supervision between E's coordinator and staff attorneys, substantial geographic distance between offices, autonomy in day-to-day matters, absence of interchange or transfer of Ees between offices, minimal contact between Ees at this location and Ees of other offices, and fact that local program committee established priority work for this office)

3375-6200 Statewide

3375-6250 Specific determination (by SIC category)

New England Telephone and Telegraph Company8249 NLRB No. 165

(requested unit of telephone utility's two business servicecenters located in New Hampshire held appropriate rather than systemwide unit ofE's 27 business service centers located in five New England states, where in addition to precedent and particular facts relied upon by RD, Bd relied on substantial degree of autonomy in day-to-day operations which local managers at the two centers possess; furthermore, subsequent to request for review herein, Bd has held that less than systemwide unit consisting of residential service center Ees at 12 locations in E's Western Division in Massachusetts was appropriate)

N.L.R.B. v. Living and Learning Centers, Inc. 652 F.2d 209 (C.A. 1, June 1981)

(unit of E's Ees at single day care center rather than at all E's locations in state or at all of its locations in four states, appropriate; E did not show unit was clearly not appropriate and did not rebut presumption that single facility unit in chain of units is appropriate notwithstanding centralized administration of labor relations, since there is ct precedent that local manager need not have authority finally to decide collective bargaining issues for local branch unit to be appropriate, and director here had authority to resolve some of them such as discharge, disputes, hiring and working hours)

3375-7500 All locations in two or more states

3375-7550 Specific determination (by SIC category)

Purolator Courier Corp. 265 NLRB No. 086

(unit of courier-guards limited to single terminal w/i E's south-central administrative region, held inappropriate in view of integration of operations and time-sensitive and secure delivery, overlapping supervision, frequent contact among all guards in region, uniformity of working conditions and broad authority of regional office over operations and labor relations)

N.L.R.B. v. Living and Learning Centers, Inc. 652 F.2d 209 (C.A. 1, June 1981)

(unit of E's Ees at single day care center rather than at all E's locations in state or at all of its locations in four states, appropriate; E did not show unit was clearly not appropriate and did not rebut presumption that single facility unit in chain of units is appropriate notwithstanding centralized administration of labor relations, since there is ct precedent that local manager need not have authority finally to decide collective bargaining issues for local branch unit to be appropriate, and director here had authority to resolve some of them such as discharge, disputes, hiring and working hours)

3375-8700 Less than all locations in two or more states

3375-8750 Specific determination (by SIC category)

Atlanta Baking Company, Inc. JD-288-80

(bakery route salesmen at two locations in two states employed by successor E not accretion to successor E's E-wide unit of route salesmen but appropriate separate unit in view of their having sufficient operational separation to retain their separate identity)

Orkin Exterminating Company, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 102

(unit of technicians at single location branch office of E providing pest control services, inappropriate, notwithstanding geographic distances between branch offices in district and presumptive appropriateness of single-facility unit, in view of broad authority of district manager over daily operations and labor relations of all branch offices w/i district, uniform working conditions and Ee skills, and substantial Ee interchange)

Checker Cab Company of Virginia, Inc., d/b/a Avis Rent-A-Car 260 NLRB No. 118

(multi location unit of rental and service agents at E's airport car rental facility and office Ees at nearby office held appropriate, but Ees of facility in another state 85 miles away not included in unit in view of dissimilar working conditions and lack of community of interest)

3375-8750—Cont.

5000 MULTIEMPLOYER UNITS (SEE ALSO 530-5700)

5033 IDENTIFYING CHARACTERISTICS

5033-6000 Employers associated in bargaining

The North American Soccer League, etc., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 613 F.2d 1379 (C.A. 5) (1980)
(leaguewide unit of soccer clubs, appropriate notwithstanding substantial financial autonomy of individual clubs, where club-members of soccer league form, through the league, an integrated group with common labor problems and high degree of centralized control over labor relations)

5033-6020 Intent of employers

Artcraft Displays, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 151
(single E, rather than multi-E, unit appropriate where Es clearly manifested intent not to be bound as group as evidenced by fact that there was no history of multi-E bargaining, during negotiations Es' spokesman clearly made known to all participants that Es were not bargaining as group, representatives of other Es also actively participated in negotiations, and each E entered into separate contracts containing recognition clauses stating that each individual E recognized U as exclusive Ee representative)

N.L.R.B. v. New York Typographical Union No. 6 632 F.2d 171 (C.A. 2, 1980)

6700 ADDITIONS OF GROUPS OF EMPLOYEES TO EXISTING UNITS

6701 GENERALLY

Weatherite Company, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 095
(proposition that finding accretion to unit in construction industry is proper on ground that it is unwise to further fractionalize units in industry because it has been historically plagued with jurisdictional disputes and restrictive work rules is erroneous; rather, a fundamental consideration in determining accretion issue is to assure Ees fullest freedom in exercise of their Sec. 9(b) rights; moreover, Bd has intentionally treated industry differently because collective bargaining for Ee groups identified by function and by craft skills has proven successful and has become established accomodation to needs of industry and Ees)

Weatherite Company, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 095
(Bd has followed restrictive policy in finding accretion because it forecloses Ees' basic right to select their bargaining representative; thus, no accretion was found to exist where, among Ees in new and existing unit, there was absence or infrequency of interchange, lack of common supervision and of physical, functional, and administrative integration; and no accretion was found where there were different skills and functions in the two groups, and there was history of exclusion of new Ees from existing unit)

Westwood Import Company, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 162
(an accretion is by definition merely an addition of new Ees plus an already group of Ees so added to existing bargaining unit are regarded as part of that unit; in deciding whether new group of Ees is accretion to existing unit, Bd not only considers such factors as functional integration level of management control, similarity of working conditions, organizing history of Ee interchange, job skills, and physical separateness, but also gives special consideration to interests of unrepresented Ee in exercising their own right to self organization)

Westwood Import Company, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 162
(Bd will not under guise of accretion, compel group of Ees, who may constitute separate appropriate unit, to be included in an overall unit w/o allowing those Ees opportunity of expressing their preference in secret ballot election or by some other election or by some other evidence that they wish to authorize U to represent them)

Westwood Import Company, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 162
(where relevant considerations are not free from doubt as to whether or not Ees are accretion to existing unit, Bd and cts are in agreement that best way to resolve close question is through election process because accretion doctrine applied restrictively since it deprives Ees of opportunity to express their desires)

6725 SINGLE-LOCATION UNITS

6725-2500 Plantwide units

6725-2550 Specific determination

6725-2550-5300 Employees held to be accretion

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company 254 NLRB No. 082
(engineering clerks not represented by any other labor organization accreted into company-wide unit of clerical Ees where after E reorganized company engineering department ceased to exist; engineering clerks are only unrepresented Ees in segment and have substantial community of interest with clerical Ees already in bargaining unit; accretion proper notwithstanding engineering clerks' job titles and duties had not changed in 20 years and, therefore, Bd does not usually allow classifications of Ees who have been historically excluded from unit to be accreted into unit)

6725-2550-6700 Employees held not to be accretion

Auto Processing Company and Auto Warehousing Company 258 NLRB No. 115
(where body shop operations with Ees represented by two Us were transferred to body shop operations of another facility with overall unit represented by another U, no accretion found since (1) all body shop Ees may constitute appropriate unit in light of being in separate building and different type of work performed by other Ees; (2) transferred Ees have had long history of separate collective bargaining representation by different Us and under different agreements; and (3) larger number of transferred Ees would have representative changed by smaller number of body shop Ees represented by U for overall unit)

6725-5000 Plant subdivision units

6725-5050 Departmental units

6725-5050-5000 Specific determination

6725-5050-5033 Employees held to be accretion

J. C. Penney Company 252 NLRB No. 047
(retail store's catalog sales department held accretion to existing unit of floor sales department Ees, where catalog sales Ees primarily performed sales and related functions, handled merchandise they sold,, dealt directly with customers, used same mechanical aids, and had same or comparable work shifts and other conditions as floor sales Ees represented by U and covered by E-U contract)

6725-5050-5067 Employees held not to be accretion

Massachusetts Electric Company (Local Union No. 12007, Steelworkers) 248 NLRB No. 008
(Ees transferred from closed facility to, and co-mingled with similarly situated Ees covered by U contracts at, another of E's facilities, held not accretion to that contract, and qcr found since transferred Ees, although performing functions and duties similar to those performed prior to merger, had been represented previously by Us different from those representing Ees at merged location; transferred Ees continued to be subject of competing representational claims and none of Us involved herein represented overwhelming majority of Ees in units found appropriate)

6725-7500 Employee type or category units

6725-7505 Production employees unit

6725-7505-5000 Specific determination

6725-7505-5033 Employees held to be accretion

Mercury Marine Division of Brunswick Corporation 254 NLRB No. 146
(process coordinators at corporation's marine division who operate electronically programmed automatic die-casting machines held accretion to existing plant-wide unit, where process coordinator position was established when electronically programmed system was installed; process coordinators, who originally were part of existing unit, work in same area as other unit Ees, share same responsibility for quantity and quality of products, and assist each other when trouble develops in their machines; and support personnel, who service both manual and automatic machines, are part of same unit and share same overall supervision)

6725-7505-5067 Employees held not to be accretion

Cannon Air Conditioning and Heating Co., Inc. and Yor-Tex, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 091
(bin repair-men employed by company which is affiliated with E and performs repair work contracted by E, held not accretion to E's sheet metal workers represented by U where there is insufficient community of interest between bin repair Ees and sheet metal workers)

6725-7515 Production and maintenance employees unit

6725-7515-5000 Specific determination

6725-7515-5067 Employees held not to be accretion

Gould, Inc., Electrical Components Division 253 NLRB No. 035
(P&M Ees of operation that relocated to facility where there was a certified P&M unit of another of E's operations held not accretion to certified unit; issue determined on facts that existed on date of U's demand for recognition, where whatever indicia of accretion existed at inception of relocated operation were counterbalanced by later events; favorable ratio of Ees of certified unit to Ees of relocated operation that initially obtained was reversed after short period; this, and development of separate lines of organization and supervision outweighed elements which beiefly favored finding of accretion)

6725-7567 Warehouse employees unit

6725-7567-5000 Specific determination

6725-7567-5067 Employees held not to be accretion

6725-7567-5067—Cont.

Westwood Import Company, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 162
(after relocation E established warehouse function for first time and these newly hired warehouse Ees held not accretion to unit where warehouse Ees had different pay scales, performed different kind of work requiring different skills there was no interchange of Ee or contact between with unit Ees; notwithstanding warehouse Ees use same time clock, paid on same day, have same fringe benefit

6725-7574 Combined selling and nonselling personnel unit

6725-7574-8000 Specific determinations

6725-7574-8067 Employees held not to be accretion

Safeway Stores, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 146
(Bd held, contrary to ALJ, that newly-established delicatessen department was not accretion to bakery department where many duties of delicatessen Ees were more similar to duties of Ees in meat department that in bakery department, there was no scheduled interchange between delicatessen and bakery Ees; and Bd gave little weight to factors stressed by ALJ since record clearly indicated that E consciously manipulated these factors for purposes of justifying its pre-hire recognition of favored U and preventing representation by a rival U)

6725-7583 Mechanics unit

6725-7583-8000 Specific determination

6725-7583-8033 Employees held to be accretion0323

N.L.R.B. v. St. Regis Paper Company 674d 104 (C.A. 1, Mar. 1982)
(Bd did not abuse its discretion in determining that mechanics of new garage accreted to bargaining unit at headquarters several miles away, where work performed at each location was identical, mechanics from each location worked together at various jobsites, they were all under supervision of same person whose office was at headquarters, and hiring and firing at new garage were controlled from headquarters)

6725-7586 Seamen's unit

6725-7586-8000 Specific determination

6725-7586-8067 Employees held not to be accretion

Mac Towing, Inc., et al. 262 NLRB No. 168
(where E acquired another company, Ees in newly acquired unit found not to be accretion to existing bargaining unit where there has been no interchange of vessels or Ees w/other affiliated companies and Bd will not compel group of Ees who may constitute separate appropriate unit to be included in overall unit without allowing Ees to express their preference)

6725-7591 Craft unit

6725-7591-8000 Specific determination

6725-7591-8067 Employees held not to be accretion

Weatherite Company, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 095
(urethane foam roofers held not accretion to existing unit of built-up roofers where factors favoring accretion do not outweigh factors militating against accretion, since there is no interchange of Ees between foam and built-up divisions, methods and equipment used in application of foam are different from those used in built-up roofing, operations of the two divisions are virtually autonomous, and there is no indication that foam roofers share any more of a community of interest with built-up roofers than the latter share with separately represented sheet metal roofers)

6750 MULTIPLE-LOCATION UNITS OF SINGLE EMPLOYER

6750-3300 Employerwide units

The Arundel Corporation 252 NLRB No. 059
(if new location may constitute a separate appropriate unit, Bd will not permit U to insist that its broad contractual recognition clause, purporting to cover all operations of E, whether or not in existence at time contract was executed, automatically blankets in Ees at new operation under guise of accretion; to do so would effectively disenfranchise Ees at new location thereby violating their appropriate unit rights under Sec. 9(b))

The Arundel Corporation 252 NLRB No. 059
(since entire new unit could not be properly added as accretion to E's existing unit, there is no reason to suppose that portion of new unit can appropriately be severed and lumped into group with other of E's units with which it has no special affinity)

6750-3350 Specific determination

6750-3350-3300 Employees held to be accretion

Ford Brothers, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 011
(new facility held accretion to existing bargaining unit where bargaining unit work was transferred to new facility and such facility was substantially manned by transferred bargaining unit Ees)

United Food Commercial Workers International Union, Local No. 1222, AFL-CIO, CLC(Fedmart Stores, Inc.) 262 NLRB No. 88
(SCORE marking Ees found to be accretion to clerks unit rather than warehousemen's unit, where, prior to introduction of SCORE marking system, clerks inventoried and priced incoming merchandise and Ees represented by warehousemen unloaded trucks, counted pallets and staged merchandise and SOCRE marking Ees perform same basic functions as clerks bargaining unit Ees did under E's previous system, notwithstanding location of work changed from sales floor to remote marking area in backroom)

Arizona Public Service Company 256 NLRB No. 065
(P&M Ees at nuclear power plant held accretion to existing systemwide P&M unit of public utility which operates several nonnuclear power plants in view of E's centralized labor relations policies, similarity of classifications and terms and conditions of employment with unit Ees, transfers of Ees, and history of bargaining on systemwide basis and notwithstanding Ees at nuclear plant receive some specialized training)

6750-3350-6700 Employees held not to be accretion

Save-It Discount Foods, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 097
(new store not accretion to unit consisting of all of E's other stores notwithstanding stores sell same merchandise which is determined for stores by vice-president, have identical checkout machines, etc., use common pricing policy, clerical functions for stores performed centrally, joint advertising, infrequent Ee transfer, vice-president has over-all responsibility for labor relations where disputed store had substantial instore autonomy as managers had responsibility for scheduling, hiring, ordering, purchasing, discipline, there is minimal Ee interchange so presumptive appropriateness of single-store unit not rebutted)

General Instrument Corporation, Antone Systems Division 262 NLRB No. 140
(Ees at E's two new operations found not to be accretions to existing unit where there is only minimal Ee interchange, facilities are separately supervised, no evidence of centralized control of labor relations, and one of new operations requires different mix of job classifications, and although this operation is short distance from one of existing units, its uniqueness requires that it be considered separate appropriate unit)

Mego Corp. and Samet and Wells, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 031
(accretion of Ees in E's new plant which manufactured new line of stretch-skin dolls to Ees of unionized plants which manufactured toys, not appropriate, where there was no centralized personnel management department, common labor policy, Ee interchange or transfers, commonality of supervision, geographic proximity of plants, or community of interest)

Plumbing Distributors, Inc. (Teamsters, Local Union No. 70) 248 NLRB No. 054
(notwithstanding ultimate common control and operation of new facility and existing facilities, new facility constituted separate appropriate unit and not accretion to existing facilities, where there was no interchange between Ees, day-to-day supervision was independent from other facilities, and contracts do not explicitly grant recognition to U for new operations established w/i its territorial jurisdiction)

6750-6700 Less than employerwide units

The Arundel Corporation 252 NLRB No. 059
(if new location may constitute a separate appropriate unit, Bd will not permit U to insist that its broad contractual recognition clause, purporting to cover all operations of E, whether or not in existence at time contract was executed, automatically blankets in Ees at new operation under guise of accretion; to do so would effectively disenfranchise Ees at new location thereby violating their appropriate unit rights under Sec. 9(b))

6750-6750 Specific determination

6750-6750-6700 Employees held not to be accretion

King Radio Corporation 257 NLRB No. 070
(E which granted U recognition, w/o proof of majority status for P&M Ees at one of its plants not covered by previously negotiated contract for its other plant violated Act where plant was not accretion to first bargaining unit; accretion not found for following reasons: (1) plant was in operation prior to time E recognized U at other plant, and (2) unit always excluded from coverage because U did not present proof of card majority)

The Arundel Corporation 252 NLRB No. 059
(Ees of subsidiary herein found single E with parent corporation, which resurrected subsidiary to operate quarry held, in retail store context, not to constitute accretion to parent corporation's existing unit in view of separation of locations, lack of substantial interchange and contact between Ees at those locations, different character of work performed at both locations, and considerable authority of president of parent corporation over personnel policies of subsidiary)

Atlanta Baking Company, Inc. JD-288-80
(bakery route salesmen at two locations in two states employed by successor E not accretion to successor E's E-wide unit of route salesmen but appropriate separate unit in view of their having sufficient operational separation to retain their separate identity)

6750-6750-6700—Cont.

Venture Stores, Inc. JD-81-80

(E which built distribution center to service both its previously owned and its newly purchased stores held not successor at distribution center to E from which it purchased stores, since purchaser neither employed majority of seller's Ees there on critical date nor was it perfectly clear that it would do so in future; moreover distribution center did not involve same location, plant, equipment, methods, service or customers as seller's distribution facility and its Ees were not accretion to unit of Ees employed at stores which were purchased)

6775 MULTIEMPLOYER UNITS

6775-5000 Specific determination

6775-5067 Employees held not to be accretion

Mac Towing, Inc., et al. 262 NLRB No. 168

(where E acquired another company, Ees in newly acquired unit found not to be accretion to existing bargaining unit where there has been no interchange of vessels or Ees w/other affiliated companies and Bd will not compel group of Ees who may constitute separate appropriate unit to be included in overall unit without allowing Ees to express their preference)

8300 SEVERANCE OF GROUPS OF EMPLOYEES FROM EXISTING UNITS

8325 SINGLE-LOCATION UNITS

8325-7500 Employee type of category units

8325-7562 Drivers (including driver-salesmen) unit

8325-7562-5000 Specific determination

8325-7562-5033 Severance permitted

Memphis Furniture Manufacturing Co. 259 NLRB No. 061

(unit of over-the-road truckdrivers who delivered furniture manufactured by E may, if they so desire, constitute separate appropriate unit for purposes of collective bargaining apart from historic P&M unit in which they were included where they did no plant work, did not load their trucks, had no contact with P&M Ees, spent 95% of worktime away from plant, had different hours, mode of pay, supervision from P&M Ees and, unlike local drivers, were subject to regulations of Department of Transportation)

460 DETERMINATION OF COMPOSITION OF UNIT

2500 DETERMINATIONS INCLUDING OR EXCLUDING EMPLOYEE JOB CATEGORIES FROM UNITS (SEE APPROPRIATE HEADING UNDER TYPE OF UNIT INVOLVED, UNDER 440-0000)

5000 EFFECT OF EMPLOYMENT CATEGORY, STATUS, OR TENURE UPON PLACEMENT IN A UNIT

5001 GENERALLY

Teamsters Local Union No. 574, a/w Teamsters (Lola Wheeler, an Individual) 259 NLRB No. 037

(U field representatives both at international and local level, and Teamster business agents, not managerial Ees notwithstanding they are charged with responsibility for executing U policies and representing U in dealings with Es and its membership. It follows that office personnel who assist business agents are not managerial either)

N.L.R.B. v. C & D Foods, Inc. 626 F.2d 578 (C.A. 7, July 1980)

(ct agrees with Bd that because of exemption of agricultural Ees, it could not certify unit comprising all of E's hourly Ees)

5033 CATEGORY OR TYPE OF EMPLOYEE

5033-2500 Employees allied with management

Kenhin Charter Service, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 117

(part time Ee who also was employed part time in home of E's president eligible, notwithstanding contention she was hired after ptn filed in expectation she would be anti-U; contention that she did not share sufficient community of interests with other Ees because of her association with owner's family as worker in household, rejected)

5033-2501 Generally

Teamsters Local Union No. 574, a/w Teamsters (Lola Wheeler, an Individual) 259 NLRB No. 037

(U field representatives both at international and local level, and Teamster business agents, not managerial Ees notwithstanding they are charged with responsibility for executing U policies and representing U in dealings with Es and its membership. It follows that office personnel who assist business agents are not managerial either)

N.L.R.B. v. H. M. Patterson & Son, Inc. 636 F.2d 1014 (C.A. 5, 1981)

(E's contention that challenge to ballots of sons of E improperly sustained since sustained on basis of Section 9(b) where U had challenged ballots on basis of Section 2(3), rejected, in view of close relation historically between two sections, and absent abuse of discretion by Bd)

5033-2501-5000 Policy as to placement

N.L.R.B. v. H. M. Patterson & Son, Inc. 636 F.2d 1014 (C.A. 5, 1981)

(factors to be considered in determining whether to include or exclude a blood related Ee from bargaining once under section 9(b) are how high percentage of stock parent or spouse owns; how many shareholders are related to one another; whether shareholder is actively in management or holds supervisory position; how many relatives are employed as compared with total number of Ees; whether relative lives in same household or is partially dependent on shareholder; U activity of Ee; and overall ties and social activities of family involved)

5033-2550 Nature of relationship

5033-2550-1200 Lessor

Alumbaugh Coal Corporation 267 NLRB No. 113

(Ee who was also lessor of land being mined for coal to coalmining E held to have interest so aligned with management as to extinguish his community of interest with other Ees)

5033-2550-1700 Stockholder

Circle T. Corporation; Meat Man, Inc., d/b/a Royal T Meat JD-(SF)-201-81

(stockholder should be included in bargaining unit and was therefore properly included as backpay claimant in backpay specification where he had no effective voice in formulation and determination of corporate policy and he enjoyed no preferential treatment)

5033-2550-2900 Member of religious Order

Mercy Hospital of Buffalo 250 NLRB No. 136

(where E's bylaws require that majority of board of trustees be member of religious order which ran hospital, and administrator also member of Order, member of that order found ineligible to vote as she is considered part of E and is fundamentally different from Ees in bargaining unit)

Mercy Hospital of Buffalo 668 F.2d 661 (C.A. 2, Jan. 1982)

(fact that, pursuant to hospital's bylaws, hospital administrator and majority of its board of trustees were members of religious order that sponsored hospital was not sufficient ground alone to establish that such religious order controlled hospital and that member of such order who worked in hospital as clerk and enjoyed same terms and conditions of employment as lay clerks in unit was sufficiently different from them and so closely related to E that she should be excluded from unit)

5033-2550-3300 Child

Modern Manufacturing Company, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 078

(individual who was son and nephew of owners of majority of E and son of manager and had special privileges, favorable working conditions and personnel information denied other Ees, found aligned with management and excluded from unit)

Modern Manufacturing Company, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 078

(emancipated and economically independent daughter of officer and co-owner, who performs no managerial functions only duties like those of her fellow Ees found not aligned with management, included in unit)

Joseph J. Motter Co. 250 NLRB No. 161

(son of E's vice president and manager did not share community of interest with other Ees)

Pandick Press Midwest, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 058

(daughter of plant manager who also has title of president not eligible to vote in election and excluded from unit where she lives at home with her father, has more flexible shift schedule than other Ees and her easy access to management gives her status and area of interest distinct from other Ees)

Dennis G. Maietta and Frank M. Maietta t/a Maietta Contracting 251 NLRB No. 027

(contention that sons, herein excluded from unit, were not employed by their father but by partnership entity owned by father and partner, and that prior Bd decision required GC to prove sons' special status for their exclusion, rejected; cited decisions do not relate to issue herein but primarily to Ees of corporations, Congress has definitively excluded child of owner from status of Ee, and father herein, sole operator of partnership because of partner's illness, was directly responsible for day-to-day operation of partnership's business)

Tops Industries, d/b/a Tops Market JD-(SF)-53-82

(part-time Ee excluded from unit on basis of (a) family relationship where he was son of E's manager and half owner, lived at home with and was supported by his father and (b) special status on job where he was salaried, took time off at height of season, and was privy to personnel information unlike most Ees)

Tops Industries, d/b/a Tops Market JD-(SF)-53-82

(Ee excluded from unit on basis of (a) family relationship where he was son of E's manager and half owner, derived his income from his employment with E, and lived in home purchased with loan from father and (b) special status on job where he was salaried, and received incentive pay and large open-ended loan from E unlike other Ees)

Tops Industries, d/b/a Tops Market JD-(SF)-53-82

(Ee excluded from unit on basis of (a) family relationship as son of E's manager and half owner and (b) special status on job where he was salaried,

5033-2550-3300—Cont.

had keys to all areas of E, and had authority to sign checks, prepare work schedules, and take charge of produce company)

N.L.R.B. v. H. M. Patterson & Son, Inc. 636 F.2d 1014 (C.A. 5, 1981)
(factors to be considered in determining whether to include or exclude a blood related Ee from bargaining once under section 9(b) are how high percentage of stock parent or spouse owns; how many shareholders are related to one another; whether shareholder is actively in management or holds supervisory position; how many relatives are employed as compared with total number of Ees; whether relative lives in same household or is partially dependent on shareholder; U activity of Ee; and overall ties and social activities of family involved)

N.L.R.B. v. H. M. Patterson & Son, Inc. 636 F.2d 1014 (C.A. 5, 1981)
(sons of E who owned 20% of stock in company at which election held not eligible to vote since they were employed by parents and thus, under Section 2(3) of Act, not Ees of E; or alternatively ineligible under Section 9(b) as closely aligned with management where until recently they had been in college with large part of expenses paid by their father and had lived with their parents and in home owned by father)

5033-2550-5000 Husband or wife

United Supermarkets, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 179
(supervisor's wife responsible for stocking grocery store's drug section included in store unit, notwithstanding that her position was unique in E's operation, where she does not exercise supervisory authority; unlike supervisory personnel, she was hourly paid and did not attend supervisory or managerial meetings; and there was no evidence that she received special privileges or benefits)

Riverside Community Memorial Hospital, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 166
(registered nurse regularly scheduled on monthly schedule on on-call basis, eligible since she met test for Ee-wife of nonowning manager by not enjoying special status where her strictly on-call work schedule was not special in view of the number of hours she worked on prearranged and regular basis)

5033-2550-8300 Other type of relative

Modern Manufacturing Company, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 078
(individual who was son and nephew of owners of majority of E and son of manager and had special privileges, favorable working conditions and personnel information denied other Ees, found aligned with management and excluded from unit)

Swanson-Nunn Electric Company 256 NLRB No. 131
(84 year-old father of E included in unit where he works regular hours, paid only for hours he works, reports to manager of warehouse, is not stockholder, was never involved in business, notwithstanding he lives in his own home next door to his son's, since he is totally independent of his son and interests are more closely alligned with unit)

5033-5000 Confidential employees

5033-5001 Generally

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(pursuant to Act's specific exclusion of supervisors from unit and well settled rule excluding managerial and confidential Ees, Bd is required, when presented with an appropriate ptn or claim, to exclude positions from unit where inclusion of those positions would violate Act)

Stroock & Stroock & Lavan 253 NLRB No. 052
(those who act in confidential capacity involving their E's labor relations, not those of another E)

Pilgrim Life Insurance Company 249 NLRB No. 140
(Ee who rendered general assistance to E's president held not confidential Ee, notwithstanding president was official who formulated and effectuated labor relations policies, since she was excluded form handling any matters related to labor relations policies inasmuch as president was assisted in these matters by another officer)

5033-5001-5000 Policy as to placement

Kleinberg, Kaplan, Wolff, Cohen & Burrows, P.C. 253 NLRB No. 054
(Bd held law firm's clerical and support staff not confidential workers under Bell Aerospace and the Taft-Hartley legislative history, adhering to its traditional restrictive definition of confidential workers as individuals acting in confidential capacity to those Ees formulating, determining and effectuating management's labor relations policies for their own E)

Montgomery Ward & Co., Inc. 253 NLRB No. 023
(office clerical who served as secretary to credit manager held not confidential Ee since routine secretarial assistance to official who formulates and effectuates labor relations policies is not sufficient to warrant exclusion from unit as confidential Ee)

Hendricks County Rural Electric Membership Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 627 F.2d 766 (C.A. 7, July 1980)
(Bd's finding that Ee was not confidential Ee not supported by substantial evidence where only standard applied was labor nexus and upon remand Bd did not reopen proceedings to take evidence under different Bell Aerospace 416 U.S. 267 (1974), standard)

N.L.R.B. v. Los Angeles New Hospital 640 F.2d 1017 (C.A. 9, Mar 3, 1981)
(individual not confidential Ee where determination based merely on access to confidential information or typing of confidential labor relations memorandum; Bd refrains from broad definition of confidential Ees because most Ees have arguably confidential relationship with management and because expensive application of exclusionary rule would deprive many Ees of right to bargain collectively)

5033-5050 Identifying characteristics

Missouri Pacific Employees' Hospital Association and St. Louis-Little Rock Hospitals, Inc. d/b/a Compton Hill Medical Center 251 NLRB No. 206
(secretaries to administrative heads which formulated labor relations policy held confidential Ees and excluded from unit)

5033-5050-0100 Generally

Air Express International Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 659 F.2d 610 (C.A. 5, Oct. 1981)
(district manager's former secretary held non-confidential at time of discharge where all confidential duties were withdrawn at time ptn was filed, month earlier)

5033-5050-5000 Access to information regarding

Maidsville Coal Co., Inc. 257 NLRB No. 148
(weight master in cool mining operation found not to be confidential Ee as business information he possessed was no different than that possessed by shipping and receiving clerks and other production clerks who have not lost their statutory protection)

5033-5050-5020 Labor relations

N.L.R.B. v. Hendricks County Rural Electric Membership Corp. 454 US 170 (U.S. SCt. Dec. 1981)
(ct upheld Bd decision which held that only those confidential Ees with labor nexus are properly excluded from bargaining unit and rejected claim that all Ees with access to confidential information do not fall w/i definition of Ee in Section 2(3) of Act)

Lorimar Productions, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 150
(objections to election on ground that production coordinators at motion picture and TV production facility should be excluded from appropriate unit since PCs were confidential Ees where they assisted and acted in confidential capacity to persons who formulated, determined, and effectuated management policies in field of labor relations)

Greyhound Lines, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 055
(secretary to manager of maintenance and service center held not confidential Ee where manager did not formulate and determine management policies in field of labor relations; and secretary's access to personnel files, her typing of replies to correspondence, including that marked confidential, and her typing and filing of Ee evaluations, letters or notices concerning Ee personnel and disciplinary actions, letters from manager to U, replies to grievances, and manager's recommendations as to E's proposals for collective-bargaining agreements did not render secretary confidential Ee)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(assistant manager of insurance in newspaper's insurance department held not confidential Ee where she does not have confidential relationship with vice president for labor relations; while she may calculate costs of various insurance programs, it does not mean she is privy to precise labor rates used by E's negotiating team; and her job of studying pension plans and calculating benefits for Ees under such plans, or future benefits, does not create such conflict or so closely align her with management as to mandate her exclusion from unit)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(fact that night Ee relations manager in Ee relations department at newspaper discusses matters with executive vice president for labor relations does not mean he is assisting or acting in confidential capacity to persons who formulate, determine, and effectuate management policies in field of labor relations)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(Bd looks not to the confidentiality of information, but to the confidentiality of the relationship between Ee and persons who exercise managerial functions in field of labor relations)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(senior budget analyst in budget section of newspaper's accounting department held not confidential since mere access to information and compiling thereof does not convert Ee into one having confidential status; nor does his relationship to labor relations department make him confidential since much of information involved is available through public record, and more than just access to or dealing with E's labor relations aspects are required for finding confidential status; and E's claim of conflict of interest because of analyst's access to information was not bourne out by record)

5033-5050-5020—Cont.

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014

(payroll supervisor in newspaper's accounting department held not confidential Ee since his access to payroll information is insufficient to make him confidential Ee)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014

(newspaper's editorial writer who also writes speeches for publisher and has worked on preparation of publisher's statements condering labor relations matters held confidential Ee)

ITT Grinnell 253 NLRB No. 077

(secretary to assistant plant manager found confidential Ee and excluded from office clerical unit; manager has significant responsibility for formulation and effectuation of labor relations policy and she has sole responsibility for his filing and typing)

ITT Grinnell 253 NLRB No. 077

(secretary to engineering supervisor whose job description contains no duties concerning personnel matters or formulation of labor relations policy and possibility of such duties only speculative found not confidential secretary and included in unit)

Kleinberg, Kaplan, Wolff, Cohen & Burrows, P.C. 253 NLRB No. 054

(Bd held law firm's clerical and support staff not confidential workers under Bell Aerospace and the Taft-Hartley legislative history, adhering to its traditional restrictive definition of confidential workers as individuals acting in confidential capacity to those Ees formulating, determining and effectuating management's labor relations policies for their own E)

Pilgrim Life Insurance Company 249 NLRB No. 140

(Ee who rendered general assistance to E's president held not confidential Ee, notwithstanding president was official who formulated and effectuated labor relations policies, since she was excluded form handling any matters related to labor relations policies inasmuch as president was assisted in these matters by another officer)

Raymond Baking co. 249 NLRB No. 156

(challenge to ballot of receptionist/typist/floater sustained since such Ee acts in confidential capacity to person involved in formulating, determining and effectuating E's labor relations and is therefore confidential Ee)

Union College 247 NLRB No. 069

(secretaries to divisional deans held confidential Ees where they have access to grievance files and E's notes relating to grievances and help with work in connection with labor relations functions of divisional deans)

N.L.R.B. v. Rish Equipment Company, a Subsidiary of Bluefield Supply Company, Inc. 687 F.2d 36 (C.A. 4, Sept. 1982)

(secretary to branch manager of regional office held confidential Ee where manager supervised day to day operations of branch operating under general rules set by home office and was in the thick of all labor contract matters, including negotiations generally and grievances at branch; secretary has access to all files, types all out-going correspondence, including Ee grievances, and evaluations; and does all filing)

5033-5050-5040 Business and financial records

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014

(accounts payable supervisor in accounting department at newspaper held not confidential Ee since mere access to all of E's accounts does not make her confidential; her purported access to accounts of E's labor counsel does not involve confidential information as to render position handling such items confidential; and fact that she participated in computerization program does not make her confidential Ee even though she might have access to information regarding personnel changes)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014

(operating statements clerk in newspaper's accounting department, who is responsible for input of journal vouchers to data processing department and for balancing outputs, held not confidential Ee; remote possibility that clerk could monitor management-labor policy by keeping track of pattern of top executives through evaluation of their expense accounts cannot be used to exclude Ee who otherwise performs unit work)

5033-5050-5060 Personnel records

Modern Manufacturing Company, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 078

(individual who was son and nephew of owners of majority of E and son of manager and had special privileges, favorable working conditions and personnel information denied other Ees, found aligned with management and excluded from unit)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014

(fact that Ee relations manager at newspaper has personnel files or discusses possible changes in procedures utilized for primarily mechanical Ees held not to render his position confidential)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014

(accounts payable supervisor in accounting department at newspaper held not confidential Ee since mere access to all of E's accounts does not make her confidential; her purported access to accounts of E's labor counsel does not involve confidential information as to render position handling such items confidential; and fact that she participated in computerization program does not make her confidential Ee even though she might have access to information regarding personnel changes)

Marcus J. Lawrence Memorial Hospital 249 NLRB No. 090

(Ee found not to be confidential Ee and included in unit where she was hired as secretary, did general typing and only small amount of personnel work, including voter eligibility list)

5033-7500 Managerial employees

5033-7501 Generally

N.L.R.B. v. Yeshiva University 440 U.S. 906 (U.S. SCt, Feb 20, 1980)

(faculty at university held to be managerial, not professional, Ees and outside jurisdiction of Bd)

New York Medical College 263 NLRB No. 124

(faculty members, including physicians, Ph. D's, dentists, and registered nurses, who work 8 or more hours per week held not managerial Ees under Yeshiva criteria since governance of college rested with board of trustees, vice president and chief financial officer, president, dean, associate deans, and department chairmen)

Modern Manufacturing Company, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 078

(emancipated and economically independent daughter of officer and co-owner, who performs no managerial functions only duties like those of her fellow Ees found not aligned with management, included in unit)

Teamsters Local Union No. 574, a/w Teamsters (Lola Wheeler, an Individual) 259 NLRB No. 037

(U field representatives both at international and local level, and Teamster business agents, not managerial Ees notwithstanding they are charged with responsibility for executing U policies and representing U in dealings with Es and its membership. It follows that office personnel who assist business agents are not managerial either)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014

(pursuant to Act's specific exclusion of supervisors from unit and well settled rule excluding managerial and confidential Ees, Bd is required, when presented with an appropriate ptn or claim, to exclude positions from unit where inclusion of those positions would violate Act)

N.L.R.B. v. Yeshiva University 582 F.2d 686 (C.A. 2)

(professional Ees may also be categorized as supervisory and managerial Ees ineligible for inclusion in bargaining unit)

5033-7550 Identifying characteristics

Cooperativa De Credito Y Ahorro Vegabajena 261 NLRB No. 161

(loan collector who was paid minimum hourly wage, and punched clock like other Ees in unit, not listed as administrative/managerial Ee, and whose job was to collect delinquent accounts and set up payment schedules, not managerial, since he had very little discretion with regard to how this was done; he was supervised directly by administrator who approved payment schedules)

Thiel College 261 NLRB No. 004

(unit of full-time faculty at college held managerial Ees and ptn dismissed, since faculty did not have professional interest apart from E and played large role in operating college, where it set requirements for admission and graduation, formulated curriculum and grading system, selected chairmen of departments subject to confirmation of academic dean and vice-president for academic services, was involved in setting course schedules and teaching loads and budgetary matters including faculty salaries and benefits, and effectively participated in faculty hiring, firing, promotion and tenure)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014

(assistant art director in newspaper's photo and art department, not managerial, where he spends much of his working hours performing artist's work)

5033-7550-0100 Generally

N.L.R.B. v. Yeshiva University 440 U.S. 906 (U.S. SCt, Feb 20, 1980)

(managerial Ees are defined as those who formulate and effectuate management policies by expressing and making operative the decisions of their Es; they must exercise discretion w/i or even independently of established E policy and must be aligned with management)

N.L.R.B. v. Yeshiva University 440 U.S. 906 (U.S. SCt, Feb 20, 1980)

(faculty at university exercised managerial authority by virtue of their authority in academic matters being absolute; they decided what courses will be offered, when they will be scheduled, to whom they will be taught to, teaching methods, grading policies, class sizes, and matriculation standards; furthermore, while these decisions required use of independent professional judgment it does not take decision makers out of managerial status)

Bradford College 261 NLRB No. 081

(division chairs at college held not managerial Ee, and included in faculty unit, notwithstanding chairs had written authority to prepare departmental budgets, evaluate appropriate faculty members, assign students to faculty members for advice purposes, hire faculty and assign courses, where in actual practice academic dean had hired faculty members w/o consultation, overruled recommendations on faculty retentions, fired individuals as division chairs who had been elected division chairs by faculty, made appointment commitments for following academic year to faculty members prior to receiving division chair's evaluation)

5033-7550-0100—Cont.

Bradford College 261 NLRB No. 081

(B.A. coordinators at college, most of whom also division charis, held not to be supervisors or managerial Ees and included in faculty unit, where each was regarded as faculty and spent insignificant amount of time in collateral functions)

Bradford College 261 NLRB No. 081

(librarian and assistant librarian at college held not managerial Ees and included in faculty unit where did not spend more than 50% of their time supervising unit Ees, librarian's budget proposals had been reduced by academic dean, locks and keys to library were changed w/o prior consultation with librarian, academic dean and dean of students determined library hours)

Ithaca College 261 NLRB No. 083

(full time faculty at college held managerial Ees and ptn dismissed, in view of their extensive authority to formulate and effectuate policies, absolute authority as to curriculum, determines academic policies, faculty hiring, tenure, budgetary matters and facilities planning)

Duquesne University of The Holy Ghost 261 NLRB No. 085

(faculty members at law school held managerial Ees and ptn for unit of those faculty members dismissed where faculty exercised significant control over curriculum and hiring and tenure, established standards for admission, remaining in school and for graduation; faculty committee, against whose recommendation Dean had no authority to act, screened candidates for full-time faculty positions, faculty could veto hiring decision made by Dean, tenured faculty made recommendations regarding granting of tenure, notwithstanding faculty had no authority in terminations)

Drukker Communications, Inc., and Its Wholly Owned Subsidiary The Daily Advance, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 097

(district advisors held not managerial Ees where their duties consisted of recruiting and training school boy and girl carriers, making collections from carriers, handling of customer complaints, and were subject to supervision and guidance by their supervisors)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014

(newspaper's editorial writers held not managerial since their duties do not differ significantly from those of editorial writers whom Bd has found not to be managerial in the past)

5033-7550-2000 Formulation or effectuation of employer's policies

Lewis University 265 NLRB No. 157

(Bd found faculty members were professional Ees w/i meaning of Sections 2(12) and 2(3) and also found under Yeshiva that faculty members, either as individuals or in their capacity as members of various committees, exercised independent judgment in routine discharge of their professional duties, but did not effectively formulate and effectuate policies of E; therefore, they were not excluded from coverage under Act as managerial Ees)

Lewis University 265 NLRB No. 157

(faculty at university held not managerial Ees in view of fact that they do not exercise absolute or dominant authority in numerous critical areas including academic matters, hiring, tenure, sabbaticals, termination, and promotion; furthermore, although faculty members determined content of, and how to teach, courses, they did not decide grading policies, matriculation standards, academic calendars, or which students would be admitted or graduated; moreover, they did not determine size of student body, tuition to be charged, or location of school; finally, administration decision making authority was unequivocally articulated in management-rights clause)

Florence Volunteer Fire Department, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 134

(full-time paid fire fighters held managerial Ees, notwithstanding U's contention that those on E's executive committee abstained from voting on wage and benefit matters, that E's bylaws could be amended to preclude conflict of interest, and that paid members would not likely exercise effective control over E's policies; Bd found lack of participation by members on executive committee regarding wages and benefits was of little significance, since every paid and unpaid member shared equal voice in management decisions)

Florida Memorial College 263 N.L.R.B. 160

(faculty of private, nonprofit educational institution did not exercise managerial authority, notwithstanding E's assertion that administration arrived at its decisions after consultation with faculty members, since mere consultation did not give it effective control in formulating management policies; in contrast to situation in Yeshiva, faculty's authority in strictly academic matters was far from absolute and faculty exercised no substantial control in spheres beyond the strictly academic)

Florida Memorial College 263 N.L.R.B. 160

(academic division chairpersons appointed by college president to oversee certain administrative functions in addition to teaching held not managerial, notwithstanding E's contention that academic council, of which chairpersons were members, addressed number of issues involving academic policy where there was no showing that in doing so, academic council generally made operative decisions; further, chairpersons' occasional recommendations regarding size of salary increase to be granted faculty members were made w/i established limits which were narrowly circumscribed by administration)

Cooperativa De Credito Y Ahorro Vegabajena 261 NLRB No. 161

(two of 30 voting delegates in E's assembly of delegates, that rarely participate in affairs of E whose labor relations and day-to-day management are vested in E's board of directors, are not managerial, since assembly of delegates minimally participated in management of E w/o ability to formulate or effectuate management policies by expressing or making operative E's decisions; thus, there was no unprotected purpose in Ees striking in attempt to pursuade E to negotiate with two voting delegates who were members of U negotiating team)

Lorimar Productions, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 150

(unit production managers at motion picture and TV production facility held managerial Ees where evidence did not establish any significant limitation on normal discretion exercised by UPMs when engaged in contract negotiations and settling grievances)

Pratt Institute 256 NLRB No. 175

(unit of nonacademic administrative Ees at art institute, appropriate contrary to E's contention that Bd lacked authority under SCt's Yeshiva decision to find the unit appropriate, since U in Yeshiva sought a unit of ful-time faculty members who acted in truly collegial capacity to make decisions for the university, whereas unit here is composed of nonfaculty administrative Ees who carry out decisions made by higher authority; Bd does not believe that SCt in its Yeshiva decision intended to exclude from the Act's protection administrative Ees performing their duties in an institute of the type here)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014

(advertising agency representative who acts as liaison for newspaper with advertising agencies which place ads in newspaper held not managerial; although he was involved in various business contacts on behalf of newspaper, he was not involved in setting of managerial policy)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014

(co-op manager in newspaper's advertising administration department who is responsible for locating and bringing to attention of sales persons funds allocated by manufacturer or distributor for advertising cooperatively with local retailers held not managerial where he does not set management or advertising policy)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014

(assistant market research manager in newspaper's research department which supplies information to other departments to assist in selling newspaper as advertising medium held not managerial, since mere gathering and study of information designed to increase E's advertising market does not show authority to formulate, determine, or effectuate E policy, or otherwise is closely related to management)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014

(editor of travel subsection of newspaper, not managerial, where he is limited to predetermined number of pages and by budget determined by superiors or circumstances, and his exercise of judgment in purchasing free lance material and in deciding what trips to take does not amount to use of discretionary judgment in implementing or determining E policy)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014

(participation by production editor on newspaper's night operations news desk on various quality control and production committees held not to reflect managerial status where committees are investigatory and informative in nature, and production editor does not set management policy or determine, formulate, or effectuate E's labor relations policy)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014

(fact that night Ee relations manager in Ee relations department at newspaper discusses matters with executive vice president for labor relations does not mean he is assisting or acting in confidential capacity to persons who formulate, determine, and effectuate management policies in field of labor relations)

Arizona Electric Power Cooperative, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 110

(load dispatchers and their leadman employed by electric power cooperative not supervisors where they did not oversee work performed pursuant to their directions, did not use independent judgment in directing other Ees; any discretion they used in buying and selling power was insufficient to render them managerial Ees)

Montgomery County Opportunity Board, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 103

(Head Start program teachers and parent coordinators included in community action agency's E-wide unit absent evidence that they are supervisory or managerial, i.e., that they are on parent advisory council or that council controls program's personnel policies)

Montgomery County Opportunity Board, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 103

(project directors of Youth Community Conservation and Improvements Project held nonmanagerial and included in community action agency E-wide unit where their duties are specifically defined with little flexibility, they do not attend management meetings and are not involved in formulation of goals and policies)

5033-7550-2000—Cont.

The Trustees of Stevens Institute of Technology JD-(NY)-108-82
(regular full-time faculty at non-profit institution of higher learning awarding engineering and scientific degrees found managerial Ees in view of their decisive participation in all but monetary aspects of institution where they formulated curricula and its courses, determined academic structure, and were involved in selecting president, provost, department heads and teachers, awarding promotions and tenure and meeting building needs)

Dooley Equipment Corporation JD-215-80
(Ee in training period for managerial position with 6 months remaining in period working under close supervision of supervisor with little discretion to determine departmental policy not managerial Ee)

N.L.R.B. v. Yeshiva University 582 F.2d 686 (C.A. 2)
(full time faculty members excluded from unit as supervisory and managerial Ees where they exercised substantial and pervasive authority at particular university by recommending hiring, promotion, salary and tenure of faculty, adopting standards of admission, curruiculum, grading system, and graduation requirements; further, faculty was not acting on own behalf but rather on behalf of university, nor did fact decisions subject to ultimate authority of trustees preclude finding of managerial status where faculty's recommendations were effective)

Walla Walla Union-Bulletin, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 631 F.2d 609 (C.A. 9, Oct. 1980)
(editor of editorial page of newspaper held managerial Ee, where his primary duty is to write editorials and edit other articles appearing in editorial page, he has responsibility for selecting syndicated columns and editorial cartoons, attends meetings with other members of editorial board that approves, by majority vote, editorial topics and his vote carries same weight as other members of board, all of whom are management representatives)

5033-7550-4000 Attendance at management meetings

Montgomery County Opportunity Board, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 103
(project directors of Youth Community Conservation and Improvements Project held nonmanagerial and included in community action agency E-wide unit where their duties are specifically defined with little flexibility, they do not attend management meetings and are not involved in formulation of goals and policies)

Walla Walla Union-Bulletin, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 631 F.2d 609 (C.A. 9, Oct. 1980)
(editor of editorial page of newspaper held managerial Ee, where his primary duty is to write editorials and edit other articles appearing in editorial page, he has responsibility for selecting syndicated columns and editorial cartoons, attends meetings with other members of editorial board that approves, by majority vote, editorial topics and his vote carries same weight as other members of board, all of whom are management representatives)

5033-7550-6000 Authority to pledge employer's credit

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(printing services supervisor in printing services section of newspaper's administrative services department which provides services for E's various functions held not managerial since ordering of supplies and repairs is not pledging of E's credit, nor is selection of services or training such managerial authority as to involve discretion or action outside E's guidelines which convert rank-and-file Ee into managerial Ee)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(credit supervisors in advertising account department at newspaper held not managerial where they follow guidelines set by E in liquidating or collecting advertising accounts; fact that they may on occasion grant extension of credit beyond $3000 guideline given them does not show management authority)

5033-7550-8000 Interests otherwise identified with management

Wordsworth Academy 262 NLRB No. 042
(teachers, psychologists, and therapists unit at private school participating in State educational plan for children with learning disabilities held appropriate, where they are Ees rather than managerial Ees since, unlike Yeshiva University, teachers are professional Ees whose decision making is limited to routine discharge of professional duties in assigned projects; and no basis exists for finding psychologists and therapists managerial, since they do not act beyond scope of their professional duties, and only treat students and advise teachers regarding convenient times to schedule classes so that they can arrange their appointments with students)

Wordsworth Academy 262 NLRB No. 042
(physical education faculty members at private school participating in State educational plan for children with learning disabilities included in professional faculty unit where, although physical department selects Ees to act as coaches and officials at games, such action is closer to making teaching assignments than it is to hiring, as contended by E; moreover, physical education faculty's recommendation of wage scale is not enough by itself to warrant excluding them as managerial Ees from faculty unit)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(commissioned sales manager in newspaper's retail advertising department held managerial, where he is management representative in his relationship with newspaper's commissioned sales agents, was almost solely responsible for interviewing and hiring initial complement of commissioned sales agents, and works with agents in approving credits, resolving problem accounts, training, and terminating hiring contract if agent violates it)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(sales development and training manager in newspaper's advertising administration department held managerial, where his planning and effectuation of incentive award programs and development of tactics, strategies, and promotions involved with awards created actual or potential conflict of interest which is factor to be considered in determining managerial status)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(special promotions manager in newspaper's advertising administration department held not managerial; fact that he primarily develops ideas does not inherently invest his position with managerial authority and, like a salesman, he is responsible for generating advertising by supplements or other promotions to be placed in newspaper; moreover, his alleged policy implementations are subject to complete review by managerial Ees)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(customer relations supervisor held not managerial; fact that he can authorize adjustments up to $2000 does not of itself dictate conclusion that he has managerial status since such decisions are made w/i guidelines prescribed by E, which are to be followed at all times)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(assistant home delivery managers, suburban and country traveling representatives, and assistant newstand and street sales managers in newspaper's circulation department held not managerial where they do not exercise own discretion with respect to significant management policy in performing their duties and do not independently enter into or cancel contracts nor commit E to number of persons used and to compensation they receive; fact that they make adjustments of credit, w/i prescribed guidelines and reviewed by higher management, for lost or damaged newspapers does not make them managerial)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(assistant night circulation managers in newspaper's circulation department held not managerial since their determination of order in which trucks run does not constitute managerial discretion but rather is more in nature of routine decision effectuating ultimate delivery to customer; moreover, their decision to order extra papers run, although committing E to expend more capital for its business, is not exercise of true managerial discretion)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(art director in newspaper's promotions department responsible for promoting advertising of newspaper held not managerial on basis of authority to use free lance artists, where their use is prescribed by E's budget, and little possibility of conflict exists because art director must decide whether to use unit Ee or free lancer since latter is used because of such factors as techniques or complexity, or availability of in-house artist)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(printing services supervisor in printing services section of newspaper's administrative services department which provides services for E's various functions held not managerial since ordering of supplies and repairs is not pledging of E's credit, nor is selection of services or training such managerial authority as to involve discretion or action outside E's guidelines which convert rank-and-file Ee into managerial Ee)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(assistant purchasing manager in newspaper's purchasing department held not managerial where, although he is able to commit E to purchasing stock items, he must conform to certain E guidelines and, on occasion, must clear decisions with higher department or company authorities)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(assistant manager of insurance in newspaper's insurance department held not managerial since she is not involved in training program leading either to higher management position or, failing that, having trainees leave newspaper; while she has secretary and office and participates in pension plan different from that of unit Ees, her functions regarding insurance programs are similar to those of other Ees; fact that she is well-educated and uniquely talented in her area of expertise does not convert her into managerial Ee; and her close relationship with department manager does not indicate managerial status)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(night Ee relations manager in newspaper's Ee relations department held not managerial where, although he is the only representative for Ee relations department during night hours, his functions are no different than those of various other Ees w/i department; fact that he may monitor various job aspects such as Ee records or employment problems does not convert what are otherwise rank-and-file duties to level of management duties)

5033-7550-8000—Cont.

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(manager of training and development in newspaper's Ee relations department held managerial where she has sole direction in performing and directing training programs which primarily involve management Ees)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(accounts payable supervisor in accounting department at newspaper held not managerial where her approval of price discrepancies is w/i E's guidelines, and fact that she may have made recommendations concerning efficient use and implementation of automating accounts payable system does not make her managerial)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(research consultants in advance systems research department at newspaper held managerial where their department is involved in special projects and planning which will affect jobs and utilization of equipment and other facilities for E's operation)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(national assistant editor in newspaper's newsroom held not managerial where his control over out-of-town bureaus did not reflect managerial authority, there was no evidence that he prepared budget or was directly responsible for expenditures, and his relationship with stringers and free lancers did not indicate managerial status)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(special projects editor who assists in developing story ideas for reporters on style desk which produces separate section of newspaper dealing with entertainment, society, travel, and food held managerial where he is responsible for project to study newspaper's style section, which encompasses proposals for revising style section and contains analysis which may lead to significant changes)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(editor of newspaper's special subsection concerned with domestic arts, crafts, architecture, and the like, not managerial, since editor's authority to purchase free lance material and his planning on what stories will appear in section did not demonstrate managerial status, and there was no potential for conflict of interest with respect to whether a particular Ee will be permitted to write an article on company time since editor's superior made such decisions)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(executive food editor and food editor for newspaper's food section, not managerial since their authority to hire free lancers does not make them managerial)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(editor of newspaper's Sunday television suplement, not managerial, where his procurement of free lance material is highly structured and payment of free lance fees is fixed)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(editor of newspaper's Sunday section which contains news analysis, in-depth articles, and editorial and op-ed pages, not managerial, since his payment for free lance work, or contracting with writers to prepare articles for section is not sufficiently managerial in nature)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(deputy financial editor on newspaper's financial desk, not managerial; although involved in expansion plans for financial desk and changes in newspaper's financial section, he did so at behest of his superior and, while he may have desired and urged such changes, he was not managerial entity determining whether they would go into effect)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(function of librarian in newspaper's research department in purchasing books held not to form basis for finding him managerial since that is part of librarian's job and is limited by budget restraints; authority to exercise considerable discretion does not render Ee managerial where decisions must conform to established policy)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(foreign editor on newspaper's foreign desk who oversees daily operations of desk, held managerial, where he oversees daily operation of desk and, while his superior controls overall operation of foreign department, foreign relations editor daily insures smooth operation of desk)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(deputy (day) foreign editor on newspaper's foreign desk held not managerial, since mere fact that he may play part in deciding what will oppear in newspaper is insufficient to demonstrate managerial status; moreover, he is subordinate to foreign editor in maintaining frequent contact with correspondents, and his relationship to assistant foreign editors does not provide basis for his exclusion)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(swing editor on newspapers night operations news desk held not magerial since his decision as to news worthiness of story and its placement in news section are not policy decisions but rather a reflection of purely journalistic judgment as to probable importance of particular story and technical judgment as to placement of story so as to insure reader's attention)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014
(late night editor on newspaper's night operations newsdesk held not managerial where he shares similar duties with other editors on newsdesk who are not managerial Ees)

Walla Walla Union-Bulletin, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 631 F.2d 609 (C.A. 9, Oct. 1980)
(editor of editorial page of newspaper held managerial Ee, where his primary duty is to write editorials and edit other articles appearing in editorial page, he has responsibility for selecting syndicated columns and editorial cartoons, attends meetings with other members of editorial board that approves, by majority vote, editorial topics and his vote carries same weight as other members of board, all of whom are management representatives)

5067 STATUS OR TENURE OF EMPLOYEE

5067-0100 Generally

5067-0140 Illegal aliens

Duke City Lumber Company, Inc. (UBC Texas Council of Industrial Workers, UB of C & J of A., AFL-CIO) 251 NLRB No. 012
(status as illegal alien not grounds for exclusion from bargaining unit)

5067-0150 Retirees

Powman-Lawrence, Inc. d/b/a Belt Supermarket 260 NLRB No. 017
(in absence of strike, retired individual would not be regarded as Ee and would be ineligible to vote)

5067-1400 Apprentices and trainees

United States Steel Corporation 248 NLRB No. 090
(Ees who attended E-sponsored summer school to prepare for Coast Guard licensing examination held to have remained in bargaining unit of ship's unlicensed personnel while they were attending shcool; Es intended students to remain in unit where guidelines provided that students receive wages and benefits as though on ship, they could return to their unit if they did not pass examination, they were not required to resign from U, and U dues were deducted on their return to unit work)

5067-1450 Criteria relevant to placement

N.L.R.B. v. Steven Davis and Michael Provenzano, d/b/a Carlton's Market 642 F.2d 350 (C.A. 9, Apr 20, 1981)
(management trainee with special status more closely aligning him with management than with Ees, properly excluded from unit)

5067-2800 Employees anticipating change in status or tenure

5057-2801 Generally

Montgomery Ward & Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 668 F.2d 291 (C.A. 7, Dec. 1981)
(a person who has no reasonable expectation of future employment as of date of U recognition demand cannot be considered to be an Ee w/i meaning of Act for purposes of determining majority status; reasonable expectation of employment standard includes two elements that must be satisfied before an Ee's card may be counted: a subjective element - the Ee's intent or expectation - and an objective element - the reasonableness of the expectation)

Montgomery Ward & Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 668 F.2d 291 (C.A. 7, Dec. 1981)
(ct determined that since two Ees never returned to their job after holiday then it could be inferred that they abandoned their job as of day after holiday and thus were not Ees on date of U demand nor should authorization cards signed by them be counted in determining whether U had support of majority of Ees on that date; fact that Ee who has abandoned his job is still carried on E's records is not sufficient to make that person an Ee as matter of law)

5067-2850 Criteria relevant to placement

Wright Plastic Products, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 101
(Ee who had given E notice that he would be quitting to enter Navy in 1 month considered regular full-time Ee notwithstanding he has tendered his resignation)

5067-4200 Regular part-time employees

Artcraft Displays, Inc.; et al. 263 NLRB No. 117
(upon mtns for clarification stating that there were several interpretations of prior Bd decision regarding which part-time Ees were eligible to vote, Bd deleted language in unit descriptions defining part-time Ees as those with over 1,000 hours seniority since it had appeared in unit descriptions inadvertently; 1,000 hour seniority requirement should be included as alternative eligibility formula, since no party objected to such requirement at hearing, or subsequently)

5067-4201 Generally

5067-4201—Cont.

Century Moving & Storage, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 083

(local driver working regularly for E while he was on vacation from his railroad job; not casual Ee and included in unit)

5067-4250 Criteria relevant to placement

Rich's Precision Foundry, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 081

(full time college student who was brother of E's manager and worked part-time at foundry as maintenance helper and electrician during school year, and full time during summer, and who had been laid off and then recalled on election day, included in unit and eligible to vote, since regularly employed during relevant period, and absent evidence ineligible for recall or had no reasonable expectation of recall)

Ed Chandler Ford, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 082

(Ee at automobile dealership who regularly worked substantial number of hours for E as part-time salesperson included in unit of full-time salespersons, where they share same supervision and method of compensation)

Dooley Equipment Corporation JD-215-80

(skilled part-time welder included in unit of mechanics and parts Ees notwithstanding has full-time employment elsewhere where he came to work when requested, used E's shop and equipment and occasionally worked with E's mechanics under same supervision)

N.L.R.B. v. Boston Beef Co., Inc. 652 F.2d 223 (C.A. 1, July 1981)

(test for community of interest standard for allegedly regular part-time Ee includes consideration of whether Ee: (1) worked at regularly assigned hours during substantial number of hours per week; (2) performed duties similar to those of unit Ees; and (3) shared same supervision, working conditions, wages, and fringe benefits as did unit Ees)

N.L.R.B. v. Boston Beef Co., Inc. 652 F.2d 223 (C.A. 1, July 1981)

(student Ee hired for display work not reguarded as regular part-time Ee where: his display work was performed at remote location under supervision of non-unit Ee; he was paid flat weekly salary rather than hourly wage for display work; Ee had no contract with unit Ees while doing display work; and additional loading work done by Ee for E not done on regular basis)

5067-4500 Students

Rich's Precision Foundry, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 081

(full time college student who was brother of E's manager and worked part-time at foundry as maintenance helper and electrician during school year, and full time during summer, and who had been laid off and then recalled on election day, included in unit and eligible to vote, since regularly employed during relevant period, and absent evidence ineligible for recall or had no reasonable expectation of recall)

Comet Corporation 261 NLRB No. 188

(college student hired temporarily for summer excluded from unit of production and maintenance workers at manufacturer and distributor of semi trailers and van bodies, notwithstanding he inquired about permanent employment when unable to return to college)

Century Moving & Storage, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 083

(full time college student who worked only 25 hours during first month of 3-month period prior to election, not included in unit)

Century Moving & Storage, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 083

(college students who perform full-time unit work during summer months as well as part-time unit work on regular basis during remainder of year, included in unit)

Century Moving & Storage, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 083

(student who works only during summer months excluded from unit)

5067-4501 Generally

Jacques Syl Knitwear, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 191

(college student who was employed for two months during summer and then returned to college not eligible to vote since temporary and casual Ee particularly absent evidence he would continue employment with E)

5067-4550 Criteria relevant to placement

Sharondale Corporation 262 NLRB No. 158

(full time students who worked on internship basis earning college credit while they worked, and who were not given all privileges and benefits accorded full-time Ees lacked sufficient community of interest to be included in unit since employment incidental to education)

Advanced Mining Group, Div. of Republic Corp., Lucerne Facility 260 NLRB No. 073

(excluded from P&M unit where student worked for 4 to 6 hours per day as draftsman for E depending on classes as part of work co-op program, reported directly to plant manager in whose office he worked and received no fringe benefits)

Century Moving & Storage, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 083

5067-4900 Employees performing dual functions

5067-4901 Generally

Sunray Ltd. 258 NLRB No. 072

(election not barred by previous 8(f) relationships with dual-function Ees where competing Us did not represent majority in unit in that some work of Ees fell w/i jurisdiction of each U and thus neither U could claim 9(a) relationship; therefore Bd directed election in unit covering all Ees, giving Ees a choice to be represented by one of the two rival Us or no U)

5067-4950 Criteria relevant to placement

Wilson Engraving Company, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 048

(inclusion of dual-function Ees in unit of city-drivers employed by manufacturer of photographic plates and color separations, appropriate where they performed similar delivery and pickups as included drivers during substantial portions of their working time; furthermore, these Ees shared community of interest in unit's wages, hours, and working conditions)

Wilson Engraving Company, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 048

(dual-function Ees excluded from unit of city-drivers employed by manufacturer of photographic plates and color separations, where driving duties occupy less than twenty-five percent of their working time, thus lacking sufficient community of interest to warrant inclusion)

5067-5600 Seasonal employees

5067-5650 Criteria relevant to placement

Tomy Corporation, A Wholly Owned Subsidiary of Tomy Kogyo, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 667 F.2d 1032 (C.A. 9, Dec. 1981)

(ct upheld Bd's determination that seasonal Ees with only a day of service with E were eligible to vote, but in ct's view whether seasonal Ees who have minimal time of employment with company can be said to have substantial mutual interest with permanent Ees in working conditions is questionable; however ct's review of a Bd determination that particular bargaining unit is appropriate is narrowly circumscribed; and here ct did not find abuse of discretion by Bd, and Bd's other factual findings were supported by substantial evidence)

5067-7000 Temporary employees

5067-7001 Generally

Comet Corporation 261 NLRB No. 188

(college student hired temporarily for summer excluded from unit of production and maintenance workers at manufacturer and distributor of semi trailers and van bodies, notwithstanding he inquired about permanent employment when unable to return to college)

Jacques Syl Knitwear, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 191

(college student who was employed for two months during summer and then returned to college not eligible to vote since temporary and casual Ee particularly absent evidence he would continue employment with E)

5067-7050 Criteria relevant to placement

Advanced Mining Group, Div. of Republic Corp., Lucerne Facility 260 NLRB No. 073

(temporary Ees excluded from unit of regular P&M Ees where they were informed, when hired, their job was only temporary and they acknowledged in writing they were to work only temporarily and as temporaries, they would receive no Ee benefits supplied E's permanent Ees; they were excluded from across-the-board wage increase granted to regular Ees, and had no reasonable expectation of recall when they were terminated)

American Spring Bed Manufacturing Co., d/b/a American Chain Link Fence Co. 255 NLRB No. 098

(temporary Ee excluded from unit where clear that his employment had not been for indefinite period and it appeared there was no likelihood his employment would resume)

Montgomery County Opportunity Board, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 103

(CETA Ees employed by nonprofit community action agency included in E-wide unit, notwithstanding limited durationof their jobs, in view of their community of interest with other unit Ees and E's attempts to place them elsewhere after their CETA jobs have run out)

Rosemount Center 248 NLRB No. 163

(CETA Ees employed at E's child day care facility held not temporary Ees; fact that CETA grant might expire and not be renewed does not necessarily make Ees involved under such grant temporary; CETA Ees, like all of E's Ees, are dependent upon exigencies of revenues from Federal, State, and municipal sources which are generally reviewed annually; and even if grant is not refunded, some CETA workers could reasonably expect continued employment because E's contract with prime sponsor required E to make good faith effort to place at least half of CETA Ees in permanent positions)

5067-7700 Intermittent, occasional, or casual employees

5067-7701 Generally

5067-7701—Cont.

Century Moving & Storage, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 083
(local driver working regularly for E while he was on vacation from his railroad job; not casual Ee and included in unit)

Jacques Syl Knitwear, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 191
(college student who was employed for two months during summer and then returned to college not eligible to vote since temporary and casual Ee particularly absent evidence he would continue employment with E)

5067-7750 Criteria relevant to placement

Quick-Lahmann Express, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 021
(individual listed as extra roster driver at E engaged in forwarding freight by truck held casual Ee and excluded from unit of all full time and regular part-time driver salesmen and dispatchers and excluding casual drivers pursuant to stipulation, in view of difference in wages and benefits, and fact he worked irregularly during relevant period with no expectation of transfer to regular roster or continued employment on extra roster)

Checker Cab Company of Virginia, Inc., d/b/a Avis Rent-A-Car 260 NLRB No. 118
(Ee who worked irregular hours auditing E's books, usually at night, did not interchange with and had little contact with other Ees was found casual Ee and excluded from unit of service agents and office Ees at E engaged in airport in rental service)

Lifemark Hospitals of Texas, Inc. d/b/a Mid-Jefferson County Hospital 259 NLRB No. 103
(regular part time Ees included in unit where they worked substantial number of hours on regular work, performed same work under same conditions and supervision as unit Ees)

Clifford Cook, d/b/a Pinnacle Company and Pinnacle Roofing Co., Inc. JD-(SF)-196-79
(various friends of sons of owner who were employed from time to time by E not included in unit of all Ees of E who work w/i job classifications covered by contract between E and Us, since they were casual Ees)

Dooley Equipment Corporation JD-215-80
(skilled part-time welder not included in unit where he only worked 15 hours in quarter preceeding election)

Justak Brothers and Company, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 664 F.2d 1074 (C.A. 7, Nov. 1981)
(Bd properly excluded part time Ees from unit where their employment was on sporadic, intermittent basis)

5067-8200 On call employees

Riverside Community Memorial Hospital, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 166
(registered nurse regularly scheduled on monthly schedule on on-call basis who worked approximately 6 hours per week in 14 weeks preceding eligibility date, eligible since she met both test for on-call Ees by working average of 4 hours per week in pre-eligibility-period quarter and test for on-call registered nurses by working 30 hours in 11-week period)

5067-8400 Employees on layoff or leave-of-absence status

Price's Pic-Pac Supermarkets, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 123
(new Ee who worked a short time, made many mistakes and was laid off indefinitely until such time as she might possibly be recalled and trained further, excluded from unit for lack of reasonable expectancy of further employment)

Price's Pic-Pac Supermarkets, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 123
(unit Ee absent due to injury with reasonable expectancy of continued employment upon recovery, included in unit)

5067-8450 Criteria relevant to placement

Advanced Mining Group, Div. of Republic Corp., Lucerne Facility 260 NLRB No. 073
(Ee on pregnancy leave on dates U demanded recognition and who later returned to work, included in unit)

Justak Brothers and Company, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 664 F.2d 1074 (C.A. 7, Nov. 1981)
(Bd properly included 4 Ees in unit who had left E's employ where they had been employed on demand date for 4 months and continued to work until 1 month after demand date and no evidence to show these Ees were hired to work only until definite termination date)

5067-9100 Employees of another employer

5067-9150 Criteria relevant to placement

Justak Brothers and Company, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 664 F.2d 1074 (C.A. 7, Nov. 1981)
(driver Ees of one E not included in unit of driver Ees of another E though both companies owned and controlled by same individuals where separate supervision, performed different work, drove different trucks, no transfer or exchange of duties, no similarity in pay structure)

N.L.R.B. v. Steven Davis and Michael Provenzano, d/b/a Carlton's Market 642 F.2d 350 (C.A. 9, Apr 20, 1981)
(individual who was essentially a pricing expert working for prior owner of company rather than for company itself properly excluded from unit)

5067-9900 Other employees

United Supermarkets, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 179
(Ee who worked in grocery store's check office included in store unit, where her sole duties were to make telephone calls, type and mail letters, all with reference to bad checks; there was no evidence that her position had anything to do with security, that her duties were those of confidential Ee, or that she had no community of interest with unit Ees; and GC's alleged unit description neither included nor excluded office Ees; and while U would exclude Ee as plant clerical, plant clericals are included in P&M unit unless excluded by agreement)

Teamsters Local Union No. 574, a/w Teamsters (Lois Wheeler, an Individual) 259 NLRB No. 037
(U field representatives both at international and local level, and Teamster business agents, not managerial Ees notwithstanding they are charged with responsibility for executing U policies and representing U in dealings with Es and its membership. It follows that office personnel who assist business agents are not managerial either)

Avon Products, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 141
(reserve employees who have worked 4 or more hours per week in 9 out of 13 weeks preceding issuance of RD decision, eligible)

5067-9950 Criteria relevant to placement

Cincinnati Association For The Blind v. N.L.R.B. 672 F.2d 567 (C.A. 6, Mar. 1982)
(Bd's certification of P&M unit including both sighted and visually handicapped Ees, not abuse of discretion where Bd found differences between them as to discipline and wage structure insufficient to affect unit's appropriateness)

7500 EMPLOYEE CATEGORIES EXCLUDED FROM UNIT BY STATUTORY DEFINITION (FOR DEFINITIONS, SEE 177-0000)

7550 TYPES OF EMPLOYEES AFFECTED BY STATUTE

7550-1200 Agricultural laborers

N.L.R.B. v. C & D Foods, Inc. 626 F.2d 578 (C.A. 7, July 1980)
(ct agrees with Bd that because of exemption of agricultural Ees, it could not certify unit comprising all of E's hourly Ees)

7550-7500 Relatives of management

Joseph J. Mottin Co. 258 NLRB No. 161
(son of E's vice president and manager did not share community of interest with other Ees)

Clifford Cook, d/b/a Pinnacle Company and Pinnacle Roofing Co., Inc. JD-(SF)-196-79
(sons of owner)

7550-8700 Supervisors

Teamsters Local Union No. 574, a/w Teamsters (Lois Wheeler, an Individual) 259 NLRB No. 037
(discharge of supervisor for U related considerations held violative, since discharge caused interference with rights of other Ees)

Clifford Cook, d/b/a Pinnacle Company and Pinnacle Roofing Co., Inc. JD-(SF)-196-79

470 HEALTH CARE INSTITUTION UNITS

0100 GENERALLY (FOR DEFINITIONS OF HEALTH CARE INSTITUTIONS SEE 177-9700-0000-0000)

St. Francis Hospital 265 NLRB No. 120

(physicians, RNs, other professional Ees, technical Ees, business office clerical Ees, service and maintenance Ees, and skilled maintenance Ees represent groupings of Ees that may constitute appropriate units for bargaining. Only after determining that unit sought fits one of thse classifications does Bd apply traditional unit principles to determine whether specific Ees involved do, in fact, display requisite community of interest to warrant separate representation)

0150 LEGISLATIVE HISTORY

Oklahoma Blood Institute, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 195

(multilocation unit including health care institution Ees and nonhealth care institution Ees appropriate since Bd has specifically held that there is nothing in history of 1974 health care amendments which precludes such unit from being appropriate)

Beverly Enterprises d/b/a Beverly Manor Convalescent Centers 264 NLRB No. 123

(congress in enacting 1974 health care amendments stated that Bd has carefully avoided applying definition of supervisor to a health care professional who gives direction to other Ees in the exercise of professional judgment, which direction is incidental to professional's treatment of patients, and thus not the exercise of supervisory authority in the interest of the E)

St. Elizabeth Community Hospital 259 NLRB No. 156

(Bd asserted jurisdiction over Catholic Hospital because 1974 Health Care Amendments extended Bd jurisdiction to hospitals and legislative history clearly shows that Congress did not exclude religiously operated hospitals from coverage; moreover, Bd regulation of hospital will not involve it in excessive entanglement in religion for primary purpose of hospital is health care and not sectarian teaching as found in Catholic Bishop of Chicago and right of Ees to be represented by collective-bargaining representative will not interfere with free exercise of religion or tend to establish a religion)

Newton-Wellesley Hospital 250 NLRB NO. 986

(in holding separate unit of registered nurses at hospital appropriate, Bd noted legislative history of health care amendments does not require Bd to forego consideration of community of interests among Ees w/i health care industry notwithstanding requirement that Bd give due consideration to avoiding unwarranted fragmation of bargaining units in this industry)

N.L.R.B. v. Mercy Hospital Association 606 F.2d 22 (C.A. 2, 1979)

(ct held that Bd determination of health care Ees unit must put traditional community of interest factors in balance against public interest in preventing fragmentation in health care field, and Bd's decision must specify manner in which unit determination implements or reflects said congressional admonition)

N.L.R.B. v. Frederick Memorial Hospital, Inc. 691 F.2d 191 (C.A. 4, Oct. 1982)

(Bd may not depend solely on traditional community of interest test when making unit determination for health care institution Ees but must give due consideration to congressional admonition against proliferation of bargaining units; Bd decision must clearly explain manner in which its unit determination... implement(s) or reflect(s) that admonition; Bd cannot leave its explanation to implication or argument of its counsel)

N.L.R.B. v. Frederick Memorial Hospital, Inc. 691 F.2d 191 (C.A. 4, Oct. 1982)

(ct remanded case involving Bd's certification of bargaining unit composed of registered nurses at hospital and denied enforcement of Bd's order, notwithstanding E's argument that legislative history of health care amendments established that only unit composed of all E's professional Ees was appropriate, where acceptance of such argument would deny Bd flexibility in unit determination that Congress intended to preserve; moreover, validity of unit of registered nurses was not foreclosed if Bd considered all relevant factors, including prevention of proliferation of bargaining units in reaching its decision)

Beverly Enterprises, dba Beverly Manor Convalescent Centers 661 F.2d 1095 (C.A. 6, Oct. 1981)

(1974 amendments did not alter the pertinent law, or change way in which Bd should approach question of supervisory status of health care professionals)

Mary Thompson Hospital, Inc. 621 F.2d 858 (C.A. 7, 1980)

(Bd should heed congressional admonition to avoid fragmentation of units in health care facilities rather than applying traditional community of interest standards)

N.L.R.B. v. HMO International/California Medical Group Health Plan, Inc. 678 F.2d 806 (C.A. 9, June 1982)

(where Bd failed to give weight to nonproliferation policy of health care amendments and failed to apply court-mandated test based on legislative history of amendments as to whether disparity of interest of Ees in different classifications required a number of units, Bd was to state on remand precisely how it proposed to modify its traditional community of interest standard so as to implement herein the congressional amendment's nonproliferation mandate)

Beth Israel Hospital and Geriatric Center v. N.L.R.B. 688 F.2d 697 (C.A. 10, Sept. 1982)

(en banc ct held Bd must determine, when certifying bargaining unit in health care institutions, whether unit is appropriate w/o resorting to presumption that shifts to E burden of showing proffered unit is appropriate, and Bd must state why unit it chooses complies with Congress' admonition; Bd cannot rely on E's failure to show that units are inappropriate; if Bd declines to redetermine whether an appropriate unit was selected, then that issue is not addressed at ULP proceeding, and thus Federal Rule of Evidence 301 would not apply and E could challenge unit selection only through judicial review)

St. Anthony Hospital Systems v. N.L.R.B. 655 F.2d 1028 (C.A. 10, Aug 1981)

(Bd holding that unit restricted to registered nurses at hospital presumptively appropriate and E had duty of rebutting presumption, improperly relieved GC of burden to establish ULP occured and violated congress directive to avoid proliferation of bargaining units in health care cases)

Beth Israel Hospital and Geriatric Center v. N.L.R.B. 677 F.2d 1343 (C.A. 10, July 1981)

(enforcement denied where Bd erred in applying its prior decisions finding/concluding that unit restricted exclusively to registered nurses is presumptively appropriate and that E must overcome presumption by producing evidence that limited bargaining units are less appropriate than broader bargaining units; continued acceptance and endorsement of Bd's presumptive and evidentiary policies by ct would simply serve to enhance undue proliferation of health care bargaining units, in direct derogation to congressional mandate set forth in House and Senate committee reports)

Presbyterian/St. Luke's Medical Center v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 450 (C.A. 10, July 1981)

(traditional factors used in scope determinations must be put in balance against - public interest in preventing fragmentation in - health care field; Bd must specify manner in which its unit determination(s) implement or reflect that admonition)

Presbyterian/St. Luke's Medical Center v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 450 (C.A. 10, July 1981)

(Bd must expressly consider the congressional admonition to prevent proliferation of bargaining units in health care industry in making unit determinations and focus on disparity of interests between Ee groups which would prohibit or inhibit fair representation of Ee interests)

Presbyterian/St. Luke's Medical Center v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 450 (C.A. 10, July 1981)

(requiring health care industry Es to bear burden of producing evidence that limited bargaining units are more inappropriate than broader bargaining units runs contrary to Congress' admonition)

1700 PROFESSIONAL UNITS

1701 GENERALLY

Community Health Services, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 045

(possession of college degree does not necessarily establish professional status)

1716 PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS UNIT

1716-0100 Generally

Montefiore Hospital and Medical Center 261 NLRB No. 082

(staff doctors at medical center held professional Ees as defined in Section 2(12) of Act, and may constitute appropriate bargaining unit separate from other professional Ees even though in health care industry Bd is required to avoid fragmentation of units)

1716-4000 Specific determination

Montefiore Hospital and Medical Center 261 NLRB No. 082

(unit composed of all physicians and dentists regularly employed 19 hours or more a week at hospitals, medical centers, medical school, medical group practices, located at both of two college campuses, and satellite family care center and community mental health center, located 7 and 5 miles, respectively, from hospital held appropriate in view of centralized labor policies and salary guidelines and shared community of interests)

1716-8000 Placement of other employees in doctors' unit

Montefiore Hospital and Medical Center 261 NLRB No. 082

(unit apart from medical center's other facilities composed of full-time and part-time physicians at its health care facility which it operates under contract with city to provide medical services for prison inmates, notwithstanding part-time physicians hourly paid, receive no fringe benefits, and hold other full-time jobs, in view of legislative concern regarding proliferation of units at health care facilities)

1733 REGISTERED NURSES UNIT

1733-0100 Generally

St. Francis Hospital 265 NLRB No. 120

(RNs can, but not per se be entitled to own unit. Bd will decide on case-by-case and no presumption of appropriateness)

Milwaukee Children's Hospital Association 255 NLRB No. 130

(separate registered nurses unit is not appropriate per se)

Newton-Wellesley Hospital 250 NLRB NO. 086

(in holding separate unit of registered nurses at hospital appropriate, Bd noted legislative history of health care amendments does not require Bd to forego consideration of community of interests among Ees w/i health care industry notwithstanding requirement that Bd give due consideration to avoiding unwarranted fragmation of bargaining units in this industry)

Long Island Jewish-Hillside Medical Center v. N.L.R.B. 685 F.2d 29 (C.A. 2, July 1982)

(Bd finding that separate unit of registered nurses at one of E's facilities appropriate that was based on presumption that single-facility bargaining unit is more appropriate where there is no bargaining history in more comprehensive unit and degree of functional integration with other facilities is insufficient to negate separate identity of unit sought, remanded in light of ct's determination that single facility presumption is inapplicable in health care context because public interest is in preventing proliferation, notwithstanding standard previously applied in question of composition of unit not scope)

N.L.R.B. v. Frederick Memorial Hospital, Inc. 691 F.2d 191 (C.A. 4, Oct. 1982)

(ct remanded case involving Bd's certification of bargaining unit composed of registered nurses at hospital and denied enforcement of Bd's order, notwithstanding E's argument that legislative history of health care amendments established that only unit composed of all E's professional Ees was appropriate, where acceptance of such argument would deny Bd flexibility in unit determination that Congress intended to preserve; moreover, validity of unit of registered nurses was not foreclosed if Bd considered all relevant factors, including prevention of proliferation of bargaining units in reaching its decision)

N.L.R.B. v. HMO International/California Medical Group Health Plan, Inc. 678 F.2d 806 (C.A. 9, June 1982)

(where E refused to bargain on ground that Bd certified RN unit should have included LVNs, Bd on remand must state why Ees' tasks and E's personnel policies mandated that RNs be classified as professional Ees and LVNs as technical Ees, why RNs should not be preliminarily certified in same unit with LVNs with proviso of a Sonotone election, and how precisely it proposed to modify its traditional community of interest standard so as to implement herein the congressional nonproliferation mandate)

St. Anthony Hospital Systems v. N.L.R.B. 655 F.2d 1028 (C.A. 10, Aug 1981)

(Bd holding that unit restricted to registered nurses at hospital presumptively appropriate and E had duty of rebutting presumption, improperly relieved GC of burden to establish ULP occured and violated congress directive to avoid proliferation of bargaining units in health care cases)

Beth Israel Hospital and Geriatric Center v. N.L.R.B. 677 F.2d 1343 (C.A. 10, July 1981)

(enforcement denied where Bd erred in applying its prior decisions finding/concluding that unit restricted exclusively to registered nurses is presumptively appropriate and that E must overcome presumption by producing evidence that limited bargaining units are less appropriate than broader bargaining units; continued acceptance and endorsement of Bd's presumptive and evidentiary policies by ct would simply serve to enhance undue proliferation of health care bargaining units, in direct derogation to congressional mandate set forth in House and Senate committee reports)

Presbyterian/St. Luke's Medical Center v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 450 (C.A. 10, July 1981)

(enforcement denied where Bd erred in accepting presumptively appropriate unit restricted to registered nurses at single facility of E's 3 hospitals in single city, since there was sufficient evidence adduced to sustain appropriateness of all professional unit excluding physicians; evidence was sufficient to sustain finding of inappropriateness of proposed unit had it been accepted)

1733-4000 Specific determination

St. John of God Hospital, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 117

(unit consisting of all RNs, nurse practitioners, RN permanent charge nurses, and all technical Ees including LPNs, LPN interim charge nurses, and respiratory therapists found appropriate, subject to requirement that majority of professional Ees vote for inclusion in unit where substantial community of interest exists among these Ees)

Ralph K. Davies Medical Center 256 NLRB No. 151

(separate unit of registered nurses at medical center, appropriate in view of their central role in patient care; their common educational background, licensing, and unique skills resulting in job interchangeability and functional interaction with each other but little interchange or contact with other professionals; their separate supervision and budgetary treatment; and fact that grant of separate unit would result in only two units, each of substantial size, and allow E to compete with area hospitals as to pay adjustments)

The Long Island College Hospital 256 NLRB No. 034

(separate unit of RNs rather than unit including all professional hospital Ees appropriate where 80 percent of RNs are administratively separated into department of nursing which is overseen by an RN and has supervisory hierarchy completely composed of RNs, RNs have similar education and training and are subject to uniform state licensure requirement, and RNs share unique functional responsibilities involving continual patient contact; holistic approach to patient care did not affect factors establishing separate community of interest)

National Medical Convalescent of San Diego, d/b/a Ojai Valley Community Hospital 254 NLRB No. 163

(separate unit, limited to RNs at hospital, apart from licensed vocational nurses or nurses aides, or pharmacists and laboratory technologists appropriate, notwithstanding policy against proliferation of units in health care facilities; in view of lack of community of interest due to differences in education, training, experience licensing and responsibilities from LVNs and nurses aides, and limited contact with and separate supervision from pharmacists and laboratory technicians)

Frederick Memorial Hospital, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 002

(where RD issued his decision that unit of registered nurses excluding other professionals at hospital was appropriate w/o his having benefit of recent Newton-Wellesley case wherein Bd reexamined at some length its approach to appropriateness of registered nurse units, Bd fully agrees with RD that all registered nurse unit is appropriate after having examined his conclusion in light of Newton-Wellesley)

Addison-Gilbert Hospital 253 NLRB No. 141

(unit of RNs, including charge nurses, patient care coordinator, and certified registered nurse anesthetists, appropriate, in view of community of interest separate and apart from other alleged professionals in type of work performed concerning direct patient care, educational and licensing requirements imposed by State, hours of work and pay received, separate supervision, and obligations imposed by State on E concerning RNs; moreover, petitioning U desires to represent only nurses herein, no other U seeks to represent unit different from that found appropriate herein, and there was no opposition to appropriateness of unit)

Brookwood Hospital Management Corporation d/b/a Brookwood Hospital 252 NLRB No. 107

(separate RN unit, rather than overall professional unit at acute care nursing facility, appropriate as team approach does not require inclusion of all professional Ees in single unit and there are significant differences in training, supervision and responsibility between registered nurses and other professionals)

Newton-Wellesley Hospital 250 NLRB NO. 086

(separate unit of registered nurses apart from other professional personnel at hospital, appropriate, in view of community of interest where vast majority of nurses are administratively separated in nursing division as required by state law, subject to common supervision, work in close and continuous contact with one another with limited contact with other professionals, and in view of similar education, training, and experience, and fact most possess same license)

1733-4000—Cont.

Milwaukee Children's Hospital Association 255 NLRB No. 130
(separate unit of registered nurses appropriate where: registered nurses share common separate organization and supervision, common education, and licensing requirements, broad range of generalized patient care skills, high degree of job interchangeability and daily functional interaction, little interchange with other Ees)

1733-6000 Placement of registered nurses in other unit

St. John of God Hospital, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 117
(unit consisting of all RNs, nurse practitioners, RN permanent charge nurses, and all technical Ees including LPNs, LPN interim charge nurses, and respiratory therapists found appropriate, subject to requirement that majority of professional Ees vote for inclusion in unit where substantial community of interest exists among these Ees)

Doctors' Hospital of Montclair 254 NLRB No. 175
(registered nurses excluded from unit of professional Ees at hospital, where registered nurses, unlike other professional Ees, were primarily involved in direct patient care, and interaction with Ees in professional unit was minimal and only incidental to primary responsibility of patient care; Newton Wellesley, 250 NLRB No. 86, distinguished)

Valley View Hospital 252 NLRB No. 160
(GC's mtn for summary judgment denied where RD had found unit including RNs appropriate in view of stipulation of parties; however, there was no testimony at R hearing which would indicate RNs were technical Ees, or performed duties different from those implied in their job classification, and stipulation alone cannot override mandate of 9(b) requiring professional Ees to vote on inclusion in unit with non-professional Ees)

1733-8000 Placement of other employees in registered nurses unit

Ralph K. Davies Medical Center 256 NLRB No. 151
(utilization review coordinators excluded from unit of registered nurses at medical center where they do not care for patients but use patients' records to monitor patient care to determine the most effective and efficient use of hospital's facilities and assess whether its falls w/i government and insurance company guidelines, an administrative function under financial officer)

Milwaukee Children's Hospital Association 255 NLRB No. 130
(part-time registered nurses included in unit of registered nurses where worked 1 regularly scheduled 8-hour shift bi-weekly, notwithstanding ineligible for most Ee fringe benefits where perform same duties and have substantial community of interest with full-time registered nurses and part-time registered nurses working 20 hours or more a week)

Addison-Gilbert Hospital 253 NLRB No. 141
(utilization review coordinators whose function is to provide for most effective and efficient utilization of hospital's facilities excluded from unit of RN's, where they do not provide any patient care, have limited contact with nurses of administrative nature, do not have to be nurses or possess education or license of nurse, have different working hours, and spend much of their work time in office)

Mount Airy Foundation d/b/a Mount Airy Psychiatric Center 253 NLRB No. 139
(unit of RNs and all other professional Ees found appropriate where some professional Ees hold master's degrees, perform essentially same jobs as RNs, even to point of substituting for them; remaining professional Ees, while not having as strong community of interest with RNs as above professional Ees and not having sufficient community of interest among themselves to justify separate unit, nevertheless included in unit rather than having residual unit)

Brookwood Hospital Management Corporation d/b/ a Brookwood Hospital 252 NLRB No. 107
(associate psychologist excluded from RN unit at acute care nursing facility where he is responsible to director of psychiatric nursing, in view of his part time status and that he arranges own schedule on orders from various physicians)

Albert Einstein Medical Center 248 NLRB No. 009
(Bd refused to extend comity to certification by state agency of combined unit of RNs and LPNs as this is contrary to Bd policy of placing LPNs in technical unit unless parties have so stipulated, existing separate representation or separate bargaining history; furthermore, absent special circumstances Bd has declined to direct elections in combined units of LPNs and RNs which excluded other technical Ees)

1767 UNITS OF OTHER PROFESSIONALS

1767-2000 Identifying characteristics

Community Health Services, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 045
(possession of college degree does not necessarily establish professional status)

Missouri Pacific Employees' Hospital Association and St. Louis-Little Rock Hospitals, Inc. d/b/a Compton Hill Medical Center 251 NLRB No. 206
(position of medical laboratory technologist falls w/i definition of professional Ee as they have completed college degree program and are registered with professional association and use independent judgment and discretion in performance of their duties when analyzing and interpreting medical tests and, therefore, are excluded from technical unit w/o seperate election)

1767-6000 Placement of (subject) employees in other unit

Brookwood Hospital Management Corporation d/b/ a Brookwood Hospital 252 NLRB No. 107
(separate RN unit, rather than overall professional unit at acute care nursing facility, appropriate as team approach does not require inclusion of all professional Ees in single unit and there are significant differences in training, supervision and responsibility between registered nurses and other professionals)

1767-8000 Placement of other employees in (subject) unit

Community Health Services, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 045
(challenges to ballots of mental health workers who were included in professional unit employed by community and home care service organization, sustained where, notwithstanding that all but three of them had either bachelor's or master's degree, they were not licensed by the State nor were they registered or certified by any national or state professional organization; they assisted professional staff but did not engage in types of treatment normally performed by professional psychologists or psychiatrists; therefore, held technical Ees)

Doctors' Hospital of Montclair 254 NLRB No. 175
(registered nurses excluded from unit of professional Ees at hospital, where registered nurses, unlike other professional Ees, were primarily involved in direct patient care, and interaction with Ees in professional unit was minimal and only incidental to primary responsibility of patient care; Newton Wellesley, 250 NLRB No. 86, distinguished)

Mount Airy Foundation d/b/a Mount Airy Psychiatric Center 253 NLRB No. 139
(unit of RNs and all other professional Ees found appropriate where some professional Ees hold master's degrees, perform essentially same jobs as RNs, even to point of substituting for them; remaining professional Ees, while not having as strong community of interest with RNs as above professional Ees and not having sufficient community of interest among themselves to justify separate unit, nevertheless included in unit rather than having residual unit)

Mt. Graham Community Hospital 250 NLRB No. 060
(Manpower Ee under CETA program at hospital included in unit of regular part-time nurses aides, notwithstanding limited duration of her job, where she performed same duties as hospital's regular nurses aides, under same supervision, and her wages and fringe benefits although slightly lower than those received by unit Ees were comparable to wage rate and fringe benefits of unit Ees when differing levels of experience were taken into account)

Beverly Enterprises, dba Beverly Manor Convalescent Centers 661 F.2d 1095 (C.A. 6, Oct. 1981)
(on question of supervisory status of LPNs at nursing home, Bd must determine: Do LPN activities respecting patient care involve independent professional judgment? If not LPNs properly included in unit. If yes, and that independent professional judgment exercised primarily in connection with patient care, not in interest of her E, then LPNs should be included; however, if judgment exercised in interest of her E, then supervisor and not included in unit)

N.L.R.B. v. Foundation For Comprehensive Health Services 684 F.2d 731(T) (C.A. 9, July 1981)
(bargaining order denied and case remanded to Bd for reconsideration of determination of bargaining unit at health care services foundation and application of disparity of interest test to exclusion of only one professional Ee, a social worker, from unit of family nurse practitioners, physician assistants, and registered nurses; Bd to also consider whether exclusion of classification of social workers, whose numbers are expected to increase, would create residual group of Ees eluding classification)

3300 TECHNICAL EMPLOYEES UNIT

3301 GENERALLY

St. Francis Hospital 265 NLRB No. 120
(smallest appropriate unit which would encompass LPNs would be unit of all technical Ees)

3320 IDENTIFYING CHARACTERISTICS

3320—Cont.

Beverly Enterprises d/b/a Beverly Manor Convalescent Centers 264 NLRB No. 128

(technical Ees are those who do not meet strict requirements of term professional Es as defined in Act but whose work is of technical nature involving use of independent judgment and requiring exercise of specialized training usually acquired in colleges or technical schools or through special courses)

3340 SPECIFIC DETERMINATION

Watonwan Memorial Hospital, Inc. 263 NLRB No.

(unit of technical Ees at small hospital found appropriate rather than overall unit)

Watonwan Memorial Hospital, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 099

(unit of technical Ees at small hospital found appropriate rather than overall unit)

3360 PLACEMENT OF TECHNICAL EMPLOYEES IN OTHER UNIT

Community Health Services, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 045

(challenges to ballots of mental health workers who were included in professional unit employed by community and home care service organization, sustained where, notwithstanding that all but three of them had either bachelor's or master's degree, they were not licensed by the State nor were they registered or certified by any national or state professional organization; they assisted professional staff but did not engage in types of treatment normally performed by professional psychologists or psychiatrists; therefore, held technical Ees)

Vicksburg Hospital, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 1070 (C.A. 5, Aug 1981)

(ct deferred to Bd's determination that unit of service, maintenance and technical Ees at hospital was appropriate, notwithstanding E showed that bargaining unit of its technical Ees would be appropriate, where E failed to establish that combined unit of service, maintenance and technical Ees was clearly not appropriate)

3380 PLACEMENT OF OTHER EMPLOYEES IN TECHNICAL UNIT

St. John of God Hospital, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 117

(unit consisting of all RNs, nurse practitioners, RN permanent charge nurses, and all technical Ees including LPNs, LPN interim charge nurses, and respiratory therapists found appropriate, subject to requirement that majority of professional Ees vote for inclusion in unit where substantial community of interest exists among these Ees)

Missouri Pacific Employees' Hospital Association and St. Louis-Little Rock Hospitals, Inc. d/b/a Compton Hill Medical Center 251 NLRB No. 206

(position of ward manager included in unit because of Ee's contact with other Ees represented by U, creation of position post-dated bargaining agreement, and there is no other unit in which Ee could be included)

Missouri Pacific Employees' Hospital Association and St. Louis-Little Rock Hospitals, Inc. d/b/a Compton Hill Medical Center 251 NLRB No. 206

(secretary to president of E who is not involved with formulation of labor relations policies included in unit where her duties are similar to those performed by represented clerks and record not clear that position existed prior to bargaining agreement)

Missouri Pacific Employees' Hospital Association and St. Louis-Little Rock Hospitals, Inc. d/b/a Compton Hill Medical Center 251 NLRB No. 206

(financial administrator of E included in unit where newly created position and she performs duties not unlike those clerks already represented by U)

Butler Hospital 250 NLRB No. 168

(mental health workers found technical Ees and included in technical unit at nonprofit hospital providing psychiatric and mental health services where they are mostly college graduates, receive intensive, specialized on-the-job training, consult daily with professional staff, are considered part of nursing staff, and regularly exercise independent judgment)

Albert Einstein Medical Center 248 NLRB No. 009

(Bd refused to extend comity to certification by state agency of combined unit of RNs and LPNs as this is contrary to Bd policy of placing LPNs in technical unit unless parties have so stipulated, existing separate representation or separate bargaining history; furthermore, absent special circumstances Bd has declined to direct elections in combined units of LPNs and RNs which excluded other technical Ees)

5000 SERVICE AND MAINTENANCE EMPLOYEES UNIT

5060 PLACEMENT OF SERVICE AND MAINTENANCE EMPLOYEES IN OTHER UNIT

Divine Providence Hospital of Pittsburgh 248 NLRB No. 078

(service and maintenance Ees at hospital held not properly encompassed in single unit with plant operations department Ees where service Ees do not possess level or type of skill required of operations Ees, they are separately supervised, work different hours and shifts, some have direct patient contact, they wear different colored uniforms, share no responsibilities with operations Ees, and there was practically no interchange)

5080 PLACEMENT OF OTHER EMPLOYEES IN SERVICE AND AND MAINTENANCE UNIT

A. W. Schlesinger Geriatric Center, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 058

(LVNs excluded as technical Ees from S&M unit at nursing home in view of their training, skills and job functions; LVNs are licensed by the state, receive separate in-house training, are the only ones performing certain jobs, and direct and report rule infractions by S&M Ees)

A. W. Schlesinger Geriatric Center, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 058

(occupational therapist and aides, and EKG/inhalation/X-ray technician excluded from unit of S&M Ees at nursing home in view of stipulation that they are technicals, and in view of their distinct functions, training and education)

Taylor Hospital 249 NLRB No. 031

(cart technicians, mail messenger and transporters of patients at hospital, classifications which were created after original unit determination, included in unit of hospital Ees since they share community of interest with hospital Ees)

Tressler Lutheran Home For Children, t/a Frostburg Village of Allegany County Nursing Home v. N.L.R.B. 677 F.2d 302 (C.A. 3, Apr. 1982)

(Bd did not err in including LPNs in unit of service and maintenance Ees, nursing and physiotheraphy assistants, desk orderlies, housekeeping and laundry Ees at nursing home since substantial evidence LPNs not supervisors and inclusion serves to limit proliferation of units in health care facilities)

Vicksburg Hospital, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 1070 (C.A. 5, Aug 1981)

(ct deferred to Bd's determination that unit of service, maintenance and technical Ees at hospital was appropriate, notwithstanding E showed that bargaining unit of its technical Ees would be appropriate, where E failed to establish that combined unit of service, maintenance and technical Ees was clearly not appropriate)

Beverly Enterprises, dba Beverly Manor Convalescent Centers 661 F.2d 1095 (C.A. 6, Oct. 1981)

(where position of supply clerk included in unit of service and maintenance Ees at nursing home because of it's community of interest with LPN's who were included in unit and ct remanded case to Bd to articulate reasons and to redecide if LPNs should be included, decision on supply clerk must also be reconsidered)

5800 MAINTENANCE EMPLOYEES UNIT

5820 IDENTIFYING CHARACTERISTICS

St. Francis Hospital 265 NLRB No. 120

(among factors considered in determining whether separate maintenance unit appropriate are: job tasks involved and level of skills required to perform them, location of maintenance department, amount of work integration with other Ees, and level of personnel interchange with other Ees)

5840 SPECIFIC DETERMINATION

St. Francis Hospital 265 NLRB No. 120

(maintenance Ees at E's hospital, rather than unit of service and maintenance Ees, found appropriate where: their wages are concentrated in higher ranges of E's service and maintenance pay plan; they report to separate locations at start of shifts; are separately administered and supervised; possess greater skills and experience than service Ees; share no duties with service departments and their functions are not functionally integrated with other hospital departments)

N.L.R.B. v. Mercy Hospital Association 606 F.2d 22 (C.A. 2, 1979)

(ct did not uphold Bd's conclusion that separate unit of maintenance Ees was appropriate on basis of community of interest criteria where Bd's single reference to congressional admonition against proliferation of bargaining units in its determination of appropriateness of separate maintenance Ees unit was conclusion that congressional admonition did not preclude appropriateness of maintenance unit)

5840—Cont.

Mary Thompson Hospital, Inc. 621 F.2d 858 (C.A. 7, 1980)
(Ct refused to enforce Bd's order that E bargain with separate unit of licensed sanitary engineers apart from other engineering and maintenance department Ees at hospital since in finding unit appropriate Bd failed to heed congressional admonition to avoid fragmentation of units at health care facilities but rather applied traditional community of interests standard)

5860 PLACEMENT OF MAINTENANCE EMPLOYEES IN OTHER UNIT

St. Francis Hospital 265 NLRB No. 120
(among factors considered in determining whether separate maintenance unit appropriate are: job tasks involved and level of skills required to perform them, location of maintenance department, amount of work integration with other Ees, and level of personnel interchange with other Ees)

6700 OFFICE CLERICAL UNITS

7500 CRAFT UNITS

8300 OTHER UNITS DEFINED BY TYPE OR CATEGORY OR COMBINATIONS THEREOF

8301 GENERALLY

Oklahoma Blood Institute, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 195
(multilocation unit including health care institution Ees and nonhealth care institution Ees appropriate since Bd has specifically held that there is nothing in history of 1974 health care amendments which precludes such unit from being appropriate)

Divine Providence Hospital of Pittsburgh 248 NLRB No. 078
(in finding plant operations department Ees at hospital entitled to separate representation from service and maintenance Ees, Bd held ct decisions relied on by E for asserting single unit appropriate did not announce per se rule proscribing certification of unit herein but, rather, required Bd to balance Ees' interest in adequate representation against special consideration of avoiding disruption in health care industry)

Monongahela Valley Hospital, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 013
(where E built new facility 3 miles away and transferred all patients, equipment, and Ees from old facility except 4 boiler firemen who remained behind at old structure which enjoyed limited use in support of new facility; these 4 boiler firemen remained in unit at new facility because of common supervision and community of interest; U did not waive any rights to their representation by waiting 3 months after move before filing charges)

8360 PLACEMENT OF (SUBJECT) EMPLOYEES IN OTHER UNIT

Divine Providence Hospital of Pittsburgh 248 NLRB No. 078
(plant operations department Ees at hospital held entitled to separate representation from service and maintenance Ees in view of the many differences in job classifications between the 2 Ee groups, and operations Ees' wide variety of skills, separate supervision, and distinct uniforms and identification badges)

8380 PLACEMENT OF OTHER EMPLOYEES IN (SUBJECT) UNIT

Georgetown University Dental Clinic of Georgetown University 262 NLRB No. 077
(clerical Ees and histopathologist technician included in unit of dental assistants, clinical assistants and dental technicians, in view of common work locations, identical benefits and similar working conditions; also, since Bd found dental clinic was health care institution, inclusion of disputed Ees in clinic unit is compatible with and in furtherance of Congressional intent that fragmentation of units in this field be avoided)

Wright Memorial Hospital 255 NLRB No. 173
(ambulance department Ees on 2d and 3d shifts held guards and excluded from unit of all ambulance department Ees where, in addition to their ambulance duties, they make security rounds of hospital and so are employed to enforce, against Ees and others, rules to protect E's property and safety of persons on premises, and notwithstanding they wear no guard uniforms or do not themselves enforce rules but notify department heads of infractions)

Divine Providence Hospital of Pittsburgh 248 NLRB No. 078
(chauffeur-groundskeeper-laborers at hospital included in unit of plant operations department Ees, where responsibilities of all plant operations Ees, in continuing maintenance and improvement of facility, outweigh differences between chauffeur-groundskeeper-laborers and remainder of plant operations Ees and mandates their inclusion in unit)

8500 MULTIPLE-LOCATION UNITS OF SINGLE EMPLOYER

8533 EMPLOYER WIDE

8533-0100 Generally

Long Island Jewish-Hillside Medical Center v. N.L.R.B. 685 F.2d 29 (C.A. 2, July 1982)
(Bd finding that separate unit of registered nurses at one of E's facilities appropriate that was based on presumption that single-facility bargaining unit is more appropriate where there is no bargaining history in more comprehensive unit and degree of functional integration with other facilities is insufficient to negate separate identity of unit sought, remanded in light of ct's determination that single facility presumption is inapplicable in health care context because public interest is in preventing proliferation, notwithstanding standard previously applied in question of composition of unit not scope)

Presbyterian/St. Luke's Medical Center v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 450 (C.A. 10, July 1981)
(Bd has rebuttably presumed single facility units appropriate where there is no bargaining history in more comprehensive unit and-degree of functional integration with other facilities is insufficient to negate-separate identity of-facility in which a U seeks representative status)

Presbyterian/St. Luke's Medical Center v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 450 (C.A. 10, July 1981)
(requiring health care industry Es to bear burden of producing evidence that limited bargaining units are more inappropriate than broader bargaining units runs contrary to Congress' admonition)

8567 LESS THAN EMPLOYER WIDE

8567-0100 Generally

Long Island Jewish-Hillside Medical Center v. N.L.R.B. 685 F.2d 29 (C.A. 2, July 1982)
(Bd finding that separate unit of registered nurses at one of E's facilities appropriate that was based on presumption that single-facility bargaining unit is more appropriate where there is no bargaining history in more comprehensive unit and degree of functional integration with other facilities is insufficient to negate separate identity of unit sought, remanded in light of ct's determination that single facility presumption is inapplicable in health care context because public interest is in preventing proliferation, notwithstanding standard previously applied in question of composition of unit not scope)

8567-5000 Specific determination

Health and Medical Care Foundation d/b/a Pomona Golden Age Convalescent Home 265 NLRB No. 167
(single location unit of convalescent home Ees, rather than E-wide unit of 8 homes in metropolitan area plus one home 100 miles away, appropriate in view of geographic separateness by 5 miles from any other facility, administrator at home exercises substantial degree of authority over day-to-day labor relations, insignificant Ee interchange, and absence of bargaining history notwithstanding headquarters provides centralized administration and purchasing for all homes, including uniform labor relations policies)

Valley Vista Hospital JD-(SF)-88-82
(presumption of appropriateness of single hospital unit rebutted, notwithstnading prior bargaining history of single hospital unit, where said hospital was sold and became part of single E of which another hospital was also part; two-hospital unit then became appropriate where hospitals were of same kind, rendered same kind of services, were near each other, and had centralized management and control of labor relations and personnel, and considerable functional and operational integration and interchange of personnel)

Presbyterian/St. Luke's Medical Center v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 450 (C.A. 10, July 1981)
(enforcement denied where Bd erred in accepting presumptively appropriate unit restricted to registered nurses at single facility of E's 3 hospitals in single city, since there was sufficient evidence adduced to sustain appropriateness of all professional unit excluding physicians; evidence was sufficient to sustain finding of inappropriateness of proposed unit had it been accepted)

Presbyterian/St. Luke's Medical Center v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 450 (C.A. 10, July 1981)
(sufficient evidence adduced to sustain appropriateness of all professional unit rather than unit of registered nurses at one facility where E employed multi-disciplinary team approach to patient care; interaction between RNs and other professionals is encouraged; pharmacists physically relocated to nursing stations; and social workers at facility spend 1/2 their time in patient care units)

8800 RESIDUAL EMPLOYEE UNITS

8820 Identifying characteristics

8820—Cont.

Mount Airy Foundation d/b/a Mount Airy Psychiatric Center 253 NLRB No. 139

(unit of RNs and all other professional Ees found appropriate where some professional Ees hold master's degrees, perform essentially same jobs as RNs, even to point of substituting for them; remaining professional Ees, while not having as strong community of interest with RNs as above professional Ees and not having sufficient community of interest among themselves to justify separate unit, nevertheless included in unit rather than having residual unit)

8840 APPROPRIATENESS TO SEPARATE UNIT OF RESIDUAL EMPLOYEES

Mount Airy Foundation d/b/a Mount Airy Psychiatric Center 253 NLRB No. 139

(unit of RNs and all other professional Ees found appropriate where some professional Ees hold master's degrees, perform essentially same jobs as RNs, even to point of substituting for them; remaining professional Ees, while not having as strong community of interest with RNs as above professional Ees and not having sufficient community of interest among themselves to justify separate unit, nevertheless included in unit rather than having residual unit)

9000 ADDITIONS OF GROUPS OF EMPLOYEES TO EXISTING UNITS

9025 SPECIFIC DETERMINATION

9025-6700 Employees held not to be accretion

United Hospitals, Incorporated and The Children's Hospital, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 063

(where 3 E members of 21 E multi-E association planned merger and admitting clerks of 2 of these 3 E's were unrepresented by U, U's request that unrepresented Ees be treated as accretion to unit denied because out of 21 Ee groups only 2 were represented by U and Bd will not add unrepresented Ees to multi-E unit on piece meal basis, notwithstanding all admitting clerks would be on 1 payroll, work in single admitting department, perform similar job functions under common supervision)

9100 SEVERANCE OF GROUPS OF EMPLOYEES FROM EXISTING UNITS

480 POSTAL SERVICE UNITS

0100 GENERALLY

United States Postal Service 256 NLRB No. 095
(Bd rejected contention that postal service's RM ptn for single, national unit should be entertained in view of Bd cases in which Bd directed election in E's requested unit even though there was no immediate claim by any U in larger unit; such cases are inapplicable, since Us there merely sought to continue to represent distinct crafts or groups; in instant case, there was no recent merger of units, no substantial changes in those units, and no ongoing disputes concerning Us' representation of Ees w/i traditional units; and use of RM ptn is limited to certain tangible events not present here)

United States Postal Service 256 NLRB No. 095
(Bd rejected contention that postal service's RM ptn for single, national unit should be entertained because proposed bargaining structure for current negotiations is unworkable and that problems in reaching agreements are exacerbated by U raiding campaigns; E is not entitled, either by NLRA or PRA, through RM ptn, to seek solution to its problems; processing ptn would result in holding of election in unit which no U claims to represent; Bd proceedings are designed to determine identity of bargaining agent, not structure or pattern of bargaining; and there is no evidence that separate bargaining is unworkable)

United States Postal Service 256 NLRB No. 095
(postal service's contention that RD's dismissal of its RM ptn for single, national unit was arbitrary and capricious and that it was entitled to hearing and benefit of record, rejected, where ptn failed to comply with statutory requirements of PRA and NLRA, and with implementing regulations; and ptn was defective in that it merely sought to have Bd determine appropriate unit w/o regard to admitted lack of any U claim for U representation)

United States Postal Service 256 NLRB No. 095
(Bd dismissed postal service's RM ptn for single, national unit, and denied hearing on RD's dismissal of ptn, since granting of E's request would require hearing that would consume much time when current bargaining agreement was about to expire; conduct of election would be task of mammoth proportions which Bd would undertake in appropriate circumstances which are not present herein; and E did not demonstrate that it truly questioned representative status of various Us in long-established units)

0125 POSTAL REORGANIZATION ACT OF 1970

United States Postal Service 256 NLRB No. 095
(Bd rejected contention that postal service's RM ptn for single, national unit should be entertained because PRA created special labor-management provisions, of which unit determination is one; PRA text itself and legislative history show that bargaining in postal service should be treated like that in case of any other E, except for specifically stated exceptions)

3300 SCOPE OF UNITS (SEE 480-6700 FOR PLACEMENT OF PARTICULAR CATEGORIES OF EMPLOYEES IN THESE UNITS)

6700 COMPOSITION OF UNITS

500 UNFAIR LABOR PRACTICES

501 GENERALLY

1400 NATURE AND SCOPE OF PROSCRIPTIONS

1467 ONLY ACTIVITIES SPECIFICALLY PROHIBITED ARE UNFAIR LABOR PRACTICES

1467-6700 Picketing for proscribed purposes only prohibited

Anco Insulations, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 081
(company's refusal to permit contractor's lawfully discharged Ee to work for another contractor at company's construction site not violative where Ee, individually, picketed entrance gate at construction site causing other Ees using such gate to stay off job; Ee picketed to protest his discharge not to protest safety conditions or other working conditions; since Ee sought something for himself only, his picketing was not concerted activity protected by Act)

2800 Section 8(c)

2825 DISSEMINATION OF VIEWS, WHAT CONSTITUTES

Advanced Mining Group, Div. of Republic Corp., Lucerne Facility 260 NLRB No. 073
(Section 8(a)(1) and Section 8(c) of Act, when read together, leave E free to communicate to his Ees his views respecting Us so long as that communication does not contain a threat of reprisal or force or promise of benefit)

Amoco Fabrics Co., Patchogue-Plymouth Division/ Nashville Mills 260 NLRB No. 038
(E's communication to Ees that negotiations with U might result in reduction in wages or benefits due to give and take of collective-bargaining not violative)

N.L.R.B. v. Arrow Molded Plastics, Inc. 653 F.2d 280 (C.A. 6, July 1981)
(though E's free speech right to communicate to its Ees cannot be infringed upon by U or Bd, such right to free speech is not absolute. Threats of reprisal or force, or promise of benefit do not constitute protected speech w/i meaning of section 8(c) of Act. Any assessment of precise scope of E expression, of course, must be made in context of labor relations setting. Thus, E's rights cannot outweigh equal rights of Ees to associate freely, as those rights are embodied in Section 7 and protected by Section 8(a)(1) and proviso to section 8(c))

2837 STATEMENTS NOT CONTAINING THREATS OR PROMISES MAY BE COERCIVE

EMR Photoelectric, A Division of Sangamo Weston Inc. 251 NLRB No. 214
(Bd's statement made in Fedelity Telephone that A respondent is responsible only for the remarks it makes to Ees and not for the impressions that Ees may derive from remarks was not intended to license interference with Ees' rights by use of subtlety, innuendo, and inference, prohibiting only blunt and categorical acts of restraint and coercion)

Dow Chemical Company, Texas Division v. N.L.R.B. 660 F.2d 637 (C.A. 5, Nov 1981)
ct held pre-election statements and questions of E to U members were protected speech under the Act where statements prior to decertification election were not promises but truthful or accurate observation of fact w/i bounds of legitimate electioneering or expressions of opinion by supervisors)

2850 STATEMENTS NOT TO BE CONSIDERED IN ISOLATION

Walter Carpet Mills, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 096
(in making distinction between protected speech and proscribed threats or promises of benefit inquiry encompasses not only what E intends to imply, but what its Ees reasonably might have inferred from these remarks, thus remarks, relatively innocuous in themselves, may be considered violative when considered in totality of E's conduct. Moreover, if subject matter discussed by E is one particularly under his control (e.g. closing of plant, moving plant, loss of wage increases or benefits) speech will be carefully scrutinized by Bd)

2862 PATTERN OR COURSE OF CONDUCT MAY BE CONTROLLING

St. Francis Hospital 263 NLRB No. 109
(E statements, which individually were unobjectionable are not objectionable by virtue of their repetition)

Crown Cork & Seal Company, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 004
(leading U advocate being assigned to undesireable night shift, his demotion, disciplinary reprimands and eventual discharge held unlawful where valid grounds for E's actions were frequently false or exaggerated, adverse action against Ee occurred when Ee became in-plant spokesman for U and Ee who opposed advocate's election to U office was more tenderly treated for his acts of misconduct)

2875 CONDUCT PROTECTED BY SECTION 8(c)

2875-0100 Generally

Convair Corporation 261 NLRB No. 178
(in balancing right of E expression, as embodied in Sec. 8(c), with Sec. 7 rights of Ees to associate freely, as protected by Sec. 8(a)(1), right of E cannot outweigh Ees' guaranteed rights, since in balancing such rights, one must take into account economic dependence of Ees on E, and there is necessary tendency of former to pick up intended implications of latter that might be more readily dismissed by more disinterested ear)

Huntington Rubber Company, Division of New Idria, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 133
(E's statement that if Ees chose U as bargaining representative U might bargain for changes in existing conditions not violative)

Marine World USA 251 NLRB No. 161
(in remanding proceedings to Bd for consideration of whether E's announcements to Ees concerning wage increase constituted noncoercive speech protected by 8(c), ct stated that speech which might otherwise be found coercive w/i meaning of 8(a)(1) cannot in view of 8(c) be basis of a violation unless coercion found amounts to a threat of reprisal or force or promise of benefits)

Ellis Hospital JD-164-82
(Sec. 8(c) specifically guarantees an E's right to speak out against representation of its Ees, limited by fact that E may not threaten Ees or promise them benefits; and if Es are permitted to mount active campaigns against their Ees' choosing collective bargaining, necessarily there can be no presumption of illegality when they do so)

N.L.R.B. v. Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 642 F.2d 899 (C.A. 2, Sep. 1981)
(anti-U statements plainly w/i (management's) rights ... do lend a significance to otherwise ambiguous events when the question is whether given course of conduct was actuated by anti-U animus)

The Procter & Gamble Manufacturing Co., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 968 (C.A. 4, Sept. 1981)
(plant manager's statement to U officials that less favorable contract would be negotiated if outsiders from E's other plants participated in plants participated in negotiations held protected by Sec. 8(c) and First Amendment; Bd has the competence in the first instance to judge impact of E utterances, and whether E's comments are coercive is a factual one and Bd's finding of violation is affirmed since it is supported by substantial evidence)

2875-0700 Explanatory remarks lose protection when accompanied by threats of reprisal

Advanced Mining Group, Div. of Republic Corp., Lucerne Facility 260 NLRB No. 073
(Section 8(a)(1) and Section 8(c) of Act, when read together, leave E free to communicate to his Ees his views respecting Us so long as that communication does not contain a threat of reprisal or force or promise of benefit)

2875-0700—Cont.

Piggly Wiggly, Tuscaloosa Division Commodores Point Terminal Corporation 258 NLRB No. 142
(remarking that if E had similar contract to one competitor E had ... and then stating that when Ees of other E selected U it had five stores but subsequently closed them and opened two larger stores, held not unlawful where E was merely expressing its views about unionism w/o any threat of reprisals or promise of benefits)

TRW, Incorporated v. N.L.R.B. 654 F.2d 307 (C.A. 5, 1981)
(E may communicate to his Ees any of his views about Us so long as no threat of reprisal is involved)

N.L.R.B. v. Proler International Corporation 638 F.2d 351 (C.A. 5, 1981)
(E's personnel director asking Ees whether they were going to attend U meeting that day, and when an Ee answered she wasn't sure, stating that if Ee did attend she should not sign any papers because U would be lying, held not unlawful since w/i E's section 8(c) right to express opinion as no threat or promise of benefit made where question merely prefaced later remarks, occured at end of routine conversation was not aimed at determining if Ees supported U or part of larger unlawful campaign of interrogation)

2875-4500 Expression of opinion

Belcher Towing Company 265 NLRB No. 159
(while E may properly point out hazards of bargaining process to Ees and may lawfully inform Ees prior to election that bargaining may start from scratch or zero, E's handbill threatening bargaining from ground zero and statements about hard bargaining held not mere expressions of opinion as to normal and natural hazards of bargaining; rather, Ees were left with impression that E would see to it that Ees lost rather than gained benefits if they voted for U, and that they would lose existing benefits for less certain, U-proposed benefits)

Butler Shoes New York, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 150
(E's speech to Ees prior to election not violative where statements contained therein were expressions of its opinion of relative merits of unionization and its rejection)

PPG Industries, Inc., Lexington Plant, Fiber Glass Division 260 NLRB No. 048
(E's instructions to supervisors to talk to 5 new or undecided Ees and attempt to influence them by pointing out E's benefits and disadvantages of U plant held protected as they wer not told to make promises of benefits, threats or to engage in unlawful interrogation)

Fieldcrest Mills, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 098
(supervisor's statement to Ees who were wearing U buttons that he did not see why they wanted U; that pay was pretty good, not violative as attempt to indirectly ascertain U sentiments of Ee standing with him but mere expression of opinion)

Fieldcrest Mills, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 098
(supervisor's statement to Ees that U wouldn't be any good for us and that paying dues would be waste of money not violative but expression of opinion)

Walter Carpet Mills, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 096

Piggly Wiggly, Tuscaloosa Division Commodores Point Terminal Corporation 258 NLRB No. 142
(remarking that if E had similar contract to one competitor E had ... and then stating that when Ees of other E selected U it had five stores but subsequently closed them and opened two larger stores, held not unlawful where E was merely expressing its views about unionism w/o any threat of reprisals or promise of benefits)

Billings Chrysler-Plymouth, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 089
(E's statement to Ee that it would be wise to wait until U was certified before he joined not violative as protected statement of opinion)

The Dow Chemical Company, Texas Division 250 NLRB No. 103
(E holding meeting prior to decertification election at which slides were shown contrasting benefits currently received by unrepresented Ees of E, and which Ees would receive should U lose election, with benefits received by Ees represented by U, not unlawful, since not promise of benefits, where E merely furnished details inasmuch as its practices known; further, U was stressing protections it offered and Section 9(c) permits E to clearly portray its practices with regard to unrepresented Ees)

Nan-Dee Pak, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 107
(supervisor's comments to Ees concerning past experience of being in U and how U didn't help him, that when U was voted in Ees would have to have negotiated contract, not unlawful as mere expressions of opinion and protected by Sec. 8(c) right of free speech)

Marriott In-Flight Services a Division of Marriott Corporation 260 NLRB No. 072
(sentence in E's letter to Ees which makes it clear that in E's view signing cards is not in the Ees' best interest held campaign propaganda protected by 8(c))

Hinky Dinky Super Markets, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 169
(telling Ees that they probably would not get raise if U won because all raises would then be subject to negotiation, held not violative, citing Strumpf Motor Company, 208 NLRB 431, 432 (1974))

Signode Corporation JD-161-80

Like Corporation JD-(SF)-69-80
(legitimate economic prediction that there could possibly be strike if U came in not violative)

Dow Chemical Company, Texas Division v. N.L.R.B. 660 F.2d 637 (C.A. 5, Nov 1981)
ct held pre-election statements and questions of E to U members were protected speech under the Act where statements prior to decertification election were not promises but truthful or accurate observation of fact w/i bounds of legitimate electioneering or expressions of opinion by supervisors)

N.L.R.B. v. Sacramento Clinical Laboratory, Inc. 623 F.2d 110 (C.A. 9, July 1980)
(comment to Ee by E's business manager that U would make all the decisions, not unlawful, where remark indicated manager's opinion what U might do and not what was w/i E's power to make come true)

2875-5600 Opposition to union or collective bargaining, expression of

Danzansky-Goldberg Memorial Chapels, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 112
(supervisor at funeral home stating that he felt that while Us might have a definite place in large corporations they had no place in funeral homes which were mostly small and family operated, and suggested that Ees find jobs elsewhere in view of antagonisms at funeral home which put everyone under considerable tensions, not unlawful threat, but opinion as to how Ees might advance own best interests where Ee who was not U supporter included in suggestion that Ees find work elsewhere, and remarks followed Ees' comments about tensions and question as to why supervisor remained on job)

R. L. White Company, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 069
(supervisor who showed Ees copy of Bd sample ballot on day before election, held it so his thumb covered yes box and told them E wanted them to vote no did not violate Act as nothing supervisor said could have mislead Ees into thinking there was only 1 choice on ballot or that Bd had endorsed E and statement was not coupled with any forms of coercion)

Gauley Industries, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 189
(E's president's reference to fact that his family would fight Ees to the end, and his opn that their (Ees') U activity would fail to succeed, not violative when considered independently of president's threat of plant closure)

Raley's, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 155
(E may lawfully state its preference between competing U's in R election but here where E accorded encumbent U privileges and favored treatment to detriment of petitioning U it violated Act)

Thomas Industries, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 094
(E's statement We do not want U here, and we think it would be in your best interests if there is no U here, not unlawful, where only unlawful conduct in which E had engaged at time statement was made was unlawful reprimand given two months previously; nor did statement's timing in relation to E's unlawful polling of Ees make it coercive)

Guardian Industries Distribution Center, Inc. JD-(NY)-45-80
(E's response to Ees' questions that, if Ees voted in U, E must negotiate in good faith but did not have to sign contract if unable to agree to its terms, not coercive and not unlawful or statement that electing U would be futile since E would not negotiate contract, as alleged, but rather was correct statement of E's legal obligation)

2875-6300 Economic prediction of consequences of unionization

Donnelly Manufacturing Co. Division of Brockhouse Corp. 265 NLRB No. 196
(manager stating to Ees that E's president couldn't stand for U coming in and would have to close business, unlawful threat of plant closing, notwithstanding jesting manner, since did not predicate statement on economic basis or give any supporting figures for conclusion)

Schnadig Corporation 265 NLRB No. 020
(violation, where E's chairman of board informed Ees he had purchased plant as non-U and expected it to stay that way, that he was in business to stay, hopefully at present location, but if not there, somewhere else, and needed Ees to help make it profitable, that Ees were entitled to do as they saw fit, but he did not believe U was good for future and being intelligent people Ees should not believe U's snow job, since reference to plant closing not based on objective facts supporting demonstrable probable consequences beyond his control, and supervisors had previously threatened plant closure)

Life Savers, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 162
(letter to Ees stating that if Ees elected U it could jeopardize continued effectiveness of our plant and Ees' jobs and livelihoods could be affected.

2875-6300—Cont.

violative where E did not show that such prediction was based on objective facts)

Conair Corporation 261 NLRB No. 178

(Sec. 8(c) allows E to express his opinions about reasonably probable effects of unionization so long as threats of reprisal or promises of benefits are avoided and, in making prediction about effects of unionization, E's prediction must be carefully phrased on basis of objective fact to convey E's belief as to demonstrably probable consequences beyond his control and not constitute threats of economic reprisals to be taken solely on his own volition)

Conair Corporation 261 NLRB No. 178

(E's preelection statements concerning plant closure held not permissible predictions of possible adverse consequences of unionization, where E, aware of rumors in plant that E would close down and having ample opportunity to advise Ees rumor was not true, failed to do so, thus creating inference that rumor served E's purpose of dampening enthusiasm for U)

High Energy Corporation 259 NLRB No. 097

(manager's statement concerning possibility of plant closure in event of unionization, unlawful, since it constituted a threat of retaliation rather than a prediction, where E introduced no evidence that his statements were based on fact or that eventuality of plant closure was a demonstrable probable consequence of such fact; and chairman of E's board of directors subsequently pointed up inaccuracy of manager's remarks by assuring Ees that plant would not be closed in event of unionization)

Halo Lighting Division of McGraw Edison Company 259 NLRB No. 096

(E's prediction that, if E lost incumbent U's label as result of U's loss of impending election, U members would refuse to install E's product with resultant loss of business and jobs, unlawful, where E's evidence showed that refusal of U members to handle E's product occurred at point too remote in time to support E's stated belief; and, while E's further evidence indicated E's belief in advantages of having U contract, it did not show that U members as a group would not handle E's product, or that U would unlawfully induce its members to do so)

Halo Lighting Division of McGraw Edison Company 259 NLRB No. 096

(E who wishes to predict adverse consequences to Ees based on outcome of election must use care to assure that its predictions are based on objective fact concerning matters beyond its control, and will not convey the impression that it will take steps on its own to adversely affect employment status of its Ees)

Halo Lighting Division of McGraw Edison Company 259 NLRB No. 096

(E's prediction that, if E lost incumbent U's label as result of U's loss of impending election, U members would refuse to install E's product with resultant loss of business and jobs, unlawful, since predictions were serious in nature in that they posed threat to Ees' livelihood, and E failed to use required care that its predictions were based on objective fact concerning matters beyond its control; moreover, in context of other violations of 8(a)(1), E's predictions were conscious effort to further instill fear in its Ees)

Walter Carpet Mills, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 096

(in making distinction between protected speech and proscribed threats or promises of benefit inquiry encompasses not only what E intends to imply, but what its Ees reasonably might have inferred from these remarks, thus remarks, relatively innocuous in themselves, may be considered violative when considered in totality of E's conduct. Moreover, if subject matter discussed by E is one particularly under his control (e.g. closing of plant, moving plant, loss of wage increases or benefits) speech will be carefully scruntinized by Bd)

Best Products Co., Inc. 259 NLRB No. 016

(E's comments to Ees that if U were voted in Ees might lose some benefits to make up for any wage increases they gained not violative as this is explanation of bargaining process)

Great Scot of Florida, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 126

(E's campaign literature and speech to Ees that stores that were U were being closed and Ees were out of jobs, both nationwide and locally, and noting success of non-U operations, violative as implicit threat that E may or may not take action solely on his own initiative for reasons unrelated to economic necessities; statements do not contain management decision already arrived at to close plant in event of unionism, but contained threats to make decision after Ees had voted in election)

Crown Cork & Seal Company, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 004

(supervisors' pre-election statements to Ees to effect that if U got in, E's sole customer for steel cans would switch to less costly aluminum cans and (E) would be forced to shut down held violative, since E had not met its burden of providing objective factual basis for statements because it does not necessarily follow that a U election victory per se would increase E's labor costs disproportionately to customer's willingness to pay)

Chester Valley, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 190

(telling Ee that benefits which Ee wanted U to obtain for Ees were too expensive for E's gasoline station and E would turn it into self-service station if he had to, not unlawful, since remarks dealt with an economical means of accomodating two objectively demonstrable circumstances, namely, specific proposed U demands and gasoline station's financial condition)

United Investment Corporation d/b/a Santa's Bakery — 249 NLRB No. 150

(predictions made with reasonable basis in fact and w/o retaliatory motive, lawful)

Patsy Bee, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 125

(Bd held, contrary to ALJ, that E's threatening plant closure and job loss was unlawful, and not protected by 8(c) by virtue of E's president's predictions based on his subjective belief that unionization would cause it to suffer severe economic hardships leading to the threatened results)

Banker's Graphics, Inc. JD-329-82

(E's statement to Ees that if U came in it would not be able to bid as competitively on new jobs and might not get them, not violative as E was expressing events which might occur which were out of his control)

Ellis Hospital JD-164-82

(E did not interfere with election nor unlawfully threaten Ees with closure of its facility in order to influence Ees to vote against U, where statement regarding posibility of closure if certain Ees struck related to different group of Ees than those involved in organizational campaign, and due to E's adverse financial situation at the time, such statement was not an unreasonable prediction)

National King Coal, Inc. JD-(SF)-24-81

(E which posted copy of Bd decision containing statement that bargaining starts with blank piece of paper and could result in loss of existing benefits did not violate Act as this is accurate description of one possible consequence of lawful collective bargaining)

CRC Pipeline Equipment, a Division of Crutcher Resources Corporation JD-(SF)-140-80

(E's statements to effect that bargaining was two way street and benefits could be decreased, remain same, or be increased, not unlawful, since it was explanation of how contract arrived at and legitimate message that Ees might wind up with less benefits after unionization, rather than threat of economic reprisal that Ees would automatically lose benefits by voting for U)

N.L.R.B. v. Berger Transfer & Storage Co. 678 F.2d 679 (C.A. 7, May 1982)

(whether or not threats of plant closure are threats or predictions of economic consequences of U organization which fall outside of ambit of SEction 8(a)(1) turn on nature of E's statement. E's prediction must be carefully phrased on basis of objective facts to convey demonstrably probable consequences beyond his control or management decision already arrived at. If there is any implication that E may take action solely on his own initiative for reasons unrelated to economic necessity statement is threat of retaliation)

N.L.R.B. v. Sure-Tan, Inc., and Surak Leather Co. 672 F.2d 592 (C.A. 7, Feb. 1982)

(E's statements implying that yes vote would result in little work held threat as it was warning of adverse economic impact w/o objective basis for Ees to believe that predicted result was not caused solely at E's initiative)

Patsy Bee, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 654 F.2d 515 (C.A. 8, 1981)

(ct held, contrary to Bd, that E's statements that unionization would result in plant closure were free speech protected under Sec. 8(c), rather than unlawful threat, where evidence showed them to be predictions of probable consequences beyond E's personal control based on objective facts of key customers' antiU policies, E's poor financial health, and similar situations observed at other plants and statements contained no threats or antiU comments)

Weather Tamer, Inc. and Tuskegee Garment Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 676 F.2d 483 (C.A. 11, May 1982)

(E may speak against Us in general or against particular U seeking representation, and he is entitled to make predictions regarding effects he perceives unionization will have on operation of his plant; such predictions, however, must be carefully phrased on basis of objective fact and if there is any implication that action may be taken by E for reasons unrelated to economic necessities, statement is no longer reasonable prediction based on available facts but threat of retaliation)

2875-7000 Prediction of consequences of organization

Rexall Corporation 265 NLRB No. 015

(supervisor who spoke to Ees prior to election and described his experiences as unit Ee under U did not violate Act where his description was truthful, he accurately described specific provisions in labor agreement under which some of E's Ees worked, and repeatedly stressed to Ees that he was not telling them changes would occur but that they could occur; thus, there was no threat of reprisal)

2875-7000—Cont.

Rexall Corporation 265 NLRB No. 015

(supervisor's statement to Ees that benefit some Ees that benefit some Ees enjoyed of being able to leave 5 minutes early to catch bus would become negotiable if U came in not violative as it was accurate statement that hours of work would become negotiable if U won election)

Cafe Tartuffo, Inc. d/b/a Fiorella 261 NLRB No. 033

(statements in letter to Ees before election that U had negotiated contract at another of E's facilities which in my opinion gave Ees no more than they would have gotten w/o U, and probably less and we can negotiate agreement with U that does not cost any more in wages and benefits than w/o U, not objectionable, since legitimate campaign propaganda inasmuch as did not state or imply that E acting independently would grant same wages and benefits granted at unionized facility, nor indicate policy to treat represented and unrepresented Ees alike, or that Ees were receiving all they could expect U to obtain)

Chester Valley, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 190

(E's claim made to Ees that unionization will lead to adverse actions resulting from requirement for physical examinations of Ees, elimination of part-time Ees, refusal to accomodate work hours to Ees' personal schedules, and change to self-service gasoline sales held to constitute unlawful threats rather than lawful predictions)

EMR Photoelectric, A Division of Sangamo Weston Inc. 251 NLRB No. 214

(E's statements that unionization would subject Ees to grave risk and that E would respond to selection of U by action that would jeopardize Ees' livelihood, unlawful, even though E, from time to time, asserted that it would bargain in good faith, that it intended no reprisals, and attempted to cite consequences of unionization as results that could happen)

Hinky Dinky Super Markets, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 169

(telling Ees that they probably would not get raise if U won because all raises would then be subject to negotiation, held not violative, citing Strumpf Motor Company, 208 NLRB 431, 432 (1974))

C-F Air Freight, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 060

(E's statements threatening to close plant, unlawful, where statements conveyed impression that decision to close plant would be made after Ees selected U as representative, E's stated economic reasons as basis of lawful prediction relative to plant closing remarks were spurious, at time statements were made Ees had not even approached U and E was not confronted with contract demands, and continuation of E's facility for over 7 years of financial losses does not support claim that E's statements were merely predictions)

C-F Air Freight, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 060

(notwithstanding merit to E's claim that its statements were privileged as lawful predictions, E's reference to improved working conditions at Ee meeting constituted unlawful implied promise of benefit, where E's statements, although not unlawful standing alone, contained implication that Ees' forbearance in organizing efforts would result in improved working conditions such as promotions)

Lacks Industries, Inc. JD-346-82

(supervisor's statement to Ees that as result of U organization Ees would not be able to come to supervisors and talk to them as they had in the past because U would be Ees' exclusive representative, not unlawful, since statement was not a threat but simply campaign rhetoric and an opinionated prediction on part of supervisor as to impact of U organization which would result in a change in communication between supervisors and Ees)

Lacks Industries, Inc. JD-346-82

(E's statements to Es during U organizational campaign that E's plant could end up same way as another E's plant with workforce half of what it was, not unlawful, where statements reflected facts involving other Es in allied industries and in same area and therefore was statement of opinion as to possible consequences of unionization based upon economic factors in area and, as such, was protected by 8(c) proviso)

Valleydale Packers, Inc. JD-(SF)-81-81

(E who conducted active anti-U campaign did not violate Act where its speeches contained statements that, all existing benefits are on table and wages and benefits could go up or down as this is not threat to withdraw benefits)

N.L.R.B. v. Sacramento Clinical Laboratory, Inc. 623 F.2d 110 (C.A. 9, July 1980)

(statement to Ee that if U came in Ee would not be able to talk with E directly but would have to go through channels, perhaps shop steward, not unlawful)

2875-7600 In answer to employee's question

Daniel Construction Company, A Division of Daniel International Corporation 264 NLRB No. 079

(E's response, to Ee asking if customers would cancel contracts with E if U came in, that if E was no longer competitive, they would cancel contract held not violative even in absence of explanation as to various ways E would become noncompetitive, since answer was merely plain statement of fact and not prediction, and no threat of reprisals if U came in; therefore, statement was protected by Section 8(c) of Act)

Marriott In-Flight Services a Division of Marriott Corporation 249 NLRB No. 072

(supervisor's statement to Ee that bargaining could lead to strike and possible shutdown of flight kitchen held protected by 8(c))

2875-7700 Threats of reprisal

Thermo King Corporation 247 NLRB No. 048

(baseball poster, displayed by E during election campaign, bearing slogan You only get one strike and you are out. And that's the way it is with the Union held not to constitute threat of discharge, since factual representations that when Ees engage in strike they are not receiving pay, and they are walking or out on picket line, are permitted as expressions of free speech)

Lacks Industries, Inc. JD-346-82

(alleged unlawful threat of loss of benefits, made by E during U organizational campaign, not unlawful, where E was trying to communicate to Ees that collective bargaining could result in lessening of current wages and benefits, and comments, unaccompanied by threats, were protected by 8(c) proviso)

2875-8800 Statements concerning labor strife

Dutch Boy, Inc., Glow-Lite Division 262 NLRB No. 001

(E's campaign message informing Ees that strikes weren't always successful not violative; message found to be permissable free speech)

General Electric Company 253 NLRB No. 155

(Ee's statement that if they had good U leadership like old John L., men would probably hit the bricks until things straightened out held protected and not incitement to engage in wildcat strike)

2887 CONDUCT NOT PROTECTED BY 8(c)

2887-0100 Generally

Advanced Mining Group, Div. of Republic Corp., Lucerne Facility 260 NLRB No. 073

(Ees were led to believe that anti-U Ee group, known as SCAB, was acting on behalf of and with E's approval where E asked Ees to join SCAB, permitted SCAB members to use worktime for solicitation to join anti-U campaign and provided SCAB members and E's supervisors with time, equipment and Vote No buttons to promote anti-U campaign)

N.L.R.B. v. Haberman Construction Company 641 F.2d 351 (C.A. 5, Apr. 1981)

(E's announcement of its intention to go open shop held not protected, since Sec. 8(c) does not protect speech which is in itself coercive, and announcement, which conveyed E's intention to withdraw its recognition of U, was coercive)

2887-0800 Announcements of benefits or concessions

Simpson Electric Company, a Division of American Gauge and Machine Company 249 NLRB No. 024

(unlike past practice of leaving house organ at different places around plant, issue before election which contained announcement of wage and benefit increases were handed out to individual Ees)

Jules V. Lane, P.C. d/b/a American Dental Centers JD-(NY)-110-82

(announcing preexisting benefits to its Ees during U campaign not violative even if Ees not aware of these benefits as to prevent this would deprive E of legitimate campaign strategy. However, E must be legally committed to these benefits and not be able to discontinue them. Furthermore, E can not husband benefits until right before election and spring them on Ees in manner calculated to influence their choice)

N.L.R.B. v. Arrow Molded Plastics, Inc. 653 F.2d 280 (C.A. 6, July 1981)

2887-1200 Misleading or distorted explanation of Act

Beck Studios, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 044

(E's implying (in event it chose to agree to U security provisions in bargaining agreement) that it would discharge Ees for nonmembership in U even if it had reason to believe that such membership was not available to them on same terms and conditions generally available to other members, or that membership was denied or terminated for reasons other than their failure to tender periodic dues and initiation fees uniformly required as condition of acquiring or retaining membership held violative as egregious misrepresentation of law relative to Ee's rights in event E agrees to U shop)

2887-1600 Attacks upon union or officials, particular forms of

N.L.R.B. v. Proler International Corporation 635 F.2d 351 (C.A. 5, 1981)

(E's personnel director asking Ees whether they were going to attend U meeting that day, and when an Ee answered she wasn't sure, stating that if Ee did attend she should not sign any papers because U would be lying, held not unlawful since w/i E's section 8(c) right to express opinion as no threat or promise of benefit made where question merely prefaced later remarks, occured at end of routine conversation was not aimed at determining if Ees supported U or part of larger unlawful campaign of interrogation)

2887-1600—Cont.

2887-4100 Influencing strike vote

St. Francis Hospital 263 NLRB No. 109
(E's statement concerning its labor relations advisor (Modern Management Inc., a/k/a 2M in E's anti-U campaign) over whom Ees felt really under duress that If U wins, 2M stays. If U doesn't win, 2M goes held violative, since in event of U victory, management would continue to keep them (Ees) under duress)

2887-4900 Interference with election

Rosewood Mfg. Co., Inc. 263 NLRB No. 055
(Section 8(c) of Act was intended by Congress to apply only to ULP cases and not R proceedings)

R. L. White Company, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 069
(supervisor who showed Ees copy of Bd sample ballot on day before election, held it so his thumb covered yes box and told them E wanted them to vote no did not violate Act as nothing supervisor said could have mislead Ees into thinking there was only 1 choice on ballot or that Bd had endorsed E and statement was not coupled with any forms of coercion)

Blue Cross of Kansas City, Inc. and Blue Shield of Kansas City, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 070
(speech may constitute objectionable conduct in R proceeding yet will not be violative as ULP because protected under 8(c), as standard for speech in R election is more restrictive)

2887-6600 Predictions as to effect of unionization

Alpha Cellulose Corporation 265 NLRB No. 010
(statements in E's letters to Ees that they would be unable to find employment with area employers after being replaced in strike held not predictions of consequences of unionization, but unlawful, where statements were not-so-subtle threat that Ees who engaged in protected activities would be blacklisted by E and would, for discriminatory reasons, be denied employment by other Es, since E's letters made no mention of unemployment in area nor spoke to general problems of unemployed persons gaining employment and, instead, suggested that replaced striker would not be hired by other Ees, thereby impressing upon Ees folly and futility of electing U)

Schnadig Corporation 265 NLRB No. 020
(violation, where E's chairman of board informed Ees he had purchased plant as non-U and expected it to stay that way, that he was in business to stay, hopefully at present location, but if not there, somewhere else, and needed Ees to help make it profitable, that Ees were entitled to do as they saw fit, but he did not believe U was good for future and being intelligent people Ees should not believe U's snow job, since reference to plant closing not based on objective facts supporting demonstrable probable consequences beyond his control, and supervisors had previously threatened plant closure)

St. Francis Hospital 263 NLRB No. 109
(E's statement to Ees at Ee meeting, to effect that Ees cannot count on having better benefits—and Ees shouldn't be fooled by fact that U can help Ees, not violative, since statement was found to constitute permissable electioneering; although E implied bargaining would take anywhere up to several years, he did not also imply that E would engage in bad-faith bargaining)

Granite City Journal, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 140
(E's statements to recently hired and therefore most vulnerable Ees that E was overstaffed and plans to acquire another enterprise had to be shelved because of U's advent, unlawful, since E thereby conveyed threat of lost employment or work opportunities because of U; E's comment was not straightforward announcement of business decision because it was not reasoned prediction based on objective facts demonstrating probable consequences outside E's control; and it was not free speech protected by 8(c) but unadorned warning of adverse consequences designed to discourage Ees' U activity)

Progressive Supermarkets, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 074
(where E's campaign speeches contained constant references to U's own anti-U campaign where it had forced strike and permanently replaced strikers, these references found violative as not so subtle threat that E would also force strike resulting in permanent replacement of strikers)

Palby Lingerie, Inc. and Argus Lingerie Corp. 252 NLRB No. 032
(violation where E made reference to strike in the event of U coming with consequence of loss of pay to Ees)

Patsy Bee, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 125
(Bd held, contrary to ALJ, that E's threatening plant closure and job loss was unlawful, and not protected by 8(c) by virtue of E's president's predictions based on his subjective belief that unionization would cause it to suffer severe economic hardships leading to the threatened results)

Mastercraft Leather Manufacturing Company, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 065
(E's statement to Ee, who had previously been threatened with plant closing if U came in, that neighboring plant had closed because of U's demands, and that maybe U wants more for people and get bankrupt, unlawful)

Providence Rest Home, Inc. JD-(NY)-51-80
(prediction that if U won some Ees could or would be let go, violative, since based only on subjective considerations)

2887-7500 Promise of economic or other benefits

2887-7550 Implied promises

United States Postal Service 253 NLRB No. 158
(E's contention that its issuance of certificate of excellence awards to Ees was protected, rejected, where awards impliedly promised similar benefit to nonrecipient Ees of receiving certificate for their personnel files if they, like recipients, did not file grievances or complaints which was one of the criteria for granting award; by its very terms, Sec. 8(c) excludes such statements granting or promising benefits)

2887-9100 Threats of reprisal

2887-9180 Threats of shutdown

Mark I Tune-Up Centers, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 138
(E representative's threat of closure of U's facility, unlawful where, although E has right to present its views concerning U and pending election, Ees were aware of E's considerable U animus, representative failed to show that predictions were based on objective facts which would demonstrate probable consequences beyond its control; and, although representative was sincere, his predictions were based more on his anti-U bias than on facts required of business realities)

Great Scot of Florida, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 126
(E's campaign literature and speech to Ees that stores that were U were being closed and Ees were out of jobs, both nationwide and locally, and noting success of non-U operations, violative as implicit threat that E may or may not take action solely on his own initiative for reasons unrelated to economic necessities; statements do not contain management decision already arrived at to close plant in event of unionism, but contained threats to make decision after Ees had voted in election)

Charge Card Association v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 272 (C.A. 6, July 1981)
(supervisor's statement that E would fold if U came in violative where not based on demonstrable probable consequences beyond his control)

4200 EFFECTIVENESS OF UNFAIR LABOR PRACTICE NEED NOT BE SHOWN

4233 ACT DOES NOT REQUIRE PROOF THAT EMPLOYER'S CONDUCT HAD ITS DESIRED EFFECT

Fairleigh Dickinson University 264 NLRB No. 098
(test for whether interrogation is coercive. It is well settled that test of interference, restraint, or coercion under Section 8(a)(1) does not turn on E's motive or whether coercion succeeded or failed. Test is whether E engaged in conduct which it could reasonably be said, tends to interfere with free exercise of Ees' rights under Act)

Frank J. Schroeder d/b/a National Apartment Leasing Company 263 NLRB No. 003
(telling Ee that E would fold and everyone would lose their jobs if U's organizing efforts succeeded, violative; such remarks may reasonably be said to interfere with free exercise of Ee rights under Act and neither speaker's intent nor successful effect of remarks on Ee is material)

The Maumee Stone Company, Union Quarry Division 259 NLRB No. 150
(test for determining violation of Sec. 8(a)(1) is not whether E intended to discourage U activity or whether its' conduct had that effect, but whether E's conduct reasonably tends to interfere with free exercise of Ee rights under Act)

Service Garage, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 118
(lawfulness of E's conduct does not turn on whether particular Ee feels that he had been interfered with, restrained or coerced, but on whether E was motivated by U animus)

Soule Glass and Glazing Co., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 652 F.2d 1055 (C.A. 1, May 1981)
(elements of Section 8(a)(1) violation are determined by reference to objective test; it is not necessary to show that particular Ees actually felt coerced, or that E intended to produce impermissible effect; rather only need show that E's actions would tend to coerce reasonable Ee; however, E can defend on grounds of business justification and then there is violation only when Sec. 7 rights outweighs business justification for E's actions)

4267 MAY BE INFERRED BY BOARD

John Cuneo, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 110
(not unreasonable to infer that other Ees were aware of E's unlawful conduct against their coworkers-discharges and delay in reinstatement of strikers-in view of small size of unit and severity of discriminatory practices)

5600 EMPLOYER'S CONTROL OF BUSINESS PRESERVED

5601 GENERALLY

Public Services Planning and Analysis Corporation, d/b/a Airport Connection JD-(SF)-310-79

(while Act does not prevent Es from founding and operating businesses which seek to be personal-oriented, or which attempt to apply progressive social principles to their operations, Ees have right to collectively resist application of such principles in order to better their conditions of employment through U representation, and under Act E, despite sincere belief in human scale operational philosophy, has duty of forebearance when Ees seek to achieve their ends)

Texas Instruments Incorporated v. N.L.R.B. 599 F.2d 1067 (C.A. 1, 1979)

